Let the Jew boast about it, that's his business.

268 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

And besides, he would be quite prevented from thinking.
Otherwise. He is Jewish even if he is not so concise. One more or less ridiculous thing.
It's not the end of the world. And besides, we SaV0lĚ that circumcision is only the sign, the Fe external to the deep, hidden sign, which comes from Moses, and limits the activity of the Jew
within the narrow confines of its relative vocation:
gieuse.

The Jew can therefore do nothing that does not goit a direct or indirect emanation of this V0ti-tion. Whether it is the Law of Moses or the A revised version of the Torah, he is never free from his actions. In the old one as in the 201
Old Bible, the Jew is in a prison C0!
damned to perpetual confinement, there is no P#
to say; but he does not have, like us, the pos
ability to escape the compressions of the idea religious. The Jew chose as the basis of the religious communion, the practice and not the Dogmas, we discuss dogmas, we debate them separates. They are a belief, we opt for a another belief, and all the schisms come into play.

scene.

The practice, the ritual, the similarity of ob-services are much stronger links than beliefs, because they do not give of theological disputes. "In re-linking the profession of faith to the scheme, that is to say-to speak of the affirmation of divine unity and to Judaism excludes from the external link of ritual within it the theological disputes (1). » But Here is this ritualism which unites so well the being fellow believers among themselves, separates them from sects
of the world and condemns them to a life of sequelae _tree. "The chains of Talmud made those of ghetto (2)".

A shrewd Jew, like Crémieux, understood.
that there was an incompatibility between this seclusion-
religious sion and emancipation that the Jews were found in the French Revolution. Com-how to reconcile the irreconcilable without too much conflict

(1) Renan. The Christian Church.

270 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

to end the ritualistic discipline to which the Jew
must have been able to maintain its unity in 5 Dispersion? Crémieux did not hesitate. The Talmud is the enemy of the Gospels. Christianity is a foolish Jewish heresy that stopped, according to Mr. James Darmesteter, intellectual growth
Europe's tutelage. Let's outwit the Christians,
"Let's deceive them," Crémieux thought. "They believe us-"
They will take their word for it; they are liberals.

And Crémieux, president of the famous Al-
the Universal Israelite Alliance, proposed to the Jews foundations for a new way of life.

The Jew had to outwardly renounce living apart from, to differentiate itself from the rest of the nation.
From now on, he would stop at nothing to
to confuse with the community of all the ways by ignoring, always pot

our eyes, of its most cherished customs.

Here is the hypoerite program, the p'o
8'amme with a double face proclaimed by this now Moses, clean-shaven, in a session of the At Israelite says: "My friends, have in mind..."

THE JEWISH INSTINCT. 271

house the small piece of wood dedicated with the name of God (a mezuzah), make him kiss to your children in the morning when they get up, in the evening
when they go to eat at home,
But send them to secular schools.

"Send them to secular schools" is A pearl of infamy and lies. The kiss Judas's story has become commonplace. But I I only see him, however, to make it clear to all eyes on the odiousness of these tips from Cré-
better.

And we, the good, naive ones, give head down in the trap set for us Jewish under the pretext of free thought and anti-Clericalism. At its core, it's religious hatred.
of the Jew for the race of Christian religion.
The Jew has never forgiven us for having married, at a time when he thought he was taking
For him, the empire of the world, against his Torah
the Gospels which gave this empire to Christ-Tianism. This hampered his claims and the de-development of its autonomy, which is not

279 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

1.
1st summer | born
Jamals never was, never has been, and never will be.
101] itinerary
religious autonomy, intolerant, arbilralr,

vexatious.

The Jew's hatred for everything that is born:
Ru doesn't know like him in general, Ru Christian in particular, is a historical fact* than the Jewish writers themselves. The would not deny it in case they wished to...

would thwart our writers.
We know the dismay of the Roman authorities
Judea after the death of Tiberius. One thousand _.
locals seized control of affairs at their expense against carefree Rome. The Jews, who have never found anything to gain from in times of 'trouble,' they formed 1
a considerable part in these moments when =
New powers seizing control of Judea
"They were numerous in Damascus (1) and y ee
Proselytism is widespread, noiammeni
Among the women. We wanted to please them e el

(D) Renan, The Apostles.

JEWISH INSTINCT. 273

the way to win them was always to do concessions to their autonomy, and any con-granting them autonomy was a permission religious violence. Punish, kill those who They didn't think like them, that's what they
they called it independence and freedom.

I would point out that they haven't changed.
And if they've moved beyond buying prisoners
Christians of the Romans to give themselves sa-dissatisfied with slaughtering them, they are now at the point of-
to demand repressive laws against the press,
and to advocate an authoritarian republic and violent measures that can never to serve only their instincts of expropriation and of extermination. At the same time, other
Some of their people travel unseen.
without us knowing their names, the ranks of our workers preach hatred and death there.
work by strike.

Abhorrent and disgusting swing politics
and the screen that this religious diplomacy which send the little Jewish children to our secular schools

274 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

after they had done all their homework

Jewish and idolatrous devotions.

Note that as far as I'm concerned, I am quite comfortable defending the Christian religion stand against the attacks on free thought Jewish. I believe I have explained sufficiently. higher up how, son of a cry education I intend to exercise my right to think. free. However little Catholic we may be Having come through this very education, we do not We are no less sons of Christians, are we? In short, they were clumsy in reacting to the very end. against the various atavisms which are the tempera- particular passion of each of our ancestors. We are French, therefore Christian. Pra- Tickling or not, it doesn't matter. We have the Christian blood, less so because of the empire direct impact of the Gospels on us, because The Gospels adopted at a certain time P#F our race, were in short, of all the

d |
"8th to adopt, the ones most in line with our breed,

JEWISH INSTINCT. 275

No matter what we try, it's impossible to get out from there. Otherwise, we would have to endure the pen- see that it was chance that decided between the The choice of the Torah and the Mishnah by the Jews, and the Gospels by our own.

The hypothesis is inadmissible. Originally peoples do not have the reasons for dividing themselves by the rai- sounds of detail and infinitesimality that are currently guiding. Things are happening More simply. Everyone goes where their nature dictates. Quickly. Nothing more. But our nature has led to the one of the two books which is "a a small masterpiece of elegance, lightness, and moral finesse (1) », leaving room for skepticism cism. The nature of the Jew led him to the Mishna, which is nothing but a "heavy monument" pedantry, wretched casuistry, and religious formalism (2). Literature Jewish, continues the author of The Christian Church, for centuries, mainly rolled

- (1) Renan, The Christian Church.
- (2) ibid.

276 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

on matters of sacristy and slaughterhouse.
As independent as I feel, I don't dare
I will no longer be able to pose in spirit Ir,
having noticed that at the moment the spirits
Those who are strongest are precisely those on whom the fantas-
The Jewish magogy wields the most power.

Republican, independent critic, free from any direct or indirect connection and exempt
of any compromise, I will only say that we must absolutely avoid accepting what we are given, free thought off-
*that which comes to us from the Jew.

The tendencies of my mind are now very wary of the Jew, Melian
Like Marat's red soul, they invite me to de-Clarir that if the Jew, a religious individual, plø fundamentally hypocritical and idolatrous, shows such eagerness to attack me on the ground of my religion, however I put it in dis-
The point is that obviously there is a problem
In him, danger for us. Danger, that's for sure.
Damn the Jewish operation wants and must lead to

D

THE JEWISH INSTINCT, 277

the disorganization of French hegemony
for the benefit of Jewish autonomy, autonomy re-religious, nothing but religious, let's be clear about that.

From this point of view, I do not hesitate to declare that the question of free thought is one of the best instruments of derangement that we can introduce into a social organization.

It rests entirely on one of the nerve centers
I want the most sensitive of a people: Faith.

There is an element of vanity in faith.
vanity proper to the man who does not want to app-
to take from a stranger that he could have made false road.

See then how easy it is, for everything to disrupt, to exploit the remnant of our old religious wars. The Jew, who is a religion, does everything in the name of its religion, submits all its actions to the signature of its Jehovah, draws the watchword of his life from his _ synagogue, gets circumcised, does not marry nor never dies without the help of his rab-
Well, he knows better than we do, who were able to open it.

24

278 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

blier, to what extent these kinds of quarrels inspire and sow seeds of hope in the masses. n

Treason, perfidy, when the Jew comes i us with his monstrous sneer, D encouraging not to have 1 baptized children, not to marry us in the church, li who doesn't put one foot in front of the other year that this gesture, however simple it may be, is not CONform according to rabbinical instructions. It still the cattle according to its rite; he has joufs
of fasting and commercial silence—that's it!
Religious holidays. It has its pardons:
also has special cabinets in Sa malsof
to separate the dishes and cutlery from intended for fish, tableware and cutlery intended for meat. He has unleavened bread, 1°
Sals-je encore? | |

In short, he has his entire religion within him and with Ju It's an easy religion to follow, even if travels, and he always takes it with him where Let him go, and this pious Jew finds that if we

I.

Let us not separate Church and State, we do not
we are not in accordance with the republican principle Cain.

Hey! What business is it of this stranger's?
Does the question of free thought not does not belong to us alone, which we are Christians, with regard to the budget Christian worship?

Ultimately, this discussion is between us.
Frenchmen, republicans or monarchists, a family quarrel. If today we have disagreements with our God and those who represent, it's up to us to know how
The argument must end.

We will settle the religious question.
between us. If the time has come to decide this that which must become of our traditions of yesteryear, traditions conforming to a society that has
There's no longer any reason to exist; it's our business.

The sovereign people, legitimate heirs of The sovereign monarch's rights will be judged. But that the sovereign people do not allow themselves to be taken-

280 THE JEWISH QUESTION,

to the rotating lights of the magic lantern
where the Jew takes on the role of the monkey in the fable, with this difference that he has illuminated his lantern. The glass is transparent and no Let's see behind the conspirator Su's sneer
the point of triumph.

That monkey grin is dangerous. He's allowing himself _of Democracy and, to win over the people

Confident, he gives his spiel in the mirror.
appealing new ideas of freedom Verselle.

For my part, I remain convinced that the war of the Jew against Christianity is made as much against the clerics as against the clerics

against the anti-clericals: on both sides
We are Christians. The hatred of the Jul
"He has always been fierce against Christians, Sal" vage, a hatred that once ended with The throat-slitting.

Do not believe that this hatred has died out:
The Jew is too freethinking for this
His exaggeration doesn't hide "something"

nn

THE JEWISH INSTINCT. 281

hateful thought. Just look at what that of his historians, of whom he is most proud, write about the Jew's abilities, so expert at training pitfalls where militant Christianity will lose some of its ascendancy. That is in-
Mr. James Darmesteter is speaking. "The Jews are adept at revealing vulnerable points of the Church, and he has at his service for the de-
to cover, in addition to the understanding of the Holy Scriptures,
the formidable sagacity of the oppressed.

It is clear, isn't it, that the devout Jew
never let go of the religious issue.
even less so at the moment when he recommends the Free thought is at the forefront of our society. It's that deep down he harbors hatred towards us sectarian, fierce hatred that has its reason for being up to a certain point. Religion for the Being Jewish is something more than that for us.
We have the leisure to be French without re-religion.

The religion of the Jew is his entire being, his race.
His family, his homeland. That's what matters most to him.

| 4.

282 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

gives the means to destroy us, to plunder, to plunge us into confusion. Er
In short, a Jew without his religion is nothing, with
She is everything to him.

It is therefore important that she triumph, and that

Moreover, his hidden purpose, for Jehovah, that no place of choice like our God
Rome would very much like to find a point!
globe where a holy see will be erected. Paris.
a few reasons to be attractive, and lof
Svette fort Paris pour en faire, à un moment!
Given, a kind of capital of the Juivertt,
Since the Eternal City was the capital of the duke?
Catholicism.

That the Jew, taking advantage of the moment when we do we want to get rid of the celestial empire from Rome upon us, may it wish to impose upon us 501 Jehovah, there would be nothing quite 1st

Probably, the Jew doubts nothing, he wanted to make a mandatory law of the 2
Concision, why not disorganize the Church
Official from France? The ground would be cleared.

RER ESS –

JEWISH INSTINCT. 283

and this would make installation easier later on in our country, the God of the Jews, the accomplice of everything that brings dishonor among us.

As proof, consider this dialogue.
collected in the Hall of Lost Footsteps of the Cham-
the deputies' press conference at the time of the affair of the
The chapel of Châteauvillain, in Isère. This took place between a writer of the 19th century who had demonstrated, in his article on this incident, of unreserved tolerance, and an editor of the French Republic who had she, on the other hand, displayed an intolerance without epi-thete.

The Republic: – So you are for the Freedom for all churches, without exception?

The 19th century: – Without exception.

The Republic: – For the freedom of unions Toilets too?

The 19th century: – Synagogues too.

Obviously this: For the freedom of the unions-
Gogues too? hides a concern, a preoc-
A religiously motivated aspiration. In short,

284 THE JEWISH QUESTION. EL

It is our official Church that... gene; :
They want to demolish it first. The best moje
To demolish it is to build their own.
Have no fear, in jo in ee
Free thinkers, they know very well what
On the contrary, it is the free ones;
wade through the mud as they pass their parts at L
Free thinkers will applaud the | D
they will have obtained the removal of EU 4 cults. They'll think they've got a PS nomy. So far, so good, it doesn't matter to me.
that this seems to be happening between us, P
us. | |
But this is merely a mirage.
Don't be fooled. The DuPgse . nt Christians removed, will be replaced soon: , by 'the budget for Jewish religious affairs.' This inevitable. .
The Jew is a religion, nothing but a religion.
Zion. What he wants is the triumph of:
religion. Because in seeking to triumph |
For us, he can't want anything else.

JEWISH INSTINCT. 285

He has no other motive in life. Israel is
"A nationality," he said. "Now the nation of Israel, at
At some point, it's the budget for religious institutions.
reinstated in favor of Israel.

We won't escape it. Especially if as today we give in bulk
in the bill proposals panel
of the kind signed, among others, by Mr. Camille Dreyfus, proposal submitting to the agenda the big question of the Con-
cordat. |

Mr. Camille Dreyfus is Jewish, that goes without saying to say. Otherwise, rest assured that the
The discussion would not have been reopened anytime soon.
Only a Jew would put it in such a perpetual state.
Public safety is at risk. Water Cloudy! Cloudy water! After a good rain, when the water is thoroughly muddied

On embankments, the gudgeon bites better.

This question of the separation of the Church and of the State is one of the most dangerous that the Republic encountered along the way

286 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

Since 1870. Of all the reforms attempted,
There is no one who has raised more than ter
reur and encountered more resistance in É Country. In the last elections of 1885, we have could see that if we ever pushed a pel too soon before the boldness on this side, we are doing to run serious risks in a state of shock existing.

France is, after all, a Christian country.
orthodox because he is indifferent, perhaps,
as Mr. Renan said, but certainly that doesn't like it when things get broken, partly for fun"
his family heirlooms. The Christian religion is one of those objects that come to us through inheritance and which we value. We have respect!
of our dead. We salute them in the rt
when they go to their final resting place.

The Jew, like the Englishman, does not greet the his own. Death is a merchant with whom
There isn't enough money to be made.

Since the major quarrels of May 24th
On May 16th, the discussion of the budget for religious affairs took place.

:

THE JEWISH INSTINCT. 287

– was now only represented incidentally in The general budget discussions. Sum
– all, after each of these arguments between
* Catholics and radicals, the discussion is adjourned–

It was born in better times. The question not being ripe, not ripe at all, one

He pushed him aside. And we were off by a few minutes.

more banalities uttered on both sides

The joint chambers' tribune.

But then, all of a sudden, at the very moment when we least thought about it, without anything in the country denounced the presence of a current of a favorable opinion to galvanize this corpse,

a proposal arose in the House which recalls everything into question, while at the same time we demanded the expulsion of the princes, without cause
No longer valid anyway.

I am not in favor of the current princes. The
The Count of Paris has a Germanic face which It displeases me. And besides, he and his family are hurting.
chose their moment to demand the return of their property: Mr. Thiers, for the towers that he had played at being their father, uncle, grandfather great-uncle, Louis-Philippe, son of Égalité

288 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

They certainly owed them this compensation. Nen-fishing that these princes never had anything Sl

to do to help us forget that they knew

their clothes from the blood of the elder branch,

So here again is the Republic put in place endangered by the discussion of the Concordat. That.
Whether it succeeds or fails, it doesn't matter. Tou-days is it that the time spent on this that
The real thing that worries everyone would be better employed to do less politics and a
A little more work.

Where did the work of Parliament come from?
are, for once again, directed into a self-service area
Where did they have nothing to do? The Jews, the Jews
That's the whole secret. Just think! Good stuff work in Parliament, it would have been useless
than to advance our business. Our business
As they advance, theirs retreat. But we must not PË that theirs retreat. They cannot!
We will only walk on the condition that we do not

JEWISH INSTINCT. 289

Nothing. And we won't do anything for that long.
that we will be occupied with the trifles of the door where the Jew holds us, while he
He doesn't waste his time.

What interest do Jews have in reviving this debate? Oh!
It is multifaceted. First, this debate is perilous.
for everyone. And then 1 liter is very small.
singing. While we're busy with that, we'll will not be occupied elsewhere. We will not think not to the Jew especially, the idea that it is important
at this time to keep out of traffic.

But why see the Jews in this business? Because you always have to look for your hand in pointless or malicious fights for us. Because it's in his nature.
to waste our time doing politics
A fly on the coach. Because finally, among the signatories of the proposal, I see the name
by Mr. Camille Dreyfus.

That's more than enough to enlighten me.
Because this bill was introduced on the House office at that very moment 25

290 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

where Drumont's book was crossing the streets &
Paris with the sound of a squadron of gendarmes—

marriage. At the same time, Mr. de Rothschild was a member of the family.

He was sending out invitations to the princes. At the same time to the law of the press. At the same time the press

Meanwhile, Mr. Bozérien resumed his amendment.

moderate Jewish republican unmasked # restrictive and coercive projects.

It all makes sense, believe me. Everything
It's the Jew using his beacon with all his might.
Cover and screen tick. All of this is cts!
our attention diverted from Dr.'s book
mount, which is still selling, by the way
Because we are starting to see things clearly
It is the Jew carrying our anxieties away 6
the goal he doesn't like us to set,
him; in short, the Jew still trying to Parry with the left hand.

In the chapter where I tried to define
I am not a Jew, I have shown it to you on. S slide a screen between him in time +

8th. The screen becomes the target that receives

RE one, RER – Re

THE JEWISH INSTINCT. 291

everything. And the unfortunate princes, for so little However friendly they may be, they have just served screen couldn't be more appropriate for the Jewish. For three weeks, the press had not more guns than for shooting Jews. De-then the opening of the debate on the princes,
It was on them that all the volleys fell
of musketry and artillery of the army writer.

It would be pointless to look elsewhere for a reason for the very unexpected entrance of The question of the budget for religious institutions. The Jew doesn't...
This isn't his first time playing a double game.
From the crash until today, we
we know that the comings and goings are a exercise where he understands himself.

On one hand, we are being excessively radical with

Mr. Camille Dreyfus. On the other hand, we are excessively conservative movement with financier Rothschild. Iei, the separation of Church and State, There are dinner invitations, which are holding up well. the prominent princes, especially since notes

292 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

appear in society newspapers, but Jews, who take great care to keep us in check in case this good camaraderie of the Ju
and the Orleanist, we are touching mediocre

Lies, or it would escape us,

Jehovah does not hate these maneuvers.
double horizon. We see no malice in it.
or we might not even see anything at all.
The counterweight is so well established that it does not
It doesn't occur to me for a minute that all of this It's a Jewish game, nothing more, nothing less. I even given the number of reasonable people raising the shoulders when I submitted to them My man to see about that. The trompe-l'œil is so good presented what one must have, as they say of Dru-Mount in the Jewish press, the "obsession" of Jewish for thinking differently from everyone else
on this game of parliamentary discussions.

– remains, as for me, perfectly con-
is the proposition where the name is seen ne MLD ia qu'un moÿe" de

Forget the Jew. The question there wake,

î

era

JEWISH INSTINCT. 293

The separation of Church and State is well worth it.
the forgetting of the Jew, as Paris was well worth a mass.

Are we going to embark on this ga-
Jewish era without realizing the unity
The maneuver that throws us onto the shore? No, before boarding the boat we will look the captain's face. If he's Jewish, let's stay at earth, and let's not separate anything at all.

But he is Jewish, he is certainly Jewish. There an absolute agreement between extreme radicalism |
of Mr. Camille Dreyfus and the conservatism of:
The banker, friend of princes, is of dubious quality.
Our confidence is cleverly surprised by two extremes of our political opinions,
That's all.

A Jew on the far left; a Jew at
The far right: but that's everyone Content in the center? Wrong. It's all the deceived centers, duped, accumulating the number of their votes to be more easily crushed. That's the Jew executing the towers all along the line

25.

294 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

of seesawing and playing openly before the cards that are not those qni Jui servenl truly. The good ones, the ones using-which he takes, cuts and soups, his! in his sleeve,
Once and for all, I will tell my colleaguestriotés that they are wrong to be too confident when they play with the Jew. They beat the cards. He holds the cup. Be careful.
It never happens any other way. All the every time a transaction takes place where the Jew is the middleman, he's the one who won that we who lose, because what all the
The world loses, the Jew wins. The Jew has two hands also suitable for this type of bend
fice. Whether it be Mr. de Roll's right hand:
schild, or the left hand of Mr. Camill Dreyfus, it's always the same result.
You are surrendering yourself to the Jew, for these two hands
tn enemy appearance are the two arms of the same individual: the Jew. a Once again, in all of this, the Jew

his profession as a Jew. Let us do ours, that devil, and let's keep our eyes open. Let's have, if need be, eyes all around the head.

It won't be too much. It will even be at this only on the condition that we can to define one's attitude in our internal quarrels laughter like that of free thought. These He has too much interest in fueling quarrels. to avoid stirring them up as best he could. And he succeeds too well in stirring them up not to be satisfied. Look how his grin tightens! It had been centuated for some time! Oh! but He was having fun, having a blast. "Everything will succeed," he said. "The roosters are fighting." He is the kid who goes kiss/kiss! And he beats some hands of joy, so ardent are the roosters to tear the crest apart.

1. It is regrettable in this case the complicity- a somewhat too openly acknowledged quote from some protesters for their part, the hostilities have a character- a more political than religious matter, although

296 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

Protestants, generally very respectful of their religious practices, do not find p# It's bad that we renounce nüté

A boastful spirit is often a vein that

It's good to exploit in France. And the pros

Many, like the Jews, are quite adept at it, by reaching an agreement. I repeat that I am not making a quarrel here. in the name of some church or other. I observe only that, beneath a grand air of independence Dance, these are exclusively religious people. placed opposite us on a connected terrain jeux, which most invite us to no longer be Religious matters. That's all. I'll leave the religious aspect to others. care to decide if the majority of Ja family of Catholic birth right or wrong of 5

to persist in this policy, more perfidious than foundational.
Definitely French.

I will say again that I do not declare sweat to the Protestants, especially to those who ns like those from beyond the

for example, and which sooner or later will be used

{there

—

THE JEWISH INSTINCT, 297

common cause with the independents of my species, the day when the country of France of which they will need their help or their blood. To these French Protestants, who serve the Republic and France, I will try to
They make it clear that we are separated by nothing.
They tolerate the Jew out of discipline. I hate him.
out of racial pride. The French Protestants and The French, in general, are not far from being reach an agreement.

As for this traveling family and something
a few nomadic Protestants who came from abroad
ger, from Switzerland especially, from Geneva where one Hating us is another matter. The refugees have never had love of the France. They left it at the Edict of Nantes.
have taken our national industries abroad
They want to hold Louis XIV responsible.
Let us try not to confuse them. The edict of Louis XIV, outwardly religious, was polite-tick at the bottom. He wanted to unify France and to place it under the vocation of a single faith.

298 THE JEWISH QUESTION,

That's an idea worth considering.
Huguenots, nobles or bourgeois who abjured
their heretical claims, in the face of concern of national peace and love of country, I

French people, before being mere devotees,

The refugees who returned to France from—

Then 4870 were and remain devoids

It is as devotees that they are taken into account

halfway into religious and financial war

What does the Jew tell us? The financial war of these Protestants is an established fact at the certi-

study of anyone who knows what we have been able to expecting Jewish maneuvers from the bank

French-Genevan Protestant.

These people formed a Faustian— in Paris

semi-stock market, semi-bourgeoisocracy, pre stiff, formal, dry, impertinent

hypocrites, who are indeed the most disastrous caste?

pleasant that exists. They were strongly reprimanded.

last winter by the discovery of a man named Geneviève, where the author, U

a woman with a righteous heart and a kind mind, she revealed

And the

uren

— JEWISH INSTINCT, 299

'all that is depravity and falsehood'

:_ beneath the apparent affability of these false nobles,

major organizers of charity events, parties

exclusively Protestant, moreover (4).

These Protestants remind us too much of that, moreover, the idea that drives them is not

French point. Theologically, their reli-

The region originated from the Jewish people. "Rashi and the Tosa-phistes made Nicolas de la Lire; Nicolas de

The book made Luther, as we know. Historically Protestantism originated in Germany. Luther is the most German of men, he is the more quibbler. Quibbler, heretic. The he-Protestant resistance could hardly succeed in France. She achieved so little that she brought about cruel wars, regrettable measures, then—

that after all, it was French blood that was shed

at home, under blows from French swords.

That's because France, as it so aptly put it writes Mr. Renan, "is the most

(1) And so, is Alphonse Daudet's Evangelist a

A fairly significant book?

300 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

orthodox, because it is the most indifferent in roll
.gion. To innovate in theology is to believe in li Theology. But France has too much of a "pouf" spirit.
to never be a theological country. Heresy na
"Nothing to be done about it." So we are { taken aback and very bewildered as well, when we let's see some Protestants who came from outside to associate with Jews who came from further away
core, we preach the heresy of the free pet
sée. All this bores us, brave gti, l-
Bible scholars. Leave us in peace! 5
I see you're going on for too long, I believe... that you are working to irritate us and that YOU
You are resentful of the peace of mind. No.
These habits of indifference disturb you.
You are quite wrong, thanks to them we had YOU forgotten. Here we have just been forgotten.

we disappoint-

], Take
nsformt
For"
acitel |

èg SUI-

to see that you were there. Immediately
We'll see that you want some of our money.
Keep in mind that our indifference will not be 8€.
you require very close attention, including YOU rez regrets having awakened the perspie

Re" "ss NN - "OR
a 2
oo,

JEWISH INSTINCT. 301

For those of us who have remained, we are perceptive.
In France, we are. And so, do you know—
The Jew will warn the Protestants who have become his allies, that he could arriver one day to see renewed at their de-
They are working on the history of Shechem. Shechem, like the Franco-Genevan Huguenots, was an incir-Concise. The Jew doesn't like the uncircumcised. And if by chance he concludes a pact of alliance or friendship with him is a pact of the kind
the one concluded between the children of Jacob and this poor son of the king of Shechem.

We all know the story because we have it read long ago in sacred history, at an age when None of us saw any harm in it. Here it is.
repeated with all its perfidy and
of cruelty.

Dina, Jacob's daughter, aged sixteen, wants
She is going to see the Shechemite festivals.
abducted and raped by the king's son. The young man elsewhere offers all repairs

tions demanded by the children of Jacob who 26

302 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

come to claim their sister as it is their duty. He has a good position. His father is king, and he very much in love. He is ready to consent to all that the family of the patriarch of Israel will demand of him. The children of Israel will demand
What? That the king of Shechem, his entire family
His people are being worshipped, they say.
that it is not permitted for Israelites to his
to link to uncircumcised men. The condition is ä accepted. And the king himself is the first to set an example for all his people who limit
Did the young king have to be in love?
But this is where Israel's treachery begins again.
in all its splendor, and, let's say it, in all its glory
her eternity. The third day after this dou
a painful operation, when the pains at the wounds are the most acute, adds the comment Simeon and Levi, Dinah's brothers, entered in the city of Shechem, sword in hand, Accompanied by their servants, my

all the males, those poor fresh waxed ones, # take Dina, their sister, with all the money that al"

mm
me

sacrament

. JEWISH INSTINCT. 303

There were women and children in Shechem and
of herds.

As we can see, it's a betrayal, leading to The complicated murder of robbery. And yet the the king of Shechem had subscribed for himself and his subjects the covenant of alliance concluded between Abraham and Jehovah under the tree of Membreve; they had
They made Israel's allies. And at what price! Conclusion-Zion: circumcised or uncircumcised, one is never for a Jew than an uncircumcised man when one is not of the tribe! And those who are not not of the tribe, we just saw how the
The Israelites treat them. Let the Protestants who are currently playing the game of the Jews
they meditate a little, I encourage them to do so, on this read-Shechemite minced meat!

They are familiar with the Bible. They understand-perhaps they will.

That said, for anyone who is too open-
a malicious pleasure in making us laugh grimaces behind a mask, grimaces of

304 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

pastor or rabbi under a mask of freedom Thinker, let's summarize the debate on the Jew among clerical in France.

For him, the serious quarrel of the free per

seeé is merely a means of conquest, a M0j#
to converse with us in perpetual illusion fantastical vision that has dazzled us ever since He was sixteen earlier. He knows we're bararts fond of speaking, Gallus dicendi penis
And there he is, using up our oratorical saliva on ul
A subject where he alone will gain something. The
The subject is serious enough to allow us to Leave the Jew aside, for the moment?
less.

Now we will know what it is for us!
to do when the Jew irritates us too much with
the pins he sticks in our chairs.
For the time being, we only advise
this fierce free thinker to stop j0 |
frequently with the ashes of 10 |
Faith that dies. Wherever you tickle it, |
The Frenchman hardly likes to do anything but joke about it*

is |

THE JEWISH INSTINCT, 305

lasts too long, especially when it takes bad turn of events.

This mask of a free thinker has us all looking like an agent provocateur's mask. This We know that mask because we have it already seen strolling his hideous grin among the Socialists. Enough! If we are badly said committed to maintaining all good relations with the priests of our ancient religion, we are even more ill-disposed to us in allow to be imposed by the priests of a religion
who is not from our region.

Moreover, we are very close to us
to get angry at people who get along too well
good at stirring up the spirit of revolution among us and disorganization. We are people courteous, well-mannered, and well-behaved with the foreigners, but on the condition that the foreigners-Gers will not benefit from our hospitality cordial to harm security and pros-
The peril of our country. The free thought of the Jew seems to me an ingredient perfectly suited to 26,

306 THE JEWISH QUESTION,

to undermine the sustainability and inviolability of our great country by sowing the divorces of the thet-Jewish logy.

The Jew is a theology. The Jew is a religion. If ever we were willing to giveblier, let's reread this fragment of the report addressed to Napoleon in 1806 by the legislator Portalis

"Religion is not usually relative"

than to things concerning conscience; ch&
For Jews, religion embraces everything that is fundamental and governs society: From this the Jews form by an entire nation within the nation, they are not Neither French nor Germans, nor English!
"They are Prussians, they are Jews."

The famous Universal Israelite Alliance of Crémieux says nothing different:

"The Alliance is not a fraternal alliance"
Gay, German or English; she is Jewish,
It's universal, that's why it succeeds
Hi,

It's cynical, but that's how it is. And they
They will come and tell us that they are more special-

THE JEWISH INSTINCT, 307

_ French than Germans, because they have localized their interests on the productive land of the France! And they will come and declare that they have as many rights as we have to the French homeland
çaisel |

We will explain this further later.
For now, let's tell them they are neither Neither French nor German, but that they are Jewish, nothing but Jews, and cannot be anything else
something that Jews.

Their religion is their destiny, their in-Instinct. Their goal, their everything. It is their calling.
In Abraham, it is their millstone, which they keep-tooth! And above all, that they give up wanting to stun us by trying to make it spin
at our expense.

With its crazy steering wheel noise, this moped
It irritates us and makes us nauseous. Let's say with her foot on it, let's stop her again like
The Middle Ages had stopped it. Everything needs to be done price that it becomes heavy again with all the weight of its immobility.

308 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

The millstone, motionless on his shoulders
It is the Jew taken back by his destiny, cl k
Jew nailed back to the shifting wall of his fatal fate,
It's the Jew finally returning to his font.
exceptional, a damned wanderer.

The Wandering Jew is the Jew carrying ruins
In ruins, from kingdom to royalty, The far water of his religion. He is the eternal traveler of the Middle Ages, which spread from people to people
ple, from century to century, drinking its arms
in his cup, which sleeps neither day nor night, 1
on silk or on stone, and who cannot descend by the same path he climbed.

Jehovah is not powerful enough; Abraham is too narrow to tear the Jew from his W
A cation of misery and repressed hatred. (NOts)
'We tried to bring the Jew to us'
to introduce it into our system of freedom €!
of humanity,

We are now forced to get rid of it.
Can't emancipate him without it costing him life to the emancipator. The Jew, despite all our

ee <> PT

THE JEWISH INSTINCT. 309

efforts, despite his own, are regained by its destiny as a murderous, useless bumblebee and destructive. He falls back into his religion. Com-How does he fall back into it? Oh! Don't worry, there falls back down on its own.

So see if this famous Israelite Alliance-the language of which the Jew is so proud, is not the instrument-
the mechanism of his own downfall, a crafted instrument, melted by his own hands.

We had forgotten that the Jew is a traitor.
a deceitful man, a masked wrestler, and, what's more is, a cosmopolitan of an "inexorable" cos-Mopolitism,

Who reminds us of all this and who clarifies

That rediscovered memory? Crémieux, yes, Crémieux himself, by telling us that the Alliance is not not French, but Jewish, and that if by chance
we meet little Jewish children in our Secular schools are a complete fabrication.
that they are there, because these little ones are not lai-
Not at all. They made their devotions to the house, and kissed the "little stick consecrated to

310 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

"God" before eating and before coming to the school where they joke about Benedicite.
You might say that Crémieux didn't give all these tips, and the Israeli Archives do not They didn't publish them so that we wouldn't have them knowledge. It doesn't matter, we have it knowledge. It's all there; Drumont the:
He found them, he did well. We always make a 6 a good deed when you save your country from the vile deception, a sleight of hand,
where the life of a people like ours is in Game. |

The Universal Israelite Alliance wanted us
If we lose, she will save us. Where did it come from that... a cunning, quibbler like Crémieux has thus delivered the key that will open the exit door WHERE
All the Jews of France and Algeria will pass through!
Why is it that this businessman is so clever?
Has he thus fallen into his own trap? It's that the Jew, whoever he may be, Moses or Crémieux;
is never free from his destiny, he is always-

days in the trap where we believe that

_ JEWISH INSTINCT, 311

He falls. He never gets out of this trap; he falls back into it. falls a little further forward each time he attempts an effort to break free.

This trap is his religious vocation, his eternal damnation of the condemned Wandering Jew never to enter the Promised Land.

Crémieux will have been the Moses of this pro-liberation of Jews in French territory since nearly a century. Like Moses, he will have led his people at the edge of the Promised Land without letting them in. Like Moses, he will be died a few years before the symbolic melee a council presided over by Joshua.

Like Moses too, with the program of his Covenant, a kind of new Book of Scriptures—old where the figurative language of the Old Testament is replaced by the cold, incisive tongue of the businessman, he will have left in his wake—rant of writings which bear the contemporary stamp the fading of the sign.

It was therefore necessary to say earlier, at regarding Mr. Adolphe Franck's letter to

312 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

Journal of Debates, that the Jew cannot ph nothing to write or attempt that doesn't backfire.

He is lost at this point, whatever he It is done. This is the hour when Babel crumbles.

The Jew will return to his destiny. cable of the Jew enslaved by his Abraham and of his Jehovah, strangled, garroted by this vo& tion, Wandering Jew, without land, without heaven, 52% possible homeland.

The Jew without a possible homeland is the Ju Wandering. It is the motionless millstone crushing A shoulders of the marching slave.

CHAPTER FOUR

THE JEW'S HOMELAND

I

THE JEW IN THE RIGHTS OF THE REVOLUTION FRENCH

To determine whether the Jew has any reason to claim their share of the rights of the Revolution French, let's see if, in our opinion, it has a race determined, if he understands the family as we, if he has a nationality and a homeland in the meaning we attach to these words.

The Jew, the true Jew, the one whom Moses em-led into the desert, thus clearing the Cyrus's vast empire from the overflow of his 27

314 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

parasites, is probably not gold
gine, as I tried to demonstrate, yes purebred. It had to be completed in s% ranks too many repeat offenders from all over l8
points of Egypt to dare to claim origins as high as he does UNDER penalty of ridiculous. The vagabonds were taking advantage of the aceasit!
the departure of the Israelites to escape from a countries where they were too well known to the police
where they no longer had anything to do.
"Burned." They joined the Jews and marched!
behind Moses. So much so that up to a certain at this point we are permitted to think that A Jews of today, sons of the Jewish troop of Moses, come from an agglomeration of u individuals from various origins, grouped together
by events even more than by the natural ties of blood or character
presided over the formation of the li in our country national miles.

That's all for the breed.
The Jew is no more a family

THE JEW'S HOMELAND. 319

as we are used to considering the family and to establish it. After the interview
Under the tree of Mamre, Abraham sends away
Lot, his nephew, telling him to go and fetch Fortune and pasture elsewhere.

This is for blood relatives. Let's see the family of alliance. Abraham arriving with Sara in Egypt presents her to Pharaoh as his sister. The Pharaoh found her beautiful, and the
The Bible tells us that he tried to use this pretty no one without succeeding. Yet Jehovah is there mixed, gives the Egyptian monarch the wrong by making him understand that they did not want the woman of her neighbor.

Everything works out; Abraham receives gifts
as the price for his cuckoldry, which he placed under Jehovah's patronage. And Pharaoh apologizes as best he could, stating that he didn't know Sara is someone's wife. "He told me that she
"was his sister," he explains in his defense.
to Jehovah, who is only calmed by the indemnity paid by the Pharaoh.

ee

the daughter or sister are, subject to UP P

316 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

It is true that Sara was at the same time k
Abraham's sister and his wife. This is not That's perfectly in line with our practices. If that happens
It is through an abuse of bestiality that the Code,
In our culture, we condemn and punish. The Code of Israel is less severe on this point, because on Vol Abreham repeat the same maneuver with Abimelech, and Abimelech, like Pharaoh!
saves himself from the wrath of Jehovah with strong unity Compensation. Compensation plays a huge role in these circumstances where the woman is a merchandise intended to generate income

income through compensation to the Jewish family.
This hasn't changed much. We know (WHERE a lot of old and young Jews in Paris, don!

And
disbursements, constantly available.

Here is something in the same spirit of a Jewish family
Old Lot, a widower, becoming the husband of 5 girls. I'll be told it was dishonorable to a girl from Sodom to remain a virgin Poor daughters of Lot, seeing themselves relegated ei tm

a oo EE

THE JEW'S HOMELAND. 317

in a cave, with no certainty of ever returning to society, they were afraid of dishonor-the one who was waiting for them in the story. And the
this is how to avert this misfortune by means as natural as they are illegitimate, according to the law-
the timidity of our own morality.

No doubt we see it every day among us
also young women who, after a certain age, they believe it's time to put an end to the tooth of wisdom. But we are, I believe, on the family institutions with which these feminine determinations, which have their good for those who are neither of the same blood nor of the same name, have nothing to do with each other as far as I know.
Because if it were in Abraham's family, or of Lot, which is exactly the same, a principle of domestic customs of handing over to their father in intoxicating his daughters rather than letting them
daughters, I declare that the family according to the voca-Abraham's teaching is not, but not of the Everything, the family as we respect it.

After these unnatural alliances, but 21.

318 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

mandatory, here is the conclusion logical, divorce.

Senator Naquet is by vocation of Abraham. Drumont did well to rap him. It was necessary to explain the fervor of the chemist politician trying to make us adopt a law which is his Law, that famous Law that every good The Jew carries it within him.

When Sara, wife and sister of Abraham recognized as sterile, no longer represents the principle of the fertility that Lot's daughters represent—ent with such keen eagerness, Abraham imagine the divorce, and fertile Agar Ja sells.

This is also evident among us. But when It's obvious, it's always outside the fair a thousand, outside the laws of the family, otherwise outside the marital home, and it is rare that the legitimate wife to whom such an insult is directed done, put all the complaisance into it, {all the goodwill, which in this matter has been acquired To Lady Sara. Is divorce therefore a compromise?

prahan

.

THE JEW'S HOMELAND. 319

given that everything is easy for the Jew, to whom everything It persists in our country. Divorce exists today. at home. So be it. Those who have it most ardently Jews are recommended, such as Mr. Naquet, or halves of a Jew, like Mr. Alexandre Dumas fils. To do so admit to put it, they only allowed themselves facts of our history which are acts of force, or rely on exceptions where the mass of a people must not, cannot be admitted. Regardless, the divorce has been approved. He now has The force of law. And events unfolded... galloping as if to justify its usefulness and hygiene of such a measure.

That there were many people among us unhappily married people who aspired to the success of The Naquet proposal, that's true. But that doesn't
It doesn't prove that the whole country was in the same situation.
Anxiety. I still believe that unhappily married people never represent anything but the exception among us. You have to be Jewish, and willing to plant
In our country, Jewish Law is enforced by force, in order to have

320 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

the audacity to allow oneself an exception in order to formulate a principle common to everyone.
And this proves once again that, just like the Jews
search among us for the bad guys
will be able to help him succeed in his bad financial blows, likewise, when he wants # posing as a moralist, he relies on what he can to encounter morbid elements among our own or immoral. Divorce, even though it has €0 which in our country has a solemn and respectful character
The tablet of a Law is immoral. It is immoral.
because of the children. Among the Jews this is not not the same importance. Their children to Strictly speaking, they don't have a name. All the
The world is called Lévy, Bloch, Cohen, Jsaat, Benoît, etc., etc., all names that do not represent
They don't feel a name for us. A Lévy of More or less, it doesn't matter.
However, our children have names. The mother to the name of her children. Give to the mother,
However undignified it may be, it's an opportunity to get rid of it.
Using one's children's name is immoral.

20

THE JEW'S HOMELAND. 321

It is a thousand times better that children have to
to blush for their mother, knowing that she has no longer the right to bear the name that she gave them gave them their father's name, placing them at world. A mother who dishonors a name, It's a tragedy. We know how to sympathize with misfortune. And then we say of children, sons of a
The mother felt guilty that they had lost their mother.
death that leaves an empty seat at the home does not-

It doesn't involve the family. Divorce, which sets up a another home next to the children's home, and can
to have other children alongside the pre-Miers destroyed the family.

Children are much more vulnerable without a father or without a mother, when both are alive
from another life and another family, than when-that they are both dead. Death, I he repeats, of the father or the mother, of the father Even so, it does not destroy the name. If the name is Prostitute, defiled, dishonored, it's an evil which only affects the individual. The general remains intact. And for us, the general, it's the

322 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

France. There's no denying it, the divorce was born not in our religion, it's that he wasn't pi
in our customs. It is in the Jewish religion because it is in the customs of the Jews.
is even like a necessary element C0
Constitutive of the Jewish family. For the family
The Jewish family is a wandering family, a family without homeland to cling to, without a name of paf or nation to be protected. In The more closely spaced the hearths, the more
There are more children from the same father, plus y?
of Ishmael next to Isaac, plus the Jewish family is strong. It only exists through quantity
It can only operate against us if dk | operates en masse. The Jewish nation does not exist that in Israel and nowhere else, plus there are Ishmael or Isaac, the higher the nation number!
It matters little whether the children are born to the maid or the lady. All Lemme Juive is a servant. Her situation €8f entirely inferior to that of her husband. She plays alongside him the role of accomplice to the pleasures-
|

THE JEW'S HOMELAND. 323

sensations of the flesh, nothing more. She is treated in the oriental style. 11 It is hardly anywhere except in France that-then very few years that the Jewish woman occupies an equal place in society.
How long has it been since women synagogues are no longer separated from Men? Only for a few years. And still in large synagogues such as that of Rue de la Victoire. Until then the Women were relegated to a stand.

at the first one, where they said very prayers
distinct from those of men, if I judge
by that in which men thank God for not having brought them to birth as women, where the women declare themselves ready to endure all the evils that God will send them. This may forto have the last word in a discussion about Jewish divorce triumphant in France. The di-Vorce is not for us, who have a homeland, a family according to that homeland, and a name following this family. We compel-
To have it in our laws is to make it in-

324 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

swears to our country, to our family, to nolt name. It is above all an insult to the woman, to the French mother than to submit her to al

prices of an oriental law written by Mo

for the Jewish woman, whom the Jew considers as a slave.

The enslaved woman, the woman
Abraham's divorce, the woman subjected to A
on his knees
e SIen, threatened by

prospect of having to rock Ishmael, the child of the maid, like]
That's not what we call 6 F

the family. It could be the fu
We do not confuse them.

we are not Pi in

rancid thousand

Jewish, but it's not necessary

We are not from Israel. N
Abraham nor in Jehovah. We do not force that he claims

The Jew to embrace our laws:
"It is up to us to decide"

It's up to him to try. It's if this claim is anything other than a pre Attention. And perhaps today we would have
It was very difficult to deny him access.
He himself did not provide us with each one.
This was the perfect opportunity to catch him red-handed.

Re... RE –
D
oo, 1

THE JEW'S HOMELAND. 325
the offense of expropriating what belongs to us leave.

Just look at divorce; I don't know
no better argument to put in its natural light, the ballistics of the Jew,
this ballistics of attack and coup.
This is the Jew in the midst of carrying out his offensive formula, imposing the laws on us of his vocation in Abraham, the laws of his theology.

The French Revolution opening our country to conquer the Jew, also opened our institutions. See how it enters into our family. By violating it, by expropriating it, by supplanting his own family. Because he
We must now start from this principle: the di-Vocation in the French family, it's our fa-thousand expropriated by the Jewish family.

Expropriate! Expropriate! That's the word for it.
every Jewish conquest. The Jew marries our morals. Don't be fooled. It is in

This is just as insincere as his role in | 28

326 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

secular freethinker. The Jew does not marry 1 morals only to break them better. Let us not forget not that he is a separate being, constituting ul

a world apart, with its own unknown way of life Compatible with any other system. The Jew cannot reign only in place of what he left# willing to submit. Obeying for Jui, that means to say to finish within a certain timeframe. He was blown away.
to inspire confidence. Deep down, he doesn't...
than to get a divorce.
That is why it seems to me that the Revi-
The French revolution attempted the impossible, by VOUmaking available to the Jew rights which cannot suit him. Not that; if
If it were another people, there would be no
of possible accommodation. But with the Jew,
Reaching an agreement is completely impossible. Ilnyi
Never a lasting agreement with the J gif, The con
Language fusion always occurs ef dis-Persian everyone, because the Jew who an exceptional individual could not act al
"rather than in his exceptional destiny"

is

US
A om ER
D
HAS SMEs
oo PR,

THE JEW'S HOMELAND, 327
Believe me, this is not without reason.

I insisted, as I did above, on what the Jew calls his calling in Abraham. The Jew's destiny is exceptional, it is necessary—let it be said, to be remembered, since it had forget. It is especially in the face of the rights of the Revolution—French solution that we realize that this destiny is unique in the world, and makes of a people who represent it, a people apart.

Listen to the Jew. You might be thinking that he declares that he is a people, a nation, Not at all. He is God's people, the nation from Israel. For us, that also seems strange. that if we said that we are Îa nation of Clovis, of Saint Louis or of Louis XIV. We are the French nation because 'that we are from the country of France, and the Jewish is not the nation of Israel because it is of the country of Israel. Israel is not a territory—

2

Israel is a historical or theo— myth

Logically, it doesn't matter. Ultimately, it's a myth.

328 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

a random thing that doesn't correspond to anything on the political map of the nations of the UN— "Vers" is a word.

The Jew may say: Israel is a n nationality. Israel is a nationality sin Him, but not according to us. A nationality In our opinion, this is something that has a more or less unchanging design on the island land register of peoples with different names; cel something that is connected to the earth, to the globe. There are mountains and rivers that sound! In France, there are neither rivers nor mountains. who are in Israel.

Israel is a rallying cry, a signature
an individual's name borne by several individuals vidus, the name of a family that serves for #
to recognize people from the same family, family formed on bases other than the
ours, on opposing, even hostile, grounds,

because this family is stateless, Sd resources, without soil to feed themselves, San profession, with no other means of subsistence than

SSSR TR, SERRE.

THE JEW'S HOMELAND. 329

What makes a terrorist attack illegal in our country.

This family is the family of vocation of Abraham. Abraham's calling is therefore the Jew without a defined race, like ours.
Ours comes from people who occupied this territory before us; people who have us
left their name, which is a family name ethnic and not mythical family; people who were the rulers of this country before us;
this country of which we are the holders at-
Today, we only hold them today.
because the people we come from were holders before us.

Abraham's calling was still to be a Jew.
without family, as we understand the faa thousand. Our family rests on customs that come down to us from our predecessors
in this country, customs subject to modifications cations, to improvements which are the inherent to our ethnological heritage.

The family of the Jew, which is mythical, is an unchanging family. Unchanging because 28.

330 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

so that a family can change within Its operation requires a pretext

to change.

However, the Jewish family, which has remained what it once was was, a mythical family, cannot pass modify as long as it is not p# ethnic. Her situation hasn't changed, she is still searching for a country where she can to establish itself. Wherever it establishes itself, it will put its claims forward. And she cannot do va- to justify its claims by expropriating the rights of those whose place she will take. The family A Jewish woman will therefore never change her situation. because no one can consent to him to provide the means to expropriate what Ra inconvenience, that is to say, to demolish what should be demolished to make way for the dream of the Jewish family. It would be necessary, for the family Jewishness ceased to be immutable, that it took posit- tion somewhere, found a territory for to make it his property and to constitute by Ja Following an ethnic heritage for his people.

THE JEW'S HOMELAND. 331

As long as the Jewish family is this What is it, a mythical family and no ethnic, she will be condemned to remain this that it always was, the family of vocation of Abraham, that is to say, a family that has not no real assets and cannot be held responsible for them titling one that by what puts us out The law: the attack.

Abraham's calling, ultimately, is to be a Jew. without a nationality other than his religion, that is to say- to say without a homeland, according to the meaning we attach to it to this word which is the idea of duties included between the cradle and the tomb, intimately united bound to one another by the intimacy of their constituent atoms killing the soil that feeds us.

Taking the word "patrie" (homeland) in its origin even in its germ, we should, in this As far as we're concerned, to say that we have a matriarchy. We are coming out of it, sort of. womb of the earth that carries us, that gave his name and who gives us the breast so much that our life may last.

232 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

We are the children of generations that emerged
like us from the belly of the earth of France
These people shaped our heritage, we improved successively, they grew it into Du in dignity or in office; they have done to that fraction of the globe of which we are a part of the story €
a glory in keeping with our character, to nf

hopes, to our ambitions, in our own way to understand glory or merit. Celi
It is called France when it conforms to our French spirit, Germany when it falls within the conditions of the alle- character
Mand, and so on for all other peoples
which are breeds or portions of breeds.
ancestors who were born like us and died
like ours on this part of the land where we are classified under a heading nominal, are our ancestors 16
dead, just like fallen leaves
last autumn are ancestors of the leaves of P FAMOTRPE following, Ancestors by Ja sévé, pi life, through death, the three principles that

THE JEW'S HOMELAND. 333

they seed the soil humus and nourish the living world. That's why I say that our homeland is in a way a matrimony, a mother, a womb from which we are born
My children, a breast that gives us life.

The Jew, however, has no homeland. The only point of the globe that he can recommend is the famous cave of Hebron. And yet he did not owes nothing to this hollow rock. This cavern, Abraham bought it for a good price.
to bury Sara there. It belonged to whom-that before becoming, by contract, the property of Abraham's family, and that Moses made him the sepulchre of all symbolic Jewry and of-official of the Bible. The parasitic Jew of the uni-worm is even the parasite of the cave of Hebron. 11 only becomes the owner of it as the tenant who would buy his house owner. Someone else was born there. It's

The attack again, but in its regular form
Cash payment. An attack nonetheless in the absolute sense in which we understand pa-

334 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

sorting. It was necessary to have the cave that the
The Jew evicted the first occupant. That he dislodged him by pouring four thousand cycles on him
Gold, it doesn't matter.
The main thing is that there is
And there was an eviction, since it y to € purchase.
The Jew, therefore, has no homeland, in the filial sense.
where we understand the homeland, in the bonds of flesh and blood that make us love Nolfé
country and defend it against aggressors

, Ü , CR
species. His homeland is a quinesl thing

like his odious system
eli-

had been evicted.

known only to him,
financial. It is a collection of T practices religious, institutions and traditions which have no home anywhere and no point of €0l

A world, not st en

but

comparison among no people of even among the English, whose heart does not
the sum that an ambitious tourist's heart
Not an international figure like the Jew. The Englishman on a journey, however far it may be carried, leaves always a piece of his heart in the ground

coal-blackened from his England. Wherever he goes,
However vagabond he may be, the greatest reproach
The only thing one could say to him is that he takes too much easily his homeland at the foot of his rubbercabbages.

The Jew is the only people of whom one cannot not to say that he carries his homeland on his heels
from his shoes.

The Jew's homeland is his religion. Since the Abraham's calling, he has no other territory
to tell him that the promise of Jehovah making him
to glimpse the empire of the world.

Such a promise was from Moses
an argument that could have its uses.
She calmed the incessant rebellions of the multitude that the old pontiff dragged behind-behind him, pointing out prey to a voracious easily explained in such weather and pa-
He was in this place. Besides, could Moses have promised... something other than the world as a homeland to a
A people who didn't have any? He couldn't Give him more.

336 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

So this is the Jew, necessarily cosmopolitan.
His homeland is that of all secret societies.
which have ramifications throughout the world and to link, that they call themselves "masonry" or
The "Society of Jesus." Still in these mountains black or red bullshit, find out of people who, if they are international on one hand,
are connected by the other hand to a point on the globe
where they were born, where they have altars.
Promises like the one made by Moses cost nothing to those who make them; they are folded perilous for those who accept and seek them
the realization. At the time when Moses promised
The world had its Jews, the world had Egyptians Egyptians, Assyrians, Chaldeans, of the Canaanites, of the Amalekites, as it was Later in the hands of the Greeks, the Romans,
Celts, Gauls, Germans,

Saxons, and of all modern nations, for
I believe they are not very willing to let themselves be dispossessed.
C  mme he is in Ja ballistics of the Jew of the
to dispossess sooner or later.

THE JEW'S HOMELAND. 337

Dispossessing us is the term of the Law of Moses. Promising the world to the Jew, that was him.
To say, "You have nothing, they have everything." That was, in
In short, to outline for him in very meaningful terms
this expedient which, in our country, throws out the law:
the attack.

I really wonder how to reconcile
the principles of this religion, which is the true
Jewish homeland, with the rights of our Revolution-French law, common law, rights
of man, the rights of the citizen.

When I reflect on what a Jew is and on which reduces its interstitial walk, I asks if the men of Eighty-Nine,
who were, in short, apostles, did not
was a bit hasty in its approach to the Jewish. Actually, I don't think they know him.
They didn't know, they didn't know what ca-capable of doing, of demanding, the day when he applies the generous principles of an abso-
total solution,

It seems to me that Abraham's calling 29

338 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

definitively puts the Jew outside the law

our law, since the law that the Jew

to keep constantly within him is the negation of the
OUR.

From the very first pages of this book, I declared that the Jew is helplessly agitated UNDER the criminal finger of his Jehovah, that he is not pi free, doesn't do what he wants, suffers until
To the very end, into the eternity of his birth

the impulse of a religious vocation.

I wanted to stick to the terms M}
of the Jew's destiny. But now WHAT?
shown the Jew operating in this myth
cable and immutable, I am authorized to declare that this destiny is neither more nor less than the work of the Jew. This Law of Moses which... The summer

thics
ji

is the law that he dictated by his actions to his legislator. This instinct that we have YU
g S0-

essentially limited, unable to jam shooting at the limits of the attack in the form of eu intellectual property or financial squandering candle, is less a mysterious inevitability than

D.
5

D

THE JEW'S HOMELAND, 339

the essential mark of the Jew's abilities, Moses shows us the Jew as condemned to to suffer a fate that had been cast upon him. We do not Let's not engage in witchcraft here.

We do not believe in magicians. And if we find ourselves facing a skilled craftsman
sir of towers, we understand that at a
At some point we will have all of this
Magic: a natural explanation.

But all the evil that damns the Jew is simply the inferiority of his extraction.
He never did anything among the others
peoples who allow him to consider himself a elected. He is a weakling against whom even the strongest are not than imitators. Its strength is the strength of weak, deceitful. We called him a sorcer because indeed he acts with us as a sorcerer by making us take bladders for lanterns.

May this destiny be sad and humiliating.
Not very enviable, I admit. That it is necessary to I'm willing to deplore it, I suppose, although to my

340 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

In this sense, we would be completely wrong to cry.
on the tears of the Jews. That's what they did Men of the Revolution; they were mistaken
We don't pity the criminal who doesn't want to do worse.
to be pitied, does nothing to avoid being judged complained. If the Jew is outside the law by virtue of his vote
The situation in Abraham is his own fault. He did not There's no way out. He wants to enter the dark.
law, and he wants to keep his own. He wants to nolit common law which recommends work, the production, honesty in transactions
of any kind, which regulates certain measures of family or social life, and it advises
deep down, though, treacherously:
His law, which is the death of ours.

The Jew in the universal right? But he cannot He's not there. He's not working, he's not producing.
He lives off exploitation and unfair transactions:
He shouts from over our rooftops that he is secular, more secular than us. And he doesn't use it against us

3 J
that the violence and abuses which are the esse | us

nce of his law, a religious law. He enr

AESEERSFEE

THE JEW'S HOMELAND. 341
in our family to rape her with Îa his own by forcing us to divorce. He only has Grimaces and lies at our service. He... asks to share our home, he tells us

hunting. He told us he was hungry. We ou-
We will see our table. The next day he pushes us in the street and wants us to die of hungry. 11 is cold and seeks asylum in our house. He goes in: it's to throw us out by the window. He proposes we do business, of commerce. It's to sell us Counterfeit or stolen goods. How?
Would he sell us anything else? He doesn't produce not.

No! No! The Jew is not within his rights.
common. And I apply Mira-'s word to it beautiful: There are only two kinds of men,
those who work and those who do not work
Not those who earn their living, nor the thieves.

The Jew does not earn his living, does not work
No. He lives off the common good. His life is an attack.

Perpetual. He's a thief.
29.

342 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

Thieves are outlaws here, not at home. Let him keep his Law. We keep it.
our common law.

Human rights? How can the Jew
Would he be within the bounds of human rights, he who is not subject to common law, he who is not not free.

The Jew is not free, always because of His calling is in Abraham. The Jew is not free because this vocation is a vocation
religious and that the Jew cannot, does not want He can't get rid of it. And he doesn't want to, because he can do nothing without her. It was written for himself, by himself, as the only a rule of conduct that he can follow. She told him is so essential that when it comes time to do the assault on our house that we could not to take after 1870 only on the condition of having of freedom itself, the Jew Crémieux reorders his family to put on masks of liberalism. Secularists, be secular, their he said. Or at least take the look of it.

mt

THE JEW'S HOMELAND. 343

"Send your children to secular schools"
"que," but let them make their devotions to
the house.

This is how far the Jew's freedom can go.
The freedom to lie and to be hypocritical.
Beyond that, nothing but a religious Jew, very worried about to know if he will soon have the right to raise in Paris as many synagogues as you wantdrait, as many as there are churches in Rome.

Add to that the fact that the Jew harbors a fierce hatred
The Christian's hatred, which goes back a long way, to the time of Christ, and still endures, since histo-Living Jewish scribes are very eager to throw our "Jewish heresy" in our faces which halted intellectual development in "Europe." As if the great movement pagan of the Renaissance, in fifteenth-century Italy century, could never have been a movement Jewish. The Jews having always had the horror-fear of Greek antiquity, and not having accepted Aristotle said that because the Arabs had de-marked before them, they did not recognize the

344 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

Greece in Aristotle, as distorted by the Arabs
The Jew is free! But he has no means of to cease being Jewish if he so desired to deny it of his calling in Abraham. We have 1 above, by a quote from the Archives lot lites that, by acquiring the character of Israelite pr
From birth, the Jew can never lose character, to resign from it. The Israelite who his religion, which involves baptism, never ceases.
to be an Israelite. All the duties of Israel continue to be his responsibility.

In this respect they are like the Prussian subjects

or Germans, who never lose their qua Prussian or German army, whatever that is, the number of naturalizations quick take part in the journey due to the needs of their operations worldwide.

However, ask subjects 1 to French people who change their nationality, who...
They deny it, if they are still French. They will will respond that they have complete freedom of soil from France, to leave through the heart, but what

nn ER... ,: - Rene. ES, . nu bc 9 qqn pq oo en

THE JEW'S HOMELAND. 345

They no longer have the freedom to enter. It's only justice, the man who abuses his freedom
loses all rights simply by virtue of it abuse, but to abuse it, you still need to have it Enough. It seems that the Prussian, like the Jew
They are lacking. However, for the Prussian, I have them.
I would see it as a police measure, a measure order which has its reason for being in a country where People emigrate without much thought of returning Because people live in poverty there. And then there's Prussia.
It's a squalor. The homeland always has the right to keep their own, even against their will.

We are prouder by pushing back
forever those who have rejected us once.

But as far as the Jew is concerned, it's a
A completely different matter. This nationality which re-
It also holds strong, being a mytho- nationality Logic, religion, Israel, a sign, I have the
the right to say that the Jew is not in the Human rights. Linked to a myth, marked of a mark that cannot be erased even when it is removed,
he lacks the means to respond to the pre-

346 THE JEWISH QUESTION,

the first condition that the Revolution demanded
of a man to recognize his rights:
Freedom!

Once again, there's no point in feeling sorry for the
A Jew burdened by this destiny that weighs him down and crushes him.
He's the one who did it. He's keeping it, that's all.
that she pleases him. He will keep her, because of a-
We are what we are. It does not belong to man to change himself as he pleases. The Jew
He is Jewish, he will remain Jewish. And please.
to be assured that the Jew has no desire to be something other than what he is. He screams, he cries,
He moans, he laments. Pure hypocrisy.
Outrageous lie: if he's crying it's from rage.
of powerlessness and envy. The Middle Ages was
He was merciless towards these forgers.
knew very well that the Jew is not miserable in this way and condemned only through his own fault. To eachcun the destiny he makes for himself. If the Jew keeps his Destiny being what it is, that's what he hopes for.
that it will lead him to the extermination of the
OUR.

L

THE JEW'S HOMELAND. 347

Will we let him succeed? No! And we
we will flatly deny him the rights of citizenship
to which ll generally lays claim, and the rights of French citizen, which he specifically claims.

Citizens' rights, there are no rights.
It is not within the scope of common law, since it wants to have double standards: his law and ours. It is not within the rights of man, because he is not free and he does not doesn't want to be free.

Where are the constituent elements in all of this?

of the citizen?

Especially since, moreover, the Jew has no pa:
sorted, starting from no city!

No homeland; I tried to demonstrate this which is his homeland, "his nationality is Israel",
be it a sign, a myth, a word, nothing
real, something in the air like the Kabbalah.

No city, unless we take it for
like the fictional city of his heavenly Jerusalem.

Another sign, a myth, a word, nothing more real.

248 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

Yet it was from there that the Jew pro-put the Earth, promise in Abraham and in Jehovah.

Excuse me! Abraham and Jehovah, two then sessions that we do not recognize.

This promise is therefore void and not avenue. |

Furthermore, it's a promise, it's not
A right. It's a claim.

Let's settle this once and for all.

clear.

HAS

|
has
.
seen

THE JEW'S HOMELAND. 349

He

FRANCE IS NOT AVAILABLE

May the Jews hear this cry clearly and the retain.

France belongs to us, and us alone. Per-France has no right to claim it.
is not something to promise. She is not like on an uninhabited desert. There are in France French, sons of the French nation, who came from womb of the land of France, son of generations buried for centuries in this soil of France, son of the books where the great deeds of our people, sons of the works that have makes this country a great country.

France belongs to these men. No one else.
no one in the world has the right to share with them the honor of this property, of this
The heritage of the soil from which we come, which lives

30

350 THE JEWISH QUESTION,

of us as we need him |
to live.

Ah! The Jews, some Jews were saying French people just like us because ik somehow obtained letters from |
more or less hybrid forms of naturalization

Not at all, in the past it was necessary to produce thirty-seven noble lineages to be classified among the nobles. We will ask for thirty-six quarter-third of France and French generations

to be admitted to the rank of French citizen.

Today all French people of blood
French people, whether or not they are descended from ancestors

| nobles are nobles. The others who have | Yesterday's naturalizations are villains. We | Let us all go back, yes, all of us to Agincourt. Homage of mounted weapons, or simple arb- infantrymen |
Stirrups belong to all our ancestors.
They are not the ancestors of the Jewish people.
never did anything but follow our armies, like ke crow, to steal from the dying and rob
the dead.

THE JEW'S HOMELAND. 351

Good heavens, look at that Jew! He needs
France, nothing but that. He likes France.
This proves that we still have some good in us.
apparently, since this sinister night bird

who knows about good food would want us
for kingdom.

And he says he has rights! That's exquisite!
Which ones, please? Certainly not those ones.
that the Revolution attempted to grant him.
He doesn't want it, he can't use it.
Because when he uses it, it's for us to harm and naturalize the Jews of Algeria, should this criminal measure jeopardizes the existence of tence of our entire colony. In any case, that had French people killed. In the aftermath of 1870, to have our troops killed by those who ve-were willing to be killed alongside them for us, and That's harsh for the Jews!

And the Jew says he has rights! Ah! yes, 1810, the few Jews caught by fate and regimented with ours.

They really make us laugh, these Jews without

352 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

homeland, when they believe themselves to be citizens of the France, which they inhabit and which they "serve"
because we saw some of them wearing The Arms with us against Germany:

But that's not enough. France doesn't No date for Sedan, I imagine. And to have rights equivalent to ours, we must mon-
to have more service records than these small parts paths sixteen years old.

How many more are there, these Jews who fart?
wind recommends itself from as far away as C® Sixteen years old? In any case, how many are there who

Are they dead for us? As far as I'm concerned,
I find it hard to believe in the Jewish hero. To each its nature. But theirs does not {carry 50
The wind blows from this side of the armies where the heroes are going.

In any case, if there are those who haven't taken a step back,
I know some who left in a group of twelve.
who returned to twelve, not to say to Twenty-four. Because they had frozen cousins."
hands in the German ranks. These cousins
The Germans, the war over, rejoined their cousins from Paris and founded with them

trading houses under the cover of the Al_sace-Lorraine,

Ah! the beautiful and noble head knot of the pau-
Has Alsace, in fact, been sufficiently used to cover with its moiré folds, all this May phantasmagoriacommission sounds which, moreover, do not-were neither German, nor from Lorraine, nor Alsatian ancient, were and still are Jewish, all Simply, which is worse.

And then shall I say all my thoughts on this ser-Military vice of the Jews in 4870. Well, in putting things in the best possible light, it was still a Deception. Defending France for them was They did not show themselves to be...
eager to protect our borders than for better conquer them. That's what the facts have demonstrated; that is what the conduct of all the Jews in France currently help us to live Verify. The Jew lends nothing without certainty profit. It was a good investment to

to take up a rifle in 1870.
30.

354 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

Believe me, in this matter
as in all Jewish affairs, the mist
The funding was modest.

Only the Jews know about it so far.
the means of acquiring a house or a newspaper
for a large sum of money,
In reality, nothing, given the meagerness of the verse.
Effective. Paying little for what you buy is a Jewish maxim whose being we had forgotten-
The renewal. The day we would have time to examine how much the Jewish community

Having lost his family in 1870, we will discover that, in short, entering France was a

A very nice operation. We'll see how it goes.
Let others have their own version of this miserable story of pa-Trionomy at usurious rates. It's always Even just a short week. When:
Rothschild banker lends money to:
To control the territory, it's less for us Jibe-
to conquer us, for him and for his own people. This cheap patriotism
It disgusts me. For the Jew's calculation in CE

D |
his

Re ET
These mm re -

THE JEW'S HOMELAND. 355

The business is quite simple. As long as France will owe him money, he will be the May-to be of France. Yes, until the day when, having having excessively abused his creditor privileges, the Jew will be escorted back by the shoulders to a any border, which could well be his
to arrive sooner than he expects.

And the Jew says he has rights under French citizen. What will we say if he has rights, we who love our country, he who he hated him from the bottom of his muddy heart and depravities?

The Jew's love for France is the a-
The fox dies for the chicken. And the Revolution-tion, taking for what they wanted to be the protests from the Jew in our favor, in fact a huge mistake: she put teeth on the fox who had almost none left.

We all know these salamalecs of the Jew towards us. Since all At the hour, a hundred years that this has been going on, we have had the opportunity to observe that the Jew is not

356 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

Never what it seems. Also when we eD-

let's all these stray dogs bark Vivements to France, we say to them: Who!

Yes! Just like in Vilna.
In Vilna too, these scoundrels are shouting. Long live the France! But this time without falsehood, yes.

practical, right in the teeth. They shouted according to their heart and according to their love for us
Note that throughout this camp

Russia, we had protected them, those Jews.
sit according to their happy

For

Their recognition is reflected hideous nature. They attracted our M wounded men retreating to their homes
strip them. Then, upon seeing the Rusts, they threw them down, dying and completely naked through the doors and windows of their houses. They left them ruthlessly to die of cold and their eyes grew accustomed to it (To Russians deserve credit for their vileness. Some These horrible things must be denounced
"The present and future ones," said Mr. de S who wrote a page about this event MT

s to égur

|

|

THE JEW'S HOMELAND. 357

a beacon of indignation and high patriotism,
"We will get our revenge!" he cried.
further on, the same author of the Campaign

from 1812.

Yes, we will find her. And we already have her let us rediscover ourselves by finally regaining the right to
to speak and write what we think about these monsters. I really advise them to come They're still shouting "Long live France!" under our windows.
We will ask them if they have lost as much their own people in 1870, whom they slaughtered, our own people
in 1812.

I know very well, the Jews, who know us,
They underestimate our hare-like memory. And they believe they are saved, redeemed because they do their-Nerhaut, too high, the few of their own who performed forced service in 1870.

By the way, if they want to be born in France, let them
They suffer the consequences. If they hadn't hidden deep within themselves, the spirit of conquest and the silent invasion that drives them,
they would be less eager to make a title

358 THE JEWISH QUESTION,

of glory which for us is just a simpk
Duty fulfilled. Do we think about it?
we, the rest of us, are going on and on about the world
with the memory of our suffering, of n06
deprivations during this terrible war, made Moreover, with money from German Jews against us!

Let's not exasperate our patience k-above, otherwise we would tell how such a Jewish banker, a baron, famous in Paris, involved to the tampering of a no less f2- broadcast Meuse, made his fortune at that time €l trading securities that the Germans had carried away with our clocks.

This would give the exact measurement of the pair0-
the ism of Jews who call themselves French.

That they call themselves French. That doesn't complicate things.
No, that doesn't matter anymore. We have 4567
of them. They're starting to realize it.

We will not let our country be taken
By this herd of nomads, who are They're not even foreigners. They're German.

"1550

me. Re. + . nn year ee ne 0 nt ONNENNns: Rene. "Re: "

THE JEW'S HOMELAND... 359

For the most part. But they are German.
because they are French, no more French neither Germans nor Russians.

They are from the homeland of the Israelite Alliance,
"Neither French nor German, Jewish." That's They're the ones who say so. We would be very wrong to not to take them at their word, and as it is in the committee of this Israelite Alliance which are more or less reserve officers, we
We will tell them one of these mornings that we must renounce cer to the officer's rank. Because anyone is not French does not have the right to be offi-
to join the French army.

Oh! We won't give them a choice.
between our country and theirs. They have no homeland.

The exchange, once again, would not be loyal. They themselves are very eager to help us to remind them that they are not one of us. That they then leave the ranks of the army, where it cannot, where there should only be our people.

Yes, yes, let them go. There's nothing to

360 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

They have nothing left to do here. They have nothing left to go on.
They took everything they could from us.

take us.
On the way, on the march, to over there, over there,

Far away, wherever they want.

France is not available 1}
How! All our glory, all of it!
victories, all our defeats would serve to

(1) This I have formulated and chanted most clearly world at the conference I gave on the question at The Capuchin Hall. Many voices rose up in the audience to shout: "No! No! Bravo! Bravo!" AE
At that moment, whistles blew from a dark corner.
We got up, we looked for the whistler, shouts: 'To the door!'
were uttered. In short, the whistle was still blowing and 01 ne
No one was found. "Name yourself, show yourself!"
Nothing. A young man cried out: "He's a German!"
Another: "He's a Jew, which is worse." A third one.
"He's definitely a Jew! Look at his avarice!"
"He even holds back his word!"

The curious thing about this is the ardent French current that I had determined what was around me. The amusing thing was these sir their S that we were unable to discover. I believe that is
They were whistling into their pockets. With what? I guessed it.
Almost all Jews receiving their education around the age of fifteen Circumcision enclosed in a small box. ji y a pe
Enough to make a small pocket flute. And then it was born Cheap woes. Protests can be cheap.

PS
D no T,
HAS

THE JEW'S HOMELAND, 361

to make a Promised Land for the Jews! We will—Let us laugh behind us at ten centuries of bloodshed.
ten centuries of a star of the first magnitude, ten centuries of literature, art, science, of genius, inventions; we would have ten centuries
of efforts and apostolate to uplift humanity and to nurture it in the ideas of honor and human dignity; we would have a great enemy like Germany, large en—old as all the great peoples of world; we would have all of that to our credit to create a somewhat clean homeland for this an additional breed, to these parasites that we calling the Jews?

No, that will not be, that cannot be.

And I can hear from here the bones of all those who have gave their lives for France since the France exists, shuddering in their coffins.
Voices rising from the ground are shouting at me that It's impossible, and they ask me what they So, these escaped slaves did what they did, their

stinking ghetto, to suddenly arrive at such a 31

362 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

A great honor, the honor of being French.

What did they do? They were spies.

of Germany during the war in France.

They drained the country's capital. They have corrupted the public spirit. They lowered the moral level by attacking without &S

to the instincts which are the dregs of man;
They sowed division and discord.
we did as much as they could, by the means available to us better suited to the circumstances. Jls us
They chased everyone away and gave away all $0 means of subsistence to their own. They 1 threatened in our existence el 80
willing to take our lives tomorrow

ous On nt toul

{}

(1) One of them, which it is unnecessary to name (that one:
argument July

would advertise, to employ a
he told me, speaking directly to me, {We will shoot you,
you and yours, wherever we meet you?
I know the Jew too well and what he is capable of to see

That's a crazy idea. The Jew, when he leaves
In degree of apparent power, no doubt of rep
He didn't answer, and I repeat again to C8 Jew that he has to show us how my nose is made before s'inaÿl lémer t ; eee me fusiller moi et les mis aus fac
that he supposes it. The French made Ja Saints

|
|

THE JEW'S HOMELAND, 363

to make more room for their co-religious zealots. That's what they did!

And that's not all. They continue even further.
to attack popular majesty by a fan.
democratic tasmagoria of the utmost grotesqueness.
At the same time, to do what they call a double blow, a twin blow, they try to bring us back to the Divine Right of Kingship,
and they propose their own divine right.
to continue ours. "You don't have any Moreover, they say, we have one: take the
OUR. "

This is for the case already foreseen by the clever ones among them, where a kick from the people
sovereign, finally disillusioned with them, would send them to the devil, in the night of their cave of Hebron, to join Abraham and his band. |

The Jew courting our principle of Divine right is no less transparent than Barthélemy. They did it in September too. A word to the wise.

Hi!

364 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

when he plays at his Synagogue UNDER pre-

A text of free thought.

Here and there, moreover, this does not concern us hardly. This shows us once again that The Jew never tires. In politics as In life relationships, we chase it away by kicked in the kidneys, ti

He enters through the window, hat in hand,
Back folded in half.

Let's take it for what it is, or else not.
Let's not take it. Let's tell him like in the poor man's book.
indiscreet person who sends her son home during the day:
"My friend, we have already given your
"Father this morning."

The Jew is interfering with our Divine Law.
Regarding free thought, we have declared that it wasn't his business. ei, cest
The same thing. If he pleased us, the dead King without children, to put aside our education of France, that's still a matter between us. L# Meanings that are not from here do not have to
to get involved in this family dispute. Our summer!

THE JEW'S HOMELAND. 365

fleur-de-lis is a family heirloom that is not
Not for sale. It's out of service. Don't even mention it.
lons plus. Let the Jew not bear one a hand that would defile it. That is the advice that We give it to him.

That is also the entire answer we will give.
to the project of Abbot Léman who, claiming to be invested by decree of Louis XVI, wants, in his
A convert's dream: to unite the two traditions.
Jerusalem and Rome. And he mixes Judith and Joanna.
d'Arc, |

It goes without saying that the rapprochement is im-
It is possible. It may be useful for the Jews to... to attempt. It will be impossible for them to accomplish it.
neither from a theological point of view, nor from the point of historical view.

From a theological point of view, Judith comes from Jehovah. She slaughters. Her myth is a myth bloody. Judith's virginity is a virgin-Jewish community. Judith spends several nights with Holofernes, before putting his plan into action-

tion. She is then honored as pure.
31.

356 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

The Jews say so. And that... is indifferent. Pure or impure, she slaughters.
That's what concerns us. Jehanne, at the point
From the point of view of our theology, it comes from God and of Saint Michael. Historically, it delivers, She liberates France, she drives out the enemy, "the "Burning him out of France" doesn't kill him. Inya
No blood in the epic tale of our Joan.
She didn't slaughter the Englishman. She was content to strike him on the back with sword wounds,
or more often blows from the shaft of s01
banner. "I gave them good buffaloes"
and good dishcloths." In modern terms,
That means beatings with a stick.

Therefore, there is no relationship between them.
Joan and Judith. May the Jews keep Jeur
Judith, a magician like Delilah, like Deborah. Let them leave us Jehannt, one virgin, a saint in every way,
a living miracle, a unique figure COM
France was the only country that could produce it.

No! No! Let the Jews beware of

THE JEW'S HOMELAND. 367

'to touch our holy Joan the Maid.
Jehanne is an incarnation of the Frankish soul
It's a shame. France would disappear, but the gentle daughter of Domrémy would be the eternal image of our homeland. Its history has become a a kind of human myth, a myth that we have seen living. She is so necessary to greatness of France that the Republic, following in These are the traditions of old France, no of Voltaire's mocking France, adopted the cult of the noble girl.

The Jews were able to take the sacred vessels with them.
from Egypt. It was usury. They did not take away-
They will not perpetuate the myth of Joan of Arc.

May Father Léman and his co-religion-Natural naires take it as said, it is
It is now too late to catch us at these indirect attacks directed against the unit of our French family. The Jews will have nice of us to give little waves from behind the range of our divine right or our popular right. 'It's over. We are

368 THE JEWISH QUESTION,
now informed about the meaning of all those grimaces.

The Jew is, has been, and will be a being of exp
prayer and extermination. What it does, 1
He will do it again; therefore we are on our guard.

Jehu having received from God the order to exterto undermine the house of Ahab, killed Joram and reigned in his place. Haman, once hanged, his possessions are given to Esther and Mordecai takes # place. | |

11. There's no denying that there are several me Key to this. The Jew is unchanging. He is today what he did yesterday. And recom-

"will begin tomorrow without the gap of centuries" either a reason for him not to recognize-
to begin.

Here is a very contemporary anecdote
which will show that the spirit of Mordecai is out Minant Aman is the one who animates the Julius in France today.

A few days after the ec
Drumont, a Jew I knew, very Jat from the book of

|
|
|
|

THE JEW'S HOMELAND. 369

known in Paris in the art world,
I wondered how it would end.

"Do you see," I asked him, "a solution-tion, a solution that would appeal to you?"

— Oh yes, of course! We will descend on Place de la Concorde. And there we'll see.

I thought it was simply the
The denouement of Tartuffe.

The house is mine; it's up to you to get out.

This is where the claims of Jews. They have names beginning with heim, ach, and... isch, in echt, in um, like Barnum, they they come from outside, they are in France from—Then just yesterday, they only worked at the ruin and decay of the country, but they have the insolent idea of making us leave in our country. Ah! The Jew is insolent, aggressive, threatening, if he is not proud.
But we are proud. And we
We don't like being mocked to this extent.
to give us hope for help from Mr. Loyal.

370 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

Louis XIV is no longer here to send us
Mr. Loyal, since the Jew is a minister...
Grand Judge of Parliament. Well, yes.
We will be Mr. Loyal for our parsley complex:
nel. Since we are being threatened, we will see well where this will lead us. If we are drilled to go down to the Place de la Concorde, we
We will go. And we will judge who makes the best impression.
of us or of the Jew.

Clearly, the Jew was completely mistaken.
considering France as his professional homeland"
He had bet. His ambition blinded him. He had counted without the French. The French were at, the France could well turn into a valley of Jo-Saphat, the land of God's judgment.

Make no mistake, the day France...
It will get mixed up, everyone will get mixed up. This will not be

Not the first time our country will have set the tone of good taste and restraint
that one must know how to keep in mind in everything.

If France declares tomorrow that it cannot
I would be curious to see more Jews kept away from the Jews.

THE JEW'S HOMELAND. 371

to know who will keep them. They are chased away from-everything. The monarchical countries that surround us-rent pours their Jews into our country. All this that Mr. Bismarck can send us Jews, he sends it to us. That relieves him all the more.
This informs him all the more, and the second all the more.
in his work of disorganization and demorealization of our old Gallo-Celtic country.

It has been sixteen years since France has become the acclimatization garden where the Europe emancipates its Jews; it is truly time
that this situation comes to an end.

Obviously the Jew was counting on our facility of character, on our intellectual hospitality lectual and on the very particular character of our mission as emancipators to find in our country the generous hand that would break its centuries-old chain.

But his chain is endless, and it is impossible-
It's possible to break a ring on it. Believe me, that had been within the bounds of what feasible, it was indeed us who were indivisible:

372 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

what is needed to bring this matter to a successful conclusion?

But it seems impossible; for see that amidst the complicity of all the
In French, a voice rises and is heard, which shouts:

But don't you see that you all lost. You emancipate the Jew; but it's k
The end of France; the Jew kills his benefactor _ takes his place, seizes his possessions. Remember-you the Triumph of Mordecai which is at Far rières, at the Rothschilds'.

The Triumph of Mordecai is the triumph
the Jew's pheus tomorrow, in France, if you Give up your reckless driving right now of perils. That painting, that's the goal that...
The Jew doesn't lose sight of the fact that he's there at Rothschild's.
as the image of Christ is at the Pope's

as the effigy of Liberty is in 10%

Town halls, that is the ultimate symbol;
This is the triumphant Jewish myth.
Therefore, it is a threat; and what number

Peace! Look at Poland, the country that is the

HAS

THE JEW'S HOMELAND. 373

more broadly open to invasion in appearance peaceful reconciliation of the people of Israel. Let us hasten-
"Us, and out of here the Jew!"

I can imagine all that such a word entails.
The perilous farm. The Jew does not leave easily.
the country where he felt at home, of which he
He thought he was in charge. We saw him leave from Egypt.

But today, the Jew's word is war.
of the end. The Jewish community is too intertwined with the trip-financial stages of the universe so that what we calls for a European balance that is not found point now at the service of an operation financial. Drumont has very admirably explained the game of the Jew Bleichrøder taking mortgage on France in 1870.

The money carried on one side, the capital withdrawn from the other. That's modern warfare.
in its original organization. In these under these conditions, the Jews will do it when they want to dront. Today more than ever the eapi-

The Talists are the sponsors of the victory.

32

374 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

It was, after Waterloo, Rothschild running post office in London; it was, after 1810, the Jewish quarter entering Paris on horseback, behind the state
major German, to make himself comped nose herself from the situation of the case in progress.
The stag, forced and wounded on the ground, you should have seen it was well-built and fit for the kill that one
she had promised herself.
In these kinds of operations, the monarchies
absolutes like Germany have ways to act which always guarantees them against the excessive invasion of the Jew. They are The Jew's wind for evil deeds. AUS!
The matter has been in court for a long time; that good for the Jew and he can believe himself to be a rogue,
an equal, |
Soon the accounts will be settled. It's over.
for the Jew to believe himself a dignitary. He made a financial baron, quit to do exterminate them then by the word of a Christian!
ardent like Pastor Stæcker.

In a republic; things cannot #

M Ë

Ep: SC

gen © ii en. ls.

THE JEW'S HOMELAND. 375

settle things on the same ground. The Jew knows this.
Good. He knows full well that he serves the monarchies, and that the republics serve him. Also among Do we feel we are masters of our own destinies?
master to the point of sending us, by the methods he keeps secret, at the border
The day he would feel threatened. It's so easy, the Jew said, counting on the chauvinism of French (1)!

All handsome, all handsome, old Jew. There is tou-days in relations with us a point

almost imperceptible, as noted Drumont, which must not be crossed. This point is crossed. At this point, we know What should we expect? Whatever we undertake We're keeping a close eye on the Jew.

He is free to send us to the border
if he finds some advantage in it. We will go to

(1) Revenge is a word that came up too often
In the history of recent years, he was without This ceaseless utterance by the Jews. Why this impa-- Lence? We're waiting, we are.

376 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

this Jewish war. Yes, we will, because

After all, France belongs to us, and of some kind

Let the danger come, we must no life to our country.

But we won't go to the border like
The Jew will want to see us go there, from we even lead there, because he has generaux. |

No! No! We will not be the soldiers.
nor the standard-bearers of the Jewish bank
"High Semitism".

High or low Semitism, for me it's all the same
One. Usurers, sons of usurers. High or low depending on whether they are taken before or after the bad
a blow of which they are proud, and of which their Talmud
absolves them, or rather, congratulates them.

No! No! We will not pay A0
French blue blood for their black blood Jews! No! We will not take up arms to defend Mr. de Rothschild's assets, 0!
To save the hotels and castles that the financiers, agents from Panama, Corinth, and the railways of Algeria or Romania, paid with the money siphoned off in France on French people.

That would be far too grotesque, and our worst enemies who entangle us in their Jews would have too much reason to laugh at our expense.

The French at the border, that's the Jew.
absolute master of France. It is [France] ransacked, looted inside, during that she is threatened from the outside. It's the Jew.
squeezed himself in wherever there were gaps. And he
There will be some. These are the French threatened with not
They never returned home, killed in the back Maybe.

Therefore, we will not leave here without having
We have taken our measures. We have the example of Men of 92. Let's imitate them. This time, no one no one will find fault with it. For it is not blood French that will be paid. Yes, like the hom-my 92s, we demand guarantees against the enemy within, and let's not move forward against the enemy from without, only after being well

| 32,

378 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

confident in what we will leave behind,
These are the precautions we would take in case the Jew puts us in the dark-necessity of resorting to it. Because from now on we
We know. And if anyone still didn't know,
I would advise him, in order to know Him well, to always refer to the sustainability of this figurative action which is the Bible.
The Israelites, eager to enter the tee
from Canaan entered it by the shorter, the Spy Parade.
I believe he could not survive
doubt after this admission of the Jewish Scriptures Sul
the politics familiar to Jews. Especially when we have certainty, as we have today-today, that it is also through this Spy Parade
that they entered France in 1870 (1).
Alsace and Lorraine are at the moment which is much more lost for France than we think.
Who would believe it? They were lost before.

Emin the

ster none

Why would God have created the Jew, if it weren't for... serve as spies? » said M, of Bismarck,

THE JEW'S HOMELAND. 379

the war. The Jews were masters there, in Alsace especially. When the war broke out, and delivered these provinces to Germany, it was not in
in some way that an official taking of possession
a conquest in the eyes of Europe administrative. The conquest existed in failure ever since the poor Alsatians, bourgeois
or peasants, wandered in their Alsace, feet
naked, homeless, driven from their homes
by Jewish moneylenders and businessmen.

Today the Jews are worried. They
They are wondering and asking themselves what is going on.
Most recently, Mr. Adolphe de Rothschild
She convened a kind of grand council at her home.
a small Sanhedrin to establish an investigation and to know where the blows that public opinion was coming from public opinion has been theirs ever since the book of Drumont awakened a world of ideas within us.
that lay dormant. Naturally, it was believed that...
to see it asserted that Drumont had received from money. Jews don't think that we are

380 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

capable of an act of sincerity and courage
without corruption having played a part. One They searched, but found nothing that could justify it.
suspicion. Yet it was decided that there-would have a slogan. This slogan ft Transmitted by the Synagogue: Do not buy Drumont's book, so as not to...
Making money from this goyme. It's mediocre.
as a tendency of mind, but it's good

Jewish.

At the same time, the chief rabbi lets on to his faithful followers, whom he himself did not have,
a very calm soul in the face of the movement
which is taking place in France. "This book is a pr?"
"phetia and the beginning of punishment,"
he would have said in his magician's jargon.
Yes, Drumont's book is perhaps both a prophecy and the beginning of the punishment, Mr. Adolphe de Rothschild wants to know where this commotion is coming from begins to shake the keel of the yacht of: plaisession on which she walks in the

THE JEW'S HOMELAND. 381

French waters for many years, she
and I can provide information to his family.

We weren't bought, because we don't buy not all French people, especially those who have contempt for money and those who possess it sell.

We are the awakening race.
race quine want more of Abraham's calling.
The French breed is a mixture of elements Latin, Gaulish, and Celtic. This constitutes a a set of courtesies and sentiments Valeresques, which are an excellent field exploitation for Jewish deceit.

Furthermore, when for reasons that the "Time determines, the Celtic element arrives at upon waking, he quickly takes over the character-line of the race, and then beware! There is no more neither courtesy nor chivalry, let us translate jobar-Say, there is ferocity. The Celt is the France's ferocious beast, the gnashing of teeth

It is terrible, and it is wise not to irritate him.

382 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

Moreover, we are people who
We've had enough and are ready to do it

to know |

We are a race that will defend itself.
And so the Jew had better watch out, Au
the slightest suspicious movement, he could...
to cook.

As the century approaches, its liquidation... donation. This liquidation was threatening for within us, and socialism was rising up inside,
to claim what is owed to France.

Socialism was wrong: France did not
She has nothing left, she can give nothing back to the poor.
workers, she didn't take anything from them, it was the Jew who has everything. And France's money is in the Jew's hands.

Ah! The Jew has to work 3, we are disorganized
by agents provocateurs, by theo-destructive forces, through communism, through the example of nihilism outside, by the Exaggerations of socialism within.

L

THE JEW'S HOMELAND. 383

Well, once again, the Tower of Babel
It will fall on his head and crush him.

He who lives by the sword will die by the sword.
it is said in the Holy Books; it is always the destiny of the Jew marked with the Jewish sign.

Let them beware today, these ar-
teeth, apostles of discord, that socialism
not become the contemporary version of Îa religious parable, and does not return the ballisti-
that of the Jew against his own image.

But they will be careful. The Jew will go straight and will go smoothly. For, by the mere fact that we Are we going to go on the defensive and arm ourselves?
our strongholds (and we are there, by the way. One committee exists, anti-Semitic committee where the

France's interests are in the hands French), there will be disorder in the Jewish strategy.

From today onwards we are raising a barrier between Jewish possessions and the ours, we no longer have, I know it well, in France is a moral property; or few would have it.

384 THE 'JEWISH QUESTION.

It's necessary. All the more reason for this barrier that we raise is impassable; it is in our minds; that is enough for us to give-to take the time to draw up one of an older type species. . _

"The Jew is an interstitial being, have we?"
said, a parasite; it only entered our home once because we had opened too much n0S rangy Well, these gaps will close up, as soon as
that we will have acquired the certainty that the France is in danger if they don't close down.

not.

4.

These gaps will close, the Jews will...

They will go, they will be chased away. We are for Le

a heresy. They are impure to us.
Like everything that is impure, we EXP Û
we will proceed through natural means.
I can already see the sinister caravan, l-
far away, following the storks and walking in the brambles, because she knows no
Path out of Palestine and Egypt
Along its route, Babylon, Thebes and the countries

down,

THE JEW'S HOMELAND. 385

nearby pick up a stone from their ruins to throw it at him.

Let her go where her instinct leads her.
Let her take her sandals and her clothes travel. Everywhere she goes she will be called to the caravan of the Wandering Jew.
If this caravan, especially, is to live that she doesn't look back. That she doesn't _don't try to get into the house she
She leaves. Her door is closed; she won't come back through it.
more. |

If she wants to live, let her walk, let her walk and take her millstone far away from here.

Let the Jew walk, let him groan, let him
Whether he laughs, cries, or laments, it is It's his own business. We have no business helping him or him.
to deliver by giving him the opportunity to stop.

The Jew does not stop, does not rest,
He does not sit down, in the Bible. He wanders.

Let him wander, since his homeland is to wander.

As for calling oneself a French citizen, no, the

A Jew should no longer call himself a French citizen.
33

386 THE JEWISH QUESTION.

The . È j
A Jew is a fellow adventurer. We are not

We have nothing to do with the day when it becomes too much.
that it's worth. Ga mine

we know what he wants and this
We don't like it.

And besides, he's circumcised. We're not...
France when you're from Israel. The wounded is not French.

We reply that France is no worse
eternally a land of free movement € of vain pasture. Israel is a nationality that the Israelite remains in brotherhood, that he and in Israel, but let him not remain there

We.

From now on we invite him longer in a nation that point his Israel.

Israel is the Wandering Jew that we walk to the end of the earth, until watch of the

tones not to rest
n'esl

has already seen

y'ouù Cor

the shoreless sea begins, and that one finger since it travels the universe in (OP company of the horse Semeh that wanders at night etjf
since the dawn of the world,

the, Reg ee ms don + RTE 7.

C0. RE – LEpet ee nt 2

THE JEW'S HOMELAND. 387

Israel is the Jewish Prometheus nailed to a Caucasus in motion.

France cannot be the Hercules who... will pick up.

Let it detach itself, if it can.

He won't be able to.

The Jew is a prisoner of his instinct.
the slave of a religious vocation which is the

from within himself.

May he embrace this calling to the very end,
even into the eternity of its nothingness!

Get the Jew out of here, and let him walk!

Let's part ways and good luck (1)!

(1) The Jews expelled the princes. They ou-Green the Republic with its exceptional laws. It's still Their ballistics turned against them. We would have had the difficulty in obtaining arbitrary laws against the Jews.
There is no longer any reason not to do it. The Republic has just raised some against the princes who, after all, are French people.

Paris-Montmartre, June 1-20, 1886.

ee

AT THE SAME BOOKSTORE

ÉDOUARD DRUMONT.

JEWISH FRANCE

2 VOL. IN-18

Prin. Late sounds 4 2 due SR

has -----

TOUSSENEL

THE JEWS

KINGS OF THE ERA +

2 VOL. IN-18 | |

RU cad. to Rp ee a oat: ten DEN A (Free shipping against money order)

at
I

| a,
Jrimerie *
| THe A. Lahure, 9, rue de Fleurus, in Paris.
Digitized Google 2 The
at 4
L RNA.
- A0 29

"it

LS SR

RL

This book should be returned to the Library on or before the last date stamped below.

Fine is incurred by retaining it beyond the specified time.

Please return promptly.

®

French

English

Full text of " The Traffickers of Anti-Semitism [...] Guérin Jules Bpt 6k 731410 "

See other formats

flal Gallica

The traffickers of Antisemitism: the home
Drumont and Co. / Jules Guérin

Source: gallica.bnf.fr / National Library of France

flal Gallica

Guérin, Jules (1860–1910). Author of the text. The traffickers of Anti-Semitism: The Drumont and Co. firm / Jules Guérin. 1905.

1/ The content accessible on the Gallica website consists mostly of digital reproductions in the public domain from the collections of the BnF. Their reuse falls within the framework of article 1753 of July 17, 1978:

– Non-commercial reuse of this content or within the context of an academic or scientific work is free and open to all, in compliance with current legislation and in particular with the provisions of article 1753 of July 17, 1978. The content as specified below: "Source gallica.bnf.fr / Bibliothèque nationale de France" or gallica.bnf.fr / BnF ».

Commercial reuse of this content is subject to a fee and license. Reuse is defined as... commercial resale of content in the form of finished products or provision of services or Reuse of content that directly generates revenue: publication sold (excluding books) academic or scientific), an exhibition, an audiovisual production, a service or a paid product, promotional material, etc.

CLICK HERE TO ACCESS RATES AND LICENSE

2/ The contents of Gallica are the property of the BnF within the meaning of article L.211 of the Intellectual Property Code. They are made available to the public figures.

3/ Some content is subject to specific reuse conditions. This includes:

– Reproductions of documents protected by copyright belonging to a third party. These documents may be reused, except for private copying, without the prior authorization of the rights holder.

– Reproductions of documents held in libraries or other partner institutions. These are indicated by the mention Source gallica.BnF.fr / Municipal Library of ... (or other partner). We are invited to inquire with these libraries about their conditions of reuse.

4] Gallica constitutes a database, of which the BnF is the producer, protected within the following from the intellectual property code.

5/ These terms of use for Gallica content are governed by French law. In the event of If reuse is planned in another country, it is the responsibility of each user to verify the law of this country.

6/ The user agrees to comply with these terms of use and applicable legislation. particularly in the area of intellectual property. Failure to comply with these provisions liable to a fine as provided for by the law of July 17, 1978.

7/ To obtain a high-definition document from Gallica, contact usage.commerciale@bnf.fr.

NE EE 3

GUÉRIN Wheels

THE HOUSE

DRUMONT to AND > C°

THE

to ut PET

LE ARA mm dE ma ant TT 22 7 A a EE PRE Re MAR RS DNA ne A aerator `

Daah

kran ei min min 0 me EE ae aiae dA =

in sta s

.

CS EE A aa A i ag >

| 'The Traffickers
| S] |

a |
GINO 7 |
Antisemitism

BY THE SAME AUTHOR

In preparation
The Coming Revolution

The Labour Movement
Trade Union Action

Juues GUÉRIN

PARIS
Publishing and Publications Company

'Félix Juven Bookstore'
122, Rue Réaumur (2nd Arr)

All rights reserved for translation and reproduction in all countries, including Sweden, Norway, the Netherlands and Denmark.

Published April 42 Privilege of copyright in the USA reserved
under the act approved March 1905.
by Société d'Édition et de Publications, Paris.

—

EXPLANATIONS

To our comrades in the Greater West of France,
To all our fellow citizens.

I had long wanted to write this book; but I had to resign myself to a much-needed rest at restoration of my health, so seriously compromised—put in place during these eighteen years of incessant struggles health, filled with trials of all kinds.

These trials were not spared me, nor by adversaries capable of anything, not even by former friends happy to take advantage of the prison and exile that I—Taieni injligés, to try to get rid of a man, whose independence bothered them, and of organisation that he had founded. ` | The

My health had already suffered a severe blow in 1892, following overwork which could not have to withstand the most robust constitution.

After three years of daily battles, including Each hour had been an opportunity for an accomplished effort. pact with Mores and his Friends for the propaganda of Having exhausted our ideas, I had to stop.

"Barely recovered, the fight resumes and becomes more more ardent than ever

vi EXPLANATIONS

Conferences are multiplying, not only in Paris, but throughout France.

This is the period following the founding of the newspaper Drumont, welcomed by all with joy, because we ignorance of how and with whom the "signatory" Jewish France had dealt with it, and what were its partners in this more financial than policy.

In 1895, another relapse; and Dr. Puquelin, who friendly monitoring of Morès' health and the mine, warned us about the consequences of an existence that left us not an hour of freedom, not a moment's rest.

Enjin, in 1898, upon my return from Algeria, following of an election campaign that earned Drumont a the seat of Deputy, which the disillusioned Algerians gave him four years later, I owed them, again, to me.

liter for more than six weeks.

We know what the end of 1898 and the eight pre-first months of 1899, of which not a minute was free from worries of any kind and which mattered to me, from the day I got up until—that the coup d'état of Waldeck, Millerand, Monis and others, more arrests, searches and of trials of all kinds, which no opponent of the The government never suffered from it, even back then. of the toughest political battles of recent years of the Empire.

Minor police trials, countless appearances proceedings before the criminal courts, the Court of the assizes and finally, to conclude, the High Court; everything was implemented.

'Then came the resistance of Fort Chabrol, the six weeks of a siege during which the very water was taken from us; which earned me, a great water drinker, the most tedious and harmful of deprivations.

EXPLANATIONS Vi

The water we collected, after a long waiting on the rooftops on a stormy day was so busy dust and smoke from Paris that I still experiences the effects, aggravated by the two years-born of endured captivity.

Do I need to remind you of the conditions under which JC left Clairvaux to take, for four years again, the path of exile; commutation of punishment due to the consequences of a mistake made in the installation of the stove in my cell,

Barely free, but in danger, the very great tart has passed away. to get back to work.

And what a job!

My friends, even those who later became my enemies, because I refused energetically— They know how to become their accomplice and cannot— would deny it,

Add to that the need to monitor the organization
sation to which I had dedicated my life and everything sa-criticized for defending it, not only against its natural adversaries, but also against those who wanted his disappearance because of his independence dance, his selflessness and the vigor of his action.

This action highlighted, with excessive clarity,
Their weakness, their cowardice, and it bothered the shady characters
compromises made by the Traffickers
Quants of Anti-Semitism and Affirmative Nationalism
fleees,

VIEW – EXPLANATIONS

I continued in this way until September 1903, reacting as much as I could against the weakening of
my physical health. | , nl

But this new overwork had earned me, from July-from 1901 to September 1993, the duration of my stay in Brussels, fourteen months spent in my bed or at the room out of the twenty-seven that I had just lived already in exile. could at

Finally, I had to obey the doctors' orders.
and resign myself to absolute rest to restore my health. I have

This rest was necessary, not only for con
to continue the work undertaken, but also to punish the wretches who had filled my death, Tur from Chabrol, to Clairvaux and even to Brurelles, hoped-rant to have as a platform, a new tomb and one
"A new corpse to erloite and melt into actions."

So, for an entire year, I stopped everything work, or at least I only did what was rigorous.
thankfully indispensable for thwarting the maneuvers-
my adversaries' spies never ceased

-to prowl around my home.

The little I did, and also the worries and concerns-stings that overwhelm the exiles far from Their ailments caused a new relapse.
The last one, I hope.

And I have just taken advantage of the health that I have in part-tie regained, to write this book which comes to its hour. | |

The battle of ideas continues, Comrades and Friends, who always fight for our cause,

EXPLANATIONS IX

more than ever, they need to know who they are with can walk, without fear of betrayals and shady dealings that were the main causes of the defeat of the last four years.

The perpetrators of these compromises and these tra-fics only had the audacity to insult and slander prisoners and outlaws, that the bars ex the prison walls or closed borders condemn-
were rendered powerless.

| Jules GUÉRIN.
March 1905 |

The Traffickers
of

/ LS

I

Before "Jewish France"
The first
"Anti-Semitic League of France"

ei

Jewish France. – A collective work. – The role of Dru-
. mont. – Father Du Lac. – An encounter. – Jews converts. – The Dreyfus of Pontchartrain. – Interests badly defended. – Drumont's economies, – Msr d'Hulst. –

At the Catholic Institute, – The philo-Semite Anatole Leroy-Beaulieu. – Drumont's defeat. – Silver success. – Re-

Reconciliation with the Jew Arthur Meyer. – On the Ground Business. – The Anti-Semitic League. – Membership of

` Mores. – Mores and his Friends. – Inquiry into Meats at Soldiers, – May 1, 1880. – Arrest of Morès.

Drumont's flight, – Disillusioned Leaguers. – The end.

of the first League. – Creation of the Free Speech.

My intention is not to undertake, here, a story of Antisemitism since the emergence of: France
Jewish and the founding of the first anti-Semitic league

by Drumont and Jacques de Biez.

But I must speak, as briefly as possible,
to avoid exceeding the limits of this volume; facts
which preceded the High Court of 1899 and the events of recent years.

1

2. THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

These failures are, in the order in which they occurred, of-
then 1886: |

The founding of this first anti-Semitic league which lasted only a few months; the collaboration of AMorés
and his friends in the work of national and social liberation company, the creation of Libre Parole; ct, since the death of Mores, the formation of the second League, which became the Greater West of France.

It is unnecessary to speak at length about Jewish France.

I will limit myself to restoring the truth, as to the way
from which she came into the world, |

It was not, strictly speaking, his own work by Drumont, but the result of a long process, the fruit of numerous religious and secular collaborations,
The idea for this work belongs entirely to him; he would be puérii de le contester, aû' Père Du Lac, et Drumont n'eut:

than to condense the elements that were to compose it and to |

to link its different parts together,
To the elements that were provided to him he added a certain-

a number of others who were not, it must be acknowledged,

neither the best nor the most useful, quite the opposite.

Among these, we find most of those who were convicted of inaccuracy, or at least of exa-

management; which, for many, considerably mitigated- |

the scope of the book.

These inaccuracies and exaggerations served as weapons.
to the opponents of Anti-Semitism and they used it to try to discredit all the accusers $ perfectly well-founded accusations against Jewry and the political and financial system that it managed to impose:

to France,

I would like to add that what I am saying, regarding the origin
the true essence of Jewish France, could not, according to misconceptions, to diminish its importance.

Born from religious or lay people, the work retains its

BEFORE JEWISH FRANCE » 3

usefulness, and its scope cannot, in any way, be diminished
drie. |

Truth is not subordinate to the mouth called to
to procure it; and, this is with full knowledge of the facts that I can return to Father Du Lac and the religious part that falls to them in a task, of which one could esto achieve a better result than that obtained so far, by
It's the fault of the man who benefited from it anyway.

I even deserve some credit for acting this way, because the groups anti-Jewish action groups of which I was a part or which I have created were not treated sympathetically by the supélaughing at the Jesuits and his friends.

That was at least Morès's thought, and Drumont told me
It was often claimed that Father Du Lac was personal to us.
very hostile element.

This didn't surprise me too much, and I remember again from the encounter I had one day with Father Du Lac, in the company of Morès, as we were going to an anti-Jewish conference in the 7th arrondissement.

It was a few days after the meeting we held at Pontchartrain against the Dreyfus of guano and wheat Russians,

Mores stopped to greet Father Du Lac and he present to him.

The first words of the eminent religious figure were for
to blame Morès for this meeting in Pontchartrain.

– You have caused me great sorrow, my dear
as a child, by attacking these excellent Dreyfus who are not not Jewish, but good Catholics for over four-thirty years. ns
And, as the surprise caused me by these words...
Father Du Lac, speaking to me, could read my face.
he added:

– You see, Mr. Guérin, what a mistake, my Dear Morès, you and I have committed a crime.

Which led me to reply that I did not consider not the reason for the Dreyfus' conversion to Catholicism
cism as sufficient from our point of view.

& TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

– Baptize a wolf, lamb, I told him, will you have Removed its carnivorous instincts?

The same applies to the Dreyfus family and to all Jews. converted; and, the best proof that your friends are remaining Jewish is because, not content with enjoying a fortune acquired through the worst speculations, they operate in Pontchartrain in insolent and ferocious lords. Not only they block paths, always open to free traffic, but they clutter them with wolf traps where the inhabitants and their livestock will have their members. |

That's why we went to Pontchartrain, okay. cord with the municipality of this town and to the greater satisfaction of its inhabitants, to protest – Congress of outrageous actions,

Father Du Lac simply raised his eyes to the sky and no– The interview ended there.

These were the only contacts we had with him, this which did not prevent the Jewish and philo-Semitic press from us to constantly refer to them as "agents of the Jesuits" has... Pope.

I must add that, as I: amaze, one day, some the considerations that the rulers benefited from on the part of certain religious leaders, among the most qualified to act

to act against Judeo-Masonic politics, it was to me renounced by a Catholic member of parliament:

They have such a strong interest in proliferating!

Their way of protecting them was to reserve their sym- their pathos, or at least their tolerance, towards those in power Jews to the core and to consider us as Dangerous lunatics!

The result of this policy is, today, such that... could have foreseen it; and the future will not benefit from the lessons that the present gives to Catholic leaders.

His will continue to negotiate and to appease their worst enemies enemy, until the day when religion, Symens; will have the fate of the communities.

BEFORE JEWISH FRANCE

Drumont often denied having been a mere collaborator of Jewish France, tasked with developing and implementing it sign. DoH

He applied himself, to the best of his ability, to creating the legend of ' "The writer risking his savings, horribly amassed- "sées, to create a liberating work."

This is one of the things he is used to doing and where he excels, , |

"Set the scene, strike an emotional note," he said, when he gives advice or critiques an article.

The truth is that Drumont, at the time of France Jewish, had no savings and what he earned, at the Liberty of the Pereire, and by other works, sufficient- barely knows its needs, which have never been so mo- . destes that he likes to assert it. | i

Furthermore, you would have to know very little about him to believe it. capable of risking a single cent of his money in a any undertaking involving any risk, however small be it. i

"Fout is at home calculating and speculating, and no Jmf From this point of view, it could not be more judicious or more practical.

The expenses of Jewish France were therefore not advanced. by him and the two volumes that comprise it did not cost n/a cent. ` o. ` He was even very disappointed when he saw them selling so quickly It was poorly received at the beginning, the book having almost no negative press. entirely interested in maintaining silence.

How many times did Drumont not protest against what he liked to call "the abominable conspiracy" of silence," which hindered the sale of his books and the impe- .Chait to reap all the expected benefits. |

It is true that, since then, he has used, without scruples, the the same means with regard to anyone who overshadowed him; And there are many whom he threatened to "put to..." the index finger." in his journal, when they refused to submit

- :

his demands or protested against his dealings.

To replace the advertising, which it was thus lacking,

+

6 LFS TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM,

Drumont naturally addressed himself to Father Du Lac, and he also found effective support from Hulst's Sea, to ensure propaganda for Jewish France of all the brave country priests, of all the priests clerics and religious figures who received the watchword from their superiors laughing.

Then, and only then, did success become evident, and as he wrote, "the two heavy volumes were lifted off "like a feather."

Since then, Mer d'Hulst, and also Father Du Lac, were often violently mistreated by their little recognition-health required,

So I am less surprised now that I have learned many things that I was unaware of at the time, even though I was seen to defend Drumont, the sincere and selfless believer, that at the time when I was attending the Catholic Institute of `ja ruc d'Assas to protest, on behalf of all the Anti-Jews and myself, against a proposed conference of the very The philo-Semite Anatole Leroy-Beaulieu, a lecture which... was going to take place in the hall of this association.

This conference could not be prevented, but it was con-'it was expected that an 8th one would be made, also on the question-- anti-Jewish sentiment, which Mr. Leroy-Beauhieu had addressed, and, This time, by an authorized Jewish speaker.

Who, better than Drumont, could have seemed capable of respond to the Philasemite speaker 1

This was everyone's thought – and Drumont's in particular-literally – and I was relieved, by him, and by our friends, . to go and ask the Directorate of the Catholic Institute the execution of the promise made by a dr ed di by the Director of Libre Parole.

I was astonished by the opposition aroused by the name.

Drumont, of whom no one, among the leaders of Pins- |

Titut didn't want to hear anything about it.

– His ingratitude towards Mer d'Hulst does not...

does not allow me to be admitted as a speaker at our institution.

I am told.

Drumont's anger was extreme when I did

BEFORE JEWISH FRANCE » 7

part of the result of my mission, and it reached its degree
the highest when we knew the name of the confederate
Rencier chose his placo.

It was Mr. Rouyer who had presided over the jury called upon to to give an opinion on the works submitted to a competition organized by Libre Parole.

The fury of the one who likes to be called the Chief
The undisputed extent of anti-Semitism was such that we hear of it.
tithes of raids on the account of the Directors of the Ins-Dilut Catholique, de Mer d'Hulst and their lecturer favorite.

But let us return, for a moment longer, to Jewish France which had, finally, provided Drumont with what he laughed about
First and foremost, "a huge financial success."

Being a shrewd man, he extracted every possible profit from it and his duel with the Director of Le Gaulois, the Jewish Arthur Meyer, through the incidents that occurred there, came to understand...
to complete the long-awaited "good publicity".

In this encounter, on the "field of honor", Arthur Meyer made excessive use of his left hand, this which earned him further indignant pages in the books
who followed Jewish France.

Since then, Drumont has met again, with the.
Arthur Meyer, a Jewish man, but then, on the business side of things and a reconciliation took place – naturally – at which was presided over by Mr. Léon Daudet, friend and collaborator
...of the two former adversaries... during a lunch
intimate... full of openness and warmth!

Once Jewish France was launched, Drumo fired several copies of the same bag, and other books, of a report
more modest, though still important, were born.

At the same time as the money flowed into his coffers, To his great satisfaction, Drumont saw him coming towards him all the anti-Semites happy to find a rallying point ment. .

The acts of devotion that were shown were numerous

8 TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

Mr. Drumont also became brimming with compliments and of acclamations that he was eager for money;

It was at this time, with Jacques de Biez as second, he thought about creating the Anti-Semitic League.

He hoped that by adding an organization to his book, of which he would be the "Grand Master", the subsidies would increase the profits he expected.

He was once again favored by circumstances. and he enthusiastically welcomed the support of Mores, who was returning from America and Tonkin with the reputation of a great lord, extremely wealthy, and generous just- than to the most extreme extravagances.

Mores had come to know the Jews and our governors nanis, first in the United States, then in Indochina, and his his first act, upon his return to France, had been to sound to maintain, with surprising energy, the candidacy anti-government movement of Mr. Paul de Susini in Toulouse.

Unfortunately, for the calculations of: Drumont, Morès had sacrificed considerable sums in Tonkin and in Toulouse; and he had to limit himself to providing for the expenses of League propaganda, without filling its drawers greedy founder.

Drumont never forgave Morès for this cruel act. disillusionment and the future brought the BE of this rancune.

However, the expenses that Mores incurred for the League were... raised to relatively large sums, the contributions the donations and gifts that Drumont was expecting remained few numerous, §

I myself had, some time before, brought my membership and dues to Jacques de Biez and, without having once again seen Drumont at the League headquarters, I-tais became one of its activists.

I attended as an attentive listener, along with some of our comrades from La Villette, at the two meetings. organized by the League, in Neuilly, Gallice room, and in a large premises on Rochechouart Street which Poe contain _ a large audience.

BEFORE "JEWISH FRANCE D 9

I was, like the Comrades who bombed curious to see a genuine marquis actively involved-our curiosity is linked to the popular movement. He was skeptical.

We were so unaccustomed, especially at that time, to see true gentlemen showing kindness 'thie for the, world of workers, that we de- We wondered what Mores was doing among us.

We were not long in judging him for what he was: brave, loyal, intelligent and capable of acting in absolute accordance with his statements.

It was at the hall on Rue Rochechouart that Morès... more specifically.

The meeting was turbulent and there were many opponents and often threatening.

Mores stood up to them admirably, and his composure and his uncommon energy impressed even the most determined finished, without us needing to intervene to to help him bring his opponents to their senses.

They recognized in him: a man.

That's when we met; and, as a result of several visits he made to us at La Villette, our initi-Mité asserted herself as she remained until the day of her heroic death in the ambush that was set for him.

From this intimacy, which our devoted Friends of la Villette: Bernard Roux, Gaston Dumay, Moitry, Violet,: Sarazin: and so many other Comrades that I cannot All named here, affection and trust were born who resisted all the vile intrigues and harsh trials of a life of continuous struggles.

Then came the municipal elections of 1890, which were the occasion for numerous meetings of Morès and his Friends; and, also, this investigation into Soldiers' Meat. that our comrades from the butcher shop PARAEER –and helped us to do it. With their devoted support we set off, Mores and me, in Verdun, accompanying a flock of tu– guests rocking chairs that Jewish butchers of this town comp– were to be handed over, once again, to the garrison troops.

19 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

As soon as the animals were unloaded, we notified the Colonel de Farny, then acting as general replacing the Jewish General Hinstin, who was on leave, and also the public prosecutor.

He gave us a very bad reception; but he had to take into account from our investigation.

We had the satisfaction, even before leaving Verdun, to learn, through the newspapers, that an order The Minister of War, Freycinet, created the Butcheries military personnel to safeguard the health of soldiers and prevent– . dear, the return of the attacks committed for too long | against her.

Drumont remained completely uninvolved in these acts. protection of the general interests of our fellow citizens and –of relentless propaganda in favor of our ideas.

He did not participate in it personally or financially.

He had long since retired to his tent, occupied exclusively from the collection of its profits.

The Anti-Semitic League, which he had founded, was not. pos | long-lasting.

Created in 1889, it disappeared in 1800, following the May 1st demonstration this year.

We remember the concerns caused by this demonstration revolutionary socialist festival, which so greatly alarmed the the government, and which ended in a lamentable way, thanks to the wisdom of the leaders of socialism, already concerned cut off from their future participation in the profits of power.

Without mingling with the socialists and anarchists more or less Jewish, the Anti-Semitic League could give his opinion and act in accordance with his program, to the occasion of a date chosen by the French proletariat 'to express its demands.

The Jews, who would strive to channel the movement 'socialist and to divert him from their speculative offices'

BEFORE JEWISH FRANCE » 41

and speculation, greatly feared the intervention of the Anti-Jews.

These could, in fact, give the movement a healthier direction, more in line with true interests Workers' loans, |

The Jewish and pro-Semitic press was quick to denounce The anti-Semites furiously faced the wrath of the government.

Mores was arrested for a manifesto he had published and Drumont... fled, after sending to the newspapers a declaration beginning like this:

Residents of Paris, |

We are receiving letters from all sides asking us what will be Zigue's attitude on May 1st,

This attitude is dictated to us by events.

We cannot take and we have not taken any responsibility in this demonstration...

We have never ceased and we will never cease to wanting to free our unfortunate country from the yoke of Judaism German verie.

We have never preached plunder, as has been claimed, men- We all, on the contrary, asked that Fon prosecute those who had looted...

Ready to go to prison for our cause, we conjure our friends, not to expose themselves to going there by mingling with equivocal what demonstrations, `

And, once this manifesto was sent, Drumont disappeared so although for a long time it could not be discovered anywhere part.

The League Members, who presented themselves in namebreux at the headquarters: 48, rue Lepic, found no one and uselessly demüaded to 'ous the echoes what de-
. came the future "undisputed 3. l

Mores was tried and condemned without Drumont even thinking about it.
to any other cliose than to his precious person eb without him ge

12 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

decided to leave the retirement he had so quickly sheltered.

An Anti-Jew, member of the Lu: Julien Mauvrac, whom
We lost touch after that, he recounted this adventure and Drumont's escape into a book, very wittily written, and that he did not have it signed by a informer taken from justice, a book entitled: Under the Snails of Japheth,

We can see how Drumont understood this phrase from his statement saying "that the attitude to take was c:lle dictated by events,"

Events dictated that he flee and let go.
his friends; as he did again in 1894 in certain circumstances
attitudes which I will have the opportunity to discuss.

Since that first demonstration of terror that Drumont has inspired in him the slightest threat of arrest.
stayed a few weeks in Sainte-Pélagie, with a re-absolutely exceptional favor; and the memory of this imprisonment, as short as it was benign, caused him
even now, such horror that the only
The prospect of another incarceration would make him flee to End of the world.

That is why he took the precaution of placing the press-

that his entire current "very large fortune" is at stake.

their foreign and so as to be able to find her outside borders at the first alert.

Naturally, the Leaguers of 1890 were fundamentally disillusioned about their leader, and their numbers, instead of increasing, it decreased in such large proportions that, on October 20, 1890, after the publication of a report' of the League's work, during its
In its first and nth year of existence, it disappeared and
No one heard from her again.

Drumont continued to oversee the successful investment of his books and Mores and his friends continued alone the active struggle.

One day, then, for a long time we were not his we no longer knew about Piumont and that we didn't know if he was at

BEFORE JEWISH FRANCE » 13:

Paris or still at his comfortable holiday home in Soisy-
Near Etiolles, Morès came to warn us that he had received a letter, asking him to attend "with his friends" the inauguration of the offices of the newspaper La Libre Parole of which Drumont was to be the director and sovereign master. .

This invitation surprised us a little, and Morès demanded to accompany him to Drumont's, whom I saw again for the third or fourth time, I believe, not having, auparavant, the fact that he caught a glimpse of it, once at the League headquarters, rue Lepic, and then in the two or three meetings which he "resigned" himself to attending,

So we went to the small hotel on the street from the University where I got to know each other better with the future friend of Agent Oswald from the General Security Directorate.

Drumont was more or less pleasant – he needed to be.
of us – and I was quite surprised to see him, at one
At that moment, he asked me to entrust my hand to him.
examined the lines,

This bizarre exercise, which I was far from expecting, having little taste for horoscopes and far-those who live off the credulity of their dupes, was to me explained by Morès: .

"Drumont," he told me, "is very suspicious; he has no skin."
in person (probably because he doesn't understand) that we can trust him); also, when we give him

presents someone who may be involved in his life, he inter-
Roger reads the lines of his hand to find out if the newcomer
He is loyal and of a generous and devoted temperament.

"He did the same to me," added Morès.

It must be assumed that Drumont's examination was favorable to me.
rable, for, since then, he has not ceased to proclaim my disinterresentment and my loyalty; until the day I had the audacity to find his dealings wrong, which he hid with the greater care and which he attributed to those around him, when-
...that the rumor was spreading.

Drumont confirmed his invitation to the inauguration.

14 TRAFFICKERS OF ANTI-SEMITISM

of his newspaper, founded, he assured us, with the help of
of convinced anti-Semites who have "for a long time"
provided evidence of their indisputable sincerity.

This took place in the first days of April 1892 and,
On the 20th of the same month, the first issue of the Free Speech, which we all welcomed with equal enthusiasm.
Satisfaction rather than enthusiasm.

u

"Free Speech" is created.

ra .

Office opening. – An anti-Jewish and independent organdant if – No business. – Drumont and his financier, – The Drumont's precautions, tro MM, JB, Gérin ob Wiallard. This
The Editors of Libre Parole. – Its Administrators.
– Mr. Gérin's philosemitism. – His antisemitism. –
Two ciroulaire. – Arrest of MJ-B. Gérin. – One financial operation... – Mandatory subscription, –

A difficult customer. – Administrator (hidden).
Mr. Odelin intervenes. – A clever arrangement. – The Drumont-Wiallard Treaty, – The Drumont-Gé-
rin. – Drumont's great anger, – Another blow, –

Mr. Administrator, esb Jewish, – Gaston Méry the last-

"He's come, he's having fun, – Not Wiallard but Crémieux, – The Drumont's spies, – The fat Devos denounces. – Trap For subscribers, – Drumont touches and... continues.

I said that we all welcomed it with satisfaction. and enthusiasm, the news of the creation of a newspaper clearly Jewish; "ef Ja motto, placed by Drumont in the title of its first issue: France for the French, yé– admirably summarized, in his four words, our pro– national and social program, the realization of which is not subordinate given to no political form.

All parties can, in fact, sooni and in to ensure the execution, on condition, however, of doing to put the general interest of the country before all concerns

16 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

coterie and sectarian associations; and, above all, by placing this general interest above particular interests.

We had been experiencing the effects of the bad faith of the Jewish and Judaized press, distorting All our actions, disguising all our thoughts, and us attributing such fanciful intentions and projects How odious, not to learn, with jaie, the foundation of an independent body, whose staff all have access to would, finally, have the courage to tell the whole truth about the _ speculators and to denounce their crimes nels actions. – N:

This organ arrived all the more at the right time, because the The press almost always remained silent when it came to a financial scandal caused by the High Bank and the wealthy hoarders, Jews or Judaizers, who are the . sponsors, the inspirers and the true Direc– figures in French politics, both domestically and internationally exterior.

But, for this independence to be real, it was | It was necessary that the new newspaper remain foreign to all financial affairs and that its Director and its editors– whether they were like its Administrator, without any with the exception of those entirely devoted to anti-Jewish ideas, of one. absolute and enterprising selflessness, not a business deal, but a true apostolate... © Len te

It was in this sense that Mores and I spoke to Drumont, during our visit following his invitation at the inauguration of the offices of La Libre Parole.

To convince us that, in all cases, he could, neither in the present nor in the future, commit the future organ of Antisemitism in a contrary direction to the one he was to follow, Drumont assured us that he was reserved, in addition to the Political Directorate, a right of complete absolute control. A |

And, to emphasize his point, he added:

– Besides, we can all rest easy on this 'subject, no one will be able to divert the Free Speech of its aim, nor to compromise it in Jewish affairs; nor, nor put us out on the street with our friends, as I've seen him do it often for other newspapers. My long My experience with "journalistic matters" allowed me to... Plan everything.

"FREE SPEECH" IS CREATED 17

And, taking from the drawer of his work table, a On a stamped sheet of paper, he read us, first, the beginning, then three articles from a treaty, which I rediscovered one day, in 1901 or 1902, in a series of documents that I were communicated by a touching character very closely linked to the financial exploitation of La Libre Parole and, therefore, as completely as "exactly rensigned.

From this reading it emerged that Drumont was based in association with a Mr. J.-B. Gérin, a daily newspaper a group called Free Speech with the subtitle: France to the French, and that he was the sole master of the entire writing from the newspaper's title to its last online, including advertisements, none of which could 'was going to happen without his control and approval.

– You see, Drumont told us, finishing his reading-ture, that I have taken all my precautions and that we We can all be absolutely at ease.

We were indeed so, and we communicated to our Dedicated Comrades, from our action group, the: result of our visit.

The name Gérin was as unknown to Morès as it was to neither I nor we had been struck, during the reading of Drumont's piece, that by his J.-B. Gérin that we planes included "Gibet-Gérin".

Drumont saw our movement and he will be in smiling:

— It's J.-B., probably Jean-Baptiste; but, me Also, upon reading the project that Mr. Gérin submitted to me, I had heard Gibet and I thought that this financier had... a singular name.

A few days later we were (4, Mont- Boulevard

S *

18 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

martre, for the inauguration of the Jécal chosen by Mr. Drumont and by Mr. Gérin, whom we always believed to be The Administrator of Free Speech.

The rooms were barely furnished; the masons, painters only the carpenters and apiaries had completed their works.

Drumont's study was brought to our admiration, that of the Editorial Secretary, and Jacques de Riez was designated as having to fulfill this important function; we then viewed the Composition and also the The Administrator's office.

The editorial staff was relegated to a dark room and of more than modest dimensions overlooking the courtyard.

After making us do the traditional "tour" "From the owner," Drumont proceeded with the introductions, because we knew few people among those who presentedos.

First: MJ-B. Gérin, whom I told you about, in- Wiaillard parcel, "our excellent Administrator", Drumont added.

Mores was surprised, and I was no less so.

Was this a second Administrator?

Among the guests of Drumont and his financier,
were some of our comrades from already-:
Funte League of Lepic Street.

Among them, naturally, was Jacques de Biez, who, two ...days later and barely installed as Editorial Secretary, left the newspaper and Drumont, the latter's attitude, to his ` `
In this regard, having become more than unpleasant,

Jean Drault and Boisandré were also among them
contributors to La Libre Parole, | to

And, as we observed the attitude of the new Having arrived, we observed that, for their part, Messrs. Gérin and Wiallard were examining Morès and me, and also the
. some activists that we had brought at the request

Drumont, with a curiosity that seemed to us devoid of sympathy,

"Free Speech" was created on 19

We had the impression of being, for these gentlemen, what
who are called "nuisances".

We were soon confirmed in this idea.

However, we had no idea at that moment,
discoveries that the future held in store for us about them.

The ceremony was simple and full of cordiality...
at least among the anti-Semites who met "at el among whom was not found, and for a reason on which I will return to when speaking specifically about the person-swimming, the current Secretary-General! Let's not forget that!
From La Libre Parole: Mr. Gaston Méry.

'- All our friends are sincere and con- anti-Semites vanquished, Drumont told us, and their past of devotion-our ideas respond to their loyalty in the advent nier.

We could only accept these statements, because,
both were completely foreign to what Drumont
Morès likes to call them "journalistic matters," nor
I didn't know Mr. Gérin in any way, nor did I know him at all.
that the staff he had brought with him to occupy
the various functions of the administration, including Admi-
Administrator in name: Mr. Wiallard.

We were unaware, for example, that the same Mr. Gérin . was the author of the following circular, sent by his care just two years, to the day, before the onset from the first issue of Libre Parole.

THE NATIONAL

50° Lol series.

J.-B. GÉRIN, Director. Paris, April 20, 1890.
Direction.

Sir and dear Fellow Religious,

The Traélites have, for some time now, been under attack from the ca- . the most odious lomnies that are displayed at will in the voa” lonnes of a certain press: i |

20 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

Prominent people who belong to Judaism and who are concerned not only with its future, but with Given its current security, they thought it would be useful, if not essential. It is conceivable that a serious body would defend our Coreli- legionnaires whenever they were attacked, in some way- whatever it may have been, whether on the territory of the French Republic caise, either in the different parts of the world they inhabit- tent.

Le National, a major daily political newspaper: opens his columns for this perfectly legitimate defense of our interests, that the illustrious founders of this would still approve sheet, the Thiers, let: Armand Carrel, who have always com- fought for justice and the defense of immortal principles of 89.

The National has set itself the goal of penetrating the masses the principles of political and religious tolerance.

Under these circumstances, I have the honor of requesting your support our propaganda work by subscribing to National subscription.

When this circular, signed by a Jew, an associate of ` MJ-B. Gérin, was revealed to me, at the moment when Drumont protected by my exile, I was insulted; I had a new a new explanation for many of the facts observed since 1892 and which had caused me, as it had so many of our friends,

surprises as numerous as they are varied.

It should be pointed out that the most slanderous odious, which so greatly outraged MJ-B. Gérin and his Jewish collaborators were none other than Jewish France and Drumont's various books, as well as the articles and the lectures we gave, which were published on the Jewish question and everything that stemmed from it.

It seems the Jews hadn't had enough confidence in the National and its Director, even assisted of a "religious pontificate" since Mr. Gérin, changing his rifle shouldered and pointing his safe towards a .
another environment, which he assumed offered better returns, had subsequently become acquainted with Drumont, who was not to:
like us, mere laypeople, ignoring the demonstration ue 5 of MJ-B. Gérin, which belonged in re to

THE © FREE SPEECH » ESF CREATED 21

"things of journalism", or at least to certain journalists
lism, of which he already possessed, at that time, a practice and an experience that has progressed considerably since then.

On April 14, 1892, MJ-B. Gérin, Director of the Semaine
Financial, spoke a completely different language than that of the Director of the National, and he launched this appeal in favor of Free Speech.

THE FINANCIAL WEEK
WEEKLY NEWSPAPER
1st year,

CAISSE DE LA SEMAINE FINANCIÈRE
PUBLIC LIMITED COMPANY |
Capital: 4,200,000 francs.
Paris, April 14, 1892
8, rue Saint-Augustin.
PARIS

Sir,

We would like to draw your attention to the com-

The following confidential communication, which we do not hesitate to share: to do this to you because, on the one hand, of its extreme importance moral and social and, on the other hand, of the most fruitful future which is reserved for him as a matter in itself.

Mr. Edouard Drumont, the famous author of Jewish France and so many other works that have had resounding successes—sants, will continue, through the newspaper, the work which has so brilliant—

It all started with his books, | | |

Our company has agreed to take charge of the organization
. financial support for this newspaper, which will be titled La Libre Parole and who will defend our national interests with independence.
and an impartiality all the more appreciated by the public, that These qualities have become rarer in the press, which is too focused on...
venal wind, OE to:

The talent, popularity, and valor of Mr. Drumont, who
It contains the unique elements of many very successful campaigns exciting, will ensure his newspaper's popularity, at least equal to that obtained by the Intransigent and the Authority, which rs of excessively successful and very pros—fathers: ; '

22 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

The company that published the newspaper La Libre Parole has been definitively constituted on April 2nd as a limited partnership, by interest shares; these number 800 on which we were able to reserve a certain number of them that we
we can give in at 2,000 francs each until April 20th, day where the first issue of Libre Parole is to be published.

The profits will be divided: 25% for the founder, 0% for the supervisory board and staff, 75 0/0 for the Shareholders.

The shares of similar newspapers that we have cited have acquired a significant capital gain and the value of the shares of the Libre Parole will undoubtedly quickly surpass the Initial price of 2,000 francs. | `

It is therefore with full knowledge of the facts that we recommend to you—
We feel this matter is of the highest order from all points of view.

Please accept, and...

The Director of "Financial Week n,

J.-B. GÉRIN.

As we can see, in this circular it is not a question of-tion of the "interests of the Israelites" and their "defense quite legitimate"; the "odious calumnies" of which they were victims in 1890, became, in 1892, proof of Drumont's "independence and impartiality"; and,
like, when you lower the cash register so that the customers'
Financial Week's profits are being emptied into the pockets of MJ-B. Gérin and his associates from La Libre Parole and

"His financial office, you must spare no expense or per--"

rings, the former Director of the National deals with the newspapers which dare not speak of the Jews, and those more audacious who speak of them defend, from "papers belonging to the venal press".

If the citizens to whom one would thus appeal, and by

of such means, had known the philosophical antecedents:

mites of MJ-B. Gérin, it is probable, if not absolute-of certainty, which they would have hastened to neglect there letter addressed to them in the name of Drumont by Financial Week, a company whose operations
are more than questionable,

I will have, of course, the rest; the ottasisôn tlen repürler soon:

+

"FREE SPEECH" IS CREATED 23

What the subscribers solicited were unaware of, Drumont
Was he unaware of it as well?

Obviously not; and, there is no doubt that it is in knowing full well that he was presenting us with MJ-B. Gérin like a sincere anti-Semite, when in reality this financier-Cier had seen in La Libre Parole only a good deal

and a goldmine to be exploited.

Barely a few months had passed since the pre-first issue of La Libre Parole, which the newspapers announce-were aware of the arrest of MJ-B. Gérin for abuse of power.
fiancée committed to the detriment of a client of his Week Financial. i

La Libre Parole spoke of this arrest in this way,
its issue of February 3, 1893: |

Arrest of Mr. Gérin.

Mr. Gérin, former Director of the National, was arrested before-last night, by Mr. Touny, Commissioner for Judicial Delegations ciaires, on the orders of Mr. Welter, investigating judge...

Mr. Gérin is charged with breach of trust.

According to one version, which seems quite plausible to us, being Based on the information we were able to gather, the arrest-
Mr. Gérin's actions would be, at the same time, the result of acts of revenge political and denunciation statements made by a police officer
Unmasked. - | a

As far as we are concerned, we can only, today,
to correct a deliberate inaccuracy, noted in a newspaper
unofficial evening. no.

This newspaper claims that Mr. Gérin is an Administrator of the
- Free Speech, | |

Nothing could be further from the truth.

Mr. Gérin took part in the logistical organization of the newspaper.
at the time of its foundation; but he was never its Admi-
administrator, just as he never had to intervene in the editorial staff of which Mr. Drumont has always been the head and master absolute.

The Editorial Staff.

'La Libre Parole, a daily newspaper publishing each morning all the events of the previous day, even those of the last hour of the night, had needed to wait for one. an entire day to talk about this incident concerning Mr. Gérin, and the version that "seemed plausible" was the result of a laborious consultation between Drumont and his associates, concerned with carefully weighing the terms to be implemented bending to make an embarrassing event look like a "a police maneuver and a political revenge", without however, neither name the perpetrator(s) of said vengeance nor the unmasked police officer.

And for good reason!

On February 10, La Libre Parole announced the launch of the li-Mr. Gérin's liberty, without any comment, by a note which I reproduce here:

Mr. Gérin has been released.

Mr. Gérin was released yesterday evening at 6:30 PM.

What was the truth about this arrest and its causes? real?

Was it, as Drumont claimed in his article that he had signed the "Editorial" without consulting it – who only learned of it from the newspaper the next day. morning – and as we all believed, according to what he said:

"a police and government maneuver, directed against a man who had taken part in the organization of the maté-the Free Speech movement at the time of its founding."

No, and nothing Drumont published was accurate.

One of our comrades, meeting one day in 1902, – a person who is very well informed about Free Speech, the The conversation naturally turned to the conduct of Druinon towards me.

– This behavior does not surprise me, said this person sounds well-informed, and if Drumont didn't act sooner It was because he feared Guérin was free and preferred to have him with him rather than against him.

But Guérin, a prisoner or in exile for a long time, de-would, in turn, experience the excellence of the feelings of

Director of Free Speech for all those who cast a shadow or may hinder him.

To harm the one he covered with flowers for so long
For a long time, he lied as he always had in all circumstances.

These circumstances were reviewed, and, between others, those of the arrest of the financier Gérin in 1893.

"There was no," the well-informed person asserted, "at no government or police maneuver in this a matter; but, purely and simply, a complaint from a J.-B. Gérin's client, for breach of trust, committed by this to his detriment.

Mr. Gérin had, in fact, responded to a request from restitution of a very large sum entrusted to his office, by proposing to return, in place cash paid to him as a deposit, a large sum of shares of La Libre Parole, counted at the high price of two one thousand francs.

Of course, this sum, which Mr. Gérin claimed thus keeping, had not entered either wholly or partly into the newspaper's cash register and the shares imposed by this means rider to the "reluctant subscriber", had been taken among those that Messrs. Drumont and Gérin had reserved for themselves—personally invested shares, the number of which was considered reasonably, as much as abusively, increased since.

As for claiming that Mr. Gérin had merely taken part of the newspaper's material organization at the time of its foundation, this is one of the most shameless lies. teeth committed by Drumont. FA

— And the proof, said the "well-informed person", that is that at present, more than ten years after his arrest, Mr. Gérin is still, which he has never ceased to be a Member of the Stakeholder Council of the Society of Free Speech; Council which is, under this name, a ver-Board of Directors table, the Director acting in name unable and having no right to do or decide anything without the prior opinion of Drumont and the Council known as the Inté-strained, e

In 1893, the appointed Administrator was Mr. Wiallard, but Gérin was the de facto administrator.

Almost every day he came, either to 14, Mont- Boulevard marten, either at Drumont's, to agree with this last- deny for all newspaper operations and for the instructions to be given to the various departments.

To obtain his provisional release and the order- In the event of a dismissal that followed, it was necessary, first of all, to file a very large deposit, eighty thousand francs, deposit which was provided, not by Drumont - let us reassure those who might lend the Director of La Libre Parole an idea generous towards a man who was and had to remain his partner, with whom he had shared in the wrongdoing -

but by Mr. Odclin, the same one whom Drumont called "Odelin "The Scoundrel" in an article published two years later.

Then, things finally settled down between Mr. Gérin and his client; and it was agreed that, in order to comto complete the satisfaction to be granted to the "subscriber by the

"Force" we would divide the shares, which we wanted to make him swallow it, to other, less recalcitrant, good people...

We will see later that the "well-informed person- "mée" was exactly that and that Mr. Gérin never ceased to collaborate actively and without any interruption to the Administration and especially to the "operation" of the Free Speech.

Here, I think it's a good idea to provide some information. regarding the Drumont-Gérin treaty of March 10, 1892.

When the anti-Jewish community responds to attacks and per- incessant fidies including the Great West of France, its The general delegate, his friends, and their newspaper were the subject, from Drumont and some individuals of his entourage, . published, certain pieces and, among others, the Regarding the treaty in question, Drumont fulminated:

"This is an outrage," he exclaimed, "this treaty is a forgery!" his figures are inaccurate, etc.,

And, to justify his indignation, who could no longer to move us, he opposed us, as the only true and

Fersen:

"FREE SPEECH" IS CREATED: 27

authentic, his contract of April 2, 1892 with Mr. Wiallard, contract as follows:

'Between the signed.

MG Wiallard, manager of the Interest Shares Company
La Libre Parole, residing in Levallois-Perret, Seine, 17, rue
of the Arts, on the one hand, |

And Mr. Edouard Drumont, publicist, residing in Paris, 157, rue de l'Université, on the other hand,

The following information was presented:

Mr. Wiallard smiled at Mr. Drumont regarding the statutes of the So-company that he proposes to create for the publication and exploitation-tion of the five-cent daily newspaper whose title is the Libre Parole avec le sous-titre Ta France auæ Français.

Mr. Drumont having given his approval to the said statutes,
The undersigned parties have agreed between themselves the following agreements following,

Article 1. – Mr. Drumont relinquishes to the Society to create, during its duration, i.e., for Dougo years,
. the enjoyment of the title and subtitle of the newspaper, which remain-
rent his exclusive property.

It is expressly understood that in the event of disunion of the a company to be created with a fixed term, and this for some can Whatever the case may be, Mr. Drumont would regain the free disposal of the title and subtitle.

Article 2. – Mr. Drumont shall have sole and unchecked direction political, economic, industrial and financial discussions of the day
nal la Libre Parole, including announcements and the Bulletin financial.

He will have the sole qualification to accept or refuse all items

as well as to accept or dismiss all editors.

Art. 3. – Mr. Drumont will be entitled to an annual salary of 24,000 francs, which the company to be created will have to pay him by twelfths at a rate of 2,000 francs per month,

Article 4 – Mr. Drumont shall have the right, before any division of profits between shareholders, at a levy of 10% of the company's annual net profits,

Article 5. — One hundred and fifty shares will be given to Mr. Drumont, of the eight hundred to be created according to the company's statutes to be established by Mr. Wiallard.

Article 6. – The fixed editorial budget, not including the

28 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

Mr. Drumont's salary cannot exceed 6,000 francs. per month.

However, Mr. Drumont will have free disposal, at his expense additional writing fees, a monthly sum of 1,500 francs, to be deducted from the amount of a monthly allowance a sum of 8,000 francs, to be determined by the company to be created, for advertising related to the development of the newspaper.

From 75,000 copies sold, the budget of the
The writing fee will be increased to 7,500 francs.

From 100,000 it will be increased to 12,000 francs and to par-shooting from 150,000 to 18,000 francs, excluding the supplementary allowance additional information as provided above.

Article 7. – Mr. Drumont will become aware of it when he will deem it appropriate, from the cash register, the accounting department, and the social writings, either by himself or by a representative of special powers.

Article 8. – Mr. Drumont undertakes, for twelve years consecutive, that is to say throughout the entire duration of the s0-society, to devote its assiduous attention to the publication of the newspaper Free Speech and not to write or collaborate in any capacity in another newspaper. – | h

Article 9. – In the event of legal proceedings, all costs and penalties Legal costs will be borne by the company.

Article 10 – These agreements are made for a a period of twelve years, equal to that which will be given to the company to be created, Under no circumstances, nor for any reason other than this that is, the commitments made to Mr. Drumont, and those taken by him/herself, cannot be terminated before the expiry date of this twelve-year period. - `

Article 11. - The registration fees for this document will be at the expense of whichever party gives rise to it.
Done in duplicate, in Paris, on April 3, 1892.

Read and approved: | Read and approved:
. Wiarranp & Ci. Edouard Druymonr.

`

The text of this contract is reproduced exactly as it was provided by a member of the Council of Interested Parties, Mr. Aubry.

We do not doubt the reality of this contract and it
It is very possible that it exists, outside and alongside that one agreement between Messrs. Gérin and Drumont, during the origin of

The € Free Speech of is created 59

talks between these gentlemen regarding the creation of the Free Speech.

Mr. Wiallard's intervention in this matter, inter-a discovery that we only learned about on the day of the inauguration management of the offices of La Libre Parole, Drumont did not having spoken to us only about Mr. Gérin during our interview
With him, it had caused us some surprise.

No explanation was ever given by the authorities.
we have been reminded of this subject and we must conclude that Mr. Wiallard was hien, what everyone always thought, the re-Mr. Gérin's involvement in the implementation of the maintenance decision made between Messrs. Drumont and Gérin in accordance to their treaty of March 10, 1892.

The new intermediary character required a new-treated calf, with its name, since the company name deve-
It was Wiallard et Co and not Gérin et Ce.

Why was Mr. Gerin hiding behind this Mr. Wial-bacon?

Most likely as a result of an agreement with Dru-

Mont who feared that his adversaries, as much as he did, were his adversaries. aware of "journalistic matters", reveal the his associate's philosemitism and the various affairs in which Mr. Gérin had previously been involved; actions that made him ill-suited to administer one day-an anti-Jewish nal intended to be the adversary of venal newspapers: dependent on Jewish finance and the government.

Drumont is a cautious man, always applying: which is "to save face", as the Orientals say.

To be convinced of the care that Drumont takes with "saving appearances and safeguarding one's personal interests-nels" one only needs to read, with a little attention, this treatise press release, just a few months ago, to our good friend Bouttier, who was demanding answers from Drumont and to his colleagues from the Council of Interests of the Free Pa-role, in the capacity of a shareholder in the newspaper.

First, the clause leaving him the sole master of the entire editorial content and all advertising, so that no one can do business without reserving a share; and we will see later that the shares he took were always the most important.

30 THE TRAFFICKERS DR ANTISEMITISM

Then, in addition to the 24,000 francs annual salary, a penny, however, sufficient for an apostle, even a modern one, the 10% deduction from profits, a fair levy before any distribution to the Shareholders, who, in turn, yet they received no fixed interest on their money and ran the maximum risks while Dru-Mont demanded the maximum guarantees.

Not content with these profits, Drumont had himself allocated in-core 1,500 francs per month, which he has free disposal of.

These are his "secret funds." And when the editors were, for the first time, aware of this allocation, by a member of the Council of Interested Parties who received complaints about the low prices of the appointments awarded to the editorial staff, they wondered What use could Drumont possibly make of those 18,000 francs? annual.

I even remember that one evening, upon arriving at La Libre Word, 'I found the "devoted" Gaston Méry busy with to align columns of figures to establish, he said, the total account of editorial staff salaries.

He knew, he claimed, that 5,000 francs plus 1,500 francs had to be distributed among the collaborators and he did not arrive—did not reach that overall figure of 6,500 francs per month, even including the salary of the party secretary Drumont's butler.

He also reproached him — and in such violent terms! — to the " dear master" to deceive his editors.

Mr. Gaston Méry is, like his boss, a man who
The devotion and selflessness are all for show.

He understands that his antisemitism brings him the means to live as one pleases.

For him, it's just another job, and he knows how to do it.
choosing the most varied options when he considers them profitable.

This issue of salaries was not the only one which provoked complaints from Mr. Gaston Méry

"Free Speech" is created at against that "old miser" Drumont, that "rogue" of Gerin and his "straw man" Wiallard.

The "small editorial staff" heard some harsh things about this that theme, at that time; and also since Wiallard
He was succeeded as administrator by the one whom Mr. Méry does not call milk never otherwise than "this porter from Devos", when—
that he was not treating this individual even more harshly
It was in front of anyone who wanted to listen.

I think it's good to give as well, at least in its essential parts, the Drumont-Gérin treaty, of which the publication, a few years ago, put the director of Free Speech in such a great fury.

We had a second bout of this anger when
The Anti-Jewish newspaper reproduced this interesting document in 1892.

Between the undersigned,

Mr. Edouard Drumont, publicist, living in Paris, 167,

University Street on the one hand, | |

And M.-J.-B. Gérin, publicist, residing in Paris, 37, Bassano Street, on the other hand, Bi

It has been stated that:

Mr. Drumont wishing to found a large-format newspaper, quo-a five-cent daily newspaper, whose title is Free Speech with the subtitle France for the French, Mr. Gérin, offered him to establish a company whose purpose is the publication and
the operation of said newspaper.

Mr. Drumont having accepted these proposals, the parties have
They reached the following conclusions between themselves:

Article 1. – Mr. Gérin undertakes to establish, in the within one month from today, a limited partnership
by Shares of interest whose purpose is the publication and the exyloi-
the newspaper known as La Libre Parole, whose "statutes" must be submitted to Mr. Drumont and approved by him."

Article 2, – Mr. Gérin undertakes to Mr. Drumont to to provide the said company with a sum of three hundred thousand francs broken down like stib: one hundred thousand francs in cash and two one hundred thousand francs in printing equipment, printing costs and paper. Naked,

32 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

Article 8. – In the event that Mr. Gérin only pays 100,000 francs in cash, he will not be required to do both
One hundred thousand francs surplus, in printing equipment, expenses printing and paper, that if the newspaper's revenues were insufficient to allow society to cope with costs of establishing said bio of printing and of paper.

Article 4. – In all cases, no benefits shall be distributed.
fico before reimbursing Mr. Gérin the sums he had-could have made progress in printing equipment, printing and papier on behalf of the company, as has just been stated:
above.

Article 5. – The number of shares in the company to be created is fixed to eight hundred, of which one hundred and fifty are attributed to Mr. Drc-Mount and one hundred and fifty to Mr. Gérin.

Article 6. – Mr. Drumont, for his part, undertakes to take the political leadership and the editorial staff of the newspaper

Free Speech.

Article 7. – Mr. Drumont, the exclusive owner of title of said newspaper, which he abandoned: to the company during the its duration, i.e., for twelve years, but it is express- It is understood that in these circumstances, the company to be created will be dissolved. before the agreed deadline, for whatever reason, Mr. Drumont will regain full control of the title to the said newspaper.

Article 8. – Mr. Drumont alone shall have control and direction – political, economic, industrial and financial aspects of the newspaper Free Speech, including announcements and the Financial Bulletin
cier. i AE \

Article 9. – Mr. Drumont shall be entitled to an annual salary of twenty-four thousand francs, which the company to be created will owe him to be calculated in twelve equal installments of two thousand francs per month.

Article 10. – Mr. Drumont shall have the right, before any division of profits between shareholders, subject to a levy of ` 10 0/0 on the company's annual net profits. >

Article 11. – The fixed budget of the editorial staff, not including the Mr. Drumont's salary cannot exceed five
. a thousand francs per month. However, Mr. Drumont will have the free provision, for additional drafting fees, if be-care is, in the form of a monthly sum of fifteen hundred francs to be provided

"FREE SPEECH" IS CREATED, 33

lover on the amount of a monthly allowance of three thousand francs, to be determined by a company to be created for advertising relating to the development of the newspaper.

Article 12. – Messrs. Gérin and Drumont shall have to provide their own instrument of app-cord on everything that coincides with the launch of the newspaper.

Article 13. – Mr. Drumont will make his acquaintance when he... will deem appropriate, from the cash register, the accounting department, and the social documents, either by him or by an agent

ue

Article 27. – These agreements shall be terminated from full right, without any compensation from either party, in the in the event that Mr. Gérin had not formed the company to be created in the period of one month from this day.

Article 18. – The registration fees for this document will be at the expense of whichever party gives rise to it.

Done in duplicate in Paris, on the tenth of March, one thousand one hundred and four twenty-twelve.

Read and approved: | ; Read and approved:

* Edouard Drumont. J.-B. Gén.

I have given almost the entire text of this treatise and the articles which I do not reproduce here are repeated verbatim ` in the Drumont-Wiallard treaty, under titles 8, 9 and 10.

It is obviously not necessary to own one special competence in the entirety of conventions eras- ciales to see that the Drumont-Wiallard treaty is not that the consequence of the Drumont-Gérin treaty.

The conventions of April 2nd reiterate those of the 10th of the month. which were passed between Messrs. Drumont and Gérin when they made contact through Mr. Gadobert.

Mr. Gadobert was even one of the first editors of Ji left La Libre Parole following a discussion of interests concerning the shares that he had promised in recognition of his good offices, his efforts and actions, participations which were subsequently contested and which he did not

he never received, he affirmed, in various cities

2

34 LRS ANTISEMITIC TRAFFICKERS

The obstinacy shown by Drumont and also by Mr. Gé- To deny the existence of this treaty can only be explained by... through their shared desire to conceal, from the shareholders of the Free Speech movement, the way in which commitments, prior- clearly taken for the foundation of the company, had been held by the contracting parties.

Mr. Gérin had, in fact, committed himself, under penalty of termination- tion of the conventions of March 10, 1892, to be provided to the So-company to be created, a sum of one hundred thousand francs in cash and also, if necessary, two hundred thousand francs worth of equipment. fresh and paper.

In case he had to finish all or part of these two hundred thousand francs for equipment and printing costs. and paper, as provided for in Articles 2 and 3, and Article 4 specifically entrusted their reimbursement to Mr. Gérin "before any repairs" profit-taking".

But the hundred thousand francs in cash remained acquired to the Society.

And, it is in compensation for this "cash contribution" and the care he took in establishing the Society, that Mr. Gérin received, according to article 5, one hundred and fifty parts of the Free Speech, estimated by himself in his Financial Week circular, two thousand francs each.

The one hundred and fifty shares, which Mr. Gérin allocated to himself, re- therefore presented, according to his own assessments, three one hundred thousand francs and provided him with a net profit of two hundred thousand francs, a handsome remuneration from his con- curs. |

Drumont, for his part, also received three hundred a thousand francs worth of shares; and we will see that these two "apo- very » of the anti-Jewish cause did not subsequently limit their appetites for these advantages, however, are quite significant.

Drumont's protests against reproduction, in the Anti-Jew, from his treatise with MJ-B. Gérin, already published in 1896, did not move us.

We were beginning to get used to the "sincerity" of this – "excellent man".

"FREE SPEECH" IS CREATED 35

11 became concerned about our unbelief and sent us some of his unofficial associates who, full of concern They came to tell us:

– Beware, you have been deceived, this treaty is whimsical, and Drumont will take advantage of it to... prosecute for forgery and use of forged documents; and thus discredit all of what you've published about the traffic that He is accused of...

We reassured these "kind commission agents" and, at the same time, the sincere Friends and Comrades who they too had been harassed in the same way.

– Don't worry about Drumont's threats

ct of his associates, the treaty is perfectly accurate and if Drumont or Gérin could have continued the dissemination of it– If they were the author, they wouldn't have waited so long for the to do; his first publication dating back six years at least. | i |

The opportunity is still ripe for Drumont, and if he wants to sue me for this new publicity given to a treaty that he wanted to conceal with such care, I am ready to respond to him, as well as to his associate MJ-B. Gerin, in case this financier wishes to join him and summon me before the competent courts.

But I'll remain quite calm about that – won't I?

–no, Messrs. Drumont and Gérin – and you will not commit never the grave imprudence of provoking such a debate of– before any court? : |

One can understand, moreover, Drumont's fury and the vehemence of the beginning of his denials, when one considers the methods which he used to prevent bettors from his diary to find out where the 1,600,000 francs went. paid for the titles that have been awarded to them.

I will return to this subject in a later chapter.

The arrest of MJ-B. Gérin was not the only incident tooth of the beginnings of Libre Parole. One day, on June 30, 1892, upon arriving, with Morès, at

THERE

30 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

Around 5 o'clock, we found everyone in the newspaper. great commotion.

The staff! From the Administration, like the editors seemed gripped by an emotion that surprised us and the The office boys themselves seemed bewildered.

We inquired and Mr. Gaston Méry, who was... willingly knows the messenger of unpleasant news to his best friends – he hasn't changed since then, I've been told affirmed – eagerly answered our questions.

– What! You know nothing? You haven't read it?
Charles Laurent's article?

– No, we're arriving by car and we haven't read
no evening newspaper.

– Well, it's good, and if what the Day says is True, the opponents are going to have fun.

Mr. Gaston Méry, when he told us this, didn't seem,
He, too, was bored.

– But what is this about?

And Méry replied, bursting into laughter:

– Wiallard, our administrator, is a Jew.

His name is not Wiallard but Crémieux and Gérin Fa
stuck to Drumont., It's good, isn't it?

We did not share the cheerfulness of our complacent
'informant,' and Mores and I found that, if the
The fact was accurate, it was deplorable from every point of view.

Our first response was: ,

– And Drumont, what does he say about that?

Drumont isn't here yet, they phoned him and <
We're waiting for it.

Indeed, a few moments later, Drumont arrived and,
He immediately asked us to come and talk with him in his office.

His first words were:

'– What do you think?

And our immediate response:

– But is that true?

"Yes," Drumont told us, "and it's very troublesome, this..."

"FREE SPEECH" IS CREATED az –

that story. I asked you to come here to inter-Roger Wiallard is in front of you. I'm going to call him.

A section overlooking Drumont's study, that of the
Mr. Administrator's office, open, a "Mr.
"Wiallard, do you want to come?" and we found ourselves...
before the aforementioned "Crémieux" denounced by the Day.

When questioned, he admitted to being Jewish, and to using his real name.
Crémieux; "but," he added, "I am converted, I have been baptized"
I was treated and I received my First Communion.

We saw Drumont breathe a sigh of relief-
He lies and he says:

- Do you at least have your baptismal certificate for the Publish immediately?

- No, but I can ask, in Saint-Mandé, for a cercertificate attesting that I made my first Communion there.

"That will be enough," said Drumont, who seemed pleased with
to be able to parry the blow that was dealt to him by the Day...

We did not share Drumont's satisfaction and for us, Wiallard-Crémieux, even converted, baptized and having made his First Communion, remained, when even the Jew introduced to Free Speech and who was not there not in his place

The following day, La Libre Parole published an article in which Drumont was indeed giving to his Administrator his Crémieux's name, but careful not to acknowledge that he was of Jewish origin "for fear of cancellations",
he confessed.

._Voiei this article from July 1, 1892:

To Mr. Charles Laurent.

Mr. Charles Laurent insinuated that Mr. Gaston Crémieux, said Wiallard, Administrator of the newspaper La Libre Parole, was Jewish.

We do not want to be satisfied with a simple denial, -

The baptismal certificate, requested in Marseille, not being
It has arrived again, here is the RM certificate.
Communion of Mr. Gaston Crémieux, |

Parish of Saint-Mandé.

I certify that Mr. Gaston Crémieux made his First Communion in the church of NOTRE-DAME de Saint-Mandé in 1860.

Saint-Mandé, June 30, 1892.

J. Maronant, first vicar.

*

Then no one spoke of this deplorable affair anymore.

Drumont merely assured us that he was getting rid of—What about that dirty Jew who had broken into his place?? The most as quickly as possible.

He kept it for another three years; and, if Cision said Wiallard left the newspaper, it wasn't because he was Jewish,
but, because, at that time, in 1895, Drumont had estranged, due to profit-sharing issues, with his partner Gérin and whom he wished to have as administrators trader in the name of a man of his own, in place of the one — which was commonly called < the straw man of Gerin.

This falling out led to the departure of Crémieux, known as Wiallard and, also, a violent separation between Drumont and his friend, Mr. Odelin; but Gérin remained a partner in the Direc-author of La Libre Parole and still a member of the Rp said of the "Interested Parties" of the Company,

Drumont would certainly have wanted to let Gérin go, because no longer to share with him; but Gerin was not willing to allow himself to be sidelined from a matter that was, in fact, his
to generate significant profits.

And Drumont, who had written against Mr. Odelin, his Odelin the scoundrel, did not dare, whatever his desire.
had, to do a similar thing against Mr. Gérin, determined,
him, to defend himself and retaliate:

– Excuse me, you scoundrel, but you are another one,
Drumont resigned himself to the division, while reserving the right to... limit it to what it could not conceal.

We will see later that the two friends have su–

"FREE SPEECH" IS CREATED 39

quarreled wind over the sums they were to receive in the results of the exploitation of La Libre Parole, which was,
and is still, the exploitation of Anrfisemilism.

As we can see, La Libre Parole was in good hands with, on the one hand, Mr. Gérin of the National and the circu-letter of 1890 addressed to the Jews of France and abroad – ger; and, on the other side, Gaston Crémieux, known as Wiallard, the Jew authentic, though converted

Israel did not need to claim Drumont
as one of his own, denouncing him as "Drei-mund"; it was represented at 14, boulevard Montmartre, dein a sufficient way, by a Judaizer and a pure Jew, having he only fulfilled a religious formality which did not he added nothing, not even what the priest rabbi told him
had cut off at his birth.

The replacement for the Jewish Crémieux, known as Wiallard, was a
A large boy named Devos, a former hardware store clerk-laughter in Lille, nephew of Drumont's maid, that she, at the arrival in Paris of his relative, without a job and without means of subsistence, had managed to bring in, as petit employee, in the newspaper's administration.

This big boy, who often visited his aunt,
sought every possible means of getting to agreeable Drumont's ble.

He particularly noticed him during his change of heart.
gagement domicil, de la petite maison de la rue de
the University at the infinitely more luxurious and more comfortable hotel comfortable – without being any cleaner – of the pas-Wise Landrieu,

Big Devos eagerly set to work on the handcart that Drumont used for his move and the "Boss" considered using his goodwill, which was ready for anything.

He made him his spy at the newspaper's administration.
as Gaston Méry already was at the Editorial Office.

The idea of using the fat boy who... as a spy chartered his furniture so willingly, had come to Drumont after finding, one day, among his mail, a letter which I reproduce here, following a completely written draft from Devos's hand and which he redrafted before the ex- to pay to its recipient:

40 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

FREE SPEECH
Daily political newspaper.

Director :

Ébouard PBUMONT Paris, ie December 13, 1892.

Administration:
Mr. Drumont,

I am taking the liberty of bringing these rumors to your attention. annoying people who chirp on your newspaper.

The Administration's method of operation is certainly not to deny them and the struggles to pay, not only- the editors lie, but the printer that these gentlemen have will only confirm that returning for the balance of his bill will only confirm all the doubts we have about the future of the newspaper.

Mr. Biron speaks incoherently and already two subscribers are came to ask me if they could renew, without fear, Ms. Schwyaab was first.

Your council, Mr. Odelin, is their man, Kuenzi would like to pass on an article favorable to department stores, that 'with the aim of pleasing' the Louvre and Jialuzot for his Cockade; It was Mr. Odelin who took it upon himself to win you over, it was the ver- Mr. Gérin's lieutenant table, two inseparable friends.

Mr. Gérin's attitude suggests that he has a motive. To try, the shares being taken, he is covered, and in real finance- . Cier would like to fish, there is trouble, a second edition of National. i

They harbor a deep hatred for your true friends;

Messrs. Morès Lamase and Guérin, whom they do not even want not to provide the free newspaper service; despite your orders lan-Nuncio Guérin is no longer passing through.

This week we are reducing the quantities at the kiosks.
This way for the sensational numbers Panamu, stc., to
At noon we couldn't find any more numbers, | i

I believe I should also point out to you the proper way to be courteous.
with which Mr. Mourlon receives visitors.

"FREE SPEECH" IS CREATED

The Director of Menus-Plaisirs is a Jew, a great friend of Mr. Wiallard, with whom he often dines, and Mr. Gadobert praises him almost daily, this Youdi.

The small text that follows the Financial Calendar is a trap extended to your subscribers, your good faith is legendary and who-conque has money to invest and believes it can do no better than describe to the editor of Mr. Drumont's newspaper, Mr. Gérin Jump on this and give some good advice.

Please accept, I beg you, the sincere greetings of your...

devoted servant,
Devos.

This letter is interesting for more than one reason.

- Not only does she denounce the instincts of informers from the big Devos, that the interests of Drumont and the "Cause" is not an exclusive concern, as one might think.
I think so; but it also shows that we had Mores and I were right to believe that no more than our Friends, militants of Anti-Semitism, we were not seen from one
A sympathetic eye from the newspaper's financial staff.

It also confirms the leading role played by Mr. Gérin at La Libre Parole next to Drumont.

His friends and representatives, Messrs. Odelin, Wiallard and Léo Biron, as well as Mr. Kuenzi, the iron-
"Mir de la publicité qu'il avait amen" personally.

Devos warned Drumont against a blow of
M: Gérin at La Libre Parole alongside Drumont,

Drumont's secretary, Mr. Mourlon, who left him later on rather bad terms, things were no better by- He was tagged. Apparently, he lacked friendliness.

I hasten to add that the solicitude of the great Devos, for those whom he called in his reports the best Drumont's friends, lasted only just the necessary time to replace the Jew Wiallard with the current Intendant- today. i

He, barely in office, as administrator
"Oh no," he resumed, exaggerating even further, "the system of hos-

. utilities that Messrs. Gérin and others were implementing con- |

EU Ball

42 THE TRAFFICKERS OF: ANTISEMITISM

between the men whose actions hindered their schemes financial,

The only difference between this era and present, that is, that at that moment, we believed Drumont unaware of all these dealings, of which he already shared everything the profits; and that, since then, he imagines them, monitors them or He personally leads them, leaving nothing to his associates, and to his instruments only what he chooses to give them.

It is true that the little he grants them represents a total large enough to constitute them of considerable fortunes, the figures of which give an idea of the total sums raised by the operations of this "eminent businessman".

But let's not get ahead of ourselves and let's put everything, as Each individual, in their place.

From this letter I will highlight the passage relating to the little girl note which follows the Financial Calendar qualified by the mou-

Char Devos: a trap set for subscribers who, having some archived Those who needed placement could do no better than to write to the ` Financial editor of Drumont's newspaper "whose "Good faith is legendary." – The

It would be more accurate to say that Drumont's good faith is a "legend" – and what a legend!

The "informer" Devos adds, again: so Mr. Gérin jumps on this and gives good advice, emphasizing those last four words.

If these words are underlined, it is obviously not in order to make it clear that good advice from
Mr. Gérin could be beneficial to subscribers, to the con-milking.

This note follows the Financial Calendar
November 1892:

P.S. – Many readers do us the honor of...
write to us to ask for information on certain financial questions. When these questions are of a |

Fit 318
RAEI

"Free Speech" RST Created at 3

all private, and that a stamp accompanies the request, we
We will reply in a sealed envelope within eight days.
When they are of general interest, we will respond in the newspaper.

FC..

F.-C. meant François Conscience, signature habitu-tutulary – at that time – of the editor of the Calendar
Financial backer of "Free Speech".

This signature was, of course, a pseudonym and The Conscience in question was that of Mr. Gérin, editorauthor, or at least inspirer, of this part of the editorial work granted to its Financial Week.

This proves that Drumont had, once again,

lied when he said, in his note on the arrest of Mr. Gérin, that he had never had to intervene in The Editorial Staff of "Libre Parole".

Devos's letter also mentions an an-
This notice is of interest to me, and Messrs. Gérin and Wiallard are superior. They took precedence, it seems, despite Drumont's orders.

I do remember, in fact, that Drumont had once told me, offered to insert an advertisement in his newspaper relating to a lighting system that I had created in competition with our All-powerful Oil Refiners.

My collaboration with Libre Parole has always been free of charge, I gladly accepted Dru-'s offer mountain, no doubt eager to repay me for - assistance that I offered him in a friendly manner, without any- I had never once asked him to pay me anything. in whatever way it was; which pleased him immensely and was, I realized that, one of the reasons for his "good feelings" towards me, as long as I was able to be of use to him.

The announcement was shown three or four times, at very short intervals. irregular, and I noted, one day, its suppression definitive. i |

The letter from big Devos, whom I've known for a few In just a few days, I learned that Messrs. Gérin and associates

I am the perpetrators of antisemitism.

were the authorities of this suppression, despite the orders of Drumont.

'I believe this "despite" is unfounded, cat, since Dru-Mont received this report from his spy; the announcement did not pass. no more; from which I conclude that Drumont, "sovereign , master of the entire editorial process, from the questions more serious aspects of politics, right up to the announcements >, don't- he never used his authority to enforce the offer he had done it to me "so obligingly". P

I recognize in this the "style" of this "excellent friend". And... I move on.

It follows from all this that, for Drumont as for Messrs. Gérin, Wiallard and Co., La Libre Parole was an af-to do and nothing else.

From this affair, they sought to derive every benefit.

using all possible methods and by all possible means, he let-without realizing their ways and their appetites
than during the often difficult hours of sharing the spoils
The lice of anti-Semitism and anti-Jewish sentiment.

The departure of the Jew Wiallard, which occurred in January 1895,
in the circumstances I have indicated, allowed Dru-
to put his "man" in his place and to remain more in control than ever of both administration and the writing. | l

This change of person, as administrator in name, born did not modify in any way the processes of the Pru- house
Mont and Co. |

We will see that later.

W

IH

Drumont Association,
J.-B. Gérin and Crémieux, known as Wiallard.

April 1892 – January 1895.

Last TEN

"Good deals". – The Financial Calendar, – J.-B.
Gérin, Editor, = The reflections of Gaston Méry. –
Against Crédit Foncier. – A relentless campaign, –
A note in "first n, – François Conscience eb Jacques Lefranc. – We are negotiating, – Mr. Christophle understands.
– It's "working," everything's fine. – A large sum.
Two dismissed employees – Compensation. – New New newspaper and new society. – La Libre Parole illus-land. – Another 80,000 francs in new actions and 80,000 francs in new contributions. – Newspaper no longer exists. –
Fictitious Dividend – Department Stores – A Comedy
explained. – The Jews Schwoob and the innkeeper Bertrand.
– Another campaign. – Unfortunate rumors, – The Scapegoats. – Drumont's escape. – The seals of the Panama. – MJ-B. Gérin interrupts. – Drumont and . Odelin. – Crémieux says Wiallard is leaving. – Ron 7
vos becomes a rentier and administrator.

– Now that I have shown in which hands the fiber

The wall was located and who were the "sincere anti-Semites"?
ek 'convinced' of which Drumont was the perfect associate Infoimé, I need to explain how the trio Dru-
Mont, Gérin, Crémieux, exploited the official organ of PAa-
Semitism and what affairs were imagined by pari ees
E Gentlemen, r

46 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

It would be impossible for me, however, to list them.
all of them here; an entire book, like this one, wouldn't suffice.
no; I will therefore limit myself to pointing out the most important ones.

I am all the more obliged to limit myself because when I will get to the "Trafficking" of recent years (of (1895 to the present day) I will need to dedicate a space to them considerable, without being able to say everything that is happening would be necessary, again because of the excessively small dimensions
strands of this volume. |

MJ-B. Gérin being, first and foremost, a "Finan"cier" had made sure of it from the very first hour, the Bulletin ` #financier of the newspaper, which he called Financial Calendar and which he signed, from April 20, 1892 to January 2, 1893, with the pseudo-François Conscience! !! |

A copy of this Financial Calendar, written or inspired by MJ-B. Gérin, was brought every day 14, boulevard Montmartre, around 6 o'clock in the evening, by an employee from the Financial Weekly, or by Mr. Gérin himself, and it was handed directly to the composition without ever ~ go through the Editorial Secretariat.

The test was only submitted to Drumont who gave the "Good to insert" form.

Neither Morès nor I, nor any of our friends, were at aware of these details of the intimate kitchen of the diary, that most, if not all, of the editors were unaware of
also. no ii

During our brief appearances in the offices of
We only heard about Free Speech sometimes, singular reflections of Gaston Méry, who, at the same time time. that he was spying on the Editorial Staff on behalf of Drumont engaged in the same espionage on the various...
rents services from the newspaper for his personal account.

Gaston Méry's acrimonious reflections, not, vi-not only know, Messrs. Gérin, Crémieux, known as Wiallard and the successive Editorial Secretaries.

== Messrs. Georges Duval, Boisandré, Albert Monniot and Jo-Sepp Ménard was not spared by him until the day when, having achieved his goals, he became what he wanted to be "Mr. Secretary-General"!! – of the Reaction of the Free Speech; while waiting to become its Editor-in-Chief, and even the Director in his place of Drumont, to whom he advises, and above all, skillfully Advisor, a well-deserved rest!

DRUMONT 47 ASSOCIATION

Despite all the precautions taken by Drumont to to conceal the money laundering that was taking place under the covered in antisemitism, with occasional rumors rumors circulated, and towards the end of 1892, there was talk of blackmail. organized at Libre Parole against Crédit Foncier.

Like everyone else, not doubting the good faith Regarding Drumont, we regretted that he might have been deceived and we ardently wished to see him finally rid of his entourage of financiers and shady characters, who compromised– by their mere presence, they brought the work undertaken to fruition.

The rumors circulating about Crédit Foncier were beginning to take on a certain consistency and to to move everyone when, on January 10, 1893, it was published, On the front page of Libre Parole, the following note:

Amid the turmoil caused by the Panama scandals,
We receive so many letters about Credit Land, which we cannot avoid giving net–
that's our opinion.

Having no connection with Crédit Foncier, the Libre Parole is more authorized than any body to say what she thinks of this establishment.

While making all reservations about how ins– is managed institution, faced with the contradictory opinions of the polemics involved– For now, we only see the beginnings of a ma– a most dangerous undertaking for our national savings, executed by German Jews who are trying to throw the Panic among holders of real estate and community bonds: neles,

We therefore believe it is important to warn the public against the culpable actions of the coreligionists of Messrs. de Rothschilds, those kings of finance, whose... we still remember vigorous campaign against the Russian bond issued by our second national establishment.

48 TRAFFICKERS FOR ANTISEMITISM

\

For an easily deceptive purpose, these international pirates will try again to take a few hundred more from savings millions, and, if Pon considers that the holders of securities of the Crédit Foncier amounts to two million, representing With a capital of 4 billion, we will realize the danger.

Our duty was to expose the scandal; that has now been done.

JL

When we read this note, we absolutely approved—illuminating the attitude of the Free Speech movement, which seemed to be melting resolutely opposed to the projects of Jewish finance, seeking to render Crédit Foncier's securities worthless to buy them back at a low price and become a creditor of French land ownership.

What more eloquent response could there be, than this note, to the noises? of blackmail that was being circulated; and, once again, Everyone was convinced that someone had wanted to harm the Free Word and to its director by spreading slander. — .

We thought that way because we were unaware that the The authors of the downward maneuvers were none other than the individuals associated for the exploitation of the Free Pa—role and because we hadn't read the inserted notes in the Kinancier dw journal, notes that had The governor of Crédit Foncier was moved and they had had a _serious repercussions on stock and bond prices

gations of this establishment.

The "culpable actions of the coreligionists of Messrs. de Rothschild and the maneuvers of the inter— pirates nationals" had been helped and supplemented by MJ-B.

Gérin, said François Conscience, in agreement with Drumont, . which had targeted all the events of the Financial Calendarcier and had personally authorized its insertion.

And now we can explain why on January 2, 1893
Mr. François Conscience had given up to Mr. Jacques
Lefranc, the editor of the Financial Calendar, .

Drumont could not, in fact, keep a re-an actor who could be suspected, even a judge, from a to

DRUMONT 49 ASSOCIATION

see taken part in an unfair campaign against a ban-than French.

In reality, as we know today, there was only one method used by Drumont to "save face" and Mr. J.-B. Gérin of the Semaine Financière remained, as Previously, the editor or the inspiration behind the Calendar Financial.

Only Mr. François's discredited conscience was replaced by the more recent franchise of Mr. 'Jacques and
The trick was done.

Here are the notes that had moved and inspired...
The Governor of Crédit Foncier has left:

88 October 1898. – The Financial Calendar, speaking of a decision taken by Crédit Foncier to repay by anticipation of the securities of its 187% loan, announces that the Bondholders of this loan are protesting and speaking to form a union to sue Crédit
Land that eliminates four annual print runs of 200,000 francs
each until 1984, the scheduled date for reimbursement
complete loan of 1876.

Naturally the loan was repaid ahead of schedule.
and no union was formed; the union threatened-
being simply a product of demanding Consciousness
by MJ-B. Gérin. |

Mr. Gerin's consciousness continues to function and Other notes follow the first.

December 10. – The Bank of France continues to decline and drops to 3.866. Crédit Foncier to 1078.75.

– December 81st, – These days, on the Stock Exchange, there is talk of Pé-possibility of resuming the Paf- reconstruction project to do Panama and the name of is associated with this project Mr. Christophle, it is true that, if the government ex- the primary desire to see him resume the study of this case, the

has

Gouvornour du Crédit Foncier would gladly lend there.

December 88. – The Land Tax ends at 1,010... The person-eotivo of the entry of his Governor into the rescue team.

Panama buses did not bring him any joy.

–

50 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

December 25. – Crédit Foncier is under considerable strain.

It reacts at 987.60 and the Municipal Bonds are all more or less affected.

December 29th – Crédit Foncier rises to 1,007.50...

This establishment is sending out a circular to ask its customers to disdain the calumnies of which he is the object and not sell their securities. Contrary advice would have been surprising.

December 30. – Crédit Foncier's share price drops

1,000 francs. It remains at 997.50. What would it be if he hadn't sent circulars.

December 31. – Crédit Foncier, 997.50. Bonds

always targeted despite the small optimistic notes.

One must admire the way in which these perfidies are distilled and how one day the new one that one underlines line the next day.

Witness the history of the reconstruction of Panama which, at this that moment in particular must have been especially moving for security holders.

Which proves that it was indeed the Free Speech that me- The campaign against Crédit Foncier was born because MJ-

B. Gérin responded immediately to the circulars, of which he triggers the sending to shareholders and bondholders for to warn them against the slander directed against them to control the Crédit Foncier and prevent them from giving in to panic that we want to create among them by pushing them to sell their shares at any price.

Crédit Foncier could only fear the consequences consequences of a campaign, conducted at such a critical time for all financial institutions and within a day—the anti-Jewish national who had exposed the scandals and thefts of Panama.

Also, to stop the harm, since it cannot be eliminated, Did Mr. Christophle resign himself to negotiating peace?

He had known MJ-B. Gérin for a long time and the only The difficulties arose from the price asked.

Since the Director's Conscience of the Week Financière had become confused with that of Drumont, she had become very demanding, with two parts needing to be more important than a single one and cost much more.

DRUMONT 51 ASSOCIATION

Also the hostile notes, which had been interrupted from December 31st to January 4th, at the same time as we modify—"The signing of the Financial Calendar had been completed," they continued. January 5th, the day this was published:

Crédit Foncier closed at 972.60. This value is in She has been facing violent attacks for the past few days. had to pay a heavy price for the decline, given the strictness | the campaign waged against its titles and there is cause for concern that the retrograde movement has not yet had its final say.

Where can one no more clearly tell Mr. Christophle that he It is time for him to undergo the conditions of the "for-bans" and, as he still hesitates to "tackle the strong "sum", on the 8th, we say:

Crédit Foncier, still heavily affected, finished at 915...

So, everything works out for the best; the Governor of Crésaid Foncier pays, and, as early as the next day, January 9, the Fran-
The proposal from Messrs. Drumont and Gérin prepares the signed note

JL (Jacques Lefranc) which appears on the front page on January 10th
vier 1893. E

The couples of the new song begin on the 11th

to a completely different tune, we read in the Calendar
Financial: |

Crédit Foncier's shares have largely been associated with upward trend.

11. It is difficult to admit more cynically that it was enough that La Libre Parole would no longer attack Crédit Foncier for that the decline be halted.

A "well-informed" financier once said, to what extent-that someone who questioned him about this Libre affair Word and Crédit Foncier, that Mr. Christophle had been forced to pay to stop the campaign

52 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

When questioned about the cost, he...
He was limited to raising two fingers in the air and saying:

– What can you do, it had to be done!

This gesture and these two pointing fingers were inter-
lent as meaning two hundred thousand francs |
had been paid; and it was added, without Messrs. Drumont:
Mr. Gérin is pursuing the authors of this disclosure, that – the check had been made out, this time, as always for operations of the same kind, in the name of the Week Financial, Free Speech and its appearing director completely uninvolved in these blackmail attempts

When the subject of these two hundred thousand francs came up, Dru-Mont protested with all his might... in private; and he
He asserted himself, in any case, outside of this affair, leaving to imply, however, that Gérin was well compromised

putting on and regretting, more and more each day, the part that he had in the newspaper.

And we believed, good, naive souls that we were, Drumont innocent victim of the dishonesty of MJ-B. Gérin.

We have become less gullible and less stupid since we saw him operate without Gerin on his own initiative in circumstances that do not allow So much the better, there's no longer any doubt for anyone.

It is certain, in fact, that if he could not, at that at the time, getting rid of Messrs. Gérin and Wiallard also ra- As quickly as we all desired it, it was possible for him, at the very least, to prevent them from harming the good reputation-: tion of the newspaper and to undertake blackmail and af- shady dealings since, according to the treaties he possessed, he was "sole master and without control" of the entire editorial staff

:tion, from the newspaper's headlines to the most modest items 'announcements.'

And then, didn't he have, in addition to these rights, that of

to expel from Free Speech those who harmed it and in so seriously compromised interests through actions equally guilty | | i

If he did not act in this way, it is because he was, from the very beginning

DRUMONT 53 ASSOCIATION

day; absolutely in agreement with his associates and that he pre- simply took the precaution of attributing all the responsibility to them responsibility for unclean affairs, in order to safeguard his personal reputation and to present himself, vis-à-vis the Anti-Semites, the role of a man deceived by individuals unscrupulous.

If Drumont had wanted to exclude Messrs. Gérin and Wiallard, As early as 1892, he could, firstly, invoke the abuse of con- fiance which had motivated the arrest of the first and lori- avowed Jewish girl of the second.

But that would have meant risking a lawsuit with Messrs. Wiallard-Crémieux and J.-B. Gérin and these gentlemen, deprived of the profits they expected, had they not failed to oppose Drumont's claims, the shares that he had levied on all the transactions carried out by accord.

In the same line as Messrs. Drumont and J.-B. Gérin successfully launched their venture against Crédit Foncier, they were making another advantageous deal by excluding from the Free Speech, two early collaborators: MM. Léo Biron and Benjamin Gadobert.

Mr. Gadobert had been, as we recall, the intermediary between Messrs. Drumont and Gérin for the treaty concluded between them on March 10, 1892.

As for Mr. Léo Biron, he had long been the collaborator of MJ-B. 'Gérin.

He was even the one who took over the management of the National during that Mr. Gérin had to leave her, following his conviction to one hundred thousand francs of damages and interest in favor of the Industrial and Commercial Credit, which the National had treated as harshly as the Crédit Foncier was later, but with less success.

In return for their good offices and care, After much effort and effort, it was granted, by Letters-Treaties to Mr. Léo Biron, the situation, for twelve years, of editorial staff to the Free Speech for foreign policy to the annual salaries of six thousand francs; and to Mr. Gado-

54 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

Bert, for the same duration, the Courrier théâtral with three one hundred francs in monthly fees.

Moreover, the same treaties were made to them all two, a promise of a certain number of shares in Libre Word, out of the three hundred that Messrs. Drumont and Gérin had reserved themselves.

Mr. Léo Biron's advantages were greater, because of the specific mission entrusted to him, and which he fulfills to the best of his ability, traveling throughout France and to solicit subscriptions from known anti-Semites, for the shares of Libre Parole.

To help him with this task, Drumont consulted Mr. Leo Biron wrote letters of recommendation to all the wealthy people who had written to him, about the Jewish France, to congratulate him.

During his travels, Mr. Léo Biron collected sums important ones that, it is claimed, never entered into the 'newspaper cash register.

Once the newspaper was launched, Drumont and his friend J.-B. Gérin had only one thought left, touching Messrs. Léo Biron and Gadobert, who had taken possession of their editorial positions: get rid of them as quickly as possible. possible accounts from these two witnesses, their negotiations, and the deprive them of the benefits that had been granted to them,

This project was executed this year, the two ousted having re-Gimbé, it was necessary to pay them fairly high compensation. taken from the company's cash register, when it was commitments entered into by Drumont and Gérin personally neatly.

The two partners had, once again, -made a "ponne bedide avaire". i

The success of Free Speech is becoming more evident every day Moreover, thanks to the dedication of all, Messrs. Drumont. and Gerin considered adding another company to his business,

This led to the creation of In Libre Parole Illustrée.

This little sister of the daily newspaper La Libre was born on January 5, 1893, a new Society was formed, which was no longer necessary since the first one could perfectly well have- omitting an illustrated supplement, was constituted, according to act Received on July 6, 1893 by Mr. Piérard, notary in Paris.

,

DRUMONT 89 ASSOCIATION

This new company was of the "anonymous" form and Here are some excerpts from its statutes:

Article 1. - It is formed, between the owners of shares created below, ure Public limited company whose purpose publication and operation of a weekly newspaper illustrated, says the illustrated Free Speech and all operations accessories related to the main object, including Fac-

requisitioning, in all forms, of all newspapers for the purposes of merge with the currently created journal. i

Article 3. – The registered office of the Society is located in Paris, 14, boulevard-verd Montmartre... i

Article 5. – The social fund is set at the sum of one hundred and sixty one thousand francs, divided into sixteen hundred shares of one hundred francs each. each one.

Article 6. – Mr. Wiallard, acting in the name and as manager of the limited partnership of the newspaper La Libre Parole, ap-door to Ja Société Pidée for the creation of the newspaper and its title, the right to lease the special premises located in Paris, 14, boulevard-Montmartre garden, as well as the benefit of the agreements ver-bales passed with the paper manufacturer, printer and the _ advertising agencies and others.

Article 14. – The active and passive administration of property The affairs of the Company are carried out by a managing director. tower appointed by the general meeting of shareholders.

The duration of his duties may not exceed six years, fi is eligible for re-election.

Article 15. – In the event of death or resignation, withdrawal or impediment of the administrator, the general meeting of shareholders will be immediately summoned by the on supervisory commissioners so that provision is made to its replacement.

Article 18. The general meeting of shareholders must decide sign in accordance with the provisions of the law of July 24 1867, one or more commissioners tasked with making a report report to the next general meeting on the situation of the

36 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

Company, on the balance sheet and on the accounts presented by the administration nister. | |

Article 21. – A general assembly is held every year. ordinary ralo before the end of December, in Paris, at registered office or in any other premises other than the administration's registered offi sign.

Arf, 22. – The convocation of the general assemblies will be Made based on a notice published in one of the newspapers indicated in Paris

for legal notices. i

This document should briefly outline the agenda of assembly. -

11 must appear in the newspaper at least fifteen days before the date set for the assembly.

Article 80. - Net proceeds, after deduction of expenses
The profits of the Company. - E

'From these profits, the following is deducted:'

50/0 to form the reserve fund prescribed by the law

And the amount needed to pay a 60/0 interest rate actions on the amount of their release.

The remaining profit surplus, after these deductions, will be distributed as follows, etc.

Upon reading the statutes of this new company, one finds...
finds proof that Drumont did not sincerely desire how to separate from his partners, Messrs. Crémieux-Wiallard and Gérin, since, without being forced to do so by any means by per-
He was not involved in anything; he was founding, with them, a new company.
taken for the publication and "exploitation" of a nonu-
the newspaper that he covered with his name and that of the Daily Free Speech. ; i

Far from excluding these two gentlemen from him, it was in-core the Jew Wiallard-Crémieux who intervenes to cons-to establish a new company and to reserve, for the three partners, eighty thousand francs of shares of contributed re-representing half of the share capital, according to this paragraph-Additional graph of article G:

In recognition of his contributions, it is awarded to Mr. Wial-
Jard, in terms of quality, eight hundred bearer shares of cont fränes Güitiéreniont Hhéégos l TAT. PONSE d9 opnk FAR

DRUMONT 57 ASSOCIATION

To whom did Mr. Wiallard give these eight hundred shares?
to the bearer which were assigned to him "as manager of the Limited partnership of the Daily Free Speech?

To the shareholders of this company?

Not that we know, because there are many who we know people who have never received any of these titles The Illustrated Free Speech.

However, Mr. Wiallard did not keep everything to himself. of these eight hundred actions, since the minutes of the Constituent General Assembly of July 8, 1893, said that out of six hundred and twenty-two shares represented by one hundred twenty-five shareholders present or represented, Mr. Wiallard only appears for one shareholder and five shares contribution. |

The other 795 shares issued in contribution are not represented tés at this first, very important Assembly; and, of the 800 shares subscribed, 617 belonged to 125 actionnaires out of 187 subscribers, are listed on the, sheet of presence,

A document filed with Mr. Piérard, notary, mentions, in In effect, these 800 shares were subscribed with payment comment of: |

25 francs, or a quarter of 553;

49, 50 for ? ;

50 francs, or half for 3;

And 100 francs, or the full amount for 242.

The company therefore started with working capital. of 38,254 francs paid and 41,746 francs receivable within the time limits indicated in Article 9.

Art. 9. – The amount of the shares is payable in Paris sa- . see :

A quarter by subscribing,

The second quarter to the distribution,

And the third and fourth, three months after the constitution-final tion of the Company.

The 80,000 francs of cash capital must therefore have returned , “in your social thigh no later than October 8, 1863.

La Libre Parole Illustrée appeared, for the first time, July 17, 1893.

Its publication continued with difficulty until June 1897, the year in which it was discontinued due to a lack of readers
ct of abunnés in sufficient number (1). |

She reappeared almost immediately, thanks to the efforts of one of the re-actors of the Free Speech movement, to whom all the charges. But this well-intentioned anti-Semite was so badly se-condemned by the newspaper's administration, which he owed, at the end after a few weeks, he abandoned his attempt which... had caused a lot of trouble and quite a bit of money.

From that time on, no one heard anything more about the Free Speech Illustrated and we must ask ourselves how it
It so happens that, since the newspaper's operation has ceased... for so long, its administrator can always distribute buer, each year, a dividend on the shares.

If there is a dividend to distribute, it means there is a profit.
So, where can this benefit come from?

And, if there is profit, even without making the day-
nal, for what reasons was its publication interrupted?
a thriving business?

We logically ask ourselves these questions, just as we ask ourselves asks what happened to the paid-up capital of 80,000 francs.
which must be intact, since the actions regularly affect tied and each year an interest, this interest was it of 3 francs per title, instead of the 6 stipulated in Article 30 of the statutes. i R

Should we believe that this interest, produced by such extraordinary circumstances...
naire fagon, is purely fictitious and intended to prevent the . subscribing shareholders to demand accountability that the absence of a general assembly denounces as a very different thingficiles to return.

This would constitute serious violations of the law on...
Public limited companies, which should lead to unpleasant surprises for their authors.

(4) The Society of Illustrated Free Speech was dissolved immediately, and I will say Under what conditions!

La Libre Parole publishes every year, in October, November, a notice, usually placed after the Financial Calendar, announcing the distribution of interest annual loan, but she never talks about the General Assembly rule provided for in article 21.

However, if we consider that the shareholders of Libre 'Illustrated Words can thus be usefully advised of this which concerns them, with regard to the payment of the annual dividend that we pay them to appease them, why not also notify the General Assemblies which interest them feels, without thereby giving up the announcement in une legal document, which they must read less frequently and less easily than the daily Free Speech.

All of this remains very mysterious, and we can conclude, without risking making a rash judgment, that the 160,000 francs of the share capital disappeared; and, with it, the sums resulting from the deduction of 5% of the benefits. funds intended to constitute the legal reserve, levy which must be carried out before any distribution to the shareholders. |

Another question that arises is that... touches the Administrator-Director of Libre Parole He-glossy.
7 The General Assembly of July 17, 1893, which was called-linked to. deciding on the sincerity of the contributions assessed to a sum of 80,000 francs, appointed Mr. Wiallard Admi-Manager-Director for a period of three years with an annual salary of 4,000 francs...

Is he still in office; and, if so, has he left that position? trustworthy, for what reasons and by whom was it replaced? "4 |

This all-too-brief overview shows how difficult it is-difficult, if not completely impossible, for the shareholders of Messrs. Drumont and Gérin to know how the sums were used considerable responsibilities that they entrusted to these gentlemen,

All of this will eventually become clear; and, on that day-there, it is possible that the building constructed by the Trafi-The scales of antisemitism are finally collapsing! For the most part

A great shame on those who have done and continue to do more harming our cause is that the most violent attacks of his adversaries and the worst persecutions, of which we have been the victims resolved to risk everything and endure everything for the triumph of our ideas,

Here I must return to a sentence from the letter of the de-Announcer Devos, phrase concerning the Grand Magasins, and I repeat:

Kuenzi would like to pass an article favorable to the Department stores, and this with the aim of pleasing the Louvre and to Jaluzot for his cockade. Mr. Odelin was in charge of . you win, -

I know nothing about the role attributed to Messrs. Odelin and Kuenzi; I I don't know the latter at all; as for Mr. Odelin, I I hadn't seen him for a long time before his falling out. slowing down with Drumont, ten years ago (}).

But what I was able to observe, after having had knowledge - The significance of Drumont's spy's letter is that... Indeed, an article favorable to department stores is good passed some time after the Devos letter.

This article reminded me of the incidents that occurred produced about him.

It appeared under the signature of Mr. Demachy on February 22nd 1893, while Morès and I were in Lyon for a large, contentious conference which gave rise to ardent struggles sustained against the adversaries of Anti-Jewish sentiment and anti-Semitism.

We questioned Drumont about this article. Well done for surprising us.

To answer us, Drumont assumed his most paternal air- nel:

- Yes, Demachy asked me to reply to a letter that we had published from Mr. Le Veillé, socialist deputy From Limoges, letter published in the February 20th issue.

(4) I had the opportunity to meet Mr. Odelin: since my return from exile, and I will talk about this encounter in a later chapter.

You know, my dear friends, that Free Speech is a open forum for all and I couldn't resist Demachy, who is one of us, to give his personal opinion-nelle.

Nothing, in fact, was more natural in our eyes and we we asked Drumont to reserve a place for us as well, On behalf of the group Morès el ses Amis, a place for to give our point of view.

– But certainly, Drumont tells us, that's understood, and you will answer as you wish and when you you will want; the newspaper is at your disposal.

But, unfortunately, when it came time to pass our response, the newspaper found itself so long enc-a copy of urgent news, which takes days and Days passed without the said answer being able to be given. tight.

We had barely returned from Lyon when we were summoned to other conferences, in Paris and in the provinces, and he was not This article about department stores has been discussed further.

And now that I am better informed, I realize fully aware of the comedy played by Drumont to explain the publication of the article favorable to Department stores and... great deals,

Drumont could not consider writing the article himself, and He maneuvered with his customary skill by inserting, First, a letter from Mr. Le Veillé, a socialist member of parliament anti-Jewish ct, which was meant to provoke and explain the article Demachy, whom we fully intended to leave without replicated. Us

Hence this "opportunistic cluttering" of the newspaper by the burning current issues, which we knew so well to make people wait when there was a profitable article to Insert. o Read

I was also told that this article was favorable to Department stores were all the more necessary to certain matters, advertising and others, that I had had a very big mistake to pass, in the Free Speech of the October 2, 1892, and at the top of the newspaper, an article on the Retail employees, an article that had displeased some large employers, who kept strict rules at Drumont and his journal.

This article, about Retail Employees, was supposed to part of a series for which a top spot was to be reserved for Morès, myself and our friends.

Since then, as with the response to the Demachy article, the place was always taken despite Mores' observations and also my own, to which Drumont replied with a air bonhomme: ¡ =S

– Huh! How boring it is to only have four unfortunate pages to say what should be said. We are overwhelmed with copies, we don't know how to satisfy all our correspondents. If you Did you know, my dear friends, about the complaints I'm making? I see it every day; there are times when I am ma- I'm so tired of this, I want to make everyone laugh so much.

We pitied Drumont for not being able to give satisfaction to everyone and to receive so many claims in his daily mail.

And, naturally, we would say to him: |
– Pass our friends on! We, who can, to less, develop our ideas in our multiple conferences references. a;

What good boys we were, weren't we, Drumont?
And how you loved us in those moments!!!

In the same year, 1893, in September, the Libre Parole published a certain "shadow of articles, more violent, each more so than the last, regarding a controversial case... surrounding Jews named Schwoob and a proprietor of Circle: Bertrand.

These articles were signed either Drumont or Gaston Méry or Veraz.

Their titles were related to the texts; I He cites a few at random: The Schwoob Affair, The Game in Paris, the wary Schwoob and the honest Bertrand, Mr. Tépine and the games, etc., etc. Í to

DIRUMONT 63 ASSOCIATION

In these articles, the Schwoob Jews, accused of theft and scams, were vigorously attacked and, with them and as much as them, Mr. Bertrand.

The campaign was long and arduous, the notes succeeded—referred to the articles and the articles to the notes; when, tout Suddenly, new noises, similar to those that... rumors about Crédit Foncier spread throughout the
the world of circles and within that of politics, which penetrate and mix so readily.

We were talking about extortion, sums of money extorted from the te-financier Bertrand, and it was added that he was not the only one. threatened with revelations, more scandalous and more each one as regrettable as the next.

The October 12th issue had appeared in the Libre Word of the day, and on the front page, an article about a female equestrienne, the Baroness de Radhen, who had been involved in a tragedy some time before and which had received the visit from one of Mr. Drumont's editors on the eve of the start-to perform in public at the Folies-Bergère.

Should Drumont be suspected, not of "beating" the female equestrians, but to "hit them" as if it were a bank governor, of a dubious company or of a Club owner?

The anti-Semites would never have, at that time, stopped at such an idea, if not to qualify it as crazy and ridiculous.

However, it must be assumed that there was still something, because, on November 3rd, we learned of the dismissal sudden and unexplained dismissal of two editors of La Libre Parole, Scapegoats charged with the "sins" of Israel—

Crémieux, Drumont and Co., At least one of them did not let himself be turned away without demand compensation; and, as this was refused,
He sued La Libre Parole, which paid him immediately, and without letting the matter go to court, the compensation claimed
m.

The recalcitrant scapegoat had, it was said, announced that he would not hesitate to initiate the uninitiated into the se-

the best and most carefully hidden secrets of the house on boulevard Montmartre,

Silence fell over the proprietor Bertrand and the Libre
The words left the equestrian baroness in peace.

Some time later, another execution was carried out.
necessary, to calm new concerns and to Stop making further unpleasant noises.

The man in charge of the socialist section, let himself
to do so and was content to receive compensation himself.
The departure was too abrupt for his liking.

But Mr. Gaston Méry, who had partnered, like Drumont of the rest, in the countryside against the circles and Mr. Bertrand, celebrated the most devoted collaborator of the "Master," ready to assist him and replace him if necessary was.

It is true that, in return, Drumont replaced him, or at least the substitute, in his "functions" which have only very indirect links with journalism in general and Free Speech in particular.

Without going into the details of all sorts of matters, which were further processed by Drumont and his associates, namely:

which would lead me to elaborate on this chapter too extensive, I cannot pass over in silence the publication of the seals in Panama was suddenly halted.

La Libre Parole began, in January 1895, the publication of the documents seized from the Proper bankers, de-custodian of the papers of Baron Jacques Reinach, uncle and father-in-law of Joseph Reinach, better known as of Jewish Ball.

Various documents concerning clients and friends of the suicide victim from Nivillers, notably Messrs. François and Henri Deloncle, Arton, Barbe, Béral, Aigouin, Grodet, Guvinot, Jules Cambon, Camille Dreyfus, Gomot, Artigues, Yves Guyot and Chabert had already been reproduced when, Suddenly, Free Speech became mute, to the great to the surprise of all his readers.

MJ-B. Gérin had gone to Bruxelles, where he was located Drumont had been in trouble ever since he had taken to fleeing

DRUMONT 65 ASSOCIATION

little one, and had asked him to stop continuing the publication started to spare him, Gérin, from new charges and a new arrest, the pleagnant, who had already once made him sleep at Mazas, did not-
not the only threat.

Certainly, at that time, Drumont, who had just published his article on Odelin the Scoundrel couldn't have asked for anything better rather than being disagreeable to his partner; but he needed to contend with his bad mood, who, sacrifi-
He would not have failed to involve Drumont, and others with Jui, in his final fall.

That is why, with a heavy heart, Drumont had to to return to the reasons of MJ-B. Gérin and give him the satisfaction which he demanded and on which his transformation depended quality.

The Panama seals, including the series, were no longer discussed.
was, however, far from being exhausted.

These latest incidents occurred after the rs
Mores' violent confrontation with Drumont, which was to lead to
To begin, some time later, my personal falling out with... the Director of La Libre Parole, for reasons which I
I will discuss this further in the chapter I will dedicate to it specifically.
comment on Drumont's conduct towards Morès.

Perhaps I could say a few more words about the so-called Napoule Lands affair, which began with the Drumont, Gérin and Wiallard association; but, as It was then continued by Drumont and Devos, jaw
I will have the opportunity to come back to this later.

In January 1895, Crémieux, known as Wiallard, left decided and it became official, for the public, on February 1st 1895, following an article by Drumont in La Libre Words from that date, an article announcing that the big Devos replaced the Jew Crémieux as Administrator in name.

Here is this article, interesting from more than one point of view:

From today onwards, as is apparent from published documents by the newspaper La Loi, following the resignation of Mr. Gaston

8

66 THE TRAFFICKERS DR ANTISEMITISM

Wiallard, Mr. Charles Devos becomes the Administrator of the Free Speech.

As Mr. Wiallard leaves us, it seems to me just to note that he is leaving us in absolutely honorable. 11 It seems only right to thank him for the competition that he gave to La Libre Parole, in its early days, thanks to his con-professional births in everything related to detail newspaper organization materials.

During the stormy period when Free Speech was a target all the arrows, some of which were poisoned, Mr. Gaston Wiallard had his share of the attacks which did not... They were not spared. It was claimed that he was Jewish, that he was... Peeled Crémieux. He defended himself energetically, he brought his baptismal certificate, his First Communion certificate; He proved to me that one of his sisters was a nun in Chartres;

-he invoked the testimony of excellent priests who attested that Mr. Wiallard's daughters were devout Christians.

Admit that, under these conditions, it was very difficult to giving in to the demands of people who, obviously, were not motivated solely by the desire to be useful to our work.

After the unsuccessful and noisy attempt by Odelin to take away part of my rights, Mr. Gaston Wiallard felt the rather natural desire to go and exercise his talents as an ad-Minister, who are real, 'in less turbulent regions in less passionate circles. It's a feeling I understand.

No choice, I believe, could have been more fortunate than that by Mr. Charles Devos.

Porsonne will not be able to reproach him with the slightest fault-swaddled with non-Christian blood; he is an Anti-Semite From the very beginning. He is a friend to us all; ot, to all who Those interested in the newspaper were able to appreciate in it a dedication a ment that is matched only by an imperturbable calm amidst the storms.

With him we can wait patiently for Fon to...
Book a new assault.

Every sentence in this article should be examined, the one after the other, especially today as we con-
We are born, and Drumont and big Devos, and that we...
we saw it in action.

DRUMONT 67 ASSOCIATION

For the Jew Crémicux, known as Wiallard, one senses, beneath the flowers with which Drumont overwhelms him, the joy of finally being free of them barred; and, if his undeniable Jewish origin is not confessed, it's so as not to cause emotion, even at the hour of His departure, the anti-Jewish readers of the newspaper.

Therefore, Drumont makes a point of only calling it "Mr. Wiallard" while the first Com- certificate communion, :^ the only piece that was produced and that we vimes published, on July 1, 1892, said:

I certify that Mr. Gaston-Joseph Crémieux has done his Pro- First Communion in the Notre-Dame church of Saint-Mandé in 1860.

The name Wiallard, later adopted by Gaston-Joseph - Crémicux is not even mentioned in this certificate.

In his article, Drumont discusses the acts published by the newspaper La Loi, naming Devos as the replacement for the Jewish Cré- better.

These aspects are limited to the following publication, made in the Law of January 30, 1895:

COMPANIES

According to a deed executed before Mr. Pierard, notary in Paris, Undersigned, January 26, 1895.

Mr. Charles-Henri Devos, a man of independent means, residing in Paris, 88, rue Ramey...

Filed in the minutes of said Mr. Pierard, the extract
. of the minutes of a deliberation held on January 20, by the Council of Stakeholders of the Society of the newspaper La Libre Parole, G. Wiallard & Co., whose registered office is in Paris, 14, boulevardvard Montmartre, according to the terms of which deliberation said

The Council of Interested Parties has taken note of the resignation given by Mr. Wiallard from his duties as manager of the company eb a

Mr. Devos was appointed manager, replacing Mr. Wiallard.

Mr. Devos stated that he accepted it.

In the said deed of deposit, Mr. Devos noted that by Subsequently, the corporate name of the company in question had ceased to be: G. Wiallard & Co and had become: O, Devos & Cie.

7" 68 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

This act shows that Devos, employed for two years and a half in the administration of La Libre Parole, where he fulfilled the dual function of accountant for subscribers

ments and supervisor, on behalf of parucuner, of Drumont was described as a rentier.

He wasn't yet a rentier; but he soon would be.
– to do everything possible to become so, i.e., by serving as a docile instrument to his boss Drumont and even adding,
to the affairs conceived and conducted by him, some personal trafficking for which much less scruples rather than know-how.

I
Mores and Drumont.

After the Ducret-Norton trial. – Morès's reply to Clé `menceau. – Drumont's avarice. – At Cornelius Herz.
– His "Cornelius Insolence". – What Mores claims,
And what Drumont says. – A well-known "trick," –
Drumont's poverty. – To move the reader. –
Sending witnesses. – A missed family celebration. – Dru-© Mont discontented. – A well-deserved lesson. – I'm leaving Dru-Mount. – Drumont's Flight. – Mr. Arthur Meyer and a Article from Le Gaulois. – In Brussels. – Modified Sentiments.
– Rapprochement. – Séverine's entry into Libre Parole.
– The visit. – A difficult return. – Mores and the "Old Man"
"Wretched." – Mores's departure. – His last letters.
His heroic death. Drumont's article. The statue.
de Morès. –= Another "affair". – Drumont and the fa-A thousand Morès. – Drumont's hatred. – What he is and what that he wants to appear.

Before examining what the exploitation of Libre entailed

. Words by Drumont, having at his absolute disposal a

Administrator in the name of his choice, I believe it is useful to go back a bit and talk about the incidents that led to the separation of Morès and Drumont.

I made, incidentally, an allusion to this separation in a paragraph from the chapter preceding this one and in reserving to return to it.

Mores and Drumont disagreed; the franchise and the disinterestedness of the first swearing-in with the Yourbery and the greed of the latter.

70 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

On several occasions, conflicts nearly broke out; and one of the most serious cuts due to Drumont's attitude when Morès had the idea of creating a newspaper whose title was Deliverance.

Drumont's altitude was such that rumors spread of a rupture and that Mores, at our prayer and that of: The director of La Libre Parole, sent a note through this newspaper to deny it.

Deliverance could not be published for multiple reasons ples; and what I know today seems to demonstrate that the difficulties encountered by Morès in the implementation of cution do son projet de journal quotidien, eunt Drumont as principal author,

Fearing competition for his newspaper, which he had always-days considered a financial and commercial matter ciale, he implemented all means to hinder the | creation of Deliverance.

So, when a suspicious leaf suddenly appeared, with the title chosen by Morès, some asserted, without that we could believe them at that time, that Drumont and his associates had been the true organizers. those behind this maneuver,

To deflect, once again, the suspicions that could trigger a more thorough investigation Mores, Drumont published a note in his journal aiming at the "unfairness" of the method used against our friend at his anti-Jewish daily newspaper project.

I don't know if Morès was absolutely convinced of the in-Drumont's notoriety in this circumstance; but, at this
At that moment, he no more believed than any of us that the
The director of La Libre Parole had been involved in the affair.
to stage a false Deliverance.

The rupture, avoided at that moment, and once again, of-
was going to happen a little later and in such serious circumstances

MORES AND DRUMONT 71

conditions that made it impossible for anyone to do anything anymore
try to prevent it.

We remember what the case of the forged documents was like.
the black man Norton, a veritable trap set by Constans and Clemenceau to their opponents,

The black man's main collaborator had been one of his own.
Cesti, former agent of Constans and of Poulangism, who had managed to gain entry to Morès's house.

This individual displeased many of our friends and me;
but we were never able to get him removed.

He responded to all the indignities we inflicted upon him an obstinacy in staying close to Mores who makes us re-made it even more suspicious; and, personally, I did everything to the world, okay "with our comrades and on their prayer, to bring about his departure.

It took the Norton affair to convince Mores; and also,
a robbery of which he was the victim at the hands of Cesti, to whom he committed the imprudence of one day entrusting 25,000 francs to delivered to a third party and which did not arrive at their destination.

If we were sorry to see Morès keep Cesti
With Jui, we were even more surprised when-that Morès having chased him away, Drumont gave him a 'par-particularly kind and even entrusted him with organizing his Electoral committees during his candidacy in Amiens in August 1893.

This welcome, particularly eager from Drumont, even gave rise to the noise, which would not surprise us more so today, than Cesti could remain with _ Mores that because Drumont was deceiving his black friend on the account of the former agent of Boulangism, who was also the. sien eb was watching Morès on his behalf, as he did- knows how to monitor the drafting and administration of his diary by his two spies: Gaston Méry and the fat Devos.

Drumont had begun his political career as accomplice of Marchal de Bussÿ – Prefect's agent 580 Caussidière – it continues through the Cesti de Constans in waiting to sit down later, next to me, with the officer Charles Spiard, also known as Oswald.

R EES TRAFFICKERS PE ANFISEMITISU:

To return to the Norton case, and to the incident which provoked the break between Morès and Drumont, I must rap- – peeler that Clemenceau, having thought it necessary to take Morès to Our friend, in turn, responded to his attack with a letter. addressed to Le Figaro, one of whose editors had come to Pinter- viewer. – > `

I reproduce here the terms of this letter responding to the incident raised by Clemenceau.

Upon my release from prison, as a result of the sacrifices I had made imposed and the impossibility where I had been, during my: incarceration, to take care of my own affairs, I found myself in a very difficult situation.

In the spring of 1891, I was forced to pay, in a short within a certain timeframe, a sum of 20,000 francs; I approached a few friends; I was a loser, I found narrow doors everywhere.

Finally, I went to Mr. Andrieux's house, with whom I- I was on good terms with him, and I told him about my situation. He told me... He replied, "I'll take care of it, come back tomorrow."

The next day he told me: "Only one man in Paris will you

` will bear this money, it is Cornelius Hers; but, for those, he wants Drumont to make the request to him. » – |

I went to his house, whom I hadn't seen since for a long time.

Drumont knew the sacrifices I had made for the cause; He told me he couldn't help me, but he agreed to ren- a visit to Cornelius Herz.

A meeting was arranged to discuss the terms of the employment.

prunt, as attested by a letter from Mr. Herz's solicitor, letter which is in my possession. Oh l

A first interview took place on Avenue Henri-Martin; Messrs. Herz, Drumont, Andrieux, and I were present. The conver- The meeting between Drumont and Herz lasted more than an hour. I have not I have never felt the terrifying power of Fargent in such a way. Herz declared to Drumont that the interest on his loan was the pre- Drumont's house. JI explained his plans, his exis- tence and the obstacles he had to overcome in life. - A meeting was scheduled for a later date to conclude the process. de Paffaire, A notro second visit, Horz had changed his mind;

MORÈS AND DRUMONT l 73

He asked for Drumont's signature. I refused. Finally Cornelius Herz handed over the money to Mr. Andrieux and a loan of one it was agreed...

At the beginning of the Panama business, I was offered, on behalf of Cornelius Hors, a regu confirming the payment of my debt. I replied that I would take a receipt when I had paid and that I had no gifts to receive...

Some time later, Cornelius Herz used this method to prevent his name from being mentioned in the Libre Words, regarding English intrigues in Egypt.

I went to see Drumont and I said to him: "I don't want that This individual is blackmailing you because of me; I'm going to- "To forget a letter telling the whole story."

Drumont became angry and opposed it.

I managed to raise the necessary funds and, two Days later, I gave Mr. Andrieux 24,000 francs representing both the principal and the interest on my debt, a sum for which He gave me my receipt, the text of which I will publish: The sum was paid to Mr. Andrieux in the presence of two of my friends.

This refund had indeed been processed as stated.

Morès knows, and it was D" Paquelin and I whom he begged to bring the sum to Mr. Andrieux, to whom we hand it over to his home on Friedland Avenue.

At that time Morès did not have the 24,000 francs to res-
to titulate, and it was a friend who lent them to him; needless to say – that this friend was not Drumont who, however, at that time–

that, possessed a considerably greater fortune to the one he had already achieved in Anti-Semitism at Spring of 1891, before the visit to Cornelius Herz.

And, since Drumont and Ge.ston Méry have spoken the pre-first of a service I rendered to Mores a few months
After that, I have no reason not to talk about it here.

Morès had promised to return this sum of 24,000 francs.

'within a fairly short period which he hoped would be sufficient; but,

New difficulties having beset him, I saw him,
one day, extremely annoyed by his inability to hold his commitments.

Although he never derived any personal benefit from it nel of Anti-Semitism and not having the fortune of Dru–

74 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

Mount, I could not bear the thought that Mores was in Embarrassment over a money issue,

I used the modest credit I could muster, for him procure, at least a part of the sum which was due to him essential.

I gave him 10,000 francs that I had borrowed, to my name, with a commitment to return within a certain timeframe year at the latest.

Our friend Octave Houdaille, for his part, is gathering a certain sum, the figure of which is no longer present in my.
memory; and, with what other things Mores was able to accomplish
He was able to free himself.

Unfortunately for me, Morès was not in measure at the deadline that I had agreed to with my lender and. He died without being able to repay my advance.

This caused me a great deal of trouble and all sorts of difficulties. types to obtain delay after delay.

These delays ended up costing me, in fees and interest, higher than each other, more than double the: the borrowed sum, not to mention a thousand troubles and difficulties which caused a catastrophe that the Morès family could have prevented it without her ever having thought of it.

Much later, I received the refund-amount of this sum of 10,000 francs and regular interest-liers, through painfully paid installments; but I guarantee bear the cost of the prosecution fees and usual interest rates, which I had to pay along with the principal, at the same time while I also endured the consequences of the. It's a disaster that my loan wasn't repaid on time. agreed had caused,

I'm only talking about this because, as I said, Drumont, who left Morès to grapple with the greatest trouble without helping him, made the first one talk about it- in articles signed Méry, while looking for an opportunity. Furthermore, he is spreading his slander about me.

I will have to return to this infamy, committed by Drumont against Mores as much as against me, when I will talk about Gaston Méry in a special chapter, for

MORES AND DRUMONT 79

to say what needs to be said about him, to show what financial combinations still concealed the rumors falsehoods intended to extort large sums of money from the father-a thousand Morès, as well as harming me.

I don't believe that Morès' parents were I let it happen; but, as far as I'm concerned, I'm not involved. Not willing, and less so today than ever.

Mores's loyal declarations, responding to the attack-Clemenceau's question, who was not the borrower repaying the loan and the interest, but the servile commander The actions of the Jew Cornelius Herz deeply displeased Drumont.

They revealed, on his part, a fierce selfishness and a culpable indifference towards the most esteemed of his friends, who had collaborated, of his person and his deniers, to the Anti-Jewish work and which owed its difficulties to its participation in the political movement from which Drumont drew a growing fortune.

To try to mislead his readers about the role he had played in this affair, he published, in the Libre Parole, on August 8, 1893, an article, which was never shared with him given by person.

The memory of that article often weighed heavily on our relationships. tions with him, despite the desire we all had to to silence our resentment in the face of the adversaries of our ideas.

A letter from Mr. de Méorès.

The Marquis de Morès, implicated during the Nor- trial your tone, by Clemenceau, who reproached him for having borrowed from – the money to Cornelius Herz, & published, on this subject, in Le Figaro,
a letter that we will read later.

He felt compelled to involve my name in this debate, and I confess that

“This idea seems to me to be in rather questionable taste.

Things, as often happens in such cases, are a bit of a mess.
found in Mores's narrative.

~ In the spring of 1891, Morès had lost a rather strong

Samme at the Royal Circle; he couldn't pay, he

76 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

was going to be displayed – which, it seems, is very serious in these those places – he was talking about blowing his brains out,

He first addressed himself to Andrieux.

As a family man, Andrieux was unable to provide 20,000 francs.
which were necessary,

As for me, I couldn't do any more...

Each person organizes their life as they see fit, Morès, with the
The extravagance of a patrician, who devoured a fortune in his lifetime charming young cavalry officer.

Meanwhile, I sometimes stayed for days in-Without eating, I often didn't know where to sleep...

All that Andrieux and I could do was...
lend a few thousand-franc notes to Mores, that he would return to us said two or three days later.

It was then that a Jewish millionaire's fantasy passed in the mind of Cornelius Herz. He says to Andrieux: "I want I would be very grateful to Mr. de Morès, but I want Mr. Drumont come to my place.

- It was the counterpart to the visit of Baroness Hulot Crevel. l

I said to Mores, "I would rather be whipped than go there. I would not do that for my brother, if I had one;
But, finally, since you have dedicated yourself to the cause, I
I will dedicate myself to this too...".

I went to Cornelius's house, and I must say that he was Very well... and so am I. He had sent all the servants away.
so that I wouldn't be announced, and all the doors opened alone...

What I find extraordinary is that Morès believed.
having to pronounce my name, which Clemenceau had the good taste to not to pronounce.

In 1891, we were in the midst of the scandals; there was no question
Neither Panama nor any financial affair. The minds...

Those more prepared will recognize that I was only there to give service to a friend, to perform one of those chores such as They present themselves at every moment in Parisian life... p

By taking a tedious step at Cornelius's house to
. to get Morès out of E. I had only one desire: to be useful to .
a friend...

I only reproduced the gold PEPES ba cot
Drumont's article.

MORES AND DRUMONT | 71

When Drumont claimed that Morès had arranged his His story convinced no one; and, between his version and that of our unfortunate friend, no one hesitated and we had

It was very difficult at that time to prevent demonstrations statements that were more than just offensive to Drumont, including A number of anti-Jews were aware of the fortune already enjoyed by maple, which he had achieved through his books, and found
It was odious that he had accompanied Mores to a Jewish moneylender.
rather than advancing him the necessary sum, twentieth barely part of his "savings" in 1891.

Drumont, who always claims he will get away with it, is the most unpleasant stories by what he modestly calls
"A fine article," he thought he was writing to explain
his conduct in this matter of the loan from Cornelius.

He draws a parallel between his visit to that this one and that of Baroness Hulot at Crevel's, forgetting that if the unfortunate wife of the rather unpleasant baron
Hulot went to the financier's house to beg for his mercy and offer himself
To meet his demands, we had exhausted all resources.
and to save the one whose name she bore and whom she had the weakness of still loving.

And, when he said he had replied to Mores "that he loves-
It would be better to be whipped than to go to Cornelius's house to do...
"a humiliating visit," not only did he not say ka truth, but, by invoking these remarks, he admits that he pre-
would be whipped, even by a Jew, than to leave
the money from his safe.

This is a most repugnant admission, for among Your Jews the Furthermore, among Hebraists, one would certainly find individuals
* those who would more readily resign themselves to paying than to being
-defeated ignominiously. |

This is what earned Drumont this response, from an Anti-Jewish, who was discussing his attitude in this matter, and who he told him that, in this instance, he had shown himself to be € pias
"Jew, the last of the Jews."

Drumont has since justified this assessment of the proportions that the most prejudiced person would have could conceive. 0:

78 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

Drumont's aim, in writing his article on the incitooth provoked by Clemenceau and by the loyal response of Mores' aim was to lend credence to the legend, which he applied still currently struggling to maintain, due to its poverty and his selflessness.

Drumont, now a multi-millionaire, is amassing when an unfortunate person, overcome by adversity, is quite naive enough to go and ask for his help.

And yet, not only is he very rich, but he constantly receives two sums for his "poor" efforts to his good works," of which he keeps almost all, | not resigned to distributing a few scraps except with ` . a significant grimace of Harpagon, desperate for a gift- - to give alms,

Who hasn't seen Drumont rummaging through his pockets to donate? ner 10 continues to a poor man, saw nothing; and this spectacle has often sought the attention of the editors of La Libre Word, when the visit to the ground was announced to the Master... licitor. 2

-What else does this guy want? Ink a "weighs +. My God! How unpleasant these people are; they are irritating- They ring in my existence. One cannot be tranquilized. Finally, see if the relief fund still has any money. and give him 20 cents.

. - But, "dear Master 3, he says he has a wife and four children; and... with 20 cents!!!

- Leave me alone; I know these gail- Those guys; they always have a sick wife and a tri- pot of children: Finally, give him 40 sous, to get out of it. to barrasser.

How many times did alms, so hard to wrest from Drumont, to whom, however, it cost nothing, on the contrary, Was it not completed by Mores, by an editor, - or by one of us; and yet, it is not in our pocket, which received shipments from the concerned Anti-Jews to help alleviate misfortune and to assist victims | of our anti-Jewish struggles.

Nor should we believe a word of the facts which

MORÈS RT DRUMONT 79

Drumont speaks and that he would have supported "while Mores led the charming life of a young cavalry officer. At that time, it was Drumont who said in his articles From his books and other sources, he earned 500 francs a month. as editor at La Liberté des Percire, he read a similar amount with other collaborations.

With 1,000 francs a month you can eat all the days, and if all French people had such a budget get, they would not claim, like Drumont, to elicit pity their fellow citizens "on their unfortunate fate".

Once again, there was only the habitual "trick" there. Drumont's tuel, employed: by him every time he -a need to create in the reader an emotion capable of preventing him from reflecting and judging the Director of the Free speech and its actions to their true value.

Following Drumont's article, Morès, precisely outraged, he wanted to send two witnesses to him, and it was the excellent-slow D" Paquelin and May who were able to prevent it to provoke Drumont, who trembled at the idea of a ren-against a man whose courage he knew exceptional and vigorous.

He warmly thanked us for our intervention, which spared him a duel with an opponent so different from Arthur Meyer, the Crémieux-Foa family, the Camille Dreyfus family, or Bernard Lazarus, whom he quite willingly confronted... So!

I said that Morès never forgave Drumont his conduct towards him.

He died a heroic death, which he found in the midst of of the African desert, without ever having reconciled with the Director of La Libre Parole, despite attempts to rapprothemunt qui étaient savées à divers mises, ct despite the one I myself attempted, at the prayer of Séverine and Messrs. de Labruyère, Gaston Méry and Devos, on the eve of Drumont's return to Paris in February

February 1895.

The separation of Morès and Drumont had led to,

has

80. THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANPISEMITISM

Some time later, a falling out occurred between Drumont and me.

Here are the circumstances:

I had remained in contact with Drumont, in thought to bring about, if possible, one day, a reconciliation between two men who fought for a cause that we was common.

On December 30, 1893, I received an invitation from Drumont-tion to attend a luncheon for the night of December 31st at 1% January 1894,

We were supposed to celebrate, at midnight, the arrival of "Free Speech"
in the third year of its foundation.

But it so happened that on December 31st, having passed the - evening with Morès, as often happened to me, on-
"Since he was no longer alone, I stayed and chatted with him:"
of everything that was dear to our hearts; and it's together that we crossed the threshold of the new year."

Drumont was very displeased with my absence and she
This made him all the more furious because our Friends from La Villette,
on whose presence he relied to give his
A small evening with a democratic character and entertainment more lively, allowing the account to be "spiced up" in
They didn't publish in Libre Parole either.

Also, a few days later, when I passed by there.
In his book, Drumont greeted me with a proud face.
frognée, and an explanation followed.

ap began in a tearful tone.

I was very sorry, my dear Guérin, not to have been able to...
Join us with your friends at our small family gathering.
Sunday evening. We were counting on you and them.
and we were all surprised by your absence.
. = This absence, my dear Drumont, is well explained cable. I was planning to come to your place and pick up our Comrades from La Villette who would have accompanied me;
but I had spent the evening with Morès, our conversation
it dragged on and midnight had passed when non-bavarlet's go again without thinking about the time. When I thought of Your meeting, I thought to myself, that you were here, surrounded of all your collaborators, while Morès was alone e$

't

w

MORES AT DRUMONT gi

+

I stayed with him. Nothing could be more natural, right?

At least that's what I thought.

Ah, yes; that was indeed the case; and, lun of to find Drumont moved at the thought that the one he called just a few months earlier, "our great, our "Chivalrous, our generous and brave Mores," could to have only one friend by his side at the time of the news
year, he grimaced hatefully and replied:

– You should have chosen between Mores and me from the beginning
for a long time, and I don't excuse your absence when I
I had sent you an invitation.

"Excuse me," I said to him, "you forget that I am neither Your employee. Nor your debtor. I am one of the supporters.
the most determined of the cause you serve—Indeed, and if I have become your friend, it is because I have supposed generous feelings. I have no account to make of you I have remained neutral between you and Morès, in the hope of bringing about a day peace between you; but, from the moment you me
You are reproaching me for my affection for her.
that I am leaving. Goodbye!

And I left Drumont standing in the middle of his office.

| 'a little € amazed 2.

Gaston Méry's "dear Master" 1 later confessed to me
I was stunned by the way I had rebuffed him.

Leaving Drumont's office, I found myself, in the Waiting room, three or four friends from our group of anti-Jewish action, who had accompanied me for a meeting that was supposed to take place in the evening. I put them around the necks of reporting on the incident that had just occurred, I concluded by saying to them:

– We have nothing more to do in this house.

'All in complete agreement, we left, satisfied.'
for having taught Drumont a lesson.

Since then, none of them has agreed to return to Libreville Word, despite the urgent efforts they were the object.

82 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTI-SEMITISM

Between Morès and Drumont, the choice was easy to make.
for all and it was promptly so, as we have seen.

I was not to see Drumont again until Brussels, when he was there in voluntary exile," a consequence of his escape
on the night of July 14-15, 1894.

We know that at that time the Chamber was preparing to
to vote the law against anarchist activities which was "bå-
"Key" in "five seconds".

One of the government spies who, at that time-:
that, were the best received by Drumont and his sa-Tellites played a dirty trick on Drumont.
to believe that he would be searched and arrested once the law voted. a
That was all it took to give him a "fright".
intense and to get it out of the country.

He only took the precaution of arranging a meeting,
for the luridi, to various of his collaborators, to better to conceal his departure, and to move to Belgium, where he... was going to join them, his foreign values which constituted-kill all the huge - very huge - fortune he owes to a skillful exploitation of Anti-Semitism and its deriveted.

At the moment when his collaborators were gathered:
14, Boulevard Montmartre, awaiting the "Dear Master",
He was already comfortably settled in Brussels, hotel
Mengelle, without worrying about the friends he was leaving behind Parisians were not subject to searches either.
and to the arrests he so feared... for himself.

And, proof that no one had been notified of the leak of Drumont, it's because La Libre Parole published an article by him, on Saturday, July 14th, on the National Holiday, on Sunday an article signed Cælio.et, which appeared on Monday at a note was placed at the top of the newspaper saying:

An absence of our Director deprives us, for now, of

from today only >. of his daily article.

The next day, Drumont, still absent and for longe

MORES AND DRUMONT 83

At the time, he sent his article from Brussels, which he titled – Travel impressions, without, however, daring to admit that he was not simply on a journey, but rather on the run.

"I am going," he said, "to visit Rodenbach's Bruges and see the procession of Saint Gudule.

The visit to Bruges lasted eight months and, for a long time, the annual procession of Saint Gudule had passed, when the valiant Drumont decided to revisit his Vicux Paris.

To cover his escape, he had done, once again,

using his old "trick" of the "Beautiful Article" and he'll get away with it. It was drawn by a literary effect.

The press has given other reasons for this leak, the real ones, rather than that of a simple pleasure trip, Drumont decided to confess and declared, with his characteristic modesty well known, that he had crossed the border because "Freedom of thought was threatened in his person." and that he had safeguarded this precious "Liberty".

That's how he expressed himself in La Libre Parole, the i

July 18, 1894, while his faithful Boisandré, then 'Editorial Secretary, if my memory serves me correctly,' on this subject, administered a barrage of harsh words to Mr. Arthur Meyer and his newspaper Le Gaulois, which had taken the liberty of – to say that the "Master" wanted to get rid of 'his day-nal and that he had even tried to sell it already plu-several times and, for the last time, fifteen days ago pain, | year

At that time, people didn't like the Jew Arthur Meyer. "Arthur Left Hand," as they called him, at La Libre Words. You, Dr.

Since then, things have changed considerably and the ex- "assassin of Drumont," the "disqualified" from a duel that Drumont loved to remember. So often in the past, this became known as "good Arthur" Meyer, to whom "one would not want to be disagreeable."

w-

year an

The Director of Le Gaulois knew how to find the way to the heart.

his former adversary and the "affairs" have usefully

+

%

84 THE TRAFFICKERS DR ANTI-SMITISM

gathered those whom the "ideas" – the troublesome ideas – had separated.

In September 1894, I was summoned to Antwerp for the oil affairs that I was dealing with at the time.

In Brussels I met a friend, who was passing through this vilie, who gave me news of due ba de-
I'll see again in the afternoon.

Upon my return from Antwerp the next day, this friend re-
he spoke of Drumont and told me of the satisfaction he expressed by this means knowing me in Belgium and Apprentices that I had to go back through Brussels.

– That dear Guérin, Drumont had said, there is a good tongue-It's been a while since I've seen her. We were separated by... minor "misunderstanding"; tell him I would have the biggest one:
It was a pleasure to see him and shake his hand on this earth.
of exile. So ask him to come to lunch tomorrow with you here.

Drumont was in exile – colonially it is true, but outside of France, though – he claimed that a "sim-
"A simple misunderstanding" had separated us; I therefore had no further
no reason to refuse to see him under these conditions.

I postponed my departure for Paris until the following day and I found myself again, at the Mengelle hotel, the one I had left behind, boulevard Montmartre a few months earlier.

The interview was cordial and Drumont dissipated his anger. better the "misunderstanding", attributing it to his. nervousness, the regrettable observation he had allowed himself, concerning my relationship with Morès,

We had lunch in the company of one of the "be" of Drumont and the friend who had brought us together.

At that moment, I couldn't open up. Only eight years Later, I was to experience the eöts of hatred of Drumont against all those who hinder his actions. of money; and this during an exile—a forced one—and after two years spent in these prisons, the only threat, failed by our rulers to the Director of the Free Speech would make him flee to the ends of the earth.

I met in Paris; but although in no way

—

MORES AND DRUMONT 85

With Drumont, I avoided returning to his journal because not to encounter Mr. Papillaud there, who, during a election campaign in the Melle district, s— It was permitted to attack Mores.

I must say that this election campaign was rather... reuse for "the friend of Ministers with secret funds D. |

That's what Mr. Gaston Méry commonly called his current "dear Papillaud" who earned a jacket of the first size, the voters having again preferred a: Papillaud, who was Judaizing and anti-Jewish, is not surprising. nant. | ` |

Since then, the same Mr. Papillaud has, among other things, collected "jackets" of all sizes, and I will have an opportunity to look back on his last election campaign in the chapter I will devote to the intermediary habi— Drumont's tuel with all the ministries.

Out of consideration for our cause, I did not want to be exposed to correcting such an individual in the very offices themselves Free Speech.

Despite our separation from Drumont, we comp—

tions always in the newspaper of good and loyal friends that he
It was a pleasure to meet us.
'They regretted the incidents that had occurred as much as we did.'
. brought about a split and they hoped, as much as I did, the
to one day cease. To De

'Mores had, at that time, left Paris some time before weeks, to go to Touraine to restore his shaken health weakened by the fatigue and worries of recent years.

In the last days of January 1895, I received a visit _ from a friend, sent by Séverine and Messrs. de Labruyère, Gas-
"your Méry and Devos, this latest new administrator of
I was told about the Free Word, to ask me to pass 14, Boulevard Montmartre, where they were concerned about pro-
- Drumont's return chain. : in The amnesty, voted by the Chamber on January 28, was also -
- lementally voted by the Senate on the 31st of the same month.

This amnesty opened the borders to Rochefort, who had been banished.
-by the High Court of 1890 and the petitions of Sainte-Pélagie

+

86 THE TRAFFICKERS DR ANTISEMITISM

to Mr. Gérault-Richard, who, at that time, was neither Pen-enemy of the Anti-Jews nor that of the Director of the {transition-giant.

Rochefort's return was supposed to be triumphant, and it was justice; but Drumont's did not have the same charactertère.

So, I'm told at Séverine's, we should summon all the anti-Semites, so that the demonstration of his return make people forget the way he had left eight months earlier ravant.

At that time, and since September 16, 1894, Séverine regularly contributed to La Libre Parole and had has gained a very large influence.

I had found at her place, at the meeting that had been arranged for me given, Messrs. de Labruyère, Gaston Méry and Devos; and, these
The last two, who were bustling about as best they could for the return of the "dear Master," insisted all parties particularly so that I would take an active part in the mani-celebration much desired by Drumont's collaborators

and, above all, by this one. a yy

—. If we could persuade Mores to reconcile with Drumont on this occasion, Méry and Devos were saying, what Happiness for Anti-Semitism, and you should, my dear Guérin, to bring about this rapprochement which we would be... All so grateful. ETAE

I didn't refuse to try it, although the feelings de Morès for Drumont would not have changed any more than his opinion of him. | .

— Don't believe a word that this "old rascal" says you told, Morès had told me a few days before, and if shows such good feelings to your Regarding ours, it is that he anticipates that he will still have He needs us and our collective support. He can "de—to become useful soon.. ` k

Nevertheless, I promised to write to Mores immediately, what I did so that same day, informing him of the changes on—changes that seemed to me, coming to the Free Speech At that moment, a good omen for the future...

MORES AND DRUMON® 87

What illusions I had!
He answered me immediately, as I had asked him to.
I am reproducing his response:

I understand very well, my dear friend, the feeling that guides you in attempting this approach, especially in the circles current constants, but my opinion on Drumont has not varied; on the contrary, she has researched and strengthened her knowledge, and I Rogrette, I cannot answer your call by my return immediately in Paris, to receive Drumont there with you and our Friends. Remember what I told you in our last interviews, and remain convinced that this is not without very serious reasons that I resolved never to wear my hand in that of this "wretched old man". God grant that "you should not, in turn, have to complain about him and to . to experience the effects of his deceit and ingratitude.

Upon receiving this letter, which I was the first to regret—to ter the content, since it further accentuated the seriousness of "The separation between Morès and Drumont, I informed Séve—rine and Messrs. de Labruyère, Méry and Devos of the failure of my approach.

This communication did not seem to surprise many.
Séverine and M. de Labruyère were hit, but she continued
Messrs. Devos and Méry, who feared seeing me renounce to lend them my support for Drumont's return.

I gladly reassured them and told them of my hope to see,
A little later, Morès's state of mind changed if Drumont, for his part, acknowledged his wrongdoings towards
'the one he refused to help in a difficult circumstance'
with whom friends, less wealthy than the "dear"
"Master" – far from it – would not have left to fend for themselves. AE

When, a few days later, I saw Mores again, back
In Paris, he approved what I had done, in agreement with our Comrades and friends, the interest of the cause we served

all; but he had not changed his opinion about Drumont
and he appeared more determined than ever not to accept no rapprochement.

us

88 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

This attitude persisted until his dying day.
and I can still hear it, the day he left Paris to...
to embark for Tunisia, in March 1896, in the small.
Maxéville room, tell me while kissing me:

– Be very careful with Drumont, he loves money and honors more than his most devoted friend and more than
our ideas; be wary of him and his inner circle,

Ti had come that day to Aubervilliers, where was our oil depot to say goodbye to me; during that I had gone to his house to kiss him before his departure. We had connected by phone and had agreed to meet at 14, boulevard Montmartre;
But, since he did not want to come to La Libre Parole,
it's in a small, private room of the café
Maxéville, where we met and talked,
For the last time, alas! 5

I told him: . | – 2 Li

Why leave so quickly? Wait a few months.
Again, you will be all the better prepared; and I myself
I will be able to dedicate this time to overcoming terrifying difficulties.
wounds that are being inflicted on me right now by my fight against

The Oilmen's Coalition. Once my affairs are in order and mine safe from the troubles they want to create for them

To reach me more easily, I can accompany you. Together, especially in adventures like these, we defend ourselves better than all alone. For six years we have been fighting alongside to the wall, that we have mutually protected each other, our common enemies could not attack us traffic-terribly and always found themselves facing very attentive eyes open, two strong arms and a chest that made them Go back. Where you're going and what you want to do, It's more useful than ever. Mores agreed, but he replied:

– Yes, you're right, but I can't wait any longer. Life is impossible here, we don't fight any enemy on his own land and, with the difficulties that are in me

` created from all sides and the sorrows that afflict me, I

I can no longer be myself. I need to act with the es-

MORÈS RT DRUMONT 89

There is a space in front of me and a goal to achieve. This goal, I have... found; and, if I have decided to leave, it is because My time has come. You will always know where I am. will be; and, if you can join me later, we will continue together, there and in the same In order of ideas, this is what we started here.

I knew, better than anyone, with our devoted Cama-Gaston Dumay and Bernard Roux, what were the difficulties and sorrows that afflicted our Friend; he had often confided in us very fraternally. dence, to us who were his second family, and who did not Fai- We should not pay for his name or his fortune, but for his courage, his heart, his selflessness and his devotion to our ideas and to his friends.

We would have, and we did everything we could, to avoid him a sorrow and to try to console him from those who were caused elsewhere; and we would have sold our head set up to spare him a difficulty.

He knew it and returned the affection we all felt for him. planes for him.

I find, in the letter he wrote to me from Tunis, April 22, 1896, the same concerns and the same desire eager to get going as quickly as possible,

._- The last news I received from him reached me ___ by a dispatch from Tunis dated April 25, 1896, announcing me. a detailed letter that reached me some time later, with a delay to which my correspondence was accustomed-

m.
Ti was telling me: i

Letter partio orii: I am writing to you in detail. Future satisfaction-

| doing.
Mogres.

H finished: in May his preparations and he was barely in, it was on the road that we received the news of his assassination.

And Drumont, who could not deny the hatred and contempt that he inspired in More, whose progress he had hindered with his

2

90 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

better all projects, out of base jealousy and pride worried as much as by financial interest, wrote the June 19, 1896 in his diary:

The terrible news, which could have been doubted yesterday, is con-finalized today.

This valiant, this noble son of the human race, this being of the devotion, generosity and recklessness that was Mores, is went and got himself killed stupidly in some ambush 'of Tuareg I

I confess that I feel incapable, tonight, of speaking like... It would be appropriate for the one who has just disappeared.

Poor Mores! This cry sums up what we all feel in this newspaper, where he held such an important place, that he filled with its movement and animated for so long by life, a who was, not very turbulent, was she...

I was like a big brother to him, too sensible to be.
He listened, and it was a brother with tears in his eyes.
With sincere affection, send, on behalf of the Libyan Word,
a farewell to this friend who fell on this African soil, devoured-. ;
heroine.

Drumont's tears were never seen.
no one and they were an effect of "literature" of-intended to move the reader to the thought of the pain of the `

"The most reasonable brother" of the hero whose corpse was...
to be excellent to exploit.

So, Morès, dead, and dead heroically, did he become again
suddenly "the valiant", the "noble son" of the human race,

"the being of devotion and generosity" of which he can
It is profitable to sing praises, at the hour when it is not can no longer cast a shadow on the vanity of the "undisputed leader"
of antisemitism and its greedy exploiter.

It is true that Mores was also described as "being imprudent-
-dence" who had died "stupidly" in a African desert ambush.

If, instead of setting off on such an adventure, Mores had imitated his "very sensible older brother," and if he had done,
of Antisemitism, an enterprise with various trafficking activities:

"MORES AND DRUMONT 91

as long as they were producers of gold and blue banknotes, they would not have risked falling like a hero, after having fulfilled
of terror and respect for his one hundred assassins,

But he would have risked ending up in filth and mud.

We all understand, however great the grief may be.
caused by his death, that he preferred to fall while fighting,
facing the bright sun, instead of leading the life of penny-pincher, ready for any depravity and any ignominies, as with all betrayals, to amass

Every day more gold than the day before.

And then, if instead of dying "stupidly" at the bottom
In the desert, Mores had been killed beneath the windows of the Drumont and Co. House, which triumphantly claims for the treatment of Chartreux or the wine of Chabannes, and what extension to give to the operations of the "bou-
tick of Boulevard Montmartre » | :

Drumont, who had seen in Morès' death only the "Articles to write, with an exciting topic about an event"
which arrived just when the elements were lacking
the most, drew from Mores' death all that a man

._ skillful could make him produce. - |

He saw the good and profitable deal when, agreed '

'with our comrades from the Morès group and its friends'

following the death of its founder, it became known as Les Amis de Morès (The Friends of M

There was talk of erecting a monument in his memory.

our friend.

I had seen the various newspapers where Morès was mentioned

loyal friends and affections, to ask them to associate oneself with this idea, outside of any political affiliation.

We especially wanted a demonstration in honor of the French pioneer who set out to explore and succumbed,

like so many other daring explorers, in accomplishing-sant uhe French and civilizing mission,
The subscriptions collected for this work -depended

... to be centralized by a Committee, composed of a delegate

. of the various newspapers participating in the subscription, and the same Committee would have taken care to request and ob-

+

to hold, a location to erect the monument on one squares in Paris.

Drumont, out of pride and self-interest, did the idea failed, and several newspapers had agreed to sponsor it as we had presented it.

He asserted his right to remain in control of this Committee and he did so much and so well that he reduced it to a simple combination of his journal, setting aside the memory of Mores all the competitions that we had gathered.

A small committee was therefore formed and our soup kitchen The Friends of Mores were represented there by our Cama-Dumay and Bernard Roux, volunteering me-lying outside to retain more freedom in case it would be possible to trigger new Lise to reconstruct the original idea.

It was in an article dated July 1, 1896, that Drumont | this completely discouraged the goodwill that had demonstrated in favor of Mores; and, while covering myself there N |

of flowers, as was his custom – as he constantly did ~

"As long as I could be of use to him—he exhausted me."

– to the best of his ability, all collaborations in Angers at the Free Speech.

Mr. de Rodays, then Director of Le Figaro, and who was

au mioux avec Morès, ve

– tion to the Mores Monument Committee, despite the attacks Drumont's accusations against him and his newspaper. > . . 7

I have since learned that Drumont's anger against the: Figaro dated from the publication, by the newspaper, of the letter de Morès responding to emendou regarding the visit to Cornelius Herz.

The fundraising campaign launched by the Libre Parole de fnt, of J̄cus, hindered by Drumont and his associates, . which so as not to count among them the Jew Crémieux, said Wiallard, were more hostile than ever to men action, capable of acting outside and alongside the Free Words.

This subscription, however, reached about thirty of a thousand francs; and, at the time of designating the artist to-

MORÈS AND DRUMONT 93

charged with the execution of the monument, it happened, from On Drumont's side, a rather shady plot, which we will not - We could never clarify things, and that almost led to the resignation.

.of our Comrades Dumay and Bernard Roux. Our Cama-

There

Rades. found what was happening at that moment strange, to La Libre Parole and expressed concern about certain rather obscure maneuvers whose aim was to impose on A committee will select a project and an artist in advance.

Since then, neither our comrades Dumay and Bernard Roux, nor None of us, nor I myself, have ever seen The monument, it seems, is finished. We knew only- means that the execution, which had been carried out, did not resemble in no way related to the project touted by Drumont to impose on the selection of referees, a rather complicated project involving several subjects beside the statue itself, subjects which .

_ were, we are told, removed without consulting anyone.

Hence, naturally, a significant reduction in expenses. without, however, having learned the amount of this a unique economy is available somewhere.

What we do know, unfortunately, is that due to fault competitions we had found at the Friends of Mores and in the Parisian newspapers, the monument, even incomplete, it is still stored in some unknown place

we and that we may never see it erected at big day (l) To

– Yet we had a nationalist majority and.

anti-Jewish at the Paris City Hall, and a proposal
a place was designated to erect the statue of Mores. E ` A

If my memory serves me correctly, it was Gaston Méry who, at Drumont's request and... to his own, was designated to bring the issue before the Council. The pro-
The position was referred to the competent commission which held, in agreement with its author, a first-class funeral

class. ;

(a) In a later chapter I will explain what became of the statue of Mores, having learned it since my return from exile, and while this part of 'My book was written.'

THESE

94 TRAFFICKERS ANTISEMITISM

When we talk about the complacency shown by Gas-Your Méry let his proposal be stifled, people who claiming to be well-informed, they say that Drumont and his
The clerks are in complete agreement that it should not be Mores and his statue were never mentioned again, and they lend themselves to .
Drumont's reflection, which should come as no surprise to us:

– We have done enough for Mores; and then he would be stiff that one of the supporters of the idea I created
has a statue in Paris, although I'm not sure that later mine will be erected there!

That's classic Drumont, top-notch and all.
Man, his pride, and his Mo are summarized in these:
some words.

I said that Drumont had not seen in Morès' death, that the corpse is to be exploited and nothing else. I find proof of this self-serving calculation in a bad mood

which he demonstrated – during the transfer to Cannes of the body of Mores, whom we had taken on July 19, 1896 to Montmartre cemetery, in the middle of a considerable crowd– Rough and composed, she rushed to pay homage to hero of El Ouatia.

At that moment, we found, like Drumont, that the Our friend Morès' family could at least have advised Morès' personal friends from this transfer, which elongates– was a place of pilgrimage for us, a place of our affection The deceased was frequently visited:

But, our surprise was manifested in a less obvious way. slow – because more sincere – than that affected by Drumont, who wrote in La Libre Parole on December 22nd... bre 1896 : |

It must be acknowledged that this comes from a family that matters so many dukes, marquises and counts, the priest is 'a little.

muffle.

We, the Friends of Mores, his faithful Comrades, we we were afflicted; Drumont, who had hated Mores, as he knew that hatr who bothered him or overshadowed him, felt a violent anger at the thought that their body was being taken from him. whose tomb he periodically intended to transform on productive trestles of good and fruitful reciame. The proof of this hatred had appeared to me one day, at the the day before the last meeting we organized, Mo– He and me.

MORES AND DRUMONT | 95

We were supposed to go to Melun to talk about the case of the Jew Ephrussi who, to water the lawns of his The castle of Vaux-le-Pénil had drained all the water from the village lage and forced the inhabitants to go to the Seine, either a journey of nearly a league, to fetch water there dispensable to their consumption. | o Fountains, wash houses and watering troughs were completely at dry, but the Jew Ephrussi had the satisfaction of seeing 'its lawns will turn green and remain lush despite the dry– TOSSE. a” `

The Revolution was waged against the great lords, But their castles remain, and they are inhabited by our Jewish and Judaizing financiers, insolent and impious lords tolerables, for which the humble and the poor are not than "vague, unimportant, and consequential humanities" negligible amounts.

_ I therefore asked Drumont to send an editor to Melun for the report of this conference, which the We were told that Jew Ephrussi was going to cause trouble by his men, and especially his troop game wardens.

This threat was not carried out, because the poachers of the region, upon hearing the news that the Jew Ephrussi was to be assaulted by his staff, they rushed to the meeting and positioned themselves around the people sent by the Jewish lord of the manor who hastened to flee, without fanfare no trumpets and without trying to disturb our conference This sudden intervention by the poachers...

. amused them greatly and the inhabitants of Melun and Vaux-le-Pénil, who had come in large numbers to the meeting, did, ' to the Jew's envoys, a rather eventful exit.

_ The dispatch of a writer from La Libre Parole to Melun

a 115 DR NS 4 + + PRE CET t S
AR a H . 4 7 5

96 ` THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

This was therefore perfectly justified. Drumont shared this opinion, but He added:

– However, it is understood that–k Libre Parole does not par–

`lera pas de Morès ; elle vous appointa seul.

I did not accept this, and if the report suffers from it–tit, according to Drumont's specific orders, renew–the evening of the meeting by telephone to the secretariat In the silence of the Editorial Staff, the name of Morès was mentioned in the same liter that I have mine.

Drumont was not used to such resistance to be wishes; and, I believe that the day he had me attacked in his journal, he did it not only to enfê–expensive to harm his money combinations, but also–to satisfy the resentment he had amassed against me when I was defending Mores against him.

When he made this ridiculous objection to me, regarding the at the Melun conference, I didn't hide my approach from him. to see and there resulted, once again, a certain coldness between we, which he then tried to dispel. He did not succeed.'

that at the moment of Morès' death, when the emotion

that embraced us, that compelled us to believe in sincerity expressions of sympathy including the name of Mores
was the object,

– Since that time, I have often remembered
Mores' words, during our last interview:

– Beware of Drumont, he loves money and honors more than the most devoted of his friends; beware–
you from him and his close circle.

Mores, walking towards death, was right, and it was in prison and exile that I had to learn about Drumont, not as he presents himself to the crowd,
But as it is,

y

Mores's friends. – The Anti-Semitic League
tic. – The Greater West of France.

The "Funeral of Morès." – The Friends of La Villette. – The Farewell to Bernard Roux in his name. – The work of Morès.
– The Friends of Mores. – The Anti-Semitic League. – Lop-Drumont's position. – Ba generosity. – The league and the Free Speech. – First incidents. – The Anti-Jew. – A

: kind word. – Edifying correspondence. – The calm of .
Drumont and Drumont's conduct. – Devos. – One dishonest. – The courage of Messrs. Devos, Gaston

Éry and Papillaud. – The Great West of France. – His results and the trial of the Leagues. – Another language of Dru-

. mountain but same attitude. – His maneuvers aüpiès of the Anti-Semitic Youth. – A Visit to Olairvanzt, – Dru-

| mont coòntro Dubuc and Déroulède. – The Grenoblo trial
Drumont's indifference. – Drumont and Max Régis. –
Drumont's "generosity" is our "golem".
Violento mantfestétion Judéo-soclallste, – Une sortie mouveriontée. – «At mol, Guérint On me bat! n – L'estomnb do Drumont and his demands. – Before Fort Uhubrol.

The death of Morès deprived the Âforés group of its leader and his friends, which became, in the days following the funeral, who were present in Paris on July 19, 1806, the association Friends of Mores,

This decision was made at the same time as our: Comrades pointed us out, Bernard Roux and me, to speak in lcur name on the tomh: of ER Ami.

er sf

ee pate meate- ma nee

98 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

Bernard Roux spoke, in moving and provocative terms. made a great impression, on the origins of the affection which united Mores so intimately with our devoted Friends of La Villette.

Gentlemen and dear fellow citizens,

As a member of the Boucherie de la Villette, I come, on behalf of the Friends of La Villette, to pay a final tribute here- A tribute to the great patriot whom we all mourn.

The Friends of La Villette have contracted a relationship with Morès debt which they must pay in this tribune, the debt of affection and gratitude that he has always so generously shown them generously provided.

We will fulfill this sacred duty by remembering revealing the origins of these robust friendships, which his admirable - qualities of heart had given rise in our environment, if advanced in opinions and so deeply patriotic.

This was following an investigation conducted in Verdun, concerning meat unhealthy, delivered to the troops by certain suppliers of the army, which Morès won at La Villette, his great popularity.

We had the opportunity to discuss with Morès the important the question of the soldier's food supply, and we had pointed it out to him the lamentable acquisitions made in our market, under - Fécœurant vocable Viandes à soldats.

Our Friend, not seeking, as in all circumstances, that opportunity to be useful to one's fellow human beings and to one's country, proposed to remedy the monstrous abuse that we Jui indications.

He organized a mission to this end; and, disguised as a herdsman , wearing the traditional blouse, in the company of Guérin and... Gaston Dumay, he followed a convoy of animals, destined for Per- the way, even to the slaughterhouses. He contested the actions- denounced and condemned the guilty suppliers publicly.

This investigation resulted in Morès being sent to cor- rectional; but it also had the effect of attracting attention- government action on the actions of certain contractors, criminal acts constituting a serious danger to health public.

And, if today many cities have Bouche- military ries, where troops can resupply

+

FRIENDS OF MORES 99

Healthy meats at moderate prices, the garrisons must to the courageous campaign undertaken by Morès.

As such, Morès is entitled to the recognition of patriots; I wanted to proclaim it loudly at the moment when we exal- all his merits and virtues.

That, gentlemen, is how Mores made himself known to the people in our suburb and why the Paima people,...

So, we are all here: workers, employees, small artisans without La Villette, who were, in the militant spirit of this heroes, his friends and his comrades in arms, to salute a final- For the last time, the remains of the courageous and valiant man whose The end, though glorious, alas, too soon concludes an existence. a tence entirely devoted to the glory of the fatherland.

Honor and glory to Morès! Long live France!

= After our Comrade Bernard Roux, I took the floor

on behalf of the members of our group Morès and Friends.
I am only reproducing here a part of the speech given – on behalf of our Comrades, the one that clarified the ideas of ` Mores from the point of view of defending the interests of the tra-Vail is fighting against speculation.

Mores' task was not fruitless.

He proclaimed this indisputable truth that our rulers
They are prisoners of the big financiers.

He affirmed the need to change the processes of governance
nement, by obliging the representatives of the working people and producer to legislate in its favor, instead of serving conti-
possibly the interests of the High Bank and speculators cosmopolitan authors.

He spread, among the workers of industry and agriculture,
the idea of man's value through Credit, as well as productive force; that is to say, Independence through Work.
He knew that all the attempts, supposedly made in

The current economic order, to change the fate of the producer both the seller and the consumer, were all deceptive maneuvers.
fearful and misleading statements intended to keep the employee in serfdom, while finance grants itself monopolies of the Money and Credit, with the paid complicity of politicians
traitors to their commitments, you

100 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

He contributed, to a very large extent, to showing, under its true day, the work of hoarders and speculators.

He addressed, in the face of the populism of the countryside, this si serious question of Money and Exchange, by means of ip-which 'individuals, who have never made the slightest effort'
to extract an ear of corn from the terror, they ruin and despair of the millets.
farmers and starve or exploit all the con-summers.

He who dared to serve such ideas, and who spread them
From all sides, with such beautiful energy, it could not be useless.
and his efforts could not remain fruitless.

The economic theories defended by Mores are those which alone can liberate Labor and Workers
and rescue them from the final esclazago.

Very clear in their broad outlines, they will become little somewhat vague in the details relating to their application practice-

cation, and they will constitute financial decentralization, indispensable to the protection of the individual producer and consumer: Summoner.

Deaths was so persuasive that everyone must fulfill loyally a social function, his personal efforts the: show that he intended to make his two sons, not idlers content to live luxuriously without making the slightest effort, but engineers from Arts et Métiers, capable of making services to their country and their fellow citizens. Re

He wanted to see them, in the future, closer to the workers whom he knew and of whom he was a sincere and selfless friend. "Done, our dear Mores had devoted himself to a useful work..." People, since he wanted to wrest them from the clutches of speculators-investors and financiers.

It is again by wanting to be useful to the Workers, to the- which he dreamed of opening new markets through trade - with the center of Africa taken over by the English, which he has found a glorious death before which all respected each other leaning heavily. . | |

It is barely possible that, on one or both sides, there are discordant notes | Dantes made their voices heard.

Contempt, more than indignation and coldness, have just- the effect of these odious and very belated attacks.

We had a duty to say what Mores had been and what We have lost a courageous and useful man.

We have accomplished this first part of our task;

FRIENDS DB MORES 101

We had a second option left: to continue, without fear and without weakness, a work of deliverance begun and which has cost Life goes to the bravest, or to the best among us. The final farewell to Mores can only be a rallying cry- ly, for the fighters of tomorrow. The Friends of AMforès, faithful to their dear departed, will continue the fight with more fervor and energy than ever. The year of our people has fallen; may the blood shed be a fertile seed.

I wanted to reproduce here the words spoken on the Morès's tomb by his personal friends; those who had been, without interruption, his companions in the sea and who had supported him in all his efforts and in all their strengths as well as all their means, especially, during that, betrayed and abandoned, he needed our affections more. tions and our help.

I reproduced them because they clarify the ideas –and the social program of Morès and his Friends; resumed, after the death of Morès, by The Friends of Morès.

Also, far from separating, after the disappearance of their Chief and Friend, they huddled together, even more closely. than in the past, with the intention of continuing the work in-undertaken six years earlier and to perpetuate,' by their action, the memory of the hero alongside whom they had started. | | |

The few months that followed the El-Ouatia tragedy saw the liquidation of Panama, the Arion Affairs, and also, the unrest caused by the issue of creation toise and the Greco-Turkish war, which brought about demonstrations in support of Greece and or- rallies organized by the youth of the Latin Quarter.

The Friends of Mores did not lose sight of their camp-anti-Jewish loincloth and, at the beginning of 1897, he was judged It is useful to complement our organization by implementing- tion a project, often cherished by Morès, that of the reconstitution of the Anti-Semitic League of France, that Drumont had given up at the first sign of difficulty. and when he had to move on from literature, including more profits than risks, to the actions, which, in the con- Milking involves more risks than profits.

102 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

Once the project was finalized, I was tasked with seeing Drumont and, out of deference, to offer him the presidency honor of our new organization.

Drumont was flattered, as he is every time his the name is highlighted in a pleasant way, but it doesn't run dry not with objections of all kinds to make us renounce according to our idea, |

– You are heading towards difficulties that you cannot anticipate. "Don't you doubt it," he told me; "it's difficult, very" difficult, to constitute a Zigue comprising an orga- Complete nization. You know I tried it a while ago. Seven years and I haven't been able to succeed. You see, my dear

Guérin, the French have become too selfish and too timid and you will not be helped in your task as you hope for it with your friends and as you deserve.

Organizing requires significant resources and... You won't find them anywhere. I have experience with these things, that's why I'm speaking to you like this; I don't want I must warn you, but I don't want to discourage you.

To these objections, I naturally replied that the difficulties would find us neither surprised nor discouraged. and that the larger they are, the more they bring us— Let us laugh at the will and persistence to overcome them.

I added that, as far as resources were concerned, we were thinking well not being able to access significant sums of money, not counting 'that on our personal means and..... the contributions of our friends and supporters of our cause; but that, On the other hand, if we tried nothing, we would still obtain far fewer competitions.

Our desire was to resolutely cross the boundaries too far narrow of a vicious circle and not sticking to reasoning that could only demonstrate our powerlessness to attempt nothing and accomplish nothing. Å—

Drumont, seeing that his speeches did not convince me— were not waiting, accepted the honorary presidency, in me

FRIENDS OF MORES 4083

asking to thank our comrades for their deferential attention to the "Author" of Jewish France; and, for As a welcome gift, he gave me a contribution of... one hundred francs, while giving me his usual spiel:

— You know, my dear Guérin, that I am not rich and that I have heavy responsibilities. Later I will try to give something more to the League to help you to cover the costs.

Poor Drumont! How he deserves our pity! his misfortune!

But, if Drumont did not show generous sub— cipher, while we, infinitely less rich and not deriving no benefit from Anisemitism, we covered at two or three of the initial installation costs of the headquarters of our League, to reserve membership fees for expenses for propaganda meetings, he could, all at less, to give to our organization, for its communications cations and its meetings, a fairly large place in its

'newspaper and also dedicate a lead article to him'
Free Speech, A

He promised me all this without difficulty; but, unfortunately-Fortunately for us, the newspaper was so "perpetual-
"...compensated" that we had all the difficulties of world to obtain a poor little corner, very irregular-ment, for our opinions and for our summonses.

The first of these notices appeared on February 22, 1897, and could not to secure a small seat in the "first" class.

However, our initial note was not very clunkybrante, let us judge for ourselves: .

Anti-Semitic group in France.
Edouard Drumont, Honorary President,

Our Friends are informed that the headquarters of the Anti-Semitic League-
The French company is 7, rue Alphonse-Poitevin (rue Condor-this, 9th arrondissement). Ea

They will be welcome there and will be able to address their comments there.
communications.

104 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

Uno péritianbnce is installed every day (excluding holidays) of 8 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Please address correspondence to our friend, Jules Gué-Rin, at the League headquarters.

_ We can see that we really don't abuse the € large hospitality" that Drumont had offered me... and which we was granted with such difficulty.

At that moment we could not suppose that there was ill will; and, if we complained, it was uniprecisely against the demands of current events, but neither con-
neither Drumont nor against any of his collaborators teurs, que notis supposiohs animés à nous regard des same feelings of cordiality that we felt
for them.. | l

Even Monsieur Papillaud had ceased to be mentioned to us. pathic, since the day of Morès' death he had come to me, in the grip of an emotion that I believed to be sincere. . at that moment, to tell me what part he was taking to the grief that gripped us all so violently.

Our first attempt was relegated to "second place", but the following ones had an even more favorable fate, when they weren't simply eliminated with this perpetual reason:

– We were forced to reorganize at the last minute, and even communication remained frozen in time where Gru- His – the layout designer – forgot it. ' |

We were going to find brave Gruson; he was of course-- taken into account our cordial complaint; inais, the seéret pro- Professionally speaking, he accepted the gentle reproach that we we were doing it to him; he apologized for an omission, which he had not committed. set up by computer; and promised not to leave again . in the future our communications on marble in "rema- denying it at the last minute and in haste."

However, sometimes we found that our "good" "friends" treated us with a little too much nonchalance; while numerous other communications, absolute-

FRIENDS OF PR MORES 105

foreign to antisemitism, passing, while Ours remained "set in stone".

The reasons that were given to us at the time could not not always satisfying us and incidents occur- sistent, in my absence, following complaints motj- Comrades, charged with conveying our opinions to journal and to request its timely insertion.

I managed to calm the legitimate discontent, cau- seized by these methods, and Drumont assured me each time, that the "fâsheux misunderstanding" was still the cause of the cloud that had appeared between my Comrades and the Secretary- editorial staff.

The real causes of these silent conflicts appear more clearly today and we know that the res- Responsibility for this went back to Drumont himself, who saw with a worried eye an independent organization eb insuf- submissively docile to his will and schemes personal, Eo:

Once or twice the incidents I just mentioned, nearly led to serious complications.

The first incident occurred the day after Fins-appointment, as Editorial Secretary, of Mr. Joseph Ménard, who arrived at the newspaper with the pretensions of a great reformer, and to succeed Mr. Albert Monniot.

He had barely managed to stay in his 'post, continually grappling with the perfidy of Gaston Méry, who had long aspired to his position and never ceased to criticize, in infinitely disparaging terms giants, all the actions of his collaborators, none of whom, either in the editorial department or in administration, could not feel.

I will return to the Ménard incident when I have the opportunity to discuss it further. to compare with the attitude of this singular character, who de-: He really had to choose between his career as a lawyer and the profession of an ambitious politician, which leads him to acts of loyalty and at least questionable honor.

One time, it was during my stay in Algeria,

106 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

at the time of the Algiers election, that my comrades had a run-in with the sub-management of the newspaper Drumont.

All these troubles, and the repetition of threatening incidents to cause 'a split between the League and Drumont and his journal, led us to study the creation of a a body within our association that could allow us to to stay in touch, if not daily, at least weekly areas, with our Comrades from all over France, other-ment than through particular correspondences, cou-time and money wasters.

That is why L'Antijuif was created in August 1898.

While Drumont showed only very limited enthusiasm, when we wanted to reconstitute the Anti-Semitic League-tick, which he had let disappear, he revealed himself almost clearly hostile to our, admittedly quite modest, Anti-Jewish. ; | i

This hostility appeared so vividly in the attitude of its Administrator Devos, on the eve of the appearance of the first issue of our weekly publication, which I

It was deemed useful to ask Drumont, who was then on holiday, a a very clear question about the conduct he would reserve for himself was going to have something to do with us on this occasion.

He replied courteously, but without being able to sayfeign the displeasure this news caused him initiative.

Judge for yourselves by his lettering, which I reproduce here!

| © Lines, by Montlhéry (8.-&-0.),
August 15, 1898.

My dear Guérin,

We will gladly announce the first issue.
Anti-Jewish, with a kind word; but it seems difficult to me to do more. La Libre Parole really can't say that The only official journal of antisemitism is L'Antijuif. This
That would be an exaggeration.

Jo, I don't need to tell you, that's what concerns me.

FRIENDS OF MORES 107

Personally, I send my sincere best wishes for your happiness.

I don't quite understand the point of a new newspaper.
But I am so independent by nature that I understand very well
Your desire to have a home and to be the master of it is well understood.

Allow my old friendship one last piece of advice. Don't be
Not exclusive, too pontificating.

I am told that other Friends want to found a new League, on other grounds, and that they too have found some funds to create a newspaper.

That would make for good Leagues and not newspapers.

Let us wait for the final victory before we disunite.

Yours sincerely.
Edouard Deumont.

The kind word from La Libre Parole was only very approximately,

I] appeared in the "first" position, but concealed between two articles, without the slightest title and with infinitely less brilliance than the simple net in "one" inviting the reader to read, in the body of the newspaper, the announcement of the Treatment of the false Carthusian Dom Marie, by Mary Raynaud or the Jewish Fischer, announcements that we will find soon in many issues of La Libre Parole.

Here is this net:

(Libre Parole, August 18, 1898). – Today appears, with Mr. Jules Guérin as Director, the first issue of The Anti-Jew, which will be the bulletin of the Anti-Semitic League. We don't need to say that we wish for everything Best wishes and success to our friends.

Drumont's kindness was so evident that I was no longer, on this occasion, our friend Jules Guérin but Mr. Jules Guérin, considered and treated as a "concurrent."

And yet, I had just returned from spending, Drumont confessed, two months in Algeria where I had devoted myself, with all my

108 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

forces, with all my energy, to make the candidacy triumph—
Date of the Director of Libre Parole.

This 1898 candidacy remained the only successful one until this day, and it had no future, because Drumont He is neither a likeable candidate nor a scrupulous elected official.

Drumont's letter elicited a response from him, which I... I immediately addressed him and in which I asked him if he had meant to be funny by giving me the advice not to be "neither exclusive; nor pontificating," which, especially coming from him, was at least comical.

I asked him the same question more discreetly, during our first encounter upon his return, and he had to acknowledge that he had allowed himself a slightly inappropriate joke towards me

heavy and which I had the right to enjoy.

I also told him that no one had told him to—ordered to publish that the Anti-Jew was the only official newspaper sky of Anfisemiticism eb that if he loved his independence dance, he did not readily grant his friends the same advantage, despite what he wrote to me about it.

— As for the news he gave me about a project...

foundation of a new League and a new leaf

anti-Jewish, I confirmed to him what I had told him earlier—

Ravank, whom my comrades and I would never see

no objection to such creations, indeed

On the contrary, the more sincere and named the efforts, the more they will be.

The more satisfied we would be, the better.

Drumont praised our selflessness, which he felt so often; but he understood that his bad mood didn't help us had not escaped our notice, and we sensed his feelings—less kind words than he claimed.

This was, in fact, the case every time we talked. together, face to face; and our conversations ended always through new protestations of friendship from his part and by the confirmation, which I renewed to him, that My comrades and I considered the sacrifices to to serve our cause, but never the profits to be made from it.

That is why I am certain, even at this very moment—

I feel that Drumont would never have acted against me in this way.

FRIENDS OF MORES 109

that he did it, if he hadn't known I was exiled and in the impossible—ability to have a conversation with him at a reasonable pace that he should have acknowledged his serious wrongs and paid me to excuse him in the interest of the Cause... and in his interest as well.

From our disinterest in all of us, Drumont never doubted, and does not yet doubt at present; however—and the assistance he "brought us was always nil, when he does not want to harm our work, unless as useful, as the one he calls "his own" in all circumstances.

We had, in fact, a few weeks ago, demonstrated his goodwill towards us.

My trip to Algeria, where I was only supposed to stay.

Fifteen days had dragged on, Caï Druinont, panicked by the difficulties of an election campaign, which put him in battles with adversaries determined to use every means at their disposal against his candidacy, she pleaded every day not to give up,

"This absence had enriched neither our young League, nor On the contrary, I myself wish to declare it. here, quite categorically: the support that I granted to Drumont, for his candidacy in Algiers, as well as to the Free Speech and elsewhere, peridant toüt Île tenips that I

I collaborated alongside him in the propaganda of our ideas, was always absolutely free, and I never received any Jui, nor from his newspaper the slightest remuneration or the most low compensation.

Also, upon my return I found the League Treasury more than just dry and with fairly heavy loads to fill, following an election campaign during which Our propaganda had all the activity that our resources allowed. Even our credit allowed us to do so.

To fill the gap and continue our work, we we made new personal contributions and neas résolñmes de faites appel tous nos attis anti-Jews.

I saw Drumont, still in Paris, and he told us...

410 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

help by having our [publication/publication] included in La Libre Parole call, which I communicated to him.

He made no objections, nor did his agent Devos or Hias.

Admittedly, I didn't find them as well-disposed as we had a right to hope for it; but, with or without With enthusiasm, their participation was formally agreed upon. that we desired.

Drüdmont set off for his hedge, which had replaced, for several years, the former modest cottage in Soisy; and having been forced to take to my bed, following a bout of cold upon leaving a meeting of the Anti-Semitic youth, which was held in its basement premises in the Quartier

In Latin, I asked one of our men to take it to the Free Word the circulars, the text of which I had communicated to Drumont, so that they would be carded, as agreed.

Our comrade, unable to see Drumont absent, had to to contact its Administrator Devos; and, to our surprise was not insignificant when we learned that this one, Speaking on behalf of Drumont, he refused to honor the commitment. taken.

From my bed, I wrote a letter to Drumoni, who was carried to Linas, under the cool shade where he rested He knows of his own fatigue... and ours.

Paris, June 16, 1898.

My dear Drumont,

"Jo, I am very surprised by Devos's response regarding..." from the League's appeals insert that I showed you.

When I spoke to Devos about this encartago, he didn't I anticipate an objection from you, otherwise I will- I would not have made this new expense of 160 francs for printed materials.

I don't know what you refused to Mores and Mr. Gérin.

Mr. Gérin is a financier who may have asked you for help. a financial matter about which you wouldn't know to establish a parallel with our League.

If my comrades and I have thought of doing this The appeal is that we consider it absolutely essential for

FRIENDS OF MORES | 444

try to create the necessary resources for our organization to its existence.

You don't seem to suspect the slightest thing about what an organization costs in hardship, fatigue and money of this kind.

Currently, in terms of postage, printing, and secretarial costs... In terms of fees, rent, lighting, etc., the League costs us more: 30 francs per day, not counting the numerous other expenses what do daily trips for meetings entail? sections of Paris and the suburbs.

The last time I saw you, before being nailed in my bed, as I still am today following a cold, pinched feeling as I left a meeting, I told you what had This has been the result of our budget from March 1897 to the present.

Total receipts... 12,227 francs

Expenses CPTPPLITELT7 sossépssssontes séssoonerece . 14,761 ka

These figures include all expenses and all the recipes.

This resulted in an excess expenditure of 2,534 francs, which were covered by Bernard Roux for 300 and some cs and by me for the rest.

We are satisfied to have achieved a result, but, our personal resources do not allow us to contribute to such an extent as the creation of an organization, especially if the aid we can legitimately count on are failing us.

In addition to the sums mentioned above, I also have in mind the payment of the outstanding rent balance and various small bills, of which, the whole thing will still be worth 600 or 700 francs.

It is because of this situation that we wrote the lap- the call that I communicated to you, the result of which is to- would allow us to put the past behind us and have a future aesuré for one year.

We also hoped that the outcome of our appeal might allow us, by increasing our rent, to have a more practical location for our meetings, the one on Len- Street Tonnet being both too expensive and too small,

The solution we found is therefore the best and the practical soulo, unless you have a preferable one & indicate to us,

born

112 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

That is why, given the urgency of finding a solution, I- siste with you to obtain the requested insert.

Your refusal would force us to abandon our organization.
tion, your assistance being refused to us to carry it out.

Our friends, the League activists, who are all very devoted, would gladly put themselves on the line for you to defend, but their purse is not full enough for them to – so that they alone can bear all the costs of the battle.

If I weren't so sick, I would have come to see you, at the link to write to you; but it is impossible for me to set foot on – before the other and I am condemned to stay in bed.

I hope your refusal won't kill the Jigue and I...
I would be very grateful if you could let me know your decision. immediately, by sending a note to my address.

Yours sincerely,
Jules Guérin.

Drumont's reply reached me by the same means.
rier: i. 3

—~ June 16, 1898.
My dear Guérin,

What you are asking of me is impossible, and, upon reflection
Health, I am convinced that you will agree with me and that You will find that I am right, as happened to me before.
wind. :

Following the inserting, our Friends will send, not only – to the League, but especially to me and Devos.
However, La Libre Parole is a commercial company, having interested parties, whose accounting must be absolutely clear (D, and who cannot intervene directly or indirectly in These fundraising appeals, which always give rise to complaints...

a ps

tions.

Apart from a specific call, having a determined purpose
– as with the monument, in Mores, it is better to leave our quiet readers. They insisted a lot on me so that I can take out a subscription to cover my electricity costs tion. I didn't want to, you know, however, better than

(1) In a later chapter, I will have to talk about the "sharpness |" of 14
Drumont & Co. accounting: under

There

. LRS FRIENDS OF MORES 413

no one, what heavy burdens that would have spared me, since
Not everything is completely settled.

Allow me to tell you, my dear Guérin, that I do not
I didn't ask you to found the Anti-Semitic League. You you are too loyal not to recognize that, on the contrary, I I have raised the most serious objections to you, which I have indicated, with the greatest energy, the difficulties that may-the obstacles that the old League had encountered and the-
What wheels are you hitting today?

If you had told me about the inserting before printing
If you had called me, I would have told you: "Don't print it."

Now that that's done, have it sent to Devos Ja fac-
the smallest possible size and Devos and I will pay Personally, each of us gets half.

I'll see again if I can find some friends for you.
I'd like to help a little, but cola doesn't seem easy to me. I've learned
I was saddened to know you were suffering, but I think you You will recover soon. Take good care of yourself, though, because the
the only difference between the enchanted land we come from and
Our gloomy Paris would be enough to make anyone sick.

Yours sincerely, |
Edouard Daumonr.

I immediately forwarded this letter to deliver to get things straight and show Drumont that we are not-tions, in no way, convinced by its singular reasons
sounds, |

My dear Drumont,

Your letter has been forwarded to those of our Friends who are most actively involved in the League with me.

Despite our best efforts to be convinced by your reason—
In fact, I confess that neither we nor the others were others.

Indeed, if you and Devos receive funds for Following this appeal, the League will hand them over to us and we don't quite see what complaints would arise
then from the donors who sent their donations, in knowingly, to an organization they have learned to
. have known for fifteen months and whose actions they approve
by lending him their support.

114 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

La Libre Parole therefore has no commitment to make and a claim could only arise in cases where a
The subscriber would allocate funds for a specific purpose.
foreign to the propaganda or organization of the League.

The situation arose once, and we did what was necessary.
logically; we asked the donor to keep his offrande.

I want to believe that the impossibility of you signing me—
The agreement will cease after a further review of your part.

You tell me that you never asked me to found the League. You know very well, my dear Drumont, that there is no ja-
But you need to ask me something, because I know this useful thing. I always take it gladly, Piniinitiative and I apply myself, in order to carry out the task successfully, to vainoro both the difficulties and the ill will.

I've met with all of them over the past fifteen months, you

Don't ignore it, and I did, however, have satisfaction, thanks to the devoted friends I was able to gather and bring together, to achieve a certain result.

If, as I hope, we manage to overcome all the difficulties and to make the League a powerful organization,
I am convinced that many will claim it.
that will take the initiative.

You know that if the League hadn't existed, many things that could not have been accomplished in recent months and among other things, your return to Paris which would have given your friends, a great concern.

Without the League, it would not be possible to [address] antisemitism to assert themselves, neither in the street, nor in any meeting.

Without the Algerian anti-Jewish leagues, the movement would never have existed.
. anti-Jewish sentiment would not have spread so quickly in Algeria.

– Without the Anti-Semitic League of France, and SOS sections of Paris and the provinces, that all our efforts must be directed towards to increase in number and importance, no anti-Jewish elected official could not express his feelings, outside his office net, from his newspaper or from Parliament.

It's because I am, like everyone else, convinced
From this, I am happy to have reconstituted the League an-Semitic and that I desire, with the help of our de-dedicated Comrades, increase its power and consequently-how useful.

Yes, despite everything I tell you, and of which you in turn.

#

FRIENDS OF DR. MORÈS 4146

You will appreciate all the accuracy and the soundness of it, you persist-
If you're still considering your first decision, I suggest another average, which we only excluded from the bays, which was more expensive.

~ Instead of making an insert, which would have cost us one or only two cents, and it would have been done more quickly,
We suggest you send our calls to Devos via email.
loppes, stamped by us at 5 centimes, and on which he will only have to put the addresses of the subscribers destined-silences.

The League would naturally bear the printing costs, envelopes and stamps and she would pay, to the staff of the newspaper, which would like to do this work of providing addresses, the overtime so as not to jeopardize your daytime work naler.

In this way, Free Speech will not ultimately be committed and donors will retain complete freedom.

We will only ask that this work be done pro-gradually, so as not to cripple the League all at once by doing so.
imposing, all at once, the significant costs that this under stamped envelopes will be required.

Please excuse this long letter, necessary to explain to you...
I urgently need to explain the situation. My health continues to be compromised.

bright enough to allow me to get out of here several (ue)

One word, please, to give me your decision on the first or second of our proposals; continuing to let you know our preference for the first one, because of its economy and its speed.

Yours sincerely,
Jules GUÉRIN.

P. 8. – You are offering to reimburse us the 150 francs.
of printed materials; this is not the expense that will burden us further measure, given what we have already paid, and this remboursement would have a character that would not suit our Friends.

It was at the second proposal that Drumont and his Agent Devos gave preference. I was informed of this.
by the following word:

116 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

Tuesday,
My dear Guérin, °
Understood. Send your printed materials in envelopes and Devos will send them without the newspaper intervening.
Yours sincerely. s

We therefore prepared our envelopes by series el, in twelve times, we gave 15,000 to the big Devos.

We never received the slightest reply to these cursed-areas and we often expressed our surprise at Drumont and his agent, who merely re-
to lay eggs:

– That's curious, yet your cults are quite parties. Unless, they added, these scoundrels in the government-
They were not removed en route,

It was possible, but it wasn't true; and we ap-taken later, much later, at the same time

that all we know today, because nhóm-

The number of people who were able or dared to speak out, the real reason for this...
A silence we couldn't explain.

Here is an excerpt from a letter I received from a year-former employee of the Free Speech Administration that The meddling of Drumont and Devos was revolting and which He left the newspaper to avoid being fired.
like several of his colleagues, for having demonstrated
. too high their way of thinking on the trafficking to which They attended daily.

I quote the part of his letter concerning the circulars
of the League:

I witnessed a monstrous event. It was the circulars.
_that you had given to be mailed. -
This is the circular appealing the LAF
These circulars, delivered stamped by you, will never
They were sent and, when I left LP..., they were still buried in a cupboard in the Administration.

Thus, where only Drumont had made all the differences possible difficulties in helping the League by some means, which

e-

FRIENDS OF MORES 117

cost him neither trouble, nor a penny, nor the slightest effort.
nime responsibility; but, obliged to give us satisfaction-
faction, so as not to denounce us too openly its hostility, he was causing us considerable expense and gave the order not to send our circulars if dif-
officially accepted by him.

I had asked Devos how much circumference was needed.
culars for his subscribers and he had me reply:

- At least 15,000.

And I have known since then that Free Speech has never had more from 9,000 to 10,000 subscribers with one-year, six-month, and three-month subscriptions, and even for a month, during the sea bathing seasons.

So, this was already a way of making us spend money on pure pearls.
5,000 circulars, 5,000 envelopes and 5,000 stamps

5 cents, plus the work of folding and putting it under-develops. oo

I can therefore say that Drumont and his agent have under-treated by an absolutely odious method, 225 francs... of im-award-winning (we had 3,000 additional copies printed) comments for the 5,000 subscribers that our initial print run (at 10,000 could not have satisfied), 105 francs worth of envelopes and 750 francs worth of stamps, and this at the time when Drumont.
knew our League was poor and we ourselves were already fed up with charges.

We received no subscriptions, nor any subscribers not warned, that people "friends of Drumont," whom he promised to see in his letter dated June 16, 1898.

We can see how Drumont helped us.
and his journal, and how arduous our task was, between adversaries who did not spare our attacks
the most dangerous and violent ones, and a Honorary president who used such tactics against us perfidies.

- This did not prevent Drumont, at the slightest danger for him or his newspaper, to call us for help.

To realize the services we provide him-
tithes in exchange for his abominable methods, it suffices

4418 ANTISEMITISM TRAFFICKERS

to review the Libre Parole collection and the accounts
reports from meetings and countless demonstrations whose anti-Jewish leaguers bore the brunt of it and sup-
they bore all the dangers.

Listing them all would be impossible within the scope of this book.

Need we add that we never saw, in the ba-stations of meetings or of the street, even and especially at neither the most violent period of the Dreyfus affair, nor the large Devos, nor the precious Gaston Méry, nor even the ter-Papillaud, the slayer, descend onto the boulevard.
and block the newspaper's path to Sébastien's gangs
Faure, who, one day, we will certainly still remember, had even written to Drumont that he would come, at the head of his Friends, let's shake up La Libre Parole and... its Director.

That day, Drumont had me chased by four men—
his employees, wherever he supposed he could find me—
before the afternoon, to ask me to come, with
Our comrades, defend and protect it.

We heeded his call and Mr. Sébastien Faure
He leaves in peace those whom he so desperately wanted to disrupt.

When battles took place between anarchists of government and Dreyfusards, on the one hand, and our Cama—
On the other side of the harbor, the Mérys, the Papillauds and the Devos... readily leaned on the balcony of La Libre Parole and applauded
they were saying to the resistance we were putting up against the attacks adversaries, whom we always ended up recognizing to drive even faster than they had arrived.

While we were fighting and receiving—we were taking blows, because the Dreyfusard gangs did not let themselves be Drumont and his three don't know how to expel without a fight acolytes were careful not to come down and help us and I have seen that, since then, these individuals have continued to con—
to proceed in the same cautious manner.

And how I felt for those unfortunate volunteers!
of the freedom to have a Gaston Méry as their "leader".

It is true that the Secretary General's "good friends" are...
Free Speech members claim that these Volunteers exist

! FRIENDS OF DH MORES 119

especially in the reports of La Libre Parole, which celebrate the virtues and courage of Mr. Gaston Méry at not to worry Drumont, who finds them all of even a little exaggerated.

The sincere and the convinced, who had gone astray
In this meager cohort, they withdrew disgusted.

If Drumont thus showed his hostility towards our association and for the newspaper that we had decided to
to create, he did not hesitate, however, when events forced him to acknowledge that the Anti-Semitic League Tick rendered great services to the cause and to himself;
services that he appreciated all the more since the affair
from our circulars, we never again asked for the Drumont's competition or that of his newspaper.

It is true that our association was progressing and asserting itself master more and more each day.

At the moment of his most ardent struggle against this the organized force that is Judeo-Masonry, I believed the time has come to make our modest League the association of the Greater West of France.

And then, Drumont, who wrote to me that he hadn't de-asked to found the League, to make myself better understood to say that he would have preferred not to see her rise from the grave – where he had buried it in 1890, published, in La Libre Parole of April 12, 1899, an article from which I will extract the following passage-vani: |

If it is true that I am absorbed by my duties as a Member of Parliament. and as Director of La Libre Parole, I only took a part very limited to the logistical organization of the current League, which my friend Guérin has been tirelessly working on – It is nonetheless true that, despite his bleakness and admirable dedication, it remains true that one cannot conceive of such an association being prosecuted without me being implicated myself.

It is solely from my work, from my labors, from my thoughts, of my influence on the minds of my contemporaries, of my incessant calls to Popinion that such a League has emerged...

They were probably afraid that I would return to the courtroom carrying –I wear the apron and the cord of the Great West.

RAFIQUANTS DB ANTISEMITISM
120 THE TRAFFICKING THE ANTI-M

Seeing what's on my apron, Grand Westerner, which dates from the eighteenth century...

This is a language that is strikingly different from that of his letter of June 16, 1898, and how right I was to him _ answer :

– If, as I hope, we manage to overcome all the difficulties and to make the League an organization powerful technology, I am convinced that many will those who will claim to have initiated it.

Drumont did more than simply claim to have initiated it, who did not return, as we have seen, since he wrote that "Without him, nothing would ever have been done."

The truth is that the League was reconstituted "despite him," and that the most serious difficulties that we know-we are working, in the accomplishment of the task that we have undertaken

We were assigned, we were created by Judah and in a way particularly harmful, since they were not ,
frank and fair attacks, but also treachery and filth that only worsened as soon as Ja
The High Court would have sent me to prison and into exile for ten years. pa

On April 17, 1899, Drumont returned to the trial of Leagues and he writes: |

I sent an open letter the other day to the Minister of Justice.
seals to try to demonstrate to him what was il-
gic and tightrope-walking to pursue Guérin, like Délé- - general ford of the Anti-Semitic League, while one does not Don't continue, me, who am its Honorary President.

It is clear at present why the government
ment, according to what Drumont said in that same article
ticle, had Guérin's home searched in his absence, seizing his private correspondence and even going so far as to search it
in his mother's drawers. | | l

The Dupuys, the Lépins, the Puibarauds, and other persecutors-Cufourg and the police knew, through their circle of acquaintances
Drumont, the men of Gelui-ei against us,

FRIENDS LB MORES 421

`So they were quite happy to go to Pennuyer's house and to disturb his papers or to open his drawers and his safe, full of "good foreign... values".

In April, a few days after Drumont's articles that I just mentioned, I went to the correctional police station, as a delegate of the Anti-Semitism League, which became the Greater Western France, to clearly show that we
we were the resolute adversaries, not only of the Jewessinternational community, but also political organizations that she had domesticated and which served as her instruments docile members for the execution of his anti-French projects
French and antisocial.

Not only had we, in less than two years,
obtained results, regarding our internal organization;
The government should have been concerned about our actions.

whose influence was growing and constituted, for the financiers, the politicians, and the politicians, to their devotion. a danger so menacing that we still hold the re- 'undeniable chain of events involving requisitions and arrests, political prosecutions and convictions of all 'types and before all jurisdictions.

During the trial of the Ligtiés, I was the one condemned not benefiting from the Bérenger law, which had been applied to the representative of the Lineage of the Rights of Man and of Citizen, of Trarieux, of Pressensé and of Zola ct coti-spells, as well. that to the leaders of the French Homeland and other associations are being prosecuted.

The reason for this exception, which honored me immensely, is that my criminal record mentions an éündaiñ-nation, to eight days in prison, which had been inflicted upon me Algiers, and on the orders of Lépinés, then governor-general, for having protected Drumont against the anarchists that the Rothschild Committee, Isate Levailant and their 'Puibaraud's henchman, had sent them to Algeria under the leadership of Sébastien Faure.

But, as this condemnation enshrined the usefulness of our anti-Jewish organization and demonstrated the services

+

122 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

that she was returning to our cause, Drumont no longer hesitated to speak of the Greater West of France; and, each time, to assert itself as its founder and its primary inspiration.

This sometimes amused me; and, with our devoted Comrades, we reread Drumont's declarations and We congratulated ourselves on having... converted him to our work.

This conversion was only apparent and the articles solely intended to mislead readers into believing that the The director of La Libre Parole was the founder and the most firm support for our association.

Drumont, as always, was working to save the face; but he nonetheless continued to undermine our modest work of his best.

This is how we observed, on several occasions, a fairly clear opposition from the anti-Semitic youth, at that time led by Dubuc and Cailly, who seemed hostile to our Greater Western France, without us

we can precisely define the reasons for an attitude which surprised us and which almost led, several times, to some rather serious difficulties that I managed to prevent.

We only received it much later, at the end of 1901 and in 1902, the explanation of these facts which surprise us—were born. o

It was when the anti-Semitic youth, which had had, she also, his share of hardships in the arrests and preventive tensions of the High Court, wanted to extend its organization and trying to act on a wider scale that where his particular propaganda had been, Juega! a—then, manifested.

A conflict then erupted between Drumont and Devos. on one side and Dubuc and Cailly on the other.

We remember the letters that were published on this subject. and we learned that Drumont and Devos had been the inspirers of the opposition that the Great West of France and the Anti-Semitic League had met in 1897, 1898 and 1899 on the part of the Anti-Semitic Youth, or at least some of its leaders.

FRIENDS OF MORES 123

Dubuc publicly declared that Devos, the agent Drumont, evident, had even gone so far as to offer him his #financial aid to organize meetings against us.

While we were turning the heads of our young coreligionists—political figures of the Anti-Semitic Youth, Devos and Dru—They completed their machinations by casting doubt in the minds of the anti-Jews, that they could hope in—to influence, on Dubuc's account which they claimed in dubious relations with the police.

And when, naturally, objections were raised against them and demanded specific accusations from them, they defied milks, saying: |

— Look at our friend from Elissagaray, he knows a lot about Dubuc. |

I myself have been, on several occasions, the confidant incorrect of these tales and, having questioned d'Elissagaray, I

I was somewhat surprised to see him confirm these accusations.
stations. . -

These events were repeated at the time of the High Court.

while we waited, some at the Health Center, others... very in Luxembourg, in the two prisons reserved for accused of the grand conspiracy, the first hearing of a three-
a political bureau that was supposed to judge his opponents.
This new example demonstrates Dru-'s duplicity.
Mont and his cronies, how much their system of slander to the regard for activists was extensive and likely to be useful against whomever hindered them and could obstruct their schemes personal sounds.

Dubuc and Cailly, after having unconsciously been the instruments of these dishonest actions, in testing-
then saw the effects.

All they had to do was want to try to achieve this.
to take an initiative that could thwart the projects
Drumont and GC financiers.

And, on that subject, I still remember the last
. visit that Drumont paid me at Clairvaux, in July 1901,
a few days before my detention was converted
in exile,

124 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

My brother and Joseph Ménard were present.

During our conversation, on the different things that could interest us all, I saw everything at Drumont suddenly gets carried away about Dubuc and "his claims to represent, with its Youth, all Anti-Semilism. k

And, you should have heard Drumont say: with all his deu-nesse, to understand the expression of disdain, or even contempt, which he affected to use for
to talk about an organization, modest perhaps, but which had However, he rendered services to which he had given some-
He ordered such unspeakable acts to harm us.

I was astonished by this language, well-suited to surprise me-
Dr., and I learned then that Drumont's indignation was caused by a congress organized by Dubuc, Cailly and their friends, a congress that was to decide on the creation of a National anti-Jewish party.

– You see, my dear (Guérin, Dubuc directing the an anti-Jewish party all by itself; apple if his personality
Was that enough for the role?

I tried my best not to upset
Drumont, who came to Clairvaux to see me, but I couldn't surely not to share the violence of his unworthy-tion, which translated into rather extraordinary terms
remarks from a man who so often asserted himself
The one who is most respectful of the freedom of others!

I replied to Drumont:

– Let Dubuc do it; if he succeeds in giving to his or-organization on a larger scale than that which is worth
He thinks he's capable of creating, so much the better for our ideas;
and, if he does not succeed, our party will not be weakened,
since you, on your side, and we on the other, nous con-
will continue to make every effort for the propagande antijuive.

This attack against Dubuc and his anti-national party Jewish was followed, almost immediately, by another, a an even more violent character, against Déroulède, 'his League

FRIENDS DR. MORES 125

of the Patriots and their daily Flag, whose fall had
I give Drumont such great joy.

I will return to Drumont's attitude towards Déroulède, in a later chapter, and I will tell you about it.
the true causes, as they were explained to me by Drumont himself.

To avoid giving, in this part of my study of events of recent years on too large a scale
large, I will quickly pass over the preceding events-
They are the victims of the power grab by Waldeck and his ministry.

On May 4, 1899, Drumont published a new article on the
The Great West against the Great East, in which he di-

– knows:

This blatant and cynical violation of the principle of equality before the lay had, in effect, the consequence of erecting the

The Great West versus the Great East...

The Greater West already has, if not the formal memberships, at least the Sinoeresque encouragements at warm greetings from all citizens who are fed up with the current regime
tuel... í |

It is likely that I will never see Brisson perform
the three-point jig, but although we don't have others – as Guérin said – than two fists for to defend ourselves, we will certainly witness some appetacles
at least as interesting, although probably less so –
'happy. ; –

Drumont did indeed offer us one, that of s'as-socier, for at least the second time, in the most repugnant way police officers for insulting and slandering an outlaw, and this, in order to continue his trafficking and manipulations that My independence was a problem.

During the months of June and July we multiply propaganda meetings in preparation for the municipal elections main events the following year and we were able to have a local, infinitely larger and more convenient for our assemblies, than those we had had until then day. .

126 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

All these material and moral results were not obtained not without hardship, without numerous and significant sacrifices and without the tenacious work necessary to overcome the obstacles and triumphing over difficulties and hostilities which,
whether muted or openly manifested, came cons-
to greatly hinder our work.

One day, however, despite the precautions taken by Drumont and his agent Devos, I was informed, in a way
quite precise, maneuvers directed against our association
ciation, against our newspaper and against myself, for allow me to confess to Devos, some of whose remarks
had just been brought to my attention.

I went to the Libre Parole, at the hour when I knew
I found Drumont's agent and invited him to explain himself.
the actions attributed to him.

It will surprise no one to say that the attitude of

This individual was extremely bland and obsequious:
such that I wondered, once again, how Drumont had been able to entrust the functions of Administrator to a character so devoid of dignity and courage.

He denied the statements, which were rightly attributed to him, and made me all the protestations of friendship that could have been made to me to make people believe – at that moment – that they had made a mistake about his account.

I nevertheless informed him that already on several occasions had repeated his disparaging remarks to us and that he
it would be impossible to allow such instances to reproduce-teeth.

I left him, urging him to consider his words more carefully in the future.
and his actions, if he did not want to expose himself to being treated by not me as the administrator of a friendly newspaper, but like an unfair opponent.

He walked me back to the stairs, renewing his greetings.
his protestations of devotion and sympathy for our association and for myself, and by asserting myself, under the faith of the most solemn oaths, which we My comrades and I had no more sincere friend than him.

FRIENDS OF MORES 127

Devos therefore takes advantage, in the circumstance that I have just...
to recall, the doubt that remained in my mind about its vera-table role with regard to us; and, also, of our desire to all not to divide the anti-Jews at such a troubled time
wheat than the Dreyfus affair.

Drumont and his cronies used, to the most extreme extent abuse, of this thought that always guided us; and, they pushed things to such an extreme when they saw me in prison and in exile, that we had to unmask them and to defend ourselves against them and their dirty dealings –
a personal work, which was well worth that of Drumont claims – so modestly! – a monopoly, and the An-
the semitism that he compromises and discredits by engaging in,
under its cover, a mercantilism capable of
to make even the most Jewish of Jews blush with shame.

If the Greater West and its sections of Paris, of the Suburbs and the Province, provided services to our because of him and in the country, he was also useful to the anti-Semites

They are often targeted by the blows of the rulers, by their magistrates or their police officers.

It was not necessary, for our devoted Camarades intervened, both personally and financially. to be part of our association; and many were the anti-Jews who found help and support among us, that Drumont constantly refused them when there was no had no personal interest, either for himself or for his diary. o

And even when he was personally involved, he did not hesitate to send us the petitioners to de-__get rid of them and their demands for places, of se-courses or any kind of competitions.

Drumont had not asked me to found the League and the Greater West, but from the moment they existed, against his will and to his great inner displeasure, it was the very least they could do to get rid of him of those he called the Borers; as they served him

128 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

to defend him against Sébastien's pseudo-anarchists Faure. - :

Among these "Raseurs" were not only...
Anti-Semites, mere readers of La Libre Parole, and address themselves logically speaking to the newspaper's director that they were to live off their clientele and in which they read regularly-ment, under the signature of its Director, "that one praticked the most cordial and closest solidarity to with regard to the vanquished of life or the victims of our struggles against the power of money allied with the tyranny of the poli"ticians".

When Drumont was elected deputy for Algiers, the Algerians, summoned to Paris by the needs of their business or by the need to seek a situation they could not find
Not there, they presented themselves to their "deputy", and... they were regularly turned away.

"Another one!" said Drumont, when they passed him the name of a visitor requesting a job, a recommendation from him mandate or assistance. I've had enough of these fellows- ,

There; if we listened to them, we'd give up everything, even our shirts.
That's a real pain, they're poisoning my existence, I don't Can't have a moment's peace. Just so you know.
They're very busy, let them come back another day.

And then, after a moment of reflection, this decision,
always the same: i

– Here, give him my card with a note for Gué-Rin; with his League he will find something for them.

And, the next day, drunk that same day, according to the time when
They had been turned away in this way by Afossieu.
Deputy for Algiers, undisputed leader of Anti-Semitism, I
I received a visit from the Algerian, who explained his desires to me.
"and expressed his surprise at not having been able to even inter-
see your MP. s

We were eager to help our visitor, and the Algerians will be the first to acknowledge that they find-verent to the Anti-Jew and the Greater West of France a infinitely more cordial, and above all more useful, welcome than the one they had met at their MP's house.

FRIENDS OF DB MORES 129

And, since Drumont took it upon himself to have his Gaston Méry penholder, that we do not help our Comrades in suffering, I will limit myself to declaring, for
He who recommended us to us, in bad faith, is trying to convince him so many applicants, that the Great West, the An-Lijuif and the printing press we had founded have, nothing that for Algerians, devoted, in four years, nearly of 40,000 francs in wages, salaries, relief or donations of various kinds.

And all this, to force the voters of the Direc-
the editor of La Libre Parole, whom he dismissed most of part of the time without giving them anything other than a map
a recommendation for "that good Guérin", or a play of 20 cents or 40 cents, taken from very large sums aunts that Drumont received from his readers, for his poor.

In this regard, I will give this precise information, which
It was provided to me in Brussels by a former subscriber of Drumont.
outraged by his conduct towards me.

This friend told me that Drumont's rapacity scan-Dalí was all the more pleased because, personally, he had sent, for the aid to be distributed to the Anti-Jews in

The penalty, more than 700 francs.

Most of the 700 francs from our devoted LP's friends remained in Drumont's pocket, in company of many other donations, converted into good securities foreigners, easy to transport across the border
first alert.

I said that our competition was in the hands of the anti-Semites.
needing to be rescued or helped, and this in the
to the greatest extent that was feasible for us.

I will cite one example, because it is specific and well-known all, if not in its details, at least because of what
This was revealed publicly.

We recall that following a speech in the hall
Chaynes in Paris, Max Régis, then all-powerful voter in Algiers, was arrested and sent before the Assize Court of Isère, in Grenoble, to answer for the crime of incitement

5

130 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

the looting and pillaging of Jewish shops, during the time of disturbances in Algiers in February 1898.

When Max Régis appeared before the Isère Jury, Drumont was already a deputy for Algiers; and one could see the beginnings within him the concern caused by his popularity, still very lively, from his young friend. S

We were all very worried about Régis's dismissal

before a Court of Assizes, chosen by our adversaries, especially after one of the magistrates, who had shown himself to be... the most violent enemies of the Algerian anti-Jews, was, pre-cisément, became the head of the Grenoble Public Prosecutor's Office.
– Our concerns were shared, not only by our Friends from Algeria, but also all our Comrades from Paris and the provinces, and particularly by our members from Isère.

I informed Drumont of the news that had reached us-were coming from all sides and I was rather unpleasantly surprised struck by the calm, almost indifference, that he opposed our apprehensions. | : |
Following his custom, when he wants to get rid of a bothersome or about a matter that annoys him or may cause him trouble. to avoid sacrifices or disruptions, he began by re- to bring Régis closer to his imprudence and what he called pa- eternally – Oh, the good father! – his "regrettable "Overheating."

I pointed out to him that the time was, in any case, bad chosen to put Régis and his "embassies" on trial? elements", this trial being the work of our advers- sisters who seemed to want to take him even further that we supposed it and take advantage of the accusation of pil- age to wrest an exceptional conviction from the jury nelle. i

It was agreed that we would make every effort to To inform the Jury and allow them to assess, as It was necessary, in all fairness and accuracy, the events described as the Algerian unrest, events caused by the murder of a non-Jew by Jews, already insupport- tables for the population.

FRIENDS OF MORES 431

I suggested to Drumont, who said he had no one available to his newspaper for such a mission, of the entrust to one of our devoted Comrades.

Our faithful Dupin de Valène was chosen and he left immediately to Grenoble to see which parts were necessary for Régis's defense, search for the con- useful course material for the trial, gathering the documents from the investigation tion, transmitted from Algiers to the Grenoble Public Prosecutor's Office and cover the costs essential to a case of this gravity and of this importance.

Dupin de Valène stayed in Grenoble for quite some time; He did everything necessary to ensure the trial was ready. on Régis' side, he was on the side of our enemies; and the costs of his stay, his administrative procedures, such as the payments to the lawyer were borne by our modest cash register, as demonstrated by the receipts I possess Again.

Our Comrade's actions were all the more long as; in agreement with our members in Grenoble, All the jurors were informed of the causes of the arrest. Régis's restoration and the true origins of the events who brought him in front of them.

Drumont never offered to reimburse us.

these expenses; and, for our part, we never considered-
but to demand them from him, |

However, it might have seemed to us that the trial brought to Régis, regarding the events that had triggered the election de Drumont and had procured for him a title of deputy which he had long desired, whatever he had dared to assert-
sea, following its usual system of acting selflessness in front of the public; he could tell us
it would seem, I said, that this trial was specifically about the o-
the accused's obligation and not ours, who owed nothing to Régis nor any service or assistance whatsoever, useful to our in-particular t  r  ts, outside, naturally, of the solit-
The daring that united us with all the fighters of our cause.

Furthermore, I am not referring to this question of the fees left-

132 THE TRAPPERS OF ANTISEMITISM

ses at our expense, that to bring out the bad Drumont, by his own faith, dared to reproach us for our selfishness, he...
whose most unbridled selfishness is a rule of conduct which he never abandoned, even when it came to those whom he showers with his protestations of friendship or affection
tion.

Drumont's conduct during the R   trial
gis in Grenoble, is better explained today than it was then;
and the indifference he showed when I told him the in-peace of mind from our friends in France and Algeria and my personal fears, stemmed from his desire to see the electoral field in Algiers cleared of a fu- competitor
tur, possible, whose condemnation would have procured for him, in
In addition, excellent topics for articles and speeches, which...
are so often lacking.

Drumont merely went to Grenoble to deposit his support of R  gis; and those of our Friends who traveled,
like myself, had to bear the costs of their displacement, without Drumont having offered to take these expenses at his expense.

This led to another drain on our funds.
not wanting to deprive Max R  gis of useful testimonies,
because of witnesses who could have saved him from claws of our adversaries, were too poor to for-see at the expense of a trip, costly in time and money,

At the end of the hearing, which concluded with a verdict of acquittal, the Socialists of Grenoble, excited by the Jewish Davids, chief electors of Zevaes – one of these The Jews were expected to appear before the tribunal some time later. nal for attempted assassination – engaged against the Anti-Semites in general, and against Drumont in particular, hostile demonstrations that soon followed, thanks with the obvious complicity of Chief Superintendent Roche, to to degenerate into violence.

The protesters, numbering over a thousand, told us took them at the exit of the Palace of Justice; and, when we we entered the narrow street which leads from this monument at Place Grenette, the assaults had succeeded yielded to the cries of: Lice-beard! Lice-beard! so well that I had to, at Drumont's call, shouting: To me, Guérin, they're going to fuck me! Break the ranks of the Socialists who, in a furious scuffle, had just separated us- rer.

FRIENDS OF MORES 433

With a violent push I managed to push back the aggressions- Drumont's brothers, and I was able to entrust this one, who did not mis- not wide, to our Comrades in the city for the con- to drive, surrounded by them, to our hotel, while, alone with an Algerian, I stood up to the gang of our assailants- lants.

I had even managed to make enough space around we, Drumont acknowledges it in his article of May 20 1899, when Commissioner Roche deemed it appropriate to me seize the cane with which I had "sketched" what- useful reels.

Once Drumont was in the midst of our Comrades, and quite far away so that I could be sure he would no longer be ill- Having negotiated, I began, with my companion, a retreat in good order towards Place Grenette and through this immense quadrilateral with, as its only bearers of respect, _ our fists and our feet, which did not remain inactive as one might easily imagine.

We spent a good twenty minutes there... early warm; and, when we arrived at the hotel, without having received more than a few blows, returned with a generosity of which a few figures and a few ribs adversaries had to remember, it was not a luxury, but a necessity for me, as for my com-

Pègnon, to change clothes before thinking about us to sit down at the table.

To be a faithful historian, I must add that, if I had prayed to our comrades from our Gre- Section nobleman, to surround Drumont and escort him to the hotel, the confident in their energy as much as in their knowledge of the city, I hadn't asked Messrs. Firmin Faure and Boisandré sought protection for themselves, these young men and valiant! ! by the escort given to their colleague and Direc- They could be useful in protecting his retirement in my company and that of the courageous Algerian who remained so- Ide at my post.

134 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

Messrs. Firmin Faure and Boisandré disappeared with a a speed that reflects more on their prudence than on their courage, and that didn't surprise me much then... and. It surprises me even less today.

I found them at the table, completely unconcerned with to know if I had been able to get through the ranks of our attackers and quite impatient to see the soup arrive that Drumont He served us without even waiting for us.

And, as I was getting dressed again in my room, after salutary ablutions, I saw Drumont arrive there, no doubt a little ashamed of not having waited for those who had covered his hasty retreat, to begin dinner. Drumont said to me, with a half-satisfied air:

- What are you doing, Guérin? But here's a quarter It's been a while since we've been at the table. Your soup... wait.

"That's very kind of him," I replied, "but..."

Since I was even hotter than him, you see, I fix the mess in my bathroom, which is a bit disturbed through the small exercise I have just undertaken for to ensure you have a less unpleasant exit than the one that had been prepared for you by the Judeo-Socialists of Grenoble. I'll be just a minute longer; but that's all. don't deprive yourself of dinner and since you have com- Started without us, do like the black man: Carry on!

Drumont understood the little lesson I gave him; he-apologized, citing the emotion that had "misled Pap-

"Little one," he said, and returned to his asparagus, which was threatening to cool down. . |

I must say that I have rarely seen a more...
Drumont, a slave to his stomach. Eating and drinking
For him, these are essential functions of existence; and Nothing could make him delay his mealtime, nor

FRIENDS OF MORES 139

to make him forgive whoever would prevent him from eating his strawberries or asparagus, or to have one's coffee and pe-small glasses in complete tranquility.

Against the wretched culprit of such a crime, he would capable of writing a "good article", or even a book...,
provided that it was a profitable sale.

On May 23, 1899, in response to the pro-Dreyfus newspapers who joked with him about the "fright" that had caused him
the conduct of Grenoble that the Judeo-Socialists boasted of having inflicted on us, 2,000 against a group of witnesses ill-prepared for such a savage event
following the attack, Drumont published a third article on these incidents, and he titled it A Concise Account of This which happened in Grenoble.

I read this passage there, by which Drumont wanted to repair
his indiscretion towards me:

As for Guérin, he had the imperturbable calm that Never give up. He had come home feeling hot and had pro-taking advantage of the situation to perform ablutions and to rub with cologne, which is very hygienic when We're sweating. I believe, moreover, that to take him down, -
We would need to get together with a few of us.

That is why, in the hope of forcing me into exile,
as he had already tried while I was in prison,
Drumont has joined forces against me with the Mérys and the Devos,
the Syveton, including Agent Oswald in his team who, on this occasion, so aptly recalled the Marshal of Bussy, - agent 580 of Prefect Caussidière, - of the time of the Empire. . |

'Max Régis acquitted, we resumed with renewed vigor'
and activity that our propaganda and we par-vinmes, with the help of our Comrades, to organize what was to be, a few weeks later, under the name Fort Chabrol, the center of resistance to arbitrary rule governmental; and where we were happy to show this that the energy of a handful of determined men. can

136 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

to accomplish, even in the presence of the public forces deployed in the service of Judeo-Masonry, which has been corrupted for too long For a long time, in our unfortunate country, we have seen everything give way before her, it was to be committed, with impunity and without protest. other forms of expression besides spoken or written literature, the the worst abuses of power and the most odious persecutions.

VI

The "Fort Chabrol".

The Judeo-Masonic coalition. – The divisions of Popposi-tion. – An anti-Jewish organization. – Concerns of Governments. – For the Fatherland through Labor. – Victims powerless. – Israel in our country and the Anti-Jew. – Under the stamped paper. – A new ministry. – A warning.
– Waldeck, Millerand, and Cis's power grab.
Mass arrests – Our comrades imprisoned.
– The police are looking for me. – Lépine's henchmen
'and of Puibaraud, – In the Great West of France, – On will resist. – Service of the arrest warrant. – The Fort Chabrol. – The blockade. – Through hunger and thirst. – Embarrassed ministers. – An unforeseen case. – Our approaches
viewings. – Various interventions. – The deputies na-Nationalists and anti-Semites. – Our ultimatum. – The Pond
To the Frogs. – Our Good Friends. – The Lasies Incident, Ménard and Papillaud. – Our valiant President dhon-neur. – His residences respected. – A search is being conducted... at his home.
his secretary. – Drumont decides to leave his holiday home-
ture. – Gaston Méry and the Master, or the Bear's Paving Stone. –
The negotiators fail. – Waldeck's duplicity and of his friends. – Innocents of the siege. – Three individuals gupects. – Puibaraud's men. – Six weeks of Blockade. – Our "witness" Millevoye. – The Government
capitulates. – All our comrades released.

During the ten years I spent there, from 1887 to 1897,
to combat the forces, so well and so powerfully organized

I had observed, from the effects of financial speculation, that

138 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

On all sides, the sterility of the efforts attempted to overcome the Judeo-Masonic coalition; both on the side of the Conservatives and Revolutionaries, rather than that of the Catholics and Freethinkers subservient to people from the upper echelons of banking and the unions of hoarders ment, such as the one created by the Petrolers.

All these opposition troops were constantly divided by internal squabbles or by so-

` of particular interests; and these remained incapable to form an association, or even a federation, capable, through the combined efforts of everyone, of to create a movement of opinion useful in the defense of -common interests and ideas, social and national, which formed the basis of the demands of both sides others,

Mores and I, both independent from the point of view political, and deeply respectful of all religious beliefs, we were able to converse and discuss- to interact with the leaders of the various organizations mo- ` anarchists and republicans, Catholics and free thinkers excuses, as well as we, opponents of international finance-

national. | |

"We had found, on the side of the troops, if not on the side

pe

some of them - or at least some of them - a quasi vnaniuké: to approve our national campaign- nale el sociale conire la.Juiveric.et. ses satellites, qu'elle can make it act as it pleases, while remaining skillful and prudent. demented behind the scenes. - + "+4 ©. :%

The result of our personal action, in the different- rents milieus, was evident in the composition of our The first group, Morès and his Friends, which included Libertarians and authoritarians, believers and atheists, but all closely united and in agreement against the enemies Ministry of Labor and Fatherland,

When I revived, with our Comrades, the pre-

the first anti-Semitic league, so thoroughly buried by Drumont
– we now know why – the same elements
They found us and we saw the number of our supporters

THE "€ FORT CHABROL" 139

increasing to the point of seriously worrying the Jewish community
Our leaders. : | |

I need only cite as proof the statement made by the Prefect Lépine, before the High Court, when he said, by-member of the various opposition leagues – I quote this part of his deposition verbatim:

The anti-Semitic party had also created its sections and its Subsections and its League were more strongly constituted and more disciplined than the other two (League of Patriots and Royalist Committee). The practical sense of its General Delegate,
Mr. Jules Guérin had turned it into a perfect war machine.

tion with which the police had to reckon,

Indeed, we had seen all the elements coming towards us.
the most active and energetic of the entire opposition
And that was, as it still is, proof that one could
– as one can always – create a force then-health of anti-Jewish and anti-government opposition, to the condition of contributing to a work of this importance and of this utility a "practical sense", resulting from observation
a review of the facts and lessons of the past, ancient or recent,
too often neglected; and also – it must not be forgotten –
blier – a daily dedication, seconded by a spirit of sacrifice pushed to its most extremes limites.

We had therefore demonstrated the possibility of uniting French people, without distinction of opinions and beliefs and of
to make our motto "France for the French" a reality.
in the little France that was, and will still be tomorrow of effectively, our association of the Greater West of France.

We had established the strongest solidarity among ourselves
close, we were also devoted to one another than to the ideas that had brought us together and which are synthesized-
They knew in these two words: Peerage, Work.

We are, in fact, all Patriots and Tra:

valiant men, united to defend their right to exist at home, in their homeland, and to fight, consequently—cosmopolitan speculators, allied with politicians ambitious and unscrupulous leaders, who became all-powerful in France solely through the power of gold amassed by plundering savings, by cynically exploiting producers and by then imposing on all consumers, for the products that are essential to them, the lowest prices high, decreed by coalition unions, creating, at their discretion, taxes that exceed, in proportions appalling actions, those that our legislators, too docile—ticked, vote in our assemblies, |

During our uninterrupted struggles, for ten years, we had also been able to observe that, if our successive rulers, all equally devoted to the . current financial powers, imposed arrest—searches and operations, and this under the most fanciful ideas that they imagined or had invented by the individuals in their pay, the police officers, responsible for executing to carry out their orders, brought, too often, into the accom—complicating their vexatious missions, an insolence and brutality perfectly suited to exasperate the victims these actions.

I must say that, like Mores, I never let myself—but mistreated by magistrates or men of politics which were so often tasked with arresting us, of to judge us or to conduct visits to our home, as early as possible, and unpleasant to receive.

But not all our comrades and friends could always, as energetically as they would have liked, to defend against the abuses they suffered, with accompanying violence and vulgarities which They found themselves defenseless, because they were surprised and ill-prepared. to these odious displays of boorishness by some police officers from the Clément and Puibaraud schools.

From 1889 to 1899, that is to say for eleven years, we we undoubtedly held the record, a rather unenviable one, arrests and searches, as well as that appearances before all courts of all jurisdictions. .

For my part personally, I believe I can say that no one had any more lawsuits to defend, since the simple police up to the Assize Court, which twice had to judge me—to ger... and to acquit myself, by going through the courts here—vile, commercial and correctional police, before the—which I had to thwart the countless traps, the most cleverly arranged, qwon could stretch under the steps of a man whose only crime—but how ef-terrifying! – it had been not to bow before the all-power of the Rothschilds, the Deutschs and other great holders of millions, as numerous as they are ill-gotten.

From 1897 to 1899 alone I received over 1,200 assignations – you read that right, 1,200 – and the stamped paper of the Jews and Judaizers, for whom our organ the An-The Jew was as severe as he was just, it happened to me—core, in such quantity, even in my cell, in Clairvaux, that the Director of the prison, Mr. Souriaux, by the hands of those who passed everything that was meant for me, with and including my correspondence and that of my family and my friends, he confessed to me that he had never seen so many pa-bailiffs and solicitors.

One day, all at once, I received a bundle of them which weighed over 15 kilos, which the shippers claimed from me—although imprisoned for ten years, the trifle hundreds of thousands of francs in damages and interest loans, for the sole reason that the Anfijuif had put their names in a list entitled Zsrael in our country and giving a sort of census, very incomplete, alas! of all the sons of Israel encamped in France, as in other countries who, to the point that they imprison or outlaw those who displeases or inconveniences their businesses.

This shipment of stamped paper, which so greatly astonished the Director of Clairvaux prison, and had him tell me:

– But what could they possibly want from you?
core all these people, since you are my pension-

142 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

"A ten-year commitment!" – prompted me to send the aforementioned letter further on to the President of the Civil Court of the Seine, of-vanti who the authors of the summonses, received in rs masses, they called me.

I quote here the article from La Libre Parole of May 12, 1900, reproducing my letter, in order to clearly show the bad Drumont's faith, manifesting itself in all circumstances, since in the articles he published against me, in his diary, under the pseudonym Gaston Méry, he dared to say that at the "Anti-Jewish" they only went to the Jews for the gallery.

If we hadn't attacked them for the sake of appearances, How much stamped paper would they have given me? sent and what punishment they would have had me condemned to by their High Court, where Prosecutor Bernard asked, if- No, not my head, but at least forced labor in Porpé- tuity.

It is true that the sentence to the so-called capital punishment. tale – which he dared not demand – the senators Gèrente – He never forgave me for having gotten Drumont elected. against his will and against his party in 1898 in Algiers, – and Vuillod, the former human cannonball of the Folies-Bergères, of- Having come to be a legislator under our fine regime, they voted for it without... enthusiasm.

Here is the letter and the article from La Libre Parole:

Jules Guérin against the Jews.

The Jews continue to harass our friend Jules Guérin, until- that in his cell at Clairvaux and to put him on trial for pro- these, while Waldeck-Millierand and C'e isolate, more and more plus the prisoner of the Jews to make it impossible for him to defend oneself (1).

Here is the letter that our friend addressed to the President of the Civil court, before which these Jews sued him:

{i} Ge which proves it well; isn't it, Drumbnt? that I agreed with them,

THE "€ FORT CHABROL D 448

Clairvaux, May 6, 1900.

"Mr. President of the First Chamber of the Tri-

Civil registry of the Seine,

"I am being served with 38 summonses to appear in court this evening, 9th current, before your Court.

These 38 summonses are addressed to me by 38 sons of Israel and through my friend Dupin de Valène, my tutor secular and compulsory.

"These 38 Semites are not yet satisfied with seeing me" to carry out the sentence to which the traitor Dreyfus was condemned, that is, ten years of detention; they believe they should add to that... fees and interest amounting to 117,000 francs, plus 760 insertions in newspapers of their choice.

"That might be excessive."

"I don't know what you will do with these requests; I am unaware"

if you grant them the 117,000 francs they are demanding from me, that the Anti-Jewish Party published names on its lists of initiators Israel is tuled in our country.

"I cannot say, either, whether you will grant them the

760 insertions that these Jews desire and I cannot fix the Total amount:

"If you grant them and if you adopt the tariff of President Mariage, that will cost me 760,100 francs...

"If you apply the Labori tariff, it will only be 152,000 francs.

"Finally, if you decide to apply the "6 louis" tariff – an essentially Jewish saint – I will get 76,000 francs. relief.

"In short, if you add this to my ten years of detention, What are these 88 Jews named: Cahen, XLäiberrmann, demanding from me? Strauss, Maro Bloch, Lang, Samuel, Gerschel, Klotz, Weiller, Mantoux and Rottembourg, Rothschild fils, Sylvain fils, Daniel Lévy, Weil, Meyer, Cohen, Paquin, Oscar Cahen, Bloch, E. & K. Bloch, E. Cohen, Rosemberg, Moïse Lang, Blum, Wor-thoïmer, Nathan Lévy, Bernheim, H. Lévy, Cahen, Benjamin, Achille Lévy, Weil Léon, Lang, Risser, Picart, Alphan, Paul Weil, Israel, Corfu Town Bloch, I am exposed to having to lour pay 189,000 francs, 269,000 or 887,000 francs.

"If I lack precise information regarding the amount that your Tribunal fixed, in case he admitted one which—conch shell, there is one thing I know, that I was incapable—able to pay it, even the smallest amount.

144 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

"Here, the prisoners' profits are rather meager; and," even assuming I am given a job as a worker at the entrepreneur, the Jew Berl, who occupies the prisoners of Clairworth, at most, if, working 1/2 hours of
At 7:30 in the morning, I could earn 1.50 francs, at to manufacture military or civilian beds.

"And, even then, I would have to at least abandon the 5/10ths to the State; which would leave me, at most, 75 cents per day; that is, at nearly 19 to 20 francs per month.

"To pay off my debt, I would therefore have to work, for the Jewish Berl, for 787, 1,125 or 4,185 years.

"That would truly be, you will readily agree, a aggravated sentence.

"I don't know how long I will remain a prisoner here; the notices are quite different on this point, depending on whether one consults the desires of the Jews or those of the French; but I doubt that I may live there until the year 2687, for the sole purpose of reaching—leaving the minimum of the sentences requested by the 88 Jews who are calling me to your bar.

"If I could solve, in this way, the serious problem Regarding the prolongation of human existence, I would have more advantage in conceding the applications, which would bring me profit more than working for 75 cents a day, for Te Juif Berl, from sunrise to sunset.

"That's a price that cannot be considered by His Excellence citizen Millerand, as likely to raise the wages of free workers in the iron industry, in which the Jew Berl, thanks to him, must occupy a position at least privileged.

"Having thus outlined the concerns that these de—The commands of the 38 Jews have given rise in my mind, I must I would add that the regime imposed on me here, as well as on my friends who can collaborate in compiling the files of countless lawsuits brought against me by the Jews, considerable embarrassment This completely undermines my defense and makes it impossible.

"Unable to bring myself to request the slightest modification-tion to this special regime, having the custom of undergoing without me to lament all the consequences of the struggle I have undertaken
For the triumph of my ideas, I had to, however, you to explain the above, pending the decisions that you believe you must p

"Jules GUÉRIN."

THE "FORT CHABROL" 145

And La Libre Parole added:

As we can see, our friend doesn't let himself get depressed.
by the isolation regime to which it is subjected; and its energy Morality resists the suppression of all forms of activity.
to which he was accustomed and which are essential to his health.

Note that at the time when the Jews were crowding my cell-stamped paper roll, I had not yet been able to obtain the vi-
my lawyer's website and that I was summoned on the 6th for the 9th.

Despite these countless lawsuits, more numerous unknowns
testably that those who were made at the Free Word
And in Drumont, for fifteen years, we know what this one dared to publish against me and against the Anti-Jew, who did not never any business, neither with the Jews, nor with anyone else either.

To:

To all the jurisdictions before which I had been assigned until that day, only one was missing
only: the High Court.

Our leaders needed to fill this gap and,
after having charged the pro- magistrates with our execution.
yielding on their behalf against their political opponents
Therefore, the Jewish politicians decided, in 1899, to imitate the method advocated by the famous photographer
Pierre Petit, by "operating themselves".

This is the project, designed by the Waldeck ministry; Mille-
Rand, Galliffet and Co., which earned the opposition, represented in this instance by those of its members deemed more energetic, the power grab of the night of the 11th to August 12, 1899.

That evening, after two lectures given to our Cama- I had gone to the harbors of two arrondissements of Paris. at La Libre Parole, where several friends were to join me after the meetings.

I had left the newspaper office around two in the morning, in the company of my brother and some friends to return at my place.

146 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

At the door of the building on Boulevard Montmartre, I I was approached by an individual who simply said to me, handing in a letter:

– A word for you, Mr. Guérin.

I thought it was some kind of plea for help or place, as was addressed to me daily; and, without extreme surprise, because at that moment one could al- I tend to be open to everything, especially the worst-case scenarios, I read, on a small square of paper contained in the envelope that I had just opened:

There will be arrests and searches tonight; take your precautions.
An anti-Semitic friend.

Already, several times, since we began The battle, reports had thus reached us in Mores, as to myself and to Drumont, who made more use of them usefully than us, for his peace of mind and his interests.

Without attaching too much importance to the opinion which had just reached me in this way and so as not to worry inu- I was furious with my brother and family, I pretended to be working urgent to finish before going to bed and the necessity to be on rue de Chabrol first thing in the morning, for to take my dear Louis back to our mother's and return then at the headquarters of the Great West, where there were also- the offices of my newspaper.

I couldn't have imagined that the police would commit lim- stupidity, not to say infamy, of going to conduct a search to be at my mother's house, where, naturally, I would have been happy ...taken care not to leave any incriminating papers lying around, mainly because of his already worrying state of health at that time.

I received my mail in the evening; and, at all By chance, I lay down, fully clothed, on a bed, recommending- dant to the comrade on guard duty that night in the building, not to open the door to anyone without first warning me.

Around five o'clock in the morning, I was pulled from my half-

THE "FORT OHABROL" 147

I fell asleep at the sound of the front door bell and found myself in the presence of my brother who told me:

– We came to search the house and we search. to arrest you under an arrest warrant from Police Prefect.

"And what about Mother?" I asked him, worried.

She knew nothing, she was asleep, and the commissioner of The police and their agents behaved appropriately.

Reassured about my mother, that a violent emotion could kill, and that I never saw again and never will again – if Drumont and his gang knew what I think of their conduct and their slander by writing these words which make me relive the cruellest hours of my life – of prisoner and outlaw | – I thought about the conduct to maintain towards the police in case they appear Chabrol Street.

At that moment, I still believed I was the only one being targeted and I was unaware than other Frenchmen and so many Comrades of the "The Great Accident of France was also threatened and arrested.

I had barely exchanged a few words with my brother. pressures on the night's events that, again, The entrance bell announced the arrival of other visitors.

It wasn't the police, make friends, who, of all On the sides, they rushed to inform us of the arrests. which had taken place all over the night.

It is through these early visitors that we We learned of the arrest of our friends and comrades: Gas-

Your Dumay, Sarrazin, Violet and her brother – the latter had never been part of our association nor involved from however far away it may have been, to our political and social struggles.

In this frenzy of arrests, they went so far as to imprisoning a 14-year-old boy at the same time as his three older brothers, all modest and hardworking laborers, as with all our other Comrades.

The Empire, so decried by our Republicans, had never Nothing could be more brutal or arbitrary.

When I only had to consider that there was a threat of lar-

148 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

given the restation I was subjected to, I might hesitate to act on it. resistance and to entail, in my legitimate protest, our comrades, whom I knew were determined to stand together, with me, as in all circumstances I was alone—to deal with them.

But, from the moment the arrest warrant was issued against I was just one example in a series, of which ours were, In excessive numbers, they were also victims, my A decision was made immediately; and, since I found myself—I was going to be able to resist, I decided to do it with all my might. my energy and with all the composure I was capable of—ble, in order to conquer, at least, the freedom of my Cama—stopped rades, willingly sacrificing mine and davan—tage if necessary.

I asked some comrades to keep watch around the outskirts of our head office and to inspect the surrounding area, pen—while, for my part, I was doing, from the top of our rooftops, the tour of our house to realize what was happening within the radius that my gaze could encompass—ser. >

Our scouts informed me of the presence of many in—individuals, with a police-like appearance, prowling around the islet of im—furniture encompassing what was to be called, some Hours later, Fort Chabrol.

I had personally observed that two groups of The same people were standing near our door that they were framing; and, on the opposite sidewalk, watching with sustained attention. The entrances and exits, an au—three groups ready, no doubt, to apprehend me at the pre—First opportunity.

These sentries of Puibaraud and Lépine were for their surveillance costs; and, leaving them to their in- During this mission, I took charge of organizing the resistance. the rebuke that I had resolved to oppose to the coup d'état of Waldeck ministry.

While this power grab surprised us, regarding the necess- material consequences resulting from the act to be performed, moral consequences – how he found us ready for the worst eventualities.

THE "FORT CHABROL" 149

As soon as my determination became known to our Cama- They came in droves to offer me their help, and I had It was incredibly difficult to make them understand that, The fewer of us there are inside, the more we would easily bear the consequences of an assault, or of a blockade which I did not believe in at that time, at- tending more towards a violent attempt.

Furthermore, I considered that our Comrades were... would be very useful outdoors, to take, if necessary, the police forces between two vigorous actions, one one coming from the defense of the besieged, and the other from our own attacking the besiegers.

This tactic was all the more wise and practical – the ex- Experience demonstrated this moreover – that, first of all, we did not- at that moment, we saw no supplies, apart from of two beer barrels and some hygiene liqueurs- items intended for our refreshment stand, located in our premises small daily circle, and a few half-bottles of water general for my personal use, which were in our cellar.

If I didn't believe I had to consider the possibility of a long-term blockade, like the one we endured; For its part, the government was undoubtedly thinking of a a simple demonstration on my part.

Our Jewish politicians have, for so long, taken the habit of allowing oneself everything without having to fear something other than overly platonic protests, limited to meeting chatter, more or less public, or to scathing newspaper articles and journals, advocating the most energetic actions for defending rights and freedoms threatened by terrible typ- rans; and this in the manner of the extras in comic operas They shout: Let's march! Let's march! while remaining motionless space.

My action was well-suited to astonish them, and the events that have occurred in recent years, of similar resistances, inspired by motives different, clearly prove that if those who always speak

woah tan

150 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

to act forcefully, without ever having intended to. They were sincere and determined to pass on their advice... '- that they readily give to others - to actions, the. The masters of our country would think twice before to engage in certain activities, which some men determined individuals could make execution difficult.

The surprise caused to the government and its agents of execution, was confirmed to me from the beginning of the blockade, by a conversation overheard through our front door entrance, between two of the agents placed there by the leaders of the besiegers.

"How are we going to get rid of this Guérin?" he said. One; the bosses don't dare to force their way in there?

"We'll manage," replied the second; "we have a good. They chose the convents that were more solidly built. than that house.

"Yes," replied the first one, "but they're not Capu-

five that are in there!

© And Mr. Lépine's orderly was quite right;

If his boss had attempted a coup, he wouldn't have found it as easy to kill us as it was to force the necks winds of monks and nuns, of which so many have since been invaded without a single one of our "go away" "War" at Drumont's dared to resist in any way other than by childish or ridiculous declamations,

Examples of energy, at least relative energy, have been from a - all the more rare as the chiefs were the first to con- to guard submission, for fear of being forced to take their share of responsibilities and to be, in turn, at the pain and risk, when it pleases them infinitely more to remain in honors and profits.

Gyp wonderfully defined these terrible lightning bolts.
war in his Capons (1), the aptly named.

The day of August 12, which followed the night of the arrests-
tions en masse, therefore took place in preparations and reception to see the many Comrades and Friends who, all together,

(á) Ye dhapins, Javon, editor

. THE € FORT CHABROL » 45{

rushed towards us, demanding their place in the danger and instructions for taking useful action.

The only person we didn't see, either that day or
the following ones, it was our valiant "Honorary President";
I have named Mr. Edouard Drumont,

The undisputed leader of anti-Semitism, while we stopped wrongly and erratically in Paris and the provinces, remained peacefully settled under the cool shade of the sumptuous holiday resort that he chooses for himself every year, in Seine-et-Oise or Seine-et-Marne, depending on which one he finds better suited to his taste, such and such a castle, rented each season to the "wealthy enthusiasts" of pleasant stays.

Naturally the Lépine, the Puibaraud, the Waldeck and associates had been careful not to go and disturb
Mr. Edouard Drumont in the shade where he was resting of his fatigues... and ours; and the police officers did not go
no more searching in the comfortable hotel of Landrieu passage, so as not to disturb the papers and
The works of art of the "Master".

But, since we couldn't decently stop and...
imprisoning workers under the pretext of anti-Semitism,
members or not of our Greater Western France, and up to 14-year-old children for conspiracy against the state security, – fallen regimes, Judeo-republican style

blicain, would not have found any of that caliber – without .

at least give the Director of La Libre Parole an embryon de palme du martyre, searches were ordered... at M, Lambs, Dru-'s private secretary.

mont, which, however, never concerned itself with polimilitant tic. z-

"The police found nothing at Mr. Lambs's house, not even the master of the house, because, while the commissioner, charged with this ridiculous mission, he went to Asnières.
at the secretary of Drüuinont, the collaborator of the Direc-
The author of La Libre Parole was to guard the messages of Landrieu where he watched over his boss's home. Hatid, u
These bizarre incidents take on a specific meaning.
It is striking, when one considers the treatment suffered by some,

152 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

from our rulers and their police and magistrats; while the others enjoy special immunities-ciales, always protecting them from vexations and convictions suffered by sincere and determined activists mined, immunities whose beneficiaries paid the debt due to the insults and slander directed, later,
to prisoners and outlaws.

The night from Saturday to Sunday passed without incident
serious, as were Sunday and the night that followed.

We are simply observing that the surveillance at-
The tower around Fort Chabrol had become narrower and that the
The number of agents in civilian clothes and uniforms had been significantly increased.

An unusual activity was occurring. Also at:
- Hauteville housing estate police station, located just behind
our headquarters.

The visits from friends and journalists that I received,
I learned that my resistance, so unexpected, had thrown the disarray in the governmental world, which had not
I didn't think that a citizen, subjected to arbitrary arrest, could defend access to his home to the so-called Agents
of "the public force".

The most contradictory news was put in circulation without anyone managing to move me, no more Moreover, our comrades remained calm as they were,
on Monday morning, all the staff of the Anti-Jewish and the printing press printing house - editors, employees, mechanics and typesetters -

was at his workstation and was hard at work on the coucalm, as if nothing extraordinary had happened
for two days.

Even on Monday, they were allowed to enter freely at number 51
from Chabrol Street and the instructions of the agents stationed there Around us, everyone seemed content to simply wait for me to leave.
to stop without risking the difficulties that it presents-
would cause the invasion of our building.

However, when on Sunday I saw "that they were not slowing down
no force was used to remove and execute me, Manu

THE "FORT CHABROL D 153"

The warrant issued against me, I thought, everything
by chance, to build up a certain reserve of food.

Although a public holiday is not conducive to a supply-
sion of this nature, I charge black Comrade Soibinet, who headed the administration of our Anti-Jewish newspaper, to go and come to an agreement with our usual supplier, Mr. Li-gney, a grocer, whose stores were located not far from our home, 122, Faubourg-Saint-Denis, at corner of Strasbourg Street.

It was agreed with this merchant, who, fortunately,
was still at home, when he would load a car carrying supplies, of which I had drawn up a list, list which had to be greatly modified, depending on availability in store, our order arriving unexpectedly.

This car was to be driven by two clerks of Mr. Ligney, chosen from among the most vigorous, and a dia group of our comrades, also strong, the following without being noticed by the surveillance agents around of us. His

'The main gate of our building would be open ra-quickly, at the moment the car reached its height
teur; and, with a vigorous push, employees of the negotiatorciant and accompanying comrades would engulf the vehicle under our vestibule.

I had, moreover, taken the precaution that could be useful in case of an attempt by agents stationed near our door, to have it guarded by a quarantine of our people who were standing on our sidewalk and of each entrance side.

Thanks to the kindness of Mr. Ligney, the charge
The work was carried out as quickly as possible and the car-
The journey began.

I was watching for his arrival from a window and the program
The plan, agreed upon in advance, was executed as planned.

At a signal the door opened abruptly; and, in an irresistible push, our employees supplied-Secured by our ten comrades, they took him away.

When the officers realized what was happening, he was

155 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

too late to stop it; and, when they had the idea of
to set off after the cart; our door was at new burlée and, in front of it, they found 40 gaillards reluctant to let them do as they please, in case the whim-
It might have taken them to go further than our threshold.

They did not insist, moreover; I was able to make myself perfectly ment counts, and I was not the only one, that the intellectual way-lith and vigorous with which our Comrades understood to carry out our instructions, they were astonished and confirmed-were thinking that they were, decidedly, in presence of a serious organization and from which one does not come-It wouldn't be as easily exhausted as one might think.
at their leaders' offices.

Hence this parallel between the convents and Fort Chabrol (which I quoted earlier) which, according to one of our sentries, was not guarded by Capuchins.

An hour later, the car, under a tarpaulin which we had found the supplies useful, was coming out -
from our home with the same speed with which it had entered it.

I still have Mr. Ligney's invoice, giving the details of what we had been able to receive in this way, and I reproduce it here, for informational purposes:

BIG GROCERY STORE AT THE TWO STATIONS

J. Ligney. - 14, rue de Strasbourg and 122, Faubourg Saint-Denis.

without attempting the coup d'état, which was being talked about a little from all sides and advised by some reptiles of the press secretariat, mostly former fierce revolutionaries.

These individuals denounced, in their articles, the frustration they felt towards our resistance and our energetic protest in favor of this individual freedom the duel they so vehemently demanded... when they weren't still capable of committing attacks against the – freedom of their opponents.

The attitude of our Comrades and Friends, in permanence rue de Chabrol and in our neighborhood, made a Such an adventure is extremely risky.

It was enough to explain Waldeck's hesitations and his accomplices, to provoke a skirmish which would have singularly aggravated the coup d'état, which they were committing crimes against citizens who had the fact that exercising the right to criticize the Government and to spread anti-Jewish or anti-ministerial ideas.

456 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

The explanations given to the High Court by the prefect Lépine and his worthy colleague, Mr. Puibaraud, us later revealed the secret meetings held between the Government and its agents of execution to defeat my obstinacy and to seize my troublesome person.

Finally, on the night of Jundi to Tuesday, when all the traps that had been set for me, to lure me out were proven ineffective, and it was decided to notify me of the warrant issued against me, at the same time as against Messrs. Buffet, de Lur-Saluces, Déroulède, Marcel Habert, – Godefroy, from Fréchencourt, Cailly, Dubuc, from Bourmont, de Vaux, etc..., who appeared at the same time as me, three months later, before the High Court and that the policiers had stopped at the same time as my comrades of the Greater West.

They remained locked up in the prison for thirty-five days of the Health Ministry, and "I demanded" their prior release, when mediators intervened in the duel that I – I will engage against all organized forces, put to services of the worst kind of politics.

We know what answer I gave to Mr. Hamard, which was charged with notifying me of the order to surrender, and in what circumstances conditions I awaited the execution of the threats which messages had been reaching me for three days, from all sides, in – the hope, quite ridiculous in itself, of intimidating me.

If I were to take the liberty, here, of talking about certain maneuvers. of some nationalist or anti-Jewish "Good Friends," themselves- carefully managed by Waldeck and his police, and whose The behavior is better explained today than I saw it at the work, during my captivity and exile, we will see- what means and what "auxiliaries" would our governments use? governing bodies can use the opposition, to re- reduce potential resistance and "prevent" projects that they may fear.

THE "FORT CHABROL D 157"

But I will have enough to talk about these things and these individuals later to dedicate a special place to them culière; and I will explain a number of facts which, in August 1899 in particular, seemed more than abnormal, when one noted, for example, that young people like Bru- Net and Cailly were almost like children, since Brunet hadn't Not even at that moment, drawn by lot, were brutally torn from their families and imprisoned for conspiracy- to ensure the security of the State.

While these valiant young men remained pri- In Sonniers, we saw politicians full of pretensions and asserting themselves, for years, as agitators - agitated people would probably be more appropriate - to remain tran- discharge at home or benefit from non-prescription orders a place, refused to humble as well as sincere soldiers from the opposition.

So these modest and sincere people had to wait, over forty-five hearings, the decision of the High Court that found them innocent of the crime of conspiracy against the security of the State, for which they had been held since five months in the dungeons of our Third Republic.

Mr. Hamard's interpretation had occurred at sunrise of the sun, between 3:30 and 4:00 in the morning; and, As at 7 o'clock nothing new had happened yet, 'the staff of the newspaper and the printing works, who, the day before, had left work at the usual time, came back to pick up his daily activities.

The Friends and Comrades who, with me, had spent the previous night, they returned home to reassure themselves their women to return afterwards, at least those whose time could be free.

At 8 o'clock in the morning there were no more people left at Fort Cha- - junk that the employees and workers of the printing press and from the Anti-Jewish Administration and an editor of our weekly publication, on duty that day.

– So I was patiently waiting for events to unfold, when... came to inform me of the arrest, as they left the building. from our Administrator Soibinet and two Comrades

158 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

going with him to suppliers for the be-printing and newspaper care.

The "Blockade" began, which was to last six weeks. Maines, and we stopped everyone leaving their homes us or those presenting themselves to enter.

It was at this moment that I received a note from two Indians. vidus who had long been accustomed to sollici- to provide assistance, as they were doing almost everywhere "where the doors were not yet closed to them. |

These two individuals, named Otto and Mayence, had, Indeed, he asked to see me in the middle of the night, to pray to me, given the urgency and uncertainty they were in to be able to ask me for help later, to give them a new rescue,

I had given them a small sum of money and I I had long believed I was out there and far away when I learned their presence by a word asking me to receive them to give me a "serious communication".

I brought them up to my office and they told me their fear of being arrested upon their release, like the three per-sounds that agents had suddenly taken away at the moment when they themselves, who had lingered to talk along with our employees, were getting ready to leave.

They told me that they had both been condemned. for "press offense" (1) a few months earlier, at a year in prison under the Bérenger law and that they risk-quarreled, if they were caught, leaving the Fort, not only to face a new conviction, but to see himself con-trains to support the first one as well.

And, since they were asking me to stay, at least until-that upon further review in our country, I granted them this right, My role cannot be to hand over to the police whoever It was.

I was all the more willing to extend my hospitality to them.
that they were asking me, that I had just noticed that a

(1) Fail acquired the conviction, since the reason for their fears was in-ultimately less honorable and avowable,

THE "FORT CHABROL" 459

a fairly large force of agents in bourgeois and uni-shapes barred our door and that we were, this times, absolutely blocked.

At that moment I had no idea what they were
These two characters, and I will come back to their story later, later, when talking about the role they played, with the Syveton and the Drumonts, during the smear campaign defamation case brought against me in 1902.

Among those present at that moment of the "beginning" of the headquarters," was Mr. Spiard, the day's employee-nal and printing, and which had been recommended to us,
like a very honest employee, coming from the newspaper La France, which Mr. Hostein had just abandoned to a fate best.

Spiard was introduced to us by a member of di-
towards nationalist groups, also registered with us, Mr. Deglos, who vouched for his honesty and of his anti-Jewish beliefs.

Since then, I want to believe that Mr. Deglos has regretted the rethe command he had granted to Mr. Spiard, in me asking to come to the aid of a sincere and honorable parishing of our ideas, having fallen into such great embarrassment, due to a lack of situation, Mr. Spiard is barely able to cope.
had shoes on his feet when I got him a
a job that would allow him to live honorably.

We know how I was rewarded and what be-Sogne, our obligated party, added to the one he had requested from our goodwill.

And the rulers, magistrates and police officers, who have used
Having read the services of this Spiard, they are the same men who – under the Empire – so violently condemned the abo-despicable methods of the imperial police, populated by
'criminals capable of all infamies, to deserve
the salaries promised to their low-level spy reports, including

Their morality was on par with that of their employers.

Also, when one considers what the Hen- report was like nion, which served as the basis for the High Court to rid the Government and the Jews of the High Bank of

160 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

the only adversaries they feared, we have the right to pre-doubly tender that the Senators' verdict was a treachery, since, despite the Spiard family's espionage, Claude Actan-Rochetal and other individuals of the same ilk,
No police document was ever more hollow and worthless than the one who aroused the indignation and contempt of all men of good sense and loyalty.

I will not recount here what the siege of the Fort was like.
Chabrol, nor the multiple incidents that occurred at during the six weeks that separated August 11, the date of mass arrests, of my voluntary surrender
September 20, after imposing my conditions on Waldeck and his band.

The newspapers have made them sufficiently known and the Journal du Siège, which our organ published, made it a detailed account.

I must, however, speak of a few incidents which were little known or not known at all to the public, their importrance not having appeared at that moment; and my absence, for so many long and painful years, not having allowed them to be revealed as appropriate.

Among these incidents, one in particular stands out.
Interesting.

It happened during one of the visits that Mie made
Mr. Lasies, deputy for Gers, who, on his own initiative, had entered into talks with the ministry to avoid-
to ter, if possible, the tragic events that, on all sides
- tés, they claimed, were imminent.

Mr. Lasies came to see me at Fort Chabrol, initially alone, then in the company of Messrs. Magne, Firmin Faure, Ger-Vaize and General Jacquey, deputies.

I also received a visit from Massard, director of the Fatherland, and Montégut and Possien, then editors at the Intransigeant, and also of Messrs. Léopold Stévens and of Talleyrand-Périgord, the second accompanying the first who alone was previously known to me,

Their goal was all to avoid a bloody conflict; and,

THE € FORT CHABROL » 161

although they had not been entrusted with any mission of this kind; which I didn't have to initiate, I ren-
I very willingly do justice to the excellence of feelings which drove them, feelings which were obviously sin-
.ceres in most of them, if not all, because jè
I must make some reservations about Mr. Firmin Faure, whose subsequent conduct justifies all the severity of the measures.

The second time Mr. Lasies came to see me, I noticed a violent emotion, which the turmoil on his face betrays-ait.

~ At first, I thought he was going to announce the assault to me,

which we constantly expected, and which he was impressed by the consequences that could arise from this-
to consult for my friends and for myself, |
And, as he had difficulty articulating a word; I say: -> oo i
- What is the matter? Is the assault decided upon and necessary?
You bring me the news that puts you in this state?
In that case, calm down and, whatever happens, stay calm.
Defeated, we will do our duty here to the very end.
with as much composure and courage as determination
nation. | |

- It is not from the ministry and its companies that |
Then come the emotion and indignation that I feel, but
of our own friends who behave in the most wretched as he may be.

And, as if surprised and quite rightly so, I replied to him:

- But what exactly is "quiet" about?

M, Lasies replied to me: -

_ I have just been violently attacked by Papil-
'Laud and by Ménard, who reproach me for seeing you give bad advice. They told me I would It's better to stay quiet, instead of playing into the hands of the Go-government in preventing brave people from fleeing their duty, we can clearly see, my dear Guérin, that these people
'are not here in your place, nor even with you: |

I wonder if I was surprised by such news.

I replied to Lasies that, having asked him nothing, nor

| 8

162 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

to him or anyone else, I was better able than per-it is important to appreciate the initiative he had taken; that I I attributed it to the best feelings and motives and the most honorable intentions; and, in any case, from the moment when I did not disapprove of his conduct, that my My companions appreciated it as much as I did; no one could be to show a more severe censorship of his actions, we concernnant, than ourselves.

I added that, on Papillaud's behalf, I was not surprised by this attitude; and that if this gentleman had a One observation to be made was that he could request permission from
to communicate it to me personally; which was to him all the easier to obtain since he is a regular at all ministerial waiting rooms, whatever the ministers in office.

As for Mr. Joseph Ménard, I showed him nothing of astonishment.

For the past three years I have known this m' ional bavard, boastful and cunning, of which Pambis, and the desire for.
to appear and to manage to save even more sur-
future actions.

I will discuss this in due course and in the terms that will be discussed.
will come, while waiting to meet "my devoted de-defender" later and to communicate my impressions to him
We were discussing his "careerism" (1). | |

To calm Lasies, who was already accused at that time of being
"the ministry's auxiliary," that is to say, well before that Drumont dreamt, so odiously and so ridiculously, of
To attribute this role to me, I gave him a letter approving his conduct; and, as I asked him:

— But Drumont, of whom I have not yet heard—
What is his attitude?

"Drumont?" replied the deputy from Gers, "he is tov-"
days in the countryside; we asked him to come and he does not seem, so far, willing to leave his resort.

(f) This meeting took place, and I will talk about it later,

THE € FORT CHABROL » 163

I simply smiled.

I found in this further proof of prudence Drumont, during any serious event, involving other risks than those resulting from an article, even the more violent.

"Writing and acting are two different things," Drumont always told himself. And, like the Negro, he continues and will continue, be assured of that. all quite convinced.

The Director of La Libre Parole did not decide to leave the cool shade of the sumptuous residence where he spends each year pleasant months of gentle tranquility, before eating fresh food and eating hot food on time, only after having For a long time and very attentively, listened to the wind blowing; and I have the right to say, without him daring to protest against my present statement, that when I saw him at the Fort Chabrol seemed to me like a very small boy.

The point is that philosophical dissertations were no longer an issue. sophisms or sophisms skillfully diluted along of two or three columns, with accompanying ar- -usual features of his literature at 5 cents per issue, endowed with the sought-after condiment of good and fruitful . killer Jewish advertisements or international financial affairs Lopes, along with drugstore companies, such as the quack remedies that our brain The national sociologist was able to imagine.

An "act" was performed and it had to continue until- that the goal pursued: "the immediate release of all our comrades arrested as members of our "Greater Western France," of which I knew my si- appointment of the Delegate General in a very diff- different from the one Drumont conceived his own Honorary President of our association.

As Honorary President, he remained in the honors. and we toil; and his selfishness delighted in this practice a technical design, if in accordance with his personal ideas,

During the visit he finally decided to make to the Fort Chabrol, I explained to Drumont the reasons for our resistance, my determination and that of my companions,

164 TRAFFICKERS OF ANTI-SEMITISM

supported by our comrades and friends abroad, and I I can still hear him saying it to me, after he'd listened to me, looking Lost and speechless:

– What do you want, my dear Guérin, I'm listening, I I understand you; but what you tell me and what you are so foreign to our era of desire– Lerie, of cowardice that I don't know what to tell you. We don't Don't give advice to men like you, we'll... Admire them, we love them... I don't know what else to add.

I waited until I was in prison and in exile to complete his little speech; and, again, didn't he dare to si– to bear his name the infamies that he had published in his leaf, under the name of Méry, the only capable individual of such a task,

In one of these articles, Gaston Méry struck at the dear Master a blow with the bear's paving stone from the fable, saying that he, Gaston Méry, had to remind Dru– I'm going to write an article about our Pralesialion Acle to counter governmental arbitrariness, because the Direc

the author of "Free Speech" decided to leave his a– Fe usual syringe.

From this cautious reserve, we find a trace at each significant incident involving Lyttes in recent years.

The intervention of Mr. Lasies and the parliamentary group nationalist silence, still represented by Messrs. Mggne and by General Jacquy, had, as a consequence, to me to formulate the conditions under which, where applicable, the surrender of Fort Chabrol would be agreed to by the as–

These conditions were enshrined in a declaration, handed over to Messrs. Magns and Jacquy, and of which I reproduce the terms here: ~ | l

Decision of Friday, 18th, 1899.

Considering the arbitrary arrest of their comrades from the far West, the arrest warrant issued against their

THE "FORT CHABROL" 165

s.
ACL

– General Delegate, Jules Guérin, were the reasons for their attitude;

Jules Guérin's comrades, imprisoned with him at headquarters of the Greater West of France,

They decide:

To remain true to their commitment to fight until
If Jules Guérin's freedom is not accepted and if the Comrades arrested on August 11th, the following days are not released.

Jules Guérin and the prisoners committed no crime.
No court has convicted them; only the government is responsible for arbitrary arrests carried out or attempted.

This attitude of the government is contrary to the law and to justice, and it constitutes a violation of Ja Täberté individual.

Consequently:

The Comrades of Jules Guérin declare that they do not gütte-will occupy the seat of the Greater West only under the following conditions:

1° The Bauchers of La Villette and all the comrades arrested, as members of the Anti-Semitic League of France and of the Greater West and for having taken part in an imaginary conspiracy naire, will be released and will remain free at the disposal of justice;
The anti-Semites, currently confined to the Greater West,
will not be prosecuted or harassed;

And the three Comrades arrested on August 16, upon their exit from
The Great West, upon entering it, will be put in li-
` freedom; |

4. The building at 1, rue de Chabrol will not be occupied and sora left at its usual destination, without any interference for the publication of Antijutf, the printing press and the meetings which will be regularly organized there;

5. Jules Guérin will remain free, like all his comrades. by making a commitment to make sure that you are available tion of Mr. Fabre, judge c inafyaotion, by going to his summonses, Air

If these conditions are the only ones they can accept as honorable for them and in accordance with their previous statements the first ones, were not admitted, the Anti-Jews preferred to continue to strengthen the fight, whatever the consequences may be for them, summer,

166 ~- THE TRAFFICKERS DR ANTISEMITISM

Many stories have been imagined about this in- intervention by anti-Semitic and nationalist members of parliament.

Messrs. Drumont and Méry, as well as their worthy collaborators- Spiard, the author, invented this fable about our conditions in- fully accepted by the government; but, after Suddenly, a mysterious letter was received. I would have decided to go back on my commitments to me. to prolong the siege, in order to create a divers- sion and to divert public attention from the trial of Rennes:

The Director of La Libre Parole must follow very little out of respect for the common sense and intelligence of its readers to dare publish such nonsense.

Who then prevented the valiant Drumont, carefully, holed up in his sumptuous resort, and the no less courageous "Méry, Devos and Papillaud", to prevent this diversion and to give the Rennes trial all the re- tension, which he also had, since, not only- The French press, but also that of the entire world had their correspondents at the trial of the traitor Dreyfus and published daily reports occupying almost all of their columns.

La Libre Parole itself had at that time created an additional daily edition, which appeared in the afternoon, solely so that his customers would not buy the competing newspapers published during the day.

I don't know exactly how many readers Drumountains that swallowed this indigestible pill; but, if they are numerous, which I cannot believe, the anti-Jewish cause, as understood by the Director of Libre Parole, his three collaborators – his three accomplices would be more “just – and their overly credulous readers, is indeed malade.

Moreover, to judge this, one need only recall the proposals of journalists, friends and adversaries, French and foreigners, who were saying at the time when Mr. Méry was sitting–

LE € FORT CHABROL ® 167

He knew the articles that Drumont and he had imagined against Me and my comrades: |

How dare Drumont serve his readers as similar stories; he makes a fool of himself and he mon– how much he values those who buy his newspaper like idiots.

For the honor of Drumont's readers, I must say that the protests, provoked by this campaign of The Free Speech attacks against me were as numerous as they were... energetic and that the sheet of the boulevard Montmartre there has lost the best and most loyal part of its clientele despite the frenzied publicity campaign that was launched for trying to “revive” the former organ of Anti-Semitism, became a lower commercial enterprise, like movie reality and as for honor, to the worst Jewish offices and Judaizing ideas that Jewish France so vehemently condemned. energy. –

The truth was, as always, infinitely simpler; and, according to an expression used by one of the media– between the government and us, our ultimatum had landed at the ministry like a stone in a pond to frogs. ;

Some wanted to accept, for fear of complications– actions that may result from our resistance; the others, believing we could be easily reduced – which the policeman Pui-Baraud asserted to them every day – they refused to composing with those they called upon, so emphatically and So ridiculously, rebels.

We were rebels in the eyes of these ex-revolutionaries, members or supporters of the Waldeck-Millerand ministry, so largely wealthy today, who were apprehensive so

We will greatly benefit from the consequences of our act of protest.

It is true that this act was quite different from the sterile ones
decimations of the puppets of our contemporary politics raïne, always ready to reconcile at the expense of governed, by means of sharing the spoils and the pro-

4168 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

sons, also numerous and varied, that the power practiced in the manner of our current masters.

As he almost always arrived in such circumstances constancy, if our adversaries were divided on the solution to accept or obtain, mediators the e-were no less.

The wis 6lait d'avis que je pouvais me rendre ct que Wätdeck and his associates would never dare to mahquer at commitments of which they, as members of parliament, would have been witnesses.

– Let's meet, they agreed, like the excellent friends they were were, and the government will be able to do no less than Release your comrades who have already been arrested, without worrying, no
Furthermore, as you wish, your fellow resistance fighters rebuke.

The others, on the contrary, appeared more defiant.
and seemed to agree with me, despite the fact that it was time for Parliamentary recess would have long since ended, to think that once between the walls of a cell and unable to dictate my conditions and to protect-
to manage by actions my Comrades, those already arrested or even at Fort Chabrol, remained satisfied with the defense of the Thanks to our enemies.

I didn't need, moreover, 'approval,' which
It came to me, therefore, to take a position in accordance with the in-the interests and safety of my comrades, whose fate I –preoccupied me more than mine.

It seems to me that I have quite obviously removed the title.
since I remained imprisoned in Seul, and consequentlycondemned, of all ours; while our assumption the creation of the Greater West of France had been the most distressed by the arbitrary arrests ordered by the itiitiistère.

What I wanted – and I absolutely wanted it, like
I have, for many years, been devoted to your law –

It was the insemination of freedom, immediacy and prior to all.
the bottles and the exit tots mës Ébimpagnohs de siege before mine, with the commitment that I demanded and ekigeäi ettore later, that no one of them could be

*

THE € FORT CHABROL » 169

He was never worried about being associated with my act.
of protest.

And, when, sure of being within my rights and in agreement with justice and fairness, I decided something, especially in circumstances as serious as those we crossings at that time, I still perform it and in pre-taking full responsibility, without worrying about the criticism inevitable things that can happen on the part of men of good or bad faith.

I haven't changed today; Messrs. Drumont and Co.
can be convinced of this.

The physiognomy of these various incidents was faithfully reproduced.
published in our Official Journal of the Headquarters, drafted on the day
the day and I quote verbatim the following passage:

Seventh day, – Friday, August 18.

General Jacquy and Mr. Magne, in possession of this document
(the statement reproduced above), leave immediately for Bpauvan Square.

Meanwhile, GQué-in gives us instructions to burn-Read all the documents of the Greater West of France, manifestos and lists of members (1). i

{1} I must say here that, contrary to the bold assertions of the
Mr. Spiard, no list was ever at his disposal, nor at the disposal of whoever it may be; and that, apart from the Gamarades who came open-lie at our meetings and who, consequently, did not hide their feelings anti-Jewish, he knew none of those whose names had not been published.

neither left at the mercy of imprudence, indiscretion or harm.

in any case. It is quite obvious that if Agent Oswald had had these lists at his disposal, as he most certainly desired, the government I wouldn't have needed to try a new power play against the "Greater West," I ordered, while I was already at Clairyanx and on Spigrd's indications, who was then dismissed from his job, led to new investigations. tions in October 1900. as J

These searches continued, and for good reason, the restrictions were always maintained. with great care, as fruitless as the many others that Noys avions déjà spbiss. I won't say more, because the same precautions apply. push sergeants will still be useful in the future to thwart the maneuvers of the government and protect us against surprises that might befall us expressing our feelings of pity towards the wretched, soliciting help aid and employment by appealing to our charity, such as the case of the slour Spiard

170 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

That's how, a few moments later, debris from pa-Burnt stones flew from the chimneys of Fort Chabrol, wa to the great astonishment of the neighbors, reporters and those under siege gennts.

General Jacquey was due to return at noon; to his place and It was Mr. Lépine who arrived.

As soon as he arrived, the Prefect hastened to recount that someone had just come to telegraph him, from the ministry, that there was no longer an agreement It is possible that Guérin is a prisoner of his men who, suTex-Fueled by alcohol, they fight amongst themselves.

These petty slanders being spread, police officer Lépine is making the with a beatific air; when our friend Possien, from Enfransi-Geant, informed of the incident, calls Guérin, who opens he opened his office window and told him what had happened.

"Whoever said that is a rascal," replied Guérin. Comrades are not drunk; since we have been here, We drank nothing but reddened water. As for fighting, we We will only do so against those who come to attack us.

And he closes his window.

It is 2 o'clock, and General Jacquey has not yet arrived.

Finally, here are Firmin Faure, Millevoeye, Magne, deputies, ot Mr. Massard, director of La Patrie.

Our ultimatum, it seems, landed like a stone in a frog pond. Those people almost tore each other apart hair, some wanting to accept, others refusing our conditions. 1

In short, the situation is as follows, the talks are broken and a note, communicated to the Stud Farm and that the deputies They bring us, says this:

The most contradictory rumors are circulating about the resolutions that the Government would have adopted relatively To Mr. Guérin, we are authorized to say that, from the outset, Any solution involving an assault on the house on rue de Chabrol and to seize by force the accused.

He placed considerations of humanity above all else. the others.

Consequently, and for as long as necessary, the measures taken to prohibit Mr. Guérin from any communication cution avce lo dehors, sera mnintenues, as well as those desti- . designed to prevent and disperse any gathering.

In summary, it is through famine that Waldeck will have us.

LE € FORT CHABRÔL 3 174

So, the Government admitted its powerlessness to mwen- he was forced to lift up and no one, not even his friends, was duped by his humanitarianism placed above all else, Very careful consideration.

The truth is that Waldeck and his friends, knowing us completely innocent of a fabricated conspiracy, in order to have a pretext to get rid of an opponent awkward, because it's more energetic and more determined than those that the same ministry and subsequent ones have since found in front of them, they did not dare to go so far as assassination; and that, moreover, at that time, they also feared not to be found among the soldiers and officers of our army, the executioners they could desire, without daring to publicly admit this fear.

These fears of Waldeck and his accomplices were, Moreover, they were entirely justified, and I had them at that time. And since then, irrefutable evidence.

The police themselves lacked confidence in their troops, who might not have marched with all the desirable goodwill; for, at the moment when, Apparently, they wanted to launch a serious assault – had admitting that these wretches, courageous especially with the pusillanimous and even more fearful than themselves, have jabbed with the intention of carrying out such threats—lived, with or without the cover of the Commission—orders mission of the High Court, which was convened since these incidents of the initial negotiations — at the time, I say, where there was talk of launching an assault, most of the agents Whether in civilian clothes or in uniform, they reserved the right to slip away unnoticed.

They were reluctant to expose themselves to the dangers of a assault against a well-guarded building, where were—were citizens who had committed no crime or offense and who were simply exercising their right to stay home, without allow political opponents to molest them and to imprison them.

These arrangements by the police forces were all the more more explainable and natural than the agents knew perfectly captures the feelings of the population towards our

473 THE TRAPIQUANTS OF ANTISEMITISM

in regard and that they installed every day, despite the unpaid dreams of the secretariat press, that the imposed—The vast majority of our fellow citizens approve of our energetic attitude.

They were so well aware of this that their reports were filled with details all the details that we spontaneously found around the area to thwart the police surveillance which surrounded us.

If I could, without compromising the good people, in—core in place, tell me everything I learned from this Stijet, chance would be built for the various factors of hesitation of Waldeck and his friends were ready to launch the assault.

The humane sentiments of these gentlemen were simply the intense fear that their consequences and the consequences of a theft of assassination that they... know how to commit; and we have defeated the Government, not uniquely, because, to some determined hosts: Mined, we were ready for the last sacrifices, they too because the criminals who are attacking us are afraid quic: our corpses do not raise their voices among the population entirely, in a formidable and irresistible explosion a legitimate anger.

They also knew that they could not expect protection certain on the part of the hermit, his soldiers and his chiefs, dragged through the mud for three years, poor and their political friends, nor any shadow of their police officers, disgusted by the dirty work which we had been using for too long.

We saw what slander Prefect Lépine was spreading against our comrades and in what a way, unfortunate of these infamies by our Possien imi, I had protected against they.

It was up to Drumont to find the most re-
. disgusting; and he published that, for revetiif sut ihes eri-Reddilion's commitments, I had indicated this reason due my fellow resistance fighters were beginning to fight if I surrendered.

THE &« FORT CHABROL > 173

When General Jatqticy patla de tettë itivétition ridicule during the s4 deputies before the High Court,
I protested, as if it were a rumor that had been started.
Naturally, not wanting to allow a lea similar legend which created in my companions a state of es-
It seemed so foreign to reality. E

And then, do all those who cite me see me?
suffering from anyone who is threatened by semi-blabliques; and,
above all, from the struggle companions, ignoring nothing of my feelings towards such procedures, wherever they may be May he come!

The first individual who would have dared to hold such a lati-gage, en admistit mère qu'il s'en soit trouvé uñ, h'atiwould have been attempted, nor of rtietire Sa thënaëe grüssière to execute-tion, nor to finish de the fürtiuler.

It is true that, in this line of thought, Dfuthotit el scs digtiës collaborators, Méry; Pabillaüt and Devos, have exceeded all limits, knowing myself to be in the impossible material to join them, because they have allowed to publish,
under the signature of Gaston Métÿ, qi'uit certain joür,
that they did not indicate, I was violently... eritüirlandé
by a person – which they also did not give the name and put cätise – and that, far from protesting, I am-
I fled, without venturing to reply to my irisuftetit |

At La Libre Parole, when the other writers and even the types who were there, they read Eela, they said greatly amused and indeed... me, Atissi.

Mr. Méry, the signatory of this stupidity, and his friends Diu-Mont, Devos and Papillaud, could easily do the expedition the fear that they remain susceptible to titis-piror; and I permit them to join, the day when they will agree to conduct the experiment, if they deem it necessary. u the safety of their spines *3 « terfible » ehgtiilänticur that, until now, they remained alone to be evangelized.

. That jbur-là, if there were spēētātēurs, èt äthen I sotihdite qu'ils soihnt nombreux, ils passéfaieht td ins-so much non-deputiivu of gaiety.

Pai already had, once att fiüins, for chdcuf of them, luc-

174 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

I had the opportunity to judge the courage of the Papillauds before me. Méry and Devos, and the attitude they all had. does the edification of even the most credulous with regard to the ranting from these individuals.

As for Drumont, I will not mention him in this context. and I wasn't surprised to learn that when Méry He proposed publishing this fanciful story, and he told him:

– It might still be a little steep and... will find it hard to believe that Guérin could have been afraid of your good man,

While I'm talking about Drumont's inventions and those of the individuals who helped him in his campaign to in-oaths and calumnies against an outlaw, I must say a word about another of these gentlemen's infamies.

This was about the communications we were receiving. from the outside, despite the severity of the Blockade.

These communications reached us from different sources. ways; and, almost every day, we had to modify-proud of our methods for thwarting the surveillance to which we we were the object of the police officers of Lépine and Puibaraud, who literally populated the buildings surrounding areas, from cellars to attics, with and including the rooftops where agents stood day and night in permanence.

The most reliable means was provided to us by the dedication of two of our neighbors, seamstresses, whose workshops were located directly opposite our windows overlooking Chabrol Street.

These two devoted neighbors had kindly agreed to donate hospitality, in their workshops, to one of our Comrades tasked with relaying communications from the external and to receive and transmit our own.

At the time of the communications, he was standing in a back room of the workshop opening, through a door, onto the front room and directly opposite a window which he left-knows it's open, with its wooden shutters barely ajar.

This window overlooked Pune, one of our own, which we we also held it open, leaving, between its shutters, a space just enough to allow us to see in the apartment across the street and leave our comrades and our neighbors, see our place.

THE "FORT CHABROL D ` 175

To correspond, we wrote what we had to be written on large sheets of white paper, using large blue pencils; and, for their part, our correspondents transcribed their answers or what they had to teach us, on slates and with white chalk.

And we all read the inscriptions, thus done, by means of lorgnettes.

To communicate in this way, we needed, on both sides 'from the street, to be in a group.'

For my part, I dictated to a comrade who wrote it, when I presented the sheet for reading, an auto Comrade projected onto our paper the light of a pe-small reflector lamp that concentrated the rays on the a blank sheet of paper, while leaving the room in darkness.

My brother and our comrades proceeded from the same in a way, and they made a point of only illuminating the slates which they used.

Our numerous supervisors, not seeing any light-first, and no movement from the outside, could doubt that, despite themselves and without their knowledge, we were receiving news from our people and we passed on our requests and our various communications.

And, as we were to realize, we were also completely that the difficulties allowed it, at the neck-

From the events outside, I took each day,
at least twice, the precaution of appearing communicative quer with imaginary counterparts, by surrendering myself to a prolonged telegraphy, by day using signs and, at night,
by means of a lantern whose lenses had been coated sheets of paper in different colours.

And, I must say, we had some good moments.
comments, during these sham communications,
when we noticed that the police officers were on surveillance uolaieui, with the greatest care, our gestures and our games of light.

176 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

The unfortunate souls who were tasked with deciphering the code
Telegraphy must have left a lot of hair there, and we
We may have premature baldness on our conscience.
I gladly apologize to the victims of a Chinese puzzle that the Government imposed on its col-laboratories, to guess the secrets of our correspondents dances.

Therefore, as we can see, there was neither secret nor mystery.
tère in this correspondence, which had, by force
things, and because of the difficulties it presented,
numerous participants and spectators.

This did not prevent Drumont and his cronies from publishing that I exchanged, in the greatest secrecy and in Pinsu de all of them, correspondence with my brother, who was in charge of me to publicize the orders of the Government and to trans-
Please submit my answers.

This new infamy was first signed with the name 1 of Spiard, in the filth ordered by Drumont to his com-accomplices and whose expenses were paid, not on the hour Drumont, who, even to satisfy his hatred, is incapable to take a penny out of his pocket, but by the misery-Rable Syveton, who employed this vile task,
a portion of the funds that were given to him to furler against Judeo-Masonry.

In the communications we exchanged, in the way
as I have just indicated, Mr. Spiard was never mixed up; especially since the day we were able to observe at home a very pronounced moral and physical depression.
killed, following the breakdown of the talks that had begun with the Government by Mr. Lasies and his colleagues from the Bedroom.

This depression was so profound that I found him that very evening. from this breakdown in talks, completely devastated and that I had to exempt him from all factions at the same time that an incident occurred between Messrs. Otto and Mayence and our Comrades, led to the isolation of these two personages and their placement in observation.

This incident, the only one of its kind during the entire...

THE "FORT CHABROL"; 477

The duration of the Siege was so violent, and the attitude of our Comrades had become so hostile towards our two hospitalized patients that One of them, Otto, came to beg me to calm my companions who threatened to do to him and Mainz, a bad party and made accusations against them which he claimed, naturally, were devoid of any damn justification.

These accusations were varied.

One of them forced me to take certain measures, to prevent our meager supplies from being depleted at night items were not plundered by abusing the trust that we had each other and of which, until then, We hadn't thought of now, our two companions of circumstance.

Everything we possessed was, in fact, at the disposal of all; and, in our mind, no one should subtract, from the common reserves, a share personal, without the knowledge of others, to do what the gentleman Mainz called the complete meals that were indisposed to him conceivable. f

Not having absolute proof, at that time, of the accusations— Once the statements had been made, I calmed our comrades and had them placed apart, in a separate room of the building, our two thieves, at the same time as I locked up our provisions,

And these two individuals, whose subsequent conduct... firma so completely dispelled the suspicions that had targeted them, "had to make do with the ordinary tasks.

It is well understood that if I had had the certainty also— read that Messrs. Otto and Mayence were really coy— of the thefts they were accused of, they would not stayed among us for one more second.

I would have hastened to have them carefully brought downstairs tied up by one of our windows, so that they go and get "fed" elsewhere and according to their appetites,

* The same applies to Mr. Spiard; if we had pt

178 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

We suspected that he was Agent Oswald and not the poor man devil for that, Mr. Deglos had begged for my pity.

Since I'm talking about our means of communication, I think it useful to say a word about one of those who... They said they provided useful but all too brief services.

This is what we called the Ordinary Way,

– This Ordinary Way was none other than one of the char- agents aged under our surveillance and who, out of sympathy, rather that, most certainly out of self-interest, had reached an agreement with our Comrades from outside to help us through, each time that his turn for duty was coming, at a certain position in the neighboring building, 49, rue de Chabrol, of the communications- tions or small packages which he took care to wrap- per in today's newspapers, thus providing us with the Latest news.

In one of the dispatches from this Ordinary Way, I found a word saying:

– Someone in your department must be informing my superiors, dear- at home and be wary.

At that moment, I believed it was merely some imprudence. or to an unintentional indiscretion, committed outside and which might have worried our good agent; but we cons- tatami mats, two days later, that the Ordinary Way was cut off and we never saw again, among our guards, our obliging correspondent.

I have since learned that, following a denunciation, he had was revoked.

This brave boy was, in reality, the victim of a new treason committed by Mr. Spiard who, in a letter (1) addressed to Mrs Spiard revealed the competition that – our comrades had found us, a revelation which...

immediately came to the head of Agent Oswald, this Mr. Puibar-Raud. To

What we learned later confirmed our understanding.

(1) Letter given to one of our visitors, who had kindly agreed to take charge to transmit correspondence from the besieged to their families or friends

LB "FORT CHABROL" 179

this conviction, by explaining certain words of the poet Puibaraud sawyer – which we attributed to the boasting – which said, at the time of the siege:

– I know and I will know everything that goes on in there (Fort Chabrol), we have our own men there.

Puibaraud's men were the Spiard brothers
Otto and Mainz, who were to know each other as such and They were already jealous of each other, for their mutual antipathy was evident.
silence every minute; and, the day when Syveton and Drumont paid Otto and Mainz the costs of a filthy sheet behind, published against me by these two individuals, they took the opportunity to vent their spleen on their fellow human being, at
to the point that their sponsors had to recall them to more poised, Agent Spiard-Oswald, who was operating at the same time
time and for the same funders, having complained bitterly resented the insults hurled at him by his two colleagues.

And, from that day on, the Drumont family, Syveton, Otto and Mayence, left Agent Spiard at rest for to reserve all his venom for me; which I was very honored about, because deserving the insults of such individuals is infinite-
much more pleasant than having them as collaborators
theirs and as accomplices.

These are things that are wonderfully suited to Drumont, known as the Upright, Méry "without scruples" or Syve-your "heroic" one, whose end was what his life had promised, without his disappearance – in a scandal of which there is no doubt-don't even include some of those who pretend to defend it.
to deserve the recognition of the generous donors several people were foolish enough to have believed in Syveton – may to be invoked as an excuse or a mitigating factor countless acts of filth committed over five years
born by the former Treasurer of the French Fatherland.

Need I add, to show to what grotesque in-

We wanted Drumont and Méry to come down, that when they were talking about our communications with the outside world, through the means that so many and so spontaneously devote—the things they provided us, they claimed q: I was taking advantage of these devotions for; instead of receiving bread for my Comrades — and for myself. what these Mes—gentlemen foolishly forgot — to send my laundry to white—Chir Rus Lafayette.

180 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

Why not in London, while they were there?

That would have been the final word on chic and, consequently, on sensation. nellé information.

Sad lords... and also, alas! unfortunate elves; jux—What kind of person dares to spout such nonsense!

I owed these few details about certain incidents of our headquarters” and no one dared to contest its scrtüipu—their accuracy, without being easily convinced of men—dream.

Ori therefore sees that, in order to maintain complete composure, he must... In such serious situations, it was necessary to... more mental tension and calm will than for to write, in the cool shade of the Château Saint-Añge, the articles that Drümont deigns to offer to its readers, for 3,000 francs per month, as appointed fixed costs, 1,500 francs in miscellaneous expenses, a significant portion of _ net profits from his sheet. and all the usual, that his exceptional business acumen and shamelessly allowed him to achieve, while the militants of our cause sacrificed everything to their ideas and spent years of their lives in prison drinking exile, joined by their dearest affections and their

– payyB:

It is true that the two or three suspicious individuals, that

Fate had locked them in with us under the conditions

_ What I said, they knew better than anyone that neither my `Comrades, nor I myself have received, on their behalf, the
- the smallest act of openly committed wrongdoing.

--So they remained silent for as long as they stayed at the scope of our action: and they maintained the altitude cautious, which suited their nature much better that Palt :.> bravache that they later took, at the instigation-tion dé lenc., lailleurs. de fuñds et pour mériter le salaire

LE & roort cHAÿhot, » 181

the raised fold, the only thing that escapes their constant preservation-
tions.

And if the unappreciated, given the hatred, is justified; it's even more with regard to the Drumiont, the Méry, the Syveton, and others Päpillaud or Dévos, that against the vile institutes of which they used it, in an attempt to accomplish their irifailes ët luncer leurs outragés contre un homine qu'ils
sävdietit prosctit and that they f'äutdist, nor itis; tii them other, dared to flake in front of him from near.

Ut aveñir, brothdin je l'ésresp, mieltra À leur place les things and people.

I'm going over the beginnings of the siege, which lasted six weeks,
From August 12th to September 20th, to arrive immediately

"at the Fétditiüh which took place this last day, at 4:30

in the morning.

After the first pouniers pourpätllets, cHyubés by Mr. Lasies and his colleagues in the House, and who fufeñb rämpus, the
The government, having been unable, at this initial stage, resolved to actéptet lbyaletiient os cünditiüns et à mettre, d'abord

'ét Hibëtté nos si hoiibfeux cümiarades itivatcerés arbitreatment at Sarifé prison, Waldeck and his friends reflected and, despite the claims of the police officer Puibaraud who, daily, honored his worthy `- chiefs that tomorrow he would be right about us and our re-
- sistante, 168 mitistřes čöttipiirernt que notis Hétiohs fi
neither intimidable nor easy to capture.

Their reflections lasted more than fifteen days and, received-lant ëñcote ine fois devit la prospect de une soli-

violent tion that worried them more than anyone else, they re-they took of themselves the hegotiatiôns, for which,
This time, Miüllevoye; deputy of the Seine, represented you.

Daris té duël du man, aided by a few Cañitirädes devoted, against a Gôtüvetietient who thought himself all peitiis and which retiéohtfait, all of a sudden; a resistance & which in Fidtice, helis! our worst Gotverhants are not “plus Hbbilués, Millévoye was fleet witness.

: First, and had all the talks, he re- - demanded the immediate execution of the first and principal

182 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

the condition I had set: that of release
a prerequisite for all our fellow prisoners.

Waldeck and his colleagues understood that it would be unusabletile is trying to deceive us again this time, like they had unsuccessfully attempted it a first time, obtemperished.

On September 18th, I learned, via our telegraph which
It worked fairly regularly, just prescriptions
Dismissal orders had been issued in favor of all the Butchers of La Villette and all those of our Cama-harbors of the Greater West of France, which had been arrested tés during the night of August 1st to 12th, and that they had just been - released.

And this, without even having been questioned at the cost of their captivity of thirty-five days.

To the unforgettable shame of our moderate republicans or advanced, like that of the socialists and anarchists, or those claiming to be such, who supported the Government, a
such an injustice could have been committed, without a voice selevât among these politicians, domesticated in power and eager for its privileges and its thousand favors, for
to protest against such practices.

What cries would these same individuals raise if tomorrow, cux, or Fun, any of their supporters.
were victims of the same police brutality and same abuses! nor

But, since these were citizens opposed to their harmful policy, nothing was more natural than to trampling on the most legitimate rights and laws

these so-called "fundamental" principles of the singular republic that they have imposed it on us for thirty-five years.

They approved, without hesitation, Waldeck, M'erland, Galliffet, Monis and their ministerial accomplices, 1 established—using the letters of cachet to get rid of modest . workers, charged with crimes against state security, and who, in reality, had only committed the act of not to bow down, with docility and admiration, before the Jews and their creatures. i:

LE 4 FORT CHABROL % 183

It was there, and it still is in France, a crime of lèse-ma—thrown against the all-powerful sovereign "Money", and our Jewish socialists could only associate themselves with the me—arbitrary measures taken against such disrespectful clients toys.

At the same time as we learned of the release of our comrades arrested during the night of the coup commissioned by the Waldeck ministry, we were also

'informed that the three Comrades imprisoned, to be those who left Fort Chabrol or tried to enter it on August 15th,

'as well as five of our supply vehicles, had also surrendered to their families.

Neither had, from the resie, committed the slightest offense and it had taken all the contempt of Government and its magistrates and police officers for the

'legality and the strict law of people, so that these attacks

— acts against individual liberty could be perpetrated: with, as always! unanimous approval — what a decade! dence for this party! — from our staunch socialists, qua— 'So rightly labeled Government Socialists and clients hungry for the "Social Lucullus".

These releases, demanded and obtained, left nothing more to impose on our primitive conditions than:

The guarantee, for all my fellow resistance fighters tance, that they could, without exception, leave Fort Chabrol without being disturbed and without even their names could be requested by the authorities;

% For the building, i.e. Fort Chabrol, the certainty that, under no circumstances, could it be occupied and that upon surrender it would revert to the Printing Society, the main tenant, without any hindrance to its trade, neither value nor contribute to the publication of our Anti-Jewish or to the organization of our meetings of the Greater West of France in the premises sublet by our association.

In these respects, we were in agreement with the law. and with the law, and these conditions only applied to the me-arbitrary sureties that I had to anticipate in the presence of the

184 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM |

This spectacle, which had been offered to us for over a month, whereas "pure pleasure" had become the supreme law, imposed on the country by a government capable of anything and believing himself above the law.

Having settled the issues concerning my companions I only demanded, for myself, the right to leave the Fort Chab-ol, to make myself available to the justice system, accompanied only by our Witness Milleuoye and a French army officer. | | a He pleased me, indeed, by virtue of his sense of supremacy.

of civil power so insolently asserted, to impose this humiliation of our rulers and their overly servile magistrates and police officers.

I no longer had to demand the right to be free to the disposition of investigating judge Fabre, in charge of ins-to destroy the conspiracy case, and who could at his own discretion and on the orders of the rulers to prolong indefinitely the prevention of defendants arrested or threatened with the being, since the High Court had been convened, by ` presidential decree of September 4th stipulates that its Commission The instruction system had been in operation since the 18th.

This summons from the High Court, which occurred during of our "blockade", created a new state of affairs, very different from the situation at the time of the first negotiations- comments from Mr. Lasies and his colleagues in the House.

Also, wasn't it at the time when so many other members various opposition organizations were present

already behind bars and unable to escape to the hearing that was being prepared for them, that I could to consider missing the opportunity to discuss in court a legislative assembly, even transformed into a tribunal of ex-reception, my acts of protest against the arbitrary government_governmental and our political and economic ideas.

I must say that if our opponents had started where they had just concluded and whether they had first assembled their High Court, to immediately refer him
the citizens they accused of conspiracy, instead of proto give in abruptly to mass arrests carried out

THE "FORT CHABROL" at 185

wrongly and falsely; and, also, if I had been the only one accused of Greater Western France, this is my own initiative, and without the intervention of any police officer, I would have rendered before the Luxembourg court, not for me
. defend, but to explain my co-conduct and develop lopper – as I did, moreover – the legitimate reasons
times of our action and accuse our judges.

ne ur

I accepted to be posed this time for
to reassure my proud family and friends, and also because...
These Ihe cited the example of other accused of the High Court to which this authorization had been given.

These examples were, in fact, necessary for me to de-
I should formulate a reservation concerning me.

And then, I realized that, however resistant I may be able to withstand fatigue and trials of all kinds,
that a life of such ardent and repeated battles has imposed upon me-
In these situations, the physical body might not withstand such a victorious challenge.
sement that morale, which remained what it had always been and .
will be again, I hope; in the future, especially during the hours imminent dangers and definitive responsibilities to take, . li

Our witness Millevoye added to the conditions that he formulated, that before becoming the prisoner of our enemies I would have the right to alleb eiiibrabser, one last
My dear mother, I have seen two recent attacks of hemi-:
`plegia had rendered her impotent, and to whom, proliferating from this

On my last visit, I could have announced that I was going to... to take a long journey.

Once these conditions were agreed upon, Millevoye committed So, the new talks.

The first difficulty arose from the fact that the indictment of the Attorney General, Octave Bernard, appointed by the Government government to operate at the High Court, contained a paragraph specifically targeting the rebellion at Fort Chabrol and indicting, not only the accused Jules Guérin, but also my fellow resistance fighters.

Here is the paragraph:

Whereas there also exists:

Against Jules Guérin, and all others, except for the procedure of... covered, prevention of having, in Paris and in 1899 in meeting armed, resisted law enforcement officers acting for the enforcement of laws, etc...

So it was indeed the crime of armed rebellion. who was targeted, and Waldeck and his friends claimed immediately that they could not remove this part of the introductory statement by their Attorney General.

They invoked the sacrosanct principle of the Chénod powers.

Jokers! As if a principle, be it qualified or qua-

The sacred, for the good public who appreciate it in all its forms. the colors, was never able to embarrass our political techies!

When consulted on this specific point, I maintained, purely and simply, the conditions concerning my companions de siège and my desire to remain the only accused of. Greater Western France.

And, with a heavy heart, at the thought of the victims that I tore them away, our rulers had to endure my demands. agencies and sit, once again, on the principles that form the basis of the Judeo-Masonic Republic, that

Our unfortunate country endures, not out of enthusiasm but out of cowardice.

THE "FORT CHABROL" 187

And perhaps also because of the spectacle put on by the Drumont and other ambitious men of the same ilk hesitated—to urge the French to replace their current masters, if in-worthy as they may be, by those who seek to capture their confidence, while revealing a mentality and a morality inferior to that of the worst Jews and Jew-like individuals seen at work. | EE

All my conditions were therefore accepted and it was agreed came only once all my companions spoke freely under my eyes and should not be sought or even con-naked, at least officially, because their names had been revealed to our besiegers by Mr. Spiard in one the first letters he was able to deliver to our visitors letters from the early days that "Ms. Spiard" had immediately delivered to whom it was intended, I would go out to my turn, accompanied only by our "Witness" Millevoye and an officer of our army.

I received notification that everything was finally finished on September 19th. early in the evening and, at midnight, we saw Mille- arrive

"I am traveling in the company of my brother, coming, at least I de-I'll assume so, confirm the results of his lab-

"serious negotiations and settling the conditions of execution" tion of the agreements entered into between him and the Government-ment.

So you can imagine my surprise when I heard Mille- He told me, very moved: |

— My dear Guérin, we are dealing with wretches.

Everything that had been agreed upon, and formally so, two years ago hours, is now destroyed.

And then, our Witness informed me that at the time when He was preparing to enter our house; he had been informed that a Waldeck's order had called everything into question.

Lépine had notified him that I had to go without condition to him, the Prefect of Police who would have me at his disposal following the orders that would reach him, and that my com-Compagnons-ne could only withdraw after my departure.

It was a new iteration of the maneuver already attempted.
at the time of the first talks and Waldeck expected-

138 THE TRAFFICKERS NB ANTI-SEMITISM

This time, it was the weariness that we could feel.
also the relaxation that the relaxation had been able to produce on our wills,
news that our conditions had been accepted af that
Our trials could come to an end.

But our opponents had not counted on us and they had, once again, made a gross mistake.

And, as I saw Millevoeye and my dear Eauis in Overcome by a violent emotion, I said to them:

- There's still something you haven't told me
No. Speak clearly and don't hide anything from me. We are at a particularly serious hour, and I want to know everything.
to determine the appropriate course of action.

- Who, Millevoeye said to me, while I was reading in my brother's eyes confirmed what our
A witness told me they decided that if you don't...
Don't study immediately without conditions, the assault would be given earlier, The engineering troops sant agrivépa
with all the siege equipment and even explosives
"You'll jump" if Haspin is; and Jis seem unwrinkled,
This time, they will carry out their threats.

I reflected for a moment, because the situation was indeed serious;
but, sure of the majority of my fellow resistance fighters and still able to pull it out at the last minute,
To those who might be afraid, I replied to Millevoeye:

- Thank you first of all for trying to
to avoid a bloody conflict that our leaders have foreseen:
'ready; but we will not submit to the moral violence that These gentlemen are trying to get at us, by acting with ja bad faith, of which they have just given proof, if obvious. You will say, in due course, what has "happened, and You will establish the responsibilities.

So you can tell Waldeck pt to ges "executors" that I maintain, more than ever, the conditions that I have posed. My companions will come out in front of me and before my very eyes; they will remain free and will be assured of
to be neither wanted nor even known.

I will then go out, the last one from Taua, with you gt one

an officer of our army, as I demanded,

THE € FORT CHABROL » 189

And furthermore, as with men capable of to conduct in the same way that our opponents have just done, We can be wary of anything, I urge you to make yourself pre- send the officer who will accompany us, in order to in- forbid these people from designating a Lévy for us, a Strauss or any Dreyfus, in order to be able to to tell their press, which is fond of these crude jokes, that I surrendered to an officer, but a Jewish officer.

Milleveye took my hands, and, deeply moved by all this, He told me:

– I will maintain your conditions, but I'm afraid, My dear Guérin, let it not all end in a fright- The drama. : |

– So, my dear Milleveye, let us say goodbye pt em- 'Let's embrace one last time. Tell our comrades that we will not have it as easily as we think and let them do their duty outside, just as we will let's make our own here.

And, just as I was about to kiss my dear Louis, and to say goodbye to him, my brother stopped me, saying:

– I'm not leaving you. I'm staying here, and if they kill you, they'll kill me will kill too.

And he remained, while Miülleveye, whose emotion was growing said, despairing at having been unable to complete his task of mediator, was going to make our adversaries aware of the maintaining our conditions.

–The first word Milleveye heard upon exiting was:

– And Mr. Louis Guérin, why doesn't he go out with vaus? ; `

– He remains with his brother and the besieged, and if you see- You will kill Jules Guérin and his companions. "At the same time. The two brothers never leave each other's side."

Milleveye put the officials who were listening to him, hon- I want to believe it, given the role imposed on them, at current decisions taken, and immediately the telephone was set in motion with the Ministry of the Interior.

Half an hour later, we saw Millevoye return who told me:

199 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

– You are right once again, my dear friend, they capitulate and renounce their last demands agencies. They are subject to your conditions, as I have them. questions asked. I asked, as you requested, to do acquaintance with the officer who is to accompany you; It's Captain Grenier, of the Republican Guard, and You can rest assured about that. I must tell the Police Prefect, what time do you intend to do leave your companions and that of your personal outing-nelle. i

It was 2:15 in the morning at that time.

I replied to Millevoye that we would be ready towards 4 1/2 hours, all needing to make our arrangements for this departure.

Prefect Lépine felt compelled to make a new objective tion on the hour I had just indicated, and that he found-it was too late; but he had to give it up, like Wal-deck to its last-minute claims, and I main-The decision was made to go out between 4 a.m. and 4 1/2 hours.

I gathered my companions and taught them success negotiations. They thanked Millevoye for his friend-intervention and my brother's dedicated support during those long weeks, during which, no only he had helped us with all his might, us besieged, but had still provided for the families' needs of all our comrades imprisoned or besieged, without to rely solely on his personal purse and that of a few devoted friends, among whom, is there any need to say, neither the very rich Drumont nor the not The less wealthy Devos, who did not contribute a single cent. to neither one nor the other.

They simply opened a subscription in the Libre Words and prayers to our Comrade Bernard Roux to the distribution of its amount.

This subscription was opened on September 3rd, and at the end-François Coppée's order, without this idea being for a moment coming to Drumont or to his Administrator, which lasted this-while registering their journal and themselves for the sum colossal at 450 francs, whereas it's by the thousands francs that, each month, generous donors contribute-see in Drumont aid for the poor of the Free Speech!!

These funds have never gone to the poor; and, it is with the greatest difficulty that the unfortunate, who have the naive-Having decided to address Drumont and his newspaper, they obtain alms of 20 or 40 sous. He who is adjudicated to sell a poor hundred-cent piece is regularly heard to be remement: I hope that with this you will be out of be-
Care! | i

In plain language, this means: Whatever you do, don't come back.
No, huh!

How many times have I witnessed these little scenes, and How many times have we, one after the other, not aid was given to the unfortunate people who had been brutally turned away.
that our modest budget allowed!

But, although the subscription was opened on September 3rd, this it was only much later that Drumont and Devos in handed over the amount to be distributed; and, throughout
At that time none of our comrades; nor any family of besieged or prisoners never ceased to receive from me
brother the sums necessary for their existence.

In anticipation of a possible release, wishing that my companions of the siege could go and rest for a while time of their fatigue, while I went to prison, then before the High Court, I had prayed to my dear Louis to bring with him everything he could have available, like cash, in order to share it among-between them.

We were thus able to hand them out immediately to each one of the released, about 300 francs..., and, a few days later
They were given another 200 francs... which assured them
a few weeks of rest in complete tranquility.

In this regard, I must express my surprise at the noise.
spread by Drumont and his cronies, who are not part of it"

to the slander and a lie close, and attributing to M: Boni de Castellane the payment, in my hands or conceal my brother's maitre, of a significant sum
This is intended for my companions.

This is a completely gratuitous invention, and Mr. Boni never...
de Castellane gave us nothing for anyone,

I am even very surprised by this slander; being veto his knowledge, Mr. Boni de Castellane did not have it denied. It was an offense on his part that surprised me.
took.

I never asked Mr. Boni for anything.
Castellane; and, it was unexpectedly that one day – we
we were at the Déroulède trial at the Palais de Justice in Paris
– meeting me in the Hall of Lost Steps of the
In the Assize Court, he suddenly said to me:

– It seems you are installing the Great West of France in a new location; this should cause you large expenses and I would like to help you cover them.
"Here," he said to me, taking out the pouch of his frock coat.
a wad of banknotes, here is my personal contribution-
bell,

I was, uh, a little surprised by this sudden generosity;

Mr. Boni de Gastellane, whom I hadn't seen two the previous time, he would give me 10,000 francs; but his re-his well-established reputation as a millionaire tempered the over-
. grip that I could experience, caused more by the spontaneous participation in the competition; more than by the importance of the sum thrown, which represented only a small portion:
i.e., the expenses we had incurred and what the events and their consequences were to follow;
singularly increase.

Mr. de Castellane added, when I thanked him for his spontaneous competition:

– I will help you again, and in these days I will 'en-
I will see a new contribution.

The consequence of this promise was that I left the works go a little further than, without this competition offered, I wouldn't have wanted it, but M, from Gastellane – and I tic

I hold no grudge against him – he couldn't keep his promise, this who imposed upon me the obligation to fulfill, without him, the duties that he had "encouraged" me to let it create.

That's the whole competition that Mr. Boni de Castellene... brought about and the conditions under which it occurred; But since then, we have received nothing from him, neither at the time of Fort Chabrol, neither during nor after.

And the reason I'm talking about this incident is that our donor He himself spoke about it to a sufficient number of third parties so that I can consider that there is, in relating it in my turn, no indiscretion to be committed,

And besides, Mr. de Castellane cannot accept that he he attributes to others acts of generosity that he did not "commit", sur- all to conclude that I kept their amount in my pocket; it not having filled up, but considered- thoroughly drained during those six years of prison and exile that I just experienced.

Once the details of our outing were settled, I made my goodbye to all and I noted that if my comrades ac- they seized their deliverance with calm and dignity, the joy The behavior of Messrs. Otto and Mayence was delirious. They were like two restless souls, unable to stay still for a second especially the "terrible" Mainz, the one that Méry presented in his articles, as the most "determined" of the besieged- gésl!

And, if I had to talk about these two characters and if I I still need to speak, it's not because of the importance that I attach to their individuals, but only because it It is up to me to demonstrate the quality of the collaborators that Drumont and his cronies had to find, the day they needed honorable witnesses to certify their infamies against me.

As for Spiard, I could choose not to mention him,

The unfortunate man was in such a state of physical collapse- musical and moral, that he looked more like a Juque than a man.

His face revealed the anxieties he felt; and,

now that we know the role he played in—

From what I could see near us, I concluded that he was afraid of being dis-announced to our friends or to me, during our siege, and to receive the punishment that was due to him.

Hence this moral and physical depression that we planes observed and which had become so strongly accentuated.

This is how the siege of Fort Chabrol ended.
which was the only act of true energy accomplished since years in France, to protest against the abuse of power and its acts of force.

Ceci, I have the right and the duty to say it without vanity.
personal; for, if I conceived and decided it, for aecom-
To complete this act, I found, both within and without, competitions are about dedications that can go as far as...
“that at the most extreme limits, with regard to at least Comrades and Friends who remained faithful to our cause and also — which is increasingly rare these days —
to the friendship I had earned by always thinking of them and to their safety, without worrying about my own fate personnel, |

The line had triumphed over force and we had given to give our fellow citizens an example, which might perhaps have been followed later, if, once again, the Capons hadn't been able to naked, through their intrigues, to deceive and disarm the Cogs combat in Brittany and elsewhere (1).

(4) Geg lines were written before the Incidents which have just occurred
dyire for the Inventories of Churches, and s| of modest soldiers of the cause Catholics bravely paid with their own person, the "advisers"
energy was, once again, held to the abpi of the blows.

MII

The High Court: Prisoner and Outlaw.

From Fort Chabrol to La Santé prison. — The Prefect's concerns
Lépine. — A big thank you to our witness Mile-
See, ~— The High Court. — The competent ruling, —
The Reuilly Affair. — A story about Jaurès, — M. Gal-Lichet the "Privileged". — "Standard-bearer" arrested, Vice-.
Free President. — Our administrative “diplomats,” —
Poor Galli! — Lépine, the benevolent one. — The truth

On the Reuilly Affair. – Mr. Lasies is making a “revolution”.
 – A visit from Mr. Boni de Castellane. – Mr. Déroulède
 The Royalists. – Two camps within one party, – The acquaintances of Joseph Reinach. – Messrs. Rance and Dufeulle, –
 The Greater West of France, February 23, 1899. – Nes projects, – We meet Déroulède at Place de la Nation,
 – A bored general and a recalcitrant horse, – Towards The Elysium – Wrong route. – Too late! – The troops return to their barracks. – Generals Roget and de Pellieux. – Demonstrators spared. – Messrs. Barrès, Labies, Talmeÿr and Ryveton. – About a meeting. –
 The aborted edification. – The Prosecutor's best witness Bernard. – In the middle of the trial, – (a little bit is being organized) Accusation, – Witness Mallet, – His collapse.
 Three testimonies dismissed. – Mr. Ménard and his friends Dru-Mont and Méry. – The trio Vordier, Roblin and Haranchipy.
 – Around Fort Chabrol, – Messrs. Firmin Faure and Guixou Pagès. – Money misused. – The condemned-tions, – From Luxembourg to Health. – From Health to Olairvauæ, .– A well-guarded prisoner, – An accident
 rograbtable. – Departure for exile. – Drumont unmasks himself

Upon leaving Fort Chabrol, I went, in com-
 Millevoeye's company and Captain Grenier's company, at the Prefecture

196 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

police station, where extraordinary precautions were taken immediately.

And, in the grand salon into which we were shown, a
 A swarm of commissioners and agents surrounded us, during that the corridors and staircases were becoming lined with fac-civilian and military officials.

Prefect Lépine came to join us almost immediately.
 and to make sure I was well looked after.

He was in the grip of feverish agitation and had the al-
 The look of a man relieved of a major worry.

He thanked Millevoeye for his intervention, which had...
 he said, having avoided great misfortunes, which he was entirely responsible for particularly grateful to the member of parliament from Paris.

Half an hour later, still escorted by many municipal guards and security agents, I was escorted at the Depot and I took leave of Millevoeye and the captain Attic.

I only stayed at the Depot for about an hour, to take—
then take the path to La Santé Prison.

The car that was taking me was flanked, preceded, and followed by numerous cabs in which a five—
a number of agents, while, on the path followed by
In our procession, I could see a number of police officers and of cycling agents, ready for any event.

I couldn't help but find these quite ridiculous.
precautions, not being in any way willing to save me
and considering my appearance very useful to our cause before the High Court, that is to say before the Senate, to discuss our ideas and justify our action against the Ju-Deo-masonry.

I will skip over the incidents that preceded the pre-
first hearing of the High Court, to arrive immediately—
lying at the trial itself,

We recall that after some preliminary debates arduous and despite numerous protests, including that of the honorable Mr. Wallon, the High Court declared itself competent attempts to judge us, taking as its basis its in-

THE HIGH COURT 197

intervention the beginning of the execution of an "attack"
at the Reuilly barracks.
It was ridiculous and also extremely disingenuous.

I would gladly overlook this Reuilly affair, if—Certain friends of Mr. Déroulède had not been the authors or the propagators of legends tending to make people believe that I had played some part in a "betrayal"
which would have prevented the success of the venture.

This nonsense was first published by Jaurès, one of our most ardent proscribers, who wanted to make of I, Déroulède's "confidant" in the night that preceded the funeral arrangements for Félix Faure.

Jaurès, who certainly did not possess the intelligence attributed to him
In certain circles, only one thing was forgotten:
that is, if I had been a supporter of Dérou-'s failure
lède , my arrest and conviction remained, for for him and his political friends, the most abominable and the
the most obvious of the "miscarriages of justice".

His fable did not withstand discussion for a minute, the facts destroyed it as completely as the objection. resulting from a conviction, to the most serious penalty pronounced by the High Court; and the defender if "inter-Dreyfus's "ressé" was held accountable for the infamy he committed in with regard to a man then imprisoned at Clairvaux,

However, by acting in this way, Jaurès remained within his role of an unscrupulous adversary in the choice of means 'to employ against an enemy, which he did not find sufficient-swiftly disarmed by a 10-year sentence prison. fi S-

But what about the 'Drumonts, the Thiébauts, the Galis, and other characters from the same world?

I was told that Mr. Gallichet was among those who, the most treacherously and most hypocritically, they applied themselves to to spread the slander "of Fort Chabrol in agreement with the government.

He is therefore forcing me to talk about his case for having gone too far.

198 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

willingly occupied with my own and having tried to distort my actions.

I don't believe I was the only one to notice, with what-What a surprise, the special favor shown to Mr. Gallichet, he said Galli benefited from the Waldeck ministry, from his judges and his police officers. NN

Throughout the entire anti-Dreylu-agitation sister, and since Déroulède had come to join those who had been fighting for several months already against the Mr. Gaili, a supporter of Dreyfus, played a leading role. at the League of Patriots, as in all demonstrations-situations in which its leader found himself embroiled.

It is true that the only day he was, more or less Seriously, when it came to taking action, Mr. Galli failed to appear. because he was not at Déroulède's side in the affair of Reuilly.

But this Reuilly affair was not the pretext in-dispensable to the arrests of the night of August 11th August 12, 1899, because many citizens were arrested who had not been included, even as simple seated-

so much.

Despite Mr. Galli's leading role, it is all at more if he was involved in the trial. H was never order: and, the dismissal order, from which he benefited, was at least surprising, given that many citizens, whose names were barely known and who did not—had only filled very minor roles, such as Ba: Riller — standard-bearer of the Patriots' League —'or Ballière, who was never in the spotlight, were seized in the middle of the night and brutally thrown into prison where they remained for five months; until the day the High Court had to to acquit them. — x LÉ

Alongside Barillier and Ballière, modest fighters From the opposition, it is also worth mentioning the names of young men, like Cailly and Brunet, who supported, with lots of energy and good humor, a long captivity, all the longer because they are younger than their

© THE HIGH COURT 199

fellow prisoners, they had to be more attached to the freedom. | 5 +

Mr. Galli has since become a city councillor. I I cannot congratulate the voters of his quarter today. third, because, even at present, their representative plays a poor role at City Hall.

Messrs. de Selves and Lépine have of his intelligence a mediocre opinion; and, one of our friends told me the other today, regarding the councilor for the Arsenal district, that Lépine made a game of mystifying him.

"That poor Galli," said Lépine, "we can do with him what we..." wants and nothing is easier than making him vote as one He desires it. All you have to do is tell him stories that he'll swallow. immediately.

A few days ago we were discussing the inventions — silences of the churches and on the assistance provided by the police to the registration inspectors, and I assured him that In that instance, I was merely a servant of the law. operating without any hatred towards the priests and their faithful, °

"The proof," I added, "is that last week I had to make a decision about an abbot on—caught in the act of indecent exposure. He was a a new scandal which the anti-clerical press would have served against the Church and its ministers.

What have I done?

I had the guilty priest brought into my office, I I gave him a severe lecture and sent him away after having...
washed the head of importance. 2
And Galli, shaking my hand with emotion, told me...
tion:

“—Ah! That’s good, Mr. Prefect, you are a — good man.

Naturally, the story of the abbot was invented.
all pieces, like the "generosity" of Prefect Lépine.

And that's how our administrative "diplomats"
boast of € rolling” the censors that the voters bet—

200 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

his family designates, so painfully every four years, for

to defend their interests as taxpayers and citizens.

Examples of this kind abound, by the way, among us.
we saw, at Sainte-Clotilde, Mr. Denys Cochin — whom I do not However, don't confuse him with Mr. Galli — put yourself in A courtesy fee for the Prefect of Police.

Mr. Lépine had been his friend for twenty years, he said, and He boasted of his loyalty and integrity before the Catholics.
assembled on the steps of the church.

And, in response to these amabilities, Lépine also gave—early the order to its agents and the municipal guards to em—bend their sabers and the stocks of their rifles to break
the heads and smash the chests of Catholics, these other, more sincere friends of Mr. Denys Cochin.

Mr. Galli would therefore have been well advised to simply content himself with to pick, after our condemnation by the High Court, a electoral mandate, which he had so long coveted.
and without success to this day.

The organizers of the High Court had spared him,

while they had even arrested children of fourteen years, and the voters had rewarded him with trials endured by those who had sacrificed everything in the battle and which had just been closed behind

For them, for many years, the borders of the homeland

or the bars of the prisons.

And why these acts of treachery by some of the friends of Mr. Déroulède?

To make public opinion believe that the mani-
The Reuilly celebration could take place. A liberation movement... irresistible writer, vigorously and skillfully pre-prepared, and whose failure was due to "betrayal," this eternal and childish reason of those who cannot excuse-
to acknowledge their imprudence or their childish presumption.

Nothing could have been easier for me during the debates of the High Court, to put things back in their exact place
and to establish the truth about the Reuilly Affair.

I would have had some right to it since I was, of all the accused, including Déroulède, – and I hope that we will–

Your
STOP

| THE HIGH COURT A 201

dra bien not to accuse me of the crime of lèse-majesté for
to have repeated this truth here – the one who was most meborn from hatred of our political judges and their auxiliary officers of the judiciary and the police.

But it wasn't right for me to defend myself on my back
of any one of my co-defendants.

I didn't care about being prosecuted over this Af-
to do Reuilly and we did not consider the Haute A court like a tribunal, but like an assembly of politicians, determined to get rid of their adversaries,

Nantes.

But, since we need to put an end to these once and for all ridiculous stories of "treason", and since I was given the right to speak about it, imprudently involving my name in the process, I use it to say what I saw in the Place de la Nation and at the Reuilly barracks, where the Republic did not run never the slightest danger.

I will briefly recall the events of that time the death of Félix Faure and his funeral.

I had read, like everyone else, in the newspapers of February 19, 1899, that Déroulède had said, during a Demonstration at the statue of Joan of Arc: j

– Yes, my friends – he was addressing, it was written, the A crowd shouting, "To the Élysée!" – we could go there. Starting tonight, but there's a death. I respect him, but no, the newly elected member of parliament who is not, for me, the true leader of the nation. We will have to deliver in– Universal suffrage seems to be the answer. See you Thursday! Long live another Republic! Down with it! (1)

I had paid no attention to this language which had at least one fault, assuming that Déroulède was truly determined to go to the Élysée Palace the following Thursday, to publicly inform the Government.

Get advice was enough to explain the failure of what he ap– recalled his "attempt to overthrow a bad Re–

(1) Maurice Barrès reproduces these words of Déroulède in his book Scenes and Documents of the Nation (Juven publisher).

202 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

public" which he wanted to replace with a good one; ct all serious men, with experience in action Politicians have judged and will continue to judge as I have.

I therefore took this for declamation and I did not in– I thought that the attitude of the Dreyfusards, determined to taking advantage of Félix Faure's funeral to demonstrate vio– I strongly opposed the army and its leaders. I settled, with my friends, the particular action of the Great West of France for this day, February 23rd, which is shaping up to be– it was as if it were going to be eventful.

The day before, while I was making the arrangements to-
In 1990, I received successive visits from Mr. Lasics, then that of Mr. Boni de Castellane.

Lasies, excited as always, announced the reunion-tion (1) and the triumph of the good Frenchmen (1) for the next day-
hand, but was unable to tell me by what means
He expected to achieve such magnificent and seductive things.
results. na

It's understandable that I remained skeptical when Lasies told me.
He left, saying, "Tomorrow, we will be victorious."

Mr. Boni de Castellane was calmer and confined himself to me.
to ask if, the next day, my classmates and I
counting on "doing something".

Mr. Boni de Castellane had given us proof of his sympathy; I therefore had no reason to refuse to inform him about our projects which, moreover, had not nothing of the sort, since they consisted, once again, .
to make the army and the fatherland respectable among the Dreyfusards internationalists.

Mr. Boni de Castellane approved these projects and told me that, for their part, Déroulède and the League of Patriots would act energetically. H asked me if we seconderions. i

"But," I told him, "if Déroulède and his friends fight" against our common adversaries, we will not let them - not alone in the fight against the enemy, and we will try even to not let them get ahead of us.

It has since been said that the deputy from the Basses-Alpes was...

THE HIGH COURT 203

at that time, the confidant of all the "secrets" of Déroulède; it's a matter between him and the president of the League of the Palriotes; but what I do know is that he does not
He told me nothing and, above all, didn't name any of the doctors.
general, neither General de Pellieux, nor anyone else.

If he had done that, even towards me, I would have found the strange thing, because there would have been no reason for that these secrets, thus spread, stop there rather that elsewhere they did not become the "secrets of Polichi-
"nelle".

We also talked about the visit that Lasies had just made. to make me announce the liberating revolution for the next day "at a fixed time" and Mr. Boni de Castellane He left me without having "betrayed" me, even in my office. Déroulède's projects.

I should add that if I'm talking about all this here, it's because... First, that there is no longer any danger to anyone, since those convicted by the High Court in 1899-1900 have paid for everyone; and, secondly, because before me The Drumonts, the Mérys and other Spiards felt they should to deliver to the public details – how distorted! – of events of February 1899, There is still the question of the "treason" of the royals lists which Déroulède used as an excuse – a little too much loudly displayed to be exact – to its failure.

Without betraying any "secrets" of which I might be entrusted – As a sitaire, I can affirm that Déraulède has absolutely misled about the ideas of the royalists, or at least of those who approved of the Duke of Orléans' anti-Jewish manifesto in San Remo,

These royalists, with whom we share common ideas provided points of contact, far from being the advers- the saires of Déroulède at Reuilly, were, on the contrary, gori- Yaincus – they too | – like Lasies, that the revolution was for the next day. | . l And, far from hindering Déroulède's actions, they encouraged their friends to support her; with the thought, of course,

204 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

to make AI drift towards their particular solution, which was their absolute right.

So, these anti-Jewish royalists never had any luck, I have had the obvious proof, the thought of preventing Déroulède to act, on the contrary; they only wished to provide guidance. him and his supporters, and to give the adventure its conclusion of their preference. g

I can add further that they were also poorly informed- as much as possible on the real means-and on the support available to the President of the League Patriots.

And even if they had been informed of everything, they still hadn't

there is no point in opposing it, quite the contrary, because, by placing it solely from an anti-Jewish point of view, which makes- It was part of their program; they couldn't ignore it. that, without our Great Western France, Déroulède would not . could do nothing; my comrades and I were, in fact, strong enough and well-organized enough that the question anti-Jewish sentiment was assured of having a "deliberative voice" in this case. if applicable.

In stating this, I am not displaying excessive pretensions tions, because if Déroulède has some street experience and of the crowd, I am not entirely devoid of knowledge in this matter; and, at the beginning of the Dreyfusard agitation; while Déroulède was still at his hermitage in Cha- annuities, we had, from the very first day, put the parties without the traitor to reason in the street and elsewhere.

What may have an appearance of truth in the the indiscretions we've been talking about, assuming that some parts of Déroulède's secret projects - if these projects secrets really did exist - could have been known to royalist figures, that's something we mustn't forget that the royalists are divided into two clearly distinct camps tints. -

The anti-Jewish royalists, the most numerous and of the... suddenly, but the least intriguing; and the philo- royalists Semites, who have a thousand ways to harm their political co-religionists.

THE HIGH COURT 20b

It is quite obvious, for example, that if a noise of some kind of conspiracy, organized by Déroulède that by a devotee of the Duke of Orléans, could have fallen into the ear of Mr. Eugène Dufeulie, Joseph Reinach, of whom he is the regular guest, received the first one immediately confidence.

And Pon can already see the arrival of the former head of the office policies of the Count of Paris and the Duke of Orléans in the hotel lounge on Van Dyck Avenue, with the latest Juyau on "anti-Jewish and nationalist activities".

The information "obtained from reliable sources" by Mr. Du-sheet, were carefully collected by Joseph Reinach and his friends, among whom, let us not forget, we including the High Court Ranc, one of the fiercest Luxembourg's "caimans".

Having said these things, to put facts and people in their proper place,
Was the Reuilly demonstration really serious?

I will boldly answer: no; and this opinion is not new
Not from today, my friends know that... and my enemies
Also.

And she couldn't be, because Déroulède didn't have at its disposal the essential elements of action to the undertaking he said he wanted to bring to a successful conclusion.

A statement of the facts will suffice to demonstrate this.

Having no agreement with Déroulède and his friends,
I continued with my Comrades of the Great West of France, the program we had set for ourselves.

We therefore found ourselves in sufficient numbers at Père Lachaise cemetery, from where the troops were to return to their barracks after Félix's funeral Faure, to silence the anarchist gangs of prefecture, which had gathered in the same place for
to demonstrate against the army and its leaders.

And, when the troops set off, not a cry hostile action had not yet been initiated. Our adversaries were... were subjected to a census of our forces and this
had decided them to remain silent.
The next day, we found in their newspapers...

206 THE TRAFFICKERS OF DB ANTISEMITISM

articles and plans showing almost exactly the arrangements we had made to engage the ba-size, in case it had been necessary.

The Dreyfusards' continued silence, we
we set off, escorting the companies that challenged
milks in the direction of Place de la Nation.

At the corner of Boulevard de Charonne and Avenue de Taillebourg, a dislocation took place; a part of the troops continued towards Vincennes, and the other part, to the
at the head of which was a general of whom we do not know-laughing at the name, he headed towards Place de la Nation.

I had stood for a moment at the corner of the Avenue and the Boulevard to observe the attitude of our adversaries and scinto split our small army corps in two, if that had been the case-
necessary, in case anti-militarists had followed

soldiers heading towards Vincennes, to demonstrate hostile-
ment. i |

Finding nothing abnormal, we all took the ave-Taillebourg's nuc, quite behind the general who pre-yielded the troops we were accompanying.

Upon reaching the middle of this short Parisian street,
We suddenly saw the general stopped and surrounded
of a group of citizens gesticulating and pushing ex-clamor.

A Comrade, who was walking further ahead, came back in current tells us:

– Déroulède is over there with his friends.

I didn't expect to meet Déroulède at this enright, because, on several occasions during the afternoon, we had heard it said: "The Patriots' League is Place de la République.

So we continued on our way and I arrived with my comrades at the place where Déroulède and his friends were-
They were turning the general around.

There were, at most, one hundred to one hundred and fifty protesters, among whom I recognized a number of Bo-very militant and energetic Napartists who formed the vast majority of the unrolledist group,

HIGH COURT 207

I did not approach Déroulède until the troop resumed his journey.

I signaled to my comrades to gather on plu-several rows deep and along the entire length of the road we were following, holding each other's arms following our usual tactics.

I positioned myself to the right of Déroulède, who was to his left,
had Marcel Habert.

My right arm was taken by Maurice P-rrès who me
said:

– It's good of you, Guérin, to have come.

I replied to him:

– I didn't "come", I met you, el jë
I have no reason not to associate myself with seeing my-demonstration.

On foot along the way; Déroulède, who was very busy,
waving to the crowd that was watching us pass by sympathetic, at least in part, but undifferentiated, tar ëlle
No 86 joined Rioux, Déroulède, I say, shouted:

– To the Élysée Palace! Citizens, come with us to the Élysée Palace!

We thus made, about two hundred meters, of lava-
The naked Philippe-Auguste in the Faubourg Saint-Antoine, which we
we went a few steps ahead.

And, as Déroulède and his friends continued to shout
At the top of their lungs: "To the Élysée Palace! To the Élysée Palace!" cries that I was Without attaching great importance to it, I say to the President of the League of Patriots:

– You say to go to the Élysée Palace, but by which route?
Do you plan to come?

– Our friends are waiting in Place de la République,
he replied to me.

– So, if you want to join them, you're going too far far away, for we have passed the Faubourg Saint-Antoine and it would have been necessary to take Boulevard Voltaire.

Déroulède, with a quick glance, made sure that I was telling the truth;
ct t'est alors que, "eo fetournant, il compoigtia d'un geste
quick enough to brutally attack the wretched beast which
She couldn't do it, but—she probably had the büuthe gelia

208 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

possible – the bridle of the general's horse that we precededdions, shouting: |

– General, to the Élysée Palace! Come with us to the Ély-sée! ,

At that time, I was completely unaware of the provisions of the ge-general, but what I'm experiencing is that the horse, already agitated by the shouts and the movement around him, expressed his emotion by pointing several times and by threatening to unseat his rider.

This one, which had been giving siunequivocal signs of intense impatience, applied a vigorous blow with the flat of his sword on Dé-'s arm rolled up, saying to him:

– Leave my horse and give me passage!

This did not indicate an agreement between this officer and the general.
general and the President of the League of Patriots; and, as Friends of Déroulède could be heard shouting: "The army
"Is with us! To the Élysée! To the Élysée!" I asked Déroulède: j

– But who is this general?

"I don't know," he replied. "It must be a ge-"
General Dreyfusard; but that doesn't matter, he will march with
We,

At that moment Déroulède had obviously lost everything cool-headed, and when he added: "We're going to Paris, to
"The Élysée Palace!" He convinced me so little that I called our de-dedicated Dupin de Valène, who provided the service of our scourers residents in all our prepared or spontaneous events born, and I begged him to go and ask the soldiers from before-guard where the troops we were escorting were going.

11 returned to inform me that they were returning to their canton:
birth at the Reuilly barracks,

We were indeed walking down Boulevard Diderot and, during-
– that I told Déroulède that the soldiers were going to their barracks, rue de Reuilly, which we were about to reach

"To dye!" he exclaimed.

` THE HIGH COURT 209

– But that's impossible! Block off this street, my Friends, block this street!

It was too late, and that was a ridiculous tactic.
would have led, if it could have been carried out, to a conflict with the troupe, on which Déroulède said he was counting for overthrow the government.

In the blink of an eye, we were at the barracks gate, which was crossed by the soldiers and their leader, among whom mingled—rent some protesters, who had stayed with Déroulède and Marcel Habert.

All of this had seemed so strange to me that I had signal to our Comrades of the Greater West to not let—Serving the general and his soldiers, caring little about falling in a trap, in the company of a man, obviously of the best intentions, but who had just shown me how much his projects lacked solid foundations and se—laughing,

We remained for a few moments spectators of the inci—teeth that then occurred, and we saw the ma—protesters, who had entered the barracks courtyard, expelled by the guard soldiers, while Dérou—Lède was bustling about, talking and gesticulating in the middle of the courtyard and appearing to refuse to leave the neighborhood.

With the demonstration in Déroulède seemingly over, we we were prepared to follow our personal program, when Lasies, coming out of the barracks in his turn, came towards he begged me not to leave.

— Déroulède is going out, he's going to take the regiment and We are going back into Paris.

I looked at Lasies a bit like one looks at an illustration mined, speaking aloud in a dream.

"What," I said to him, "you were a soldier and even..." officer, and you come to tell me that soldiers, that the political passion does not excite in any way and those who come to return to the barracks to eat soup after a a grueling chore of the highest order, they will re—enter their belt and shoulder bag to follow a peasant, this

910 – © THE TRAFFICKERS DR ANTISEMITISM

Even if Beijing were Déroulèdé! It's a joke, isn't it? not?

And Lasies became so convinced of this that he resigned himself to follow us when we returned to the seat of the Great Western France, with at least the satisfaction of having prevented, by our presence at the Père La— cemetery chair, any attempt at violent protest against the army and against its leaders.

The conclusion to be drawn from this account, which is very faithful and very Exactly, from the scenes I witnessed, is that the general Roget, whose name we later became aware of, was not in I have absolutely no agreement with Déroulède.

Also when at the High Court, where he came to testify as witness, they committed the unclean act of confronting him with a mischievous boy, tastefully styled by an intellectual. A militant Dreyfusard, in an attempt to compromise a general officer in an adventure to which he had been haughty contempt for Prosecutor Octave Bernard and his "disdainful answers to an interrogation that was a Shame on those who imagined it.

We also mentioned the name of General de Pellieux, while this one was mottled and, consequently, in the impossibility of protecting against the role that is being assigned to him-silenced.

I don't know if General de Pellieux had taken a commitment-any kind of arrangement with Déroulède; this one, in any case, He never said it, and I congratulate Pen, especially if This commitment was able to exist.

But what I know is that, even agreeing with the - President of the League of Peers- the location had been at Place de la Nation instead of the 'General Roget, he could not have committed the folly of marching ...on the Élysée Palace; in the conquest of power, seeing what: a tiny handful of Sp, his alleged accomplice, was accompanied.

A company of this kind urgently demands |

THE HIGH COURT at i

the support of a crowd capable of leading the troops and These are not the ones, especially when they are not represented. sent, as would have been the case for General de Pellieux, that by two or three hundred men composing a simple military parade detachment, which can to start such a movement in the middle of a city like Paris. to

Trying to get people to accept stories that seem-

bles by overly naive people or by hypno- citizens manipulated by skillful staging or by detours or inflammatory articles, fine, but they don't dye Not a minute to spare for a serious exam.

Déroulède and his friends were playing their part in don- nant, in very good faith I want to believe it – we take so willingly turning his dreams into realities! – to the Case of Reuilly has an importance it never had before.

For their part, the government and its supporters have eager to let this legend of the "ter- "a dangerous situation" faced by the Republic.

– They found two advantages in it.

First, being victorious, she increased their press- stem of all the power that was so freely attributed to ` the one who was the vanquished.

"And then—and this is what they cared about most— they were preparing to make this "simple demonstration- tion", transformed into a "terrible attack", the pretext necessary and difficult to find for their coup executed a few months later.

The Reuilly Affair served as the basis for the ruling of competence- tence which allowed us to be judged and condemned despite the protests of eminent legal experts, who rightly described this ruling as a matter of jurisdiction. house.

I would gladly have left the rep- to Mr. Déroulède tation of having conceived and organized a coup d'état capable to overthrow the government, if certain of his friends, and with them Drumont and Méïÿ, did not take me to ia with such bad faith.

—~

212 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

I was willing to risk the penal colony, where Prosecutor Ber- nard was asking the Senators to send me – which is unequivocal proof that I agreed with Him, isn't that right, Messrs. Drumont and Méry? – but I I cannot extend my admiration for Mr. Déroulède to to serve as an excuse for his faults and mistakes in passing for the "Traitor", revealing secrets I never knew known but which never existed.

That is why I am speaking today, when there is no longer any danger to anyone, after remaining silent when I was most threatened and most severely affected of all those convicted by the High Court.

Everything about that 1899–1900 trial was strange.

The arrests that preceded it resulted in casualties. many among humble citizens who had never– but were involved in this demonstration in Reuilly, of which we was to form the basis of the accusation and the sole pretext convictions handed down.

And yet, neither Mr. Syveton, nor Mr. Talmeyr, nor Mr. La– Neither Sies nor Maurice Barrès were bothered.

I understand Maurice Barrès, because our new– This academician is, above all, a writer, and he is silent there. more as a historian, always interesting to read, than as a conspirator.

And he had the integrity never to be among the slanderers of prisoners and outlaws.

I also understand that the government may not have considered imprisoning Mr. Talmeyr, whose name is mentioned among the people surrounding Déroulède instead of the Nation (1).

Mr. Talmeyr, whom I don't recall ever having I was told that he was nothing like an adventurer; he was, pavatt– He, a calm man, curious about studies likely to RD material for copying good report and placement

(1) Article by Mr. Ronnamour and Scenes and Doctrines of Nationalism Maurice Barrès (Jüven publisher). to easy, and I only had to deal with him regarding one article published in Le Gaulois by Mr. Arthur Meyer.

THE HIGH COURT 213

This article was titled Fort Friedland and Mr. Tal– Meyer defended a young gentleman who was accused of special customs, but which had the appeal, not disdained–

It was understandable for Mr. Talmeyr to be the son of a wealthy family rich and capable of being grateful to the advocates of the accused.

Mr. Talmeyr insinuated that the arrest of the young man from Adels-Ward was a diversion at some opera, I don't remember which one. government action – that, I believe, of the expulsion of congregations, which Mr. Talmeyr and his friends have never defended, other than by the pen – hence the Fort Friedland, an inappropriate allusion to Fort Chabrol.

I had to make Mr. Maurice Talmeyr understand everything the impropriety of his conduct and to demand from the Gaul the inserving of my letter. Us

I should add that I was still in exile when Mr. Talmeyr seemed allowed himself to write his article, while this ex-manifesto – so much of Reuilly, so well protected by the police of the minister – Mr. Waldeck, was enjoying the pleasure of a kind and sumptuous hospitality in a castle in the South of France.

Mr. Talmeyr owed a great deal to those who kept me in their cells, a proof of recognition, for not having never thought of sending it, even for twenty-four hours, to Depot or at La Santé prison, where they remained for many months young people like Cailly and Brunet.

Wasn't I right to say that everything was strange? in this High Court trial, for which the government – nement found before, during and even after, contrary peculiar courses to aggravate, through trials infinitely painful morals, the condemnations that he had dictated against the men he wanted to get rid of – shave. i

Next to Messrs. Maurice Barrès and Talmeyr were also Messrs. Syveton and Lasies; and it is necessary to agree – to say that both could and should be considered denounced as proven conspirators, because they counted among the leaders of the opposition.

214 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

Neither of them was bothered, however.

For what ?

For Lasies, I can understand it to a point. Gest un packed; and, free, it poses little danger to its adversaries.
saires. His eloquence from the South! serves them on the contrary;
And, if he were involved in a serious conspiracy, it would be primarily SOS accomplices who might be in danger because of him.

His imagination is inexhaustible and his hesoin do par-
Limitless learning.

When he came to testify as a witness before the High Court,
His statements were such that Prosecutor Bernard,
In his indictment, he was able to say:

– The defendants and their lawyers contested the depositions of prosecution witnesses, cited by the prosecution to demonstrate the existence of the conspiracy; I have not been-
I care for all these witnesses; one alone suffices for me, and that one,
The defendants will not reject him; he is one of them, and that is My best witness is Mr. Lasies.

And Prosecutor Bernard was right, because Lasies was came to say, in the bar of the High Court, that, if the agreement

The agreement between the accused could have taken place during a meeting which had taken place at the headquarters of the Grand Occident of France, this would not be the defendants in the High Court who would in prison, but the Senators and their friends.
At this meeting, where representatives of the organizations opposition parties were to meet to decide on a joint action: against anti-patriotic demonstrations questions of the Dreyfusards, MM. Galli, Le Provost de Launay and Lasies wanted to impose the direction on everyone unique to Déroulède, whereas I advocated, okay with the majority of the assembly, a Federation of organa-
opposition groups, each of these organizations hyaït, in the Federation's Steering Committee, one or several representatives.

The unfolded combination At failed the agreement and bn se sénaya plutôt mécontents les unà des autres .

LL HIGH COURT 216

We think if Lasies' statement made a difference to T's effect on Our adversaries have become our judges.

And one of them, Maxime Lecomte if my memory serves me right.
"Exact!" he exclaimed.

– That proves we were right to take the fronts |

Lasies had valiantly "made white with... our sword".

He could perhaps have left that task to some of us and to others, but her temperament does not allow her reflection when concerned about the "dignity" of his "friends" the concerned one.

Later, at the time of the amnesty vote, he still preserved the "dignity" of the outcasts, by taking viodemented to part of the former Minister of War, André, deleted, however, long ago, and with which he was to you and to you in the corridors of the Chamber above-forward.

I hold no resentment towards any of this.
Lasies; but we will agree that this is quite inconsistent.

And it's not with inconsistency and inconsistencies.
that we can hope to defeat political tacticians of the strength and experience of our opponents.

Hence the persistent defeats of the opposition; which
It may surprise that the ignorant and the overly cr-dules.

Uri, another protester from Reuilly, also benefited of governmental clemency; and that one was, or of the less was considered, for a person of importance.

I want to bet on Mr. Syveton.

I was unaware that Syveton had been on Déroulède's side in Reuilly and it took Maurice Barrès' book to...
Learn it later.

Why wasn't Syveton involved in the plot and nothing was stopped, while he was incarcerated
it was simply a matter of ordinary workers, who had committed no other
It is a crime to be part of our Greater West
From France?

216 EES TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

It is true that the opposition's failures, despite a first partial victory in the municipal elections of 1909, being due in very large part to the intrigues of Syveton, the ministry was well advised to let him be free

to continue and perfect the work of disorganization opposition forces.

I will return to Mr. Syveton's role in a cha-
the following clown to demonstrate what I am asserting here.

+

The High Court convened and the captivity order issued,
we attended, as not disinterested spectators, the
the most odious farce of justice imaginable
see.

For my part, in addition to the charges that the prosecution had united against me, and which made me liable to the death penalty, along with simple punishments
police, for throwing household waste over the walls
from Fort Chabrol and at irregular hours!
The file of the Investigating Commission contained the most abominable accusations of which, several times already, I had led to the conviction of the perpetrators, who were found guilty of lying and
of slander. | | : |

Anonymous brochures, which I handed over to the Public Prosecutor's Office, for the legal proceedings I had initiated, were resumed
by the accusation, and I was threatened with sensational depositionstionals from which my definitive confusion was bound to result and the demonstration that I was an abominable bandit.

That's all!

Waldeck, his police officers, and the judges were not looking for only to eliminate me, but they wanted to try to dishonor me beforehand.

This task was entrusted to witnesses Mallet, Verdier, Ro-Blin and Haranchipy, characters I wouldn't take There's no point even talking here if their depositions, of-
before the High Court Commission, were not the
the most obvious proof of the 'infamous' manipulations at-what recourse did the government have against a man

THE HIGH COURT 217

who had the great satisfaction and the great honor of
to deserve the hatred of his enemies to such an extent.

When the printed file was handed to us, my co-accused, our lawyers and our friends showed me their concerns about the method used against me.

And the most experienced lawyers kept on tell me:

– Beware of what is being plotted against you. You are not in an ordinary court, where it is it is already so easy for a rogue President to gag a accused person they want to dishonor. You are going to be dealing with political opponents, and an Attorney General ready to do anything to deserve the promotion promised to him following the High Court's decision. You will have a very difficult time. to do justice to this scaffolding of slander and lies, and your situation as the accused in these conditions tions is particularly atrocious.

I replied to everyone: |

“– Rest assured, slander and lies are not dangerous only when they move in the shadows and during– that the slanderers hide and escape all responsibility. Far from being moved or worried by what is happening Prepares against me, on the contrary, I am pleased. It is the first time that, publicly, I will find myself with my slanderers and I answer you that it is me who will have the last word in the adversarial debate which is being prepared, and I await in complete tranquility the conscience and mind.

The first witness was Mr. Mallet, an important industrialist. so much, deputy mayor of the 19th arrondissement and to whom I had been entrusted with the task of "executing" it.

The roles changed; and, far from having to experience the the effects of this individual's hatred, it is I who condefeated: for fraud against customs and excise; of crimes of hoarding and collusion, falling under the application of article 419 of the Penal Code; of deception to with regard to large railway companies and odious and dishonest conduct towards her collaborators the most loyal and devoted.

218 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTI-SEMITISM

The testimonies of Messrs. Lucas and Warin and of Ms. Pa-Gniesz, to name just these names, completed the fixing the opinion on the principal character witness cited against Me.

These witnesses affirmed the consistent correctness of my Mallet's conduct and unfair practices.

One of them, Mr. Lucas, even added:

– I did a lot of business with Messrs. Guérin and Mallet, but I had to give up all relations with the latter, so as not to be compromised in dishonest operations.

Mallet's deposition lasted almost two hearings, and, It ended before I had even finished providing the irrefutable evidence of the character's unworthiness, on the protests of the senators who, stunned by the at-Mallet's pitiful state, which seemed to implore his return He saw from there the bar where he was literally collapsing, demanding end of the deposition by shouting: .

– But the witness becomes the accused. Do it. leave.

After Mallet, I was waiting for the next day for the compa- The testimony of witnesses Verdier, Roblin, Haranchipy and I had requested various existing files from the Public Prosecutor's Office and con-surrounding these individuals.

To obtain these files, I had to submit concluding arguments. sions, long motivated, and this against the will from Prosecutor Bernard that the High Court had to decide that they would be communicated to me.

A contrary decision would have been too scandalous and, On the other hand, the members of the High Court did not suspect- They were not aware of what these files contained and what I was going to find weapons there.

I even believe that Prosecutor Bernard was unaware of it. element.

What made me believe it was that the next day, at the mo- – where we were preparing to appear in court,

LA LAUTE COUR 219

I saw my lawyer, Mr. Joseph Mé-, arrive in my cell. nard, who announced to me, quite triumphantly, that after the deposition Mallet's sition, which had turned into confusion for the accusation At the hearing, Prosecutor Bernard abandoned the idea of hearing the

Witnesses: Verdier, Roblin and Haranchipy.

To the surprise, whether genuine or feigned, of Mr. Ménard, I did not share his satisfaction.

If the Attorney General, who had taken note of the files requested by me, wished not to see in court the witnesses he so prudently renounced, I wish-lais vif, poür mǎ patt, me trouver en leur présence and publicly.

I therefore informed Mr. Ménard of my intention to... to cite if the prosecution were to abandon them.

Mr. Ménard, despite his insistence, could not make me... he denounced my determination and he announced to me that he was going to communicate to Prosecutor Bernard.

The next day, a new approach and a new insistence from Ménard to get me to agree to the non-hearing of three testimonies in question.

I made it very clear to him that my decision was not in no way modified.

My defender returned a third time, fleeing the charge
Two days later, by asserting myself as supreme the reason, that these hearings would prolong, considered the debates were stifled – which did not move me –
but that my co-defendants would bear the consequences
the judges' bad mood, while, among them,
a large number could already count on an acquitabsolutely certain.

This argument made me agree to not hearing the Messrs. Verdier, Roblin and Haranchipy, but on the condition absolute that, although zón comparants at the bar, I would have the right to discuss their depositions in my. explained-tions and to produce evidence of their lies and of their slander.

Mr. Ménard went to see Prosecutor Bernard and

220 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

He informed me that my rights would be respected as I
I desired it.

When, upon my return from exile, I saw Mr. Ménard at his home,

To put it simply, I want to express my thoughts on his conduct towards me. In light of the past few years, I reminded him this High Court incident and I asked him how—lying, having been the spokesperson for Prosecutor Bernard to get me to consent to the absence of witnesses. Having not been heard, he allowed it to be published without protest. in La Libre Parole, that if these hearings had not. This took place following a secret and direct agreement between I was Prosecutor Bernard.

— What you say is correct, and I protested to Drumont and Méry against their claims.

"This protest was never known," he replied. I said, and you owed it to your reputation as a lawyer and an honorable— You, a simple man, didn't formulate it publicly. You didn't have. You didn't do it, you let me be slandered by miseries—bles, whose bad faith you acknowledge, but whose. You remained a friend, making you, through your silence, the complicit in their infamies.

And, Mr. Ménard, whose attitude was pitiful, to reply:

— What do you want, I have my own personal interests to me—swimming and I couldn't protest publicly without me to create enemies capable of doing me a lot of harm.

How beautiful and elevated is the role of the lawyer thus—bounded to the interests of the individual and the satisfaction of his political ambitions!

Not only did Mr. Ménard not protest against the calumnies from his friends Drumont and Méry, but, to mis—to withdraw the subsidies from the Libre Parole electoral fund and that of Syveton, crates which were deliberately confused a third since Drumont had reconciled with the one he called the ridiculous and pretentious pawn, the great treasurer of the French Fatherland, my defender of the High Court he became the man for all organized legal enterprises

—oo ne

THE HIGH COURT 21

targeted against our Great Western France, its journalists naux, its proscribed General Delegate and its members.

I will return to this subject in more detail later

speaking of the lawsuits brought against us by Mr. Devos, trials in which Mr. Joseph Ménard played a part a role of loyalty and honesty that is more than debatable.

Why did Attorney General Octave Ber-
Was Nard so eagerly giving up on the hearing?
Witnesses Verdier, Roblin and Haranchipy?

That's what he had learned from the court records which I had "demanded" communication, that these individuals were exposed to the most unpleasant setbacks if one had the imprudence to confront them with me in the dock of the High Court. D

De Verdier, whom I will not discuss here (as with the two other characters) than because of his role as a witness to The High Court, I have little to say to re-to put the facts in their exact place.

When I met this individual, he was associated with a Mr. Caen for the trade of oils and greases at their factory and stores were in Plaine-Saint-Denis

The situation of the two partners was, on the surface, prosperous; and, when I welcomed the proposals they made to me did, I was completely unaware that their company did not live was worth more than just the circulation of convenience bills, negotiated by the brother-in-law of the Jew from Caen, interested in a Discount bank, which has since gone bankrupt ture.

This awkward situation of Verdier and Caen was to me revealed a few months after the founding of our May- his Verdier, Caen and Guérin, which had as its object the importation of refined petroleum products, along with I learned that 195,000 francs in drafts, bearing my name, had been put into circulation without my knowledge.

These bills of exchange had been handed over by Messrs. Verdier and

_ Caen to the latter's brother-in-law to cover the debt

292 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

important that the private house of my two dependents companies had in the Cahn and Co. bank house",

I asked for an explanation regarding this irregular traffic. gulière, first to Verdier who placed all the blame on Caen, then to the one who tried to look down on him in telling me: that as a general partner he had only used his right, by creating these treaties also signed by me name.

We think about how I received this reason and I I told Mr. Caen, as well as his brother-in-law, that if these drafts were not immediately withdrawn and destroyed, I will file a complaint with the Public Prosecutor's Office against those responsible.

These treaties were withdrawn and Caëh, què Verdier aban- gave rise to my legitimate resentment, had to leave our house.

We settled his situation; he received the share that could- it was coming back to him; and, a few months later, Verdier was... He also broke off their association with him. Verdier and Chen. d

This separation of the two partners was explained by... all the better that the share capital of their particular business- The liere - 300,000 francs - had long since been devoured, "By Verdier," said Caen, "By Caen," replied Verdier.

And, when the first brochure appeared in 1892... between me, signed by a Mr. Boivin, who later implored my pity to avoid the effects of the condemnation which had reached him for his slander and defamation, I I asked two friends, including Mores, to accompany me to Caen, which we found with some difficulty and which must confess before my witnesses the accuracy of what I reproduce here.

And, to provide proof of the bad faith of Drumont and his scribe Gaston Méry, who have dared to write, in La Libre Parole, in 1902, that they were unaware Absolutely these incidents, here is what La Libre Parole - published in its issue of March 11, 1893:

THE HIGH COURT 223

Minutes.

We certify that Mr. Caen acknowledged in our presence:

lo Sa pos to the brochure signed Boivin;

20 That he had had to leave the Verdier, Caen and Guérin company following an abuse made, for his personal benefit, of the signature by means of false bills of exchange, amounting to approximately 125,000 francs, put into circulation by him.

This confession was made to us on February 25, 1893, during a visit to Mr. Caen, at his home, 17, rue Lagrange, at 6:45 of the goir.

Signed: Marquis pe Morks, LEFÈVRE..

As for the rest of the brochure, which was of the same accuracy that the part concerning the Jew Caen and his grievances against me, I addressed two letters to the signatory Boivin. witnesses, even taking the initiative to propose the prior constitution before any meeting, of a jury of honor-aeur before deciding the question of honorability to my subject, and that of the good or bad faith of my adversaries.

After very long talks, caused by the pecuniaries of Mr. Boivin, here is the letter that my witnesses they sent me and which was also published by La Libre Parole, in its issue of March 4, 1893, to the fourth column of the first page:

Oh friend,

We have offered, on your behalf, to Mr. Boivin, the constitution prior tuton of an honorary jury, to which he refers sion in its brochure.

This honorary jury, which he was unable to constitute-kill immediately, had to reunite, agreed with us, at the return from Saint-Mihiel, that is to say today at three oures.

We have just received a letter from Mr. Boivin in which he announces that he is backing down from your offer to constitution of the Honorary Jury and he invokes fan-pretex-taisisteu, from which it appears that the people he named-

224 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

Those mentioned in his brochure refuse to follow him in the field insulting and defamatory where he has positioned himself.

Mr. Boivin acknowledges his powerlessness to prove these defamation claims you made and, moreover, he refused to grant you the reparation by arms to which you have the right.

We must declare, to edify the people who have We were able to receive Mr. Boivin's brochure, which you gave us enabled to judge the value of the allegations contained therein outfits, in naus accompanying at the home of one of the aforementioned persons,

She admitted to us that the accusations of Mr. Boivin's statements were inaccurate and that, far from having had to To complain about you, on the contrary, it was you yourself who had to protest against the acts of which she was guilty.

Signed: Morks, LEFÈVRE. |

As we can see, it required an uncommon audacity. to Messrs. Drumont and Gaston Méry to resume, in 1902, that is to say, ten years later, against me, the infamies that were... forgotten in 1893, when La Libre Parole had recorded the evidence of the slander to which I had been subjected:

part of political opponents who were, at the time, also those of my latest slanderers.

The Boivin brochure, which includes all the different campaigns famatory accusations that were made against me for twenty years, had been primarily inspired by the Petroler Mallet. l

And, when the time for responsibility comes, when, asking Boivin is aware of his insults and slander;

. had to run the risks of the infamies committed, Mal- Boivin was letting go, refusing to follow him onto the field in- legal and defamatory in which he found himself caught; but, from Furthermore, here is the statement that Mr. Mallet made to me to hand over in order to escape the consequences of his con- duite:

Paris, March 7, 1898.
Mr. Jules Guérin:

Having had the opportunity to see Mr. Paul Mallet, and of Pentre-

"I have a brochure signed by Boivin," this merchant told me

CRE

THE HIGH COURT 225

having communicated to Mr. Boivin, at his request, in a but exclusively political, a number of documents relating to a lawsuit brought against you by the Société de Colombes, – but to have remained completely uninvolved in the writing of cotte brochure and the opinions it expresses.

Signed: Pierre Purn.

All these documents, and many more, which he– It would be impossible to reproduce here, because of the space that they would take, were read in the High Court; and, nor Mr. Mallet, nor anyone else, dared to deny its accuracy. or to challenge its scope.

The Boivin brochure was later reissued under false pretenses. names or with names and addresses of printers having never existed, I filed a complaint against the au– Those responsible for this garbage were convicted several times; and it was in the files of these trials that I had ruled in favor of my slanderers, as the Prosecutor Bernard and the High Court's Investigating Committee went to find evidence for their accusations, including it was so easy for me to publicly ripen completely until– tice,

–The bad faith of Drumont and Gaston Méry was pushed to such an extent that they ended up forgetting the assessments that they had published, in the accounts Proceedings of the High Court hearings, reports signed by Gaston Méry himself.

If I wanted to reproduce all the articles from La Libre Words condemning the conduct of his Director, it is by hundreds that I should count.

One quote will suffice.

(Libre Parole, November 21, 1899). But it was throughout The audience stirred with indignation when Guérin, all stirred himself with the words he had spoken, demonstrating the ridiculousness of the documents in the file, proura that part of the requi-

The site had been copied – verbatim, word for word – on an anonymous pamphlet, the work of some Jew, which some years earlier the Public Prosecutor's Office had,

8

226 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

– Ohl... said the entire audience in unison.

Mr. Ménard stood up.

In a few words he demonstrated that the infamy committed was even more abominable than his client claimed.

This brochure, in fact, is by Érant Guérin himself, who HAD HANDED IT OVER TO THE ATTORNEY GENERAL.

Signed: Gaston Mér.

If the High Court's accusations were infamous, if

The listeners at the hearing of November 20, 1899, shuddered.
of indignation at the denunciation of such judicial procedures
what should we feel for the men who have,
Three years later, copied and rewritten to make articles insulting and slanderous against an outlaw, the same brochures, reproduced in an indictment which they described as were proud of the infamous and the ridiculous.

I could, it seems to me, stop there regarding the testimonies of Messrs. Verdier, Roblin and Haranchipy, taken up by Gaston Méry and Drumont, and send back the readers
authors to the official reports published by L'Eclair, according to the stenographic record of the debates, reports which mentioned, in all their details, the refutations and the evidence of the lies committed to try to me dishonor.

But I would like to dedicate a few lines to each of the witnesses, so prudently excluded from the High Court by the Attorney General Bernard,

For Verdier, there are witnesses and indisputable evidence.
'.- and which, moreover, were never discussed by per-sound – establish that this individual never had to
to pity me, when on the contrary I had against him
the most serious grievances.

And, when he said, in his deposition:

– Guérin made me lose a lot of money, by agreeing-lying, this false claim of gossip from a
His imbecility would make even the most gullible smile; he was a demon-
It is true that the only sums lost by Verdier, e? by my

has

THE HIGH COURT 297

His mistake was that he hoped to reach the Petrolers.
united, for the disappearance of our rival company
of their companies, a combination in which I find myself
I formally refused to enter, while the share that one
The amount paid to me was 500,000 francs while Messrs. Ver-Dier and Caen each had to be content with 150,000 francs.

Hence the 300,000 francs that I obviously caused to be lost to These gentlemen, who were ready to sell themselves, because that I did not like to let myself be bought, |

To lose his fortune and that of his family, Mr. Verdier didn't need anyone's help.

It was quite sufficient there; and, scarcely associated with
I heard him and his friend Caen reproach Verdier of being lazy, a party animal, of spending his nights gambling where he was losing considerable sums of money.

In a single evening, at the Cercle du Château d'Eau, rue
From Bondy, he left 15,000 francs at baccarat.

Under these conditions, we can understand how much capital
from their oil house in Plaine-Saint-Denis, went quickly.

300,009 francs at that rate won't last long.

Verdier's reputation, as a player and as a...
late, was well established in the "world of fun".

He was even honored with a special chapter in a book, The Memoirs of a Rabbit-Layer, which appeared
in 1887.

It stated that, during a trip by Verdier to New-York, where he was going for the Verdier house and Caen, having brought along a girlfriend, she, on the
the ocean liner attracted the attention of a very wealthy merchant

Chicago pigs.

And the beautiful girl – Margot was her name – posed at Verdier to issue his ultimatum.

– Give me 20,000 francs, which are offered to me by the Rich American, or I'll "drop you".

To avoid being "abandoned" by the Chicago Man, Verdier "casqua" the large sum; what his associate Caen found it very bad, because the funds, thus sacrificed to an operation so completely unrelated to the affairs of the house in Saint-Denis, were intended to buy oils and fats, and not to grease the "paw" of the Sweet Margot.

258 _ THE TRAFFICKERS DR ANTISEMITISM

Verdier never disputed the accuracy of this story from across the Atlantic, and I have personally too often noted Verdier's lamentable condition, when his cruel Margot refused him access to her lags, the rent of which was, however, the responsibility of the one she called irrespety his "greasy", for having been able to doubt a moment regarding the accuracy of the author's information from these Memoirs of a Rabbit-Layer.

Since then, Verdier has become a bookmaker, a merchant of "unbreakable pipes," under the high patronage of his good friend, Rondeaux (1), director of Paris-Courses.

–Ask, complete results, for trips!

I was not surprised to learn, while I was in exile, how much the presence of this regular reader of our Hippo-urban and intercity dromes did little to flatter Mr. Stephen Pichon, his cousin by marriage, when Verdier felt obliged to go to the train station platforms to present his best wishes to our Resident General in Tunisia, when 'He was either arriving in Paris or leaving the capital.

– It is most regrettable, said one day an attaché of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, which knows Verdier and his current acquaintances, which this gentleman does not com-Don't assume that his place is not here.

Verdier was one of Drumont's, Méry's, and Spiard-Oswald against me; and, in doing so, he suffocated his personal hatred and his political hatred, because, one must not

(1) One night of excessive revelry, an adventure befell Verdier and his friend Rondeaux, which Mr. Olids, the merchant on Rue Drouot, must remember.— Our two Partygoers, very drunk, were wandering around around 8 a.m., going to get We were resting well when, passing by Mr. Olida's shops, the idea The man had just grabbed a huge wheel of Gruyère cheese to play discus rolling. The boys intervened: discussion, quarrel, fight with our Detox for the thugs who wanted to continue their game and, finally, a good roll received by Verdier and Rondeaux. The latter, defeated but not content, had the idea of a Sign M, Olida for assault and battery, and the correctional court dismissed you aveo, congratulations to the inconvenienced trader.

|

* THE HIGH COURT ~ 28A

Not to be overlooked, Verdier was a militant Dreyfusard.
in his capacity as a Protestant and Freemason.
— Down with Dreyfus! Away with the Freemasons! Isn't that

No, gentlemen Drumont and Méry!

But let's leave Verdier to his combinations of bookmaker, and let's come to this other witness of the High Court and Drumont: Mr. Roblin.

I could say "the Roblin brothers," because there are two of them,
The father and the son.

The son was presented to me by Mores, who himself had known by Drumont.

He proposed to my brother and me that we enter into a re-business development and to take an interest in imports of Oil that we had companies.

He had the air of a serious boy, eager to create for himself an occupation; we accept.

We soon realized that Roblin's son was only looking for a pretext for handling ar-gent, and, as our time was largely occupied by handling, purchasing and sales, we had left, at his request, the responsibility for accounting and the financial aspect.

As an accountant, he brought us a bizarre, absounsuitable for any accounting work, but who considered him a great inventor who, we affirm-Master Roblin, imagined a basket of a special shape, to to attach to the rear ends of the hens to prevent them from break their eggs!!

We were forced to dismiss this peculiar comp-
table, which the Roblins replaced with another individual,
even more incapable than the first, and who hadn't even not the excuse of dreaming of inventions, even if they are also biodd that the little basket in question.

Forced to get rid of it, once again, our
Our partner brought us a lame man who couldn't walk.
more or less straight, just to get going with the cash register.

230 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

We wonder if, under these conditions, our accounting was well maintained.

Roblin Jr., while he was taking care of our funds, had been given a power of attorney by Roblin senior to administer his account at Crédit Lyon-
born,

He fulfilled this obligation in such a way that he could, by means of 500 francs that he officially withdrew every month from
'our social fund, having horses and cars, boyluxuriously furnished apartment, 1, place d'Iéna, of which he had entrusted the decoration to a talented artist who had painted on the walls of this very elegant young apartment partygoer, suggestive compositions, well made for
to interest the regulars of the place.

And, when Mr. Roblin Jr. traveled, he disdained the democratic railway, preferring roads to it, which he traveled in a comfortable carriage, drawn by two postmen and accompanied by a coachman-footman who
It complemented such a magnificent crew perfectly.

With such a lifestyle, the father's account lasted...
little by little, and then one fine day, he found himself completely dry.

We were in the midst of a struggle with the allied oil companies.
who, having been separated for a year, had just unionized again and who ardently desired the disappearance of our modest home.

To make up for the deficit he created in the family fund—Roblin then conceived the idea of negotiating with our competitors the fall of our house; and, in anticipation of the putting to Having executed this plan, he began to rob our stores of all valuable merchandise that it could easily steal in our absence.

Ti operated mainly on raw materials for perfumes merie, because these materials were very expensive under a very small volume.

And, one of the reasons that had determined the Prosecutor General Renard dismissed Roblin's deposition, that is that, in one of the files, which I had requested, by name—

THE HIGH COURT 234

numerous statements from our former employees denounce—were hiding these diversions.

And, in terms of grievances, there were really only those — How justified! — that we had the right to formulate against our unscrupulous associate.

Upon leaving our house, Roblin established himself as a perfumer. under the name Roblin and Co.

The "Company" consisted of the "dad" landlord from some of the funds and a few friends, skillfully "They tapped them" and never saw their money again.

And, since scruples had not yet occurred to the Roblins, Since we got rid of them, it happened to them a rather unpleasant adventure, which ended with a unfair competition lawsuit and a conviction 8,000 francs in damages and 3,000 francs for insert—articles in newspapers chosen by Messrs. Roger and Gallet, the well-known and honorable perfumers.

Messrs. Roblin and C'e had devised a plan to counterfeit the trademark universally renowned colognes from Jean—Marie—Farina, and the Civil Court of the Seine (1st Chamber) in his judgment (1), very harshly reasoned for the falsifiers, ordered the confiscation and destruction of all leaflets, current price lists, labels, stamps, invoices, which had been seized and described.

This conviction marked the end of the new entre—

Roblin & Co.'s acquisition, which had swallowed up huge sums of money load-bearing.

Since then, Roblin Jr. has used his business talents towards automobiles, with which he will perhaps be more happy, unless another accident happens to him!

As for the father, who came as a witness to vouch for him... testimonial of Gaston Méry's loyalty and good faith – and it is only in his capacity as a witness in this case that I take care of him here – he remained a firebrand of the Circle of Letters and Arts, where it also functions as: "Lender," a profession that reportedly pays well

(1) The Gesette des Tribunenx of January 21, 1901 published the judgment in full,

232 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

more than that of a perfumer, even by falsifying the competing brands to deceive buyers.

And let no one imagine that I embroider for pleasure to avenge myself for the false testimonies of Messrs. Roblin, father and sons, for here is one of the letters that were sent, in May 1902, to Gaston Méry to protest against his subscriptions pathetic lies:

Mr. Gaston Méry,

I must tell you of the astonishment I felt. when I saw you speaking, in dithyrambic tomes, of the high honor of Messrs. Roblin, father and son.

I'll leave aside the latter, whom I don't know; but, For the other one, it is not the same.

He couldn't believe his eyes, because it was the first time that he is awarded, except by people of his own kind, equally laudatory descriptions.

You seem to have only superficial information about him; I will enlighten you. | 1
Formerly, Cashier-lender of the Circle of Two Worlds, one claims that he made a considerable fortune there under certain conditions honorable people. I won't insist, because I only know it from... hearsay; but I saw him at Pœuvre in the English Lounge where he preached was at 50 0/0 per quarter, or 200 0/0 per year, to the players excavated.

Mr. Guérin was mistaken in calling him a proprietor of Inpanar, he should have said "claquedent".

+

Gaston Méry did not boast about the reception of this letter, nor, moreover, of a number of others whose authors sent me the copies.

And it was this Roblin senior who came to the Ninth Chamber, in 1902, during my exile, to vouch for the honorability of Gaston Méry's birth, adding that, for his part, he had caught one day breaking into a safe.

And, as my lawyer was requesting the court to acknowledge a "such an enormous, which constituted the most blatant of forgeries

$

THE HIGH COURT 233

According to testimonies, the President tried to get the gentleman out of this predicament Roblin, saying to him:

– Don't tell stories like that, you're going too far—
Set the measure; go and sit down.

I nevertheless prosecuted Roblin senior for forgery. testimony, and I was dismissed, under the fanciful pretext that the testimony, against which I protested, had not had of no importance to the Court that had heard him.

He still prospered for a long time, when this judgment was rendered, I had to give up pursuing this case, as others of the same kind; my forced separation and the enormous costs resulting from these trials made me ren— were impossible to support.

As for the fourth witness, Haranchipy, he was also dismissed.

by Prosecutor Bernard, it was even more extraordinary—
naire, ;

This individual had come to rehearse before the Commission instruction from the High Court, October 16, 1899, a abominable slander, directed first against my brother and that on that day he formulated a complaint against me.

However, six months earlier, following an investigation and of an expert opinion requested by us, Mr. Haranchipy had been forced to confess his heinous lies.

The proof was in one of the files, which I had demanded communication; and, however, the Commission the investigation, chaired by Senator Bérenger, had not did not hesitate to record this new infamy, which had been gathered under the oath of Senator Chovet. We wonder if, under these conditions, the Attorney General wanted to avoid the appearance of Mr. [Name] as a witness Haranchipy.

This individual was also, in 1902, one of the guarantors of Gaston Méry and Drumont; however, the Libre Parole had published, on May 7, 1900, four months after my The arrest at Clairvaux, the following note in second grade pase, as a judicial report of the Courts of the day before + |

+

234 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

The Haranchipy-Guérin affair.

Mr. Louis Guérin, brother of the prisoner of Clairvaux, poar-.followed, before the eighth correctional chamber, one of the witnesses of the High Court, at whose hearing Mr. the Prosecutor-General Bernard, who had cited him along with all the others enemies of Jules Guérin, felt compelled to give up.

Mr. Haranchipy had accused Mr. Louis Guérin of having con-Haranchipy forged his signature and falsified it. affixed to the bottom of a company document that bound him to Mr. Guérin.

An investigation has been opened against Mr. Guérin for the crime of false, naturally, resulted in a dismissal order.

Expert Charavay stated that the piece, alleged to be a forgery by Mr. Huranchipy, was indeed the latter's; and, of two other pieces, which he said had been signed by Louis Qué-rin; Mr. Haranchipy had to acknowledge himself as the author.

Under these conditions, Louis Guérin had no choice but to as-

Mr. Haranchipy signed for slanderous denunciation,

Mr. Joseph Ménard, with his usual skill, supported the complaint, and Haranchipy looked pitiful when he—after lengthy debates and deliberations, the President reads a judgment that sentences him to fifteen days a suspended prison sentence, a fine of 100 francs and 2,090 francs damages.

The individual, thus convicted of slanderous denunciation—nieuse, to a fine, to damages and to the prison, had been put in contact with us through business the brother of one of our friends who highly recommended—Mr. Haranchipy, who had just completed a an inheritance of 53,000 francs, and wanted, we were told, to enter—to take on a case.

Of this inheritance of 53,000 francs, 20,000 francs were initially absorbed by various creditors who were waiting This has been a boon for years.

During the few months that the intro— trade lasted Caught by Haranchipy, he spends on feasts and gambling and in satisfactions of all kinds, more than 15,000 francs.

THE HIGH COURT 235

Some months amounted to 4,000 francs in expenses.

And, as we had entrusted funds and equipment important, bought back by us and by our mother from our liquidation with Mr. Roblin, we had to worry—to determine the fate of our interests, managed by a debtor, so sparing of his personal resources,

At that moment, Haranchipy was backed into the worst difficulties. cultivated; pursued, seized and about to be sold by old and new creditors, he begged us to to help him get out of this predicament, citing his sick condition and playing the part of a gentleman about to lose his mind.

We took pity on the individual, truly believing him sick, and we went back up the house whose management was entrusted to my brother, assuming the burden of the liabilities advertised as being 9,000 francs, whereas it amounted to in reality, more than 20,000 francs.

Caught between our very legitimate dissatisfaction at having were thus deceived, and the legal proceedings of his creditors personnels, who overwhelmed him with stamped paper, Haranchipy He imagined offering his services to the Petrolier Mallet. claiming we had committed forgeries for ourselves to seize his house... and to pay off his debts.

Maillet believed this fable and gave 1,000 francs to Haranchipy. and made him file a complaint against my brother (1),

This denunciation was recognized as slanderous and Haranchipy confessed, before the investigating judge and before the expert appointed to examine the handwriting, to be indeed the author signatures that he had initially disputed.

The sentence that had been handed down to Haranchipy for The false accusation was serious, and I had the right to demand a review of the High Court trial.

So the condemned man appealed, and the Court overturned the judgment, invoking "weakness of mind" obvious to the whistleblower," which lessened his responsibility to harm us.

(i) Witnesses heard in the High Court came forward to affirm that Siour Haranchipy had admitted to having made a deal with Mallet and having received money from him.

h

296 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

bility and removed the character of "bad faith" from his charge.

The judges in Luxembourg were thus rid of them. of a serious boredom and the false witness Haranchipy drawn from a bad step due to "imbecility".

This was not the first time this individual had escaped pays a deserved sentence, for the same reason; because, as a deserter, he had been brought before a council of During the war, his lawyer, Mr. C... senior, managed to get him acquitted. such as "unconscious".

I have a twofold reason for talking about Haranchipy as deserter. First, to cite his first acquittal. for unconsciousness, and then because Drumont and Gaston Méry, relying on his testimony, published in Free Speech, which I had registered as my address in 1895

Germany, in Mannheim, to spare me from doing
a period of twenty-eight days.

The deserter Haranchipy denouncing my anti-patriotism ism! You have to be Drumont and Méry to find any similar testimonies. | ;

To confound my detractors, I limited myself to writing to the French Consul in Mannheim, to ask him if My name appeared in his books, as having been domiciled
_ciliated in his consular district.

Ji replied to me with the following letter:

_ CONSULATE OF FRANCE
in the Grand Duchy of Baden and the Rhineland Bavaria.

Mannheim, May 20, 1902.

Mr. Jules Guérin,
in Brussels,

In response to the request you sent, by
Your letter of the 17th of this month, I hasten to send you...
I am pleased that your name does not appear in the register of the deolse

THE HIGH COURT 237

residence regulations for French citizens subject to military service to remain silent, nor on that of the registrations of French people having lived in Mannheim since: Year 1886 to the present day.

Please accept, sir, oto...
The French National Office for the Protection of the Sulfur
8. OF CHAPPEDELAINE,

Isn't all this enough to demonstrate com-
Drumont and his cronies had indeed surpassed even the most infamous things.
in bad faith those whom they called the caimans of Luxembourg, the scandals of the General Security Directorate or of The Pointed Tower?

While the debates continued amidst the in- multiple incidents, we had the opportunity for frequent interviews arguments between defendants in the prison exercise yard; and also with the defenders and the friends who came to visit us.

One day, while I was chatting with a friend in my cell,

I heard my brother's voice in the hallway, coming out of the hallway.

was talking to someone.

Upon entering my "small room," he said to me:

– I have just learned something rather curious;
I just met Mr. Loyson, secretary, at your door.
Your neighbor, Mr. de Ramel, was very kind.
for you and told me that he and his friends had been very.
happy to be able to show you their sympathy during the blockade of "Fort Chabrol". And as I thanked him for this "sympathy," which I thought was entirely moral, he insisted telling me that this "sympathy" had become very pronounced willingly otherwise.

“– But in what way?” I asked him.

–a Through contributions to help your brother and his friends to supply themselves and bear the costs of their resistance
"Tance," replied Mr. Loyson.

– Were you aware of these contributions? me de-
My brother sent them; for my part, I ignored them.

– Me too; and, since that seems abnormal to me,
I will discuss this with Mr. de Ramel, my cellmate.

h

idi

238 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

And, in the evening, after the session, I asked Mr. de the question Ramel.

"That's the correct fact," he told me, "and it's Mr. Guixou-Pagès." who came to collect the money we gave him discounts and which amounted to 14,000 francs (1).

You can imagine my surprise, because, for more than six months ago, I had made it clear to this Mr. Guixou-Pagès, whose His conduct had been more than suspicious at the time of the trial Leagues and demonstrations of February 18 and 23, that we would no longer tolerate him continuing to loiter around of us. P

The sums paid by Mr. de Ramel to this person, were kept by him; and never a penny to us was returned, nor used for the purpose for which they had requests were made.

I gave these instructions to Mr. de Ramel, who agreed. in my opinion; and he understood that he and his friends had were scammed by an individual without a warrant who had took advantage of our resistance to fill his purse:

– Guixou-Pagès is not the only one, I believe, who had to act "So," Mr. de Ramel then told me, "because we have submitted" another 2,900 francs to another person who, she said, wanted to try a stunt to unlock Fort Chabrol or try to resupply it.

"What is the name of this daring man?" I asked.

– It's Mr. Firmin Faure, and I believe he didn't do, He also has little to offer in terms of help.

– He did nothing but keep your 2,000 francs; but Mr. Firmin Faure never intervened in our resistance tance, and the money he asked for and received served him to to satisfy his desires, which are also numerous and varied. that was too expensive for his modest parliamentary budget at 750 francs per month.

So, while we were struggling with the government forces, deprived of everything; even water, of

(4) I believe I can indicate the exact figure, according to my memories. because I couldn't find the little note where I had written it down.

THE HIGH COURT 239

individuals, such as these Guixou-Pagès and Firmin Faure, were extorting money from overly trusting citizens.

So let's not be surprised if we found, a
A little later, the same characters collaborate with the Spiard-Oswald, the Drumont, the Méry and the Devos
to publish, against a prisoner and an outlaw, infamies that unfolded over a month and a half,
in the columns of Libre Parole.

-

Since the opportunity has arisen to talk about this Mr. Guixou-Pagès, I need to complete, at least in part, the teachings that concern him,

The existence of this character was revealed to me during
from the 1898 election campaign,

Guixou-Pagès, who presented himself as a wealthy pro-owner of the South, when in reality he was without resources and even without a known address, accompanied the Count of Sabran-Pontevès, candidate for Villette-Combat.

He overwhelmed my brother with solicitousness and attentions and went so far as to offer, one day, to help him, as a friend, to get out of a financial difficulty, caused by my absence which extended into Algeria, where Drumont begged me to return; absence which had the consequence of leaving the Anti-Semitic League without my useful assistance for him to procure the necessary resources.

We had quite often forced political friends
to find a man's offer natural, of appearance also amiable; however, my brother wanted to make some re-knowledge for this loan, acknowledgments payable to deadlines fairly close.

Naturally, these acknowledgments were reimbursed.
to Mr. Guixou-Pagès, and I still considered myself as his indebtedness when I learned that the money he had thus advanced and that he had been reimbursed in fixed installments,
- had been approached by him from the Royalist Party Fund
who believed, in this instance, that he would, in turn, render service

24v THE TRAFFICKERS OF DB ANTISEMITISM

vice to friends who were sympathetic to one of its candidates.

The discovery of this process, combined with the equivaques of Mr. Guixou-Pagès, had therefore amply motivated the isolation we had imposed on him, rather—several months before the events at Fort Chabrol, which he used in the way we know it now,

It should be added that Guixou-Pagès and Spiard-Oswald Were they old acquaintances? Had they become close? lying in Perpignan and Tarascon; Guixou-Pagès had even served as Spiard-Oswald's lawyer — when Guixou-Pagès could still practice his profession as a lawyer — and never this honorable and fervent — oh so much! —. anti-Semitic and royalist, perfectly aware of the facts, and since the years, due to the Spiard-Oswald police officer's cell, had not had wise person.

It's easy to understand why, isn't it true?

The debates concluded, the accused were acquitted and released. freedom, we remained, Messrs. Déroulède, Buffet and I, the only occupants of the cells in Luxembourg Prison, where, separated from the rest of the world, completely isolated, pen— While they deliberated on our fate, we waited for the stops that were bound to hit us hard. Mr. Déroulède was sentenced to ten years of banishment. by 115 votes; 29 voted for five years and there was 61 abstentions.

He had been granted mitigating circumstances. by 200 votes to one. < Pouf M, Buffet, the condemnation was the same with 115 votes; 52 for five years and 38 abstentions.

Mitigating circumstances were voted on for him in Puna— limited, |

My guy was more complicated.

Attorney General Bernard, who had been content with the banishment for Messrs. Déroulède and Bulfét, demanded conira. mbi Mue-peine exceptionalnelletient sévère!

LA HAUTE 00UR 24i

And, not daring to demand the death penalty, he wanted to minus forced labor,

Here is the passage from his indictment, according to the account shorthand report from L'Éclair:

Therefore, the accused Guérin did not commit the simple Murder without premeditation is the perfect example of premeditation. If she is arrested, it is murder.

Oh! Gentlemen, I am not asking for punishment against Guérin of death.

Mr. Jules Guérin. Don't be shy!

The Attorney General, you will grant him the circumstances mitigating factors, that's understood; but I insist with all my energy, with all the strength of my conscience, so that you You would be guilty, both for the fact of this attempt of murder than for other insignificant, insignificant relative to the crime, I come to speak in der- no place.

And Attorney General Bernard was asking for a connection of this crime of murder along with the crime of conspiracy, in order to to evade the Assize Court and have him executed Certainly by the High Court.

If I were not convicted for this crime of murder avet premeditation, which included at least the works forced to serve a life sentence, I owe it to the courageous protestatioti of the honorable Mr. Farinole, senator of Corsica, who, in the private audience, tehut outside the presented of accused, demonstrated the hypocrisy of the Attorney General consenting to the mitigating circumstances were granted only to better deceive those in the Senate unfamiliar with the Chinese practices of the procedure hard.

I quote from Éclair and his shorthand report- phique:

The honorable senator of Corsica observes to the High The court, if it admits the attempted murder, will consider this decision. 'entrains the capital pins, Métiie if the aggravating circumstance

242 LEE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

The charge of premeditation is ruled out, even if the circumstances attest to it.

Nuances are allowed.

So a vote was held on this specific point of my guilt, and

despite the eloquent and energetic protest of Mr. Farinole, two votes were cast for the death penalty; that from Mr. Gérente, the senator from Algiers, who could not forgive me not my decisive intervention, I have the right to say so, in Drumont's election in Algiers – the only one that succeeded in director of La Libre Parole – and that of the delicate Mr. Vuillod, senator of Jura, the former human cannonball of the Folies-Bermanages.

You can see how much I agreed with the Attorney General. General Bernard, following the idiotic invention that spread the along the columns of La Libre Parole in 1902.

With the assassination attempt thus ruled out, the The High Court ruled on the other crimes and offenses. which were attributed to me and I was condemned, not simply to banishment, like my co-defendants, Messrs. Déroulède, de Lur-Saluces and Buffet, but to ten years of detention within a fortified enclosure on the mainland territory of the Republic by 127 votes (1), that is to say 12 votes of more than Messrs. Déroulède and Buffet.

Three votes were cast for five years' imprisonment; eleven for ten years. banishment, 1 seven years and 7 five years of the latter penalty.

I was not granted mitigating circumstances. that by 125 votes, against 59 who rejected them.

(1) The votes for my condemnation were distributed as follows:

Ten years of detention: 1 –

Messrs. Abeille, Allemand, Aucoin, Count d'Aunay, Barbey, Barodet, Basire, Bas-Sinet, Belle, Bernard, Bezine, Bizarelli, Bizot de Fonteny, Blanc, Boissel, Bonne-Foy-Sibour, Bourgeat, Bruel, Brunet, Chantagrel, Chantemille, Chaumié, Claeys, Clamageran, Caillot, Combes, Coste, Couteaux, Crozet-Fourneyron, Cuvinot, Darbet, Deandreis, Delcros, Delpech, Demôle, Denis, Denoix, Depreux, Deprez, Desmens, Destieux-Junca, Drouhet, Dubois, Dubost, Duchesne-Fournet, Durand-Savoyat, Fayard, Fousset, Francoz, Froment, Galtier, Gauthier, Girard (Alfred), Girard (Théodore), Girault, Godin, Goujon, Gravin, General Grévy, Grimaud, Guillemaut, Guillot-Lavaline, Huguot, Joufirault, Knight, Labiche, Labrousse, Latappy, Laterradoe, Laurens, Lecomte, Lefèvre, Legludic, Lelièvre, Le Play,

. Leporché, Leydet; Lonrties, Macherez, Magnin, Malérieux, Merio, Millaud, Mil-

Liez-Lacroix, Million, Mir, Monestier, Nioche, Obissier Saint-Martin, Paul Gé-

ERI

THE HIGH COURT | 243

This condemnation lacked only a name
slander and further outrages.

Messrs. Drumont and C! undertook to fill this gap.
gap, taking advantage of my exile to indulge in this task,

However, during the public debates, which had just begun to end, I had triumphed over all the calumnies that had assailed me previously, so that when,
Convicted and acquitted men exchanged words before their separation.
tion, memories of their shared captivity, my neighbor-cell strain, Mr. de Ramel, whose experience in the matter
The issue of judicial morals is not insignificant, one of them reminded me.
of his photographs with the following caption:

TO JULES Guéan.

Who else has shown such strength in front of the Hamte-Cour, for to overcome slander, which he has shown himself to be courageous elsewhere for
to triumph over anarchy.

Fond memories.

"Lucembourg Prison, January 8, 1900.

F. px RAMEL.

rent, Paul Strauss, Pauliac, Peaudecerf, Perreal, Poirrier, Pradal, Prillicus, Batier, Régismanset, Roy, Reymond, Ringat, Rolland, Rousseau, Gaillard, Saint-Prix, Saint-Romme, De Sal, Savary, Siegfried, Sigaard, Tassin, fhovenet, Thé-zard, Thuillier, Trystram, Vallée, Velten, Vilar, Vinet, Volland, Yuillod, Wad-Dington, and Fallières, President.

Six years of detention;

Mr. Ranc.

Five years of detention:

Messrs. Fortier, Lesoüef and Thorel.

Ten years of banishment: i

MM. Barrière, Bastide, Bidault, Dollestable, Fayot, Garreau, Gomot, Guérin, Haulon, Hugot and Salomon.

Seven years of banishment:

Mr. Félix Mortier,

Five years of banishment:

Messrs. Roulangier, Fruchier, Garran de Baisan, Maquennehen, Pauliat and Piot.

They voted for no penalty:

MM. From Audiffret-Pasquier, Baduel, from Béjarry, Bernot, from Blois, Bodinier, Bonnetille, Cabart-Dannorille, de Carn, de Casabianca, Delobea, Dumont, Fleury, Fresneau, Gailly, Halgan, Haugoumar-Desportes, General Japy, De Lamarzelle, Le Provost de Launay, Leroux, Maillard, De Sailié, de Marcère, Maret, Martell, mp Ollivier, Parissot, Peytral, Hervé de Saisy, Séblin, Teisserenc de Bort and long.

There were 19 more abstentions.

244 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

And, on January 6, 1900, three days later, I was imprisoned at Clairvaux by my enemies, while waiting for My ex-friends are bombarding me with insults as revenge.
of independence, preserved despite imprisonment and exile
by the prisoner and the outlaw.

My fate was that of the "vanquished"; the examples seemed-bl atant errors abound in the history of peoples and individuals
vidus and demonstrate that one should not seek a reward to the trials he endured for his ideas and for his country that in the sole satisfaction of duty fulfilled,

All that remained, then, was to direct the condemned men,
Some towards the border, and I towards the new prison which was meant for me,

Messrs. Déroulède and Buffet were the first to leave, the Luxembourg Prison and, a few hours later, the Gar-
The chief came to my cell and told me:

– Mr. Guérin, would you like to come?

At the same time, two guards were removing my trunk...
holding my books and my clothes.

Upon arriving in the antechamber, which served as a station of guard at this prison, installed in the large library
From Luxembourg, I observed the presence of the guards.
that we knew and some agents of the Security Service,
whose number had more than tripled at that moment; ef,
also, eight municipal guards, at the head of whom found a man I recognized as the driver of the cell car, which usually drove those defendants who were transferred daily from Health in Luxembourg, then from Luxembourg to Health, these Gentlemen who preferred a stay in regular prison
to the temporary prison stay, set up nearby mutilated courtroom.

In the midst of these guardians, agents, and guards municipal officials I also spotted Messrs. Mouquin and Noriot, com-peace officer and envoy.

Hey, as I looked at all these people, a little astonished.

THE HIGH COURT 248

to be surrounded by so many bodyguards, the driver
The cell phone in the car told me:

– Mr. Guérin, we have come to get you.

– Are you looking for me? Why?

– But to take you in the car that will tionne dans la eour.

– I refuse to accompany you, I wish to be transported-bound to a new prison by cab; it's my right, and jo
I will enforce it.

– But, said 4. Mouquin, who, during this colloquium, Messrs. Dérou- looked at me with a worried and embarrassed expression.
Idèle and Buffet are taken to the Health in the same way
They said nothing.

– That's possible; these gentlemen have, in fact, agreed this mode of public transport, so that we leave them to Health, whose cells they preferred to baroque ones
airless and lightless buildings are constructed here; but I, for one, have no
I have not entered into any such contract and I want my rights to be respected.
to get out of here, other than by cell phone, either

Respected. Not that the cell phone car is a problem, I'm going to already experienced; but because I sense, in this that they want to impose on me, a vexatious, rude measure, and that I do not like to have to endure it.

– But, Mr. Guérin, you're not going to fight
"I'm against these brave people who are supposed to escort you," he said.
Mouquin, pointing to the municipal guards who were seated–
They were at this discussion, pale and barely concealing their –_displeasure at being ordered around for such a nasty chore.

– I would fight against the whole world, if necessary– savior, and you will kill me and tear me to pieces, plu–
sooner than to make me consent to suffer the foolish vexation that you are made to commit. ` ;

“– I beg you, Mr. Guérin...”

– There's no point in insisting, you won't make me change my mind.
determination.

– But, Mr. Guérin, I have orders from the prefect and...

– Go ask for more

And, as I was wondering what was going to happen,

246. THE TRAFFICKERS DR ANTISEMITISM

I had concentrated all my muscular energy to, at
The slightest sign from Mouquin to abduct me, he'll jump on me.
to the throat and, however strong he may be himself, it is not
It was easy to see that we would have been separated, while I was still alive.

For everyone present, it was a moment of anxiety.

What was going to happen?

Mouquin looked at me for a moment; he read on my face the
a firm decision made, and, addressing the guards and the agents, he suddenly said:

– Wait a moment, I'll make a phone call.

Two minutes later he came back and informed me that the Prefect Lépine had authorized him to transfer me by car – space, but I could only leave in a half an hour or three-quarters of an hour.

It was then eight o'clock in the evening and none of the agents and The guards on duty had not yet eaten dinner.

Me neither.

I was ushered into the room that served as the Registry at the Luxembourg Prison; and, as I sat down on a seated along the table, at a signal, a guardian prepares himself rushed to remove from me a scraper which served— He went to the Clerk-Accountant to sharpen his pencils.

This little incident reminded me that, on the day we were supposed to appear one last time before the High Court, then that we were found guilty, to present our I received final observations on the sentence to be applied. In my cell, the visit of the honorable Mr. Pons, director of the Conciergerie, which had been put in charge of the management of Luxembourg Prison.

— I have, Mr. Guérin, a difficult mission to accomplish— fold. j

— What is this about?

— I received the order from the President and the Pro—the chief curator, to visit your cell and search you, before Gwon takes you to the hearing.

— Is this a general measure?

— No, it concerns you alone.

— And why this visit and this search?

+

THE HIGH COURT 247

— We fear you may have weapons hidden here or on you and that you do not use it against your judges.

And, like the very brave man, Mr. Pons, seems— blait, more than embarrassed by the mission which was being washed I told him, "I'm so busy, I said to him:"

— Would my word of honor be enough for you?

– Certainly, Mr. Guérin.

– Well, I'll give it to you. You can reassure those who are so afraid of me. I await the conviction. that we will pronounce, whatever it may be, in complete tranquility– freedom of mind and conscience, and I have no intention of kill anyone.

This is yet another clear proof that I was Fami of the Government, isn't that right, Mr. Drumont?

But let's get back to my departure from Luxembourg.

After waiting for three-quarters of an hour, I saw him reappear Messrs. Mouquin and Noriot told me:

– Mr. Guérin, everything is ready for your departure. Do you want to come with us?

–I left the Clerk's office in the company of these Mes– gentlemen, preceded, framed and followed by a swarm of agents of the Sûreté, and I got into a cab, with Messrs. Mouquin and Noriot, while an agent took his place in the seat next to the coachman.

Instead of leaving Luxembourg directly via the usual door, I noticed that we were going all the way through ready, to go out through the entrance leading to the gardens from Observatory Avenue.

This journey made me understand the reasons for the long the expectation that had been announced to me.

The Luxembourg Gardens had been evacuated, there had deployed a large number of municipal guards and agents, tasked with monitoring the 'gates and doors,' and our car crossed the park between two rows of faction– naires.

248 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

– Why all these ridiculous precautions? I couldn't to prevent me from telling Messrs. Mouquin and Noriot, therefore we have I'm afraid I might escape you?

"Well!" Mouquin replied, "with men"
Like you and your friends, it's good to take all the precautions

And it is under these conditions that I relive the Prison of Sanlé. I wasn't supposed to stay there long, because, as soon as the next day, after Messrs. Déroulède and Buffet, already on their way For exile, I in turn left her to go and do con-birth with the Clairvaux Prison. It was ten o'clock of the evening!

My family, the only ones allowed to see me before my departure for a direction we were still unaware of, could have come visit me in the afternoon.

Drumont, who had requested 'special authorization, He also deigned to bother.

He was very affectionate, showering me with attention and kindness. compliments, my judges railed, qualifying them with severity ritual that I did not find excessive and concluded by telling me saying:

– You see, my dear Guérin, I 'consider you like the "anti-Semitic Christ" and I thought of you bringing-to remember the sacrifice you are making to our stead, of your freedom. Here is a medal which is a reproduction-tion of the head of Christ, as it was found, during recent excavations near Jerusalem. Allow me to I offer it to you as a token of my unwavering affection.

Drumont's unusual generosity was well-intentioned. to surprise me, and I must have thought he was quite upset. through events and convictions to break thus with his well-known saving habits.

I thanked him twice over; and I received only Much later, the explanation for this generosity.

This medal cost Drumont nothing.

She was, in fact, one of a dozen of the same

THE HIGH OUR 849

Genro, who had given him 616 data in exchange for four advertising lines in La Libre Parole. Later, at Clairvaux, I had another surprise from same sort of thing, the day Drumont sent me a bronze "The Challenge," which was brought to me by Mr. Albert Monniot, the First of the year J901.

This bronze bore a plaque engraved with the inscription next:

A Jures Guéain
Prisoner of the Jews at Clairvaux.

Edouard Drumont and his collaborators.

January 1, 1901.

From a simple medal, Drumont moved to bronze, he it was no longer possible to doubt his affection for the Christ the anti-Semite. nr:

I had, once again, a major disappointment on this subject, at the time when, finding that I was not sufficiently "believed-Civilized," after three years spent in prison and exile, Drumont added several nails to my cross and chose, to drive them right into my heart, at the very hour when my My poor mother was dying far from me, without my being able to to kiss him one last time.

What proof—and how certain that one is!—that I was a friend of my jailers and my proscribers, Isn't that right, Mr. Drumont? And that Mores therefore had reason to call you a "miserable old man" |

I said that I had a new disillusionment about the bronze that Drumont had sent me to Clairvaux. It was brought to me by one of the employees of Raphaël Viau, director of La Libre Parole, who told me—firma that this bronze had not cost Dru— a single cent mountain and that it came from a Jew named Manasseh, who had given it so as not to be attacked again in La Libre Parole.

260 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

It seemed monumental to me, even at that moment; but, Today, I am less surprised, and what I have learned on trafficking, blackmail and rampant mercantilism Drumont's story makes me consider this edifying tale. the gift of the Jew Manasseh as a very significant incident ordinary,

But I can say that if I have lost all illusions about the

Dru-'s devotion, selflessness and affection
Mont, I have at least two interesting souvenirs.
I sometimes show them to friends, and I tell them about them
the story. one

It's a topic of conversation; and, from the point of view of our contemporary history, it is not without interest,
We can agree on that.

My departure from La Santé prison, for that of Clair-vaux, had much more the character of an abduction than that of a transfer from one prison to another.

Messrs. Déroulède and Buffet, who boarded in Paris at the station from the East, had long been outside the borders, when to
At ten o'clock in the evening, someone came to warn me in my cell.
to prepare myself for departure.

A few moments later, I was at the Clerk's Office where Mr. Hamard signed the administrative documents, giving a receipt of myself, and I took my place in a cab with a gallery, pulled by two horses, in the company of the current head of the State Security Service and three specially chosen inspectors, because,
The five of us together made up almost ten meters.

"We are all quite tall," I said to Mr. Ha-
- Tuesday, at the moment of getting into the car, these unfortunate horses will have the maximum load.

We passed through the prison gates; then, it was a mad dash in an as yet unknown direction for
me. | |

On the road followed by our car, preceded and followed numerous others where around fifty agents
had taken their places, I noticed some peacekeepers,

THE HIGH COURT _ 251

spaced fifty meters apart and named
breux cycling agents, |

We crossed the Austerlitz bridge at full speed,
was guarded at its extremities, like several others, by squad of agents forming a roadblock to stop the friends who were constantly monitoring the situation around the Health Ministry my departure, not to get angry, which is what I would have opposed, wanting, to the very end, to sacrifice my freedom to the defending my ideas, but at least to know where we stand

was getting ready to drive me. | :

We took the Boulevard de la Contrescarpe, the square of the Bastille and the Richard-Lenoir boulevard.

Suddenly, having reached the corner of Avenue de la République-blique, our car stopped abruptly.

One of the horses had fallen.

The officers, who filled the cars that escorted us—
They were, tumbling out of their vehicle, we were surrounded and I hear:

— The horse is dead; it was a premeditated attack; they have killed to kidnap Guérin.

They're debating, everyone's losing their minds, the crowd accumulates and, finally, faced with the general embarrassment, I questions.

— They finally decided to tell me about the accident that had occurred and, in com-
In consideration of Mr. Hamard's courtesy, I advise him to transfer me into one of the cars that were accompanying us accompany it by making it park in the opposite direction to ours to form a corridor between the two open doors.

Mr. Hamard, relieved of a great burden, for he had been apprehensive—
I would have been involved in the fights, if I had been recognized by the crowd and by those of my friends who had kept the right track, me
I thanked him and changed vehicles.

We resumed our journey, escorted by the same procession.
and we finally arrived at Pantin station,

Messrs. Déroulède and Buffét had been embarked in the morning
At the Gare de l'Est, for me, we were taking an extra step... guarantees which clearly demonstrated — didn't they, Drumont? —
that I agreed with the government,

252 THE TRAFFICKERS DR ANTISEMITISM

Upon arriving at Pantin station, I found a number of uniformed peacekeepers and a larger number still agents in bourgeois.

I was handed over by Mr. Hamard to Mr. Colonna d'Istria, special commissioner for the surveillance of the garo from the East, and I was put into a corridor carriage, which was heading down a special track, and where they took their places, with me, besides Mr. Colonna d'Istria, 7 transit commissioners—Certainly, 2 chief inspectors and 40 agents of the Safety.

The Belfort express train was stopped at Pantin station, at
To the great astonishment of the travelers, I arrived in the morning at seven o'clock in Clairvaux.

Pétais was expected by the prison director, the Sub-Prefect of Bar-sur-Aube, and an escort of about twenty gendarmes had been assembled to join the agents
police officers who had been following me since Paris.

It was in this crew that I crossed the threshold of the prison to go and live in the political prisoners' section of the former Saint-Bernard Abbey.

Our anti-clerical politicians are the fierce advet-
convent halls,

They can only admit men, who possess their free will, confine themselves, for their existence, to monasteries, from which, however, they can leave at their willingly, and where they remain only by virtue of their own will,

And, to free these voluntary recluses, they destroy
the congregations and seize the convents.

Once they have the masters, they transform them into prisons.
they put bars on the windows and doors, they populate them
jailers and imprison... their political opponents, after having taken care to have engraved on the walls of these buildings, vestiges of the barbarity of times past!
the motto of lies and imposture: Liberty, Equality, Fraternity.

On the very day of my arrival, by the next train,

THE HIGH COURT 203

12 additional guards arrived at Clairvaux specially dispatched from Paris to monitor the new prisoner,

This special guard surprised the prison staff.
at the point that the guards, who had seen the parade at same political district: the condemned of the Commune, Blanqui, Ernest Roche, Emile. Gauthier, Kropotkine, the

Member of Parliament for Cher: Jules Breton and many anarchists including: Sébastien Faure, Jean Grave, Fortuné Henri and so many others, often in large numbers at once, to the point that The guards, I said, were wondering what I could to be so that such precautions would be taken by the government to keep me.

They would send 12 guards for a single prisoner, then that previously the police district's guard service-tick, whose last tenant had been the Duke of Orléans, was assured, regardless of the number and quality. prisoners, by the two guards who were, in At the same time, the infirmary service.

`These two guards, Hareng and an old fellow whose The name escapes me, but he was nicknamed Chapeau de sheet metal (1), because he had been a sailor and had worn the great The boiled leather cap of the old uniform was no longer there. Enough for me alone.

In addition to these 12 guardians, who were installed from each On the side of my cell and the adjoining visiting room, they doubled the. number of the sentinels who kept watch day and night

| around the perimeter walls.

The rounds were multiplied to such an extent that I could hear from 130 to 142 cries per hour.

Every quarter hour, cries of: Sen-
Tinelles, beware! repeated by each faction-

(i) Get animal-there, when I became so weak as a result of the poisoning per Carbon monoxide, which they thought would cause me to succumb in prison, only had one sole objective. "If the politicians go bust up there," he said, "I'll be the one to go the

I'll declare it at the town hall and the family will give me 100 francs. That day I... "Pays for patent leather boots." That was his dream, his life's ambition, and I didn't contributed to making it happen. Poor "tin hat"

4

254 THE 'TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM'

naire, then Nothing new! – Nothing new! or,
Again, sentry number 8 is not responding.

Damn sentry number 8, how many times has she
I didn't restart the series of calls and answers!

And, in the meantime, how many also: Halt there; who live?
Stop right there, or I'll open fire! Round this! Round that!

To the point that I hardly slept except in the morning, at starting at five or six o'clock, when the last cries
had ceased,

Furthermore, as had been observed that sentinels,
that I could vaguely glimpse from my window, at through the trees and over the first wall of my special promenade – 30 meters long by 8 meters wide – had greeted me warmly, we had overtaken some of these sentinels with guards.

Then, as if that wasn't enough, we imagined

. better.

One at night. PETE relayed every two hours, ` was on duty in my courtyard-walk, under my fe-ours, rifle loaded, with instructions not to lose
I could see, for just a moment, the barred window of my cell _ against which a position had been placed, two days after my upon arrival, a gas burner was lit before nightfall and extinguished only-element after sunrise.

All these measures were still deemed insufficient;
, @t one month after my internment at Clairvaux, we chan-
* picked all the locks in the building where I was locked up;
the openings, overlooking an inner courtyard which was which until then had remained furnished with solid doors or windows
Made of thick oak, they were also equipped with formidable grids.

On the ground floor, to enter the promenade-
In the courtyard, I passed through a very narrow, closed little door.
by a panel of chains five centimeters thick-Sister, this door was also deemed insufficient and it was menta of a solid grid.

Later, Waldeck, having learned that I could, in rising to the top of the rather high window of my cell,

to glimpse, two kilometers away, part of international road, the order was given to raise the great exterior wall, which was 90 centimeters thick, of 2m 50 over 809 meters of course.

The prison budget had to be considerably increased during the two years I spent in the prisons of our Third Republic.

In addition to these precautions, the staff at Clairvaux, from the director to the simple guard, and also the officers here the non-commissioned officers on duty had received the most threatening in the event of my escape.

For everyone involved, it was an accusation of complicity with deslittution and Assize Court, to the point that the director, this Poor Mr. Souriaux, whom I ended up truly pitying... He only began to breathe the day he saw me. to cross, in order to go into exile, the last door of his doom. Maine.

And, to warn my readers against any idea of exa-

'management, which could be lent to me free of charge, I- I will add that all these ridiculous precautions, taken against me, were detailed in the Libre Parole of Drumont, who at that time found this odious... or at least affected that opinion.

The special measures did not stop there, because, all unfortunate detainee suspected of having tried to enter in contact with me, out of simple curiosity, dis-easily explained traction, or to beg for a cigarette rette (1) was immediately sent to a cell or to the dungeon black for thirty or sixty days, with food reduced, irons, summer...

(1) I, who have never smoked, spent during my stay at Clairvaux more than a hardened smoker, to lose in every corner of my yard or throw Above the walls were cigars or cigarettes. I also prayed to my visitors. to sow – inadvertently! – as many as possible along the long path they were obliged to travel to get to me or return afterwards.

And the prisoners, who were moving around for internal work, were searching... They examined every fold of the terrain and questioned even the smallest stone.

Poor fellows! Not all of them were criminals, far from it!

2656 TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

Ah! the double houcle, gentlemen Jaurès and company,
You can talk about it; it exists, not only for proven criminals, but also for unfortunate boys, sentenced to death for serious violence, com-put into a single day of error, and that they atone for with long months
and many years within the walls of Clairvaux.

I saw some among the two hundred military detainees
Laires, who, having entered Clairvaux at the ages of 22 and 23, were there Even at 35, they're already practically old men...
and who may still be there, despite conduct that showed how much they had improved and softened,

Sentences of twenty years are almost the least common.
numerous, and many of these unfortunate lost souls have to endure
of thirty and forty years of detention, sentences that Fon reinstatement every two or three years, for exemplary driving to please, for one or two years,

One of these unfortunate men was fifty-three years old.
prison time. | l

It's a beautiful thing, this regime that still produces such things.
faults on the part of the convicted and which also maintains '
dreadful punishments, i

And how many officers, to whom I spoke of these facts and who told me, moved to tears: `l

– But we should pardon these unfortunate people as soon as they have given evidence of their return to better senses
times ! ; | .

Civil power is less lenient, and our politicians do not
Don't fall into these sentimentalities, I ARS

Since I'm talking about the terrible cruelties that my lüng stays in various prisons in France and Algeria,
where my political opponents sent me, made me con-
being born, a fact comes to mind which reveals a remarkable ferocity.

One day, a Chief Inspector of the prison services-
Tiaires arrives in a prison – which I will not name
In case the staff is the same as it was a few days ago
years – to carry out its semi-annual inspection.

fl checks, as usual, with meticulous attention—
In particular, the holding cells where prisoners are locked up punished with deprivation of light, reduction of food
ture, pushed to the point of only receiving soup
every two or three days with just the "ball"
of its sound" and the jug of water, and for all bedding a floor or even the floor of the dungeon.

In these dungeons, and under this regime, the walled-up man does not keep that his trousers and shirt were his only garments.

A civil servant, whose experience with these matters
The prisons were long, and those who retained feelings of humanity...
manité that he often had to "impose" on colleagues
ferocious, he told me:

— When we get the unfortunate people out of there, after one or Two months of this regimen, they must be kept for six months at the hospital to restore their health, if they don't even stay not disabled for the rest of their lives, or when they are not tubercular and condemned to a certain death
.taine, and more or less fast.

Arriving in one of these hideouts, including the narrow skylight
was blocked by a wooden hood placed against the grill—
The senior inspector on patrol noted that a
a crack of about one millimeter had occurred, by effect humidity or heat, in one of the boards, of the e—
regulatory thickness of five centimeters.

And a thin—very thin!—stream of daylight passed through This slot.

— Why, Mr. Director, didn't you do

How to plug this crack in the wood?

— I didn't think it was necessary, the slit is so narrow, a barely a millimeter.

— It must be removed; you see, by closing
The door, you can clearly see this trace of light; it's A distraction for the prisoner!

A sliver of light passing through a slit of one millimeter meter, a distraction for the unfortunate man buried there!

Isn't it terrifying to think that a brain

858 THE TRAFFICKERS DR ANTISEMITISM

A man, even one who claims to be civilized, can give birth to such things. cruelties?

We might be less surprised when we learn that the individual, with such a fierce soul, was none other than Mr. lins-Puibaraud, chief inspector of the prison service. 'Here's one whose death must not have sincerely put Many people are in mourning.

I will not speak of the numerous humiliations that were tried by my jailer at the ministry, because the orders As far as I was concerned, the information was given to the director of Clairvaux. directly by Waldeck-Rousseau (1) to try to exasperate me. He didn't succeed, and I have the right to say – Drumont and the articles from La Libre Parole of 1900–190] confirmed it – that the disdain that inspired in me Such vileness was never denied.

Also, when, at least every three months, – instead – every six months, as usual – an Inspector the main guard came to visit the prison and he entered my cell, my answers to his questions remained inva- laughable. A f

– Mr. Guérin, I am the Inspector of Services prisons on an inspection tour, and I've come to you ask if the diet imposed on you is not too rigorous? |

– I don't argue with it, I just endure it, that's all.

– In case you have a complaint, I am ready to receive it.

– I never complain.

– You might have a claim to make.

– I don't really like anything.

– But if you had an observation...

– I wasn't making any observations.

(i) The Director, who owed me the communication, had to show me the original coats. The originals. They were signed Waldeck-Rousseau and bore, not as customary: The Director of the Penitentiary Services to the Director of Clairvaux, But the President of Ganseit told the Director of Glairraur that these were orders. all more Dr. T than the others, for my family, for my friends And for me,

—

THE HIGH COURT 259

And the interview, always the same, stopped there.

Two polite greetings and the official would go "function-
"Ner" elsewhere.

But I've said enough about my stay at Clairvaux, and If anyone could doubt what I'm saying, I won't I could offer him a more edifying reading than that of La Libre Parolé where he would find articles from collaborators Drumont's supporters, confirming what I say and manifest-fencing indignations which – except for Drumont and Méry – were obviously sincere!

I'll get straight to the reasons that led to my Departure from Clairvaux into exile.

A few months after my arrival in the old ab-
At the Bay of Saint Bernard, I felt a general weariness that the nights, even the best ones, did not to stop.

I felt myself getting weaker and weaker every day, at
to the point that at some point the slightest weight, even a little heavy
it was too heavy for my hands and my legs refused to carry me, –

I had to interrupt my work and my reading, because After an hour I dozed off on my paper or on my book, my head heavy and unable to read or to write. s

And, as in prison one must kill time so that the Time doesn't kill you, during the twenty-two hours
that I stayed drunk every day, I gradually started,
not wanting to ask for any permission to do ve-
To provide tools for a carpentry job.

They let me do it; it was, moreover, my right to choose.

sir my work, and I spent my last six months of stay in Clairvaux while making all my own furniture: bed, tables, armchairs, seats, sideboard, bookcase, etc., which allowed me to request that the arrangement be removed regulatory of my cellula, and I was really in my furniture. i.

260 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

But, from January to July 1901, the weakness that I the situation worsened.

I attributed this to a lack of exercise, since the two I'd been locked up for years, and it became so serious. that, convinced that I would die in prison, I took my latest arrangements, without however worrying the mine. i

This growing weakness worried the director and especially the excellent man who was the pri- doctor His, Dr. Luthier.

As my legs carried me more and more, it- technically, he tried electrical reactions on the muscles, but without success.

I eventually gave up all walks, and when I went down to the promenade-courtyard, I stayed on a chair folding, open to the air – to the little air that came into this narrow courtyard, where the walls grew so well and so high.

That's where I was when, one morning, I had just fallen asleep after the departure of the last sentry – cetie senti number 8 who never answered the pre- pel – when his last cry woke me up.

It was 5 a.m., a ray of sunlight pierced- knows my cell and gave in full sv- 1st pan which was there found itself installed halfway along the road – adjacent to the window and forming a right angle with it – and the wall from the bottom. ee. Ea

My gaze, mechanically following this ray of light where the dust and impurities of Vair played, that these beams of light reveal so well, focused on the stove, NE, |

And I glimpsed, emerging from the opening of this device, swirls of small dust particles and gas.

Then I understood; and since we had taken the precaution, in the event of a weakness preventing me from getting up at night, to place an electric switch at the head of my bed, I used it, for the first time in fact, to ap-
- to peel the guards on duty around my cell.

The first to answer was the guard Porle, and I

THE HIGH COURT 261

I showed him the opening of the stove and the gases escaping from it. pay.

"What is this?" he said to me; "where did it come from?" he?

As I knew that, under my cell, on the ground floor- The kitchen of the infirmary was located there; I asked him- dai if at night the fire of the stove, fueled by wood and by coal, it was extinguished

"No," he told me, "we're just covering the fire with..." the charcoal, in case we needed fire quickly at night, if someone was sick.

"So," I told him, "there must be communication between" my stove and the kitchen oven, and the carbon monoxide- bone that rises in the chimney spreads through my stove in my cell.

This was the secret I was seeking for my persistent unease and increasing every day.

General panic: director, controller, head guard they rush over; the scene is examined and it is discovered that the The pipe from my stove had been placed - by mistake, I I am convinced, and I repeat it here because I don't like not these comedies played out to turn into assassination attempts sinat of the accidents of nature of the one who had just destroying my health so severely - the water of my The stove, I said, had been placed in the draft conduit going from the ground floor to the roof, instead of being in the one intended for the first floor and going from that floor to building's footprint. | i

Dr. Luthier, who had rushed over immediately, con- very loyally confirmed this origin of my weakness-

He lies and he tells me:

– It is very fortunate that, feeling oppressed, Nuif, you slept with the window open, otherwise, we We would have found you dead one morning. Rest assured. however, this is a simple accident, and no one is capable here of committing an assassination against you.

I was convinced of it, because, for the past two years, I had I appreciated the people around me who, while ac–

862 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

fulfilling their service and observing the rigorous measures The women dictated against me were doing their duty without it. to put on a malicious air, and often let me guess that they were the first to be affected.

The director was immediately summoned to Paris and, to Upon his return, he came to inform me that Mr. [Name], the President of the Council, deeply moved by my state of health– I was going, as a result of the accident that occurred, authorized, at the time of the acc Nir, for me, is a walk twice a day in a courtyard adjoining the one where I had been confined since long months and much larger,

– I greatly appreciate, Mr. Director, the deli– I highly commend Mr. Waldeck-Rousseau's attention and praise him greatly. His feelings of humanity, perhaps a little belated. It is It was indeed very kind of him to allow me to walk twice a day in a larger courtyard...

now that I can no longer walk...

I later learned that a report on my condition had been asked Dr. Luthier, and that he had very clearly responded that to the point of exhaustion and anemia where I had arrived, as a result of the poisoning that I had suffered, he considered it impossible that I could to restore my position if I were kept locked up any longer.

And, on July 16, 1901, I was informed that the rest of the The time of my detention was commuted to banishment.

That same evening, at 11:30, in the company of the com– French commissioner and two inspectors, one of whom led me to Clairvaux station where I took my seat, with my three companions, in the Belfort express that had been made there to stop exceptionally.

We arrived at the Franco-Swiss border in the morning;
My escort abandoned me, and I found myself free to my actions, outlawed and impotent, after two years of imprisonment imprisonment.

Part of my trials was over; but; the
the most difficult, the most painful, those that I had to

THE HIGH COURT 253

to friends to whom I had been devoted to the very end extreme limits, were about to begin.

He had barely arrived in Brussels when Drumont revealed his true colors.
to try to destroy a work that bothered his copolitical and financial alliances and to finish off a man he judged him rather defenseless and quite afflicted by the illness, con-dragged back into the cells he had barely left,
so that it could be attacked without endangering its insults authors:

He was so certain of my imminent death,
after the visit he paid me at the beginning of July in my prison, that, upon returning to Paris, he responded to
who was asking him about me:

– I found that poor Guérin quite low, I said in my article, and it is now only a shadow of what you Pay up, I know. I doubt it will last much longer.

And, being a cautious man, he had prepared the obituary to be published the day after my dead.: f

Drumont excels in the art of burying his friends, and he
He puts all the more heart into it because, dead, they no longer bear him any burden.
tent plus omhrage et que ils sont encore utile.

A tomhe is an excellent platform and provides ample material for the "nice article". ;

The "emotional note" fits easily into it, and to "plant"
"The decor" – nothing beats black drapes with arc-
gent or of laipe,

Mr. Edouard Drumont has a truly beautiful soul! The soul of muzzle

Drumont's Opinions.

Successive and contradictory opinions – Toussenel and the "Jews, Kings of the Era. – Jewish France in 1841. – Drumont and the Pereires. – The shoemaker of Quin- Street Campoix and the Crédit Mobilier. – A brilliant work becomes Infamous enterprise. – Drumont and the Jew Moïse Millaud. – Drumont and Freycinet. – Drumont and the Empire. – Drumont-Mont and Déroulède. – The fury of an unfortunate candidate Redhead. – An accusation by Drumont. – The 200,000 francs of Rothschild. – The great treason (!) of Déroulède and the Grand betrayal! by Jules Guérin. – Still the 200,000 francs, – The candidacy of Mr. Firmin Faure, – French Deputy in the service of blackmailers. – The Casa-Riera affair. – Mr. de Castellane's 800,000 francs. – The Flag quo-Tidien. – Déroulède the Competitor. – Syveton and the Pact obscure of the discontented, – A visit and a letter from Mr. Syveton. – Letter from Mr. Jules Lemaître. Combinaihis Judeo-opportunist, – An opposition federation. – The election of the 17th district in 1902. – The candidacy of Mr. Piou. – The maneuvers of the trio Syveton, Drumont, Méry. – Divi- A regrettable situation. – A compromised seat, but fortunately conquered. – Mr. Piou defeated. – The three auxiliaries of the mid-Ministry, – The Drumont and Co. firm and the Syve- pharmacy your.

I showed how Drumont had gotten it published against me in his newspaper, in this Libre Parole of which he made the Free Lie, calumnies and

DRUMONT'S OPINIONS 265

insults that clashed singularly with the praise which stretched along the columns for ten years of his leaflet in favor of the "Good Giant".

I am not the only example of this way of pro- to give in, because Drumont is, par excellence, the man of the op- successive and contradictory unions .

And I will cite a few examples, among thousands, of the the ease with which he burns today what he adored the day before.

His religious convictions, which he displays with an over-calculated temptation, worth his political convictions and his declarations of affection and devotion towards of his friends. p |

He is nothing like the "proud Sicambrian" who bowed down before the divine image; he is simply the old sycophant who wallows in the mud of lies and imposture, if in this mud he can find a little of that gold which Possession is and always has been the sole purpose of its existence. tence.

Before his collaboration on this collective work of the France duive, which he was tasked with developing, and which he embellished with facts and anecdotes, invented to satisfy-to hold grudges like a second-rate journalist, and also lengthy borrowings from the work, still so interesting to-Today, from Toussenel, The Jews, Kings of the time (1), before his collaboration with La France Universitaire, I say, Drumont was an editor with a salary of 500 francs... by month, at the Liberation of the Pereire family:

It was, of all the collaborators chosen by these already if powerful financiers, the most obsequious and the most flatterer.

But, after having caressed it for several years, He admits to hoping to become the director of La Liberté.

ti) This two-volume work dates from 1841. It was the first work anti-Jewish sentiment that really drew public attention to the Jews and their role in the past and the present.

And in 1841, Drumont was not yet known.

966 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

deliberate in his books, he became furious at the disclosure the event he subsequently experienced,

He did not fail to take revenge, and the cofisciant aux Pereire, in Jewish France, contains violent pages that Each believed them to be sincere, ignorant of a past known only to the people of that time and, above all, very writers mixed up with the affairs of the journalist, more mysterious for It was published forty or fifty years ago that today today. |

Here is Pune from these pages:

(Jewish France, Volume I, page B53, 4° 8.) While the Visenux, put to faith by the first smile of spring, ga-
They frolicked in the garden trees, a stubborn memory...
It came from my father's shoemaker.

He lived in a high-perched apartment, in a house
sad, lifeless, fetid, from Quincampoix Street.

One day, my mother, meïinena ävezc ëlle, to find out why-
What, they didn't bring him that pair of boots they promised him since a long time.

When we arrived at the black staircase, a staircase with the damp ramp that I always knew, so vivid are the childlike impressions, oozing beneath my fingers, everyone
The gossips of the neighborhood were gossiping about the lamentable story.
of the unfortunate man.

With the savings of his entire life, he had, through the intermediary from a Jewish money changer, bought shares of Crédit Mobilier at without his wife's knowledge.

R had lost everything and he had hanged himself with the cords of gon work apron.

Many brave people must have trembled.
anger and indignation upon reading this lament-table end of the Poor Shoemaker who hangs himself at the bottom of his lauds, with the cords of his apron, and that pen-while the scissors were sniffing in the trees
First smiles of spring.

There it is, the "emotional note" and the "scene set".
Well! It was all a joke.

The attacks against the Pereire family had no cause:

DRUMONT'S OPINIONS 267

that the anger of their former employee, furious at not having been able to
to participate in the profits made by its peers,

When Drumont received the 500 francs at La Liberté that they gave him at the Pereire's, and when he hoped also participate in other profits, here is what he wrote-was there to congratulate himself on having finally secured a place, re-

tribute at his discretion:

I was in charge of the last hour at the Legislative Body;
Meanwhile, I was working on the leading article, the literary study, Portraits of the day's celebrities – all for five hundred France per month.

It was from that moment that he began to be...
I am still very fond of that vast hall and I always think with emotion about it.
the rue Montmartre that I crossed, just in my time,
So many talented men, so many beginners, so many unwelcome guests, of needy people, at that time I was already known, I had thought-for four years, held, as they used to say, the scepter of My literary criticism at Le Bien Public. Le Bien Public says-
It appeared, I was drilled, 'to feed my family, to make some copy three below the line and bring to the Petit Journal des articles of which a quarter was cut off due to lack of space.

Upon the death of Emile Pereire, Drumont wrote an article who could only recommend him to the financier's family
Here is how he described himself:

A great life has just ended, and time is running out.
to sketch, even briefly, the powerful individuality
who disappeared yesterday...

This millionaire was nothing like the financiers of the past.
trefois and to the traders fattened by the salt tax, to the for-
First generals, golden gobs. .- `

The creations to which Emile Pereire attached his name do not were not the adventurous games of a daring, determined player to risk everything, they were phi- speculations philosophical before being financial speculations...

The moment when Emile Pereire truly seems great to us, the moment, let's say, when he will appear grown up to the child is this intermediate period, between 1881 and 1886, the Roma era

268 THE TRAFFICKERS DR ANTISEMITISM

full of sustained struggles with indomitable courage, of ef-pursued with tireless energy...., (1) . .

The time had not yet come for Drumont to make a definitive judgment.
Emile Pereire's work, which he had found,

Among Catholics, a source of anticipated profits and a fortune made more quickly

Drumont was no less lyrical in celebrating the
The virtues of the brother, this is how he spoke of Isaac Pereire:

The one who has just died, we wrote the day after the
The death of Emile Pereire was not merely one of the people-among the most significant swimming achievements of his century, he pushed his century in the sense that he wanted him to go, he did not content, like many, to mingle with the events, he & created a world, completely changing the SOCIAL environments, completely shifted the plans on which the company was operating
before him. RL E aa EE0E

Crédit Mobilier was merely the commissioning bank.
The shift from abstraction to fact. We know the services it provides.
restored; he sponsored, supported, aided, and revived the businesses
the most diverse.

This Crédit Mobilier, declared an infamous creation and qualified an instrument of ruin for French savings, and which, at to say of Drumont, had caused the death of the poor cord-his father's denial, was, ten years before the publication of the Jewish France – Drumont was then 31 years old – a work wonderful, sponsoring, subsidizing and relevant all the major national companies and who were the Pactolus flow like a vast river carrying by-Everything: abundance, fertility, and life.

Poor shoemaker, you did well to hang yourself so as not to don't see all that! And, so that you won't be tempted to protest, Drumont killed you. ;

1) Liberty, January 9, 1878.

DRUMONT'S OPINIONS 269

What Drumont had done for the Pereires, he had to renew at the time of the death of the Jew Moïse Millaud who accepted Drumont's copy in Le Petit Journal.

Indeed, we read in the Bien Public of October 16th...

bre 1871:

The death of Moïse Millaud caused a real sensation. tion of sadness, He who has just died had, in fact, obliged to countless people, in his life so long intertwined, to everything and everyone, not only out of kindness, but by a feeling that can be found in all the great stirrers business or ideas of this generation, at Mirès, at Millaud and many others. Goodness comes from the brain more than just heart, perhaps, in the individuals of this temper; the good they do commands great respect intelligence, a bias not to leave, without him to offer any assistance, to pass by a man, in which they recognized something.

At that time, Drumont was not thinking of criticizing to, Jewish Moïse Millaud, to only pay him three for his copy below the line.

For that price, he would have kissed her feet. before; he licked them after his death so that his successors they retained a share of the collaboration.

If Jews, whom he had an interest in flattering, we are looking for On the other hand, we read, regarding Napoleon II, in the Bien Public of March 7, 1870 (1):

The uncle's eagle found a gosling at the nephew's.

. * e ($3 * + » » sa .

The man from Sedan parodies the Great Emperor,
On July 16, 1871, he wrote, again in Le Bien Public:

Destiny seems to pursue and stalk through life
all those who played an active role in this tragic adventure

(1) Lo Bien public was the newspaper devoted to the politics of Thiers.

270 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTI-ISRMITISM

ture; all the actors in this drama dreamed up by the makers, all those who have dishonest filth and stain on their hands cursed by the blood spilled for an unspeakable cause, all

Those ones collapsed suddenly at full force, in the middle Brilliance, complete success. Misfortune chose them from among the crowd.
and struck them down with its wing, as if an invisible sign,
printed on their foreheads, they would have been designated in advance,

The curse that was upon this evil work has struck
even to the credulous and the deceived.

After the Emperor, whom he called a goose, came the Empire
which he called an evil and unspeakable work,

Later, after the death of Napoleon III, Drumont, who was searching for his path and perhaps hoping for a restoration Grateful to its predecessors, it changes its tone. It becomes imperialist:

Here is what he wrote:

It seems to me that we can say this without being accused of paradox.
Napoleon I was the true founder of the Empire, the Emperor had been too big, it was impossible to understand the Empire without him, the relative inferiority of the second Emperor has highlighted the full value of the system as a mechanicalfunctionalism, she showed that for the Empire to exist-tât, lasted more than twenty years, occupied an immense place in the world didn't need a man of genius; in one
In short, she proved that an Empire was possible in France without
An Emperor... . |

His friends (of Napoleon II) know very well that, everywhere he
As he passed by, he left traces of silver.

He was profoundly good, indeed, indulgent, faithful to his
He didn't serve his friends. He didn't serve them, but he allowed everyone to
He used Judaism, he didn't always offer it, but he didn't refuse it either.
Never.

If we look for other examples of the opinions that succeed

In Drumont's case, we read:

(Bien Public, September 24, 1871)Mr. de Freycinet will have,
in justice that impartial history will be obliged to reborn

DRUMONT'S OPINIONS

to these gigantic, rapid creations, the most glorious and most deserved. To thus fertilize nothingness to organize chaos; it requires a mind of a rather uncomplicated kind. naïve; a brain endowed with exceptional faculties.

What would an individual not do under normal conditions? this duality that asserted itself in this way, in the middle of do si deplorable circumstances. A country that has such men in reserve is not yet at the tomb and one is tempted to thank- Mr. de Freycinet, less than what he accomplished in a past so close to us that what it makes us hope for in the future.

Later in Jewish France (volume 1, page 351) he written: |

In political life, the austere Protestant is, by excellence, the man of deceit and lies.

Freycinet, feline, cunning and deceiving everyone, does not give little impression of one of those rigid, repugnant figures to compromise and reject all moral cowardice.

A little further on, still on Freycinet:

What dominates in him is intellectual and moral cowardice.
rally. |

Let's now look closer to home, within the ranks. of the opposition in 1898 and 1899, among the men who were also from Boulangism and let's take Déroulède for example. :

We remember that Drumont made a point of representing me- to be perceived as Déroulède's personal enemy, and that is This ridiculous story originates from Drumont, to which apparently believed the President of the League of Patriots, my plan to burn the corvette at Déroulède if this one hindered the political projects I had formed.

I have never felt hatred for Déroulède, I simply disagreed with him and I... said honestly and clearly, explaining why.

I would add that my comrades, who were not from Mors, like myself, had only a syncretic campaigned for him, ever since Rochefort had published some Déroulède's feelings towards Morès.

It was during the Norton affair, this organized trap by Constans and Clemenceau to divide the opposition and to separate men who, united, could—were going to be dangerous.

I quote from the article by the Director of the Znransigeant:

A few months ago, Messrs. Déroulède and Théodore Cahu of a On one side, Messrs. de Morès and Jules Guérin, on the other, took the train to London with the intention of visiting me and meeting they accidentally collided with the boat from Calais.

Messrs. Déroulède and Cahu having been the first to ring at my I received them eagerly; and, naturally, I asked them to stay for lunch.

A few moments later, MM arrived at my house, Morès and Guérin went up to the living room, while my The first two visitors were standing in the dining room.

When the French cross the strait to bring me their compliments, I usually offer them the cutlet of exile, which allows us to talk at greater length and more to our easy.

I had invited Déroulède and Cahu; I was going to invite Messrs. de Morès and Guérin, when I remembered that the former President of the Patriots League had once testified before I have a certain aversion to the marquis with the big cane.

I therefore left him for a moment to go downstairs and ask to Déroulède if he saw any problem whatsoever with them were all four gathered at my table.

"I don't want to have lunch with Mr. de Morès," he told me. mediation. If he has to stay, I'd rather leave: he has His manner doesn't suit me. He strikes me as a gentilhomme de grande route.

Very embarrassed, I went to resume the interview in the living room. broken, I did not ask Messrs. de Morès and Guérin, between whom I had no grievance, to do me the honor of share our meal.

Tis pastirent, probably quite surprised by this lack of hospitality.

Two years later, Morès did indeed take the Great Road which led him to a heroic death, which he found in an ambush, the true perpetrators of which... unknown individuals and may never be punished.

DRUMONT'S OPINIONS 278

Even if we had felt "hatred" for Déroulède that Drumont asserted, could we not, today in-core, tell the Director of La Libre Parole that this hatred, of those he claims to call his "Disciples", was the a natural result of his writings on Jewish France and the Testament of an Anisemile?

Here are some enlightening excerpts about the feelings of Drumont with regard to the one he called, only yesterday, the "Great Frenchman", the "Great Patriot" and the "Great Forbidden" . : |

(Jewish France, Volume I, page 156): Imagine a Déroulède a truly patriotic leader instead of having enlisted in the Gambetta's departure for love of banal advertising.

(Jewish France, Volume J, page 470): At the time when Déroulède and the Patriots' League foolishly provoked Germany- We didn't even have ammunition, the cartridges... Our arsenals were damaged and unusable...

(Jewish France, Volume I, page 488): Everything is absolutely pass-relations between Jews, and the lives of thousands of people from Berry, from Bre-The colors, from Poitevins and Burgundians, are played out on a map. in a back room near the Stock Exchange, between a few Israelites, it is agreed that the first Mayer will insult-in turn, and that the second Mayer will be insulted, who leaps at his mother's name.

To pull off the heist, you need to find a fool to good faith; Déroulède is there...

(Jewish France, Volume I, pages 490, 491 and 492): Undoubtedly, if we could lock up this vain man for two or three hours dangerous (Déroulède), if he could collect himself in this iso-element which weighs on these natures like the silence of the tomb, he himself would be frightened by the danger he has put his country. ii

This equipped Déroulède on rue Saint-Mare, which was not That ridiculous situation could have been dangerous if Germany, for the reasons we deduced, had not been resolved

Here are the traffickers, Dr. Antisemitism peace, if Paris, instinctively guessing, without knowing exactly the truth, the speculations hidden beneath, had they not remained profound indifferent madman.

Suppose that Déroulède, instead of being a posed one boastful patriot...

(France Juire, volume 11, page 956): When... one announces
Mr. de Saint-Genest recalled, in Le Figaro, that these men, to whom the house of Mo- were about to be opened Jière had heaped insults upon our heroic army of Mets.
More degraded than the Jews who came to plunder the cađathese future collaborators of the Flag of Derotilède had stripped our dead of their shroud of glory...

I have since seen this man, whose name is Paul Déroulède, to put his hand in Naquet's hand and impose, as Vice-President, to his league members this infamous Jew who, to enrich-chir a financial company, had sold to our enemies the secret of smokeless powder.

And, again, the day when Déroulède, already a philosemite, comes managing Drumont's ambitions, candidate in the elections ~ municipal elections in the Gros-Caillou district, where he was soundly beaten - as later in Amiens, then in Algiers, hence the disgusted Algerians, after having had it as a member of parliament for four years, they signify his leave - the most violent actions are raining down.

It's Drumont, and the real thing, neither

(Testament of an Anti-Semite, page 1): Money! It's him who always has the last word in our time, he crosses the chemin to ideas and, in a flash, he tĩaňšfořmo the friends
into adversaries and the adversaries into friends.

When Mr. Paul Déroulède came to fulminef against the Jews in Neuilly, delivering a speech that was more violent than mine, he knew what to be worried about. He had had time to form an opinion on the matter.

One may not be anti-Semitic, but Wadinottrá perpetuates this. that a writer of Déroulède's caliber could have, in a few weeks, changing my mind twice on this point,

– A few weeks after the speech by Nouill ys Dervuiède came to Gros-Cailou to declare, with the same gestures, aveo

DRUMONT'S OPINIONS 275

the same intonations, the same apparent passion as the Anti-Semitism was the shame of our century, that the Jews were the model of torts, virtues, and those who attack them used language unworthy of a civilized age.

So what had happened, P?

Naquet had begun one of those shady negotiations, in which he is incomparable to; and Rothschild had given 200,000 francs to the RBPulangists, for the municipal elections, provided that the candidates would not place themselves on the anti-Semitic front.

No doubt Déroulède Niora does it. He's not a man of noble simplicity, like Mun, who finds everything natural that we don't approve of everything he does. The former President of the Patriots' League has a Punchinello's nose and Polichinelle, in Italian comedy, is a type of martial in which involves a little bit of deceit or at least cunning.

The fact of the 200,000 francs paid by the Rothschilds is not no less well-known to everyone in the League of Patriots. The Duchess of Uzès alluded to it in an interview. A member, a zealous member of the League, a friend of Déroulède, invested by the general, was opposed below by the National Council because it clearly presented himself as an anti-Semite.

This figure of 200,000 francs should not come as a surprise. indicated with such certainty by Drumont; these 200,000 francs is a well-established price.

Déroulède, fighting Drumont's candidacy in Gros-Cailou, received 200,000 francs from Rothschild in 1890.

In 1902, for having found it wrong that Drumont insisted, under the guise of antisemitism, blackmail,

the scam involving fake remedies or pubic hair—
As the owner of the Stock Exchange Sharks, I was accused of having always—200,000 francs from the Jews to fight Drumont and 200,000 francs from Waldeck-Rousseau and his friends for prevent voters from having confidence in Mr. Firmin Faure, whom his constituents in Oran had dismissed with so much reason, and who came to solicit the votes of residents of Levallois-Perret.

However great my personal worth may be, I
I think Waldeck would have made a more accommodating operation and

TET E t

276 LIS TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

less expensive, by offering much less to Mr. Fir—Mr. Faure, for not running, and he would have accepted eagerly.

This market that no one—alas! he would say—has thought of Offering it to him might have spared him these peculiarities trips to Spain to search for weapons blackmail against the Marquis of Casa Riera, a job for which the voters of the Parisian suburbs had not not sent to the House and which doesn't agree well, we're talking about will be suitable, with the mandate of a French deputy.

These quotes from Drumont's books have been updated.
in La Libre Parole, at the time when Déroulède had the idea of create a daily journal.

So, he was no longer the Great Patriot, the Great Fran—çais, the Great Outlaw; the capital letters disappeared in at the same time as the praise and a barely concealed hostility—Guisée suddenly replaced the praise and the testimonies signs of admiration.

Déroulède had become the "competitor": he had, from Furthermore, he was given a platform with his February speech.
1901 in San Sebastián, which Jaurès used in such a ridiculous way against me; and, when I saw Drumont in my cell
At Clairvaux, at the beginning of July, I heard about it — raids on the complicity of the President of the League of Patriots.

– This man who owes me his entire life created through the advertisement that I had done for him, and which comes to us "Take the bread out of their mouths!" Drumont told me, gripped by to an anger that made him lose all sense of Pen-: right where we were.

I had to remind him that there were 12 pairs of ears they were listening to us and that my guards were forced to repeat what they heard.

Ah! yes, Drumont, who was probably not fâ- It was noted that his "compliments" to Déroulède and his Dra- Daily skin falls into other ears than the mine, continued even more violently t -

DRUMONT'S OPINIONS 277

– This Déroulède has no gratitude for per-sounds; thus, see for Castellane who gave him more of 800,000 francs for his campaign; he accuses her of... nant of treason (1) Hey, Guérin, if Castellane had me Given that!

But then, correcting himself:

– If he had given you such a sum, which You could have done it!
– The fact is, if I had had at my disposal 800,000 francs... I would have been less embarrassed to do what I wanted to do.

"Ah!" added Drumont, "if Castellane had wanted to me..."
If someone had given me a letter telling me all that, I would have executed it.
Cut, that great Punchinello!

Drumont, thinking of those 800,000 francs, was decimating truly:

The Flag that Déroulède had the singular idea to establish with the administrative and financial support of MJ-B. Gérin and M. Wiallard-Crémieux, our old knowledge, soon had to give up on publishing.

It is indeed impossible, we tried it too.
to conduct such a work from afar.

Drumont, during his escape in 1894, had learned the dan- the burden of absence; but he had had this advantage, that is that at the time of the difficulties he said he had encountered,

He found us, naives as we were, all with him;
while, as outlaws or prisoners, he was LOUOURE against
We.

With the daily newspaper Le Drapeau defunct, Déroulède published in his bi-monthly magazine, Drapeau, an article in which he said, on December 14th–
December 1901:

There are times when you have to know how to make decisions.
prompt and definitive.

(i) Mr. de Castellane, whom I have had the opportunity to see since my return and When I inquired about this, he confirmed that he had seen Drumont regarding the speech.
from Déroulède to Saint-Sébastien, but not having indicated this figure of 800,000 francs as the amount of his donations to Mr. Déroulède,

278 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

What's the point of prolonging a difficult situation when it is
Is it possible to get out of this?

Yes, undoubtedly, obstacles have been sown in abundance.
on our route, from the moment the daily Flag appears and no one near us did anything to clear the way for us.
min; much more, # there have been evil intentions that have
They put it across and blocked it...

Do you want me to be solely responsible for this?

To my refusal to sign The Obscure Pact of the Discontented?

My firm resolve not to be their dupe, nor their accomplice?

My stubborn insistence on focusing only on ideas and not people? –

To my uncompromising Republican Plebiscitary stance?

Jy CONSORS, |

I, in turn, refused to sign this in March 1902.
Obscure pact of the malcontents, which Syveton had come to me proposing by revealing himself to me, hoping to seduce me – he had until that day he had encountered so many intri- |
gloves, so many people ready to make any compromise,

out of ambition and self-interest! – as the ultimate argument of a long discussion, which made me appreciate the pause. The truth of his overrated intelligence, the combinations of money that formed the basis of all his concerns–

tions. | EF

It was about that famous meeting in Nancy.

for which we had demanded, in the name of our Great

Western France, public and equal participation

to that which we accorded to the French Fatherland.

We had just been duped twice in Lyon by Syveton and it was not convenient for us to play any longer this role of watchdogs at public meetings, at the service of the lecturers frightened by the threats of the Dreyfusards.

Lora from the last meeting in Lyon, Messrs. Syveton and Cavaignac, who was to give a lecture there, apprehended. They strongly condemned the violence announced by the Apples.

– DRUMONT'S OPINIONS ` 279

ton and Sébastien Faure, who promised to the conferees a reunion. They were to be a reunion of the conferees.

I was, at that moment, still in Clairvaux; and, distraught by the idea of the dangers that could befall him – that night, we will remember that, after the demonstrations of Saint-Etienne and Toulouse where the national meetings could not take place – Mr. Syveton, who did not come. He said that our comrades in Lyon were there to protect him, was desperate at their refusal to participate in a conference a discussion where everything was discussed except for anti-Semitism,

I received the following letter in my prison:

Plé 26 June 1901.

My dear friend,

The news we received recently, at
Regarding your health, we are saddened and concerned;
We were all happy to know you were better, pottant y lots:
that a man showed you how this wily thing could do for a cause, it's not just friendship, it's also Pin-

the interest of the national party who want him to retain all his moral energy with all its physical strength: +

The UHS and the other dens would go see you and Vausef with you in your prison, if our lives weren't so overloaded and overworked; but you know how much the union for the lagttelle you spoke so eloquently, it was maiätéñue between us and Your friends who continue to receive your inspiration.

We work together almost everywhere; they lend us Jo contours of their courage; we pave vat 'and we rever- . Photos in a few days at Lyoh. X

Don't think us ungrateful, my dear friend, and capable + in in particular regarding the misappropriation and misappropriation of your property attached.

Q. BYVETON:

I will reply, by the friend who slipped me this letter. that our comrades from Lyon were the sole masters of decider dë fetir attitude and that, if they hadn't been deceived- Not for the first time. They wouldn't have decided to undermine hold.

280 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

Our comrades had expressed the perfectly legitimate desire, since they faced all the risks of the battle against the opponents, to see one of our own speak in the name of the Anti-Jews, in the meetings they ensured security. Fa

We had promised, then we forgot about that commitment. The next day, I received another letter, 'from

Mr. Jules Lemaître, letter which I reproduce:

Dear Mr. Gnérin,

First, all my best wishes for your speedy recovery, with the expression of all my indignation against the abodespicable practices of which you are a victim.

The struggle is becoming increasingly fierce. This government is capable of anything. I must say that everywhere we go,

It is in the Anti-Semitic League that we find help.
more effective against the anarchists at the Prefecture.

In Lyon, Commander Mège was admirable.

In Toulouse, unfortunately, the organizers of the meeting--
nion had (without consulting us) neglected to ask for their Contest for your friends, ONE EE

Since then, members of the Anti-Semitic League say they have
They need a formal order from you, their leader, to march.
Aveo nous. EE

I am simply asking you to give them this.
Order, if you judge, as we do, that the union is indispensable between all the elements of the opposition.

Believe that we all take part in your long torment captivity. I know that neither courage nor patience will help you.
They are missing, but I would like the thought of the countless friends you have in the country, it was a comfort to you and increased
Your strength of resistance, | E |

Please accept, dear Mr. Guérin, the assurance of my feelings
With kind regards. | No

Jules Lemarres.

Out of deference to the President of the French Fatherland-çaise, whom we distinguished from his scheming treasurer,
I immediately decided to send one of our men to Lyon,
To ask members of our Section to provide,

DRUMONT'S OPINIONS 281

Once again, the guard of the meeting, demanding that the anti-Jewish question was discussed there.

Our comrades devoted themselves once again. Messrs. Syve-Ton and Cavaignac pledged to satisfy our Comrades;
and, while they were fighting against the gangs
who were besieging the doors of the hall, the speakers
They forgot, once again, what they had promised.

Later, during Mr. Syveton's visit to Brussels – where he arrived with a false beard that he didn't left only in the small room where he was brought in.
to warn me of his arrival – I learned that this obstination to avoid the Antijewish question came from what he received funds from Judeo-opportunists.

So we understand that when he tells me:

– But if the Great West helps us in black campaign, it is natural that the Caisse de la Patrie Française helps you with your personal propaganda, and Since you don't have much money...

.– We are poor, indeed, I told him in Pin-
'Terrifying, but we cannot accept competitions financial, when we may fear that the funds Those who produce them come from Jewish origins.

– How so, then; do you understand the struggle con-
To be the government?

– Always in the same way. By creating a Federation of all opposition organizations, if This union of all is achievable, or at least to the greatest extent. possible number to bring together. The steering committee of this The Federation would be composed of one or more representatives members of each federated organization and this Committee di- The tenant would appeal to all available financial resources and others. –

` – This combination is impossible,' Syveton told me.

– So, you walk your way and we'll walk ours, because we cannot enter into mysterious combinations
– laughter that hides the compromises you have just to confess to me. 7 7

And we parted ways on that note.

282 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

Drumont was less scrupulous and, at the first opportunity that the pawnbroker préléventieux (1) made to him, he agreed with the finance minister to participate in the pro-financial losses resulting from the uncontrolled handling of sums amounting to several million; sums which were employed in such a way that the successes remembered in 1900, after the High Court's condemnations, were not confirmed in the 1904 elections, where the Nationalist and anti-Greek majority of the City Council of Paris was replaced by a government majority.
telle. : i ;

Here, I will include an anecdote that will show which maneuvers the Drumonts, the Syvetons and the Mérys to-

were going to engage in extortion to extort money from the organizations: tions and members of the opposition.

The situation of Mr. Piou, President of the Liberal Action party, was very compromised in the Saint- constituency Gaudens, of which he was the deputy. - | 5 ,

His friends were worried about finding him another circ- . conscription, less blocked, where he could be elected.

It was, in fact, important that the Chief of the richest ct of one of the strongest opposition organizations would have a seat in the House to lead his group friends. . TRE | 35

They considered a siege in Paris; and as the 18th arrondissement- dissement, which had just been won in the municipal elections pales, seemed conducive to this electoral attempt, one. anticipated the different groups that might have an impact there: fluence. ` LIU a .

I received a visit from a friend of Mr. Piou who explained to me the situation and, I acquiesced, quite willingly and for two reasons 'sounds, to the proposal to present Mr. Piou.

The first one, you, that I found, like his friends, that his presence could be useful to the House and the the second aimed at the anticipated struggle between Messrs. Jous- Selin and Pugliesi-Conti, both willing to stand for election.

(1) That's what he used to call Syveton,

DRUMONT OPINIONS | 283

This struggle, between two opposition councillors, for a legislative seat, could only sow discord among the voters and diminish the two competitors, the loser:

like the victor; if still their discussions wams- did not celebrate the triumph of the Dreyfusard candidate who governed mental. |

Our comrades had the same concerns as me: they had been telling me about it for several weeks and I found- I will, like many citizens, believe that the Piou candidacy could get everyone to agree.

I advocate for our approval and, if necessary, to speak directly to Messrs. Jousselin and Pugliesi-Conti, who all two were members of our Greater Western France. Everyone had counted on Messrs. Drumont and Syveton. . el Gaston Méry. Fe PR

The latter was indebted to Mr. Jousselin, who had com- a fairly large sum for his Echo du Mer- old men; he did everything to flatter hopes: of City councillor for the 17th arrondissement and for the to encourage not to give up on the game.

This is all the more true given that Drumont and Syveton, from their On one side, they were working to secure a purchase of shares in the Free Speech – of those that Drumont still had to read quidet at 2,000 francs. the one, on the package that he had awarded – and the other a large payment to the coffers of the Puirie Française as a reward for his good offices.

We know the result. – – |

` Messrs. Pugliesi-Conti and Jousselin disputed the seat

and it is very important that this competition, between nationals- 'nalists and anti-Jews, would not have made the candidate triumph Governmental. ES? There

The siege was fortunately taken, but Mr. Piou suffered a very regrettable échec dts son ancienne circonscription _ a

On which side will they go, and have they been, the precious Anxi-Ministry liaisons; on the side of the prisoners and pros-critics or on the side of the "Trafiquants" of Anti-Semitism from Maison Drumont and Co and Officine Syveton?

+

IX:

Drumont's Political Convictions

Drumont at Clairvaux. – Agent Oswald discovered. – Mou- The chard was punished and banished. – Drumont and Devos re-evaluate it. – An illegal job. – Caught and denounced. – The inccu- | sation of adversaries. – Henry Maret and Anti-Semitism. – Devos worse than J.-B. Gérin., – Shady dealings and sorting- Soups. – Drumont denies it. – The National Anti-Jewish Committee.

– Against the Royalists. – Major excommunication.
 Drumont and the Duke of Orléans. – An insulting letter. –
 Drumont, a republican. – Mr. de la Ferronnays on the index, –
 France for the French! – The Party's 10,000 francs.
 Royalist, – In Drumont's pocket. – The deputy of Algiers and its electors. – A singular legislator, – A Morinaud's "bad joke"! – A Proconsul implacable and fierce. – A likeable Police Prefect! –
 In prison, at Barborvusse. – Excommunication lifted.
 We sell La Libre Parole, – Drumont. and gon million. –.
 Too expensive! – Secoride proposal, ... Articles by M, Char-the Maurras. – No small profits. – The complaints of Gentlemen Administrators. – Against the Great West and The Anti-Jew. – Bad mood of the Philosopher of Anti-Mitism: – The ideas of Me Ménard. – Gaston Méry and Co.
 – A well-executed "entrapment," – The concerns of a Secretary.

Editor's Office. – Devos and Méry. – An appeal to artists. – Give, Drumont. Cashed in! – Drumont fu-serious. – Devos gets angry. – Drumont's soul. – Me Mé-Nard spills the beans! – Silence is worth more than Por. – The praise-

 These things are worth even more. – How Drumont shares.
 The Jew Bernhard and Free Speech. – 86,000 francs per-
 due. – Drumont's methods. |

The last time I saw Drumont was in my cell in Clairvaux. This j |

DRUMONT'S POLITICAL CONVICTIONS 285

The reasons for my health condition had just been discovered.
 and, upon his return to Paris, he could do no less than write an article that only tells part of the truth, because I don't
 I didn't want to increase my family's worries, that
 On the contrary, I was trying to reassure, while also feeling Growing weaker every day.

Overly pessimistic news could give rise to
 to more numerous articles, to more discussions or less intense and risk rendering precautions useless that, for the past two years, people around my mother had been taking for
 to prevent him from knowing where I was and what had become of me.

He was told that I had to make a "very long one."
 "Trip" to America, for an important matter
 oil and that I would certainly stay for a long time

– absent.

This absence lasted six years and my mother was dead for four years when the borders were open.

During Drumont's last visit, we had not solely caused by Déroulède and Dubuc, on the account of which the Director of Libre Parole had formulated the most disparaging comments.

I made several observations to him.

I told him about the rumors that were circulating concerning... unreviewed, as noted by various witnesses, between his administration Nistrateur Devos and Mr. Spiard.

'Spiard, whose role as mou– our friends had discovered Three months after my entry into Clairvaux, chard had elected Having lost his job, I feel sorry for the state of misery he is in. he was at the end of 1898 had procured for him, on the re– command and the favorable Tonsoignements provided by Mr. Deglos.

I must say that, when my brother was certain of regarding the conduct of this individual, he administered to him, before... to chase, one of those corrections that make history in the. life of a scoundrel of this sort; and if friends were not intervenus, to take Agent Oswald from his hands,

286 THE TRAFFICKERS DR ANTISEMITISM

Drumont's closest collaborator, he could never have to make Mr. Spiard sign the infamies published against me against my brother and my friends.

Hence this hatred of Spiard–Oswald against my dear Louis and the abominable calumnies of that punished scoundrel so Indeed, these are the very calumnies in which Drumont played a part. that I will never forgive him for.

I had to tell Drumort my surprise at learning these relations of its Administrator with a known informant _and the visits he made to La Libre Parole.

A writer, coming one morning to collect his mail, had surprised Devos and

Spiard working together on the Libre collection
Word, taking notes and preparing the ignoble against me
a pamphlet that came into being later. | l

This happened just two weeks after Spiard
had been discovered, punished, and banished.

Drumont denied it, naturally, and asserted that we had been sworn to.
deceived and solemnly swore to me that no one dares – would be able to allow himself, in his own home, to plot anything against "his dear Guérin", the "prisoner of the Jews con-damned by the atmen of Luxembourg to Su an-born in prison to appease the Jews, etc., etc.: P.

'Since then, I have been able to appreciate Drumont's loyalty
value of his solemn oaths given to a prisoner |
and to an outlaw. – |

And, when he dared to write that "he had defended his work"
against my attacks and against those of my friends, attack-
that nothing could justify. on our part. », he was lying brazenly, because in reality we had not done that we defend ourselves against maneuvers directed against
we are our organization through its journal,

The book, which he had signed by Agent Spiard, also known as Oswald,
and the articles of his worthy collaborator Gaston Méry,
had been prepared since April 1900, four months

after my conviction by the High Court and while

I was still at Clairvaux for almost another year and a half,
"meaning to go and endure exile for another four years,

af 12

LRS POLITICAL CONVOCATIONS be DRUMONT 237

There is another observation I had to make to Drumont.

Since the Dreyfus affair, and especially since the victory

article of the opposition, well, a very large anti-Jewish majority
So, in the 1900 municipal elections, the Jewish press and
The government was multiplying its attacks against the Anti-Jews and Anti-Semitism.

And, on all sides, our adversaries were publishing in their newspapers, or declared in their public conferences or private, that Anti-Semitism was a speculation

like any other, and that its supporters made of it especially
An excellent deal.

We have not forgotten the violent articles of Mr. Henry Maret, today in the opposition, at least relatively, on this theme.

And, in support of these accusations against Antisemitism
and against the anti-Jews, various examples of cases were cited shady dealings which, unfortunately, were real.

I spoke to Drumont about it and added:

– You understand how painful it is for me to read here –

'these accusations, and especially learning that they have a based on reality, whereas in fact, it's all speculation, my friends and We've been taking hits for years, and in fact
From a professional standpoint, I see myself in prison for a long time.
"You have," I added, "men around you who"
must abuse the trust you place in them –
It was I who had an unjustified trust in the one who who I was speaking of thus! – and who compromise you in dirty business that is then turned against you and con-
between us. . Na |

You previously complained about having the financier
Gérin, you have today Devos and the meddling of
This one is worth the tripe of that one. | p

– But that's all slander, my dear Guérin never existed, and Devos is incapable of...

– However, I interrupted, p; +

And I cited various very sordid affairs on the-
which I had received, a few days earlier, some indications-
specific tions, | |

C4

288 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

–Drumont denied this... vile devil; and he mon-Very, since then, how much I was deluding myself by putting on the all the blackmail and all the accounts of Devos alone
shady dealings at the shop on Boulevard Montmartre.

Also, when our protests against these malpractices

loaned, had to become public to distinguish us from These merchants, did Drumont have recourse to his usual means to slander and defame those who had de-named his accomplices behind whom, ultimately,
we discovered him to be the inspiration and main beneficiary.

The break had occurred between the Antise- Trafiquanis Mitism and those who had loyally fought for a cause or for ideas, sacrificing everything for them: to have,
Whether modest or significant, health, freedom, and even existence itself

The first hostile act, openly committed by Dru-his mountain, though still cautiously, was the creation of his the infamous National Anti-Jewish Committee of 1901-1902, of which the
-the duration did not exceed the time... to launch a subscription"
and to make the product disappear.

Drumont had formed this National Anti-Jewish Committee, to which he reserved a sovereign role in the elections, to only to channel all electricity subscriptions
to his own private cash register, in his usual way.

Without consulting anyone, he had written down names and had published them. This way of doing things, so conformist!!
. to Drumont's repeated assertions of his respect for the freedom of others presented disadvantages and gave incidents occur.

First, those of our friends, of whom he had included the
"Whose names were on his list, they asked him why"
he had failed to have our Great West represented France among the members of its Grand Electoral Committee anti-Jewish, which, in his mind, was to organize the cam- - Party election fabric

And, to everyone's great astonishment, Drumont declared that this omission had been committed by him because he

DRUMONT'S POLITICAL CONVICTIONS 289

wanted an "exclusively Republican" committee, and that at
In the Greater West, royalists were accepted.

Thus Drumont, who owes his considerable fortune to-today, in large part to the royalists who were the buyers of his books, the funders of his
the newspaper and the majority of its subscribers, excommunicated them.

And when I asked him for your explanation, he wrote to me

a violent letter, which I communicated to Mr. de Lur Sa-Luce, in which he asserted himself as the irreconcilable adversary royalists went so far as to seriously outrage their chief, the Duke of Orléans.

Drumont's "republican convictions" made me
I smiled and replied with the appropriate letter and that our Anïijuif published in extenso.

This horror of Drumont for the royalists was inspired-created solely by his desire to assert himself as a republican in front of his Algerian voters who had elected him in 1898 exclusively as anti-Jewish.

Some time earlier, Drumont had pushed the excommunication from the royalists to the point of prohibiting insertion-tion, in Ja Libre Parole, of the account of one of the weekly Friday meetings of our Committee of social studies because, on that day, the conference had election made by Mr. de la Ferronnays, royalist deputy of the Loire-Inférieure.

However, the subject of this conference was consistent with our anti-Jewish ideas, since Mr. de la Ferronnays had spoken of Mr. de Pontbriand's bill on the situation of foreigners and Jews in France.

This excommunication of the anti-Jewish royalists, who had become all the more numerous as the leader of the Royalist Party had made a resounding endorsement of Anti-Semitism ' in his San Remo manifesto, a case that is both odious and ridiculous.. | i

Odious, because it was in formal contradiction
with the anti-Jewish program, summarized in the doviso La France belongs to the French, not to any particular category of French people.
of this or that opinion, of this or that belief, from

at 19

290 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

the moment when they were, like us, sinister anti-Jews
dear and convinced.

She was all the more so because a year earlier – I
This is the work of the most authoritative of royalists – Drumont, at the time of the Zola trial, had received and accepted from Perti, a royalist, made a donation of 10,000 francs, as a co-

the formation of this party to help fight the Dreyfus-sards; which is why it was necessary, at the same time, to have men who-dedicated and courageous and money to pay the costs of meetings, tending to the wounded and feeding the prisoners.

When this information was given to me, I remembered that Drumont had once asked me to do, in his director's office at La Libre Parole, for a communication important cation.

"My dear Guérin," he said to me, "I have good news." I know that your League is poor, and I want to inform you that... and what personal sacrifices do you make to provide for propaganda expenditures. in order to combat the 'millions disseminated by the Dreyfus Syndicate. A loyal subscription born of the Free Speech movement, widow of a brave officer, came to see me and gave me some hundred franc notes for to contribute to the defense of the army.

Here's 200 francs for the League's coffers; and, if you If you still need them, I can give you three more. or four hundred others.

I will also give "something" to the Anti-Youth Dubuc's groan,

I don't know if Drumont gave anything to Dubue; but for the League, he paid, in three installments, a sum a total of 725 francs, which were used to pay a small, very a small part of our propaganda spending.

However, the "loyal subscriber" of La Libre Parole, widow of a valiant officer, was in reality the Royalist Party which had - handed over, no, 725 francs for the League, and let's admit as much for the Antisemile Youth, but indeed 10,000 francs, of which Drumont, following his custom, had kept the press-that totality.

DRUMONT'S POLITICAL CONVICTIONS 291

The excommunication of the royalists was also idi-she was unable to justify herself, nor had the slightest sanction outside the clan led by Drumont.

And, moreover, Elie lasted just the time it took the Al-Algerians to notify their deputy of his dismissal. The latter, during the four years of his term as a deputy, had not He had set foot in the Chamber twenty times. He had understood his mandate in such a way that he went so far as to vote, or to leave to vote in his name, against the law that reduced taxes on alcohol industrialists with significant rights against whom I had

He was the first, and almost alone, to launch an active campaign.
in the Free Speech section.

This reform, which was of such grave interest to the cooks-
Algerian leaders, had Drumont's vote against her;
when I pointed it out to him, astonished by such a similarity
a vote that was so contrary to the interests of his constituents, he replied:

- But I didn't pay attention to that, you know,
My dear Guérin, how little time I have to go to the Room, with my newspaper, my books and the multiple occupations that absorb me.

I leave my boxes at Morinaäd's and it's this "rascal-
"That person" who certainly played this "bad joke" on me.

I looked at Drumont, a little surprised and thinking that
The Algerians had in him a very singular representative.

This circumstance was one of the opportunities I had to regret having contributed to Drumont's election and to having competed so actively, that Lépine, then governor-the Algerian, hastened to have me arrested, under under the pretext that an Algerian anti-Semite had slapped
an individual disembarking from the cruise ship arriving from Marseille
in Algiers, amidst a convoy of anarchists from the prefecture, sent to fight Drumont and the anti- candidates

Jews.

I must even point out that, in the many articles and in the obscene book, published by Drumont against me, he carefully avoided talking about the cam-

292 THE TRAFFICKERS DR ANTI-SENIOME.

Pagano's 1888 electoral campaign in Algeria, during through which I had become acquainted with the Prison of Barberousse, where the government had me imprisoned by its reintroducing Lépine.

Drumont dodged the question, sensing how much it would affect him
it would have been difficult to say that the prisoner of Barbarossa was a friend of his jailers, and particularly of the one who Drumont constantly called, in his unique and seemingly his eternal speech, which he repeated for two months in the Al-

we were managing, to the point that the listeners recited them phrases before him: the implacable and ferocious Proconsul.

Since then, the said Proconsul has become Mr. Lépine or our active Prefect of Police, and we kindly announce, his travels and the marriage of his offspring.

When I talk about Gaston Méry, I will explain why of these thoughtful gestures towards the current Prefect of Police, attentions so different from the insults one could read in the Free Speech against the former governor of Algeria.

Not only did the excommunication of the Royalists not have no duration; but, from the day when the disillusioned Algerians sent Drumont back to his beloved... political speculations pharmaceuticals, our "fierce republican" of 1898 In 1902, he returned the solicitor of those he had put out Antisemitism.

And we have lived regularly, ever since, in the Free Parole, the accounts reridus of all the events
royalists, the official communications of the politico-the Duke of Orléans's tic and the most sympathetic mentions the ethics of the displacements of the one whom Drumont insulted
so violently in the correspondence he addressed to me
late 1901, in Brussels, to convince myself of his reuncompromising publicanism.

La Libre Parole even published a whole series of articles
by Mr. Charles Maurras.

And, when we talk about these changes in attitude of-before MJ-B, Gérin and Aubry, members of the Council of Interested in the Word fiber, they replied:

DRUMONT'S POLITICAL CONVICTIONS 293

– Good heavens, Drumont received 50,000 francs from the royalists
for that !

Is that accurate? I don't know; however, the remarks have their value since they come from two administrators Drumont, who must know what is happening in the ar-back kitchen of Maison Drumont and Co.

What I know, for example, and quite rightly, is that at Drumont tried to sell his newspaper to the Royalist party.

The first time was in 1902, at the time of the publication of the articles by Mr. Charles Maurras; but the combination failed, Drumont having requested, in addition to the maintaining his position as editor-in-chief with His salary was greatly increased, a million for him personally. neatly.

The second negotiation is much more recent.

It dates from the first days of January 1906. Drumont sent Mr. Léon Daudet to London to propose to the Duke d'Orléans to buy back La Libre Parole for a thousand lion. - i

The Duke of Orléans found the sum excessive and turned away-sif the applicant. . :

Mr. Daudet returned without the million desired by Drumont to plug its "holes in the moon".

The sum requested by Mr. Léon Daudet represents, Indeed, exactly the amount of the 600 shares sold. 2,000 francs each, to current shareholders, including one A large number of people are urgently demanding the Social Report and ask where the funds they handed over went.

The number of shares being 809, and the agreements Gérin-Drumont allocated only 150 shares to each of them, that is, 300, the proceeds from the investment of the other 500 should to be paid into the social security fund, amounting to one million,

And that million never entered it, not even in part.

For Drumont, no profit is too small.

294 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

Large sums of money obviously suit him better. than the small ones; but he does not disdain these, even when it comes to a few hundred francs.

Example: £

I said that of the 10,000 francs given to Drumont, by the Royalist Party, for the Anti-Propaganda Fund Jewish, at the time of the Zola trial, he had paid us, for the League, in several installments of 725 francs.

Well! He got those 725 francs reimbursed by the Free Speech fund.

Proof: |

– One day our good friend Bouttier, then in litigation with the Free Speech, to have access to the accounts and the assessment still refused, and for good reason, received the visit to Nancy, from a Mr. Desbarres, an employee of MJ-B. Gérin, placed by him first at La Libre Parole, from where Devos moved pressa to dismiss him once he was appointed administrator, then to the daily flag of Déroulède.

`This employee of MJ-B. Gérin came, he said, from by Mr. Aubry, member of the Council of Stakeholders of the Free Speech – Mr. Gérin avoided mentioning his name too much forward – to provide Bouttier with proof of the wrongdoing-tions of Devos.

'I gave our friend a whole series of documents in- and, in addition, the copy of the principal passages little of an expert report on commercial accounting. Mr. Kling, whom Drumont and Devos had had to agree to allow intervention to prevent their colleagues from the Con- If the interested parties follow through on their projects complaint against his agent Devos. ai

The minutes of the meeting of July 29, 1903 activates the addition of a copy of two written complaints against Devos by three members of the Council.

I will speak again, moreover, about these matters of dispute. between the members of the Council of Interested Parties: Messrs. Tur- . quet, J.-B. Gérin and Aubry, on the one hand, and their colleague Drumont and the administrator Devos, on the other hand,

DRUMONT'S POLITICAL CONVICTIONS 295

It is extremely enlightening and conclusive.

It is in these extracts from the Kling report that I have found taté this reimbursement of 725 francs, made to Drumont, in twice, of the sum he had paid to the League, on the donation of 10,000 francs from the royalist party.

I therefore return to Drumont's maneuvers against our Great Western France, against its newspaper Pan-tijuif and against myself.

They began, as I Tai established, during that I was still at Clairvaux and while I was supposed to be there stay for almost another year and a half.

Why did Drumont want to destroy the Great Occident?
tooth of France and his organ the Anti-Jew, while he me
Did he know he would be in prison for a long time?

There were two reasons for this behavior:

One moral one, because, as Joseph Ménard told me,
then editorial secretary at La Libre Parole, during
'On his first visit to Clairvaux, I was apparently wearing...'
braggade to the undisputed leader of anti-Semitism,

– Drumont is in a rather bad mood every ma-
"Tins," he told me, "ever since he found in his mail..."
Every day, Jewish letters claim that he is the philosopher:
of the Party, but that "the man of action", the "desired leader-
"Gné," that's the Prisoner of Clairvaux: Jules Guérin. JI also finds it bad that in the demonstrations and the
At meetings, people shout more "Long live Guérin!" than "Long live Guérin!"
Drumont!

"We must reassure Drumont," I said to Ménard, "and him."
to state that I do not wish to "dethrone" him. I do not aspire
I am only doing my duty and nothing more. Besides, I am here now for ten years, this must be Drumount.

– Not at all. And since he clearly believes that an amnesty-Tie will come before ten years, he is worried about the day of the release.

And Mr. Ménard, in this way, approved the cor-

296 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

"Drumont's correspondents, who, he said, was getting old,
had "bad habits" and was becoming increasingly
"a chamber" by Gaston Méry and a collaborator who helped him to "lock up the old man"

The Editor of La Libre Parole told me-
he learned a whole host of astonishing things about Drumont, Méry, Devos, telling me of his deep fears of being "undercut"
by Gaston Méry and his "collaborator", who became a mafiasovereign braid at Drumont's, and making a clean house there of all the old servants. RC n

– The first victim will be the "old and faithful"
Marie, passing by Landrieu and me at the newspaper; – Gås-

Your Méry wants my place and, with the help he has now-holding court with Drumont, – a competition which he has used assured of loyalty for years (1) – he will succeed in replace me. _ |

There will undoubtedly be further changes later on.
at the newspaper, because Méry aspires to be its editor in chief and administrator. He hates Devos, who makes him pay:
Well, and he recently caused an incident which almost led to Devos' departure, regarding an article by L'Aurore, November 28, 1900

This article was about a circular from Devos. I'll re- |
produce: |

Las ÉrténNes AUX ABONNÉ; DE 1A Liane PAROLE
Donmez, Drumont takes the hit

has

A number of artists: painters, sculptors, engravers, |
have, regu the little ciroulaite that is here t

(4) The Méry et Cie association dates from a few months before the tour.
by Mrs. Eugénie Buffetala, street singer," It then featured the "Beautiful Mrs." X... » sing in the tales the Blue Lullaby of Montoya to receive the goir, with his "signed" Gaston Méry, placo under fire and cover; for, at this
At the time, the Municipal Councillor of the Montmartre district was enjoying himself.
and satisfied his needs wherever he could. Since then, everything has been beanconp 6hatge
He said for his partner, and that will probably change things further.

DRUMONT'S POLITICAL CONVICTIONS 297

FREE SPEECH
Daily political newspaper

Director :

Énovann DRUMONT
. Administration. Paris, November 23, 1900.

-We are organizing a distribution for January 1st.

rewards for our subscribers.

We would like to understand, among our rewards, what-works of art, of little importance of course; and, For this reason, we are requesting your assistance.

Perhaps you, too, have always had it all to yourself.
renting Jews P

Perhaps you will not hesitate to put us at one of your works, however small it may be,

In exchange, we will offer you everything we have. to offer, that is to say, to make available to you the Free Parole: whenever you would like to give us a comment communication: trade shows, exhibitions, etc.

We would include, if you wish, in the nomenclature-
The rewards, the gift that you would like to give us to do, as being an acquisition made by the Free Speech.

Please accept, Sir, the assurance of our esteemed distinguished ration.

For Padmin stratéteur:

J, Dusors.

Isn't it delicious?
Down with the Jews?

While I was reading this article, Mr. Ménard told me...
had brought it, this one, all laughter, - said to me:

- Isn't that funny, and Drumont was furious that this circum-
cular, signed with a fanciful name, had fallen to
hands of opponents, -© |

He...garneled Devos and reproached him for not having
He didn't take any better precautions.

298 THE TRAFFICKERS DR ANTISEMITISM

Ti then submitted, for composition purposes, a letter which he had done at his home, as soon as Méry had made him re-to put the Aurora on, with some comments against the Devos's clumsiness, by his usual confiscation.

The letter in question had, in fact, appeared in La Libre Words from November 28, 1900, after Drumont's article. Here is the beginning:

My dear Devos,

You know that you are completely unfamiliar with the Administration of journal and, moreover, absent from Paris for two months and Half, I never knew about the mechanism and the details of the contest you organized for New Year's gifts, I found your simply, very ingenious and very happy the idea of distributing gifts to everyone through a competition these loyal subscribers, to whom we are united by a bond of genuine affection. :

Today, I have the impression that, with the system we If we suffer, this idea will only bring you trouble. arguments and troubles.

– This time – it's still Mr. Ménard speaking – Devos, who sensed that the opportunity was coming from Méry, who, after having dismissed the "old and faithful Marie", his aunt and protector, was working to get him to leave for his In turn, he became angry; he reproached Drumont for licking his boots, for to disavow him, even though he knew very well Penvoi de la circular, ridiculed by Aurora, and he declared that he par– was silent, he gave his resignation.

He stayed three days, without coming to the newspaper, to the great Méry's joy; then, seeing that no one was running behind He returned to his place and continued his work.

L'Aurore was not fooled by Drumont's disavowal and, In its issue of January 29, 1900, it published a A short note worded as follows: l

We have placed before our readers two _ days, the delightful call of the Tiber Word, to generosity painters and sculptors: A IN EE

DRUMONT'S POLITICAL CONVICTIONS 299

Following this advertisement, Drumont addressed his Admi- nister, an even more delightful letter.

Here, Aurora reproduced the letter quoted above and ended like this:

It wasn't me! It was Devos!

Last week, in the Chamber, Drumont exclaimed:

– It wasn't me, it was Papillaud!

It's never him. Drumont is a beautiful soul who waima

no trouble,

Mr. Ménard didn't talk to me about all of this as a man who had heard him say it.

Not |

"I saw it, I heard it," he asserted, "and it made me very happy." amused; and at one point, as Devos was saying to Drumont:

– But why prevent this combination of gifts? artistic projects for subscribers? We've done a lot of them. others.

"Yes," replied Drumont, "but that mustn't happen." know, and—with blunders like that, you would lead us all to the penal colony.

– Oh, you vil, I said to Ménard; but then, how to Does this mean that Drumont is keeping an individual who can lead him? That far away? He can just get rid of it.

He will be careful not to do so, because he always needs a man who will allow him to "fly" – the word has been said – 300,000 francs a year, without getting caught... And then, Devos is useful to him for a number of cases where he doesn't dare to put himself Its name: financial affairs, land affairs, sale of pharmaceutical products.

– What, which pharmaceutical products?

– But the treatment of the Carthusian Fathers! The wine! des Chabannes, la Tisane du doï-ur Laroche, etc... etc... I had in my possession, for the purpose of examining disputes, the treaties I am involved in these matters with the pharmacist Malavant: I am So, well informed,

300: THE ERADICATORS OF ANTISEMITISM

I couldn't believe it.
And that was the true result of all the struggles.
sées, from the isa where I was euco"e!

When I saw that after the last interview, in Clair-
'vaux, Drumont continued to tolerate these traffickings and to participate in them-
I consulted our friends and we protested to to distinguish ourselves from these merchants and clearly mark our isolation from all these repugnant trafficking activities.

We tried, for as long as possible, to do
To understand Drumont, first of all, our determination well arrested for protesting all the manipulations by Mr. Ménard had confirmed its existence to us, and how urgent it was.
that he would get rid of us and deliver us all from the same wolf
de Devos, Méry and Ce, |

We only acted in the interest of the cause and our ideas, in order to limit this scandal to those that We believed we were the only ones truly guilty.

We have since learned that the first culprit was the one who took the lion's share from all these matters; and, from one day to Pautre, more information
information reached us regarding Drumont's methods.

His desire to see the disappearance of the Great Oecideni and the Antijuif came from the troubles that our modest organ had thrown into his blackmail operations against the financiers business launchers,

When a financier or a company wanted to launch a
In this matter, Drumont dispatched his emissary, who asked-dait what part was reserved for Free Speech gur le budget advertising.

This share was always too low and the emission-Saire pointed out that La Libre Parole was the newspaper
the most dangerous thing for emissions, if it were to show itself there hostile, and that, consequently, he could not admit
a share of ordinary advertising.

The sitence of the Libre. Parole and Drumont on a a shady deal, or even a good one, had a high price
and its favorable publicity is invaluable.

/

DRUMONT'S POLITICAL CONVICTIONS 301

We understood and we paid the large sum which Drumont took the lion's share.

In Mr. J.-B. Gérin's circle, there were protests... This claim by Drumont was cited, and an abbreviation was quoted. having thus produced 30,000 francs, on which Drumont initially took 20,000 francs, Devos 5,000 francs, and the newspaper's cash register takes the rest.

All this went well as long as Free Speech remained the the only anti-Jewish paper; and, at the moment when L'Antijuif appeared, In August 1898, Drumont had just secured an immense sum of money. bearing to the Jew Bernhard who had created, a little auparavant, the Special Bank of Industrial Securities.

When I saw ads for this 'bank in In La Libre Parole, I pointed out the fact to Drumont, telling him—who was the instigator of this affair, whom I know—

I have long recognized its value, and whose role, as consular judge at the Commercial Court, had been such that his colleagues had had to quarantine him and to prevent him from taking his seat.

It was upon our return from Algeria, and Drumont replied to me—said, with the affable air he knows so well how to adopt: — But, my dear friend, I know nothing about this matter; Devos had to deal with that. I'll talk to him about it.

I studied the financial scheme of the Jew Bernhard, whose conduct had itself been denounced by La Libre Parole, in 1895, regarding the Humbert affair and the trials of the—which it gave rise to before the Commercial Court, and I do not I didn't realize that there was a new one there. nelle et dangereuse flibusteri |

The 100-franc shares were already worth nearly 300 francs.

“and the gullible people bought, bought based on the word of the “bo—

"Niments" of certain newspapers, including La Libre

Words. © m Ne

– I conducted a very well-documented campaign in PAntijuif and

I provoked the withdrawal of the funds entrusted to the Jew Bernhard.
He had just been named a Knight of the Legion of honor, on the eve of being arrested and convicted of theft,

302 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM –

Fraud, breach of trust, and violation of the law on...
Companies, committed suicide.

The situation was thus resolved in time 'and it gave 70% to shareholders, but only on the share price at a pair of 100 francs worth of shares; but the product considered– a table of all the increases from 169 to 280 and 300 francs... that the Jew Bernhard had managed to provoke, had already disappeared, as everything else would have disappeared if we had allowed to continue, for a few more months, this gigan-tesque scam.

Drumont, who had been promised 100,000 francs... 3
For this case, he only received 14,000, of which a small amount part was collected by the Free Speech Society and.
He never forgave me for making him lose with our modest Anti-Jew, the 86,000 francs..., which he had in-core to receive and that the Jew Bernhard would naturally-deducted from the assets of readers and subscribers of Free Speech, led to his home by its Director.

Hence the countless acts of treachery against the Great West.
from France, its organ L'Aniijuif and myself; and also,
the smear campaign undertaken and pursued by all means and what means!

To conclude this chapter where I discussed the Na- Committee anti-Jewish nationalist movement, founded by Drumont in 1902, and of which all the candidates were soundly defeated – with such patronage, this is understandable – including the President himself – Indeed, I cannot avoid relating two incidents which occurred.

We know how respectful Drumont is of freedom from others. For him it's a passion, a fanaticism, and he

He proved it quite well with poor Lasies, whom he had glued the name among the members of its Appeals Committee... to the box.

La Libre Parole first announced the creation of the Committee in question, then she gave the names of its members, re-Crutés, we know how, and finally she published a manifesto ending with "Long live the Republic".

DRUMONT'S POLITICAL CONVICTIONS 303

Apparently, this was necessary for the voters of Algiers!

Lasies, who had not protested against the publication of His name as a member of the Committee, could not, at all even, pushing condescension towards Drumont to the point of- than to sign a republican manifesto – I mean to app- Republican parentage, of course.

– You understand, Drumont, that my constituents who sons Bonapartists, and elected me as such, would find her bad to see me suddenly shouting: "Long live the Republic- "I cannot put my name at the bottom of your manifesto.

"It's take it or leave it," replied Drumont, with his usual arrogance, and if you refuse me vole name for my manifesto, I warn you that it is the break against us and that we will never cite you again- Let us speak freely in the Free Speech, whatever you do.

Lasies vigorously maintained his refusal, and I was not not alone in laughing at Drumont's efforts to avoid- to allow the name of Lasies to be mentioned in the accounts dus sessions of Parliament, where the deputy from Gers pre- Words often arise, it must be said, very usefully and very bravely.

I gladly do this justice to a man who * did not always have the appropriate attitude towards me – particularly the day he consented, for twenty-four only hours, for he withdrew at once – to be the witness against me, in the company of Mr. Papillaud, of the financier J.-B. Gérin.

Since then, by force of circumstance, Drumont had to renounce to this grotesque attitude and Lasies became again – for com- How long! – first Mr. Lasies, then the energetic Member of Parliament for Gers, then our friend, our good man, our excellent man friend Lasies.

Another incident was caused by the attitude of our friend Baranton, municipal councillor of the 4th arrondissement and whose name had also been "appropriated" by Drumont.

304 TRAFFICKERS DB ANTISEMITISM

© Baranton was one of the first to express his astonishment at see the Greater West of France, not represented in an electoral committee that claimed to speak and to act – but above all to collect – in the name of all this Anti-Jewish Party.

What he saw and heard, at the only session he attended agreed to attend, but was so disgusted that he no longer never feet 14, boulevard Montmartre.

And, at the moment when Drumont began, against our organizationisation and against me, his hideous campaign of lies and of the slander, Baranton very clearly sided and very loyally, with his usual integrity, from my side.

Drumont never forgave him for that and, in turn, Baranton was excommunicated by the Pontiff of the Mont- boulevard marten, Baranton responded to this new manifestation of the Drumont's respect for the freedom of thought of others, per la Jättre fort digne que je repros ici et que Drumont was careful not to publish in La Libre Parole, s'ap- 'on the contrary, it is advisable to avoid putting it under the eyes of its readers – who are fewer and fewer in number – all the documents from the trials of tendency that he brings against those who have the they took great honor in displeasing him for their independence, . dance and their loyalty.

Here is Baranton's letter:

Mr. Drumont,

In the May 18th issue of La Libre Parole, my friends have noted and sent me an article entitled Committee National Anti-Jewish, in which I am excluded from all organ- subsequent nisation (PPP),

I don't quite understand, and I would be particularly grateful to you—
I would be grateful if you could explain this measure to me.

I had given my support to the formation of a Committee electoral campaign aimed at fighting in favor of anti-Jewish candidates and to complement the action of the Greater West of France.

— Jules Guérin, currently in exile, could indeed find paralyzed in the direction of the campaign by your

DRUMONT'S POLITICAL CONVICTIONS 305

obstacles to its communications with our friends on the order from the Reinach ministry.

From the very first meetings of this Committee, I have had to observe,
To my great regret, it was all about money and that the conditions of a fundraising appeal were the sole purpose concerns of the majority of the Committee.

I am involved in politics out of a sense of duty, and I cannot accept a role in some financial arrangement. I have done
I had to refrain from appearing at the following meetings, which
You can see that for yourself.

The struggle, subsequently initiated by Mr. Devos against our My friend Jules Guérin, was yet another reason to confirm my feelings.
in my desire for complete abstention, o |

I could certainly have submitted my resignation to the Committee
National Anti-Jewish, but, besides the general interest of the Party, who commanded me not to make my feelings public of personal repulsion concerning the financial action of Committee, I thought, as I still think today, that the struggle between a few personalities could not be a cause of division within the Anti-Jewish Party.

Ordered by my colleague, Gaston Méry, to opt Between you and Guérin, I responded with a formal refusal, in declaring that I was completely exonerating you, but that I would never abandon Guérin at a time when other pro-
took advantage of his exile to attack him.

I saw you the day after that conversation and I saw you
I explained to you that Guérin and the League of the G.-O.-F.
having given me their support in the municipal elections, sometimes even without my knowledge, and always with the utmost disinterestedness Therefore, I owed it to myself to be grateful to my friends, and I repeated to you then the esteem and respect that I had for you as the leader of anti-Semitism and author of the ou—

works that opened our eyes to the national danger.

You then accepted my neutrality and you understood like me, that the struggles of people to whom we do not Neither Pun nor the other remained strangers, according to our affections. personal matters could not and should not be expressed by a public wte, likely to give the impression of a Missasion in the Anti-Jewish Party.

The final elections took place on May 11th.
at the moment the National Anti-Jewish Committee ceased to exist,

306 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

It was on May 17th that I was targeted because of my abstention from the meetings of this Committee.

Thank you for waiting for a date that removes all value to your decision.

Regarding the decision you claim to be making concerning subsequent organizations (?), I don't know on whose behalf you You can take it and you will admit that hatred has hurt. Piré, the author of this proposal, a man who could be difficult to exclude from a defunct organization than a future organization.

Moreover, you have spared yourself a refusal from me by excluding me from any organization in which I would be included Vexilé's detractors, who alone had the courage to act while others held forth in their chambers and his opponents refuse to hear opposing arguments in front of men of honor.

Therefore, accept for yourself the thanks of an Anti-Sincere Jew.

Paul Baranton.

P.S. – The announcement of my exclusion, published in type,– specials in the May 18th issue of La Libre Parole, having may have given rise to misinterpretations among your readers Looking out for me, I count on your loyalty to spare me from demanding the insertion of this answer in your most Next issue:

Baranton experienced Drumont's "loyalty"
who did not insert his letter, despite the obvious right of our friend.

He disregarded this non-inserting his protest against methods which engendered so much discouragement and disgust among the most sincere, devoted and most selfless.

"Bad faith is the soul of polemics," said one Drumont day, who knows better than anyone!

X

1868-1902: Different times, same methods.

Drumont is preparing his cooking pots. – His worthy collaborators. – Spiard, author and publisher. – The protestations. – Gentleman and informer, – 'An editor Disgusted. – A difficult launch. – Visit from a collaborator-Journal editor, – Mysterious characters. – The Little Bleu and Le Soir de Bruxelles. – Le Matin. – Puibaraud patronizes the work of Drumont, Méry, and Spiard. – La Libre The floor begins – Right of reply denied. – The officer Oswald. – A dirty business. – Spiard and Spiur. – A new-New proof. – A precedent. – The Casse-Gueule, – Against Mr. Odalin. – Drumont dictates, Devos writes. – One Autograph. – Another precedent. – Louis's protégé Veuillot. – The accomplice of policeman Marchal de Bussy. – The Unyielding. – A pretty blackbird! – The Memoirs of Roche-strong. – Drumont judged by Louis Veuillot. – As PIn-Flexible! – At the printer Hoste's in Ghent, – The hour of the sharing. – The accomplices quarrel. – The agent Oswald "swallows the truth." – The truth about the role of trio: Drumont, Méry and Devos. – Syveton payel – Spiard accuses! – In 1870. – Same story. – Mother Du-oak. – Marchal and Drumont. – The Literary Louse. – The Aunt Duchêne. – The Furniture of Marchal do Bussy. – Cheap house, – Drumont, severe censor, – One Household in Troyes! – The morality of Drumont and Méry. – "Faisours"!

When Drumont became convinced that we did not accept We would show no solidarity with him and his cronies, and that we would protest against the manipulations he commits-

was, under the guise of Anti-Semitism, hiding behind-behind the name Devos, as he had been, during the three early years of Libre Parole, sheltered behind Messrs. J.-B. Gérin and Wiallard, he resolved to attack our organization, its organ, and myself, in order to
to take the initiative.

Like the rogue caught red-handed stealing who shouts the First: Thief! to throw them off the scent.

- But, despite the banishment I still had to endure-
for eight years, and which put the borders between Drumont and me, the director of La Libre Parole
he did not dare, himself and openly, to undertake his cam-
a loincloth of lies and slander.

He resorted to a roundabout method and used labor,
started the day after the expulsion of the informer - covered among the staff of the newspaper and our printing press Merie, Mr. Charles Spiard.

And; it was then that the unspeakable book appeared which was able to be...
Printed under the signature of Ch. Spiard, author and publisher, and without the printer having dared to put his name on his work,

This book, a tissue of nonsense and insults, DR ne
could move me.

It was merely a repetition of the brochures I had has already done justice several times, and the Free Word had so often condemned ignominy, especially and in der-to deny place, during the use that the Attorney General of the
The High Court had wanted to do it so imprudently. I-I will add that it is in reports signed "Gaston Méry's that La Libre Parole reported the ignominy of the proceded employee in exchange for me.

The perpetrators of this filth were so well aware that Their deceitful work would have had no success with me.
honest people, they embellished their lucubrations
citing statements made, they boldly assertedly, by honorable persons and whose names
were intended to impress readers,

1868-1902 à! avrnes TEMPS, mmes pRooÉDés 309

Unfortunately for the Drumonts, Spiard and con-fates, these people, whom we had thus gratuitously put those involved protested against the language and attitudes that they attributed to me.

I quoted some of these protests. They suffice—will have to judge the conduct of the perpetrators of the unspeakable a book launched against an outlaw and against modest work but useful, which he had created.

Mr. Roque, editor at Le Clairon de la Villeite, replied—said to the friend who had given him the signed book Spiard:

Sir,

When you came to Inoi's house to ask me to 'answer' at the request of Mr. Jules Guérin that you waves communitat, without doubting your good faith, I have denied you to be willing to put under my eyes the volume where you have ` He heard this sentence: "We'll give you fifteen minutes, summer."

The invention is really too good; presumably I have it read on page 83 of the volume, wishing to pay homage to the In truth, I declare that never and under no circumstances have I I did not give any verbal or written order to Mr. Jules Guérin or to other people,

Mr. Ottaviani, journalist, says:

I categorically deny Pau-'s statements The father had a fever and affirms on his honor that he had never been directly or indirectly responsible for a trip of this kind in Brussels. | | ->

From Mr. Moro-Giafferi, lawyer:

I am astonished to learn that, in a book that I... I haven't read it yet; I'm being given a role as an intermediary between You are His Highness Prince Napoleon.

There is no truth in this statement.

I would add that it is even utterly unbelievable, Neither you nor I could have had such an idea:

From Prince Victor-Napoleon, by a letter from Mr. Blane,
his private secretary:

As you can see, Prince Napoleon never
I had no direct or indirect relationship with you and no
No action has been taken with SAI either in your favor, either in favor of the Greater West of France or of your daynal.

Mr. Deglos, who recommended Mr. Spiard to us, re-laid eggs for my brother:

I received your registered letter of 25 Sun, : you mwy learn of the publication, which I was unaware of, of a book in which
It would be a question of remarks that I allegedly made to you.

Since you tell me you are not willing to support them Today, I don't believe you were willing to...
to support at any other time.

Mr. Dallemand, architect: : |
It is inaccurate that I gave Pautour the book in question.
the information he provides.

From Mr. Léopold Stévens, painter:

My dear Jules,

Do I need to tell you that this whole story concerns me?
nant is a pure invention from the beginning until the end. So there's no need to dwell on any of its details any further than on another.

I hope to have the opportunity to come and see you soon.

With all my heart, my dear Jules,

Léopold Srévens.
From Max Régis, former Mayor of Algiers:

My dear Guérin,

I would like to begin by apologizing for the delay in responding to both letters of April 23rd and 24th, delay which can only be attributed to the overwork of these lately.

1868-1902: DIFFERENT TIMES, SAME METHODS 911

I have never spoken to the author of the book in question and have not I could therefore have said the things he attributes to me, so as regards the deme B... W... than the letter from Mores.

I swear it on my honor, and I don't understand: not for-
What, this individual is using my name for his odious cam-
Paddle against you.

These people are taking advantage of your absence a little too much to...
to hurl all sorts of infamies at you

Luckily your exile will be short-lived, eb that soon you'll be able to return to France and inflict a correction-
. tion to all these wretches.

With kind regards,

Max Recn.

From Mr. Sarrien, Member of Parliament and former Minister:

Sir,

Jo wai never made the statements you indicate to me and never you were not in the service of the Ministry of the Interior at the time-
where I was Minister of the Interior,

Please accept, sir... ete.

From Mr. Auloy, merchant:

Sir,

I was somewhat surprised by your letter of the 23rd of this month, having learned from her that I was implicated in a title of controversy, as well as Mr. Auloy.

I don't have the honor of knowing Mrs. de P... and, by Consequently, "I have never seen her nor spoken to her."

On the other hand, I did not allow anyone to use my name to fabricate these accusations.

As for Mrs. Auloy, she is completely unaware of it, just like me. the person and the object in question.

"I have absolutely no desire to serve combinations" more or less interested than I am, a pioneer around this A ridiculous and far-fetched story.

312 THE TRAFFICKERS DR ANTISEMITISMMR
From Mr. Mayol de Lupé: |

Sir,

Your registered letter could only be delivered to me much later.
I have read the book you mentioned; Pau-
The man came to my house, that's true, but I didn't go then.
satisfies his desires.

Today, he is dragging my name into quarrels that have nothing to do with me.
Don't look, in terms I disavow, I will not break
not the silence surrounding his work,

I must add that Mr. Mayol de Lupé's disavowal was particularly interesting, because the strange relations that Mr. Spiard claimed to have had with this royalist gentleman and his friend and fellow believer po-
The litigious, Mr. Auloy, seemed quite peculiar to everyone.

They protested against the role assigned to them. It-
It was fine, but it would certainly have been better for them, to turn away an individual expelled from our printing works and our newspaper as a proven informant, what consent to interviews and private meetings with such a person ringing.

Later, Spiard, in collusion with Drumont and Méry,
He abused it against them even more than against myself.

since I had the honor of being insulted by a scoundrel who affirmed their complacency towards him.

I won't say any more so as not to upset anyone. royalist friends, sincere and devoted anti-Semites, who were and remained friends of the outlaw, but I owed to less to say my opinion on the regrettable condescension from Messrs. Mayol de Lupé and Auloy to Vegatd of a malefactor—The perpetrator was caught red-handed.

I will add that when I was taught in Brussels that a book was going to be published against me and that Mr. Fayard, publisher, was going to become the propagator, I questioned by dispatch ee néponient and sent him the segria before:

1868–1902: AUTAES TRNPS, SAME PROCESSES 9313

Brussels, April 11, 1902

Fayard, publisher,
58, Boulevard Saint-Michel,
i | Peris.

I've learned that under the cover of an individual you don't know... You can ignore the indignity, you are the true publisher of the offensive and defamatory book that a newspaper belongs to you—nant announced this morning.

I hold you responsible for this infamy and I take note of this and request compensation from you as it should be done. will come, `

Jules Guéen.

Mr. Fayard replied to this dispatch immediately:

Opposite denies it in the most formal way; I am not the publisher of the volume; I saw Pauteur for the first time fifteen days; I had been demarcated as a bookseller, I have rejected after reading.

| Fayarv.

Before the appearance of their unspeakable book, Messrs. Drumont and Méry tried to get the press to talk about it Parisian, and good copies were given to the reaction of the Journal, including the director and the secretary of The editorial staff had the loyalty to inform me to publish a response, at the same time as they would have spoke about the attacks I was subjected to.

I therefore received a visit in Brussels from Mr. Ludovic Naudeau, editor at the Journal, and one of his collaborators the most active and distinguished.

I told Mr. Ludovic Naudeau who the signatory was of the volume he was showing me, how and why he had been driven from our home; I showed him, evidence in hands, what was the individual's past, a past that an enour quest in Tarascon, Marseille and Perpignan had re- He was so impressed that the Journal said nothing about it. the filthy pamphlet that had been handed to him.

914 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

And, I remember that during the conversation, having I told Mr. Ludovic Naudeau that I couldn't believe that honorable journalists become complacent echoes of a Spiard, informer and convicted criminal Mun, the editor of the Journal replied to me:

– You're right, but I believe that, behind this individual, there are other characters who want to af- to dye, without revealing oneself.

The other characters were the Drumonts, the Méry, the Syveton and the Devos.

Having failed at the Journal, Drumont and his dear- They are keen to launch their pamphlet in another way.

They had sent, in the form of Correspondence parisienne, a note to two important newspapers of Brussels, Le Petit Bleu and Le Soir, which, in good faith, reproduced. f |

When she appeared, I went to see the directors. of these newspapers, and I built them up, as I had built Mr. Ludovic Naudeau, on the account of the signatory of the volume. | |

They inserted, quite correctly, a letter of explanation | the messages I sent them, and Drumont's plans were thwarted once again.

A few days later, it was the turn of Le Matin de Paris. to publish a fairly long extract from the book Spiard.

I was not surprised by this, because the Morning had then a collaborator who signed Louis Manini and who was supposed to to naturally become the guarantor of the honorability of the Drumont, Méry, Spiard and Syveton gang.

Louis Manini was just a pseudonym, and this colla- The editor of Maïin was none other than Puibaraud, the boss

Spiard and all the spies who could have, since _ for years, infiltrating all the opposition parties.

-I must say that Le Matin and its editor, Mr. Gaston Leroux, when they learned the signatory's character from the book, passages of which they had quoted, published my protested and turned away the director's accomplice of Free Speech, when he made the claim to do insert a response to my protest.

1868-1902: DIFFERENT TIMES, SAME METHODS 315

Drumont and Co.'s firecracker therefore fizzled out quickly, and For- hard, which had been printed in 25,000 copies, remained for account to its authors.

No sooner had the book been published than Drumont, who was only expecting... articles published by newspapers other than his own, com- began, in La Libre Parole, the campaign prepared con- three me. |

And for six weeks, Drumont's readers... They saw the contents of the brochures served in installments. anonymous posts published by my opponents over several years (1). |

The articles in La Libre Parole were naturally so- Gaston Méry's gnés, because Drumont could not have found, in apart from this individual, and among his collaborators, a the only man capable of agreeing to carry out a pa- reille besogne.

In these articles, I was presented as the Auxiliary

from the Ministry and proof of the support I provided to Waldeck and his friends, Drumont and Méry, were saying the truth in the book signed Spiard.

– It is not we, they wrote, who are asserting everything That; it is the honorable Mr. Spiard who has just published a very well-documented work, and one that we only know for having received it like all journalists. We do not we are for nothing, absolutely nothing, in the editorial-tion and the publication of this book, we are talking about it in all independence, and Mr. Jules Guérin has only himself to blame. to Mr. Spiard. |

` (1) All these anonymous pamphlets, which had several editions, to intervals of varying lengths were themselves reproductions of the Boivin brochure, whose lies I had exposed and of which I had made condemn the signatory in 1892.

I would add that during the trial, he pleaded for my mercy, invoking the... heart disease which, he said, he had contracted upon being abandoned by coux who had pushed him to slander me and publish the infamies he had signed so imprudently. . i

916 ` `THE TRIPSANS DR ANTISEMITISM

The deception was obvious to everyone, but the proof The material was not easy to produce.

My friends were very upset that they couldn't catch Drumont and his gang red-handed at infamies which they had skillfully prepared, they believed-they f

– Wait, I said to my friends, be patient, we'll finish- We will know the whole truth about this new Drumont's clever maneuver. We are dealing with, that is obvious, to individuals in complete agreement, and they ge are heard against me and against us, in Pes- to satisfy their hatred and... also to realize what-Serious profits. Hatred unites them right now. This will not last, because the profit-sharing they expect rent will confuse them; that's always what happens to bad-perpetrators who committed a wrongdoing. A quarter Rabelais' hour for scoundrels is still this mo-Sharing principle. 1 And I waited patiently, while addressing the Libre Words of the responses refuting each article.

Naturally, my answers were not included.
and when I summoned Free Speech before the Tribunal correctional court, for refusal to publish and obtain publication of my letters, as I was the Auxiliary of the Ministertère, the magistrates decided that Drumont could at- f
to attack an outlaw and that the outlaw had no right f
to respond, despite the law that gave him the right to do so.
If I hadn't been the Ministry's Auxiliary, what would have happened?
- So, was it done at my request?

Yet how many times has the Free Speech not accused, not without reason, the judges of the ninth Chamber to render services to the Government and by order,
and not rulings dictated by the consciences of magistrates traits?
- Don't I have the right to say that the day I asked justice, in accordance with the Press Law, against Dru-

1868-1002: OTHER TIMES, SAME METHODS 817

Mount and his newspaper, the Tribunal, by order, decided to
to satisfy Drumont and his friend Méry?

'My request was indeed rejected. Wasn't it there the 'wages for insults addressed to an outlaw by the True auxiliaries of the ministry?

We will see later how much this thesis is supported by lenable and what other services does Drumont and his cronies offer?
returned to Waldeck and Puibaraud; to Combes and to Lépine.

Not only did Drumont and Méry deny any connection with Spiard and the present referent as an honorary writer-reliable and trustworthy; but they defended him against Tacaccusation against him of being a secret agent of Pui-Barand and Hennion.

They were abusing what the material evidence lacked.
quait.

This proof was provided to us by a friend of the "Liberal"
"Word," which, for years, regularly informed Drumont's comment on the inner workings of government politics mental.

We then received a short note saying:

"If you want proof that Spiard is a an informer in the pay of the Police Prefecture and the General Security, see Le Figaro of September 6th 1893. » ns

We hastened to follow the advice that we was given, and here is what we read in Le Figaro, on the date indicated, under the title General Security, study police morals, signed A former special:

The secret agent will not remain so for his entire life. The Security Service has the habit of "letting go" of its "secret" agents, even if it means re- to take if necessary, TI is cases, however, of agents – having rendered such services, that the Security Service made it its duty to keep them always.

The special commissioner was never obliged to give the Killed by his secret agents, who operate under his responsibility

1st.

It then happens that a secret agent can profit both at the General Security and the Police Prefecture.

318 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

A certain Oswald, whose real name was Charles Spiar, was thus accredited to Mr. Lozé, Prefect of Police and Mr. Fabre, special commissioner of the Vincennes station.

The best part is that Mr. Oswald was wanted by the Police to serve a two-year prison sentence pronounced by the Court of Tarascon.

Oswald had taken refuge in Paris and had found shelter with his friend, Mr. Fabre.

When Oswald went on trips on behalf of Mr. Fabre, it was important that Mr. Lozé not notice his absence. |

What method did he use?

A manufactured false supports from one end to the other and Mr. Fa- Bre, to do him a favor, put them in the post in Paris. Mr. Tozé finally noticed the trick and dismissed Oswald.

When the Anti-Jewish newspaper reprinted this article from Le Figaro, the Méry, the Drumonts, the Devos and the Syvetons were as- are.

How can such a blow be countered?

"It's a dirty business," said Drumont, "and I'll start 'It's as if Méry has led us into a bad situation' adventure.

But, as Drumont is no stranger to lies
Nearby, he resorted to his usual method, which consists of to deny everything, even the obvious.

And, on May 21, 1902, La Libre Parole published a letter de Spiard, dated the 17th – why these four days of reflection? – asserting that Drumont's Spiard had not nothing in common with the Spiar-Oswald of Le Figaro, added– so much: "I challenge Mr. Guérin to prove that the agent Oswald-Spiar without a D and Charles Spiard with a D were all one and the same person.

It was, one might say, the height of audacity.

And the Cutoff is not what Drumont lacks.
and to his accomplices.

We didn't think that new evidence was so good necessary to convince people of good faith about
the identity of the two Spiards.

The former Figaro special had forgotten the D in Spiard which he was talking about; but the first name was the same and, moreover,

E) B
1868–1902: OTHER TIMES, SAME Pnocedes 319

Drumont's Spiard came from Tarascon and there was .
He was indeed convicted.

S0!

Once again, proof of the new lies
Drumont's was brought to us:

One of our comrades, from our Lyon section, had
He served with Spiard in an artillery regiment
and had found himself with him in residence in Tarascon

When he read the name Spiard, cited in La Libre Parole and in the Anti-Jew, he remembered his neighbor from the regiment and he remembered meeting him in Paris a few years ago previously. .

After a brief, random interview
From a meeting on the boulevard, Spiard invited our Ca–

marade to visit him during his stay in Paris, and he Jui gave a certificate on which he wrote his address to pencil.

Our comrade remembered this circumstance, and, also, that the name Spiard, written on this map, was accompanied by a second, which had surprised him at that moment ment.

He searched for that map, luckily found it and He hastened to send it to us. We had it reproduced. in a photograph, and here is the exact reproduction:

n4 er 'kg a

0. Fiard-Owal

This was absolute proof that Drumont's Spiard It was indeed Agent Oswald.

Drumont was careful not to make all these details public. tails to his readers who, in droves, were leaving him, indignant of a campaign of which, however, they were unfamiliar Cucore all the undergarments.

320 © DB TRAFFICKERS ANTISEMITISM

During the heated debates, I received a number protests; and several friends who knew Prumont for a long time, and have definitively abandoned it: abandon- given after this further proof of his bad faith and His mastery reminded me of the conduct that the Director of Libre Parole against a man who, I would say- firma, on the other hand, had rendered him very great services: Mr. Odelin.

I knew Mr. Odelin very little and I was unaware absolutely what personal relationship he had with Drumont.

I didn't know everything that Drumont had either done against him at the time of their falling out.

They informed me and I recognized the process em- folded against Mr. Odelin in what was undertaken against

Me.

To defame his former friend, to whom he was indebted, Drumont published a filthy pamphlet called the Casse-Gueule, which we had seen being sold in 1896 on the boulevard and that we thought was well inspired or at less favorably viewed by Drumont; but as she as a publisher bore the name Hayard – the one we called him the Emperor of the Camelots – and as manager the name Beaufort, we had attached only an im--very secondary lift.

This assertion of Drumont's participation in this publication, and its resemblance to that directed against I decided to conduct an investigation into this incident.

During this investigation, I received, in Brussels, the vi-website of a collaborator of Drumont, Raphaël Viau, which: had wanted to see me to ask me – what arrived roughly every three months – to help him pay his rent.

We are, of course, talking about the conduct of Drumont to my place,

1868–1902: OTHER TIMES, SAME PROCESSES 32L

I was led to tell him about what had been said to me. regarding the Casse-Gueule where Mr. Odelin was violently insulted.

“But,” Raphael said to me, “Viau, I’m well aware of that.” of that affair. It was indeed Drumont and Devos who published this brochure, which ran for a few issues. I'm the one who wrote it, based on the notes. that Devos gave me on behalf of Drumont.

Only Drumont, so as not to leave any trace of his participation, dictated these notes to Devos. I must even... still have in a file with some issues of the Cassé-Gueule, |

And, in recognition of the new service I have given him I returned, and three days later I received two copies of the Casse-Gueule of September 15 and December 31, 1896, accompanied by a note written by Devos as dictated by him. Drumont and giving the outline of an article to be done with The title: |

The Faubourg-Montmarire scandal,

The Judas, Mourton and C gang.

This article was published in the issue of Gasse-Gueule, .
"Political, satirical and financial journal", from December 31st December 1896, an issue which displayed, in large print, the following titles:

Mourton the thief.
The Faubourg-Montmartre scandal,
With Wet Feet.

I would not dare reproduce a single passage from the content of this publication, so that we don't have to hide
I gave this book to children, it was so awful.
laughter and pornography.

I will limit myself to placing here a reproduction of the self-Devos's graph:

; li

322 THE TRAPPERS OF ANTISEMITISM

NL d canda ba, alu haha
aiie b. bond Gii JAVA empaque

€ 'Afobon. bowle

Tapon OR PE +.
tn. Sade

ECC am Ra i mri

1868-1902: DIFFERENT TIMES, SAME PROCEDURES 323

The Casse-Gueule article expanded on the note dictated by Drumont to Devos.

This brochure was sent free of charge by Drumont.
ment, from all sides and to all people in the world,
of the clergy, industry and commerce which were or
could have been in contact with Mr. Odelin.

His family was besieged by them {1}, everywhere
There was a relative of Mr. Odelin. This person was not
He alone was insulted and defamed, because his brother, Canon Odelin, of the archbishopric of Paris, was also the subject of the worst outrages.

And all this, under the cover of Hayard, indicated as director and a street vendor, Beaufort, who was promoted to manager.

This same process corresponded exactly to the one which had just been used against me; but if its authors do not inspired no less contempt in me than in Mr. Odelin, I had no inclination to inasur these vutrarER: impunis.

When Mr. Mourion was also insulted in this case
"Gueule," continued Hayard, and the peddler Beaufort, and the Drumont and De- were ordered to pay damages.
'Yours refused to pay the fine, the costs and the sentences-nations, and they only decided to do so (2) on the eve of the scan-

the fallout that was expected to result from Beaufort's arrest,
as the manager responsible for Casse-Gueule, for the con-
'trainfe-par corps applicable for the fine and powt the damages. g

If Drumoni and Méry's campaign against me m2
The French, the Belgians, who knew her, did not rent no less. severe for the Director of the Free Pdrole,

And Pün dao, a man whose age made him... contemporary... porain of the Exiles of the Empire, whom he had all known during-
that they came to take refuge in Brussels, he told me one day:

(4) It was Dien, the same process 'reported by Rochefort regarding Flupesible' of Prumont-Murchal.

(3 Hayard and Beaufort threatened to do "brought" and Drumont country.

324 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

__- Drumont is playing the Inflexible card, which we
a few of us still remember here, among the survivors of that era, from 1851 to 1870. Read again the newspapers of the time and you will find traces of this case, in which Drumont was convicted of complicity with police officer Marchal de Bussy in the campaigns of slander and insults carried out, for the account of the imperial police, against Rochefort and the opposition republican position of the time.

I searched; and what I found is indeed edifying.

Here is what Villemessant published on October 17, 1868: in the Devil to Quarry, during a controversy with Louis Veuillot, to whom he replied: i

The only reprisals I want to take against my
The ordinary insult is to remind him of this letter, written of a completely different style.

March 98, 1887. – Did Monsieur Jouvin tell you about a young boy who...
Please recommend it to you? –`

They have, alas, after trying, done more for your building.
For mine. It has some reading, a lively mind, elegance in the hand; he also has a very large appetite for very legitimate reasons.
But even if I satisfied his appetite, I wouldn't have anything left. For Meresfer,
It takes the soul of a hero; but that's not yet his forte, he's a bird, and that's where we chirp, :

As for the young boy with a large appetite, what do I recommend–
Mr. Veuillot begged so warmly, here is his story:
It is enlightening: . JORS |
Although a complete beginner, raised in the School of the Universe, he had not neither the talent, nor even the knowledge of the trade that one has Having the right to demand something from a recruit, I enlisted him in my troops.
light, to be agreeable to his former boss.

He signed a few rather bland columns at my place.
how pretentious, that I paid him as dearly as the best of my writings; after which I gladly let him fly to other idiots. At the

I didn't know what had become of him, when I was told that he was attached as an editorial secretary to the newspaper 'des
'Messrs. Bussy and Stamir.'
My colleague Albert Wolf wrote, in one of his Chronicles...

+

–

ironic compliments to Mr. Veuillot of progress rapid progress of his student in the career of Fereintement.

Immediately Mr. Drumont – such is the name of Puni's protégé – Veras – wrote to us to protest, with a very indignant felt, against such a dishonorable accusation.

We acknowledged receipt of his letter without publishing it.
He sent it to the Gaul, who was pleased with the insert.

Mr. Drumont opposes our insinuation in the most formal manner denied it; he had never been involved in anything at all in the co-writing papers.

As supporting documentation, he produced at the same time
a declaration from Mr. Charles Marchal, who attested that the young Drumont had never contributed any kind of flexible pin, and that it had remained absolutely foreign, directly or indirectly, to this publication.

Mr. Stamir, for his part, delivered to Mr. Drumont a identical certificate.

Ah! The good tickets La Châtre had!

Well! The truth of it all is that Mr. Drumont was bel iet bien affilié la bande de l'imamers, qu'il se vau-trait in this foul mud and exercised, in the newspaper that You know, regular functions.

Do you want proof, irrefutable proof?

My colleague Albert Wolff having made a full remission and the entire fine of 10,000 francs was paid to the printer Fischlin.
to which he had been sentenced for protecting his printing presses to Messrs. Stamir and Marchal, this father of a family, in the-
The fusion of his recognition delivered to Wolff the trials of a issue of the Infleæible, entirely corrected by hand
Mr. Edouard Drumont (1). . i

And so that this one, for whom denials cost little, would not Don't be foolish enough to cry slander, I'll put it right in front of his eyes.
the very faithful autograph of the proof given by him and adorned of his initials.

(Good for printing at 3,000 Ex. ED)!111 (2).

(4) In 1896 Drumont dictated the Gasse-gueule to Devos and in 1902 it was he who Agent Spiard ordered this after obeying Agent Marchal.

(8) The Devil with Four reproduces, in fact, a photographic image of this A proof, clearly in Drumont's handwriting and signed with his initials ED. that we all know.

+

326 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

And let him not say that these initials do not appear to him.
We can't believe it: we have a letter from the printer in our possession.
Bolge revealing his incognito.

What is Mr. Veuillot's opinion on this?

In recommending Mr. Drumont to me: He is a bird, he writes to me
Was he going to do it? It's at your place that we're dealing with gas!

Bird. Yes, because Pest is a pretty blackbird who, instead of whistling, eroasse in the most fetid marshes.

OF VILLEMESSANT.

A few years ago, Rochefort, in his Memoirs,
he spoke of the filthy publications directed against him and his friends, such as the Inflexible, `: -

I only name Charles Marchal and one of his com-Stamir accomplices, the third "Drumont" having, as always taking the precaution of concealing himself,

(Memoirs of Rochefort, Volume I, pages 339, 340, 341.) The ministry, angered by its inability to stop the explosion, cites a sion of public opinion tied down for almost seventeen years, took the shameful step of throwing themselves at the feet of the writers vain, familiar figures of the lowest police, who were charged to delve into my past and unearth everything that is done likely to dishonor me in the eyes of this crowd which started treating me like an idol- aa
But the sad heroes who accept such a mission
They possess within themselves the antidote to their infamies:
"That is to say, they are not even capable of exercising their dirty job. i |
Four or five booksellers were immediately sent to Paris.

who went beyond the goal, to the point of putting all the laughs and all the indignant ones, who were already there, on my side... The stories in which I was made the hero touched on fantasy-tick. Pii
I had three children, which was true, but what was less true, I... had given up.

And do you know who was taking care of it?

+ The Empress herself, who, denying the insults with which they covered her
Their father had taken them in and was raising them at his own expense. + 14

1868-1902: DIFFERENT TIMES, SAME METHODS 927

And the pamphleteers victoriously added:
a That's how so vango a sovereign r.

These foolish things delighted me, and one morning, at breakfast,
My children themselves read them to me, writhing in laughter.

However, if we are stupid when we are little, when we are Sometimes we are just as tall, and even more so.

I mentioned earlier how, following a publication-garbage collection, of which the police had sent a copy to my daughter, even in her boarding school, I had, for lack of anything better, mistreated the printer of this unspeakable thing.

But, having been unable to lay a hand or a cane on the au-I was quite... how shall I say it? to sue them, not a trial before the correctional court where, by a of the numerous absurdities of the law, the proof is not admitted, but before the Civil Court where I summoned them to to bring all the documents they claimed to have collected
Read about me.

The two officers introduced themselves: I had never seen them before.

seen. They called themselves by pseudonyms: Pun signed Charles de Bussy and had been convicted several times for breach of trust (1), Pautre called himself Stamir, a name which was an abbreviation and a distortion of his.
- The crowd was enormous and threatening to the gentle jokers.
who, in response to the President's questions, had only this answer:

- We never claimed that Mr. Rochefort had was convicted twice for fraud; we have sim-

-Pleasure requested:

Mr. Rochefort knows a journalist who has been convicted twice for scam ?

As long as no journalist has been convicted under these circumstances,

... our question falls away on its own.

But, the President insisted, you accused him of carrying a false name.

; Without doubt, replied the old gibber of us Charles Marchal said to Bussy, he signs Henri Rochefort and his real name is Violon Henri de Rochefort-Luçay.

We quickly realized the jeers that were coming each of these replicas. By the most peculiar of coincidences,

- a) What new resemblance to the Charles Splyard-Oswald of 19021

328 ANTI-SEMITY TRAFFICKERS

The deputy prosecutor was one of my former colleagues.
disciples, named Chevrier, who had studied at the same school.
time as I was at Saint-Louis college.

He was very loyal; I would even add that never, under the Republic, I have not met a single magistrate, standing or sitting,
who showed me so much sincerity and good faith.

He informed the judges that no one was better than him at even to inform them about my personality, given that we
we had spent several years together in Saint-Louis; that No Frenchman could be a Postman more than I, who belonged to a very old family; that as far as my con-damnations, he had indeed noted two of them on my record.
Judicial: 'a fine of 25 francs, for a duel; which had not Nothing dishonorable about it, on the contrary, since it was a matter of af-honorary gestures. l;

Then, delving into the past and present of the two scoundrels summoned to court, he publicly undressed them and whipped them until blood flowed.

Finally, when he came to the premeditated sending to my child
Even with such a despicable closet, indignation and disgust...
brought tears to everyone's eyes;
was crying with him in the room.

So that there is no doubt about the links that exist-
They were between Marchal de Bussy, Stamir and Drumont, I would add to this excerpt from the Memoirs of Henri Rochefort, this other ex-
a feature of the press of the time which shows Drumont initiating associated with his two accomplices.

| Villemessant trial, Marchal de Bussy.

On that day, Marchal de Bussy and Stamir will leave the Tri-Bunal was met with jeers from the public who had attended the hearing.
They were accompanied by several people, including Mr. Dru-
They had barely set foot in the street when they fled
So surrounded by a hostile crowd shouting: "To the water!"

water ff"

Marchal and Drumont threatened the crowd with their pistols, Drumont alone held two of them.

So they, Pun and the other, were pursued, some

1868-1002: Other Times, Same Methods 329

Weeks later, in criminal court for carrying weapons prohibited.

The trial report, published in Le Droit, day-judicial decree of October 22, 1868, states:

The President (to Marchal). - August 5th, around 6 o'clock in the afternoon
In the evening, you left the courtroom and were followed by a group of individuals. Arriving at the Saint-Michel plaza, you were turned back towards these people; you were armed with a cane sword and you pulled a 6-shot revolver from your pocket
that you directed against the group,

R. - Absolutely, that's correct.

D. – Drumont gestured hastily to your side and he drew gently pistols from his pocket, just as you had taken your revolver.

R. – No doubt, we always have pistols. You
You see, when you are attacked,

The judgment convicts Marchal, a repeat offender, to six days in prison and Drumont, defaulting on 25 francs fine,

Drumont, on that day, had not dared to show up; he
'had abandoned his accomplice and had preferred to fail.

Villemessant had just published the evidence of his bias-Participation in the Editorial Staff of Znflexible: in the issue of Four-way devil of October 17, 1868, that is to say four days before this trial in the criminal court,

People were surprised that the Inflexible was being printed in Belgique could enter France so easily and be distributed there, while newspapers were subject to a thousand formalities
vexatious,

And, regarding these facilities granted to Marchal de Bussy, Stamir and Drumont, to allow them to re-to distribute their pamphlets, here is what Louis Ulbach said in his Letters from Ferragus published in Le Figaro.

I hasten to say, Mr. Minister (Pinard, Minister)
(from within the Empire) that I do not suppose that these evils happy people are on the secret fund. Their furious protests Praised for their devotion to the Empire, its institutions...

330 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

Dynasties are merely a pretext and a safeguard; they will...
They use their sympathy to try and smear you. Even more effective... their insults. But I don't think you'll...
You gave them the mission to smear you to that extent.
What good is a police force that would translate into smell and by appearance?
You need more ingenious spies, more agents subtle.
No, it's purely by vocation and not by order that they write in this way.
I affirm it, affirm it too, Mr. Minister, it is It's time! because they have just shamelessly done their

accomplice. | : l

V Inflexible, no longer finding a printer in France, was to look for one in Belgium; it is with the authorization of the Ministry of the Interior, which pass through and circulate now – but these turpitudes. . US z

There is a serious matter here for which I dare to ask an explanation, even if it takes the form of a press release. MERE

If, after having read this, you allow the sale of eb–

By circulating the Inflexible, you become responsible for it.

– Louis Veuillot, who had so highly recommended Drumont, in– | challenged by Villemessant about his protégé, re–
published in L'Univers on October 19, 1868: ,

...I am coming, he said in his reply, to the young boy whom I

I recommended you "so warmly." You badly–

Strong traitors; He has been steeped, you say, in the Ineffable. I do not

I hadn't sent it there, and I understand your anger.

Do we want a quote from the prose of the Inflexible and the vile things that were being said there. x

Here is what it contained regarding Rochefort:

Here is a very specific fruit that will be clarified in a way shining brightly in the Inflexible. We clearly pose this question– to Mr. Henri Rochefort: Does the journalist know the presso dite PETITE to which last November, .

The Chancellery refused permission to wear a Cross

1868–1902: DIFFERENT TIMES, SAME METHODS 331

foreign, after seeing her judicial file bearing ee convictions for fraud f

Mr. Rochefort is not responding, so we will respond for him.

Judging by the name of the opponent in question, it would seem that This is taken from La Libre Parole and signed Gaston Méry.

Our good friend from Belgium, so well-informed about the events– the aspects of the end of the Empire, was right, more right than he he didn't assume so.

If the Inflexible had to be printed in Belgium, because that the trio D.:10nt, Marchal and Stamir of 1868, could not– was going to find a French printer willing to lend him his presses, the trio Drumont, Spiard, Méry had to come in Ghent to have his garbage printed at Mr. Hoste's who later declared before the Namur Court, to apologize for having lent his presses to such a besogne, that he would never have agreed to print this book

He had read it before.

And, as I thought, it is at the time of Sharing that This criminal organization quarreled, and the agent Spiard-Oswald, who claimed to have been robbed by Drumont, De-Yours and Mey, € ate the piece."

Satichihiro's rage at having been "robbed" by his accomplices, he published one of those sheets which have barely any numbers, but the numbers, this time, were interesting to read.

I was, as you might well imagine, insulted there; but As compensation, I had the opportunity to read many articles there. Drüinont, Méry and Devog were accused of the worst crimes. nail shops,

- I sued this newspaper and its authors to provoke to have a public debate, in order to know the true answer, because no article was signed and it was impossible to get hold of Individual indicated as manager., i

"In coat, sheet, Mr. Spiard. 'acousait Déüniont

332 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM -

of having lied by having it stated, under the signature of Gaston Méry, that neither he, nor his newspaper, nor his acolytes had not taken any part in the drafting and the publication of the book he had signed.

I immediately checked Agent Oswald's claims and I became certain that the book had indeed been printed clandestinely in Belgium - like the Inflatable - that Devos, Drumont's man, had acquitted all of them costs for a print run of 25,000 copies, which the total value of this draw, including sums paid to Spiard to send it to Ghent to correct the proofs and to allow him to live in Paris for several months, sheltered from the difficulties of which, of course, Not a single cent had left Drumont's coffers.

That's not like him!

These 17,000 francs had been provided by Syveton, who had deducted them from the funds paid into the Caisse de la French homeland for opposition propaganda.

Which led Puibaraud to say, speaking to officials – .
naires: | : ` |

– Now say that my service is useless;
I found a way to have Guérin "executed" by Drumont, and it was the Caisse de la Patrie Française that...
Everything paid for.

In his attacks against Drumont, Spiard gave all the details useful for confusing his funders and He added, to justify his accusations of theft, that his share of profits – he said he had to share through me – tied the proceeds from the sale of the book with Drumont – amounted to worth 60,000 francs... not including the extorted sums, he asserted, to the Royalist Party, to the Bonapartists and to Oil tankers, by pointing out to the former that the scan-Dale could reach them, and by showing the last
How many books were alive against their irrepressible adversuire. |

I'm not three, except for the Royalists and the Bonpurtians.
Paid a certain sum to prevent tappa-

1868-1902: DIFFERENT TIMES, SAME PROCEDURES 333

rition of this filth; I would be less surprised if I learned-
I know that Mallet paid a few 1,000 franc notes to Drumont and Devos, but 25,000 francs... as he said
Spiard, that seems exaggerated to me, even coming from Mallet.

This oilman is like Drumont, he takes it willingly
third, but pays out with more difficulty,

In addition to these theft charges, Agent Oswald rewarded
the trio Drumont, Devos and Méry of a collection of insults which could only amuse me. Very much.

We were far from the honorable author of the Sensationals
Revelations about Guérin and Fort Chabrol.
Drumont was treated by his accomplice and friend of the
The eve of an old scoundrel, a rogue, a filthy old man and vicious.

Gaston Méry, a pimp, a scumbag --- it was good
His turn! – and other insults.

As for Devos, he was the buccaneer, the jack-of-all-trades,
"and Spiard announced the next wedding of the Administration-
'author of Free Speech with one of the daughters of the Panamist Arton, who, he said, never left the offices of the Libre Parole and had access to it at all hours.

I spent some pleasant moments following this edition.
quarrel.

This adventure was, moreover, not the only one in life
Drumont; and already, at least once, he had found himself struggling with an accomplice, furious at having been robbed by him at the time of profit sharing.

I found, in the newspapers of the time, the following:
said of Drumont Marchal de Bussy, of whom he had been the friend and collaborator to spew the worst infamies
on the exiles of the Empire and the republican soldiers
so many of this era, and I reprodhis that iëlgùds cabrait
here

Here is first an article from Mother Duchess dated January 2nd:
vler 1870 1

334 – –THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM THE TRAITORS

We will soon publish an inexorable study, under this title enticing for lovers of justice, applied to the screens
the most horrible lorats that hell has vomited forth since Cain, who killed his brother through treachery, and Judas who sold his Master in giving him a kiss, even Drumont –, a fake writer, wbscène and degraded, vile serpent, which has already been reported, – awaiting my most implacable punishment, to which, as Troppmann, he will not be able to escape.
Oh, how many fake Mary Magdalenes do you have?
others, honest people, men of heart, gathered in the mud from the sidewalks, to rescue them from vice and misery,
to regenerate them, relieve them, make them 'better,'
to make money... and even marry them... poor fools!
poor fiancés of vice, spouses of death... ` |

That's not where a gentleman should be looking.
Christian wife. – | | – 5

It's not on the corner of the Jouffroy passage, on the arm of @Augastine; and this west not in the company of a Figarist than a brave ` man had to, in a cabaret in the Palais-Royal, offer his
A loyal and generous hand to a black scoundrel, - and to have pity by Eduuard Drumont, the literary louse, that Le Figaro, mid-
He even unmasked the one who betrayed his benefactor with the creature picked up, that he & made drunk and mad, and that he swindles. This Judas betrayed Alfred d'Aunay, his friend; Villemessent and Victor the ulmé, who inadvertently inserted two incorrect articles into it:
the Count of Pesquidouæ, his Patron; Henri Lasserre, his host, two charitable hearts whose bread I ate and whom he They slandered him, like a bad beggar, an ungrateful beggar who is.

This funny little fellow, cross-eyed, yellow, clumsy, hateful, drunkard, uant the goat, filled with mercury, mac without farlane, doomed to Pobainths ét àr vides patens, &-vécu aus .crocs dés vierges mad about. the laughter of the Moon, of Paulino de. Mélin et de. so much others, 'which he also dragged into, his: pen-drawn-outs,

He drove his father crazy, he stole a boat from a gargutigr and shirts to a poor Phryne of the backstreets; he swindled 500 francs to a dentist and almost jeopardized a business in this matter gallant man. We will publish his letters.
odious, ` COR TT ut

1868-1002: Other Times, Same Progress 385

You left his mother and sister in the ntisèrg, while drinking the Bordeaux private lounges and smoking London Prostitution and the police. This scum, this trash of a man, refractory beyond the marohé, this vulgar traitor, whoever swindles the boatmen will end up in the gallery we are going to commenopr by oan, gon illustro master,

On January 30, 1870, Marchal de agi said again in the same sheet:

GOOD FRIENDS

Beware of people who speak ill of your friends.
Generally they are jokers, ocarattiers, aubre-
"Lying," said the Poles, journalists from the lower underworld, hateful, jealous, envious, and filthy beggars, Drumonts,
lawyers for murderers and thieves, swindlers, and crooks;
They want to take your money, your wife, your daughter, your honor.

'Still be wary of parents and outcasts, especially girls who have been cheated on and cheated on, whom you pick up out of pity. in the shit.....

Marchal de Bussy reproached his friend Drumont for having taken away both his mistress, from whom he had presented, and its furniture, which he had had. the imprudence of to be put in the name of Drumont's future girlfriend.

In the same issue of January 30th, he returns again ` on Drumont under this title:

FRIENDS OF THE PEOPLE

It was Mr. Rochefort who prevented it. Drumont did con- w continue writing to Le Figaro; it's that obscure, foolish, vile Drumont who was, under the guise of the most cunning enemy, -the most cruel, the most harmful, of Rochefort, -

He was the one who snitched on Le Figaro, Rochefort and Ioie. gang working for our enemies

336 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

He had one foot in both the Catholic and Napoleonic camps; and he blew out all the notes that had so cruelly reached Ro- Chefort and Villomessant....

Ji, through one of his relatives, a former police employee, obtained to dishonor Rochefort and his accomplices, Wolf, Noir, Gill, Valiès, precious and very accurate notes that have fueled The press against Rochfort and the Figarists.

Rochefort is therefore a fool for having been tricked, deceived, tricked by the smallest, the vilest, the most Smundane, the most filthy, the most cowardly, the most degraded of beings who 'swarmed' in the stream of low literature.

L 2
i

Mother Duchêne disappears, but almost immediately, Marchal de Bussy, who had not gotten over Dru-'s conduct:

Mount, in its place, produces a new leaf, the Aunt Duchêne.

And, on February 6, he published another article against Drumont, where he again accuses her of having seized his furniture and her friend.

I quote again:

FRIENDS

Be wary of those who take this name, be obliging for them in words, but at the same time suspicious: When One of them is asking for your money, lend him... all your Be careful, but not the slightest Napoleon. He won't give it to you—would never and would call you a snitch, if only he
'or you were a journalist.

Never give your friends a place to sleep, under the pretext that they they remain far away, that their doorman is deaf, that they are refused the key to their hotel as latecomers; as for the Monegasques!

Otherwise, if you make two beds, they will get up at night.
to go find your wife and if you surprise Him, 1!
will say that he was mistaken, that he was looking for... another room,

"Never invite your friends to dinner unless it is proven that they can do the same to you.

Don't leave them alone with your wife or anyone else.
With whomever you want to do business, they will badmouth you.

Never be so crazy as to put your furniture

1868–1902: TIMES, SAME METHODS 337

and your rent in a woman's name; she'll throw you in the loo.
the door, if she's a minx, to have a fling with a creature
pule that you will have hosted: Gæroe and Ed. Daumonr.

I don't know, of course, if the police officer Marchal
de Bussy, precursor of the spy Charles Spiard—Os-Wald — Drumont between two Charleses! — was a friend of the lady whom he accused Drumont of having whispered in his ear at the same time he was stealing her furniture; but, what
What is certain is that after living with this friend of Marchal de Bussy, from the day she left him
for the future employee and admirer of the Pereires, Millaud and Mirès, until 1882, Drumont married her on June 19th of that same year.

And, if I speak here of this particularity: of the life of Drumont, it's not for the simple pleasure of being him.

unpleasant, but to bring out the deep hypocrisis of this man who presents himself to the public as a saint, speaks with indignation of those of his collaboratorsrats and his friends who may have a "little friend," which is their right; and who, even at this hour present, showing off with a large divorced woman, at which – many have seen it – Gaston
Ten years ago, Méry stepped into her ex-husband's shoes.
and took up his fireside seat.

This fact is known to everyone at Libre Parole, where the re-
The actors had a lot of fun the day Gaston Méry passed the torch to Drumont and made his old friend: the Pa-
fronne. |

At that time, a mischievous person announced the appearance of a topical novel |

A household in Troyes Novel of Indian customs
a title that was a great success among insiders.

All this did not prevent Drumont from publishing, with his usual audacity, an article published in the Libre Pa-

338 ` THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

role (i) against "the Free Union", which he described as "abominablenation of desolation.

Ah! They are of a fine morality, those mo--
A rant of the kind Drumont and Gaston Méry were talking about!

What "doers" these clowns are!

But also, how naive are those who believe a word of co
that they say or write!

(d) Libre Parole of March 8, 41908.

11th

The Drumont and Co. company, |

The Drumont-Devos management. – Jew and Jew, – Bad
For a League, good for business – Shareholders Jews. – Gaston makes Robert walk. – Oppenheim under-Drumont cashed in. – The Humberts. – A campa-Interrupted movement. – They're walking, – Paper is being sold. – Confidential and personal letters. – A work by Truth!..... and of good value. – Drumont, Devos and J.-B.
Gérin. – A transaction worth 140,000 francs. – Collection of ...false. – Complaints pending. – A divorce trial. –

Devos, market agent. – 25% commission. – Drumont pro-

. teur, – 40% interest. – New capital calls. – Underhanded dealings. – A mess. – We're holding all the articles. – A respectful servant. – Shareholders me-

Contents. – A trial. – Commander Z, clerk-Zionist, – Accounts impossible to render, – Mr. Joseph Ménard and his friends from La Libre Parole. – 24,000 francs

– Fraudulent omissions. – The procedures
de Papillaud, – Against friendly newspapers. – A circular Interesting area. – A Lottery. – 5,000 fictitious numbers.
– A subscriber contest. – An article by FAurure. – Drumont abandons Devos. – Land disputes. – The do-Maine de Sakali. – The Central Distillery. – Devos
associate of the Jew Darosberg, Marquis de Strada... – The Jew Peixoto and the Equitable. – The Classes: Laborers of the Jew

– Chen, – A find from Dramont..-:Clichés'"':c tru-
"Qués." – On the phone! – A "very French" house.

The Sharks of the Stock Exchange. The Rophé Tribe.
–Drumont and Mary Raynaud: – Jewish France and Free France

... Word. w Cooperation, – A blackmail of. 40,000 fr. -=

340 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

A letter Drumont did not boast about. – The Treatise
ment dû Chr "treue. – The False Dom Marie. – Protesta-
The Carthusian order, – Drumont's delicacy!

A well-orchestrated scam – The story of a complaint

and a Drumontist prosecutor – Scandalous impunity.
Drumont raises the price of his drug. – Stronger than Mangin.

I said that the main motive of the organized campaign by Drumont against the Great West of France, against his newspaper, L'Antijuif, and against myself, was to suppress – to an organization that hindered its combinations of affairs – to do and could at any moment thwart his plans or – to thwart them,'

Naturally, Drumont has always declared to everyone, as he declared to me, in my cell at Clairvaux, that never before had either he or his Steward, nor his day-nal, nor anyone around him, and with his consent, had not engaged in or become involved in any affair that could harm our cause and compromise it by justifying the attacks opponents.

According to him, the Free Speech movement has remained, since the pre-First hour, the independent newspaper par excellence, having no compromise with Jewish financiers or Judaizers, nor with the government.

From an anti-Jewish point of view, Drumont also states that his newspaper has always sincerely fought against Israel. He never agreed to share the profits that he accuses them of carrying out to the detriment of "French from France".

I have shown how these claims are contradicted regarding what happened during Drumont's management,

J.-B. Gérin and Crémieux, known as Wiallard.

Let us see then what was and is still the non Drumont-Devos,

Besides the thieves and the dirty business of the first period of exploitation of Libre Parole, at The newspaper had a point of being anti-Semitic, having had Ta matthango

THE HOUSE DRUMONT AND 34i

to have, as the first founding administrator of the Free Speech Society – legal name Wiallard et Company – a truly authentic Jew, belonging to that category

group of sons of Israel that the statutes of the first League anti-Semitism was particularly targeted.

They were saying, in fact, in the chapter on Recruitment its members:

Article 32. – The following may not be members of the League:

1° The Jews;

V The Renegade Fugitives.

Mr. Crémieux, known as Wiallard, would not have been admitted to the League; but, when it came to a matter that could, As a first advantage, report to Drumont: 300,000 francs in profit-sharing shares (a figure considered (suddenly increased), 42,000 francs in salary and special annual allowances, a car per month and an exceptional share in the profits of any na- the nature of the "operations" of La Libre Parole, profits which Those who were deemed worthy of respect constituted the smallest group. Ah! So, a renegade Jew, as article 32 of the said... the League's statutes, should have been welcome.

Regarding the Drumont-Devos management, in addition that many of the cases handled by it are or will remain probably for a long time to come, if not forever, unknown. It would be impossible for me to list them all here.

And, to mention only the main ones, I will need To summarize them considerably, due to lack of space that they would demand.

One of the common remarks that arose from the Libre Parole, was aimed at the Shareholders of Drumont's newspaper; And how many times have we not read or heard this sentence :

Drumont's shareholders are almost all... Jews.

We were among the first to laugh. We couldn't see well, in e léé Jews sbusrivant des paris Wun "anti- journal- g mite,

I acquired, however, proof that there were Jews among the shareholders.

But these Jews had not become shareholders by enthusiasm for Drumont.

They had to take shares, bought from Drumont personally, regarding those that he had allocated to himself,

Example :

In 1897, several articles appeared on 'the Jewish Oppenheim, whose financial ventures had given rise to some legal troubles."

These articles, signed Gaston Méry, were suddenly arrested, as often happened without anyone knowing for sure— Why these sudden interruptions of cam— violent loincloths, attacks against individuals likely to pay up, as IIn— so elegantly put it tending towards Drumont.

Suddenly, the Jew Oppenheim became a labou.

I only learned the reason for this silence later, in 1902. when, during the controversy with Drumont and his acolytes, I received, in Brussels, a visit from the employee of MJ-B. Gérin who brought me — without me — However, it should be noted that this was at the instigation of his boss — a whole collection of documents, for, he told me, me to show what Drumont, Devos and Cr. were.

Among these documents of indisputable authenticity, CTs, which have been checked with the utmost care, were found a list of shareholders of La Libre Parole which included in good seat, number 262, Baron Robert-EMMANUEL-PACIFIQUE OPPENHRIM, 64 Avenue du Bois-de-Boulogne, registered for three shares, nos. 432, 433, 454, paid Pay him 6,000 francs to Drumont, ` ~

And that is why the Jew Oppenheim became a personage taboo, having understood 'what* 'the articles meant' Signed by Gaston Méry.

"Drtiiont 'cashed in 6,000 francs, on which he gave to his friend Méry an honest commission, the price of his ja-Deur, êt ta Libre 'Parolc-compta ur, Jujt de plus, : K s

Another Jew, Heymann, figures: 'also for! a Part 357, still from the Drumont series. Why this?

Has a Jew become a shareholder in the boulevard newspaper?
Montmartre? Mystery | who is on the RER, no doubt a day. : 5. ii ca Ig i

The Humbert Affair gave rise to ana- speculation log.

Drumont still had shares to sell at the price of 2,000 francs to sincere and convinced anti-Semites, such as Messrs. Oppenheim and Heymann.

In 1894 and 1895 – from October to the end of June – appeared, in

Free Speech, a whole series of articles on the Affair –

Humbert, a matter which was not to have a conclusion until Much later.

The last of these articles, dated June 29, 1835, signed as `the others in this series, Hervé Breton, announced, in its last paragraph, that this HUMBERTO AFFAIR was going to lead to a parliamentary question.

This arrest never took place.

But what happened was the sudden departure of the Free Speech by Mr. Hervé Breton, some time after the latest article published; and rumors have been circulating since then, that this departure was motivated by the resistance that this editor–the author had opposed the interruption of an internal campaign resentful and justified, |

And it is also said–but what is not said!–that the Humbert had understood and had it bought by a friend who. wished them well and who agreed to take the necessary steps useful tips from Drumont, six bets from the Libre Words for 12,000 francs... 'Ka s ;

And Mr. Desbarres affirmed – like a good man that he was, and by his boss and through his employer MJ-B. Gérin – that these 12,000 francs... never entered the newspaper cash register.

I am not surprised; the opposite would have astonished me.

'These 12,000 francs, so easily obtained a first times, they licked Drumont. Also on December 17, 1858, then

344 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

On October 5, 1901, articles ho. 'iles aux Humbert pa- They were still alive, but this time signed by Gaston Méry.

This was obviously not without profit for him and his boss; and the Oppenheim coup had been too successful so that he would not have a second reaction against the Lady millions of euros.

How interesting it would be to inquire into the recluse of... Rennes, if only it would speak!
iky

"At the same time as Drumont placed his shares of the Free Word aw Juit Oppenheim and a. x Humbert, and by the means I just mentioned, soa Zntendant Devos operated on behalf of a patron with the Antisé.- mites, to allocate them shares at 2,000 francs in as many as possible.

The years 1898-1899 and 1900 were favorable to these operations. rations.

We were in the midst of the Dreyfus Affair; the print runs of all The newspapers had become enormous, and the Free Word was particularly favored.

It was time to hit the cash register.

The Drumont and Co company was not lacking in this regard.

But, like the duration of the Wiallard-Crémieux Company Et Ce, which became Devos et Ci, was limited to twelve years. From 1892 to 1904, it was initially extended until... 1916; and, on March 17, 1898, a personal letter was sent new to all shareholders and to all persons likely to pay up, as the hearing officer said,

FREE SPEECH

Daily political newspaper

Director: Paris, March 17, 1898.
Évovann DRUMONT ` .

ad i any traion, Personnelle.

Sir,

The Council of Interested Parties of the Society of the newspaper Le Libre

THE DRUMONT HOUSE AND 0°- 345

Parole, in agreement with the Management, decided, in its last meeting, to extend the duration of the Company until April 1916. At the same meeting, it was decided that the Shares could be divided into eighths,

You will see from the attached table that the
Our company's profits have consistently increased since the foundation of Le Libre Parole. It suffices to consider the chemin traveled over the past six years to realize the exceptional the important role our newspaper has played in the press French.

Despite all the obstacles, Free Speech triumphed.

the only force of truth. It is the events themselves.
who took it upon themselves to justify everything she had claimed.
They are the ones who proved that by denouncing the misdeeds of the Under the Jewish regime, La Libre Parole had accomplished the most patriotic feat.
do all the tasks.

Our friends who, from the beginning, trusted us work and took an interest in it, at the same time made a Serious investment. They are already making a significant and very legitimate contribution a remunerative income which, we hope, will not will only increase further.

We thought that, under these circumstances, it would be
You might enjoy registering among our carriers of Parts, and by associating yourself with us and with our work, to place
ENS v08 capitals. In the event that this offer

Please let us know.
Dana as soon as possible.

Given the very limited number of available titles, Islands
Applications will be processed as they are received.

Looking forward to reading your response,

Please accept, Sir, the assurance of our esteem.

tion most distinguished.
The Administrator.

` Devos, |

P. 8. – The full share is 2,000 francs... and the eighth
The share is worth 250 francs.

Good investment for works of truth, yielding income lucrative which will increase even further, that's the seductive sales pitch to get gullible people to buy, parts of the Free Speech which Drumont hastened to publish to get rid of them, to replace them with blue banknotes or

346 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

gold; that gold he loves so much, which he admits to having always-days in the drawers of his work table, in order to handle at the same time as he prepares his daily articledien.

What a sight for an organized brain (1), that Drumont plunging his hand into his drawer and tripping-
both the gold coins while thinking of the pithy phrase
who will brand the greedy and rapacious Jew!

And, to entice Mr. Gogo, the same letter of March 17th 898 handed over to the Anti-Semites beaten by Drumont a
"Table of profits that have consistently increased."

- This appeal having rendered insufficient, in 1900 it
renews, |

1899 had been particularly favorable,

The Dreyfus Affair, Fort Chabrol – Drumont doesn't me
was hardly grateful for the profits he consequently made of the increased sales I brought him – the High Court and all the incidents that accompanied the arrests events of August 1899: a resistance of six se-Maines and our trial, all these events had increased-mentioned the recipes from the shop on Boulevard Montmar-
and consequently the profits made.

Also, on May 21, at the time of sending to shareholders
From the 1899 results report, Drumont was again making-calf to address. A confidential letter to the "Anti-Semites" still fapable. - ; NUE Lu,

FREE SPEECH

Daily political newspaper.

| _ Director: | Paris, May 21, 4900.
` Évouarp DRUMONT . l
| Administration. ` ` Confidential.

Dear Sir,

I have the honor of submitting to you herewith a proof of the

- (1) Expression dear to Drumont.

y

DRUMONT HOUSE AND © 347

report which will be sent in a few days to all our por-their departures.

You will be able to use Stator's progressive march of our af-to do and, at the same time, the profitable return of our securities, since this year the dividend exceeds 60/0.

Today we enter our 9th Street in Piesne prosperity.

We are pleased to have had you cooperate with us.
a patriotic work and for having emptied you to make room-Seriously,

We still have Sügis securities to place, shares whole shares at 2,000 francs... and eighths of a share at 250 francs.

We thought you could benefit from this introductory course because, after the publication of the 1899 report, it is certain that this title will be given premium.

Please do so by return mail.
to let me know your intention in this regard,

Please accept, dear Sir, the expression of my highest consideration.
distinguished.

1 Aämintstratour. |
c Devos.

The dividend having amounted to 124 fans per share, we hastened to justify the price of 2,000 francs, pre-represented as the real value of said shares, by invoking a income exceeding 60/0.

And we were again highlighting the "progression of the ANS dividends: |

For T89B.snesessrasssssssesrcosesseessssssssersosg 80 fr.
1894... LEALES E2 CLETLELEITILLELILEELELELLELZ) 30
»
1896... ss nssoscesonosnoscesssscsosssses ee 0e 49 .
1896: z 80
PETITE ETI SALTS EILEELLLLILILLELELEELLELELELLELSE LE) Fe

1897... FRET TILILLILILILELLLLLEELE)] CERNLELELELEZZ] 86
1898. v. sosssssire Dorssesssestons adisoie srtotss 120-

_ 1899. ECTELTILI TS IIS SELS STI TILL) LELZLE) "ss. te 124

It was tempting. T i
But this couldn't last, Drumont had really gotten to you.

848 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

That's why he liquidated his portfolio and replaced it with the bets of his newspaper by good English Consolidated or of the German Rent, an example that his friend Syveton followed, when he had to secure the savings he had been carried out using funds from the French Fatherland, economies that could later be found in los conditions that we know,

When MJ-B. Gérin learned of the Confidentials and the Personal, addressed somewhat from all sides to the "ta-
"pables," he thought that the operation, to which Drumont belonged delivered to get rid of his "paper," could also benefit him,

But he encountered serious resistance from his colleague Drumont, from the Council of Interested Parties and the part of their administrator Devos who did not understand don't let MJ-B. Gérin exploit their clientele.

And MJ-B. Gérin had to go through Drumont and Devos to sell a number of shares that remained to him,

Hence a share sale agreement put up by MJ-B. Gérin on behalf of Mrs. Gérin, and sold, not to the Society of Free Speech, nor its political director, member of the Council of Interested Parties, or to its Administrator-Mr. Devos, but to Mr. Devos, by virtue of a contract that Ms. Devos declared that she had always been unaware, that she had never signed, and about which she filed a complaint tre X... for mux .

This sales contract, between Ms. J.-B. Gérin and Mr. Devos, was denounced to the Society of Free Speech "so that it "is not unaware of this," by the following act:

The year nineteen hundred, the seventeenth: April.

At the request of Mrs. Louise-Josephine-Hélène Gérin, née Rothfritsch, duly assisted and authorized by her husband, remaining rant in Paris, 87, rue Bassano:

Taking up residence in my study.

DRUMONT AND CO. 349

.-I have Stanislas-Louis Essirard (1), bailiff at the Court Civil servant of the Seine, residing in Paris, court clerk at the Court of Appeal of Paris, residing at 17, rue du Louvre, the undersigned,

Notified, said eb declared to the Society of the newspaper La Jibre Word whose headquarters are in Paris, 14, boulevard Montmartre, represented by its directors and administrators, at-said headquarters where being and, speaking to an employee of the said Company thus declared:

That the applicant 2 sold to Ms. Céline-Eugénie Coul-Ion, wife of Mr. Devos, seventy shares of the said newspaper bearing the numbers four hundred and fifty-eight (458) to five one hundred six (506) and five hundred eighteen (518) to five hundred thirty-eight (588) 3 –

To the said Company not be unaware of this and to have at present meaning such as legal considerations.

declaring to him that this notification is made to him in – compliance with article 1690 of the Civil Code.

Noted, subject to all reservations, | |

To what said company may not know, I told them, while speaking

As above, a copy of the previous one was left in a sealed envelope.

bearing no other indication on one side than the name and of-death of the part and on the other that the stamp of my study affixed to the fold closure, all in accordance with the Joy.

'Cost: six francs 95 centimes, special stamp for the copy' a sheet of paper at 60 cents, |

Signed: L. ESSIRARD.

Registered in Paris, on April 18, 1900, two francs five-how many cents,

Original 2 francs, Copy 0 fr. 50, Stamp 1 fr. 20, Reg. 2 fr. 50, Fold 0 fr, 15. Total ô fr. 35.

The complaint is still ongoing at this time. following the proceedings of the divorce trial, initiated by

(i) In order for Mr. Essirard, bailiff, to be able to serve this document, it was necessary to put the sales contract entered into between Ame Gérin and Mm Devos signed by sweet parts, piece without which he could not draw up his act of signification. What became of this deed of sale, where was it registered, and who signed it? instead of Mrs. Devos, who declares that she was unaware of it until the day when... #ignifeationfut published? a.

350 THE TRAFFICKERS DR ANTISEMITISM

Mr. Devos countered the administrator of Libre Parole, a trial which I will have the opportunity to discuss later.

And, not only did M^{me} Devos qualify, but the signature was false. the ture placed at the bottom of the contract thus denounced, that it ignored until the day the above act was published by the Anti-Jew, but the transfer of the 70 shares thus sold, was never mentioned in the transfer book of the The Society of Free Speech, however legally informed.

This fraudulent omission obviously constitutes a falsification of commercial documents, and we should be surprised by the impunity which, despite several complaints filed at the Parquet, Devos and Drumont have benefited to this day,

Regarding the complaint of forgery, brought by Ms. Devos (1), Mr. Ha-Tuesday, said Devos' lawyer, Mr. Coubin, transferred the book of transfers did not mention said transfer by Mrs. Devos." © ` . l

She was reportedly informed by the Deputy-in charge of the investigation, by Mr. Archer, police commissioner-of the Saint-Vincent-de-Paul district, which there was no place to follow up on his complaint. SE
* However, the sales contract, between Mr. Devos and Mr. J.-B. Gérin, for 70 shares of Ja Libre Parole – representing receiving 140,600 francs at a rate of 2,000 francs per share – had to be signed by both parties for Mr. Essirard had been able to denounce him officially, ` ` Ave

And, as Mr. Devos formally denies having signed it and She even claims she was unaware of this operation: who then has signed a contract of this importance for her? – ` |

I can hardly think of anyone who could help us
To find out more about this subject, it's Devos, who is known for These processes are for whom one more signature or of Less matters little, whether it be the sienge and especially ...that of another, if there is profit to be gained from it.

(1) Complaint, the details of which I learned from the proceedings of the divorce trial between Davos and Mr. Devos, argued at the hearings of February 33 and March 2 before the 4th chamber, to be confirmed at the hearing on Friday? March 9, 1906.

e

THE DRUMONT HOUSE AND 0° 351

In the hearing of March 2, 1906, the magistrates of the fourth chamber were impressed by the protests-statements from Mrs. Devos, regarding this signature given in its place, and they ordered a super-cage complementary.

It is to be hoped that, despite the influences that Drumont The perpetrator of the forgeries has been able to intervene so far; he will be discovered and punished.

The 70 shares numbered 458 to 506 and 518 to 532 were sold. by Drumont and Devos, thanks to the confidential report of May 21st 1900, that the contract between Mrs. Devos and Mr. Gérin had provoked, and the report of Mr. Kling, this appointed expert following the conflict between Messrs. Turquêt, J.-B. Gérin and Aubry, on the one hand, and Messrs. Drumont and Devos, on the other, revealed to us that, on these share sales, Devos was credit your account with 500 francs per share for... expenses sales, |

500 francs out of 2,000 francs!

Everyone knows Jews who wouldn't dare ask-
der such a high level of Commission | o

This reminds me of a little anecdote, not without its... interest, and which dates back to the early days of anti-Semitism in Algeria.

The Algerian anti-Semites were then led by a Mr. de Redon, a man of considerable energy, and this one frequently made the trip from Paris for necessities victims of the battle waged against the all-powerful Jews to our African colony.

one of his journeys, which had been prolonged, Mr. de Redon

86 you ran out of money and had. need a ticket
1,000 francs.

Who else could one turn to but the wealthy writer of France?

Jewish woman who collected significant royalties and who had enshrined in the Statutes of the first Anti-Se- League

ne o

Article al. _ _ In accordance with the extent of its resources, + Committee

352" THE TRAFFICKERS DR ANTISEMITISM
HAS !

executive will provide members with the means to support the fight against the Jews.

It was now or never for the President of co

The executive committee is to comply.

He could do so all the more willingly because Mr. de Redon, an anti-Semite and member of the League, asked neither a gift nor aid, but simply a loan to him allowing him to finish what he had to do in Paris and to return to Algeria,

At this request, Drumont assumed his most sullen expression. He replied: |

– My God! My dearest friend, I would very much like to please you; but, as you know, I am not I am rich, but I am a modest writer who risked his poor... your resources in the battle – it was, and it still is his eternal spiel – and I don't have such a sum at my place. Imagine, 1,000 francs, but that's almost a fortune!

And, as M. de Redon looked at him without being able to say– feign the surprise caused by this singular re– response from a man he already knew was rich from the sale of In his books, Drumont added: +

– However, I will try to oblige you and I will–
rai of friends, to ask them to advance you this |
In short, do you want to come back tomorrow? Fe.

Mr. de Redon returned the next day at the agreed time. and Drumont said to him: . .

– I was fortunately able to find what you needed at a kind friend's house. He gave me the money, but you You know, these services always come at a price, even in friends, and money is scarce and expensive, especially right now. For the regularity of the matter and for the justification of the payment of the sum entrusted to me, I thank you– I will send a receipt in three months. And, so that The issue of interest should be settled immediately; I will... hand over 900 francs.

DRUMONT AND Co. HOUSE 353

900 francs for 1,000 francs for three months, that made 400 francs per year or 400/0,

Mr. de Redon accepted because he had an urgent need of this sum, but one should not be surprised if, more Later, having learned that his lender was Drumont, he abandoned gave the anti-Jewish cause, for he too had found, in Drumont, a usurer more Jewish than the most usurer of Jews.

The fundraising appeal of March 17, 1898 had yielded some results and one of our Comrades from the Greater West is there was very naturally allowed to take hold.

Here is the letter he wrote to convince him to make a purchase!

FREE SPEECH

Daily political newspaper

Director :

Évouarn DRUMONT

administration, Paris, April 23, 1898,

Sir,

– Thank you very much for your intention to become one of us.

We still have 25 whole shares of 2,000 francs each left. we would be happy to see subscriptions preferably by friends of the Zäbre Parole,

I would therefore be grateful, sir, if you would be so kind as to... to say, as soon as possible, how many titles we owe register. Once we know your answer, we will prepare– We will see these titles that you could receive within the next week.

You are asking us how our shares can be realized. Firstly, now that we have made it optional by dividing the shares into eighths, the titles will be easier to obtain. negotiable elements, and the market will open very soon–

`ment to the Stock Exchange. On the other hand, it frequently happens that

Some of our part carriers are asking us to place them on 12

cer the titles they possess and from which they TO A so divest themselves;

_ as we also receive purchase requests from
For our readers, we take care of transferring these titles.

Therefore, when you want to sell, all you need to do is inform us; it
It is rare that it does not find a buyer immediately.

If we receive your request before the end of the month, we will be able to include you in the dividend for the 1897 financial year for the sum of 56 francs per share, which constitutes the remainder remaining to be paid,

Please, therefore, have the kindness to tell us before the
May 1st, how many Shares should we reserve for you?

You can send the funds to me in my name, 14 Boulevard Montmartre, either by check or in cash under cover recommended!

In the meantime, and with all my thanks, please-
Please accept, Sir, the assurance of my highest consideration.
tinguée,

Please accept, Sir, my sincere greetings.

Davos.

Drumont, through Devos, made it known that the friends of the Libre Parole had a preference for these placements;
and, to further entice buyers, he also made them point out the ease of implementation that they would meet.

The Shares Market will soon open to the Stock exchange, and we add that when a seller shows up
It is rare that we do not find a buyer immediately.

And, eight months later, to a shareholder, MN...., who had also allowed himself to be given 17 shares, that is, at the price strong, 34,000 francs... of paper and who, worried about the mar-
the newspaper's affairs and the shady dealings that were attributed to him
He was groaning from various directions, asking to get rid of his
'titles,' Devos immediately replied:

Paris, January 13, 1899.

Sir,

The Companies Act prohibits directors from... buy their own shares. All I can do to

DRUMONT AND CO. 355

To be kind to you is, one day, to point you towards a ache-

author,
Davos.

The tone had changed.

It was an admission of the lies told previously for to give to paper, created by Messrs. Drumont and J.-B. Gérin, four times its value. - z

In every language in the world, this is called...
fraudulent maneuvers and scams.

To the same shareholder, to whom Drumont replied
Thus, concluding with sincere greetings, one would write differently two years earlier, on July 18, 1897,

That's because a whole series of profits were expected from him.
to draw from insurance policies, life annuities, etc.

Dramont and Co. carries all the items, this
It's not a newspaper, it's a bazaar.

See for yourself: n

- FREE SPEECH
Daily political newspaper.

Director: |
Ébouarp DRUMONT

Administration. Paris, July 18, 1897.

Sir,

In response to your letter of the 12th of this month, I have the honor to
to remind you that I am entirely at your disposal

for the insurances and life annuities you wish to process by the intermediary of La Libre Parole.

You saw, with your fire department, that I did my
It's possible to please you; I confess I haven't succeeded.
Just in time, having arrived like the carabinieri, but I
I assure you that I have done everything humanly possible.
siblo to do. More than ten proposals were submitted to Advice from different companies; this lasted five days.
then the proposal came back with an unfavorable opinion (case

356 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

Send me all the information related to your life annuity, age, etc., and I'm going to focus on having good conditions. If you have a preference for a particular company, Say it, I prefer to be guided |

You will see that you do not have a man in front of you light and that I take my business seriously. I don't
I really don't know why you made that judgment.
You are harming me by doing similar things.
ratings on my account to my Director, But, I like
Your honesty suggests you must have a very good heart deep down (1)

I respect you too much to suppose for a moment that You meant to hurt me. Despite this minor incident, I... stay

Your servant, who greets you respectfully.

Devos.

In this letter we apologize, we admit that we arrived like the carabinieri, we praise the good heart and the victim's frankness, and we end up obsequiously-ment by

Or even a servant who greets you respectfully.

The steward of the Drumont household was not proud in 1897.
He's just starting out and he needs to avoid offending the clientele.

Later, we no longer Salag respectfully, as a good servant, Mr. Shareholder, is simply addressed to him-with "sincere greetings".

Then, when the same shareholder gets angry, he is sent outright walk around and, in the end, he is forced to file a lawsuit to claim their balance sheet which cannot be obtained, because Drumont and Devos are committed to calling: The balance sheet, which is simply a profit and loss statement, shows that... past financial years, sent to shareholders at the beginning of the year cement of the month of May each year,

However, not all shareholders were unhappy—to treat in this way and there were those who showed their teeth and—between—they set about making these Free French buccaneers pay the price Words.

(1) This shareholder had a very good wallet!

DRUMONT AND CO. 357

Among them was our friend Bouttier, who demanded a—edge gently, then imperiously the communication of the Balance Sheet. |

Hoping to fool Bouttier, as they had fooled before so many shareholders, Drumont and Devos sent to our friend, an emissary, Mr. Biot, known as Commander Z...

This one, which we put to just about every task, accepted the commission and one fine day arrived in Nancy, to beg Bouttier not to demand an accounting at that time, because it was impossible to produce them.

Our friend turned away Commander Z... and assigned Devos and Co. — the official name of the newspaper — before the Commercial Court of the Seine, to obtain—Mr., exercising his rights as a shareholder, communicated the company accounts and balance sheet, Drumont managed to drag out this trial for eight months; but Devos and C! were nevertheless condemned by a Judgment dated August 10, 1903.

I quote the text of the sentence, pronounced according to Gazette des Tribunaux, September 9, 1903.

The Court,

For these reasons:

It says that Bouttier has the right to be informed of the Financial statements of the Devos and Co. Company for the years 1900 and 1901, as well as documents and books of the Society and of its ex- under- mining sincerity and accuracy,

However, it was stated that this communication would have to take place at head office, and without any movement of the documents so-

It is therefore said that, within eight days of the meaning of this judgment, Devos, in his capacity as [legal representative/executor/etc.], must ad- h- er to Bouttier's position, at the head office, the register of deliberations- ' tions of the Council of Interested Parties, the names of the members of this Council and their addresses, as well as the treaty concluded between the Messrs. Gérin and Drumont, the company's balance sheet for the years 1900 and 1901, as well as the books and cash register statements, and This amounted to barely 20 francs per day of delay, for fifteen days, after which period justice will be served.

And condemns Devos in his official capacity through legal channels, to

358 THE TRAFFICKERS DR ANTISEMITISM

expenses and even the cost of registering this judge- ment. +

One might have thought the matter was closed and that Drumont, who so often protested against the administrators of Companies that prevented their shareholders from seeing clearly in the accounts, was going to satisfy Mr. Bout-

third party following the judgment rendered.

Well! Not at all, and as it was impossible for him to produce the accounts and the balance sheet, and that he was keen to gar- der secret le traité Drumont-Gérin, il font d'appel.

It was always time saved.

The matter was dragged out again, which, however, de- was due to return before the Civil Court in July 1905.

Mr. Joseph Ménard, whom Gaston Méry had managed to to be ousted from the Secretariat to take his place, was supposed to please- last against Bouttier.

We didn't dare go as far as the bar and, before daybreak

During the hearing, our friend was offered a refund.

the shares he owned, at the price he had paid for them, and also, the full reimbursement of the expenses he had incurred obliged to do it.

When consulted on this proposal, I advised Bouttier to accept, and for two reasons.

The first is that he was saving his money and returning in its disbursements for legal costs; and, subsequently, .

because it was the most formal admission of Dru-'s desire Mont and Devos to avoid any serious control of their gestion.

I said that Mr. Joseph Ménard, happy to retain the situation of a lawyer for a firm that had expelled him from a infinitely more important job, had to argue against Bouttier before the Civil Court.

T: had already intervened during an incident that had product between Devos and Ci and one of our friends, secretary of the Union of Shareholders of Libre Parole.

This friend had, in a circular addressed to the actionnaires, exposed the situation created for them by the conduct

has
EU

THE HOUSE OF DRUMONT AND co. 359

their Administrator had notably pointed out the-strange approach taken by Mr. Biot, on behalf of Drumont, at our friend Bouttier's place in Nancy.

The case, therefore, came before the court for defamation. 9th Chamber, and Mr. Ménard and his clients were preparing to deny everything according to their custom.

But our friend Bouttier had done it on purpose, I'm traveling from Paris to confound them; and when he presented himself at the bar, to affirm the accuracy of the visit which had

It was done and its purpose, Mr. Ménard did not dare to insist and he declared immediately that he was abandoning his action.

Everyone was surprised by this renunciation, ex-Accepted by Bouttier and our comrades aware of the matter and its consequences, because Mr. Ménard was apprehensive about a
A very unpleasant experience, if he had dared to speak out against our assigned Comrade and against the testimony de Bouttier.

This would have reminded him of a certain visit he made to Nancy.

to plead a case brought by a Dreyfusard against our Young Comrade, Fernand Rousselot.
Mr. Ménard, whom everyone then sincerely believed to be my friend and one of our own, was the object of a very warm reception cordial greetings from our friends in Nancy and Luné-
city. |

And, when the conversation turned to Drumont's conduct and his accomplices towards me and towards the Great
In western France, Ménard responded verbatim to questions that had been asked of him:

– You can only despise those people, they're all scoundrels. > . o ;
And it is from these scoundrels that Mr. Joseph Ménard remained the friend and the lawyer.

We can easily picture the face of Devos's lawyer and C'e before the 9th Chamber if, the case being argued, our friend Bouttier had reminded Me Ménard, Dru-'s lawyer.
Mont and company, the assessment – how severe | – that he had worn in Nancy on his clients.

360 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

Mr. Ménard understood the danger and he abandoned Devos and Ce.

While Drumont and Devos were thus operating on the The shares they still had to sell, MJ-B. Gérin who, by a treaty between Mr. Gérin and Mr. Dovos, had obtained that 70 of them were placed in his position, he was busy: on his side of looking for victims among its Bank of clients
French, initiated by his newspaper, the Financial Week.

And that's how he came to be interviewed by ML..., a notary.
honorary position in the provinces, 12 shares of La Libre Parole which he he made him pay 24,000 francs by making him believe that it was there is a very hard-to-find document and a report of certain-tain.

The speed with which MJ-B. Gérin executed this
The 24,000 francs worth of shares gave rise to doubt in ML's spirit...

H Jui asked for the name of his vendor(s);
he refused to give him this information, |

He had to sue MJ-B. Gérin and the Banque des Fran.
çais.

Unfortunately, he was kept away from Paris by his age and his state of health, even more than the distance, he did not
He was able to come and support his own interests and was the victim
...of the most obvious fraudulent maneuvers.

It was objected to his lawyer, before the Civil Court, that the transfer of the securities allocated to ML... was absolute-regular ment; for this purpose, the records of Free Speech, from which it followed that a part at
- less of the titles came from Messrs. D...-P... ap and son and that they had sold them to ML... through the inter-MJ-B. Gérin and his Bank.

However, an investigation conducted since then has revealed that Mr. P made the acquaintance of our friend Bouttier, whom the writers documents produced before the Court to have it dismissed were false, because Messrs. D...-P... father and son had sold their titles not of a year before the co-location of these titles to Mr. L...

Furthermore, Messrs. D. "P... father and son had sold their

1A DRUMONT AND CO. HOUSE 261

shares at 1,000 francs each, while MJ-B. Gérin had counted 2,000 francs... each to ML..

Regarding a complaint of fraud and breach of trust,
which led to an investigation entrusted to Mr. Bleyne, Commissioner for Judicial Delegations, MJ-B. Gérin was questioned and he admitted before the magistrate that he
There were fraudulent omissions in the book of trans-the strengths of Free Speech and that these omissions had for the goal of defrauding the tax authorities.

They were also used, as we can see, for flying.

24,000 francs to a good man who had the misfortune to entrusting one's funds to one of the partners of the Dru- firm Mont and Co. | |

The prosecution was unable to continue the proceedings, despite . the evidence of fraud and breach of trust because ML... had received the information too late- information about the theft of which he had been a victim; it resulted that his complaint arrived after the statute of limitations had expired Three years had passed.

However, if the statute of limitations has expired for the offenses of abuse of trust and fraud, there remained the crime of forgery which is only prescribed after ten years.

And ML... had no choice but to file a complaint for forgery which will follow its course.

11. It is hoped that, despite the numerous steps that Drumont had it done by his usual emissary to the... Ministries, Mr. Papillaud, justice will finally be served to Mr. Luu | `

One last detail, but how curious, about this ML case.... PO |

ML... completely ignored our friend Bouttier and the union of Shareholders, but he was overwhelming Devos and J.-B. Gérin's claims... to be reimbursed for the sum that had been defrauded from him.

A member of the Council of Stakeholders, Mr. Aubry, ap- took a newspaper where ML, the shareholder, complained about - Deve, -

'11 s'Empreka aussitôt dé révéler les faits à M. Bouët.

+

962 ` THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

third, when he sent Mr. Desbarres to Nancy; and at the same time While giving ML's name and address..., he also gave... a whole list of disgruntled shareholders.

Of these shareholders, who verbally or by Correspondence-

pondance, according to their place of residence, shouted: at Thieves! And they demanded an accounting; we found a few. throughout France, in the North, in the East, in the Noon, in the Centre, and it is hoped that they will finally winning the case, despite the "influences" that Drumont may be required to act in exchange for certain services rendered by him to the Government or to certain ministers, magis- contracts or officials.

I will come back to this subject a little later.

I think I've said enough about these shady dealings. on the Parts of Free Speech; I move on to others ' business.

- Devos's first concern, once he was granted a pension and administrator, was to seek, in accordance with his boss Drumont, to increase the number of subscribers" of the Free Speech; and as this clientele could not to recruit from among the readers of opposing newspapers; anti-government newspapers were made to fly like

. Authority, the Sun and the Uncompromising, as much as possible of = Subscriber services or parts thereof, when-

that they were afraid of giving the interested parties cause for concern.

And I still have a number of tapes of the _ Sun and Authority, dating from 1897, which were brought to me-strips made by Mr. Desbarres in 1902, which come from

of these flights. | DR |

As soon as they had the names and addresses of the subscribers Born from the newspapers mentioned, Drumont and Devos sent circulars or correspondents to obtain a subscription-

tion to a subscription to La Libre Parole. F

And since I'm talking about 'strange methods,' employed by Drumont and Devos with regard to newspapers, qualified

"Friends," I need to indicate the one whose two com-

_ fathers made use in 1900, .. l uas T

On October 29th and 30th of that year, appeared in the Newspapers: L'Éclair, L'Écho de Paris, L'Autorité, La Vérité Française, l'Intransigeant, le Soleil and le Petit Journal, all anti-Dreyfusards at that time, a note composée in strips of 0.04 high across the width of the 6 columns on the fourth page and in large print. It was designed as follows:

I buy the 1900 Exhibition Bonds between two and three francs, price depending on the series.

Send the numbers by postcard to Mr. Millet, 101, avenue d'Argenteuil, in Asnières (Seine), and by return from By mail you will receive an offer with the above conditions.

A number of nationalist or anti-Jewish readers wrote to Mr. Millet to offer him the vouchers they could to possess and, to their great surprise, they received in return The response is the following circular:

Asnières, November 1900.
Sir and dear compatriot,

'I have received the offer that you were kind enough to make me from your Exhibition vouchers; I am only buying one of them. conditions below:

My primary aim was to create a work of French propaganda. and to spread my ideas: I am anti-Jewish,

11. Honest French people must help those who defend them. tooth, not only in their most cherished beliefs and their their most glorious traditions, but still in their infancy materials,

The French, truly worthy of the name, owe it to themselves—even to show, for the propaganda of good, the energy that Others are shown for the propaganda of evil.

In this time of recantation, La Libre Parole, under the direction Edouard Drumont, never deviated from the program that she It had been set from the first day: to enlighten the country, to show it. where were his real enemies, in short, to return France French. ID not 2nd

To help spread the word about this organ, I am therefore making a personal sacrifice by buying a 4 franc Expositi- voucher; but I want this sacrifice to be profitable to my

364 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

To achieve this goal, as a result of an agreement with the
You will be given a subscription to the newspaper La Libre Parole.
for one year under the following conditions:

The annual subscription to this newspaper is 24 francs; you
enverres a Voucher for the Exhibition which I undertake to reimburse
At the newspaper for 4 francs, you will give a money order for 20 francs.
and you will be served the Free Speech service for one year.

I hope, sir and dear compatriot, that you will...
I hope you will take full advantage of my offer and, in that hope, I ask you to accept the assurance of my distinguished consideration.

Muert,

Note. – This offer is only valid for the months of November and December,

Subscription requests should be sent to Mr./Ms. PAdministrator.
Free Speech Tower

: 14, boulevard Montmartre, in Paris.

Mr. Milliet was simply an office boy from The Libre Parole movement and its name was used by Drumont.
and Devos, so as not to attract the attention of the Directors and newspaper administrators on the announcement that they were being inserted and whose sole purpose was, still mne times, to "steal" the clientele of "friendly" newspapers.

We can see how delicate the methods of the Drumont and Co. company

This matter concerns subscribers of competing newspapers.
From the topic of Free Speech, I move on to another that is of interest.
that one, the subscribers of Drumont, Devos and Ce,

This is the Lottery organized by Drumont and Devos
In August 1897, a lottery was held in which all long-standing subscribers participated.
and newcomers had the right to participate.

This idea had come to Drumont and Devos specifically at the time when they had managed to steal a cer-

a certain number of subscribers to the Auto- newspapers rity, the Sun and the Intransigent.

It was necessary to offer an incentive to this new clientele in order to attract him to the Free Speech movement.

The Lottery was deemed suitable for this purpose.

+

DRUMONT AND CO. 365

This lottery was supposed to have a number of prizes, and Drumont even made, in the Libre Parole of August 1897, a article on existing laws which discussed a sensational lot - for the time at least, because since We've arrived at infinitely more attractive offers - consisting of a carriage pulled by a donkey.

The lot was acquired, said Drumont, the donkey had been baptized Tisé Youddi and the Director of Libre Parole gave about him, about his character, about the texture of his fur precise details.

The 15,000 subscribers of La Libre Parole each had a number, written in red on the band of their newspaper, and I even found and kept the one that was intended for me-born, because I was a paying subscriber to Drumont's newspaper, who, despite my free collaboration and the services he had been asking me for years, had never done graciously providing the service of his newspaper,

There are, I said, for him, no small savings nor pe-tits profits.

Everything is worth taking and worth keeping.

Subscribers became interested in this Lottery and they believed in good faith that it had happened!

Well! On this occasion, while all the lots had been given away for free, Drumont and Devos "rolled" cynically, starting the number-the tapes at number 5,001 to go, they said, as far as 15,000 when the number of subscribers barely reached 9,000.

This combination had the advantage of leaving 5,000 chances of these out of 15,009, or one third at Drumont's disposal and Devos and to make subscribers and the public believe that the number of subscriptions rattling considerable that it wasn't actually that.

A fairly large number of lots were, naturally,

won by the 5,000 fictitious numbers and these prizes were attributed, at the sole discretion of Drumont and Devos or conserved by them. -

They increased their fortune: personal or by doing-

366 LUS TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

generously gave gifts that cost them nothing

Nothing.

Some subscribers learned of this fact and expressed their disapproval.

some anger,

Witness this one, whose autograph I owe.

(Bit. pages

A EYA 2ean CA A

ue "+ LE, Gus by

| 7 nee os d Ps saal

\ IERS °C PAG. ASS to.

SG: Abel >) "EST a SX Ae Jos

Combes. or (cotton tag)

ADT, memmy C ET

Ponant gin at cp h

` Soro: akaun: poni af pti.

| ds 72 un: -ea EM

Fe at

DRUMONT HOUSE AND UE 367

As for the donkey Youddy, he never existed; they bought, the August 14, 1897, 450 francs for a pony at the acclimatization garden. tion and 100 francs for a harness on the 31st of the same month.

As for the car, nobody heard anything about it.

And this sensational jackpot was won by number... 3,909. one of the 5,000 fictional ones. La Libre Parole had won during this Lotelaugh:

7 subscribers in Paris

And 201 in the provinces (1).

In October 1900, a new combination for a Con-Subscriber courses.

This is the one that gave rise to the article in L'Aurore and to the Drumont's letter (2), disavowing Devos who was soliciting the painters and sculptors for the lots and by the inter-update from an MJ Dubois of the administration, PERAR imaginary.

At the same time as we were fucking the artists we were sending another circular to the merchants to whom a propu-knows a combination of tickets that was supposed to work wonders.

But the merchants did not "give back" any more than the artists.

I cannot quote 'this' special circular, dated from October 24, 1900 – because it would take up too much space, And she doesn't deserve it.

Subscriber contests, Drumont and Devos pass 'At the sale of the Charms, a new Bedit eraser that they dare not practice openly, and for which they they still use the name of Mr. Millet, employee of the administration.

The buyers were solicited by circulars their

These pieces of information always come from the same source: Desbarres,

CT will not be broadcast. at Dramat and Davos Fe contest Ta

titu ai Kae i

{2 bag and letter already eits- | ` AN

+

'ae

368 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

offering these trinkets at 7.50 francs a dozen, but this does not
It wasn't a major operation yet, and we abandoned it.

Land and building matters were dealt with
'at the same time as the life annuity business – we
This shop has all the items! – and we live,
For months and months, an announcement, which we will-occasionally laughed at the text, recommending the: i

Napoule grounds.

These announcements said:

Za Napoule, winter resort near Cannes (Apes-Miri-
times).

Wooded building plots priced from 1 to 3 francs per meter, –

Comfortable villas from 8,000 francs.

Regarding these land disputes, which date back to 1895, it was necessary to... first read to address Mr. Duchâteau at the office of the daynal; then, for some mysterious reason, Mr. Duchâteau disappeared to make way for Mr. Dumoulin, still at.
newspaper office.

The operation continued in 1896 and 1897 – there was without no doubt there are a lot of plots of land for sale! – and she hesitatesmined by large profits for Drumont and Co. and by a a lawsuit brought against them by disgruntled individuals who Lou tended to have been seriously injured.

There was also talk of a property purchase.
in Tunisia called "Sahalir domain. ~ N

Drumont commenga – by being the tenant, but he did not – apparently paid the rent with great difficulty and as The owners were rather embarrassed, they ended up decided to sell.

DRUMONT AND CO. 369

Drumont, who had just sold the hay harvest of the year: 30,000 francs..., managed to buy everything for a little over 100,000 francs... while driving his better the sellers and intermediaries, responsible for processing to end this affair.

But, here again, things didn't go smoothly on their own, and during the divorce proceedings between Ms. Devos and the Znfen– During Drumont's visit, there was talk of signatures being affixed.
on the deeds of sale and on the mortgage discharge documents
Legal archives, signatures that Mw Devos refused to re–
to know as their own.

And, as Devos's lawyer asserted that these signs–
The documents had been received by a clerk of the notary in charge documents, at the very home of the Devos couple, M^{me} Devos claimed never to have seen this clerk and demanded to be summoned.
confronted with him.

Hence the outcry from the Court and the decision to investigate this new fact (1).

But let us leave the domain of "Sahali", to reve–
nir to Drumont and Devos and their office on the boulevard.

We find them, under the name Devos, associated and administrators of a company called Distillery
of the Centre.

There, Devos is still: Mr. Administrator, and in What a company!

The Chairman of the Board of Directors is none other that the Jew Darosberg, known as the Marquis de Strada, who counts as many convictions as a Jewish speculator can supporting it,

This affair ended in a trial, conducted by...

shareholders to the Jew Darosberg and his excellent friend Devos, and the liquidation was pronounced despite the efforts from two assuited, |

Gi} & chanti civilë, abàidnto du sell

370 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTI-SEMITISM

Devos and the Jew Darosberg had not undertaken that this single matter; and many were those which they they organized together by inventing Belgian Societies, formed with hundreds of thousands of francs of capital and whose only funds came from the gullible people who were there-master and who never saw their... feathers again 1 `

It would be impossible for me to talk about all the cases treated under the same conditions, and I arrive at the anti-Jewish nuncios of the Free Speech movement.

Drumont and Devos have always cried slander. when the Anti-Jew spoke of these announcements, in favor of Jews who were being fought or appeared to be fought in pre-first page, and to which readers were led and the subscribers of La Libre Parole, for a hefty fee advertising royalties, for second-place ads, third and fourth pages, or even the first.

This last case arose in favor of a company American insurance company Equitable, which has just given a place of scandal that is making headlines in the world press.

This company, at the time when it began its operations in France, was directed by a Jew named Peixoto. | CPR.

Drumont began with a thorough and scathing attack; and The whole thing ended with some good publicity for The Fair trade, a demand that continued even in recent days last in Libre Parole, to defend the administrators of the Equitable, at the time when the malfeasance-the actions committed against this company caused the most noise, they gave rise to official investigations in - United States, investigations that revealed embezzlement considerable. ROOM Do

So Drumont had played, once again, an abominable comedy. To wrest a large sum of money from a Jew, ten-owner of a foreign company, of which the French are In general, and its readers in particular, were to be victims based on the publicity provided by La Libre Parole.

i

DRUMONT AND CO. 371

Another time, as a Jewish house offered him an interesting publicity opportunity, Drumont found a curious stratagem to avoid arousing his readers' arousal brothers and to do a service to the Jews, who offered him a nice subsidy to collect.

These are the working classes, including the property owner, The Jew Cahen wanted to create a limited company with capital... a sum of 15,750,000 francs...

To find these 16 million, they appealed to savings. French; starting with the issuance of 75,000 shares of 5 pounds, sold for 126 francs, including the pound sterling ling at 25 fr. 20 the strong rate.

All non-anti-Jewish newspapers could accept this announcement; but it seemed that La Libre Parole had to refrain from sending its subscribers and buyers to the nude They were going to a Jewish company to take their savings.

Drumont nevertheless requested the photograph which was to to appear in four columns of 'width, saying that we wouldn't realize that these Working Classes were actually a Jewish store.

But, in possession of the elliché, it was discovered that in the The text included the members of the Board of Directors and at the forefront: Mr. René Cahen, the current owner of "The Working Classes."

11. It was difficult to publish this announcement in these con-editions. | |

Drumont's heart bled; but his imagination businessmen quickly found a way around the difficulty; because, on December 16, 1897, the Cahen photograph was being circulated in the Free Speech in four columns across.

Here's the trick Drumont came up with:
Jl had the name of the removed from the photograph he published.
Juif Cahen, who remained focused on the images published by others newspapers at the same time.

And so that Drumont cannot deny the fact, I reproduces here the essential parts of two photographs, published

472 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

at the same time, one in La Libre Parole (1) and the other in the Lantern (2).

When this announcement was made, many were the protests and Drumont hastened to respond by claiming ignorance of the existence of Jews in the leadership of this affair: the Working Classes,

But when we talked about this deception in PAntijuif, a regular at Libre Parole, remembered a

There are no obligations and according to the Statutes, it is

"Issuance at par of 76,000 Shares of |

Le fes cie m na jo dato à maia piège RTS STREET passes – to Pc BR Hana Los

inaug ALT RIT TS Rene DE RE
Li ceres di MERS "ag hs rase
A plus # ns pete
ee

Bangaloro in London |
FARRS BANK, LIMITED, Barihokswew Lane, Logtres, D. © | almost <

DRUMONT AND CO. 373

telephone conversation, of which he only heard half-

tied up in the newspaper offices.

Intendant Devos had just been called to the phone,

– Hello! Hello!

LELLE LL]

– Yes, it's me, Mr. Drumont.

CLELLELE 1]

– No, Mr. Drumont, there was no way;
It was too obvious!

(2)

| CAPITAL:

D 26000 As anais de EA Pen 5.30) age ee ee à

There are no obligations, and according to the laws, there is

Issue at par of 75,000 shares of;

The years esdisires are ps said ea senita pu | omunan assoc Te and a sound solutions Toa gige evolat

Miaaatteaan F0 Gr d eea Pas STi à rois ne nee en

'erent right to its cumulative dividend and This agah is tormented by the budget

F for een st oni to priority r la de bien connns à Paris soi ordis as Capiti at eas dende. ". sitats 46 and 49. Douierar:

interests of the erinatorial crane sections. | «187 å:

sent on February 16, May, April 45 and November 13 of Saint Germain, Portes, Chantilly, i receivables and: an asset | Gemain etè Meulan.

RE S

is 'is malson years ago s so gra

– An anti-Semite, very knowledgeable about new developments and lingerie – he's in the construction business! – wrote to signal to tell Drumont that Galeries Lafayette was a ma-Jewish gasin and that, consequently, the Free Word of-should refrain from accepting their advertising.

Here is the letter he received:

Paris, October 6, 1899.

"Sir,

Galeries Lafayette was run by Jews; these
The latter sold to good French people who put co maga-sin in a public limited company and that's why the Jibre Parole allows itself to advertise.

If tomorrow the Rothschilds were to hand over the reins to the French La Libre Parole would advertise for the bank of the Laffitte Street.

Keep your illusions, dear sir, and believe in my best wishes.
ii feelings.

The – _ D Administrator,
Prvos,

Pea CORRE

DRUMONT AND CO. HOUSE; 375

And that is how his [devoted anti-Semite] was taken from him.
his last illusion, the one he had of the good faith of.
Drumont and his administrator, because he knew that if the Galeries Lafayette had been incorporated as a public limited company.
The owners and managers were always the same
Jews.

The same was true for the Warrants Company.
the Cahen and C* Jews, whose advertising often displayed
and in several columns of La Libre Parole.

It contained spiel like this:

Love! Always love! You who love love,
Go to the French Warrants Company which is selling
Love liqueur at 4.90 francs a bottle, real thief 10 francs.

Another time, they were praising the values of Oil Suinte-Marie launched by the Jews SD Cohen or a work by Léo Taxil; or else the publication was inserted quoted by the publisher Rouf, whereas an anti-Jewish author would have had trouble getting Uge Panees' small line in favor
from his work.

It's still the Vormi Bank and a whole collection shady financiers, whom we had dubbed, in
The Anti-Jew, the Sharks of the Stock Exchange.

First, under the name Corres P Marc, we Find the Fribourg Jew, hiding behind the ticket windows
from his Syndicate Bank, including the Marc Correspondence was the appeal bulletin to the gullible, and whose advertisement
_ must have been prominently featured at Drumont's:

The Jew from Fribourg was one day imprisoned; and, the very day before hence his arrest, even though Aïtfuif had already denounced
In fact, Drumont was still soliciting the Jew Fri-town for an advertisement in the Libre almanac
Words for the year 1903.

Behind the Daily Financial, E tenant
from the columns of the Free Parish, we find the Jew, Milliaud.

476 TRAFFICKERS OF ANTI-SENITISM

With the Financial Universe, organ of the Bangia of Pin-
French industry, it's the Jew Dreyfus.

The Jew J. Lévis works at the Moniteur des rentiers.

And, when the shopkeeper is not Jewish, it is for example the banker Gilbert, who founded the Bank Catholic and the Messenger of Savings, which tom-bent in disarray and carry away, to the naive subscribers-authors, including quite a few Drumont readers misled by Free Speech, a respectable number of millions.

Drumont's Financial Bulletin, to be no more:
in the hands of J.-B. Gérin, he nonetheless praises the least recommendable values.

Such as that of Fers et Aciers Rôbert, listed at 140 francs, for which Drumont announced upcoming lectures

even higher, and which tumbled down all at once at 30 francs..., to soon have nothing left but the value of wrapping paper.

Or even the Klondike Gold Mines, the most rich people from all over the world, including a Syndicat announcement in The program "La Libre Parole" cost 87.50 francs and was returning to the sellers at 3 francs: 50.

A month later, the deed done, they were at 0.50 francs at the Wet Feet Exchange; and even at that price they don't They couldn't find a buyer.

I could still talk in detail about Cole's financial... cière, de la Caisse des Mines, du Comptoir National des. Rentiers, from the Financial Council, from the Banque Lyonnaise. who all found a warm welcome at La Libre Parole, a means-speaking of the sums extorted from readers of Drumont:

The list of these values is revealing, and I won't go into detail. only a very small part here:

Société des Bois entrecroisés – Société Liva et Tava-
– gnaëco -- Casirio de Chaudé-Fontaine – Charbotinages
de Coléme.: – Venized at Parthia – Union of the OER örs – Viéhy-Eloité – lö Valpeline.

And also:

| THE DRUMONT HOUSE AND ©° | 377

The Compagnie Générale des Mines, whose shares issued at 105 francs... are, immediately afterwards, invented dables. | Re

The Landed Properties, titles sold for 325 francs... which fall-bent at 10 francs... . | Fr. to

The Katchkars – privileged, please – who receive 600 francs immediately arrive at 8 francs.

And how many more?

Biabaux Mines – Hérault Mines, etc., summer...

La Libre Parole is no longer a newspaper, it's not even It's more than just a simple bazaar; it's Ali-Drumont's cave. But there are more than 40 thieves. TEE

To conclude this long series, here are two more quotes,
But how edifying!
We remember an article by Drumont in La Libre Words from October 18, 1892 on the Tribe of Rophé.

I quote a few parts of it:

-The name of Alcide Rophé has just been added to the endless list of corrupt bankers who stole savings from Too naive customers... It is true that, to console the victims,
It is reported that, in the neighborhood, countless houses are being built.
Mills will collapse in the same way.

This presents an opportunity to study an original aspect of the state extraordinary social context in which we live, to grasp capturing in real time what is extravagant, bizarre, and comical about this contemporary society, so often described yet so little understood...

I believe that Alcide Rophé had few other precedents.

...than a puff that had made some noise long ago. But the rain-
part of the founders of these shady banks are purely and simply repeat offenders; they all have convictions on their record.
one or more convictions for similar acts a).
Macé-Berneau had been convicted. Mary Raynaud had been served two years in prison before founding the Bank of the state. Cola did not prevent him from bidding on loans.
municipal officials and even to run for parliament and be elected. | ` ; !

(1) How interesting these Hgnas are to read, especially in recent years

The columns of La Libre Parole were filled with advertisements for these tongues.

| interlop: and of these bankers, repeat offenders, .

378 TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

One of the directors of the Railway Bank (1), on the books in which one would find the names of many prominent members of parliament, had been sentenced in 1878 to six months in prison his; in 1881 he had received a new sentence of fifteen months... He had changed his name without, moreover, giving himself the poine čo hides much of the first name, and he was in rapport with a large number of politicians (2).

After this article, one might have thought that the Jews from Rophé would not venture to propose publication cited at the Libre Parole for fear of being received there with blows boot and to go back down the stairs faster than they had-would have gone up, is

At least that's what you and I would have thought, and In this, we would have, as they say colloquially, "He poked his finger in the eye."

And the Rophé Jews, who know Dru-'s heart mount and perfectly understood the true meaning-tion of the article published against them, did not hesitate to send their announcements to La Libre Parole, for their off-cinema on Bank Street.

And their announcements were perfectly received and in-Served for a reasonable fee.

This example is from the Raphaean Jews of the Tribe of Raphae. is still surpassed by that of Mary Raynaud, whose Dru-Mont also reminded us of the adventures in this article of October 18, 1892.

Drumont was not kind to this financier; and, in The Testament of an Antisemile, we have read the lines. that he dedicated: | i |
` I remind you of them:

| Mary Raynaud, with the experience that could give her his three-year prison sentence (page 177). E i -

(1) This director of the Railway Bank, Mr. Calais, known as Mollien, returned to operate in France once the prescription was acquired and, daily, The deals he launches are listed in the announcements or in the Financial Bulletin of Free Speech. One more or less shark! M
- (3) has not changed today and it is with Drumont and his newspaper that he is now in business terms,

THE DRUMONT HOUSE AJD- C^ 379

What did Mary Raynaud steal? Four or five poor thousand... lions.

Who did he steal them from? People who knew better. doubting that one risks something when one wants to touch 80% of his money per year (page 196).

Mary Raynaud speculates and loses her clients' money.
(page 222).

Therefore, Drumont cannot claim that he was unaware of Mary.
Raynaud and his "financial operations"

Do you believe that the columns of La Libre Parole have
The doors were closed to the former director of the State Bank, con-sentenced to three years in prison, the day he was released, he came back-to resume the course of his "business", interrupted by the
The way we know?

That would be a serious misjudgment of Drumont.

Once freed, Mary Raynaud hastened to replace her former State Bank by Crédit International, having for Special Monitor the International Financial, ee

And the columns of La Libre Parole were opened to this International Financial, a reliable and ethical guide to Ren-
third. |

This new venture suffered the same fate as the first, and,
One day, after a year or two of "work", Mary Raynaud lifted his foot again and left for England.
and left his clientele, to which Drumont had contributed his best to maintain trust, without news and without money,

In Drumont's Testament of an Anti-Semite, making allusion to the hospitality that Mary Haynaud had found at Arthur Meyer's Gaulois, to plunder savings, write-vait: f |

(Page 245) Imagine what a pitiful attitude we would have,
Where are you? Me, if in a newspaper belonging to us, Phomme
the person we had put in charge of the financial side had left in a carrier
so much other people's money.

T1, it seems to us that everyone is going to point a finger at us.
- by saying: "Do you know any newspaper editor who dares

340 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

To talk about Republican scandals in his newspaper? That was
"The associate of a thief already sentenced to three years in prison."

When Mary Raynaud ran away for the second time,
I wondered what pitiful affliction Drumont and La Libre Parole, Director and newspaper located caught red-handed in an act of complicity with a thief already sentenced to three years in prison.

Drumont was not "piteful" in the least.
He took it very well, as usual.

He commissioned a witty news item in which he made an indiscreetly, the eternal gullible fools, victims of financiers shady characters who always end up slowing down.

And Drumont is right, in fact, to feign such contempt
for the eternal fools; since there is still, so reduced whatever the number, of readers for his newspaper and customers for the crooks who share with him

To conclude this very long, though incomplete, account, enumeration of the shady dealings and underhanded dealings at-.
I will... which Drumont interfered in or imagined, I will...
to conclude with a presentation of two of the most significant operas statements by the Director of La Libre Parole during these last-years.

I said that Drumont was a mate Shane and that readily used threats and intimidation to extorting money from Jews as well as non-Jews, places and favors to our rulers and also for
to get what he desires, either for himself or for his friends either against his opponents.

Among the countless acts of blackmail he committed, he
There is one that requires lengthy discussion.

This is the one that the insurance company fell victim to.
Cooperation, which was forced by Drumont and his Steward, to pay them very large sums and to be subject to extremely expensive advertising contracts.

When I received a visit in Brussels from the founder of

THE DRUMONT HOUSE AND 0° 38i

cetto Société, M, Reuilly, who came to ask me the competitions in our newspapers, he told me in all his details-Tails the maneuver used to make him pay a first sum of 20,000 francs, in addition to what he had already paid 'to Drumont and his acolyte, for the articles-keys already inserted in the Mont- Boulevard sheet

marten,

Here, moreover, is the account he gave me of his adventure,
a story that other people have also been entrusted with dence and who are ready to file if necessary.

– When I had finished the constitution of "Cooperation," Mr. Reuilly told me, "gave me the idea to go" see Drumont, who received me with an air that was half amiable, half-unpleasant, as those who come into contact with it well know.
I explained my idea to him, offering to place the project
_ under his high patronage, reserving only for myself
to remain its practical executor.

Drumont listened to me, seemed interested in what I was saying.
I explained; and, when I had finished, he said to me:

– Your idea seems good to me, but you know how-
'Well, I am a stranger! To affairs, what is my ignorance-deep rancidity to their subject!

Look at my Administrator, Mr. Devos, and this gu'il will do well.

I therefore cross the threshold that separates the office from the Master of that of the {nlendant, and I began my explanations, which Mr. Devos listened to from Pair of an ox who listens to an opera.

His image only became clear at my last words; and I
I was stunned to hear Drumont's representative... to say, while slapping my thigh: .

– All that is very nice, my dear sir, but:
Do you have any galetie?

And, appalled by such a response, I SAS
around me to make sure I was at La Libre Words, in the offices of the disinterested newspaper! by

382 ANTI-ISKMITISMR TRAFFICKERS

"Excellency," the director repeated his question to me, adding-
so much :

– You don't seem to understand me?

I had understood all too well, and my silence was
To my astonishment,

The Steward then indicated to me the conditions under which the advertising of La Libre Parole could be acquired by my project

With the Friends, whom I had already gathered, we launched the first appeal for funds, and I regretted to note—
more than all the newspapers, which we needed
For our advertising, it was Drumont's who...
the most expensive cofta and whose demands were the most large,

I wasn't finished with bel; and, while we
we were in the middle of launching our show, I read, in Free Speech, announcements in favor of a compasimilar gnie, whose title could be confused with ours, |

These announcements are contrary to our agreements with Messrs. Drumont and Devos, I went to see the latter for him to express my surprise. He immediately procured a new by replying to me verbatim:

— What do you want, my dear Mr. Reuilly, business are matters; and I must inform you, in agreement with Drumont, that we cannot continue to insert your articles and your ads, only if you sign immediately—
ment with us an advertising treaty, assuring us 20,000 francs for this first year.

Without that, he added, we will be forced to acc-accept the proposals made to us by your con-currents that provide us with this sum.

And, as I jumped and expressed my astonishment,
Mr. Devos added:

— It is understood that these 20,000 francs... will be payable in advance; because we don't want to run the:
risks of failure for your business.

— Bi, previously, Mr. Reuilly told me at this point

LA MAISON DBRUMONT AND ©° 383

His account revealed my illusions about Drumont and Devos.
They disappeared completely that day.

I found myself in the presence of a perfectly clear case of blackmail. characterized, and Drumont and Devos put, at the Coopé- ration as if to me, with a knife to my throat, di- Health: either you pay or you die.

I deeply regretted, at that moment, that the matter was already so deeply involved, because I would have hastened to join her to give up and to say why.

Unfortunately, it was too late and Messrs. Drumont And Devos knew it perfectly well.

That's why they speculated on the situation and imposed know such a heavy contribution to Cooperation, _ under penalty of death. |

So we cut off one of our arms to save the My whole body was threatened; but I was steadfast, as were my friends, on Drumont's methods, which we consider- we used to laugh like a disinterested philosopher, whose

The only concern was to spread ideas and to remain, as he told me, during my first visit to Free Speech, "absolutely unrelated to affairs".

When I brought the treaty to the {infant of Dramont signed and our 20,000 francs, I said to Devos:

- The sacrifice you are imposing on us is extremely It's heavy, it even exceeds everything we had planned and we thought that perhaps Mr. Drumont would like to write a good article on Cooperation, to explain, its but essentially anti-Jewish and anti-Masonic, in order to that at least the largest number of its readers of- come the clients or the participants of our association tion. to -

"That's not possible," replied the Intendant, "Dru-"

.mont cannot write a business article without diminishing himself- and, if he could, he told me, puffing out his chest, I would double his allowances.

Remembering that response from big Devos, Mr. Reuilly added how astonished he was by this,

This idea of Drumont's salary, doubled by

PR to | pS
hi

Devos, she had rightly considered monumental.
gives the exact measure of the compromises to which He lent himself to the one who exploited selfless devotion of so many anti-Semites, including his cook's nephew
spoke with this nonchalance, | i

What a fall for the Undisputed!

To be treated in this way by a being of intelligence and ins-absolutely no instruction, and whose education remains of far below that of the humblest cart-
third!! one |

I learned that, since then, the 20,000 francs extorted from _Ja Cooperation, in the way that was told to me by Mr. Reuilly was followed by 20,000 others.

I wasn't surprised: only the opposite could have to surprise me; and, when Drumont said, one day, in the stamped Napier that he sent to the printer of our day-
He thought we were so poor, we anti-Jews indépendanis, whose ruin, imprisonment, and exile were the lot, I had some reason to be more proud of our pai-truth that he, in his insolence as an upstart, whose strength tune is the result of theft, fraud, and chan-

tage. ie to |

It is understood that if Messrs. Drumont and Devos were still shouting about slander, regarding this story.
toire, perfectly authentic, I am entirely at their disposal -
provision of evidence. - Arte

Since my return, I have been able to see the current directors of Cooperation <t I learned, with satisfaction, that-This affair, led by capable and proactive men, had definitively ruled out Drumont and his acolytes; and.
that our honorable friend, Mr. de Tinseau, who had had the confirmation of the blackmail carried out by Drumont against the
The company had addressed the Director of La Libre Parole
a letter that he carefully avoided publishing.

Drumont's second operation falls into the category-category. of political-pharmaceutical companies, and during-that I knew her, through Mr. Joseph Ménard, I could not,

As I said, believe my ears.

This refers to the drug that is still being sold today.
under Id name of Chertreux Treatment.

The story of the invention of this drug is curious.

It was initially called RR. PP Treatment.
Chartreux and it was recommended to buyers, to avoid Counterfeiting requires a signed guarantee:

From Prior Dom Marie.

This lasted for a few months, from November and December-
From 1897 until the end of March 1898.

From that time onwards, the Carthusian Fathers disappeared
They are rising from the announcement and it is now only the:

Cr treatment

The religious leaders had protested against the abuse made of their name with an impudence that no one until this day has-
would have dared to push it that far,

But if the Carthusian Fathers had disappeared from the yearnunce, the following note was still left:

Require the signature of Prior Dom MARIE.

New protests from religious leaders cause a sharp decline in support.
Dom Marie, in the rank of Prior of the Order, first rank simple RP

Also, to replace the missing title, we then say ie
buyers that they need to demand: |
The Dom Marie sign and the State's blue stamp

French.

The image of the label, which I reproduce further on,
gives a sample of the spiel, iraginated by Drumont-Devos, to better surprise the patients' trust.

The Dom Marie signature is the work of Devos and it suffices.
made it possible to compare this signature with the autographs, of the character, contained in this book, to be sure,
without needing to be a "writing expert" to do so.

13

386 TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

It's even about this signature, created by Uce-
you, that a comical incident occurred.

It had been agreed, between Drumont and his Jlendanti,
that he would have that signature executed and, to avoid-
To avoid any indiscretion, he had done it himself.

But, ignoring the difference in spelling of the "Don"
Christobald, from a novel that he was then enjoying, at
"Don Marie" to create, he wrote Don Marie.

And Drumont had all the trouble in the world to make him understand that it was necessary to write Dom.

One cannot imagine how much this incident brightened
Mr. Ménard, who had known him from the beginning, knew how much he Gaston Méry and his associate, who were more amused, later on,
They both pressed on to take advantage of the situation to demolish even more a little V/nlendant in the spirit of the Dear Master.

"It's not with Mr. Méry," the lady said, "that these Trouble is brewing! That fat Devos is so stupid!

This photograph reproduces exactly the one taken by Drumont and Devos publishes brochures extolling the virtues of their drug, brochures signed by a Doctor François Demaude, when the psegryisie is not the D" Féli Larocke...

Do these two characters really exist or are they-they were invented from scratch by Drumont and his Inten-Dani?

I would lean more towards this second hypothesis, and
This will constitute, not just one falsehood, committed by Devos by means of
of the Dom Marie signature, but three well-characterized forgeriesridiculed,

And yet, these forgeries go unpunished.

For years, the same criminal trafficking has continued without the Public Prosecutor's Office, a strict enforcer of the law- to petty fraudsters, have once again decided to intervene to prevent the criminal activities of the Drumont House and Co. i |

However, there can be no doubt about this matter of

THE TREATMENT OF THE CHARTROIS

Like all good preparations,
16. Treatment of the Chartreux cat has imitations,
And, quite often, sick people...
agheté, at agheté's
` a pharma-cien a Trai-
tement pir»
| so much a mar-
similar RE and that this Trai-
to the tamentneleur
PE had produced
to no guala-

1 gomont.
: To avoid

ite
one:

there sig
banos
VETAT F

388 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

The treatment of the Chartreux falls under the application of the ar-

Article 405 of the Penal Code states:

Article 405 of the Penal Code. – Anyone, whether by doing use of false names or false credentials, either by employing fraudulent maneuvers to present the existence of false-

his businesses, of imaginary power or credit, or to create hope or fear of success, of an accident or any other fanciful event, will have been done hand over or deliver, or will have attempted to obtain delivery or to deliver funds, furniture or bonds, dispositions, notes, promises, receipts or discharges, and will have, by one of these means, defrauded or attempted to defraud the total property or part of the fortune of another, will be punished with a period of at least one year or at most five years, and of A fine of at least 50 francs and at most 3,000 francs.

The guilty party may, moreover, be held liable from the day he will have served his sentence, banned for at least five years and ten years at most of the right mentioned in Article 42 of this

Code. All of this, except for more serious penalties, if there is a crime. of forgery. (Penal Code 9, 40, 147 et seq. and 166.) ak

And, not only is Article 405 of the Penal Code applicable in this circumstance, but numerous stops of The Court of Cassation absolutely confirms this application.

I'll mention a few here: 1

The use of a qualified forgery to present the existence of a imaginary credit, followed by the handing over of a sum of money, sufficient to constitute the offense of fraud, regardless of of all other fraudulent maneuvers (Court of Cassation, 9 Sep- (December 1844, August 25, 1854.)

And even the use of a false name and a false title, to

with the help of whom one receives funds or valuables, constitutes the offense of fraud, regardless of the any fraudulent maneuvers (Omission of February 4th) 1868.) | |

Deception regarding the nature of the goods sold can to be considered as constituting the offense of fraud, when- that, in order to persuade the buyer to purchase the goods,

til,

>

the seller used a false name and a false quality.
(Cassation of December 10, 1858.)

False allegations become fraudulent maneuvers painful, when they are accompanied by external acts and materials intended to lend credence to these allegations. (Cassation June 18, 1867, February 18 and December 20, 1862; 12 and November 17, 1864.

All these rulings, and in particular those of February 4th and of December 10, 1858 and following are precise and do not claim to No hesitation...

Well! Not only the Public Prosecutor's Office, which has been aware of this The case of the fake Prior Dom Marie and the fake Treatment of the Carthusian; did not prosecute ex officio, as was his duty, but he objected, to the question posed by his non-intervention: that he had received no complaints.

When I learned this answer, I resolved to fill in the gaps. this gap and I took the initiative of the complaint that I I myself brought it to Mr. Fabre, the public prosecutor of the Republic. which, in turn, did not seem very enthusiastic to me to- 'follow Drumont and his acolytes (1).

The more he hesitated he was, the more obstinate I became. in my idea of pushing the experiment to its logical conclusion, and I produced for Mr. Fabre all the evidence in support of my complaint.

The public prosecutor therefore had to resign himself to intervene and, some time later, I received a summons cation at Mr. Fabre's office, where I went; quite curious to know the outcome of the investigation that I had announced.

Mr. Fabre informed me that he had questioned the pharma- Mr. Malavant's successor – who has been dead for almost two years, eb whose name is still recorded _on the labels and brochures of Char- Treatment ireuz, – and that this pharmacist had declared to him that my

(4) A simple comparison between the case of the madman Doin Marie and the forgery Treatment of Chartreuse, and the falsification of the Cologne brand Jean-Marie Farina's work shows how much Drumont and Devos must have agreed against mol with the Roblin father and son. i

The complaint was unfounded, Mr. Devos said. absolutely nothing to do with the manufacture and sale of produced; and that the administrator of the Libre Parole was simply his publicist.

By providing me with this investigation report. Mr. Fabre seemed to me to have gotten rid of a major worry, that to be forced to sue Drumont and Devos for a the crime of forgery, the reality of which is nevertheless undeniable.

I looked at Mr. Fabre and replied:

– I regret to inform you, Mr. Public Prosecutor, to point out such disrespectful behavior on the part of the vendors difficulties with the treatment of the Chartreux cat, but I am obliged to to note that these gentlemen have been making fun of the magistrates and investigators from your prosecutor's office. 'But how is that, Monsieur Guérin?' our lenient (1) Public Prosecutor.

And so, I gave Mr. Fabre irrefutable proof that the brands Traitement du Chartreux (approved of the different spellings: Du Charireu, Ducharireu, Descharireux, des Charireux) were indeed deposited by Mr. Devos, their owner, under numbers 70,708, 70,709, 70,710, 70,711, 70,712 and registered in the Official Bulletin of industrial and commercial property (publication) (Official of the Ministry of Commerce) in its number from August 1901. ' |

At the same time as these trademarks, Devos also filed that of the Tisane of Dr. Laroche, Dr. Félix Laroche and of Chabannes Powder (2) – tonic, digestive and laxative– live; all the essential virtues for good recipes |

Mr. Fabre seemed a little annoyed by my insistence and by the accuracy of my evidence; but he assured me that he was going to to take the necessary steps to continue the investigation and establish the truth.

(4) Indulgent towards Messrs. Devos and Drumont, because Mr. Fabre, there is not very long time personally occupied to siôxo du minislèro published in the affair Jaluzot-Printomp+layon d'épargne, to sue Mr. Jäluzot for the application of article 403 of the Penal Code which reaches so inuôntestablomont Drumont and Devos, their Traitomunt of the Carthusian and the false signature "Dom Marlo",

(2) Deposits 79.713; 70.714; 70.715.

DRUMONT AND CO. HOUSE 391

I left him, convinced that he would do nothing about it and that if a number of political and financial figures were Having become taboo at La Libre Parole, Drumont and his surroundings Rage was also taboo at the Paris Public Prosecutor's Office in the Seine department.

So I was not surprised to receive, fifteen days Then, a notice from Mr. Fabre, telling me that there was no need to follow up on my complaint.

I will not be discouraged, however, wanting to push on to the To end this affair, I went to the Ministry of Justice where I I renewed my complaint of forgery against Devos, while ma-expressing my surprise at the extraordinary response of Mr. Fabre, adding that I should assume: or that one was afraid of Drumont, or of the services he had rendered, or caused certain individuals to render His entourage assured him of a scandalous impunity.

I was assured that this was not the case and that no one was to escape the consequences of offenses and crimes clerk.

I am waiting; and my complaint is currently proceeding.

1 Over the past few months, however, I have learned One interesting thing is that Mr. Chaumié, Minister The Justice system has been the subject of debate for several months now. urgent marches from Drumont and by Ten-delivery of the ordinary messenger of the Rector of the Free Word to the rulers: Fapillaud.

Besides the deception suffered by the sick, ct of crimes and offenses falling under the application of Article 405 of the Péral Code, it seems that Drumont would have had to avoid misusing the name of the Carthusians and compromising to establish religious order in filthy, speculative places tions.

It would be a grave misunderstanding of Drumont to suppose that capable of being stopped by such an honorable scruple.

Far from respecting the rights of the Carthusians, he did not He did not forgive them for their protests against the abuse. of their name.

These protests were numerous, particularly in the early stages of development.

ra

392 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

ment where Drumont-Devos had inserted, in the Se-religious services of the diocese of Grenoble, announcements that this publication accepted in good faith.

And, on January 30, 1902, this religious weekly published the following note:

Our readers have already seen, several times at this same time In place, an advertisement entitled "Chartreux Dom Treatment" Marie. We receive, on this subject, from the Grande Chartreuse, the following note, which we feel it our duty to publish:

The Carthusian Fathers declare that they are absolutely foreign to the treatment of the Carthusian Dom Marie. They protest against an usurpation of their name which can only in-mislead the public about the origin of these products.

The Prosecutor Father.

In the face of these protests, if Drumont had He would have hastened to eliminate the slightest bit of probity. his treatment of the Carthusian and to defend to his intent-and associate of abusing the name of the reli-gieux of the Chartreuse to mislead the public on the origin of the product, bearing the title Treatment of the Chartreux. SRE

This course of action was all the more necessary for Drumont because he affirms himself as Catholic, a convinced and practicing Catholic. as for – ah! the good ticket! – and that he wrote number articles to defend the congregations. ts

These articles are written for naive or poorly informed readers. informed and they are part of the comedy played by Dru-mount to deceive public opinion, as he continues to deceive per les malades. en

During our first conflicts with Drumont, when he pushed the audacity so far as to claim, by bailiff's notice, that Faccuser him and his Zntendani of having abused the name of the Carthusians and for having invented a prior, Dom Marie, was a slander, we wrote to the Superior of Chartreux to be informed exactly.

DRUMONT AND CO. 393

Here is the response we received:

JJJ

. GRANDE CHARTREUSE, March 30, 1902.

Mr. Director of L'Antijuif,

In response to your esteemed letter of March 27, I declare that the Carthusians are absolutely, foreign to the treatment medical, says Treatment of the Chartreuse of Father Dom Marie.

They only know about this treatment through the newspapers.

You ask me, sir, if my name is indeed that which was used for the product launched under the guise of Mr. Malavant of Paris. – At the bottom of this letter, my signature will answer this question unambiguously.

Moreover, I have never known a professor by that name in our country. of Dom Marie, and I can affirm, with full knowledge of the facts, that since the day I was given the responsibility of governing the Carthusian order, that is to say for almost ten years, not No religious figure has ever borne that name, either in France or abroad, if It is not a novice who has just left us after having stayed At our house, it lasts 5 months.

Please accept, Sir, my respectful greetings.

F. Mirong,
Prior of the Carthusians.

'PS – I'm adding this for clarification: the name of Mary is held by many religious figures as the first where second name. Thus we have a Dom Marie Joseph, a Dom Marie Augustin, a Dom Pierre Marie etc., etc. But a Dom Just Marie, no, I declare that there is none.

FM..

So, no Dom Marie and even less a Prior
Dom Marie. ; |

Wanting to be informed more fully. Still on the commercial side of Drumont-Devos's business,
: we wrote another letter to ask for-certain details and we received from Father Rey, a a rather long answer from which I have extracted a few excerpts.

494 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

May 20, 1902.
Mr. Director of L'Antijuif,

In my capacity as owner of the brands of the Grande Chartreuse, the Reverend Father General instructs me to respond to your letter of the 12th of this month, |

I set aside all personal matters and declare that the Carthusians have always protested, even through the channels of newspapers, control the use of their name to designate pro-
any kind of beds.

Since the Carthusians were not recognized, could they continue?
before the courts P.....

I believe, along with all the Carthusians, that Mr. Devos does not have the right to call its products Chartreux Treatment.

There is a legal question here that I would be happy to
to have a court decide and the Carthusians would then rid of a multitude of letters relating to the product aforementioned.

The abuse would cease, and commercial and industrial delicacy would be restored.
he would gain from it.

Please accept, Sir, my sincere greetings,

Abbé C. Rar.

+

Drumont speculated on what the Carthusians, not being recognized, could not prevent him from deceiving the public by abusing their name, and this abuse continued and continues

again at the expense of industrial delicacy and commercial.

And now that the Carthusians have been expelled, as an unauthorized congregation, and their mark Chartreuse seized, Mr. Public Prosecutor Fabre continues to let Drumont-Devos deceive the public with their treatment of the Chartreux, which was neither He was not seized, nor even questioned.

Don't I have the right to say something about this again?

What unspeakable services does this peculiar tolerance condone? And is this scandalous impunity therefore the salary? 11

Not only did Drumont abuse, but he also continued to abuse of the Carthusian order, but he did even better in the middle regarding their expulsion.

DRUMONT AND CO. 395

At that moment we noticed a change in
The announcement was published on Monday in La Libre Parole.

The Carthusian's Potion – for there is in the Traiile–
The ingredients: Potion, Pills, and Ointment; it's essential to make them.
for all tastes – previously indicated as where– so much as 5 francs... was increased to 6 francs... and the Trailemeut
The complete package costs 9 francs (including the potion, which costs 6 francs).
and the ointment (3 francs).

The reason for this 1 franc increase was interesting to know.

One of our friends went to the pharmacy on the street
of the Two Bridges and requested a treatment for the Carthusian.

Upon receiving the package, which had just been prepared for him,
He paid 8 francs.

"But it's 9 francs," they pointed out to him.

– What, 9 francs? But I've always paid 8 francs.

– That's right, sir, but we had to increase–
ter this 1 franc treatment since the expulsion of Carthusians; for now we must endure much higher costs to bring these products from Spain, where our good religious men had to take refuge

gier, after the persecutions inflicted upon them by this abopathetic Combes and our odious government of freemasons. i

And to support this spiel, astonishing in its cynicism, since we know that this drug has never ceased to be manufactured on rue des Deux-Ponts in Paris, it was produced at our friend a circular from Dr. François Bemaude – where The devil can perch that peculiar quack! – on:
the cover of which had been added to the stamp
red :

Pursuant to the 1% of July 1908.

The price of the Chartreuse Potion will be 6 francs.

I kept this brochure and it doesn't look out of place, we
As you will agree, the collection of curious documents that I have been able to gather speculations over the past four years on the islands.
filthy traffickers of antisemitism.

.

896 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

Let no one imagine that the "good public" remains incredulous at the "sales pitches" published by the house Drumont and Co, for here is a sample of the correspondence weight accompanying the request to send the drugs
from the Rue des Deux-Ponts,

Paris, January 11, 1903.
Sir,

Please send me, to the address above, sweet bottles of Chartreux balm and a bottle of pastilles.

I would like to recommend that you do a major provision of these excellent medications for the case (unfortunate-probable ceremony) where the Carthusians would come to leave the France.

For God's sake! Don't secularize these remedies, made with so much care and patience from good religious figures.

First, no pharmacy, neither yours nor any other, will would inspire the same confidence in customers.

As for me, I confess that I would give up (to my great (regret) this treatment the day I would know he was no longer coming from the source where it originated.

Please accept my compliments.

| Mrs. LO..

What faith in these remedies, made with such care!
by the good religious, that no pharmacy, not even that Drumont-Devos could not inspire the same confidence!
And above all, do not allow this product to be secularized!
"I don't know if that good and naive M^{me} LO.. has retained her confidence in the Chartreux Treatment, but if she has Indeed, how much Drumont and his Zinfendant must have laughed at this trust.

So I wasn't surprised when I was told that reading correspondence of this kind, Drumont
and Devos were having a blast.

When Devos spoke about it, he never failed to
to burst out laughing and say:

– Hey! That's a good one. We're the Good Ones.

CHE

DRUMONT AND CO. 397

Fathers for the pears who pass on their good gatette,

As advertising is necessary for operations of This type of person, brokers will gladly assign to Monsieur l'Intendant, who receives them more or less well
depending on the weather,

Regularly, on days with good, comforting sunshine,
He responds to their proposal: |

"Why do you want us to f-" he cried.
Advertising lions in weather like this? Rheumatoid arthritis
The naysayers don't complain when the weather is nice. What we It's necessary, it's rain and humidity, so the com-Orders are pouring in.

As far as mercantilism goes, all of this is already quite good.
Isn't that right?

Well, there's something even better,

First, a word about the Treatment itself and about the products that make it up:

Potion, Balm-Ointment and Pill sold 6 + 5 + 3 = 14 francs.

Do we know how much the whole thing costs?

At most 0.80 francs, because there is included in this price for 0 francs, 60 boxes, bottles, labels and bottles chons.

As for the drug itself, Drumont and Devos...
They draw with 0.20 francs, four sous.

This drug is presented as a savam- compound
a carefully measured dose of diuretic and purifying plants which bet their blood.

But this drug, in order to produce a reaction, at i less apparent and transient, in patients, contains two dangerous poisons to spread throughout the human body
Main: I.Colchicum and sodium salicylate.

It results from the absorption of these toxins, according to the Patients who ingest them experience symptoms of illness.

398 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

and weaknesses which often provoked correspondences dances at the pharmacist's shop.

Drumont and Devos had foreseen this eventuality; it was part of
from their speculations and when the sick man wrote:

– I took your Chartreux Treatment, but it has caused a weakening that worries me.

– Rest assured, Drumont and his Steward by their druggist practitioner, it is on the contrary An excellent symptom. This proves that the treatment acted and to remedy your weakness, everything passed-ger; take our Vin des Chabannes, which is an excellent restorative. | The

Because, besides the Chartreux Treatment there is also the Treatment of Chabannes, which also involved different drug rents.

First the Wine, then the Pills, and finally the Powder des Chabannes. ` | enn

The Drumont and Co. firm is, as I said, and as I prove once again, a very well-organized mess.

How do you expect us to have time to think about Antisemitism, while these speculations require So much time and so many different combinations?

Antisemitism is the flag that covers the mar- This is about drugs, blackmail, and so on. false and all possible and imaginable compromises- words which I could not include, due to lack of sufficient space: that a few were exempt.

To conclude this question of the treatment of Chartreuse cheese, I can do no better than to reproduce here the first a spiel devised by Dramont to promote his drug.
| The car: |

The discovery of the treatment of RR. PE. Chartreux, Potion, Balm, is very old; it dates back to the debates of the last century, where was the work and the result of long Meditations of two Benedictine monks from the Trappist monastery of Pavia, Dom François and Dom Augustin.

Dom François, a famous physician and chemist, whose remarks Several works of botany and medicine still adorn

DRUMONT AND CO. 399

the libraries of the faculties of Rome, advocated the first this remedy and, in a book he titled On Conscious Diseases- institutional, he was the precursor of the Depurative Treatment diseases characterized by an excess of uric acid in the blood.

People came on pilgrimage to La Trappe from very far away, and they they could see hanging on the walls surrounding the monastery, crutches, votive offerings that the sick left as souvenirs of their recovery.

Then came the Revolution; the Charterhouse of Pavia was de-stripped of its artistic treasures and its library became It was engulfed in flames. It never reached its destination. that in 1845, a time when several monks of the Charterhouse of People from Grenoble came to repopulate it.

Prior Dom Marie searched the library and it was not that in 1847, the Carthusians found themselves in the middle of numerous medical documents, the detailed formula of the famous balm and the Potion discovered by Dom François.

From all sides, from all corners of France and Italy, People flocked to consult Dom Marie, and it was a concert of blessings that rose from this crowd of rheumatics and gout sufferers miraculously cured by the Treatment of ER. PP. Chartreuz. to Say after that that Drumont does not surpass the most charlatan of the pencil sellers, and Mangin the famous the barker would have fallen in awe of the invention. tion of the RR. PP. Dom François, and Dom Marie. |

In his spiel, Father Augustin seems a bit naive- Neglected, isn't it?

He nevertheless has his part in the work enriching a library that the Revolutionaries burn, but in which, although burned sixty years earlier, that Another role-playing scenario imagined, Dom Marie, still manages to find numerous medical documents and above all... well-making – especially beneficial for Dru-'s pocket mount – a formula that allows you to sell for 14 francs... a drug that costs only 4 cents or 0.80 francs, packaging

Understood.

One last detail to finish.

When the Carthusians prostrated themselves, in the Week
nun of Grenoble, against the abuse made of their name
the deception of which the public was a victim at the same time that the Anti-Jew denounced the shameful trafficking that I have just ex-Having posed the question, Drumont had no choice but to resign himself to suppressing it.
of his announcements the signature Dom Marie, maintained this-hanging on the labels of the bottles and boxes.

But, to give his drug a new patronage,
likely to mislead the sick, Drumont dispatched his Steward at Saint-Laurent-du-Pont to obtain, means-various compensations from the owner of the Pharmacie de ia Grande-Chartreuse, the faculty of embellishing
the announcement of the treatment of the Chartreux de Vindication su-vane which complemented the one previously used.

Previously, the announcements ended like this:

General depot in Paris, Malavant pharmacy, 19 rue des
Two-Bridges. ` ` .

After the protests and the steps taken by the Inter-
dant on lut : |

Drop-off at the pharmacy of the Grande Chartreuse Hospital.
(Saint-Bruno Hospital) in Saint-Laurent-du-Pont (Isère), and at the general depot, etc...

The general depot had been relegated to the back burner and the pharmacy depot in Saint-Laurent-du-Pont (Isère) maintained the illusion that was essential for the patients.

Is it possible to find 'breach of trust, deceit-'
Are fraud, scams, and forgeries more clearly defined?

No, isn't it!

And what should we think of the people to whom our gou-government, which they seem to be fighting against for its abuses, grants the benefit of such prolonged impunity and of Such a peculiar tolerance?

I have finished with this chapter of the Affairs of the Maihis Drumont and Co, of which I could only mention a few examples, which I hope will be conclusive for yourselves.

After the Master, the Jacks.

I

GASTON MÉRY

The latest arrival. – Gaston Méry, a philo-Semite. – A pawn spiteful. – His entry into La Libre Parole. – The “reaction-naire” and the “clerical” Drumont. – A “revised” book. Unfortunate oversights. – Gaston Méry, anticlerical. – The Party National, according to Gaston. – A bad comrade. – Gas-Your Méry versus Boïsandré. – The Lebaudy affair. – A Letter from Boïsandré. – A dirty trick by Méry. – I told him shakes the fleas, – A first correction. – News Proof of Drumont's good faith. – Lépine, protector Gaston Méry's brothers-in-law. – La Libre Parole at Police Prefect's office. – Papillaud defends Combes, Méry serves Lépine. – A marriage. – A quality omitted. Messrs. Faralicq. – The Inside Story of a Re-election. – Gaston Méry, candidate of the Administration, – A visit to Clair-valleys. – Gaston Méry's gratitude. – His thanks-Comments. – Opinions of Drumont and Gaston Méry. – A Drumont's article. – A professor of energy. – Nou-Bel Ami's lies. – In Algiers, – Drumont Sena-Mr. Méry, Deputy! – Surprise and indignation of the Algerians nothing. – Gaston Méry's trading house. – The Advertisements from the Jewish Fischer. – How to exploit his contemporaries. – Tilly's appearances. – Speculations of land and how the idea of a basilica is born. – The Quest Among the Seers. – The “gummy bead-

402 TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

“sions” of a charlatan. – Gaston Méry against Firmin Faure. – The Sucoosion of Syveton. – Against the Admiral re – Gaston and Oscar. – An impos- candidacy possible. l

What other possible title for this final chapter of the Tra- |

proponents of An-Semitism?

I gave the Master the place to which he was entitled;
And I'll conclude by talking about the individuals around him,
and, following his orders, collaborated in the work of deconsecration.
. the destruction of Anti-Semitism. |

Among these individuals, the one who, above all, alters by-Particular attention, it is, obviously, Gaston
Méry. . |

No, because of the value it represents, it is zero;
and all it takes is to puncture this balloon with a sharp point-surely inflated, like the frog in the fable, to
To let the wind out and reduce the character to nothing, that is-that is to say, to its exact truth. > .

I said, in a previous chapter, when speaking of the the creation of Libre Parole, which Gaston Méry was not among his earliest collaborators.

We hadn't noticed it before either,
while the first Anti-Semitic League, which Drumont hastened to bury it, attempting an active agitation that Mores and his friends continued in 1890, 1891 and 1892, at Drumont was greatly displeased.

At that time of the founding of Libre Parole, Gas-

Your Méry was so far removed from antisemitism that he was on the verge, in April 1892, of publishing a volume where Drumont and his "work" were violently attacked
part. |

Gaston Méry was then a very modest pawn in a official school and he languished in a 'very second-daire situation in education, situation of which he does not could get out through his abilities, because he was the only one to had a high opinion, his superiors appreciating their su-bordered as it should be:

AFTER THE MASTER, THE SERVANTS 403

When he learned of the creation of a new newspaper, he
he schemed to get a place there: and, to that end, he made himself as flat and obsequious as necessary.

Approved by Drumont, on recommendations of which he Later, he betrayed the authors and rushed to the publisher.
into which he had just placed his book and he reworked it,

at the last moment, the pages he devoted to Cléri- .
Cali Drumont and his reactionary campaign, conire the Republic and Free Thought, for the benefit of the conservatives members of the Roman Catholic Church.

The idea behind this book was the struggle of the Celles against the Latins; men from the North against the invasion of budgetary situations by the Southerners.

It was the explosion of anger from the bitter and scheming pawn.
against competitors who are more capable or more skilled.

And this struggle between the two elements was presented,
by Gaston Méry, as infinitely more logical than that advocated by the dreadful "clerical" Drumont, who wanted to turn the French against the Jews, for the sole purpose of
_ to start the religious wars again.

This shows how anti-Semitic Gaston Méry was.
era.

The rest of his book was a jumble of incoherent ideas
rents and contradictory, borrowed from all over the place
during conversations or following confidences, including Gaston Méry had used it to write the few hundred dozens of pages from a book that sold eight days later on the docks, among the books at 0.10 francs; and again
He couldn't find any buyers.

But yes, on the eve of joining Libre as an editor Word, Gaston Méry had hastened to remove from his book details the violent attacks against his new boss,
It was impossible for him to remanufacture everything, and traces remained.
stem from his anticlericalism, which at the time served as a re-command in academic circles and of which he expected a "progression" that his value could not procure, 6

404 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

These "corrections" remained incomplete – Gaston Méry not suspecting in 1892 that, ten years later, he would do the making the sign of the Cross in a public meeting to beg for Catholic votes – have allowed some to remain pages like this one which will, I hope, edify the members of the Popular Liberal Action and the League Pairiotic of French women, on Catholic convictions questions of Gaston Méry and his respectful devotion to The Church.

It is his main character whom he makes speak, personage which, in fact, represents the author of the book, Gaston Méry himself. g |

"I accept the omen," said Jean. "I believe, in fact, that the time has come to remove the masks, to speak on behalf of the Church meant securing a powerful ally; but today— Today, antisemitism is strong enough to proudly display its his own cockade, Today, Drumont himself understood it, There are better things to do than fight in the name of the Church which is Latin, as opposed to Freemasonry which is Jewish: that is, to fight both the Jacobins who receive their word of the order of the Grand Orient and the clerics who receive their from the Vatican, in our own name, in the name of the people, of the old people of Gaul. In this way, if we form a party this will not be the party of a caste, it will be the party of all people of the same blood, the true National Party, for so long— dream time (1)! i

In 1892, Gaston Méry removed his mask and he removed also that of Drumont, whose Catholic convictions are worth those of "his dear Gaston".

He has since put that mask back on his face; ef, without He wears it today without scruples, with a confidence that he It is useful to destroy, by showing the cynical social climber who he wrote, in the same book from 1892:

I will have no qualms. Yes, I will break off abruptly— as soon as circumstances make this break indisputable—

(1) Jean Révolte, by Gaston Méry, page 90.

AFTER THE MASTER, THE JACKS 4C5

Thinkable. Afterwards, I'll have regrets, no doubt, I'll... born; but remorse is like I stay, it wears out (1).

For the hero of Gaston Méry — in fact Gaston Méry — to abandon an unfortunate child se—

duite, in order to marry a rich young woman,

So no scruples and to hell with remorse: that wears out.

And, when his maneuvers, near this young girl rich, whom he also managed to seduce, succeed, this exclamation of triumph:

She doesn't love, he said, Pavenir, Pavenir is mine (2).

'Gaston Méry must have uttered the same exclamation on the day where, having succeeded in throwing himself into Drumbnt's arms old friend, to "lock up the old man," as the Mr. Joseph Ménard, a cheerful southerner, finally hoped to hold the position of Secretary General (1) of the editorial staff of the Free Speech and later to become Director this 'journal,' while awaiting the inheritance of the 'old man'.

As you can see, he's a very handsome gentleman!

These passages from Gaston Méry's book are not the only those to cite in order to judge the character.

We know that currently one of the main collaborators—Mr. Léon Dau—det, son of the writer Alphonse Daudet.

It was often pointed out how Mr. Léon Daudet was pou in his place as a contributor to a newspaper where his Father and his family were violently insulted by Dru—mount.

But it seems that Mr. Léon Daudet, whom I have never Seen and not known, has an exquisite soul and may he forgive and readily forgets insults when he can support his Sorry, a regular collaboration was sufficient paid:

(1) Jean Advolte, pugo 208.

(2) Jean Révolte, pago 240.

THIS

He has therefore, most certainly, forgiven Gaston Méry as with Drumont, this page which I still find in the book by his current friend and collaborator:

– Ah, yes, let's talk about your Daudet! A famous character-
"Tère!" exclaimed Revolt, unable to contain herself any longer. A handsome gentleman who..
He only wrote his books with stolen confidences. An Alphonse Letters! Him, an artist, come on! An Ohnet, worse than Oh-clear, a colored Ohnet, an Epinal print, Bi tu mas que Southerners of this flour to oppose us, really you
We're making it too good to be true. Daudet and his three versions Tartarin! Oh, the clown! Oh, the monkey! A man whose Camille de Sainte-Croix was able to write: "Jo will reveal nothing saying that Daudet is unworthy of esteem." Furthermore, I I don't know why I'm going after him so hard, he's not the worst than the others, they are all of equal value in sum (1).

The others: these were the writers from the South whose successors
These things caused the fiei to overflow, including the soul of Gaston Méry is filled, These were, in particular, Moréas, Morice, Charles Maurras, founders of a Roman school (2), for which the future Catholic and anti-Semite was not tender. | 3

Since then, Charles Maurras has become, like many others tres, the dear friend and the valiant writer, were... and, in part-of him and those who belonged to his Roman school, one would no longer write – at least for the moment, because later Gaston Méry, like Drumont, could well still change-to express opinions about them and others –: "Down with the Cicadas!"
the Félibres, the Romans, the Symbolists and all the rest-
blement; onward with the music! | » ` ony

Music is used today by Gaston Méry to acto accompany the songs that are taught to Jews capable-bles de chanter, aux Humbert, aux propriétaires de cercles,
or to devout old ladies, whose purses are emptied
in the pocket of the director of VEcho du Merveilleux.

(1) Jean Révolte, page 110.

(2) Jean Révolte, pages 421 and 122.

We can therefore see how Gaston Méry became Anti-Semitic and Catholic, finding a position as an editor to the Free Speech.

If Drumont hadn't agreed to it, we would have seen the same individual, fiercely anticlerical and an intransigent, provided the union had deemed it appropriate to offer its services,

This is what is called the power of conviction.

This conviction is not actually for Gaston Méry, that one is called upon to rub shoulders with in political circles, than a simple question of situation and price.

Gaston Méry's conduct, since 1892, has remained consistent with the one he had before joining Drumont.

No one was a worse comrade to his collaborators. He was a man of no filth that seemed impossible to commit, when there was a situation to be done and someone to replace.

Méry's objective, from the very first day, was the seizure of the Editorial Secretary.

And, for ten years, he never ceased to commit per countless perfidies against the holders of this situation: MM. Georges Duval, de Boisandré, Albert Monniot and Joseph Ménard,

We know how and by what means he achieved his goal today.

To give an idea of how he acts towards his colleagues, I recalled here an incident which produced at the trial of the master shipowners, during the death of young Max Lebaudy.

During a hearing, Mr. de Boisandré, who had been called as a witness, was accused by two defendants Messrs. Chiarisolo and Cesti, for having received from them a sum of 1,000 francs.

And on the evening of that hearing, at La Libre Parole, where I went to correct an article, I noticed the isolation-

the situation in which the former secretary of the Editorial Staff was being held.
tion.

I learned the reasons for this isolation by reading the sheets of paper at 7 o'clock, and I remembered an event that had produced a few days earlier.

As I arrived at the newspaper office to pick up my cor-: response, at the moment I was quilting the pe- room small editorial office where the lockers for Gas- Your Méry tells me:

– I would like to show you something for the case where I would need your testimony.

And, as I watched him in surprise, he took from the locker de Boisandré, a dog-eared map that the boy had just taken from there deposited on behalf of a visitor.

On this map I read the name Chiarisolo.

That name meant absolutely nothing to me, but Gas-'s tone- Your Méry not being to my liking, I replied to him: ,

– What you are doing amazes me; and as it does not It is not suitable to serve combinations that I do not know. Don't take it or I might understand too much, I'll tell you I completely forgot what you just said. to show me, ct I hope you will avoid insisting.

Gaston Méry took it as a given and did not insist further.

A few days later, during the courtroom incident From the Lebaudy trial, I understood what the pen- Gaston Méry's malicious scheme against his "dear friend" Boisandré.

From the very first moment, I had, moreover, found that the credence given to an accusation made by a Cesti, by some of Boisandré's "friends," including Gaston Méry The most relentless one was strange.

My opinion was immediately shared by most of the the newspaper editors, and the next day nothing could be found. no longer this complacent credulity, when none Evidence was only produced in the cases of Drumont and Gaston.

Méry.

I am speaking about this incident in a completely independent manner.

AFTER THE MASTER, PES VALETS 409

because Mr. de Boisandré, who found me too socialist – co
which offended his conservative convictions as a journalist
"At the particle!" – showed me a certain hostility.

In defending him against Gaston Méry, I had not obeyed than the feeling that arises from the impression caused by a shady job, prepared hypocritically.

Later, at the time of the High Court, Mr. de Boisandré
he expressed his regret for the hostility he had shown me– addressed to me, in a letter of which I reproduce a excerpt here:

22

Paris, November 21, 1899.
My dear Guérin,

I read the first part of your interrogation with a

Do you remember? It was back in the days of the first League; we met from time to time between Cama-Rades...

There were very few of us in those days, and now–
Now, it's all of France that thinks like us. That does not prevent you, moreover, from having fallen into the hands executioners in the pay of the Jews.

I also thought that we had had some slight disagreements.
moments, discussions which, moreover, I am sure, did not left more of a mark on your heart than on mine...

In any case, my dear friend, you know very well that even at times when we disagreed, my affection for has remained entirely intact within you.

I wouldn't have told you that under certain circumstances.
conch shell, but I want to tell you this today.

A good handshake and long live the future and also Pes-management! |

A. Du BOISANDRÉ.

Mr. de Boisandré was right; and, when I compare—Raising myself before the High Court, my heart had forgotten
all the disagreements that may have arisen between soldiers

410 TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

of the same cause and all the little porphyrias of which I—
I could have been the object, like so many others.

What importance could these trivialities have in the great drama that was unfolding, and where the warning and the hope were, for me, the possible penal colony, but the prison itself—Taine?

Since this letter, Mr. de Boisandré is once again
having reverted to his initial hostile attitude, and if I may
My regret is for him, not for me.

The tarantula of candidacy bit Mr. de one day.
Boisandré; he made the sacrifice of his ambition to be elected
what he claimed were his affections; this did not succeeded and constitutes sufficient punishment. I don't give him any more.
I don't want any others.

If Gaston Méry was a bad Comrade for his collaborators of La Libre Parole, he was also a a bad friend to the anti-Semites who fought in Drumont's sides. | -

I had one day to experience his hostility...
among all those whose influence he believed he had to fear;
and, with his usual hypocrisy, he pushed a poor boy, Mr. Cravoisier, to slip into an article one or two spiteful sentences against me (1).

And since Drumont had to intervene — I wasn't still in prison and my free designer was more more useful than ever — and to make a resolution against its of collaborators, it was Gaston Méry who had the audacity to to come and ask me to prevent the dismissal of a friend who had committed an act of bad temper and who had a woman and a child to feed.

At that time I didn't know exactly what role Gaston Méry was involved in this sordid incident. 'I replied that I was quite prepared to forgive him guilty and that I didn't want, for a reason

(+) Since then, Mr. Cravoisier, who had gotten to know Gasjon Méry, made me on several occasions, expressing his regret for the action he had committed against My own assessments of Gaston Méry were as harsh as they were justified.

T EE A)

AFTER THE MASTER, THE SERVANTS

of such little importance, to deprive a man of his situation-tion, and bread for his wife and baby,

But I added:

– I forgive all the more readily because I am – convinced that Cravoisier, who is a nervous and embittered man,
was pushed to become hostile towards me by someone you
you know well.

"But," said Méry, "you don't think so, my dear."
Guérin, that I might have something to do with it.

– I'm not certain, because our conversation took-would take a completely different turn, and it's up to you that I would administer the correction that I cannot even conceive of
to give to an unfortunate boy, tubercular and incapable-able to defend oneself.

And, as Gaston Méry's vanity makes him take Sometimes, due to his imprudent behavior, I had to make him instantly understand that my threat to correcttion was easy to execute.

I grabbed it with one hand by the lapel of his jacket.
I shook him in such a way that he did not insist.

And he was right!

It was, in fact, an adventure of this kind that he owed
the "beginning of correction" that I granted him Nistré on Saturday, February 24, 1906, at the corner of the boulevard des Italians and from Le Peletier Street.

I was determined to wait, to correct Gas-
Your Méry, first the appearance of this book, in order to properly explain my "gesture" and also to have previously ren-Drumont's counter,

After the Master, the Jack.

As fate would have it, that Saturday, at 5:15 a.m.
In the afternoon, Gaston Méry happened to be on my path.

At first, I didn't recognize him. That yellow face, that the long-accumulated bitterness seems to have marked, do not me
He didn't remind me of the person I last saw.
in my cell at Clairvaux, where he came, before the elections

412 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

municipal elections of 1900, requesting my support and that from my friends, in case he agrees to be a candidate.

When I caught sight of Gaston Méry, I had one arm loaded with a very large leather briefcase containing number of papers; and, among other things, a large bundle of proofs of this book,

Following the plan I had set for myself, I wanted
I will simply inform Gaston Méry that, if the
The day of its correction had not yet come, this ren-
"Against 'blank' did not mean that I was giving up on it."

Instantly a crowd had formed, and Gas-
Your Méry had the unfortunate idea of wanting to wear a breastplate-ner, like the day when, in Drumont's office, I-I had to "shake things up" for him.

I immediately gave him a smack which made him change
to conceal; he instinctively caught up with my unfortunate
"-pep", hanging from the arm that held my towel; and, in Bringing the handle of the pip towards me, I brought the Méry's face under my right fist.

So, he dove forward, and his
The ugly face was grabbed under my left arm, at the same time time I started to administer some
"Memories" that were quite painful.

Spectators intervened and took Gaston away from me.
Méry with her hands, separating us from each other.

It was then that I saw the state of my Indian's face—Vidu, a rather pitiful state, for the forehead, the chin, the eye and The noses bore visible imprints of my hand.

I took the opportunity to introduce Gaston Méry to the crowd surrounding us, saying:

— The individual I just corrected is called Gaston Méry, he is a Paris city councillor. He plays the comedy of defending churches while his two brothers-in-law, whom his friend Lépine placed in the police and whose progress he is helping to thank Gaston Méry services that he renders him, mount an assault on the religious buildings under the orders of their Prefect.

I briefly recalled the farce of the arrest of

AFTER THE MASTER, THE SERVANTS 413

Gaston Méry, at the church of Gros-Caillou, operational arrest agreed with Lépine and before his protégé was exposed to committing the slightest offense, to make people believe to the public that he had sincerely protested against the inventaires.

Gaston Méry was very annoyed to see his connections with Prefect Lépine, and he tried to deny stammering:

— Oh! Who would believe that!

And as, in announcing this answer, he made a gesture Doubtful, I gave him two more slaps,

They rushed to take it away from me again, no less! hands, this time, but feet, saying to me:

— Don't beat him anymore, Mr. Guérin, he's had enough already.

enough |

I agreed to this request and left, saying to Gaston Méry:

— This is only a deposit; I will distribute the rest to you later.

The next day, when I should have been expecting something trial for violence, because witnesses, Gaston Méry, did not would send me some, it's much too cautious for to take this risk (1), I read, in La Libre Parole, an article-key, unsigned, in which Gaston Méry recounted that he had gave me a slap, a punch, that he had taken from me
the throat 111... You '

"And what was I doing during all that?" he would have said.
the late Alphonse Allais.

I wasn't upset by this outburst of vanity from my "cor-erected" of the previous day, because it entitled me to a re-vanche since, according to the article in La Libre Parole, I-

Silence the vanquished.
And when I take this revenge, that is to say at the

(4) I will recall that in 4902, at the time when Gaston Méry signed the articles Published against me, I sent him witnesses. He prudently backed out.
fearing the consequences of an encounter that would have left him with memories troublesome.

CS ARE

444 THE TRAFFICKERS ON ANTISEMITISM

On the next occasion, Mr. Gaston Méry will no longer be able to say naively, like on February 24th:
– It's an ambush, you're abusing your power!

Hadn't he taken advantage of my exile?

One at a time, isn't that right? Mine is finally I've come, and I intend to take advantage of it tomorrow and as often as I will find Gaston Méry's face under my hand and his
the seat of my pants under my boot.

To have further proof of the bad faith of Drumont, I sent him the following letter, correcting the note published in his diary.

Paris, February 25, 1906.

Mr. Manager of Libre Parole,

I am sending you the following correction to an article that was published in today's issue, February 25, 1906:

Mr. Edouard Drumont,
Director of La Libre Parole,

You publish without a signature, which doesn't surprise me.
a whimsical note, which surprises me even less, from the incident that occurred yesterday, by chance, between me and Your friend Gaston Méry.

You take the precaution of not naming me, in

Hope of escaping the obligation to insert a correction
that you have foreseen; but, as you say, I am sufficiently targeted by slander and defamation that you formulate against me, slander and defamation for which Libre Parole has already been condemned, for me to unquestionably give the right of reply. f

I am therefore using this opportunity to correct your article:

Your friend Méry may have intended to respond with attacks on justified observations, but the intention is not to be known for this fact in such matters.

He never grabbed me by the throat or made me back down,
not for a reason.

As for the marks he bears on his face, which make him

AFTER THE MASTER, THE SERVANTS 41i
your distinguished colleague, a character easily distinguished-tinguable, for a few days at least, my hand & suf
to produce them and your "classic" cotton- instrument
dant is an argument of circumstance.

Regarding my modest problem, which your friend did indeed seek,
I doubt he'll ever seize it to strike me.
in the magnificent museum of your glorious trophies, for it is
At home, resting in my umbrella stand.

He bears no Belgian markings, having been born in Paris, or so he will continue to protect me, not against the valor (1!) of

Mr. Gaston Méry, but against the March showers, infinitely more formidable for my hat, which remained in place on my head' during the incident. : |

I can't say the same about the headgear of your "terrible" Editorial Secretary.

I am neglecting to mention the "historical words" that you Lend it to Mr. Méry; it matters so little!

And I will refrain from repeating those infinitely more significant ones. the fictitious messages I addressed to him, to the joy of those present, for I I don't want to give you any pretext for refusing to include me. that you would seize with eagerness.

I request the insertion of this correction, in accordance with to the law.

And, while waiting for the opportunity to speak with you about questions that you raised during my exile, I He greets you appropriately.

i Jules Guéérin. |

As I had predicted, Drumont hastened not to not to publish this correction, so as not to cause confusion. to reveal to his readers the truth about the incident.

I could have sent him my letter via the bailiff's office. to order and to demand, in accordance with the law, its publication. It was a new trial, costs, and the risk of to see, as in 1902, the magistrates disregard my Right, in order. 3

I gave it up, in order to save both my purse and outlawed, too poor to pay such high fees justice, the meager satisfaction of seeing my prose again in the Free Speech; and also my employable time

416 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

more usefully than spending entire afternoons at the 9th Chamber, to wait for my case to be heard.

Gaston Méry dared to deny having placed his parents in the police, thanks to the benevolence of Prefect Lépine.

Here is the proof of my claims.

On February 11, 1904, La Libre Parole published, in pre-first page and under the title Marriage of Mrs. Renée Méry, an account of the ceremony which had taken place two days earlier, on February 9th, at the town hall of the 9th arrondissement-ceremony and at the Church of Our Lady of Lorette.

Here are two excerpts from this article:

Yesterday, at noon, a celebration was held in the church of Notre-Dame-de-Lorette, the wedding of Mie Renée Méry, sister of our friend and valiant collaborator Gaston Méry, with Mr. René Faralicq, Doctor of Law... – a Guests and friends then moved into the sacristy where the The newlyweds, surrounded by their witnesses: Mr. Gaston Méry and Léon Méry, uncle of the bride, Bruand, curator honorary from the Water and Forestry Department, and F., Faralicq received the compliments and wishes for happiness.

However, at the time when Mr. René-Eugène-Alexandre Faralicq He was engaged to Ms. Renée Méry, he was unemployed as if without fortune, which is a serious drawback for a young couple where the wife is on her side without to have.

– It was therefore necessary to find, at least, a situation in the future-tur. – i ;

For Vela, Gaston Méry naturally turned to his new friend Lépine, to whom he had already paid some services, in particular, at the time when Lépine was in conflict ` with his minister Combes and the latter's son, Edgar.

Gaston Méry agreed with Drumont, who liked Enough of this kind of double-dealing policy, the Zibre A word in support of the threatened Prefect.

Lépine was so threatened at that time that he was

AFTER THE MASTER, THE SERVANTS 417

even replaced by Vel-Durand and that the appointment of This was about to appear in L'Officiel, when Lépine, thanks to Loubet – Loubet the Shameful, by Gaston Méry!! – of a On one side and on the other, Gaston Méry, managed to stay in the game.

He succeeded by threatening Combes, father and son, to do to publish in La Libre Parole a whole series of documents on the role of Edgar Combes in the affairs of circles, matters that Drumont's newspaper had already reported in several issues, based on the information provided to Gaston Méry by Lépine,

What further complicates this story of the conflict between Combes and Lépine, that's at the same time as Gaslon Méry was serving Lépine against Combes, his collaborator. Papillaud, always in agreement with Drumont – the politician became partly triple – was going to testify – gner, at the courthouse in favor of his dear Edgar Combes, his friend of twenty years, in the Million case of the Carthusians, where Papillaud played a role which I will discuss later – in the part of this chapter that I will devote to this individual.

But let's get back to Mr. René-Eugène-Alexandre Faralicq, thanks to his brother-in-law, he became the city councillor nationalist, civil servant at the Prefecture of: Police as secretary to the Police Commissioner of Vanves.

He therefore held this position at the time of his marriage; and so as not to reveal this interesting detail to readers of La Libre Parole, who would not have missed To protest, the young groom was given the only quality of: Doctor of Law. While we were indicating complaisantly the titles of one of the witnesses: conservative Water and Forestry Department!

Yet, this was the moment to add to the title of doctor In law: Secretary to the police commissioner of Vanves.

When this was told to my brother, and when he told me about it I learned the news in exile; I couldn't believe it. "It must be a misunderstanding," I told him, "because I cannot still believe that Drumont and his acolytes push-. The cynicism is palpable.

18 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

The evening of my brother's departure, who had come to spend the Sunday with me in Belgium, I took advantage of what a one of my neighbors had the phone line to Paris for him ask to be allowed to telephone the police station of Vanves police, whose number I had found in the In-French telephone directory.

Having been put in contact with the Paris network, I demanded:

– Hello, 709.37.

– It's here, sir.

– I am in good communication with the Commissioner-Vanves police station?

– Yes, sir

– I would like to speak to the Secretary of the Commissioner-sare. | 0:

– It's me, sir.

– That's right. I have the advantage of having Mr. René Faralicq speak. i

– Yes, sir.

– You are indeed Mr. Gaston Méry's brother-in-law,

– It's me.

– Thank you, sir, that's all I
I wanted to know, – – es

And I hung up the receiver, quite convinced that
The information provided by my brother was correct.

I searched in the Municipal Bulletin, which publishes the changes in staff at our two administrative offices
tions: Prefecture of the Seine and Prefecture of Police, and,
not only did I find confirmation of what I
I had just learned, but I saw that another Mr. Faralicq, Gaston-Eugène-Elie, Brother We Roné-Eugène-Alexandre
He, too, was an official of Lépine.

Its progress was even particularly rapid,
because I find in 1904, on May 25 (1), already an inspector

(4) Official Municipal Bulletin of W mal 4904.

AFTER THE MASTER, THE SERVANTS 419

principal of the peacekeepers and promoted that day to official-

Peace Council of the 2nd arrondissement.

He is currently a peace officer in the 10th arrondissement, and if I had again Fort Chabrol, and that a demonstration is taking place there—duisft, it is Mr. Gaston Méry's brother-in-law who arrests—would target the anti-Jewish demonstrators, and myself, if necessary.

We can see how the opposition can be directed by Drumonts and Gaston Mérys who are playing double games game and affect, at the same time, the subscriptions that Catholics—the liques still have the naivety to send them, during that the government and its officials dispense to them feels the favor of power, for them and their parents and friends.

The kindness of Lépine and that of the Prefect of Selves did not limit themselves to securing positions and advancement quick to Messrs. Faralicq brothers, brothers-in-law of Mr. Gaston Méry. |

In 1904, the question of re-election arose for Gaston Méry,

He had schemed as best he could to avoid having to... currents, or at least be fought only by a competitor easy to defeat, The |

He was shown the gratitude due for his services. by pushing complacency to the extreme.

And, in the neighborhood he represents, where is the As the seat of the Great East, he benefited from the true advantage—It's extraordinary not to even have a competitor for most of the election period.

Lépine had given the order to his staff administrative staff and their agents to vote for Gaston Méry.

He owed her that much for helping him keep his Prefect of Police Square,

But, as this lack of competition began to cause a stir in political circles, where people are astonished born of such an abnormal event, we resigned ourselves to arousing, Eight days before the election, a candidacy from the constituency... tance, which could not prevent: Gaston Méry from being elected to first round, thanks to the support of the administration and the "complacency of the Freemasons."

This maneuver fooled few in the circles "well informed"; ct, to mislead, save
On the front, La Libre Parole announced an arrest of Gaston Méry on government maneuvers at during the election period, .

That was the height of audacity!

But Drumont and Méry remain convinced that they will to "swallow" all imaginable "blunders" to their con-faithful readers...

Therefore, they do not hold back, on the contrary.

On several occasions, discussions took place at the Con-municipal council, during which Prefect Lépine was implicated.

Gaston Méry, anxious to give the impression of his independence dance, took part; but at a mere frown of
With Lépine's eyebrows, he became as wise as an image and we read in the minutes of the Council meetings sentences like this:

My intention is not to ask the Council for a biâme for the Prefect of Police.

Good heavens!

These apologies to Prefect Lépine are confirmed by articles from La Libre Parole, published in the form of inter-views in which Méry was referred to as: our distinguished ford collaborator and friend Gaston Méry, the valiant – oh! how many – municipal councilor of the Faubourg Monimar-tre, declares (1):

Gaston Méry, questioned about the Apaches who were encumbering They roam the Parisian streets and pickpocket passersby.
– at their ease, which is indisputable proof of the high vigilance and capabilities of the Prefect of Police, he affirmed:

(4) Libre Parole of August 2, 1905.

To be able to judge that the police are doing everything possible to keep the pimps and girls away from the boulevard, The Responsibilities lie elsewhere than at the Police Prefecture.

A contrary opinion from Gaston Méry would have been imprudent. tooth, and Lépine would have hastened to remind him that this was not meant to be...garlanded by the Free Parole – as in earlier times – that he had given positions and privileges for Gaston Méry's brothers-in-law and voted for it in 1904.

Prefect Lépine, who is nervous and often, it seems, moments of impatience, it wasn't always so kind towards Drumont's "pen-holder".

And one day, Gaston Méry, with his unconsciousness customarily, they were discussing in the library room of the City council, regarding the articles published against me in La Libre Parole, with national advisors-lists, he suddenly drew this reply from Lépine, impatient with the arrogance of his protégé.

– But be quiet, Méry, you know that what You told us about "Fort Chabrol" and the Le- affair Proust was ridiculous, and you didn't say a word. of truth.

Gaston Méry turned on his heel without daring to reply, and The onlookers of the incident looked at each other and smiled; the attitude of the two friends so suddenly in disagreement was curious to observe.

Gaston Méry had just experienced violence. sudden reactions from his friend, and his demeanor was rather pitiful.

He looked like the schoolboy whom the teacher has just allowed to follow a blow with a rod. AN.

One of the witnesses to this scene was the Countess. of Martel, our valiant Gyp, who, one day, was able to appreciate, in a very particular way, the processes of Drumont.

In September 1899, Gyp contributed to La Libre Parole

Asè THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

who published on Sunday an article by Mr. la Com-Mattel's wife.

In the aftermath of the September 23rd demonstration

the same year, described as the Triumph of the Republic, Gyp wrote an article about this very edifying ceremony.

The article was not included in the issue of the

On Sunday morning, Gyp believed it was an accident and was preparing to inquire about this, when Gaston Méry gave him a visité aũ cours de l'après-midi de cé même dimanche.

11 came to explain why the article had not been in-Serving.

Drumont sends me to speak to you about your article on this morning; he couldn't have passed, because you alluded to it to Mrs. Waldeck-Rousseau. We cannot be dis-graablés to M Waldeck-Rousseau; for it is to her that we must that Guérin and his companions from Fort Chabrol were not shot and blown up during the seat.

So, what became of the fable of my organized resistance? agreed with the Waldeck ministry, as recounted in 40 articles keys to Free Speech, since it was Mr. Waldéolt-Rotsseau, thus Drumont affiliated with M^{me} Jà Cointesse de Mat-such a person, who, at the behest of requests I am not yet aware of, had prevented our massacre by dynamite and gunfire.

Isn't this yet another indisputable prelude to the Bad faith of Drumont and Güstoñ Méry?

To counter their idiotic calumnies, Drumont and Méry also said, "I hadn't left Clairvaux yet." potr go into exile joined MM. de.Lutr-Salucés, Déroutède, Marcel Habert and Buffet, gif'après dhe nouvelle en- . The gap between Waldeck and me.

This is what we were reading in May and June Words:

Later, in 1903, following press articles governmental, highlighting the perfidious way in which Drumont was talking about amnesty in his newspaper, for

1902 in the Zibre

AFTER THE MASTER, THE SERVANTS 493

to prevent it from being voted on, the Director of La Libre Parole protested against the attitude attributed to him,

And he had Papillaud write, this time, that, far to act against the Amnesty to delay my return to In France, he had proven the excellence of his feelings to... in my regard, by multiplying my efforts to obtain my Sorlie de Clairvaux ef ma liberté en exil (1).

I had therefore not negotiated, as Drumont Pavé had done: writing in 190%, this relative liberation, which he attributed to himself in 1903, all the honor,

I replied to the Papillaud-Drumont article with this one, which was published on January 14, 1903, in the Tribune fran-Caise:

Drumont's lies.

To apologize for his latest act of filth, committed as still speaking by proxy, Drumont claims that it is, thanks It was through his efforts that Waldeck opened the doors of Clair-PAUL.

Mr. Drumont has already forgotten the articles he had signed by his supplier Gaston Méry and in which he qualified me Assistant to the Minister, stating that my prison was not converted into exile only as a result of an agreement between Waldeck and me.

This contradiction will surprise no one, because the lie has drawbacks, e.g., after having lied once, Mr. Dru-
Mount must continue.

However, I don't feel comfortable letting him do it, without to rub his nose in his garbage, | r

(4) I reproduce here the extract from the article commissioned from Papillaud by Drumont in response to a Radical article on Amnesty, `

La Libre Parole of January 48, 1903,

Didn't they (the editors of Radical) know what everyone else
Didn't they know in Paris, I say, that it was thanks to Edouard's efforts?
Drumont, the only lawyer from the High Court sentenced to prison, had seen to open the gates of Clairvaux.

For six years, Edouard Drumont on one side, and I on the other, have begged friends and staff of Mr. Wäideok-Roussoau to put an end to the detention of this convict, PAPILLAUD.

494 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

I will not do Drumont and Méry the honor of exato further undermine the calumnies they have allowed themselves to publish.

I will limit myself to reproducing here two articles, one by Druone from Mont and the other from Méry, and a telegram and a letter from the latter, a dispatch and a letter which he had the audacity to deny.

In response to this new lie, the Anti-Jew published the photographic images of this letter and this de-fishing. f

Here, first of all, is Drumont's article, published in La Libre Words spoken on August 29, 1892, four months after the appearance of its first issue.

He demonstrates how much Drumont, even at that time, con-
My fight against the powerful speculators was born.

"Our era..."

This article, of which I am only giving excerpts, appeared on the eve of the trial relating to the Morès-Mayer Duel and because that the Judeo-Masonic press demanded, in particular
A conviction against me, an exceptional sentence.

What I'm a little apprehensive about, wrote Drumont, is the Guérin's fiery temperament.

Guérin, according to the treacherous notes I see circulating in some newspapers, it seems, have been recommended to preach
of the Synagogue, and we will probably try to put it outside of himself in order to get him inside...

This particular animosity #explains to some extent of sight.

More than any of us, perhaps, Guérin represents the French worker, crushed and ruined by the Jewish trade unions. A junior employee at 16, in a large refining company of Petroleum, head of accounting at 19, head of office and staff at 21, director of the house at 25, he has lived constantly with the workers. He knows them better than no one knows the appalling levies carried out by the mono-Jewish polemicists at the expense of the small consumer. He tried to free trade from these monstrous tributes and was broken in the struggle.

We could write an incredibly moving novel about the struggle of A small man, alone, having no weapons other than Vintelligenes,

"

AFTER THE MASTER, THE SERVANTS 425

activity and will, against all social forces, put at the service of the manipulative and possessive Youth.

This valiant man, hardened for resistance, was not discovered for a minute. After having handled sums enormous, he lived off his physical strength; he worked like a man of hardship, he trafficked with his brother in a small handcart, in which he would go to fetch old rags-fons.

We understand the influence that he exerts among the workers this good-natured giant, always in a good mood, who undoubtedly, terrible hatreds in his heart, but who knows when his time will come? will come and is content to go, from time to time, to look Right in front of them were the great Jewish barons with gentle smiles. which does not reassure them...

Come on, it's settled, my dear Guérin, I'm counting on You... Save your fiery temperament for later. their opportunities, because you know very well that everything that one The machine against us is futile, and we will have our day. Don't cause your friends grief by lending yourself to the game of our enemies, who would be delighted to consigned to two years in prison for insulting the magistrate killed. Be respectful to the president, deferential to Pavo-general cat, amiable with the clerk and affable with the municipal. -`

Léo Taxil will apparently come to declare that you have chosen precisely the moment when he was there to make remarks Awful. Don't deny anything and answer politely.

To the President: "Perfectly, Mr. President, this
The account must be as accurate as the Secret Loves of Pius IX.
You know that this old man, finding the reliquaries too cold-
the beautiful things that the convents of Italy were offering him, he was becoming ame-to find more lascivious girls through a Jewish woman named Zora.
Mr. Léo Taxil stated it, and certainly it must be true.
In any case, if that's not true, it's an honor for me.
to be slandered as was this Holy Priest charged with an-
born, including free thinkers like myself and opponents
Even the most determined members of the Papacy have never spoken only with the respect due to old age.

Ten years later, almost to the day, Drumont resumed, in order to complete it, the work of Léo Taxil against the Good Giant.

426 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

After Drumont, I quote from Méry of 1901.

Here is what Bel Ami de la Libre wrote about me
Words at the hour when I could be of use to him for the sa-satisfaction of his electoral ambitions (1): .

An energy professor.

The word of professor of energy that Maurice Barrès w mis fashionable, has hardly any meaning in our time except in retrospective sense.
At present, I see only one man to whom he can respond.
to apply: Jules Guérin.

The energy professor is not exactly a homosexual.
Beyond action, there is something more. What distinguishes man Action is about a taste for risk and decisiveness. But Phomme Action is a bit like the artist; there are days when even years, as Murger said, where he wasn't in the process. This What characterizes the energy professor, on the contrary, is the continuity in effort, absence of lapses in will.

There is yet another difference between them. According to Padage
In Latin, one is born a poet, but one becomes an orator.

Similarly, one might say, one is born a man of action, but one becomes a man of energy.

The need to act is a gift; you either have it or you don't. The energy
It is acquired. It is a wealth that one accumulates little by little.

It is saving and channeling the will. It is the vodedicated to the service, not of passion, but of intelligence and of reason.

Understood in this way, Maurice Barrès' expression adjusts to
It was a marvel to the character and life of Jules Guérin. It would have could have been created for him and him alone, in those years when events should have brought forth so many men, and where they have revealed so little.

All the actions of Jules Guérin, those of his private life as
The details of his public life show how much, even before he Having reached manhood, he knew how to discipline the forces of his
To be. Like a general who knows how to exploit the slightest fold of the terrain, of the slightest circumstance of place or time, who wastes none of his ammunition and uses all of his men by placing them all in the position that suits them, Jules

(1) Le Turco of May 11, 1901.

AFTER THE MASTER, THE SERVANTS 497

Guérin, who put into practice the Gnôéti Seauton of Socrates and he who knows himself admirably, loses nothing, when he
He has chosen a goal, and the resources that his luck offers him.
chance, the conditions in which he finds himself, and his per-Sonnolles. It's a saver.

But he is not just an organizer in the sense ordinary in the term, a man who knows how to arrange things and
To command beings is to act as an organizer of oneself. And He is so well-endowed that this energy—which he has strengthened through Pen-training, as through training he strengthened his muscles keys – never harmed, in him, the qualities of the heart. Energy,
At Jules Guérin's, sensitivity wasn't killed, it's going to balance.
brée. Jules Guérin is an energy professor who would be, in
At the same time, a professor of generosity.

And it is, without a doubt, because from these two points of view he

. was superior to them, superior by thousands of caudées, as a mountain is superior to a molehill, that the deprithose without vigor and without spirit who hold power, have concentrated against Jules Guérin all their hatred and all their cowardice. If they believed that persecution could bring him back to their
They made a mistake regarding size.

They wanted to beat him, they made him bigger, Those who do not know Guérin lPaiment was not born today, and those who

They already loved it, they admired it.

In a time when people no longer believed in heroism, the monstrous true injustice of the imprisonment of Jules Guérin and the courageous serenity, which JL supports, will have had, at least, as a result of making us realize once we had lost.

t

Gaston Méry.

As we can see, it was still different from Articles signed Gaston Méry, one year later.
`But that's not all.

Here is the telegram and the letter that Gaston Méry sent me—knows in Clairvaux to thank me for the competition that the Grand Occident had contributed to his election as Councillor municipal council of the Faubourg–Montmarire district.

For the news report, I'm providing the text, because the photo is from dimensions too large for the shape of the books

428 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

Jules Guérin, Political Prisoner.
Clairvaux (Aube).

PARIS No. 32768 – Words 32 – Departure on May 9, 1900 –

11:06 AM.

Thank you to the Grand Occident de France Competition for helping me—

to rout the Dreyfusards and the fake French.
Yours sincerely, |
Gaston Mégy:

Although this dispatch was published in L'Antijuif

In 1900, Gaston Méry denied it in 1902.
I replied by reproducing the photograph of cetto piece and also publishing the photograph of his letter of May 21, 1900. E

Today I am reproducing photographed excerpts and snapshots of this edifying correspondence: ;

(See the photo on page 429)

I don't know if Mr. Gaston Méry will have Yau- again dace of denying his signature. All that would remain for him then would be to me prosecute for forgery and use of forged documents; and... I'll do it.

challenge! : - _ .

To complete the moral portrait of this worthy collaborator-

Drumont's author, what more can be said without giving this volume an area that is too large?

From an anti-Jewish point of view, yet another example of his conviction and selflessness.

Gaston Méry readily transformed himself, and the most su-Possible wind, as an advertising broker to earn what-that under and increase his salary, as well as the
the commissions that Drumont and Devos allocated to him
on blackmail followed by results.

La Libre Parole of January 18, 1899 published, in its Echoes, the following small advertisement: : mo

The characteristics of: style ¢

It is very unfortunate to note that, in order to express a

C2

AFTER LB MASTER, THE SERVANTS 429

same thought, two people never use terms identical. We made this observation while leafing through the countless flattering testimonials that have occurred at subject of a new discovery. Judge the episto- variety

Len, € id Aloel t, Érn'h'eA la Paper a ha tar pbi huta, Coub Co hanbloo, arauk. bottom .
€

Murya Aaa litenn onur ponti aa ng EA

' THE. Cersa pn Y tiat in background LA Yeaman ia
ned Jok au om. br fre ass
E a. Bas euen, an funk Gua an CEAS aA Jo wd b, duy nën j'en

a G plin ocelo n

no fn, seu Greg 6th, À fat as Re h

Guma leads A Du runs. of plu
i | The mous pa a
ru fa lrtg un j~ val f |

pe 5 mwali D'a clan (Re cr
fou port o Ch van G, tungaroa 46 pr
quan ie l'an ho ha Aarm. :

r A el ga E AAE

Ven unh ows Manm roba pays, ar
boum io am boum 4 frire act is

| te 9

-reading excerpts from letters, coming from all points of view

your

where

4 Maun

France, which at our request are available to the public,
19, avenue de Opéra, ne

"Your isometric lenses have considerably improved my eyesight..." – Aves
Many thanks, justified by several hours of reading without fatigue... – "Your
"These glasses are excellent in every way; they defy all comparison..."
Your prescription lenses are wonderfully clear and I trust them.

430 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

"Very satisfied..." – I am wearing your Varres isametraps while writing to you, the
The vision is extraordinarily clear, although the day is very dark...

"Your glasses respond to every co you announce, they increase P diania
"of vision and do not tire the eyes..." – "I am delighted with the Isonié- lenses Tropes, I fly three or four times better than before, and I work for a long time without fatigue.

Let's admit that Mr. Average has even more imagination than the most distinguished advertiser.

This style was all the more curious because it was the one
by Gaston Méry, and that the lorgnette merchant whose
He was promoting the products; he was a Jew named Fischer qmi paid a fairly substantial sum for this advertisement.

Down with the Jews! Isn't that right, Mr. Gaston Méry!

But, long live the good Jew Fischer who gives the good and productive announcement!

As a private act of shame, I revealed Gaston's true worth.
Méry, teaming up with an old friend to enlist Dru-
"Mont," as the cheerful Mr. Joseph Ménard used to say.

-This operation by Gaston Méry, eyeing the legacy of
"Dear master," one day gave rise to a particular eventodious.

Gaston Méry's "partner" felt the need to acc-
to accompany Matire on one of his trips to Algeria, and it was not difficult for him to get his project approved by Drumont.

But how can the pre-
his presence alongside Drumont, a long-time widower, of a lady as cumbersome as the already old friend of Gaston Méry.

He had no trouble finding a combination as desired.

Since 1898, he had cherished the idea of seeing Drumont appointed Senator for Algiers and: to run for replacement to the House.

'Accompanying Drumont to Algeria, too, served given his still hidden ambitions and authorized him to: ome

49i

to bring with him Mrs. Méry, whose presence made it possible to present the associate as a friend of the wife time.

You have to be named Gaston Méry to impose on a woman worthy of all respect in such a role.

The Algerians, who have eyes to see and ears to hear, they were quick to define the situation of Not associated in the Méry-Drumont combination; and, in this large village that is Algiers, where everyone knows everyone, the comments went on as usual.

To the point that I had to answer numerous letters, of which I have kept some, restoring the ver- dignity and by defending Ms. Méry against the unfounded assumptions obliging that his presence, intended to explain that from her husband's business partner, had given birth.

Many Algerians never forgave Drumont and Gaston Méry, their conduct towards Mr. Méry in this circumstance, and this was yet another reason for failure de Drumont in 1902.

AFTER THE MASTER, THE SERVANTS

To conclude this chapter dedicated to Gaston Méry, I cannot avoid speaking of the ill- speculations specific practices to which he devotes himself, exploiting credulity of so many good people, too naive and too credulous, with his stories of Marvels that he has organized for a long time early, ten years old.

Tilly's appearances, which apparently encounter... The core of the convinced, were, for Gaston Méry, a source of profits that he regretted seeing limited, to the following the protests of Mer Amette, Bishop of Bayeux.

Gaston Méry became furious with this prelate.

Just think, he had already produced visions of two hallucinating: Marie Martel and the little Polinière, unc great cathedral, which he published in his rag-Rhythmic, the plans, getting bigger with each issue.

The author of these plans was none other than Mr. Binet, architect of the monumental gate of the 1900 Exposition,

, has

432 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

and the opposition that Gaston Méry encountered from the honorable Bishop of Bayeux thwarted all calculations already made for land speculation and the construction of a monumentale basilica, all susceptible to Ponnes bedides commissions for the interesting Gaston Méry.

He made up for it with the old, devout women, whom he turned-neboule la cervênze avec ses histoires de fantômes et de haunted houses.

For these fantastical appearances, Gaston Méry... sura the ventriloquist competition where the performers played the role of talking and knocking spirits, so that one day, then that he was vacationing in Seine-et-Marne, he was in turn victim of a well-organized hoax.

A local ventriloquist, ML...., pretended to lend himself to the combinations of Gaston Méry; and, at the moment when He was preparing, as usual, to rob the cash register. ML.. and his neighbors unveiled the fruit, and it was not throughout the country, there was nothing but a huge burst of laughter. B

Gaston Méry was so contrite that he left the country and gave up on returning there for a holiday the following year-sells.

This Gaston Méry adventure is just as good as the one that has just happened to the 'inventors of apparitions in Algiers,' including The newspapers have spoken, and the secret has just been sold. by the servant who played the ghost.

But enough about this sad character, and let's leave Gaston.

Méry is busy with his political and charlatan activities.

He is the worthy servant of a master such as Drumont, whose
He is so eagerly anticipating the inheritance.

In the meantime, he continues to collect as much money as he can obtain extra-lucid vowels that he casts and who must pay him the specified percentage of their re-these, under penalty of having their lucidity challenged ct qua-severely lifieo in Gaston Méry's special newspaper.

This chapter ended there, when I learned, through the

AFTER THE MASTER, THE SERVANTS 133

Libre Parole, that Gaston Méry was putting forward his candidacy to Levallois-Clichy for the next legislative elections
tives.:

I cannot believe that the patronage of the Committees of Liberal action and the French Fatherland may be granted to Gaston Méry.

For the Catholics of Liberal Action, my demonstration must be sufficient with regard to the specupolitical statements of the former anti-clerical spy of 1892; the
the same individual who today plays the part of a ca-Convinced Catholicism to "swindle" money and the votes of sincere Catholics.

For the French Fatherland, which is currently presided over Beloved Admiral, I will confine myself to reproducing a net,
dictated to a journalist of unlimited acquiescence,
Mr. Oscar Havard, by Gaston Méry, and who passed away at the end from a letter from Paris in the Nouvelliste de Bordeaux, December 24, 1904, the day after Syveton's death.

i.

Oscar wrote, "The candidacy of our excellent-slow colleague, Mr. Gaston Méry, of La Libre Parole.

Admiral Bienaimé having accepted the patronage of the Radi-
To the dissident socialists, it is natural that the Nationalists are looking for another candidate. Mr. Gaston Méry will give as the champion of PAntisemitism and will plead the thesis
Regarding the assassination of Syveton: Good luck to our colleague.

Oscar Havas.

Admiral Bienaimé was, in the interest of the can-
. Dictatorship Méry, the sellout to the Radicals, and the good candidate, Oscar asserted, it must have been Gaston.

This treacherous note did not give the Nationalists Secondly, the idea of reserving Syveton's place for Gaston Méry, he was unable to continue his little ma-
work,

I was very amused when I read the name of the author of this Note from the Nouvelliste, because I remembered that at the time when
Mr. Oscar Havard wrote in the Libre Parole des arti-

D

Ag THE TRAFFICKERS DR ANTISEMITISM

With keys signed by Gallus, Gaston Méry never failed to
to seize the proofs of this editor's articles in-
They procrastinate, to read it aloud, with comments for charitable people.

And he regularly added:

– How can Drumont accept such nonsense?
This is insane. Tomorrow we'll receive even more unsubscribes.
comments.

Poor Gallus! Poor Oscar!

Unable to take Syveton's place, Gaston Méry
who has long aspired to a legislative seat,

solicits voters from Levallois-Clichy.
© I hope that they will refer it to others, because it
It would be unacceptable for such a person, today
Having been exposed, he may once again deceive a college electoral.

If the voters of Levallois and Clichy have had enough of Firmin Faure, which doesn't surprise me at all, on the contrary, whether they are looking for a candidate from among themselves or from the islands men of conviction and energy who can re-

to present themselves worthily and usefully, but let them keep

Gaston Méry was like the plague.

My duty was to inform the directors of the Action Liberal and of the French homeland, of my intention to to combat any candidacy of Gaston Méry, wherever it happen. - |

I have fulfilled this duty and I will continue to serve

all citizens who could be solicited by the most vile of the three Valets of Drumont.

I am not exaggerating when I call an individual "vile"

Gaston Méry's species.

This description suits him perfectly, because he is the

The only journalist! Able to accept certain tasks deemed too repugnant by everyone.

Thus, at the time of Syveton's disappearance, in the

the scandal that ensued, when it came to "letters"

DR HETE A

AFTER THE MASTER, THE SERVANTS 435

written by Syveton's stepdaughter to her concierge," no

A writer worthy of the name did not consent to take the initial-

It's tempting to publish this garbage.

Yet copies of these letters circulated everywhere newsrooms; but he was repelled by men of the heart to bring them into the realm of information public.

It was Gaston Méry again who became, by way of profits, rest assured, the collaborator of a donation Juan du Cordon, to deliver these letters from a deranged woman to public curiosity.

A fact like that would be enough to gauge the mentality and the morality of the individual, if so many others were not there join,

He

THE BIG DEVOS

A nephew from the provinces. – An Administrator according to Drumont.
– A comedy show. – Staff protest.

Manager and Administrator. – The family of Mr. V'Adminis-tratour. – "Auguste!" – An incident. – Against Mr. Al-Bert Monniot. – Mougeot "taboo". – A company hiring. – "Always the same old Drumont and Co. fight."

A serious matter. – The decoration merchants. – One
Mr. Henri Rochefort's project. – It fails! – A mystery!
2 Everything is being revealed! – Messrs. Firmin Faure and Devos. –
The consequences of an indiscretion. – A new betrayal.
The Intendant's letter. – Messrs. Gérault-Richard and Devos. –
"Business is business." – A Council meeting
Interested parties. – Devos is a thief! – Drumont gets angry.
Second session, – Revolver in hand! – A note
From Gil Blas. – Devos-Arton. – To the Fourth Chamber.
– Informative debates. – An unworthy witness. – Lami do Devos. – More forgeries. – An investigation. – Gaston Méry and Devos. – An article from Le Cri de Paris. – La Litrairie anti-Semitic. – The Subscriptions – The Statue of Mores.
– Where is Fargent? – Henry's subscription. – A Con-
Free Speech course. – We're finally paying. – New Sub-Description. – Against Antijuiÿÿ. – Ménard and Devos. –
Against the French Tribune. – My visit to Ménard. – Lawyer defaming his client. – Two burglars.
cautious. – Anonymous letters. – Messrs. Vervoort and Devos.
– A pinoé spy, – The Free Casserole, .

After Gaston Méry, I'm going to talk about the fat Devos, the one that Drumont described the 7th intendant as anti-Semitism and

AFTER THE MASTER, THE SERVANTS 437

of which he has repeatedly made the most flattering of portraits.

Devos, as I said, is the nephew of the "old and | faithful Marie," whom Drumont liked to talk about in the France duive, and that Méry and her associate made ren- to see from the director's office of Libre Parole, to better "To tease" him.

In 1892, Devos was unemployed in Lille and lived in hooks from his humble parents, modest workers, whom he doesn't want to know anymore today.

He hastened to come to Paris to solicit, sponsored by her aunt, a job as an employee in the administration of the Libre Parole, which was then run by the Drumont association and J.-B. Gérin.

We saw, from the letter I published in a cha- previous clown, as Devos spied on the staff of _ the Administration and Messrs. J.-B. Gérin, Wiaillard-Crémieux, Leo Biron, Murlon, Gadobert and Odelin, on behalf of of the one of whom he has now become, "the man of straw".

Although described as a rentier, in the document that named him Administrator replacing Mr. Wial ard-Cré- Better still, the fat Devos didn't have a penny to his name, his ap- his earnings were barely enough to live on in the modest apartments at 400 francs... which he occupied successfully: sivement rue Ramey and rue de la Tour-d'Auvergne.

This took place at the beginning of 1895.

A year later, her lifestyle had changed; and, like the like the frog in the fable, he was seen strutting about in his self-importance of upstarts in the offices of Libre Parole, half- ranting, complacently, in the mirrors of all the pieces.

It was such a comical show that the one about this large individual, strutting around like a turkey, whom the The editors amused themselves by covering the office mirrors of posters and placards.

And when Devos seemed bored by these obstacles

438 THE TRAPPERS OF ANTISEMITISM

opposed to the admiration of his person, someone amused himself always knows when to ask him:

– What do you have, Devos? Ah! The ice that is hidden.

Do you want us to take down the posters?

And we laughed.

His attitude towards the administration was equally ridiculous. and the employees, who had been his colleagues, that he treated them like dogs, ventured one day to be sent to Mr. Turquet, President of the Council of For those interested, the following prolestation:

27 L dunia

s August gt enplegée. dan Jp Coreano d- latai T
AN Lh Carte mt The man from you sapan see frerhuunt sent |
Atelion Phone dom legale Le met de doute 3e desde L'Amacuis hatun à lux ega?
E ND Y Buddies sell hair.
gun #6 da robe estmulla dost: D dot tolja ; l tue prime run 4 Raiden 1 de rouli "biw Biu mme- engu se du namest edam fou de ln rai

eus rte eue Pre mra

AFTER THE MASTER, THE SERVANTS | 439

Drumont and Devos took advantage of this address, which the Devos's methods amply justified, in order to refer all the staff, .

He was starting to become too aware of the changes. the tagging and manipulations I mentioned, and the occasion was good to make a clean house.

Masson, who had been hired by Drumont for his election in Algiers and that he had done to come all the way from Constantine.

Later, he took Masson back as manager; but, that it did not last long, because, after the 1902 election period, There were violent quarrels between the Administrator and... and the Manager.

The latter protested against the use that Devos and Dru- they claimed to be using his name to sign pla- ridiculous cards, presented as marvels of pro- pagan, and which were merely a pretext for "hitting" the Aniijuifs and to extort money from them for this creation Drumont and Devos's special work, called Œuvre de pro-pagan anti-world.

These quarrels between Devos and Masson were... scandalous scenes and, almost daily, the Manager the administrator continued from office to office, following him saying:

– You are a scoundrel, Mr. Devos. You are Mr. Devos is a thief, and I am an honest man. man.

And Masson regularly concluded with this phrase, energetic and colorful:

– And then, you know, I'll... |

Mossien, the Administrator, was reduced to taking refuge in Drumont's office, who was trying to calm sea of his best his irascible Manager.

This life could not last any longer and Masson left La Libre Parole a second time.

as

440 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

All this obviously doesn't prove that: the big Devos either the man with an excellent heart, praised by his boss.

But there's something even better:

Two years after his installation as Admin- As a director, the big Devos had already achieved some very impressive things. significant savings on its processing, however he spent lavishly, to make up for: years of difficulty the difficult things he had experienced up to that point.

Having become rich, very rich even, one might have thought that he was going to bring a little comfort to his family, to his old father, to his old mother and seek to "establish: his sister.

Ah! Yes indeed! The defendant is worth the master and, far from making the slightest sacrifice for his family, he found more a simple way to provide jobs for La Libre Parole to his father, his mother, and his sister.

And don't think that these jobs were easy to fill. On the contrary, they were very difficult, because: The foolish vanity of this upstart prevented him from leaving to see that his elderly parents still had to work for live,

He therefore placed father, mother, and sister in the cellars of the 14, Boulevard Montmartre, where the collections were stored tions and where they sorted the broths; allocating them for this Mole work, a total salary of 300 francs per n months approximately.

This combination gave him the double advantage of not having to spend a penny to keep the his own, and, at the same time, to conceal from everyone the existence of the three beings he confined in the cellars of li furniture, even taking precautions to the point of... to break the silence and say who they were.

He took this precaution so far that he had named it his old father Auguste, and that one day, his sister being Having fallen ill, he left this note for his boss. sale, so that the sorting would not be interrupted:

AFTER THE MASTER, THE JACKS AA

Li | Fr š anurereé &

The young sorting lady who was sick and the other one who She had to take care of her daughter; she was her mother and her sister.

Isn't this trait enough to portray an individual of this kind? sort.

One day, however, Devos broke with the methods which he used towards his own family.

This was in favor of his brother-in-law, a civil servant. positions, and who wanted a "pull of strings" to to get a promotion that wasn't coming.

Nile

And, as a recommendation that could be useful
It didn't cost him a cent to give to his brother-in-law, Devos
he worked to obtain this "pull of influence".

First of all, it's hard to see the administrator of Libre Word, even its Director, endorsing a request
a favor, addressed to the government.

Neither of us would have exposed ourselves.
seized upon such an adventure in the very interest of those solicited-
eurs. 7

Where all of us would have failed, Devos succeeded perfectly.
tement, °

And one evening, upon arriving at the Libre Parole, I heard a lively discussion about a net, published in the morning issue, where the Under-Secretary of State for Posts and Telegraphs, Mougeot, had been quite sharply ill-led, and rightly so, by Mr. Albert Monniot.

"Albert Monniot," exclaimed Devos, "had committed an in-family and published this note to be unpleasant to
Mr. Administrator. | RE

During the exchange between Devos and Papil-
I learned from Laud and their colleagues present that Tar-Albert Monniot's article had displeased a member of the government, which has become "taboo", like many others
before and since, because Mougeot, at the request of Drumont's usual salesman, Papillaud, had... eager to grant Devos's brother-in-law the promotion
that he aspired to.

If Drumont employs Devos in all sorts of schemes sounds, in order to conceal himself behind his Steward, he is a special undertaking about which I must say a word.

At every moment, during the years 1897, 1898, 1899,
In 1901 and 1902, we were asked, in the Great West, to France, to send Comrades to support candidates and friendly committees, wherever the adversaries concentrate would bring their troops amassed from all sides to prevent-dear to the meetings, insult the speakers and destroy the freedom of speech.

We always answered those calls and we went "Freely" help our political co-religionists to resist the attacks that were being handed over to them.

Drumont was not unaware of the requests we were receiving. we were the object constantly and the idea came to him to go up a "Hiring Company" designed to make people pay up On this subject, the candidates,

Devos acted as his intermediary and entrusted the care hiring and management of new hires to a bad-lucky fellow who, in the end, was the victim of the job he was made to do.

Devos, in fact, wanted no more than his boss, risking being hit during demonstrations so often violent.

And, to reap profits without risk, they used of a poor devil, happy to find this windfall,

I am reproducing here a job offer letter that a friend could to obtain, one day that Devos had promised the competition the "Butchers of La Villette".

I must say that Jes "solid killers" (without lab coats),

to whom, having a good day, stayed at A's them and Drumont had to be content with poor wretches ren- They wandered the boulevards, in search of a place for to have had B0ÜB, -

444 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

This undertaking, which lasted approximately a year, procura to Drumont and Devos, about sixty thousand francs of which they spent about 20 thousand-pound notes to pay their hired staff; and, out of these 20,000 francs, their intermediary-Diaire kept approximately 5,000 francs for himself... |

Drumont and Devos, having learned that this sum had was spared by their clerk, they made bitter remarks to him. relatives.

This provided an opportunity for a new scene in the buses;

reaux of the Libre Parole, a scene which was followed by the departure
The unscrupulous employer!

Unfortunately for him, this one, who had never-
but seeing such a sum in hand, in use and abuse
to the point of dying. | `

After leaving Drumont and Devos, he had the idea of
to take a pleasure trip and that's by going through Brussels, which he asked me to receive him in order to
to tell interesting things.

They were indeed, for they revered me.
new combination from Maison Drumon! and Go.

The favors that Drumont, Devos, Méry, and Papillaud obtain them so easily from our rulers who re-
They serve us, the Auxiliaries of the Ministry! The prison
And exile are easily explained, and I will give one.
convincing evidence, which certainly should not be the only one.

One day, our friends Montégut and Possien, editors at
The Intransigent, were summoned to their director's office.
Mr. Henri Rochefort, by telephone.

They went there immediately, and Henri Rochefort taught them that he had just received a visit from an important negotiator ciant of Paris, to which the Friends of the 'Government of Waldeck, Millerand and associates had proposed the Legion of honor, in exchange for payment of a large sum.

"This merchant, who is one of us," said Rochefort, "is ready to catch its solicitors. They took

AFTER THE MASTER, THE VALRTS 445

I have an appointment with him tomorrow afternoon; the time must
To have it fixed by telephone in the morning; come tomorrow around 11 o'clock, we will have lunch here and we will chat we will be.

Rochefort invited our friends Montégut and Possien to dinner and, at the table, there was no one besides Mrs. Rochefort, Rochefort and his two collaborators, whom a friend trusted with discretion which we thought we could count on.

We avoided speaking in front of the servants, and the plan

The small operation planned for the following day was stopped.

The merchant was supposed to hide Montégut and Possien in a room communicating with the one where they would be received by friends of the government.

The conversation was to be carefully recorded.

Furthermore, to confirm the proposals to the trader that had just been done to him, his two visitors were supposed to, after their interview, head with him towards the offices of a ministerial newspaper, and, on their way, they "encountered" "They would be," fortuitously, chief of staff to a minister.

And, after the introductions, the Chief of Staff would say ' to the merchant: |

– You can absolutely count on what these gentlemen promised you.

This was supposed to be the official confirmation of the deal struck by the agents.

Montégut and Possien, informed of the place where should this chance encounter take place! They had to photograph the group.

We can see from here what the next day might have produced reading of the uncompromising, speaking of this double scene shorthand and photographed.

This was the certain downfall of the Waldeck-Mille ministry. Rand and Cr, collapsing in a scandal of all the more resounding than those which had found in the government, then, had been the most violent against the Grévy's son-in-law: Wilson, the decorations merchant.

The consequences of this affair did not even stop there.

446 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

not to the fall of the ministry; this could have been the end of the policy of persecution, the work of Waldeck and Combes and the "Bloc"; and what we have been seeing for the past six years would certainly not have taken place.

It was also the end of proscriptions and imprisonments.

Unfortunately, everything failed.

The next day, when Montégut and Possien arrived at Mr. Henri Rochefort's house, he informed them that he was born to receive a phone call from his friendly merchant, telling him that the plans made the day before were unrealistic.

"I just got a phone call," he said. He said to the Director of the uncompromising, and instead of receiving the indication of the appointment time at my place, the two individuals told me: "Don't count on being crazy at- Today, you're too clever for us."

What had happened since the previous day; an indiscretion- Had it been committed? It certainly wasn't. On the side of Rochefort and his collaborators, at least they thought, since they hadn't spoken about this matter that in front of Mr. Rochefort and the trusted friend who attended the dinner from the previous day.

Some time passed, and one day, our friend Possien, on convalescent leave, was in Bordeaux, he met on the Place de la Comédie, in front of the Grand Theatre, the brother of the two intermediaries who were selling the Legion of Honour Cross to the Parisian merchant,

- Hey, what are you doing here? said the third brother, a sort of bohemian lifestyle, often too free-spirited, which uses the informal "tu" with everyone.

"I'm just passing through," Possien continued. "I've come to re-settle down in the South of France. And you?"

- Oh! I'm always advertising and I come here for France, from Bordeaux.

AFTER THE MASTER, THE SERVANTS. 447

Let's talk, let's talk!

Suddenly the youngest brother cried out:
~. - Ah! but, I need to talk to you about something.

You wanted to plot against my brothers;
But you weren't clever enough. When we came-
We donate decorations, we don't get caught.

"What is this about?" replied Possien, intrigued and curious. I'm eager to continue this conversation. Explain yourself.
– Come on, come on, don't be so soft, Fignorant. That's good. You, who were supposed to be at MX's with Montégui...
_ while my brothers would also be there. You had arranged all of this at Rochefort's the day before and you fully expected to succeed in your plan the next day. Only That same evening, my brother was informed by Devos who He called him: | DEAE

– Be careful, a trap is being set for you tomorrow. You need to know where, don't go!

What had happened, and what had intrigued Rochefort and His two colleagues explained.

The trusted friend who attended the dinner was Mr. Firmin Faure. who, upon leaving the house in Rochefort, had gone immediately to La Libre Parole, of which he was then a collaborator–Rateur and the speaker 1! And he had told Devos everything history. Pi
`I'm not saying he committed this indiscretion in the goal of provoking a betrayal, which Devos is very capable of having committed it alone and on his own initiative and I most certainly agree with Drumont,

I would like to leave it to each individual to explain their role. in this affair; but the treason had nonetheless been committed, either with the complicity of Mr. Firmin Faure, either through the fault of his inexcusable recklessness.

I have not included the names of the government actors here. taug of this little political drama; but it is of course understood which I reserve the right, if necessary, to confound Drumont and Devas, to pronounce them and to instill the testimony of our friends Montégut and Possion and also those of Messrs. Henri Rochefort and Firmin Faure.

h4S THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

The profit that Drumont and Devos derived from this betrayal–His sound was doubled.

First, they took away a sensational case from a competitor of their Loutique – because it's like a concurrent that they have always considered uncompromising – and then they made sure they had useful reconnaissance on the side governmental.

These connections of Devos and Drumont with friends of the government and the directors and administrators of certain ministerial documents have made it so that I may have been that I was very slightly surprised to find, one day, in the Little Republic of Messrs. Gérault-Richard and Dejean, An advertisement in support of La Libre Parole, May 27, 1903. for the issue published by Drumont on Alphonse de Rothschild and the death of the great Jew of rue Laffitte,

I couldn't even avoid sending it that day,
The following letter was sent to Mr. Gérault-Richard:

Mr. Gérault-Richard,
Director of La Petite République, in Paris.

I read in today's edition of your newspaper:
(Here is the advertisement for Free Speech).

Your newspaper advertising Drumont's, that
It explains a lot.

By imprisoning and exiling those condemned from the High Court, you were getting rid of the nuisances even more than of your political opponents. The time for business had arrived. for you as well as for the traffickers of antisemitism; and if you were, at least outwardly, separated from them on the terrain of ideas, the business field sees your edifying reconciliation.

Forain once said, speaking of our unfortunate country and of what was happening there: Sweet Country; the prosorits can add-ter, thanks to the connections you reveal to them: Sad Time! Sad people!

Drumont found the Treatment of the Carthusian and the Wine of Chabannes, not to mention other and very numerous means to exploit his fellow citizens. Avoid competing with him.

AFTER THE MASTER, THE SERVANTS 449

in his affairs; you get angry and this time truly-I'm lying, and no longer just for show and for the gullible fools I have.
had the honor of being.

"Good deals," Mr. Gérault-Richard.

Jules GUÉRIN.

I would like to stop here and leave the big Devos to his administration, but I cannot fail to mention two or three incidents worth recounting.

One of them occurred during a session of the Con-Seat of those interested in free speech.

That day, Devos and an administrator, Mr. Aubry – as already mentioned – they grabbed each other vigorously.

Mr. Aubry finally said to Devos:

– You are a thief!

Drumont intervened.

"It is impossible," he said to Mr. Aubry, "that you treat-You were thus our Administrator.

"As for you," replied Mr. Aubry, "you are his accomplice!

At that, Drumont jumped up and tried to dash off

Mr. Aubry; Messrs. Turquet and J.-B. Gérin intervened to prevent a brawl and, a moment later, the large Devos and the members of the Stakeholders' Council were at the search for one of Drumont's slippers (1), that He had lost by lunging at Mr. Aubry.

This eventful session was followed by a notes even more prone to serious incidents.

Drumont was not present at that one; he was at that time vacationing at Château Saint-Ange, near Moret-sur-

Loing (2).

(4) Drumont, who suffers from rheumatism, had come that day in slippers to his usual place And if he advises gullible people to buy his Chartreux Treatment, he keeps himself from It's good to make use of it. However, he states in the advertisements for his Treatment, that this drug cures all the sick |

(4) The holidays that anti-Semitism afforded me took place in the Santé, Luxembourg and Dépôt prisons in Paris within the Prison of Barbarossa in Algiers, and in that of Clairvaux. The Castel Sant'Angelo must to be preferable to them

15

-

450 > THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

The quarrel between Mr. Aubry and the portly Devos resumed, more even more violent than in the previous session.

But this time Devos got angry and wanted to strangle Mr. Aubry.

The Master had shown him how to do it and how Mr. Aubry is a short and already elderly man, VIN-Tendant felt an indomitable courage.

Unfortunately for him, Mr. Aubry, the attack Drumont had urged people to take precautions for his safety during such turbulent Council sessions, so-

He immediately pulled a revolver from his pocket and pointed it. on the 'rtendani. . i

He immediately began shouting "Murderer!" and he rushed into the entrance of the Libre Parole offices to ask for help and beg an office boy to go and get the agents. ` DR

Gil Blas reported on this latest "incident" in its issue of September 21, 1905, in an echo. which I reproduce:

Contemporary stories.

In these times of murky affairs, there are matters which We don't talk about it.

The administrator of a newspaper violently hostile to the Is-Raelites were assailed, during a Council session, by an action-grumpy old man brandishing a revolver. The boys from The office staff, panicked, rushed over. The troublemaker was thrown out. who uttered terrible curses. And the Administrator,

With calm restored, he was able to announce his next marriage to the daughter of a notorious Israelite, who died tragically how a few weeks ago, leaving a name attached to the Great stories of the Third Republic.

At which next wedding was Gil Blas doing al-_ illusion?

To be informed, one would only need to reread the newspapers.

of July 1905, speaking of the suicide of Arton, the corrupter to

AFTER THE MASTER, THE SERVANTS 451

of the Panamisias, which La Libre Parole recounted with such... details of the achievements. i

Here is what one finds in the Little Republic of July 18, 1905, at the end of an article about Arton:

Arton leaves behind a widow, a son, and two daughters, the most The young woman is soon to marry Mr. Devos, Administrator of the La Libre Parole.

The editor of La Petite République, who, in the goirée, had written his article on one of the events sen-
the day's news reports, ignored the combination of business dealings
the Drumont and Co. firm with the house of Messrs. Gé-Rault-Richard and Dejean, business relations that are de-announce through the advertisement made to La Libre Parole by the Pelile Republic and through regular insertion, in sixth grade
page of this Judeo-governmental newspaper, of the announcement, large format, from the Trailement du Chartreux which occupies a width of four columns by nearly 0.30 in height
teur (1).

Drumont and Devos were very annoyed to see the initi-
M[™] Arton's friendship with Free Speech and its Steward
thus publicly revealed, but they were careful not to...
to respond to the note in Gil Blas or to the article in the
A small republic within the Free Speech movement.

The last readers of this paper could have de-ask what this information meant and inquire-

laugh at their reality.

But, since a response was still required, even if it Drumont did not hesitate to lie, and he committed two.

`H asked the Fatherland to publish a note saying:

A newspaper announces the marriage of Mr. Devos, Administrator-author of La Libre Parole, with one of Arton's daughters. Now, we knows that Mr. Devos is married,

(4) The type of these advertisements can be found in numerous issues of The Little Republic was notably featured in that of September 18, 1905.

452 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

In good faith, the Fatherland of July 19, 1905 inserted this note; but, what Drumont had been careful not to add- Thirdly, the Court had been seized of the matter for six months. of a divorce petition filed by Mr. Devos against The steward... This divorce petition was based on the following grounds Devos' abandonment of the marital home and the insults serious remarks towards his "wife", whom he no longer found to be "up to the task," that he, the Steward of Drumont was now in charge.

This divorce proceeding, as I have already said, follows his courses are currently underway and the 4th Civil Chamber has already devoted several hearings (February 23, March 2 and March 9, 1906).

During the debates, we learned some very interesting things. resssantes. or.

Not only had Devos abandoned the home conjugal; but, fearing the noise that a divorce, 'if contrary to the religious ideas of the clientele of the Free Speech; -he had proposed-to Ms. Devos a amicable separation, subject to alimony to keep quiet, and he had begun by placing a bet in his name in a financial institution a sum of 40,000 francs...

"We'll each go our own way," he suggested.

Mr. Devos refused to accept this deal and she asked Divorce was the only thing that could establish a clear situation.

The investigation involved hearing from various witnesses.
cited at the request of the Devos couple.

The statements of these witnesses were read aloud in court.

One of them said:

One day, on my way to a meeting that Mr. Devos had... given in his office as administrator at La Libre Parole,
I surprised him in cheerful conversation with Mie X... (1),

And, as I pointed out to Mr. Devos that his wife
she might not be happy if she found out about his relationships

(4) Devos's lawyer had asked his colleague not to pronounce any
The name was made public at the hearing, which is why they said: Miss X...

AFTER THE MASTER, THE SERVANTS 453

With Ms. X..., he replied: My wife, I don't give a damn, she
It disgusts me. It's not up to that one.

It was curious to hear; but what was not less, it is Ja reply from Devos' lawyer, Me Couhin (1).

"How," exclaimed Mr. Couhin, "can one invoke a similar testimony given by an individual convicted of the prison for theft and from which no court or honest person
Can't a man take what's said into consideration?

And do we know who this witness was, so mistreated by the a-Devos' lawyer?

Simply the Spiard-Oswald spy, the com-Drumont's accomplice, Deyos and Gaston Méry in the camp-
a web of insults and slander has been launched against me.

Mr. Devos's lawyer replied with a great deal of...
pos: -

- Pordon, my dear colleague, but this witness, that You, whom I call a thief, were a personal friend of Mr. Devos, and the incident, which is the subject of his testimony- .
The incident occurred in Mr. Devos's office, at the Libre Parole, where he was going to a meeting arranged by even client. | i -

Mr. Couhin appeared more than embarrassed, while his
The customer lowered his head under the questioning stares of...
members of the Tribunal.

This incident and several others of the same kind making
This bodes ill for how things will turn out, Devos and his
The defenders believed it useful to their cause to formulate a reclaim against Mr. Devos, alleging that the di-
A sentence was to be pronounced against her for insults.
serious matters concerning her husband.

And the serious insult—the only one!—invoked was a complaint, filed by Mr. Devos against X..., author of signatures affixed to various documents, and in particular

(4) Mr. Ménard was unable, on this occasion, to assist his "dear friend Devos" because of his Catholic community, which was reportedly offended to see him plead a divorce case. He limited himself to advising the Infendaat as best he could, without appear pub} Nement in cetto affair, scandalous in more ways than one.

min

454 TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

on those drawn up by the notary, responsible for regularizing In transfer of the Sahati estate to a third party

Mr. Devos's personal signature was indispensable.
sand for these acts, and the notary claimed that this signature, which he had been wrong not to receive, in his study and in his presence, according to the law, had been given to one of her clerks at the home of the Devos couple.

However, Mr. Devos, through his lawyer, Mr. Mas-his, he affirmed in the bar of the 4th Chamber, as in the
at the time of the complaint for forgery against X..., never having given that signal and having never seen the clerk in question.

Mr. Masson even demanded the confrontation of his client
with this clerk,

— He must not be dead, this clerk; let him be.
"Watch!" he exclaimed.

And the Court closed this latest court incident.
by postponing the case for a week for further investigation quest.

There are still many fake re-loves: in the writings
commercial and private matters of the intendant of Drumountain,

False land transfers, forgery of notarial deeds, false
Signature: Dom Marie!

How many individuals, who have not committed even half an act...
A quarter of these crimes resulted in prosecution, arrests, and convictions.
Damn them!

What influence, then, protects the listener?

Is this the fear that our rulers have of Drumountain and his journal or the services they render to Those they seem to be fighting?

I would add, regarding the articles from Gif Blas and the Little Republic, what a story. From Mis X... with The steward is known to everyone at La Libre Parole, where Mie X.. has been absolutely at home for several years.
She spends a large part of her days there and owns an influence that is visibly manifested in the

AFTER THE MASTER, THE SERVANTS 455

more carefully dressed by lZnłendani, which she has undertaken to ~
to make a very distinguished gentleman, horseman and musician.

Devos, violinist! Have mercy on the ears of my contemporary |

Devos, rider! Poor beast!

It's the horse I feel sorry for, of course.

Well! What do you think, past and present readers?
Free Speech, Anti-Jews and Catholics?

We saw in 1892 the Wiallard-Cré- administration better; it was already good, we're preparing the administration for you-tion Devos-Arlon is better.

What a revenge for {Israel!}

And Mr. Couhin, Devos's lawyer, could not refuse to...
to add a touch of irony: when he said to the Court.
to explain the daily presence of Mr. X... in The offices of Libre Parole:

– But this presence is not extraordinary;
This is explained by the fact that Mr. X's father... had been elected, ` for a long time, fiercely attacked by the Free French-role, regarding a case that ended with his arrest
restation and his condemnation, `

But, how so, Mr. Couhin; but, nothing is evident-
Much more natural! And one would need to have understanding Absolutely clueless not to understand that.

I don't know Mr. Couhin, but I have a feeling he must to have fun and that this Devos-Arton, Drumont affair, Panama, Sahali, Chartreux treatment, summer... will remain one of the curious cases that he will have had the opportunity to please-last during his career as a lawyer.

Gaston 1 Méry, who hates Devos, hopes greatly for this matter. Arton to arrive, one day soon, at disembarkation Quer Devos and to seize, then, the entire newspaper, administration and writing.

We have often had the opportunity to observe this 'Gaston Méry's hatred of Devos, one can say that

456 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

Not a day went by without Méry being heard acc-Blant Devos of the worst accusations.

One day, Devos was criticizing Méry for not having Having written an article the day before, Gaston replied to the Steward:

– It's possible, but I earn 4,000 francs... so that you earn 100,000.

Another time, he was asking for advice from all sides.
to put his Echo of the Marvelous in society in order to, di-Does he know how to free himself from that scoundrel Devos who... stole all the profits from this affair

But what earned Devos the most violent accusations-tions, it was, on the one hand, the anti-Semitic bookstore and, on the other part, the anti-Jewish propaganda work I have already mentioned.

Gaston Méry was inexhaustible on these subjects.

– But this anti-Semitic bookstore, it's an organized theft-nisé. Devos buys books at a discount and resells them 3 francs 50. He robs the unfortunate authors who venture in this cave. As for the money he receives for The propaganda work, it goes straight into his pocket.

That's what we were hearing at La Libre Parole, and Gas-Your Méry was saying the same things everywhere.

One of our friends, a subscriber to La Libre Parole, and who always sent his subscriptions during calls from funds launched by Drumont and Devos in their newspaper, he wrote to me, at the time when the first disagreements erupted They lie between Drumont's gang and the Great West:

December 8, 1901.

My dear Comrade,

Having been confined to the countryside for a long time, he was suffering, I tell you I'm writing a few lines to tell you my impressions about of the dispute that has just arisen between the Great West and< Free Speech.

Often, at the very heart of the struggle, one gets a little tipsy. Words of calm and peace are rare, and yet they are Sometimes it's good to hear that.

For me, who, far from you, has known all of this for a long time–

AFTER THE MASTER, THE SERVANTS 457

time, often astonished and worried with others, without daring Saying nothing, or... almost nothing, I know you're right.

There are some curious compromises, a reprehensible attitude.

How many times did Méry say this in front of me:

Devos is a thief,

He readily added:

"Drumont has nothing to do with this shady business and these dishonest speculations (he was talking about the subscription for anti-Jewish propaganda);

"Don't give anything," he advised, "it's Devos who's walking," and Drumont, to whom this causes the greatest harm, has no idea of this disgraceful flight...

And our friend then added: |
"And today, Devos is a close friend to Méry."

We can see what Gaston Méry's opinion was on De-yours, compared to the one he pretends to have today today.

These fundraising appeals, which were thus judged by Gaston Méry, provoked articles, unfortunately justified-trusted, in opposing newspapers.

And, following one of these appeals; the Cri de Paris could-omitted the following article:

Passeg to the checkout.

The campaign was tough for the Caisse, which is all billionaires that it may be, from the rue des Postes, if we are to believe the circular confidential that Drumont's newspaper sends to all its personal friends, under the signature of the Administrator, of the Free Speech, where these pearls are gathered:

"s. For two years, despite its limited resources, our "Work of anti-Semitic propaganda" thrown into the ciroulation, more than 20,000 books and brochures (a meager success!) which have greatly contributed to the popularization of the anti-Semitic idea. That's a lot... That's not enough | (Greedy, go away)

We would like, through the wide distribution of these publications, To draw the attention of those who are unaware of antisemitism.

458 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

(So there are still some!) and winners to our cause all the good French people who have not yet joined the movement,

What follows is a long development of this lament, damp with Tears and heart-wrenching calls for civil war. Then we arrive to the interesting verse. m

The resources for our work are quite limited! | (Oh! oh!) compared to those of our opponents. Nevertheless, with the help patriots (note: Messrs. Déroulède, Habort and Millevoyel) we can do a lot for the good of our poor country (tremolos in the orchestra).

We have books and brochures in preparation. Let us simply announce a magnificent work on the Rothschild (Oh! very new that) and on the role in history contemporary; then the Jewish conquest (increasingly nine 1), other volumes and brochures (don't throw any more away, the The courtyard is full!). s.

– ... That is our program (Oh! full of interest 1).
— To arms, then, we would gladly say (how could we!)

That is to say, to the fertile propaganda of the anti-Semitic book gra- (but not yet, alas, 1 is mandatory).

Please send this form with the amount of the sub- (I would have you, by Jove 1) to Mr. Charles Devos (Admin- (administrator of La Libre Parole), 14, boulevard Montmartre, at

A desperate appeal from Father Du Lao and his staff

| to the faithful is too significant and joyous for us

Let us not rush to share this with well-meaning people. who would be happy to help fill this barrel They're like the Danaids. You can never shear them enough.

Not only all antisemitism and all anti-Jews were tainted by these shameful thefts – style Méry – but the entire apposition was affected.

We all believed that the anti-Semitic bookstore was the property of La Libre Parole; ct, when Drumont did to publish and sell, through his shop, Fordurce signed Spiard, I had La Libre Parole and its bookstore summoned for slander and defamation, in order to establish responsibilities.

Before this court, we were told that the bookstore antisemite was Devos's personal property, which confirmed the evidence we had that the funds sent

AFTER THE MASTER. THE SERVANTS 459

by the anti-Jews for propaganda remained in the

the tenant's pocket – except sharing with the master – > heard.

A few months ago, when Mr. Devos claimed half of the Devos household community, she de-ordered that the anti-Semitic bookstore be included there.

And so, it was objected to him, contrary to what we had been opposed two years earlier, that this shop belonged to La Libre Parole.

The Court did not accept this second transformation and Mrs. Devos was able to bring in this traveling bookstore in the household's assets.

© At the time this dispute arose between Mr. Devos and The Intendant – late 1904 – we saw the disappearance of the Libre Parole, the address of 45, rue Vivienne and the anti- Bookstore The address indicated was: I, Boulevard Montmartre, at the Free Speech.

Meanwhile, the unified bookstore was put up for sale. mile to the highest bidder and last bidder (1).

And the business assets of this venture, which included an annual rent of 4,000 francs... with lease, of which 2,000 francs. Equipment valued at 624 francs was deposited in advance... ct who paid 370 francs 35 in taxes, was awarded, on a starting price of 10,000 francs with a deposit of 500 francs to bid, for a total sum of 190 francs...

The buyer, for whom the solicitor bidder opera, was the Zgentant.

Ms. Devos was obviously frustrated by a large part-tie of its rights to the value of this Bookstore, and the Fundraising appeals continue with strong bonuses. comments, either for anti-Jewish propaganda, or for the Free subscriptions.

Since I'm talking about these fundraising appeals, I'll return to Subscription for the Sfalse de Morés.

ti) Small prints from February 11, 1906.

This subscription raised nearly 28,000 francs.

I don't know what the sculptor received from Drumont-Devos, but it is quite clear that this sum of 28,000 francs was quite sufficient to pay the artist and cover the price bronze and the costs of erecting the monument.

Today, Mr. Marquet de Vasselot died and the Sfalue de Morès is not erected anywhere.

Drumont was still talking about it recently in an article-key, to express his indignation – comedian! – against nas Rulers who have not yet granted a place-ment for this monument.

But what he carefully avoided mentioning was that at the time acluelle, the bronze of Morès is still suffering at the foundryman and that his invoice remained unpaid despite the numerous complaints addressed to Drumont who simply replied each time:

– The Committee was dissolved a long time ago; there is no no money to pay the foundryman, and don't bother me– Don't be stupid with this matter!

So much so that at present, some friends of Mores And we pooled our money, and we're looking for the useful competitions to buy back this bronze which, after five years of fruitless waiting and numerous steps to Having been paid, the foundryman was preparing to return to the melting pot.

Into whose hands did the 28,000 francs paid, I don't know; but what is out Without a doubt, it is the duty of Drumont and the Committee – and this Committee, that's Drumont – was to ensure that the bronze was or could be paid to the foundryman.

The subscription for the Sfalue de Morës is not the the only one that could give rise to suspicion.

At the time of Fort Chabrol, a subscription was made for the victims of the arrests.

The Anti-Jew has established, indisputably, that on the of the sums collected, Drumont distributed only a portion tie. As for the rest, no one knows what became of it.

For the subscription in favor of Mw Henry, who produced nearly 140,000 francs, it is still claimed today – from today that PES; sum has not been given to the beneficiary.

What use was made of it? Where is it located?

We don't know any more than that.

Everything we were able to learn eighteen months ago approximately by the Free Speech, it is that on this sum of nearly 140,000 francs..., a part – a very small part – had been used to cover the costs of the trial of Ms. Henry against the Jew Joseph Reinach, and another The sum had been used to send, as a bonus to readers of La Libre Parole, a small brochure giving the lawyers' plea.

The prices quoted for these shipments were exorbitant management; and, as always, Drumont had retained the majority of the sum thus allocated.

As for the rest, which still represents nearly 100,000 francs. No one has heard from them since; and it's hard to explain. or rather, we can't explain at all that this subscription, which dates back seven years, is not already between the Mr. Henry's hands.

Even now, Drumont is still receiving funds for the victims of the fights caused by the inventories.

Who then oversees the use and allocation of these funds?

Drumont and his gang!

This is far too inadequate a guarantee, and I don't anticipate – I would not be exaggerating by stating here that the Victims Inventories will never show the full amount paid for their benefit.

I even made an interesting comment about it.

We know that La Libre Parole had opened a competition on the election of the President of the Republic which was to succeed Mr. Loubet.

There were 10,000 francs in cash prizes, which were won by 7 people.

462 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

The first prize was 5,000 francs, the second 3,000, the fourth 1,000, the 4th of 500, the 5th of 250, the 6th of 150 and the 7th of 100,

The vote count was arduous and the result was not indistinct in the issue of January 21, 1906.

Anyone familiar with Drumont's habits, They had become masters of bluffing, they expected, the next day, to read a shocking account of the visits made by hearing it or through correspondents to the lucky gagnants of the lots, so generously distributed.

Neither the next day, nor the days that followed, did La Libre Parole speak of his competition, neither of the winners nor of the prizes.

This became worrying for the lucky winners.

Ten days, twenty days go by, nothing.

We were beginning to despair; when on February 11th, we I could read, in a modest Day-to-Day, the account of a Journey to Chartres, the readers discreetly inform members of the Free Speech movement that the Inspector had surrendered, with an editor, in Chartres, to carry the grand prize of 5,000 francs, to Mr. Vincent Rochais, its holder.

This unusual discretion seemed to those familiar with the proceedings—Drumont's dice are quite extraordinary and one cannot be... to sin by pointing out that it is only when the subscription, in favor of Catholics who had died or been wounded by defending liberty and the Churches, had achieved, In Drumont's possession, the sum of 12,595 francs. 95 that the Director of La Libre Parole had decided to verify—to pay the 5,000 francs owed to Mr. Vincent Rochais.

As for the other winners, La Libre Parole didn't breathe a sigh of relief. word of the payments to be made to them.

Did they receive the money they had earned? That remains a mystery!

And, since then, there was never any further mention of Mr. Pou-Ghéol, a lawyer in Pont-l'Évêque, earning 3,000 francs... at Mr. Buscail, Café du Commerce in Amélie-les-Bains, winner 1,000 francs; from Mr. Richard, at the Château 'de Suzanne' to Bray-sur-Somme, winning 500 francs; from Mr. Roze, 206, Boulevard Pereire in Paris, earning 250 francs; from Mr. de Ponthieu, Place Henry-Thiers in Epernay, winning 150 francs; Hi, Mr. Baraine, a farmer in Abondent, earns 100 francs...

AFTER THE MASTER, THE SERVANTS '463

This is the first time Drumont has shown so much discretion on the occasion of his generosity.

The real reason for this unusual attitude would be quite interesting. worth knowing.

I would need to dedicate many more pages to it I wanted to review all of Drumont's misdeeds and his Steward, and to conclude with the role fulfilled by the great Devos, I will limit myself to speaking of three incidents that occurred, first at the time at Devos affected to sue the Aniijuif and the Tribune française who had denounced the politico-pharma "operations" ceutiques of Drumont and his Intendant.

For the anti-Jewish article, Devos sued the newspaper's manager; and, At the same time, in collusion with Joseph Ménard, he obtained a judgment against this manager for failing to secure a conviction. The newspaper at its most explicit and without debate.

This combination succeeded; and, later, the unfortunate man, to whom they had made commit this treason, was obangiven in abject poverty by the scoundrels who had thus obtained a conviction against the Anti-Jew, which the The magistrates hastened to set the maximum.

In the Tribune française, I myself signed the articles keys; but, on the day of the summons, Devos and Ménard even- They tried to prosecute me.

They premeditated, by only assigning the Manager of the newspaper, to repeat the feat they had achieved against I am anti-Jewish.

However, since they had also sued the Company From the Journal, I had myself summoned as a witness, which per- was going to demand my presence at the debates.

When Mr. Joseph Ménard learned that I was coming, at at my own risk, as a witness appearing in court, even . prisoner for breaking my ban, for I was then - : proserit, he hastened to have the matter dismissed.

And during the visit I paid him upon my return to France
he had the audacity to tell me: n

464 THE THAFIQUANTS OF ANTISEMITISM

– But, a proof of my good feelings to your
In this regard, I had the case initiated by Devos against the French Tribune for your articles.

– And you conclude from this, no doubt, I said to him, that I
You owe me gratitude?

– You are right not to seriously believe it,
because the reason you removed this case was your concern for public opinion. You had taken the precaution of tion not to assign me, to try, again, the maneuver carried out against the Anti-Jew; and when you
You saw that I was outsmarting her as a witness, you are delighted.

And you did well, because as a witness, I would have simply told the Court, before which you are appearing felt for Devos: `

"The French Tribune is being sued for articles"
that I wrote and signed. Here, they are called: slanderers and defamatory, even though they state undeniable truths.
tables. And, as proof, I only need to add that everything that I published something about the shady dealings of Devos and Drumont, it's
Mr. Ménard, former editorial secretary of La Libre Parole, who revealed it to me, at the time when, chased away by Gaston Méry
In the newspaper, he called Méry and Devos scoundrels and me provided the evidence.

And Mr. Joseph Ménard lowered his head and remained silent.

At the same time that Devos and Ménard were organizing these Attacks against anti-Semites; I was sent to Brussels.
two individuals; to burglarize my home and steal
all the documents I could get against Drumont and his cronies. From

Devos handed over to these two burglars, whom I have charity not to name here the "viaticum" necessary for their journey.

Only an expedition of this kind is dangerous

in Belgium, where burglars are not protected through the impunity or complicity of a Police Prefect

AFTER THE MASTER, THE SERVANTS 465

like Lépine, and the two operators of the Dru- House Mont and Co were not willing to risk the execution- tion.

They only wanted to make Drumont and Devos believe that they were seriously going to burglarize my house.

Their expedition was limited to a trip they made to. Antwerp, from where Pun of them phoned me and said:

– I am so-and-so, I am in Lille with a friend and we want to play a trick on Drumont and Devos. So call the government and tell them you've been burgled. tonight, and tomorrow you will have fun reading the Free Speech. I answered that phone call, saying that I desired- I would not want to be involved in farces of this nature and I invite- tai, the individual, to stop this joke.

The purpose of this communication, which I was asked to do at the Peerage – it was about noon – was to to make people believe that important items had been stolen from me and "to have the large sum sent by Devos and Drumont" to pay them.

I inquired with the Telephone Administration from Belgium, from the place where this correspondent was located And I was told that I had received a phone call, not from Lille. but from the Antwerp Stock Exchange office.

Another time, it was anonymous letters, sent against me to friends from the provinces, including our devoted and faithful Bouttier, who returned them to me immediately.

I showed one of these letters to Messrs. Chenu and Clunet, whose names were mentioned there, and they showed me to the both their surprise and their indignation.

These letters were typed; but your printing defects that they contained, compared to those of other letters Ge of the same origin, show that they came from La Libre Parole.

Drumont and Devos employed yet another method.

They sent newspapers annotated in blue pencil,
accompanying them with defamatory notes, always do

466 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

with the same typewriter, and in which it was said: that I ran a newspaper with the German Jew and its director, Mr. Vervoort, who, for the occasion, was called a swindler, an agent of the General Security Directorate, and accused of being "the man of the million from the Chartreux".

These entries in blue pencil, although in a different handwriting-Guisée at their beginnings, denounced their author in the:
Last words,

And the big Nevos had forgotten to change the G of the General Security, attached to the name of Mr. Ver-voort, G which he makes by looping the O of Ja letter twice.

I must add that Mr. Vervoort, having been informed by me of the insults of which he was Pohjet, offered to write me a letter declaring that I had absolutely nothing to do with his newspaper Le Petit Bleu, but he dared to ask for an account from Drumont and Dovos of the outrages that they had committed against him addressed to me at the same time...

Mr. Vervoort is a pacifist!

Finally, to complete the series of machinations of Drumont against an outlaw, I will recall two more facts,

One day, something reached my neighbors from the Belgian village.
that I lived in, the book signed by Spiard, without anything pot indicate the sender, otherwise the shipments were Paris events.

I took the opportunity to file a complaint with the Namur Public Prosecutor's Office.
against Spiard and the printer whose name I knew for the past few months, following the falling out that occurred between Drumont and Agent Oswald.

An investigation was ordered, which revealed that the
The book had indeed been printed clandestinely in Ghent.
at Mr. Hoste's, and that he had sent the ba!- lots to a Mr. Haranchipy, 3, rue du Helder, in Paris.

I pursued this one, as did Mr. Hoste and Spiard; and,

To apologize, Mr. Haranchipy addressed my lawyer that had him summoned, a letter in which he said:

AFTER THE MASTER, THE SERVANTS A67

I am completely uninvolved in the publication of the brochure incriminated fall.

I never collaborated on its creation, I never but ordered.

My name was used without my knowledge and it will be very It will be easy for your client to find the culprit.

Done, according to Mr. Haranchipy, there would be had, yet again, one more forgery committed by Drumont and Devos. l

Finally, one day, I was informed of the passage through Wépion of a shady-looking individual who was asking about me actions and gestures, asking who I was receiving, what I was doing—I know, if I received a lot of letters, from what kind of people... rights, etc..., etc... |

I asked my neighbors to let me know if we saw the a person lurking in or around the village,

And one morning, I was informed that this individual was located stationed on the road near my house.

I went to find him and questioned him.

He first tried to get out of the situation by telling me:

— I don't have to tell you what I do
Here, the road is clear and you have no right to interrogate.

I'm sure I wasn't mistaken, since several voices—
When they recognized the man, I grabbed my gun—
I put a cloth around his neck and gave him the choice between: coming immediately immediately and graciously at the village alderman's office closer, or take a bath in the Meuse, whose
Only a road separated us.

It was January; he preferred the visit to the alderman.

He gave his name to this municipal magistrate, but he refused to give us his address; and as he had not com- Having been found guilty of a clear offense, he had to be compelled to do so.

I immediately gave him the opportunity to file a complaint against me, giving him a light slap, oh!

468 THE TRAFFICKERS DR ANTISEMITISM

He then declared himself to be Mr. Gaston Hotessier (1), residing 13, rue des Sables, in Brussels, having gone down to Namur, the Crown Hotel, where, moreover, he used to go, he said, on his return to start immediately.

I accompanied him to Namur and requested his appearance in court. before the Police Commissioner, where the matter became complicated- qua, because the address he had given in Brussels was false, which, in Belgium, especially for a foreigner, is an offense.

The following day, the Namur press reported on this incident. in these terms:

On Thursday morning, the residents of Wépion witnessed a incident that ended in one of the police offices from Namur.

An individual, whose name was unknown, had come the year lastly, monitor the area around the villa occupied by Mr. Jules Guérin, one of the French exiles condemned by the High Court. i

Rightly concerned by the behavior of this prowler, Mr. Guérin promised, if he returned, to find out which individual he had dealt with. TO DO. ;

On Thursday morning, the presence of this character made him feel new- calf reported; it was indeed the same one that had come Last pan at the same time.

Conduit became one of the aldermen of the commune of Wépion,

'This mysterious character refused to provide any explanation,' He merely provided a name, insufficient to justify his his presence and the motives that made him act that way.

Back in Namur, where he had arrived that very morning, he was summoned before Mr. Barzin, deputy police commissioner.

He began by denying it, contradicting the witnesses who claimed to acknowledge it; but, pressed with questions and understanding that His attitude was becoming dangerous; he finally declared that he... was sent by Mr. Devos, administrator of La Libre Parole and its director, Ed Drumont, to inquire about the facts and gestures of Mr. Guérin.

(1) This individual was and may still be the correspondent for the Free Parole in Lillo, and among the papers seized from him by the police commissioner of In Namur, there was indeed a postcard corresponding to Drumont's newspaper.

AFTER THE MASTER, THE SERVANTS 469

He apologized to the condemned man in the High Court, on the he said, "the unworthy role they made him play," and after having de- Having apologized, he hurried back to the train to Lille, from where He had left the day before.

These strange methods: anonymous letters, denunciations-slander and espionage, employed by Drumont against an outlaw, show how much the Director of the Libre Parole is authorized to denounce informers and snitches. Freemasonry's chard! |!

And, also, as a Belgian newspaper rightly pointed out, it is no longer the Free Speech that should be put as title to the sheet of the boulevard Montmartre, but the Libre Casserole, with the aptly justified subtitle:

Drumont is worse than Vadecard.

Hart

ur

PAPILLAUD

The "Terror" of the Parliamentarians. – A bundle of Sena- author. – Papillaüd versus Morès. – A lesson. – The friend The Blocards. – Gaston Méry and his "friend Fapillaud". The Million of the Carthusians. – The cook Ash. – Papil- laud voyage! – To the Commission of Inquiry, – A confrontation A joke. – The mysterious X. – "To give the change. – The Bishop of Grenoble. – A denial, – The

Edgar documents. – The Complete Trio. i

I now come to Drumont's third Valet; the one of whom For the past fourteen years, he has been canvassing with all governments, and that he charge of all the be-shady dealings that require so few scruples among
The one who commands them, rather than the one who executes them.

What has always amazed me is the kind of Terror
-inspæée to our Parliamentarians by Papillaud.

Is it fear of being caught in the Free Speech or Whether he was impaled by Papillaud, we don't know; but, what
It is true that many politicians have a fear
This individual is ridiculous.

Only one man truly understood Papillaud, and that was the Senator Garran de Balzan; and, one day when he met Drumont's canvasser, the day after an article insulting published against him, Mr. Garran de Balzan allon- .
Gea, in Papilland's rear end, a formidable blow boot: ý

HAS

AFTER THE MASTER, THE VALRTS. 471

Papillaud yelled, as usual, but kept it to himself.
said,

He did try, one evening, a vain revenge by going spitting on the feet of his "Booster"; but also had he taken the precaution of being accompanied by two friends who, by intervening at the right time, prevented him from 'second edition of the "kick in the ass,"' which had cut off his breath.

For my part, I have had few dealings with Papillaud.

The first time was two days after the day I I caught glimpses of him at La Libre Parole, where he had just started as editor.

J} came to find me in Aubervilliers, at our warehouse of Oil, to ask me to do him a favor by advancing him the amount of a 500 franc note subscribed by a publisher, which has since disappeared.

Needless to say, the ticket was not paid for on time.
due date.

Later, when I had reconciled with Drumont, I returned to Papillaud, who had allowed himself to attack... questions against. Mores came to me in the writing room, hand outstretched and mouth in a "puppy mouth" position.

I invited him to put his hand back in place and to avoid even to realize it in the future.

He understood; and, while his collaborators 'believed He did not insist on the conflict.

It took the death of Mores for a détente to occur. duistt. The evening of the news of the assassination of El Quatia, Papillaud assured me that he was taking a very active part in the

. pearl that black cause and each of those who loved Mores had just done, Despite this, Ros reports were still quite reserved.

At the time of Fort Chabrol, we remember Finci-

472 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

a disagreement that occurred between Papiliaud and Lasies, an incident which had so deeply moved the deputy from Gers that I had to to comfort him,

It is true that, three years later, Mr. Lasies accepted to be against me, an outlaw, the witness of the financier J.-B. Gérin and Papillaud.

Let those who can understand all these contradictions, because the The mentality of all these people seems quite complicated.

The last time I heard about Papillaud, this was again by Mr. Joseph Ménard, in my cell at Clairvaux. So l He told me of the painful surprise he had experienced a few days earlier. days earlier by my brother Louis, to my surprise that he affirmed- may have shared, upon seeing, in a restaurant from Rue Royale, where they had stopped for supper, my brother didn't even have time to eat dinner that day- There, Papillaud was celebrating and extremely cheerful, in the middle from a whole group of notorious Dreyfusards, his friends personnels, and several of whom were cabinet attachés of the members of the Waldeck ministry.

– Thus, added Ménard, playfully: an indignation that he should not feel, while you, the condemned of the High Court, you are in prison and in exile for For many years, we have seen men like Papillaud to lead a joyful life in the company of those who have you. He was convicted. It's shameful, he added.

It obviously wasn't very good, but I had some. so much has been heard on Libre Parole, regarding Papillaud, that what Menard's story couldn't surprise me.

How often Gaston Méry, jealous of Pa-'s influence. Pillaud, near Drumont, didn't he say tiy

– Papillaud's life is extraordinary. is not paid more than MCI here and has no fortune personal: however, with the 350 francs per month that he He earns here on the basis of an annuity of 50,000 francs. It is true that we encounter it in all the antechambers.

AFTER THE MASTER, THE SERVANTS 473

ministerial and that he never attacks the ministers who have secret funds at their disposal (1).

That was the general tone of the assessments of Gaston Méry on his "friend" Papillaud.

It is true that he, for his part, appreciated Gaston. Méry to his worth, because, at the moment when he was soliciting the suffragers of Saint-Denis, in 1902, he came to find— see our friend Bernard Roux to ask for his support.

Bernard Roux who objected to Drumont's conduct, Méry and Devos towards us; and Papillaud to him—to lay eggs:

– But I completely agree with you. The campaign that we are doing against the Greater West of France and against Jules Guérin is abominable; he's that scoundrel Gas— Your Méry is pushing Drumont to do this. And even for me, Do you think I'll get any support at La Libre Parole? I

I am forced to get angry so that Gaston Méry, who Now lead the newspaper, let my newbies pass by.
meetings.

In front of one of our own, this is how Papil-
Laud to obtain electoral support; but as soon as the need
From this past support he returned to his true feelings, which were dictated to him by his desire not to displease Drumont and by the necessity of serving the rulers well providers of "secret funds".

This constant interaction with our adversaries
the cause and the profits he derived from it were bound to expose him to rather serious problems.

One of these troubles threatened him during his time in the ministry
Combes, during which Papillaud received preferential treatment all exceptional.

(1) One might wonder if I was cheered up by the article published recently by La Libre Parole, under the signature of Papillaud, an article criticizing the liaison
Colonel Rousset, deputy for the Meuse, for having voted in favour of secret funds.
Deep down, Papillaud owed the pro-fund deputies too.

secrets!

UT di

4'14 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTI-SEMITISM

A1 had remained a very close friend and companion of pleasure.
Lords of Edgar Combes.
Also, when the so-called Million of Char affair broke out...
Irritated, some of us were not very surprised to see the name of Papillaud mixed with that of Devos.

- During the investigation, entrusted to Mr. do Valles, nor to Laud and Devos were heard as witnesses.

Papillaud declared that he had been a friend of Edgar Combes since twenty-five years and to have preserved for him the most profound affection.

As for Devos, the reason for his summons was his presence in Saint-Laurent-du-Pont and Voiron (Isère), at moment when the Carthusians are wondering whether a decision will be made on their fate.

What was Devos, the heel of La Libre, going to do? Words, at that moment, in Isère, when it was the in the place of a redactor, if Drumont wanted to inform his journal about the events that were happening around the Carthusian monastery?

What was he going to do? Try to "blackmail" her, at At the last moment, regarding the "Chartreux" so that these no longer oppose the fact that religious publications could- They are bridging the announcements of the Treatment of the Carthusian.

- You need to be defended right now, al- Devos said that Drumont's part; you are dis-

We will do our best, but you are hindering our business.

pharmacy.
It was very clear, and it required the members' ignorance.

of the Commission of Inquiry to waste their time at-listening to the lies of Devos and HE well de-

They ended up saying nothing of truth.

Games immediately give the intuition. that a comedy played, in which Drumont and his acolytes, on the one hand, and government personnel on the other side were holding roles. seemingly opposite.

Wanting to be certain and to have the right in any case, more

is if li

AFTER THE MASTER, LBS VALETS To

It's late to give my opinion on these murky affairs, I-

I sent the following dispatch to the commission of inquiry:

Namur, July 2, 1904.

Chartreux Commission of Inquiry, Palais-Bourbon, Paris.

Newspapers tell me about Devos's deposition. Why not him?
having not asked for a reason for his presence in Fourvoirie where
It was the position of an editor, not an administrator.
Drumont's business dealings and in his name in the sale of a drug bitten as Treatment of the Carthusian Dom Marie under false name and with a false signature without the Rulers, who us have had them convicted and imprisoned, continue this deception
Neither perie nor prevent it? Why not also listen, sir?
Papillaud, Drumont's usual intermediary with everyone Ministries P? The attitude of these individuals is scandalous and a duty
The commission of inquiry is to shed light on the comedy of opposition.
the situation they are playing, if she doesn't want to appear to be misleading public opin
_nion and fail in its mission. | |

K – Jules GUÉRIN.

–4 R g

I was all the more convinced of the comedy that was unfolding.
played on both sides, which Mr. Flandin carefully avoided
To make people question Devos about the real reason for his presence to Fourvoirie and his personal and repeated visits to Father Rey. | | |

I sent this other dispatch on July 6th, after the de-Papillaud's position;

Flandin, Pt. Chartreu Inquiry Commission.
Palais-Bourbon, Paris.

My telegram of the 2nd was duly received by the Commission, but stifled. I'm not surprised, given that the Commission of Inquiry is... destined to be duped or complicit with career politicians. Have you was bounded by Devos and Papillaud, businessmen from Dru-Mount. I will therefore await the Commission's report with curiosity.
to publish what members have voluntarily omitted to re-
to seek in the interest of truth.

I! Light must be shed on this charade of opposition being played out by the Merchants of Nationalism and Anti-Semitism of af-those who tried to smear the men that the High Court has struck.

Jules GUÉRIN.

When they tried to find out which character was who had gone to the Carthusian monastery to propose a deal.

upon payment of a large sum, we delivered,
in the corridors of the Chamber, at numerous comment-silences.

And, one fine day, the name Papillaud finally surfaced.
like that of the mysterious visitor who had introduced himself
at the main gate in Fourvoirie, asking to speak to Superior Father for a matter of extreme urgency.

An editor from Le Matin published an article on June 28th.
about this visit with an interview with the chef Cendre who had opened to the visitor and claimed to be able to re-
to know among a thousand.

The cook Cendre painted a portrait of the character he had received and who, he said, was standing at the bottom of the stairs, in the lofty heights of a proud upstart, while one was going to announce his visit, without however having wanted to con-
to hand his card to the servant of the Carthusians.

No sooner had Le Matin published this article than Papil-Laud left Paris immediately; and, the next day, after having
He made an appearance in Aix-les-Bains, he slipped away, boldly. boldly, to Pignerol where the Superior Father was, then return
without fail in Fourvoirie and Grenoble.

Immediately after this trip, the cook Cendre declares that he is no longer certain of recognizing the visi-
author. | |

This absence, so sudden and so otherwise inexplicable
that by fear of a redopportuned indiscretion from the kitchen-Ash, provoked further comments and Pa-Pillaud was, at that moment, almost clearly and for-miscellaneously designated as the author of the approach taken
I agree with Edgar Combes. | The

Her relationship with him, their daily interactions with him further fueled these suspicions.

On July 4, Papillaud was summoned and questioned by The Commission of Inquiry.

He adopted an aggressive tone to explain his behavior. usual, and when a member of the Jewish Commission of-mandate:

– Earlier, Mr. Papillaud said he had gone to Grenoble last Thursday; would it be indiscreet to ask him-What was the purpose of his trip?

"That would be indiscreet," replied Papillaud. "I had the trouble of declaring that I had gone to Grenoble, that of Grenoble, I had gone to see the Carthusian monks in Pignerol – not in Saint-Laurent-du-Pont or Fourvoirie, but in Pignerol – and I added that this trip had no relationship with the work of the Commission.

And this Commission, whose investigation was both so long-and so incomplete, contradicts this answer 11

N |

This then led to the confrontation between Papillaud and the cook Cendre, to whom the President posed the question next: The a ef ls

– Mr. Cendre, do you know the person who is to my right? You've never seen her, you claim-mez? – ` | si oi

– No, I've never seen her.

And that was all.

And Papillaud withdrew.

However, one Member of the Commission made a constatation, mentioned in the minutes of the meeting. He said: |

– There is one thing that shorthand cannot to note, and which I request to be officially recorded: Mr. Cendre, "Just now, brought before Mr. Papillaud," he declared. that he didn't know her. But I want to make a point-Mr. Cendre made this statement after having simply glanced at Mr. Papillaud and nothing more extensive examination, |

478 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

– That's right, added another member, he said: no, without looking.

And, a little later, the cook Cendre recognized Mr. Mascuraud, who could precisely prove that at the date when the inspector had presented himself at Fourvoirie, he had not left Paris.

And so, once again, a ridiculous comedy
It was played out and the audience was fooled.

--

One detail was, however, overlooked when the cook Cendre pretended to recognize Mascuraud, because the Father Dom Michel had previously stated that:

The mysterious visitor, whose name he could not reveal, had the formal intention, of which one could be certain, to do a service to the Carthusians and that he had the strong desire to see them stay in France.

This was hardly the case for Mascuraud, we can agree. dra, while such feelings could very well be attributed with sincere conviction to Papillaud.

In reality, this entire Commission investigation did not- It failed to convince anyone, and Papillaud felt the need to explain his mysterious journey to Pignerol and Grenoble, S a

Jl therefore published an interview with Mer Henry, Bishop of Grenoble, with whom he claimed to have had a long-standing relationship. conversation during his trip.

N espérail thus creates an alibi and gives the impression on the true reasons for his presence in Isère.

But immediately, the Bishop of Grenoble, thus placed in cause, he hastened, by a letter addressed to the Free Pa-. role, and of which we give here some extracts, of con- defeat Papillaud for having lied about the duration of the en- Trevue and for having distorted the nature of his words,

Here is an excerpt from Mer Henry's letter:

AFTER THE MASTER, THE SERVANTS 4179

Bishopric of Grenoble,

Grenoble, July 12, 1904.

Sir, |

Having been away from Grenoble for several days, I only receive visitors at Today, communication of the article concerning me, published in the Libre Parole of July 9th .

The character that the interview takes on, under your pen, that

'You came to ask me in Grenoble, is so completely Disfigured, I feel compelled to issue a denial.

formal to your story.

You first say that you had a long conversation. But I received you just as I was about to start the train to get to a nearby parish; the

The car that was supposed to take me to the station was waiting in the the bishop's courtyard and our conversation actually only lasted a few minutes

a few minutes.

This formal denial, which he should have expected, marran-
He didn't get involved in Papillaud's affairs; he tried again to to counter the blow that was about to be dealt to him by publishing more-Several articles on the more or less real negotiations
from the Waldeck ministry with the Carthusians.

These articles appeared in La Libre Parole on the 9th, I and -
July 12, 1904, under the title The Carthusians and the Ministry
Waldeck-Rousseau. i |

The documents for these articles had been provided to him
by his friend, Edgar Combes, who took advantage of the circumstance to attack members of the pre- ministry
cedent who at that time were at the head of the movement
anti-Combist, led by Millerand himself,

From all this it is evident that the visi-
the Fourvoirie lord, with "the air of a proud upstart", Bearded and pot-bellied, that was indeed Drumont's Papillaud.
who claimed to Father Dom Michel that he wanted to render service to the Carthusians and to desire their continued presence in France.

His relationship with his friend Edgar Combes gave him-

had a special credit and no canvasser could

480 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

better suited than the one who, denounced, compromised himself both the government and the opposition.

Hence, the agreement between the parties to remain silent on this affair and to organize the comedy that was played out at during the sessions of this Commission of Inquiry, known as the Million from the Carthusians.

We can see that Papillaud doesn't look out of place in the Trio of Valets Drumont, and in the chorus of insults and slander of which I was the object in exile, he had to do his part.

year

-

+

CONCLUSION

When I began this work, on the Traffickers
I was still in exile when I was facing anti-Semitism.

Since then, the borders have been opened to exiles
I was able to control everything that was revealed to me during these over the last five years, on the countless trafficking of the Drumont and Co. House

Not only was I able to control everything that had been given to me revealed previously; but, for the past five months, every day

'brought me a new fact and new proof.

Therefore, I had to neglect many interesting things.

and edifying, for I would have needed more than two volumes

'like this one, to be honest.

I gave up on it, but I reserve the right to return to it later.
everything I had to omit if, after the appearance of this

a sequel is necessary to complete the work.
to the series of misdeeds of Drumont and his acolytes.

-Many will also be those of our friends who turn away-will appreciate the indulgence I have shown here towards some political figures who have behaved very badly,
with regard to the Greater West of France and myself,
during those very hard and painful years
tests.

These characters owe this leniency to reasons that all people of good heart will approve; and if I wanted to forget, at least in the present, many betrayals,
acts of wrongdoing or cowardice are done out of gratitude.

16

y +

482 ` THE TRAPPERS OF ANTISEMITISM

affectionate towards loyal and devoted friends, whose devotion to ideas, and affection for the outlaw who
They suffered for them and never denied it.

Yet how many acts of perfidy, of skillful slander, or coarse materials were used to tamp these devotees
to destroy these conditions!

11 It would have been easy for me to take revenge by publishing the whole truth about events and accounts of individuals who attacked me, or allowed me to be attacked, while they were due, at my discretion, and to the spirit of sacrifice which motivated me in all circumstances, before and during the headquarters of Fort Chabrol and during, as since the process de la Haule Cour, a security that they employed against the one who had, despite the calumnies and defamation-
the most atrocious observations, kept "a beef on the tongue".

If men, who have failed in their duty, that 'their dictated the most basic honesty, they behaved

like real enemies; I also had the immense:

moral satisfaction, the only one that really matters for
For me, it's wonderful to see precious friendships born and strengthened.

who comforted and supported me during the most difficult times
_tics and the most distressing aspects of exile.

And because of the "good people" I forgot, otherwise by-
given, to the "others".

I even hope that these will allow me "to continue-to honor this sacrifice to my faithful friends, and that they may not ohli-
will not be able to "sonyenir" me and tell me what I have wanted to keep quiet.

In painful moments, I sometimes found myself convincing,
in the fatal isolation that is the lot of outcasts, of pro-courageous tests, such as the one that Mr. de Lur Sa-Luces sent a letter one day to the newspaper Le Soleil, so as not to...
to allow his name to be associated with the "conspiracy of silence"
organized against an exile, whose... they pretended to forget name, while we were talking about reopening borders. to Fraugais who had not pi ios a enoni de ns de si lon-
years.

"

CONCLUSION | 483

Here is this protest, which was reproduced in the So-the eye of May 30, 1905, much to the displeasure of Drumont and of his gang.

About an interview.

We receive from Count Wuügenre of Eur Saluces the next letter: i - |

Mr. Director,

In the interview, published by Le Soleil on May 27th, I was told lends the following statement: '

You will no longer be satisfied that appeasement will be obtained through simple means.
Three exiles return to France.

It was inadvertently that my interlocutor attributed to me
this way of counting My companions in exile.

Jo, I never forgot that there are four of us and wai not
'please Piñéontiôn de pusser sôús silence ñ. Dêrouiédé that Mr. Jales Güérii, who, in Belgium as in France, at cn
'gervé toutes mas syiipatAiés. È

Jo, I would be infinitely grateful if you would be willing to record this small correction in your journal, etc.
Thanking you in advance, I remain, Mr. Director-téür, to accept the expression of my distinguished consideration.

e Conte E. Dë Lor Salvem.
- Brussels, May 27, 1905. From the ze |

Pits late, at Mieuré of the return of the outlaws, Drumont
— and his gang went to demand Mr. Ernest Renauld, di. rector of Le Soleil, the commitment not to speak of Jules
'Guérin; and to be agreeable to these honorable Trafiquaïits of Anti-Semitism, Mr. Ernest Renauld fii coupe everything that, in the reports or interviews, contained:
cerhant ro refour.enñ France, could displease the director-
"author of Free Speech. THE
This saved Drumont from having to read in 'të Soleit fa réponse very dignified work done by Mr. de Lur Safuces, interviewed by a new recruits hired by Gaston Méry.

484 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTI-REMITISM

This anti-Semite, of recent origin, asked Mr. de Eur Saluzzo: ,

- Mr. Jules Guérin?

He will say this reply: |

- I believe, sir, that you are iaoi at the Free Speech, and everything I could tell you about Mr. Jules Guérin could only be very unpleasant = your newspaper.

The new employee did not insist.

I obtained this detail not from Mr. Lur Saluces, but from ala several journalists present at the incident, who were amused based on the crestfallen expression of Drumont's envoy and Gaston Méry.

This protest by Mr. de Lur Saluces was not the alone. "

Drumont had the following inserted one day in his songbook:
tage, a treacherous note about an e- communication.
Member of the Political Bureau of the Duke of Orléans.

This note was unsigned, naturally, and it "in-
"Went winding" but didn't name me.

I asked Mr. Bézine, the director, the question directly.
from the Political Bureau of the Royalist Party, and he replied to me
a letter too long to be inserted here, but van
In A he told me: | |

That the note, which Drumont spoke of, had never aimed at either our organization of the Greater West of France, nor its newspapers, nor myself, and that he had ever authorized it.
that it may be to distort its meaning and scope.

Drumont had, once again, committed an ignominious act.

And, since I'm talking about the Royalist Party and the Duke of Gold-
I want to destroy one of the is created by Dru-
Mount and its satelllites.

Drumont had various things written or said in 1 killed >
first that Waldeck had made me hand over 200,000 francs, .

CONCLUSION * 485:

– We know that's a price to pay! – to denounce his trafficking –
It was so easy not to commit them! – then, a
. at another time, that it was the Jews who gave me these 200,000 francs – the Jews know the way to the Drumont's treasury, and they know what they put in it!
Finally, to complicate his stories, Drumont had the rumors circulated that the Duke of Orléans was providing Jules Guérin with an annuity.
100,000 francs a year!

I will not dwell on the generosity of Waldeck and the Jews towards me, because until now they have not con-
'- siste only to grant me, with a generosity which I cannot Let us be grateful: trials, searches, arrests
tions, prison and exile.

As for the Duke of Orléans, he would never forgive me for
to allow a similar legend to persist concerning the liber-

realities that Drumont attributed to him so gratuitously.

The truth is that neither the Duke of Orléans, nor any parliamentary politicians have ever given me a single cent to help me to endure prison and proscription; and that at the hours

difficult six years that I have just lived through in Clairvaux and 'In exile, difficult times created by the necessities' of the An ongoing struggle, not for my personal needs, infinite—more modest than those of Drumont or his Inten—However, I only found or asked for help from a few friends. personal or family members. | ;

I would even add that there are charges that still weigh on me and my own people were born exclusively from commitments decisions made during the battle of recent years, which cost us dearly – very dearly –'and in any case.

I said that I had overlooked a number of facts during this study on the Traffickers of Anti-Semitism; and I have He said the truth. SE

I didn't, in fact, talk about Syveton at such length. that he would have agreed, and that it was my right to do so for having been odiously slandered by the one who wrote to me

486" THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM:

vait, fe 26 juin 190, én me demaridant uñ nouveau service _and a new sacrifice:

Don't think us ungrateful, my dear friend, and count on it. particular on the devotion and affection of your property attached, |

Q. Syvaron.

To prove his gratitude, his devotion and his affection, not only did Syveton pay Drumont the expenses of the book signed Spiard, but he personally commissioned—the two patients hospitalized at Fort Chabrol who, as soon as they were released, had undertaken a series of blackmail operations... three me; without success of the resie. |

Hardly had I been imprisoned at La Santé when I received, firstly, a visitor, a first letter full of protests from devotion and admiration, which concluded as follows:

We want to go to the Transvaal with about a hundred friends
combat the English and risk our lives with the Boers.
Would the GKAN Ocoinant want to make us the brother of this shipping #

The Great West fe marcka pas darié$ cefté combi-birth; Because we had learned, from the beginning of the surrender, a number of interesting things on both characters and some of their acquaintances, ns

Therefore, I left their letter unanswered.

A few days later, a new letter reached me,
but this time she was sent directly to prison.
naturally seized, which is what its authors wanted, and inborn to the Cornission of instruction,

Orme, they threatened me with dangerous rebellions.
In my opinion, the two individuals were summoned by the Setiäteur Bérenffés and his colleagues. ne

This threat could move me: and, in prison I n'üVA?S no longer has any voice" except in freedom, l

CONCLUSION | | 487

Two weeks later, yet another attempt at blackmail.

This time I was told about the brother's return to France
of one of the two master-chancours who took refuge in London
as a deserter, and who was determined, I was told, to ren-tre with very serious letters from M. de Lur Saluces.

I calmed the worries of my friends who were frightened
of these works, especially, they rightly told me, that I was facing an exceptional tribunal where everything was to be feared.

I reassured them as best I could, it was heavy, I declared that in
In any case, I will never submit to this blackmail, whatever the circumstances.
that may be the consequences.

Later, in Brussels, while talking with Mr. de Lur Sa-Luces, my neighbor in exile, I knew what had happened to London with the deserter-blackmailer.

He, taking advantage of the fact that his brother's name was famous, would be among those besieged at Fort Chabrol, had solicited a relief from M. de Lur Saluces and the Duke of Orléans, as a Frenchman in poverty, brother of an adversary government official and whose name had just been linked to a resounding event.

The first reason given was sufficient for the remission of aid; it was granted.

Dissatisfied with the amount given or enticed by a pre-As a first result, the deserter threatened to provoke a scandal, then, to return to France to make revelations before the High Court, if he were not paid a large sum of money.

He was turned away in London by Mr. de Lur Saluces, as His two accomplices had been recruited by me in Paris; with in his opinion, that at the slightest new attempt at blackmail, his The case would be referred to the English authorities.

And the character remained in London and kept his distance.

We can see that these collaborators, recruited by Syvôtori, Drumont. and C were well worthy of being included in the troops employed against me, | |

438 TRAFFICKERS OF ANTI-SEMITISM

They were not the only ones.

We probably remember the laudatory articles devoted to... created by a young rascal named Flavien Brenier, in the Free Speech from 1902 at the time of the elections.

Flavien Brenier was among the witnesses of the High Court; and his deposition informed us, with a shock that provoked protests from the part of several senators, that Brunet, the youngest of the accused – he had not yet drawn lots – had been arrested, imprisoned for five months for letters. very that had been written to him by the same Flavien Brenier.

He signed his letters "Flavien Brenier, of the Brothers" "of death!!!"

And, while the author of these letters compromises-aunts, it was said, was free and appeared as a te-less, the one who had received them was imprisoned and brought before the court to the High Court.

Drumont naturally took this Auri- into his service
The liaison of police officer Hennion, who had provoked Varresta:
tion of the young and likeable Brunet.

Another collaborator, whose Hennion report-uses the name on several occasions, as 'author of de-
the accusations made by the High Court against the accused,
A Mr. Rochetal, also known as Claude Aclan, has, since 1899, his Large and small entrances to La Libre Parole.

He is the official graphologist of Drumont and Gaston!
Méry and he works at both Libre Parole and Echo du Wonderful.

The collection would not be complete if I did not mention-
There was also a gentleman from Liège, a correspondent of Drumont and Devos in Marseille.

This individual had slipped into the Soleil du Midi and, one day,
The editors of this royalist newspaper discovered that their new collaborator had been specially accredited dited by Heunion, to Mr. Lesbres, special commissioner.
cial in Marseille, to provide information on

CONCLUSION 489

opposition parties in general, and on the organization
royalist in particular.

The indisputable evidence of the role of Liégeois alongside from the Special Commissioner of Marseille were given to Mr. Fournier, one of the shareholders of Soleil du Midi.

Mr. Fournier and his friends chased the informer away.
announced, and this was reported from all sides, notably to Drumont, with whom he nevertheless remained a correspondent.

Drumont kept it; indeed, this man from Liège; and, on the day when protests occurred, numerous and individual-_gnées, he assigned him a well-chosen sub-correspondent.
That one too.

He was a reporter for a Dreyfusard newspaper who had had been involved, a year earlier, and very actively, in the attemptstives of attacks against anti-Jewish deputies, denial

– in France after their election, and against Rochefort during of his trip to Algiers. | a

'\ We can see where Drumont's sympathies lie and we will wonder what powerful motive compels the director to Free Speech to fight the most dis- activists devoted to antisemitism, for being interested only in the fate the Mérys, the Devos, the Spiards, the Breniers, the Rochetal, dus Liégeois and other individuals of the same ilk, Police officers, informers, blackmailers form a _ association of individuals united by their natural affinities, by their vices and their needs; and the trouble they accomplicity is only dangerous when it is ignored or when one makes the mistake of believing it to be negligible.

Do I still need to mention a successful operation of Drumont against the Monte-Carlo Casino, including the Libre Parole, in its early days, did not sing precisely the praise, which taught the director of this house

a game, a "song" of which Drumont had given Ia nafe. Drumont took advantage of this "blackmail" to peel ten of his shares at the price of 20,000 francs and to reproduce

in the Free Word of great announcements, on delights

isg ff

490 THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

from the French Riviera and Monte Carlo, advertisements on the- which, says the Kling report, which I have already mentioned, Dru- Mont-Devos levied heavy commissions.

It was useful, even essential, to make known all of this to the public, in order to show them the inner workings of the policy practiced by a clan of merchants, who have been playing on people's credulity for far too long. blique.

We will now understand how and why- all the efforts of the Opposition, all the dedication-

All the sacrifices were rendered sterile.

There is no real opposition; for if some:
The humble are faithful and devoted; those who have the pre-
The intention to lead them are the prisoners, the associates or accomplices of the men they appear to be fighting.

It is the bad shepherds who shear the flock.
waiting to sell it to the highest and final bidder.
laugher.

When I left the halls of the High Court for going to live in prison for several years and in
In exile, I said to my adversaries who had become my judges (1):

We have revolted against you and against the re-regime that you imposed on us and we sought to-

a round of no's for those who, as much as we did, had suffered |

and we brought them together.

In doing so, we acted within the limits of our rights;
we will know how to continue this work and pursue it until-that on the day when what we want will be consecrated by final acts.

If we cannot do it, because you will have Convicted, let me tell you that, even deep down

From my prison, I will have a satisfaction that will compensate me for

All my sufferings and all my pains: I will have done
my duty.

(1) Shorthand report of L'Éclair,

IE

CONCLUSION | 491

I have striven to fulfill this duty without regret.
and without fear; I fought those whom I considered corner our opponents and I gladly sacrificed everything-trusted in battle.

Drumont later revealed to me that we still had other enemies to fight and that he was at their head.

And, against him and against his accomplices I continued, without fear and without weakness, to do my duty.

This duty is now fulfilled; if it requires others I am ready to make the sacrifices.

But what I also want is that no one can doubt-to testify to my sincerity and loyalty, in the fight that I was forced to engage against men whom I believed my friends and assumed they were like me, and as much that I am devoted to our cause.

Therefore, I cannot better end this final chapter of my book, by recalling the offer we made (1), from the first hour of the conflict created and desired by Drumont, to destroy and eliminate an organization and a man whose independence hampered his political maneuvering financial. . OF

I therefore offer, even today, to Drumont and his accomplices, the formation of a Jury of Honor which will manage my actions and theirs; and, if I have not told the truth

(4) Here is the note published in several issues of Anjijnif in particular May 35th, June 4th and 8th.

HONORARY JURY OR ARBITRATION COURT

Messrs. Gaston Méry and Dovos claim that it is the Anti-Future, the Great West from France and our friend Jules Guérin who wanted and sought controversy current, to sow disorder among the anti-Semites.

They lied and they still lie! We have been proposing, for over six months, your constitution of a Jury of Honor or an Arbitration Tribunal, whose Members will be chosen, half by them and half by us, to decide the dispute which they have created and for which they retain responsibility.

We have stated, and do state again, that if it is established that the Anfijuif - did not tell the whole and absolute truth in the articles he published We offer to acknowledge it and make a public apology.

We are still awaiting acceptance from these gentlemen and we leave it to them Sincere and convinced anti-Semites have the responsibility of judging whose loyalties lie.

not the franchise.

—AOR THE TRAFFICKERS OF ANTISEMITISM

And only the truth, I promise to apologize to them.
public. Sn |

But, if Drumont declines this offer once again
Through a fair debate, he will be definitively judged and convicted.
by all honest people and by all loyal supporters and convinced of a water 'which he exploited as a mercanti, like a Frafiquani without honor and without scruple-
pules. |

Jules GUÉRIN.

March 15, 1906.

pmp, Centrale de Paris, 48, ruo Saint-Sauveur. —A, PLOCQUE, Riregfsuÿr

enr Gt à ue ttes

+
PO SEE EEE p E
+

ALPHABETICAL INDEX

HAS

Bee, 242
.1cHion liberale . 404, 433 424
Actan (Claude), see Ro-

Chetal ©. % + + a + 0th
Aigouin. $i Alphan. . 143

demand. ; 242
Amette (Sea) 432

The Friends of Moers (Les) 'oi at 93
271

101.

Friends + Life (The)

! "7%6

a 'ai, 34.97, 406,

KE 137, 144 to 143,452,

453, 457, 465, 183, 284, 289,

is

Arton. . 64, 101, 133, 450,

45i, 455

: 438

28, 292, 29, 354,

382, 367, A6, 450

242

Aùcoin. eee..

Auditor-Pasquin, . . . %3

nude (L). . 24, Es

ur (om.).

At PRE 311

Aunay (a). 334

Aurora (r)296 to 299, 359, 367

B

Baduel oo 6% . + 243

Ballière. 198

Catholic Bank 316

Railway Bank 318

State Bank. . . . 379

Bank of the French... 360

Bank of France... 49

Bank of French Industry

Fe A 376

Banque Lyonnaise. 376

Trade union bank . . _ 3

Baraine, , 462

Baranton 303, 304, 306

Beard + E 5 to + 64

Barbey.. 242

Barodet. i

Barrès YI, 212, a, 248

Barrier....: Ee
Barrillier 198
Barzin 468
Basire . . ,..... 242
Bassinet # 4 ss o A + + 242

494

Bastide. .,. , ...
Baranes (de) . . « 320
arry (of vi)
bel, aa
Béral. ...
Bérenger . - 158, <
Berlin. 2143
Bernard (senator).
Bernard (Octave), proeu
general return near the
High Court, 142, 186, 195,
210, 212, 214, 248 to 220, 295,
» 280, 233, 234, 240 to 242
Bernhard (banker no. 284)

Bernheim. . Sr dire 16

| Bézine (senator) . . ,
Bézine e 2 p,
Bidault...
Beloved Admiral io2
Real estate...
Bien Public (Le) 267, 269
Bl (Jacques). 4, 8 48

Bio ot (0 «+ + 330 s
Biron NT 41.58, «+.
Bot de s Fontenÿ ; A White, senator, .,.
Blanco, secretary of the

has

`- Prince Victor. . . . 310

who. s , . 253

Bleynie. . . . , . . . , 661
Bloch (EK). , . . . 4143
Bloch (Marc). , . . . 143
Blois, (Count of) ... - Bloum 143
Bodinier '24
Boisandr  ee) 18, 46, 83, 133,

491, 407 to 440
Boissel ee.. 242
Boivin, . . 222 to 2315
Bonnefille, 243

Bonnefoy-Sibour. . . . 242
"Butcher shops, military... a: 40

| Caisse des Mines LS

ALPHABETICAL INDEX

Butchers of La Villelle. 165
182,448
Bourgeat. . . , . . . , . 242
Beurmont (de). ... 156
Bou tier, 29, 294, 357 to 362
Breni:r . . 488 489
Breton us 343
aaor (Jules) . 253
Brisson, 125
Bruand. CE
Br el, . . 242
Brunet. 457, 198, 213-488
Brunet, senator. 242
Buffet (Andr  156, 240, 242
45, 248, 250, 251, 422
Buffet (Eug nie).

Financial bulletin (of the Li.

Br ma 1! de) 418
etin municipi

Buscaille, 2. >... 462

C.

Cabart-Danneville, . . 243

] Caen (René), des Clas-

his Laborious Women, 221 to 223

227, 339, Tmi 874

Cah % + s È o 143

Cahen (Benjamin). 143

Cahen (Oscar). 143

Cahn et Cie. , . ..

er ahu (Theod.) ss . 2

ux. b . L 2

Cailly.

376

Comrades of the TMR, a

243 | Cambon (Jules).

Carné (de) . . : : . :

Casabianca (de)...

243.

Casa-Riera (M" de) 264 276

Chaudefontaine Casino THE 376

307, 320

Casse-Gueule(The s

1, 323, 325

Coie (Count, Boni

e).

+ .

122, 124, 168, 457.
498, 213

4146
9.

192, 403, 405, 202
72 2B, 277

ALPHABETICAL INDEX

. + è + +

Caussidière. . . . 71 135
Cavaignac (Godefroy) 277,281
Ashes 470, 416, 477, 478
Deer. E 143
Sr TES i, koi 408
Chabannes (Yin, powder).
Treatment of) i, 299, 390
'398,448
Chabert. - -> 64
Chantagrel 242
Chantémille. 242
Chappedelaire (ms 231
Charavay. = ~ . 234
'Chararhanagrs de Co-
pr nia (Treatment of) Cir
will laugh
1,268, B40 "an
at 400
Chaumié. . . . E 39i
Chevrier star 4 E. « Fa
Chiarisolo . 407 4
Chovet. c...e -> 233
Christopher. . 45, 49 to bi;
Clairon de La Villette . . 309
Claeys t + > e + k è -242
Ciamageran... "... 242
Working Classes 311 to 373
Clemenceau, 72, 13
55 to 71 92
Clément, >» «sse 140
The Cockade, . 40 60
Cochin (Denys). 200

Cælio. , . . sss oa 82
Cohen . . « .. 18
Cohen (E.): . 143
Colonna- d'Istria. 252
Combes (Edgar). "416 447
474, 476, 479
Combes (Emile) 242, 317 401
Committee II UIF 28
Omi Nattona is anti-Jewish.
| oia aoi 305
Royalist Committee" o... 439
General Company of Mines, oe 377
Capir Narea des ren-376

s

r

Conscience (François), . 48 45, 46, ig a

Financial advice (The). . , Cooperative (Eaj: P 381)
"The ogpéralion".
a 384
Coappée (François). 190
Correspondence Marc... 375
osquin. ee + + + . 438
Coste. . . . «+ . + - . 242
ro nancière (La) 376
(M°). So, 453 Fa
a. EE
Cravoisier . . . 440 it

Crédit foncier AT at 54, 53, 68
Credit re Sia 379
Crénienz-Foa

The Cry of Paris. 436,157
Crozet-Fourneyron .. 22
Cuvinot. . e.. e.. 64
D

Daïlemand .. 310

Darbot, . + . + : . o 242
Darosberg. . 339, 369. 370
Daudet (A! to.). 405 406
Daudet (Léon): +. 293 #5
David ee. 132
Deandreis. . 2A2
Dejean è 159, 118, 285 340

EisaR, e. e 448 45i

elcras. o. se.' . RAR
Dataa (The)... 70
Dellestable. + 243
Delobea. : 243
Deéloncle « . + 64
Dee RE E
Demachy 60 62
Done (D François) sae
Demôle... se... - 242
Denis +. + + + s 242
Denoix, . : .. + + v.. 242
Depréux . , + 242

496

Deroulède
192, 195, 197, 198, 200 to 212
214, 215, 240, 242, 244, 245
248, 250, 251, 264, 274 to 277

458, 483
Desbarres 294; 343, 862, ru

Demons... 242
Desprez, . 242
Destieux-Junca . 242
Deutsch. . . . 66

122, 126, 127, 135, 166, 173
1%, 481, 190, 191, 239,

288, 204, 206 to 301, 305
0 314, 318, 391, 393,
331 to 333

347 to 354, 354 to 367, , 369, 370

gi, 374, it at 386, $39

415, 488 to

Devos (Ms.) 349 to 351, 369
452, to 454, 459

The Devil on Four (Le Diable à Quatre) 324, 325

Central Distillery . . .
The Flag. 195, 204, 374
276 to 278, re

+. + + è +

' 346
Dreyfüs ur 64 79
Drouhet,

242
Drumont 1243, 5a 8, '10 to 43
45 to 38, 40 to 54, 56, 60 to 97

1024 117,119 to 135, 137,138

149, 445 to 147, 150, 451, 159
162 to 164, 166,167, 169, 179 to
| AT 176, 179 to 181, 187, 190
198, 195, 197, 203, 914

20, 292, 225, 996
299, 233, 236, 237, m 242
243, 24T at 9,

97, 124, 125, 456 |

ALPHABETICAL INDEX

58
pe
Or

472 to 475, 480, 483

Dubois

. è ò ù à + + +

Words... i

Dubost" 242

Dubuc "97, "422 to 124, 7

Duchêne (The Mother) 307, 333, yt |

Duchêne-Fournet . . ;

Ducret, Se t

Duüfeuille 195, 205

Dumay (Gaston), 9, 89, 92

, 98, 147

Dumont ..

Dupin de Valène. 44, rue

Dupuy Ch.); 420

Durand- avoyat. . . . 242

Duval (Georges). . 46, 407

E

Echo of the Marvelous there;

Echo de Paris (L') . . 363

Eclair (L') 226, 244, 363, 490

- Elissagara (añ. l 123

Flissagaray (d). . . . 95

Essirard, +. + + + «+ 349, 350

F r

Fabre. 465, 184, 389 to 394

Failières . <... .., 243

Faralicq - 401, 416 to 419

Farinole 241, 242

Farny (Colonel de) s.. 40

INDEX - ALPHABETICAL

Faure, (commissioner of police) Faure { elix) . a Faar Firmin) 133, 134, 160

275, 216, 219, 402, 434, re

Faure (Sébastien) es 121,253
Fayard, . ~. 24 2, 42 , 313
Fayot. . ' 243 Ferronnays (Marquis of
E 4 42

"72.7%, 92.214
347, 318, 334, 335
International Financier (The) The Daily Financial (The)

e ù + + %

Fischer. . © 107, 404, 130
Flandin. «+ «+ 47%
Fleury . . +. 20

. ... 448
For Chabrol Le) ka a 137

\ 184 186,193 to 195 10, 129, 213

216, 237, 238, 240, 333,
419, 494, 460, 471, 482, 486, 487
Fortier . ava

Fournier . . . + es 189
Fousset. + $ se æ 242
France (The) © to' ie ~e 159
re je ri m: r A Jewish France

21 61, 265, 266,

t

274, 3, 214, 339, 351, 437
François (Dom. . , 399

Fra | 242
Fréchencourt (de): . 156

Fre 243
Freycinet (de) ið, A '210, 211
Fribourg . . « + 9%
Wheat. « . . « + + 242

243

Fruchier ++
G

Gadobert 33, 41, 53, 54, 437
Gailly e * Š: . + * ee 243

EEES

497

Galleries Lafa ayetle . i 375
Galli, . . 497 – Aå
Galliffet (Gen. KA 145 182)
Galtier . . . 242

Balzan's Seine 243, 470
Garreau « – : 24

The Gauls (Le Gaulois) 69,83, 213, 325,379
Gauthier | e 4 242

Gautier (Emile). 253
Gazelle of the Courts. + 357
Gérault–Richard 86, FU

Manager o

$3

these + + *

Gi' Blas Jas (Le): 6, 450, 454, i4
Gill (André
Girard aed na

Girard (Th s.. > 242
Girault. ... o.. o 242
Godefroy + « 4156
Odin. l «ee + + + + 242
Gomot «+ 64,243
Goujon des à a

Greater Western France.
, 97, 119, 124, 422, PH

127 to 129, 137, 139, 146, 147
151, 156, 163 to 465, 168, 169
182, 183, 185, 186, 192, 195
202, 204, 209, 210, 214, 245
224, 278, 283, 284, 288, 280
295, 300, 302, 304, 340, 353
859, 427, 428, 449, 456, 413

? ? ?

er Orient, ee
Grenier (Capre) 100, 155, 196
Grévy (the president). . 445

Grévy (General) . . . 2
Grimaud > sss
Grodet e»

498 ALPHABETICAL INDEX

Gruson. .., ,... t Hennion. . 159, 347, 488
rs A 45/0. 243 on the ... 253
Guérin (Ju es) 3, 24, 40, 84 | Henry. '436

86, 97, 98, 102 to 404, 106
107, 442, 143, 416, 1e 120
124, 125, 128, 129, 133 to 135
139, 442, 144, 146, 454, 161
164, 165, 169, 170, 174, 186

224 to 296, 232, 234, 236, 241
243 to 245, 247 to 249, 251, 958
263, 264, 272, 217, 280,

286

, ; 305

309, 310, 343, M5, 318, 332

333, 390, 409, 443, 415, 422

424 to 428, 3, 466, 473, 475, 4176

483 to 485, 494, 492

Guérin (Louis). 146, 188

Henty (Mrs.) | . 461

Henry (Mgr). . » 478

Hertz (Ornelius) 69, 72, 73

75, 16, 71, 92

Heymann, . 342, 343

Hinstin (General, 10)

Hoste |.. 307; 334 466

Hostein...: 159

Hostess, . , . ,... 467 ,

Houdaille (Octave). 7 to

Huguet Sete « 242

qu ae

'Hulst (Mgr

Humbert (Case) 301, 339

343, 344, 406

189, 191, 234, 286, E |

Guillemaut, , . ' :,,

Guixou-Pagés 495.238 to 240 I

Guyot (Yve re, 64

Cuyot-Lay ns. . . . 242 Inflexible A 307, 323, 3%

Gyp. . . a 150, 421, 422 329, 380, 882

of in ES 51: da, tog"

nira an.

H 2, 363, 364 364, 444, 445, 446 .

Habert (Marcel). 156, 207, 448

209, 423, 468 | Israel +... 143

Halgan. 243 |

Hamard 156, abr, 250, 254, 252

Haranchi y. 195, 216, ET: J

219, 221, 226, 233, 234, 235

, 468, 467 Jacquy mn 160, 164

Ed. to R5 173

Havar (Òscar) | ` 433, 434 | Jaluzot. ., 60, 300-

Havas (Agency). 170 | Japy (General). RENE

Baigo diar Des Portes ` pe audhuin,

rt

aurés, '495, 197, '256, 216

Anti-Semitic Youth; 97, 110

422, 123, 1247

Day LS i 36, 37

The Journal, pp. 307, 313, 314

Journal (Small) ... 267, 269, 363

Jan "eh a" 283

COUV us à e's

Haulon. 5 s

The High Court, 120, 123

171, 173; 184; 185; 186, 19

195, 196, 197, 198, 200,

210; H4, 26, 247, 218, 220

224, 225, 283, 234, 235

249, 243, 246, 282, 286, 308

` . 482, 490

Hayard (Napoleon) 320, 323

INDRX ALPHABETICAL

Lebaudy. 1, 407, 408

(ne Maine) ' 245, FE

Cae (Louis), 228, 224

(Jacques) 8, dE

Lefranc

Leludice s, è . 2 9% .

Lelièvre, 242

Lemaitre (Jule B) 264, 280

Lépine 62, 120, 124, 13T

48, 150, 151, 156; 170, 172

174, 187, 190, 105, 196, 199

200, 246, HT, 401

142, 43, 46, 447, TE

The Pia: nd nr Se Dr

Leporché, ss.. 282

The Provost of Launay 214,243

Leroux . e... A3

Tao (Gas ston) 314

Kling. . 294, 295, 351, 490 | Leroy-Bsaulieu Anatole Í, to.

Klotz. eeste.. 443 Tics Lars ua)

Knight. . o. e + 242 | Lesonef, es

Kropotkin ++ 253 | Levaillant (vale) - ... 12

Kuenzi, + + + 41, 60 | Le Veillé, . . , . . 60,61

kisses E AS 189

er Lévy (Achille) . . 143

Daniel Levy, 143

Labiche 242 | Lévy (H)... aa' .. 143

Labori ... seses 443 | Lévy Nathan) 143

Labrous 242 Leydet. e "so e. + + eè 242

Labruyère (G. de) 79, 85 to 87 | Libermann - . . 143

Lamarzeli e (e e.. 243 Liberty (The) 5, 79, "265, "267, 268

Lamase....: se 40 Anbisémite Bookstore. 436, 459

Jambs. 451 | Free Speech 1, ALT 6, 7, 13 to 18

Lang. . . e es- + 143 24 to 27, 29 'to, from to

Lang (Moses). 143 | 41, 43, 46 to 48, 6, 8

Lantern (The) . . e. . 372 54, 56 to 59, 61, 62, Ei 70

Laroche D' Félix) 386, 390 73, 78 to 81, 83 to 88,

Lasies 137, 160 to 162, 164, 176 to 97, 403, IT

` 48i, 184, 195, 202, 203 i 142, 444 to 149, 422, 125, 128

212 to 21, 302, 308, AE | 129, 142, 145, 454, ee 164

5 Lasserre + òè ù # č a 9% %4 i 166, 167, 173, 190, t

aei AE 222, 225, 233, DE 242

Laterrade. . s e . + 242 255, 258, 259, 264, 273, 216

Laurens. ". » + s. 242 283 4,286, 289 to 295, 298

Laurent Charles): 36, 37, 300 to 303, 306 to 308, 315 to

Lazarus (Bernard). 19,320, 323, 831, 337 to

348 to 350, 353 to 355, 359

360, 382 to 365, 370 to 372

374, 375, 871 to 384, 390, 394

395, 404 to 403, 405, 407, 410

ya 4 447, 420 to 424, 426

20, 433, 434, 436 to 440, 442

ri 44T, 448, 450, 452 to

459! 461, 462, 464, 465, 469

$70, 472, 474, 418, 479, 483

488, 480

Free Speech Hiustrée 45, 55, 57

58, 59

Liégeois . . e. 488, 489

*_ 453, 454

Ligny

Algerian leagues.

nes 0 b + 9% o + é ó + iiá

500

10

| League ae antisemiti inque og 4, Fe 8, of 107

109, di: a 117 RCE to 122

128, 138, 139, 165, 239, 246

280, 200, 294, 295, 341, 31

izi Human Rights League

League of Patriots. 124.1

98, 202 to 204, 206 to 208

210, 271, 272, 275, 216

Patriotic League of the Franguises oee' 'e 404

Law aa Sue iS 66, 67

Loubet . s...» 46i

Pea Datua 4 xa

D LL of

Da M0 R ec ae

Lars nn. If at de) ,

482 at 46h, 187

Luther D. 2. 260 to 262

M

Macé-Berneau . . . + 3717

e > 243

Magne. 160, 164, 169, Se

Magnin. sa to a

Maillard . . , . . 245

Maillé (de) + 243

Malavant, para 30 299

3,400

Maillet... 195, 246 to A8

224, 225, 235, 333

Malézieux . , . .

Manasseh . . 249, 250
Manini (Louis). 314
Mantoux . . , 148
Maquenehem PE 248
Marcère (de), . 243
Marcha! de Bussy. "4, 135
307, 323 to 329, 331, 333
335 to Marchant (J.)..
Maret (Henri) . š "Zi 287
Maret ...,..... 248
Lad's Wedding + + èe b * 143

ALPHABETICAL INDEX

Marie (Dom) 340, 383 to 385
389, 392, 393, 398, 400, n

Marie (The old woman), 296
298, 437
Marguet de Vassclot,

sculptor. , . , .. 460 Martel 1 Marie) a 432 .
artell. + + + + 9 243
Mascuraud sss. 48
Massard, ... e 160, 170
Masson, , 439
Masson, lawyer. . . . 454
Morning (The). 307, 314, 476
Maurras (Charles).
+ 292, 293, 466
Mauvrac (Julien) Sd. ee - 12
Mayer (Cp) 424
Mayer 143

Mainz, . ." 158, of 177

179, 193
Mayol de Lupé.
Mênard(dosaph) See after letter 7
M ' 242

* + e è è

> a è 4 o

is, 2, 30, 31

1.73, 74

79, 81, 82, M to 93, 94

97, 105, 118, 119, 129, 135

137, 142, 164, 166, 173, 174

179, 181, 193, 195, 203, 211

212, 220, 222, 224 A226,

229, 231A 235 236

317, 344, 358, 386, 401 1 D

426, 437, 444, 453, 455 to 458

464, 470, 472, 473, 484, 488

480, 491

Méry (Mr), 416, 431

ry (Léon) . . A6

Messenger of Savings. + . 376

Meyer (Arth 7

"83, 21

Michel (Dom), 1208, 478, 479

| Millaud (Senator) . . 242

NATIONAL LIBRARY

Disinfection 19

wg#g2(3

ALPHABETICAL INDEX

Millerand . . 137, 142, 144

145, 167, 182, Era 479

Millet . . : .

Millevoeye. 197, 170, 181

See 190 9, 105, 129; 458

"Miller 242

Milliaud (Moses) 261

375 Views

Milliès-Lacroix, : . . 242-

Million. 242
_ Biabaux Mines. 371
Mines of Hérault... STI
Rap Gold Minis 376
Mir: ; . 942
. Mires. , 269, 337
– Moitry . e. ese'... 9
: ` Monestier oaeae: A2
` Monis 182
Monniot pee > 46
: 105, 249, 407, 436, 4142
Montégut. . 160, '444 to 447
+ Montoya 296
Moréas. , . . . 406

Mores 1, 3, 8, 9, 11, 48, 16

'at 40, 40, ât, 46, 60, 62, 65

69 to 72, J4 to 8i, Bia 92 |

94 to 10i, 104, 110, 112, 138
440, 146, 293, 224, 249, 272
8U, 424, 436, 459, 460, i

Mi and her friends 1, 2, 9, 42
61; 91, 97, 99, 401, 138; 402

Morice.. se + a +. 496
: Morinaud. te at K 981, 291
– Moro–Gianfferi. . . : . 309

Mortar. , 248
Mougeot .. . « 486, 442

4 «e è + ss

Mou 244
Mouro SB 40, 41.321 to 323, in 426

. Mun (Albert de). SA: at Mürger (Henri). . . .

N

– National (The). . . 90, 22.40

Norton. , 71,72

Nioche, 242

501

Noriot 244, 247, 248

–Napoleon mi.. 269, 270

Napoleon (Prince Victor)

309, 310

Naquet. FA, 275

Black (Victor) 836

The Bordeaux Newspaper

433, 434

O

Oswald Tia See

to his rh

Odel 26, 38, 4

15, “60; 807, s, E 3z

Obissier Si– Marti A Si

Olida. ee 28

Ollivier. , . . , . . . 243

Propaganda work an–

Hijuide (L). 439

Oppenheim {Baron R.)

$329, $342, $343, $344

Orléans (Duke of). 203; 205

253, 284, 289, 292, 298, 484

485, 487

309

108, 116, 173, 179, 198

P

Pagniez AE TE.

Palmé (D)

Papillaud (A.). 85, wT, 404,
118, 137, 461, A 168, 173,
474, 481, 299, 303, 339, 364,
394, 404, MT, RC sas,

a Lis (D°). ;

Paquin e . . . ,

Paris (Count of).

Parissot . .

National Party Auf

The Homeland.

French Homeland. Cl 12, 179

220, 278, 280, 281, 283, 332

348, 438, 434

Otta

ORo

Pauliac, 243

Pauliat 243

Deerskin 243

Peixoto. , 370

Pellieux (General of) . . 195
203, 210

Pesquidoux (de). . . . 334

Perréa! + + . 243

Pereire (The) . . 5, 79,
"204 to 269,337

Petit (Pierre). 145

. Petit Bleu (Le), from Brussels ai

The Little Blue Book of Paris. 466

The Little Republic.

Ste-Marie Oil (The) 315

its SL SH E 243

143

Pichon (Stephen). 228

Pichon - 438

'Pierard (M°). 55, 57, 67

Pinard, . . . >. 329

Piot . . - . . + + + 243

Piou... 264, 282, 283

Keia Do says 2

due 247

Pontbriand (de). 289

Ponthieu (of) . . . <. 462

Door, e ee e 260

'. Possien CE 160, 170, 172

444 to 447

Pottier... e=... 438

Poughéol, - 462

Pradal- . 243

Pressenssé (de) ` 121

res RE e ae 243

ugliesi-Conti. 282

ud 120, 124, 487, 140

Then 154, 456, 174, 178, 184

, 307, 317, 332

Pupin ... ess' 225

R

Radhen (Bns of) . 63

Radical (The) . . + . . 423

Reinach

| Rochefort (Henri) 85, 86, 272

307, 324 to 3217,

ALPHABETICAL INDEX

Ramel (de).

Ra

in DA elass

Raynaud (Mary) 107,

Redon

Rep RUN

Regismanset . .

Reinack (Jacques ee 65

(oseph) 64, a, , 205

has

PE Ernest).

area in to

Reuilly Cooperation

Rey bbé) . 393, na"

Rey (Senator) . Š

P Ve a mie

KRingat.

Robert (iron and steel)

Roblin 195, 216, 218:

226, 229

Roche (Commissioner) - "183

to 331.

335, 1336, 436, 454 to 441, 489

Rocheport (M). 445, 446

Roae . . 160, 488, =

Re EC. 7 495, 20

Rollan

>. oe 9%

443

IAH 47, 48, 424.

, 143, 264, 275, 448

KoE

Rouf. . . ,. e.

Rousseau, 243.

Rousselot (erandi, 5 ga

Roux (Berari) 9,

tii, too 178

! 35

Rouyer T

ochais (Vincent

Richard : 1

462

Roze.. . . . A

D = ~

PS

Féux JUVEN Bookstore, 122, Rue Réaumur, Panis Re x

wo

e + Latest News: a

Confessions of a Princess

has

(eurnal of in Princess of Saxony) Ì

We remember the adventures of the Princesses of |

'Saxony and the tutor Giron. The heroine comes from 8th grade | decide to publish the ges des faits et son lyre., i

–opens one, one of the most curious days on the vi M pi da |

–çt lea mœurs. fc ie petites co . To:

maades. .,..... . baebeea SE i

Memoirs of Dr. Pope Gapose |

(The designs of the Russian Revolution) — ` . > z

We know the role played by Pope Gapone in;

| First Russian revolutionary demonstrations.
Good story, poignant moments; at the same time
Qie, a carac tique, is an euperbe ET

+ E as ss ss te + 0h
= ` ' zy CA LEE
L int ie + DÉ S ES PR RE TL
no CT Pt to
At Pres 3 #3

ui edie ancGamites Lo ont pas: eut sous
: Eo: če of this book. Spicy, anecdotal story
e pEr st dosomenta obrage, qu'iltustrént den ji

ž: Bretises phe ogräphi es dès RE . "3,8

Eo.

The Germans
The A. STÉPH pa

> ei F RS
The Women of the Second Eere
i ni PR Loue oi

the Pai of | Set did

6 volumes at 3.50 francs each – Each volume, complete. – BORN at

Damaged text – defective binding
NF Z 43-120-11

French

English

Full text of " Jewish Russia "

See other formats

. _ . jm & . [^SUâi^u^â^

m

t?

Presented! to the LIBRARY of the

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

by the

Miriam Neveren

MEMORIAL LIBRARY BEQUEST

Digitized by the Internet Archive

in 2010 with funding from

University of Ottawa

<http://www.archive.org/details/larussiejuive00wols>

JEWISH RUSSIA

AVAILABLE AT THE SAME BOOKSTORE

Free shipping

upon receipt of the prize in a money order or in postage stamps.

COLLECTION IN-18 JESUS AT 3 FR. 50

Henri Conti.

Intimate Germany, 4th edition.

Charles de Ere.

The Romance of the Imperial Prince, 7" éu'i ion.

Leon Tikhomirov.

Conspirators and Policemen (Memoirs of a Ruisa outlaw).

Gregor Saraarow.

The Collapse of an Empire (1503 1-71).

Sce,iti-es et Couronnes (Sadowa), 2 vol.

Mines and Countermines (.YLntana), 2 vols.

Joseph Nue.

From Paris to Frankfurt.

Elie Poirée.

Home rule (Irish customs) 2nd edition.

Charles Virmaître.

Paris fading away, 2nd edition.

Shelley.

Complete poetic works, trans. Rabbe, 3 vols.

IMPIUMSRIS EMILE COLIN, AS V\NT-GSULIAIÎI

KALIXT DE WOLSKI

THERE

JEWISH RUSSIA

/7?ô7

PARIS

NEW PARISIAN BOOKSTORE

ALBERT SAVINE, PUBLISHER

18, RUK DROUOT, 13

1887

All rights reserved.

ff

FOREWORD

A new current has carved its silence-
age in literature.

It was probably bound to happen.
because that's what happened.

However, since this movement is anti-Semitic, it
A source must have overflowed somewhere
part, or that a dike has been breached.

In any case, the current will go far.

Anti-Semitic literature is obviously the product, still somewhat hasty,
of an instinctive and unconscious fear
in the face of the constant invasions of Modern Jew. There is fear in the camps.
Christians; we count ourselves, and soon we will decide.

VI FOREWORD

It would be unfortunate if the timid attempts of a purely defensive literature fus-They felt slightly judged. The mockery, if incisive of the Jews and the guilty insou-
the current generation's ciance will be able to in the long run, to overcome the generous soft-movement that makes its way through Semitic anger and the astonishing naivety Christian beliefs. The little ones and the humble, I mean the Christians and the Aryas, of Gallic, Germanic and race
Slavic people, I imagine, have the right to defend themselves.
and even with a bit of roughness, the some remnants of their fortunes, which the
the ever-rising tide of Semitism has not yet carried away. We shouldn't that the timid Christian might become too accustomed to
to bear his yoke bravely and that,
Poor, ashamed man, he resigned himself to the role of a vanquished man, all the more so, as they were astonished by their victory, the Jews will soon be embarrassed.

So let's get to work! Let's get to work! And since

FOREWORD VII

The path is open, let's move forward without hatred, but also without fail.

It would be regrettable if the movement literary, given the public's taste preferentially gravitated towards stories that repeat to the reader what he already knows or what he thinks he knows – all seasoned of additions that are more or less correct and more or less entertaining.

The general public doesn't much like to ap- to take, fears having to be surprised without understand, and hesitates lazily to- before the aridity of a serious study. However, The study of the Jewish Question involves a appeal to the forces of meditation and calculation.

The work we are presenting to the public The public is serious and profound. The author has par- ran through countries where large agglomerations Jewish actions revealed the game gears and the force mechanism driving force; the darkness that hid from the Christians, the folds of Jewish consciousness were uncovered by the author. But This is only a beginning, a pre- preparation for the study of the mysterious world where the weapons that enslaved are forged the economic independence of the Polish people, Russians, Hungarians, and Romanians hands.

VIII FOREWORD

The author has demonstrated great lucidity. cidity of mind by designating, without hesitation- without hesitation, the admirable and the Kahal's sinister institution, as source of all cohesion, community and Jewish solidarity. To the great evils of its proscribed and abhorred race, Israel op-

The great remedy was proposed: the Kahal!

The author studies this learned organism,
not disdaining to dwell on the details and symbolic ceremonies,
sometimes seemingly futile; devi-nant, with the intuition of a member of a proscribed nation, that everything is serious in the arrangement of a power called upon to save-towards the individuality of a race.

FOREWORD IX

And who knows if the meditations of the au-
the author sometimes did not lead him to fire from the study of the Kahal teachings for the use of many a more sympathetic cause-ethical?...

But for the Kahal to have been able to im-
to establish, as a sanctuary of solidarity Jewish, it was necessary that the game of all organa-nism, superior to selfish aspirations mercantilism was diminished, slowed down, or
The kid was completely devastated.

The convergence of Jewish interests had to be reduced to only achievable desires
by the community of action, to observe-advance of the rules of strategy of an inexorable discipline. The baggage that weighs down the the Aryan's march, - nationality, the Homeland, progress - so many burdens of which the Semite must not be and is not
Not embarrassed!

Indeed, the Jews do not constitute a Neither nationality nor a state, and their religious life
their very life is intertwined with their lives here-

FOREWORD

vile. But this is a richly endowed race endowed with everything that unifies, marks and acccentue the cruelly militant races.
Truths of a purely practical nature,
these truths, these rules that guide them in the battles they wage against Christians, do not are neither numerous nor complex: the Ka-Hal is there to interpret them. No point is The need for codification. The respect shown to us.

surrounds the Kahal, less concerned with veneration-tion due to its religious character rather than its practical utility, in the entanglement
Jewish interests.

Hence the tendency of Jews to respect
the most outdated traditions and the law customary law is the least applicable. Civil or religious, often both, the cou-Jewish law is the only moral force, the
the sole source of existence for the Jewish people.
To be fair, it must be added that their obedience to the precepts of worship and to Kahal prescriptions often affect to the sublime. Such is the Jew, and such he will be

FOREWORD XI

until the end of the centuries.

Christian peoples, however, suffer higher-order obsessions and they allow us to be distracted from economic worries
through the worship of things to which the Jew
He only offers a disdainful smile.

Since it's been bought and sold...
revival, – science, literature, art, –
The Jew buys and sells this and that. But the Jews do not produce!

Nevertheless, this scattering
The activity of the Aryans benefits the Jews,
that these beautiful things do not absorb.

It was therefore entirely appropriate that the
An intelligent Jew, but of a different kind.
(because his immense intelligence is in-quiet and feverish), will choose her lot in outside the activities of his persecutors.
Vain, proud, and vindictive, the
The Jew wanted to be powerful and a persecutor.
in turn.

Excellent calculator, – since there is of the Chaldean and the Arab in him, – he has

XII FOREWORD

understood that the handling of numbers will always have subtleties which the study will be repelled by dreamy peoples. Therefore, He thought that this numbers game would impoverish the obtuse Christian and will enrich the Jew today awake.

That was perfect reasoning.
and there wasn't a single mistake in Jewish prophecy.

There is something better – with the help of politics, the Jew was able to accelerate his race and arrive before the time to reach the coveted goal.

To subjugate Christian work, the Jews have found – always politics helping, – accomplices at the top of the social ladder. The emperors and the kings, who formerly pledged their jewels and their crowns among the Salomons and the Abrahams, passed through the Jewish school and became excellent slow borrowers, naive discounters in modern times. The age of borrowing. Once inaugurated, the Jews took hy-

FOREWORD XIII

pottheque on all future mortgages: State revenues, Railways, Canals, factories, etc. Is there still a future free from mortgages? If so there is one, it is noted and approved by them.

Jewish power is therefore, in definition, a contemporary product, born in the turmoil of the early years of the century.

The Congress of Vienna, while peacefully trusting Europe, he signaled to the Jews, and they rushed to learn that the heavy liquidation of the wars of the Empire had need them.

Nothing is more ironically cruel than the twists and turns that accompanied the advent
The restoration of the dynasty today re-Rothschild clan!

At the fall of the greatest power
political, represented by Napoleon, suc-
the hatching began, almost without transition.
of the greatest financial power,
represented by a Rothschild.

XIV FOREWORD

Napoleon lands at the Gulf of Juan...
– Three months later, Rothschild de-boat at Dover, announcing to the English
The good news from Waterloo...

The boat that carried this singular Csar in London, – where he immediately
the sweeping up of all French income – this
The boat was not armed for racing: no,
but it nevertheless served the first
A feat of financial piracy! (Which one we pass the expression, in favor of the truth.)

"All of this was wonderfully fa-"
"Cile," the founder of the pre-first race of our current kings. We do not will never know the judgment he had to bear to, in his heart of hearts, on the revoltaunt's inability of Christians for the liquidation of their accounts. As for the kings and emperors – more authentic,
but less skilled than him, Rothschild,
small broker of a small German principle
mand, – these emperors and kings, astonishing

FOREWORD XV

pastors of their people, have not com-assumed that they and their people would sit-to the emergence of a new power, and that the workers who were working on the construction-
The powers of this authority were also geniuses. Crowned heads – more or less anointed, – do not have the knowledge infuse! They were going to have more soon worries. Their people, moreover, boring beggars of Constitutions, Charters and other freedoms of the same ilk, labor-intelligently ensured the game of Jews, by making... revolutions, – the-which always ended in trouble prunts, conversions and other... tri-Soups!

Well! This relentless war of Jews against Christian wealth, this war is silently directed by the modestes headquarters which have the name Kahal.

The author of Jewish Russia, despite his Slavic placidity, lets all the bitterness in his soul, upon realizing that the Semitic flow undermines, saps and corroams the Slavic countries, already cruelly tested by their disunity.

XVI FOREWORD

Mr. de Wolski's work should to be continued and embrace the whole of the Jewish organization, which certainly changes depending on the resistance of the Christians Look, from how weak and fearful she was, asserts itself with varying degrees of energy.

Mr. de Wolski's successors they only have to follow in his footsteps and search-dear to penetrate the knot of the Question.

Poland and Russia can further to identify the only true elements of the analysis, because the Jews of the Slavic countries are the specemeteries of the true fighters of the non-race transvestites. Jewish institutions have been there preserved almost intact; there has been there nor the friction that it brings in the Western countries contact with races natives, nor the influence of the ambient air which floats around a raf-civilization

FOREWORD XVII

fine. The Jews of the West are all, at with the exception of the Portuguese branch, the descendants of the unfortunate people that the Po-Logne once welcomed them. That's where it's necessary.
to seek the secret of their power. The Kahal has preserved, in Russia and in Pologne, all its venerable primitif.

Let us, therefore, study the Kahal, –
not for the satisfaction of archaeologists eager for research or scholarly work laughs at strange things, – but for our serious profit and for that of the ge-future generations, who will not have having to reproach ourselves for our sins of omission. Let's proceed with this study.
the salutary terror that befits the vanquished.
instead of pointlessly complaining about the su-Priority of Jewish armament, let's take their weapons, since they have some merit, and Let's use it against them.

Is it necessary to add that the Ka-Hal has given rise to a series of varieties, and

XVIII FOREWORD

that the Union, for example, is one modern incarnation. – The Trade Unions Jews have piled up ruins! Their history
The work also needs to be done.

Today, the danger is greater.
because the Jew is more vigilant, he observes himself;
If necessary, he will change his gait; he will ra-will slow down or speed up, as needed, the rhythm of its forward march.

The author of Jewish Russia concludes by indicating the means to combat the danger of X Jewish absorption. The share which is the responsibility of the State is defined.

None of this will be able to avert the crisis,
without the company's cooperation, while-third, which should also be organized on the bases of Kahal.

And first of all, we should not hesitate to usher in the era of a robust and brutal national selfishness, and not allowing nothing but bouts of morbid sentimentality come to hinder the work of the defense.

This defense organization, it

FOREWORD XIX

is a painful necessity in Russia; but, if it is necessary to add a dose of Inevitable hardship, let it be done, provided that it be done methodically and consistently.

It is obviously up to the government, and to the enlightened part of the public, that this task should fall to, to the exclusion of any element that could generate disorders.

The rural population and the population of cities will have to learn that a vigorous repression will be inflicted on troublemakers, such as those who have dishonored so many Russian cities.

Given the intelligence of the Jews, he It is to be hoped that they themselves will indicate will give the government the paths to follow to avoid either mass evictions, either a series of vexatious measures including the resurgence would be equivalent to a cruel persecution.

In the very difficult question of the submersible work of the ovens

xx FOREWORD

Christian thousands, and in the presence of the Christian inability to stem the tide Given the nature of Semitism, it is natural that... delayed measures, and consequently frustrating gics, are proposed and discussed. There There is a new danger here. It is dangerous. to teach the people that its classes di-

Rigeantes did not see the calamity of far away, and that they were carefree at not to let the enemy attack the building social in its living works. Isn't it allowed today (the man from people), and isn't it up to us to repair The culpable oversights of our leaders? It was in Russia that the people held this reasoning and that he put it into action, by engaging in acts of barbarity and cruelty of which one would not have thought him capable-blue. The enlightened classes understood the danger; a severe crackdown stopped the Triumphant vandalism. That's good, but The trial is nonetheless still ongoing, because there is grounds for legal proceedings between the countries and their Jews. We would have to appeal to all the lights and to all good will-so that the Jewish legal case is complete, fair and impartial.

FOREWORD XXI

In the meantime, we can point out a great unrest in the Jewish camp. Fear is a good advisor. Some-once a schism arose among the Jews habiting the south of Russia; and the Jews, so-called "spiritual Jews", a sect that appeared Lately, they have decidedly stood out traditions of ancient Semitism.

Every country gets the Jews it deserves.

France doesn't know enough about her own, but she is about to get to know them.

That is why Jewish Russia is a Informative reading for those who will to address this same question, placed in a different environment.

THERE

JEWISH RUSSIA

The Jews have formed themselves into

A state within a state.

Schiller.

We do not claim to address here a a new and unprecedented question. Because, whatever-tion has not already been presented, analyzed, discussed, resolved even, from the most diverse, often the most opposed?

Since the beginning of the current century
above all, the field of discussion and investigation
The gation has expanded prodigiously. We have 1

JEWISH RUSSIA

much has been written, particularly about a corporate-very large ration, very powerful by the capital at its disposal, and which, thanks to
of the right to asylum and civil rights of which she enjoys everywhere, has constituted itself as a State in share in each state. Divided into each locality into autonomous populations, it obeys a kind of secret government,
both administrative and judicial, represented
one by the Kahal (administrative commissioner),
and the other by the Bet-Dine (judicial court).

This corporation is all of Israel, disse-undermined in body, but united in spirit, purpose and of resources.

The Book on Kahal, published in language Russian (Vilna, 1870) by Brafmann (Jewish converti), clearly demonstrates the organization powerful Jews in all countries, sur-throughout Romania and Poland, their ten-dances, the means they employ to par-to achieve their goal, finally the strict discipline with
to which every Jew submits.
of its leaders.

This book on the Kahal has cast such a per-disturbance among the Jews living in Russia,

JEWISH RUSSIA

by revealing their most intimate secrets, that in a very short time all the copies of the first edition were purchased by the Jews themselves, and by them destroyed, or burned damaged, or hidden.

However, these clandestine book burnings did not could have prevented a few copies of this publication, escaped destruction, may not be fell into the hands of the Christians, and as we were fortunate enough to have To obtain one, we have translated the parts the most salient ones, which we will give in this work, which, in truth, is only a collection of translated extracts from different languages at different times. It will be his merit and the guarantee of its sincerity.

First, to get an idea of the goal that the Jews continue and their aspirations more intimate, we begin with the dis-lecture by a chief rabbi, delivered at a secret meeting. This speech, taken from a English work published by Sir John Readcliffe, under the title of Report of Events political and historical issues in the ten recent years, reveals the persistence with which the Jewish people pursue, from time immemorial and by all possible means, the idea of "ruling the earth." Here it is in its entirety:

JEWISH RUSSIA

"Our fathers bequeathed to the chosen people of Israel the duty to meet, at least once each century, around the tomb of the grand master Caleb, holy rabbi Simeon-ben-Ihuda, whose science delivers, to the elected officials of each generation, power over all the earth and authority on all the descendants of Israel.

"The war of the people of Israel with this power which had been promised to Abraham, but which had been snatched away by the Cross. Trampled underfoot, humiliated by his enemies, constantly under the threat of death, persecution, kidnapping and rapes of every kind, the people of Israel

yet he did not succumb; and, if he dis-Perseus covered the entire surface of the earth, that is what
The whole earth must belong to him.

"For several centuries, our scholars have read-
they bravely and with perseverance
rancidity that nothing can break against the Cross.
Our people are gradually rising, and each

JEWISH RUSSIA 5

[Day, its power grows] It belongs to us
this god of the day whom Aaron raised up for us Desert, this Golden Calf, this universal Divinity saddle from that era!

"When we have gone
the sole owners of all the gold on earth, True power will pass into our hands, and then the promises that have been do to Abraham.

"Gold, the greatest power on earth,
- gold, which is strength, reward, the ins-instrument of all enjoyment, everything that Man fears and covets - that is the great mystery, the profound science of the mind which rules the world! That's the future!...

"Eighteen centuries belonged to our enemies, but the present century and future centuries
must belong to us, the people of Israel, and will surely belong to us.

"This is the tenth time, in a thousand years of atrocious and relentless struggle with our enemies that gather in this cemetery, near from the tomb of our great master Caleb, saint Rabbi Simeon-ben-Ihuda, the chosen ones of each generation of the people of Israel, in order to con-

JEWISH RUSSIA

to be certain about the means of taking advantage, for our cause, the great faults and sins that our enemies, the Christians.

"Each time, the new Sanhedrin*1 has proclaimed and preached the merciless struggle with these enemies. But, in none of the previous centuries, our ancestors had not managed to concentrate in our hands as much gold, – consequently – power level, – than the 19th century we are part of it. We can therefore to flatter, without reckless illusion, to reach soon – our goal, and to look with certainty about our future.

"The times of persecution and humiliation" bonds, – these dark and painful times that the people of Israel endured with such heroic patience – are very fortunate past for us, thanks to the progress of civilization the adoption of the religion among Christians, and this progress is the best shield behind which we can to shelter ourselves and to act, to take a step forward quick and closes the space that separates us in – core of our ultimate goal.

"Let's just take a look at the state of ma –

JEWISH RUSSIA

Europe's territory, and let's analyze the resources that the Israelites have acquired since the beginning of the current century, by the only due to the concentration in their hands of immense capital at their disposal... in this moment... Thus, in Paris, in London, in Vienna, in Berlin, in Amsterdam, in Hamburg, in Rome, in Naples, etc., and at all the Rothschilds' homes, Everywhere, the Israelites are masters of the... if – financial tu – several billion; – not to mention that, in each locality of second and third order, They are still the ones who hold the funds in circulation, and that everywhere, without the sons of Israel, without their immediate influence, no financial transactions, no work important, cannot be executed.

"Today, all emperors, kings and reigning princes are burdened with debt, con – towed for the maintenance of large armies and permanent, in order to support their thrones faltering. The Stock Exchange lists and settles these debts.

yourselves, and we are largely masters of-stock market values on almost all platforms
These. It is therefore necessary to make it even easier, more and more so.

JEWISH RUSSIA

Furthermore, the loans that we need to study, in order to
to make ourselves the sole regulators of all the values and, as far as possible, take-dre, in pledging the capital that we we provide countries with the exploitation of their railway lines, their mines, their forests,
from their large forges and factories, as well as other buildings, or even the administration-taxation.

"Agriculture will always remain the great wealth of each country. The possession of large landholdings will be worth tou-days of honors and a great influence to the holders. It follows that our efforts must-tender wind also to what our brothers in Israel
make significant territorial acquisitions riales. We must therefore push as much as possible to the splitting of these large properties, in order to make us aware of their acquisition quicker and easier tion.

"Under the pretext of helping the working classes, it is necessary to make them bear to the great landowners all the weight taxes, and, when the properties have having passed through our hands, all the work of the day-

JEWISH RUSSIA

nationalists and (Christian proletarians will become for we the. source of immense benefits.

"Poverty is slavery," said one poet. The proletariat is the very humble s-speed of speculation. But oppression and the influence are the very humble servants of the spirit that cunning inspires and stimulates. And who therefore could refuse the children of Israel the es-
"Took, prudence, and perspicacity?"

"Our people are ambitious, proud and Eager for pleasure. Where there is light,

There is also shadow, and that is not without the reason that "our God gave to his people chosen » the vitality of the serpent, the cunning of the re-nard, the falcon's eye, the memory of dog, solidarity and the instinct for association Beavers.

"We groaned in the slavery of Ba-bylone, and we became powerful!

"Our temples have been destroyed, and we have thousands of temples have been re-established in their original positions!

"For eighteen centuries, we were enslaved"
ves, and in the present century we are-
my statements and placed above all the i's
Other peoples!

10 JEWISH RUSSIA

"It is said that many of our brothers in Israel
convert and accept Christian baptism
Well... Never mind!... The baptized can They can serve us perfectly; they can become-
to provide us with aids to walk towards new horizons, which are in-core currently unknown; because the novices
they still care about us, and, despite the bap-
their very bodies, minds, and souls
They remain ever faithful to Israel. In a century
At most, they will no longer be the children of Israel.
who will want to become Christians, but rather the Christians who will align themselves with our holy faith;
But then Israel will reject them with contempt!

"The Christian Church being one of our most dangerous enemies, we must work with perseverance to diminish its influence.
Therefore, it is necessary to graft, as much as possible, into the intelligences of those who profess the re-Christian religion, the ideas of free thought, skepticism, schism, and provoking the religious disputes, so naturally fertile-divisions and sects within Christianity nism. Logically, we must begin with to disparage the ministers of this religion; to-

Let's declare open war, let's provoke suspicions about their devotion, about their con-private duite, and, through ridicule and mockery, we will be right about the consideration attached to the state and to the habit.

"The Church's natural enemy is the light-first, which is the result of the instruction, natural effect of multiple propagation of eoics. Let's focus on gaining influence on young students. The idea of progress has as a consequence the equality of all religions, which in turn leads to sup-pressure, in the study programs, lessons in the Christian religion. The Israelites-lites, through skill and knowledge, will obtain without difficulty in obtaining professorships and professorial positions sisters in Christian schools. Therefore, Religious education will remain relegated to the family, and as in most families- There isn't enough time to monitor this. branch of education, the religious spirit will gradually diminish and, little by little, disappear- will completely disappear.

"Every war, every revolution, every political or religious upheaval that occurred in the Christian world, bring the moment closer where we will reach the ultimate goal towards the- which we tend.

12 JEWISH RUSSIA

"Trade and speculation, two branches Fertile plants with large profits should not never to leave the hands of the Israelites. And first, we must monopolize the al- trade Cool, butter, bread and wine, because by there we will become absolute masters of all agriculture and in general of all the rural economy. We will be the dispens-grain sellers to all; but if it happened some discontent, produced by the misery among the proletariat, it will always be easy days to shift the blame onto governments.

"All public sector jobs must be ac-transferable to the Israelites, and, once they became holders, we will know, through obsequiousness and through the perspicacity of our agents, penetrate up to the first source of the true influence and true power. It is understood that this only concerns those jobs to which are attached the honors, the power and the privileges; for, for those who demand sa-

JEWISH RUSSIA 13

See, the work and the effort, they can and must to be abandoned to the Christians. The Magistrate-For us, ture is a first-rate institution importance. A career at the bar develops the most the faculty of civilization and initiates the more to the affairs of our natural enemies Christians, and it is through this that we can reduce them to our mercy. Why the Israelites- Wouldn't the lites become ministers of public education, when they have so often The Israelites had the finance portfolio? must also aspire to the rank of legislator. with a view to working towards the repeal of the laws made by the Goyim (infidel sinners) among the children of Israel, the only true faithful by their unwavering devotion to the saints Abraham's laws.

"Moreover, on this point, our plan touches to the most complete realization; for progress We were recognized and granted almost everywhere the same rights of citizenship as to Christians; but what is important to obtain, what must to be the object of our ceaseless efforts is a less severe law on bankruptcy. We will make a gold mine out of it for ourselves.

14 JEWISH RUSSIA

richer than the mines of old California.

"The people of Israel must direct their ambitions" tion towards this high degree of power from which des- They receive consideration and honors. the most effective way to achieve this is to have the ultimate control over all associations in- industrial, financial and commercial, by guarding against all traps and all seductions

which could expose him to the danger of prosecution
your legal proceedings before the courts of the country.
He will therefore contribute to the choice of these kinds of speculation, prudence and tact, which are characteristic of his innate aptitude for business. We must not be strangers to nothing that earns a distinguished place
in society: philosophy, medicine, law,
music, political economy, in a word,
all branches of science, art and literature, is a vast field where the successes must give us a large share and to highlight our aptitude. These vocations are inseparable from speculation. Thus, the production of a musical composition, not Even if it is very mediocre, it will provide for ours

JEWISH RUSSIA 15

a plausible reason to elevate on a pedestal
it is to surround with a halo the Israelite who in will be the author. As for science, medicine
They must also do philosophy
starting from our intellectual domain. A methe doctor is initiated into the most intimate secrets of the family, and as such, has in its hands
the health and lives of our mortal enemies, the Christians.

"We must encourage alliances ma-:
triumviral relations between Israelites and Christians. Because the people of Israel, without risking losing to This contract can only benefit from these alliances.
these. The introduction of a minimal amount of;
Impure blood in our race, chosen by God,
cannot corrupt it; and our sons and our girls will provide, through these marriages, alliances
these with Christian families in possession-sion of some ascendancy and power. In in exchange for the money we will give, he
it is only fair that we obtain the equivalent influencing everything around us. The kinship with Christians does not entail a deviation from the path we have traced; on the contrary, with a little skill,

16 JEWISH RUSSIA

She will, in a way, give us back the role of arbiter.

of their destiny. It would be desirable that the
The Israelites refrained from having as masters—
these women of our holy religion, and that they choose them for this role from among the Christian virgins. Replace the sacrament of marriage in the Church by a simple contract
before any civil authority, would be of very great importance to us, because then Christian women would flock to our camp.

"If Gold is the first power of this world, the second is undoubtedly the Press.

"But what can the second do without the first?"
primer?... As we cannot realize everything that has been said and projected above without The support of the press, we must have our own
president in charge of all newspapers
Daily life, in every country. Possession gold, skill in choosing and using it means of making capacities more flexible venal, will make us the arbiters of opinion public union and will give us empire over the masses.

"By walking in this way, step by step, in this

JEWISH RUSSIA 17

our way, and with the perseverance that is our great virtue, we will repel the Christians and will nullify their influence. We dictate—let us give to the world that in which it must have faith, that that which he must honor and that which he must curse.
Perhaps a few individuals will rise—will they turn against us and will they launch the inswears and anathemas; but the docile masses and ignorant people will listen to us and take our gone. Once they were absolute masters of the press,
we will be able to change ideas as we please
on honor, on virtue, on integrity of character, and to make the first attack and the first blow to this institution, sacrosanct—
holy until now, the family, and in con-summon the dissolution. We will be able to extir-through belief and faith in everything that our enemies, the Christians, have until this moment
revered, and, making us a weapon of the entrainment—
the birth of passions, we will declare a open war on everything we respect and still venerates.

"That everything be understood, noted, and that chathat the child of Israel may be filled with these true principles. Then our power will grow

JEWISH RUSSIA

like a gigantic tree, whose branches
They will bear fruit which is called wealth, enjoyment, happiness, power, in compensation for this hideous condition which,
For many centuries, the tunic was a common item.
of the people of Israel!

"When one of our own takes a step forward,
that the other follow him closely; that, if the foot
He slips, he is rescued and helped up by his core-religious leaders. If an Israelite is summoned before the courts of the country he lives in, that his brothers religious people hasten to give him help and assistance, but only when the defendant will have acted in accordance with the laws that Israel observe strictly and keep for so long centuries.

"Our people are conservative, loyal to the religious ceremonies and customs that Our ancestors bequeathed it to us. Our interest (requires that we at least feign zeal for the social issues that are on the agenda
day, especially those relating to improvement ration of the fate of the workers; but in reality
our efforts must aim to seize control of this movement of public opinion and to the

JEWISH RUSSIA 19

to direct on public issues. The admission-regulation of the niasses, their propensity to
to deliver to eloquence, as empty as it is sonorous, whose echoes reverberate through the crossroads, making it a Easy prey and a docile instrument of popularity and credit. We will find without difficulty difficulty among our own the expression of feeling-fabricated statements and as much eloquence as the Sincere Christians find them in their en-enthusiasm.

"We must maintain the proletariat, to subject it to those who have the ma-money transfer. By this means, we support
We will raise the masses, whenever we want;
we will push them towards upheaval, towards revolutions, and each of these catastrophes
advances our private interests by a great leap forward and brings us rapidly closer to our unique goal: that of ruling the earth, as
This was promised to our father Abraham.

II

A prominent publicist, Toussenel, in a a work entitled "The Jews, Kings of the Fifth Era"
published in Paris towards the end of the first half of this century, speaks in these terms of this great chosen people of God, a name that the Jews are awarded at all times and that they are awarded Again :

"I do not bestow the title of great people"
to a horde of usurers and lepers, charged to all of humanity since the beginning centuries, and which drags its way across the globe hatred of other peoples and his incorrigible pride.

"A race forever defeated, punished, enslaved,
still regretting slavery and onions
of Egypt, and always ready to return to

JEWISH RUSSIA 21

the cult of the Golden Calf, despite the signs of the God's wrath!

"Just ask those Jews who are winning"
With us, hundreds of millions in one year
if they are excessively keen to see the walls again
So many tears from Zion?

"What if the Jewish people were truly the People of God, he would not have put to death the Son of God! He would not continue to ex-exploit, through parasitism and usury, all the workers whom Christ wanted to redeem and who are God's militia; and God would not have not marked with the seal of anathema, in him inflicting leprosy, as he inflicted leprosy to the pigs.

"Through charity, reason, and faith, anathema to all the impious religions that say Evil God! For these religions are of the invention of men inspired by the spirit of Satan, and who made their God in their own image; and the impiety of dogma can be measured by the inhumanity of its sectarians.

"Now, what people has been more bloodthirsty?" in his revenges, more persistent in his hatred and in his contempt for the rest of humanity

22 JEWISH RUSSIA

Manita, that the Jewish people? Wherever this lives race, we defy anyone to show it to us occupied-assigned to a useful and productive function; occupied-interested in something other than cheating and robbing the nation that received her into its bosom" (Auchean, France, Poland, Prussia, Paissia Romania, etc).

"Despite all the philanthropists" and charlatans of liberalism, we support-not that all these nations must atone cruelly the wrong of their charity towards the Jew; imprudent charity, deplorable charity of which the great thinkers of all centuries their had warned of the dangers in advance; for Tacitus, the most illustrious of the historians of the antiquity, already rising up against the indomitable pride and the spirit of deceit of the Jewish people. Dossuet cannot help but write "that the Jews are no longer anything to the Pieligion and to God, and that it is right that their ruins be spread across the earth, as punishment for their hardening; » Voltaire kills the Jew under the epigram; Fourier condemns the admission Jews granted citizenship, saying:

"It is therefore not enough for civilized people to

JEWISH RUSSIA 23

to ensure the reign of deceit; it was necessary to-

to call upon the nations of usurers for help,
The unproductive patriarchs. The Jewish nation is not civilized, it is patriarchal, lacking
no sovereign, recognizing none
secretly, and believing all deceit to be praiseworthy,
when it comes to deceiving those who do not pra-
They don't flinch at his religion. Every government Therefore, anyone who values good morals should...
to compel the Jews and force them to work productive. When we have recognized – and this political science will not be long in coming – must focus on reducing the number of marchands, to bring them to the competition ve-ridiculous and supportive, it will be hard to conceive the incompetence of this philosophy which calls for his aid a completely unproductive race, mercantile, to refine commercial frauds
already intolerable conditions.

He is the profound thinker, whose ruthless logic delivered the final blow to the comanarchic trade, denounced in the United States
fifty years in advance, the advent of the mercantile feudalism and the reign of Judah.
And note that the governments of

24 JEWISH RUSSIA

Prussia and Russia (hardly suspected of utopianism)
were brought in twenty-five years ago by the force of circumstances, to be applied to their subjects
the Israelites the political principles set forth in the preceding lines. These governments did not want a separate nation in the nations they administered.

Napoleon I, in 1805, with his own hand then imperial, adds the following annotation in the margin
in § 12 of the draft reform relating to the question-Jewish connection: "It would be absolutely necessary to search
the means to tighten as much as possible Yagiotage practiced by Jews, to eradicate this organized fraud, as well as usury exercised by the members of a corporation which, by its religion, its customs and its traditions
tions, forms a separate nation within the French nation (1). »

Look at the Muslims. They don't have, like we, to reproach the Jews for the torture of their Redeemer; and yet no people Christians have never professed their faith in Jews.

as much contempt as for the Arab and the Turk.

(1) Allgemeine-Zeitung. Der Juden-thumbs. 18ii, p. 300.

JEWISH RUSSIA 25

Why is that?... Because the Jew has never wanted to pursue no other profession than the traffic and wear and tear.

Europe is subservient to domination
of Israel.

The Jew struck all states with a new old mortgage, and a mortgage that these states will never be able to repay with their income. The universal domination that So many conquerors have dreamed of it, the Jews have in their hands. The God of Judah has kept his word to the prophets and gave victory to the sons of Maccabeus. Jerusalem imposed tribute on all empires. The first part of the revenue pu-public of all states, the clearest product
the work of all, passes into the stock market Jews, under the name of interest on the national debt-
national.

And note well that not a single Jew does any work useful with his hands. It must therefore be repeated that he
There is no possible alliance between this race-there and we Christians; and the proof of this is that most of the distinguished Jews of that time ab-
They swear by Judaism.

26 JEWISH RUSSIA

That the Jewish people produced brilliant individualities in the arts, poetry, the
From a scientific standpoint, this fact is undeniable; but How many could we cite from this number?
elite, however small, including the name and glory do not recall the idolatry of Gold, innate in this race?... That the people that a Jew was endowed with powerful organizational faculties satrices, we can no longer deny it; but we cannot deny that his responsibility is aggravated by the misuse he made of his higher faculties... Vultures are too large birds, and which soar high in the air; we admire it well sometimes in their flight; this nevertheless does not prevent that we do not feel a repulsion and a invincible disgust for these predators in-worlds that feed on the flesh of Corpses!

Peace to the workers of all nations!
But get rid of these parasites, these usurers, these Monopolizing Jews!... these children of Israel, sons not degenerate from the Pharisees and scribes who crucified Christ!

III

Now listen to Brafmann, a Jew who-verti. Here's how he talks about his former coreligionists, in his Book on Kahal, that we mentioned above:

"Born and raised in the Israelite religion, that I practiced until the 34th year of my life. I was sufficiently initiated in the knowledge sources I had to draw from to execute the orders of the Synod of Saint Petersburg aiming to find ways to to use to paralyze the influence of cons-aunt and active Jews on those of their coreligionists who might intend to to become Christians.

"The intimate relationships I have maintained"

28 JEWISH RUSSIA

ves among my former coreligionists have facilitated the coordination of important documents which, in the Book on Kahal, which I am publishing, shed a vivid light on the situation and the tendencies of Jews in general.

"These documents thus collected, and consisting in letters, notices, deeds, correspondence, provisions, etc., are such as to lift the The veil and mystery that conceal the organization internal to Jewish society, make its reason to be an enigma, and allow, much more that all the research done up to this pointment, to penetrate the secret means to which They resort to it to ensure their survival, too despite the influential position they claim occupy in Europe and throughout the world.

"The most important part of these documents" comments, completely ignored by the public, are being made the imposition of over a thousand Kahal ordinances, that is to say, of the administrative government of the Jews, and of the Bet-Dine, judicial court introduced by the Talmud, two authorities with which the Jews are subject to and of which they execute. They blindly follow the prescriptions.

"The importance and significance of these documents are nothing less than demonclearly outline the practical means that... how much the Jews struggle to live, and how much these methods deviate from the theory developed in the Talmud, a theory that formed the ancient Jewish society and which is understandable for only those who were raised in the Synagogue.

JEWISH RUSSIA 29

"Thus the Talmud does not clearly mark the share of authority attributed to the Kahal and to Bet-Dine in the regulation of life of the Jews. The doctrine or theory that governs the the conduct of Jews today is a theoa completely new laugh, composed capriciously, without a foundation, neither traditional nor written, and we will be seen in the documents in question, how the Kahal understood and resolved this practical approach to life. The documents items classified under numbers 16, 64, 131, 158 that we give to chapter iv deserve a special attention should be paid, because they establish:

1° That the despotism of Kahal forbids the Jews to invite anyone to their parties family, such as preparing their food and their drink, without express authorization;

2.

"2° That to this question: What character in the eyes of the Jews take on the laws of the country in which they live? The Talmud answers: here, Dine demalhute Dine (that the laws of Caesar) must be those of the Jews); there, that the laws Caesar's laws only oblige the Jews in what It touches Caesar personally, but those who govern the country of which Caesar is the leader are not mandatory for them, as by for example, the judgments rendered by the tribes judicial and administrative bodies, which, under no pretext can compel the Jews living in this country. Elsewhere, the Talmud resolves the question in an exclusive sense, for So to speak, of the two solutions mentioned above, and said: Rabanon mikve ma,lke (The Rabbis) are Caesars). These different texts of the Talmuds can be, and often are, interpreted differently. Thus, being admitted the interpretation given by the Kahal, it follows— it was true that the Jews, fulfilling the functions of judge in the courts of the countries they live in, do not form their opinion based on the text of the codes, whether civil or criminal, who make the law in the country, and do not render their verdict according to the letter of these codes, but must simply comply with the pre-descriptions of the Kahal, and according to the opinion that the Kahal and the Bet-Dine were formed in advance in every case.

JEWISH RUSSIA 31

"3. On this other question: How the Should Jews consider real estate ownership? property and movable property belonging to those who Are they not of their religion? The Talmud answers in such an intelligible way, and by blending, so to speak, black with white, that all A Jew can translate this answer as he sees fit. tends, and thus attributing to itself the right to induce in error and to deceive any individual who is not not one of his own.

"In the acts and documents cited in the Book Regarding the Kahal, we will see that the Kahal, in each district he rules despotically, sells to the Jews Hazaka and Meropiié, that is to say—to state the right to exploit not only the pro-real estate and personal property belonging to individuals who are not Jewish, but "Even the people themselves."

In short, the documents cited in the Book on the Kahal (and of which we give extracts, translated parte in qua) demonstrate that the Kahal and the Bet-Dine, which for a long time—Time uncontrollably regulates personal life and public opinion of the Jews, hardly follow the prescriptions of the Talmud; and that the ordinances—opinions issued by these two Jewish authorities and confirmed by Hevem (oath or an—theme) are observed more strictly by the Jews than the laws written in the Talmud. They will reveal the secrets of mo—They mon—will reveal, even to the point of obviousness, by what means and by what circuitous routes did the Jews, who, formerly, were not allowed to enjoy civil rights in most of the European countries, however, have managed, in many countries, to supplant in the affairs, the element foreign to their religion, to amass large sums of capital, to mortgage to their advantage all real estate properties lières, and to become masters of commerce and of industry, initially exercised by the individuals genes; how this was finally accomplished and is accomplished daily in the provinces western and southern Russia,

32 JEWISH RUSSIA

JEWISH RUSSIA 33

in the Kingdom of Poland, in Siberia, in Romania, and even, at the beginning of this century, in some departments of the France (letter from Napoleon I to Champagny, dated November 29, 1806), where, despite the minority of the Jewish population, which does not exceed—It's not known if there are 60,000 souls, a significant portion of the real estate and personal property, appar—

attached to Christians, have passed into the hands of the Jews, who already enjoyed this Civil rights era.

"The best proof that the Jews for—" They have long pursued their goal, without No failure discourages them, it's the protestation of the inhabitants of Romania; protestimony which contains the same grievances as those already formulated in the complaints submitted to the authorities of Vilna, in 1865, by the inhabitants Christians. {Collection of laws by Dubenski, (page 222.) And that's why in several In European countries, sometimes they gave, sometimes they reinstated the civil rights granted to Jews, in order to escape their pernicious influence, to their intolerable invasion of all the branches of commerce, industry, of real estate and personal property.

34 JEWISH RUSSIA

"Finally, the documents we are talking about" show why the efforts attempted and the capitals sacrificed in the 19th century by several European governments, to transform the Jewish character and to shield from their deadly sitism, peoples and countries, have been unsuccessful killers. The publicity given to these documents and the reflections they inspire, however suggested, in 1871, to the civil authorities of provinces of northern Russia, the measure of suppression of Jewish institutions in Kahal and of the Bet-Dine.

"The authenticity of these documents is cons— felt by the age of the paper on which they are written; by the uniformity of writing of the notes to keep silent about who wrote them; by the signs of water on the paper which mark the letters B. O. F. EB; finally, by several signatures which are completely identical on the date documents different. — All the ordinances of the Kahal date from 1794 to 1833 and are classified, in the Book on the Kahal, chronologically, perfectly identical to the originals.

"A careful and thorough examination of these questions and answers regarding the rule-

the way Jewish life is lived will lead to this cons-
In conclusion, the main purpose of these regulations,
as well as acts which were the result of it
The sequence was to acquire the most influence.
'possible on Jews and Christians'.

IV

Here are the acts and documents if important ones that we have announced and which we have just shown the serious significance-tion. They are classified in the Book on the Kahal, under numbers 16, 64, 131 and 158.

No. 16.

Regarding the rules for party invitations
family.

At the celebration held on the occasion of the circumcision
The following may be invited to the newborn's home:

1° Family members, up to the seconde generation inclusive.

2. Direct parents, that is to say, fathers and the mothers of the father and the mother of the newborn-
Those born are required to attend the celebration.

3° The Gevater-Sandeke (respectable character)

JEWISH RUSSIA 37

who, during the circumcision ceremony,
holds the child on her lap).

4° The three operators, Mogel, Força and Ma-cice.

5. The one who recites the prayer over the cup after the operation.

G0 Five close friends and the Melamed.

7. Two neighbors on the right and two on the left living on the same side of the street, as well as three neighbors living on the opposite side of the street,

Right across the street.

8° Tenants of private apartments, of shops or boutiques may also be invited by the owners of these apartments, magasins or shops.

9. The shop partner; the employees and year-round workers, the barber and the tailor of the House.

10. The leaders of the Jewish corporation of the city, as well as the Jewish employees of the municipality.

11° A member of any confraternity has the right to invite the head of this brotherhood.

12. The servants of the synagogue, if they possess the Kahal certificate attesting to their functions.

For the celebrations held on the occasion of the weddings The invitations can be the same as for the celebrations held on the occasion of circumcision, and in addition, ten close friends of the groom and the bride's bridesmaids.

At the festivities held to celebrate the wedding or circumcision by the poor who cannot—
If

38 JEWISH RUSSIA

wind them execute them only with the help of a contribution of their wealthy coreligionists, we are not bound to observe the above-mentioned requirements.

It is prohibited, under the penalties mentioned and explained by Illevem (anathema), to dance the Sabbath day following the wedding day.

It is only permitted to celebrate the newlywed at following a formal invitation.

The Jewish tailor of the town who marries off his son or his daughter in another locality, and organizes the party weddings outside the city, cannot invite no one from the city he lives in, and he is forbidden to the inhabitants of this city to send to the new married calves Droche-Geschenk (gifts of wedding).

Under penalty prescribed by the Hevem (anathema),
It is forbidden to the Chamochins (servants of the synagogue) to invite, to the festivals held on the occasion-
sion of marriage or circumcision, others
people other than those registered in the pa-rapped and signed by Schade-Mechamoche-iiakhil (one of the Jewish notaries of the city), who must certify-proud that the register was compiled in accordance
to the prescriptions of the Kahal.

It is also forbidden for the one who gives the party to invite people other than those who have were entered in the register: as also it is expressly forbidden to any person of religious-Israelite group to attend the festivals given by their co-religionist, if she is not invited and called by Chamochin.

JEWISH RUSSIA 39

The violation of all the above requirements
This will be considered equivalent to perjury.
Whoever commits this offense will fall from severe punishments, fines, to which Nothing can take it away. Xi, his consideration personal, nor that of his family , nor any other exemptions will have no value. While those who will submit to these prescriptions, joy and all the approvals will always accompany them, and they will be blessed. Let them rejoice at the feasts don-born through their sons, grandsons, and grandsons of their grandsons.

Peace to Israel! May God's will be done.
pleats!

No. 64.

Rules to follow 'by those who want to give'
dances

(This document is written entirely in Jewish jargon,) so that the lower class of the Jewish population, which does not
I don't understand Hebrew, but I can't grasp the thought and the sense.)

On Monday, the day before the 1st of the month Sivon 55^9, the
The following proclamation was made in all the bynagogu.es:

Listen, People of Israel! Your leaders and chosen ones, speak out!
consulted with the president of the Bet-Dine, ar-
They resume this following:

1. From this day forward, it is not permitted, to whom

40 JEWISH RUSSIA

throws a party on the occasion of the wedding or the circumcision, to offer to his guests, nor gingerbread,
no brandy, but only meat dishes.

However, to the poor, if the Kahal grants it with express authorization, it is permitted to offer gingerbread and brandy, while conforming however, regarding the requirements relating to invitations.

2° Under the penalties stipulated and explained by the Hevem, it is forbidden to men as well as to women, during the congratulations of the Shaloim Zahor (the birth of a son), the first Saturday after the diapers, to taste the brandy, the gingerbread, jams, cakes and...
very delicacies; and it is also forbidden to women to taste all kinds of delicacies
on the occasion of the congratulations on the birth of a girl. An exception is made, however, in favor of the closest cousins. It is forbidden
also for visitors to take with them into town
These treats. Sending gifts outside composed of similar things, by those who don-
The party is also prohibited.

3° It is forbidden to hold parties in the se-Maine which precedes the one in which the circumcision ceremony, as well as in that which follows it. The day before the ceremony, we can celebrate and receive the poor and, except the Savars (1),

(1) Savars (organizers of the festival). – The festivals, among The Jews have a unique appearance. Each guest receives a portion of each dish; the function of these Savars is

THE JEWISH ITALY 41

No one should touch or taste any of the food.

4. It is forbidden, on the day of circumcision,

to invite people other than the bride to dinner Raine, the midwife, the mother of the woman in labor and her husband's mother, as well as the mother of the mar-raine if the latter is a young lady and has already been fiancee.

5. It is forbidden to celebrate someone on the day when The midwife leaves the house; these invitations are reserved for the day of the ceremony.

6° For the celebration held on the occasion of the circum-
cision, we can only invite other people
those indicated by articles 1, 2, 3, 5 of the document
ment (classified under No. 16) and three Savars.

7. For the celebration held on the occasion of the wedding, children and people can be invited and
plus a Savar and the bridesmaids.

8. The head of the Jewish population in the city may also invite some of the leaders on his behalf of brotherhoods.

9° Invited members belonging to the con-funeral brotherhood may invite the head of this brotherhood.

10. The fiancé who arrives from another locality, to get married in the city, can invite the one to the-
which he lodged in before the wedding ceremony.

reduced to sharing and distributing larger portions larger and bigger for guests who enjoy a greater consideration among the Jews, either by their jobs, either through their honorary positions or through their fortune.

42 JEWISH RUSSIA

11° The following officials of the synagogue-
The following may be invited: the city rabbi;
the cantor with the choirs; the one who recites the psalms; the preacher of the holy brotherhood funerals and the Schulkempler (1). As for the other servants of the synagogue, we owe to them
tipping is permitted, but it is forbidden to... invite.

12° Under the penalties set forth and explained in the Hevem, it is forbidden to the inhabitants of the city to celebrate the wedding outside the city, without an express authorization from the Kahal, which the fin- whether she was a young lady, a widow, or a divorcee. And those those who obtain this authorization will not be able to do not leave the city before paying in advance- the Rahasch (tax) equal to that which the new Married calves are obliged to pay when they They get married in the city.

13° It is forbidden to hold more than one celebration, before and after the marriage, either from the husband, either from the woman.

14° It is forbidden to have more than three at the festival musicians, except for the Beidhan (improviser).

15° It is forbidden to feed the mu- scientists more than three times a day.

16° For the dinner which takes place while we are ha-

(1) Schulkempler: the one who calls the Jews to the Synagogue- gogue, on ordinary days by striking with a hammer of wood on the shutters of Jewish dwellings, – and the days of celebrations, shouting loudly in the streets: In-schul-a-kidney (children of Israel, to the Synagogue).

JEWISH RUSSIA 43

For the new bride, it is permitted to invite young people of both sexes.

17° 11 It is forbidden to offer at the wedding feast a lunch consisting of a jam tart.

18° The head of the Schiva-Kirneim brotherhood (charity) can also be invited.

No. 131.

Regulations concerning feasts.

Saturday, 18 Sivon 5559. If those who preside at the celebrations held on the occasion of the circumcision They are poor, yet they must invite ten people, among whom must be the chan- to be and a servant of the synagogue, To those who would not comply with these requirements, the the cantor should not recite the prayer of Go- vahman, which is always recited during the ceremony marriage and the husband of the woman who gave birth will not be ap-peeled at Fova (piece of parchment where are (written different psalms) as is customary to do it.

Nn 158.

On the selection of committee personnel.

Saturday, 21 Tevese 5562. The representatives of Kahal and the members of the general meetingrale decided to choose from among themselves some

44 JEWISH RUSSIA

people whose duty it will be to draft laws regarding the holidays that Jews are accustomed to
to give on the occasion of wedding ceremonies and circumcision. Therefore, the following were elected:
Rabbi Moses, son of Ezekiel; Rabbi Eleazar, son of Jacob; Rabbi David, son of Segula.

The regulations and rules, developed by these Three elected officials will be presented for confirmation.
the general meeting and will therefore acquire force
of law.

V

We need to explain here what the agents, agents or commission agents, delegates
by the Kahal at the police stations,
administrative, judicial, etc. – influence that the factors exert on the Jewish element and non-Jewish; – the system employed by the Kahal
to corrupt government employees
ment.

The Kahal agent in charge of surveillance Jewish interests to the police, and offers gifts to employees to bribe them,
is called a factor or commission agent
Jews.

These factors are employed by Jews, not only in commerce, but in all business sectors. Thus, in the cities

3.

inhabited by Jews, one encounters at each not a postman; in front of the shops, in front of hotels, on the street, at police stations, administrative, judicial, and often also among employees of all other administrations public treatments.

All these factors are on the lookout for the at the slightest opportunity, to intervene in each—that negotiation and surrender, so to speak indispensable. They serve a dual purpose: their private and personal interest, and the good of the Jewish community in general.

The factors are divided into several classes its or specialties. Some are only for commerce, the others for businesses captures of all kinds; there are some, apart, which procure servants, others who negotiate marriages; these are their main attendance at the offices administrative officials; those, to corrupt the police officers; who, in order to pursue the cases pending before the judicial courts ciaries; which, for banking houses...

In short, each branch has its clerks Zionists or Jewish postmen. Of course, he

JEWISH RUSSIA

This is not about the Jewish lawyers who They provide consultations and plead cases; because Those belong to the bar. We do not We are not mentioning any of these individuals who, Having done no special studies, interposing himself felt, as factors, in any affair; race which is not found and which one does not meet—against that among the Jewish element. Their occupation—The main task is to search for the soll—citing, to enter into negotiations with them, to to be well informed, and about the importance of the case for which they are pursuing a solution, and on the value of the subject to be exploited; and, once the information acquired, to have their in-covert intervention in the negotiation, .means-promised, agreed and agreed- retribution sale completed, at least in a down payment.

It often happens that the postman, in order to... to make necessary to both parties, fulfills of his role from the sole point of view of his interest-personal loan. The matter will become complicated if he sees his profit in a complication, in order to to charge for its services according to the measure of difficulties that he has often brought to light. The re-The result, moreover, only concerns him as much as satisfaction follows for his conscience, generously shaped, and for the influence which He is the instrument. – Thus, the matter is dealt with- Is it between Jew and Gentile?... this will be such a solution-tion.- Is it between Jew and Jew?... it is such other. – Is it between the Kahal and a Jew?... This is a third one. – Is it the Kahal and the Goïm?... that's an exceptional case, where prevails the caste mentality.

48 JEWISH RUSSIA

The main purpose of each factor is to note meticulously by what means it is managed to corrupt his Porric (employee of police, administrative or judicial), with in which he intervened on behalf of the petitioner-author. All these carefully reviewed notices The harvested fruits must be deposited at the Kahal, and He is thus put in possession of means action against the employee once corrupted, if he never dared to attempt any demarch against Jews in general, or of soul-to make a decision that was not in their favor.

The agents mandating the Jews are not often than the executioners of the Kahal, of which they follow the instructions to the letter, when he These are administrative orders of interest-

JEWISH RUSSIA 49

sant the Israelite corporations. The result that mixed interests of some importance between the Jews and the Gentiles, as well as the or- police and administrative data encompassing either universality, or simply one of their own (which naturally have spec- especially with a view to the fulfillment of the laws of the country, attract the greatest attention of Kahal. The most powerful shield of their collective and individual interests is, we de- wine, corruption through gifts and money. It was, from time immemorial, their weapon of predilection, and they owe him more than one success This is crucial, especially in Russia and Poland.

This system of corruption, through money, of officials specifically assigned to the execution cut of the laws of the country, is rather to cut The practice of Talmudic prescription. The pr- Tick introduced it into Jewish customs, and it is with the help of this voluntary tribute, and everything random, that they create a separate existence for themselves and outside of local legislation.

Great miracles have occurred and operate daily through the irre- irresistible to this talisman, stretched out so to speak

50 JEWISH RUSSIA

like a vast network across an entire country by so many skilled and practiced hands. It is to the help of this talisman that the Jews are having succeeded in paralyzing all measures devised by the civil and administrative authorities tive, in different countries, to protect the indigenous population against the overflow of the pernicious activity of the Jews. Also, in a In a very short period of time, are the Jews having managed to seize all the capital, to to create an advantageous position under beautiful- a series of reports, and to acquire influence decisive on the work and on all products from the country where they settled.

With the help of this talisman and the activity of the Jewish factor and of the Kahal, they dismiss, everywhere where they have established themselves, any competition from the proportion of the indigenous population, both in the trade as well as in industry and businesses shots of all kinds, even in the jobs that do not require strenuous labor trades such as sewing, upholstery, tinsmithing laughter, etc.

This talisman, in short, has become, among the hands of Jewish postmen (1), the fairy wand-

JEWISH RUSSIA 51

risk that once turned the seas into deserts of sand, and rocks with abundant springs; - with the difference that this legislative wand-
The leader of the people of Israel passed away today
in the hands of the Kahal of each locality where there is a Jewish population, and in those from the anthill of postmen, who are unleashed like a pack on the trail of all the af-
to do.

The picture we are painting here of this strange invasion of Israeli parasitism-Lite has lent itself to many other brushes. The Even the theatre has sometimes seized upon this subject. Thus in the play: A word in the middle-Minister, we see how Jewish factors are involved there
they will do anything to achieve their goals;
What price do they pay for silence, where a word

(1) It must be noted that the Jewish factors are of difdifferent species, starting with dirty Jew who obsesses you to obtain a commission at the door of a hotel or restaurant, via a character
serious that you encounter in a serious meeting, and finally, the elegant postman in a black suit and gloves
white and patent leather boots, which you currently find almost in every living room.

52 JEWISH RUSSIA

a statesman's actions could harm the cause
modern Israelites.

But what has not yet been revealed, this are the relationships of these factors with the Kahal. - Under what circumstances and in What proportion of donations are distributed?
fogs? - What are the sources where the Kahal
How does it obtain the necessary funds for its operations?

Whose hands are involved in the distribution?
Where do the orders that motivate originate?
and regulate these distributions for the purpose of common good? – Finally, whose responsibility is it to res-Responsibility for these acts? Is it up to the rab-Bins?... Is this in Kahal?...

All these curious and unknown questions
Nude in public, they are perfectly lightened
in the Book on Kahal, through quotations of twenty-six acts and documents, conforming to the originals that Brafmann was able to produce to cure. We have translated fourteen of them more important, which are classified in the book in question under numbers 4, 17, 21, 33, 37, 156, 159, 260, 261, 280, 282, 283, 284,
285, and that we will find chapter vi.

JEWISH RUSSIA 53

The last five documents deserve further attention.
all special attention, such as the more importantly, in that they introduce to means implemented by the Jews to paralyze the work of the established Commission
by the Emperor of Russia with a mission to study to address the Jewish question in its states. These documents are like so many pieces of evidence – supporting documents from the Derjawine report, Russian writer and one of the members of this Commission.

“We started,” said Derjawine (1), “to the account of the Jews, all sorts of intrigues, of approaches, of attractive offers, to ob-
to maintain that the Jewish question was left unresolved where she was at the beginning, that is to say at the beginning-ment where, by order of the Emperor, the Commission-sion was established. A letter seized on a A Jew from White Russia, written by a great rabbi of that country and addressed to a very Jew influential in Strasbourg, enjoying an immense fortune, attested the powerful organi-
the state of the Jewish people and their immense sacrifices

(1) Report and notes, by Derjawine. (Moscow,
1860, page 796).

of money that the Jews were prepared to support to carry out, in order to paralyze, by any means possible, and certainly dishonorable, actions of the Commission established by His Majesty the Emperor.

Next, Derjawine recounts that, in This letter stated that the Jews had mis-said Derjawine, as the greatest in-enemy and persecutor of the Jews; and launched on he is subjected to a Hevem (anathema) which is repeated by all the synagogues throughout the world, to the-which fact was communicated; that for to settle this matter (Commission) at their advantage, that is to say, leaving the Jewish question as it was at that time, in the status quo, all the Jews of all Russia and of other countries contributed and sent 1,000,000 silver rubles, to bribe everything that is corruptible and to make ren-voyer, of the Commission established by the Emperor, their mortal enemy, the prosecutor General Derjawine. But if all the means were powerless to obtain his expulsion from the Commission, the poison or any other means must eliminate

.A JEWISH RUSSIA 55

this world, this great persecutor and enemy of people of Israel; that, in order to carry out this order, Jews in Saint Petersburg were assigned charged with its execution for a period of time six years; that in the meantime, it was necessary to put in uses every expedient to win by money, - which would not be lacking, - the high-your influences, with a view to dragging things out in a long-the Jewish question, for all hope of a An advantageous solution was illusory, as long as Derjawine would be part of the Commission or would not have ceased to live; that in order to help to the efforts of the Jewish committee of Saint Petersburg, to hinder and confuse the Jewish question, the Commission established by the Emperor received-true from all countries, written in all languages, written by the most capable Jews, trai-both the question and demonstrating what ma-it was necessary to resolve it in Russia; ques-

This is indeed a serious matter for the Jews, since it does not
it was nothing less than taking away their right to sell brandy in cabarets
The secrets of small towns and the countryside, where...
For them, the art of stupefying the peasants by drunkenness, abuse and adulteration of

56 JEWISH RUSSIA

alcoholic beverages, has become the most productive speculation.

And indeed, Derjawine continues, few
Some time later, the Commission established by The Emperor was flooded with a deluge of mismemoranda, brochures and various writings, sometimes in French, sometimes in German, sometimes in English, all aiming to provide a solution to the Jewish question in Russia, me-memoirs, pamphlets and writings which were, by order of the Emperor, the object of a [scrupulous exam.

While the Commission was exhausting itself by This arduous task, a Jew named Notko,
who had managed to capture Derja-'s trust
wine by an apparent conformity of ideas on the solution to the Jewish question, and by presenting a plan for the creation of factories intended to provide Jews with the means existence through work, came one day to do Derjawine, in the form of sympathy and dedication, this confidential proposaltielle: "You will never be able to," he told her, counterbalance the major influences that are stirring in the interest of the Jews; and, as

JEWISH RUSSIA 57

I am authorized to offer you 200,000 rubles money in exchange for the commitment you make-driez not to the area of opposition to the conclusions-decisions of your fellow commissioners in the Regarding the Jewish question, I sincerely advise you to accept the offer and keep quiet.

Acceptance of such a proposal was
For Derjawine, it was a triple betrayal: betrayal
of his conscience, betrayal of the interests of unfortunate Russian peasants, betrayal of the His Sovereign's confidence!... And his refusal struck his opposition with impotence!... De- Faced with such an alternative, he sided with to address the Emperor directly, to him clearly and frankly state the state of things in the Jewish question, with the hope that the Emperor, impressed by his loyalty and his loyalty, would give him his support and protection in this delicate matter.

Indeed, the Emperor, in the first month- He was deeply affected by these sad symptoms. revelations; but, to the new instances that Derjawine made himself available to him, in order to have a an answer that he could take as a rule of con- The Emperor had simply told him,

58 JEWISH RUSSIA

with some unease: "Wait, wait-"
I'll tell you later when and how.
Action must be taken.

However, he had kept the letter that Derjawine had submitted it to him, where it was spoken of this million silver rubles intended for cor- to break the members of the Commission of the the Jewish question, and the planned attack against the days of Derjawine, to make them, he said- he, to verify the authenticity by the police se- Crete.

After this conversation, Derjawine res- was convinced that the Emperor would defy him. now men in his entourage, if accessible to the gifts of the children of Israel. But the family ties that bound the Em- father to Count Valerius, son of Alexander Zubow had informed him of everything this affair. Count Valère had, of his On the other hand, for a friend, a certain Spéninski, director general of the Ministry of the Interior, by whom the minister himself thought, saw and acted even Koczubéi. Count Zubow had therefore Spéranski was informed of all the details relating to the Jewish question, which he held from the

His Majesty's mouth; and as Speranski had sold himself to the Jews body and soul (by the intermediary of a speculator named Péretz, with whom he openly lived in the intimacy, even occupying a dwelling in the (the latter's house), instead of a ukase severe from the Emperor, withering and reducing to nothing all the disgraceful manipulations that committed in the Jewish question, the Commission concluded that the status quo should be maintained. that is to say, the right for Jews to sell of Veau-de-vie in the cabarets of the small cities and countryside.

But, as Derjawine had not attended the Commission meeting where this The decision had been made by the pre-members. sent, this resolution lacking the most An important part of the required formalities is- to speak of absolute unanimity, remained unexecuted- and the question had not progressed one not towards a solution. Only since then, The Emperor received Derjawine with a more pronounced coldness, and, as for the letter that he had taken, under the pretext of making her verified by the secret police, not only he had not given any order for that purpose, but He even avoided talking about it.

60 JEWISH RUSSIA

A proposed solution to the Jewish question, written by Baranow and annotated by Derjawine, had been given to Speranski, who had modified completely in the direction of its personal opinions and with removal of remarks of Derjawine, whose name does not didn't even appear next to those of the others members of the Commission, in the ukase rendered by the emperor.

Derjawine, upon learning the conclusions of this report, he had jokingly told Baranow: "Judas had sold Christ for thirty pieces of silver. And you, to come- Well, you have sold the fate of the unfortunate Russian peasants?... " - To which Baranow had replied with a smile: "For 30,000 ducats to each member of the Commission, except all-Ibis me, because the project I wrote was completely redesigned by Sjeranski, whose "The prevarication is notorious."

VI

Here are the documents and records that we have...
no. to announce in support of the above:

No. 4.

The bonus intended for city sergeants
and police subordinates.

Saturday, Noah section. 5555.

The representatives of Kahal decided that he
A gratuity will be granted to the three sergeants.
police for the entire elapsed time at a rate of one ruble silver per day to each person. This sum must be secretly handed to each separate person lie by the Jewish jurors and taken from the funds
coming from the butcher's import.

62 JEWISH RUSSIA

Nude 17.
Order of the Kahal.

As a result of the new law which prescribes the re-population census, as well as the survey
accounts from the cabarets where brandy is sold,
The Kahal and the General Assembly decided to choose eleven trusted members who will follow
step by step--this operation carried out by Christians,
in order to address, where necessary, the damages which
The following would follow for the general cause of Jews. Provision will be made for the expenses incurred.
to the aid of a general subscription.

No. 2: .

Gifts to give to Christian authorities
of the cille.

Tuesday, section 5 books Schelah 5535.

The representatives of Kahal having recognized the need to give some gifts to the chiefs the municipality of this city, have decided that the funds that are to be used for this purpose will be supplied by the butchers, who are either debit-members of the Jewish community spoke about their contribution that they then owe the concession to them made from the right to slaughter livestock. The sum

JEWISH RUSSIA t)3

The money intended for these gifts will be donated to the Scha-Mosche, who must take exact account of all this expense.

No. 33.

Thursday, section 5 books Noach 5555.

The representatives of Kahal decided to neck to consecrate the sum of 100 silver rubles for the purchase of rice, as well as other grains, including the destination is planned, and 50 silver rubles to secretary to the governor in reward for his good disposition towards Jews.

No. 37.

Wednesday, section of 5 Vaicei books.

5558. – The representatives of the Kahal have self-the Kahal's treasury was used to provide the necessary money sare to celebrate, with a splendid luncheon and the best wines, the judges of the Christian tribunal who must deliver the verdict in the case of Jewish workers.

No. 156.

Orders relating to the collection of V money necessary for gifts to give to the chiefs of Christian authorities, on the occasion of the feast of Christmas.

Saturday, 21 Tevese 5562.

In view of the very large expenses required

the donations to be offered to the Christian authorities at the occasion during the Christmas celebration, it is ordered that the person-secret receiver of the Jews to employ all the means at its disposal to make the payment in the Kahal's coffers of all the arrears of the tax called interest tax.

No. 159.

Orders relating to a review which must be to be done among the Jews by the Christian authorities.

Monday, 23 Tevese, 5562.

Given the need of Jewish society for a strong sum to soften the consequences of a revision that must take place among certain Jews by the Christian authorities, the Kahal orders that this essential sum will be taken from the funds from the Kochère meat tax already collected long available and currently available in the Kahal's coffers. The representatives of Kahal and the Bet-Dine agree to prohibit the use of this money for purposes other than the cause in question.

No. 260.

Financial aid to brandy sellers during their trial with the contractors and beverage suppliers.

Wednesday, Matat-u-Mese section, 28 Fanuze 5552.

The representatives of Kahal decided to come in aid to brandy retailers in the course of their lawsuit with the entrepreneurs of spirit-killers, by providing them with the necessary money to defend their interests. Consequently, the money needed to complete the sum of 100 ducats that the tax office was supposed to provide for illuminations according to Behal's law-taart, will be collected and given to the retailers for their present need.

No. 261.

Regarding the sale for the benefit of Izaack, son of Guerson, of right to operate the hospital and the adjacent square. Properties belonging to Catholic monks liques.

(This document is confirmation of what has already been As previously mentioned, and which will be discussed much more later amply in the following chapters of this book. – 11 As a result of this act, the Kahal sells to the Hazaka Jews and Meropiié, that is to say the right to exploit the properties Christian families, as well as their persons. – No one other than the one who acquires this right of exploitation, whether he is from this same locality, whether he is from any other part of the globe where Jews are dispersed, cannot and should not benefit from this exploitation. That's how it is. that at the general meeting composed of all the self-Jewish rituals present in the Kahal Chamber, it was unanimously decided that the sale of the right to exploit the hospital and the adjacent square, properties belonging to the Catholic monks, will be awarded to a Jew).

66 JEWISH RUSSIA

Thursday, eve of the new moon Acra 5562.

Representatives of the Kahal and the general meeting general, composed of all the Jewish authorities of this city, have decided: – The right to exploit the hospital and the adjoining square, properties located at one end of Kaïdany Street and ap- belonging to the Catholic monks, is sold to Rabbi Isaac, son of Guerson. He is also sold to the same Izaack, son of Guerson, the right to exploit the space belonging to the municipality of the city and located near the properties named above.

This right to expedite the property of Christians yours is sold to the said Rabbi Izaack, to his descendants descendants or agents, from the center of the from earth to the highest clouds in the sky, without that no one could ever dispute his right for the acquisition of which Izaack paid to the Kahal's cash box, the agreed price.

Consequently, this right is inviolable for eternity and the said Izaack can dispose of it as he sees fit. intention, that is to say, to resell it, to put it in pledge, to give it to whomever he pleases, in short to dispose of it as he sees fit. If the Rabbi Izaack gets along with the members of the municipality council to obtain authorization to erect some building on the square of which he having acquired the exploitation rights from Kahal, he will be able to building houses or any other kind of building, either made of wood, or of stone or brick. If the government were to seize these spaces to build barracks or anything

JEWISH RUSSIA 67

another public building, it is strictly forbidden to any other Jew to enter into any commitment whatsoever—conch shell with the government, and only Izaach, son de Guerson will have the right to enter into negotiations with the government to secure the contract of all work. It is further expressly forbidden—instructs every other Jew to take responsibility for all commissions, and only Izaach, son of Guerson, will be able to to be the factor either of the government, or of the municipality, for everything concerning squares whose exploitation rights Izaach purchased...

It is enjoined upon every Kahal in the world to fully protect this right acquired by Izaack, son de Guerson, for himself, his descendants or its agents; and each Kahal and cha—that Bet-Dine will have to prosecute any individual who would like to put some obstacle to the exercise to the full and complete exercise of this right, to treat him as an enemy and force him to pay for any damages that might result from his hostile interference, and in the event of ne—vigilance on the part of the Kahal and the Bet-Dine to to prosecute the offender and compel him to compensate for the losses he will have caused to Izaack, son of Guerson, or to his descendants, the Kahal will be required to reimburse from his funds, in as soon as possible, for all damages suffered by Izaack, son of Guerson, his descendants or its authorized representatives. The publication of this The deed of sale will be sent to all the synagogues. gues.

No. 280.

-On the question that concerns all Jews who live in Russia.

Saturday, Tevese's first date. The week according to the chapter Mikoë. - 5562.

At the extraordinary general meeting convened relment, and in the presence of the members of the Kahal at full complement, it was decided, - as a result of in-disturbing new arrivals from the capital, announcing that the fate of the Jews who live
all parts of the great Russian Empire were entrusted to five high-ranking figures at court Saint Petersburg, with full power to decide what they would consider good for or against view of the Jews of this country, - that a delegation composed of some of the most learned Israelites will be sent to Saint Petersburg, along with the mission to throw themselves at the Emperor's feet, - that May his glory be eternal! - to beg him not point to allow the introduction of any innovation in the lives of the Jews, who are his most loyal followers topics. And given that this approach, however important-aunt, though indispensable, will cause immense expenses in the form of donations, gifts and other means of cor-rupture, and that, to cover all these expenses, he
It will require a very large sum of money, the members comprising the Kahal, as authority
The superior Jewish women decided that it will be perceived on every Jew living in this country an extraordinary tax-

JEWISH RUSSIA 69

naire, called interest tax, and that it is regulated by the
in the following way:

1° Capital, either in money or in market capitalization goods, either in insured receivables on mortgage-
the library that each Jew possesses, one must pay
1/2 for 100.

2° Regarding real estate, each pro-
Jewish tenant will pay 1/4 for 100.

3° Various other incomes, such as rents, etc., we will pay 10 percent.

4. Young households who remain with their parents will pay 1 percent of all their goods.

Each Jew must confirm by oath the value of his fortune, of which he must pay so much for 100, according to the above-mentioned rate. However, if someone offers 50 ducats for this tax, he will be relieved of the oath, without further investigating whether the interest charged on its capital by the tariff must exceed to pay the sum of 50 ducats that he would pay immediately directly.

Among the sworn officers responsible for collecting all the taxes that Jews must pay to the six members of the Jewish community will have the monitoring the perception of this important tax, and these six members will hold from the Kahal the power to employ, if necessary, all the servants of the Kahal, who, in this case, must-wind blind obedience to their orders.

70 JEWISH RUSSIA

No. 281.

Taxation, to paralyze the government's project ment relating to Jews in general.

Wednesday, the fourth date of the month, Tevese, se-Maine according to the Vaigah chapter. 5562.

Like the 7 MPs chosen from among the most prominent Jewish figures must soon to return to Saint Petersburg, in order to implore His Majesty the Emperor and to beseech her that nothing is changed in the current position of Jews in Russia, and as, for this important And this is an urgent step; money is needed, and more. money, the full reunion of Kahal members have decided the following: A new-an extraordinary tax will have to be paid into the Kahal at a rate of one silver ruble per inhabitant Jewish without distinction of sex or age.

Small towns, as well as dis- towns tricts, must pay into their coffers respective synagogues, the money coming from the tax, called the interest tax of so much per 100, which has was ordered in last Saturday's session, pre-

first date of the month Tevese, of the week according to the Mikoë chapter, and the coffers of these synagogues must send this money into the till general of the Kahal, ensuring that the sum of silver rubles, sent by the treasury of each synagogue, corresponds to the total of individuals from the Jewish population belonging to this synagogue; that is to say, if the Jewish population consists of a thousand individuals, for example, including women and children, the synagogue from this city must send to the Kahal treasury 1,000 silver rubles.

JEWISH RUSSIA 71

As for the inhabitants of the city where the Kahal has their seat, they must scrupulously, and under by oath, make the payments of the tax called interest tax of so much per 100, between the hands of the cashier chosen to collect the money coming from this extraordinary tax; which The cashier is the extremely wealthy Rabbi Wolf, son of Hirsche, very well-known and respected; assisted for the operation of bookkeeping, as well as for the preservation of all deeds and documents relating to this tax, by the extremely wealthy Aïzik, son of Judcl.

The cashiers and the envoys from all the synagogues-district toilets, upon their arrival in our city, will be able to, at the general meeting and of the con-Sentiment of the Kahal members, change the 7 deputies who will have been chosen to go to Saint-PéiersbDurg and replace them with others, such as aus.ii change the cashier and the bookkeeper.

No. 282.

Order to paralyze the government's project information relating to Jews in general.

Saturday, the seventh day of Tevese's date, according The chapter of Vaïgah. 5562.
At the extraordinary session of the meeting, embarrassed-

72 JEWISH RUSSIA

Ray and members of the Kahal in their entirety,
The following notice was published: Any individual of the Jewish population which, until next Tuesday, will not pay his share of the tax called tax of interest of so much per 100, which was decreed by the Kahal for sending 7 delegates to Saint Petersburg-town, in order to paralyze the government's project relating to the Jews who live in Russia, will be considered by Jewish society as an infidel renegade deserving of all pity, and will be persecuted and mistreated by all the faithful children of Israel. It will not be liable to various fines and punishable by tions of all kinds.

It was also decided that we would not enter into talks with anyone who had refused to lend-to take the oath relating to the valuation of wealth, this evaluation being the basis of the share that each individual owes the tax ordered by the previous difficult decisions – decisions that do not liberate from oath that those who, from the beginning, have paid 50 ducats. As for those of the owners of houses that want to appeal before Bet-Dine of the Kahal's decision regarding the tax of 10 percent which are applied to rents shops or apartments, and which seems to them excessive, they are warned that the lawyers of Kahal will be the extremely wealthy Wolf, son of Hirsche, and Aizik, son of Judel, and that the plaintiffs must appear before the court of Bet-Dine at later tomorrow; that, past within this timeframe, their complaints and legal actions will be reviewed. ideas as if they were non-existent.

JEWISH RUSSIA 73

No. 284.

On cabarets and brandy suppliers.

The same session also raised the question cabarets run by Jews and bakeries beverage suppliers; and it was decided that every Jew who would enter into business with these suppliers would be at the mercy of 7 retailers chosen by the Kahal, who will pursue him with their persecutions, will bring him misfortune, fines and humiliations of all kinds. The power of these 7 elected retailers will have the same value as that of the general meeting general.

No. 285.

On what little there is to observe.

Tuesday, tenth date of Tevese 55G2.

In accordance with the orders of the seven delegates, the
The following proclamation was issued: "A meager absolute authority is commanded for all Jews in general.
without excluding women and children, sa-
See: Monday the 16th, Thursday the 19th, and the 3rd of the month Tevese. This lean meat must be very strictly observed on par with the great Elizy Lenten feast. This meager whose purpose is prayer for the success of steps that must be taken by the seven de-bequeathed to Saint Petersburg, all the Jews must-5

74 THE JEWISH RUSSIAN

wind to go to the great synagogue for pray this prayer together, in order to avert
the government's project hanging over their heads Jews in Russia.

"That of the Jews who, until these days of prayer, will not have paid the tax intended to paralyze the government's project relating to Jews will be persecuted by all possible means.
possible and, in addition to the fines he will have to
to suffer on every occasion, he will be rejected from the bosom of Jewish society.

VTI

We now need to enter into certain essential characteristics of Jewish customs and speak:

1° Jewish slaughterhouses, kosher and
tref; 2° of the influence of the kocher and the tref on the lives of the Jews; 3° of the tax, called the tax of the box, for kosher meat; 4° of the em-
use of this tax; 5° of the protection that ac-
The Russian government is tied to the authorities
Jewish women, for the collection of this tax.

In all cities, large and small, where
The Jewish population is starting to settle down, she had a slaughterhouse built at his own expense, where the Jewish butchers must slaughter the animals for slaughter.

nemes and other animal species whose meat
Pure, called kosher, serves as their food.

JEWISH RUSSIA

and the one that is impure, called treph, is ven-due to the Christians. This is partly the difference-rence of these two types of meat, qualithus enshrined by the Israelite religion, which invites Jews everywhere to seize and monopolize
to their benefit the butcher's trade.

Besides this question of imagined hygiene,
but which their religion sanctifies in some way sort by the qualification of a meat which is not kosher, and that one only obtains if the animal is slaughtered by a Jewish butcher in a building belonging exclusively to Jews, there is yet another one, of an intemuch greater... It's the power of con-to avoid the return of a very important tax
that the Kahal collects on the sale of meat Kochère; control impossible, without a beacon-separate. – This tax, in fact, very substantial Maple and very productive, it is destined to serve on many occasions to smooth over difficulties, to overcome the resistance, which must be ren-
to counter in the pursuit of a result, such as the one he always pursued and never ceased-
will be to pursue the people of Israel.

It is therefore known that Jews do not eat

JEWISH RUSSIA / /

not meat from an animal that has not been shot down by a Shochet (1). We also know that they do not eat certain animals prohibited by the Talmud. Of the 56 chapters that the law of the Talmud devotes to defining the ma-
the prohibition against slaughtering an animal in order to obtain kosher meat, – chapters which contain 642 paragraphs, included in the collection gé-
General of Talmudic Laws, Schalschan Aruh Zore Deia, – we choose a few-
some, whom we believed worthy of a citation-textual tion.

And first, paragraphs 10 and 11 of chapter 1-pitre l,r, relating to the manner of slaughtering the animal evil whose meat must be consumed by the Jews, that is to say, those who must be kosher, prescribing that the knife used by the Sho-
It must be without the slightest breach, excess-sharply sharpened and even and polished throughout. If the
The knife does not have all these qualities, the meat
the animal becomes tref, that is to say that it

(1) Special Jewish butcher, who had to study in all its details the prescriptions recommended by the Talmud relative to the slaughter of animals, and to the killing poultry.

78 JEWISH RUSSIA

cannot be used by the Jews and therefore must be sold to Christians. Furthermore, if the knife, having all the required qualities and indicated above, when the Shochet pro-yields to the operation, retains these same qualities
After the operation, the meat is kosher.
but if the operation was done with a knife the most
a small breach, or if it has been damaged at all another way, such as if after the operation it is no longer as streamlined, as even,
as polished as he had been before, the meat
of the animal killed by such a knife becomes tref.

Paragraph 7, Chapter 18, states: "If the
The knife's cutting edge is perfectly even.
having no breaches and completely clean,
Although it is not sharp, the Shochet can
to use it to kill the animal, and the meat
could be kochère, even the operation would last a whole day, provided tou-once after this operation the knife con-
to maintain the appearance it had before use.

It must be acknowledged, however, that, despite the bizarre and often incomprehensible prescriptions understandable aspects of Talmudic law, the operation executed

JEWISH RUSSIA

cut by the Shochets is usually done with extraordinary skill and promptness dinners; but the preparations are quite savage and revolting. Thus, the poor animal destined to be killed, at any cost a kind of torture, as long as the victim time seems to retain some desire to resistance, and these tortures only cease at moment when the animal, losing all feeling of life, becomes completely immobile. Then the Shochet, getting rid of the hair that the covers the area where the incision, proceeds with the suppression operation quite promptly, quite briskly and quite adept-mentally, so that the animal cannot be subdued to eat by any movement the neck-water; for, in the event that this were to happen, in addition to the above-mentioned requirements, the meat would become trefoil.

Here is one side of the meat issue Kocher and Tref, which is for Jews only the cause of serious scruples, because for the Christians, it doesn't matter at all whether the animal is killed with such and such a knife, provided that this that the animal is healthy and that the meat has good taste. But the really damaging aspect for Christians, and which results precisely compliance with certain rules relating to upon the observation of the kochère and the tref poul-Jews, here it is: The animal was killed following all the meticulous conditions and rules relating to the knife, to the handling of the animal, preparations, etc.; but that's not all: because then the Shochet, having its sleeves of shirts rolled up, proceed to the second an operation which consists of a scrupulous inspection assess the condition of the viscera of the killed animal. This operation is performed by the Shochet. point by point, according to the indications of the Talmud on veterinary art, and if, by this Upon inspection, the viscera of the slaughtered animal did not offer not the signs by which health is recognized the meat is declared as Tref and must be put set aside to be sold to Christians.

80 JEWISH RUSSIA

Diseases that affect meat quality

(impure) are of eight species; namely: Derus, Nekuba, Habeza, Netula, Kenra, Nefula, Pesuka, Hebura (1).

(1) Schalschan-Avuh-o-Deia, chap. xxix on the Tref.

JEWISH RUSSIA 81

Demis points to Ranimai, who was injured by an animal. savage.

Nekûba means a hollow found by the Shochet, either on the skin that covers the cervical, either in the intestinal tract, or in chyle, either in the liver or in the heart.

Ilabeza, an animal with a birth defect session in the lungs.

Netula, animal that fishes through the liver.

Kenra means the cut belly of the animal all the way to the intestines.

Nef nia., an animal which, having fallen by accident-tooth, had something disturbed in his being.

Pesuka, an animal with a broken vertebral bone.

Hebura, an animal that had part of the damaged vertebral bone.

These eight points constitute the profound science on the subject, and which are dis-often cut by learned Jews, and inter-lent in different and contradictory ways toires.

These reasons make it easy to explain. why do Jews show such pro- disgust? announced, abstain with such perseverance

5.

JEWISH RUSSIA

rancid to order meat from Christians;

because, most of the time, it's just meat
The rejected trifle was sold to the Christians.
meat which often is nothing more to them than...
carrion (Nefula).

It's because of complete ignorance in which these Christians remained until this
at the moment, in relation to the mysteries of religion
Jewish community, with regard to the rules of the Kochère and the Tref, that the sale to the Christians hold only of this latter quality of meat,
called impure by the Jews, and which, in fact,
is very often just carrion, has been tolerated. – But you have to ask these promoproponents of liberalism, who proclaim from the top
public platforms and university chairs universities, in favor of equality for all religions, if they think that the sale made by Jews to Christians of spoiled and mal- meat healthy is a loyal and honest fact on their part;
And if, despite everything, it must exist and be always executed, because of the law of the Talmud contains, in chapter XIV, page 21, the confirmation of what Moses preached to Jews in the desert: You are forbidden to

JEWISH RUSSIA 83

eating carrion is permitted, but it is allowed to launderer abroad who lives among you.

Besides these two main operations, which contain, as we have been able to see,
a number of minor details, there are indeed
still others, no less meticulous, relating in the way of feeding the animal intended to be killed, at the separation of the blood and veins of meat intended to be kosher meat;
and many others that are subject to examination
of a special employee other than the Shochet, called Menckevy.

This is a brief overview of the operations of observance and practice of which depend the kosher meat; operations and pres-descriptions which are also inconvenient and awkwarddistressing for the Jews themselves that harmful to Christians. For it is necessary to do here this reflection that the execution, in all its severity, of the rule which orders the Jews to eating only kosher meat is not

not the result of Jewish fanaticism, as ge-Christians generally seem to believe this;
but that strict observance of this law is due to the very active surveillance of the agents

84 JEWISH RUSSIA

and servants devoted to the Kahal, as well as to very cleverly invented means that the Ka-Hal uses it to verify each book of meat consumed by the Jewish population.
On the other hand, like violations of the law on the kochère and the tref bring about pu-terms, persecutions and fines to
to pay, weapons that Kahal possesses, all of that is infallibly effective against counter-Jewish arrivals who, for fear of incurring the Hevem, willingly or unwillingly, carry out the law
on the kosher, imposed despotically by the Kahal.

The documents classified under numbers 148
and 149, in the Book on the Kahal, by Draf-mann, and which, translated from Russian, are reproduits verbatim in chapter VIII, give an idea of how the Kahal intends apply punishments and persecutions to Refractory Jews, as well as the Kevem, of which we will talk in great detail in one of the cha-following clowns.

As we can see, the law on the kosher, prescribed to the truth from the Talmud, but supported and strictly monitored in its execution by

JEWISH RUSSIA 85

the Kahal of each locality inhabited by the Jews, is observed by the Jewish population, well
no longer spoke of fear of punishment and persecution.
tions at the disposal of the Kahal that speak of fanaticism religious. As for the severity of the Kahal on the strict adherence to this law, she explains easily. If the Kahal, in fact, is an ins-institution or authority imposed on the population Jewish according to the Talmud, it is quite natural that he insists on the exact observance of the law on the Kochere, because this law, more than any other separates the inner life of the Jews from the rest of humanity must be preserved intact, and that is quite naturally the care that falls to the infidel interpreter of the Talmud, and this interpreter It's the Kahal in every Jewish locality.

But the Kahal knows perfectly well, from experience, which the Jews do not strictly observe—the law on the kosher when they are found outside their homes, where control is introduced and closely monitored by Kahal agents does not permit any Jew to violate this law. Knowing, therefore, this tendency of the Jews in general not to strictly observe the law on the kosher, the Kahal took the determination not to rely on religious fanaticism, And he doesn't allow them freedom of action. Because, as already mentioned, many Jews prefer to buy and eat meat Tref, of course not the one rejected by the Jewish shields as unhealthy, meat that is not subject to the enormous tax provided by the Kahal on kosher meat, although this tax is used in many circumstances to preserve the law of the Talmud intact. If the Kahal limited himself to simply giving opinions and to make observations in a delicate, that would be wanting to build a large a house without ensuring it has solid foundations. Also, knowing the great importance of this law to maintain its influence on the inner life of the Jews, each Kahal in sur-monitors compliance within its radius with a Extraordinary rigidity.

86 JEWISH RUSSIA

Based on everything that has been said above about the Kochère, it is easy to understand why the Kahal, in every locality where there is a Jewish population, more or less large, raising at at his own expense a building intended for the slaughterhouse; for—what the Jewish butcher's trade is surrounded by so much circumspection, watched by so many employees, burdened with a tax overwhelming, and finally what use can so much be? bizarre and inexplicable ceremonies that are carried out in Jewish butcher shops. acts and documents relating to this part elements of Jewish life are gathered in the Book on the Knhal, by Drafmann, numbering of forty-six. We will mention only two, classified under numbers 148 and 149, like the more interesting. The main purpose of the orders—the values cited in these documents is to contribute to serve the principles represented by the Talmud. If we add to this the tax on the hochère, said company tax, is used to pay all the individuals employed by this institution as well as providing the necessary funds for the cor-government employee strike (such as This is indicated by the extracted documents. from the Book on Kahal which have been cited more (top, chapter vi), we will understand how this institution, while being a burden burdensome for the Jews themselves, but useful to their cause in general, is very harmful to Christians, and how the strict execution of the law on kosher paralyzes the projects of European governments regarding reform of the Jewish question, a reform which would be so beneficial to Christian populations.

JEWISH RUSSIA 87

JEWISH RUSSIA

In Russia, a country which, since ancient times further inland, it was riddled with this gangrene. what is called employee corruption government, the Jews, with the address which characterized, have managed to guarantee the perforced acceptance of the tax on kosher meat by the legislation of the laws of the country whose execution cut was entrusted to government employees nement; they did so well that the authorities Russian civilians themselves were monitoring, from their On the other hand, strict observance by all Jews of the law on the kosher!

This question, so extraordinary and so bizarre, was motivated by the Kahal of the in the following way:

“Not relying on our moral strength,

which should help us maintain the ins-
such an important provision of the meat law
kosher prescribed by the Talmud of a ma-
such a particular nière, and, anticipating the circumstances-practices in which those of our coreligions-

JEWISH RUSSIA 89

naircs who do not want to observe strictly the provisions of said law, deserving a reprimand and punishment from the Kahal, could appeal to the authorities
Russian civilians, in order to seek their protection
so as not to suffer the punishments that the Kahal claims to have the right to apply it to them, we we did everything we could to introduce in the country's civil laws a chapter relating to the collection of the tax on the kosher, in order to
to ensure its implementation by the authorities.

We can guess that the success of this introduction-tion of the law on kosher in the codes of country shouldn't have cost much trouble for Kahal, because it was only a matter of persuading to the Russian authorities that the tax, said injjôt of the box, which is perceived daily among the Jews, is nothing more than a safer way to make the Jewish population pay the taxes situations that every government demands of its subjects, regardless of their religion.
And that is how the Kahal has, for so to speak, forced the Russian government to introduce the law on the Jewish kosher into its
His own laws. He said it in these terms:

90 LA. JEWISH RUSSIA

"The tax that has long existed in the Jewish nation in Russia, under the name
box tax, levied on meat called Kochère is intended for improvements that can be introduced into this population to know: a) for the establishment of Jewish schools wherever the need arises; b) to
to ensure the collection of taxes owed by the Jewish population in government; c) and for
to protect and assist civil and military authorities silences in the regular perception of this tax (1) which must be: 1° on each animal slaughtered in Jewish abattoirs, whose meat is kosher; 2° on each fowl killed and also intended to be kosher; 3° on each pound of kosher meat sold at Jews; 4° on the fines that must be paid those who do not strictly observe the law of Kocher, according to the prescriptions of the Talmud.

"During the operation, what do the butchers do?"
Jews by slaughtering animals and birds, whose meat is to be used for the kosher, we

(1) Supplement to chap. cclxxxi of the Law on Imports., art. 1 and 8.

LA. JEWISH RUSSIA 91

must ensure that the instruments and 1st utensils used in the operation, be in accordance with the prohibitions of the law of Talmud, which must be certified by the rabbi (1).

"The city and rural police, as well as the civil authorities, must, at the legal request from Jewish entrepreneurs, aid and intervention, so that the perception of the tax, called the box tax, is made strictly-lying and without any delay by the Jews who buy kosher meat for their commons (2).

Thus, Kochère's law is today under the protection of the Russian government, which had become the support of this eminently Jewish, and which, as has already been said, separates the largest Jewish population of the populations Christians among whom she lives; and this The law fears no enemy in Russia. – On the question of what advantage the gou-

(1) Supplement to chap. cclxxxi, art. 33 of the Act taxes.

(2) Supplement to chap. cclxxxi, art. 57 of the law on taxes.

The Russian government can thus find ways to protect itself. the statute of limitations for the tax on the kosher, here Something to enlighten the curious: The arrears owed by the Jewish population of the government of Vilna amounted, in 1869, to the enormous sum of 93,368 silver rubles (1,173,472 francs); and those owed by the Jewish population in the the Minsk government reached, in 1868, 341,097 silver rubles (1,364,388 francs). In All in all, for both governments: 2 million 537,860 francs.

The Russian government, by protecting the collection of this tax on the kochère and in having it carried out by the civil authorities Russians, cause the greatest harm to the popula-Christian traditions of the regions where the Jews, from a hygienic point of view, since it is eating meat often unhealthy, rejected by the Jews; on the other hand On the other hand, he favors and encourages the same Jews to resist him and to paralyze all projects reform that he would attempt to introduce in the Jewish population scattered across its vast States, which we have provided proof of through the authentic quotations given at the end

LA. JEWISH RUSSIA 93

from the previous chapter, through extracts from Derjawine's report, and excerpts the Kahal ordinances of which we are to follow this chapter, reserving the right to return later on this question.

VIII

Here are the documents, filed in the Book surleKahal, âeBrafmann, under numbers 148 and 149, which we have just invoked in support of this presentation:

No. 148.

Regulations to ensure the authority of the tribune judicial treatment of Jews, which, as a result of offenses and the contraventions committed by our coreli-

legionnaires, risk losing all influence, this God forbid!

These regulations were discussed and approved.
by the general meeting composed of all the Jewish authorities, namely representatives of the city, members of the Kahal in full force and members of the Bel-Dine court in view to ensure the judgments of this tribunal have the force of law welcome from all Juii's.

JEWISH RUSSIA 95

1° If someone is mentioned as belonging to the Jewish religion
three times by Samosh (servant of the synagogue-gogue) in front of the Bel-Dine, to deposit in the question which concerns him, and does not obey this appeal, as well as, if he does not submit to the judgment rendered by the Bet-Dine in the same in this matter... a Hevem will be launched against him.
The chiefs and representatives of the city acceded tooth in advance to all the expressions that embwill fold the Bet-Dine in the formula of this Hevem,
which will be launched by a notary. against the neck-pable. – The Samoche will have to proceed that the Hevem launched was approved by all the au'ounited Jewish rites ("Begaskomusaloufeiveioznie Hakabal.

If such a Hevem had no result, then
The Bet-Dine must draw up a report, signed by all its members, and register this act in Pinkes's (book of deeds). Samoche is also required to register it in the Kahal's Pinkes.
After which, the Samoche will have to consult the Per-Secret seducer (tax collector), Neigih-Gamel, on what needs to be done and how we should act with the culprit who did not correct himself after the Hevem was launched against him. – What will come out from the mouth of the secret Persecutor (tax collector)
must be carried out very respectfully by the Samoche.

If the culprit is a powerful man, danger-hollow and capable of causing some damage to Kahal, the Bet-Dine must, in this case, consult with one another.

with the monthly inspector, as well as with two the most experienced representatives (in which case no member of the Kahal or Bet-Dine may de- (to decline its cooperation), to take common ground a decision, which will inevitably become enforceable toire;

2° If the guilty party against whom the Hevcn persisted in its obstinacy for three days. and does not make amends, all his property, real estate and personal property, as well as the position it what was acquired in the synagogue, must be declared, by the Bet-Dine, as Hclker (dispo- (not suitable for the first buyer who comes along). Therefore all the compensation due to the Bet-Dine must to be ac,uiltécs by a parlic taken on the for- tune of the culprit, for all this fortune mobi- The property and land will be sold by appraisal (in the absence of the culprit); and what will remain, after paying the dukes' indemnities to Bet- Dine will belong to the Kahal's fund. If this- during which some complaints arose from the the share of the guilty party's creditors, the orders and the rulings of the Bet-Dine will settle these claims mations (I);

3° If the party that cites another, for ob- to hold a judgment of the Bet-Dine, in a trial

(1) This document has been translated verbatim from the Book on the Kahal. 11 It is probable that the sale of which he is ques- tion is limited to the sale of the right to exploit the properties the guilty party of the Jewish man, as is done for Christians hold.

JEWISH RUSSIA 97

any judge, finds only three judges, these three judges are obliged to begin immediately to conduct the trial, without any possibility of postponement, under using the pretext that the court is not at full strength. There is no exception to this rule except if he/she/it is necessary to... senses a very important matter, to which all the members comprising the Bet-Dine must to take part. But in general, it is desirable that all legal proceedings be concluded as soon as possible. representatives of the Kahal, as well as) the other Daïons (judges) will be required to accept and app- to prove everything that was decided by the three judges, without the right to observe or oppose.

And if one party, dissatisfied with the judgment rendered by the three judges, addressed to another judge to appeal this judgment, no one must to comply with this request; for the matter has been judged by three judges and cannot be replaced by another Samoche;

4° If the pursuer, that is to say the one who files a lawsuit, forces the opposing party to to present before a Christian court, with the help of Hevem, he will be summoned to appear before the tribunal of the Bet-Dine. One must first send him the warning that the Kahal and the Bet-Dine gave him would make them pay for all the costs and all the damages which would reach the opposing party in this trial; and that, moreover, he will have to undergo all the responsibilities arising from the Hevem. responsibilities required to support and to uphold the holy institution of the Bet-Dine;

98 JEWISH RUSSIA

5. It is forbidden for any Jew to serve as a witness to the one who cites one of his coreligionists before a court other than the Bet-Dine court; and On the contrary, every Jew is enjoined to bear witness-gner, if he is summoned before the Christian tribunal, in favor of the opposing party of the plaintiff;

6° If the plaintiff possesses a letter of changes the part he quotes, he can in this case to summon one's opponent before a Christian court if the latter did not want to submit to the decision of the Bet-Dine;

7° If the guilty party acknowledges their wrongdoing and fine by submitting to the judgment rendered by the Bel-Dine, before this affair was communicated to the secret Persecutor, the Bet-Dine can cancel the Hevem launched against him, but with this essential condition of obtaining some guilty the positive and indisputable guarantee that the latter will submit to the decisions of the Bet-Dine. – If, however, the matter had already been communicated to the secret Persecutor, the cancellation the Hevem could only be granted with the permission of the Kahal, the Bet-Dine and all the Jewish authorities of the general meeting;

8° The Samoches must once a month

To gather and choose from among them a secret Persecutor and he must solemnly swear that he will not scatter He will not be able to harm anyone in the world, not even his most vulnerable child. close relatives; and that by complying with instructions he will receive from his predecessors—sisters, he will do everything possible to support and to uphold the holy tribunal of Det-Dine instituted by the Tilmud. — Furthermore, he must swear not to divulge the secret of the election to fulfill this function.

JEWISH RUSSIA 90

No. 149.

Duties and means that must be employed by the secret Persecutor to succeed in breaking and to overcome the will of the defiant culprit Jewish court of Det-Dine.

1° The culprit against whom the Hevem must be deprived of the exercise of all functional duties. tion in the Kahal or in the Ilerveis (con—brothers);

2° His exclusion from all confraternities is absolute;

3° He must not be admitted near Fora-Bes—gamidrasch (1), no more than with the others places where holy ceremonies are celebrated; to Even more so, he must not be allowed to approaching, in the capacity of a cantor, the place where He prays. He is forbidden to buy honest things. ners, and common prayer cannot be inter—broken nor stopped by him (2);

(t) The Fora ceremony will be described in one of the following chapters.

(2) If a Jew has been harmed in his interests or in his dignity by another Jew or by some nonsense, and that he

100 LA— JEWISH RUSSIA

4. The guilty party cannot be invited to any general meeting, nor at any particular celebration, because whoever invited him would be liable to Hevem;

5. No one should praise the guilty party, nor nor any place where it could— would be able to carry on any kind of business; nothing— minus any arrangement made with him, before The Hevem, launched against him, must be strictly— observed until the expiry of the term came first. The culprit's wife cannot to be admitted to the ablution ceremony in the Mikwa, and it is understood that at the appointed time first and fatal, all misfortunes will fall like lightning striking the culprit. Upchito che— beïam pokdaï inlkadolof vastcï;

6. If the guilty party holds any position whatsoever, he it is forbidden for any Jew to make him work from his state;

7. If a father had promised his daughter in marriage to the culprit against whom the Hevem is launched, he is allowed for this father to break the contract and not not to keep his promise, without being for that obliged to pay some kind of compensation, as is usually done in pareil cas;

8° 11 everyone is allowed to shout at the

Having not received satisfaction for this offense, he surrenders to the at the synagogue, in Besgamdrasch, and there he interrupts the prayer and stop it until satisfaction is given to him data.

JEWISH RUSSIA 101

synagogue that the culprit ate trcf, or that he did not observe the lean and other accusations sations, and this can be falsely asserted, in order to to incite the fanaticism of the Jewish populace, and that the guilty party be subjected to all kinds of persecution possible cuts.

All of the above was decided unanimously. by the general meeting composed of members of the Kahal and the Bet-Dine and approved by the great Rabbi Garof-Gagadol. And all signed under taking the oath, required so that all of this be monitored on time.

You must have read the preceding material carefully.
to get an idea of a Jew's position which is under the immediate influence of Kahal, as well as Kahal's reports with the local authorities, and the value that can to have the testimony of a Jew under surveillance by the Kahal.

"

TX

Let's turn to the Jewish brotherhoods; let's see what are their relations with the Kahal and the influence that these brotherhoods exert over the Jews and the Christians.

There is no Jewish society in which There are only a few brotherhoods, and there are none almost no Jew who does not belong to one of or to the other.

The influence of these brotherhoods on the lives of the people
general and the private existence of each Jew,
in terms of moral and material aspects, as well as on the social organization of the country where the Jews
They live in it, it is very large and very remarkable.
The Jewish brotherhoods are, at our service
In a very apt comparison, the arteries of the

LA. JEWISH RUSSIA 103

Jewish society, while the Kahal fills the heart functions. For anyone who has not been able to pe-to intimately understand the springs of inner life
laughter at the Jews and the artificial means they employ to exist amidst the different Christian societies and others, it is almost impossible to grasp the mysterious lil that en-chain and bind all the Jews spread out over the surface of the earth, like an all-powerful and invisible corporation.

In a work published in Russian by Brafmann (Mina, 1869), this question is treated with every possible detail. Here, we will only touch upon this interesting part of Jewish life by indicating some categories of the brotherhoods in question.

The first category is a brotherhood of the Talmud: The Learned One.

The 2nd category is a brotherhood of good-pheasant.

The 3rd, the brotherhood of artisans.

The 4th, brotherhood of religion.

The 5th, funeral brotherhood.

Then, several other brotherhoods, which are divided into countless local brotherhoods,

104 JEWISH RUSSIA

but which are all intimately linked under the national flag of the Talmud, which they serve faithfully supporting the Kahal institution on which their existence depends.

Each brotherhood has its leader, its institute-author, and quite often his house of prayer (branch of the main synagogue). In short, each brotherhood is a second Kahal. daire, most of whose members appear—they belong to the elite of Jewish society, forming a near-legion of fighters surrounding and defend the national flag of the Talmud. Always at the service of the Kahal, when he—he believes it necessary to punish a recalcitrant Jew—to obey his orders and to bring him back under its heavy yoke, — they are equally today ready to defend, by all means which they can use, a faithful Jew and subjected to the orders of the Kahal, when this Jew has some disagreement with the Goyim.

The relationship of these brotherhoods with the Kahal are recorded in great detail in 21 acts and documents published by Brafmann, in his Book on the Kahal. We have extracted and translated from Russian seven of the most interesting ressants, classified under numbers 7, 8, 14, 59, 79, 82 and 85.

Here they are:

No. 7.

On the formation of population statistics
Jewish community of the city, according to each person's position.

Wednesday; section of 5 books Ahro-Kerdochime
Iva. 5555.

Among the representatives of the Kahal, he was ordered to the Gabjims (heads of the brotherhoods) of to provide the true statistics of all members making up their society. In the brotherhoods craftsmen, they will have to indicate the counter-established masters, without mentioning whether they appear-are attached to the Jewish population of the city or if they are foreigners. The same order was given by the Kahal to all Jewish landlords or tenants principal Jews of this city, residing there, or the inhabitant only temporarily.

No. 8.

"On the choice of jurors."

To settle the outstanding issue with a few brotherhoods, in relation to Jewish butchery, Saturday, according to the Ahro-Kerdochime section, 13 Iva

106 JEWISH RUSSIA

5555: a), with the assent of the Kahal, were elected four leaders of brotherhoods who, with the Rabbi Samuel, son of J., must arrange and finish The case that arose between Hevra Kadische (Funeral brotherhood) and Hevra-Schive-Kir-nechime (a brotherhood of 7 elected officials). At the same session, It was decided that he would be delivered to Samuel, son deJ., the translation certificate of some decrees of Bet-Dine in Russian. If the Rabbi and the Bet-Dine consent, the Samoches (notaries) (of the Kahal) can sign this certificate.

No. 14.

On the construction of the Jewish slaughterhouse.

Saturday, section of 5 books Begaloscho. 5555.

He was enjoined to the Hevra-Kadische brotherhoods and Hevra-Schive-Kirnechime to build the a-Jewish beater at their own expense; and since the brotherhood Schive-Kirnechime withdrew, and that consequently- As a consequence of this retirement, the continuation of said Construction had to be stopped, the Kahal designates Rabbi Avi, son of R., Rabbi Nota, son of D., and Rabbi Samuel son of G., to stop the exact count with the brotherhood that refuses to continue of the construction in question, and of re- to demand from her the receipt for all expenses Do this up to that point. When this count will be finished and the delegates will have between They will have to hold the receipt in their hands.

JEWISH RUSSIA 107

to offer the Kadische brotherhood to buy some Kahal has the right to continue alone and at her own expense. the slaughterhouse. – The three delegates have power and have right to stop the account, as they- tend, along with the brotherhood that has withdrawn, thus than to reach an agreement with the one who would like to con- continue construction, as they might do the seven principal leaders of the general meeting. If the Kadische brotherhood wishes to continue the said construction and obtains authorization from the delegates as indicated above by the Kahal, she will have to rem- to fulfill all the conditions that have been prescribed to the Schive-Kirnechime brotherhood.

No. 59.

The monitory decision.

In the construction of the apartment which gives in the courtyard of the synagogue, the Semi- brotherhood tat-IIasodime did not fulfill the conditions im- posed in the authorization granted to him Déé speaks Kahal, – having built the windows, two of which face the side where the prayer house of the funeral brotherhood, and the other two on the side where the prayer is performed from the Zevah-Cedek brotherhood (butchers), which is completely contrary to the agreement made with the Kahal. – However, despite this contraven- tion to the o data of the Kahal, its members have decided that the cash relief, without interest, would be maintained at the Semitat-Haso brotherhood-dime, if she builds two in this apartment other windows, overlooking the eastern side; in Otherwise, the Kahal will withdraw the aid. interest-free money to the said brotherhood.

No. 79.

On the Kahal trial with the brotherhood of Aitisans.

Saturday, Bogar section.

The representatives of the Kahal decided to ar- to amicably settle the dispute between the craftsmen Israelis and the Kahal, by paying the former the sum of 200 silver rubles, to satisfy all their claims.

No. 82.

On the rights of the leaders of the Holy Brotherhood.

Saturday, Bogar section. 5559.

It is granted to the current leaders of the holy the funeral brotherhood the right that they possess seven elected officials from the city. For everything concerning the aforementioned brotherhood and until the new election tion, any decision that will be made will have the same force that if it had been taken by the seven elected officials of the city.

THE JEWISH ILLUSION 109

No. 85.

Circular sent by the Kahal to all brotherhoods.

Saturday, section of 5 Behukataï books. 5559.

City representatives decided to- to send to all the confraternities a circular por- From this day forward, until 18 Iva 5560, that is to say, for an entire year, he is de- eager to receive new members, except for the unmarried children and adolescents.

It is, therefore, forbidden for the leaders of these confraternities that are appointed for one month, thus that the servants should take steps to collect votes regarding admission in the brotherhoods, with the exception, however, of the Semitat-IIasadime brotherhood (loan brotherhood).

X

Let us now publicize the ceremony Alia, in which the Jews are divided into patricians and plebeians.

This ceremony, instituted by Ezdreche (1), and, according to others, by Moses the child, consists in the reading of five holy books and from the book of the Prophets, a reading which must to be done during the communal prayer (2). This Reading must be done on Monday, Thursday and Saturday medi of each week. On the ticket Ezdreche spoke of this general rule as follows: "He who, within three days, indicated, will not have read the five holy books, will be per- "Guarded by the Angel of Darkness (Satan)."

(1) Kolbo, The Rule of Reading the Five Holy Books- Chapter XV.

(2) Talmud, Treatise of Megil, page xx.

JEWISH RUSSIA 111

The practice of reading the five holy books, thus that the Book of the Prophets, was introduced during communal prayer, as well as during the new moon festivals and the May days-gres. The performance of this duty is prescribed by The Synagogue is for all Jews without exception. The fulfillment of said duty is as- The Kohen (officiant) and the He (assistant) (1), as well as any other Jew.

This reading could not be done otherwise that according to the law of the Torah (a piece of the par-path on which psalms are written and (some extracts from the law of the Talmud). These the most sacred object in every synagogue. The ceremony is performed in the following manner:

sells:

After reciting the prayer Chemina, Ezrei, a member of the audience removes the Kivot piece of the parchment in question, and which is called Torah, and gives it to the cantor or to his replacement. The cantor, after having received with profound religious feeling, re-quotes a short prayer and solemnly ascends

(1) Up to now, there exists among the Jews the distinction of the c'l.ss.s, which are divided into Levi and Zayodi.

112 JEWISH RUSSIA

the platform. The people then surround him and each must touch the Torah. On the platform, the cantor meets the Segan or Gaba, (the staroste) and the Samoche (notary).

After placing the Torah back on the table which the cantor is on the platform, at a sign
What does Gaba do to him, calling while singing?
the name of the father of the one to whom it fell, this
That day, the honor of reading the prayer first.

At this invitation, the designated person
he gets up from his place and goes up onto the platform;
then, placing his hand on the Torah, recites the prayer in these words: "Bless Jehovah,
who is blessed; blessed be the blessed Jehovah.
in eternity! You are blessed, Jehovah, king of creation; you, who chose us from among all the peoples of the earth and gave us laws!
"Blessed are you, great lawgiver!" The people answers: Amen. After which, the reading begins-the cycle of the five Books, and when it is finished,
the same person who had been invited by the
The cantor, stepping onto the platform, repeats: "Blessed
Be you, Jehovah, who gave us the truths Holy tablets of law! Blessed be Jehovah, the great legislator!

JEWISH RUSSIA 1 13

This is what the Alia ceremony consists of.
Being invited to read and recite the prayer means to be chosen to ascend Mount Sinai, represented in each synagogue by the platform, from where Ton announces to the assembled people the laws dictated by God himself.

And what about the right to receive Alia?

The first Aliyah belongs to the Kohen (of-benefiting, the descendant of Aaron); the second at Levi (assistant); the following are for the people. In the absence of the Kohen, the Levi takes The first; if the Levi is absent and the Kohen presently, this one takes the first two. In the absence of the Kohen and the Levi, their Alia are given to other people pre-paths to prayer, in the following order: Tal-Mud Hahan (the learned interpreter of the Talmud), Parnes (the representatives of the general meeting) general), which have the right to be awarded since the the third through the sixth Alla, that is to say-say Chelichi; the others Alia belong to the people present.

In this way, the AZia ceremony by-the synagogue's faithful dressed as patricians and plebeians; which often causes violent quarrels among this devout society; because, among those present, one felt offended because he was not invited to board the es-trade to recite the prayer and approach the Torah; another claims that it was his rightful place third or fourth A lia, instead of the cin-the fifth or sixth that he obtained; a third-the thirteenth would like to belong to the patricians, while-say that we relegated Fa among the plebeians; thus immediately. These various claims occasion-almost always cause scandals, which do not not suitable for a temple, intended for the holy prayer. The Kahal, despite its authority recognized by all Jews and his despotism weighing on the inner life of his coreligions-naires, by dividing Jewish society into the synagogues in two distinct classes, did not succeeded, on this occasion, in ensuring discipline Pliny needed.

114 JEWISH RUSSIA

We need to examine the following in turn:

1° The authority of the Kahal in his district;

2° The rules prescribed by the Kahal ready-eagerly to grant permission to the Jews
fairground workers to remain in the district;

3° The sale to the Jews Hazaka and Merope;

4° Herem among the Jews.

Schiller's words: "The Jews..."
are constituted as a State within the States » de-conclude and summarize the historical picture of the life of the Jews in Egypt, 3,600 years ago;
which in turn perfectly retraces the life
Jews of today...

But, as a state without territory is something fictitious and which escapes con-

11 G LA. JEWISH RUSSIA

ception, the words of the great German poet could, until that moment, pass rather for a poetic idea rather than for a truth historical.

In this work, we will encounter this ter-
a fictional and elusive ritual, which has made everything
time the covetousness of Kahal, and which cons-establishes a true domain... a kind of souve-Theocratic rule... And that's how the Schiller's words acquire the value of a indisputable truth.

Here is the idea that the law of Kahal gives us
of this territory considered by the Jews not as fictional, but as real, under the name of Hezkat-Ischub, that is to say, of the authority that the Kahal claims over the properties comtaken in his district.

By the Hezkat-Ischub law, the authority of the Ka-Hal extends beyond all rules and known forms that govern conduct of any society. The non-inhabitants Jews, on whose goods, lands and properties

he extended his occult power into the district, are considered by the Jews as the inhabitants of a territory free from all occupation

JEWISH RUSSIA 117

previous tion (1), component, if we can—
Let us express ourselves in this way, the private domain
• Kahal, who has the right to sell it to the Jews in sections... or, to put it more simply explicitly (as does one of the most im-bearing the interpretations of Talmudic law, the Rabbi Kulun), like a free lake in which Only he can cast his nets for
to fish, to whom the Kahal sold the right.

According to the Hezkat-Ischnb: "Every Jew who would like to live either in another city, or do
a business in his birthplace, se
would place in vain for this under the protection
the laws of the land... He would fail if he did not obtain them.
does not have the permission of his Kahal, as well as from the Kahal of the place where he would like to transport to put away one's belongings.

The Code of Jewish Law, Hoschen-Hamischepot, expresses himself on this case as follows: "In the present times, especially when we are forced to live dependent on the na-Christian traditions and in the restricted place where

(1) Property belonging to non-Jews is ass-miles to a free desert (steppe). — Talmud- Araklat — Baba Bulra, page 59.

7.

118 JEWISH RUSSIA

Jewish dwellings are generally located
In large cities, it could happen
that, some disturbances occurring in the city,
a Jew, who came from another locality, not being aware of the secrets of the local community wedge, unwittingly denounced facts which should be kept hidden from Christians...
Each Kahal has the right to close the door to every Jew who is a foreigner to the district of which he is the representing and the absolute master. To arrive To achieve this result, the Kahal can employ all the means at his disposal, even resorting to the influence of the local administration of the Goyim. A temporary stay is permitted for merchants arrived in the city, to carry out the temporary sale of their merchandise; but It is forbidden for any Jew to establish his residence density in a city where he was not born, without a formal authorization from the Kahal of this city. There is only one exception to this rule. in favor of the Talmud Hahan (inter-scholar (reader of the law of the Talmud), to which it is permitted. "It's allowed to settle wherever it pleases."

From the foregoing, it is clear that the Jews,

JEWISH RUSSIA 1 19

only superficially obeying the laws of countries where they live, are bound to obey passive and uncompromising attitude towards their tastes respective governments, represented in each that city by the Kahal.

Let's now move on to the sale that the Kahal, for the benefit of the Jews, properties belonging to non-Jews, properties regarded like a large open lake, in which this- Only those who have bought it can cast their nets there. Kahal law.

To those uninitiated into dark secrets, This sale may be due to the Machiavellianism of Kahal. to seem an inexplicable enigma. – Indeed, Let us suppose that the Kahal, according to the attributions that he gave himself, sells to Jaif A the property of a non-Jewish individual B, property which, according to the laws of the country, belongs inviolably to The latter. This sale has been completed, it will without saying, to Finsu and without the consent of true owner. Here is this Question: What benefit can Jew A derive from right to the property that Kahal sold to him Hal, the right for which he paid? The non-Jew B will not cede his property to Jew A, by this

/

the only reason Kahal invested in the latter of an alleged property right, and the Kahal for its part does not have the power to expropriate the Non-Jew B... What did Jew A buy and why did he pay into the Kahal's fund the amount of the acquisition of the property apparatus attached to the non-Jew B?

This is the Hazaka that Jew A bought from Kahal, that is to say the exclusive right to exploit the property of individual B, that is to say of to be able, alone, to rent the house and exercise any kind of business; to sublet it only to the other Jews parts of the property which he could not use; to have the exclusive right to lend at usury to the owner to the other tenants of the house its; finally, – as specified in the act of sale, carried out by the Kahal for the benefit of the Jew A, – to employ all possible means possible and imaginable ways to get there as soon as possible that he will be the true master of the property from which he purchased the exploitation rights tion (1).

(1) See the act under no. 261, cited in chapter vi.

JEWISH RUSSIA 121

When the Kahal sells the right of Mero-piie (1), that is to say the exploitation of the individual duality of a non-Jewish person who does not possess sede point of ownership, it is stated in the deed of sale that only the buyer has the right to lending at usury to the non-Jewish individual whose exploitation was sold to him; that he is forbidden to the other Jews to enter, in whatever way that is, in business with this individual; that the buyer alone can and must invent all the ways to confuse the situation of this individual, in order to guide him more safely, and as quickly as possible, to ruin, or even to dishonor; for the properties of the Gentiles, thus that the Goyim themselves are, according to the Jewish laws, Hefker (free exploitation up to the ruin).

Here are the laws of Hezket-Ischub, according to the Talmud, as evidence of which Brafmann cites, in his Book on the Kahal, thirty-seven acts, and documents from which we have extracted and processed the most important ones, classified under the nos. 22, 23, 57, 77, 100, 101, 102, which are found

(1) Mcropiie literally means non-Jewish individual.

122 JEWISH RUSSIA

will be seen in chapter xn, as well as the act under number 261 already mentioned in chapter vi.

These acts and documents lift the curtain which, for so many centuries, hid from the eyes of world the impenetrable secret of the kingdom of Israel. These acts and documents shed light on this profound darkness with which Judaism is veiled; and, for the first time, Heder Kahal (the Kahal's chamber) emerges from the darkness – Raines and reveals the actions of this court secret to which, in all countries and of all At the time, the Jewish population was and remains, admittedly submissively.

The great power which the Kahal has seized prepared and whose results appear in the strange orders issued by him, – such clans as those already mentioned previously and those that follow this chapter and the following chapters – which has something to offer to surprise the reader and should seem to him/her how incredibly audacious and infernal calculation.

The exercise endows the acrobats with such flexibility, which, if we didn't see them at the work, the imagination would refuse to believe that we could get to this point. The exercise of subtlety, practiced by the Kahal for ten-Eight centuries, you made it so skillful, that it It is no more difficult for him to achieve his goal. by selling to a Jew the property belonging to a non-Jewish individual, that it was not difficult for him-city of hiding to this day, in Russia, in Poland, Romania, that is to say everywhere

JEWISH RUSSIA 123

where Jews abound, the true statist state tick of the Jewish population.

The Kahal still adheres to this principle simple, but infallible: that it is easier to catch only one fish at a time.
than having several hooks on the line and thus exposing oneself to the risk of breaking it due to overloading weight. Also, continuing this system of Since time immemorial, it has always attacked the in-Christian individualities separately, and it is arrived in the northern provinces of Rus-siae, Lithuania, Podolia, Volhynia and in Galicia, provinces where the population Jewish is great, with extraordinary resultsnaires... 23 percent of real estate properties
today the lines belong to the Jews
in these provinces, where they have also

124 JEWISH RUSSIA

made absolute masters of trade and the industry.

It is very rare for the attack to be directed by the Kahal, which is the representative of a powerful corporation, and which consequently possesses mysterious means against an in-isolated Christian individuality, do not end up the advantage of Jewish authority. Furthermore, the Kahal never risks anything: for, in suppo-
even a Jew, after buying some Kahal, the right of Hazaka or Meropié,
in his eagerness to promptly strip-lying to those over whom he acquired the rights that we mentioned above, employs illegal and excessively abrupt means, and thus falls under the jurisdiction of the country.
Kahal, a child in this case, throws at his sea pack of postmen, armed with the talismanman, whom we discussed in chapter VI, and false witnesses, who can, by the Jewish laws, perjury in court Goyim. What can a single isolated Christian do in this all-out war that everyone declares against him
a Jewish population, represented by the Kahal, otherwise succumb?

If the Kahal does not encounter, within the radius of his district, no serious obstacle to strike taxes on commerce, industry and all branches of production, that's what we know his skill in making people pay for part of this tax, indirectly, by the popu-
Christianization, and to bring him back into his cash register, although it seems much more It's difficult to scheme and act in the shadows. by obscure calculations; for here it would seem that the path forward was less favorable to the clandestinely. But the learned Kahal did not hesitate to Don't fuss over such a small thing. We saw, in the Chapter II, how he managed to attract in its subtle net the Russian authorities, and has made it an aid to perception of the tax called the box tax, which is done paid by the Jewish butchers, and how this perception has acquired the force of Russian law. We let us quote another article from the Russian code which provides the Kahal with the opportunity to collect many taxes for its own benefit and where Russian legislation acts for and on behalf of the Jewish Kahal.

Thus, in Russian legal codes, cha-

126 JEWISH RUSSIA

In pitre v, § 10, p. 281, it says: "Taxes that the Israelites must pay, in addition to that of the box, on the kosher, are: 1° so much for one hundred percent on the price of apartment rentals, shops, stores rented to Jews by the Jewish owners; 2° a certain percentage on the industries in which Jews operate, such as a) outlets serving hot drinks, tea, punch, coffee, etc. in the cabarets of small towns and the countryside; 6) the farmers of the distilleries glassworks; c) the farmers of the glassworks; cl) the iron-forge owners; e) tar manufacturers; f) wholesale livestock dealers; 3° so much percent on the inheritances of deceased Jews; 1° both for the permission to be able to wear the Jewish national costume; 5° both for a fine of non-payment of the taxes listed above; 6° as much for dispensing the brandy into the ca-"bars of state-owned land."

Thus the], Kahal in Russia has succeeded, by his cunning, to be made mandatory by the code of country, the payment of taxes by Jews taxes which he distributes and which he takes the lion's share. A few remnants they barely return to the country's public treasury; for the Machiavellianism that the Kahal employs in the composition of the list of Jewish contributors buables, which serves as the basis for perception taxes by Russian authorities, exceeds what the most subtle lawyer could imagine Christian. The Jews, for their part, are and must-vent to be submissive like very humble servants visitors of Kahal; for, with a stroke of the pen, he could ruin those among them who do not would not be subject and that he deals with René-gats, in the list he is compiling. The in-therefore subject to them could not claim any rights. civil authorities of the country, since these authorities collect taxes from Jews, according to the list compiled by the Kahal.

JEWISH RUSSIA 127

One example, among others, will highlight how the Kahal conducts itself with its unsubmissive coreligionists and of what scope is this phrase already quoted: "to force the Jew" disobedient or renegade to return to the gi-the principle of passive obedience to Jewish laws, even in Faide des Goïms.

In 1866, a Jewish widow named Broïda lodged a complaint with the governor of Vilna, regarding this that the Kahal of this city was making him pay

128 JEWISH RUSSIA

1,500 silver rubles (approximately 6,000 francs) for the burial of her late husband, under the protection of the state text that the funeral brotherhood had been forced to watch over the corpse for five days before the burial; she added that one had made him sign a statement containing that she was paying this enormous sum from her pro-pre will. When the Kahal learned that a such a complaint had been addressed to the governor

In the meantime, he ordered the plaintiff to pay again 500 silver rubles, like fine, alleging that she had not paid the amount of the subscription that is made between They, the rich Jews, to be freed from service military their poor coreligionists. The Russian authorities, neither wanting nor able to to meddle in the internal affairs of the Jews, no only could not do justice to the widow Broïda, but also, conforming to the articles of the Russian code that concern the perception of taxes from the Jews, they lasted lend a hand in collecting the fine of 500 silver rubles to which the Kahal had The widow was condemned.

Besides this great ease that the Kahal is managed to create a way to fit into his cash, through the Russian authorities, the taxes he imposes on the Jews, he has yet another indirect action, in truth, on Christian populations, to increase the funds in his account. Thus, by article of the law included in the Russian code, § 2, letter a, regarding the tax on hot drinks, It is clear that this tax does not affect the Jews. alone, because they only sell Teau-de-life in cabarets, and these are generally the Christians who provide the tea, the punch and coffee for travelers who stop in These cabarets were run by Jews. Part of it therefore from this tax paid by the tavern owners Jews for the benefit of the Kahal is acquitted by the Christian suppliers of hot drinks. In Vilna, and in the main cities of Lithuania, Kahal, through the intermediary of Russian authorities, perceive, in the markets Jews, a tax on provisions they sell Jewish merchants, supposedly only at Jews; but like many Christians buy various supplies from these merchants, necessarily the Jewish merchants make Christians pay, in addition to the value the actual value of the merchandise, the tax they owe—wind acquittal for the benefit of Kahal.

LA. JEWISH RUSSIA 129

About twenty years ago, the Kahal of Vilna managed to introduce to the Jewish market from this town the sale of fish, sale on from which he collects a considerable tax. sale of fish which, in principle, should not to happen that only to the Jews, took such proportions among the Christian population, than in 1867 the collection of the tax awarded to a... Jewish entrepreneur by the Russian authorities (1) a brought back 2,700 silver rubles to Kahal. Here, It is once again the Christian population that pays the price. indirectly a tax to Kahal, which does not ren— against no difficulties that its subtlety does not may prevail, in order to conform to the law of Hezkat-Ischub.

We would be mistaken again if we believed that The Kahal is content with the power that it is allowed to... sent the Russians to collect the taxes here— above indicated via and with the help local authorities, by strictly complying

(i) See the report from the government chancellery from Vilna dated September 19, 1355. No. 9J81.

JEWISH RUSSIA 131

subject to these laws. In the document included under number 57, which is cited among the others in chapter xn, we will see that the Kalial, wanting to introduce in Minsk the same tax which had already been introduced and perceived in a another city, he expressed himself thus at the end of his order: "After all that has been said above, the Kahal orders that the said im— The pot will be distributed among the Jews and perceived negatively. despite the opposition made by the civil governor "V. introduction of this new tax."

Everything that has been said so far about the Hezkat-Ischub law and what we will see, in browsing the documents cited below this chapter, and borrowed from the ordinances of the Kahal clearly demonstrates that authority and the arbitrary nature of the Kahal in these matters does not do not rely on the Talmud, whose laws

he complies punctually with regard to life interior and private of the Jews, but of course They bound it, which raises this authority to the dictatorship; for "whoever harms the Herem," says the Talmud, which violates and offends the entire law (1).

(i) Kolbo, § 139.

132 JEWISH RUSSIA

It's easy to understand what weight this oppressive dictatorial authority must crush the Jews themselves; but, according to what has been demonstrated, we see that Hezkat's law-Ischub reacts even more and weighs in more on the Christian population, which, in the first At first glance, it appears to be entirely independent of the authority. arbitrary of the Kahal.

For a legal expert, the cited documents contain more than one interesting question. We recommend these documents to those especially those who would like to delve deeper into the cause of the general complaint that is arising nowadays, everywhere Jews are numerous, as well as the because of the persecutions they faced have been on display for eighteen centuries.

It is now time to make known to the reader the form of the Herern (anathema) which the Kahal sometimes uses it as anathema and sometimes as an oath, both meanings sometimes becoming confused replacing one with the other.

Besides the Herem, there is also among the Jews Hindu or Chamto, oath or anathema to a lesser degree than the Herem.

JEWISH RUSSIA 133

Hindu or Chamto used as anathema means a temporary exclusion from the company Jewish, and if, after thirty days, the guilty party does not humbly repent before the Kahal, By admitting his guilt... the Herem is launched against him, and then he is completely excluded of the people of Israel. The publication of the linker is worded as follows:

"From the members of Kahal N. –"
to all the learned representatives of Eschubots (higher education institutions) Talmudic), greetings!... We are letting you know that The Jew A. – seized the money which is the property of Jew B. – and that, despite the order we gave to the first of
to return this sum to whom it is due, he does not Fa
Not done. For this violation of Jewish law, we imposed the Hindu on him; but, as He did not humble himself, and persevered in his forfeiture, we launched a legal action against him,
and we ask you to do the same, by publishing every day that his bread is not the bread of a Jew; that his wine is the wine of Nescli (pagan); that the fruits which appeared to him
hold are spoiled and soiled; that his books

134 THE JEWISH BUSSIAH

are books of witchcraft. – Order to cut off his Cice 1); tear from his door the Mesouse (2); you shall neither eat nor drink with him; you will not perform the ceremony of circumcision to his son; you shall not instruct his children on the commandments of God;
you will defend his acceptance as a member of a brotherhood; the cup he used will need to be cleaned with great care... In one word, you will look at it and treat it as We look at and treat a Nahri (non-Jew) (3).

Here is the form of Ilerem:

"By the strength and power that the Word
holy exercise, we destroy, anathema-sounds, let us lower, humiliate, and curse, at name of the God of Kahal, in the name of the 613 articles of Divine Law contained in the

(1) Threads that are attached to the jacket worn by each
Jew beneath his long black robe or cassock.

(2) A more .'oblong of wood which is placed obliquelyat the entrance of each Jewish dwelling, and on which nailed to it is a small roll of parchment on which is transcribes a verse from the five holy books. The Jews attach
This talisman has the power to drive away impure spirits.
that Satan sends to earth.

(3) Sehaari, Cedek, t. I, chap. iv, § 14. Tesehoubat-Gago.iaae-Mdimonide, § 142.

JEWISH RUSSIA 135

Holy books; by this Herem of which Jesus Narvin cursed the city of Jericho; whose Elise)' cursed the kids who were chasing him—were, he and his servant Gohzi; of whom Baiafe cursed Moraz... By all the anathemes, curses, execrations that have been uttered from the time of Moses until the present moment; in the name of God Akalriel, of God Sabaut; in the name of the Archangel Michael, the great warrior; in the name of Melatron, who is called so by his Rabbi (God); in the name of Saldarifons, who braids the garlands for his Rabbi (God); in the name of this God, whose the name is written with 42 letters; in the name of this God who appeared in the bush to Moses; in the name of this God who allowed Moses to perform the miracle of drying up the sea Red so that the people of Israel can to pass...; in the name of Ee, through the secret passage—the name of God; by the power that wrote the tablets of divine law; in the name of the God of Israel, who sits upon the cherubim; in the name of the holy chariot and all those who are seated on this chariot in heaven; in the name of all the angels and archangels, celestial inhabitants who serve God... Every son or daughter of the people of Israel which would infringe upon this provision:

136 JEWISH RUSSIA

“May he be cursed by the God of Israel, who is seated upon the archangels, inhabitants of the heaven; may he be cursed by the holy and terrible the name of God, the name which will be proclaimed by Arch Rabbi on the Day of Judgment; May he be cursed by heaven and earth; may he be cursed by supernatural power; May he be cursed by the archangel Michael, the great warrior chief; may he be cursed by Metatron, which is marked by the name of its Rabbi (God); may he be cursed by God Arkantriel,

God of hosts; may he be cursed by all seraphim, all the angels and archangels who serve God is wind, and who are seated in heaven on the chariot!
"If he was born in the month of Nisan, during which reigns the archangel Uriel, whether he is evil-said by this archangel and by all the angels who
They are subject to him!

"If he was born in the month (TAoïra, during which reigns the archangel Capmùl, may he be cursed by this archangel and by all the angels
who are subject to him!

JEWISH RUSSIA 137

"If he was born in the month of Sivon, during which reigns the archangel Aruricl, may he be
cursed by this archangel and by all the angels
who are subject to him!

"If he was born in the month of Tamuch, during in which reigns the archangel Peniel, may he be
cursed by this archangel and by all the angels
who are subject to him!

"If he was born in the month of 1660, during the-
May the archangel Darhiel reign, may he be
cursed by this archangel and by all the angels
who are subject to him!

"If he was born in the month of the Chosen One, during the-
May the reign of the archangel Elul be cursed.
by this archangel and by all the angels who
They are subject to him!

"If he was born in the month of Fischre, during in which reigns the archangel Curiel, may he be
cursed by this archangel and by all the angels
who are subject to him!

"If he was born in the month of Herschvon, during which reigns the archangel BaschkicI, may he be
cursed by this archangel and by all the angels
who are subject to him!

"If he was born in the month of Kislov, during the-8.

May the archangel Adouniel reign, may he be
cursed by this archangel and by all the angels
who are subject to him!

"If he was born in the month of Teyvet, during
in which reigns the archangel Enoël, whether he is evil-
said by this archangel and by all the angels
who are subject to him!

"If he was born in the month of Schvat, during in which reigns the archangel Gabriel, may he be
cursed by this archangel and by all the angels
who are subject to him!

"If he was born in the month of Adored, during the-
May the archangel Rumiel reign, may he be
cursed by this archangel and by all the angels
who are subject to him!

"May he be cursed by the seven archangels"
which govern the seven days of the week and by all the angels; may he be cursed by the four archangels who govern the four seasons
sounds of the year, as well as by all the angels;
that he may be cursed by the seven sanctuaries of the Temple; may it be cursed by divine law which have governed since the beginning of the world crowns and seals; let it be cursed by the books of Almighty God,

JEWISH RUSSIA 139

strong and terrible! May all misfortunes be hasten to persecute him. Great God! Punish-the great Creator God, destroy him, massacre him and humiliate him! May the wrath of God be spread, with all its horror, upon his head. May all Let the devils come to meet him, let him be cursed wherever he turns his steps, that his His soul suddenly departs. May death impure, it strikes him and he doesn't live a month.
May God punish him with consumption, a disease of chest, madness and the sword, by the rash and jaundice. That he pierces his chest with his his own sword and that his arrows be broken.
May his journey always be fraught with misfortune.
accidents and mishaps of all kinds. That he-against a profound darkness, and at the end the despair. May he be driven from the kingdom of light and precipitated into the realm of darkness. May misfortune and despair... gnaw. With his own eyes, he will see them all. The setbacks hit him blow after blow. He was... Loppera of the anathema that will weigh upon him, like a dress. He will destroy himself and Almighty God will destroy it. God will not... will never forgive, on the contrary; he will punish him.

140 JEWISH RUSSIA

His anger and vengeance will fall upon him and will permeate his entire body. His name will be erased from the space located in the heights of heaven. He will be forever exiled for eternity through all the descendants of Israel, according to the anathema written in divine laws. As for all of you who hold God dear, live "Happy and God bless you!"

Here is the prayer after the publication of the Herem:

"May he who had blessed our ancestors: Abraham, Israel, Jacob, Moses, Aaron, David Solomon and the prophets of Israel and the righteous, may a blessing descend upon this city and in all other cities, with the exception of the one who violates this Herem. God willing, in his mercy, protect all those who are faithful and protect their times and days For as long as possible. God bless. all the works of their hands and that he af- cross with all their brothers in Israel; that His holy will has been done! Amen (1).

Regarding oaths among Jews is very important to know.

(1) Kolbo, Rules on the Herem, § 139.

JEWISH RUSSIA 141

The Talmud divides the oath into three categories. categories:

1° Chebna-Deeraïta, oath that one makes pre- to be according to the law of Moses.

2° Shebnat-Geset, oath prescribed by Tal-mud.

3° Setam-Herem, investigation of the neck pable by threatening him with the Herem (1).

It should be noted that the Jews look at the oath as an act of great gravity, when required by the Jewish judicial authority, and above all they profess a very great respect for the first two categories of the service ment, which they find extremely dreadful.

This respect and this dread are pushed to a point where to such an extent that a Jew whose conduct has always- Having impeccable summer days is already frowned upon. within Jewish society, if there was only one once forced to take an oath before the court Jewish judicial system. He loses the trust of his core-religious people, and he is avoided like a leper. Therefore, considering the great importance that The Jews attribute to the oath, it is not

(i) Hoschen-llamischpot-Meir-Eliaim, ch. lxv, p. 6, and Feschubot-IIaramileum, § 229.

142 JEWISH RUSSIA

It's surprising that a large proportion prefer sup-to bear losses, even considerable ones, that to be forced to take an oath by order of Bet-Dine. That is also why the third category of the oath, Setam-Herem, is especially in use and takes place before the Jewish courts.

This great significance that the Jews taking the oath would be a consequential thing slows and would reassure the Christians among in which live the countless populations Jewish, if indeed the Jews preserved it intact and gave him in any case and in front All courts the same interpretation... But, badly-fortunately for Christians who have affairs with the Jews (and this case arises frequently), the oath that Jews are called upon to testify before Christian courts tiens is considered by them as a simple formality, which has nothing in common with their conscience, and provided that the general good of Is-

Raël's result is that every Jew can commit
before the Christian or Muslim authorities
He can make as many false oaths as he pleases.

To supplement the quotes from the intelligence services

JEWISH RUSSIA 143

Regarding the oath among the Jews, we add-Let us return to another passage from Maimonides, in which tells of everything that is said during-during the oath- ceremony, preserving for him
in all its originality.

"We have heard that in your city
There are people who administer oaths to others at any time, and that there are some others who, at every moment, are capable to do it. Both sides are acting very bad, because they are preparing for themselves an inevitable punishment-
The punishment for perjury is... very large, though we wouldn't be wrong to someone for a penny: - If you If you want to impose an oath on someone, remove the piece of parchment that is nailed onto Mesouse, unfold it and show the passage of the holy law which is written in it; bring it here-
a cart on which the dead are transported and cover her with the shroud with which they are covered; ap-carry the horn on which the day is trumpeted
of the New Year; bring the children from the col-Lightly, bring the bladders, and throw them in front
the stretcher." - Here, Bet-Dine must repeat to the one who swears that, tomorrow, he will be

144 JEWISH RUSSIA

thrown in front of the stretcher like bladders.
"Light the candles, bring in some earth"
and place on this land the one who lends and serves sound the horn and tell him aloud
these words: "If you swear a false oath, all the anathemas contained in divine law
will fall upon you.

Next, we read the formula of the Herem, and then-
When F is finished, the horn is sounded; and all the everyone, even small children, repeat:
Amen (1).

(1) Cheake-Cedek, vol. V, chap. iv, §24. Teschoubot-Gagonine and Maimonides, § 142.

XII

Here are the documents, excerpts and translations from the Book about the Kahal, which we announced based on their text:

No. 22.

Debates between the Kahal and a private individual on the right to operate a place.

Wednesday, section of 5 books, Vorah.

As a result of the protest made by the representatives sent by Kahal, against the man named Eleazar, son of Ephraim, regarding the operation of the square and the buildings located therein, all belonging to Christian Zwanski, a furrier by trade, was decided, at the general meeting held by the members—the entire Kahal delegation must be sent two Toanim (lawyers) who will have to plead the case—before the Bet-Dine and defend the cause and the rights of Kahal.

146 JEWISH RUSSIA

No. 23.

Decree of the Bet-Dine issued in the case of the Kahal against Eleazar, son of Ephraim

Kahal's lawyers argued that previous—already raises the question of exploitation rights the ownership in question had been debated, and that it had been decided that half of the buildings, as well as part of the courtyard (of the super-ficie of twelve sagènes) was auctioned and sold to Isaac, son of Ber; and only the other half, with the part of the courtyard located at the rear, was left to a man named Eleazar, son of Ephraim; the latter possesses the deed of sale dated the 28th Sivan 5518, in which, among the seven representatives citizens of the city who had signed this act in fa—the sign of the deceased father of Eleazar, is found ture of Meer, son of Joseph, who was a relative of two other representatives of the city; that in Consequently, this act of sale carried out in favor the deceased father of Eleazar was not legally In fact, since instead of seven representatives there are There were only six of them, who signed legally, then—that Meer's signature as a parent of two other was not valid. For these reasons, therefore, Kahal protests against the right to exploit that Eleazar exercises over all the property there—took the court, as successor to his father, to whom this right had been illegally sold, as demonstrated above.

JEWISH RUSSIA

147

For his part, Eleazar maintained that the signature de Meer, son of Joseph, can perfectly well not point belonging to the one who was a relative of two other representatives, signatories of the act of sale, since this deed dates from the year 5518, tan— Say it was the year 5560. Since that time, many of the people in question are dead; that it is still possible that in this At that time, distant kinship did not exist. no obstacle to the validity of the act; that since, on the deed of sale in question, are the signatures of the seven representatives of the city exi— governed by Talmudic law, he, Eleazar, as successor to his father, must legally enjoy the the right he claims.

The infallible and holy Bet-Dine, after having en— tense between the two opposing sides, decreed what follows:

“If Eleazar, son of Ephraim, cited by the Kahal before our court, proves 1° that the representative both Meer, son of Joseph, who had signed the deed of The sale in question was not the one that had two parents among other signatory representatives res; or 2° that the customs of those times per— were putting on the signatories of the pa— rents on a deed of sale; or 3° that the signatures res of the seven representatives of the city were, by any valid and legal reason, the right exploitation of the property in question ap—

will leave completely. But, in the meantime, this
The right belongs to the Kahal, which can sell it to

148 JEWISH RUSSIA

a new buyer, to whom all the prerogatives that the Kahal grants in this kind business.

This Tuesday, 6 Tamuch 5560.

Signed by all of us, members of the infallible
and Saint Bet-Dine... (1).

No. 57.

V. Tax on trade, decreed by the Kahal.

Thursday, the 5th day of Easter week 5558. A because of the large expenses that the Kahal has been forced to do so recently, expenses of which he cannot account, and consequently-
due to a lack of money to pay to settle the tax arrears that must be paid for those who are poor, the members of the Kahal decided that a new tax will be levied on trade, calculated on the same basis as that which was instituted by the Kahal of the city of Sklow, without any variation in the mode of perception. We must start paying this tax since the 1st of next year. As for the sum of 12,000 rubles in cash that must be paid currently-to the state treasury, the Kahal will choose five members among the Jewish notables of the city,

(1) As a consequence of this decree of Bet-Dine, the law
the operation of the square and the buildings located there has been sold by Kahal for 11 ducats to Isaac, son of Ber, by leaving part of the courtyard of a house to Eleazar.

JEWISH RUSSIA 149

to settle the distribution among the inhabitants,
who will have to pay this extraordinary contribution, in order to fill in what is missing. We must in orto collect 800 silver rubles to complete the deficit that is in the Kahal's treasury.
The amount that each taxpayer will pay for the
the aforementioned contribution will be considered as a advance payment on the tax known as the company tax...

If the civilian governor of the city of Minsk members of the Kahal task the distributors with collecting it.
despite the governor's opposition.

No. 77.

From the sale of the right to operate the stores
from the Christian Baïkoff to the Jew Johel-Mihel, son (VAaron.

Saturday, Emor section 5559.

In accordance with the decision of the representatives from the town, it was sold to Johel-Mihel, son of Aa-Ron, the right to operate two built stores in stone, belonging to the Christian Baïkoff, who are located on the city's high plateau.
the adjoining carriage entrance, as well as the cellars and the first floor, that is to say all the space from the
from the center of the earth to the clouds in the sky, is also included in this sales agreement.

The deed of sale, regular and in any form
The desired document will be drawn up by the Kahal and approved by the

150 JEWISH RUSSIA

Saint Bet-Dine and placed in the hands of the aforementioned Johel-Mihel, son of Aaron, who must, for this reason, pay the sum of 200 rou- to the Kahal treasury
money. Everything must be done without publicity.
prior application.

No. 100.

The form of the Act of Truth given to Abel, son de Meer.

At the general meeting held in the chamber of the Kahal, which was attended by the seven representatives city residents and members of the Kahal at
In full, it was decided that the right of ex-exploitation of stores and the home with its dependencies, as well as the ease of passage through the courtyard, that is to say, all the space between the center of the earth and the highest clouds of the heaven, all belonging to the Christian Kister, is sold to Abel, son of Meer, to his descendants or representatives for all eternity, leaving not the slightest bit of said right to power of Kahal. And as the said Abel, son of Meer, has already paid into the Kahal's coffers, the amount from this sale, from that moment the said right of exploitation-the station belongs entirely to him, as well as to his descendants or beneficiaries, inalienably and exclusively, without anyone being able to wear it achievement.

He alone, his descendants or heirs for-

JEWISH RUSSIA 151

will resell, give away, exchange, hand over as dot, finally do as they please and act absolutely-ment, as well as an owner has the right to the the area with the object that belongs to it.

If the owner Kister were to demolish the buildings existing structures, and in rebuilding-knows in their place others bigger or more pe-tits, the buyer would still have the same right on the newly constructed buildings. And when Abel, son of Meer, his descendants or his heirs by right, will become the true owners of these establishments and stores, by contract If they purchase in good condition, they will have the right to demolish. rebuild and change the layout of the premises, ven-to do everything in whole or in part, in short, to do everything that will seem appropriate to them, without asking for a new permission or authorization from the Kahal.

If a malicious person dared to challenge these rights to Abel, son of Meer, his successors or his representatives sentients, the Kahal, the holy Bet-Dine, and the seven city representatives must defend him from all their strength and power. - 11 will also the duty of the Kahal to annul any dispute who could rise up against Abel, son of Meer, his descendants or heirs, so as not to... to worry, and to assure them for eternity the right legal owners. All losses that could give rise to claims from those which would soften the challenge to the legal possession of the right, which from this moment belongs exclusively-to Abel, son of Meer, his successors or his representatives, will have to be supported by the Kahal's treasury, and no Kahal from any other city will not support such claims; to the con-milking, he will have to defend the interests of the-said Abel, son of Meer, of his descendants or of his heirs. The members of the Kahal at large complete, and the seven representatives of the city, having acted within the full scope of their responsibilities and functions, without needing to apply to this sale, the use and the law of Kabolat-Kinion (1), unanimously decided and approved the sale below. above stated by affixing their signature.

No. 101.

Approval of the previous Vacte by the Samoches Venemines (notaries of the town).

We, the undersigned, notaries of the Jewish community, We certify, by this deed, that the sale effected killed by the Kahal in favor of the wealthy Abel, son of Meer, his descendants or his successors in title, made to the general meeting with the assent of Schiva-Tuvei-Gair (the seven representatives and leaders of the city), was written and regulated according to the holy laws, and that the Kahal, in fulfilling a pa-reille vente, is not in need of invo-to examine the uses of the Kabolat-Kinion law.

This Monday, Nisan 26, 5560.

(The two signatures follow.)

(1) See below for an explanation of the law of Kabbalah-Kinion in chapter XVII.

No. 102.

Approval of this same act by the holy Bet-Dine.

By reviewing the deed of sale carried out by the Kahal in the general meeting, with the consent-ment and the signature of the representatives and heads of the city, whose signatures were legalized by the two Samoches Venemines, in favor of the rich Abel, son of Meer, his descendants or his Having the right, the holy Bet-Dine acknowledges that the-said act was arranged and settled according to all conditions

tions, clauses and points prescribed by holy law of Torah. And although the decisions of the Kahal do not are not subject to any control and have no need for anyone's approval,
especially if the signatures of its members are...
certified by two notaries of the city,... however-dant, to give more weight and value to the deed of sale in question, we, members of the Saint Bet-Dine, we approve and affirm it fully.
nement, in order to guarantee possession of the right of operation of the property, belonging to Christian Kister, for eternal time to the rich Abel, son of Meer, to his descendants or to his rightful owner.

In witness whereof, we sign at Minsk, 26 Nisan 5560.

Rabbi Gaon and four judges of the holy tribunal Bet-Dine.

XIII

This is now the Rosh Hashanah festival.
Haschana (The New Year) and the ceremony-
monie du Son du cor.

Jews celebrate Rosh Hashanah, in the day already indicated by Moses, the first Siechry day (corresponding to the first days of September).

Although after the fall of the Temple of Jerusalem
Salem, the Rosh Hashanah festival has been completed.
has completely lost its former outward character
and interior, however, this festival has retained all its former prestige as an influence on the conservation and development of life
national of the Jews.

No doubt, if you compare the day of

JEWISH RUSSIA 155

Rosch-Hashanah from the time of the existence of

The Temple of Jerusalem, along with the one we have now, we find the same difference as between glory and shame, between triumph and humiliation.

At that time, on that day, according to its meaning—the very cation, was for all the people of Israel on a day of great triumph. The Temple resounding with the songs of the Levites, accompanied—filled with the joyful sounds of the trumpet, opened, by the day of Rosh Hashanah, the period ten days during which the people, the the priesthood and the Temple itself were purifying themselves and were preparing for a majestic triumph, at this solemn moment when the high priest, having arrived, with the purifying burnt offerings, in the Temple of Temples, brought to the people upon their return the oubli and Jehovah's forgiveness. Upon the arrival of this day so desired and so long awaited, where hope to obtain forgiveness from the Invisible Jehovah illuminated it was damaging the eyes of the prostrate people of Israel, The high priest offered, during the sacrifice, the farewell of the entire nation to the past year, with all his suffering and all his ill-hours, and welcomed the news, which contained in within her the blessings and graces that God was to spread it among his chosen people.

156 JEWISH RUSSIA

Through this interpretation of thoughts and of the outdoor ceremony during Rosh Hashanah day Haschana, it is clear that this day had to be for the Jews a day of hope and triumph.

Now, everything has changed, everything has become daunting. Currently Rosch-Haschana is a day of sadness, tears, and affliction. The cause This change is visible; the nation, which has lost its independence and autonomy, resembles a sickly man who, in pre—the very sense of the danger resulting from this boulder-payment, would not however want to resist to believe oneself incurable and could not to consider the dark and despairing idea of death. The nation that finds itself in this situation Tuation needs to nurture its imagination of a hope that refreshes ideas, not even if only through dreams of the future and through illusions.

At the fatal moment, when the laurels adorn already the head of the victor, hope, this
The last friend of the vanquished and the oppressed, the

JEWISH RUSSIA 157

further supports, by confirming it in this
the thought that, since he did not succeed in the companies of this world, he will be consoled
by this power of the unknown world, towards which every unfortunate person, in their distress, raises his gaze.

In this fervor, patriotic ideas of the nation marry and merge as-completely in line with religious ideas, because these feelings are not inspired by the intematerial concerns and earthly passions,
but they are warmed by burning rays
lants that descend from an unknown world on the imagination shaped by religious ideas.

So the resurrection of nationality, the return to old habits, to lost freedom, occupation
take first place in aspirations of the annihilated people. To support this indelible-bitter feeling, without which regeneration national would be nothing but a fiction, is forming a lyrical, legendary, traditional literature-nelle, mystique et patriotisme, pressé à l'
highest exaltation, and which aims to ento keep alive the sacred flame of love for one's homeland
lost. – It is perfectly natural that these songs

158 JEWISH RUSSIA

patriotic sentiments that strike the deepest chord sensitive to national life, inspire a great admiration among all unfortunate peoples
reux, and take on the character of inspiration supernatural; but this is only among the Jews
that these anthems and patriotic songs are an integral part of the liturgy and occupy
an important place in prayer books,
as well as in religious ceremonies.

According to the Law of Moses, it was not permitted to celebrate divine service outside the Temple and outside of Jerusalem. For this reason, he procured a certain interruption in spiritual life ritual of Israel. With the fall of the Temple of Jerusalem, divine service undergoes a certain Interruption time. The skillful leaders of the the people of Israel, who (as history tells us-takes) always had as their goal the resurrection-taking advantage of this interruption of divine service to replace it to kill Moussaphe, that is to say, the service of the Synagogue. This service is largely composed of [unclear]. part of patriotic anthems, in which are recounted and depicted in a deses- This heartbreak, which tears at the hearts of the faithful, these dark, hideous, and sad days of the fall of the Temple in Jerusalem, of exile, of the per-Securitization, torture of all kinds, of the dead.

JEWISH RUSSIA 150

Thanks to this artificial means, which had for but to perpetuate patriotic ideas among The Jews, the words of some prophets of Israel: "And these festivals will be changed into "Days of tears and despair," they said. fulfilled (1); and this prophecy has been adapted perfectly suited to the current celebration of the holiday of Rosh Hashanah.

As this New Year's Day is in at the same time the beginning of the period ten days, during which the people of Is-Raël must perform his purification, the tears, the cries and lamentations aroused by the service Moussaphe, through this exaltation of the soul, does not do not cease. All of this is further enhanced by the distressing impression produced by the ceremoni-Fekiel-Chofère's denial, the sounding of the horn prescribed by the Talmud.

According to the conviction of the learned interpreters

(1) Ames., ch. vin, pages 10 to 12.

of the Talmud, the ceremony of Fekiel-Chofèr (1) had been instituted in memory of these Moses said: "And this day will be for you
 the day when Ton will sound the horn"; and the cabascholarly interpreters' glasses
 They still maintain that: Rosh Hashanah Day
 Chana, which begins with the ceremony of Fekiel-Chofèr, the Great Jehovah will be seated on his throne of justice, and, weighing in all impartiality will decree the actions of mortals
 the rewards and punishments that each of them will have earned;... who is yet to live, and who must die immediately;... who has time, prematurely;... which by water, which by The fire... All of this will be decreed, in detail, on Rosh Hashanah day. At this judgment, as-
 On one side will be the defenders of Israel,
 known as Delatrone, Hasen-
 hach, Hatzpatzious, etc. and, on the opposite side, Satan, with the account of the actions com-
 put into it by the victims who allowed themselves to be...
 to be lured by his subterfuges, and who are tom-gaping in the nets set by hell... And the

(1) The day the horn is sounded.

JEWISH RUSSIA 1G1

the sound of the trumpet will invigorate during this time
 the defenders of Israel, while he will terrify
 Satan, that mortal enemy of Israel.

Although this quote is confirmed by several passages from the Talmud Zoora, the good Meaning is enough to reduce its orthodoxy to nothing.
 Indeed, anyone who has had the opportunity to witness this ceremony, I cannot conceive how the sound of the horn, which resounds as if in a hunting, could have such a high significance-spiritual union among the Jews.

The 47th psalm, which is read seven times in succession
 to the people of Israel while the trumpet is blown,
 could lend itself to a more accurate interpretation
 The ritual of this ceremony: "Clap your hands
 as a sign of rejoicing! For the mighty terrible

Jehovah, the great ruler of the world, su-will place all nations under your authority and all human races, by throwing them under your feet... He will search for and choose your inheritance, that is to say, Jacob's pride, which he has loved so much for centuries, and so it rose-will hear the voice of God! (1) » The Jews consider-they interpret this psalm, not only as a

(1) IV* Book of Moses, ch. xxix, page 1.

162 JEWISH RUSSIA

prayer (1), but also as a prophecy significant achievement of the pro-masses of God towards his chosen people.

The meaning of this prophecy, which is recited seven times in succession before the people of Israel, with accompanied by the horn and amidst the tears
and the heart-rending lamentations of the listeners, gives a much better explanation of the rationale for the existence of the Fekiel-Schofére ceremony, that the fog-lard that encases the text of the Talmud and the Cabal. In this sense, the obligatory ceremony-the territory for each Jew is presented as the quintessence of the sublime, patriotic anthem,
by which the representatives of the people of Is-Raël opened the Rosh Hashanah festival and the beginning of the ten-day period
of the expiation of sins (2).

(1) The Unsane-Toket prayer.

(2) To confirm the meaning we give
At the Fekiel-Schofére ceremony, we will recall that the day of judgment, which, among the Jews, begins in the evening of the last day of the purification period,
also ends with the Fekiel-Schofére ceremony,
accompanied by the words: "Lechana gabaa Biruchelaim (that we be in Jerusalem next year). We sees from this that this signal is the same patriotic signal.
tick.

JEWISH RUSSIA 103

It is certain that the original meaning of the Fekiel-Schofére ceremony felt-

undoubtedly modified to this day, and yet-that the influence that this ceremony exerts on the spirit and feelings of the Jews remained very large.

After the fall of Jerusalem, Fekiel-Scho-
The brotherhood served as a patriotic stimulus for the leaders of Israel to precipitate the Jewish population in the continual revolts that were the
the cause of his exile in Palestine, after the fatal insurrection under the command of Bar-khoba, during the reign of the emperor Adrien.

Today the Fekiel-Scho- ceremony
The iron makes it even darker, by exalting it.
the already rather bleak picture of the day of Rosh Hashanah and maintains among the Jews, this prejudice, which the skillful leaders of The people of Israel have introduced there since centuries keys, to keep away to be separated from the
the rest of humanity, as much through its religion as
by its customs and practices (1).

(1) The gatherings of several enlightened rabbis, who took place in 1869 in Kassel and Leipzig, and had as their

164 JEWISH RUSSIA

After everything that has been said on this subject, it will be It's easy to understand why the law of Talmud had elevated the Fekiel-Scho- ceremony
elevates ceremonies to the highest level obligatory for every Jew, and why the Kahal exercises such strict control over synagogues and other Jewish houses where the prayers during the Rosh Hashanah festival and the ten-day period following that day.

Here is the document classified under number 30 in Brafmann's Book on Kahal: ;

but to have all the Jewish prayer books removed quotes that speak of the coming of the Messiah and the return Jews in Jerusalem. They rightly argued that a-with these quotes that excite and exalt their corelilegionnaires, it will be very difficult and even impossible to every Jew to acquire the feeling he is a true inhabitant of the country where he was born, to cultivate it, and to become one of its people.
true citizen: as well, that one could not make him per-

to address these ingrained and deeply rooted prejudices against any religion that is not his own.

The opposing party supported, and with just as much reason, His point of view is that by carrying out these reforms the existence and raison d'être of the people of Israel ceases. From that moment on, some very curious details were published on this interesting discussion in the Israeli newspapers—lites Cumctguide and Libanon, The articles of Doctor Gorour 31st and 33rd Cama— are particularly noteworthy. gnide, 1869.

LA. JEWISH RUSSIA 165

No. 30.

On the prohibition of reciting prayers during the Rosck-Haschana day, in the houses particulars.

Saturday, 5-book section. Kito. 5557.

The Kahal decided that it would be published in all the houses where prayers are recited, the following: From the twelfth day of Sclihot (prayer recited) twelve days before Rosh Hashanah until Yom-Kipour (Day of Judgment) inclusive, It is forbidden for all Jews in the city to gather to recite prayers somewhere other than at the Synagogue. A Herem would be launched against the Hahan (cantor) and against the Baale-Tekiet (the one who sounds the horn), if either of them dared to sing and sound the horn in another location. Every prayer recited anywhere other than in the synagogue gogue, or at least in one of the buildings located in the courtyard of the synagogue, will be considered as an offense against divine law.

The homeowners, the cantor, and the horn player, who would violate this provision Kahal's actions would be considered and punished equally renegades who do not observe divine law commented on by the Talmud.

XIV

The synagogue courtyard, the buildings and the Jewish institutions located there are

These are still many questions worthy of examination.

In every Jewish community, the synagogue must be surrounded by a more or less courtyard spacious, so that the buildings that serve so that different institutions can find place. And first we will talk about the places ap- common peoples, which must be vast, con- built and maintained by the Kahal.

By analyzing each one in turn accessory institutions of the synagogue, which must be in its immediate vicinity and absolutely- ment in the courtyard where it is located, on com- will explain why we started with these places, which are generally not mentioned functions existence only indirectly, and all at it was at the end.

JEWISH RUSSIA 16'

Under the name of the synagogue court- gogue, we hear a larger playing area or less spacious located in the ha- district bitten by the Jewish population, where they must find :

1° The Bet-Haknest (the principal synagogue- pale) ;

2° The Bet-Gamidrasch (the house of prayer) and school);

3° The Bet-Hamerhatz (the baths with va- fear) ;

4° The Bet-Hakahal (the room of Kahal);

5° The Bet-Dine (judicial court);

6° The Hek-Dech (refuge for the poor- vres).

However, both outside and inside, the synagogue is the main one for Jews place of prayer, however, the most computer- Specifically, since this building is not heated, serves for the meetings of all the faithful that in major religious ceremonies, by example Rosh-Hashana, Yom-Kippour, etc., or on the occasion of the arrival of a person-

1C8 LA." JEWISH RUSSIA

a striking swim, like a famous singer, the chief rabbi, a famous preacher, etc.
In all other circumstances, the Prayers are recited in the house where it is so-called Bet-Gamidrasch, who has other destinations. Thus, this is where the scholars Jews interpret the science of the Talmud; that is it was only after the prayers that the various brotherhoods-ries hold their sessions; it is also there that the poor interpreters of the Talmud, who indulge-exclusively to this science and consequently-sequent cannot earn anything to pay rent, find refuge day and night;
This is where the so- questions are discussed
cial in general, and it is there finally that we find-sells the public library and the books of different brotherhoods.

Right next to the synagogue and the Bet-Ga-Midrasch is where the steam baths are located, as well than ordinary baths. Around this center are located the private houses of prayer Eschabots, Talmudors, Klaouz, etc., which,
to a lesser degree, have the same destination that the Bet-Gamidrasch. Then comes the Kahal chamber, whose authority, actions,

JEWISH RUSSIA 169

the relentless surveillance of all Jewish activity,
as well as Machiavellianism, are already known through the translated documents from the Book on the Kahal de Brafmann and cited following several-several chapters of this work.

Near the Kahal there is a council
analogous to the ancient Senedrion, which perpetuates itself
thus killed to this day under the tutelage of the Kahal, and who forms his justice section... that's Bet-Dine (which we will discuss in more detail later) (in the next chapter), headed by its rabbin or his PicLSch-et-Dine (president), whose family must be housed in a room in the building tinent.

Next comes Hek-Dech, or the refuge for Jewish vagrants, who are repellent-health, filth, and whose sight and society repulsive-even those poor people who, not having housing, seek refuge in Bel-Gamidrasch, Eschabot, Talmudor.

We can therefore see that in the courtyard of the synagogue gogue must find vast commons built and maintained by the Kahal. Braf-Mann cites three in his Book on the Kahal documents that relate to everything that has

10

170 JEWISH RUSSIA

was said in this chapter. We do not quote the first two as less interesting; As for the third one, classified under number 30, It is located following chapter xm.

XV

Let us deal with the Bet-Din (judicial court) (ciaire), a very serious and important question major.

In the preceding chapters, we we talked about the Kahal chamber, institute-Jewish tion which, in each locality, governs the public and private life of his coreligionists despotically and almost without any contrôle, admitting no recourse to another authority. This domination which, as we say, has no authority. As you can see, nothing constitutional extends to this-while on religious, inner life and private property of Jews, as well as on protection that the Kahal must grant, through its influence and even with his money, to those Jews who have some interest in untangling things with the Goyim.

172 JEWISH RUSSIA

But when it comes to making a judgment in a trial between two Jews, or between a

The Jew and the Kahal, that's the Bet-Dine (the holy one) tribunal), instituted by the law of the Talmud, which is responsible for making a judgment.

The Bet-Din, although called the holy one, is however, under the high protection of the Kahal, and forms, so to speak, only the judicial representative of this supreme authority, to which Every Jew must be blindly submissive. One Bet-Dine therefore exists wherever there is an ag- greater or lesser agglomeration of popula- Jewish tradition, and judges the various debates and con- controversies that arise and present themselves in the mercantile life of the Jews, which exempts these the latter resorted to Christian courts.

The Bet-Dine is, in a way, the painting of the ancient Senedrion, and it exists not by a consequence of the whim, or of self-love that Jews could have the right to possess a tribe- final without having to go to court Christians; but it has its reason for being in the dogma of Talmudic law, which governs life spiritual of the Jews. In support of this assertion- tion, to better understand the character of this Talmudic institution, we will mention some passages from the Jewish code under the title Hoschen-Hamischpot, which deals in detail with question :

JEWISH RUSSIA 173

"Jews are forbidden to have a trial" before Christian courts, as well as to pursue any interest before the civil and administrative bodies of Gozmé'. This defense must be applied even to questions on which Jewish law and those The Goyim agree both in meaning and in letter, and even though both parties are pleading would wish to be judged by Christian justice yours. Anyone who violates this decision will be considered a criminal, because such a that action would be blasphemy against the law of Moses (1). In this case, one must throw against the culprit, an Indian, will bear the brunt of it until- that at the moment he cancels his complaint filed before the Gentile courts; and if he persists still guilty of his crime, he must be anathe- tamed by the Herem (2). The same penalty will be

(1) Hoschen-Hamischpot, ch. xxvi, p.d.

(2) See documents 148 and 149, cited following the Chapter on wine in this book.

10.

174 JEWISH RUSSIA

applied as an advantage for the guilty party, and even to the one who would employ a non-Jewish authority to force his opponent to appear in court before the Bet-Dine.

"The document by which the Bet-Dine gives his authorization for the Jews to surrender justice by Christian courts, must not to be exhibited and shown to the Gentile judges. The violating this prohibition will pay the penalty. adverse (1) the excess of the fine which would have could be pronounced, by application of the laws Jewish, by the Bet-Dine.

"Especially in these times, where the Jews remain subject to the laws of domination foreign and cannot have their judges, the The Bet-Dine court must get involved in all matters. to do, of any interest, of any question, of any difficulty that arises between Jews. Thus He must judge: loans and borrowings, the marriage contracts, donations, inheritances cessions, complaints concerning per- your (2), etc. He must set the fines for the damage caused to livestock belonging

i^l) Hoschen-Hamischpot, ch. xxvi, p. 4.

(2) Hoschen-Hamischpot, ch. i, p. 1.

JEWISH RUSSIA 175

to another individual, as well as the losses incurred by the livestock of some to the detriment of others, when these losses were caused by The tooth or horn of the beast. The attributes The Bet-Dine also extends to prosecutions. thefts and robberies, but only insofar as concerns the investigation of these crimes and the compensation-

n H es which must be paid by the thieves, without aiming to punish the perpetrators of these thefts
and plunder, nor to the punishment that should be theirs
applied in accordance with the law of Moses (1).

"Although currently the Bet-Dine has not the right to condemn thieves and perpetrators of the plunder other than by making them without paying compensation to those to whom they have harm caused by theft and robbery, he may However, punishing them morally by launching against them an Indian, if they refused or delayed-were required to pay these compensations. The restriction-tion imposed on the authority of the Bet-Dine concerns
only the application of corporal punishment to which the laws of Moses would condemn the culprits (2).

(1) Hoschen-Hamischpot, ch. m, p. 3.

(2) Hoschen-Hamischpot, ch. i, p. 4.

176 JEWISH RUSSIA

"But as far as morals and the conduct of the Jewish population in general, every Det-Dine, even the one who is not sanctioned by the Israeli ground authorities, possesses very broad powers. Thus,
if the Det-Dine notices that the Jews are indulging in too inclined towards libertinism and a dissolute lifestyle,
He has the right to sentence to death, to penalties bodily harm, monetary fines, and so on immediately. To pronounce and apply these con-damnations, he doesn't even need to hear-
to give testimonies for the prosecution or the defense.
If the Det-Dine sees that it concerns a Jew
in f tuent by his social position in the world
non-Jew, who could defy his judgment, if he
It is impossible for him to use all the using tricks to humiliate such an individual, he tries,
by consulting with the Kahal, to make sur-
to seize a favorable opportunity to be able to do to accuse and punish the disobedient by Christian courts. Furthermore, its fortune is declared Hefher (pillage):
"In order to arrive as quickly as possible to completely annihilate and destroy the de-obedient to the holy laws of the Talmud, in-interpreted by Bet-Dine the saint and Kahal

"The infallible one."

Summonses to appear before the Bet-Dine are handed over to the parties by the Savgly. Those Jews who are absent from the cities for business can receive them three; but if, after the third quotation, this-He who was summoned to appear did not obey. An Indian is launched against him. As for ceir who never leave the city, we don't send just one quote.

It is forbidden to be disrespectful and show signs of discontent to Samoches. For the offense done to these last-niers, Bet-Dine has the right to punish the offender-As for the physical aspect, and even the Samoche can beat him and inflict damage on him things, like breaking windows, smashing things furniture, etc., without having to compensate him.

If the Bet-Dine changes its premises sessions, the one who is summoned to appear does not can claim ignorance of the new premises. If the Samoche reported that the one who has was quoted as speaking ill of the Bet-Dine court that he refuses to appear, one would give credence to this declaration, and he would launch an Indian against the culprit and sometimes even the Herem (1).

178 JEWISH RUSSIA

Brafmann quotes in his Book on the Kahal 52 acts and documents containing judgments rendered by the Bet-Dine in different-rents questions; we have extracted and translated the most significant ones, which are ranked under numbers 24, 78, 120, 132, 146, 177, 203, 204, 239, 256, which we cite below, and we will point out that the documents cited previously and bearing the numbers 09 23, 102, 148, 149, 156, 260, also have a connection with the orders and provisions of the Bet-- Dinner.

After all that has been said regarding laws upon which inner life is based and intimate with the Jews, it will be understood that all these bizarre methods employed by the Kahal and whose purpose cannot be grasped when one par-short the documents classified under numbers 148 and 149,j may not seem so fanatical, in considering the safeguarding of the Bet-Dine

1) Hoschen-Hamischpot, ch. xi, p. from l to 4.

JEWISH RUSSIA 179

is at the same time the guarantee of one of the principals main dogmas of Talmudic science. In many circumstances and especially where the Jewish law goes against common sense and where the form and letter order to execute what Justice and conscience forbid doing this.
the trial is judged, not by the Daions (judges) of the Bet-Dine), but by experts who must
to be more experienced in business matters, of industry and in other branches of in-practical interests of life.

The Daions sometimes also fill expert functions, but only when the two opposing sides choose them at this effect. Generally, however, in the circ-the aforementioned constants, we do not designate them point, because these Daions, almost exclusively devoted themselves to... exclusively to the study of the laws of the Talmud,
few know the practical life in which common sense is often preferable to make fair justice.

To better highlight the action of Bet-Dine.
We must not forget to mention the question-tion which sometimes presents itself relatively to the referral to Christian courts of

180 JEWISH RUSSIA

Legal proceedings that arise between two Jews. Thus,
the trials in which letters of protested changes, due to non-execution of donations or wills, as well as other Cases of this kind are referred from time to time in time by Bet-Dine before the courts Christians, not because of incompetence or the incapacity of the Jewish court, but because that the law of the Talmud prescribes to do so "as a means of action and as a brake against the strong, the insolent, and the disobedient health professionals who do not want to submit to decisions of the Kahal and the Bet-Dine and by Therefore, they must be punished by the justice system. "Goya."

The consequence of this passage of the law of The Talmud states that Christian courts are for the most part powerless to do justice to that of the Jewish litigants whose case is the better, because, to cancel any decision Christian courts that would not be con-shaped by the ideas of the Bet-Dine and the Kahal, these two Jewish authorities have letters signed change to white by both opposing sides before the trial begins before the Bet-

JEWISH RUSSIA 181

Dine. So when the one who loses before the The Jewish court is not satisfied with these decisions. Sion, it is then that the Bet-Dine sends back the litigants before a Christian tribunal; but In this case, the decision of this court matters. little to the two Jewish authorities, since they already possess, in bills of exchange signed in white by both parties, the a means of arbitrarily punishing the party that one wants to achieve.

Through these cunning and Machiavellian means, the Bet-Diiiie and the Kahal maintain their weighty power over the Jewish population, by employing as an instrument the justice system of the country where they live, in order to punish those of their coreligion-women who do not want to submit confessions complacently to their despotic authority.

he

Here are the documents and records that are found classified in the Book on Kahal, by Bralmann, under numbers 24, 78, 120, 132, 146, 177, 203, 204, 239, 256.

N°24

Regarding the summons to appear before the court Det-Dine.

Wednesday, section of 5 books Hukat 5556.

The representatives of Kahal decided to see the order to Reibbe-Leib-Vitouka to arrive in our city, to appear before Bet-Dine the saint, in order to explain himself regarding the debates that he has with his son-in-law.

JEWISH RUSSIA 183

No. 78.

Trial of private individuals with the Kahal.

Saturday, Emore section 5559.

As a result of a complaint from a man named Cevi-Hirsch, son of Jac >b, and of his brother, relative-information regarding the right to operate a house located in Iourguieef Street, he is enjoined to the two well-known wealthy men of this city, namely Rabbi Hazias, son of Elian, and Rabbi Johel-Michael, son of Aaron, to defend before the tri-Bunal Bet-Dine, the holy sacred rights of Kahal versus the two individuals above appointed.

No. 120.

Regarding the selection of two city leaders who will have to force Rebbe-fsraël, son of Jacob, to appear before Bet-Dine the saint.

Saturday, Chemina section, 28 Nisan 5551.

The representatives of Kahal decided: that the Rebbe Israel, son of Jacob, must appear from-before the holy Bjt-Dine to agree on the difference-makes what happened between him and Rebbe Leizer, son of Mr. But as the said Israel, son of Jacob, has not not much desire to obey this order emanating from the part of the Kahal, the two leaders of the city, namely Rebbe Isaac, son of J., and Rebbe Samuel, son of D., to compel by all the possible means, the said Rebbe Israel, son of Jacob, to the submission that every Jew owes to Kahal.

184 JEWISH RUSSIA

No. 132.

Punishment for disobedience.

Thursday, 23rd Sivan, 5551.

As a consequence of the disobedience committed towards the Kahal by Rebbe Josephe, son of D., city representatives decided to punish by excluding him for all eternity from the brotherhood of Nore-Tamide and by forbidding him to never to speak the title of Moreïne.

N" 146.

Punishment for denunciation against the Bet-Dine.

Saturday, the second day of Kouczhi's passage, Feast of Tabernacles, 5562.

Since Rebbe Meer, son of Michael, had the insolence of denouncing the holy Bet-Dine to the au-Christian authorities, representatives of the Kahal decided to punish him by stripping him of his title Moreïne, and henceforth for all eternity his name must be preceded by Havera (ill-born).

JEWISH RUSSIA 185

No. 177.

The dispute between the Knhal and private individuals.

As a result of the dispute that arose between the Kahal and the sons of the late Aria, in relation to the operating rights for stores belonging to

Arbirei (prelate of the Orthodox religion), the re-Kahal presenters decided to award the power of the seven city representatives in Rebhe Moses, son of James, so that he may arrange and plead the interests of Kahal, either before experts chosen for this purpose, either before the tribunal of the saint Bet-Dine.

No. 203.

On the subsequent condemnation of a quarrel.

Sunday, Ahrensa section 5562.

Like Rebbe Faifis, son of Abraham, has beaten and insulted the wife of the tailor Isaac, son of Samuel, alleging in his excuse that it She was the one who started the argument first. The representatives of the Kahal decreed: if he is demonstrated by the oath that the the tailor's wife before the holy Bet-Dine, that It's not her, but rather ReLbe Faïfisch. first, who picked a quarrel with him and began to beat her, the said Rebbe Faïfisch will be condemned by Bet-Dine to recite for three days psalms in the Gamidrasch and will lose its title of Moreïne for all eternity. – Tuesday Next, the Samoches will publish in all the synagogues: that the guilty party was punished by this way for having wrongfully defamed a woman innocent. – This decree cannot be cancelled only by an express decision of the members– The combined strengths of the Kahal and the Bet-Dine.

186 JEWISH RUSSIA

No. 204.

Forgiveness granted to the guilty party.

Wednesday, Ahrensa section 5562.

Since Rebbe Faifisch, son of Abraham, condemned previously, repented by submitting– both with humility to the decision of the Kahal and the As for Bet-Dine, the members of the Kahal and the Bet-Dine, united at the grand complete, unanimously agreed to return the Moreïne's title, while retaining the power– nition, that of reciting for three days psalms in the Gamidrasch.

No. 239.

On the punishments to be inflicted on those who are disobedient to the decisions of the Bet-Dine.

Thursday, 23 Ira 5562.

The representatives of Kahal decided that all those who show themselves to be disobedient and re-

JEWISH RUSSIA 187

beautiful according to the decrees issued by the holy Bet-Dine would be deprived of the right to exploit the pro-privileges they had acquired from the Kahal since the beginning of this year and the acts of sale confirming this right which had been given to them submitted items would be considered null and void would resemble the shards of a broken pot.

No. 256.

On the punishment inflicted on a woman for her misconduct.

Monday 5 Famosse 5562.

The representatives of Kahal decided that, if Saint Bet-Dine acknowledges the scandalous acts which are reported on the wife's account rabbi of the small town of Douvitza, and if he decrees For these acts, any kind of conviction... The guilty party will also be deprived of the right to Kes-soba (dowry received in marriage), which will be entirely confiscated, except for 500 florins worth of robes and the belongings she possesses. Two delegates from Kahal will be present at the execution of this decree. decision and will monitor closely. That the representatives of Kahal, may God protect them, have nothing to risk for their just severity!

XVII

We will not make Kabbalah known-Kinion or Souder, that is to say the way in which Sales and purchases take place between Jews.

In the most remote antiquity, there existed

Among the Jews, a rather bizarre custom: when-that one Jew sold to another was a pro-
property, be it any object, no matter
what value, large or small, the buyer
He took off his shoe and offered it to the seller.

The Talmud introduced into its laws some something similar to this ancient practice, well intense, adding to this analogy as much meaning and strength that he was used to
to apply it to all the provisions issued concerning him and his spiritual life, material and practical aspects of Jewish life. Thus, when Nowadays, a sale takes place between two

JEWISH RUSSIA 189

Jews, we apply the law of Kabbalah-Kinion.
such as the Talmud introduced, and which consiste in the following form: the buyer or his
The business manager offers the seller a portion of his
a long cassock, or a handkerchief, addressed to him-singing these words: "Take this piece of my dress or this handkerchief, in exchange for the earth, house or any other item that you sell me or
"which you are giving me as a gift." When the seller touches with her hand the edge of the dress or the handkerchief presented, the act of sale and purchase is irrevocably accomplished, even the buyer would not have paid yet and would not be has not taken possession of the object he just to buy. That the property is located at a great distance, that the sold item is still in the possession of a third person eloignée, if the formality has been completed from the ma-
no. 1 cited above, none of the parties con-tractantes cannot, must not, back down; thus the wants the law of the Talmud. We can see from this that the Kabolat-Kinion is not a simple form-literate among the Jews, and that the Talmud hides a cabalistic meaning by interpreting it from the ma-
next one:

he.

190 JEWISH RUSSIA

"If the seller touches the hem of the cassock"

or the handkerchief that the buyer offers him, that must mean that the seller is yielding to the buyer the material enjoyment of the object sold, and therefore the buyer enters into a an indissoluble link with this object.

It is certain that this interpretation tal-musical cannot be understood by that who is not familiar with the science of the Talmud, and we cannot guess what role it plays in this in this case, the panel of the long black dress they wear The Jews, or the handkerchief.

If, however, we want to enter into the direction that the Talmud gives to this ceremony, in admitting "that the hem of the dress or the mo-choir represents the amount of money that the buyer The seller must pay for the acquisition of the item. sold, and that the seller, instead of handing over this object touches the hem of the black dress or the handkerchief representing the agreed sum; so actually both parties established a material link with money and the object sold... of course, still according to the pro-foundation and cabalistic science of the Talmud.

It doesn't matter, moreover, that the ceremony ap-

JEWISH RUSSIA 191

Peleus Kabolat-Kinion comes from antiquity remote or that it draws its origin from the Kabbalistic depth of the Talmudic ocean; It is enough to know that this ceremony had took root among the Jews of ancient times and has retained all its prestige to this day. There is only this observation to add, t[ie the Kabbalat-Kinion is only applied when it comes to the sale and purchase carried out between two particular Jews: because the sales practices carried out by the Kahal against Jewish individuals are surrounded by such an aura of infallibility-lability that no one is permitted to doubt (1).

Brafmann, in his Book on Kahal, cites eight provisions of the Kahal which relate to they carry on at the Kabolat-Kinion ceremony; but since they are less curious, we we have not translated them, mentioning only-the fact that, in the documents cited below from the wine chapter and marked by numbers 100 and 102, it refers to the Kabo- ceremony lat-Kinion.

(1) Hoschen-Hamischpot, ch. xxn, p. 1, and Tchaubot-Garoche, §21.

XVIII

We need to give some details about the wedding celebration.

The celebration of the holidays on the occasion of the Marriage among Jews begins in an ordinary way. before the day fixed for the accomplishment of this important act.

When the sixth day of the week is already in its decline, and that, in the dwelling of every Jew, the troubles of daily life cease and are replaced by peace and the rests that precede the coming of the Sabbath, then, to meet this desired guest (the Sabbath), eagerly awaited, the musicians of the The community first arrives at the bride's house. and then in the future, by executing the me-

JEWISH RUSSIA 193

National lodies Kabolat-Schabat (1). That's it. the signal to begin the celebration a wedding.

The following day, Saturday, the entire synagogue goes to the door to meet the fiancé, who arrives with his father, his brothers and his cousins. While reading the passage from the prayer that is recited every Saturday, the The future only receives his brothers after his father and her cousins, an Alla, but who is very significant and called Maxtir, accom- accompanied by a hymn performed by the cantor in a resounding voice and with repeated wishes by all the assistants "for many years".

During this ceremony, from all sides of the synagogue, and especially of the part where finds the place intended for the most beautiful half

(1) In every Jewish community there is an orchestra instituted by the Kahal and composed of musicians Jews. In this orchestra, there must be a violin, some cymbals, a bass, and a drum. Badhan, who makes part of the orchestra, is an individual responsible for making people laugh the society invited by his improvised poems, of the re- to enjoy his more or less witty jokes and his address by performing juggling, and this during for the entire duration of the wedding celebrations.

194 JEWISH RUSSIA

of the Jewish kind, one throws nuts at the future. almonds, figs, etc.

The little boys of the Jewish population those who are there rush eagerly towards these treats, which they so rarely have occasion to eager to taste them, they snatch them up from one another others argue and finally fight and pro- cause an uproar that is not at all cons- usable in a temple, a place intended for uni- [This appears to be a fragment of a larger sentence, possibly a fragment of a larger sentence]

The fiancé is escorted out in grand style. by his cousins and friends, who on that day wanted expressing it to him in his parents' house their most sincere and most warm. The parents thank them and their offer a light lunch. In the evening, the The musicians first go to the fiancé's house and then at the future woman's house, ending the day of the witches' sabbath through national melodies. Gay- how we sing and play these melodies at the fiancé, but they didn't last long, because the musicians hurry to go to the future, where, after having executed some har- Monia, they begin to play dances and The company begins to jump; these dances,

JEWISH RUSSIA 191

in which only women take part and especially virgins, are generally- very lively and extend well into

beyond midnight; that is to say, until the moment where the small copper coins which are found in the pockets of the dancers no longer fit in the box placed next to it musicians, a box intended to receive the price of each dance performed by the virtuoses.

Finally, the big day arrives, the one that so many times The discussion took place in the families of both engaged. All members of both families are in great motion. These are buying still what is lacking; those are looking for what what should be done to enhance the celebration, the one way to make it sumptuous, the other ways to make it more attractive that which she gave for her daughter such or such a neighbor... Only the leaders of the two The families, the fathers of the two fiancés, are busy. more serious thoughts. To each of them the my head is spinning from the multitude of different ideas they are putting forward on a very important point So much so, namely: how to allocate the dowry intended for her child, so that the capital may yield sufficient interest, at the same time as long as it is securely guaranteed.

196 JEWISH RUSSIA

When these serious interests were arranged gés (which doesn't usually happen without a warm discussion and without the intervention- (ion of Bet-Dine the holy), one must first to satisfy Chadhan's (maker's) demands of marriages), which requires a reward for his efforts to negotiate the marriage; for if he was not paid, he protested would cite and summon the interested parties before Bet-Dine the saint, and by this quotation he could cause us to miss the celebration of the wedding. The Ra- tax must also be paid. attachment (1), because, without paying it in advance, the Nor could the wedding take place.

But now everything is already in order, the Chadhan paid, Rahache's fee acquitted the musicians satisfied with the promised price

(1) Rahache is a tax instituted for the benefit of the rabbi,

of the Hazan (cantor) and the Chcmat (city elder).
In Vilna, the collection of this tax was introduced in 1868.
adjudication, and the local police were ordered to lend their support for the Jewish contractor for its execution.

THE JEWISH 1KJSSIE i'J7

to give it to them, and the Ketebe (1) is ready. Then Schamosche leaves with a register in his hand and toured the city; after which the fiancé's apartments as well as those of The bride's house is starting to fill up with guests.
and at that moment we bring to the fiancé, of his future wife's share, Talet and Kitel (2) (two objects that Jews wear every day)
days during prayer, and with which they are dressed after death). Badhan owes on this occasion to improvise an elegy, in which is ex-awarded the great significance of the day when the
The fiancé becomes a husband. When the fiancé, touched Badhan's poetry has already poured forth much-
In tears, the latter, leaving him to care of the Schaffers who must prepare it for the solemn act by dressing both objects that his future wife sent him, he hurries to go with the musicians to her house, which is

(1) The Ketebe, a marriage certificate written in the Chal- language
The deian, in which the husband's duties are detailed towards women.

(2) Talet is a cashmere scarf on both ends of which are black stripes. – Kitel, white shirt whose style is in the style of the over-
folds worn by Catholic priests.

198 JEWISH RUSSIA

sitting in the middle of the room on a kneading trough overturned. She is surrounded by women brides, who slowly dishevel her hair in a desant her braids, hair by hair. On the figures of all these women is painted a sense-moment of discouragement, and they wait
eagerly awaiting the arrival of the Badlian shed a few tears at the sound of his lyrical song, because these tears would lighten their hearts oppressed by poignant sorrows

to come.

Each one remembers with pain that she had also been in the same position, and that she entered, with hope for the future and with faith in happiness, in this new life for her... And in the present moment, she said to herself-
She, barely twenty-five years old, I look of a very old woman, surrounded by a large family, for the maintenance of which I have to spend my days and nights tra-to watch... What, then, did this happiness consist of?
that I was promised?... I had been married to one more child, because my husband was of age barely seventeen years old, and, like all Jews
In general, he knew nothing, had no

JEWISH RUSSIA 199

state; so it's me who has to bear the entire burden
the weight of the heavy task, feeding my children
as well as my husband, in whom I found neither a supporter nor a protector.

At the time when all married women,
Disillusioned, they make sad reflections, Badhan, returning from the home of the fiancé to whom he recited an [elegiac] poem, accompanied of musicians, falls in their midst, like an envoy from heaven... No matter what he decides-bite; that it be truly tender, that this be incoherent rhymes and without any
In this sense, they are all weeping bitterly.
Instantly, the door bursts open, and the Schamosche announces aloud: "Kabolat-Ponime, Lega-Hatan (Go ahead of the fiancé). He immediately enters and, approaching of his future wife, covers his head with the scarf she had sent him.

The married women present throw themselves on
He had hops and oats. Then the Schafirons, with music in their heads, open the triumphal march, to get to the place where is the Hoopoe located (a canopy or baldachin, usually placed in the courtyard of the synagogue

gogue). They are followed by the parents, by all the guests and the newlyweds who bring up the rear of the procession.

Upon arriving there, the newlywed stops under the canopy, and the new bride, after having circles the canopy seven times, then positions himself at to his right. Badhan calls out loudly first the two fathers and the two mothers of two newlyweds, and then all the other parents, and finally all the friends, for bless the new couple; what everyone executes, each placing their hands on the head of the new groom first, and then on that of the new bride. The moment solemn to pronounce the vow and the act of marriage Sailles approach. We begin with reading of the prayer over the cup. This reading does not can only be done by a very learned inter-based on the law of the Talmud, which the Badhan, with great respect, and giving him the The title of Rabbi, he calls out aloud. newlyweds drink from the glass on which prayer was said. Schamosche reads the marriage certificate written in the Kaldean language, followed by the ceremony called Kadou-

JEWISH RUSSIA 201

China; it is the handing over by the new groom to his wife with a silver ring or a coin of silver coins, saying to him: Gavéï at mekoudeschet li betabaat ziekedat Mosche Israel (With this ring, you become my woman according to the law of Moses and Israel). In As he uttered these words, he struck a glass placed on the ground, with the heel of his shoe, in memory of the fall of Jerusalem. After a a short prayer over the cup and when the new-The married calves drank a few more drops. They were escorted back, music playing in their heads, all the way at their home.

But the newlyweds didn't eat. since the morning, because on that day they must fast-until the moment the ceremony is ac-Compline; they are also served a light snack, composed of chicken broth, which, in this Occasionally, it takes the name of golden soup. Then

The most interesting moment arrives for the Guests: it's the one from the wedding feast... The Dinner is already ready, the tables are set.
the cutlery was set separately for men
And for the women, the candles are lit.
We expect a few distinctive characters...

202 JEWISH RUSSIA

tion, but these do not delay; and here
Da,dha.n, who announces in a resounding voice:
"We invite the world to sit down at the table."

At this call, all the guests head towards towards several basins filled with water, which one prepared for washing hands, because at-
A Jew cannot touch bread before having having performed this ceremony; and... one begins to table. The newlyweds occupy that day the place of honor; alongside them are placed the distinguished guests, because, although the invite-tions were made in the same way and by the same Schamosche, and that in appearance
all the guests seem to be treated with a
a certain equality, however, each must estisea its own value and the position it occupies in Jewish society and to position oneself in a way not to occupy the place that should be taken by someone else, because it could happen to him
a very strong inconvenience, such as to be forced to give up his place... and who knows?
perhaps, to be thrown out.

First place next to the groom is occupied by the rabbi, if he has deemed it appropriate-able to honor the supper with his presence; en-

JEWISH RUSSIA 203

Next come the members of the Kahal and the Bet-Dine; the scholars sit beside them interpreters of the Talmud and the aristocracy of ar-gent. Ordinary mortals are relegated to the
at the end of the table, where a certain hierarchy and where a Mala.rn.ed (preceptor of the children) would feel dishonored to be sitting at a lower position than that occupied by the tail-their, or a brandy dealer, to be preceded by a baker, and so on. When Finally everyone is in position, let's begin.

by reciting the prayer, by breaking the bread pieces, and each guest takes one;
It's a kind of communion.

So the Sarvars (table servers) com-
begin to distribute the portions, according to the di-dignity and social or financial position of each guest. The great art of these Sarvars consists of serving portions of pike and roasted fillet in such a way that the delicate portions,
that is to say the aristocratic pieces, not they do not reach the end of the table, at the plebeians. When this rule is strictly observed, that of the prominent characters of the town, which had been forced to linger and not-

204 JEWISH RUSSIA

The riverbank, towards the end of supper, loses nothing.
for, as soon as he appeared in the hall of feast, a Sarvar shouting aloud: "Here an exquisite portion of pike for the Rebbe
so-and-so.

To the material pleasures of a good supper
Spiritual distractions are also present.
Exquisite dishes are accompanied by poetry.
improvisations by Badhan and symphonies performed by the orchestra. Badhan, in this Occasionally, he does not spare eloquence; he imagines
all kinds of rhymed flattery, which he debite of inspiration, starting with the new-married calves and continuing with the persons-significant nages that are present in the banquet. When he had finished praising all the aristocratic people who are at the wedding, comparing them to the heroes of the an-Jewish identity, Badhan changes his talent for im-proviser and versifier by profession
of a conjurer, a showman, and astonishes society by his skill. In short, he is the man to to do everything possible to amuse and distract the in-avoidances. But everything in this world must end;
Suddenly, Badhan uttered a penitential cry.

trant: Drosche-Geschenke (i) (gifts from wedding).

All the items given by the guests are placed in a metal vase, prepared for this use by Badhan, who, by depositing them there One by one, name each object and its donor. Sometimes these gifts are of a certain value: these are tableware, or silver candelabras, gold clasps and diamonds, and even cash. During that this part of the ceremony, which is very interesting for newlyweds, is finished, we begin the dance called the Kochère dance.

Badhan's role is not yet over. because it is he who loudly engages all the men present at the wedding dancing with the new bride. Each person called approaches of her and, taking the handkerchief by one end that she holds in her hand, goes around with her

(1) Custom requires that all cousins and friends bring-tent with them, or send gifts before supper of wedding, supposedly as a reward for the prayer that the The newlywed pronounces his vows at his wedding; and, although it happens This prayer rarely takes place, the custom of making The practice of giving gifts continued.

12

206 JEWISH RUSSIA

from the room, after which he leaves and gives in his place to another dancer, a reminder of the Bad-Ha. When all the men have already danced with the new bride, her husband closing the series, everyone is renewing the new couple in the bridal chamber, including the The doors close immediately – and that's where the wedding celebration.

The four documents that Br&fmann cites in his Book on the Kahal (two of which are are found in chapter iv of our study under the numbers 64 and 158) prove in what way- pendance, one can even say in what state of slavery vage, each Kahal holds the Jews who live- tent the aisle where he reigns despotically. In meddling in the affairs of everyday life intimate with his subjects, Kahal forbids them to in-avoid attending family gatherings that they please.

as well as hiring specific musicians,
such and such servants, to eat and to
to drink such and such food, such and such drink-
sounds.

XIX

How can we not now emphasize the Circumcision?

From the very first moment of a birth
child among the Jews, members of the fa-thousand of the woman who gave birth, as well as the parents of the
The father of the newborn, first think of ga-to protect the child and the mother from the influence of Satan, who wanders around the bedroom of the ac-lying down and trying to get in to exercise its evil spells and to seize the two souls. The best way to destroy the ar-materials of this implacable enemy of humanity
on earth is the Schir-Garmalot (talis-

208 JEWISH RUSSIA

husband) (1), which must be glued or attached with a
in a certain way above the bed of the ac-lying down and the child's cradle, as well as the-
near the door, the window, the fireplace born or from the stove, that is to say, wherever finds some opening, through which the mind
impure things could find a way to penetrate in the room, in order to seize the souls of his victims.

The evening of the day a boy comes to world, arrive at his cradle his future life companions (the Heder of Melamède, made up of little boys, with the Beguelfer); they recite the prayer so that the
to ensure the newborn has a peaceful sleep: we give them
gives a puree of beans and peas, as well
only gingerbread. The visit of the little ones boys and the prayer recited by them are renewed-they want for eight days, that is to say until the circumcision ceremony.

(1) This talisman is composed of a piece of parchment-min on which is written the 121st psalm, surrounded, by all on the sides, inscriptions that list the names of mysterious of all the inhabitants of heaven, including the Talmud and The Cabal speak quite often.

JEWISH RUSSIA 209

On the evening of the first Friday, after the birth a boy's appearance, towards the end of supper, arrive clans la chambre de la maternité ses knowledge of both sexes, for the Ben-Zahor (prayer in the style of that of the little ones) boys). The next day, Saturday, the father of The newborn goes to the synagogue, where, after Upon reading the Five Books, he is called to-near the Torah. During this ceremony, the the cantor intones the Nischebeirat (long years to the father, the mother, and the child). In-then the parents and guests escorted the father at home for the Chaleme-Zahor (fel-quotes to the woman who gave birth after having given birth to a boy). They are offered brandy and gingerbread; among the wealthy, liquarries, pies and jams.

The night before the day of the ceremony, that is, the eighth day after birth of the child, we watch over them (but only in the case of rich); it's the Wach-Nacht (night watch) in the postpartum room). During tonight, the Klæouznern (poor Jews who devote themselves to the study of the Talmud) recite the stanzas of Michny. And, as a reward, they 12.

210 JEWISH RUSSIA

in addition to a lavish supper, they receive the Newdova (alms).

Finally, the morning of the important day arrives when the newborn must receive the assigned stamp only to the children of the people chosen by God... Circumcision. So, in the morning,

the midwife with the cousins of the delivery-
The mother bathes and washes the child carefully, in order to prepare him for the operation he will undergo.
to be submissive. It's a happy time for the midwife, because all people pre-
The paths give him small change for the difficulties she experienced with the newborn from the day of his birth.

Around ten o'clock, after the prayer in the synagogue, arrive at the home of the woman who gave birth
the Sandeke (a serious character who, during the operation (holds the child on his lap), the three Moguelims (operators), the K\cater (com-father or godfather), the Kwaterine (gossip or godmother), the Kantor (singer), the Schamoschem (notary), the parents more or less pro-
the guests. In any case, ten witnesses adults, at least, must be present at the ceremony.

JEWISH RUSSIA 211

When everything is ready for the operation, the Kwaterine takes the child in her arms and,
Raising it slightly above his head, he waited.
that the Schamosche pronounces aloud:
Kwater! To hand over his burden. Kwa-ter, upon receiving the child, pronounces: Boruh-Gaba (Be blessed, newcomer), words that everyone present repeats loudly voice. Then the Kwater, reciting the passage
From the psalm: "And the Lord said to our Grandfather Abraham: March forward and be "Right," he slowly advances towards the Kisse-sel-Eliog, the place in the room where, as one might say supposes, there is the invisible shadow of the pro-Phetius Elijah, who is always present at the operation of the circumcision next to the Sandeke, on the knees on which the child is placed.

The three Moguelims (one of whom is attached to the one hand a double-edged knife, the other armed only with his sharpened nails, and the third operating with the mouth) surround
the Sandeke, who holds the child on his lap;
Before starting, they recite the prayer:
"Thanks be to you, great Jehovah,
King of the universe, who destined us for

to perform this circumcision." Then the first Moguelim, who is holding the double-edged knife-chants, makes an incision near the seputum and yields the second place, Torea, who with her nails sharpened blades tear the skin off the lower part of the member, and in turn gives way to the third sixth, Macice, who sucks with his lips the wound inflicted by the first two.

During this very painful and barbaric On stage, Tentant's father reads the prayer: "Glory to the Eternal, Master of the universe, who has consecrated by ordering the joining of the new-" "A calf born to the children of our father Abraham!"

If the child is of strong constitution and re-resists this awful operation (which he undergoes in (shouting heart-rending cries), they sprinkle the wound with sawdust; the Sandeke in getting up, he takes him in his arms, and repeating twice in a row, over the cup filled with wine, the words of the prophet Ezekiel: "And I will you "Say: 'You will live by your own blood,'" three drops of nec- in the child's mouth tar. All this drama unfolds with accompaniment-grouping of shrill songs, performed by the cantor and interrupted only by the sou-

JEWISH RUSSIA 213

repeated hatreds over many years directed at the child, at parents and all guests.

If the operation was carried out promptly and with address, that is to say if the first Mo-Guelim did not make too deep an incision. if the second one skillfully tore off the part lower part of the limb, and if finally the third did not have Cinga's infected mouth, the re-The result is declared satisfactory, and the little being born eight days ago has acquired the right to be a member of a for life a people who claim to be God's chosen ones. In re-enjoyment of what parents give a party, while complying with the orders of the Kakal contained in the documents cited in Chapter IV and which are classified under numbers 16, 64, 131, 158, in the Book following the Kahal, by Brafmann. If the Kahal had not the privilege of demanding the tax from the Jews, said tax on the kosher meat box, privilege which in Russia is practiced with the help of local authorities (as we have done (as mentioned in the chapter mentioned), he would not hasten not so much as reminding one's rights at every Jewish, in the most solemn moments of life, for example when he celebrates his parents and friends, or when he celebrates his wedding, or when he celebrates the birth of a male child culinary. In order to punish any disobedience to his "infallible" decisions (1), this Jewish authority almost always waits to exercise its vindictates the day of a party given by the culprit. Especially in Russia, where tax collection said tax on the box, is protected by the local authorities, one or two members of the Kahal, accompanied by the police, they arrive at the amphitryon and first conduct an inspection meticulous inspection of all household utensils, of all dishes, meat and fish, in order to discover if these dishes are kosher or trifle.

214 JEWISH RUSSIA

How will the master of the house be able to—he would demonstrate to these henchmen that the meat served at the table comes from an animal that was killed with a perfectly double-edged knife sharp and without the slightest flaw, and that the fish was prepared according to the meticulous Rules prescribed by the Talmud? So, besides the very great inconvenience that this import-

(1) See the document cited following the wine chapter, under number 149.

JEWISH RUSSIA 215

tune visit cause to the head of the family, besides the the disturbance caused among the guests presence of Kahal members who came for persecute the one in whose home they are staying, the The guilty party is almost always condemned to a heavy fine for breaking the law on the Kochère.

XX

We need to elaborate on the Moreïne, or hierarchy of dignities among Your Jews.

To study the hierarchy of dignities currently observed by the Jews, it is necessary take a retrospective look at the origin of this institution, as well as on its development successive loppement (1).

The organization of Jewish communities has Its source lies in a remote antiquity. begins immediately after the destruction of the kingdom of Israel, and its purpose is the pre-preservation and intact conservation of the na-

(1) The sources we used for the writing These chapters include: Enalt-Gesclrichte des velkes Israels, Part 7; Gractz-Gcschichte des Judentums, und Tectcn-Scherira Jouhsin-Schaare; Cedek, Cemah, Duvidc, Jhouda.

LA. JEWISH RUSSIA 217

lost nationality, until the long-desired day when It will please God to rejoice in his chosen people his immunities, his glory and of the country.

During the eighteen centuries of pilgrimage of the Jewish people, this organization, which remained unchanging, has developed and acquired a great power, changing salon the cir-constants, sometimes favorable, sometimes unfavorable vorables.

The seed of the organization is already there in this learned school which, with the authorization of the Roman emperor Vespasian, had was established in the city of Yamno by the Rabbi Yohanem-Ben-Zakai. During the short period that this school remained under the the direction of Rabbi Gamlielu, his tendency was to become, like the ancient Sene-Drion, the director and provider of the Public and private life of Jews. Although revolutionary conspiracies were brewing within its ranks. have often been born, she has retained for a long time the title of gymnasium; its professors had the right to use the titles reserved for scholars; such as: Hahan (scholar), Sofer (librarian), Amor (interpreter).

13

218 JEWISH RUSSIA

This form of organization was preserved until—that at the moment he entered the center of Jewish populations scattered throughout Asia the draskin of the conqueror of Arabia, of the founder of Islam, a time when Jews were subjected to this new dominance began to breathe more freely.

The early Muslims treated them as their equals. Dastanaï, the representative—so much of that time of the people of Israel in exile, having succeeded in rendering great service during of the expedition of the Muslim army against the Sasajids of Persia, the fanatical Omar, the very one who had prepared laws of proscription against the Jews, began to protect. Bastanaï is solemnly recognized as leader of the Jewish nation; Omar him gives the hand of the beautiful slave Da?—a, daughter of King Horzva of Persia, and grants him several privileges similar to those that had been granted to the patriarchs of the Chal— Church Albok&tholikos and Yezouïaba dean, (1).

(1) History of the Mongols. Uassan-Weil-Kaliff, Part 2, ch. in, p. -74, and Graetz-Geschii hie-Judenthums, 5° part;e» p, 133.

JEWISH RUSSIA 219

From that moment, a new era dawned for The Jews: Bastanaï appears for the first time times as a vassal of the Muslim empire, having the royal seal at his disposal; he is surrounded by a court and he has at his service a administration and a higher court, with authority over all the Jews scattered in Asia.

Upon the accession to the throne of Caliph Ali, at—which the Jews lent their support to his struggle for possession of the throne against Mou-Well, they see their privileges increasing even further. lèges, and the organization of communities complete. The first official Rosch-Falouta represents, before the caliph and his vizier, all the Jews of Asia. He makes the distribution taxes, collects them and pays them into the state coffers. The Jewish college is transformed into a separate parliament, consisting of de Gaon, first character after Rosch-Galouta, of Daïon-di-Daba, senior judge, and cVAb-Det-Dine, judge, who is by right successor to the previous one.

These first four dignitaries were submitted seven representatives of the company sa-

220 JEWISH RUSSIA

vante, Rosh-hala, and three members of a Another learned society, Habor. Then came an institution composed of one hundred members divided into two unequal parts. Sixty-ten members, recalling the composition of the former great Senedrion, had the right to to bear the title of Aloufîme (representative); the thirty others, recalling the composition of the petit Senedrion, bore the title of Dene-Keiome (candidate). These dignities were here-officials. This central council of Jews held its sessions, sometimes in Baghdad, sometimes in Suwa, sometimes in Pombadita, three residences of the chief Upper Rosch-Galouta. After that came... provincial councils.

Each Jewish community received from the head-place of the constituency to which it belongs held a Daïcn (a certified judge). This one he chose two assistants, with whom he would form-The Det-Dine court. This court... cupait, in addition to legal matters, of the legislation, marriage contracts, the review of divorce decrees, letters of change, deeds of sale, as well as the in-observation of some utensils used for Tac-

JEWISH RUSSIA. 221

complisscmcnt des cérémonies religieux,

such as Halef, a double-edged knife serving Jewish butchers, and Schofère, the horn which rings on the day of Rosh Hashanah.

Besides the courts of Bet-Dine, there exist—there was still in each community a co-mité which depended directly on the Rosch-Galouta. It was composed of seven Parnesses •tutors), elected by the community, and examiners all civil and religious matters are addressed. The current Kahal is the exact continuation of these committees.

We do not think we need to enter into the details relating to the mutual relations that exist—were between these kinds of tribunals of in—Given the established practice then, we will only say that the collection of taxes, paid by the Jews for the benefit of their own institutions, was made by employees belonging to a another religion, which allows us to assume that these taxes, the distribution of which had been established blocked by the Jewish authorities, were probably—very heavy, and that intervention was necessary—foreign element to the Jewish element to make them return. The Kochère meat tax, of which

222 JEWISH RUSSIA

The current Kahal derives such large profits, and which serves to maintain and sustain its despotism, as indicated in chapter [see], also existed then and weighed heavily on the Jewish population.

As a result of the improved lot of Jews at that time, an improvement due to the circumstances we have mentioned, the study of the laws of the Talmud, until then quite restricted, became general. For, according to the tradition, the Talmud, until the end of the 5th century of our era, was preserved only in the memoirs of some scholars, who were like a kind of scholarly library. In this way, the Talmud could perfectly—how to perish with the last scholar who possesses it sedated only by heart, circumstance quite presumptive, given that these scholars always put at the head of the movements revolutionaries. But when this danger was past and that the scholars who possessed in-

They could transcribe the Talmud by heart
On paper, the study of the sacred book met more obstacles, as a result of oppression
and the persecution suffered by the nation

RUSSIA JL.'LVE

223

Jewish under the rule of the last princes Sassnīdc*. The Talmud, moreover, which is reclosed only on the field of theo-laughter, and which could not be applied to life practical, lost sympathy, not only of the Jewish people in general, but also of its representatives, who were beginning to weaken; he would have eventually died out completely, if the favorable change occurred in the fortunes of the Jewish population in Asia, under the domination-tion of the descendants of Muhammad, had not brought all the Jews back to these studies, allowing thus it is up to the representatives to apply the laws and to make them practical.

From then on, taking off and becoming the regulations governing the national and spiritual life of Jews, the Talmud became enthroned in the thought of the entire widespread population not only in Asia, but also among those who lived the Mediterranean coasts, in Europe and in Africa.

But, as nothing in this world is permanent,
this kind of national autonomy of which the Jews enjoyed for some time under the domination of the descendants of Muhammad will last

224 THE JEWISH T.USFIE

few. The successors of Omar and the caliph Ali having unearthed the laws of persecution ren-laws owed by Omar against the Jews, laws of which he-even though he hadn't used it, they began to to apply them to this population. Under the reign d'Almoutavakillc, grandson of Almamouns,
In 856, the central Jewish council was dissolved.

Rosh Galouta is gradually losing its privileges as well as its position, and towards the end of the 9th century—key, the parliaments of Sura and Pombadita are removed.

This painful blow to the autonomy of Jewish institutions, however, do not destroy the internal organization of this population. On the contrary, the Jews are rising up against adversity and begin to form these corporate intimate rations, a kind of se—conspiracies Cretan traditions which, throughout the centuries, have been perpetuated killed to arrive almost intact until our days. Rosh Galouta and the Gaons disappear—sent, and with them all the branches of the self—central authority; but the provincial committees and The Bet—Dine raise their heads. In these two provincial institutions, the government thinks they will find help for the perception of taxes among Jews, as well as guides in decisions relating to related issues gious. So, we keep them, we protect them and they are formed into a kind of council which authority is exercised within the area subject to their dependence.

JEWISH RUSSIA 225

If Ton considers these provin—ciaux, endowed with greater powers after the disappearance of the central council, did not receive no more orders from the latter, but almost in In all circumstances, consult the Tal—mud to pronounce a judgment or render whatever decision, we will see that the per—a sedition that was directed against their nation—The injustice had only been apparent for the Jews, and that on the contrary she had given them great services, in the sense that the laws of the Talmud penetrated further into the private lives of Jews.

From that moment on, the partial organization of Jewish communities with their committees for civil and religious affairs and their tribu—judicial matters, enters a phase of sta—bility and perseverance, and forms this aston—nante talmudo—municipal republic which,

unshakeable, it resisted persecution for ten centuries
actions of all kinds directed against the Jews,
and has remained intact to this day, with minor changes regarding external shapes...

To better publicize the forms
more recent developments in the organization of communities Regarding Jewish women, we will quote an excerpt from a document.
of Kiria-Nesseman (1), which, by its veracity,
had gained general trust.

On the duties of the rabbi and the parishioners
[members of the Kahal].

1° At the invitation of the members of the Kahal, the
The rabbi is required to go without delay to the assembly and to take part in the deliberations actions and decisions. Nor should it either refuse to participate in the judgments rendered by the Det-Dine.

2. The rabbi has no right to interfere in the matters that the Kahal undertakes for its pro-
pre- accounts, such as sales and purchases, ren-

(\) liiria-Nessemcin, collection of historical facts of the Municipality of Vdna, by Fino, 1860.

JEWISH RUSSIA 227

collection of royalties owed by individuals,
etc. It only needs to be presented the conclusion of these matters and affix his signature
alongside those of the Kahal members.

3. If the Kahal wanted to institute a new tax, and that this tax was contrary to the rules-general ments, and if there were a single in-individual who wanted to protest against the new tax, the rabbi should assist him in his protesting and deciding wisely in the question-tion in dispute.

4° The Daions (judges) of the court of Bet-

Dine alone have the right to pronounce in the money matters, and the rabbi cannot modify— They are not proud of their decision at all. If, however, a Some parties require that the rabbi be present during the discussion of this issue, he cannot refuse to attend.

5° At the invitation of the Ba-ale-Takouet (re-actors of the regulations), the rabbi must to go to them to confer on the re-action of the new regulations, without however—and having the ability to introduce it by him—not even any change, if the writing is approved unanimously. But yes,

228 LA. JEWISH RUSSIA

among the editors, only two
If they hold a contrary opinion, the rabbi owes them his support, by demanding that this opinion be disclosed Cut and taken into consideration. If in the vote There is an equal number of votes for and against, the vote of The rabbi is predominant.

6° SU an unforeseen question arises by the general regulations, the rabbi could not to find a solution on his own. He will be assisted in this case two editors, two representatives times of the general meeting, and two Daions, with whom he will discuss the said question, in order to to arrive at a wise conclusion.

7. The rabbi does not have the right to give his Notice to the Chamoims (those who designate the voters) and he must in no way in—to flow over the elections.

8° During the general meeting of all the Jews who live within a certain radius, the rabbi cannot affix his signature to any protesting, whether collective or individual, during—that this protest is directed against the Kahal.

JEWISH RUSSIA 229

The dignities of Habor and Moreïne.

9. The rabbi, jointly with the head of the Kahal and the president of the Bet-Dine, can elect towards a Jew to the dignity of Habor; as for the Moreïne's dignity, it cannot be given that by a commission composed of four members of the Kahal, four members of the tribunal of Bet-Dine, of several representatives of the general meeting, which they themselves enjoy of this dignity and who have studied the Poskime (code of laws from the Talmud), and from the rabbi. All the members of the commission must meet to go to the rabbi's home, and nowhere else. In any case, a candidate for this dignity cannot to obtain it if he is not perfectly aware of the Hoschen- Hamischpot (complete collection of laws of the Talmud), as well as regulations of the last rabbis.

Only members of the Kahal may be elected those who enjoy the dignity of Moreïne. He who is merely Habor can also be elected, but only after several years of marriage.

230 JEWISH RUSSIA

The different degrees of function in the Kahal and the Det-Dine.

Here is the hierarchy of these two institutions:

- a) Candidate for the title of chief or representative smelling.
- b) Daï'on, judge in a brotherhood having right to sit in the sessions of the Bet-Dine.
- r) Gabai, dean of a large establishment of charity.
- d) Ykovim, actual member of the meeting general.
- e) Touvet-Kahal, member designated for choose the voters.
- f) Bosch-Medina, representative of the re-general union.

g) Baalei'-Takonet, the one who writes the new calves regulations.

h) Chemve-T&konet, the one who watches the enforcement of regulations.

It is only by going through all these degrees of the Jewish hierarchy that one can come to be member of the Kahal or representative of the re-

JEWISH RUSSIA 231

General union. An extraordinary case dispenses. only one of these lower degrees.

The order to follow in the elections.

10° The members of the Kahal and the judges of the Bet-Din are elected every year, according to the last-last regulation adopted in the year 1747.

A few days before the month of Kisslef (oc-(October), the Kahal designates five Boreims (elect-primary school teachers), who must choose several Baalei-Takonet (editors of the rules) guidance to follow during the next elections tions). The elections must be held six months after the free Easter holidays.

On the appointed day, after the prayer at the synagogue-gogue, the city chiefs, the presidents of Kahal and the Bet-Dine, as well as the presidents d^ds various brotherhoods, the editors of new regulations, the Chamochimes (no-service staff), the Sofère (secretary) and finally the five designated first-degree electors by the Kahal in the previous month of Kisslef, meet with the rabbi in the room of Kahal and appoint five new members to the ballot

232 JEWISH RUSSIA

Boreïms (second-degree electors), who are genuine voters invested with the power to elect read whomever they please for the high-ranking officials tions of:

4 Rochimes, representatives of the Kahal;

2 Roch-Medina, representatives of the country,
that is to say, within a certain radius, district, borough
district, department;

4 Touvimes, privileged members of the reu-
general union;

2 Ykovims, actual members of the meeting
general;

4 Roët-Heschbouet, controllers;

4 Gaboïms, starostes of the society of goodpheasant;

12 Let us date, judges of the Bet-Dine court;

A total of 35 dignitaries for the entire year,
that is to say, until the free holidays of Easter next.

While the voting process was underway
cute, it is strictly forbidden to anyone to address the Boreims (voters of the second degree), so as not to distract them
in this important operation, which aims to the goal of giving a government to the people

JEWISH RUSIE 233

Jewish tion of a certain radius (canton, district-
district, department).

Duties of the Kahal and the Bct Dine.

il0 The main occupation of the Kahal con-insists on the distribution of taxes that the Jews
must pay, as well as in the collection process of these taxes. Furthermore, the Kahal is required to ensure that the respect that each

A Jew owes a debt to the members of the Kahal, of the Bet-Dine and to the Moreïnes. The Kahal also distributes help for those starting a business
any, employing for this sort of encourageously the money that comes from the so-charitable society. In general, the Kahal handles all civil and religious matters
gious and indicates to each Jew in his ray
the path he must follow and the occupation he must fill in.

All branches of commerce are im-questions posed by the Kahal, as well as loans on pledges, bills of exchange and gold notes
dre. The collection of all these taxes for the benefit the Kahal treasury is executed through entrepreneurs.

234 JEWISH RUSSIA

The Kahal refers to the Shamoim, that is to say-
to say those who are preparing the list of taxpayers, with the share that must be paid by them. This painting is examined by the Kahal and modified, approved or rejected. – It is recommended-commanded the Shamoims not to flatter or spare the rich and have consideration for the poor the poor. For the entire duration their work, they are obliged, under the herem, to not to communicate with anyone,
in order to avoid any external pressure. Us must be locked in a chamber until-than to the entire execution of their task. One junior official of the synagogue is attached to their service to call the taxpayers,
so that they may explain, under the herem,
their material position, success or failure
success of their business, companies, loans, professions, etc.

12. Every three months, the members of the general meetings must be held in the Kahal chamber to consult on the si-the destruction of the Jewish community and on what must be undertaken in order to prepare for the events
adverse or harmful elements that are sur-

JEWISH RUSSIA 235

who came in the past or who might come forward lead in the future, as well as on everything that is of general interest to Jewish society. If all Members cannot be present at the meeting.
general union, and that it is only found twenty, the decisions taken under these conditions will have as much value as if they were decisions made by the full general meeting.

13° Every three years, the entire population of the male sex who lives in the country (a certain radius, district, borough or department- (ment) must meet in a designated place in advance to discuss and stop new regulations, as well as to examine the questions of great importance to the cause Jewish in general.

14° The Daions, judges of the Bet-Dine, with their president, have the duty: a) to estimate what place should they occupy in the synagogue the dignitaries and officials, and what is the one that suits the people; b) to sell, in some cases, the law of Meropius (law exploitation of a person of religion Christian); c) to approve and legalize the deeds of sale of real estate; d)

23C JEWISH RUSSIA

to ensure, jointly with the Kahal, that the accuracy of weights and measures, as well as the prices of basic necessities, of course, in the interest of the Jewish buyers only.

Brafmann, in his Book on Kahal, cites forty acts and documents that emanate of the Kahal and the Bet-Dine and which have a report with everything that has been said in this chapter. We chose the most curious, in number of nine, which are classified under numbers 18, 67, 112, 134, 170, 201, 210, 219, and that we don- no to chapter 21, noting that the documents of chapter XVI, under numbers 78 and 132, also relate to what has been men- mentioned above.

From the document extracted from the Kima-Nesse- man, whom we have just quoted, as well as by those who will find themselves following this cha- clown, we'll see what happens next. we have already repeated several times, namely: the The Kahal wielded considerable power over public life. inner and intimate life of the Jews spread out over all points of the globe; 2° the revenues that the Kahal collects taxes on Jews of its radius, income and taxes which de-Then a thousand years have been and still are and by-all the same; 3° the sale by the Kahal of this absurd, astonishing law, and one that seems impossible and incredible at first glance, exploitable of Christian properties and persons

 yours, and which among the Jews bears the names of Hclzaha and Meropïe (of which we have in-retained the reader in chapter xi); 4° finally of all these questions of inner life and in-time of the Jews, questions which, known only-lying in a superficial way according to some insignificant laws of the Talmud, were, until at this time, completely ignored by Christians hold.

The importance of the document we have just
 to quote consists mainly of what he explains and perfectly defines the function and role of the Rabbi. This explanation and definition, should enlighten the world once and for all Christian in relation to this Jewish official.
 It is this ignorance that has helped Judaism to last century to raise the flag of his gou-underground government, and to resist the power-
 health influenced by Christian civilization,

233 JEWISH RUSSIA

which was beginning to undermine it at its foundations
 comments.

We don't really know where Terror comes from.
 which makes the rabbi be considered a per-priestly ceremony of the Jewish religion. This childhood, nurtured by the rabbis themselves-same (1), has always been a true rock against which the legislators of all the countries that wanted to address the question-Jewish tradition to introduce reforms there; but Never was a time so opportune and so abundant in harvest for Judaism, ja-
 but no era provides for the dark kingdom of the Talmud such a brilliant victory
 than the 19th century; and here's why:

When, at the beginning of the 20th century, the problems that had existed for several years in France had calmed down and that Tordre com- threatened to produce its beneficial effects, the reorganization of the country's administration had also touched on the Jewish question. Napoleon

(1) As evidenced by the farewell speech addressed to Alsatian Jews by the chief rabbi of Cilmir, around the year 1872, which left the provinces; innes es to the German Empire and transported his home to the Vosges, in France.

JEWISH RUSSIA 239

Léon Pr, who was then in the full force of his genius and his glory, took an interest in this question; he wanted to add to all his other triumphs, the glory of being the great reformer of Judaism. The circumstances which, in 1805, brought the Jewish question to the forefront, res- will emerge even better from the words of Napo- Leon himself: "If part of this question- The problem was resolved, said Napoleon I in § 12 Regarding the reform of the Jewish question, it would be necessary invent a way to restrict as much as It is possible that speculation was practiced on a large scale. scale by the Jews, in order to destroy this es- croquerie and this wear and tear (1). And in the IVth cha- He adds, "Our goal is to carry se- courses for farmers in general and for deli- to increase the populations of certain departments of the dependency in which they are te- naked by the Jews; for the mortgages taken by these on the greater part of the pro- real estate properties make the owners completely dependent on their creditors, and In a short time, if you're not careful, the

(1) Allgemeine-Zeitung des Judenlhurns, 1841, p. 300.

240 JEWISH RUSSIA

Jews alone will own property in the departments units where they are located, since their su- Prematurity increases every day with the help of the u- Sure. So we absolutely must put an end to it. to this state of affairs." Then he continued:

"Secondly, our goal is to reduce essentially, if it is impossible to destroy it completely, the separatist tendency of the Jewish population, which makes it a nation in the nation, and to eradicate the taste that it professes this population for harmful occupations to social order, to civilization in general and to the inhabitants of all countries.

The preceding few words indicate perfectly the causes that have raised Then there's the Jewish question. In truth, these words Napoleon I's ideas say nothing new because This is the story of the Jewish people who, since the centuries repeat themselves invariably almost every the days; but what is noteworthy, it is that the causes that the defenders of Judaism cites to explain this dark the blueprint of Jewish tendencies, could not at- can be admitted to France at this at that time, since, since 1789, the Jews have

LA. JEWISH RUSSIA 241

was admitted to enjoy civil rights on an equal footing with all French citizens.

When, in the last ten years, we freed the peasants in Russia, and that one introduced several liberal reforms in this country Rales, the Jewish question also became a pressing issue. the reformer's examination, and she found herself in the same phase where she was in France time we were talking about. Of all the points of the great empire where complaints were heard following: "The Jews are ruining us; they exploit all classes of the population indigene; they seized all the capitals rates that invigorate the industry, and have become owners of most of the May-sounds in large and small towns. They have concentrated in their hands all the commerce and Font ravalé, making it a sort of secondhand goods; they forced a large number of workers belonging to other three religions, by practicing their trades in vile price. "

It was in 1866 that the Jewish question was raised on the agenda in Russia, and it is to this

at the time when the same complaints were heard

242 JEWISH RUSSIA

due throughout the country. But immediately the Jews themselves, as well as some charlatans from the liberalism, they raised their voices, saying: "Give the Jews complete emancipation—passion, allow them to become owners of great wealth, compel them to speak the language Russian, scatter them throughout all the Russias, etc., etc., and you will see that they identify themselves with the country. They will be proud of the country, which they will no longer form a separate nation within the Russian nation, but that they will become true citizens, all while preserving their religion.

All these false axioms, repeated ad nauseam by those concerned found it too easy belief among the ignorant masses of the Russia.

But in France, in 1805, the Jews were citizens already for several years. The revolution of 1789 had granted them the enjoyment of possession of civil rights and citizenship rights, equal to those enjoyed by the regents; and yet, according to the words of Napoleon I, the Jews had not changed their system of exclusive existence, completely apart, and to maintain their nationality by the shameful means of usury, trafficking and mercantile depredations. This is an unknown fact—testable that, if the indigenous nationality feels its moral and material strength, the foreign elements germs living within it must necessarily—to succumb to its influence and become confused with her, at least as far as external forms are concerned. Jews. Subject to this common law, the Jews In France, they have long since become Frenchified. but only in terms of costume manners, language, and enjoyment Civil rights. The genius of Napoleon I had understood that all these external forms would not completely assimilate the Jews into French culture.

JEWISH RUSSIA?43

would not produce true French citizens,
and that, despite its small number (not exceeding (not then 60,000 souls in France), this population-tion, concentrated and self-contained, for-would always be a separate corporation, a nation in the nation. Napoleon knew that this proud race, considering itself the few-God's chosen people would like to perpetuate themselves, by not contracting marriage only between co-religionists,
and, by this means, would not consent to mix
his blood to the "impure" blood of Christians.

244 JEWISH RUSSIA

But, as nothing could resist genius at that time
He flattered himself that he could defeat Napoleon
this iron will, guided by fanaticism
religious... a will which, until then, had re-
had endured so much persecution and had survived,
always unshakeable, for centuries and centuries.
To achieve his goal, Napoleon was thinking of employing rabbis, believers, like everyone else
the world, the priestly ministers of the re-Israelite religion.

His plan was very moderate and had nothing
contrary to the most impartial justice; by Consequently, he seemed to have every chance of to succeed, because it consisted of engaging the Jews in consider all French people as their equal in every respect and to look at them like brothers of the same nation, with with which they could forge family ties
through marriage. In short, Napoleon did not exist.
the Jews were concerned about reciprocity towards the French.

As we can see, this plan had nothing
exaggerated from a humanitarian point of view; it was perfectly in line with the progress of the civilization. But, from their point of view, this plan,

JEWISH RUSSIA

245

which tended to weaken the dark kingdom se-

Paratist, was not very popular with the Jews. We will see shortly that, despite its great genius, Napoleon, instead of reaching the goal which he pursued, did not succeed, by this new-organization that he introduced among the Jews, than to provide them with a weapon which they would need rent admirably to use for their benefit fanaticism and their separatist ideas.

Sharing the general error relatively to the role that rabbis play in the Israelite religion, that is to say, considering them as priestly ministers of this religion gion, Napoleon I thought he could carry out his plan at the help of their spiritual authority over the popu-Jewish culture. It therefore seemed to him that by raising and by strengthening this authority, he could... to serve more easily. To this end he decreed, In 1806, the institution of a Senedrion was established in Paris. composed of seventy-one rabbis like of the great Senedrion of Jerusalem. The Jews, he believed, would find in this court this unlimited high spiritual power to which they owe-wind submit without a murmur, like the Talmudic law requires it. To complete this institution and so that it could function re- Regularly, several were created in the provinces consistories under the direction of the rabbis.

246 JEWISH RUSSIA

At first, the rabbis did not oppose No resistance to the orders of the Almighty. conqueror, whom nothing could resist at that time, and they signed with both hands everything that was presented in the name of the emperor, or even orders against which several Some of them were soon to protest. But Napoleon's illusion about the solution of the re- The Jewish form was not to last long. because, when one wanted to apply a certain ar-article on which the success of the re-formed in relation to marital ties between Christian families and families Jewish people were convinced that this question it was absolutely a dead letter for the Jews. and that he could never enter their that a child of Israel could consent to mix-pouring his pure blood into the impure blood of the Christians hold.

Only then was Napoleon convinced that with the sole help of spiritual authority
It was impossible to move the rabbis,

JEWISH RUSSIA 217

even on a seemingly the least important point—
However, the inner life of Judaism, and that the idea of any reform could not germinate only in the imagination of those who were not familiar with the laws of the Talmud, religion, history and traditions of Jews. Convinced then that it would be impossible for him—able to break the bonds of this concentrated viciousness, underground and enclosed within itself, by the means he thought he could use in Napoleon's view of a solution to the Jewish question Leon changed his system, and, considering this question from a completely different point of view different, he decreed in 1808 "that he was de—split the Jews from lending on pawnshops; that the bills of exchange issued by Christians for the benefit of the Jews, for loans made by the latter, were to be limited to one
a certain sum; which had to be surrounded by pre—cautions and difficulties the change of re—
residence of Jewish families. » In short, Na—Poleon, seeking by this decree the means to preserve the Christian population of the sinister influence of the Jews, did nothing else
that which had already been practiced several times

248 JEWISH RUSSIA

in previous centuries by the authorities
from all the countries where Jews had settled.
But all of this was just a passing cloud.
"God will send our enemy so many cha—grin that he will no longer be able to think of us in turn—
"Lie," repeat the elected officials of Israel when a
A new persecution descended upon them. And,
Once again, their prophecy was soon to come true.
to happen. Events were unfolding rapidly:
a few years after the fall of the colossus of—
before which all of Europe trembled, its de—crets and his ordinances against the Jews were cancelled in France. Only the pseudoecclesiastical institution of rabbis in Paris and a few consistories in the provinces. The new

The power of the fugitive did not collapse with the one who established it; on the contrary, it took on a new impetus to rebuild and defend itself against a an enemy far more powerful than were Napoleon, Nebuchadnezzar, Haman and so many others
other persecutors of the people of Israel, con-Christian civilization, which, in the priest-first quarter of the 19th century, had begun to gaining a foothold in the dark kingdom of Talmud, by gradually undermining its internal forces

JEWISH RUSSIA 240

rieurcs and leading to decomposition,
slow to the truth, but for that very reason more Sure.

In the sphere of the Jews who had suffered
A faction of European civilization, reli-Israelite region, said Doctor Stem, resembleblait to the scattered pages of the Bible; the cere-
The religious monks looked like a chain whose rings would have been broken into several-several places, and whose internal connections which constituted this great power of Jews: one for all and all for one, they are completely broken. In vain, to the rescue of
With the Talmud weakened, talented individuals rushed to... first order, such as Mendelson, Friede-
land and many other superior spirits,
who tried to wake up in the classroom, enlightened
the Jewish people's patriotic and national sentiment
The people of Israel are not successful.

Soon even the most zealous defenders, trained by an irresistible current, having converted themselves (1) to Christianity, brought thus a very harsh blow to the foundation of Judaism

(1) Mendelson died in the Jewish religion, but all her children, with the exception of one son, as well as Friede-

250 JEWISH RUSSIA

that they had wanted to consolidate, and which, until
At the time, it had seemed unshakeable to them.

To save the Talmud's flag and with him, the underground corporation of Jews, the efforts of talents as remarkable as those Mendelson, Friedeland and others, were powerless; it required the complex force of a official representation, and that is the role that taken this pseudo-ecclesiastical institution Jewish woman imagined in 1806 by Napoleon I in A goal, as we saw, completely different.

People who have taken the trouble to study to dye, even superficially, the external forms the rituals and ceremonies of the Israelite religion Lite, know that in this religion the functions-priestly duties do not require an existence absolutely devoted to the practice of worship, but that they can be filled by anyone individual, both at the synagogue and in his house, and that every Jew believes necessary to his salvation to fill himself, as much as It is possible that these sacred functions, and thus, to be an officer, to pontificate in person.

land and several other zealous defenders of Judaism, converted to Christianity.

JEWISH RUSSIA 251

The meetings of rabbis that took place in the last few days in Brunswick, Cassel and Berlin, and which aimed to reform the Judaism by introducing several modifications cations, appeared to many Christians a serious matter. However, the Jews themselves- They themselves judged them from a different point of view. "What benefit have they brought to our cause," said Graetz, Jewish author, the Brunswicx meeting and all Those who resemble her?... » None; she It flew away with the wind, because among the people of Judah there is no difference between a rabbi and every Jew in particular, when he- git of religious practices and ceremonies- its (1).

Circumcision, marriage, burial, the celebration of Easter, the prayer over the cup, the purification of the woman, the prayer to the synagogue and at home, as well as all religious ceremonies were performed

(1) Letter from Doctor Graefz to his friend. – G uni a guide, No. 23, p. 181, 186'. – Dom's proposition having p mr the aim of submitting religious questions to the rabbis, futpojr le mène motif rejete par Mendelson. – Iost-Gcschichte des Judenlhum–, Leipzig, 1863, vol. III, p. 304.

212 JEWISH RUSSIA

by every Jew at the very moment of existence of the Temple and the great Senedrion, in Jerusalem. The right for every Israelite to exercise the priestly functions were enshrined in law even those of Moses, Mishni, and the Talmud, as well as by all the interpreters and commentators enforcers of these laws in antiquity. By fighting–relying on these former prerogatives, that the the laws cited above give to all Jews In general, each of them fulfills their duties. religious wherever he is found, without having need to wait for the arrival of someone exclusively charged with priestly functions; this idea is so deeply ingrained in the mind of the entire Jewish population that a modification any use for this purpose would cause a very great despair among all the people of Is–Raël.

It is truly astonishing that all these circumstances have been ignored by governments; accustomed as they were to seeing the offices religious of all rites celebrated by the ministers of the cult, they could not imagine that the Israelite religion was an exception and that every Jew read to himself his own priest; he is even more surprising than the government French persisted in this error, after what happened to Napoleon I during the creation of the Senedrion of Paris, who, changing soon in general consistory, functioning and acted in the interest of Judaism, while maintaining the French authorities in the question about the priestly role of rabbis.

JEWISH RUSSIA 253

In summary, this is the new organization

Jewish woman introduced to France in the first quarter of this century, an organization that has made it possible to maintain to hold the foundation upon which the people of Israel have traversed the centuries of his fanaticism... organization which unfortunately preserved this fanaticism of civilizing and fertilizing influence of Christianity in the 19th century Napoleon-Leo I, this declared enemy of the Jews, is conamazed by their historians as the savior of Judaism.

And indeed, this new organization, while leaving each Jew the right to celebrate to break up religious ceremonies, like this what had been practiced until then, served mainly to keep the patriotic spirit of the Israelites alive, The rabbis' speeches were very eloquent and 15

254 JEWISH RUSSIA

very skillful, instead of glossing over the truths of religion, were filled with allusions to religion relatives whose purpose is to constantly remind us of lies to the faithful of Israel about the persecutions and the sufferings endured by the holy people, and whose Christians, according to the rabbis, were the authors. And quite naturally the Jewish speakers sought in these speeches to demonstrate supremacy over all others peoples of the earth, of this sublime people who have produces Spinosa, Salvator, Meyerbeer, Rachel, etc. (1).

This is how the organization created in a the goal of union only served to maintain the separation the ration of the people of Israel from the rest of humanity nity. By introducing it into all countries of European schools intended to train young people Jewish identity, the preservation was finally secured. tion in the future of the Talmud flag.

The various Jewish brotherhoods, which, by continuation of the great dispersion of the people of Israel in all parts of the globe, they began to disappear, rose again everywhere, thanks to of the new organization of rabbis created by Napoleon I. Finally, thanks to the powerful Jewish protectors who, by virtue of their financial position ceremonies, had acquired great influence in the political world, the new organization the sation established an "alliance", the goal of which was to protect the Jewish element wherever it was found. This can be verified by referring to both to the debates that highlighted the remarkable meeting held by rabbis from all countries, in 1869, in Breslau, and to the decisions taken by this meeting, and here are the main points points:

(1) We didn't want to admit the frank truth: that These great talents were formed by civilization Christian.

"We want to strengthen unity and freedom" from all Jewish communities.

"It was unanimously decided that all the Members present at the meeting must register write as active members of this alliance formed in the general interest of Judaism, and that everyone must act and support in every way "Its strength lies in the actions of said alliance."

"It was also unanimously decided to pro- to evoke in all German-speaking countries addresses and petitions to governments,

256 LA. JEWISH RUSSIA

requesting the appointment of a certain quan- a group of professors belonging to the religion Jewish educational institutions superior (1) ».

The Russian government had allowed with eagerness for the introduction of the new Jewish organization in the country and founded in Vilna and in Zytomyr two schools of rabbis, thus that a number of gymnasiums, exclusively intended for the preparatory education of young Israelite ness for these two schools. For sou- to maintain these educational establishments, we instituted a new tax, which fell exclusively on the Jews living in Russia, under the name-candle tax, the proceeds of which amounted to 327,000 silver rubles, a tax which It still exists today.

The question is therefore what result the government of this country obtained through the introduction of the new Jewish organization (organization, he thought, which was supposed to solve this the difficult and interminable Jewish question, a turbulent one. for so long in Russia, and whose solution-

(1) Gamaguidc, 1869, no. 28, p. 219.

JEWISH RUSSIA 201

A satisfactory solution could not be found. than now). And what had been the purpose of that enormous capital of 10,000,000 silver rubles, perceived over the last thirty years, mostly about the Jews of the class poor (1)?

In administrative reports, the rabbis themselves give the answer that Here is what they say: "The results of our actions, are for the most part insignificant; because 1° the police in each locality scratch with a The Melamèdes (preceptors) were extremely rapacious. in whose hands the national flag Judaism is weakening day by day; 2° the Civil authorities appoint inspectors belonging to the Christian religion in the Jewish seminaries; 3° this organization is "still too new."

The first ones were released in 1854 rabbis whose education had taken place in the

(1) For the maintenance of the rabbi and his family, that the Jewish community pays a separate tax. Read. repair- The administration of this imposition is, in the hands of the Kahal, a new weapon he uses against those who disobey his despotic orders, as well as for to protect his very humble servants.

253 JEWISH RUSSIA

schools established in Vilna and Zytomir. Since

From that time until the present day, several reforms have taken place. Important changes were introduced in Russia. countries, over a period of eighteen years, has, so to speak, completely transformed; and yet not one of those rabbis who, in status of a public official appointed by the government to preside over the affairs of the Jewish population in Russia, did not have to take knowledge of the books where the information on the internal situation of Jewish communities; not one, we say, has not been able to provide the exact statistics to date the Jewish population, included in its radius, and this under the pretext of a lack of time.

However, the real answer that results from several reports, the quotation of which would be too long and boring, is that all the regulations and orders concerning rabbis, as well as their spiritual function, have suffered the fate of all the laws that had been promulgated in Russia with respect to the Jewish tradition; for the life and conduct of this population in the empire were always directed arranged by the Kahal in such a way as to evade these laws. The only difference that exists is that, since the introduction of the new organization, the Jewish population no longer remained under the control of the Jewish population. influence of fanatical and ignorant members from each Kahal, but many of the rabbis raised under the protection and supervision of government, which will not prevent them to always act, however, in the direction of the fanatical Talmudic ism... that is to say in the sense from the influence of those very people who had were tasked with directing the Jewish population, on whom they were to have acquired great credit through their science and their official position.

JEWISH RUSSIA 259

In these government-established schools Russian for the purpose, as we said earlier high, to arrive at a satisfactory solution of the Jewish question, from the very beginning, was given the not exclusively in the spirit of Tamuldo-national, and all the rabbis who came out of these schools, in order to occupy official positions within a certain radius, were penetrated by this exclusive spirit that influenced the conduct of their entire lives as well as their actions and on the principles they taught their own people. The Israelite newspapers Zion, Gamelitz-Hakarmel and several others, written by the new generation of rabbis emerging from both Schools established in Russia claim that the spirit and the trend are absolutely the same. In these newspapers, one finds only lamentations. accounts of the fate of the people of Israel, stories of persecutions to which this people is exposed on the part of Christians, atrocities committed—wars against Jews in the Middle Ages, as well as lengthy dissertations on the superiority of The people of Israel above all other peoples. Finally. These journals are filled with all these declarations outdated expressions, which have long been forgotten by the current generation of Jews, but which tend to maintain their fanaticism and the idea of a state of complete separation in which they must maintain with regard to the indigenous populations of the countries they inhabit bitent.

260 JEWISH RUSSIA

As we can see, the new organization introduced by Napoleon I in France, in the goal of exerting influence on the population Jewish by the rabbis, an organization which was imitated by Germany and Russia in the former Polish provinces, had part—A completely negative result.

JEWISH RUSSIA 2G1

If we add further that, of all the means designed to get closer and confuse the Jewish population with the indigenous population of In Russia, the best thing would be to raise the children of these two different elements in the same schools, where Christian civilization would deal a 'mortal blow to the fanaticism of Judaism, one will understand its importance

This establishment was for the Jewish leaders from two schools of rabbis and a quantity of preparatory gymnasiums, and how these establishments were contrary to the general interest General of Russia.

The Jewish historian Jost, speaking of an Israelite to which Charlemagne had entrusted an important mission, said that the Jews had to take advantage of such a favorable circumstance to serve the interest of their religion (1). This is not that the confirmation of this aphorism that the Jews always know how to profit for their religion and the Talmudic flag, not only-element of favorable circumstances, but also the most unfavorable events to their nationality.

(1) Geschichte des Judenthums, t. II, p. 384.

15.

262 JEWISH RUSSIA

21st

Here are the acts and documents, translated from Book on Kahal, published by Brafmann, which we announced, as serving as Material evidence to support all of the above:

No. 18.

On the election of the members of the Kahal.

Wednesday, 16 Sivan.

The representatives of the general meeting have decided to order elections for members of the Kahal which will have to operate the following year-boasts. These elections must be held according to the The method prescribed by Talmudic law. The voters nine members of the Kahal will be elected from the second degree; to know: four Rochims (heads), three Tuvins (representatives) and two Ykovims (actual members).
– Only one can be elected to the dignity of Rochim the one who has already been appointed to this dignity at least once. Voters must lend a hand.

the need to have no other stimulant, in the
The choice they will make, that of the general Link of the population. Elected officials will also have to lend a hand.
the fact that in fulfilling their duties they do not act—
will only act for the benefit of the general good, with the most perfect impartiality. Each elected official will renounce, pen-throughout the duration of his function, at accept any position within the brotherhood
Hevra-Kadische (of the funeral) (1).

Each of the five elected officials will take the oath in the following form: "I swear, under penalty of Herem, not to use in the election that I will make nor hypocrisy, neither cunning nor any personal interest,
and that I will use to accomplish this election
all my knowledge and all my intelligence, in order to to elect only those who will be useful to the General Link-general of the Jewish population of this city.

May she forever curse the hour when we let's begin the voting of the five electors of the second degree who must elect the nine members
bres du Kahal, cejour, le 15 Sivon 5556.

No. 67.

From elevation to dignities.

Wednesday, the fourth day of Easter 5559.
The city leaders announced to the whole

(1) The Kahal having supreme power over all the brotherhoods, the participation of a member of the Kahal Joining any kind of brotherhood will paralyze free will.
of this member.

LA. JEWISH RUSSIA 205

population that the man named Samuel, son of David, has was raised to the dignity of Moreïne (noble-born). From Today he will be invited to go to the synagogue.
gogue and approaching the Fova, pronouncing
the following words, Moreïne Gavav Rabbi Sa-Muel Begahover Reb David (the first high and very noble Rabbi Samuel, son of the Habor Rebe

David).

No. 112.

V authorization to become a voter.

The day before Thursday, 19 Nisan 5561.

The (heads) leaders of the city, the members of the Kahal and the actual members of the general meeting—
rale decided to grant the right forever
of elector to Rebe Mechoulam Faifisch, son of /saac.
From today, he is a member of the general meeting.
general and to take part in all the decisions
sions. In addition, all the privileges that possess
the city leaders who fulfill these important roles aunts fondions for two consecutive years, are also granted to the said Rebe Mechoulam, who has paid into the Kahal's treasury the entire sum required for the acquisition of these dignities. In faith of which the four notaries of the city signed the act.

26G JEWISH RUSSIA

No. 134,
From the loss of the liter of Moreïne.

Saturday, 25 Sivon 5562.

The members of the Kahal, after deliberation, have decided :

Considering that it was proven at the previous session—
edging (1) that Rebe Josée, son of Aviel, by his denunciation against Kahal, had exposed this Israelite institution to support very large expenses, in order to mitigate the effect of said denunciation—ciation;

Considering that, for this reason, the Kahal has de—credé to take away half the place from the said Rebe Josée
at the synagogue;

Having acknowledged that this punishment is not quite strong, the Kahal, in its session today—
today, wishing to increase it, decrees: that the said Rebe Josée, son of Aviel, will be forever deprived of the title of Moreïne. Therefore, when he will arrive at the synagogue to pray, we will invite him to approach the Fova after all the others, and whoever calls him must precede—der his name of Habor (boor, ill-born).

Furthermore, it is forbidden for Rebe Josée, son d'Aviel, never to appear before the saint Bet-Dine court.

(1) The act classified in the Book on the Kahal, by Brafmann, under number 132.

JEWISH RUSSIA 207

No. 170.

Punishment for disobedience.

Monday, 22 Elivat 5562.

The members of the Kahal, considering that the Rebe Haim, son of Abraham, having insulted a The president of Kahal has already committed this offense once, for example. for which he was punished by the loss of the title of Moqueen, and a fine of 5 ducats for the benefit of the Kahal's treasury; that the said Rebe Haim, instead to correct himself, had the misfortune again, in approaching the holy table, to insult with a in a serious manner, and this in the presence of some people, several members of the Kahal;

The Kahal decides, unanimously, that the said Rebe Haim, Abraham's son, will be excluded for always of the funeral brotherhood, of which he was part of it until now: that, moreover, it is sentenced to a fine of 10 ducats which he must pay immediately to the Kahal's cashier. — As for his title of Moreïne, of which he has already been deprived in the previous session (1), it is enjoined to notaries of the city not to use this title even in written documents, when they de—will mention the name of Rebe Haim, son of Abraham.

(1) Ibid., under no. 167.

No. 201.

From V elevation to the dignity of member of the Kahal.

Sunday, Ahvai section 5562.

The members of the Kahal decided that the Rebe Isaac, son of Guerson, will be able to take part in the general elections, and furthermore that it will be raised to the dignity of Mi-Chegoï-Fouvim (member of the Kahal and representative of the general meeting), to the condition that he obtains the Gaon's approval (President of the Bet-Dine).

No. 210.

From the election of the Daions (judges).

The day before Thursday, 13 Nizan 5562.

The members of the Kahal and the general assembly- They decided that the elections for the Daions will take place this year before the general elections Easter rallies; that in this election pre-comparative, made by the general meeting, does not Neither the current Gaon nor his son Michel.

No. 219.

On the election of judges for life.

Tuesday, the fourth day of Easter 5552.

The members of the Kahal, in a session

JEWISH RUSSIA 260

extraordinary, decided to collect the ballot secret the votes of all members of the assembly general assembly for the appointment of five judges immovable.

The votes will be collected in the following manner: vante: the Chamoche, equipped with a li.4e of candidates will meet at each candidate's home. member of the general meeting, and this one don- nera secretly revealed the name of the candidate chosen by him. He is forbidden to the Chamoche, under Herem's punishment, delirium, and demonstrating to others members the ballot they will collect from each member.

It is important to dedicate a chapter to the Melameds, Jewish tutors in general and at the Education among the Jews.

The first desire of the parents of a child of male sex is to see it one day Talmudi Hahan (scholar versed in Talmudic science—that). Consequently, every Jew, even the poorer, after waiting with a cer- impatiently awaiting the time when his son will reach at the age of five, he was taken to the Melamed, in the Heder (school), by bringing all the savings collected, penny by cent, since the birth of this beloved son; and throughout his education, which lasts until her wedding day, that is to say up to the age of seventeen, eighteen or nineteen, the father resigns himself to enduring all kinds of deprivations, in order to be able to provide for education of his son. It is therefore not surprising that, as a result of this general provision in the Jewish population in favor of education male children, there is a large quantity tité de Hedsrs en chaque communauté, et that very large sums of money are employees for their upkeep.

JEWISH RUSSIA 271

What is the cause that gives rise to among all Jews in general the idea of seeing ar- river their male descendants to the What is the position of a scholar in Talmudic science?

Jewish authors, even the most civilized, would like to persuade in their works, newspapers, brochures, etc. on the Heders and the Melamedes, that this propensity for education among the Jews stems from the strength of feeling—innate religious sentiment in the people... For we, after having delved into and studied life Jewish in all its phases, we believe that this general tendency has a completely different The reason. Here's why:

The Talmud, whose science serves as a guide to the Jewish people, shared, from the highest age-

272 LA. JEWISH RUSSIA

tiquity, the Israelites into two distinct classes yourselves; the patricians and the plebeians, and determine thus the mutual relations of these two classes.

Six points or conditions, says the Talmud, must be observed towards an Am-Gaaretz (plebeian or commoner):

- 1° No one should serve as a witness for him;
- 2° He is also not worthy of serving as witness to someone;
- 3° An Am-Gaaretz cannot be initiated into a mystery;
- 4° It is forbidden to appoint him as guardian;
- 5° He cannot fulfill the function of guardian in a charitable society;
6. It is forbidden to set out with an Am-Gaaretz.

In addition to these six points, the Talmud adds that one must not make a publication when an Am-Gaaretz loses money or an object which is a conch shell, which means the object or the money lost by him rightfully belongs to the one who finds (1). – Even more salient are

(1) Talmudic tractate. – Pesachim, p. 98

the Jewish nussiE 273

the Talmudic quotations relating to the Am-Gaaretz in these words of Rabbi Eleazar: "He is permitted to stifle an Am-Gaaretz's journey on judgment, when that day would fall on Saturday;" – then he adds: "We can decide in two parts an Am-Gaaretz, as one ha-

"Ball a fish." – The rabbis said also: "A self-respecting Jew must never-but to take as a wife the daughter of an Am-Gaaretz, for he himself is a reptile, his wife
a toad, and as for his daughter, it has been said:
"Cursed will be he who enters into an in-time with an animal, and family ties with Am-Gaaretz are considered to be
"Improper relations with animals."

These statements from the Talmud have made consi-
to treat the Jewish plebeian like a slave, and,
Unfortunately for him, he kept it until nowadays almost entirely this seal of re-early probation. The present or-work, supported by published acts and documents
by Brafmann, which make known perfect-
This Jewish, Talmudic-municipal republic... pale, clearly demonstrates that near the Mo-
queen (patrician) who takes part with delirious voice

274 JEWISH RUSSIA

ber- to all decisions in the re-
Let us be where matters of Jewish interest are being debated.
in general, and who has the right to be a voter and eligible, as a member of all the institutions
In higher education, the poor plebeian is deprived of higher privileges.
of all rights, humiliated, persecuted and almost evil-
He said. He's a complete outcast.

If we also take this into consideration
a noteworthy question that in Russia, by
For example, the taxes that Jews have to pay are perceived by the Russian authorities according to the distribution prepared and carried out by the Kahal, ins-Jewish institution composed of patricians (mo-(rcinc), we can conclude from this what enormous weight is crushed in this country the poor ple-well... In vain will he seek justice from
of the country's civil authority, in vain recri-mera-t ii sa protection, the powerful Kahal pos-at his disposal a quantity of resources which will always agree with him; he has factors with the talisman we spoke of at the chat-clown v and vi, he will provide false witnesses, he has the money in his till to stifle any an unpleasant situation for him, and, thanks to everyone using these illicit means, the local authorities, direct-managed, so to speak, by the Kahal, fill the sad role of Pilate in all the significance-tion attached to this name.

It should be added that, in addition to the tax paid in cash, which can only be paid at a very high price great deprivations suffered by the poor plebeian, this the latter is still intended to pay the tax of ^{san2}, that is to say, recruitment. It is proven that in the presence of this enormous quantity of Heders among the Jewish population, where mil-
Lazy people devote their entire lives to to study the law of the Talmud, one hundred thousand Jews in-over the last forty years, were incorporated into the Russian army; not one did not belong to the patrician class queen, but all, without exception, were part-tie of the Jewish plebeians.

We therefore believe that these are the reasons which most push the Jewish population to seek-expensive in the Heders the means of subtracting children with the ignominy attached to caste of the Am-Gaaretz, that is to say, of all those who are not Moreïne. And it is by the Heder only that a plebeian can, by becoming Tal-Mudi Hahan, erase this unjust stamp that

276 JEWISH RUSSIA

The Talmud was imprinted on every Jewish plebeian. In our opinion, based on the study this in-depth study of the Jewish question, this education-tion, professed by the Melameds in the Heders will have no influence whatsoever on the outcome current state of the Jewish plebeian, and no project, none reform attempt undertaken by the government ments of the different countries, relative to this serious, delicate and important question, hasn't it? will lead to a satisfactory result, because as long as the power of the patrician Jew over the Plebeian Jew, from the Moreïne on the Am-Gaaretz, power that will continue as long as the governments of Christian nations to-
will be moved in large and small cities the ag-agglomeration of these masses of lazy im-productive, of which barely one in fifty

performs a job that is useful to society, and whose forty-nine others must necessarily seeking ways of existing in the trade, in usury, in the agriculture and in a number of other occupations actions of this kind, so harmful to the inhabitants Christians of the towns and surrounding countryside Nantes, the power of the Jew Moreine (patrician)

JEWISH RUSSIA 277

on the Jew Am-Gaaretz (plebeian) must necessarily weigh wisely and last as long as The latter will not free himself from it by cultivating the land as cultivated by the natives of country, or by engaging in manual labor-true. Through this productive work, which will also useful to Christian society as to the plebeian Jew he himself will gain his independence and will no longer be subject to this tyrannical self-ritual which the Kahal has seized and which it exercises despotically among the Jewish population.

Let's now look, in a few words, at how is education carried out in the Heiders and what are the Melamèdes that des-related to teaching.

The Jewish education system is not organized as an institution. No subsidies. tion is not included in the Kahal's budget. To become a tutor, it is not necessary to undergo any examination nor to possess a diploma. Every individual who believes they feel within him the sacred fire can devote its time to to teach. As there are no public funds intended for education, there is no rule-elements that impose a certain system to follow

16

278 JEWISH RUSSIA

in intelligence. Every Jew can raise his son as he sees fit, provided that he agrees with Melamède regarding the price, number of students and choice of studies, that says it all. Between the large quantity of Heders, and consequently of Melamèdes, who exist in every Jewish community, there is no absolutely no agreement on how to- to teach. Each Melamède follows its own system to him, ii3 taking into account no method, even- she recannua bonne, nor of any program pra- tick, and provided he can manage to do to the detriment of its many competitors, it is satisfied- Done. Melamed's function and title do not are not too enviable, and it is only at the last- the last extreme that a Jew, who could not succeed in other branches of business, clings on to this thankless profession. In this regard, there are A Jewish proverb: "It is never too late to meet death and pro- Melamedes' festivity.

The Melamèdes school year is divided in two semesters. The first semester com- begins a month after the Passover festival, at the month of Nisan (April) and the second lasts

the Jewish nussiE 279

until Rosh Hashanah (New Year), which falls in the month of Fishery (September). The second half of the year has been counting since the Rosch- Hashanah until Passover. A ebacune of These holidays, there is a month of vacation; of this In this way, the semester equates to five months. studies.

During the holiday month, the Melamède is busy looking for new students and his task is to find these students as best he can. among the wealthy class; but in this case the parents demand that the number of students be restricted. After having thus recruited the most of students possible, he starts the class every on days from nine o'clock in the morning to nine o'clock evening meals, except Saturdays and holidays of parties, for five months, teaching at these children, everything he is able to give them learn.

It would be difficult to define in a way certain the difference that exists between the He- dens of the various classes; however, one can to distinguish, with regard to all the studies, four categories:

t° Heder Dardeke-Melamedine, where lesgar-

2S0 JEWISH RUSSIA

lessons only teach reading and writing
and where they remain until the age of seven.

2° Heder Houomuche, where One reads of the five Books, with commentaries by Rache, and where Ton must remain for three years.
up to the age of ten.

3° Heder, where the Talmud is studied with Rache's comments; we'll stay there for two years.

4° Heder, where the Talmud is studied with plu-several comments and the code of laws of Talmud.

In this last Heder, the students remain up until their wedding day, and even two or three years later, that is to say, as long as the new husband is supported by the parents of his wife.

The Heders of these four categories are further divided, each into two classes: the first, frequented by the sons of the Moreïne (patricians) and the second where there are only the children of the plebeians. As, in the synagogue-gogue, a plebeian wouldn't dare take his place at
on the side of a patrician, the son of that one does not ha-would not, in a Heder, sit on

JEWISH RUSSIA 281

the same bench as his son. A pareille insults the dignity of Moreïne would be considered by this aristocratic caste as very humiliating for her; also such a forgetting the distinction of castes is not seen that very rarely among the Jewish population.

However, one should not believe that the ele-
students who attend a category of schools remain required at all times in the same He-

They usually change every week.
and will study in another Heder of the same category, but where another teaches Melamède. In this way a Jewish child who begins his studies at five years old, travels,
before finishing his education, at least twenty Heders, where twenty different Melameds were placed there.
They teach what they themselves know. It remains namely whether this continuous change is favorable
suitable for the development of intelligence...

The price that Melameds receive for each student varies, according to the fortunes of the parents, from 10 francs up to 500 francs per semester. The number of students in both The first categories are generally 15
at 20; in the other two, it never exceeds-

16.

282 JEWISH RUSSIA

but 8 to 10. As has already been said more high up, one would search in vain among the Melameds any method in the ma-
they do not teach; also, generally, they do not retain only for one semester their students, who having learned everything that Melamède himself knows, they will look for a new instruction in another Heder di-erected by a more learned Melamède.

It is rare for a Melamed to be sa-
before ever becoming a rabbi, because if he possesses
He was sufficiently knowledgeable for that, he did not fulfill-would not be the first arduous profession to which he
He dedicated himself.

The student examination takes place every Saturday.
The father, after the daily hassles of life...
Sunday during the whole week, rests the Sabbath day, and, taking advantage of this rest, wants to give himself the satisfaction of seeing for himself
if his son is strong enough in Talmudic science dic, or at least to attend, if he is not not versed in this science, at an exam
that a more learned neighbor, invited by him, will do to be endured by the child. The success of the students is everything naturally the best recommendation-

tions for the Melamède. As for the premises of the No one in Heders is worried about it, nor are the parents, neither the Melamèdes, nor the children. On is not demanding on this point; these establishments—public education initiatives are located generally placed in the narrowest, the dirtiest rooms in the most badly—own, and, provided that these are found near the students' residence, all the The world is satisfied.

Calculation and calligraphy are not included in the curriculum. professors from these two branches go in private homes or in the Heders, and are paid according to the number of hours—res that they spend teaching. It also happens sometimes in the Heders frequented by the sons of Moreïne (patricians), we hire foreign language teachers, German teachers, of French, English, Italian, to give there—to learn lessons. The Melameds of these Heders are very fond of such occasions, because they They always take the opportunity to learn a little something from it. themselves.

Orphans or children of the poor

284 JEWISH RUSSIA

attend a public school located in community fees. This establishment It bears the name Talmudor, and the number of The number of students there is unlimited. The Melamède that is there—seigne receives his remuneration from the company of charity. The students who graduate from it are, in general, aspiring Melameds. are these poor young Jews who, not having to pay their rent, they are looking for refuge for the night in the Eschabots, Talmudors, Clauzers, etc., that is to say, in the buildings located in the courtyard of the main synagogue pale, and which was discussed above. A Another Jewish proverb says that these aspiring sa—"consume the days to feed themselves" laugh"; this means that every day they are They were guests and fed by another Jewish family.

Their existence is always difficult and precarious. Generally they only marry the daughters of the plebeians, who are flattered to possess in their family, a near-scholar. He arrives however, but rarely, that one of these ele-youths who have left free school and are wandering for a time in the Eschabots, Talmuds, etc., becomes He (true scholar) in Talmudic science), and then, obtaining the title of Moreïne, he marries the daughter ri-well endowed with a patrician; he manages a kid sometimes to be a rabbi; it's the ba-the tone of a marshal, like an aspiring Melamède.

JEWISH RUSSIA 285

XXIII

We draw the attention of our readers on Yom-Kipur (day of remission of sins) (chés) and on the Gatorat-Ncdovime ceremony (absolution).

In chapter xm we talked about the day-born in Rosh Hashanah, a new year at the Jews, in which the period begins ten days of national penitence Yom-Yom Kippur, which is the last and most important This is the tenth day of this period. day of the month of Fishery, dedicated to remission-sion of sins.

In the days of the glory of the temple of Jerusalem salem, the doors of the Sancta Sanctorum, fer-opened throughout the entire year. during this solemn day before the great-priest, who upon his return brought to the people, In the waiting and the worry, the forgiveness of Jehovah. It was confession day and of mortification, but at the same time the moment of the highest spiritual joy-tutulary among the Jewish people.

JEWISH RUSSIA 287

Today, like the day of Rosh Hashanah, Yom Kippur is an epoch—
What desolation, what groaning, and what tears. On this day, Jehovah confirms the fate befalling each Jew. If the one whose destiny was to suffer the following year could not, during the period of ten days of penance, to win over the good thanks of Jehovah, and that on the day of Yom Ki—
Once he has arrived, he will no longer be able to summon.
his mercy and will have to suffer his cruel fate destined. For these reasons, the day of Yom-Ki—for is a day of fear and great mortification among the Jews.

The strictest continence begins two hours before sunset the day before, and lasts until the evening of Yom Kippur.
For twenty-six hours, the entire population
Jewish (except for children under twelve)

288 JEWISH RUSSIA

years old) neither eats nor drinks, not even a drop of water, using all that time to pray
and to cry.

To the prayers usually recited on the days
of celebration, — prayers which are filled with memories patriotic symbols recalling the past glory of The people of Israel, their persecutions, their next greatness, and his imminent return to Jerusalem
— we also add the day of Yom Kippur certain formulas of confession. These for—mules are curious in this respect that the classification of sins, each of which is present on this day—
where one must confess, is done in alphabetical order—Baetic. An original way that obscures even the meaning of sins, and of which someone said:
"The authors of these formulas probably had"
blemment in order to lighten the memory
than the conscience of the sinner.

The most important prayer by which com—
The Yom-Kipur ceremony begins, is Kol—
Nidre. When the previous evening the entire popu—
Jewish population of both sexes, including the children children over twelve years old, in clothes of the feast, is gathered at the synagogue; when one has lit a large number of candles and that

JEWISH RUSSIA 289

the cantor with the choir, having taken his place ordinary, is ready to sing the hymns, the one who, on that day, presides over the ceremony, discovers with a shared sense of reverence all the people present take the Kivot (ark) and remove the To?'a. Everyone sings and repeats in threes once the prayer of Kol-Nidre, whose meaning this-while does not fit with the profound collection element with which it is chanted. L<> The meaning of this prayer is a complete negation. tion, a withdrawal of all vows, promasses, oaths, commitments, that each was able to do during the past year and that he has not not filled, having the conviction that after having recited the Kol-Nidre prayer three times, he will be permitted not to hold during the year which vows, oaths, commitments will begin that he contracted during the year that just came to finish. In the face of this lack of speech, please- publicly confessed and transformed into prayer, the good faith, which is the basis of society, must necessarily be severely affected. This The fact is so revolting that it has even been... damned by some learned interpreters of the Talmud; but the old customs, so convenient

n

290 JEWISH RUSSIA

for those with less strict consciences towards themselves The same ones, however, were preserved. The ceremony Monasticism and the Kol-Nidre prayer occupy a an important place among the ceremonies of the Jewish religion.

Besides Kol Nidre, the Jews also have the Gatoval-Nédovme and Messirat-Madna, ceremonies that leave each Jew the ability to swear a false oath and serve as a false witness in favor of another Jew who is in trial with a Christian; thus the remorse of conscience, so powerful in the Christian and which sometimes leads him to spontaneous confession of his The fault has no effect on the Jew, who finds the calmness of consciousness... in the practice of this ceremony.

At nightfall, when the prayer touches at its end, and as a conclusion to the festival, the horn the bell rings and the entire audience shouts: Lechana, Gabaa Birou-Chelaim (next year, at Jerusalem!)

The Kahal took care that, on that day, the prayers grow weary together at the synagogue, and not in private homes, as happens Sometimes. This is how we achieve this dual goal, of perpetuate an important religious ceremony and to add to the Kahal's income.

JEWISH RUSSIA 291

Brafmann quotes, in his Book on the Kfihal, several documents that have some relation to what has been said in this chapter. The one classified under number 30 is located already mentioned in chapter xm.

XXIV

Let's move on to the Caporet ceremony, cere—a ritual of purification using an offering.

The Caporet ceremony is a customary practice. Completely pagan. Here's what it consists of: On the morning before Yom Kippur, The Jew* grabs a live rooster by its legs, and, raising it above his head, he makes three circle the room several times while reciting the prayer: "This rooster is going to be put to death, but I will live—" "Truly, eternally happy." After which, he He grabs the rooster by the head and throws it away. Jewish woman performs the same ceremony with the hen.

This walk around the room with the rooster and the hen, the Jew and the woman Jewish women are convinced they have gotten rid of

JEWISH RUSSIA 293

fed up with all their sins, by passing them on so much to these poultry, which are then killed and eaten probably with great relish tit, after the famous twenty-six-hour fast accomplished on the occasion of Yom-Kippour.

XXV

There is also the Mikvah, the ceremony of purification.
objectification of women.

The Mikva is a large, round basin filled of water, in which Jewish women must, for their postpartum recovery, as well as every month, to wash themselves to purify their bodies.

In ancient times, when the Jews regulated their life according to the laws of Moses and not according to those of the Talmud, the Jewish woman, for her during the postpartum period, she brought an offering to the great priest, and that same evening she purified himself by a few ablutions, without having betaking care to immerse oneself in the clear water of a stream bucket (1). But since the Jews have

(I) The Book of Moses, vol. III, ch. i, pp. 1-8, and ch. xix, pp. 19-33.

JEWISH RUSSIA 295

guided by the laws of the Talmud, the inter-Those close to these laws surrounded the ceremony of the purification of the woman from a quantity of meticulous inventions (which are found in detail) in the fourth book of Orah-Haim, of the para-(grapke 183 to paragraph 203). These hassles-sieres inventions, whose purpose was conservation elevation of influence on the intimate lives of Jews, through control exercised in the acts more secrets of intimate life, had a result-a state completely contrary to that which one is proposed, that is to say, currently the woman Jewish, by performing the ceremony of the purification, do not wash his body and do not It doesn't make it any cleaner than it was before, but She soils him even more, and here is what kind of manner:

The Mikva is a basin of capacity of approximately one cubic meter. According to the law of Talmud, this basin should be filled with water lively, but as, especially during the winter, it would be too painful to immerse oneself in the water cold, the basin is built in such a way as to n'v to make it so that only a very small part of this fresh water required by the regulations, ei to using a tinplate tube placed inside,

296 JEWISH RUSSIA

The pool is being heated.

The Mikvah is still located underground in a more or less spacious cellar, and the ceremony took place in semi-darkness, the cellar being lit only by one or two candles. The Jewish woman who arrives there for ablutions, one begins by undressing. She then combs her hair and detangles it. She delivers... following her hands and feet to the Negel-Schneidecke, the guard placed there expressly for to cut nails, and, in addition, to pull the scabs of the wounds on the bodies of those who have the misfortune of having them, and this so that he does not find anything on the body that could prevent-dear the water of the Mikva to bathe him entirely-ly, otherwise the ceremony would be pointless. After this operation, the woman goes downstairs to the Mikva, and, after having done a short prayer, she immerses herself in it so that this that not a single hair of hers appeared on the surface; she must wait in this position at the moment when Tukek (the supervisor who remains) on the edge of the pool), pronounces the word Kaddish. One, two, three similar dives,

JEWISH RUSSIA 297

and the ceremony is three-quarters complete folds, but there's still a fourth one left, and This one is the most difficult of all. The woman who has dived three times still needs to rinse off mouth with the water from the Mikvah, and that is not whereas she can go back up the stairs and give way to another. Two women do not They can perform the ceremony together.

Each one needs to do it separately.

In a single evening, about a hundred women thus delve into the Mikva, and, according to the Kahal regulations, ins-driven by a sordid economy, the water of the lower-sin is only changed once a month, and what-sometimes even more rarely. Thus, in this putrid water filled with miasma, hundreds Ten women must perform the ceremony
the ritual of purification, and each of them is forced to rinse her mouth with this dirt. It's easy to understand that, in Under these conditions, the Mikva is a torment for the Jewish woman; this ceremony is a cause of diseases of all kinds, which perpetuate themselves
thus among this people doomed to filth.

Imagine hundreds of women

17.

298 JEWISH RUSSIA

naked, disheveled, and often bloodied
as a result of overzealousness on the part of the Negel-Schneidecke, collected in a sou-ground where the flame of two or three flickers bad tallow candles, crowding at-around a pool while waiting their turn to go in tre (basin from which miasmas escape to (to make one nauseous), looking in horror that of their companions who has just accompanied to complete the mournful ceremony, and who, after having rinsed his mouth with this foul-smelling water, vomited ascending the degrees, and yields with ease sow the seeds for another with the same fate
wait.

In the midst of all these women, Tokerke,
the horrible shrew who never delivers her patients
that when he pleases to pronounce the word Kochère, and who, at his whim, can shorten or prolong the torture; this fantastic painting
and horrible, like a scene from a story
Dante speaks divinely in his descent into hell.
would be worthy of the pen of a great poet and
from the brush of an illustrious painter.

Speaking of this wild ceremony, bar-bare and worthy of pagan times, we are taken

of indignation and one wonders if it is possible that such a ceremony could be required as a religious act. Is it possible that such a disgusting act should be carried out in the midst of the civilization of the second half of the 19th century?... Poor victims of fanaticism maintained and supported by the leaders of Judaism! Poor Jewish women! It is not It's astonishing that after the torture they put you through to suffer in the name of religion, your youth fades so quickly, that at barely twenty-five you You looked like you had fifty! He is not It's surprising that you have so little taste for cleanliness, since in the name of religion one prescribes you to get dirty every month in putrid water.

Every Jewish woman who comes every month to perform this revolting, imposed ceremony by religious fanaticism, that is to say the act of the purification, is obliged to pay a tax but a bid to an entrepreneur to whom Kahal sells, for the benefit of his fund, the right to collect it, and who, besides the income that this barbaric ceremony brings him in, still exercising strict control trôle sur la viela plus secrète des ménages juifs.

300 JEWISH RUSSIA

Brafmann quotes, in his Book on the Kahal, several orders that relate to this ceremony. Two of these orders, classified under numbers 133 and 149, have already been cited in the previous chapters.

XXVI

Finally, the Kiddesh and the Gabdalah (prayers on the cup).

The prayer over the cup is an ancient ceremony. Jewish community. It is, so to speak, the complement to the other prayers recited at the synagogue or at home. Recited the day before the On Saturdays and holidays, it is called of Kidesch; recited on Saturday evening after the Sabbath and at the end of each festival day, she is called the Gabdala (1); with the cup, on which the cantor recites aloud a prayer, we give a few drops of the wine that she contains for the young children present at the synagogue. At home, every head of household

(1) Gabdala means the difference that exists between a holiday and ordinary weekdays.

302 JEWISH RUSSIA

recites a similar prayer, and all those seated—so many, at the Friday supper which begins the Sabbath, and to the one on Saturday who concludes it, must—wind tasting the wine contained in the cup on which prayer was said. When there is no No wine, we replace it, for the Kidesch. with bread, and for Gabdala with water—Life or beer. Of course, wine never misses the ceremony of the synagogue, because every rich Jew makes himself a It is a great honor to supply them. It is even who pay Kahal the right to be able to offer the wine needed for this ceremony.

The Kiddesh prayer gives thanks to Jehovah... "because he elected for his people the people of Israel are the favorites above all others "Peoples of the earth"... The Prayer of Gabdala in turn gives thanks to Jehovah "for having separated on holidays and ordinary days, the light from darkness, and the people of Israel from the others peoples.

XXVI i

After all that has been said about intimate life and secret of the Jews, in the chapters which Previously, it was easy to explain the persecutions which, in all countries and in all eras, were directed against this people incorrigible, proud and fanatical.

The enjoyment of civil rights that are granted due to the Jewish population in certain countries for the nRturRliser, was, according to the expression of Napoleon I, an illusion, something temporary.

And that is why, earlier, we granted, and sometimes we have taken back this enjoyment to the communities of this people who, stubbornly resistant to common law, has persevered and continues to persevere in living isolated.

304 JEWISH RUSSIA

It is clear that the cause of this perseverance—France is in Judaism, that is to say in the national institutions prescribed by the Talmud and protected by the Kahal and the Bet-Dine. As long as the au—Despite the official authority of the Jew, there will always be a kingdom separate from Israel, with its Kahal, its Bet-Dine, its factors, its right of Hazaka and Meropiié, flanked by all these monst—tricks about which we have maintained the reading author.

Countries inhabited by a large majority of Christians, but where there is a population of Jewish culture, even as a minority, will always be considered by the latter, said Joseph Kuung, like "a free lake where every Jew can fish, that is to say, where every Jew, who buys Kahal Je right of Hazaka and Meropiié, can exploit and plunder a Christian Here.

In conclusion, we therefore reiterate that, as long as the governments of Christian nations will tolerate these large Jewish settlements Lazy people who do not work at any trade useful, and therefore unproductive, must—wind seeks the means of their existence in fraud, usury, speculation, mercantilism, the sale of brandy, etc., etc., agglomerations that facilitate and support the existence of the Kahal and the Bet-Dine, that is to say of the authority of the Jew over the Jew... that as long as the education of Jewish children will not take place in common with that of Christian children and will be carried out separately in the Heders and the rabbinical schools, at least as long as we don't force by the Jews to become farmers, or vriers, etc., that is to say, to soak in their sweats the earth that nourishes them, all the measure that these governments will take for solving the difficult Jewish question will not be than a sterile desicleriw n pium!

JEWISH RUSSIA 305

To exempt the Jew from the right and duty of national political, administrative, educational caste nun and religious figure, like submitting him to the common public life by freeing it from usurping authorities that do not subsist and do not are perpetuated in him only by virtue of the fanaticism of a religion, hence the true morality social is excluded, replacing the tolerance of authorities, companies that it operates in para-

306 JEWISH RUSSIA

site, by the application administration rules-
The solution lies in addressing the needs of all citizens.

In short, communal living, shared responsibilities municipalities, common education, administration common with Christian societies, and in Exchange based on common law and equality.

XXVIII (1

We think we've said enough about the Kahal prescriptions, the oddities of the law customary and particular aspects of Jewish ritual. Let no one ask us how these parts-peculiarities and these oddities can constitute a danger. The question would be far too unintelligent-people; for a respected symbolism is a solemn acknowledgment of strength.

There was a time when Slavic lightness, instead

(1) The author of this work has left a series of studies which were to follow. We owe it to her dear mother-

It is my aim to gather here the ideas scattered throughout the writings. posthumous works that form an integral part of his very important study by itself. A gap of a few years separates what will follow from what preceded it, and the ideas of the other the author had to be somewhat modified, but the pre-dominant, that of the supreme danger of Judaism, of-dies and manifests itself with even more energy.

308 JEWISH RUSSIA

to draw fruitful insights from the study of the Jewish world teachings, found ample material there to mockery. That time is past and it seems suspecting that the last one to laugh will be neither a Neither Russian nor Polish.

Behind these oddities of the organization of Jewish world, the Semitic genius conceals the The grandeur of his designs. And all of this is very serious, very severe, and carries within itself inexorable consequences.

We need to repeat ourselves. We must, in order to to shake off the slumber of Christian peoples, who deny the danger in order to avoid having to Look straight ahead!

Let's talk again about Kahal. The spirit that gives life all the administrative and judicial apparatus of Kahal is an exclusive, jealous, and intolerant spirit. rant. A hybrid institution, concerned with purity of worship, it is at the same time an ardent pro-Securing the temporal interests of the race. Also Won't this institution disappear if early; and, seemingly disappearing, she re-would build by the force of gravity of all the affinities of the Jewish race towards an authority who is the soul and conscience of this world

JEWISH RUSSIA 309

Part. The predominance of the Kahal's authority that of the Rabbinate is at its very core of the Jewish religion, which grants such a wide contributes to the interpretation and takes into account the necessities of the present time. The Jew does not recognize-A regime is not born that issues decrees and which could go against the administrative system treatment, recognized as useful. It is up to the religion of to yield, or to compromise. This flexibility so readily- The fashion of religious dogma has led to some thinkers to find, between Judaism and the Jesuitism, a striking similarity.

The ideal of the afterlife, which exalts Christianity yours and the Muslim, is barely faded in Jewish teachings and passes almost imperceived through embarrassed explanations sacred books. From this point of view, religion- The Jewish community is not one. The Dream of Jacob and his Ladder summarize all the aspirations Israel's plans, which aim only at domination terrestrial. An idea of detachment from worldly goods could not even be understood by the Jew. This absence of the spiritual Is it a force? Certainly, when, in the clash of interests, one of the combatants was incapable of backing down in the face of any consideration higher order deformation and respects everything at plus the correction of processes.

310 LA. JEWISH RUSSIA

What should we then think of the proposed reforms? measures taken by governments, tending towards the transformation of the Jew? Governments are obsessed- They insist on demonstrating their powerlessness. The Jews, being more astute, pretend to be moved by it. and readily lament their fate. Childishness On one hand, hypocrisy on the other, this goes on for a little, then the commotion subsides and everything goes back in the order that should not have been disturbed. Brutal persecutions must be condemned. damned. Besides, like all the persecutions, they only exasperate and strengthen the victims.

Russia, generally very tolerant of with regard to its oriental races, seeks, since almost a century, transforming its subjects Jews as good Russian citizens, by filling with privileges and exemptions for those who pretend to abandon the ways of Judaism. What has not- Haven't we been tasked with transforming customs and Jewish customs! Nothing could be less successful than these attempts. The Jewish agricultural colonies, in southern Russia, they had a great success Stop laughing. Since then, certain necessities of a laborious liquidation, between owners

 The indebted Jews and their Jewish creditors brought
 The latter to devote themselves to agriculture. He A singular phenomenon resulted: it is not
 not the Jew who was transformed by agriculture,
 but it is agriculture that has become misunderstood unborn. It was perfectly suited. The discordance between the slowness of agricultural operations and the feverish impatiences, characteristic of the character-Jewish territory, necessarily produced a monstrosity. Agriculture, in the hands Jews, could do no other than bend to their commercial genius and take the
 the feel of a game with rapid evolutions. Don't Unable to accelerate the pace, agriculture,
 under close pressure, had to supply materials discountable and negotiable at will. Thus,
 land leases and sales purchases
 standing crops, farm markets and terminable or exchangeable markets, and above
 the deforestation of the country, through negotiated logging which can be considered as annuity securities, and finally-the sale of spirits, that was certainly something, and that something formed a menu that promised much. Appetites Jews had some food, agriculture did things right from the start. This Jewish idyll, singularly disguised, will last-

 Is she? That's doubtful.

We wonder what he was doing, what he is doing
 even today, the true, the legitimate pro-landowner, the naive Slav, possessor of the
 the largest domain that Providence has never detached to a race. Oh, the poor thing!
 great founder of this poor great estate
 was stunned at first, then trained, and finally crushed through the gears of this Jewish tactic, to which he continues to understand nothing about; he
 He is lost in thought. The man is stunned.
 easy, but, make no mistake, its Reflections can become fierce.

Let's continue. The industry would not have perished. clitoris in the hands of the Jews, but their activity-industrial activity was severely restricted; because they They reflected and concluded that they should abstain. Here's why.

All the productions of the industry going
As for the markets, it was enough for the Jews to ensure-feels the monopoly on purchase transactions and sale and previously invest the industrialist in the need to ask them for the funds bearing, so that it might be clearly demonstrated that it was best to leave it at that. Surprising discovery, indeed. Given this situation-tion, it would be ridiculous, the Jew told himself, to pro-to produce anything. Then, seizing a recently discovered and dedicated phrases

314 THE JEWISH HUSMA

to the exploiters, he had to add, that ultimately, He "produced the movement and the circulation-tion". That being said, the Jew, proud to see himself "pro-" "driver of movement and circulation" was able to strip the "producer" guy in the name of this theory that was whispered in his ear the complacent economists.

It is certain that in Russia, as in Australia cheating and in Romania, Y industrial is subservient to the capitalist and intermediary Jew, who prelevies, on what is not owed to him, a tribute gulier, through his intervention in one of these roles. It's simple, but always effective. The Jewish capitalist allows industrialists to believe factory owners who work For him: as for him, he governs, - of a in a somewhat subdued, yet commanding manner, - the commercial and financial side of the business; He possesses the soul, and he abandons the body in the strong hands of the pseudo-owner.

Similarly, a landowner in the southern and western provinces of Russia, as well as in Poland, is not (without knowing it)

(moreover) than a simple farmer of the Jewish pr-author; for the greater part of the income goes to the Jew,

JEWISH RUSSIA 315

and the rightful owner of the land is simply-
They were provided with lodging and food. It's important to understand that... the thick stupidity of this rough Slavic worker is for many in its ruin and in its vassalage-that he himself forges his chains, that he-even stupidly indulges in insinuating tend-Jewish tator. My God, yes! He's stupid, and all those of his caste who do not know how to unite for the defense; but... is it necessary that he perish for that?

Because, you see the crux of the matter: without the intervention of the intelligent Semite, the poor man
The simple-minded Slav would have avoided the dangerous game of the madenials of funds advanced or loaned, it was contained within the simplicity of the mechanism centuries of his honorable work. The workings
The complicated aspects of the Jewish game led to their loss!

And, finally, the unfortunate aborigine is now nothing more than a defeated man, retreating before the Invading colonists, defeated by force of arms
which he too imprudently wanted to use-
ment.

Here the concepts become confused and the definitions-tions clash. Written legality is complicit in a shadowy scheme, although

316 JEWISH RUSSIA

Correct; the perceived legality protests. The pact sacred land with the Aboriginal people, belonging mutual, the mysterious conformities that unite-
all this, though, suggests races are linked to territories.
primordial and pre-existing, would therefore not be that a matter for negotiation falling under The application of a code? That's not it! What-something unspoken, but very powerful in
At the same time, protests are taking place everywhere against the misalliance of the Semite seeking to contract a union with the earth he treads, but which he does not Don't cherish it!

It is strange that the Jews, so intelligent and if keen observers persist in seizing land and wanting to become owners
land, in defiance of the violation of a principlecipe which is stronger than all the legisla-
tions.

The cities and towns belong to them. They are there reign and govern, for such is the good pleasure-Lord of Kahal. The arrangement that ensures the the functioning of Jewish power is ad-marvelous. Under the influence of a warm atmosphere-sphere of benevolence and solidarity
In tuelles, the Jews knew how to organize a game

JEWISH RUSSIA 317

of constant ratios that replace before-
terribly everything that the public authorities
created for the use of the most civilized circles advertised. – Advertising, which so greatly facilitates the af-
to do, – this costly and yet suspicious, – the Jews replaced it with the spoken advertising, through incessant communication cations from man to man, from commune to commune, from Kahal to Kahal. Our conversations banal actions, our mania for politics, our Even in spirit, they make us waste precious time.
heavens, which the Jew uses in his conversions from Jew to Jew, to establish his program of action and check its game. In the even small provincial towns, the Jews eventually adopt a meeting place, a street, a public garden, the area around a cafe,
to communicate the news to each other
new, establish agreements or stipulate the method sharing. This is certainly a stock exchange that exists.
and works, without it having been necessary to
to create it officially. Whereas, in our Distrustful companies, business is the subject
an avalanche of paperwork and an inter-
a pathetic series of cautious formalities, the 8.

318 JEWISH RUSSIA

Jews from small towns unknowingly form

corporations, administer them and They liquidate them, without a single stamp having been affixed to a single piece of paper. The Kahal resolves the difficulties, should they arise. Our justices of the peace, our courts, which we occupy with our pro-
these, only intervene in very exceptional circumstances-lying in the quarrels between Jews.

XXX

It is still necessary, in order to penetrate the secret of Jewish power, to draw attention to the unique aspects of their division of labor.

And first of all, we can say that the work is not divided point, at least it is not specialized,
It does not dull the individual's senses.

Even the priesthood is not a specialty.
Every Jew is a merchant, first and foremost; an industrialist or farmer, if necessary; broker, intermediary-Diary or negotiator, always.

In this latter respect, he has his major [supporters] everywhere.
and his small connections; he is the unavoidable godfather
of all matters; disdaining none of them;
knowing, perfectly, by virtue of his A- instinct
Rabe (inventor of numbers!), that between the little
And the great, the distance is only a concept conventional.

320 JEWISH RUSSIA

The Jews, contrary to popular opinion, have...
Pandue, very sensitive epidermis; they are
They are meticulous, and they are proud of it.

Their vanity, or their pride, consists in to maintain at the level already reached, hence their cold and clear gaze sees and directs the footsteps
They are the formation of the races occupied in serving them. They are maintain at this height by infiltrating
in the currents of human activity through the taking possession of very modest roles in Appearance... How deep this system is, clans
Its simplicity! Broker, intermediary, lender-Name, funder: actual situation, or something substituted or fictitious, - but always with a powerful plate. This function-the movement overflows the goal to which it seemed to be destined, and the metamorphoses appear very quickly; the intermediary is replaced suddenly to the founder; the intruder, to the owner-to be silent; the prompter, to the actor; the editor, to the author author.

And that's understandable. Jews are beautiful.
players. No pettiness in what they con-receive and in what they accomplish. The the flexibility of their designs is not limited

JEWISH RUSSIA 321

overwhelmed by numbers. Where a Christian gasps and breathes, the Jew meditates well a little on everything.
edge; then there he is at work. We are small, we Christians, in our en-petty, selfish behavior. They have nothing not afraid to give their ideal a broad scope imposing. "The figures, the millions, the "billions, we know that!" (they say and "What do the Jews think?"). Question of a zero to Add to the right! Aren't we "Not associated? We'll see about increasing the dividend"
"Sister, if it's a bit heavy. That's all!"

How can we be surprised, then, that the Jews,
Armed with this argument, they seized railways, the press, inventors
tions, of movable and immovable property,
Literature, and even art?...

And to think that this is in conditions of ina similar inferiority to that of the working world between in the period of the "struggle for existence-
tence!... »

We will certainly not bargain.
our praise for the virtues and qualities of the emi-Jewish interests? We only add to that the wish that they have less of it, or that we have less of it

322 JEWISH RUSSIA

Let us have more. This will equalize, from less, the part.

When, defeated on all fronts, we
We will see that we too need a Kahal,
Well then! We'll have it! As for reforming the Jew, that's out of the question; therefore, we must re-to educate the Christian!

It would be better, after all, to revise the for-Jewish tunes, declare all Christian hives
yours bankrupt, and invite the hornets to
To compose. And that, before long.

Jewish books speak of a very beautiful ce-closing ceremony, accounting, in large liquid-donation, which, among this also religious people (?)
that good accountant, used to accompany the Jubilee, the Jewish Fiftieth Anniversary (Shenat Hai-jobel.) Then the town criers proclaimed, at his of trumpets, to the delirious crowd, the handing over of everything that was owed to the rich, the return to debtors of the lands that the creditors det-were given as pledges, the emancipation of slaves, etc., etc.

But it was truly beautiful, stunningly beautiful.

LA. JEWISH RUSSIA 323

necessary; this provided a remedy for the violeni is disruptions of equilibrium. Today, a false shame only prevents Christians to ask the Jews for the restoration of this pious custom. – By the way, was it really piety?...

Nevertheless, this custom is still practiced today.
even today the only possible liquidation method Possible. The world would be reborn. Then, we would start again!

Otherwise, we Slavs, we will see a Jewish Tsarism to emerge, alongside Tsarism
a policy we already enjoy. And if there is Conflict between the two powers?... We're getting there Thus, to the point of absurdity. Clear proof that This cannot last. The lowering of ca-characters, and to the humiliations inflicted upon us money, this debasement could no longer be but to continue without causing an explosion
"Anything at all... That's enough!"

Henri Heine describes spiritually, in his Romancero, the dispute of the Augustinians and Jewish Rabbis at the court of Peter the Cruel.
The Rabbis seek to seduce the Monks through the description of the immense fish "the

324 JEWISH RUSSIA

Leviathan," whose flesh is succulent and that the Eternal Father will bake for the great a meal that will celebrate his triumph chosen people. In fact, there will only be guests Jews. Part of Leviathan will be ac-
One will be served with garlic.
in a fish stew.

Thus the large and indolent Leviathan will be finally devoured with gusto by these wriggling slow-moving, small freshwater carp. Like That's right!

This immense fish, this indolent Leviathan-
Then, wouldn't that be you, naive Christian? You Above all, a very naive Slav?

What sauce do you want to be eaten with?

What does that mean?... You reply that "you
"Doesn't want to be eaten at all"?

But, you wretch! What are you thinking?

YOU'RE GETTING OFF-TOPIC!

END

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Foreword

I. - The Jewish Question. - Occult Government

Jews. - The Kahal and the Bet-Dine. - The Book on the Kahal, by Braf i;ann. - The Discourse of a Chief Rabbi. - Goal pursued by the people Jew in every country. - The Golden Calf, always-
end. - The promised omnipotence of Gold to the sons of Abraham. – It is coming to pass and We are approaching the long-awaited result. – Table of the financial situation in Europe. – The Jews are everywhere the masters. – 11 if he lies

for them to complete the work of domination
In everything and everywhere. – To whomever wants the end, all
The means are good. – 11 is necessary to enl'r'ai.Ier. .. between Jews. – Social issues and the false democratic zeal, to act on the masses and lift them at the right time. – The revolutions, clandestinely provoked and fo-
Mentioned by them, the Jews II >is of the Earth.

II. – Toussenel it The Jews, Kings of the Era.
– They are God's people!... Come on now!...

19

326 TABLE OF CONTENTS

– Bunch of jokers, tricksters, and...
grugrurs. – Tacitus, Bossuet, Voltaire, Fouricr,
unanaiâs on this subject. – Read the Jews, refiners
In commercial fraud, that's where they excel.

Prussia and Russia know something about that thing. – Napoleon I had sensed it well, from the 1835; and yet!... – Traffic and customs, mis-exclusive third of the Jews. – They do not employ their ten fingers only to handle and squeeze money.

– Monopolists and hoarders, parasites and True vultures, such are the undegenerate sons

Pharisees and scribes of Israel 20

III. – The Jews as painted by one of them. – Their Mysteries unveiled. – More than a thousand orders finances of the Kalial and the Bet-Dine. – The old man Talmud discarded, it replaced, for the new needs, through an arbitrary doctrine and despotic. – Everything to dominate, by force and was not. – Demonstration by facts and conclusive documents. – What happened
in Russia, Poland, Syria, Romania,
Even in France. – Overly motivated protest Romanians and residents of Vilna against the invasions of the Jews. – In vain has it been wanted to abolish the Kahal and the Bet-Dine 27

IV. – Do: umenls serving as evidence in support of all of the above 36

V. – Jewish factors, agents commissioned by the Kahal. – Surveillance agents and agents of corruption. – They are always everywhere, and Nothing escapes them. – Agents of the legal profession.

– Employer salaries. – The relationship to

TABLE OF CONTENTS 327

Kahal. – Jews and Goyim. – Jews and Jews. – Jews and Kahal. – Kahal and Goyim. – The Gifts and money: weapon of choice, talisman Irresistible. – The play: A word to the Minister.

– How does the Kahal proceed? – The commission-
The investigation by the Emperor of Russia.

How she became paralyzed. – The contribution Jewish, of one million silver rubles. – The ultima ratio du poison. – The tempter repelled.

– The Emperor's delaying tactics. – The director-General Spiranski. Minister Koczubéi.

– The Peretz snake. – Reform Ukase put away and the status quo maintained. – The turn is played: Vivat Mascarillus!... – The poor pay-Without Russians, they will continue to be poisoned by good cash 45

VI. – Documents providing authentic proof
tick of everything that preceded 61

VII – The kitchen of the Jewish slaughterhouses. – The meat supposedly pure and impure meat good for Christians. – Kochère and Trcf. – The im-Pot from the box for the Kochère. – The Sbochet, or privileged butcher. – Revolting barbarity
and marvelous address. – The eight species of Impure meat (Tref). – Profound science on the third. – It is forbidden to the Jews, by Moses,
to eat carrion, but it is permissible for them-
set about selling it to the n-Jews. – Rigorous Kahal's surveillance in this regard. – This is before It's all a matter of taxation. – Importance of the company's tax. – We managed to obtain government protection to authorities

328 TABLE OF CONTENTS

Jewish people for the collection of this sect tax.

– Harm thus caused to the populations of countries where Jews live 75

VIII. – Documents extracted from Brafmann's book on the Kahal, giving evidence of what precedes. – What value can emotion have? The signing of a Jew under surveillance by the Kahal...* 94

IX. – Reconciliations of the Jewish brotherhoods with the Kahal. – Influence exerted by these confraternities on The Jews and the Christians. – They make of all the Jews spread among the Christians a cor- invisible and all-powerful corruption. – The con- Talmud Brotherhood: The Learned One. – The Brotherhood de Renias incj. – The Brotherhood of Artisans.

– The brotherhood of Rel'g'on. – The brotherhood of Funeral, and*. – Aulant dj pslils Kahals, blind instruments of the great Kahal. – Acts and supporting documents for the above 102

X – The Jewish ceremony Alla. – Sharing of the Jews in patricians and plebeians. – Obligation to read the five holy books, under penalty of being pierced- Cut down by the Angel of Darkness. – The law of the Torah. – Kohen and Levi; Levi and Zarodi. – THE Segan, or Gaba, and Samosche. – Bénédic- tion of blessings. – The scale of Allas. ■

– Quarrels and scandals among devout, patri- Cians and plebeians 110

XI. – Authority of the Kahal in his district. – It clearly demonstrates the truth of Schiller's rule: The Jews are a state within states. – All the properties included within its jurisdiction for him- a fictional territory, actually belonging to his dominion. – The Kahal is the owner in partibus of the goods supposedly possessed by He has the right to sell non-Jews in parcels. to the Jews. –Every Jew is the liege man of his Kahal. – The Jews only obey superficiallysubject to the laws of the country where they live. – Ma-

TABLE OF CONTENTS 329

 The Chiavellianism of the Kahal. – The law of Hazaca or of Meropiié. – Between Gentile and Jew, it is a a struggle for existence, because the Goim is like insolently delivered by Kahal to a spider,
 to an octopus, to an invisible vampire. – Acts
 and documents that put for the first time highlighting this terrible truth. – It is in Russia, Poland, Romania, what func-
 it especially animates the devouring monster of Kahal.
 – The cunning of the Kahal ju f in Russia him submitted, like a docile auxiliary, the self-civil rite of the Empire for recovery
 of its religious taxes, which are its source of strength.
 The poor widow Broïda, beaten and paying
 The fine: the Russian authority acts as policeman to Kahal. – He managed to get paid
 an indirect tax even by the population Christian. – 11 has come to enact taxes recoverable notwithstanding the objection of Civil governor of Minsk. – In short, he has managed to trample everything underfoot and put the Christians themselves in its dependence.
 The terrifying form of the Herem, both ser-
 Lie and anathema (supreme excommunication).
 – Prayer that follows the publication of the Herem.
 The three categories of the Jewish oath. – Republic

"19.

330 TABLE OF CONTENTS

the Jews' initiation to take the oath. – The ser-
 The matter only matters to them insofar as it is brought before a Jewish court. – Everywhere
 Elsewhere, a false oath matters little. – Amen. 115

XII. – Documents translated from the Book on the Kahal
 and demonstrating the truth of what has just been

said. 145

XIII. – The holiday of Rosh Hashanah (the New Year)
 born) and the Fekiel-Chofère ceremony (of the Son horn). – The Rosh Hashanah has little reason for being since the fall of the temple of Jesus
 rusalem, since it was a day of triumph.

– The skillful leaders of Israel have appointed Mussaphe, synagogue service, fu- service
 darkness, tears, cries, and lamentations.

The thin sound of the horn (hunting horn?)
adds nothing to the painful solemnity of this day-
there. – All the exegeses of the learned Kabbalah
They can't do anything about it. – We don't dare reform...

And for good reason. – Document 154

XIV. – Ancillary institutions of the synagogue.
The courtyard and the commons. – The Bet-Haknest or Main synagogue. – The Bet-Gamidrasch or House of prayer and school. – The Bet-Hamerhatz or steam baths. – The Bet-Hakahal or Kahal's chamber. – The Bel-Dine or tribunal.

– The Hek-Dech or refuge for the poor sor-ideas 166

XV. – The Bet-Dine, judicial section of the Kahal.
Jewish jurisdiction established by the Talmud for to shield Jews from the courts of the Goims or non-Jews. – Severe penalties against con-

TABLE OF CONTENTS 331

Trevenanls. – Exceptional authorizations
and secret. – Absolute power of the Bel-Dine, consulting with the Kahal. – Fortune
of an influential litigant declared by Hefker,
that is to say: abandoned to pillage. – Proceedings
Duration of the Bet-Dine: citations, indauis, schamos-ches. – The Dates, skirts and experts. – References
before Christian courts, as a last resort and punishment. – Blank signatures canceling by advances the judgments to be rendered 171

XVI. – Acts and documents proving what pre-yields 182

XVII. The Eabolat-Kinion or Welder: Sales and Purchases between Jews. – The buyer's shoe offered to the seller. – A piece of the cassock, a mou-
The toe, today, replaces the shoe.
This is the Kabolal-Kinion, operating translation immediate right of ownership of the seller
to the buyer. – Even greater is the prestige
of a sale pronounced by the Kahal 188

XVIII. – Celebration of Jewish weddings – They begin the eve of the Sabbath with the Kubolat-Shabbat, a serenade of national melodies.
The next day, Alia-Maxtir. – Rain of nuts,

of almonds, figs, etc. on the future. –
 Finally, the grand ceremony. – Placement of the dowry. – Salary of the Chadhan, negotiator of the marriage. – Right of Rahache, for the benefit of the rabbi, cantor, and elder. – Salary musicians. – Tulet and Kitel, dressed in the clothes of the prayer and death. – Badhan, fimprov sa-
 Their prankster is starting to work. – You-

332 TABLE OF CONTENTS

The bride's letter, which is made on a bed of dough overturned. – Arrival of the fiancé, who covers the head of his future wife, the scarf she was wearing sent. – They throw hops and Oats. – Triumphant march towards the Hoopoe (canopy or baldachin). – The bride and groom take their places there.

– Order and march of the procession. – Blessing,
 Vow and marriage contract. – Prayer of the cup.

– Ring handed over. – Back to music.
 head. – The golden soup. – The wedding feast.
 Precedence and equality. – The art of servitude
 staff to cater to elite guests. – Badhan and the orchestra take turns performing. – The linear cry: Drosche-Geschenke! – The enumeration of ideal c. – – The Kochère dance. – Recon-
 The couple's escort to the bridal chamber. – The Kahal, sovereign master of his subjects in their private lives 192

XIX. – Circumcision. – Precautions against Satan. – The Schir-Garmalot talisman. – Visit and prayers from the acquaintances of the woman in labor.
 Prayer at the synagogue and honor paid to the father.

– Chalemc-Zahor, congratulations and courtesies.

– The Wach-Nacht, the vigil of the eighth day. – Preliminary steps to the operation. – Meeting of hui: participants, ten witnesses, and parents and rented. – The practice of The painful circumcision. – Prayer and hymns
 the shrill ones who accompany him. – One more elected official
 by the people of God. – Feast and rejoicing
 under the Kahal's good pleasure. – Beware of the trefle. 207

XX. – Hierarchy of dignities among the Jews. –

TABLE OF CONTENTS 333

Autonomy of their primitive institutions.
The provincial committees and the Bet Dine replace. – The Talmud increases its empire.

– Talmudo-municipal Republic. – Organized tion of the Jewish communities. – The rabbi and the Parnesses. – Habor elMoreîne. – Degrees of Kahul and the Bel-Dine. – Elections. – The Rabbi

'He is not a priest.' – Napoleon I and the Jews. – The Jewish question in Russia, in 1866.

– Jews are always Jews. – A grave error of Napoleon p>r. – Every Jew is a priest. – All this
What was done to reform the Jews was worthless.
Napoleon I made a huge mistake. – The Jui's sa parent des Spinoso, des Salvator, des Meyerbeer, of Rachel, like the jay of {.lu born of the peacock – Long live the Talmud and the Alliance Israelite ■ ! ... – Jewish schools are a stain
of oil. – Errors of the Russian government,

who also poked himself in the eye 216

XXI. – Supporting evidence 263

XXII. – The Melamedes, schoolmasters and preceptors-
Jewish men. – The Heder or school. – Plebeians and Jewish patricians. – These are condemned to be the subordinate and very humble servants
of these. – The pupils of the Melamedes.

– State of the school question among Jews.

– Everything by and for the Talmud. – Eschabots,
Tabnudors, Clauzers: school slums 270

XXIII. – Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement sins, and the Gatorat-NedoiHme, ceremony of Absolution. – How to lighten the memory
instead of easing the conscience of the Jewish sinner.

334 TABLE OF CONTENTS

– The famous Kol-Nidre prayer that releases from all the commitments and oaths of the year:
annual jubilee, very convenient and quite scandalous.

– The Gatùval-Nëdovme and the Messirat-Madna,

other equally convenient ceremonies, which permit perjury and perjury-involvement in the Jew versus Christian trials.

– And now, to Jerusalem! 286

XXIV. – The Caporet ceremony, purification. –

– The Jew catches a rooster, the Jewish woman a hen; or throws them far away, then they are read; and

Eat them with relish... and you are purified... 292

XXV. – The Mihva, special purification for women.

■ – Once a stream of clear water, now a a large basin of dirty water, a sordid vat, where
The women will do two or three dives.
sushi from a horrible mouth-rinse operation
right there. – All of it under the watchful eye and with the baton
of a hideous shrew in charge of this torture
Worthy of Dante's Inferno. – You have to see it.
To believe it, but it's true, and... it pays off big time
at Kahal 294

XXVI. – Hidesehel Gubdula, prayers over the cup. –
Wine or bread, brandy or beer. – But wine never fails, and it is a great honor to to offer it. – We give thanks to Jehovah for what we

is his chosen people 301

XXVII. – Jews are not naturalized. –
He must be stripped of Talmudic law.
a system for robbing and exploiting Christians.

– We need to put an end to these agglomerations of Jews who do nothing but fraud and usury,

TABLE OF MATERIALS 335

stock trading, 1> rmcintilism, the venge of water-
of life, etc. – We must make farmers of them,
useful workers, and abolish, eliminate these auusurping authorities who oppress them. – It is necessary to make them citizens and fellow citizens 303

XXVIII. – It's no longer time to laugh. – Who knows who
Who will laugh last? – Instead of denying the danger,
Let's turn around and go back to the other side. – The Kahal is tough and has a hard life. – Rabbinate, Judaism and Jesuit-
ism. – Jacob's Dream and Ladder. – Not of burning persecution, but no illusions, nor

no more consideration either. – That 1 1 R issie seriously advises. – Let her see what the Jews practice agriculture. – The Jewish Idyll can it last and does it not threaten to–
Is a fierce drama about to unfold? (307)

XXIX. – The Jaif in its relations with the included! rie.

– By producing movement and circulation
tion, he strips the poor real producer.–
The Russian landowner is quite simply– ply the farmer of the Jewish praetor. – Slavs and Semites. – The Jewish arrangement; advertising by– the spree; street and cafe markets; the expedition

Business done in minutes, without paperwork... 313

XXX. – Does the Jew specialize? – Is he always that he does not become dulled by the division of labor.

– The successive and rapid incarnations
They quickly become a merchant of opera glasses.
A walking millionaire. – The figures don't
They never stop: you're either a partner or you're not.
No. – Also, what does not belong to them?
Not at this time? – Yet it is a question of

336 TABLE OF CONTENTS

to fight for existence. – We must reform,
not the Jew, but the Christian –Why not pro–
Wouldn't this be a revision, a Jubilee, or Jewish fiftieth anniversary? – Beware of Czarism Jew! – Heinrich Heine and his parable of the Lithuanian– than. – 11. Ultimately, it's a question of knowing which sauce the naive Christian and the utterly naive Slavic want– slow to be eaten by the J.if not at all naive and Very cunning! 355

EMILE COLIN PRINTING WORKS, IN SAINT-GERMAIN

Bookbinding
F. Rosenhain

Charlottbg.

'antstr. 56

;:<

H

German → English ▼

Full text of " Johann Starck V 1 On Crypto Catholicism Proselytes "

See other formats

This is a reproduction of a library book that was digitized by Google as part of an ongoing effort to preserve the information in books and make it universally accessible.

Google Books

<https://books.google.com>

Google

About this book

This is a digital copy of a book that had been preserved on library shelves for generations. It was carefully scanned as part of a project to make the world's books available online.

The book has outlived copyright and can now be made publicly available. A publicly available book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose copyright protection period has expired. When a book is in the public domain, it can be freely copied and distributed. This can vary from country to country. Publicly accessible books are our gateway to the past and represents scientific talent that is often difficult to discover.

Traces of use, annotations, and other marginal notes contained in the original volume can be seen in this copy. Remembrance of the long journey the book has made from the publisher to a library and on to you.

Terms of Use

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize publicly available material and make it accessible to the public. Publicly accessible books belong to the public, and we are merely digitizing them. This work is costly. To continue providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse. To prevent commercial parties from doing so, this includes technical restrictions on automated queries.

We ask you to comply with the following guidelines:

- + Use of the files for non-commercial purposes. We designed Google Books for end users and not for automated queries. Use files for personal, non-commercial purposes only.

- + No automated queries. Do not send any automated queries of any kind to the Google system, including machine translation, optical character recognition, or other areas where access to the full text of a book is not permitted. If you find this useful, please contact us. We encourage the use of publicly available material for non-commercial purposes. It might help.

+ Retention of Google brand elements The Google "watermark" that you find in every file is This project helps users find more material via Google Books. Please do not remove the wat

+ Stay within the law. Regardless of your intended use, you must be aware of your respons To ensure your use is legal, do not assume that a book deemed suitable for users in the US Whether a book is publicly accessible, including to users in other countries, is another c It varies from country to country. We cannot advise whether a particular use of a specific That is. Don't assume that the appearance of a book in Google Books means it's available It can be used worldwide. Copyright infringement can have serious consequences.

Via Google Books

Google's goal is to organize the world's information and make it universally usable and ac Booksearch helps readers discover the books of this world and supports authors and publish You can search the entire book text on the internet at |'http://books.google.com'.

—
\
*
2
2 N
r
*
4
—
*
'er 2 0 5 —
—
ru... !
— —
ee
—
N
7 \
5 ER
Si
SL:
8 5 \
5
7
.
10

re

V,

oo. 1 8

5 5 . 2

. he

i 8 5 . 4

8

«

1 5 = 1

8 - * = . -

e - .

Egg 3 = - - >

9 - - - - -

- 2 . B "

*

-

Christian Nikolai

bookkeeper to broomsticks

| in Swabia |

= Important discoveries

. on a scholarly journey

through

D 0

and

out of zeal for the Christian, Christian Evangelical N

The Church became known through pressure.

made.

- ————7j;%ĩ?;qr¶0ķd

ANchH'IO SONO PITTORE

earthquake clusters,

Published by the author.

EEE ee

1788. BE:

5 — — — — m — . ' [äf-2f2 — — B g > — — 0 N

Preliminary message.

2. I did this some time ago. In company
Be: an instructive one for my firstborn son
A journey through Germany. My intentions along the way.

There were many things. A bookkeeper is already on

I am a merchant. I am even more so than "than others, and such a small place as Bebenhau=
sen ist, so bin ich doch unter den Handelsleute dorti=
In this area, I'm one of the first. Because I enjoy that.
Privilege, besides the lovely books, also with an=
to conduct a fine trade in the goods. Han= Delsprojekte were therefore the first and main intention my journey. Moreover, I had planned=

men, to gain something substantial with this journey= |

no. Because novels and travelogues are

In our time, our favorite reading material was available.

klarten deutchen a und binfolsllich ein
A 2

En

4 |
A wonderful article from the publisher. If I now look for the
For example, so many travelers, and especially mine learned namesake and fellow official of the Mr. Nicolai in Berlin *), also my maturity in the pressure would increase subscriptions, or even pre-registrations collected numbers, which I partly missed through Mediation of various of our lord prelates, my Lubingian and many other foreign Friends would not be missing at all, and then

I published my work myself, so the honorarium was paid immediately.
division; so I could hope to make a fairly respectable one.
win. So my journey was actually a

A speculative journey, to which the esteemed audience

the costs, and which also cost me
which should contribute. f | =

I am modest, just like a great scholar.
to be. Of course, I should have studied in my youth.
ren. The strict and pedantic monastic education alone=

hung, which unfortunately prevails in our region of Württemberg,
It is secular. I studied it in school.
NN 2 m :

Note / that Mr. Nicolai in Berlin only merely

*) Hos en Parodo, as we scholars speak, I make the

based on the pronunciation, not the letter, my

His namesake is; for he writes fi with a C,

But I spell it with a K. Incidentally, whether we...

a difference is found in the letter, but in the spirit

whether they are related to each other, that is for our judgment.

Audience. I'm far too modest for that.

_»

in

\

not brought further than Tertia. My Father, blessed, because he had an aversion to studying noted it down for me, so he sent me to Tübingen.

to Mr. Cotta, where I learned the book trade. From

Then I arrived in Ulm in Condition, from there to Bebenhausen, where I, with the support of the there=

the once living prelate, who, as is known, was a
I was a great book lover, I took over my bookstore and...

tete, and where I myself have now been for about thirty years |
I am established. Here the interested reader has a short my CV.

However, if I myself am not a big a .

Although I am, I was able to do so with the help of my friends.
I hope my travel description to be delivered will also be helpful for the learned part of our dear German publication=

to make it interesting. Also, I have... through my bookshop, much more to read Ge= had an opportunity, as many a scholar had. And hardly was the first thought for such a trip in my: 5

When a spark had sprung up in my soul, I began to study.

to read, and to get me from all travel descriptions=

gene and topographies the most magnificent collections

to do. These really did reach 95 for me.

my journey had a completely indescribable impact= have. Because I was only allowed to go to each place if I had also passed through it in pitch-black night,

even if I only stay for an hour in the inn,

A 3 2

6 | —

and no men except the innkeeper and the innkeeper's wife=

had seen and spoken to my previous=

I looked at the completed collections, so I knew everything.

so minute in detail, and could describe it so precisely, as whether I stayed that long, and that long

He had examined everything thoroughly. For the audience

But this had to be done by extraordinary and quite extraordinary people.

waited Nuzzen s0ein. For if I the same

my travelogue or worldview into the Hands, not only got to know everything,

what I saw and didn't see, heard and didn't hear

had heard, experienced, and not experienced; but

ves would simultaneously receive a fairly substantial extract.

from the best travel descriptions, without one

once knew that it was an excerpt, and could

now the famous Berckenmeyer's curiosities Antiquarius, and Krebel's travels put aside and to focus solely on me. So there was

My trip was a truly instructive trip for everyone.

Germany, and an infallible guide for all,
those who would undertake it after me to Germany
hike through.

| Furthermore, I had, as cheap and natural,
to my dear fatherland, my very special Au=
My attention was focused. I had planned to...

a journey to Stralsund and along the coast to continue the Dfifee. How much would I do there?

!
|

to my dear fellow countrymen who have never set sail on a ship.
and get a view of the sea, from the Baltic Sea
and the ships, how they look, how they swim=
men, how to take oneself on a water voyage
must, et cetera, have been able to tell. | In total

Swabia had to have my book with the hot= to be read with the most eager desire, and I had the great merit, my fatherland, that in the lake=
being, (a piece important for Swabia)
as is still very much a thing of the past in the Enlightenment, to clarify. My journey was therefore in this direction=
In this respect, it is a genuine journey of discovery.

I myself also wanted to experience something in the
to look around the world. Now, I had indeed had in my life I've traveled enough; but I never got any further.
men, than from Bebenhausen to Tübingen and from Tübingen to Ulm, and then back to earthquakes |
heap. Are you, I thought to myself, into the dear Swabian circle, as if it were a matter of course A swirling circle, banished? And so I decided to travel, and since I am outside some Correspon=
Since I had [something], I wanted to [someone] the good people from

Face to face and no longer alone in a book= know letters. Finally and lastly, my firstborn son born through this journey= to maintain one's sense of self, to see something in the world,
and that under my leadership, and for his sake

A4 |

\ \ i {uj „7 x

8 | –

I ignored whether I was being misunderstood.
Calling people or spotters a bear ladder=
the, if only my dear son had the opportunity-
me, to get to know the world.

Now I come to another cause, which moved me to undertake such a dangerous and arduous
To undertake a journey. – I'm almost at the point of...
to tell the audience. – But why should I Am I ashamed to say it, since I am a human being?
and I still remember from my school days,
that the great Tullius Cicero in his speech for the
The poet Archias says that the drive for fame is in everyone.
It is implanted in humans, and naturalia non sunt
"Tur pia" is an old saying. So I wanted to
I would like to introduce myself to a name through this journey.
It gnawed at me that fate had decreed that I should imprisoned in my birthplace Bebenhausen=
te, and that I am nothing more than a bookkeeper
was. I saw the great example of my fame= ten namesakes, of Hm Nicolai in Berlin
before me, whose fame extends even beyond Berlin, yes
Throughout all of Germany, yes, I'm sure of it, I believe,
has spread throughout Europe, even as far as...
the North Pole, the shape, that, as Meußel tells us
only recently announced, also the Russian Mo:
narchin, him as the author of Sebaldus
Nothanker a 36 ducat heavy foam man

| Zn | | 9
sent), and asked him, yes, all the fine
to send works to Petersburg, therefore he also immediately provided a fine description of the cheese.
Shouldn't such an example of fame impress me?
to irritate, as he was happy about the bookseller= l

has swept up the mob, and a scholar of
has become of first size without him having added anything to N who did that, when I had done it, or rather could he still do? He did it, as I was told.
various insured, in his youth up to Tertia
brought: I've just barely managed to get that far.
He learned the book trade in Leipzig; I in Tübingen. He travelled to Danzig; I to Ulm. He has established himself in Berlin; I in Be= benhausen, and if his bookshop also zehen=
It's sometimes bigger than mine, so I have...
I also run another shop on the side, and trade with Butter, herrings, cheese, ribbon and needles,
Coffee and sugar. He read a lot; so did I.
He has a description of Berlin and Potsdam
published; I have a substantial description from Stuttgart, Ludwigsburg, Zohenheim and also swept away by earthquakes, which is why I

*) Envious people say that if Sebal=
You brought about the medal, and Eberhard too.
had to have a part in it; but who will do that for what?
How to speak the language of envy?

4 5

40 | –

many great lords and learned men, truly splendid= which contributions have been made. It is, of course, still pending.
in the drawer, because I had to for political reasons to publish in print hinders who

de: because it is not everywhere like in Branden=

Burgschen, where you can have printed what you want
only wants to; but should it ever appear in print,
so she will surely be greeted with general applause= be taken. He also wrote a book about the published by the old Templar; I have said
He wrote a truly beautiful work about the kits
ter of the golden relief, of whose public blessing
Friends currently advise me against it.
have, because I have irrefutably proven in it,
that this knightly order does not belong to the House of Austria,
but to the King of France as Duke of Burgundy belongs', which was an important discovery for me

could easily cause some annoyances.
He has written a novel entitled: The Sebalus Nothacker edited, likewise one, the Bunckel
It was called, but I was horribly ridiculed for it,
because I had many copies of them sent to me

They all stayed on my neck, so that I...

finally have to use them to prepare herrings and
To wrap cheese in it: I, on the other hand, still have a long way to go.
There are more novels in manuscript form that are entirely incomparably readable, and of which none

3 11

The only one will be a bunk, which at night with many copper engravings by Riepenhausen "the
to so masterfully emulate Hogarth's caricatures= Chen will be printed. He has finally published a General Library;
And that has been my plan for a long time, N.
which I intend to explain in short, that the reviewers who are working on the fine details, themselves

They should certainly hide from mine. In short,
when I meet my namesake in Berlin with me

If we stick together, we'll be as alike as an egg to the others, at least the esteemed audience will be after admit this specification and compilation

must ensure that he has nothing over me. 1 |

Since I now saw a fine example before me, and could see myself in it as he looked at himself in a mirror, and found that he has accomplished nothing more and can no longer accomplish "than I,
and yet he felt so superior to the bookseller rabble
happily soared upwards; so I took it upon myself,
Since large, cheap examples encourage imitation,
there, to do the same; and = s me my Keise serve. |

I now undertook this journey of mine, to...
I made sure I was prepared for everything with which I only a cautious traveler can foresee, and there

A friend in Berlin taught me everything

how my namesake behaved towards a male:

.

had sent him, so I not only followed him in this, |

that I, because I wasn't genius enough to
To be able to travel on foot, to build one's own car

let, and me with a measuring tape, step counter,

Hemmschuh u. s. w. verfah; but I surpassed him

still, by being in the blanket of my car still.

a compass and a wind rose, likewise to A thermometer and barometer on both sides

attached, in order to include the Him^e in my travel description
Mels area, the weather, the wind, the temperature^e

to be able to specify the exact composition of the air, and there Thunderstorms are particularly dangerous when traveling, I had to
I installed a weather deflector on top of my car.
will be the first to ever be on a
The car was seen, and I already had it for Nuzzen and Frommen of other travelers, have in
To have copper engraved. Thus equipped, he undertook

I am traveling in the company of my firstborn!
We travelled via Stuttgart and Zeilbronn

to Heidelberg, from there to Frankfurt am Main,

from there to Cassel, Hanover, Braunschweig and Magdeburg, and from there to Berlin. After we had spent a few days in Berlin, u

We travelled to Hamburg, and we did

This journey on the Spree and Elbe rivers is by water.

From Hamburg we travelled to Kiel, from Kiel to Lüttkirchen.
Beck, Wismar, Rostock, Stralsund, Anclam and

— — *

— 13
Stettin. From Stettin we travelled back up.
to Berlin, and from there we went to Saxony: we visited Wittenberg, Halle, Leipzig, Jena, and Meissen and Dresden. In Dresden, it was decided

I went on a short excursion to Silesia; so it went to Wrocław. When we looked around a bit there We had travelled via Glaz and Königgrätz.

to Prague, from here to Carlsbad, then on to Eger to Nuremberg, and from there to Regens=

= burg. At Regensburg we provided ourselves with straw= 5 bags and pillows, chandeliers, light cleaning, suitcases=

Dishes and sparkling water, rented us our own
| vehicle, and so they drove down the Danube over Passau and Linz to Vienna: Here we kept again for a few days and then travelled to Salzburg; from there to Munich, from there to Augsburg, and so we came via Ulm 0 quakes=
| happily home.

Here, the discerning reader has a sketch.
this supremely worthy maturity, and since I am far niehr Oerter travels as my namesake and had the opportunity to explore northern Germany with

To compare it to the southern one, one already becomes to be able to foresee the importance of these
The journey is. Besides my collectables, I had and my son always travels to Krebel's, and dies=

Meyer's curious antiquarian at hand, which

14 2 – |

Books guide us to the travel route and finding the marker;
dignity, and the best and cheapest guest= Houses have rendered excellent service. As soon as we had therefore arrived at a place, fez= Let's take a look at our comments right away, and what had happened to us on the way, and what we would see at this or that place, or could have seen it if we had gone in,
to put it on paper. Also, what we learned from the Postmen had learned which people sometimes to tell very strange anecdotes, of the= similar to what the innkeepers and landladies gave us, who House servants and shepherdesses in the inns
What was recounted was noted with the utmost care. My Name that also greatly benefited me in my maturity-
fte. For as soon as I arrived in a place-men, so it was already known that the world= Famous bookseller Mr. Nicolai has arrived
Be. Everyone now streamed in to see me, and in some places the curiosity was so great,

that the innkeeper would have made money from me

can, as if I were an orangutan, or rhino= noceros, or bird of prey. I came even to a place where employees at the general

found themselves in a German library; that's how it was.

unbearable. These gentlemen appeared immediately.
in full state, dressed and powdered, compliments=
!

– * ' –
0 – 9 "> =:
7
! 15

They treated me as their patron, who would be their and who would actually be the general of all German Enlightenment thinkers,
and led other hayseeds who came to see me.
belonged. Yes, some of them had already been by the
My namesake's journey taught me, and They had prepared themselves for a delicate speech, with which she would greet him when he arrived at her place.
would want to compliment, and held |
This speech is really addressed to me. Briefly, the marriage= |

ment, which the Rector Mertens of Augsburg deem
The Pope showed "it is nothing compared to those who have told me all ler places, and especially by the employees at what happened to the General German Library.
They were terrified when they heard,
that I am not Mr. Nicolai from Berlin, son=
the Lord Nikolai from Sebenhaufen fey, and They probably often wondered to themselves, what can come from Swabia?

And can good even come from earthquake debris? Me

Even these tributes were not self-evident.
ten annoying, ahead, if one were to give me a speech.
compliments that I had to answer:
Because speaking off the cuff is never my thing.
che had been, and I therefore often cursed it that in our language, after all efforts God=
Scheds and Adelungs brought them to perfection.
bring, not even a remedy found is, the C in the pronunciation of a K to 16 | –

distinguish. However, when the initial shock

When it was over, those gentlemen looked upon their not-so-getting-

I struggle with surprise that someone else is also with me.
let him speak, and I soon consoled myself over it.
the embarrassments into which the mix-up led me
Delighted, since I had in this way seen many wonderful things
I learned about the anecdote. From all this, one can now...
The reader should get an idea of what such a thing entails.
The journey was to be awaited when it was brought to light.

lete. My son and I had also already such a direction towards maturity. Brought along that

We saw everything we wanted to see. Nothing

strange, the government, state government, Action, religious state, enlightenment, course and regarding the physiognomy of the inhabitants, it was possible
uns ensfchläpfen: everything, even the smallest thing, offered us

Material relating to the most important discoveries, and

According to our own mood, we had the Advantage that we can also do everything with completely different Au= and from a completely different point of view than all the other travelers looked at each other. Heavily laden with a wealth of wonderful anecdotes and remarks

So we came back to Bebenhausen, and when
When we were in Berlin for the second time, I had already a coffee full of the strangest anecdotes sent ahead to Bebenhausen. And now it began.
I, my political, historical, and geographical

5 | ö | u to=

\

topographical=onomic= philosophical= literary ?
theological ,ftatiftifch = mercantilifch= antiquarian

to work out a description of the district that will be relevant to my work=
According to the report, only sixteen moderate bands consisting of large octave, each volume in three and a half Alphabet, not counting the supplements, in print appear PN

| My 3 send N that to me. r already so waking
Having played a nasty trick, he now proved it on me.
old tricks. I already encountered that on my trip.
You'll learn about it in advance. Because I put in so much effort...
I also look for subscribers everywhere, or only about subscribers; so it all struck me as quite a shock.

half wrong, because the whole world is already on the move
not merely subscribed to by my namesake, son=
who had actually numbered them. Yes, some had.
The sheer audacity of rejecting my application for money=
to explain prellerey, and to me it quite literally in face to say, if one wanted to get involved in something like that,
Thus, a general migration of peoples would soon occur in Germany only arose a few years ago
a certain Gsellius, as a beautiful spirit a journey
made, which he intended to publish, and to that end
Pre-registrations were begged for everywhere; afterwards, be

Nicolai from Berlin came with his prãnume=
Ration card, and travel now at general expense

. | 8

#

Zr

around Germany, now I begin, Nikolai Similar things also happened in Bebenhausen: one must to oppose such swindles. I would like

I assure you very often that I am not considered a beautiful person.
a spirit traveled, and a completely different man was there,

as Nicolai in Berlin; it was no use, I could not even able to achieve subferiulation.

Gesellius and my namesake were too=
had happened, had the better blessing gone,

and I had to travel at my own expense. Now
But then came the hardest blow for me. Because hardly

I had finished my work to the point that I
it could be put into the printing press; so it already appeared
The travelogue of the Berlin Nicolai. It

However, some harsh criticisms soon followed.
out, and among others one that had the title:

Second and forty-second supplement to the first two

Volumes of the travelogue of the Zerrn Sriedrih

Nicolai, in which my namesake with fine
The journey was ridiculed over the measures;
But none of that helped. The journey=
The description was now out in the world, from the

No one received their money back from the subscribers:
Having said A, they also had to say B.

and continue to number, and even if some

the first pre-numbering hurt, and not know=
ttrr fortpränumeriren wollen, fo gab mir doch das

No hope. Once bitten, twice shy.
Fire, and whoever reads the travel description of the Berlin Nicolai believed he was led, could It's easy to think that it wasn't Nikolai from the earthquake house would do better with him, and thus make good money in Keep it in your bag. This itinerary was So my misfortune, and to completely rob me of all courage
How to behave was discussed in all learned newspapers.
such laudatory reviews from the travel guide=
bung des Herrn Nicolai in Berlin ed, that Je= Dermann must have thought such a book would be even more Never seen in the world. Of course, it was missing.
not to euten who said such reviews were
They ordered the work and wrote to the employees.
tern at the general German library here:
Nothing helped, the book sold like hotcakes. Now
My friends stormed me, but no way!
to have my travel description printed "the under
No one would buy something with such adverse aspects, or would read. I objected to them that my Description of far more detailed and complete fen,
by seeing many things that Mr. Nicolai Didn't see it at all. So I showed them as an example.
pel a very precise outline of the little English

Grus in St. Lorenz Church in Wurnberg, which I
I saw it, and I made a drawing of it.
but I didn't see my namesake because one

| B 2 |

had covered him with a cursed sack:
furthermore, a most charming sketch of the Virgin Mary= tesbilde zu Poggen, das auf dem Bauch eine Fen=
has a disc, which allows one to see the hot one in the body
can see the infant Jesus lying in the Virgin Mary, which Mr. Nicolai in Berlin merely described, I
But I saw: furthermore, a sketch of a holy Elisabeth, who has a completely glassy belly, in which is named after Saint John the Baptist playing a violin, one sees which picture Mr. Nicolai not even mentioned in Berlin: furthermore, a far more accurate depiction of famous ex-Jesuits; and so of countless other things more that he had discovered which was overlooked, or because it was described in a more detailed way loves brevity too much, tells the story inadequately, or had completely misunderstood. But because of this,

Even worse! Friend! they all shouted at me at the top of their lungs.
Close your neck, you'll only make yourself extremely unhappy. Sir

Nicolai in Berlin is a man of great Con-nerion. Do you want a detailed travel description?

star; so many scholars and reviewers see it,
to those below him, as an insult, which happened to them themselves; henceforth all books,
which you will misplace, in the general library=
thek and so many other learned newspapers jãm=
will be significantly torn down; their authors are also self and in the learned world disrecom=

- - = nr -

- 21

mendirt, and no one takes their publishing articles away from them.
more. Do you want to protect yourself and many honest people?

Don't make writers unhappy; you must Stay home with such a travel description.
I now found myself, as one can easily imagine, in a not minor horror: my wife no less, who
I could already see in my mind's eye that I would be bankrupt.
become, and finally even with the white staff in the hand as a beggar from Bebenhausen wander

would. She combined her requests with the proposals= | lungs of my friends, and I – also packed
This manuscript with all cracks and drawings |
together, and placed it with the other manuferipten, of which I had previously thought. Everything, I said to myself.
Even you have your time. When the journey of the Berlini= Nicolai is forgotten, the journey of the quake will Nikolai's houses are brought out of the box,
and perhaps still find happiness. In anticipation.
this happy time, from which I hope that he will no longer be far away, have I then my so mübfam elaborated manuscript closed, the heavy and large costs that I incurred on this journey
used, tied to the leg, my speculation gave up, and contented myself with the fact that I and My dear firstborn, is it not at your expense?
of the audience, as we probably deserved, ever

now at our own expense in the world to look after ourselves=
B 3

82 2
seen. The audience will therefore receive this time
Not my trip.

However, if I were to say before I speak my
I won't release the tears; I can't do that in front of anyone.
to be responsible to myself, to give the audience a highest to keep an important discovery secret, which I
I had the opportunity to do so on my travels.

Since I don't mean to imply anything about my namesake,
getting in his way through the travel description

in fine publishing, and especially fine rice books=
I hope that this will not disrupt the writing process.
so that I don't cause myself any inconvenience as a result will be. And also assuming that certain people, to whom

This discovery may not be pleasing, therefore about

They should come here and be hostile towards me; that's how it is.
Yes, it's a well-known truth that whoever knows the truth says stones are being thrown, and one must
to suffer a little for a good cause.
My namesake, Mr. Nicolai in Berlin, has

He had the opportunity during his travels to see many

To see secret Jesuits who are not Jesuits,

and yet they are, and he and his friend the Lord
Dr. Beastie in Berlin, have told the world everything godless tendrils and tricks were laid before our eyes, which in the darkness of the cunning Logolites and Ka= tholiks are made to help us poor, even

No-nonsense protesters again under to bring the yoke of the Romano-Germanic hierarchy. Whether

I don't like to determine whether the women in the beer industry were right.
They have left such traces, and also facts.
taught that it is highly unbelievable.
They have indeed encountered some contradictions about it=
ren must; fo have fie, on the other hand, already in advance explained, and it will occasionally reappear.
bolt, that those who contradict them, and what They say it's unbelievable, even a Chi= to disseminate myths and fiction, their causes for doing so had and already knowingly or unknowingly in the ropes of the Catholics and Jesuits went,
I'll leave all that as it is now. Right away!
But like my namesake, Mr. Nicolai in Berlin and my dear friend, the Lord Doctor Viester,
the world on the secret ways of the Jesuits=

made noticeable, and thereby not a small 1

You have earned merit for your contributions to enlightenment, in=
to whom she first discovered this dangerous thing, she

Whether it is true or not; I have therefore For my part, a no less interesting and I made an even more unexpected discovery, and
This is what I now present to the public
I present. I have no doubt that the reasons, Spu= more facts and information that I will teach, yet

far more striking and convincing will be those who...

2 than those who were appointed by Mr. Nicolai and
N 2 * |

24 | – a

Mr. Biefter was informed about their discovery.
Should anyone else be persuaded to do the same?
to not attribute any credence to my assertion,
yes, even the same one to explain away as a ridiculous vision=
ren; so I declare, on the contrary, that such doubters and Those who deny the crystal-clear truth also have their origins.
to have something, and already knowingly or unintentionally knowingly wire puppets and thin rods in the hands of those who are now in the darkness to
The ruin of all Christendom, the most outrageous thing
Hatch a project. Even if some are really For my reasons, how could I possibly can imagine, shouldn't be so completely certain; so Anyone who considers the matter will surely Stande is, to clear so much space that it is good to be on to draw attention to such things, and that for this reason alone I deserve that They see me as a savior of our common
I consider the fatherland to be the victim of the most terrible misfortune, 2 only to remember is.

Important discovery,
which captures the audience's attention earned. "

The important discovery which I will share with the public=
What I have to do is completely parallel with that one= gen, which my namesake, Mr. Nico= lai in Berlin and the Dr. Biefter to Pur have made a glikum. So one will say, is,
It was probably one that concerned religion, and dangers that arise from a certain side Threatening? Quite right! Perhaps even a home–

liche conspiracy on the part of the Reformers= Mischief? No, that's not it. – Or a misunderstanding.
oath by the Deists and Naturalists 2
Well, Mr. Nikolai from Bebenhausen might just...
Stay home with his discovery; Demarees,
"Stark, Lavater and others have already told us about it."
Enough said. – No! That's not it either. – Well, what is it then? Is the Turk about to invade?
or the Dalai Lama of Tibet about Christianity pull? – I don't know anything about that either, I have...
At least on my entire trip there was no trace of it.
B 5 1

+

found. – So it will probably be the whole thing then=
The most important discovery – to be nothing!

I thought so, that one could call for that.
would. Nobody would suspect a [something] from that perspective.
Danger, of which she is currently the greatest.
To spare the souls of readers who may be full of experience–
waits might not be long in coming,

I just want to get it out there without any beating around the bush.
say and have it printed in very large print, that it

the secret Judaism

Or as we scholars speak, the crypto=Ju=

dais mus ist, von einem ich hochsunerwartete

I have discoveries to make. Of course, I see...

already in mind that many of my readers would thereby in a loud laugh breaks out, and I even think will hold a swarmer and Vistonår. Ists but my namesake, Mr. Nicolai in Berlin and to Dr. Biefter as well= went that because of their discovery they were going over the

'secret Catholicism and Jesuitism a Ge

a subject of ridicule and mockery by many

has become, and for enthusiasts and spirit seers, yes.

It was even spent on something annoying, I think: so that I comforted myself. As much as one can understand two things about it.

I will, however much I may be mocked and laughed at,

x

w-- 27

If it is true, then this matter remains reliably true.
with the secret Judaism, and if I am the
The world has all the evidence and information about it.
I will lay eyes on what it is for an unexpected
rapid progress was gained among the Christians, as is the case with all secret societies, not a single one from= taken, fulfilled, as many people already have,
from whom one should hardly wait to return home=
lich crossed the threshold, and, as one can certainly be-claims, and is also very likely, have be=
to have it cut, as even a whole secret one already Society exists, which, under the leadership of its invisible leader, who is none other than who can be an anti-Christian, who associates Christianity with the
The goal is to eradicate the root; hopefully, this will succeed.
into the truth and importance of my discovery,
I don't want to leave any further doubt.
Now, to present everything in order,
First, I want to tell you how I came to this discovery.
I came? I could, of course, imagine the...
first and foremost contribution to this important |
To attribute discovery. For since the times of the feel.
Mr. Prelate Bengels, since the study apoca-
When lypticum appeared in our country, I felt also involved with it, and I came across it through the same.
I stumbled upon the great truth that beneath the still
The expected Antichrist will be none other than the Judaism can be understood, and that the

 The time of its appearance coincides precisely with our times.
 must. I would prove this truth beyond a shadow of a doubt.
 If it were to align with my intentions,
 and I had no right to fear that the
 This apocalyptic reckoning is not for every reader.
 will be. From this point of view, ge=
 So listen to this discovery from the end.

However, Suum cuique remains my motto. I will also the man who my bare, although at My absolute suspicion bordering on complete certainty brought, and it revealed to me that the times the

 I expected it to have already happened, and.
 Even the clandestine Judaism spread unnoticed.

had seized it, not steal a fine share. When

I, in fact, shortly before my famous trip, this He followed the thought that Judaism was the one that expectant Antichrist, and that all apocalyptic
 according to calculations, his appearance in the Aus=
 The course of our century must happen, added
 I am sure that a friend, whose name I have, because his modesty, so will, keep silent, but as steward *) in many places, and the

*) It is indeed a wonderful agreement between me and my namesake. He has his ent=
 Cover-up of the secret Jesuitism of Mr.
 Rath Leuchsenring, who also served as various courtiers=

I had the opportunity to get to know the world, after Bebenhausen came, and talked to me about the apo=
 calypsic calculation was discussed. I discovered it for him.
 Now my assumption, and he confirmed it.
 not only by giving me even more places in the pharmacy=
 Calypse showed what it was strengthened with; but to ö
 To my considerable surprise, he told me that |

those times had already arrived, and I
 He would have only been off by a few years. At the same time, he=

He told me some truly incredible things about home.
lichen Judaism, and the great, although extremely hidden progress that he made throughout Germany, yes, even further afield, all the way to the north=
He traveled to the regions of [unclear], and from which he [unclear] on his Travel and many important things at the court of his master
There has been an opportunity to make discoveries. Everyone=
You can imagine how I was shocked by this!
I immediately asked my friend how one should be=
In my opinion, this misfortune might be prevented?
Do you not mean that it would be good to do this immediately?
everywhere among the authorities, princes and the rirt, and even offered himself for free, the master of the court to become a prince. I have given mine over the secret Judaism of a friend who also Enough courtiered, and I just like that, like my to his namesake, Mr. Jeuchsenring, that I attribute to him the predicate of a great scholar, although he as little as this one has shown himself to be a scholar.

1

30 TTT

To indicate clergymanship? But imagine my
I was astonished when I heard from him that this was not at all
The right way would be, as many princes have already done, to Judaism inclined, indeed even entire Christian states had joined it, it too
There are already many written clergymen who already secretly Jewish. Don't you know anything at all?
Further funds? That was my question. The only thing...
That was a fine answer, which was of some use.
It can be publicity. We write when you returning from their journey, a monthly magazine,
and in the same we do this from time to time Discoveries are known. I believe the Rector and Mr. Vogt will gladly contribute to our journal Take part, especially since there's something worthwhile involved.
to win, and in this way we contribute to the World the great service, through the torch of publicity-
City, the monster lurking in the darkness to drive away the secret Jewish community. This is a far more powerful means than if we use the could initiate an Inquisition against the Jews=
ten. You just need to collect more data on your trip.
and collect anecdotes, and focus primarily on the secret societies keep a watchful eye on them |

ben. – But the secret societies, says⁹
I think it's a secret, so how can one find out?
What goes on inside them? It's hard to imagine.

who reveal their inner selves to a stranger. – –
"There's also advice on that," my friend replied.

Only Freemasons are allowed to become members, so you will receive the Dietrich or passe partout all secret Gesell= squash. I would have advised you to do this anyway,
as it will be of great benefit to the upcoming journey=
Zen can be, if you are a Freemason. Through
This means they are in a position to enter the darkness of all to infiltrate secret connections, and if

If all this is still not enough, then our ö

Monthly magazine soon to discover even more=
Give it a try: because we may only be in one of the first Stucke issued the request that who
To give news about secret Judaism had, could send the same brazen thing to us, we would never betray his name; thus they will
They watch in amazement as we are seen by everyone Places here the strangest and most unexpected
will be sent in. u
Dittum fatum! Did I have the discovery
My friend was terrified; so he comforted me
now the wonderful tool that he gave me gave. I did not delay myself to become a Freemason.
to let them take it, and also made sure that my firstborn son, who had already put me on my
The journey should accompany it, it must also become one.

From the wonderful monthly magazine that my friend ö

32 DS

had projected, and from which we have so many preconceptions.
Parts promised, but now, of course, nothing came of it:
For while I was on my journey,
My friend died, and to add insult to injury...
For me, the famous Berlini appeared soon after.
fche monthly journal, which is primarily concerned with it was, the heads of the protesters against those of them Eonfus to shear Catholics and Jesuits to bring them to safety; and if I feel even now alone, or in the company of the Lord Rector and the Lord Vogt, who was also Biblio= thekar of the Bebenhausen library is, to this

He would have wanted to make the work, that's what it was like there.
Audience on the heads and tonsures fine whole Attention had been focused, little hope remained= that my care for the prepuce
make the right impression, and my journal
It would not find a buyer. So this too was omitted.
However, I decided to focus my discovery particularly on the
To shed light on this: perhaps I am so happy that a journalist takes this matter to heart, and it brings the eyes of our audience to 5
to straighten the prepuce after it had been long enough
| looked at the heads. | Ä
This is the actual reason for my Discovery: and now to the point. Hardly had

I left my homeland, so I already found the | Besta=

| Confirmation that it is about secret Judaism
| would have been perfectly correct. Shortly before Heilbronn, asked -,

And the Postillon, where we wanted to stop? I

He told him about a well-known inn where one could re 6 =

should be good. The brother-in-law shook his head, |

and asked: "That fellow is a Jew!" – "A Jew!"

I thought to myself, "A Jew!" Meanwhile, I let

But pull up in front of the inn. But how did I get there?

together, as we were getting out of the car
came towards the innkeeper! For I discovered not only in his physiognomy and speech, in his eye opening, gait and sand dune

much Jewish, but I also saw under his | |

Hang some white woolen threads from the vest, 'the
I have a lot of similar experiences with the toes=commandment= thread to have shoes which the Jews are accustomed to wearing.

My son, in his innocence, thought that it
the torn lining of his Canimissol would be:

However, I couldn't resist such clear signs.
possibly including asking him directly if he has a Christ be? All he answered me was a

A smile, a very suspicious smile; to this came

| nor that he, despite all demands, "did not give us any Ham was served, and that the wine they gave us

gave, greased, and welcomed the kosher wine

was similar; and when they finally paid us the bill
. we were treated in a Jewish-like way
C

A

—
—
—
\

34 | F —

scaly. My son and I divided this matter.
our thoughts interact with each other, and our finite

The verdict was that this innkeeper was a had been a foolish Jew, and that one could quite rightly to feign Christianity, and in the turmoil of the
I could adhere to Judaism. On my further
A journey where I had the opportunity to meet all sorts of people
To become known for my position, I was in my My thoughts were strengthened even more, and I looked convinced= that not this innkeeper alone is not to be a secret Jew, but that this lever further it took hold when it was common in our century—
One should expect. Among people, all sorts of things.

You will find them there, with swords and seder hats, |

en robe courte und longus robe, fogar giebt's pro=

/

teftantifche preacher, who are secret Jews,

Are entire states now turning to the Jews?
hum crossed over, everywhere teeming with

folchen secret missionaries for circumcision,
and this evil creeping in the darkness is so great,

that many people have already been made into Jews=
find it, without even knowing it himself. f

Since I gave the audience the sacred assurance
I can say that I am a truth-loving man
I am someone who doesn't want to hurt anyone, even out of sole love for the true Christian Church of this ale

kes . and around the world n to ur

— | 35

do it; so I can rightly demand that one should make me do it.

I give faith without needing to.
to provide little proof for my claims.
However, so that those who, for certain reasons=
who is interested in ensuring that the public understands this matter who may not believe, already in advance=
If it can be disproven, do I really want the proof?
lead and the important and unexpected Thatfa=
to teach children the reality of the secret To cast doubt on Judaism beyond all doubt. And because my evidence and facts not only to those are completely the same, which are near me mensvetter, Mr. Nicolai in Berlin and the learned authors of the popular and praised Ber=

Linische Monatsschrift in relation to the secret Papism and Jesuitism were introduced and taught find, and therefore also in all those who do not deliberately giving in to the stupidest delusion= have received applause; so I am also certain,
that which I know about the secret Jew=
thum sage, believed, and a general my and
I will receive the loudest applause. na |
I'll start cheaply by getting the audience on to draw attention to the spirit of Judaism.

It is therefore pretty clear that no faith=
densparthey fo apparently teaches the saz that their
The Church is the only one that can bring salvation, unlike the Jews.

C 2

| All Israel, they say, has a part in the

eternal life, and all who don't find it, find time.
They have no part in God, who
The God of their fathers alone has no part.
at the Olam Zabba, or the future world.
This misanthropic way of thinking, which the Ju=

which they already had more than 2000 years ago, ha=

ben fie noch bis auf unsre Zeiten beybehalten. Noch
To this day, Jews refer to whether they just among us, the Christli=
the maid who waits on them on Shabbat, who Shabbas=Goi, to German Sabbath=Heidin, and the most wretched Polish Jew with his torn coat, and a legion of Kinnims in their beards seems to look at the Christian, who in his eyes was a wicked man

The most esteemed heathen is to be far and wide. With this stands in the most precise and natural connection,

that they consider all Christian institutions to be violent=

actively consider against oneself, of which one is in

Mendelssohn's Jerusalem: many strange traces encountered that they are the longest and most firmly established

Possession of Christians for unlawful and zero=

see, since the end of the world is actually their egg=
gentum was gifted, which was also completely
In their opinion, it will come to pass when the Messiahs will come and kill all the gods
or will submit to the scepter of Ifrael. Indeed.

“

\ . 2

.

TE . + 85

* * x 2

: .

g 5 N r

as much as the Jewish religion considers itself the only one,
The blissful thing holds, just as much is it also of

I have made every effort from the very beginning until today.

,fen to become the sole ruler, and has nothing to that end, neither overt acts of violence, nor Covert methods left untried. To whom are they?
not known the gruesome massacres, f

which the Jews committed against the poor Cananites—

is practicing? Who doesn't remember the underhanded tactics used?

Jacob's sons already managed to defeat the Shechemites 1

To have his entire head cut off? David had to to King Saul the hundred Philistine shelters

to bring a morning gift when he met Princess Michal was to be given as his wife. Under the king Ahasuerus even managed to bring it there, that they received permission from all the inhabitants of the country, 5
the heathens and thus were uncircumcised, to be destroyed= .

gen. In Christ's time the Pharisees went everywhere=

halfway around to make prophylactic cysts. Under
They had a relationship with the Jesuits to Emperor Tiberius.
Our times share a similar fate, and were because of their proselytizing, because they even...
distinguished Roman lady, Fulvia, to the Jew= |
They had converted, and persuaded them, since they were
I couldn't have it cut, but at least all | their gold and silver to the temple in Jerusalem
to send, banished from Rome. Under Emperor

| | 6 3 e

8 2 2 .
3

Zadrian led the all-blue because of the preputi=
during the most severe war, Jerusalem was seized by new, thousands of pagans and Christians established in the most gruesome way, or forced them through to have all imaginable torments absolved=
'fen. How many Christian children have they not in to attract the entire Middle Ages= Wurst, to make them into Jews! Yes, how many Examples are not known from older or newer sources.
to show times that they are through all sorts of tendrils Christians were led to Judaism.
the one of which the famous Countess Kosel, King
August I of Pohlen's master, a strange one
For example, under the reign of the Empress

Anna of Russia had a Polish rabbi even a Russian colonel was persuaded by a Jew to will be, which will react with fury without ejaculation=
chen den Präputiis feiner Unterthannen den Krieg announced, and wanted to force Jews to do the same will be, but this crime in community of the Jewish proselytizers must pay with death

I had to. I mean, these examples from the story the ever-active, near and far= a spirit of Jewish proselytizing, and their incessant pursuit of absolute power,
and subjugation of dissenters, namely of the scriptures, convincingly demonstrate. These ri „

Reasons are not only just as strong as deep ones,
the famous Dr. Biefter in Berlin
the April issue of our monthly journal 1785 with right= has taught him scholarship, in order to always still continuing prophylactic spirit of the Romans=
the Church and its pursuit of absolute rule
prove; but in my opinion, still far.

stronger: and I assure you that if it comes to me with the projected monthly magazine not so unfortunately ge=

If I had gone, I would still have time for more.
would have provided more evidence that I
The audience will therefore find it difficult to change their faith.
gen can. Certain people, who also
This may be because of the matter with the secret=
Jewish life is not discussed, it is with I'll do what Stark and Garve did with beasts.
made, and demand of me that I prove so= le, that all of this is really happening right now,
and accuse me of using old examples with new ones

mix the present with the past

To those who lack proof, I say with the learned
Dr. Beast: why should something happen before more=
This happened centuries ago, not even now.
Is it possible? And who will determine 'reality'?
can doubt it, since the possibility is evident=
meadows Me

* N >
ae Ns

!

He NE –
40 –

I said earlier that there are now really many Sürften and great lords inclined towards Judaism
They are made. As unbelievable as one might find this
It will happen, that much is certain. One finds in the Oriental history contains many games,
that kings and princes really convert to Judaism

crossed, which I will list here in order

I find specifying to be very superfluous – by doing so Everyone can find evidence of this everywhere.

Was not according to the credible news of the Thalmud, Ketjia the son of Shalom, who Councillor at the Emperor Zadrian was, on the Beschnek= dung so eager that shortly before his death

who administered this sacrament with his own fine teeth, and then the famous Rabbi Akiba to his
Did heirs use? Yes, he himself was not the emperor.
Antonin was converted to Judaism by Rabbi Chanina does? Oh! There are several more examples of this.
It existed in the history of earlier times. I wanted to Meanwhile, someone here is again being intrusive to demand, I should prove that now

really swine and states converted to Judaism.
had been stepped upon; so I ask everyone to consider that

as long as one still lives in relationships which
To deserve consideration, one cannot say everything.
but only stories with Lüden, only Bruch=
can deliver pieces. I give everyone space.

—

zigen, / that the whole 1 plan of these godless |
circumcised proselyte makers and all machina= tions to whose execution it was impossible to submit

can be. But since the Jews are always so actively worked on their spread, since they were from Solland to Russia, from Sweden to

to China and South America in all sorts of forms= |

ten act: is my assertion no longer valid?

as all too well-founded? Just think of the Jew 5 |
Ephraim, to whom the coin was given in the Seven Years' War

| ,was given, and that they even in France the | Patronage=Right to belong to Christian parishes=

nen gewuft: one should bear in mind that fie ap allen Hõ=
If the court agents, purveyors to the court, factors to the court finds _ that no war can arise without one having to prevent it in this way= immediately makes him a supplier to the army; that one |

to grant them everywhere the free exercise of religion

geft, da 0och zugezt, wo man es andernchristft= .
will not allow lichen parties; and it must be a=
It should be obvious to everyone that with the efforts,

the Christian sirs and great tugs a new= 5

to teach Judaism, but unfortunately: | Too successful, fey. Happy Spain, where so very important for the preservation of pure Christian blood

The grandeur is ensured! But N

Would one wear this precaution if one
N. with "desert AR how urgently necessary it is?

85

42 D—

It's unbelievable what extraordinary things...
They pursue their conversion work with chen Rånken. I I don't even want to talk about the universities that fie haben, als die zu Lünel, die fie fchon feit dem
had similar experiences in France in the 19th century.
chen from the schools to Mez and to Prague and to several other places that are actually plant nurseries find, in order to turn Christian children into Jews
chen; but one should only heed how they mei= to cleverly disguise their intentions, in order to conceal only their true aims to reach. The Spanish and Portuguese Ju= den in Holland, tragen auch sdgar wenn fie verheu=
They advise that they have no beard anymore, and are through nothing to distinguish more from the Christians. In German= land, especially in Brandenburg and Imperial states and in some other places
You can see them wearing galonited and embroidered dresses,
with polished boots, styled and powdered
Hair, with braids, hair bags and puffed-up= short hair, in all Christian costumes and Figures; in England they walk like gentlemen,
and even carry, which is quite unheard of – Degens! – yes, they even affect the Christians
Wine, and coffee with milk to drink, and scorn=
They noticed the difference in the food. After that, one should think that this is libertine or ragged Jews would be. Nothing less! They have contributed to all of this.

> . 2 Sa P, . 7
— re 43

special dispensations from their rabbis and seek entry to the Christians in such a way=
 To obtain. They are doing it here right now.
 'fo, as the Catholics and Jesuits call it after the be= made famous Berlin monthly magazine, which everything, even tolerance, like the Regensburger=
 Rabbi Isaac Alexander, whose lord Nicolai |
 commemorates, and clarification of their intentions to nuz= Zen knowledge. It is astonishing how accurate the Jews in China agree with the Jesuits.
 In the message that Buching gives about them, it looks man, that they in the courtyard of their synagogues in China
 They have erected inscriptions in which they are assured
 It will be that the teachings of the Jews are mainly that it is completely the same as the Chinese religion, yes

They also venerate Confucius. So

They also support projects undertaken by religious associations.
 used for their own purposes. Since all of this, which I am mentioning here, which is exactly in agreement with that person,
 what the famous and highly learned Doctor Beasts in his praised monthly journal of the Ranken of the Catholics and Jesuits has said, and thereby moved the audience to this to attribute scholarly faith and to pay attention
 to have it done; hopefully, the true
 History of Jewish proselytizing, no Humans can deny things a priori. Yes, there my

44 6 S

The evidence is even stronger, so may I flatter with even more general applause.
 It's absolutely incredible how far this has spread.
 Misfortune spreads: in Altona they are already enjoying themselves with equal civil rights for Christians; to achieve equal rights.
 ches also in the imperial and Brandenburgian
 To preserve states, all forces will be used to gear up=
 They have spread themselves so much in Berlin= spreads the idea that through them, as Buching reports, the Accidents of the teachers of the high school on the grey
 The monastery has been greatly diminished; indeed, according to certain
 You should even deal with secret messages using this method, to them in the Mark and Pomerania the churches
 to include their worship, and through

A misunderstood tolerance should already be the

That's why cities argue so vehemently about who should give them this.
Right to the first grant would be, as before= the Greek cities around the birth of Zo= mers s0streiten. How striking is what happened in the previous= excellent secret letters about the Prussian

Constitution, this glorious product of Freedom of the press is told that the two daughters of the Moses Isaac their ancestral inheritance, fine testa= ment geqs, withdrawn, because the Christians

became; likewise, what happened there from the great influence of Jews in all state affairs

It is said that the Minister of Justice is married to a Maier.

7

Warburg and other Jews walk arm in arm,
that the Jew went unknocked to his advisor in the
Go to the room and spend hours with him un=

He may receive what Christ cannot, who

against all their secret machinations is unable to feel secure. How far As for these machinations, they give their opinion.
public newspapers from England stand out=
the proof, by bringing a Jew named Mendoza to London
has built a public school to help young people
To teach lanander in fencing and bear fighting: proper= However, it is designed to gain access to procure, and then, before they know it, they are to Judaiciren. – Yes, even in the imperial army.
Many Jews have this now, which is completely unheard of.
They took up military service. They all, however, allowed themselves to be drafted.
baptize; but who does not know that this is only for the purpose of
It is an illusion, and that they have a special dispensation for it=
The more of the rabbis have, the more certain that

Judaism among the imperial troops=
Wide? Such dispensations are not granted to Jews.
It's quite well-known in Portugal and Spain.
There you can even find bishops who are secret Jews.
are. All of this is surely clear evidence of the increasingly prevalent secret Jew=
thum, and that this invisible anti-Christian church
ee her Nesse ann has, and the

4D

Christians fly into it like stupid couch potatoes, and that it is time to open one's eyes,
and look!
Everything I've told you so far, babe, to
To attract attention, one can only...
as a general representation of these dangerous
Look at the matter, and if it already shows that... secret Jewish proselytizing is crystal clear= shines forth, and moved the Christian audience must be informed about the astonishing progress of=
to open one's own eyes; then one must do even more.
be convinced and amazed when I tell you about the Darkness of the secret connections, the veil
I lose weight, and they in their true anti-Christian
The shape of the world is presented before one's eyes. It is obvious to everyone.
It is difficult to understand how this evil spread so far.

grasp, and have been able to receive it for so long without

to be discovered, and one is therefore quite happy= tends to view the whole thing as visions and chimeras to explain. That's exactly how it is with the secret Ka= Going into tholicism, for many, many years the=
continued to operate undetected until Finally, my dear cousin in Berlin with to his friends, to the blinded public, the Star stung, whereupon it didn't take long währte, fo fahe jedermann all llenthalben die zu= only from them. Jesuits alone and

P = 47

* x 5

Closet Catholics. I am following a fine example here.
following glorious examples, and since I now the
The public because of the secretive Jewishness.
Staar fteche, may I hope, one will soon:

generally the hidden Jews everywhere in themselves=
It will become clear. That this matter remained secret for so long.
ben, and the attention of people develop=
The ability to do this lies largely in the fact that

that publicity and press freedom have not yet been granted to maintain momentum and the laudable level,

had, which of the same through the unforgettable Be» efficiencies of the prize-winning Berlin monthly

The writer has been accomplished. The most distinguished However, in my opinion, the reason lies in the fact that... fezzen, that this work of sinfternis also outside= i
It was conducted in complete secrecy, and the Jews themselves primarily the secret societies for sneezing=
angles chosen to fit perfectly into the same
my safety, their essence, their snuggly essence to pursue. Anyone who considers this must act just like this.
Mr. Nicolai because of the papacy, that is, because of proclaim of Judaism:

O Judaism, what haft thou to anfwert fort! 111

One can deduce from what has been said above:

nern, that I and my son, before we in= embarked on a structural journey, leading us into the Freemasons' Ordinary to have him recorded, and that my intention therein

*

been, mediates this society into the forbidden=
to penetrate the darkness of secret connections=
Perhaps this will be used for spying.

'explain how Lavater and others honored my worthy namesake and fine colleagues of the same name, Spio=

Accused of kidneys. Doesn't hurt! One explains whatever you want, as long as something good comes of it=
Chet will be: I say with my namesake:

Aliis inferviendo confumor ! – But to the point,
and the intention I had through my recording

The goal that had been set out to achieve has been fully achieved.
was. Initially, I didn't suspect anything.
perceived in this order, and I–

Therefore, there is no shortage of, according to the laudable Bey:
to explain the games of the famous Dr. Beaster=
I have no respect for Freemasonry.

babe, and that it would be very naughty if

Because of what I am about to say, one such a large society against one man
wanted to stir things up. But there are other secrets.
Societies, or so-called inner orders, which man grafted onto Freemasonry, and conveyed telst which one has disfigured the same, and this Not all of them seem above suspicion to me. Rather,
will be in the same, the blindest Judaism

Your sanction has been given, and it is a condition.

j made the attainment of higher supposed levels:

S GE – ;

Yes, the same things happen in which | redlihen .Chriften the sow must shudder. She | have taken their rules of procedure well, of course that one cannot discover everything, cannot fully unpack them= 1
Larvae can, as they are through the irresponsible
They want to achieve their goals by any means necessary: But R
But I have succeeded in capturing the spirit of this secret

Connections that are so close, yet so unknown,

so active, and yet so hidden, to discover, =
and their outcry becomes quite loud, depending on the | Judaism in the secular world a more... 9

or receives an unfavorable impact.

Much has been said about the origin of Frey= |
Freemasons talked and wrote, and some f
Famous writers in our time have Jesuits were credited as the inventors of the same. I believe but with all the modesty that is characteristic of me, be=

to be allowed to claim that I am better at the matter

I saw the reason, and after the investigations

gen, which I employed, since I have many Freemasonic and having read Jewish books, the Freymaau comes rerorden from the Jews, who are known to be from

Spain and Portugal were expelled, and there who sought refuge in England. The truth

There is no mistaking this claim,

if one only looks at all these aspiring orders
* exactly. looks. I would maybe

8

zo DS

take cheap precautions to say something about this;
But since the world-famous Mr. Nicolai was in Berlin, and the equally famous publishers of the Berlin
fchen Monatsschrift, mir mit dem rhrlichen Bey games have proceeded in such a way that they, namely, although fte fallmmtlich auch Freymåurer fin , durch die Ker
zen der Publeitheit, das färchtele Gespück des Frey
have driven away the Masonic oath; so one can now
to speak openly about such things and shout
Ben, what one wants. And now it is everyone's free.
It is known that in their order much of the salo monastic temple, from King Solomon, of King Ziram Abif and similar things
It's being talked about. Where did all this come from?
Isn't that right, from the Old Testament? Why?
The Freemasons have not a single image or hiero
glyph taken from the new one, if those,
who conceived this order, the new testament for just as divine as the old one, and were they not apparently Jews? This is certain.
Something that deserves attention! What will fen all their figurative expressions from the former lie magnificent temple, fine destruction, and the hope to see him restored one day, on=

to show the different fates of the Jewish people, and the hope with which they flattery, once again back to the promised land

— z 51

turn, and there their temple and God-
To see the service restored? And to that end...

Christians bind themselves! For all Freemasons are committed to whether, for the rebuilding of the temple, everything possible contributions. Certainly, these are terrible.
Things! It is further known that the Freemasons
To allow fine ladies into one's company. These little ones appraisal of the other sex, and that one can who are denied access to the lodges is apparently

fudish, in that the Jews also the women, |

Before they are married, not in the synagogue
let them, and afterwards only at a secluded one=

whose locations allow for a position. Primarily, however,

It is viewed on the foreskin, and the women
I was excluded from the Freemasons for that reason only.

fen, because they would not be cut down in the subsequent event.

ten can be. Everywhere in the Freemasonry has so clearly laid out Judaism,

that it is indeed surprising that so much
Men of insight, on the other hand, have been around for so many years.

through which they could be blinded. All names and Words in this secret society are forbidden, he not a single ft Greek or Latin, or from a familiar new language: everyone is from the

taken from the old testament, as is the case with any

is known, and a very special attention=

keit deserves. Sun, moon and stars are

| D 2

52 D

apparently an allusion to Joseph's dream,

as the sun, moon, and stars bow before him

Must. Even in the ceremonies of the lower grades

Judaism is already visible there, and when the

The person who was recorded has a foot in a slipper, and

Just because something is on the other side doesn't change anything.

indicated as already being half a Jew:

for it is known that the Jews frequently in Pan»

Toffeln go to their synagogues. Briefly, where one goes.

who turns to Freemasonry, is the Ran

Absolutely unmistakable.

You have the higher degrees, the 1st

fische Maurerep fekurz in einige Schriften den

Attributed to Jesuits, who said the same after the seven=

They supposedly invented the Years' War. I like

Now I'd like to let everyone have their own opinion;

but I leave it to the public to judge,

whether the most unmistakable traces are not far clearer

of Judaism to be found there? One

Consider that in these higher altitudes there are many Pieces of Judaism, and indeed quite from the

of the most extreme kind, such as the Ark of the Covenant, the

The incense altar, the table with the display breads, the bronze sea, the golden chandelier, the tablets of the law and other such pieces. These are truly=

no Jesuitical, but purely Jewish things=

ge! – Yes, the whole system is set up like that. In

= „

de

U

the oriental knight, (which N perilous

Hints of the Orient, of the promised land Land!) Ezra and Nehemiah appear, the= similar to the River Starbusani, which I believe to be that it is the same as the Sabbath flow of the Jews,

and it tells how, during the rebuilding,
of the temple under King Coresch in one Hold the trowel in one hand, and the sword in the other.

leads. In the sublime philosopher, everything is with filled with Kabbalistic symbols and numbers, and One will not attain higher wisdom

not only dark, but directly focused on the Jewish Kabbalists pointed this out. But can one be right-wing?

to be a Kabbalist without also being a Jew

. fien? Therefore, it will not surprise anyone, that he, through his Kabbalistic cards, before some=

Chandan, who became known in France in recent years

to have truly become a Jew, and to circumcise oneself
Let it be. If you take all of this to heart, you will

I certainly don't want to say that the Jews only started with the Time mixed their hands in masonry to...

through this secret society, Judaism

to spread among the Christians, as can be seen from the Jesuits were told that they were acting in a cunning manner.

Masonry empowered to use the same to the

to convert Protestants to Catholics; but rather one will have to admit that the whole masonry business is a

D 3

54 –

of Spanish and Portuguese Jews here
a writing invention, solely in the intention of he= thought of introducing Jewish ideas among Christians
to bring them, and to make them comfortable.
I'm sorry to have to say it; but by
With all due respect to the Freemasons,
I cannot help but tell the world that in its society=
shaft hidden, and already on the lowest step= to discover visible Judaism, and it should be dear to me, (yes, I urge them so much to do so,
as only the ever-wise Dr. Beastie has called for action regarding the accused (to purify Jesuitism), if they were able to
to prove evidently that they are not secret Jews are. I could say much more about this.
to leave out, and I really had already had one
a very scholarly treatise was written to explain the ver= borrowed Judaism of the Freemasons from the Free=
To prove masonry itself. But I see now, that a certain brother Decius, whom one knows very well knows, and probably even better than Mr. Biefter knows the known unknown Mr. T – y wants to know, in his little book, entitled the Hebrew Mysteries, already taken over this work, and the Jews=
has proven the virtues of Freemasonry. So that one now don't make me the ugly accusation that many to my namesake, Mr. Nicolai in

|

\

N

Berlin, and made it to Mr. Doctor Biester-ben that I had written out other writers,
and nothing but a nasty crow, which is with Having borrowed feathers, I will thank the kind better refer to this little book, whereby I would like to=
I can assure you right away that even if I don't have Despite my display of so much erudition, I am still far from being well-versed.
I brought up some things, babe, and furthermore.
will be. N
Since I was just so happy N
to uncover this terrible secret of wickedness=
cken, before whom every honest Christian the Taut
must shudder at the fact that a certain deeply wounded-
A plan was laid out for the benefit of Judaism.
the Freemasons, and that the Freemasons, who before= take one of all the secret societies that erected for the execution of the same; so felt
I continued my search. My friend had been right.
that I, as a Freemason, give the Paffe-par-tout to all would get secret connections: because they are all offspring of the Freemasons,
partly sprouted from its root,
partly grafted onto the same, or through inocula=
'tion and ablactation produced, as one might say everything on the copper engraving that precedes the book Enlightenment about important Moorish objects=
rey is depicted according to nature, can be seen.
D 4 as

How the tree itself can be procured, I find including its branches and fruits. The often= Famous Dr. Beast has in fine monthly= expressed the wish that a philosopher
a head, but practically something of these | Mysteries know, might show where they come from= Sam find. I hope this. Philosophical head to
to be, and to achieve what he desires
I can, I investigate all these companies for
in order, and was already with me at the masonry Judaism caught my attention; that's how I discovered Densel= ben even more clearly in these alleged In= nern Order. To deal with the Templars and clergy= to begin with the core, since the Knights Templar order was about to the Rosicrucians in Germany; fo
It certainly has the appearance of being an order very Christian. But consider the same only with the right direction and soul's voice=
mung, so one will soon realize that al=
les dieses äuffere. christian beings only mask, and

Judaism, in its crudest form, is behind it.
It is hidden. One has been very wrong if one this secret society was called for such a thing,
who are suspected of being Jesuit. The Jews=
Judaism is what one would have expected.

They should advise. It is world-renowned that the be= | notorious Johnson, who first this BR in

1
N

m 57

Germany spread, a Jew was, and with

His true name was Leucht; yes, it will be

It is now almost universally said that the alleged Ra:
Puziner, whom Baron Hund always had with him,
not a Capuchin, but a real Polish monk=
He was a rabbi who only had the capuchin=
ner=Rock designed to wear the mask of b̂arti=
the Catholic clergyman, the bearded rabbi

the more skillfully to conceal; thus one also knows,

that in the Allied army, in which type of thrust,
the most distinguished spreader of the Templar system,
as a commissioner, he found much in the Seven Years' War
Jews were, and one therefore concludes with good reason Reasons that Baron Zund never again would have made more of a provisional agent if he hadn't known that he was completely from this side would be the same as him; so it was believed that the Knight of the Red Seder, who the Baron Union entered into with the Templar, with the Je=

They had some contact because in the battle

the Portuguese and Spaniards with the Paraguayans Father Lenamez also held a red Seder on the
He had his head: Pranks! Rabbi Catia Sim-

It was 'mokri (German Roth=Seder) whose exact
We will be acquainted with this at the end of the previous made in the year, and at which, however much he felt
He also knows how to turn and twist 51 times, but the
| | D 5

58 gg

Jude peeking out from every corner, just like
by the well-known NMifa du Renis of the Jesuit.
However, a more thorough examination is still needed.
The meaning of the matter? Even the mere name "temple"...
Lord points most clearly to Solomon's Temple. And who is unaware that the Did clergy actually take their name from the Old Testament?
is borrowed, and that the Jewish people in a
a very special sense of the clergy, or the inheritance who wanted to be the Lord's? Where do you think one finds priests, as among the Jews? And if you translate the name Presbyter into Hebrew: so come the Jews=
Sekenim out. Even the ancient temples=
Mr. [name] was under suspicion that they were Christian.
denied and the Mohammedan circumcision had assumed: but I believe that one should erred, and that they were rather the Jewish snowing= have accepted the dung, how could it still be up to today at the Swedish Templars (precisely those of whom one hears in the praised Ber:
The Linschen Monatsschrift noted that they publicly announced their (to show tonsures) something should proceed "that is somewhat related to circumcision.
Looking at the tarpaulins that are in this secret Ge=
It was designed by society, so it is clear from the day,
that Jews are the primary driving force among them

It's so very much about haggling and usury.

and acquisition invested, and that after so many years=
They haven't gone out of fashion yet, which is why
What Jews did when they left Egypt.
The entire internal government of the order is likewise purely Jewish, and the Provincial Council stands before the Sanhedrin, as alike as one egg to another. Also that they gave themselves other names, is apparently jü= disch, since, as is well known, the Jews outside their own=
The Jewish people took another name;
and their clothing, how similar it is to that of those,

which the Jews had to wear during their long night |

Take care! It's true, one has the Templar sy= | stem abschaf: but it is still under another Names have been continued, and as much proves
And the same Judaism! For these new ones
These disguised Templars call themselves knights once again.
of the holy city! Which city might this be?
be? Christians know nothing about a city
above others especially holy, but perhaps Jews,
and this holy city is none other than Jerusalem=
lem. I have the patent for this imaginary
I saw knights, and it tasted just like Judaism, which belongs to the Lord Doctor \ Beasts according to Catholicism to en ges
had appeared.

These knights of the holy city are, however, truly=
no other than the so-called Philaleths,

* x = 8 \ 3 60 ——— —

which, like the famous Berlin monthly magazine, notices, for several years now in Frank= richly haunted, and from there to German=
They have spread throughout the country. They present themselves as...
Christian philosophers; but whoever believes them
wanted to be very simple-minded and short-sighted.
I also believe that the gentlemen of Berlin...
They are mistaken if they consider these philaleths to have passed the exam.
impartial to tools of the ex=fathers woll=
len. They are reliably nothing other than Jews.
I was recently so happy about some hours a completely different key of the damage= chen books of error and tableau naturel to

to get faces, and by means of the same is

I succeeded in uncovering the hidden Judaism of these

to de-seecte, and so it has now become clear,
that among the words Nature, Etre, Supremo, Prouidence, Homme etc. w. all Jewish things

They lie hidden. Those who don't bother to look can read these lengthy books himself, the I'll only go through the German extract, which is under the
The title Magikon was released, and it becomes clear then.
find that the secret sciences, which
These people offer the corrupt, superstitious Ju= Dentistry of the crudest kind, or more learnedly to talk, their silly Kabbalah is, and that everything on the adventurous doctrine of · the outflows from founded on the divine being. Its secret= do in the name of Jehovah, and that they the= same quite peculiar forces and effects at=

laying, bears the most perfect mark of the jüdi= fchen superstition, and is nothing other than the swarming cricket of the Jews about Shemham= = phorash. If fie. say: Tous-ies hommes font des: C-H-R. fo nothing else will be said under this heading=
f stood as Tous les hommes fond of C Hacaniim
- Rabbonim, or quote in German, that all people still once Jewish sages and cabin girls must become.
From all this, one will surely be convinced recognize how harmful and dangerous these books are, a

and to which highly questionable and far-reaching= | the intentions are written, and that one cannot simply say that the Jews and Ju:

denfreunde, with the book 'des. Erreurs und. mit N similar books, and: the whole thing is based on it= denden Projecten zunmenhn, but that They really come from Jews, honorable men to Jews to make it happen, and that all the lords who are with us in the famous Berlin monthly magazine as Phi=
lalethen and Jesuit friends have been specialized, the.
Suspect Mia and Kenis are included, yes.
actually nothing other than real valappit Jus
8 ea

62 -

An unknown author wrote a few years ago=
ren in the famous Berlin monthly magazine

Let the essay be read by the philistines, in which this secret society for a Jesuit=
The invention has been issued. The essay has Sen= sation made, and the more faith found=
the, since the author describes himself as a rose= Kreuzer stated. But as I am convinced, since I During my stay in Regensburg, where really the famous rabbi Isaiah Alexander is alive, and woselbst the most distinguished heads of the Rosicrucians
also live, so already suspicious according to the place= connect, among the Rosicrucians I am on=

let them take it, and do it in the short time of my

Dasseins has come far enough, so he has the matter haven't looked into it as deeply as I have. Because even though the Rosicrucians named their order after Jesus=
To call it an order is merely an empty prelude.
lung, to make the carefree Christians all the more secure
do it, and before they even dream it up, Ju= to cut them out. That's how we know, that the name Jesus is Joshua in Hebrew.
If the Rosicrucians then named their order after Jesus=

They call it an order, but they don't understand it at all.

that he had a relationship with Jesus of Nazareth,
but on Joshua and on the unique return of the Jews into the promised land, which they formerly conquered under Joshua. One cannot get enough Pay attention to the secret cipher language.

To debunk these Jewish proselytizers, who always using completely different terms with the words=
bind. Those who are still on the lowest rungs Standing beside them is the Judaism of roses=
Kreuzer therefore also remains hidden: but it is revealed gradually unfolds into evidence that is a= zig is, especially if you only deal with their nature= priesthood becomes known. Here is the Jewish Priesthood laid bare: for where on= Verse probably had different priests than at the Jews? And isn't this the rod of Aaron, whose: they to use their recording, a completely irresistible thing= legitimate proof from their jådish priest= and Levites? They themselves also lead their order.
from the promised, that is, from a Jewish candela

here, and as far as one can trace their superiors,
up to – up to – you can find them at such places
Places where there is a large Jewish population.
Could it be clearer that the Rosicrucians of
are suspected of Judaism, since they are in the rose= Kreuzerschen Zirttenbrief selbst das auserwählte volt
To call God? A name that the Jews have settled entirely exclusively. But if one considers fully considering that they deal with alchemy, Me:
Give up Kabbalah; now then lies the secret

64 f

Judaism is so clearly visible that only people who
to refuse to see the reasons, to doubt them,
only those who are interested in such things
Things are not discussed, they are denied.

8
“
A 7
f
1
.
.
8
5
2 g
.
2 7%
..:
U
| |
7 1

can. Because alchemy actually belongs to:
at the Jews' house, as one already knows from the
The story of the golden calf cannot be seen: impossible= Moses would have liked to burn it to powder, and as an Aurum potabile or Vitulus potabilis the Ju-to be able to give him a drink if he is not in the
had they learned the secrets of alchemy,
Therefore, all those who are involved with alchemy=
those who have submitted, always suspected of Jewishness
have been. Also the well-known Jew Abraham

Eleazar, on whose books the Rosicrucians based their work:
Invoked by her writings, he was an archrosicist.

It is therefore not possible to say this without great sadness=

to see that Doctor Semler is teaching alchemy= dign. But what is particularly strange is that all Rosicrucian writings (e.g., the Compass of the (Wise) are written in a special cipher,

and if in the same by nature, was Hermetis,

1 python, and similar things are talked about, quite
Other things can be understood under that term. Indeed.
It is also well known that magic actually belongs to the Jews in large numbers, which they had received from the king

Solomon derive, yes, they find: on this abominable
N 2

so eager, and see them as such as the highest level of wisdom, that it even hews= pten, the members of the Sanhedrin had in total must be experienced in magic. From the Cabal We're not even allowed to talk about bala: one is only allowed to...
First, ask the best Jew if the Kabbalah
He heard it at their house, so he will answer with "Yes!"
to tell words and wonders of the Kabbalah=
Len know how through the words: Schabriri, Beriri, Riri, Iri, Ri and J, who were cured of their illnesses,
chased away the Schedims, and all sorts of other great things |
caused by finding. Since alchemy, magic, and cachaça...
dbala lauter jüdifche Sachen find, die zur Verbreitung contributing to Jewish superstition, and to the Rabbis, as beficers of such secret sciences= point out something suspicious; so no person will who could doubt that the Rosicrucians were right
They are bad Jews. Should one, if one encounters such...
Facts of these times, deeper, believe, under Multivitated nations, to be among Christians?
The very famous authors of the Berlin Monthly
The Rosicrucians have written the message

given that they already make up 2187 districts,
j bie together contain 19,683 members.
This important discovery deserves all attention.
Thank you and all thanks. However, these have been included in this.
Deserving men were mistaken in believing that this was the case in all of these

66 u

The money Kreysen had collected was sent to Rome to the
The pope goes, and that the pope is the invisible head who is a Rosicrucian. It's not difficult to see.
that the entire calculation of the district, its sub=
and chief directors are Kabbalistic, and all from the=
The funds collected by Kreysen go directly=
lich to Krakow to the infamous Rabbi Pelanja,
whose exact details we will reveal later.
of last year. From everything the=
It is now quite clear that the roses=
Kreuzer could be nothing other than secretive Jews, and that every Christian who still has all Zaut wants to get away with it, to stand up for himself in the dark creeping gang, which has the trimming knife in=
who already has it in his hand, must carefully guard it.
Does one even see the authentic message from
to the knights and brother-initiates from Asia;
Judaism could not be more clearly revealed.
to be drawn. One should heed the Melchize= deck lodges, the Sanhedrin, the Grand Master, the Chakam Hakolel is the name of the Chancellor of Odes Rofch-hamdabrim, the Visttators, I, Zadick and Pokeach Ibrim, etc. But I leave it to each reader to decide.
To read this strange little book myself. By God!
Judaism is crystal clear. Only about
I am surprised by two pieces, namely that the Ver=
Of these, the initiates from Asia for Jesuits

—

Wait, there you find notoriously Jewish people, and then that He dedicated a fine book to Mr. Bieftern. There was probably The... very deluded, as we can see.
will be. 5 r |

The most dangerous of these of the secret Ju= Denthum's suspect secret societies fi find
But undoubtedly the Illuminati. I, as I on my instructive journey with my first=.

born through Munich happened, opportunity given 1

have, the one so famous in the Illuminati story= Professor Weishaupt of Ingolstadt
to get to know him. Even his alleged baptismal name Adam is very suspicious, especially since the Jews often talk about Adam Kadmon.
However, upon closer examination of the items,
I found that this very Professor Adam Weis haupt, who is not the first of all hommes, but as Adam Kadmon of the Illuminati an important person is, in fact, nothing other than a wire puppet in the hand of certain invisible
Cabins that were finer than one from the east=
Sible chief served, and you are able to do that Ben, to invent the Illuminati system in order to... such a way to put the yoke of the Jewish people on the earth to throw superstition around one's neck. It's about

This is completely correct, as it was according to the judgment of my.

of learned namesakes, Mr. Nicolai
E 2

– Te a FL Er ea ,, – – 2

68 Games:

in Berlin with the Society of Pure Doctrine, behind which, namely, there are supposedly Jesuits who himself of Doctor Urlsperger, who according to the judgment
my namesake, a very weak man shall be, and so it must also be, as ei= have served the ostensible head of state in order to Protesters who might be turning towards freedom of thought= might tend to become zealous protesters, and then, which quite necessarily follows from that, to

to make popes. But I must pay taxes on the

To confess the truth that one concludes very hastily=
It would be true if one only knew Adam Kadmon
because they consider the Illuminati to be secret Jews
wanted to. But there is far more important data available.
Those who leave this beyond all doubt. It has ben fie auch einige des Jefuitismus bezüchtigen wol=

len; but one is greatly mistaken, and Father Frank

in Munich, whose copper engraving is my namesake=

Mr. Nicolai of Berlin in a well-advised

Once the woodcut has incorporated its tear, it will can fully justify themselves against this charge.

In contrast, Judaism is all the more clearly defined.

Illuminati. On the first steps, one will

Of course, I wasn't aware of much of it; however, it was clearer.

It develops from the following. And who can still doubt it, since they are now considered over=

sene materialists and naturalists of the world=

— 0

found? That Judaism and naturalists

Siblings and children are, that's long been settled: and

If one looks at the matter closely; at the reason, then

One will find that Judaism really has nothing to do with anything.

is different from one that supposedly had a revelation

| ßch brüstender und mit gezissen Ceremonien ausftaf=

Deism and Naturalism, as such by the newer theologians who dealt with the Enlightenment

have submitted, has been demonstrably proven. This

The ceremonies are now being held by the Jews, who always attend the Glued to the outside, always the vehicle for just considered it as important as the matter itself, and on the other hand, never been able to grasp the quintessence of it= to truly distill out of religion, with body

and soul. Even if there are some among them |

gives, to be the Kibertines and to get nothing out of everything

to make seem, but these are only dew=
Sneaky words and bait, like the famous ones.
Authors of the Berlin monthly journal speak: the
A Jew will always be a Jew! They go by pari passu, how we scholars talk to the Jesuits. These They also pull, like my namesake with him
has shown its own thoroughness, never to the Jesuits=
times out, even if you tell them a thousand times
Take off your skirt and put on another one, but lead=
ben Jesuits per omnia Sæcula Sæculorum Amen!
The Jews are of the same form, even if they are deaf=
N | E 3 | |

70 - |
söndmal das Kunststückchen üben, was fie, ich

I truly don't know under which Roman

Emperor, who had forbidden them to circumcise,
to exercise; they remain Jews Leolam waed .
But I return to the main point, and so it is.
so it was agreed that the Illuminati, because they Naturalists are, in body and soul, nothing else.
to be, as secret Jews.

But how much is this confirmed when one
into the intentions and the entire system of the Illumi= Naten dares to take a look. Her abßacht if, how Rabbi Adam Weishaupt himself said that To let Christianity exist only in name=
to be, and to substitute reason for him. I I ask whether it is possible for a scripture to contain such a thing.
could make an attack, and whether rather this Intention to clearly prove the secret Judaism= set? One cannot object that that,
what can be put in place of the desecrated Christian=
hum wanted to sit, not Judaism,

but rather it is reason. For besides, that

I demonstrated earlier (see the above=
(gave reasons) that the Jews actually Natura= Lists and also nationalists, so it is

Yes, it's a well-known fact that the Jews...

gion, a reason, yes even Binah and CThoch=ma, that's too German, understanding and wisdom name it. If, therefore, Rabbi, Adam says that He abolished Christianity, and instead the

|

Anyone who wants to introduce reason is nothing other than he spoke of Judaism, which he described through the intends to introduce Illuminati. Even himself

The name Illuminati indicates this. One must to translate it only into Hebrew: the word illu-minare heift in the Hebrew Ur, and an Illuminan Meir is biting, and thus obviously lies in everyone's name. of the famous Rabbi Meir before his eyes. However, fen dies certain people may consider this too sought after=

ten, although a far more forced means the famous authors of the Berlin monthly magazine= have made use of writing with great success, so will I will provide other and more striking data. Among them is none of the least that the

Illuminati of Christ say that he started a revolution=

tion in the Jewish state, or rather the freedom without wanting to establish a revolution. Since now, on such a basis

Know everything that Christians say about Christ,

If it is rejected, then Judaism is laid bare.

how indeed the famous Jewish rabbi

Lipmann in his book Nitzachow precisely this as claimed by Jesus. The illustrations also show...

Minate a presbyter or priest

Grad. But where can you find presbyters, where to go?

who, as among the Jews, among whom they are under the
| e

72 SDS |.

Are Sekenim names well-known enough? Where can you find them?
How could one be a priest like the Jews? How could one?
these priests in their gatherings with flies=
the hair, and a whole high priestly
They are adorned with jewelry from the Old Testament.
have, of course, one in their Scottish knighthood.
Type of supper; but there were their own cakes served with it,
like the Jewish Easter cakes (in Vernacula Maz= Distribute the cakes, and everyone eats them at one table.
sitting, enjoying; so it is quite clear that this

It cannot be a Christian communion, which they even without being a most serious crime in every Christian state= to be happy, not would in their assemblies
may hold; but that it is actually a
The ceremony is. That's how one becomes just that.
this degree through the mystical name Jehovah inaugurated, of which among the Illuminati a
The application is made which affects the Jaish and especially of Kabbalistic origin, except It raises doubts. In order not to be lengthy, I want to
I only know the highest levels among the JL= luminates, which I find, the Magus and the King, to add something. It must be something for everyone.

strangers, that the Illuminati, who had cancelled |
Jeinde der Roskreuzer find, nevertheless in the end

also how they raise magic to its highest level
They keep secrets, they who are themselves the masters of magic |

*

22

Because of so often the. Rosicrucians of the most abominable kind.

Accused of infatuation. But this incomprehensible thing

This soon becomes clear when one considers that in such Suspected secret societies, there are several of them.
that there are mutually conflicting systems and that, as | the profoundly learned and astute Doctor
Beasts noticed somewhere in the monthly magazine,
the same high-ranking unknown superiors, which
a system for a time as a highest fault= Ä
They depicted it in a dignified manner, yet in the end it was itself introduced and commanded. Thus magic was introduced.
Rosicrucians were deemed most reprehensible.
describes, but later into the Illuminati= system introduced. But the invisible hand, which maneuvered in both secret societies, which introduced magic among the Rosicrucians, thereupon

rejected, and then again among the Illuminati |
Introduced, the hand of the hidden one was at work:
lurking Jewish proselytizers who both societies to achieve their aims served, and at which the magic always came.

Solomonic wisdom is being issued. The Ker, or royal degree of the Illuminati, but goes | "aimed at nothing other than rebuilding"

the secular and universal realm, the Jewish university=

Versailles monarchy, with which the Jews now already...
un Jaßrbunderte geßschmöchel haben, welche Wee |
€5 |

is deeply rooted in their religion and after which they still flatter themselves with the hope of,
that one day the whole world would be subject to them will be. And now that I have the hidden Ju= Denthum of the Illuminati system brought to light=
I have pulled it, hopefully it will not harm any human being.
more unclear what Weishaupt meant had, when he says that through him one can a new Philosophy, education, constitution, and Religion would arise, which would be like this= more clearly proven, on nothing other than on the Judaism to be re-established by him-hen can. I could think of a lot of strange things here To cite things, including this one.

heard that they behaved entirely in a Jewish manner
to give special names, some of which are of= fenbar jüdisch find, als Aaron, Philo, Joseph, David, Joshua, Bentharith, etc., which also
of their geography, in which one among ans whose names are Bensabe, Bethsaida, Nazareth, Sebastian, Sodom, and the like. But that That's enough said to prepare the audience for what's to come.
to draw attention to borrowed Judaism, and there

The more I give him these hints, the more I may do so.

I hope that it is my honest intentions and my
Do not misjudge zeal for religion, but rather with
I will honor his applause, as I and my

“3

Sons already from many places, as soon as it is a
I wondered a little loudly that we should bring something about this to light.
would fall, from people of respect in the ge:

taught the world, wrote many letters, and we are encouraged in our glorious efforts =

to continue. 5

Bey fal gestalten Sachen, da es eine falche Men= d

There are secret connections in Germany, where= so many know nothing about it, and many even nothing at all. want to know, and in the same there nothing else, as aimed at the restoration of the Juunthum=

Seeing it is, it can hardly be considered strange by anyone, that it is with this evil creeping in the darkness= I've come an amazing way and met all sorts of people. The facts that What I want to deliver on this topic will not only be confirm even more, found also certainly the high= to arouse the astonishment of all people. It It is known what a stir the strange one caused. The story of the Protestant deacon in the

made in Berlin's monthly magazine, and how fer

as a result, the whole world because of the secret Catholic= must have been filled with fear and terror. But This is nothing compared to the one I gave the ge= tended to tell the audience "and quite ever= the honest Christians with disgust and horror= must fill. The deacon * in * a city, where Jews and Christians live together, an honor= A devout, pious, but extremely weak man, asked

N "

76 –

immersed himself in Christian theology, and in front=

lich the doctrine of the visible realm of the measure= sias on earth, while at the same time the opinion of a general conversion of Jews had put it in his head. To add to the same thing... to contribute, and gradually some youth

In order to convert him, he read many Hebrew books.
dear, and received some books through him,
The Kabbalah, we Jews wanted to make ourselves known.

This man, who is popular with our community

was, was, precisely for that reason of secret mission Naren of Judaism of a certain secret Ge

Society, I don't know anymore if it's Rosicrucianism or the Illuminati were, I believe, the latter, when a tool to act through him, except

They knew how to seize control of him soon,

Dog to make him believe that the old Kabbalah,
which is truly found in the writings of the ancient Rabbi
so much essence made of binen would not yet

had become completely lost, and finally revealed himself.

One can trust him completely, it is still now.

a secret society of unknown fathers hands, which have been in constant use since the time of Solomon

Broken Solge (i.e., true Kabbalah or Tra)

(dition) continued. These besi zze all

Secrets of the Schemhamphorasch, and all powers Solomon mediates the worm Shamir be to sit, and can with the help of spiritual smoke (Ya JN) highlighting the most important effects bring. Now the deacon's zeal was relieved.

flames: he wished to be admitted into society
to become a man. His request was granted.

quickly allowed him to climb the first steps, held Pr =

He was noticed more in the following days; he was taken in by them.
finally to the presbyterate, or priest of Ra-tur, or Melchizedek's level, and one had gradually truly to benefit one's understanding |

Bel knew that he truly believed he felt

a strong spiritual smoke, or the forces of u Cloud column. Now it was entrusted to him to the Ges sellchaft sey wirklich im Befohn des magischen Seuers, which is actually the Shekhinah, which is in the old testimonies about the Ark of the Covenant and taught * him little by little (because you can't learn something like that overnight).

| easy) the big words Emhimpnoretli Chesca ha
To pronounce chaphat. Who was more eager than the Diaconus to reach the level of a Magus"

In an extraordinary meeting, 'weighed 5

he had previously endured hardships and all manner of mortifications,
also some Hebrew prayers unforgotten, was before |

It had been prepared for him, when now his expectation-
The tension was extremely high, from the upper 78

Magus, who was called Chacam Hackokel, opened-not that nobody could get there who was not to the union of Israel, the chosen people= Listen. Who was more saddened now than the deacon?
because there is such shit between him and the Kabbalah= dewand aufgeföhriert fahe? Inmeßfen ward feine Be= kummernis in etwas gehoben, since one opens it to him, that although of non-Israeli origin in could be admitted to the federation if he who wanted to understand circumcision. So cunning.

how one behaved during this lecture, so
The good deacon was extremely distressed.
Shame and religion battled within his soul.
his desire for Kabbalah, without him was able to make up his mind. He was given to finally understand in a cunning way the Be= Cutting does not require an article of faith, son=

derfey eine bloße, although super~~predece~~ Cere= money; he was shown the possibility that he
from a Kabbi associated with the brothers=
ner, who is very skilled in such operations

would be, could be legally trimmed; one assured that he was just as good a Christian.

could remain as before, of which he was warned

various examples of famous Christian scholars,

and who were also very great enlighteners namely, – God knows rightly or with

i ee m

Injustice – he argued: it was proven to him beyond all reason, that also all Ethiopian Christians, who surely Good Christians would not only observe the Sabbath held on, but also cut themselves overall.
let, and after having done so in such a way
His principles were shaken, he was confronted with before, in order to bring him fully to the decision,
It will even be a problem for the Christian Church.
Service rendered, many Jews converted to Christianity returns, and the general conversion of the Jews, and the

The emergence of the Meffianic kingdom accelerates will be able to; and so this poor man was killed.

brought to the point that he really – snowed= he let him. Now he was truly a Jew. without knowing it. His sound judgment was impaired. now completely out of tune, and even if doubts remain ascending him, he suppressed them immediately;

consequence of the blind following which he immediately had praised. N Finally, he was saved by an unexpected arrival. Torn from the dream. In an extraordinary... The meeting was held after an art exhibition. The lichen introduction opened, it was a command of the er= High-ranking superiors entered, that every member a portrait with Hebrew characters, as a Symbol of higher sciences, which Moses and the tablets of the law in one, and the staff

80 –

Moses or the rod of Aaron in the other hand, likewise a woolen breast patch according to Jewish tradition

Manner with the law threads on the bare body should wear. Here, a noble young man tore, who had also lost his foreskin, the Ge= duld aus: er ererehre den Vorsteher s0sein geraj= ten suspicion that far-sighted, dishonest intentions= ten would be hidden in the sintered content, and made the most bitter reproaches to the deacon. The Chairman Steher, who was really a disguised rabbi, wanted to comply with the will of the illustrious superiors and help through all sorts of lame games, But it was no use; the discontented had to

He spoke loudly and too clearly, and the assembly

It went apart in considerable disarray. One He did indeed seek out the disgruntled, and primarily the To win over the deacon, they even wanted to bring him with make known to the tormenting Sabaoth, yes, one loses spoke to him, although it was contrary to all previous customs.

The best thing would be to promote him to Rex. Everything was

In vain, the scales were gone from the Au=

He liked him, he made the bitterest accusations against himself.
about the hasty steps he took, and
He was particularly affected by the loss of his preputial gland.
very much to my heart that he turned it into a heated "Sie" (you/her).

But he fell apart. In his paroxysms, he said many strange things.

3 things: from: one of his relatives who...
4 in

B — i — — —

— — — "ug

OR

— .

cared for during illness, discovered 8 Ent=

They performed the circumcision on him, and found it in his

now unrestricted. a lot of highest= important correspondence. After he recovered

was, he discovered fine relatives on fine Befra=
everything, regretted fine seers, and gave the ver=
There would be room again. — There would be even more.

Adding news about this 1 which but
It is not advisable to publish it now.

If you compare this story with the one about collection which the famous authors the.

The Berlin monthly magazine also features a Protestant=

have made the Constantian deacon famous, so fin=
det man in beyden eine ganz bewundungswehrige Agreement. Several of my acquaintances, which I told them about, therefore they got on the Ge=

thank that there are not two different stories,

but only one and the same would be, and that I myself

either I was mistaken, since according to my story= lung the deacon was circumcised and turned into a Jew=

does, or that the gentlemen from Berlin were mistaken—

ten, since the deacon had been shorn, and he was to Catholics. This would now be most certainly= Discover the place when you find the name and residence=

made the place of the deacon known. But my dis= Creation is just as great in this respect as that of Mr. Berliner, and wouldn't the good deacon

8

82 S—

most mercilessly offended, by his ge= brought into contempt, indeed, then completely
Was he pushed to the ground? Moreover, one can see the man
Nor can he be named against his will. And no
A reasonable person can demand that this

Righteous man, therefore, because he helped others to war= ning of his sad story the general public

had to become known, completely ruined

should be tested. For surely, if one [he]

If he were to name him, his congregation would abandon him, and the children in the streets with singers shouted at him
One should, however, respect my discretion.
and for the sake of love for humanity, this story for us
To be true, I answer with the famous
To Dr. Beaster: Readers! may decide,

Isn't she incredibly cheap?! If, by the way, this

Both stories concern only one person, and I,
or the gentlemen authors of the Berlin monthly magazine
If the writing was mistaken, then I believe,
that this was done by them rather than by me.
Because in the narrative they delivered,
The most striking traces are indeed present.
that the deacon was rather secret Jewish, than into the hands of Catholic proselytizers then seyn müse. Just consider that after her story told to the deacon of tradition talked about; and that's exactly what the Jews are talking about,

which distinguishes the oral law from the written agreement to separate, and to claim of the former that it is distinct from
I write to Mount Sinai, and thus through the Man |
N ner of the large synagogue, except for the present one | have been propagated over time. Consider that what is said about the spiritual smoke, at the same time
It has been translated into Hebrew. Keep in mind that this | magical exorbitant pure Judaism is that the vers
thoughtful words Erahimphoreth and Chexaphchaphat. sich am bestširen aus dem Hebräischen
let the virgin earth be freed from the Lords
Authors of the monthly journal themselves by Afar Besso |
It is widely believed that magical characters are not the Catholics, but probably the Jewish Kabbalists
are peculiar, and that one finally even the deacon |
want to make the Lord Jebaoth acquainted, which:
which is apparently Jewish. Should one, apart from the fact that...
The deacon was also given a haircut.
have; so this may always be fine: for even the youth

They will be on the third and thirtieth day after the Pasha shorn, and it would then come from the tonsure
of the deacon it could be proven that he even They celebrated Easter with the Jews. Should the two stories with the deacon are but one;
So I hope that mine will be free from Judaism which has far stronger reasons for itself than N der Herrn Berliner für sein Katholis=
J 2

F.
,

84. -

mus. But why this thing with the ver= borrowed Judaism so completely passed over, to which mö=
gen wol important and very unexpected causes before= hands that the readers will find themselves,
when they consider what follows.
I don't want to dwell on this story alone.
leave it at that, which I, if they believe very much so= lich is, and into the abominable darkness of so many allows a glimpse into secret connections, but I only know it from others. I myself have on my instructional journey that I took with my firstborn Sohne made his way through northern Germany,
visited a scholar known through his writings,
of which it has almost already been said publicly.
will be that he is not only affiliated with the Jews, son= dern even a real secret Jew, and was
of that class which is in a certain sort of thing=
men Order, must make a vow to misbehave to use sions. This will be the greatest
The sheer number of writings seems incredible. But Therefore, these things are indeed true, reliable.
True. I certainly don't mean to imply anything by that.
pten, that he really is, but only that it is by=
It will soon be publicly stated that he is; meanwhile This man has long been a Christian of two very strange sides suspicious, firstly namely because of the very precise handling of the

Pd

he

o > gerf-colored Jews Moses . Endelssohn, and next= that he and this Jew hatched a plan for a ge= knowledge made generally known works that are based on

I do not want to hurt any person; however, since of
to the same person several suspicious things recently | | have been mentioned *), the same also not at all not with the aforementioned Protestant deacon can be placed in parallel, but probably to Nothing less than gradually

the reasons Christians have believed so far= teach their religion as a watered-down orthodoxy
to ridicule, and on the other hand to advocate for nature=

1. To take a cunning deduction. What a small

The step from there to Judaism requires no more detailed evidence (see above). I would of course have reasonable reservations about this.

to call a thoughtful man, and God knows that

It seems that what he does is still far away=
To act ambiguously requires this.

*) I also just look like the third of the Lord de marees
Notebooks p. 70. that certain people the dear Jews so It is difficult to find that between them and the Jews already a plan for a union of Christians with the Jews=

which was arranged, and what more there is about the Rabbi Moshe Ben Mendel, and those who followed him honor shown to him in his death, whereby the

The aforementioned suspected man...

ö Role ne | |

83

*

86 | EEE

general best, the same of the world somewhat closer to make known, whereby I wish that he

He may justify himself if he can. And this ver=

The thoughtful man is none other than the one among the

Illuminati, recently revealed group= Lucian. That the Illuminati order actually nothing other than a secret plant nursery of the Jews are, I have (see above) so irrefutably proved that one should primarily expose sensitive eyes to light had to close it if one only needed to work on it for a minute.
wanted to doubt. The story with the protestant=
The deacon also proves it, and there are the unmistakable signs are present that these Tragedy not among the Rosicrucians, so much also these otherwise, if one looks for them in the ber=
linschen Monatsschrift fo vortreflich aufgestellten

Criticism judges "the secret Judaism"

thoughtful find; but rather trusted by the Illuminati=
gen. For the idea of the visible kingdom
Christ on earth, whom the deacon followed,
It would be impossible for the Illuminati to obtain their food.
have found, if not these have also been set aside
had a new form of government and state structure to introduce a version. Uniformity is also the woolen breast patch (Jewish Arba Kanfos) with the . Gefezfåden (jûdifch Jizis) aller Vorschölichkeit

after the same, which Weishaupt under the name

to present to the presbyters of a scapular
written, and finally the two lez prove it² .
ten degrees of a Magus and Rex, for which one the apparently wanted to transport the poor deacon.

the same in no other secret society than just in the Illuminati order to the unfortunate swept away by infatuation, to prune oneself
Let it be. Since now not only quite generally
It is believed that this order was founded by the Jews

not devised, but the secret Judaism

who proved themselves from more than one circumstance²
den kannz fo ift wol nichts natürllicher, als der Ver² thought that brother Lucian had also already been to Ju² denthum hinrissen s²ey. But if one considers | Furthermore, that this very suspicious brother Lucian
was recently described to us as a man,
the one that is so extremely related to secret Judaism
extremely happy for the suspected Illuminati Order den ik, that he could not have been this,
if he is not privy to all its secrets²

has been, and that it is impossible that one could be initiated into it without simultaneously being to be cut, as one can see from the previous

The story of poor Diatonus is told; so
The suspicion grows into certainty that brother Lucian in this suspicious society, in which he
So. Weife let in, really.
F 4

88

has been cut down. The Christian German Public kum is therefore very justified in demanding that this Suspicious brother Lucian appears when he does that Berz has, and explained to his fellow Christian citizens,
what levels of the Illuminati order find,

which made him so satisfied with it, and which is why he submitted to circumcision, as the Protestant deacon, if there weren't such a thing
were those who secretly practiced Judaism in the background=
He would explain, if he had the heart,
what these unknown illustrious superiors are, to whom He swore blind obedience if it wasn't Rab=
bees, which were also among the Jews for infallis
bel, and worthy of the blindest obedience
will be, and also the shining titles among them:
Nosi, His Excellency, Surst and Awoseinu, Sichronam Librochah and the like. He proves that that there were no Jews, that he really wasn't the Circumcision in that suspicious society subjected But these declarations must be interpreted= be logical and supported by evidence. It will now be
I will certainly think that such proof is not very convincing.
easy to use, and I also very much wish that Brother Lucian can provide this proof, and himself could fully justify it. But as a experienced in the Oriental languages
The scholar whom I consulted on this matter,

B 89

has proven that this is the cunning of the Jews, with which They know how to hide, even bigger "than these"

Some of the Jesuits. Because, in order not to be mistaken for Jews.

to become known, they should already have been known in the times of Maccabäer invented the unexpected little work of art.
to have, to make oneself preputia in order to. on such cunning ways to slip through happily, and one
One can therefore already foresee how difficult it will be.
the suspect Lucian, who is assigned to the district calming of fine Christian fellow citizens f böchftnöthi- |
to provide conclusive proof.
One is astonished and might well ask if it | truly a Christian scholar "and not even could give a friend of the Enlightenment who could forget himself so much as to turn to Judaism
ten, and rightly wishes that from such an un= 5 seemingly natural fact, more precise circumstances might be delivered. And I was so happy.
been "those of my deceased friend
projected earthquake houses monthly journal to be established = bring, so we would freely and justly the=

have called upon the suspected Nn to come before us
I will appear at the judge's chair, and provide evidence.
ben that he was not a Jew, and then first the Re=

fultat unsnserer Nachforschen und feiner Beweis=

have introduced the guided tour to the public.
But unfortunately! This excellent monthly magazine
5

It didn't come to fruition, also due to my trip=
The description didn't work out; so I just have to...

to take a different path. And there it is,
if anyone still doubted whether it also truly such Protestant enlightened scholars=
ten gibt, der sich des heimlichen Judentums ver=
thoughtfully made, the shortest path here to truth= to get to the point, the mention of the secular and real name of the person under suspicion

My husband's business. The matter will of course also not immediately decided, also the one to be provided | know the most frequently appearing advertisements. But

This prompts the man to come even closer.
to explain the matter clearly and definitively.

And look! Three already printed books.
put me in a position to assist this man at his actual worldly and real framework to | Call it Ye. It is in the addendum to the original writings of the Illuminati have been said,

. that – how sour it will be for me to call the man=

No! But it must be done for the common good.
happened – so – that Mr. Nicolai in Berlin this man if, who 30 of this order ge= hear and in the same content, must be. Furthermore | | has Dr. Stark in his laughter tragedy (to fine defense writing) and Mr. de Marees in m. third 9 this was also said, and also

> -

!

u

| even the religious name of my unfortunate made it known that his namesake was

Among the Illuminati, the brother was called Lucian.

Yes, both of the latter even have plenty of evidence.
brought about the fact that Mr. Nicolai was brought into the highest secret-

niffe dies verdächtigen Illuminatenorden eingewei= bet seyn müsse, weil er s^oonst unmöglich als ein rü=
a rising champion of the same, who even in the first meeting

view, and is most satisfied with this order,

could have been specified. Regarding his not

8. With little astonishment, the Christian now looks German public, that the very man who was so many wonderful books for the purpose of enlightenment

written and published, Sebaldu

| Yrotrhanker, den Bunckel, die Bibliothek, die Kei=
sen, and assured to us all so holy and dear,

that would be the best of the Protestants, so
of the Christian Church, very close to the heart,

who so vehemently opposed all secret societies,
And on which so much was built, unfortunately!

of secret Judaism so extremely suspicious

is. I believe that one can derive from precisely these Writings, and those so often mentioned in the Jesuit matter

my neighbor's unusual and expensive insurance policies= |

mensvetters, might derive a proof that He was not a secret Jew. But since the secret
This man's behavior is becoming increasingly developed

– a

92 –

If it will be, then one cannot judge otherwise,

than that he only wrote those books to...

To gain entry. Whether he was already aware of it.
was, even if the entire profane world did not

knew that he was a member of a secret order

fey; fo hat er doch gegen allen geheime Verbindun=
Gen was warned most emphatically. What can he do?
had a different intention than this,
that no man should ever fall into the trap of believing he belonged re to some secret connection? And the–
The secret connection, which could be otherwise?
be, of which no one should suspect that he Does this include the Illuminati order? Because that If one is merely a Freemason, one usually does so in our time= no longer so anxious to hide. And what could he have a reason, the Illuminati=

must conceal it if he didn't know that which would be so exceptionally dangerous, and he Did he lose his foreskin therein? Now, how

As I have demonstrated above, the Illuminati
who is quite suspicious of secret Judaism is (even if you can't find anyone who's like that)
The Swedish gentlemen in Berlin showed the tonsure
They should have had the circumcision that was done to him
had shown: what they will probably be careful of) there

further from the documents mentioned earlier

* is that my .

\

N

This includes Contentifimus ift, and Brother Lucian

means; so can the secret Judaism of the Lord
Nicolai is not subject to any further doubt.
What remains for his salvation is that he escapes neither prove that the documents are false, or not belonging to the Illuminati order, nor Bru whose name is Lucian; or that he tell us whether one

not really in the same way ahead of contentissisi- |

must become, renounce Christianity, for not really in line with the Mosaic Law to make it binding, not really (and this is the most important and unfortunately! very likely) themselves be had to get it cut. In this last case, it was necessary

he simultaneously revealed to us all the secrets of this.
Give precise information to the captive order, frontm
I wonder if the explanation given in the Scottish Knight's degree or in the Illuminati conductor of the

The origin of Christianity does not stem from the well-known Jewish books Nizachon and Emunah,

Has it been taken? Whether the Illuminati Last Supper not merely a Jewish ceremony for mockery

of Christianity? Whether the robe, the press= |
byter and the flying hairs of the same not after the high priestly jewelry of the ancient Testa-

Were the ments modeled? Whether the scapular wasn't |
Is this really the Jewish Arba Kanfos? Whether the Presbyters not according to the secret cipher language |

would be. ö

.

[

94 TE

What are the Jewish Seckenim called? Especially what is it?

with the Sursten=Magus= and King=Grade of this

What is the significance of this suspicious order?
will be the general and certainly not unjust worry=
derung s0ien. It cannot be expected that Mr.
Nicolai would excuse himself by saying he was allowed to
Do not discover the secrets of the Illuminati order.
He could not swear allegiance to this order; he is and remains a chimera, whereas the well-being of Christian church a real one, and him as a Manne, who so often showed us his faithful warm attachment=
lichkeit in Protestantism assured, a
A doubly important matter. Through empty denial.
No truth can be ignored.
But even my dear namesake
denying it or actually demonstrating that he

He does not belong to the Illuminati order; that is why he is Unfortunately! No less suspicious, since he, which he also kept secret and thereby against all secrets

Societies warned against joining the Freemasons:

Listen. For as I have demonstrated, (see above)
Thus, it is apparently from rabbis who came from Spain and Portugal fled to England have been invented, has also been loud Jewish Images and ceremonies aimed at Chris
The ideas of Judaism are agreeable to mass

cen, until they can finally get them there

– 93

rann, to carry out the conscious operation on oneself
Let it be. | I'm so sorry to say it.
must; so is the suspicion of the secret
Judaism of my framer's cousin only too much= founded, one might call the same as the Illuminati, or to consider them merely as Freemasons. But what

This suspicion has certainly been strengthened.
This man's behavior was very ambiguous. For
As I said (see above), he dealt with the sender.
benen Juden Moses Mendelssohn, von der
It is known that he is the embodiment of all the philosophy that has been presented.

regardless of a stick. He had been a Jew, and up to his
The end remained, in the most precise friend= |
A business relationship has been established. He even makes himself |
no concern about this stick=Jews publicly

to call his friend, and his palm-shaped garb =

to give the predicate of excellence, since I was told the opposite by Christian scholars.
has been told this, and is annoyed that she has been told this in imperial states only granted a toleration

ben.) and what did he need it for long ago?

Years, the exact friendship of this Jew? In Abbot's letters can be found here: with this Ju= den ist der Plan zur Allgemeine deutsche Biblio=
A meeting was arranged at the bar, and he has also been a long-time employee.

Volume Four by Nicolai Reisen. Pages 870, 868.

t
1
9 | ee
8 . C^ei³Ü`W-( ` VA

Employees were involved; one should note, Wi=
Colai, with the help of a Jew, makes the plan into a library, in which, according to all right-wing statements

believing theologians, who undermine Christianity
Ben has been! Isn't he for precisely those reasons?
to further suspect those of secret Judaism=

tig, than Dreykorn, which he for the same reasons=

the (which were subsequently found to be false)
suspected of Catholicism and Jesuitism
What has he done? Look at how Mr. Nicolai in his
The travel description focuses on the fact that in Vienna
I encountered so many French people and only a few Jews.

which will be very useful to the state could and for the tolerance granted to them

(They should have to pay money). Yes, he calls it a but= devout hard-heartedness, that one from Nuremberg the Jews were expelled, and he says they are treated there in a ridiculous and harsh way, and gives the suspicious hint that she formerly belonged to Nuremberg and also had citizenship rights in the Mark).

How does he raise the deacon Rabe to Ansbach, that who translated the Mishnah, and regrets there=

| against the translation of the entire valley=
muds unprinted and Manufeript must remain.

When 8 Nicolai not N the a Catholic 2
ar u.

0 Ptiter band of the tires, 8. 172. %) Twept. Band.
| p. 306,

m een 4 N Bar 97

Book translated, consequently of secret Catholicism
| that made someone suspicious, there would be nothing incriminating in it be. But now this praise of the Mishnah and of the Thalmud extremely suspicious, and unfortunately shows!
clearly indicated that he preferred Judaism to that Christianity is. And what a joy it was for him, when he met Rabbi Isaac in Regensburg
To see Alexander! How will he react?
He was lifted up by him! Yes, he is even praised for being tolerant.

Their way of thinking was praised, just as if the Christians

In Regensburg, they had to consider it a stroke of luck that

The Jew Isaac Alexander, such a tolerant man *

It's ridiculous to still have to tolerate her next to you! So suspicious.
Mr. Nicolai through such statements, which he in fine travels here and there (not always ver=

(inserts) insinuates to everyone who investigates the matter is capable of thinking and not intentionally at the who wants to sleep in the face of imminent danger; so His last behavior makes him...
the new guards play such a big role, even Far more suspicious. Because since they are the same Catholics liten no longer wanted to be tolerated, and | including those "who still adhere to the Protestant doctrine to keep it upright, to ruffle it with all their might,
how the Society of the Pure Doctrine went;
What else is there but Judaism?
But I will tell the interested reader more about this soon.

ö G

98

rather have more to tell. Enough, one should keep these public statements by Mr. Nicolai with his a secret behavior together, since he belonged to the
of secret Judaism so generally suspected belongs to the Illuminati order, and moreover Freemason is, of whom there is also (see (above) it has been proven that they are indeed Jews;
Unfortunately, this is how the secret Judaism of my
However, I can no longer doubt my namesake.
It will be felt. It is up to him, so it is about this.
to explain, clearly and definitively, his innocence
to demonstrate, if he can. If he does not explain himself, so he can, since I have now solved this dangerous matter covers, don't blame anyone, the worst about it to think. But if he explains himself, then he would have thought to discover all things, since when he told the Jew thum for so inclined, and although Mendelssohn already
He was given the circumcision, or in which un visible society he was brought to that with which one is increasingly enabled these secrets of evil extend further to the

To get to the trail. N

One is only surprised by how cheap it is if one sees a Man of such weight, of such connections
nen in the learned world, as Herr Nicolai in Berlin is under such horrific suspicion
As you can see, and I confess for myself that

—
—

It was doubly painful for me. Because there
We are namesakes, and the world is ahead.
According to current orthography, not always the letter C.
differs from a K, so it should be easy to
to cause someone to confuse me with him, me

5 for the one so suspected of secret Judaism Brother Lucian could hold. I believe next,

that we are truly related to each other,
as we also (see above) a striking awn=
To have love with each other, and that warms my heart.
woe betide any Nicolai who spells his name with a C or K should have turned to Judaism.
For as far as I ascend in our genealogy, except for the prophet Balaam 5), who proclaimed the timid talking donkey rides, find all Nicolais * 2
They were enemies of the Jews.

However, this man is not alone in this.
through his secret behavior, through the secret Societies to which he belongs, and through fine:
ambiguous behavior, these bad consequences

*) Readers may wonder how this came about,
that I make the prophet Balaam our ruler.
But Dileam is actually our real family name,
which we later, I believe, in the time of the Reformation, since people so liked the German names translated into Latin and Greek, in Nicola transformed, out of hatred for the Jews,
and so as not to be mistaken for Jews.

G 2

\

I thought I had moved in. I have demonstrated above that this
This evil has spread further than one might think:
And will it still be found unbelievable that fine two closest friends, Dr. Biefter and the senior consistorial councillor Gedike, the secret one

Are Jews no less suspicious? Both Freemasons, indeed the latter even a lodge master! fo lei=
There is no longer a shadow of doubt about the matter.
Moreover, one is familiar with the proselytizing spirit.
the Illuminati, and there Brother Lucian, as a true emissary of the unknown illustrious superiors
in Leipzig, proselytes for Illuminati made sought; should he then have been idle
to be, his nearest friends to the solitary blessed one=
to bring to the chosen people's church?
Moreover, Dr. Stark has the Illumina=
tism of the two editors of the monthly journal
so clearly proven that nothing could be objected to it can be. Even if the statement that the
I stopped taking Jesus seriously in twenty years.
It should be called anti-Christian Judaism did not clearly demonstrate; so everyone who played the gel must know had the opportunity to enter the hidden darkness of the secret= to infiltrate men's societies, the suspicion that also these two men, who were so inclined thoughtful societies belong, and so very much Suspected Lucian Muths and federal relatives

ö a

}

|

|

/

E – | 107 '

find, belonging to the secret Judaism, very to be founded. One cannot object that this was impossible because these two men
the Rofenkreuzers, of which the secret Ju= denthum (see above) has proven to be, from all strength=
ten resists, and in every conceivable way in sought to ruin him in the eyes of the honor-loving world.
Because they themselves told us that the ones at

most opposing societies

but can work for the purposes of the high authorities=

open, and that they have arising from them

Introduce the system as desired, support it, and then remove it again.

to tear down, as they wished for their purposes=

Keep it real. Since now the hidden fathers (Avo= feinu), who direct all secret societies, Ju=

those are, so it follows that the editors of the Monthly magazine that so badly persecutes Rosicrucianism, not to conclude that they found no Jews; one must rather conclude that they are real Jews,
and themselves as dry rods in the hands of the un=
They knew fathers who needed cabins. It

I should be very pleased if she distanced herself from these consequences.

thought they would be able to clean it; however, it is Unfortunately! It is very likely that they are no less f
when the suspicious brother Lucian entered this ge= home societies their lost their Ben!

G 3

102 56

One would be very much mistaken if one of such things, which were so carefully hidden in the dark=
Wollke will demand very clear evidence to maintain this.
One can only glean fragments of it, half-used data.
and deliver fragments; but these will be given to everyone,
who has considered the matter properly, is already sufficient,
to create a perfect whole from it.
Consider how much the Chief Consistory=
rath Gedike of the former Joseph Steblizki in Ober=
assumes that someone who is truly from a Christian

He has become a Jew! He calls his decision a To become Jewish, a heroic faith: he even prefers Judaism to Christianity,
because there is no propaganda and no society
of the pure doctrine, indeed he expresses the highest concern=
a genuine and far-sighted hope that it will soon
I will get to the point where the Jew, because
It is trimmed, it will not be any less valid *).
Certainly, if someone is so advantageous to a had declared, the one who went from Protestantism to the Pope=
thum passed over; so would rightly the home=
The papacy of such a thing leaves no doubt.
be seated. What can one do with these?
highly questionable statements to the advantage of the youth Denthums conclude differently for just such reasons,

*) Berlin Monthly Journal / August 1786. ©. 152 ff.

– 103

than that the Senior Consistorial Councillor Gedike, except for everything

Doubts also arise about the shameful operation itself.

to let go, and is he really a secret Jew?
And if one agrees that Dr. Beast in the year 1782 various months in Silesia (in
(the country where Steblizki still lives) was stopped, and From then on he wrote to his friend Gedike, so it rose the presumption to the certainty that he was there where one because of the close proximity to Poland
can easily find a skilled tailor,
I received the circumcision. Even more will be done.
These assumptions are reinforced when one
The monthly journal of these two gentlemen, something exactly illuminated. One finds not only the namely the praises that Nicolai gave to the Jew Mo= Mendelssohn is attached to this, and to this Jew with Spalding paired together; but this Jew he= also appears as an employee, and delivers a performance.
faz about the Enlightenment, likewise one on= dern, how to work against the ravages=

ten folle *), so works with those gentlemen at the same time

the enlightenment to be carried out among Christians, and his suggestion is followed exactly. Wouldn't every Protestant journalist who has achieved fame
thought of Father Sailer, and one of the same

*) Sept. 1784. Feb. 1787.

G 4

104 –

touching essay on the Enlightenment of his time=
inscribed, and followed fine suggestions,

Rightly suspected of secret feviism
to be, and the Enlightenment a Jesuit Enlightenment

What are they called? So the suspicion is very well-founded that This enlightenment is a Jewish enlightenment, and that the editors of the Berlin monthly magazine,

the one with the Jew Moses Mendelssohn in a so dangerous connection stood, secret youth who are. This suspicion is growing even more,

when one makes various other questionable statements=
considers the monthly publication, as it

Christians are greatly resented for this, indeed, they are even under the Samaritans were placed there because they had attacked the Jews

(not wanting to recognize brothers). Which on=

Firstly, potentially dangerous invitations to Judaism, that

I have absolutely no qualms about being a Jew want to become; one only needs a nice bit of protective money.
to wear down and have a brilliant career ahead of me

one could be a supplier of fines and an entrepreneur.
all factories, chief mint director, yes, the
In fact, he might even become a minister! *) Who can think of that?
not the cheers these gentlemen gave about it= agree that the Jew Moses Mendelssohn in a script on the occasion of the Jewish oath

") May 1785. March 3, 1784. |

*

– | i05

Praise is given, whereby they are so strikingly
To blame Christians, as if they restricted all morals=

fche perfection refers only to Christians.
Yes, it is even considered a proof of greatness of mind.
It was stated that the Jews were consulted, and (follows his chalice). People are already talking about form= licher establishment of individual Jewish towns and villages).

What a far-sighted project! Because it's worried
One could reasonably assume that the protesters were led by the Catholics would be displaced if they were placed in a

could be established in Protestant countries, and has one finds a journalist who presents such a project to the people made pleasant by a popular journal, with

to consider him a secret pope with good reason:

By God! The project with the Jewish villages and Cities, is, where they multiply like rabbits=

ren, even more dangerous, and the editors
the Berlin monthly magazine have distinguished themselves through the Recommendation of the same, of secret Judaism made extremely suspicious. – Shouldn't it be a
every reader attentive to the signs of our times highly perplexing when he finds that in Berlin=

The monthly journal shows that Jews also...
to be very well suited for military service; this will
with a Jew who was under Woldeck's,

5) February 1785. et) January 1788.

and one who served under the Thuna regiment in Served Prussia, proven, and by a Jew,
 who served among the French, in the Soir regiment
 It is said that he served only [in a certain capacity] at his death.
 People of our religion, namely the Jewish one, to wanting to have oneself). This will, however, be far from being realized.
 more alien, when one considers that what the Her=
 The publisher of the monthly journal is only provisionally relieved of the Skill of Jews in military service insinuir= ten, in the year 1788 in Austria, truly from the Jews are executed, where they are gathered by the hundreds to recruit among the troops, and in order not to
 to be rejected, to outwardly turn to Christianity=
 They should confess their faith and be baptized. Therefore, ge= rath man on the very well-founded suspicion that these gentlemen with the Austrian Jews in the
 The most precise connection must be established. And what kind of –
 A band can connect them with the same ones as the Circumcision? Consider the frequent occurrences of – Denials of Christianity, which in Berlin
 fchen Monatsschrift occur, as do the teachings of the Christian Church attacked and ridiculed in it be done; consider that the both Jewish doctors Zerz and Oppenheimer in the Dispute over magnetism and because of the air=

*) August 7785.

falzes des Baron von Sirfchen, 0sofort die beyen |
 Editors of the monthly journal on succurd here=
 are hastened; so can secret Judaism
 These men have no doubt. And they don't Doctor Beaster still last year his ge= taught travel in the company of Berlin Jews Made itzig? But not only their preference

and their inclination towards Judaism, but their actual transgression, and that they are the secret ab- have the vision of pulling us all over with us, to the un- The fact that it raises doubtful certainty is that they even suggested that the Christians | the Jews their churches as a reflection of their God= (should grant services), whereby they at the same time explain that one is far more likely to call the Jew, Mahom= could concede this to Medans and naturalists, than the Catholics. Who doesn't feel that, that Ma= Homodanians and naturalists only appear here pro forma. are cited to protect the Jews, and that One should actually only consider our churches when referring to the latter. want to tidy up? I have, since I want to... upon hearing a foreign suggestion, immediately contacted our Mr. Prelate, one very experienced in history= a man then inquired whether there had ever been a Bey= The possibility exists that Jews in an honest Christian Should the church have held its [constitution]? * February 1784.

108 -,=

But he convinced me otherwise and ensures that such a proposal is only made by people could come from those who were inclined towards Judaism= ren. Where Jews are tolerated, they are permitted- They also have their religious service; they like the same in They hold services in houses or their own synagogues. It is so there is absolutely no reason to give them our Kir= to grant chen, if one does not secretly ab= has the view that they will contest our possession, yes, even drive them out of our churches. Can Is it possible for a person to have such a plan without simultaneously To openly identify as a Jew? Are already those suspected of secret Catholicism= tig, who can advise the Catholics to give God- to hold services in the Protestant churches, in such places where Catholics have no place to have the attitude of their worship; so they must in Truth, those of secret Judaism still Those who advise Christians are far more suspicious can, that they the Jews, who nevertheless their schools and synagogues have turned their churches to God= They should grant service! It is now, after one Having groped in the dark about this for long enough, it is known It has become clear that Doctor Beast is actually that Akatholikus Tolerans is the one who proposed this. than hat, and the secret Judaism of the same This proves it even more.

It truly pains me that I am forced to

I have been, these three men namely as sor=

to make known those of the secret Jew= are highly suspicious. One could easily

came to the conclusion that there were ulterior motives

from my side, the following prevailed: That's how it was The gentlemen. Beasts and Gedike were said to be, that they out of pure greed for profit, they wrote their journal by
They received two Louis d'or for the bow and so

Rum to enrich oneself Pasquille on honest people made; whether they would insure themselves at great expense that they were of the Generally speaking, it's best to write it. That's how it's done.

also my unfortunate, shortened name= made cousin, and blamed him for

with 'fine; travel description, people out of money

Schneuze, since he, as I know for certain, is assured, that he would suffer further harm, even if he immediately

only print on hole-punched paper, and only the

Generally speaking, for the best, so much from Catholics and Jesuits told stories in it. One could just tell me.

do that, and say, I'm just annoyed that I through the travel description of my named vet=
ters at the publication of my travelogue

was prevented; it annoys me that my pro= object because of the Bebenhäuser monthly journal by the Berlin was turned into water "therefore..."

Do I now call these men secret Jews?

f
1
*
1

110

and I have the whole thing with the secret Ju= denthum invented, partly to remind me of that man=

to avenge others, partly to gain some money for myself.
to earn, and mine still has some left=

accompanying travel description and monthly publication to attract more readers. But I solemnly assure you, that there is nothing in all this, but that alone

the danger to the Christian Church and the true
Probably the same one, which is very close to my heart,

This led me to this discovery. Because since all

Christian teachers are asleep, or don't want to see,

Thus, it is the duty of everyone who knows the dangers,
to draw the world's attention to it, and Pu=
Visibility is the only effective means against this.
A terrible illness. I certainly need it too.
not to resort to such a miserable means that I
for my travelogue and monthly journal,
if I were to publish them, to entice readers-to create, Mr. Nicolai with fine travel description=

bung and the gentlemen Gedike and Biester with their monthly magazine made me suspicious. My friends

They reassured me about it long ago, and I understood.

chert that these two works, of which one the

The world might imagine that it is a thorn in my side would be "very soon, that's what would be needed=
the one for which Mr. Nicolai on his Danube journey the Waste paper from Sebaldus Notanker ge=

7

f

– | III

needs, indeed, that they even need a more delightful ending would take: also the Saude and Spener= 5
fche bookstore, because they this end of the Mo=
nature script foreseen, plus such a handy 5

They have chosen a format. So it is certainly not Ge= greed, envy, and revenge, which inspire me, this to announce important discoveries, but also little love for the truth and the best of the Christ chen church, and if you consider me a good-natured one= tough researchers and free-spirited explorers so far

Now, because of unknown things, he is being attacked, can
I watched it calmly. He's a well-known person, after all.
Saying: Whoever speaks the truth will be stoned.

thrown. As a friend of aphorisms, he had
I usually only eat my butter: and barrels of herring.

fezzes monkeys: Aias intervening confumors! but now
I even have this wonderful saying under my Get a petschhaft pierced. It's also with the home=
Jewish Judaism is certainly not an empty fabrication.
I am firmly convinced that everyone who enters the ge= mysterious darkness of secret connections to have had an opportunity to penetrate, in the end in the= Judaism is found everywhere |

have. I also have it in this small print.
It has been so convincingly demonstrated that in the Freemasons' Order,
among the Rosicrucians, Templars, Illumina=
ten, initiates from Asia, in short in alien gehei=

112 | Bb

men societies, it actually depends on the reunion=
The leadership of Judaism is excluded. Clear, and firmly, and irrefutably, I have the reality of the proven clandestine Judaism. – Also, I am aware
I have also been assured by my friends that
Dr. Beast has completely lost his composure, |
when he saw the small print: authentic message Dedicated by the Brother Initiates from Asia
has been, in which the Judaism of this secret |
Connection made known to the world if. I
I could say more about this, but discretion is key.
forbids me from disclosing private letters, and
That's why I don't want to say what many people tell me, |
Famous men in the scholarly world, to whom I My discovery revealed, written about it, and how they encouraged me in my frankness
and to continue with non-profit research.
The only thing I want to mention is that the one before=
Excellent Gessner in Zurich, from whom Mr. Bot-Tinger assures that he is happy that he still Before the end, to see the big beast...
men, so rejoiced, as Jacob rejoiced, Joseph's
I had seen algae face just before it was fine
Ende sincerely regretted that he would not see me.
I got 5 because of my discovery, of which he heard, but even more importantly, what would he do?
had not said if he still had the issue
| | a die= |

NS

,

| 113

Had this little book been experienced! One may only with some necessary direction and soul=

Traveling through Germany to experience the atmosphere will be something everyone can do.
who notices the signs of our times, crystal clear

It is obvious that the matter is secret Judaism approaching, truly not Chimaera, not Earthy=

tung, not a ghost is; but rather that the secret Judaism everywhere is questionable=

has made the first steps, and whoever wrote this little book

Anyone who reads will gladly admit that there is much reason in it=

more so than secret Catholicism has been proven.

And what else could I have delivered?

if something comes out of my projected monthly publication=

would have been. Friends of truth, of enlightenment

The rise of Christianity would be told to me from all places to have gone by the hand with their contributions,
and even told me what was in mixed

It has been discussed in societies, since I now only have everything

I have to take it from within myself. But I do like these.

I don't like to touch the string because, as I said, one shouldn't...

It might easily lead to the conclusion that I had acted against my namesake Nicolai, against beasts and Gedike harbored a personal aversion. God knows, that I hate all personalities, insofar as they are personalities

I found certain characteristics, and that I called these men,

and as such, those of secret Judaism

What I have made suspicious, what I have made public, is merely

>

- rm ö . , .,],,,-«- ..]⁰-0%Ü“!!^e ai au en
\

rr .

.
/

114 —

happened because such deeds are best handled skillfully find, to draw the audience's attention, and it of reality that continues to have an effect in the dark= to convince the evil one. For with the mere Demonstrating is, as one saw at Garve, quite
Not certain. Facts are what matters.
A single fact is capable of changing an entire ball=
to tear down the demonstrations. Furthermore
I solemnly swear that I am free from all animosity
I am completely removed from riandi, and that I merely have this Something that one has only ever heard whispered in one's ear=
Ben may, therefore brought up, in order to discuss this
To give men an opportunity to defend themselves,
and that it will be dear to me if she
to fully justify and demonstrate it in The evidence is that they are not secret Jews. In=
I must, and not without heartfelt emotion.
I have to admit that I don't see how she can get away with it.
so much that speaks against her, and both from their secret behavior as from their public Writings of their Judaism shine forth, who which can be sufficiently justified. Claudius be-called himself when he was accused of secret Catholicism

made him suspicious, of his wife, that she did nothing
I saw something Catholic about him, and that was that. So These gentlemen might also rely on their wives.
fen, that they are not circumcised: and I would

– | 115

even Madame Wicolai, Madame Gedike, the Madame Biefter on discarding such stuff
I'll ask it. But as I said: the case is closed.

diverged. For can the Jews in Portugal and Spain received dispensations from its rabbis.

ten to live in a Christian way; why should what
in Spain and Portugal is also not possible.
Is that possible in Berlin? And if the whole college...
gium medicum in Berlin from these gentlemen a thing

nis laid down, that they still all three their preputium

have; therefore, it is far from certain,
that it is still the same one which she brought from mother

brought to life, since (see above) the Jews the art

to know how to make one again where it is necessary.
What gives me the most hope flattered that these gentlemen felt completely and would be able to justify sufficiently, and what perhaps even the whole world for the most decisive one will be seen as proof that they are not Jews, that is the great zeal they show for Christianity and especially for Protestantism, so often attested

have, and the hatred they harbor against the Catholics

and have employed Jesuits. Should it be possible

It will be said that these men, who so...

ken, fo handeln, fo thätig für die Erhaltung der evan= to dispute gelish doctrine, to belong to the outline of Milah

and were supposed to be secret Jews? I myself...

H2

116 –

This argument was considered completely irrefutable.

But alas! I now see that even this is not enough for them.

can save, but rather an even stronger one.

The reason for the suspicion against her is stated. Because it

It is world-renowned with what zeal the famous

English Lord George Gordon for upholding=

The mobilization of Protestantism in England was contested, so that he, as formerly under Charles II, was given the honor of being granted ...

knew Schaftsbury, the name of the protestant=

The lords would have liked to give. It is known how

He opposed Catholicism so much that under his leadership the London rabble a caused a formal uproar because of the Catholics, and houses were set on fire. It is be= knows with what prophetic vision he everywhere sees the Je= to trace the paths of both Catholics and Catholics, even that he in the ill-fated campaign in America, in which detrimental peace with France, in the abbey=

tung der Holländer von der englishen Alliance, bey

the Dutch unrest, in short, everywhere Catholic=

I saw people liking and maneuvering Jesuits. And this Lord

George Gordon, how has he finally revealed himself?

As a Jew! – as a Jew! His name is Moshe ben Gordon! He is secretly from the Christians=

Thum apostate, and has just the hero of faith=

must have proven that Joseph Steblizki was in Upper Silesia proved it, and had herself circumcised. Truly= tig! This Lord Gordon, who also wore the mask for so long a zealot for Protestantism and the courageous defender of Catholics and Jesuits who had held it in front of his face, suddenly struck everything that could be considered advantageous from this side is destroyed.

my unfortunate cousin, and Dr.

Beasts, and Gedikes may bring forward, and strengthened only more the against the fiercest founded Suspicion. One should consider the behavior of this...

English lords turned into Jews with the Ver-

Those men stick together, and one will be in Plan, and the entire way of thinking, the most accurate

Find agreement, which Dr.

Stark, Wehrlin, and others have shown. Yes.
Even Dr. Beast was hesitant to look at the
to have previously been so suspicious, and subsequently finally known to the whole world as a true Jew

Gordon's become against the Professor to accept Garve, and to ask him if one

I could probably claim that the people were completely wrong.
have and make it pretty likely know (which is all this Gordon has done)

has), that the secret party of Catholics in England now extremely numerous and of great to on matters u *?

*) Berl. Miert Julius 1785. p. 78.
H 3

now this Gordon just like the Berliners for the Protestantism fought, and the Catholics and Jesuits denied it, and yet in the end they were considered a Jew.
 found; will this zeal for the Protestant doctrine, these gentlemen, even if they even so much and so holy bear witness to the same, of which

To acquit suspected secret Jewishness

can, in which they through their secret and open
 Have their behavior become problematic? Yes, this ver= rather, he thought of the horrific example
 This Gordon's greatly increased, and greatly strengthened?
 and not every unbiased person has to be concerned with -religion
 worried readers on the one so close to everyone Thoughts arise that these men, who are with the Georg Gordon agrees on so many points,

like him, the Protestant who is not yet feared anywhere=

Tism is being protected, as he is, the whole world in
 To stir up trouble, as he did, among the Catholics everywhere=
 Ken and Jesuits with the whip on their backs,
 like him, everywhere Catholics and Jesuits machi= niren see, as he, also from the influx of the same on English and Dutch state affairs=
 speak of this, and protect him and his followers.
 to take, precisely those things secretly that Lord George Gordon was, namely secret Jews and after=

Were they allowed to publicly declare that? Yes, they were.

not the greatest reason to suspect that bins

\

— | 119

On both sides the Jews carried on their evil ways, and as Gordon's entire tragicomedy showed,

since Gordon publicly identified himself as Jewish, on that day lies, her work was, so also the tragicomedy,
which Berliners know about the secret Catholics= Must have been given, the work of the Jews? The Ceser may decide whether this is not believable
sey, and whether the suspicion could rise even higher,

as he ascends through that which these gentlemen which they might cite in their justification. What to What is to be expected is that these men will ultimately,

just like Gor, which is similar to them in so many ways=
to put everything aside, to take off the mask and...
They will publicly identify as Jews. It is only to wish that this does not happen only then,

when it is too late, and the evil is already too far gone.

It has taken hold in a way that cannot be cured. I
I hope that, although I consider myself a scholar, I will still

I haven't shown much, but not so much to everyone.
I have lost my name and credit, that one at
I could suspect any base intention;

Rather, everyone who knows me will give me the testimony

to say that I hate all personalities, and that I, out of pure love and zeal for the Christian Church

I wish the world to make this discovery: I wish, too

that the men who practice secret Judaism

have made themselves so suspicious, to distance themselves from everything.

H 4

I thought they might clean with a hairdryer. Because ksn=nen fie but also truly not hurry enough to demonstrate their innocence and the Christian public to publicly calm down, since these things are quite simple=the! have now been brought up, and there was no other way left to warn the world, and they look for those who lurk in secret Jewish proselytizers who always snowed have a dung meter at hand and pay close attention to * as the path of publicity.

Whether I should, as the reader already suspected, start right away. He saw the beginning of my little book, in which there is much A similar situation exists with my namesake in Berlin. I have read many books; that's how I like to think of myself. but not gladly with the actual scholars in I can't get involved in arguments. omitted about the book of Doctor Stark about Crypto-Catholicism (c.) is an important point. to make a move. Since he only looks out for himself alone. He should have defended himself, but he's so brazen. Editor of the Berlin monthly magazine and my= a namesake, as Deists and Naturalists to shout them down and accuse them as if they wanted they introduced naturalism, and had to do so the whole thing about secret Catholicism fabricated. We scholars find this edition problematic. Opinions were very different: some who said it to keep up with the Berliners, have practically taken to it-ptet 5 es fey nicht wahr, fie wären keine Deisten or naturalists, but actually the right-wingers Christians, and Doctor Stark is not acting correctly, that He condemns innocent people; others who are involved with the Orthodox believers said they were natural.

— 121

realists, yes, something even worse, probably even satalipers, And Doctor Stark would have been right to... The church has warned against these people; others have done so. want to step between the two in the middle, and ha=

Ben said, they probably liked naturalists, yes Mate=

Rialistes should be, but it is not right that one should = that's why I say, "one must tell everyone, fine May" Let it be like his hobbyhorse, and even if the gentlemen of Berlin, a Protestant Domi=

If they hadn't dressed up, then they had to be told that.

Don't take our times too badly, "unfree anonymity"

tats Zeiten feyen einem beftanden venetianisischen

Carnival, and they would have also included the gentlemen from Berlin.

That was a bit of a lie, otherwise they wouldn't be so rather than the audience of his Badotism we=

to accuse. I have a completely different opinion: 1

I do not consider the gentlemen from Berlin to be naturalists,

not for materialists, not for dissidents, not for Fatalists: I also don't believe that the matter with a ghost of secret proselytizing, a

Chimaera, 1 is, but it is something very

2 5

123 -

real: I don't believe that Doctor Stark

Rightly done, the gentlemen of Berlin of Naturalismust be charged; I also don't believe that

He would have done wrong if he had not accused her.

My opinion therefore stems from the opinion of everyone.

Scholars who have written about this subject,

Completely off. She is Princely this one. The Lords of Berlin=

They are not of naturalism, but of Suspected of secret Jewishness. If one wants to therefore call them naturalists and say that the Bohemian Deisten with the Bohemian Abraham=-

with whom they would also have been very closely related, and that the tail =Pastor Schulz near Berlin, the

but be a naturalist, to Christianity and Christ=

fto make the accusations that were made against him by the Ju=

I don't have much against them if they were made that way;

then they would be naturalists, because they were Ju=

those are, and could be the edition of the doctor

Starks can best be avoided by...

The more strictly the Mosaic Law is observed,

which naturalistic Jews commonly discuss to put away. The secret prostitution =
Rey is certainly no ghost or fiction; but she

It's not so much Catholicism as the secret Judaism, and everything that belongs to the Lord

Berliners on this occasion are only burdened by

N the certainty that fi . the attention of the public=

— . Æñp-ä^e— . —

— 1323

have withdrawn from the object where is actually the real danger, and it lies on one have led others astray where there is none. [He] called out not la Tûde, when he came from prison to Vin= tennes entwifchte, überlaut: Halt! halt! den Ent= running! Was he himself the runaway?
And finally, Dr. Stark's indictment of the Berliners is very unfair, since he accused her of something= complains, which does not burden them, and against it something was overlooked, which is to their detriment fold, and why he did it regardless of the masks =
right, and although such hidden sa= chen, such as circumcision, is included among the Mask law could be understood, cheaply would have accuse, can and must.

Unfortunately, we live in such times!
where our theologians sleep: It is therefore time that the laymen themselves only take care of the flock, and So it happened that I could not break free=
nen, this abominable secret Judaism, as my important discovery, known to the world:
If one wishes to misunderstand my good intentions,
I reassure myself that I have fulfilled my duty.
fills. The audience will probably recognize from this that... how it differs from my travel description and Mo= to promise a natural document was: because I

babe still has a lot, a great deal in store, with which it will shine= back not yet. Since is. Around the world before=
I have, however, done enough to draw attention to this in the first place.
As I said: perhaps my candor will now cheer you up.
others too. I want a shot and see gui la rama ssera . Should, against all my hope and suspect, but to open our audience's eyes
do not rise, and men and women not come= to close, in order to pull the already drawn from the sheath

to ward off dangerous knives; that's how I calm myself down.

That is, as I said, I have done my duty!

Dixi et falvavi animam meam!

.

a -

-

217

5

Pan

8

.r

.

i

.

.

x

\

.

“

.

.

\

U 0

4

.

5

22

.

•
“
•
– I Tu ng → 2 wu ai. –

– –

1

1
\
4
0 i .
I ER
Ka 1 „ x 3.
>
3 5
. En “ pi * 7
a 6 e *
K 8 1 = Lt ei re –
Pr
ICE = **
“4 N 6 4. 7
28 5 1
77 5 0 En 5
aa
•
e pie. Ar
Be
x
\

•
>
f
;
8
f
*
a 2
1
*
4

ER EMI el 8
– 5 – 3 — FR g = j

FE a rer r 7

—

CE —

—

—

Ag b

a > 12 8

—

This is a reproduction of a library book that was digitized by Google as part of an ongoing effort to preserve the information in books and make it universally accessible.

Google Books

<https://books.google.com>

Google

About this book

This is a digital copy of a book that had been preserved on library shelves for generations. It was carefully scanned as part of a project to make the world's books available online.

The book has outlived copyright and can now be made publicly available. A publicly available book that was never subject to copyright or whose copyright protection period has expired. When this can vary from country to country. Publicly accessible books are our gateway to the past and represents scientific talent that is often difficult to discover.

Traces of use, annotations, and other marginal notes contained in the original volume can be seen. Remembrance of the long journey the book has made from the publisher to a library and on to you.

Terms of Use

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize publicly available material and make them accessible. Publicly accessible books belong to the public, and we are merely making them accessible. This work is costly. To continue providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent unauthorized use. To prevent commercial parties from doing so, this includes technical restrictions on automated queries.

We ask you to comply with the following guidelines:

- + Use of the files for non-commercial purposes. We designed Google Books for end users and not for automated queries. Use files for personal, non-commercial purposes only.

- + No automated queries. Do not send any automated queries of any kind to the Google system, including for machine translation, optical character recognition, or other areas where access to text is restricted. If you find this useful, please contact us. We encourage the use of publicly available material for research. It might help.

- + Retention of Google brand elements The Google "watermark" that you find in every file is important. This project helps users find more material via Google Books. Please do not remove the watermark.

- + Stay within the law. Regardless of your intended use, you must be aware of your responsibilities. To ensure your use is legal, do not assume that a book deemed suitable for users in the US is also suitable for users in other countries. Whether a book is publicly accessible, including to users in other countries, is another matter. It varies from country to country. We cannot advise whether a particular use of a specific book is legal. That is. Don't assume that the appearance of a book in Google Books means it's available for use. It can be used worldwide. Copyright infringement can have serious consequences.

Via Google Books

Google's goal is to organize the world's information and make it universally usable and accessible. Google Booksearch helps readers discover the books of this world and supports authors and publishers. You can search the entire book text on the internet at <http://books.google.com>.

*
PT
4
*
7 8
2
2 Pan

We,
R

egg -

- -U - -

-

NORTH WESTERN UNIVERSITY
LIBRARY

The Gift of

FRED & DORA SCHWITKIS

x

[2

- 3

"u

1

* . - (.
"0

N f

Johann August Starck,

Doctor of Holy Scripture, High Court of Hesse-Darmstadt preacher, len au) Definitor,

above

Crypto= Catholicienus

Jesuitism
secret societies

and

. which he himself from the Derfassen of the Berlin Monthly Journal

made guilt

with

Acts= =Pieces occupied. |

Part I.

Celui la avoit bien raifen, qui a dit le premier, qu'une bonne injure est toujours mieux recue et retenue, qu'un bon raifonnement. Voila la Theorie du Fournalifme trace en deux mots.

MERCIER, Tableau de Paris. Tom. IV. p. 254.

Frankfurt and Leipzig,
by Johann Georg Fleischer, 1287.

Profelhtenmachereh

DE en a in

}

MEN

55 N 15 eee
Io EZ

star

7 5
2

to the public.

It is world-famous, what the bookkeeper
Mr. Friedrich Nikolai in Berlin and the two editors of the Berlin Monthly

Mr. OCR Gedike and Mr. D. wrote

\ Beasts and their anonymous employees feit eini=

in years the Protestant German public=

come from a secret, hideous home=

have told of a treacherous plot which the Catholics to the detriment of the Protestants=

4 2

1 makes, and into which different Protestants j
to engage in the most unscrupulous way

have.

have. Various of the writings of these authors= learn about the most violently attacked men, as
Mr. Doctor Urlfperger, Mr. Diaconus Drey=

Korn, Mr. Preacher Lavater, Mr. Doctor

Sailer, have already spoken out against the one about them= emphatically refuted the scattered defamations, and with the approval of all upright-thinking people, and Readers who are not yet fully convinced are being peed. Yes, to the glory of our century, men are of genius, erudition and noble hearts confessed, who had been subjected to the nonsense that that writing contained actors driven before the eyes of the audience have, emphatically resisted, as if from the Lord Prof. Garve, Mr. GR Jacobi, Mr. Geh. R. Schlosser, Mr. Superintendent De Ma= re'es and others, likewise also from the Ver= barrels of the book, complete elucidation of the This has happened in modern-day Jesuitism.

Here the audience also receives my so long awaited, so often by my friends requested by me, and even more often by the Berlin monthly writers with the largest

Aw

The intrusiveness of my demand for an explanation, since They also show me the undeserved honor of honoring me to place those men at my side, and myself to be a co-conspirator against my church and to the participant of that allegedly ugly to plot.

If it were only about me personally, . I would, regardless of all intrusive advances... They have always remained silent regarding their demands. That's what virtute me involuo is enough for me. Whoever takes me from Anyone who knows about such accusations must be aware of them. and laugh at the accusations: besides, it's my The most complete justification in my writing= ten, which are in everyone's hands, and whoever asks me for Achfels deserves to be able to misjudge the same. flinching, but no reprimand. The one on the right A hardworking and deserving man will not be thereby dishonored that an unknown or evil hand was involved= Throwing mud at a skirt. Me neither. through those personal insults. A Pasquill is taken away and brought before the authorities. hand it over to the author, or the one who wrote it attacked, if one of the two is taken out,

* 3 ange=

can bring about punishment according to merit: but
The citizen mistreated in the Pasquill may...
Therefore, not to justify oneself to the public.
and defend. My luck with time can also through the revelations of my resentment=
The [organization] should not be undermined as long as the [organization] is still [preser Princely House, which I have the fortune to serve have, and that he has shown me his grace and trust
gifted, retains the noble mindset that gave him
It is natural, and they do not deny it.
will be. And what hiker is sure that he not in the middle of the main road by someone who hiding in the bushes, should be able to be attacked and be ruined? But I know,

God's hand is over us all.
According to these convictions of my heart
So I would have had to apply to all my personal prospective Attacks reveal nothing to the audience, or only very little.
I shouldn't say anything. But I am Protestant.
Theologian, and according to the oath I swore
The church has provided, connected, the best of the same.
| to

to promote, and all the harm threatening it
to avert it with my limited strength. and | |
After fulfilling this duty incumbent upon me, I had much There's quite a lot to talk about. I didn't just have the hate= |

personal accusations and charges that one | against me more faithfully, exactly and thoroughly= to refute it; but also everything that the Berlin monthly writer from the secret

Machinations of Catholics for ruin to spread our church throughout the world for good found the consequences that could be expected from it, and the intentions that one has through this new and for

How did our century produce such a striking persecution of heretics?

want to search most thoroughly and accurately for
to examine with my strength and bring into the light |
set. With that I do nothing different, than that which those writers so often, so N
urgent, so emphatic, yes, so bold and unconcerned
have been shamefully asked, and with this I do |
now that which is office, profession and duty, and I
I can add the welfare of my Christian Fellow citizens and the honor of our century
demand of me. * 4 It

This is, as everyone must see, a
The company had been one that invested time, effort and It took patience. But an anecdote teller who he also traveled, although he was not so famous
More of a traveler than Mr. Nikolai was, and in gratitude for the loving upbringing enjoyed in my house=
nahme in Herrn Hofrath Meusels historische Li= (terature) all sorts of things, true, false and untrue= Letting my design move in has indeed been from told me that I have great difficulty in my arse
| to be. That he is guilty of so many untruths
Having said something true, I want to express it through a
a laborious investigation, as this one is, prove and not a single matter of the entire month-Scripture, the crypt= Catholicism and Jesus= must approach, knowingly pass by, without the
to examine closely. The audience therefore receives Here is a completely impartial and positive comment from me.
thorough investigation, as I only ever *
was.

There

j

Volume Y, Second, p. 473.

However, since I had read everything that the | Monthly writer presents this to the public= reflects their reasons, so-called facts and I have gone through the evidence carefully (and I I must confess that, although I am quite inexperienced= dig felt, really in the beginning also so far=
have been overlooked, to believe that it might actually want to (there is probably something to this incredible thing) ö
all the boasting for an adventurous Chi Since I have to explain the fairy tale, I suppose I may say a little fearful=

expect the noise from the urhe= Bern of this Chimaera itself, partly from its an= hangers, partly from those who are taken
and who shouted along, and who find it difficult, to issue a denial now. One will be asked to...
much more to me becoming a secret pope, yes
God knows why not do everything. That's what I'm talking about.
Do not notice me: for I am not all of this; and

There are worse things one can say about me than one

As already mentioned, and probably not the healthy one, but Did the sick public believe this? This Ge=

* will become much larger, since I the
* 5 3 © Waf= |

\

Weapons, with worldly these writers brought ten, the irresponsible charade that they driven by the public, and the intentions,
which they themselves had set up Attempted to reach the poltergeist, exactly under the che, and them fo. Step by step follow that I did not see them at any of their gaits and turns.
I'll take my eyes off things. I can't do this afterward.
I can't speak any differently than I did.
Call the child by its true name, Lü=
gen, lies, malice, malice, pasquils, Pasquille, Schiefheiten und Viñnke, Schiefhei=
ten and vine, without considering a mitigating one,
and under the same, the deeds to the public to name those that can be committed before one's very eyes was not ashamed. But the illness is too | greater than one could continue to use mild means= chen, and the charlatan who fools the audience=
poisons, do not remove the doctor's coat, and him
should portray the world as a stork.
This will surely also be discussed by those Her= raise a pitiful cry, as they pass through y
out of

out with the utmost care and many re
Verenzen want to be treated. I ask, however...
However, every reader should bear in mind that I am from these men, who suck poison out of everything knowledge, gentleness and care as Jesuit Plague would be taken into account.

La Trappe's monastic morality is not the mine, that I, the one who rested me on my still Gange is attacked and abused (according to the story in Ars chenbolzen's beautiful journal located Schil=
La Trappe's edging) still holds the stirrup= |
ten should. And have these writers, who Publicity in Pasquill, freedom of the press in Pressfrech= has transformed, and attacked people,
not with that on all rights of 2.
Have you done anything? 0
So what I expect from these people is... a terrible, raucous scream. She and her But followers have other tricks up their sleeves that may they find much happiness among kind-hearted readers use knowledge. They let the important most difficult things that are set against them,
so

to pass by as if they had never been said= N
re, but hook onto other things, ver=
They spread out over it with much declamation, and |
shift the point of view, pointed out against Mr.
Prof. Garve, Lavatern and Sailern, from Mr. ö
It has been done for Nikolai and Mr. Biefter.
Or they sit on their throne and speak
ab, or cry out that which they do not want= | can be explained as incomplete, or the ver=
stronger than weak. That's how Mr. Nikolai described it.
the excellent, and certainly of much true and demonstrating thorough theological scholarship Letters from the esteemed Superintendent de Marees in Dessau made, and so it will then our German audience was deceived and by the main things in the most artificial way= leads. They accuse the audience of things,
They repeat themselves often, let them through.
Others repeat, and build upon that knowledge.
ter fort, and so the audience is once again ge= exchanges, since the first, on which they green the latter= deten, not even proven. They stel= N len

either by themselves, or through others who guide them
manifold ways have attracted their interest
ben, the things that were set against them= den, already from a disadvantageous or unintentional aspect= tend to light up, and raise against it that which

what is said about them and their followers,
up to heaven; so our German will be restored.
The public was deceived, and is already coming with Prejudices about a book before it is published
had just read it, as if our German Minds themselves do not have the ability to think and to judge, but first to learn from others

They would have to have it prescribed how they think and 10
They should share. 5

I now look forward to all of this, and all the more so since I am not alone in this.
I am undertaking to defend myself and my person= |
gen, fondern fogar fo braft bin, ohne alle Reve=|
to limit these writers the larva from the battle to mature, and to reveal themselves in their true form to the
To present myself to the public. They did indeed... demands; good, one should have me: and what one
to do, and ask that I share the same fate=

*

in me; the reader will find this in this book |
find, namely a sincere protester,
to whom the truth of the Gospel is far more Hearts lie, as our new guardians on the Pinnacle of Zion: a Protestant theologian, |
to whom all steps against fine church, they may be |
They don't have to come from whichever side they want, not at all.
are indifferent, and an open German |
Man who is deeply pained when fine fatherland=|
A dismissive audience, as if it no longer thinks and could judge, by a few people, who when he tries to impose himself on him as an enlightener, he is mocked.
Dia I would like to prepare the audience with the known to the usual ways of these writers

Wait, there are already other men who have their Chimaera opposed, learned from them
Ben: I certainly wouldn't ask the audience to do that.

to be led by her and her followers, son== to judge for themselves. My book is now in fine hands, and it will convince itself of that[≈] a

They can be sure that I didn't say anything I didn't mean.
= be[≈] en „

– —Ä–
..

r u.

no nn

2 proved nothing, denied nothing of which I was not aware

Unfounded convincingly demonstrated, and that true love of life, sincerity, impartiality and the strictest accuracy in citing the drawn places and when citing the words

my opponents, in such a way that I am not a[≈]

I once used a word with the same meaning, me

has always been there for me. And if now... no gentlemen, as expected, with their
When writing comes, let the ö ® be content
The audience is not expecting that it will also be the same again.
read from that side; but hold this now
What they said, together with what I said together again; for it will be. It will be thorough and... to be able to judge correctly.

To avoid exceeding the audience's expectations[≈]
to stop it, even though it now sees what I deliver, I'm annoyed because of his long wait[≈]
I give him [something] that will be considered justified by [something] already the first part of this book now into the Hands, since my process, which I started with the monthly...

writers before the 8th Prussian Chamber= | =

dishes

The court proceedings are not yet concluded. Does it look like this?
This is not yet my actual justification,
So, it already looks like a part of the beginning.

from and in the appendices, for the time being a part of the Court records and the nature of the documents I have a lawsuit filed in Berlin, and it learns the
I know men who slandered me, and with

They played their game with the audience.

second part, which contains my justification,

and on which, with all its might, it was printed by |

will also appear without hesitation.

I pray to God that he grants his Christians the Give the spirit of peace, and defeat all enemies of evangelical truth, they may appear, un= which larva they want, to shame mas

please.

Darmstadt, the 10th.
Junius 1787.

5. about

Dr. Starck.

state of the nation, in which 8 the Dutchman with

Above

. Catholicism, Jesuitism, Proselytizing and secret Ge=
n.

E= will have few appearances in history

of our century, who suddenly so caused much of a stir when the news broke.
from the bookkeeper Nikolai in Berlin and the Authors of the Berlin monthly journal and nearby:
mentlich dem Doctor Biefter, von den Bemühun=
among the Catholics and Jesuits, the Protestants
to bring back under the yoke of the Roman Church=

gen, s0 have been scattered for a few years. Before

For several years, England experienced an almost similar appearance, since the ardent lord
George Gordon in London rose up, from shock=
secret attacks by Catholics on Us
The demise of Protestantism dreamed, in which...

the

·
*

2 On Crypto-Catholicism, Jesuitism,

the French and everywhere in general, wherever

he only saw, hidden tendril of the Papists revealed covered up, bothered the government with his lawsuits,

and finally brought it to the point where a heap of the lowest rabble, inflamed by religious fury, Leine kind of riot aroused, which was at least partly due to the Fires of many houses and the misfortune of many people=

It ended. To the happiness and honor of the nation.

and religion did not prevent this infatuation
For a long time, one could soon see the mental illness of the poor.
blessed author of the same, know fine aftermath=

gen attempts with that indifference and

He shows contempt they deserve, and flatters
now hopes that this new defense=
Diger of faith on Botany Bay fine healing
I will try.

Without even mentioning the bookkeeper
Nikolai and Dr. Biester with Lord
George Gordon in a perfectly parallel to ask, but find very similar concerns from expressed to them, and the whole German Protestant community=

The public is urged, and upon further request=

They were warned most earnestly, about which the Catholics

9

to spread the message and that of its followers

Nor should there be any secret helpers.
"N 2 a [7

and Jesuits to undermine Protestantism
The dangerous noses in the factory should be one on= to have a watchful eye. Do we believe the aftermath?

have tried; so everything teems with secretive

Catholics and Jesuits, and their tools,

those who knowingly and unknowingly contributed to the overthrow of the Protestant Church with restless activity working. In Switzerland and among friends Lavaters are advised to consult Catholic prayer books.
and be scattered; in the Rhine region

chle=

egg

7

7 t 6

Prosecutioneries and secret societies. 3

Silesia (a bad compliment to the Prussians=
(Secure state supervision) should be thousands of the employees.
Followers and promoters of Catholicism are among them.
in the Mark and Pomerania, where a Father Scho=

Renstein abused tolerance, and it is also lacking.

not ); in Mecklenburg, my good one, otherwise be= ner Orthodoxy because of known fatherland, should Boüchst is dangerously allowing Catholic seminaries
95 will themselves be involved in 4 current riots

2 Ä u, in

9 Alein 3280 Obern, and. in total 122,963 people who

—

Pay 33 ducats, that's already 200,000 ducats to date.
the monthly journal (May 1786, p. 447. fl.) from Silesia went to Rome. A large sum, which so"

stolen from the states of the Roosevelt, where about those who were under the supervision of Silesia

entrusted to, should be responsible to the monarch,

and if they are not regarded as negligent servants
want to be the originators of this accusation to N
to provide concrete evidence.

48) S. Nikolai wider Garve p- 124. und Berliner Monats=

Script 1784.

In the recently published preliminary Hersellulg ik.

is among others from Schwerin, my birthplace,
I was told it was a Jesuit planting school. I am
Although he hasn't been in Schwerin for nineteen years, and have not had anything since my mother's death in 1777.
more to the effect that I therefore cannot judge it=
can determine whether it is true what the author says, that Schwerin is a Jesuit planting school. When I was still In my fatherland, the whole country was, so much

I know it, Orthodox Lutheran. Schwerin was the first.

place in the whole country where Catholics have been since the Re=

Government of Duke Christian Ludwig J., who was a Prince Jesses of Montmoreney married, and rarely in his

a country that summoned people to request a religious service. But what for one? In a bad part of the city and above an e In no church, but only in

a

in the Netherlands, the Jesuits and Catholics=

5

—

4 On Crypto-Catholicism, Jewry, |

Like, have a part: and in general, turn to...
Wherever you want to go, you'll find it everywhere.
hated specter before my eyes, the Negotium am-bulans in tenebris, which the Protestant Church called threatens to devour. Everything is, if one is the one= gave these men trust, dangerous and suspicious=

tig. Not only the so-called secret society-squads, as the Freemasons' Order, which had previously been around religion didn't care at all, the order

the so-called Gold and Rosicrucians, the Or:
the divine providence, the Martinists in France and Mesmer's followers, and what even more may exist for genera of the same;
but even the society for the preservation of pure return, and advancement of godliness, which is to uphold the Lutheran religious order Griffes according to the Augsburg Confession connect:
det; felbft die Bemühungen die drey Religions=

to unite parties, (which, if they were the same considered impossible or undesirable by others,

or even considered harmful, nevertheless N out

a cloister at the cathedral, and in the churchyard
Those on the so-called poor side were allowed to bury their dead.
will be, and in complete silence. Have they been asked about the

More freedoms were granted during that time out of Christian tolerance;
was it deemed necessary to provide them with a school?

—

— 5

N

believe that the small part of the Catholic population under

thanen not without lessons grew up, that I don't know.
That the wise and excellent ruler of my fatherland
a seminary, a cozy nest in Missibnen, a
To allow the establishment of a Jesuit school in his country
"Should," is unbelievable, and it is the matter of the insightful.
len Minister dieseese Fürsten, diefenigen, die der Meklen=

burgian government and the country that has existed since the resurrection

mation has always kept itself pure, this disgrace to hang up, to account for this.

Proselytizing and soliciting. 5

can flow from purely intentional reasons :) even the Tolerance is suspicious, and the gentler, more honest ones...

Attitudes of Catholics, which one might call dm

The process of the wise Joseph in the Imperial and other states against the protesters,
are basically nothing more than secret swindlers=
gen, through which they try to ensnare us, ver=
tãtherischye foot traps into which the forglofe Pro=

—

testant selbst rennen fo soll. Ja 0och Naturalismus is not exempt from this: for even these favours the Roman Church in its intentions to

To reach. Everything is suspicious, and whoever you are, you must be.
If one wants to, then no one will ultimately lose themselves.
can trust, since one can do so even without knowing it oneself,
in the ropes of the Roman Pope and his

One can go to emirates. Who doesn't notice this?
the Bourignon, the witches everywhere. to Did you think you could see?

As strange as all this is, and if the alleged facts are true, not only the bitterest hatred against Catholics, who are based on a
such a treacherous way to fool the protesters
and those who, according to the entire Imperial Constitution,

to seek to rob people of their rightful religious freedom,

but also even mistrust and division among

to create the protesters themselves, just as strikingly These news items, when one considers, are from which side, from which regions, from which=

They write to men. From the state

ten of the Prussian monarchy, whose inhabitants
from one side, long since tolerated

and Protestant sentiments are very advantageous=

drawn, and where from the other side little

The most outrageous attacks on honorism in years,
the wieroden, "the en Ba over the Bible,

6 Weber Typology=Catholicism, Jesuitism,

Bible, the annotated edition=
setting of the NT the investigation into the Old Testament, on natural religion and Others of this kind have appeared; from Berlin, where Mr. Lüdke's excellent book about

He wrote about tolerance and freedom of conscience, where...

also naturalists, Jews, Socinians and Frey:
thinkers of all kinds otherwise with the greatest consideration

were treated where WMoses Wendelson the Judaism with some eighth-word sidebars

ken on Christianity and its symbols
theidigen was allowed; and finally from Mr. Nikolai,

not just the publisher, but also the employee=
contributor and editor of the reviews of the general

a German library, which boasts *) through This book, which contains much that is good, but also strongly promoted Soeinianism, to the German:

to have contributed much to the Enlightenment and whose Sebaldu Nothancker the intolerance ge= white is portrayed in a hateful light, and then
From the authors of the Berlin monthly journal!
If in such areas and from such Men on secret Kathlieism, Profelys
Gene makers, Jesuitism sighed and cried out, Everyone who is a Protector and is called a Protector has been warned, and a kind of Inquisition tribunal is being built, which is being used with the most fervent service= eagerly hunts down anything that is even remotely resembling could arouse suspicion of treason, and the suspects or made suspects before fine Fo= rum citiet, um fich gegen die ihnen gemachten 'Ber Defending one's guilt: This is one of them.

. * our .

5 Sour on wet standing in fine proximity spelling

If

- -. — — ung Fi

“

Prosecutor's office and secret societies. 7

When one reads what the worthy gentleman wrote

Prof. Garve, the esteemed and learned

Mr. Superintendent de Mare es, and others

This news is contrasted with: this is how one can
It is probably impossible to refrain from giving the important reason=
those with whom this entire pretense was denied to give the most perfect applause, and s
for chimera, and if one were to put it most mildly

(without regard to the persons from whom it

(originates and is operated) judges, for a trans-

hasty and excessive concern for the well-being of Protestantism. Yes, if one considers the Looking at small things, from which one can often derive the Catholicism tries to pick out what it is, when It is read that a Protestant preacher

to the burden. and he was considered a secret Catholic.

will be shouted because he in his sermons and Kate

Chifations never of the Catholics either with Na men, still thinking according to their doctrines"); yes, if even called upon the Apocalypse for help, and from the same will prove that the animal is from the Abysses, that which was and is not, and how

who will come, and on whose forehead it will be written Is the name: Secret! Actually, the Jesuits and the secret societies, as a means of transportation (means of their rule shall be); who will may contain, the whole pretense for Schwahr
to explain a new Gordon route?
On the other hand, consider the bold reliability
keit, with which these writers are distinguished from the geh men passages and secrets of the Catholics and Je suites just like they soon this, soon that means

A 4 on

2) So not, as Selert almost said: the heretics stately | fchendirt. ö
= Berliner onen Du 1786. p. 436. f.

3 On Crypto-Catholicism, Jesuitism, |

to use in order to appeal to the protesters who
to prevent enlightenment, to promote superstition
dern, and the protesters right there under the yoke
to bow to the Roman bishop, where one fine Power was already largely broken, he thought; so it was 0
It is tempting to think that there is indeed 6
"Perhaps not everything is a complete chimera, fonden
at least some of what has been said is based on fact.
can. Moreover, one is involved in these charges with They acted with an audacity that few its equal is not found, since it is not merely at (Leave the waving alone; but really the person has called sons who have become tools of the Ka^e f should be used by tholiks and Jesuits. A Audacity that expresses the most complete conviction

and must presuppose certainty of what is claimed, and is able to garner applause. And Is the situation really as it is described?
Thus, it is the most dangerous thing that could ever exist;
Distrust and suspicion creep in not only between^e
...to the Protestants and Catholics; but also between individual members of bourgeois society^e scathed, since one understands how the matter is presented;
even without knowing it themselves, to these harms^e |
working for chen purposes, and opposed by the papacy |
can be applied.
I myself have had that fate, not only |
fo, like the excellent Lavater, the good Claudius, |
Doctor Url^fperger, Deacon Dreykorn and an^e |

those, by the authors of the Berlin monthly writing, as a secret promoter of Catholicism
eism, but even as a shorn Catholic^e |
a priest, and as a fourth-class Jesuit to be specified, and the Berlin monthly^e

| fchrifcfeler haben mich zum ME auf ee
tige

u

geofelpienmarheren amd seh. Social gatherings 2

in a tige Weise, and finally with an intrusiveness, 1005
of the audacity, I hope, one for each will shine, urged to confront me against this.
to defend the accusations made by them.
That I lacked no weapons, to be completely^e

to justify oneself against such slander,

Everyone who reads the present scripture will convincingly understand. Meanwhile, I had told everyone the^e
So far, only patience and sweat have been needed against attacks.
Conversely: a behavior that not only
My opponents were embarrassed, who only accused me of the cause hypocritically called for battle in order to...

to be able to pounce on me with greater unbridledness=
not only that, but certainly also many among my friends which has bewildered his acquaintances, and which Perhaps some have been persuaded to ask me where not to condemn outright, but not my cause to consider her as good as she really is, at least to give some credence to those slanderers.
But I have important reasons for this behavior.
I had them, and I now want to share them with my readers.
share.
Already in 1785, when I was not yet

named by name, but only by one -

I knew that I had spoken to Protestant clergymen.
that I, and no other, but myself, meant by it

Be. This was communicated to me from various sources, and even reported from Berlin, and I would have to

had the desire and time for literary wars; so I would immediately defend myself against these accusations.
wrote and defended me, especially since even there Men of renown and learning with their offered pen and all strong assistance. Abet

I thought it better to remain silent for the time being.

9 in patience to 9 1 iu (just where it is Hans

out of

r

10 On Crypto-Catholicism, Jesuitism, 8 \ \

wanted to leave. I hate all literary feuds, wasting time and effort, and in the end getting...

where they can do nothing else but that, where also both parties within the limits of decency
Everyone stays. Part of it, however, retains its audience.
My whole soul was already a feather=
I can't get a vote at all. But with what? (Grudge match)
Should I also get involved with those who...?
how to read the favorable reviews of their scream=
bereyen saw, everywhere their secret hangers
had been sitting, which was my only right hand;
It is also a law that a few righteous people with
had written to me at the same time against my opponents, What would be few against so many? I had it to deal with opponents who were with me back then were completely unknown, and precisely there, when they were secret societies, a nasty danger – raised, under the cover of the Berlin Monthly;

hid the writing, whose two editors were in the=
would excuse themselves by saying that they only started from=
They print what you send them. I

One should therefore only fight against opponents who are:

had been masked: that would be too unequal a party
to have been: For what good is it to the innocent, Medlichen, when he faces fine enemies who are themselves

ter the incognito, like behind an impenetrable

have hidden their shield, with open chest

throws himself back! He is embarking on a high path.

unsafe street where assassins, cowardly and un=

seen from behind the bush, on his honor

Press arrows. I should deal with opponents.
Ben, whose accidents clearly showed it,
that they definitely wanted to have the last word,

and when they, as Professor Garve experienced this= ren, the most egregious reprimands. Nothing further.

r ent

|

*

Prosecutors and eminent societies. 11
to counter this, because in the end with ge=

What residents would call impudence: One sees
It is likely that the author was harassed by Jesuits.
will be. A reasoning that is basically nothing
Says differently than! Think like we do, or we do.
They cry out to you as Jesuits and Jesuit instrument!
Even without knowing it, you can be it! And Should I surrender myself to opponents to whom the
The most good-natured Orthodox, as little as the most sizzling N could escape the most heterodox, which was already before:

from the best evidence for consequences of the Pope

Declaring dispensations? – Where did it ever go?
A judge of old and new times, so far?
Furthermore, I had to deal with opponents who had already provided prior proof that it
They are not at all concerned with truth and integrity to tbun fen. In November 1785, a friend asked by me, entirely without my knowledge, out of self-interest=
I felt my defense was taken over, and to the Doctor Biester wrote. His letter was a Purely private; letter, and not for public consumption.
That's right: Dr. Beast made him highly regarded.
known. And how? So that my friend looked for=
But I complained that one could send his letter
I have misused and distorted. I will not speak out against this.
We'll talk more about it as a result. With such opponents.

Should I get involved? Any justification would only have offered them new material, from

to pounce on me with something new, to tell me my words
twist, and from the most innocent utterances,

as from the aforementioned letter, new poison to suck. Every product would provide new food for them.

been. be. Have five to six lines.

Lavater's entire pages were prompted by Nikolai and with the same new accusations, insults to the

Be: | Ver=

.

12 over dw ah em 3 .

Insults. And who was Doctor?
Beast, the Oberconsiftorial=Rath Gedike and their disguised senders and correspondents, in order to me in front of the in which they had erected themselves

to be brought before a tribunal and held accountable Demand? I am subject only to God and my authority.
Account of my faith and my Guilty of actions; but not of these two me.
nothing to aspiring men and their secret Familiars. How strikingly unjust, however, and a= nem Dr. Juris, und einem Constftorial= Rath, wenn ibnen noch Recht und Equity theür gewesen
would be, but probably necessary as wrong not un=
The demand, which was known, was made against the former fsten right = Principia (Affirmanti incumbit proba-tio) was directed at me: I was to prove, that I am not a Jesult! A demand whose Even the Spanish inquisitors would be ashamed:
the one who is suspected of being Jewish to prove that he is not Jewish! –
Was it possible, advisable, and proper to deal with such

To let my opponents in? – And what was the
The subject of the feud? A cricket, a swear word.

merey, from whom one could hope, and to the honor

Germany had to hope that it would soon come to an end.
have, and that the shy world the unfounded would recognize the same thing himself, especially since the 5

Contradictions will eventually become apparent to everyone.

had to. And wasn't one also allowed to hope that with the tent the secret intentions of all these pros=

would the cedars discover themselves? In an attempt to...

5 But what was all that raging cry of anguish?
A chimera, a slander, fo pump) that everyone who knows me even slightly,

anyone who only glances at my writings W

i
|

— .

2

Dr

100
\

Proselyte-making and secret society. 13

also immediately the unbelievable and contradictory

had to convincingly see, whereby I therefore think Emil was able to, as was the case during the Macedonian War

wrote to the Senate: Vos rumores credulitate

veftra non alatis, quorum auctor nemo exftabit, Therefore, be completely silent, and everything belongs to God and the Time was left to chance. But it was more than that.
as mere literary teasing, mere jour=

aaliften=tapping, it was an honor and a good one

Mamen destructive, personal, poisonous attack,

a formal pasquill that can no longer be expressed through a learned feud mediated, but rather to the best of

brought joy and satisfaction to the authorities,

had to be. And such a pasquill, which ever=
the man of honor and feeling, if it sent to IBM, would be returned with reluctance.
Two men attacked me after I had been shown that I was a sinner.
in their monthly publication, which is held in public honor=

offices stand. A senior confstftorialrat, who with

Tellern, Spalding, Büsching, Silberschlag, Dietrich sits in a college, and a royal
Librarian, who holds a doctorate in law

Shamelessness of a libelli famofi, and the ancestor=

dung, which is based on the diligently participating,
bold dissemination stands, sufficiently known be

I had to! But despite all that, I was still not mentioned. They wrote it to me right away.
Those friends, that I was meant, were made
It finally got so bad that even the public noticed.
had to fall into disrepair, and I could even do it myself.

various places, the actions taken against me

To rule out failures; I still wasn't like that.
I should have reported it and said...
want to dig; so would opponents of such a kind

The old saying always applies: Qui s'excuse, s'accuse?
f against

– N

*

a

14 On Crypto-Catholicism, Jesuitism,

They have asserted against me, for what do they know?
Don't let these people claim everything! and at
The end would still be their way out.
What remained was that I wasn't meant, I

But I suppose I should feel guilty myself. I

So one had to watch patiently until the whole thing was finished.
The measure of intrusiveness is fulfilled and they call me would. No
But for all these reasons that led me to
When they called for serene silence, another one came another, who, despite his most earnest desire, nevertheless would have made it impossible to do anything at all to oppose these people, and this lies in the state of my health since March of last year. I was allowed to do that right away.

flatter that the follies, contradictions and clumsy advances from my opponents from every

Men of understanding and insight

will be, and would not harm one's honor=

that, and I immediately had the pleasure of seeing it,

that despite all these things made against me bold remarks reflect the High Prince's sentiments House, and of the high ministry, my community, and all the righteous people against me, the same they remained as they had been; so I could But in those illnesses, secret and public:

Liberating cabals should by no means remain unfeeling! My

His health steadily declined. He was only sickly. I was still able to perform my duties and business, and finally I fell into a long and difficult An illness that almost ended my earthly life would have brought it to an end. To the insightful council of Mr. Zimmermann's personal mediator in Hanover of the Lord Court Councillor Richter in Göttingen and on= whose deserving men, and the zealous Be=

| mühun=

5 |

7

% .

Pöofelhtenmnacherey und geh. Gefelfschhaften. 23 exercises and insights of my flexible doctors, of Mr. Court Councillor Hoffmann, and of Mr. Re

I owe my gratitude, after God, to the giments feldscheerer Kube.

my recovery, which, however, involved so many

The evil, nourished for months, necessarily very had to proceed slowly. In this situation
So it was impossible for me to defend myself.
to think, but I had to leave it to God,
even if I should stand, my honor and in guilt to save, and the malice and lies most

to expose the repugnant. – But here

I ask my readers to pause for a moment.

ten, and what I just learned from my health-related work experience=
It was said, with another case in parallel to Places. When Moses Mendelssohn died, it was from

Berlin writers Lavatern and Jacobi

Accusations were made as if they were those who were fine
Intrusive incidents that occurred several years ago

demand on Mendelssohn to convert to Christianity
to confess, and this by virtue of his Kefingen,
the friend of Moses, of Spinozism
He is responsible for the death of this man.
pious Lavater and the noble Jacobi shall= ten also executed the Jewish philosopher
ben. And against me, their fellow honorable man, allow= ten those enlightened ones, of nothing but virtue, Religion and righteousness squawking men=
far worse intrusions that my ge=
They murdered health, and brought me to the brink of death.
brought near. Where did you stay then, virtue, Re?

Religion, love of humanity, integrity? – Is this is the product of the pre-existing Enlightenment= rung? Certainly, if the Berlin monthly magazine=

steller and her disguised henchmen dealt with the Jesuits had connected, all enlightenment was lost.

4
N

a'

16 On Crypto-Catholicism, Jesuitism,

to make thoughtful ,so they would have no skill at it= |

They can take core measures. A friend who 4

first taught me that I was from the Mo=

that writers meant to be; advised me immediately

to insert an amendment into the monthly publication
to let, and believed that the publishers of the same= ben could not refuse to read my reply to record it too. But my heart wasn't ready for that.
If it had been agreed, my body would have had it too= permitted under certain circumstances. Can one say that "Don't blame the offended," says Mr. Strobl in his an excellent memorandum, when he argues against the Journalists who insult him, a cheap one=

harbors reluctance to express schadenfreude towards him, Falsehood or at least intentional overreach=

'seizure suspicious belt; shall he now be from the

namely the charlatan who asked him to poison him,

(also request the antidote?)

| As much as I, given all these circumstances enlightened, was forced to remain silent and still to behave in a suffering manner; I was by no means like that.

always inclined to do such things, and my honor ever=

the reckless journalist and whoever else...

The pen was useless for anything, price
to give. As soon as the pasquill would go far:
diehen s0ei, that one may call me by name would, and given the audacity I was allowed to do that my opponents, the longer I remained silent, the more they threatened me.

became bolder, to make sure they were reckoned with; as soon as

I wanted to use those weapons against them,

which means nature and religion, duty and citizenship=

to give them security, ia why me
my opponents themselves by the fact that they 8
"E lie
0 E. weckbrlins gray monster. Volume VI. No. 17.
| Page 213. |

*

f 0

* x

Proselytizing and secret societies. 17

They attacked, and justified their actions. That was the way of the Rightly, the lawsuit in court, as where actually=

lich Pasquille and Injurien belong where guilt

and innocence not from the lecture alone and

the party one has, and the shouting already drawn to the interest of in many ways

journalists and reviewers; but from the cold depends on a bloody legal investigation. The

The path of publicity always remained unimaginable to me afterwards.
denied. This was the plan I had in mind before= had drawn, and from which I also thejeni=

to my friends, to whom my proven ability so far

Silence in the face of such brazen defamation inexplicably, he taught. I have no doubt, that some others in my situation are completely taken aback:

The path would have been taken: but I would have stopped.
After careful consideration, this one was deemed the most appropriate.

As soon as also, when I was called by my first name
had, which in the Julius piece of the Berlin Md=

natsschrift gefchahe, fchtre ich im Ausgang des

Julius to the court case, and complained to me

in a letter addressed to the late Rönig Presentation about the Berlin Monthly Journal=
ler, and asked that they be used as legal proof),

that I am a fourth-class Jesuit, and also

I will incorporate it into my sermons on the priesthood,

be stopped, and if they do not feel such=

| | | ren

9 I am well aware that the Exceptio veritatis derives from the Actione injuriarum in many foci not freed. I was but not inclined to use such legal loopholes= angle to hide my just cause. No, with open forehead, and the calm candor that only who grants innocence, I challenged my opponents themselves to Provide evidence of their injuries.

V

.

*

+

r 6

18 On Crypto-Catholicism, Jesuitism,

could, for public and private=Enough=

They might be condemned. I have...

various precious friends in Berlin, to whom I I would have recommended supporting my cause, or from whom I would at least have learned about it can see under which forum my opponents stood and who I should turn to. But so as not to involve a single one of my friends in the game to bring, and to seek no other assistance than God and my rights aside, and me on none

I refrained from leaning on people's arms.

ches and sent my presentation *) with a

Letters to the Minister, Count von Hertz.

mountain, and asked him to deliver my complaint to that one
to hand over the forum, under which the defamers

hours). – It is, therefore, as it is for everyone,

Anyone who reads these two pieces will understand that...

Untruth, if in the 89th piece of the Gotha=

as was said in the learned newspaper, I had, at

idem Department of Foreign Affairs in Berlin sued. A falsehood, which goes against the greater untruths that my opponents tell against I'm allowed to do something small, but that's why nor will I let her pass by, because she probably from one and the same source, as
All the rest, flows. 3
After God, I am first and foremost to my superiors.
Guilty to answer questions. Truth and justice.
must not be afraid to present oneself to the authorities.
to deliver. Moreover, the pious Prince Ministerium always treated me with so much kindness, that I would have been very ungrateful if I against the same in a personal =
: | and

*) Behlage Lit. A.
) Appendix Lit. B.

,

Proselytizing and secret societies. 19

and the honor of the Princely Service so close=
a matter in progress, not a guilty trust

I should have proven it. So I taught this.
The Princely Ministry is free from all insults,
which the monthly writers had added to me, and (from the step I have now taken against it).

I did this entirely voluntarily, without any ulterior motive.

No minister, nor any other person
In Darmstadt, I only saw it from afar.

demands, yes, only to me through my silence his |

expressed surprise. So it is once again...

a malicious untruth, if in the 8th Stuck of the Gotha Learned Newspapers into the

The world is written into it, the local government would have ordered me to return within 6 weeks to

to be responsible. No such order, not even one!

Even the most distant hint came to me because of this | 8
men. And the malicious dear lady appears quite visibly.

view of the author of that untruth in the addition,
I would have taken responsibility for myself with six Mwo=
nate (and according to others six years) time to do so=
I prayed, but my prayer was rejected. –

To what wretchedness must slander lead?

who ultimately seeks refuge in a fine setting!
The illness and the death that occurred in August
the great monarch somewhat hampered the

The course of business, and I was able to participate in these transactions.
I didn't receive a prompt reply. When I

but those businesses to be somewhat cleared away
I believed, I wrote, however sick I was, that I was out of the woods.

At the end of September, once again to the minister,
Mr. Count von Hergberg ), to my request to bring to mind. My friends see here= 82 | out,

) Appendix Lit. C. | |
) Plague Lit. D,

20 On Soppto-Ratholicism, denten

that I was by no means as indifferent as Perhaps some believed it. My [partner] also had The woman gave her solemn promise if I should die, yet the matter should by no means decline.

to let go, but also to protect her husband's honor
in the grave against the slander of his opponents
to save, in which you already have a noble German woman, the worthy Dr. Reiske of Bornum with proceeded by their glorious example.

I was so happy on the 7th of October, a (Answer) from the great and deserving Mi=

to receive nester, in which the same reported to me, that He the monthly writers with their responsibility=

tung gehört, und dass, da fie sich mit damit aussöuligt,
that she did not intend to offend me=
digen, but only let it be printed, what be= already in a printed book against me
They admitted they deserved some leniency, and I on the way right little against the reach= ten would. But I wanted to file the complaint against They continued, so they stood under the chamber building.
court, to whom I then submitted my statement of claim,
which he sent back to me, to hand over.

I can't help but mention my readers to biebey on the low-level quibbles, falsehood and untruth= heiten, which the monthly writers, these before;
excellent enlighteners of the dark human race,

these self-proclaimed friends of truth, these new

Guardians of the Protestant Church, as the Lord intended them Superintendent de Warces in Dessau is mentioned, and Their henchmen allowed themselves to be attentive against me.
to do. They are shameless enough, as you can see.
to the responsibility of the enlightened minister

The great king's being drawn, then:
You

, Appendix Lit. E.

E

— —^e M—

—' . — — — — — — —

u 4

[4

Peofetptenmacherey und geh. Gefelfchaften. 21

to add, they had not intended to hurt me

to insult me, since I am considered a perjurer against my church, to which I swore an oath when I

Doctor Theologiâ ward, als einen zweideutige N

A man who had so often aroused suspicion, since they

me, a Lutheran preacher, as a secretly shorn priests, as a Je= Fourth-class suites, which went on missions

to use, and to uncover the most hidden tendrils
this order should know, and as one such imagined, who only outwardly appeared to be an enlightened Theo= lodge to be affected, but inwardly to the Pope=

who is devoted to such things, and secretly promotes them, whose sermons were not Protestant, and who
to frequently talk about the priesthood in the same places= tire), who therefore governs as confessor of that one=

the princely house, from which their queen came drilling is, and as court preacher in the Princely seeks to make proselytes at home and at court; there

She would trust me, if she could only do so.
of the Princely House, and my community, yes

to bring honor, good name, bread and happiness=
They were looking for me, but they didn't intend to find me.
To insult? Honestly, more than insulting!

gen -- the intention to destroy me. I ask everyone about the letter ä from W and Gefühl, yes

B3 only

o 1 u que e sup e ...

Schlözer's State Gazette, Volume IX, Issue 34.
See p. 195 to read what the Jesuits said against the Abbé
AZBlarer fñch für fügen und Kalumnien ums J. 1781 erlaubt.
They agree so precisely with those who want to see Berlin=
a monthly writer and her disguised helpers against I allow myself to agree, as if these latter only by those
ga. copied would be. Who might now be more in the shoe?
be educated in the field of Jesuitism, and according to their doctrine=
kungs= and manner of action fñch gebildet haben, ich oder fie?

1 0

—

“

22 about Crypto-Catholicism, Jesuitism,
only the slightest sense of truth and Uprightness, whether one considers the attitude and boss=

Could they drive it higher? And they were ashamed of that.
Men do not trust a minister, like the Lord
Is Count von Hertzberg to be revealed? The:
The boundaries of a scholarly dispute are far from equal.

excessive personal attacks, insults=

Allegations and suspicions were not insults.
Diggings? What do these men have to do?

to make a concept of insults? And with such unrestrained, cheeky mischief, woll=

However, the monthly writers did not intend to Did they have the nerve to insult me? To such elen=

the excuses, whose untruth and falsehood=
Give them their own conscience, if it isn't already there.

had been completely calloused, would have advanced two men attacked, one of whom
a teacher of youth and chief Consistory
Rath, and the other Doctor of Rights and Kb:
The local librarian is. Oh times! Oh customs! o Enlightenment, what kind of game of chance will be played with you driven?!

These two men further apologized.
with the king's minister, that they only to have printed what has already been in another

had stood against me in a printed book.
– This should specifically target the failures that the disguised author of Anti-Wicaise, about which

I will speak at length below, against myself

had done. And would the Berlin monthly= writers made their attacks on me later,

as the disguised author of Anti Nicaise, has= ten fie only print what they in the=
found themselves, and added nothing of the rest=

than; so they would be the truth, which they had,
\\ | if

N

_

=

nn and geh. Gefolghaften. 23

If their pre-emptive glimpses are to be believed, then

It should be dear, in that respect remaining true. However, even before the first part of Anti-Wicaise was published (had appeared), they had already lost all their courage=

a suspicious man who lives in secret society

companies were preoccupied with a secret Jesus=
ten of the fourth grade, who also in his sermons
to speak of the priesthood, to describe; they will unleashed on me, to see me as a two-faced devil=

either themselves, or their anonymous submitter,

here, when that writer slandered me, and far more than the same from the mire of their own ravages brought forth with a coarse heart against me, and what this writer mainly in the second part his already apparent bias
written little work, addressing Jesuitism,

What is brought against me is nothing other than a evil plant on the corrupted soil of Berlin=
grew up in a monthly magazine, or was raised.

They had by no means simply had it printed,

what was already written against me in a printed book

stood, but the excellent minister with
I was completely misled by my false expectations. How

Those men who deserve much faith now do so.
have already come so far as not to be ensnared by such a vine

to be ashamed. That's what the honest, unbiased ones find.
Men who value the truth and the well-being of The Protestant Church is so passionate about this! How

BB4 – lots

9 The first part of the an is in January 1786. and the second part in June 1786. from Leipzig to the Frank further bookstores were sent, and already in

Janner and August Piece 1785. find all these Verun
Insults were leveled against me in the monthly journal have been, which I mentioned earlier babe. a

f
– – ©
1
BER" er 1

Mail carriers had already been doing this for a long time:

* 4

TEN

—

blatant untruths and the most malicious underhanded tactics

24 On Crypto-Catholicism, Zefuitism,

to promise such men who are devoted to their passion
and hypothesis hunting, the feeling of truth

and inner conviction over all concerns:

capable of sacrificing?

From one of the secret followers of the Ber:

The liner Monatsschriftsteller writes himself undisputedly
the 88th and so on piece of the Gotha

The newspaper reported that I was at the Department of Foreign Affairs sued bätte, but referred to the Higher Regional Court every now and then= sen sey. That I am not at the department of the I have already complained about foreign affairs.

as previously demonstrated. But now read the letter of the
To the Count of Sertzberg, to me, sub Tir. E.

And where is my rejection? The noble one
The minister believes that through the untruths of the Mo= writers, as if they only had what was already known from
have been printed elsewhere, have them reprinted,
I overlooked the fact that I was on the path of the serf
nothing could be done against them; he believes,
that they deserved some leniency, since they were he= clarifies, they had not intended to hurt me to offend. But he shows me (why I (had explicitly requested) if I nevertheless the Wanted to take things further, the Inju= forum Riants, namely the Chamber Court, and sends return my statement of claim to me so that I can present it to the commissioner.
to hand over the main dishes. – That is my Rejection from the Department of Foreign Affairs
driving, and my reference to the Chamber Court=

Right! – Isn't it sad, and a great Proof of the decline of morals and religion=

region, when you can't take a step without stepping on

A citizen can expect a great deal of security in this state.

x

to 23 — —

*

* 7

*

to push? And they dare to do that, poor German!
land, your enlighteners, your alleged self-proclaimed=
call Zion's Watchmen 5

Even before I read the pre-planned letter of the...
Mr. Minister, Count von Herzberg, who from dated October ten, I could obtain it, I wrote

on the day of October of the current reigning king

—

Proselyte makers and secret societies. 25.

Your Majesty, as Most High, to whom I personally

I am known to be fortunate enough to have the grace of being granted the gift of grace.

had Most Highnesses themselves at their presence=
s^oenheit in Mietau, and in the year 1785 in Berlin,
where I sent you a letter from the Hereditary Prince= Zen von Hessen=Darmstadt Your Serene Highness one handed over, to be allowed to serve. Both meals.

haben the jezzige large and of fine people from

I prayed that the monarch would grant me many graces;
know, even what I know from my meager literature:

fchen's work published in print, graciously on=

taken. I would therefore consider it my duty, to the monarch for his accession to the throne, my under= to lay the most heartfelt congratulations at their feet. In

To this letter I added the request to continue:
duration of royal grace, in addition: I would also add protection against the Berliners
Monthly writer and specifically Dr.
Beasts, who innocently mistook me for Frey=
m^aur, öffentlich des Jefuitismus befschuldi=

get, and all my temporal luck to un .
I searched for the trench. Because I immediately found it in the unlockings of the masonry my peace=

I found a way, but I have so little.

the slightest trace of Jesuitism, as the Naturalism and Socinianism therein encountered. But since I already knew this thing handed over to the courts of Your Majesty, fo 3

f B77 4-û i

26 On Crypto-Catholicism, Jesuitism,

I, trusting in the well-known Prussian

Justice proceedings calmly conclude:
against. I am not concealing this step, not at all.
than any other I had called for defense

I have done something to wound my honor; I have also done so

No cause. What I wanted to achieve with this was... was this the only one that had already been presented to the monarch before=

to teach so that I can adhere to the highest

The person could turn to the same if one were to oppose it.

| All expectation should deny me the matter to be examined in court. Certainly, anyone who does not

He is reluctant to present his case to any judge,
to have them examined, it doesn't have to be with that.

To be badly off. The secret cabal's

I leave the doing to others. My soul is open;
And there will surely come a time when everything is disguised.

and veil, even if it were under the most glorious...
Blankets wrapped, pick up, and the man as if he is inwardly, but not how he is through hypocrisy,

Beautiful words, and one's own preconception of right=
Creativity and zeal for truth and enlightenment
wants to appear, will be seen, Ä

Soon after I wrote this letter,

I would receive the one from the Count of Herz:

5

mountain, and since I now knew where I was going
I would have had to turn to them with my complaint, and already
I could see what miserable makeshift solutions my Opponents took refuge; so I turned (mid).
with a new, modified, and more detailed

Statement of claim, in which I based my argument on the first one, to the Royal Chamber Court). Informed of this.

I also visited the local Princely Ministry."

Next, I would consider it my duty to the Lord
N 3 | | Grafen

.) S. Beylage Lit. F. | |
9 S. Appendix Lit. G.

– 9,
.

Piofchennaber and oh Sefnfäaften. 27

Counts of Zertzberg, from my chamber:
Courts establish lawsuit, to be notified immediately= (tigen). On November 24th, I received a letter from gten Nov. dated Reserve ) from the King

The Berlin Chamber Court, in which I
It was announced that my lawsuit against the monthly writers accepted, and gave me the
Mr. Court Councillor Michaelis as Justice Commissioner
admittedly, I have power of attorney to sever
would have seen and informed, which would also have immediately

Posted by me on November 27th ***

Here my readers can see the reasons,

who destined me to remain silent for so long, as well as

what motivated me to oppose my opponents and
To take the lawful path against slanderers, and

How did such a thing happen to me? Such a thing?
A true and documented narrative

I always wanted to make that clear to the public.
But I say narrative, not justification.
and defense. Because so much respect i also for the public; so ift doch unfere Deutz

The constitution is not like that of England.

Not the public, but only my superiors.

can hold me accountable. What would happen then?
to emerge, when in our writing-obsessed times
ten, where the wickedness and insolence of some

N writer has risen to the highest, and where, ever

The more true scholarship decreases, the more the tiny, inconsiderable scribbles and Brochures pile up, every man who is married renãmtern fits, and fine time fine businesses wid=
one must, should be obliged, to respond to each Ca=
lumnist,

*) Appendix Lit. H,
2% Supplement Lit. J.
*) S. Beylage Lit. K.

“

28 On Spt Sarhaiismu gef;

lumnie, who was a spiteful Stribler against him 180
 The public finds it good to spread the word, and on each one;
 of the Pasquill, which a wretched hand against him= strikes, as in response to a court indictment before the
 "Had to justify and defend the audience?"
 That the audience to which these pasquils we who have scattered me, to his satisfaction
 I would receive such a message from myself, let
 I in the 9th piece of the Gotha newspaper one move, as soon as I see them in the same against me=
 I had read scattered untruths. I explain.
 but at the same time, and my unbiased readers will
 it from what I have told them so far, by itself to realize that hasty advice and judgment are not the best course of action.
 of the anonymous writer in the 89th piece
 the Gotha newspaper, which itself spread its who concludes with blatant untruths: It would better and much to be desired if Lord
 Starck preferred to remain in the face of everything
 I might defend the public! I'm afraid to do that.
 I like it. I'm old enough to advise myself,
 However, I take it from everyone to whom I openly go—can look at the view, gratefully accepting any advice, not
 'but from a masked man who, if you look at him
 Even when he lifts the visor, he still hasn't gotten out.
 who dares to go incognito, namely from the minor cause, because he was pursuing his intrusive revenge had prefaced it with a blatant lie, in which ti:
 one immediately recognizes the fine consortium that who swore my downfall. Before I could even:
 had taken the path I had chosen after the
 to necessarily address the entire situation
 I had to, could, and wanted to do something like that too:
 do not give the message to the public, and after I took that path 3 * ö .
 U.N

j
 2

Proselytizing and secret societies. = 9

and I was allowed, as is easy to see, to follow the course Do not prejudge the matter in court for the time being. In= The audience now receives that in between
 from me, what I had promised to present to him,
 a convoluted narrative, which was told by the Berliners Monthly writers, their assistants, partners and Unfounded accusations made against me by affiliates

and added highly sensitive insults and what I can do to save my honor and I could and had to do innocent things, even after
I have done with my strength. But it receives auth
The audience simultaneously receives a detailed discussion of the Question: What of the alleged efforts of Catholics and Jesuits to the detriment of the
| To maintain Protestantism, which I found helpful at that time ≠
Work was so close to the path, and which I considered a provost. Perhaps theologians were expecting≠ tet – – and could rightly expect en. 22

Over 10 alleged crypto≠
Catholicism.

–
*
2

The penultimate century, as is well known, ended with a tragedy to which the theologian and the Historian of church history, still | nothing but with sadness and regret:
can see backs, namely with the so-called

Crypto-Caboinian unrest, which occurred around the year

g 1570. by Peucern, Melanchthon's in-law≠ son, and various theologians on both Universities of Wittenberg and Leipzig were excited≠
den. Absences, expulsions and kite various theologians, Peucers long

| un

30 about the alleged Krypto≠

difficult and harsh captivity, and finally

The consequences of Chancellor Crell's beheading were

this unfortunate dispute, which also caused many internal, fierce disputes within the Lutheran Church

which drew the spirits of the two Protestants

fchen Kitchen, the Lutheran and Reformed, still further and further apart, and even the
The Reformed Church has grown noticeably faster.
dern helped. However, this whole dispute is so sad.
fo wol in Ans~~o~~espekt der Mann er führung wurde,
than in view of its effects and consequences;
So, the opponents of so-called crypto profit from this!
Some apology to Calvinists. Those times
Those were the times of lively polemics; people=
Friendly tolerance, Christian forbearance was a Virtue, which is still very much unheard of among theologians was known, and which one could not easily practice, without arousing suspicion. Luther's zeal against the Sacramentarians, as he called the friends Zwing=
The practice of referring to li's and Calvin's still rested on fine students to the fullest extent. But it wasn't A secret hunt for the squirrels was launched; no one felt it.
Following all possible traces of Calvinism, I reached for every weak, insignificant and unfounded |
Appearances arose, and made falsehoods into truths.
Things, realities from appearances, from uncertainty= Certainty in matters of doubt and doubt. Man did not argue until there was sufficient reason
had. In the stereoma and various others:
The writings apparently contained the teachings of Re;
formed by the person of Christ and the holy 9

The Eucharist was favored. The exorcism, in which

Back then, people were very hung up, were taken away, a new catechisms favoring the reformed doctrine= 2

mus, yes, a new edition of the Bible with annotations

| kungen,

U

7

121

Kathoftism. 3

The sentences that had the same purpose became one.

led, and other such steps were taken=

men, who are the followers of pure Lutheranism

Teaching term, also probably in better and milder terms.

The times could have been worrying. 9. The

The Lutheran Church has probably existed for more than one year.

founded half a century ago and had its ardent followers; but Luther's collaborators at Reformation works, Melanchthon, had after his death in the later editions of the amended Augsburg Confession and distinguished=

lich of the Corporis Doctrinæ, the reformed dehr=

concept of the person of Christ and the holy evening

once very kindly declared, and Melanchthon's

'Students and friends were certainly no less more numerous than Luther's. Sadly, that's something.

her humer that crypto, Calvinist dispute was, so few

) And yet Mr. Nikolai mentions Appendix Volume VII, p. 133

It's just a spectre of crypto-Calvinism, which the Electorate of Saxony was plunged into panic and fear babe. But he considers his crypto-Catholicism to be fo true, and the danger to the poor protesters was so extreme= so large and present that no human being could see it anymore. fiber is, even without knowing it, from the Jesuits ges to be swindled. But there were still facts there. available; but here nothing but long-known, only fresh applied things, which are partly in the nature of the Ka= Tholian religion, probably also in earlier times could have an even stronger effect; or they are slanders, Untruths, baseless assumptions, twisting of words= gen and letter hunting. Even if one also Mr. Nikolai could not be suspected of any particular intentions that determined him, this terrible bogeyman to terrorize the weak and to provoke the anger of the reasonable, one would have to Regarding those statements about the crypto=Calvi= nism has come to the conclusion that it is the case with him (puen müsse.

32 5 About the alleged crypto= j

There was little that was strange in deniselben and the dabcy, performances that have taken place in our time of ge= 'moderate thinking men' will be disapproved of, have in the times, the people, and the situation My sincere apologies for everything.

This is not the case with the alleged | Crypto= Catholicism, on which now at the end: course of the present century by Mr. Nikolai, the editor of the Berlin Monthly= Writing and her accomplices are being hunted down. A Kezzer hunt, which, frankly, as far as I know, still for not a single one of the attacked and inmates= They considered the adverse consequences that had resulted from that Crypto=Calvinist dispute had, and that too with a reasonable and moderate way of thinking the regents are difficult to procure, but about which our descendants will inherit far more than just... to shrug their shoulders and shake their heads; Because what one should never expect, what ever: a man who cannot read the writings that are in all hands find, could convince, for a mare= cen would maintain that one in our enlightened Times when the old spirit of discord among Pros 0 to decline among Christians and Catholics, and Both parties should be milder and more honest towards each other. the thinking and acting, the extinguished fire of | new things are being stirred up, dangerous for Catholics and for us

'Between the appearance of tolerance, a hidden tendril: |
measures, traversed all regions of Germany and weathered to trace the once discovered=

posed, and probably in George Gordon's .
To find the hypothesis generated first by the head,
eagerly grabbed what he had found, and decorated it.
and now the self-invented phantom of the world before eyes alerted to terrible dangers 9

*

—

*

—

— + .
+ ö JJ a nie an a ² ee

— K

*

Catholicism. 33

Hatred and a spirit of persecution among the dissenting

Partheyen scattered anew, and the Prote= stantiseen communities themselves mistrust and suspicion=
live against their teachers and among themselves=

flößen s⁰ucht, diese süschliche Erektion we experience

in our times, where every young man already from:
clarification is black and wiser and cleverer than his believes himself to be an older ancestor.

If one considers the entire literary, religious and political situation of the protesters and the procurement=

The work of Catholicism in our times; so it is Perhaps nothing is more baseless than that pretense which is made by Mr. Nikolai and the authors of the Berlin Monthly magazine with highly studied anxiety on all noise places, is announced, and the fear,

They, they may know best what kind of... ° Reasons to try to teach the protesters,

very untimely, if not entirely unfounded. One is afraid of a ghost that either doesn't exist at all not existed, or where it should exist, very little or can't hurt at all. I'd like to...

There is a reason why our enlightenment is not yet complete.
has come far more than some enlightenment enthusiasts Writers might wish it: for if we
the degree of their desired degree=

Had the Enlightenment been achieved, it would certainly have been possible to very little of our entire Christianity remains stay. Our great Enlightenment thinkers have already the deity Christ, whose dear teachings are to every Christian

of satisfaction and several other pieces

>

'attempted to rationalize away our religion, and after their intentions to be properly enlightened protesters, Christianity had to descend into a barren rationality=

religion, or to say outright, in the Na=

| Turalism will be undone. But have we

8 equals

eo

Thank goodness for this dizzying height! Not yet.

.

U 5 1

34 about the alleged crypto=

achieved, and is also, as long as true and thorough theological scholarship among us

We have little hope of receiving it; that's how we are.
but certainly not so enlightened that it is so easy

It would be necessary to concern the Roman theology with find our way in, and Protestantism under

They will dig, and collapse. None of it.

what Lutheran theologians formerly called

The concerns about crypto-Calvinism are not without reason.

made, finds in our times in view of the Catholicism instead. Not a single one of our theologians.

gen of reputation and its pupil, has still declared to the advantage of Catholicism, as by Melanchthon, the Wittenberg and Leipzig

what happened to theologians with regard to Calvinism, and what one can thankfully cite, and which proved to be sought to reflect the facts to the public,

I will bring it into the light later. In no one's way.
The number of our religious books is, as it was back then with the Augsburg Confession and the Corpore
doctrinae happened, the least of which happened to Catholicism
Nowhere has a beneficial change been made.

One incorporates Catholic customs into the service of God.

led, or such a change to Bor part of this religious party undertaken, as with what happened to the exorcism back then. Luther's Kas Techism is still present in all our schools, little=

Religious education serves as the foundation. We Unfortunately, some Bibles have annotations that...
Socinianism and Naturalism favor,

and against which none of our new Zion has yet guard warned from his vantage point whether

They are no less concerned with Protestantism=
dig; but not a single one with remarks yet.

—

*

for the

* —5 — a ne © Mn a. Fi Aa Fi

— ET

to the benefit of Catholicism. In short, everything that the theologians of the penultimate century to that

The crypto-Calvinist dispute is justified, according to the state.
genwärtig in Anszte der Kathiken nicht szt;

and yet a crypto-Catholic dispute is now taking place

aroused in our times, which is no less of a concern

makes, and the protesters are met with fear=

freedom from the secret machinations of the Catholics,

with whom they had lived in considerable peace for a long time,
warned, as if the nooses were already around us all thrown their necks, which subjected us to the yoke of the

should force the Roman bishop.

Not a single age was, if truly the=

Similar secret machinations exist, for example:

Managing such a project is more inappropriate than that present, and if ever Kezzerjåger and Inquifi=

tormentors were dismissed with pity and contempt.

They will earn, that's how it is now. We still have free time.

not the sciences and scholarship

Heights reached below us that they could have reached=

ten; but that is also undeniably certain, that

in all disciplines of learning in our times

Extraordinary progress has been made, and

Name a century that is represented in this piece

How can it be compared to ours? I'm far from it.

far from being a single honest party, they Bite as much as you like, deliberately trying to insult. Who

but only something to do with church history and be= especially known for the history of religious thought

I hope he will applaud me in this.

that times in which sciences and learning=

samsity flourishes in all subjects, and in which

man so very endeavored to understand human understanding to cultivate more and more than in the uncertain times, certainly

For superstition, no 0, Epoch 8

| C 2 | ie

36 About the alleged crypto

Most striking, the human verse unbearable conditions, and a healthy script

explanation of contradictory doctrines that the Catholic Church...
Lieism contains, if one only considers its essence.
knows the history of its creation to some extent, such a time
to which they owe their existence, in which the knowledge

—

companies had already fallen into disrepair, the human liche Verft ft sein Freiheit bünheit und ft schon ge

It was necessary to subordinate subtle insights to the authority.
throw. Is it to be feared that the protesters, who are accustomed from childhood to their understanding
to use oneself, and in which philosophy,
Church history, criticism of the Bible, such a high level
which has reached perfection, so easily to Ka:
tholicism could be seduced? Before you
it can bring us to Roman theology
To be inclined to do so, one must first give us our whole
our learned knowledge, indeed even our reason, gone
have conjured: for despite all the effort that one
If you wanted to use it, it would always be completely unobtrusive Windy obstacles lie in the way. We know exactly the origin story of the incorrect doctrine Sentences of the Roman Church, their inventors know,
and their intentions, the sources from which they are derived exhausted, the means by which one supports them
and generally speaking: it is probably to be thought that

They should be confused and in such great danger, all of this.

to abandon, and the teachings of the Roman Church
To bestow our applause? The great Propugna culum of this church of its unity, and that it always thought and believed that way, when they were still on the Coneilium believed to be Trident, a pretense, which used to shock many a protester when one told him about the alleged changes in his

The Church in its teachings, and the alleged un

. un

– UUUTUTTTTTTV –

– – –

–

Catholicism .. 37

and 8 of the Roman church Porstell= |
te, is through diligent study of the so-called Kir=

Chenvaeter collapsed, since it was for anyone who only

something known with the history of the doctrines,
It is obvious that immutability and completeness are not possible.
Harmony in thinking about doctrines among the
The Church Fathers never imagined that faith
false and alleged miracles and wonders=
cures of some former patrons, 'dangerous was, even took the Lipfius himself, is under the protection of ignorance and barbarity
It has grown so large, and can't possibly fit any more into our Times to make one's luck, when better insights into the art of medicine and physics so much the preponderance |

Keep it, baben. The shining one. Dtenft of the Romans=

The church, so much that is captivating and alluring

he may always have, and so he leads many a pro;
testanten ebedem won, is as a such be=
knows, who borrowed almost everything from paganism, which of Middleton, Sambergers and me self *), clearly demonstrated. According to our
the entire literary situation is affected; so our pros
The Protestant Church is not in such danger as us: our new self-appointed Zionist guardians

they want; and would the Catholics really have one?
They designed such a project, but they had no [equipment] for it.
ae, d time can select than the against=
Wise people, who make our whole situation
We couldn't possibly develop such a project.
throw, and only people "who are so little un=
fere: Befschaffenbeit und diejentge des Kathleidmus
They could know each other because of such a project, if.
1. The host would be designed; to be anxious, fire
Call C. 3 E,

5 S. my treatise de :Tralatitais.ex Gencilifme in ae |

: gionem. Chriftianam.

—
—

7

35 About the alleged crypto=
call out, and urge all protesters to delete to come to Berbey. Ä
I am far from being all that to keep true enlightenment in the hallway, which is what they tell us |
who wants to sell, and all those steps in cheap ones, which one finds in theological thinking un= made times like this: otherwise I would have had to too
to condone the denial of such doctrines, which I Ah, my present convictions forever
dearer than the doctrine of the divinity of Christ,
of the satisfaction, and of the deity of holy, spirits; though I might be ashamed,
to condemn the one who without evil intent
to be unable to be convinced of these truths=
No one believes that. But those steps prove otherwise.
clearly that the relapse to the Roman Church in Our times are far more difficult than before. Who Among ourselves, only some agree on so-called enlightenment:
Making a considerable claim, he thinks about the inspiration of Bible, Symbola and symbolic books, Erb= find, pain test, deputy enough=
thuung, eternity of hellish punishments and other re=
kigionss@azze completely different: than in the previous yearbun=
derte, yes, even at the beginning of the present, Lau=
'ter further distances from the Roman church.
And now that we have that which is still our base

They believed and assumed, to believe and to believe= Since we can hardly decide, we should in
It is dangerous to believe and accept that,
which was already indigestible to them? We hold the inscription of the symbolic books for Ges a knowledge compulsion, for an obstacle of Christian and Beological freedom of thought, and we do not know enough to block it; and should be in danger be, us the pronouncements of the Coneilien, and =
2 e

– . u _ 9 OR

* – –

– 2 –

N 7

To subjugate the Church? We are raiding our Liturgists, with all their might, improve them, and They seek more usefulness and the spirit of the Prote=
to adapt stanism to our times;

and should be in danger of the mess that our Fathers who swept away their ancestry, to see them reintroduced?

We called our clergy for what they actually do.

lich find, for public teachers, see the office of Key, on which our ancestors still rely. So much too good deeds, for an exaggerated presumption of

And our former private confession, it'll be alright.
in most places involved in preparation=
delt, worüber zu Schadens Zeiten far so viel Lermens was; and we were to be in danger, the Roman Is hierarchy being reintroduced into our society? Who Can anyone do anything but laugh? No old woman.
* believe something like that). – But maybe it was

| C 4 | self

9 Even Mr. Nikolai sometimes seems to think something like this.
not wanting to believe it. ZE when he is in his travels
4. B. Page 691. in the note where he talks about the, Catholics who went out for one of the Protestants= hold the Kezzerische Parthey, and they, again with want to unite, quite rightly claimed, the good ones
People didn't know that the protesters had been around for 200 years.
about the things one discusses in the Catholic Church
No matter how seriously the church argues, they are gone, and their Focus your attention on completely different objects.
But if we are so far ahead, why should we no longer fear spiderwebs, which have long since disappeared here=

Catholicism. 39

| still far unbearable coercion of the Roman

Is he stupid enough? Mr. Nikolai speaks even more ignorantly when: - er B. 5. Page 166. uon deu verfschiedenen partheien felbft Among Catholics, one says: It would give birth to a completely unique Li= literature. to understand their squabbles, for a project=

But they didn't do much more than Turpi's labor ineptiarum; for everything depends on the principles

a dee

* 1 5

40 About the alleged crypto=

sabst dies Weiretführen (chen katbolischer und jefui=
Table plan. Because according to the one listed below.
| \ - ' . o Beech 5

the catbolics are to be mobilized or united, de=
The protestants already recognized the inaccuracy and futility of the situation.
They had recognized it for 280 years, and then page 167. very correctly judges: "It must be said to every protester that..."
v geräumt fschein, dass die Katholischen so kurzssichtig fisten,
, to imagine that they now have a small part of
"To publicly speak truths that we have long known and
"said; so they would now have such a great advantage"
"Before us, that we would have to go to them over here. They They forgot that they were truly knowledgeable in theology.

burning, plunging us into a night of superstition and

To dispel doubts, the more securely gained

Having a game makes it easier for us to pull ourselves together, to get into

to gather in a corner, and if we don't more from yet another knowledge, the fetters of the Roman Create a hierarchy very easily, and then look for
To make one believe, to create a triangle, a heartfelt desire say that is beautiful, round as a ball, and F is an even number.

A laughable project, just as if one
'wanted to make someone an atheist beforehand, in order to,

to form Orthodox Christians, and to become advocates of Free work, to make it all the easier for a despot to submit! But let's assume it were so; under Whose flag is this one, the Protestant one?
This dangerous revelation came about

Under the banner of the General German Bi= library, also under Mr. Nikolais and finer Hidden employee privilege. This Men themselves were probably tools and drives.

feathers of the Jesuits and Catholics? And could
How could it not be without knowing it?
In general, the protesters are found in our

Times that could lead to nothing less than bigotry

inclined to fear that one might well have reason to fear, Catholicism will be of some concern to you.
find a way. Deichts Inn, Srendenferen, Irreligion,

C 5 are

9. Increase in the system of the world citizen republic.

pi. 252. 259. ff. 265. 272. 288. ff. a book that of the authors of the Berlin monthly journal as such is preconfigured, which the an ae ents bullet bat Inlius 1786. p. 44-3

.

.

= - g

44 about the alleged crypto=

5 _ pe the main diseases of our century, and he insightful resentment in the Göttingen last

The ten ads have therefore already been very thoroughly judged.
8 So when he says that not both of this side, rather than from the side of Deism something to procure for the Protestant Church).

In the last century,
the concern about the recurring Catholicism= Kieism was still somewhat excusable
söien, da wirklich veröidene ehrene Männer=

taken over by scholarly appointee for the Roman Church= men were. The Baron of Boineburg, a Learned man, Lambeck and Lucas Solstène,

Scioppius, Bertius, Zeife unnius, flower,

Frommius, Pfeiffer, Befdld, Pråtorius, Nir bus, Kircher, Scheffler, Sellwig and many Others went over to the Roman church; into the=
In contrast, in the 19th century, Kûsöter and Winckel= man, of whom it is known enough what they motivated him to convert to Catholicism, Pen=

zel, who left neither the church he had left, nor the

those

“

1 5) But those claims, says the reporter, demand

many and compelling pieces of evidence, such as one can see in big There wasn't one at all. And even if they were completely full...
lig gegründet; fo müste eine fachen mehr
through careful religious education=

1 become more bitter than through violent and sometimes unhealthy= Genuine accusations from Catholics. These can and will surely sow seeds of mistrust and resentment.

will be, which will cause the greatest disputes and bloody conflicts produces enterprises. According to our Bemer=

struggles of the writings and characters of our time

We are far more of a pseudo-Deism, and the Irx religion, as Catholicism to seek.

S. Göttingen Notices of Learned Matters. 166.

Piece. d. October 16, 1786. N

—

u 5 ”
ö

Ze:

he 4

senige, to which he approached, ran sufficiently and from which I will say more about later.

I will have: and finally Justice and Ee
card. Freylich could, if it were only about counting.
This list will be further expanded as it arrives.
with flour leader, who only became Atholic, after=

Sometimes it was Kurdish again, and then Catholic again.

most recently, on orders for indecent writings

Emperor Charles VI was thrown into prison, and finally wandered everywhere. Likewise= chen with Ifferstadt, the preacher near Erfurt
being, but deposed because of fine evil life=
the. Furthermore with nests, which is due to being schooled= was imprisoned for thefts:
with roots, the fine parish sold and ka=
Tholisch ward, and to Ellingen as commissions/
Secretary was appointed, but because of fine Nei!
The drinking vessel was not to be used, and to=
He begged; with a bull from Offenbach, which the Catholics themselves because of their dissolute lives chased away from Hermannstadt, whereupon he again luth=
rish and then in the Palatinate for the second time katho=
lifch became, and to Manheim a citizen's wife abducted). Did the author of the essay know about secret proselytizing in Mr. D. Por

Belts Magazin fire Aufklärung 2nd volume ztes Heft.

p. 362. the special circumstances of these proselytes
Did he not know them, or did he know them and hide them to protect them?
great loss, which plunged the protesters into the= affected by Catholics for centuries,
to make the most apparent of all those who only looking at numbers and names, although the same order in which they stand at Sollberg, beybe= hold ii But this much is certain "that the Prote=
| stanten

9 Zellberge eye. Since 4. Page 175. f.

14 about the alleged crypto=

stanten den Kathiken sölche sönbere. Reubekahrten when these were the latter, they will gladly be granted and

They didn't really regret their loss. I
But I think that such people don't deserve to be under the number of those who have been turned away is to be paid.
Did the Catholics really participate in the Nazis?
had more of a share than their own
poor lifestyle and desperate circumstances; fo
Is this bad proof of the good progress?
the proselytizing in our century,
since no one is better than thieves, drunkards,
dissolute and frivolous people.
Please.

The rare transition from interpreting von Werth
| to the Roman church, but clearly shows that the reasons with which one formerly the prote=
He didn't know how to attract stalls, not even now. More fe. stronger than before, But it was a law that it would be

They still lack so much; so do the Protestants.

not those who were sent by the Roman Church
They have been transferred to them. All religious parties have from the beginning their carefree 3 and
* will never stop. 1
In the last century, versleden Zn
| Great lords moved the Roman church to Trer
ten. Such were Queen Christing of Sweden, the Count Palatine Wolfgang Wilhelm
of Palatinate Neuburg, the Landgrave Ernst of Hesse= Cassel, Istian Wilhelm Marggraf von Bran; denburg, Riedrich August, Elector of Saxony!
sen and King of Poland, Johann Friedrich |
Duke of Brunswick and others. In this centuries, specifically in the first half of the diesel=
Ben most of all, are also various great lords.
transferred to the church: when in the year
| | een 1740.

u
7

N
,

1

f
5 5 ; \ N a

x
—

a RR: , ge ' x * . 8 \ 5
Catholicism. 45

17 ro. the Duke Anton Ulrich of Brunswick, in 1712, Prince Carl Alexander of Württemberg, 1717. The Electoral Prince of Saxony
Frederick Augustus, 1723. Prince Christian Ulrich von Würtemberg=Oels, 1746. the Prince Frederick of the Palatinate, and in the last half of this century, since there has already been more remediation
gann, only the Duke of Jweybrücken, who re=
the greedy Duke of Württemberg, and the Land= dal von Heßen=Cassel. But between these passed this year, and those in the previous year=
Bundete is a big difference. Spiritual Wer=
They had, apart from temporal intentions, also been interested in the
so-called conversions of these princes had no effect.
wresting share; but if one excludes what ey occasion of the transfer of Prince Frie= riches of the Palatinate from Father Seedorf ge= written in this century
No more of such conversions, so much learning.
mens than previously made, and from the new Pro=
Selytes were given the reasons they allegedly received from the
They should have been convinced of the truth of the Roman doctrine,
It was not presented to the world. No one else came.
in mind, as was probably the case with such gels in the past=
Genheit had happened, Colloquia between the Pro= Christians and Catholics, among whom the latter supported by the court, generally having the last word had to stop, to put in place. So too had the The transition of such princes is not at all like=
holy influence on the prote ruling in the state=
The Constantinian Church. The people and the country were guided by the Example of the princes not moving the Protestants= must renounce, rather the princes saw themselves as having to thigt, to provide its subjects with bundled insurance policies to give that through their crossing a 5 | church

o Fe en ee Eee — Ev.

| de About the alleged typo= P

The Church should not vie for dominion over the land.

and Protestantism should be affected.

Thus, Duke Carl Alexander of Wurtemberg,

who was still a prince in 1712. (became Catholic)

that was, at the start of his government the country=

The necessary reversals were in place so that the evangeli=

The Jewish religion should remain unaffected throughout the country.

jfölte. A similar one was also from the Duke.

Anton Ulrich von Braunschweig through a special=

whose diet happened; likewise in the year 1717

from the King in Poland and Electors to Saxony by a printed patent dated the 28th

October, in which the estates of Saxony celebrated=

It was assured that through the religious community

Change of Prince Frederick Augustus the Luther!

Does religious practice in Saxony have the slightest influence?

should be pregnant. What happened in not so long ago

similar opportunities in Württemberg and Cassel

This happened because care was taken at the last place to ensure that

that the succession in the reformed religion

balten would, and the then hereditary prince himself all ecclesiastical jurisdiction at the future Re=

who had to take office are known to everyone.

knew things. All proselytizing had alfe

the Catholic Church, even among high-ranking people, not be able to bring the advantage they had hoped for=

promised, rather it served to...

Protestant subjects at every step of their Princes, if he embraces the Catholic religion=

had taken to keep a watchful eye and to secure Protestantism. And the more the

The more rarely the transitions to the Pope occur.

has become a thing. Our Germans also know

+

Princes, if they only refer to their temporal advantages=

parts

Catholicism. I: 47

tbelle feben ER "far too good, how much their pre- =
drive through the Reformation to state sovereignty, Land and fifth place have won *), how much even the Protestant religion as a culture of its Lands and for the welfare of their subjects:
carries, and its episcopal rights and everything that pertains to the juribus circa facra belongs, find them far too expensive, rather than letting all of this be taken away from them again.
to promote Catholicism, monasticism and Stupidity is spreading again among its subjects=

fen ; and e a z of . again near oneself=
m ln |

3 Whoever, for example, might experience a considerable increase in power,
8 Reputation, majesty and revenue yield that our prote=
The permanent imperial estates owe their existence solely to the Reformation.
have, not already known as a publicist and historian, who can be derived from v. Meiern Actis Pacis Westphal. & execu-tionis ejus -Norimbergensis circumstantially instruct. Conf.
IH Böhmer Dissert. de Beneficiis juris auguftane Confefs.
Chapter 1 and the priest's explanation of the Protestant Canon law section. 2nd chap. 11. Faulatim hæc juris publiei emendatio facta, cui auguftana Confefsio eo ipfo oe ealionem dedit, quod Proceres germanie, libertatem coufcientie propugnantes, fimul induxerit, ut libertatem il» lam eminentem, qua vt ftarus gaudent, plenius ex antiultatibus & legitimis fontibus eruunt, & inprimis con»
tra principia juris romani, Statui publico Germaniæ haud.
convenientia, imo & juris canonici, jura fstatuum admo - dum diminuentis, defenderent. Euentus felicior dead motuum, ex teformatione ortorum, tandem jura fstatuum
sontrouerfa firmauit, & plenius per inftrumentum Pacis
ita declareauit, ut gravamina religionum aliter non potuertint componi, nifi etiam fimul juribus fstatuum nova acce-Deret declaratio & determinatio writes Böhmer in Orat.
Seeul. de meritis auguftanæ Confefs. in rem juridicam p. 35.

Even the good Cyprian in the teaching on the papacy Leap. XXI. has long demonstrated that an evangeli=

fcher Fürs after the eee not reli

will be possible x

48 About the alleged crypto=

let them nits and folften, that them and their descendants=

men as thanks for previous care and feeding, about

would grow the head, Certainly whoever believes what=

Ben, who can fear something like that, doesn't have to fear any of our hay.
have seen Protestant princes, and little known about its entire constitution.
And how firmly established is Protestantism in Germany?
Imperial constitution through peace treaties, treaties and laws) founded! All this had to first torn down, all our princes miserable, blind, and blos and their subjects have gone mad,
before such a project affects the Protestant religion to undermine and to support feasible N could be.

Was this whole literary, religious and political
The situation of Protestantism: the new Inquisitor known to sitors, (and by people who are our fifth enlightening the century with its superfluous light=

(If you want to, you should probably believe it) fo is
The whole outcry of complaints is either pre-feudal boss=

*

either he's doing something, or there's something behind this supposed zeal.

For the pure ae doctrine, a hidden plan
© the

*) Therefore, when H. Nikolai and associates, now and then

'This too, as a – perhaps once used,
but now to bring up dangerous enticements so that the Pope

would probably consider himself suitable to represent the Protestant princes to leave the episcopal jurisprudence and other rights, so that...

One can hardly contain one's laughter. Who could be so foolish?
be, by a presumptuous adversary, whose one Disregarded for centuries, and still today
to allow the possession of things in whose possession
man has long been in the safest way from the world=

fen it? Of things, melche today's cleverer Katbos _

They themselves no longer like anything from their church leader.

to be usurped, but either the Catholic Lands=

the owner himself exercises, or at least the one who is afraid of him=
the bishops,

Catholicism. 49

which one should then execute most skillfully,

if only the protesters themselves were to start talking amongst themselves
one, made himself suspicious, and with the Catholics are once again being ganged up on, War
But they did not know any of this; so they spoke Yes, they were unable to cope with things they did not understand.
to get involved in something they were not up to,

and they could only flatter themselves, only with us=
knowledgeable people with their dangerous premonitions

Ingen to find some entry, meanwhile that every insightful, unbiased man to their

must laugh at terrible prophecies.
But so little did the protesters after their
the entire current situation from the Catholics to have feared, and thus unfeasible after the same=
ben every Catholic plan to the destruction of the same is, even if it were ever so artificially designed;

They have just as little after the whole ordeal.

to fear the current situation of Catholicism,

Wherever you turn here, you'll find completely insurmountable obstacles and contradictions, and everyone who has not yet been frightened and through those gruesome prophecies not yet taken Man, I must be amazed how it's possible to do something like that.

To merely pretend to have some degree of faith.
I am very happy to admit what Mr. Nikolai and the authors of the Berlin monthly journal us
to urge so emphatically, and the latter even with some effort and erudition to make it quite clear that one can still

I think among Catholics, as has always been thought, and that the teachings had not yet been abandoned among them.

ju, that the Roman court had once fine would like to have power again, and certainly everything on=
| D |

who=

7

—

Be: Extra Ecclesiastical Salvation! Gladly give. I.

50 About the alleged crypto=

who might turn to regain possession of the same to sweep, and generally in a fine whole way of thinking hasn't changed at all. I'm just as happy to give also to the point that the spirit of proselytizing the

It is characteristic of Roman Christians that they are our distance=
The members of their church are reluctant to see us as Key: '

consider each individual individually, and not just each one individually.
from us, but we as a whole would like to ask for their
They might convert some sorts of people. I also want to admit that It's still not about tolerance in Catholic states

It's not nearly as far along as some people imagine,

yes, even that individual Catholics are subject to manifold White, even secretly, to make proselytes

have an effect: for I will speak of the Jesuits later.
Especially. But that all Catholics, or the whole Roman Church, or even just the Germans alone, with Rome in a secret understanding, to give us the

The noose of papal rule once again over the

to throw one's neck, and to that a community=
devised a spiteful, secret, malicious plan
Ben should, I can still remember that, despite everything.
Screaming is impossible to convince.

And what is all that which one so very much loves?

tends to do this, and I have admitted it, and one will Grant me that I am not sparing in admitting things
I was there, what is all this? Are they perhaps... great, new, unheard-of and unexpected discoveries=
Kungen? Just a lot of old, misplaced merchandise. Just a lot of things.

which we all knew long ago, and for which we certainly neither Mr. Nikolai, nor the author of the
The Berlin monthly journal needs to be strengthened in order to...
to announce ourselves with much sighing and crying=

gen. The Roman Church, in which the human being

| lichen Verfvständnis the bonds of human authority
laid out find where he= about the not W n ö may,

“dee – –”

j

Catholicism. 1

What the councils and church fathers may do Having been ordered to believe and to teach, would even no longer be what she is, when she hears the saz.
the only true believer, the only saving one
The church should let the car go. The Greek church, which are otherwise milder than the Roma in many pieces=
sche is, and this not only as schismatic, but even condemned as anti-Christian, yet think in this piece is no milder, and only those see as the true believers who can be saved=
nen, which the conclusions of the vecumenical concise?
accept lies, and belong to her). But may Should we be surprised by this? Didn't our ancestors...
That's exactly how the Reformed Church thought it.
no more than the Roman one, but only the Evangelical Lutheran Church for the orthodox and the only saving ones held). The trade, formerly among the Prussian theologians = because Pfeiffer's expression Etiam occurred, and what especially in the syneretical disputes about
What has been said about this matter is well known.
Even in the religious instruction of children and books intended for the common man is
This is claimed, and every one of the Lutheran doctrine distant church indicated as such, in which=
dear man at least for the sake of fine bliss the åauf= first danger run *), Alone since the Roman
. | There church
) Aruon, Monumens de la foix des Grecs. pag. 427. 381–3885

®*) Apolog. Aug. Conf. Art. de Ecclef, Gatechäfm. maj. Article 3%
My theologian. Lutheri. Loc. 30. f. 16. and Moii Hill
Reform. Loc. 1. Cromayeri Theol., pofit. palem, proaem, Seckendorf Hist. Lutheranifmi p. 207. and on 5
2) Grünberg's correct basic doctrine. pg. 192. fl. Selbft He.
Nikolai im aten Theile feiner Reifen S. 510. in * I | belle

.

42° liver the alleged crypto=

The Church, from the very beginning, has focused solely on this.
Preference granted; is it something new, something on falling, that she still does this, and in the we=

tigen years, since they are too much in Germany

started early, didn't you already get this far?
is to throw away their main ingredient; and that It will be difficult for that to happen anytime soon. But what about:
Are we losing out in the process? What dangers threaten us?
Because of? The skillful and of fine better. A?
The convinced doctor laughs when the doctor looks at
The stage says that no one but him is the true Universal medicine, the right oil for deafness babe: only simpletons can advertise like that to be moved. So everyone just feels sorry for them a little.
such presumption by a Protestant known for his religion
of the Catholic Church. He knows the true Church.
It is everywhere, and from every people who are God
He who fears and does what is right is at his side:
approved. Even every reasonable individual: '
fdholik will consider that pronouncement of the fine church to be far too...
Maintain strictness, and believe that good is right.
Protectors of Heaven create no less than
be open to him, even if his church also...
Saz has not yet withdrawn. By all these praises of the Catholics on their own true-believing, only saving church
Protestantism has been asking for this for centuries now.
the more they are obtained, and the more sensible Thinking about religion is increasing among us, or
It only survives as it is, the less it will change.
to be procured for us. The more enlightenment and EN =: 3 LTaole=
A popular example from Schlözer's state advertisements for us to hold up where, as recently as 1717, a Lutheran Con-sisistorial Rath fine religion the only saving one called bat. | |

Catholicism. 33

Tolerance is beginning to flourish among Catholics,
(and that they have recently made much further progress in this regard,
than in the entire past two centuries,
(No one will deny this) the rarer it becomes
This also includes praising the Church as the sole path to salvation.
will happen, and it would be something completely unnatural and incomprehensible, that a yes old, embarrassed Argument, which nobody pays attention to anymore, and that by no reasonable person could understand it anymore.
can, us in our times, the times of Tole-Franz, where we also show the heathens the way to grace not to deny, dangerous, indeed even more dangerous than formerly, could be. If only...
Nowadays there are some zealous zealots among the Catholics= like their old, embarrassed principles, still so much scholastic sophistry in public writings ruminate; what can these convulsions of the

Will dying bigotry and monasticism harm us?

The Roman court, as I like to believe will, his whole old way of thinking has not changed, liked his former rule, over For-states, countries, peoples and consciences of the people have it again, and will, if only it succeeds.
wanted and could leave no stone unturned.
Who wouldn't readily admit that? To that end...
also really, like the ecclesiastical and civic Ge-
History of the previous and present year;
The hundred shows that all forces and means were applied.
But all of this is nothing new, nothing remarkable.
nothing unheard of that is being proclaimed to us here=
diget. What has resulted from all these efforts?
Disadvantages of the protesters in the previous and in the=
has it been aligned with the centuries? Of course where Protestantism is not the ruling power Religion, but only the tolerated one, was much after=

| D 3 n theili=

"About the alleged rod"

theological · In France, Spain, in Savoy, in Hungary and other countries of the Austrian Monarchy, in Salzburg, and in several others
 | Places where Catholics had the upper hand,
 They pressed the protesters. Also in An=

This is taking place in Germany, as can be seen from the Lists that correspond to the application letter of the Corporis Evangelicorum from 1720 to 1762.
 attached find, barked at sufficiently, since one the Protestants of their churches, preachers, schoolteachers
 'and schools deprived of judicial assistance
 (e.g., made more difficult). This is the disease of all Religions where they have violence. If one is a= several exceptions to this, and violent suppression of the other parties to cause the least amount of debt, that's how it is.

 the Lutheran one. And they didn't even in this centuries, namely 1747, the Reformed in Jülich and Bergischen committed their acts of violence in the town of Suckeswagen against the Lutherans.
 taken so far that they even used their pulpit, altar, Church pew and alms box destroyed and them
 all imaginable tribulations inflicted." But fo

This is all true, and everyone who only thinks about the newer who is not entirely inexperienced in church history, far better than to have only heard it from Mr. Nikolai and the monthly writers might tell each other let; what is through all these procedures,
 Ä Ä 8 ie

=

—

Oh, Walch's news of the religious complaints in the new one!
 First Religious History. Part 1, p. 251 ff. The Zeiniusian
 Church History, Vol. 20, p. 4120 ff. and the Weimar
 Ada Eccf, Tom. XI – XIV. 8 0 S. Vogt's Eluleit. On the history of religious complaints of Evangelical Lutheran in Jülich and Berg. Berlin's
 – 4748. en Pa

—

wa — —

the church, not the patient ones=
te, but the ruler was, aligned wor=
The Catholics hated each other because of it.

ter made, and everyone who is in a protestant= living in the country has suffered under the oppressions of his, Living under Catholic rule, a breach of faith=

who found a new reason, fine religion
to appreciate, and for fine freedom of conscience God
"Praise. And in the end, they didn't even have the Most princes recognized the disadvantage, which They, through blind religious zeal, brought their states to power.
what does it add? But what do they all still long for?
Wishes, and diligent fine and coarse effort=
gen of the Roman court to its old rule to get back to where they were intended to be? What effect?
They have [they] in England, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, the United Netherlands, in all countries and principalities located on the Baltic Sea Mern, in the states of the Prussian Monarchy,
in Saxony, in so many Protestant princes
Thuringians of the German Reich, and in Switzerland Produced? None, and despite all the head-scratching, of the Roman Consistory and its head
None will be produced, even if the
The finest Italian politics designed the plan for this.
would have. The Hildebrandinian century is a= I'll be passing by and can't come back to see the
To make proud thoughts effective: Roma caput mundi, quicquid non poffidet armis, religione tenet. For if any age was clumsy is, the possible Roman hopes of anew to revive, and thus make the protesters seem as if they were to terrify us simple children; so Is it the present moment? Who in these times, where Emperor Joseph's most unexpected decrees
g D444 to

* 5 ö

re

to the benefit of the protesters in his states
gives), through scholarship, arts and knowledge=

He seeks to enlighten his people, monasteries about monasteries lift up, and the influence of the monks, the actual militia of the Roman throne, destroyed, the canals, from which so much used to flow, are now blocked.

*

Money for dispensations and countless other things Titles streamed into Rome, the bishops into their

to reinstate old rights, to remove all the junk from the
to banish churches, and to make worship simple= seeks to make more precious and noble; where a bishop of Königsgraz combines tolerance with true evangelicalism
Geiste recommends where one can unashamedly go in Vienna.
Interventions by the Popes in the rights of rulers, and the Means by which they enrich themselves and to trembles, tries, puts into the light, where Royko Hußens

To become an apologist, and to blame this man.

murder committed against the holy fathers at Costnitz

not only says, but is also allowed to say, where the Elector of Mainz, the first ecclesiastical Elector
Prince of Germany, monastery abolishes and to Mainz Protestant teachers with respectable salaries=
fezt, where falltliche deutniche Erz=Bifchöfe fich ver=

some, their rights against the papal nuncia=

to claim, — — — but why should I

All that, and several other things calculated at great length?

Certainly, anyone who still believes in close proximity in such times
One can dream of dangers, of restoration

the papal power, and subjugation of the pro= testers under the same, he does more than just dreaming. Is it worth remembering that one during a fo critifchen Lage, in whom fmalen der rōmi=

fche Stul is located, still able to think about the plane,

his rule against the protesters.

9 p. Walch's new religious history Th. IX. p. 6p. f.

,

a

51171 an en aa ae en a

Rate 97

since he didn't even get over: dle through German foreigner can beitssoinn belebte katholische Deutsche claim?

And if such a plan had been devised, it would not be the most ridiculous ancient thing that could only lead to
to remember is, and by no one less than by the

To fear protesters? What did they have to do with it?

The Berlin writers believe their readers are so impressed that they

How could they convince them of something like that? What a...

They had to trust the Pu's gullibility.

They had a lot of fun when they were allowed to flatter each other,
with their pretense of finding faith, and the Protestant church with its watchman's voice in

To inspire fear and terror?

The spirit of proselytizing is pervasive.

gig belonging to the Catholic, and whoever does not know him
fittz is to be regarded as an exception to the rule.
Even if these exceptions are reduced through education and Dealing with the protesters is becoming increasingly common
will be: so the rule itself does not hear
up, as long as their church retains the advantage:
lays that she is the only righteous, the only blessed one= making it. And this advantage, this claim=
The Roman Church will certainly not be tung anytime soon.
Let them drive, even if most of their Indi=
They should think more leniently about it. This Spirit of proselytizing and conversion= addiction, partly the violent oppression= towards the Protestants, where they oppose Catholic rule=
ten were subjected, partly to the milder means.
to their existence, with which one can the Pro=
sought to lead testaments to the Roman church.
This includes controversial sermons that are openly contentious discussions between both parties, which written denials of Protestant doctrine,
the . at the so-called Missio=
D 5 naria,

=

1 5

8 lleber den bloße Krypto=
-garden, the association projects, the presentation= E
as if Protestants and Catholics were not involved.

went farther apart than one would think, Ar=
Awards of temporal advantages and the like.

to this intention in the previous century to new=
Burg, Thoren, Rheinfels and several other locations
Holding religious discussions is a well-known thing.
It is also known that the Roman missionaries

Their efforts to convert patrons often failed.

Lungs are. The conversion of Queen Christina

ward, after Arckenholz, by their French

Personal physician Bourdelot, to the Spanish ambassador

Pimentelli and some Jesuits caused... The Landgrave Ernst of Hesse was converted by the Capuchin=

ner Valerius Magnus: the Duke Moritz
Wilhelm zu Zeitz the Jesuit Schmelzer: the Her=

Cardinal Salerno moved from Würtemberg-Oels:

Prince Frederick of the Palatinate, the Father Seedorf, and so many others. Just as well known.
including the written denials of the protestants=
fchen teaching, and which already in the previous century

begun and continued in this century=
ten efforts by Protestants and Catholics
to unite with each other, which was discussed last year=

hundreds of Catholic page Bossuet, Gibbon
of Burgo, the Strasbourg Jesuit Dec, Maim=
burg, Nicole, Keddius and others, by prote=

But on the stantic side, Huisseaux, Millketiere, le

5 stories come to our times, the more

Blane, Forbesius and Grotius, and in this
For centuries, the popes Benedict XIII and Clement
XII. Cardinal Quirini, Kastwiz and others, and from the Protestants, Abbot Wolanus of Lockum, Fabricius zu Helmstadt and various | others took part. But the closer one got to the looks

If one rejects this spirit of proselytizing from
to lose its former strength, and the means become less effective, which he formerly used.
Not only from Protestant, but even from Ka
Tholian 1 one sees the formerly so wholesome
Controversial sermons delivered for a capernade,
for a ridiculous charade that religion
dishonored, and they have already been in various places prohibited by official decrees. And Controversial preaching and tolerance find things that lead to to contrast sharply with the fact that one sees them in our times
...could still allow. The public have also... all heated arguments have completely ceased, since
one can finally overcome it through experience=
This proves that they served no other purpose than to both
This would only further inflame their animosity towards each other.
The Catholics' controversial writings have there= to serve, the truth of Protestantism in to set a brighter light, and have without
to provide a particular advantage to Catholics, sometimes even their authors feel contempt for their attracted members of his own faith. Everyone knows what the Jesuit Scheffmacher in Strasbourg knows
in this year against the international doctrine wrote: Pfaff, Weissmann and La Chapelle refuted him thoroughly and – the whole thing?
see that he had formerly had in Strasbourg, (completely deteriorated). With just as little advantage.
have the possible missions to individual projects
testers can work, and not just the wax=
the cause of true enlightenment in religious matters
among the protesters, but also even more so themselves.
Spreading freethinking, and taste
on Voltaire's and Rousseau's writings and **

; aa: Een „ 7

9) S. Acta Hift, Ecclef,. T. XVII. 203. f.

N/a !

60 About the alleged crypto=

såzen asked for their efforts and attempts to the Insurmountable obstacles were encountered. The verse unification projects and the efforts to help the pros to imagine Catholicism as if he was not so far removed from the teachings of the Protestants had separated, and only incorrectly described it to them.

What would they have produced? Certainly very much.
Few conversions, and certainly no harm
the Protestant church, rather, one is simply
This caused the large difference,
who is situated between the two religious parties=
det, and how impossible a union between
the more could be donated, the brighter the better.
To set light, and ours both, as the reformed
My eight theologians have thus shown how far fie the Catholics in thorough theological Ge:
were superior in teaching ability. And the reward the=
The peacemaker was that they both agreed.
They became suspicious and hateful. Fabricius, Wolanus and others among the Protestants ha=
Therefore, they had many unpleasant disputes, and Bossuet prayed by all the praises that were bestowed upon him
fine party because of fine Exyofition of the Doctrina
catholique gave, but the accusation of many Catholics=
Those who like this cannot miss the fact that he has gone too far.
gen sey. So they have all the methods that the Pro=
selytenmachergeist ergrif, in Zeiten die ganz an=
These were like ours, to whom no fund
their advantage and no particular benefit to us can bring disadvantages: so we have in our Times were far less time to procure such things, and the pitiful cry of our new protestants=
The Zion Watchman is a blind man, which makes our Attention focused on a distant corner, where fine

Fire is, directed, and 1 of the places abs
. 2 "

\

N

Lathotrism. 6861

It should be directed to where most of the sightings are.

| Find it,

But what do the protesters think about our tents?
more lenient with regard to Catholics than before;

From whom did you learn this? From ours.

Enlightenment thinkers and preachers of tolerance! Those were...

mol selsist die. geheimen, es selbst nicht wifsenden,

nad, persecuted by Catholics and Jesuits. Before?
workers, to allow the proselytizing spirit entry into procure. Or should the Enlightenment perhaps... and extend tolerance to the point that we naturalists
and allowed the Socinians free rein, to undermine Christianity, but against a just as Protestantism in the Roman Empire

legal written religious party of the old

Hatred retained? Peculiar written tolerance!

I will gladly admit that it's about the up:
Clarification and tolerance in the conflicting states
It is still far from being as far along as many imagine.

Viewed up close, all things look...

They look very different from how they appear from a distance.
Conquering an empire is far easier than changing one's mindset.
to change an entire people, and for centuries to come= through nurtured prejudices that have deep roots= have beaten, so completely eradicated that they should not sprout up again here and there,
Such a great and wise ruler as Joseph II is,
For he is a human being, he is not all-powerful, that he
his edicts at the moment of their promulgation
could attribute an effect that occurs after the run

Things are not expected for many years.

can: he is not omnipresent, in order to be everywhere
to bring about the necessary obedience: and where is the State in which the ordinances of the ruler

and everywhere punctual * will be .
ten

2 About the approaching Sup

| ten? But that in the few years in which the emperor began to reform, completely except= orderly and far exceeding the expectations of all people

N surpassing changes to the advantage of the Aufi

Hardening: undertaken in religious matters; the
No one could deny that. Even
Mr. Nikolai), who so much likes these improvements to reduce seeks ), must admit this, since

9 Keifebefchrübung ster Band. a. 146.

*) If Mr. Nicolai in the Unpang to the VIL. Band fine Reisen, page 117 ff., against the justified remark
– of Professor Sarve, that he had implemented the reforms of the Emperor

who considers it small and insignificant, wants to defend it, so

He doesn't behave in a way that benefits him at all. Foreword, when Mr. Sarve says the current improvements must one can judge with regard to the point from which they I've gone out, that is, one has to look into how it what it was like before, and how it is now, and one must see that Kayser's reforms are considered significant; thus, Mr.
Nikolai this irrefutable saz, how cold water to run its course, he only assures that he has the expression not needed that they were small, and continues,

He had shown exactly what the improvements were.
struggles existed, and now it will follow of its own accord whether they were against Whether what still needs to be done is small or considerable:
He then introduces a completely different sentence, one that does not include the
The speech was given, and is in the same way as that one who,

as a fine friend on yesterday's storm and rain the praised today's beautiful day, but refused to accept that.
Because there would be far more glorious days in spring. So crooked.
It seems a truth has remained unaddressed for a long time, or how?
Mr. Nikolai, page 129. expresses himself with all sorts of bald Words were spoken around the Brey. What followed
But one can fully understand when Mr. Nikolai is on page 118.
The Conteyt says: In the year 1781, the power of the Superstition in Vienna is almost as prevalent as was there years ago; on the same side but secured at the bottom of the note, in the first few gahren

Kahlen. wi 53

he tells us that in Vienna the German picture is after
I was allowed to read Luther's translation, and instead of the Latin one...
The German language was introduced at God's service.
will be led. In Vienna, among Catholics, freedom to read the Bible, specifically according to the translation.

Luther's! German language in God's service and...

of the Roman Church! Surely those are not Steps towards subjugation, towards submission to Rome! – No! It is the first steps towards Rome!
Enlightenment, for the improvement of religion. Would probably the Reformation among our ancestors

They would have come to this if it weren't for Luther.
had given a German Bible *).
in. the she the * the he rn 8 5

: 1

11 5 an (bretzig – ellic and bell gabte

(Before) superstition would certainly have been very prevalent in Vienna.

much worse than in the year 1781, finally still page 120. asserts that in the year 1781 truly

the worst kind of rhetoric reigned? So, in that

In the same year, 1781, superstition began to spread in

Vienna is somewhat better than it was thirty years ago; a different= Sometimes it was certainly much better that way; the third time

But it was all over again, the scoundrel Ka= reigned.

tholicism. How can such contradictions be reconciled?
gen? by the fact that Mr. Nixolai page 129 us himself esöffnet, er hat fein eigen Weise fte sich sich die Sachen vor= to deliver and present them.

9 Mr. Vikolai himself says in fine travel writings. Volume 3. E.
166. in the note: Luther with translation of the Bible,
with better interpretation of the scriptures and with 'founded reason'

accomplished more than all the Conecilias ever could.
the. – If now the Emperor's subjects Luther gives the Bible into one's hands; isn't that already quite enough for everyone?
Good enlightenment gained, if that is not the way to achieve it.
to create a different interpretation of steps, space to
to ensure that sound reason finds its rights
and from the crippling of the nuns susücctemme 2

\

0

64 \ about the hot crypto=

the; if he did not deliver German prisons to them
Had, some of which still existed in our day, so heartfelt= uplifting, so powerful are they? That priests and stern= Catholics dislike all of that and they...
To prevent intrigues and evasions, that is very natural, and that they do so alongside, regardless tet der Toleranz=Ediete, fich elende Ausfälle und openly permitted pauses against the protestants,

Who will be surprised by this? Should and can the Pre:
However, testimonies are more secure than the holy one.
The monarch himself? – And which state?
The more tolerance there is, the more it has, and with good reason, embraced it.
praised and is with others in it with glorious assistance= Did games precede the Prussian one? And yet must the Moravians, or so-called Moravians Brothers, a considerable number of whom are in Berlin, and those who, according to their confessions, belonged to the Augsburg Confession Confession, to accept it, from which author of Sebalduß Nothander and in the general German library, as Creutz

Air=Little bird, and with their lamb theology (to be shamefully mistreated). I have I have no particular interest in this matter.
binds people whom I particularly like with my Convictions of non-harmonious sentences regardless=

I consider good, pious, quiet Christians, and I

I only had one friend who belonged to them, whose memory will be forever dear to me, take=
In loving memory of the late Baron von Schrautenbach;
It is not, in itself, a blatant injustice,
when we are from other religious relatives who are un= Ä sörer DER nad) a nicht en find, for

the

*) Who among others might like the passage in Sebalduß ater B.

p. 28. which is also presented there in copperplate engraving, and where=
What happens when Wiz falls into the plate without being able to read it without anger?

1

Catholicism. 65

dern, which we ourselves, despite all our boasting of Enlightenment and tolerance near the weak, or not as we think 0 not |
Can you afford it? –

From everything I've heard so far about the foges
They called Rrypro-Ratbolicism and the one from this side allegedly threatens the protesters Dangers were mentioned, and not merely as reason.
not presented by nement, but through the story

I have confirmed this myself, anyone who either still not taken up by declamations, or by the horrible ideas frightened them, or even for the possible intentions that one might have, after a

some writers, through this assumed

Zeal wants to achieve, is already won, convinced
be that the whole alleged brypto: Bathos

licism is a chimera if. One can only

Assume the following: Either the Catholics ba=

do they really intend to suppress Protestantism?
to fall, and to act upon it: or it is only * true=

Probably; or it's not true at all. Is that the former; so they have done, according to our and their own religious, literary and political situation,
the most awkward period chosen, which she only
They were able to choose, but their plans are unworkable.
and it is foolish to be afraid of something that This cannot happen. At least these plans may... no matter how cleverly conceived, no matter how artificially designed Being; so much love to us our thoughts and consciences= freedom, and all that is what we gain through the

have received the Reformation: we can because of the-

For the plane, remain very calm. Catholicism had already had something like that before: they had in Details are poorly aligned and overall nothing is aligned.
are becoming increasingly weak from time to time and 9

E führ=

1

3
7

66 about the alleged crypto=
It has become more manageable, and it is therefore ridiculous to ever-increasing impossibility nevertheless to cry out about greater dangers. - Is that second, and is it only likely that the Ka=
The protesters have similar plans.
to sway them and bring them under the yoke of the Roman
To bow down to the bishop; what is all this other than that?

Hypothesis hunting, by which surely not a single one
A reasonable person should be alarmed / to once he sees that, in all likelihood,
that such a plan could exist, and indeed
existire, but the unique execution of the same
...becomes increasingly unlikely? One would have to be very
to be weak-minded and be completely unaware of the whole situation and situation.
version of our and the Catholic Church no
to have a concept when one goes through such a hys Pothesis should let itself be carried away so far. – Is
But the last part, and the whole pretense, is untrue.
and fiction; so everyone will know where he is going.
everything has to be dismissed, and it must be at the complaint
lichen cry of our new Zion's guardians other Intentions lie hidden, for whose sake the old Hatred between Catholics and Protestants flares up again fueled, and among the protesters themselves mischief
Trust is scattered. | 5

If you have dealt with uninformed or particularly-
To do things to incited opponents, so one generally suffers the unfortunate fate that one never until it comes to an end. The most concise reason to conclude that something cannot exist; the beyond
most eminent rebukes from history,
They generally employ an important mine
new, wretched But on the contrary; where one ends up
He who believed himself to be the quarrelsome, sees himself again flung to the first beginning of the same, =

| ie

t
+

U

.. *

| Catholicism. ee 5 67

\ a de | 5

fe: start the same stories all over again and to serve up fairy tales whose baselessness one can see through to them believed he had irrefutably demonstrated this. Je derman find the truly philosophical reasons be=

knows Professor Garve with many affable people=

ness and modesty, the hypothesis of the Lord
Nikolai and the Berlin monthly writer opposite; but instead of thorough, just as philosophical.

sophistical cold-blooded refutations of the same, fin?

det man, on the other hand, nothing but willful mockery= tung *), empty claims of their inadequacy,

and miserable little stories that were once accepted=

mene und ausstefite Hypothesese beweissen sund,
Repeated complaints to the point of disgust that sir,

Prof. Garve has neither patience nor desire for this.

Allegedly, he wants to investigate an important matter, yes, so=

even personal attacks on this humble, dear one=

wealthy scholars who appreciated his personal character

to defame, who is concerned about a good fellow=

For the sake of the sheep and the meal, flatter the Catholics=

I am, yes, already being bullied by them. I

One should not expect to be treated better.

and never expect it from opponents who has already allowed himself such rudeness towards me,

which exceeds all the limits of a scholarly debate, even before

I countered them with a word, far exceeding expectations.
and me notified, they as columnists and in=
to formally prosecute jurors in the courts.

9 The author of the essay in Heren D. Poßelt's magazine
Volume 2. Study 3. of the whole for the nicolaitischbiesters Hypothesis taken, cannot contain itself, to disapprove of the proceedings against Mr. Barve and earned, which is how he was dealt with.

Page 361. to say that he did not like the bitter mockery

*

E 2 * But

which hovers above her.

68 'About the alleged crypto=

But the most obvious thing one might think,

on the whole situation of Protestantism and Catholicism=
licism 'founded convictions that the:

entire pretense of secret machinations of the Catholic Church to the ruin of the Protestants

tism unfounded, and of such possible Machinations, if they should exist, nothing to be feared, can be opposed, this is previous projects failed. Controversial sermon=

ten, Controversial Writings, manifest Papist Mischief Unions, dispute discussions, union methods rich=

ten nothing more; but that's why one makes use of

Just different now, not like those already worn-out ones.

Means. Instead of the former manifest mission=
Now, one uses secret naria, to which one e.g.:

not looking at what they find. One uses ge for this:

beie Gesollen, sucht die Protestanten=
to win them back, to give them a taste of

To instill superstition, miracles, and stupidity,

to plunge them back into the old barbarism; and before= namely, the Jesuits, who are indeed outside= found itself in good standing, but their institute nevertheless continued=

fezzan, and their secret game in secret Gefell= to create and to induce in individual persons. Each all of this is done in a more secretive and hidden way,
The more dangerous it is, the more dangerous it is, and never before has the

The danger was never as great as it is now. We are the upright men who use these secret passages and discover tricks, no effort, work, time

and save costs; we mature and correspond,

to get everything out. We wake up while that our Protestant teachers were asleep, and was= warn our contemporaries of the terrible danger,

The

—

that one says: We admit that the up to=

N

u

3

= Katpofieiemus: were ee,

| — That would certainly be a matter which
| Many thanks, well-deserved, if only we could first s0as
some other points would be correct,
I. and would have to, whether we should give our new guardians so Could we trust them properly? We would need to know if they... even the truth-loving men would be what they claim to be? The aisles, which they allowed themselves to do to me, since they were the minister
that the king was deceived suggests that
They don't always hold the truth so dear to their hearts.
I'm lying down. We need to know if it's really not true.
personal hatred mixed in, and their intentions
fo lauter find als fie vorlegen, was doch ihre hãmi=
fchen, down to the low driven personal Attacks that would suggest otherwise.
And above all, we need to know if they really
These are what they claim to be, namely prostitutes.
stanten / that is evangelical Christians who tell us
s0ere Augsburgfche Confeßion und anderen fsym= whether to accept Bolish books, or whether they do not for example, secret naturalists and Socinians are those who only want to fool us; what a pretext!
wurf ibnen von andern Schriftsteller fchôn gemacht
(is). Yes, we would need to know if they weren't well.
even secret members of parliament and preparers of the Catholics and Jesuits find. Because through. their Declamations have made them all so insecure, that almost nobody dares to do it themselves anymore... One can yes, according to the claims of their party, without it to know for themselves, from Catholics and Jesuits: gone=
to become worthless, a dry one: stick in her hand.
What can move me to be around a stranger? More N 1 E 3 f ee) zn

ö 9 3. €. From Mr. Süprrint de marks in ben letters to f the new guardians of the Protestant Church) and in the Results on Jacobian and Mendelssian Philosophy.

\

70 live the offered crypto=

to trust more than myself? Even her alleged

Zeal against the papacy and for the Enlightenment

does not completely protect her from this mistrust:
for the Jesuits who continue their institute are outwardly enemies or rebels against Rome

and yet they secretly cooperate with Rome; yes

Even enlightenment is supposed to be a pitfall that one must avoid.

wants to lay us down. And hasn't one the society for the advancement of pure doctrine and true God=

bliss, which leads to the upholding of the eighth luther= has associated itself with the concept of teaching, and whose "Founder Dr. Urlsperger is, the accusation made that it was actually a work of secret Je= suites fen? Since this society now suspects us=

made into something one would much rather use for a Union of strict Lutheran Orthodox must, and in which there are men who are on our have sworn by symbolic books; can

other pushy zealots for the Protestantism is less suspicious if it is based on

Our symbols were not sworn, and so we are partly unknown? These and more Several points had to be completely perfect first and be irrefutably cleared up before we

these men for what they seem to be len, namely for eighth Protestant, or proper Lutheran and Reformed churches
no other, which harms all of Christianity
concealing wicked intentions, by no Jesuits,

also unknowingly snarled Zion guards and Inguifrores papifticæ pravitatis in these ffo extremely dangerous

during times when one doesn't even know oneself
can trust more, can truly hold on.

I don't want to claim that Mr. Nikolai and the Herten 8 and Gedike and ib: vers | orge

-

- -

|

|

each

7

.

things are a matter of their own 5

N

borrowed employees are not protesters; I I do not want to claim that the Socinians and Wa=

turalists and under the guise of enlightening us,

secret tools of Catholicism are found, and

I would be ashamed if I, like the Mo= writer did to me, wanted to ask her,

to prove that they are not. I'm talking about only according to their own principles, and according to the= selin is everything so extremely dangerous and distrustful=

made fully so that one can show the greatest zeal for Pro= TESTANTISM and the Enlightenment themselves are viewed with suspicion.

balten must, and security is not far enough away.

can drive. 3
But apart from all this; for I...

I doubt that these points will ever be fully addressed.

Pure ones will be brought forth, and our new Zion=
If the guard can clear himself of all suspicion=
nen, that, as long as one sees them according to their own reason=

faßzen judged, nothing should remain at all;

Apart from all this, I want to mention the so-called to investigate facts that can be presented to the public has foreshadowed. These facts are supposed to reveal to part, and the great danger in which we are...

The Catholics' feelings are so palpable and to irrefutably demonstrate that not the slightest

Doubts remain, and the Protestant princes
probably had nothing else to do now but the cat

to drive tholiks from their countries, and their own

a clergyman, whether orthodox or heterododorous
to appear before an Inquisition tribunal, in order to

the machinations of the overt and covert |

To stop the supporters of Rome. 5
I can't say for sure in advance.

that there is anything to this alleged deed:
and that with me, =
xv 5

x =

4

1

f

72 Uuober the alleged crypto=

“

Perhaps several insightful men will...

weighs more than ten so-called facts. How some enthusiasts, like some old mothers

Chen knows a hundred little ghost stories.
tell, and present them as facts, for whose certainty=

her own experience guarantees, with a trembling voice to praise! Another sets these facts

his own, since what at first seemed like a good thing to him

ghost seemed, afterwards as fraud, as through na= natural causes have been invented. Two=
Are the fruits of the efforts made on both sides?
presented facts, until the philosopher intervened steps forward and decides. In all circumstances, when Those who should have faith are faced with too many difficulties.

abilities that first need to be corrected.

At the first spring from which they flow, there must be one can be completely convinced that the first witness sufficient ability, skill=

I have had character and sincerity, that which
what he states and tells as truth, properly
to investigate that he is not prejudiced, Disadvantage and advantage, comfort and love, ease;
faith or doubt is deceived and lent=
have been accused of misinterpreting the matter and of acting incorrectly.
to provide. So-called middle witnesses, witnesses of Sorcerous sayings, through their oral or written News facts are supposed to be true,

are only credible insofar as they provide the first

Witnesses, if they are completely credible,

come close: but the whole message of a so

Using such a middleman as a witness is reprehensible, and for nothing.

Stop if its first author is reprehensible,

or is unknown and secretive. But

This is true for every lawyer and anyone who has even a basic understanding of the subject
| | Logic

Thinking this way, a thorough philosophical proof

—

—

Catholicism. 573

in advance, how much he will have according to these known logistic fchen rules on the facts touted to us can build.

| I could truthfully say how Mr.

Prof. Garve, that I have neither time nor patience or felt like looking into all these things in detail=

search: and that this be told to me a hundred times until

I would find it disgusting, but I shouldn't let that bother me.

to prevent me from confessing this, since I am already far from right=

I'm used to things from these men.

A pleasant thing, and a scholar who is still there=

Anyone who sits in office can certainly use their time a lot nuz=

Apply more barely. However, I have thereby

Don't be discouraged, and even the time when I

I'm recovered from my illness, but not yet out of it.

going could be used to do everything according to Mög=

to investigate the possibility. I say, if possible:

because I work alone, and for good reasons=

neither Mr. Lavater nor Mr. Clau

dus, nor Dr. Urlsperger and Mr.

Deacon Dreykorn, still in our land

living Professor and Superintendent Schulz,

nor anywhere else have I looked for news,

in order to learn more in view of the alleged facts

To receive light, so that no one could say, I

bätte Parthey made, and from all angles me from Germany. So what I'm saying is,
These are just my comments. If that's what I say, if it is not obvious enough, consider this:
that I write alone, and it remains unknown to him.
men now continue to be with all the men, and to all the places from which and at which home= licher eien wirket feyn foll, nahher und voll:
E 5 kom

N

Logic has known things, and everyone sees them.

Going through all these wretched things is certainly no

| | 74 First steps of the Berl. Monatsschriftsteler N

to teach in the coming month. I will be teaching the month.
to follow writers step by step, and them
to try to follow all its twists and turns,
without them, it's also difficult to get out of sight.
let it happen. Mr. Nikolai asked about Mr.
Garve complains that he is not taking a step forward.
(Step follows). This accusation is flawed;
He shouldn't meet me like that, which the Tejen
will convince itself. | g

First steps of the Berlin monthly writer against the alleged Crypto=Catholicism in 1784.

—

If you read the Berlin monthly magazine, this is for
Our times are just as strange as they are worrying.
Product, because it first contains intolerance and ag= living against one in the Roman Empire not less= ger, than Protestantism legal religion=
party, and mistrust among the protesters
even, under the hypocritical pretense of zeal
for the good of the Protestant Church=
Scattered is, from year to year and from month to month
If you go through the month in detail, you will discover in the same

a very artificially designed plan, according to which These writers only very gradually begin with their principles and intentions to the public to sneak in, and then keep going.

Those who only read this brochure bit by bit, gradually reads, as it comes into his hands in a book-like fashion,

and then back to other reading or business
| z | to=

J. Atolais, Appendix, sum ten, Bande feiner Reisen. p. 7.

Pr
—

against the alleged crypto-Catholic R. +73

Jutuckkehr, is not able to do everything so |
to see as the one who sees the whole work as a one= once and now the whole thing 6
studied thoroughly.

The first step 5 is described in the good part of the February 1783. Page 180 ff. made, where a ver

:Tappter ) Akatholikus Tolerans appears and the allegedly false tolerance of some Brandenburg and Pomeranian cities, with regard to the enclosure

of the Protestant churches to the Catholic God= |

service, rueget. Some provincial cities, as Ber ·

nau, Ppyritz, Greifenberg, Ruppín etc. w.
have given Catholics the opportunity to celebrate their God=
The service cleared their Lutheran churches in Stade.

"That is the actual fact: and these intrusions= mung of the Lutheran churches, the rivalry of the arose among the aforementioned cities, the Dispute even over this among these cities lead should be, which state first on this Stage of enlightenment showed, makes the Akatboli=

Kus Tolerans is concerned, and moves him to oppose this.
false tolerance this warning to his protestants=

to recommend to fellow believers. He gives himself first and foremost, he appeared as a man who always wanted to be better strives for tolerance towards adherents of all faiths;
to teach and practice, as a man who has all his breasts
the, if they ac in " of her *

the

N am Jahrg 1783. S. 248. 249; is indeed already in Mr.
Biester's letters to Mr. Gedike spoke of churches that the Catholics formerly in Silesia from the Protestants= named by the female bishop of Breslau, who (great printed) by the grace of God and the Apostolic throne,
He is the Bishop of Paphos. But these are only small hints.
who only weakly betray what the future month will bring should deliver. ö

0 Augur auguem. A Bertappe "against Beatem

2 h N

73s First steps of the Berl. Monatsschriftsteler

those who are, love and do not become religious believers=
successors can be humiliated, and finally as a whole
An open-minded man. Who wouldn't trust him?
against a writer of such two souls=

have any nungen? Is he also a resident of Berlin, or a born Mark, as what he page 183. states; this posits a man in advance, which is not only about everything exactly under= can be correct, but it really is, and whose warnings Mans 9 should not be ignored= casual are. a

But how much of all this does one find the
6. Opposite, if one considers the matter precisely and thoroughly.
lich examined. In order to approach the latter first= to catch; so the author has, even if the one Clearance of Lutheran churches from the Catholic God=
tes dinfte in thoughten cities, probably their right= has the ability to not rely on reliable sources for his message
sources, but from Jeitungen, as he himself says, created. A newspaper article therefore makes him so worried. The rivalry that arose because of this evacuation under imagined cities has occurred
"Should" is merely his assumption: for he says it
It seems so. And that these cities really... About it a dispute arose among themselves, which initially focused on this stage of the Enlightenment showed how the Greek= 1 Chinese cities on the honor of the birth of Ho= N mers, is not proven by anything. Yes, even the mountain:
Fasser presents himself as a man who is not at all He had been taught. He wishes, page 187. the more detailed history of this, which was permitted to Catholics Permission to know: whether the Catholics are seeking · ten or the protesters offered? What those cited reasons in their petition and was N * Sewegungsgegründe, auch die ge=
"homes

*
Z.
*
"

I 1

against alleged crypto-Catholicism. 77

Don't forget the homes, did you? Of everything

this; of which he at the Supreme Consistory, without whose consent that enclosure is impossible under the law.
could happen, and which all had to know, itself
be able to teach if he wants to, knows
The author said nothing. I wrote in the year 1785.

when I was in Berlin, the Ober=Confistorial=Rath
I asked Dr. Teller what was wrong with all of them.
alleged dangerous secret machinations
of the Catholics, of which the monthly journal and Mr. Nikolai spoke, and they themselves in the Mark and Pomerania should be made; and Mr. D.

Teller himself laughingly declared it an exaggeration, for empty fantasies, and told me that he himself
I told the good man, Mr. Nikolai, that he was in
He went too far with his delusions. We have beer.
so to deal with a man who talks about things
det, whom he only knew from the newspapers, and of which he is not sufficiently informed, the already suspects secret motives behind the move, which the protesters in those cities were moved to the Catholics in their churches, their service to God to be held, that is, with a man who does nothing less than fo undefangen is, for which he is from=

gives, but already in fine heads a phan= Tom had formed, from secret driving forces that influenced the protesters and led them to the moved.

Now, on page 182, follows a definition of the Tolerance, which is stated quite accurately; it
It is told what one could expect in terms of tolerance in the Prussian...
...states against Catholics, as

that they preserve St. Hedwig's Church in Berlin, in Silesia, West Prussia, Halberstadt, Westphalia, and in several provinces, * and 8

| en.

\

78 First steps of the Berl. Monatsschrift writers ben, and the clergy from larger communities to:
 to travel the smaller ones, so that they too may have their God=
 You are on duty. There is nothing to say against this. Religion Gions= and freedom of conscience had long been requested by the Honor was bestowed upon the Prussian government, and one can nothing different from an enlightened state,
 How the Prussian is, grown up. Quite tremendous.
 but opposes the rebuke from the Catholic Intolerance, where the old stories of Salzburg
 and the Palatinate, which is already only somewhat cheap Thinking Catholics are ashamed, once again exposed will be. But so that no one might object,
 That Catholics in our times are better and more humane?
 thought more freely and therefore more tolerance than before earned, since in the staunchly Catholic states of the Austrian monarchy, the Protestants, the free religious exercise granted; so it will now from page 184. which in Imperial States a= Suspicion was raised about misguided tolerance, and on presented in the most perfidious way. It is said, Even now the protesters in the countries are being...
 the enlightened Joseph II.

The author adds in a parentheses:

although, as one might think, quite contrary | fine will! But this is precisely what should show that even the emperor's orders were nowhere able to be followed and sufficient to overcome the ingrained intolerance
 To put a stop to it. To prove this true, who= |
 the facts have now been presented. Who doesn't expect | such as those borrowed from the times in which
 The great emperor presented himself as a patient ruler
 and general father of all his subjects shows? But instead, Mr. Hofrath becomes...

Schlözer's state advertisements stated that one should be able to before twenty years, that is, under the government of Franz O'May
"u

*

—

rer

— 7 er 5

contrary to the stated Crypto=Catholicism rc. 79

and Maria Theresa in Carinthia and all Austria is more inclined to nothing than to prevent all un=
to Catholics by elevator or by force
To make Christians: that one can do that in Carinthia

launched its own missions, the maintenance of which in

Year 1780, that is, in the last year of Kai's life=
Queen Elizabeth II, who died on November 29, 1780.
and since Joseph II was not yet sole ruler of the
The amount of the Austrian states was 2855 fl.
that these missionaries and the court the schools
to have it locked up: that even now the clergy...
Houses of Protestants are overrun, the most insolent

To spout nonsense from the pulpits, and to incite the devil

ask them to fetch her when the Protestant religious education center is open.
gion wahr, and not the Catholic who alone is blessed= making, and the Lutheran one cursed kezze=
The truth is: that one should be those with whom one
the Bible and evangelical religious books
found, still a few years ago partly on the body, partly severely punished in terms of their assets. — Whoever complied
He should not, upon reading this, believe that the Protestants still now in the year 1784. since the Akatholikus wrote, so in the Austrian state=

ten treated? Because it is said, that it is still in the enlightened Joseph States, although, as one might think, quite against his will, let it be done: it is said that the missions in Carinthia are still ongoing, that there are still the Catholic clergy, the houses of the Evangelicals
fchen ürüberfallen, noch itzt den frechen Unfn auf deliver speeches from the pulpits, and just a few years ago=
to severely damage the bodies and property of the protesters was punished. That in the early days of the tolerance led to there being still people who with dissatisfied with the regent's institutions, fa, 1
ann | 5 8 and

. .

80 First steps of the Berlin Monthly Writers
5 swarming priests, who harbored their old grudges

to publicly reveal their opposition to the protesters,

It's not unbelievable at all; rather, they're talking about this.
public news. But with what malicious intent?
ftigen Kunst will be the one in all facts and history=
The news is so confusing, such an important sequence of events!
After the beginning, where it says: "There is still someone"

in the lands of enlightened Joseph and

fere Blaubensgenoflen bedrückt, und nach dem
so often repeated even now and a few years ago=
One would think that the pressures of Protestants from the Catholics in Austria still continued at present, although against the waves
of the great emperor, who gave the tolerance diet to:
ben: and again, the facts that the still supposed to prove from the time of Franz the Borrowed from the First and Maria Theresa. And when the author says: Now the ge appeared .
He blessed tolerance – Edict; thus he himself sets fine Facts in the times before Joseph II's sole rule= guerrilla, in June of the year 1781. =
Six months after the death of Empress Kö:
The Tolerance Edict was published. – Who is the Reader, if he understands everything reasonably well...

seeks one who is not in the disguised non-Catholic writer discovered who was either very ignorant

in everything is and therefore no attention is paid.

serves, or with deliberate malice the story
confused and mixes up the events,

just to present everything in a hateful light.
And that is the unbiased man who knows all men= loves.

But now the tolerance edict is biting off more than it can chew.
that his power would only last until New Year's Day 1783.

The following facts are cited as proof:

who

--

Fe

.

Ä contrary to the stated Crypto=Catholicism ze. 1

who did not decide quickly, neglected it, or
He was prevented from identifying himself as Lutheran, he had to
to remain Catholic; they would consider him to be in Carinthia.
The imposed restriction order is kept secret: whoever... at the end of 1782, reported, which was referred one waited until after New Year's, and whoever then contacted them,
He was told it was too late: who then called det had, will be noted, and then at Lei=
"Prohibited punishment and fines, according to the Lutheran faith" Attend lessons: Court servants go into the prayer house and walk around to find such things=
tappen, who did not before the 178 3rd year gemel=
det: to hospital becomes during a Protestant liaison beginning Joseph's decree contrary to the
The churchyard is locked; the protesters must pass through.
crawl into a hole and get insulted; and to Villach becomes 1783. Doctor Luther at a faft1

at night from a bridge into the river-
 fen. – I admit all of this, that it happened that way.
 It is as it is told. – But may one imagine
 It is surprising that in a state where the better Gefantasies only begin to blossom once they have started, not because of it.
 People who still hold old prejudices are missing-hang and by priests who speak about tolerance and the restriction of their advantages, their prestige and influences are bitterly felt, thereby strengthened by all tendrils and chicanes the regulations and ab-
 To try to understand the ruler's views? Is one able to
 to say, for that reason, the power of tolerance
 Did the edicts only last until New Year's Day 1783?
 Those who did not prove it were still after the year 1783.
 Freedoms granted by the Emperor to the Protestants,
 and the prayer houses built everywhere, with which It is further stated that the Tolerance Edict in has remained in his full strength? In the year u
 8 > a

“
.

32 First steps of the Berl. Monatsschriftsteler

Mr. Preacher Victor Heinrich Rinke of Brün requested
 In WMähren, an excellent message from the Ein:
 dedication of the local Protestant prayer house
 cken let, which completely discredit that pretense makes). Still in the year 1786, on June 2nd.
 Pastor Arnold of Trieste writes to me,
 that the Protestants there in Joseph's peace-Littoral states enjoy a fortune that lasts until...
 no community of their denomination
 Part of it, since the public temple with Tower and bells, with school and other things:
 to religious buildings, to them of the favor

 the tolerating emperor permitted and already
 The church was bought for that purpose. How much This testimony from an eyewitness, from a man who was present, and Pre-diger of the so-blessed community itself, the pre-
 The non-Catholics lay down that the power of Tolerance=Edietes only lasted until New Year's Day 1783!
 It must be very strong, since one the Evangelicals of Trieste tower and Bells are permitted, which are found in some Lutheran churches.
 "Landern not the Catholics, not even the Reformed, and that in our tolerant year!

Hundreds are permitted. The churchyard will become a hospital.
locked, and protesters had to go through a hole
They crawl in the wall and are physically insulted:
ni j | and
5) A number of examples, which are in the Imperial states demonstrate prevailing tolerance and a whole desperate contrast with the intolerance of Zion awake=
The information on making ter can be found in the German Museum 1787.

Feb. p. 187. Some of the same are already from the previous for years, and known from the newspapers, and every

A philanthropist who rejoices in these milder sentiments,

must feel the deepest resentment towards those,

which can make these sentiments suspect.

More like 3 en – – ———— ũ –öü–l–

contrary to the stated Crypto=Catholicism ɾc. 83
and Frankenthal fell just a few years ago
no better things between Reformed and Lutherans

Theraners. In Villach, the mob accuses Luther of Doll into the stream, and to London it burns

man still in Faustin's philosophical century=
The Pope. One is as good as the other! –
But why does the author, who
This newspaper tells us all these little anecdotes,

so many elegant and humane treatments,

which Catholics, clergy and people of the Bold –
proved themselves tolerant, and who also in public
The news was made public when he truly the unbiased, tolerant, human being=

A friendly man is what he pretends to be, and not in a fine narrative the malicious intent

Have you either the tolerant sentiments of

to turn Protestants against Catholics, and To reignite hatred and mistrust, or

the tolerance introduced in imperial states, as a thing that has lost its power, to the whole world think about it?!?!;!s/ nn 3

Mr. Akatholikus now returns to this topic.

to the cities of Brandenburg and Pomerania, and

This raises the question of where Catholics find their God:

Should they practice testing services? And a fine answer is given.

I'm guessing they'd rather be on another one.

Places belonging to them or rented by them,

in a hall that she rented, or that was given to them

given to them free of charge, as if in a foreign land

The church, only borrowed for this purpose, held its divine service.

ten should. – Hereby the non-Catholic throws himself down.

Even himself, especially page 188, is in trouble. He

He himself doesn't know if the Catholics were approached,

or the protesters offered. Is that

Lastly, he senses secret plots, he seems ei 53 but

\ e

84 First steps of the Berlin Monthly Writers

but to accept the former, and that the Catholics=

ken is stuck in the prejudice that God can only exist in a building consecrated for this purpose by clergy

to be honorably revered; and there he rebukes the followers

generosity of the protesters against such perverse Be= grips. But now he knows this prejudice again,

that he accuses the Catholics, not to rage

men, like them, the inauguration, of evangelical

What happened to the clergy would have been valid and powerful.

can hold on; and senses another threat.

secret intention. – Who doesn't recognize here:

a man who undertakes to talk about things,

of which, according to his own confession, he

You know nothing, who once harbored secret intentions

had imagined, and now brought them out by force=
pressen will? a | |
Regarding the question itself, whether one would prefer the Catholics should be allowed to live in a Lutheran church.
to hold church services, or whether one Should they be given their own building for this purpose? So Everyone can think what they want about it. Times
And circumstances determine most of it. I For my part, I believe that it is very often better to... not to provide a separate building for this purpose, f
but rather, in such a case, to allow them to
. a time that did not disturb the community at all, the Worship services in the Protestant church are held.
We are not allowed to. We do not have the prejudice that we:
Their churches would thereby be desecrated. When the Russians were in Königsberg in Prussia, was
They were given the Polish Evangelical Church.
Their service is no purer than the Catholic one. But
The church was not cleaned and rebuilt afterwards.
It has been consecrated. Are the Catholics abusing it?
the tolerance one shows towards them, so can |
| man

I.

against the alleged RrpptosRathofiiemne: 7e. 85 ==

one them, especially where the Protestant Church the Having power on one's side makes it much easier to adopt the stance of to refuse to perform divine service in a church in which They only accept guests for a few hours a week are, as taking from them a property that they
the state under public loyalty and faith, but once he allowed himself to be brought into possession of it, and to whose he-

purchase, construction and interior furnishing of each

Catholic citizens contributed from their means=
gen has. In a church where they only find guests,
They cannot grant any to the Protestants as their own.
to make, to cause offense, find far more restricted than in their own property, and It's easier to impose conditions on them.

Thus, the Lutherans were allowed to leave the Sackheim region.
Municipality of Röninsberg, when it was after the great fire their God's service in the French

reformed churches did not observe communion.
to light lights, which the Reformed form^s
had expressly forbidden it when they gave them permission.
ben, to serve God in their church. But What is better in such a case depends on time and
The circumstances are safest.

But now the reasons of the non-Catholic, why he criticizes the leniency of those cities, that they
the attitude of worship towards Catholics
their churches are allowed: and one certainly does not know,
can you trust your eyes when you look at page 189 reads: that one can be certain of mating the Muslims, and naturalists
our churches for use in their re
religion exercises allow Eönne, as the Ka^s Catholics. Whoever here, like the non-Catholic, after Anyone who suspected secret intentions would be surprised by the beer.
not the certificate from bench Na^s

| F 3 fturalis^s

86 Eike Steps of the Berlin Donut Feast

to find turalismurs, which is found under the alleged
Is he trying to hide his zeal against the papacy?
But the Kezzer hunt has our new 1
'ter leased and one must in this glorious
Do not disturb the possessions of the sole owner. But who among all According to my notes, it is only bearable to hear,
that Muslims, who call us idolaters
look at it, and give ourselves our own cabinet in hell
have instructed that Christ was only for a pro^s
hold the phetes and mere men, throw the fine ones: _
to deny his death on the cross and put him in his place
"Have Judas crucified, and what else."
otherwise Muhammadanism is against Christianity^s
that Jews who consider us to be heathens,
those who deny the foundation of our faith, Christ
for a charlatan, fraudster and magician:
ten; that one naturalists, who our whole Re^s Reject religion and revelation, for fabrication and clerical fraud, so that one does not believe all this; Christians rather than Catholic Christians our churches for the use of their religious exercises^s
I can clear it up. That's what I call tolerance! Is that the excellent sentence, in which the most enlightened and the most freethinking theologians of Berlin
with the non-Catholic, as he firmly believed, (to agree), so it is certainly time that the in:

nern uns noch jetzt verborgene Abens*

8 | er=

The Christian sentiments of their great king find it

Certainly not. Everyone still remembers it fresh in their minds.

What was reported from Berlin on September 23, 1786, in all newspapers.

It was written: "the contempt for religion, which

"The effect achieved through the small brochures is so great, I want

"The monarch will not be further enshrined. To the Minister of 75 Zedlitz said the same: I have noticed that Freygei=

u sterey and Socinianism tears in, and almost weekend=

u lich

—

—

7

5

contrary to the stated Crypto=Catholicism rc. 87

Absurd tolerance of the Jews, Muhammad=

Naturalists and nerds have such a great advantage

"before a Christian religious party, and

| of the alleged zeal for Protestantism

be examined more closely and in greater depth. Is it perhaps

| | Safety alone, why the authors

| to be done; thus, few will surely be seduced.

become, stand up for Judaism and the Wu=

to explain Hammedanism. But have the predecessors...

Reflections of the naturalists of the Enlightenment,

Reason, better insights, less dressing=

of, as the outer sensuality of the Catholic God=

tesdienftes? i IE VE ER, |

And now the reasons: Legs Faith couple=

"They say," says the non-Catholic, "lehet fo apparently the

Saz, that their church is the only path to salvation

be, and so secretly practices all the tricks that at least here on earth they are the sole rulers=

will be shameful, as the Catholic one. Therefore

Is it dangerous that they are offered God's service in

Is this allowed in a Lutheran church? Therefore, it can man Jews, Muslims and naturali=

ften rather our churches for worship=

men? How little did the non-Catholic know the Ju= denthum; (or didn't he want to know?) how mes

No to Muhammadanism! If only he had

Eisenmengern and Sales read the Koran! Only The Muslim, only the Jew becomes ecstatic! And
A | 34 like
"The little tresses appear, whereby both are defended"
"will. – That doesn't have to be the case anymore. You as head of the 77 ecclesiastical departments must counteract this evil with good
| "To set an example. I don't want headbands."
Here in my country we have; but I also do not want to= 5, give that fools on the rafters of religion themselves and to enrich the bookseller through their journals.

f

9er

/
4

28 First steps of the Berl. Monatsschriftfteller

how is even the Berlin monthly magazine described Deism in contradiction to Christianity=

tbum taken into protection, where it says: The friend
Pure deism rejects everything supernatural.
liche, with which the religions, it is intentional their origin or their teachings and ge=

layer, boast, so also everything that is by Christo

and spoke of his divine mission and miracles
will, and the whole basis of our faith;
He knows no other true and eighth religion,

as the religion of reason, and must indeed be eu

If neither of the two is right, he would rather go to the naturalists counted as supernaturalists

(let seyn). That's just how we poor Christians are.

so well rejected by a naturalist, and for Followers of a spurious religion declared themselves to be merely Catholicism always declares us to be Kezzer

can. But naturalism practices less at home= Using clever tricks to drive out Christianity

gen and to take his place, as the Catholic=

The Jewish Church, at least here on earth, is the only one.
to become ruler? And yet Mr. Aka wants to... tholikus rather than that one, and the Jews and Muhammad= Medanern unfire Kirchen, als den Katholischen ein:
'cleared wiffen: When one is in the spirit of the month'
Writers everywhere suspect secret intentions,
One should not think that the non-Catholic,
if not the circumcised Jew and Muhammad=

Medanians, but at least the naturalists
affilürt fey ?

Furthermore, it says that no religious party is s0 convinced that this autocracy is not only for the good of the world, wholesome and fair, but
* their church fully by right=

men

) Berliner menatefchrif. September 1784. Page 237.

contrary to the stated when evil xc. 99

men belong: no one sees so all facilities
the other parties as violent against itself, and the longest firmly established possession
as illegitimate and zero. Behydes suffers with regard to the Muslims and Jews still its major limitations. The West Phalian
Peace, it continues, is from all princes.
1. Europe solemnly guaranteed, but not from Pope and Grand Sultan ("), and it does not belong
so much to the politics of the Divan, the hereditary enemy to be a Christian, as it is a principle of the "

Roman style is, all rights of the Protestants=
ten to be deemed fraudulently obtained and invalid: still
We are always called unbelievers, and Rome still sees the power that rests with the princes.
bishops fell for fine fiefs and he= names bishops of Magdeburg and Brandenburg=
burg. – These are now great and glorious developments.
J 5 * deckun=

*) These days, one can hardly have any conversation with the Turk anymore.
Children are frightened, and that the Pope, to whom almost the whole
The world's incomes and supposed rights so peacefully
This will only make us protesters more dangerous.
That should be, that is an absurdity that one cannot accept from any common sense.
can intrude upon tough people. The West Prussian Friesian
The Pope not only failed to vouch for it, but he also Presumed to launch a solemn protest against the same; and not only against the West Prussian peace, but from time immemorial and up to more recent times against all associations=
lugs, which he believed were advantageous to the protesters. Cf.
JJ Mofers Constitutional Law Th. VIII. p. 389. fl. What
But throughout all that long time, he has caused a stir with his shouting.
aligned? Not the slightest, and it's not much at all.
stens folly, a ridiculous presumption, which fogar in
The latest election's capitulation has destroyed everything, and which, as I hear, is discussed in the lectures of the publicists Hardly any historical mention occurs anymore, now it's back again=
preferable, and as a stumbling block to the weak
to restore its perceived importance.

–

v UL

\

90 First steps of the Berl. Monatsschriftsteler

Covers that Mr. Nikolai gave us poor ignorant ones= wants to have made the protesters first, and us
recommended by the non-Catholic!
But when you consider all this, which is still a lot capable of improvement, also to allow for that will, what it is spent on; should one therefore – greater tolerance towards Jews, Muhammad= Nerds and naturalists prove themselves against Catholics

sen? – But the non-Catholic is concerned that;
 "the Catholic clergy in their ministry"
 In Lutheran churches, the supposedly old Right reinstated believes that a moment interrupt our statute of limitations with such freedom, the Favor was demanded as a duty, and finally to displace the true owners from their property will be able to. Of course, great concerns and worries | Driving and fine: who stands for that! Must everyone be well to worry. But how weak and sleepy.
 The author had to visit the ecclesiastical department in Berlin and the Prussian government in general hal =
 ten, if he seriously expresses such concerns=
 Could we? – But were the pros really there?
 Are the test subjects really so unconcerned about their tolerance? From (as can be seen later in the monthly magazine itself) that what happened, with the consent of the authorities,
 and with the approval of the chief s Eonfistorii ger
 fehen, und dass man fich in der meisten Orte trich= properly planned before the Catholics' request was made granted. In Ruppín they were only allowed to the hospital church, which became the flour store for the |
 Served in the garrison, and in which only every quarter of the year God's service was held. In Bernau, there was first Magistrate and citizenry consent, as
 The clergy had no objection. In 8 |
 : | | en» |
 9) Monthly Journal 1784. Volume Three, p. 848 ff. a 7

 N

4 5 N
 1 ; ES |

/

against alleged crypto-Catholicism, 91

In Denburg, everything happened under supervision and according to Proclamation of the Higher Consistory in Berlin. To Neustadt Eberswalde, near Stargard and Sten=

The most cautious conditions were previously in place.

fixed, and in the last place by the spiritual Department of the shared use of churches the Catholic Like only under explicit exclusion

all now and future presumptuous property=

The right of ownership of the church was granted, and the Ober=Confistorio abandoned, on prevention all the misuses that may creep in to invigi in these and similar cases=

liren. – Even before the non-Catholic had his blessing

She brought worries into the world, was already all his:
Who will stand up for us! From within, against the authorities!
He most vigorously resisted the command; and so as

The authorities and communities ensured that the Catholics

Those who like something might not abuse tolerance, fo
The Prussian monarch will probably also take care of that.
that the chair in Rome did not grant him the Vistulae=
Magdeburg, Brandenburg, etc. once
I'm arguing about it. So, it's probably all a bit different.
as the untimely birth of a writer who did not educate themselves at all, or deliberately did not (wanted to teach), just to have the opportunity ben, to spread his hateful principles and the possible intentions to promote, to which = Writings about crypto-Catholicism serve should?

Finally, on page 190 ff. the danger=
The Catholic religion's [unclear] is brought to light. *
| | | at

) Was Mr. Gedicke, one of the editors of the Monthly journal, already in the Upper Consistory back then, that's how it was Surely not impossible or difficult for the Akatbolikus, to teach.

*

92 Duck Steps of the Berlin Monthly Writer has missions: every Catholic clergyman in pro=

In teftantifchen countries, missionary means: the propagandist=
ganda in Rome understands Fidem to also include newspapers=
According to news reports, only the Catholic faith=
ben; she is extremely active and her effectiveness | extends itself to countries where one finds nothing that of white, and through institutions whose existence one in such countries not even known: there are in Italian, French and German foundations

and seminars where Englishmen, Scotsmen,

Irish, Danes, Norwegians, Swedes in the
The principles of this domineering religion were revealed.
will be born, then return to their homeland,
and there, often without publicly admitting to it= know, work towards their spread: and who can be a guarantor that there are not also such Were there institutions for the Prussian states? All secret paths, and the darkness of all connections=
You can't unveil dungs: excellent
The ex-Jesuits who only pretend to be Jesuits are effective.
are suspended, but their society continues

sit down, and with slow and fast steps erupte, and their influence among the various= sten. Gestalten wirkt und die sonderbarsten Phäno-Mene brings. These know the heart of the Fur.
to win the Catholic religion
It spread quickly here and there: Tolerance is theirs.
merely a deceptive word to gain a firm foothold underneath

to grasp. Christian union is another.

Lock food. They are willing to compromise on small things.
around. quite a lot of limbs in the mother's womb
To attract churchgoers: They demonstrate philosophy, teachings, and beliefs.
Clarity, abolition of some otherwise important things held points, until we too of our egg=
genfinne abftehen und uns mit der Heerde eh

e Hl=

against the opposite. Crypto= Kathofiiemus 2c. 93

fallible shepherds and He alone can save them | to unite the teachings. This is what the Aka= tholic as the main concept of the Catholic states beliefs.

Who wouldn't give him a lot of bison?

stand. That the proselytizing spirit of the Romans=
The Church as good as the naturalist's own
"Bey" is a well-known thing. So we also know, that the propaganda only under Fidem the Catholic

[The text abruptly shifts to a different topic:] [The text abruptly shifts again ...
understands, and can understand, and their missionaries

so that only the Catholic faith would spread sends out, like the Danish missionaries only the Lutheran religion must be preached to the pagans

and can. So too are all foundations.
World Kefannt;; which was formerly before Englishmen,
Irish etc. established in Catholic countries
asked, although not solely for this purpose,

To recruit missionaries for protesters, who also continue. That the ex-Jesuits Rome to the retinue to continue and under the protection of the Russians

The monarchy's continued establishment of its institute is, after all, so public.
well known. Yes, in the states of the Prussian Empire.
Monarchy, as it lasted in Clevis, and the government, which made something without its involvement
The cancellation notice is not recognized as valid, would
They were not even allowed to insinuate the same thing to them.
Whether their influence truly exists under such different circumstances

ftalten wirkt, die Besondersten Phänomene her= proposes that they win over the princes, and thus the

To spread the Catholic religion quickly, it was still necessary to

It has only been proven more clearly that tolerance is present.
times in England under Charles II and James II was needed to also provide the Catholics with the
He knew how to create freedom of religion there.

a

94 First steps of the Berlin Monthly Writers

But will it also happen in Germany in our time?
only a deceptive word to gain a firm foothold
To grasp it would have to be proven. That one could before= mals in France Union methods to Anyone familiar with the subject knows how to convert the protesters.
Church history. But that's why the ones in our Times of religious violations made by Protestants Unification projects, actually from Crypto =Catholic=
ken herrühren und eine Lufteise der Papisten
Whether they are, is unproven. And it is just as unproven, that they only affect enlightenment in order to make us
To lead the flock of the infallible bishop. But If everything were as it is said; the un:
Proven would be proven, the uncertain certain that,
Even doubtful truths; are
Are we now in a more dangerous situation than before?
Are not the efforts of propaganda,

the seminaries for Protestants, the secret ones

and public missionaries who bring the Jesuits together with them |
ren Schlichen und Mühe, die Toleranz =
and Union projects are not all long-known
And worn-out weapons? If we were on the subject:
lichen Punet der religiösen und litterarischen Lage |
remained standing where we formerly stood; fo |
– we wouldn't have to worry about anything anymore
as previously: and our further progress un=
We are getting further and further away from Rome. But from

I have already spoken about all of this and will do so again.
There will be more opportunities to talk about it. – But
Who is not struck by the incomprehensible and utterly un-believe the claim of the acatholic, |
that everything that happened in recent times by the Catholics |
Tolerance has happened, and is still happening.
the discontinuation of knowledge customs, the possible
Giving in to protesters, the Enlightenment,

| only

As the non-Catholic understands it, it is a omission.
| | nen

– – x .
0 x

contrary to the stated Crypto=Catholicism rc. 95

uur Lockfpeisfe und Tãufchung fey, um uns zu to be concerned that one can only join the Jesuit order, to whose repeal the Bourbon courts the Pope

necessary, have ostensibly lifted, etc.

This constitutes a shameful conspiracy by all Catholics Princes and kings on the downfall of the Protestants=
tism in advance. Is this possible? But there= Let no one doubt this, it will be

Tolerance = Edict of the Emperor, and the great benevolent monarchs stilling sweat=

The accusation was made that he was involved in such a
The conspiracy was entered into, and fine tolerance.

All protesters who... are made suspect.

relying on the imperial edicts, in his state

ten might settle. For in several To Franz · Edieten Joseph II. says the neccatalica)

It bites literally: the upholding of the true ·
the only saving Catholic religion

is always our utmost care

This is therefore not an insurance policy that the

The ruler gives to his subjects that through the tolerance granted to Protestants, the Catholic

The Church in its states does not suffer, does not interfere

that he is to be impregnated, that he himself is not yet pregnant became Lutheran *), as perhaps some

He might think weaker because he was the protester

free religious practice granted; but that he still

Just like a Catholic Christian is earlier. Pure,

) Page 292. |

77) The Capuchin friar Basil Bortsbers also gives this comfort

For all weaklings in fine 1785. Published in Graz

a small print titled: Will we soon

Will they all become Lutheran?

%

56 First steps of the Berlin Monthly Writers

A word *, from which one can see that the Catholic;

ken noch immer bey alles äußern besserm Anschein

the same remain who they were, that the praised

sene tolerance in the Austrian states only a deceptive word is and every protestant

must be suspicious, and that even the great and universally admired monarch at the alleged ugly secret plot of the Catholics, who
The poor will secure protesters by abolishing them, otherwise
Important Punete, and through the dew=
The word "tolerance" is used to describe the share of the project.
take **).

I am not the first to f Berlin Monthly writers the malicious intention at= measures that they are the ones introduced in imperial states and brought great honor to our centuries-- to try to make someone suspicious of their tolerance. This It is already from the Baron von Gemmingen and Mr. Wekhrlin in the grey monster

No. 17.

) Mr. Nikolai, from whom the non-Catholic received fine news at least he has bowed, it holds in fine journeys Volume II.
p: 508. for a customary formality. |
) Nevertheless, even Mr. Nikolai does so in the 7th volume.
finer rice pre-printed additions p. 17. known to us, that the Emperor set aside the fund of 600,000 fl. for converts
In 1785, he was moved to the Poor Institute because he could no longer...
some, least of all those who adhere to the Catholic religion= '
He wants to secure ten people with it. He knows that.
not with the clearest evidence that the enlightened monarch
I hate proselytizing, and I don't like the protesters.
Want to back? Or are they just forgotten words?
and ordinary formalities? Certainly this makes | the same alliance, the additional addition with the
The investigation against Mr. [name] was reprinted in the next volume.
SGarve, where the fury and danger of proselytizing, |
so powerful, omnipresent and terrible is it proclaimed, 6
the most striking contrast!

"

2 7

contrary to the stated Crypto=Catholicism rc. 97
No. 17. Page 220. happened, which caused the loud outcry the monthly writer, short and very beautiful in his=
a complete inconsistency shows, their alleged Belief in a Catholic conspiracy to destroy the Bekeh= calls the protesters a mad fever, which dangerous and capable Gordonian scenes in

To excite Germany: how then can a young Man, since he started the Berlin monthly magazine ü

read, and there the voice of the faith watch=
ter heard, sick, sad, enthusiastic, un .
be happy and ready at every moment for a religious outrage to light the torch seize. Mr. Wekhrlin decides on a fine up.
saz said: Here we have the up
The solution to the riddle of why the prophets in the more unhappy. They usually sit in the event of earning one of the Jweyen, Scornful laughter or prison. – As far as I know,
Did the monthly writers say anything different about this?
contrary to the fact that they wrapped themselves in the cloak of wrapped in suffering innocence, instead of them giving them
We would have thoroughly investigated the important accusations made against us.
They should lay down. – So I'm not the first who them, the suspicion cast upon the imperial

It attributes tolerance to him. However, this accusation
The attacks on the Imperial tolerance in the monthly journal, and the deliberate circumvention of the imperial tolerance ordinance conjunctions before others that are in other Catholic countries made, irrefutably. –
Anyone who does not draw the conclusion to this suspicion=
He who can find him will find him if he is good.
thinks that these pieces of the monthly journal are just in
The era of the German Princely League is coming to an end.
The Zionist guards also found him to be good.
j | enn

3

[4

/

98 First steps of the Berl. Monatsschriftsteller | for even if Prussian policy, which as ever=

Dermann knows, on such festive occasions as free, open, and

based on noble principles, to such stealth methods=

did not humble himself, and the great monarch

A and fine ministers of this insignificant feather battle=
Even though they didn't need them, they still considered themselves to be far too important to be missed at a visitor's opportunity
They should have remained silent.

9 Every Protestant who knows his religion, must recognize its great advantages, and

The freedom of conscience and thought that it grants, his

To keep him forever dear to my heart. Every Protestant.
stant, which was formerly practiced by Catholics
The mindset of the Protestants is well known.
is, and possesses some knowledge, will probably believe that the Roman court had its ancient foundations=
I will not abandon sentences so soon, even though still so many individual Catholics Christians are more people-friendly, more enlightened and think more gently. The Reformed still have not their strict sentences, the Heidelberg Catechism=

mus and the Dordrecht Synod formally abolished,

even if many of them were of a more benevolent mind

find. Still is in our symbolic books not crossed out, which in the Smalkaldic Ar=
tikeln says that the Pope is the true Antichrist

even if there are still so many protesters about it

think more gently, and believe according to John,

that only the actual anti-religionist, who is not |

confesses that Jesus Christ was born into the flesh.

come. Every thinking protester will know that.

that a religious association of all honest par=

They are a project on the Platonic Republic, and

Agreement in thinking in this life entirely

It is impossible, and, will all Christians, ee

5 | * res

t

contrary to the stated Crypto=Catholicism rc. 59

their different ways of thinking, as fine brothers lie=

Ben. But he will be treated with care despite all this tolerance.

to be so that the tolerance he practices does not being misused by others for their own gain;

and this caution towards Catholics may benefit him

No one should begrudge a Catholic, since one lives in Frankfurt.

NorthWestern

University

Library

frightened by the example of Bremen, ger _

The same applies to the Lutherans in the Middle East.

Procedurally advanced. But which protester can also...

The Reformed are just as cautious, and in reformed

the latter, with heartfelt reluctance, this piece of the

Read the Berlin monthly journal, that unworthy
It betrays one's convictions and serves no other purpose.
as under the borrowed larva of zeal for the

ee and the sincere concern fñn

Impairments, hatred and persecution by

to stir up new emotions, to turn minds against each other embitter, and even on an unheard-of, and from the white Prussian government. to bil=

Lying way, the tolerance of the imperial court

which already number so many thousands, formerly lost=

followed, restless and fugitive brothers of our faith=

Bens, happiness, peace, protection and freedom of conscience
So beneficially spread, to make one suspect of addiction?

However, I ask my readers to pay attention to this note= worthy piece still deserves a careful look throw, and it with all subsequent allegedly Essays sent from various places to compare. All subsequent essays contain= ten alleged facts of secret plots

the Catholics, from masked missionaries, home=

lichen Jesuits, pre-empted tolerance, treacherous=

fchen unification plans, secret societies, Connections, etc. Whoever reads the pieces after and According to reading, it is formed that this only occurs according to 5 5 2 un

1

100 Weite Schritte der Berl, Monatsschrift. and developed after the Zion=

guard pulled the rope on the storm bell had. Nothing less than that! Everything was,

As you can see from this list, it's already prepared.

This first essay contains the germ and the compen= dium of all the rest. In the same one already senses secret intentions of the protesters both,

namely those that have already been secretly taken= One should have, as a Catholic. One speaks already of secret paths and the darkness of all

Connections, of secret intentions, of strange phenomena, which the Exjesuitis=

must have produced, of deceptive tolerance and Beligton's union. Everything future,

What one wants to emphasize is here in a nutshell.

to be true. Who wouldn't have a hidden [something] here?

Suspect a deeply ingrained plan, and through

U

The compilation of alleged facts continues to unravel.
should be wrapped up, if only the first loud cry of alarm could be heard.

Found an entrance? That's the first ER
the Berliner een, 5

Further steps of the Berlin Month Writer against the crypto=Ka= tholicism in 1784.

After the monthly publication in February 1784 |

They had only set the tone once from the
to talk about great dangers, in which currently

our Protestant church, because of the secret

The Catholics' rank, which was supposed to hover, was soon lacking.

after the genius of imitators, Parthey= |

Bent

against crypto=Catholicism rc. 101.

Makers and anecdote peddlers such a rich year=
Bunderts, not others who speak in the same tone with agreed. I'm ignoring the subtle hints, which are occasionally included in the monthly publication.
letters about Berlin appear, namely the Letters in which it is said that there is still a large
To take a step in Prussian style, which is already several Christians had wished for this, namely that a church of the natural religion =
where it might come about: in Berlin perhaps it could be

The earliest possible. The author doubts 8 1 but that it should also be allowed to happen there; it should
but he would be pleased if the Berliners were .
(disproved any doubt by the deed).

So I also overlook something in it, otherwise because of the | strange statements about Orthodox Christians and He= theodox, and the Berlin preachers strange | fourteenth letter, from the. Commission of active

Before their pure doctrine and true godliness= ö

"It occurs," because I later particularly...
I will speak.

Soon after the essay of the A Catholic printed in the February issue of the monthly magazine, he=

It already seemed like a letter from a Silesian dated 1st Warz, which occurs in the Junius piece).
After some heartily silly mockery about the
from the Marchian and Pomeranian towns.
practiced tolerance, and after a wonderful time together=
Menstruation of Aratholifus with the blessed Doctor
Weikhmann in Wittenberg, who was called by the shepherd=
Letters of Archbishop Trautson located in Vienna=

u yet man, a learned ee from the

– G3 finer

* Monthly journal 1784. March. p. 274.
*) Monthly Journal 1784. April. p. 365.
% Monthly Journal 1784. Junius. p. 530 ff.

\

102, Further steps of the Berl. Monatszsschritst.
| finer Because of the Roman Catholics us

to betray, write to and betray protesters

like a prophet whose success soon followed

ten seven-year wars, which were based on nothing less than the overthrow of the entire pro

targeted at the testatory cause in Germany,
A few examples will be given, those of the Akatholikus should explain general sentences. -

The first example of the two efforts to the detriment of Protestantism, Catholics

A Lutheran preacher ML delivers to K. in Silesia, which is divided by the Catholic tradition in The sad situation is that preachers are without bread.

to be. Admittedly a troubled state, and everyone
A person of feeling must despise other people.
the, he, Protestant or Catholic, the luck and to destroy the welfare of one's fellow human being addiction. However, it seems that in the whole matter, as it is told, not so much a secret plot to the power axe of Protestantism, rather than to have overcome bourgeois abuses, about which the authorities did not watch over. Formerly

A certain attack on the estates in Schlefien

an grain for the entertainment of the clergy feftge:
fezt, who was attached to the fundo as onus, and to the purchase price was waived. This was called nexus.
parochialis and the Catholic besizzers had to fo

good for the entertainment of Protestant clergy,
as the Protestants for the entertainment of the Catholics to contribute. This parochial nexus was revoked by the authorities, therefore lost

the clergy their salary, and the aceidentia

They were therefore the only thing that gave them the means to live.
would remain. The dire situation of poor M. 2. to R.
will still be, * * the * his Parish=

\

1

|

|

|

|

|

- x N ? „ 4

I u

against crypto=Catholicism re. 103

The number of parish children is steadily decreasing: because since Aufthe=
bung des nexus parochialis fezzten sich gerne Katho=
Like in Protestant parishes because they belong to Us
They may not contribute to the maintenance of the same: they are hairdryers:
nen also give more for innkeeper positions than Evans
gelish, whose number is therefore always in such places must decrease, and the monastery L., which the first feudal lordship of the estate is, has to the settlement=
lung nineteen Catholic hosts vr, clam, preca=
Rio has had an effect. - All of this is undeniable pressure.
But since after the nexus parochialis evan= geliŭche Befizzer no longer like before Contribute to the entertainment of Catholic parishes, since
According to ML's own confession, the Catholics

They prefer to buy their way into Protestant parishes, 1

to avoid the Ratholifchen, as to the
the entertainment they would then have to contribute; it applies then not the pressure caused by the lifting of the

nexus paröchialis produced, so good the catho=
"Lish than the Protestants"? So who is the Guilt other than that of the authorities, who through upheaval
Bebung des nexus parochialis die Gehirlichen beyder
Has this harmed religious parties? Is this intended?
Example: secret passages and tricks of the Catholic Church=
ken to suppress Protestantism prove= sen; so must first prove two pieces:

G 4 | 10 that

9 The Frankfurt Ristretto 1787. Piece 10. contains a ziem=
A very similar message from Bohemia: the Protestant Preacher in Saan abandons his congregation because they do nothing to contribute to fine entertainment. These people, it is said, find fo beschaff, dass fie, wenn der Paftor eine zah= lung of them demands, to turn to the Catholic, the Catholics, however, when the priest asks them to be
He urges people to give a tenth to the Protestant religion.
to go, threaten. What affects both alone?
Pages? Interested!

104, Weir Schritte de Berl. Monats

1.) that the Protestant parishes alone, and not Catholics too, by abolishing the nexus parochialis in Schaden gefezzet find: and 2) that this abolition of Catholics by all sorts of means=

It was arranged with the authorities. That.

The only thing that remains is this: that Monastery at L. as the first feudal lordship, already in the 19th century.
Catholic Wirthe vi, clam, precario eingefezt..
This would of course require efforts from the Ka= to spread tholicism, and would be at Monks and nuns are nothing out of the ordinary. But Before one can say that with certainty,
the question of whether the kebensberg

is not better off with innkeepers who are at the bottom

terbaltung of the parishes nothing neither at Decem,
still have to contribute to hauling and handicrafts,

as in the case of those who must contribute to it? then Yes, there would be a separate temporal advantage. Secondly
It should be known whether in Catholic parishes, where Protestant lords of life are found, not one like them.
Was it done for temporal reasons? – That's the first one.
Obtain an example of beer presented as a fact!
I skip over the entire page 3, sections 57 and 358.
Declamation on the granting of the Lutheran Churches in some Marchian and Pomeranian

Cities for Catholic worship, which every

Readers will consider it mere declamation. By al:
lem, which is part of the Catholic worship service
As is said in Protestant cities, it always occurs
the diligence of the Protestant authorities and Consistories, and the conditions in between, un=

ter whom one can offer the Catholics the service of God=
believe, and both are probably difficult to completely neglect.
has been neglected, not even in terms of tolerance.
the Marchian and Pomeranian cities, such as

N | | 3 n=

against the Christian Catholic Church rc. 105 |

Appendix, p. 545 ff., shows such a pitiful

Outrage also against this tolerance, from our new,

against naturalists, Jews and Mubammedans
They were raised by such tolerant guards. And what the p. 539: 540. expressed concerns about the'

Spread of Catholicism and displacement

of Protestantism in the villages, which Can one say, "If otherwise," the frequently repeated "if"?

as with the Spartans against Xerxes' threats,
when to oppose? But that we Lutherans,

as the author says, only from the Reformed.

differ in external constitutions
Should, probably not a single person from bey=

Teachings on the human nature of Christ of the un= conditional council decision, on the Lord's Supper, etc.
publicly removed, which they from the Protestants distinguish, as the Roman Church asserted its claim= from Catholicism, as supposedly the only one who is blessed= making religion, has abolished. That indeed to grant to religions. The Reformed have nor in their religious books did they find any more of their

—

People like to declaim about things, about

which they don't understand at all!
On the occasion of the methods, which
to serve the missionaries in making proselytes,

The author says on page 542 that aiding and abetting power
and honorary positions in the seminaries good service=

fte thue, and B. probably makes this happen.

Beasts, an edifying remark about the Prote=

stood, if they weren't otherwise completely asleep

want to wake them up. It's incomprehensible, he says.
he, how far the matter with these seminars has progressed

goes, and he states from Nikolai's travels that such a seminary exists in Linz and that

* 9 bite, and what else is far strange=
G 5 N "diger

Further steps of the Berl. Monatsschrift.

What's more, that such a thing has existed for 50 years.
The Tholic plant nursery in Schwerin is, which is run by Jesuits are governed where young people from Protestant ribbons, and as much as possible=
young men from distinguished Sausians, quite in silence, raised Catholic, and which with= ten established in an arch-Lutheran country
small foundation certainly of far-sightedness
The ultimate goal is – that in Linz in the Defterteichis
fchen vormal ein folches 5 anleget
That has happened is probably nothing strange at all, since it worldly-wise is how diligently the deceased great emperor Ferin: Queen for the spread of her religion was occupied. But under Joseph's spirit of the tolerance-breathing government, this is so=

'called Nordic pen lifted, and the one that went with it certain funds, which in fact were not a sum as large as one would have expected
had been sent to the religious affairs fund.
the. From the fact that Mr. Nikolai says he is=
I didn't realize I'd found an ad for it.
Ben, it does not follow that one can derive a secret from this.
Made. Are the parents of those who were raised in it?
have been public Catholics, so it is found
No accusation whatsoever; and its present repeal
This takes away all fear from our Zion's guardians anyway.
Far more disconcerting, however, is what happened in Schwe=
rin has been a plant nursery for 50 years
It has been said for more than 5 years before my Birth, should there already be such a seminar in my
My hometown exists. Schwerin is not a big city.
The place contains only about 7000 souls, and
It would be wonderful if in a small
A city where everyone knows each other, an institute,

in which 1 young people from en chen Lân · 0 dern

}

against crypto= Catholicism 2c. 107

young men and boys from distinguished Sours
to be raised in such a completely unknown way and could stay. But whether I would stay right up until my not come from Schwerin for seventeen years,
and although in that part of the city which is Cathedral =Parish, belonging to my father's parish=
He heard, who was known as a zealous Orthodox Christian throughout the country.
known, and on everything that differs from the Orthodox
The teaching concept of the Lutheran Church was very much removed;
What was noticeable was that it might be Catholic or Neformirt,
or Pietist, the Catholics call their chapel.
(above a horse stable); so I have never from such an institute that was established there
At least I heard: nothing from any of the Jesuits.
There, the institute or seminary ruled, nothing
from young people from Protestant countries
and distinguished sours, which were formed in the same .
det wurden, nichts davon, dass irgend ein Prote= static, young or old, distinguished or lowly, in Mecklenburg was to be seduced and turned into the Roman Church.
who have been kicked. Has such an invisible one?
Seminary, despite all the oppressive restrictions,
in which the Catholics in Mecklenburg at that time=
castle were located, and the vigilance of the authorities and clergy, but even back then, and when I was 17 years old, had already existed for over 22 years; so
Is this very long existence proof that this Alleged Jesuit seminary discovered in 22 years
neither very ineffective, or at least for | | Media

9 Man febe, was ich fcho gleich Anfang in der Note über the origin of the low level of Catholic worship in Schwerin indicated babe, and also compare biemit the Religious encounters, Vol. 9, p. 837, and one will convincingly see that Mr. Nikolai also beer Gefpende followed ff.

\

108 Further steps of the Berl. Monatsschrist.

Mecklenburg by no one the Protestants after the 5 ligen influence had been if. But after the Time in the 28 years that followed, the form from his former ineffective invisibility

The ability to lift up is such that Mr. B. has already been...
the certainly far-reaching ultimate purpose of the

They themselves speak, and that's why the protesters from can awaken them from their sleep of safety; so it is
It is the matter of the Princely Mecklenburg State
The government should investigate, and by what means,

Connivence, and protections of Jesuitism in this arch-Lutheran land, as far as it reaches

fen can, in this case the participants in sol

to punish those secret machinations, and in return

If the distributors are even spreading false or distorted news
address their authorities to bring them to account pull.

Finally, on page 543, we come to the second Bey.

game, which as one of several values, the words of the academics, that the influence of the ex-Jesuits acted in the most diverse forms, and producing the most bizarre phenomena, should explain. In a free trading city, there had the magistrate, who were half Protestant, half consisting of Catholics, one Protestant man

of great talents and studies at fine lace.
This man had secretly told the Pope in the Schoos swore that he had secretly...
praises, never against the interests of Catholics

and especially to be the Jesuits who are in the same

The city has a college and numerous schools

had; and the formerly famous Lutheran

The city's high school was a stone to them.
of the offense · Through powerful influences of the
The city protected him. U brought ibn him

—

22

against crypto=Catholicism ic. 19

They brought him through all the ranks of honor at a young age, providing him with all assistance from the court and the Great figures of the country: and he opposed them
The Yefnites are satisfied again, without their wishes= to fully satisfy without disadvantage
of the then still flourishing commercial sector.
That would certainly be an example, a fact.
But of what? Of the fact that Jesuits seek honor= took possession of a man, and that a
A zealous man to the disloyal one against his office and acted against his duties. One thing, which unfortunately! every day in bourgeois society

proceeds where wicked people are taken by base people can be bought without actually being a Jesuit Used as a pimp. But for secretive A vine to the ruin of Protestantism is still nothing sufficient was said, and to avoid this, it was left as is.

to truly see the chen or real vine would
It was good and necessary that the Ver=barrels did not pull the veil over all of this had what the imagined man would have said to the Jesuits

A favor done. Facts hidden beneath the veil.

are of little importance and already Reimarus
says that if the first author of the middle witness
What is kept secret, the whole story a legend.
is, on which one cannot build).

In the remaining pieces of the monthly journal
Only two more entries from the year 1784 remain.
before, which alleged crypto-Catholicism concern, and of which the first *) a follow=

"contribute to the history of the Catholic service of God
in Protestant churches, and the other =

N

* Reimarus' Doctrine of Reason, p. 265.
*) Monthly journal. Julius 1784. Page 94.
910 Monatofschrift. August 1784. Page 187.

x

210 Further steps of the Berl. Monastic Writings.

As far as Catholics in Holland are concerned. What he...
As regards the last essay, so it is from the Ber
address of Provost Carmesin of Greifenhagen

the Pomeranian Consistory taken when by which he was held accountable= because he allowed Father Schorenstein to to hold the service of God in the local St. Nicholas Church.

So, a credible piece of evidence: In which "Now judge," says Provost Carmesin, "that he has already..."
Father Schorenstein has been there for two years, as often as he
the Catholic communities of that area (two (once a year) travels, it is important to allow him to,
that he was allowed to hold the religious service in the church,
because he would have no comfort in the innkeeper's house:
Since Provost Carmesin always rejected this request:

rejected, because he could not do so without the permission of the Consistori

If I could agree to this, I had P. Schorenstein with me last visit penetrated him more than usual, him
also showed a resolution of the upper consistotii
after which one goes to Bernau the Catholic he= believes in the service of God within the Lutheran Church

hold. Furthermore, P. Schorenstein told him:
says that it is the highest petfon of the king
to particular pleasure, if the Protestant preachers in their churches
They allowed Catholics to hold their religious services.
to hold, and that, on the contrary, the preachers who would not allow such things out of intolerance, |

if it were indicated, to avoid unpleasant consequences
had worries. Since Provost Carmefsin
due to the short time from the Pomeranian Cansistorio

was unable to obtain any behavioral orders, even already other cities besides Bernau, Neustadt-Ebers Walde, Angermünde and Schwedt have the same

had disturbed the Catholics, and he finally also fear=

* . - 1

9
against crypto=Catholicism c. 111

feared that he would appear intolerant, and because it could have dire consequences for him; so he gave in.

However annoying it was for him. That is now the Fact. The question now arises, what can be made of this?

Catholicism, secret intentions against the Protestism and the dangers to be concerned about shines through? From Crypto-Catholicism and secret reasons for the Pro's actions

test subjects, which the neccatalica already in February

sensed, for example, if the protesters were offered What one should have, one finds nothing. Rather,
this grave suspicion, which was insinuated at the time,

refuted by this document itself, by P.
Schorenstein repeatedly visits, the provost Car=

mesyn, however, repeatedly rejects, and only Due to lack of time, behavioral orders from to catch up with the Pomeranian Consistory, and through Vor=

display of a permit concerning Bernau of the Oberconsistori and through fear of the Mo=

being seen as intolerant, believing

will give in. – Even those who are from the
The danger dreamed by the non-Catholics, which is caused by such Permission to grow up to protest autism;
This piece of art refutes that. One can see from the fact that the Protestants are not so carefree

and compliant, and the spiritual authorities not so sleepy and sure, when the Aka=

Tholicus was thought of. Provost Carmesin refuses.
to exercise the sought-after tolerance, two years away=

through: even what happened in Bernau, is with This happened with the preconscious intent of the Oberconsistorii, and that Pomeranian Confistorium pulls the Provost Car Mesin is held accountable for why he was without his

Foresight and permission to the Catholics to Grei Fenhagen, the church service in the Lutheran church

verse

!

—

112 Further steps of the Berlin | Monthly Journal |

werftate. This piece of paper is therefore itself a Wi Publication of the February issue of the monthly journal. —
But what about Father Schorenstein's behavior? That he
It remains highly reprehensible that he, through the fore
ben, as if it were the highest person of the Romans;
nothing to be of particular pleasure,
when the Protestant preachers in their

Churches offer their religious services to Catholics |

held allowed, and that the preachers said against it,
which do not permit such things out of tolerance
wanted, if it were displayed, eible consequences.

to procure, the good Provost Car

—

mesin was frightened, the monarch's name

and tolerance is abused, no one will deny it
They can. Such a man earns twice as much.

to be punished, and not only because of his Intrusiveness and abuse of tolerance

and the monarch's sentiments, but also because such behavior breeds distrust and Resentment is being stirred up anew. But whether P.

Schorenstein near this unauthorized and punishable Behavior, a far more impermissible and punishable act=

had a plan, namely in churches that one lent it to his fellow believers for only a few hours,

To grasp Posto, to persuade the protesters, the proved so patient towards him and his family,

and to displace them from their property?
Who can decide this other than God, who

A reader of the heart? Not me, not the non-Catholic.
kus. The most daring piece would be in each= the Protestant country, but primarily in one

be as attentive a state as the Prussian one.

But in the Berlin monthly journal, namely in the one signed by G. and presumably by Mr. Gedike's note of the | Pieces

x

against Krwpto= Catholicism rc 113

Stücks) finds Father Schorenstein, even if Fu

not because of fine behavior against Probst Car=
mesin, but because of the reasons why he, him

to allow the church to serve God, requested,

His apology. It means, in fact, that one...

previously the Council Chamber on the Rath=

house, or in private houses, as in Bernau entered a guesthouse for religious service;

clears, but that the clergy of this part found uncomfortable, partly offensive, because these

—

Zimmer at other occasions, comedian=

ten and jugglers Preiß geben wür=
the. — And certainly the bad state is striking,

when God's service was held today and the Sacra=

mente austhehier werden, wo gesund der Hans=

Sausage tore off jokes, and maybe tomorrow someone will.

dancing on the rope. That must be a protester.
to find it offensive, let alone people of such a nature Religion that focuses so much on the sensual, as the Catholic. Was that the reason why Father

Schorenstein, the God's service in a church
If he continues to seek, he deserves more apology.
But if there are two reasons for which a person

It's about what's in front of me, why shouldn't I, so

As long as it is possible to choose the best one?
Only an evil person brings evil forth from
to the wicked treasure of a fine heart, says Christ.

The other piece, which gives us the Protectorate:

Aunts warned of the dangers threatening Catholics=

The text should contain an anecdote from life.
of Cardinal Passionei, who in the year 1738. Kar= became a diocesan and died in 1761, and as a so great an enemy of the Jesuits is known that he also not even in his library a Jesuit

.

5 Font=

*) Page 548. | N

274 eitee Schritte der Berl; Manatsfchrifft.

The writer tolerated it. During his stay at
In Amsterdam he dined at the renowned Petrus restaurant.
Burmannus Secundut. The famous Weßeling,

But, who was present, asked the cardinal how he felt about the Freedom pleases, which everyone in Holland has from the

To speak religion according to his conscience, and to= Write it down, and then act on it? The Cardinal explained that he therefore made the Dutch happy *

treasure, but at the same time he raised the question: whether Will it take that long? – Weßeling,

who had deliberately raised the question, asked

Why? And now Passionei explained: You are not as sure about your religion as you many thinks easily. Rome has had since the fall of the Protest subjects made another draft. to regain possession of it, which it never drove.

let, and he is safer than one protests

The table-side believes. Solland is the
A start has been made, and much more will follow.

res. – That was the strange statement
Cardinal's passion, the Weßeling, an eye

witness, and also Schultens the author of the letter

fes, from which this is published in the monthly journal

Nommen ift, tell have. – I want to bey the
to admit as much as possible in anecdote
It is true. I will admit that the Roman court does he really intend to make the protesters regroup?

to subdue once. This is the teaching building.

according to the Roman Church, and one can see it from The Pope should not demand that he think differently.

as all great lords who regained possession of the

to seek to come to the lands seized from their ancestors.
And that people still thought that way, still
The many efforts prove that this wish was fulfilled.
gene that was applied, the protesters again

against the Coptos of Kabheltemn 2e. 119 6

to win. I want to admit what the Mo=
The writer didn't even take any consideration into account.
men that Passionei was a man who pro= test subjects were not as averse as others were.

Church, which itself has many protestans in its library=
had religious writings, and with scholars from all Nations and religions exchange letters

(would hold). But how unbelievable is it that a Catholic clergyman, a cardinal of Rome=

The church, the secret design, the fine church

made detrimental to Protestantism, verse advise, and all steps and courses of the same to them
That should make him suspicious! How unbelievable,
Is it that a cardinal himself told the Protestants the Plan of his church and his farm so far= should cover up the fact that he even told them where the Ope= rations of the same should begin first, and that he himself should tell the Sollanders that one can in Hol= land would make the start, and so they themselves

should enable them to face the threat threatening them= Driving towards work during those times? Certainly on It must be at the banquet of Peter Burmannus passed over, as Kloz told us in the Funere Bur-

Manni described the organizer of the banquet,

and had been drunk on passion, or one
One must be more than gullible to believe something like that.
the. And since, according to the alleged statement of the Passion, started by Solland

will, and much more will follow.
who wouldn't think that this
The anecdote went, like some prophecies,

which were only done afterwards, since the things

von geschehen were, and that also diene N
H 2 | | |

) S. Herr von Einem Kirchengesch. des . Jahr=
bündte, 1st ed. p. 529.

|

716 More Shi der Berl, Monatsheft.

was only invented after one had already dealt with George Gordon put the chimera in his head
had that the departure of the Dutch from the English
The alliance and its surrender in France
Poor Jesus, a Jesuit crypto-Catholic piece
How much value can one of a

Anonymously circulated anecdote, an anecdote

dote, which one can only say, since Schultens, Weßeling and Passionei todtd find? ? Why not

Back when they were still alive? It should be Weßeling, right?
who told it to the author of the essay

should have been given the explicit reminder
haben, to make this incident public, and dar=

to attract attention in Germany.

Why then has the author only written fine examples so far?

Anecdote individual people whom he does not name, and one of which is only indicated with an asterisk. is, not publicly, and only after death Did they make it known to all those who knew? Why did they Weßeling and Schultens said nothing about this matter

A complaint was filed with their authorities, since the Sol=

Should the misfortune first strike countries, but rather

Give it to a stranger in Germany. On: _

To attract attention? That's a whole range of things, which makes the anecdote at least extremely suspicious do. And with what does the author prove that in Holland, Catholic Dutch nobility in Bauren is disguised, and that Catholic magistrates secretly and quietly in such places,

Where can I find Catholics? What a pathetic mess!

The monthly writers were raised in a cry of outrage. have, if similar anecdotes of secret Machinations of the Deists and Naturalists, and that among the alleged zealots for the pro= nn Deisten gebe, ins Publi=

cum

2

against crypto=Catholicism re. 1 17 would be killed! And yet this bites so many 15

The mere anecdote is some strange stuff: nis! In order to be able to judge facts, ger The monthly writers themselves are entitled to, they must truly, completely and with all the circumstances

(to be presented). One cannot and must not Should they demand the same here as well? Or should they only...
We alone have the right to be shabby, unproven,

Limping anecdotes as great and strange Bey:

To set up games? Can one justify the presumptions?

and continue teasing the audience? For what a gullible, easy to mess around with!

The leading thing had to be the SPEECH,

The actors had the audience!
I would proceed from here to the examination.

the supposedly great facts of the subject

The object moves away; however, in order to remove the object once applied...

captured matter from the Catholic service

not to be interrupted in Protestant churches,
who, as it seems, are after everything
The following is the first predisposition. Given, I want ur gleich himit verbindet, was davon in den nach=
the following pieces of the monthly journal appear.
The one who is better able to oversee the whole thing:

to see and judge when you tell him something | continuously, as many other related

and unrelated pieces cut through, before= lays.

That next thing, the Berlin monthly magazine

steller deliver, find thoughts on some Aeuß=

Statements by Mr. P. Bernhard Schorenstein,
Catholic preacher in Berlin, against the Akatho=

N ütus: 3; Tolerans 5 The author of this 9
H

3
=) August Er p. 265. 0
3 . 1788s. January, p. 37. fl.

,

.0

x .

118 Further steps of the Berl. Monatsschriftst= |

is also anonymous; but he signs one.

Followers of the Akatholikus Tolerans, and we seven so now already in the person of this new one Guardian of our church, a man who already has a follower, the head of a company to be founded new party. Since this essay refers to a Letter from P. Schorenstein in the bishopric portfolio has *), can I this strange Writing is impossible to ignore. I don't accept any.

Parthey, and the upright man, he fen Bonze
or Mullah, Catholic priest or Reformed Domine, is always so venerable to me, as if the bad, unjust Lutherans are dismissed=

is despicable; and vice versa. But I

I must confess that my astonishment was very was tall when I read Schorenstein's letter

read, and it with the previous essays of the month

would hold together the writing. And not after a one side reports, but after both Par

theyen heard, can surely only be true:

A sound and reasoned judgment will be rendered.

According to the Berlin monthly writers, one might think in the P. Schorenstein a man who from ProselytesHunting, or to help the Protestants with their
to swindle churches, from city to city, from Village to village around, at a time when it was not the Catholics under his care lacked a convenient opportunity to perform their religious service to keep, and they would not be denied it.

to build churches, if they believed,

They should have churches. But how much is everything

there disfigured! – But even the letter: and

P. Schorenstein tells us that he does two things every year.

once by royal command to twenty cities

N fa nr tires

9 Siftorisches portfolio. November 1784. b. 554 if:

3

* | 0. 3 |

7

5 N against the Shem, Rufus 12 119

must travel to garrison the place itself;

the cavalry and infantry regiments to hold Catholic religious services, for which he was granted the (required preload is given). The one that Catholics on this occasion for divine service
designated place, but was generally so arranged, that he was so very inconvenient and indecent to do so,
that if the small detail of the tolerant Prussian=
if the government had been known enough to

certainly provided for better facilities on its own.

Ben would, where the foreign advertisements are always more= brought more Catholic recruits into the country, and through the monarch's paternal events

the popular measures according to public calculations us

has increased significantly, also due to new additions=

zöglinge, the small groups of Catholics to Ge communities grew. But it simply wasn't that way.
different. Where Catholics serve their God held, in some cities there was an inn the city; and to it was added now this, now that= shown, and therefore it often happened that those who went to God

tesdienst befte Stube von durchreisenden Fremde=

the clergyman in the innkeeper's dwelling to stay overnight in the room, because of the departure of the strangers=

wait for him with his congregation, and then in the

the room just left by the strangers

He had to perform God's service. These rooms were in some cities very low, and so narrow that They could barely contain 5060 people, and yet

The community was over a hundred strong: many people

They therefore truly fainted; and yet (had to hear confession in this crowd)

and the communion will be different.

S 4 we

* 9 Ibid. = p. 355.

*) And > was Catholic confession, superior confession.

\

120 Next page of the Dal monthly journal. =

Where was the place for the Christian and Jewish wedding?
ten certain, comedians and jugglers
They made use of it, and picnics were also held there.
held, which often still smelled of when the
It should address worship services. In places where
The community was strong at 3:400, so they had the Catholics were offered a place on the town hall =
meadows; but the place stood day and laughter frexyx
The corridor in front of the magistrates' offices was open.
where people in their devotion through ab = and con =
those who had business at the court, g?
were disturbed, or a place where in rainy weather
In winter the soldiers drill, the guard parade directed, also probably physical best.
were held. – That is the literal
Description given by Father Schorenstein of the Oertern makes where he is with his fellow believers,
to which he travelled by royal command,
had to hold the church service. – The most zealous Protestant, if only somewhat tolerant, and against an honest religious party, by the way, may They have no more flaws than being more intolerant than against Jews, Muslims and naturalists

whoever is, will at least have to admit that These places are very uncomfortable, and partly unsuitable.
had been constantly at the service of God, and that the Catholics have good reason to make themselves comfortable.
and desired decent ones. Just wanted to say,
that they address this grievance, this inconvenience
could have remedied the situation if they had built their own (place rented or bought); so one sees It's probably easy to see that some citizens in the cities, my= Mostly small, and few middle classes, some on inhabiting the country and Solda=
8. W

—

>) Monthly journal. Seörua 1784. vol. 87. |

7 —
r ze Digi |

4
* *

against the Rrypto»Katfoliciemus ꝛc. aa |

ten 9 made up the largest number, probably sebe
could have contributed little to it.
According to the Berlin monthly magazine, it has
To look as if the enclosure of the Lutheran Church in Bernau, without the prior awareness of the superior
Consistory's creation, and that Magistrate
8 and citizenship only allowed it because they had lived,
| that the local clergy had no objection).
Father Schorenstein, on the other hand, documents that They granted permission to Bernau with approval of the Oberconsistorii given *), and thereby to:
The restrictions were immediately established, under which such a thing was granted to Catholics= the). Certainly, one must be very simple, or — To be extremely unjust, and impartial justice=
One shouldn't deny anyone the freedom to be active,
if one does not have some precise coherence=
tung beyder Stücke, in diesem Stücke the right on the side of Father Schorenstein, and on Pages of the Akatholikus Pseudo-Colerans the can find the most deliberate distortion. In view of

but of the one who, what the behavior of P. Scho

Rensteins zu Greifenhagen against the Provost Tar

As regards mesyn, the former has not legitimized himself at all, whether it was to be expected, given that this incident occurred in Julius is commemorated in the monthly journal, and his Writing only in November – part of the portfolio appears. One cannot deny that
| a 5 P.

| *) giftoriiches portefeuille, qa 0. p. 556.

| ) Mongat script. Junius 1784. page 547.

) Nevertheless, Mr. Nikolai, Volume 7, p. 87 and in the Annex hang p. 134. still make the public believe,
N. Schorenstein did everything without the permission of the authorities.
knew how to obtain it by deception. 5
R)ie. da 0. ro 560 561.

5

122 Further steps of the Berl. Monatsschrift |

P. . Schorenstein to Greifenhagen, the tolerance

I have abused it.

But now to the follower of the Akatbolitus*).

He included P. Schorenstein's letter in the Hands: he wants to refute it. But instead of focusing on the first appearing in Schorensteinian letters

The main thing is to come, even though there's so much noise.
caused, he passes everything over with the deepest silence
To remain silent. To throw sand in the public's eyes.

to scatter, and it from this, the man, whose

His followers are, in their nakedness,

To deduce the matter, he wants to focus on the actual issue.

Point of contention, but begins with a fine par

They chiefs began to declaim against the papacy,

and says that he made his way through the Schorensteinische

I find the justification unsatisfactory because the Ka

tholicism, according to its essential principles,

Unfortunately, all other religious parties under=
I have to press because I have to ask the Catholics about every no bound reversal in the enclosed church= demands, because one cannot combat proselytism with new

Caution was exercised, and the Protestant spiritual leaders

then not according to the Catholic service of God in ih=
several churches have polemicized against the papacy.
The warnings of the non-Catholic were therefore very

Right and necessary. We poor are lucky.

simple readers of the – whom God serves, the Catholics, who were granted tolerance and special=

the object concerning Bernau which the
The followers of the Akademik do not like it, and where the untruths and distortions that the

Having allowed new Zion Guards, it was obvious to everyone must, sunk away, and focus on other things Guided! That's how the audience is mocked! And that t | are

©) January 1785. Page 37. f. =

> ak a: Annie ũ»sɹ > er

against crypto=Catholicism dc. 123

But find the great champions of truth who before=
Excellent men who know how to speak so beautifully!
Diooch further to the cold-blooded examination; and
P. Schorenstein is trying his best in his Schrel
ben) the presumption of fine church that. fie the who wants to be the only saving one, to imagine it more gently=
len and refers discerning readers to the lesson:
Book by Father Raymund Bruns. – I am

with the follower of the A Catholic in one case,
and have neither the honor of P. Raymund Bruns,
He still wants to know his book, even without the book.
Having seen it, believe that there is nothing further in it as phrases that occur in the bearded to give the matter a milder meaning; and of written in a Protestant country
One can expect nothing else from a Catholic book.
ten. It is also assumed that P. Schorenstein and Bruns of Kezzern and the only saving Catholic Even the mildest thoughts about religion; thus, through the
to alleviate the sentiments of individual Catholics
so little wiped away, what their whole church here=
has claimed that through the mitigating Gefin= individual protesters said it from the small= Kaldian articles are swept away, that the Pope
The Antichrist was cowardly – I must confess, however, that P. Schorenstein also spoke here again of the “Followers of the non-Catholics are treated badly.”

It means: all sound reason, everything
| Human feeling outrageous Unfinn verthei=
P. Sch. simply by virtue of the fact that he is on Dastenige refers to what a great P · Raym. Bruns (as he said). Who doesn't expect that now?
Leine defense, an endorsement, or something else?
= little=
Dortefeuille p. 565. | 5
9 Monatschrift. Sele 4. =

L –

— –

\ U

124 Further steps of the Berl. Monatsschrift.
| Be e
at least an apology from P. Schoren=
'No argument for this opinion of the Church has been put forward
batte? And not a word of any of this, just | a reference to the explanation in Brun's book,
and on the interjections that are supposed to be on page 488,
which the followers of the non-Catholics had not read
can have this because he doesn't know the whole book will). – And certainly the harsh outbursts from worthless people, ignorant people and Nonsense that the follower of the non-Catholics needs,
make with the moderate writing style of the Scho=

rensteinian Aufzuges a desperate Con-
traft.--.. |
The really strange passage in the Akatholikus, that one is more likely to find Jews, Wuhammedans and naturalists, as the FBatholiken the Protestant churches-can clear, and of which P. Schorenstein judges that they are present in Catholic countries with
I read and heard many things with great wonder.
will be, and I would add that they.
every Christian, and the reputational attention-
the freedom of any Christian authority that does not
is indifferent to whether its subjects still have rights.
Whether or not one has a religion, one must attract it, - |
The follower of the
Non-Catholic here, where they are in the order of the Wi- |
If explanations should occur, with deep quiet sweat-
Perhaps the non-Catholic arrived too early?
with it being brought forward? Well then it is better that People remain silent, and the reader probably overlooks it too, if One might think IBM is just behaving differently, but he remembers them later, and leads to support
this outrageous claim that no 3 e ar-)

-

S bperrefeulle, but. 36

-. nn

1

- .

against the Rrypto Rathoficiemu 10. 125

Parthey fo fschlchterdings nach ihrer elgenthümlich-
The first basic doctrine for conversion, and if this not going well, to persecution and us is obliged to suppress those who think differently, as the Roman one. - Since I have already made this claim
I put you in the right light earlier, babe, may I
There is nothing more to add to this.
Father Schorenstein explains himself in great detail- |

I am very sorry about the accusations made against Catholics of the non-Catholic with regard to the seminaries, and says that they were only established to attract young Catholics to educate them in their religion, which is in Protestant countries do not have such lessons could: help such in similar seminaries Raised after their return to their fatherland, their Religion made known through teachings and admonitions Spreading them; for they do not have the means: Missionaries would not always be sent out. to make proselytes, but only such ones, who have no pastors in Protestant countries could, to teach and give them the Sacraments to reach them, and the actual main purpose The missionaries were actually those who came to Christianity. to convert those to whom it is still completely unknown (see *). As true as all this may be in part; P. Schorenstein refutes this by saying "Not here" – The accusations against the non-Catholic are sufficient. It is not for Catholics in Protestant countries wanting to allow their children to go to Catholic countries to send them to learn the principles of their rights To let religion educate them would, however, be intolerable Franz, compulsion to be conscious, and the most egregious injustice. And could one then the Well, if they give it to the children. the 9 Historisches Jahrbuch, page 566. ff.

*

0

,

1286 Further steps of the Berl. Monatsschrift. the patrons subject to their subjugation, access to schools and high schools in Protestant countries? But if those Deny access to Protestant countries? But if those upon their return, it may now be apparent or It happened intermittently, to add their opinions to others. bring search, like P. Schorenstein one If someone clears out, that is a crime against the state, and they are missionaries and proselytizers to look at, and if the protesters are also in Protestant countries If Protestant countries should do so, then that is excused. Not the Catholics. The Protestants, however, find... equally punishable in Catholic countries, and the Naturalism is present in every Christian state.

when he gives his superiors to an honest subject
!to steal offspring and give him fine reason in return=
to foist the religions of Allfather and Providence.
sought. P. Schorenstein apologizes for a mistake.
with another; and even laymen cannot find always of holy zeal for prose making Uninfected, how can one have a better mind?
They promise others, and believe that they will fulfill their obligations.
Reformation zeal only among heathens, and not also Should we try contacting the alleged Kezzers?
History speaks against P. Schorenstein here—
As certain as this is, so unproven are the Claims of the follower of the Acatholic,
that those seminaries are held solely for that purpose=
get find, the Catholic doctrine secretly in pro:
to spread within the testamental realm. If
If the Catholics blamed us for something like that, they would

We are not demanding the strictest proof? So too.

beer. Because that individuals in such seminars Rien-raised, ardent zealots are, (and
They must become that all the more so, *

8 | ie
Monthly report. p. 43. 4 “

l
U

against Krppto= Catholicism e. 1a

their religion was oppressed, ridiculed and persecuted.
see vaccinations, and often by people who are on—

(who want to be called Christians,) that such individuals,

| fledged and tolerant in the spirit of the Evangelist=

Swept away by foolish proselytizing zeal, Prosely=

To make ten, seek, proves according to the rules

It is not yet clear to common sense that it is all of them,
and that those seminaries were solely for the purpose of found. It is equally unproven if

The follower of the non-Catholic says that one acts.
giving permission to Catholics to orient themselves in their

all of life and in its most solemn hour?

to portray lungs as protesters, even pro=
To be a Testament preacher. Here it is still not proven, and the alleged facts that I will discuss the alleged evidence of this later.
to have the opportunity to highlight them.
The accusation of the non-Catholic that the Ka=

"Thoboliken called us unbelievers," asked P. Scho=

renstein called it a wicked, blatant slander, which he considered worthy of no remembrance *). The An= Hanger of the Akatholikus, on the other hand, says that it is one=
ley, whether one considers us in a narrower or broader sense
Call them unbelievers, since according to the teachings of the Romans
The church will forever condemn all these classes to unbelievers.
would be damned *). And I believe that here
The follower of the non-Catholic is right. Because P. Schorenstein himself admits that the expression infidelis, even in its most extensive and inauthentic form

Understanding of protesters applies. Damn us.

but the Roman Church as unbelievers, and posits
They also reach us, including the pagans and Turks; deals
They are then angrier with us than the Muslims, who ar En a | den
*) portfolio. p. 368. ö
0) Monthly report. Page 44.

128 Further steps of the Berl. Monatsschrift.

The second one for the Jews, the third one for the Christians, and to the Sabians the fourth chamber in hell:

have seen, and so we are still following the Jews=
fezzes? And yet the non-Catholic prefers the Muslims have been received into our church know, because the Roman Church sees itself as the only sees it as saving, and considers us unbelievers

Damn. Blaas should laugh at such things.
Measurements, since fortunately for us, neither from
The Pope, or rather the Mufti, still has to determine it,

whether we are believers or unbelievers, and which Let us imagine, for a moment, that in that world, clothe ourselves fully butern of (Bott alone).

Father Schorenstein seeks to show that in it nothing incriminating, nothing dangerous, if the Pope bishops who do not have their own diocese=

ben, to Bishops of Paphos, Tiberias, Bran:

denburg, Wagdeburg and so forth, appoint, because also Princes held titles from countries they no longer controlled.

1 befitzer, ja auf welche fer sie feyerlichft lassen getad.

This is the title fine vitulo. The follower of the
The non-Catholic, on the other hand, claims that such a thing

Title not empty find, since the princes themselves the same

to contest, thereby damaging the memory of their true claiming or presumed rights in order to assert it at
to assert a good opportunity, and judges just so from the titular bishoprics of the Roman Church). Undoubtedly, there is more right to be here!
ten of the follower of the Akatholic, as on page= ten of P. Schorenstein, especially when one the matter according to the spirit of the Roman court looks. But should this be so dangerous for be Protestantism? The Prussian monarch

will be so afraid that ibm the case

Nag=

* Pereeeuile, pas. er 569. menue b. 44.

— — — —

5

“

1

t

Against Crypto-Catholicism, dc. 129

Magdeburg, Brandenburg and Salzburg

I will take it away once, when the Grand Sultan fears that Tiberias, Paphos, or Beth= lehem will be torn away. But it is in these titles
So much that is truly deceitful and dangerous,

Why do the monthly writers take themselves with them?

with much zeal those who are prefectures: and com=
menderia in the states of the princes, certainly indeed
also fine vitolo – but really instructed, and Prefects of Templin, Tempelburg a; s. w. be=-
What were they asking? Is that wrong and dangerous, why?
Not these too? SE ee
On the protest of Innocent X against the West Prussian peace, says P. Schorenstein, that They could not be noticeable to anyone, since the Roman

He lost so much at his court; he had therefore as

The weaker part, however, protests, although it is It remained. They had also long since gone to Rome.

have renounced the overthrow of this peace,
since one recognized the impossibility of doing so, and all the fear that this protest arouses Ton, fall away from self). This probably means Certainly anyone who knows anything about the constitution of the euro Spanish states, and the paralyzed violence of knows Roman hierarchy, and is not childlike.

(fearing a mere bogeyman), agrees men, and the whole Latin-laden De= complaint about the infallibility of the follower –
The argument of the non-Catholic, on the other hand, is here without merit.
in the wrong place. ie ee
En F Still

:) Portfolio, page 570.

9 See what I have already mentioned above and | Mofers Constitutional Law Th. VIII. p. 389. ff.

3

2

3 w

130 Further steps of the Berl. Monatsschrift.

P. Schorenstein still expresses fine evocations.
derung about the pitiful fear that the Akatholic Kuss against the Pope, the ex-Jesuits, others on= alleged secret missionaries, and treacherous intrigues Guen of the Catholics to suppress the pro=
testanten betrayed, and said that he and insight=
full Catholics this ill-considered fear very son=

It sounds awful. He sees this whole pretense as a

GSese spectre and childish bogeyman that this

Gentlemen, if they had true tolerance, with which

die prahlen, nicht gezeime, und was von es zu win

fchen fey, that this specter will be banished by the Enlightenment May they be banished. The Christians should...

Love each other, through this the path to general happiness will be paved.
my association of religious denominations
path, which is not impossible and the appropriate=
The dearest wish of all religiously minded Christians be „). – With regard to the last point the Regarding religious association, P. Schoren=
Stein undoubtedly did it more out of kindness than according to ge= They taught theological insights. That even not wanting to be sects or parties would be
It is wishful to wish, and most of all, that... among the Christians, all shoulders of one master to want to be, but not to be such. Should

but the union consists in the fact that all Christians |

If they think unanimously about the teaching points, that is Such a union is impossible. Whoever knows history...
Anyone who knows the Christian doctrines must be completely aware of this.

Judge differently. A Protestant Union=

ten with the Roman Church is also a Quite an impossible thing, as unfeasible as the

m

Eternal peace of the Abbé. St. Pierre, and upon the

| m: Dis

*) Portfolio, pages 370, 371.

|

| 1 Monthly Journal/ p. 48- .

hate. . |

But it is a disgrace for us protesters who

*

.

against Krypto=Catholicism ac. 131

Dilemma of the follower of the A Catholic *)

P. Schorenstein cannot answer. Should

we are united with the Roman Church, so

Either the Roman Church had to be removed from the important=

They often disagree with their nuptial opinions, or we do. That

P. Schorenstein cannot admit the former without...

the main tenet of his church regarding its infallibility
and incorrigibility in matters of faith

deny it; and can a Catholic do that? And the lez=

P. Schorenstein will not be a Protestant.

Muthen, even it cannot be hoped that we un=

through philosophy, biblical study, and studies

media of church history in all its parts

They should abandon their convictions, which they had gained:

and in this case this association would only

Mere conversion to the papacy. The true conversion agreement, according to which the professors of all Christian denominations

1

Religions should strive to achieve what they strive for.

"Can" is what John said: Love one another.

each other! And Paul: One of you should carry the burden to the other.

the one in love. So that this doesn't remain true,
What Swift says somewhere: We just...

There are more religions than we need to...

we pride ourselves on our evangelical sentiments, and even more for men who are so excited=
ten and tolerant state, like the Prussian one,
life, and it's an ugly one that can't be wiped away=

the stain with which our century still bears its mark

Exits from his alleged enlighteners visit=

It has been decided that we are separated from a Catholic clergyman, a clergyman of a church, the 15

ö J 2 0

| iby K

En er

132 Further steps of the Berl. Monatsschrift.

so often and only with good reason for intolerance
because of charges, yes, even from a Dos Minikaner must rightly be punished for intolerance to show and let us advance so that we can do more with
They boasted of tolerance when they worked on it.
meadows! But this accusation doesn't apply to everyone.
Protesters, but only those men who are capable
are they so shamefully dishonoring their religion?
| Everything the follower of the non-Catholic
The objection is that he, according to the signs
this time (a favorite expression of our new Prophets) the concerns that the chief expressed,
because of the secret emissaries of the Roman Church, and of an immortal order, only for too founded and not for chimeric scares= ken halt *). But this will then turn out to be something else.
develop more if I all these popular Ma=

I will examine the sections piece by piece. N
i It is probably to be assumed that P. Schoren-stein says nothing about the Greifenhagen story
I will give a detailed report, and it will be difficult.
would he like to be able to claim that, with regard to
of Provost Carmesin, not the tolerance-needs should have. But if the trailer of the non-Catholic this story one the Be-
The concerns of the non-Catholic so very strengthening He mentions the incident; so his concerns must be very to be unfounded if they are based on nothing better than strengthened by the Greifenhagen history

can, where one can find a Protestant

two years through refusing provost and a vigilant Consistory, and on the Catholic side

although he encounters a clergyman who knows the 9 1 | miss-
* monthly font, p. 48. ea "re

—

a |
ae

like the Krppto-Kathohtesums: 2c. 1 33

migßrand, but probably difficult it would be.
be able to think of him when –
not the permission of the Ober-Confistorii by others
"Cities, a similar one would also have been possible in Greifenhagen"
to hope for certain, and the printing layer of fine faithbensgenossen bey ihren Gottes dienste mehr Be-
One can wish for comfort. But misery is found in the
That, if the follower of the non-Catholics the Y., Schorenstein even with the Holy Father in Rome compares because at the end of his cry-
Bens explained that he would not speak to anyone who shouted against him.
Ben would answer, because he has his time.
more useful to apply. Such mockery.
Surely writers who still have some...
Wanting to observe decency, it's included! But That's just the tone of these writers, that sie da spötteln, wo fi ie. fonft ine weiter e

men will. m

The entire remaining part of this passage of the.

The monthly journal contains nothing particularly special.

this matter of the enclosure of the Protestant

Churches dedicated to the service of the Catholic God, which the

The cause of the whole dispute was, began.

In the Julius piece of the monthly journal,

indeed in the excellent letter from the Professor

Garve to Mr. D. Biester regarding this matter again thought. Mr. Garve says in it that the Reasons with which one wants to prove that the advantages

The Protestant churches have been wronged,

To turn their churches into the service of God for Catholics= clearing, not convinced. It would bother me because of the

* and property of the churches, a cash

33 or tholls

— man, 1785. Julius. E 62 f.

a

*

—

SE |

— .

N " 8 a + N |

134 Further steps of the Berl. Monatsschrift.

Tholic and protesters in court. Trial.

= lead become, where it merely relies on legal grounds and |

It depends on compliance with all legal formalities.

where, therefore, the provision of God's service to |

Proof of the interrupted statute of limitations for the Befizzes could be cited against the protesters.

If the Catholics were to become masters again, and think as before; so it would do the Protestants no good.

help them to keep the churches during their ownership

no matter how carefully they had locked it: they would not to let the statute of limitations apply, but rather

would the previous unpleasantness of the protestant=

ten make even harder use of their victory:

But the Pope and the clergy would get the marriage=

The former rule would not return, so it would also not to harm the protesters, that they the Catholics=

Likes at best a very slight indication of the appeal=

A ruling against oneself. The one through refusal=

The churches' demonstrated caution was therefore much to little, if the world suddenly falls back into superstition= Ben and slavery would fall into disrepair, and far too much, if that she retains her enlightenment. It is far more important, that we preserve our Protestant principles= ten seek, rather than barricading our churches: and these principles bring with them tolerance, where Professor Garve explained this very nicely; and The assertion of these advantages, he says, must convince us worth more than the property of our church= to protect them from future harassment. But various The advantage is that it bites in the end, the coffee will be Tholics will not grant us much longer, since also In my fatherland there are cases where Catholic churches for the practice of Protestantism Religious acts have been permitted.

; | So

*

N

nn u

* 5 t
a \4

= ! 22 j / ;

against the accompanying text. 137

80 So bunddig und einfsichtbol old is, what Lord |

Garve asks about this point, so weak and gone= kend is what Mr. Beaster against it to the widerle= (brings up). Without focusing on all the important to consider his opponent's reasons without considering even one

5

To properly refute the same, he begins with his
He reacted with ordinary astonishment. He said he hoped;
(and of course we all hope that) that our father
The country will never fall so low that all rights are lost.
trampled underfoot. Throughout the entire Roman Empire were Detected after the annus normalis: only Reverse secured the Protestant religion in Saxony, and

If a dispute were to arise now as to whether in a certain

Church on a specific day, Mr. Spalding or P. Schorenstein would have the right to preach,
The Higher Regional Court could not speak otherwise,
as according to the well-established right of a Par
They went to this church. – That is the first one.
The excellent grounds of Gardens. It doesn't have to be there.
Anyone who only holds both against each other
Mr. Beast may be surprised to learn that such things are possible.
Counterarguments: a scholar and a doctor
Ferie utriusque can fence!

Since Professor Garve was in fine service to Julius;
Issue of the monthly journal, 1785. Advertised letter had said to Mr. D. Biester at the end that (even in fine homelands)

where Catholic churches are used for the practice of Protestantism
Religious acts would be permitted; fo verans
This received an anonymous response, which Mr.
Diefter accompanied it with remarks, and the one in March of the ee 1786. 8 the

J.

3 Ibid., page 9. Re: 2

nn.

.

1 monthly journal 1786. March p. 265. 1 C.

—

136 Further steps of the Berl. Monatsschrift.
This essay is called a counter-image to Luther's

fchen favorability in the rooming of the churches,
and should, if not explicitly stated
will be, since the cases from Silesia have been taken, Mr. Professor Garve should be punished for claiming tet, es äbe in Silesia fälle, wo katholischen kirch=

...which would also have been granted to the protesters.

Before the anonymous documented both of them

When Facta presents his point, he sends a small Avant=Propos.
presupposed that the statements contained therein
and strange because of the idea of the thing

and is worth a closer look. It says:
When in some cities of the Prussian country

Protestant preachers their churches, from which They are not masters, but only the first ones. This ner find, zum katholischen Gottesdienst =

ten, and partly without the consent of the Communities to which these churches belong, and without a request to the highest ecclesiastical court:

The way things are presented here, one must think that the Markish and Pomeranian press

had presumed to act as self-powerful Lords, against the will of their communities and without the knowledge of the authorities, with their churches to act arbitrarily. And to reinforce

Mr. Beaster refers us to this opinion

a formal narrative in the monthly journal
Julius 1784. Page 94. and on the Weimar
Ada Hist. Eccles. Th. 83. p. 225. But what there

This occurs only in the two towns of Gars.

and Greifenhagen, and what the last place is about=

The entire official narrative is contained within the document.

Monthly publication only the one-page report of the provost Carmesin's. In contrast, P. Schoren documents

not only in the historical portfolio that ibm
| . iu

U ö

.

1

0

against crypto=Catholicism re. 1327
in Bernau with the prior knowledge of the High Priest

Judiciary of the divine service in the Lutheran Church

have been detained; but in the appendix in the Berliner Monatsschrift, June 1784. Page

547. It is also said of Bernau that Magi= strategist and citizenry, since their clergy had nothing

On the other hand, he had let it happen. In Bran-Denburg will have its citizens expelled by order of the Upper-

evacuation of the city: and garrison church prote-

stir, because there is already too much of the service of God in it, and the Protestant God's service never ceases in it.

But the Johannis is taken over by the Ober-Consistorio;
The church granted permission to the Catholics. To Meusdt-Eberswalde, near Stargard and Stendal

under the conditions imposed by official authority

Fixed. – Why are all these things fixed?
passed over in silence? The two cities-Garz and Greifenhagen were surely certainly not more important than the several larger ones Cities? In an honest presentation, this must be shown.
bine fo gut, wie das andere gesag werden.

It goes on to say that the preachers did this,

Thus, this was discussed in the monthly journal "Bedenk".
expressed views that garnered the approval of the older generation.
earn, which the way of thinking and acting Catholics from history and experience know. I may only here inform my readers about the already commissioned investigation into these concerns

wise, and no insightful, unbiased and An impartial reader will not be concerned about these issues.
o fehr fie gezugert, und fo boch fie gefchrugen find;

to bestow fine applause, but rather to advocate for a German

Gordoniade, for a new our century and

unfere protestantische 9 verschände Kezzerjagd

=: a 37 | im

|

nn

E

onsistory asked which against Ein!

5

138 Further steps of the Berl. Monatsschrift.

in the spirit of old Catholic controversial preachers and Look at the inquisitors. zer 8

Furthermore, it bites: Professor Garve of Bres=

Lau explored these concerns through several Reasons to highlight. Some reasons, fo binge= thrown away as if they were not even worthy of a comment, and were so weak that they could not be used by any human being could find an entrance! One should consider the concerns.
Possibilities of the non-Catholic with Garve's reasons
and Beast's counter-statement together, and bars

The reasons must be important and convincing to everyone.

to be, only that the thinking, modest man does not potten, not with extensively about the matter Unnaturally deriving declamations blind the reader:
the, and with dietator-like pretensions fine
wants to dispatch opponents. 5 He
The anonymous person then comes up with the last point.
Statement by Professor Garve that also in Silesian cases exist where Catholic

Churches' Protestant religious practices

would be granted, and says that Mr. Barve
However, no such cases were specified, and it was fey
And as far as he knew, nothing else about it.
Mr. Biester corrects this somewhat when he says in the note from the Silesian Provincial Papers cites that once by a Catholic clergyman= chen has been allowed in the Catholic Church a to deliver a Lutheran funeral oration. To discuss facts.
To judge, says the anonymous person, they must be true.
lich very precisely and with all circumstances he»
It counts. This is very right, although even more so,
as is asked here, to facts, if the faith=
Ben should earn money, it is required; and the consequence
It will show whether all of the Berlin Mos
1. 3 N n nats=

1 against crypto=Catholicismmis 20. 139

National writers trumpeted these things from withstand the test they themselves have set.

After a long declamation, in which the apostolic vicariate office in Breslau first many receives reverences, the two facts,

who are supposed to form the opposite image, is told.

1) The Evangelical Church in Thomaswaldau
Burns down on February 29, 1785. Two buildings.
Parishioners of noble birth sought the Catholic priest of the place, to allow itself temporarily, until

Reconstruction of the Protestant church, to The attitude of their divine service, a fine church with the

to be allowed to serve. The Catholic priest is willing.
to that. The two noblemen request that Upper Consistory of Breslau, for intervention at the episcopal liaison office, which is also internal= dirt; but the episcopal vicariate beats the Request of the Evangelicals to Thomaswal=

1) completely gone. 2) To Kackau, in Switzerland Buser Kreise in Schlesien are the inhabitants of the Docfs except for one tenant living in Beur=
The soldiers, all Lutheran, believed it and kept themselves in to the neighboring village of Buckau, to the church.
Kackau, however, is a Catholic church, which is pro=
testamental landowner, like the schoolhouse in Repairs continue, whether they are immediately after the royal ones=
The regulations should be closed because not four Catholic innkeepers reside in the village: -
But in the churchyard of this church, the Burying the village's dead, and the funeral orations,
However, those that are rarely found are found under free Him
Mel held. Now, in August 1784, the Lus asks.
Therian preacher in Buckau, the Catholic provost to Schwibus, to allow him, only in bad cases=
men Wetter in future under the shelter of the er
1, | en

Lukewarmly dismissed: |

130 Further steps of Berk; Monthly Journal.

The corpses were taken to the church (maintained by Nackau).

to give speeches. But although the provost of Schwibus supported the preacher's request,
It was indeed from the Vicariate Office in Bres

The authenticity of these two facts is | not to doubt in the slightest. But who asks not hereby: when is this intolerance over= and in February 1787. – So after one had

from the Protestant side in the Mark and in Pom= mern a very glorious example of tolerance towards

ben, and had allowed the Catholics in the Lutheran church=

Zion's guards had risen up, us and

.

to hold religious services in Russian churches. These
The intolerance of the veterinary office is one of the ugly things about it.

Was it practiced? The answer is: In August 1784.

*

its counterpart. – But also, as everyone will probably know,

Catholics say, after February 1784.
the Berlin monthly magazine Protestant

our religion with the ugliest colors= describes, made us suspicious, yes, even the

Tolerance practiced in the Mark and Pomerania notorious for being dangerous and giving us all sorts of things Heimer accused Schliche and Ranke=

ten: after a similar one also in Junius
Piece 1784. of the monthly journal by a

Silesians themselves did it, against the supposition= warned of the consequences of that tolerance, and we as cunning, secret oppressors of the Protesters are suspected of the state and the world=

were made to feel nasty and insulted: Can one

– gan? Have we, who are under protest staunchly

You can blame us if we don't do that against you.
do what you yourselves do to your clergy and land=

des=Collegien fo bitter tadelt, das fie: gegen uns ges

r "
– 821
N

Zep=

4 a dedicates to Ktypto= Catholicism rc. 148 –

Scepter life, no more caution needed, un to not interrupt the lapsed church ownership
: liable, as you who are under a Protestant Could the government be far more secure? And, 'would it have been the Vicariate Office in Breslau willingly showed, would it be de man dies diese leniency und tolerance nicht für have issued a secret term, that we wanted to lure the protesters into our church /
to become fit under the guise of tolerance.
| lead? ee Wr ei ne ue A gi
What is this counter-image? A work un=
Our new Zionist guardians themselves! These have to the= sem ugly counterpart the colors and the brushes
| Given. – And these two facts could The Monthly writer as proof of intolerance,
in contrast to the situation in the Mark and Pomerania
The tolerance exercised is expressed in the writing itself len, in which they consider this tolerance to be false, and the Catholics had identified as those to whom man with less certainty than Jews, Mu= Hammedans and naturalists, the churches one could clear up. How far did they have to go in self-reliance?
delusion has come! R
However glorious this counter-image may be, and according to the monthly writers, the= one should, the Protestants the Catholics because to make them truly hateful due to their intolerance; so. according=
It is urgently refuted, and not just now.
not from a Catholic, but from a religious scholar.
formed, not through newspaper news and not

not enough proven Faeta, but through Documente, .
which is perfectly fine. Because of this Professor Garve had said there were some in Schlefis.
In cases where Catholics also support the Protestants...
The churches are allowed to hold services, and through.
– he “the

E

–

–

.

5 –

2.

r wÄä EEE :

3

y monatsfchrift 1786. Junius. p. 371. f.

10 Further steps of the Berl. Monatsstift.

the objection raised against this, that no one the=

s^oer F^elle genau und beszt angaben worden,

and rather two reasoned cases (to Thomas= Waldau and Rackau) showed the opposite, will Pastor Triesch of Xanten was moved to...

In a letter to Mr. Beast, the opposite in An= (to document the vision of Westphalia). Mr.
Preacher Triesch says at the beginning of his letter, at the statement by the monthly writers that the Members of the Apostolic Vicariate of Breslau ger=
They can do as much as they are allowed to, and only cut off,

What they have to reject would have to be prefaced,

that either the general principles of the Catholic Church
to extend such a thing to the Protestants in the Lysian church
Do not allow sending favors, or that special favors may occur.

The Pope's decrees forbid such things:

a third reason why the Vicariate gives=
tene Gefändung hätte verweigert muss, fie nicht
The possibility of granting permission can be determined in the given case.

do not think, unless this, that between this and other similar colleges, bishops, etc.

secret agreements on this point regarding

The underlying reasons were, and this can be explained by the fact that...

praised by monthly writers, enlightened noble Denfungsart der Mitglieder des. Vicariats nicht rei= men; but that none of all these

The causes of the place could have been, apparently, so soon it was established that the claim of Mr. Garve's statement is entirely correct. – This his perceptive and very well-founded remark

Mr. Beaster adds the wish to the note,
Mr. Garven's claim is documented to fer

ben. – Mr. Triesch now continues, and says that 1

— — — — —

—

. against the gretto-Katholflemus t. 145 | |

he wanted to present a documented fact,

that not only that claim of Mr. Garve

not only serve as evidence, but also prove irrefutably

prove that neither general principles of Catholic Church, nor even special popes

Ordinances, or even secret agreements

Speeches by the bishops, the granting of a. fo

Tholian church at Ze for the service of God forbid. – Mr. Beast, on the other hand, is doing the Note: the strange remark that Mr. Gar

Ven's claim is only explicitly about Schle

She went, just as if Silesia were in the verse

orders of the Roman Church, with regard to the Protestantism is a peculiar exception.

had to, and is curious to find out what it was.

However, the Vicariate of Breslau was unable to achieve those moderate and, given the circumstances, cheap requests to remove

This curiosity, I think, will soon...

will be satisfied if Mr. Beast would only give his egg healthy child, looking at the monthly magazine, and it is It is not surprising that one of them, and near

mentlich im Bezug auf Schlefien fo äußerst gefchims |

Pfte, mistreated and suspected religious gionsparthey the patient sentiments drive
leaves or restricts what she might otherwise want.

Rather, it is surprising that the Catholics,

For those who otherwise have no tolerance, it's certainly not one of their first priorities
Virtues were, according to such, those who would want to be.
Protesters, with impunity, aroused war cries.

They have not already played along too much with the protesters.

A proof of moderation, that they the Thorheis

We cannot attribute the individual's worth to everyone we have in our lives.
to attribute ages alone.

But to the point, what is this? The Hefors Innkeepers wanted to change their extremely dilapidated state.

!
\

HE

743 Further steps of the Berl. Monatsschrift.

repair the church, and turned to the 15th of June.
not 1785. to the Archdeaconry=College of St.
Victor in Xanten, and asked that they be allowed to during the repair either at St. Michaelis Church or Inn Chapel to serve their God=
wants to be moved in first. The chapter ers Hardness immediately under the same date, that whether= immediately about the admissibility of such a thing
will be judged and discussed in the canon=
Niche rights have not been decided, but one should know.
tends to comply with the request: in order to do everything
To prevent any offense, they wanted to act without delay.
obtain an archiepiscopal opinion, and one

Do not doubt the approval. The Archbishop von Cölln replied to the chapter on June 23rd.
testified to him his pleasure that it
according to the principles of Christian tolerance
were ready to give the Reformed one of their ca=
to pellent to make room: mutual love and infidelity tragedy fen dem Gegeiste des Christinthums an= measured, and one permits it with pleasure, that the Reformed use of Micah= lis = or inn=chapel for 3 – 4 months will be cleared out. The inn chapel was now assigned to the Reformed. But she was too small for them. The Reformed now wished the larger St. Michael's Chapel. This had Schwie= rigkeiten, since this chapel is built on the immunity of the Chapter, and close to the large chapter church
lay where, due to the proximity, mutual disturbance feared the service of God, and after the Funda
tion of the chapel had to be, under penalty of death, sum They read Mass weekly before the altar, and if one granted them to the Reformed, the Mefs
The reforms will be postponed to another time.
re ten

—

* >

—

%

“1 against the Kypto» Catholicismir. 145

ten saw these difficulties as unobvious=
It was windy, and they wanted to be on the granary already.
| to serve God, but because also the use=
Since that was the case, the magistrate offered them a room.
at the town hall. – But before they even had a chance to speak of Ge=
They were able to make use of it, were from the chapter
I overcame all those difficulties myself, and the Reformed the Michaelis Chapel of themselves admitted. – It is regrettable that Mr. Bie= not all of them from Mr. Preacher Triesch
They sent files, but only those were recorded that Only the most important ones seemed important to him; and more
What is more regrettable is that Mr. Beastiester did not can let, the sensibly minded chapter to Kan=

ten to throw a spot, so that it is at the ore=
. obtained an expert opinion from Kölln UK. If
man

9» The noble, truly Christian ae ee
of the aunt's chapter, rather, they are thereby further enriched
a particular value that, although like Mr. Triesch in the note p. 316. of the monthly journal of Junius 1786.
taught us, by the grace of the King himself, a Ka=

nionicat=Prelims of the named chapter on repair
used by the Reformed Church, a circumstance,
the probably secret resentment and discontent of another March
ü anlafset haben mürde, trotzdem das edeldenfende und Chapters acting nobly were not misled by this.
To supplement and accurately depict the incomplete=
digen Zufaszes des Herrn Biesters p. 518. dienet fol genders. Since the Bulla Pabft Eugenii IV of February 17th.
1444. which was in the government archive at Cleves.
ret is, and the inquisitive traveler as a Sel=
tenheit tends to be shown, which is also in Te= Love nmachers Annalib, Clivine in Cod. Diplom. p- 33. abs _
| a".
Ä K

146 Further steps of the Berl. Monatsschrift,

But one should put together contrasting images.
If you have Lust, then imagine the behavior of the Kapis.
tels von Kanten and the Archbishop of Cologne with
1 the
"Is pressed, are already long before the Reformation the Cevish lands from all foreign spiritual jurisdiction

was considered exiled, and therefore also

From the Prussian side, the Archbishop of Cologne had no fun.

granted cesanum. Therefore, when the Clevis government the events of the Fanten chapter in Bonn
Upon inquiry, it was learned that such matters were taken into account.
It withdrew. It excused itself by stating that this request merely to soothe the conscience, because some limbs

The chapter's author had scruples about it, one that led to...
Catholic God's service, the chapel erected by the Re=
to admit to being formed, it happened in order to merely...

to teach, and all the more so than such

Instructions in cases that fall within the realm of spirituality, would be overtaken more often. Since now in the Clevisish lands= for the benefit of probably more than half of the population=

A vicar for the Catholic subjects with a lation
generalis in spiritualibus is lacking; fo ift this apology=
gung and the tolerant attitude shown in the matter itself=
The meaning of the chapter was duly considered, and with the prior knowledge of the Royal State Ministry in Berlin,

The chapter has indicated that one should

Ø in the matter showed tolerant sentiments gladly= hen, and therefore the apology given this time

in fo far as sufficient, however the chapter in
In the future, we will proceed more cautiously, and without prior notice.
A formal inquiry to the government, such as...
It should be omitted by the worthy bishops. Incidentally, it is
It is quite wrong to think that Catholics are allowed to do that in Clevis.
be, in matters of conscience to turn to foreign bishops=
The rule is that they only go to the bishop of Breslau, or, where appropriate, to the Pope

They themselves may turn around. Because this, however, if

man

1

1

7

against crypto=Catholicism 2c. 147

the sentiment expressed so far in the monthly journal=
nungen für die kircheeinlösung zuzusammen, and
in which direction stand our forebelieved (Chinese and tolerance preachers!) So far

K 2 ge=

one wanted to be too ae to the people below, certain= |

measures were imposed to exert a certain degree of conscience, and in the tolerant Prussian states, everything that according to marriage

Senszwang tastes good, is carefully avoided; thus, it allows
It could happen if one also had other experiences.
Bishops' counsel recovers, if only it is not open.
as stated, and the matter, since it is indeed a matter of speech comes, as if one were the archbishop von Kölln only for a neighboring bishop, but not I held the Ordinary. What, however, in the Religions=Recess with Palatinate Neuburg due to state-sanctioned=

5th or rather necessary obtaining of advice

and Refponfis have been established, only concerns the Veråuf=

Suppression and grievance of spiritual goods, which the

The government cannot admit otherwise, unless,

that a response of a Catholic theological fa=

cultåt would be brought, thereby facilitating alienation and

Pledging is considered appropriate. – The reader will now you can judge for yourself how false the iheils are, partly inadequate remark by Mr. Biester on= to watch.

D Like Mr. Mikolai, who also experienced the intolerance of the Vicariats zu Breslau in verſvarien Stellen gerüget. Im Appendix to Volume VII, p. 134. He therefore takes the opportunity

the spirit of both religions against each other

ten, and to claim that the Catholics would never to admit something seriously How he behaves in the process which will happen after he has learned the facts of Kant's

to add chapters, has had the opportunity to do so will become apparent when he chooses to think about it.

to express. At least one should think * it

tym

.

4

1483 Secret proselytizing,

The information about the clearing of the churches is known

a

made pieces.

Secret proselytizing, and in addition allegedly serving means.

The Berliners, monthly writers, already asked

In February, a piece from the year 1784. All sorts of wins. ke of the secret intentions and machinations of the Katholiks for the occupation and subjugation of the Pro test subjects were given. But at that time she was preoccupied with= namely the provision of the Protestant kits che to the Catholic service. In the following The year 1785 brings them closer to the matter.

and gradually establish the great facts,
who pretend to be secretly deceitful
prove the Catholics' position, and their warnings

because of the great dangers faced by the protesters=

They are supposed to be finished. It is extremely difficult to through 1 – overgrown thorn bushes a Way to 1 Not one or two writings=

It's not just one person talking, but several. Each throws their hat in the ring.
Stone on this general pile of rubble. Ex=

jefuiten, secret societies, Rosicrucian=

Zer, Illuminati, religious association, War

sius, secretly Catholic Protestants=
ftanten, Maurerey, false tolerance, order
Divine, Claudius, Magnetism, Cagliostro

Or

At the aunt's chapter, seriousness and not fun were...

| fen, since the Reformed until the complete repair of their own church, their God's service in the Catholic Church=

which they performed calmly.

* 5

7.

| A a E
and allegedly serving means 149

Order of Divine Providence, Lavater,

the book for Les Erreurs et la Verité, Starck,

Society for the Promotion of Pure Doctrine and true piety, Templars, secret

Oberer, Doctor Uirlfperger, Clericate of the Temp=

pelordens, Saint Nicaise, Dreykorn, Secret=

mer Kath von Symmen, Magic, Benevolence=

Tiger Knight, Overbearer, Mysticism, Scrabbler,

Alchemist, a Protestant deacon

etc., it's all stacked on top of each other here. One is undecided about what to attack first. This may be accidental; but this Babylonian confusion...

rung is for anyone who wants to examine the matter closely.

will, an almost insurmountable obstacle. One can't even pick up a single piece, oh=

to include ten others; none is whole and as existing in itself, but in each individual

are particles of others. To talk about matter

To judge, one must read them all, and so on.

This time, if one were to take from what has already been read a wants to investigate other matters. Thus

This work is artificially designed, yet it is meant to be a=

Nem Zwecke Binzielt. The most patient Lefer must dar

But becoming tired of investigating will eventually lead to...

brought to believe that which is still presented with the greatest probability is; one gradually forgets the rules, after which must be examined, which often recur=

Bolungen and declamations numb, which re

gen insurances of integrity, Lie

for the well-being of people, care for religion,

and whatever their other names are, they ultimately take

one; one comes from disbelief unnoticed

to believe something, and ultimately everything for ger -

grounded to look at, and the Callide uul gata, te-

* K 3 | me

150 Secret Proselytizing,

mere credita of Tacitus, just like that old saying=

-

The word is only too fulfilled: Calumniare e
femper aliquid haeret !

Despite all these difficulties, I dare
but through this artificial fabric the diligent to go through the confusion, and the individual
To examine materials one after the other. Intentionally
I will certainly not pass by a single one of them;
Should one nevertheless slip through my fingers, then Cheap-minded readers will find more of the dark verses confusion in which everything is jumbled up, as blame me. The whole thing happened under the influence of Mate.
to bring rien, and to examine this piecemeal,
I consider this the best means to address each individual issue.
to clearly demonstrate to the reader; however, I will the chronological order in which the things are in,
the monthly magazine, not entirely from
to leave the eyes, although that is less important.
| In January 17875, we find the first Bey=
contribute to the story of secret proselytizing=
rey *). "The sender of the request presents himself as a traveler who had been gone for almost two months in the Keiche, especially in Swabia and in verr various provinces located on the Rhine _
ten, and had the opportunity to meet people from all walks of life to deal with the stands. This man now says he I noticed with genuine astonishment that in not a few Protestant countries of the Catholic cism, and indeed the crudest kind,
insists that one should occasionally speak publicly
"starts to notice it, but can't explain it,
How it goes, Tann, how fo what im enen et möglich ist. =

ies

0 R0natsRgeHE, 1785. Ian page 59 f.

and allegedly used honey. 151
This work of darkness will also be very much in Ge= driven home, but I'm already suffering consequences, where

from

no one who does not know the circumstances,

(can make a concept). Here we must Stand still for a moment. Is that the remark?

founded by the traveler; thus it is striking and Important. Has it spread to Protestant countries of racism?

n and gone of the * kind a=

4 signed:

*) Page 60. Hardly had this traveler arrived in the January play 1785. had tuned the alarm trumpet in this way,

"So cried Mr. Nikolai in his Easter 1785."

The volume in question, page 6, in the note: one

Open your eyes and see! In all

Landern, where protesters and dissidents are, ges

Is Fatholism now gaining more power and influence?
see. In Great Britain, especially in Ireland, in Holland, Denmark, Sweden, Russia, Germany

Everywhere the infallible Church spreads its wings.
Netze out, and we fly like stupid flies,
Into it! – As if the Catholics were now reversed

made noise: In Austria and so many other countries

Future Protestantism is building fine networks,
And we fly in like stupid flies! What Mr. Nikolai would say! There you see, it would...
to call it the pernicious principle of hierarchy, which
The only saving, infallible Church! What justifies

But for us, for our fellow believers, religious freedom to demand this of the Catholics if we don't give them Want to grant it reciprocally? But Mr. Niko speaks=

tolerating several things as a reasonable tolerance

U
\

can; at least let him name the people, and where they are.
to spread out the nets, and the stupid flies that fly into it. But if he says right there that the exit= spread of Protestantism in imperial lands more seemingly as if it were real; that is the most audacious lie.
heit, which has already been reprimanded above, and that it, showed

9

u

*

©

152 Scheme Drofiptemmahen,

crowded; so it wonders how it is seen:
That the protesters would come to this conclusion on their own ten, is not to be assumed; it is to be assumed,
that a secret proselytizing campaign is taking place,
after which the Catholics blamed the Protestants for their
to seek to win religion; and that is what it aims to do at the
The author says. –

I don't even want to claim that the Drofelge
tenmachergeist all members of the Roman Church have completely abandoned it, even if there were just as many individual Catholics in our time no longer live like their Ancestors were possessed by this: I will admit that individual zealots, clergy and laymen, still considered it to regard a meritorious work, for the conversion of to act as so-called Kezzers. Who is this man, who doesn't want others to think that way.
| ies

As expected, there were still people from the eighth century in Austria.

Papist grist and grain, which are found in Aengflen,
May Protestantism harm the infallible Church, cannot elevate that untruth to truth. That but our Protestant princes on the possible demands
The measurements taken by Catholics did not provide an accurate count,

let themselves be lulled by dreams brought about by that
The claim that things have been disproven is a very bold assertion.
without any proof. She accuses our Princes, at least, of indolence and indifference, and their ministers and consistories of myopia and Sleep addiction. Who will find these princes? See all places.

ten after, where tolerance against Catholics is practiced,
and one will find that they are as good as in Prussian
It is started with the necessary caution, and not in Ges drive stands, to lose control without that only Mr. Nikolai had to call out to us: Man sbue
But open your eyes and see!

Dr. Ve
"ä er oo ö

—

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 133
This happens most often in religious matters, and is more widely accepted by followers of the Roman Catholic Church than —

—

from other Christian parties. With this one=

Hopefully everyone will be satisfied with the eviction. But with which the traveler proves his fine statement that in quite a few Protestant countries

Catholicism, and indeed of the greatest kind.

Art intrudes? — I do not presume to speak about .

To judge provinces I don't know well:
I have never been to Swabia, and of the

Of the countries located on the Rhine, I only know of one.

Part of the Palatinate, the princely Nassau-Usingi

sche Lande und die fürftl, Zessen=Darmstadtschen

Country where I have now lived for 6 years. What I, partly as a local resident, partly as someone in the Neighborhood of the Palatinate and the Nassau region

the living man, and the one in these regions

It has been noted that there were certainly milder sentiments.

who rule among the religious parties. One hate and flee no longer as in olden times,
no longer see each other as damned Kez=
not to seek tolerance and Christian love to prove themselves to each other. The Elector of Mainz asked Protestant teachers at the university=

fezt, the Court Councillor Diez, even though he was Lutheran,
to be honorably buried in a Catholic church,
and otherwise very kind and tolerant towards protesters=
ssame proved; and the Landgrave of Hesse-Darmstadt
City, my sovereign, has the Catholic Stu=
Denten in Giessen are allowed to use a room at the university.
to hold the service of their God in the building of the state, for what purpose
also other locations in the city and area Catholics are allowed to hold on, and for now a Fran=

exiled from the monastery at Wezlar

5 will

154 8 Secret Profelpfenmacherey,

will be) etc. But that Catholicism, and indeed of the crudest kind in these with well-known areas crowded with protesters
Should have, not a single inhabitant will benefit from it.
These countries only offer some illustrative examples=
5 e ren

Luthe also proceeded with equally commendable tolerance.
Protestants and Reformed Christians against each other. Long ago, ba-stands between the Lutheran church in Darmstadt and the benady-bearded reformed lands the agreement that the Pre= diger reciprocally visit their sick fellow believers=
chen, and be able to give them Holy Communion.
And by a decree of August 31, 1755, the Reformed Christians in Hesse, who are present in considerable numbers
| sen=Darmstadt town of Alsfeldt a special church completely cleared out, which, until they themselves had a price
diger falariren können, einen Prediger zu sichers Zeiten
from neighboring Hesse=Casselschen.

However, among others, the pastor of Darmstadt...
Kirtrof is buried, at the Cassel places Traisa and Ziegenhain in the churches of the Lutheran God=
service and to administer communion. A very beautiful Example of mutual honest toleration between Pro=
between Protestants and Catholics is that between Hesse=Darm=
fkcdadt one and Kur Maynz, Kur Trier, Kur Köln and Fulda, on the other hand, has been agreed upon since 1782.
that the subjects of the creation of a spirit=
members of their religion from the neighboring country in – Emergencies should be permitted. Even from Fulda's side.

.it dies0es in dem dafigen Wochenblatt von 1782. Niro, 11.

The following information was made public: His Serene Highness

His Serene Highnesses of Hesse-Darmstadt have graciously granted permission to... concluding that among those in the highest of His Serene Highness.

Lands located in the Catholic religion=
thanen Persons in emergencies the procurement of a Catholic clergy, however on the condition that then the reciprocal was observed by the Benachians
a „ 9 will be,

“

—

E

f value. 1

B – 2 “ *

and means allegedly serving this purpose 1757

(can be). In order to judge facts,
They really must be precise, and with all Circumstances have proven to be true. Had the author

not to proceed as a maturing anecdote hunter

len, fo hätte er uns die nerden ren=

tholicism, and of the worst kind=

Please provide complete details and all circumstances, and tell us the Places and persons, where and at which these Illness crept in, specifically determined,

and his Lefer not through all Rhine regions, and throughout the entire empire, down to Swabia

must send to feel Catholicism and to sense it. Otherwise, he's reckless.

He chases after the old wives' tales, and yet Bos=
has enough to make countries and peoples suspicious.
to do, and on the whole, deep contempt.

8 3 ö 5 “But

will, can be tolerated; there now Sr. Hochfürsil.
Your Grace, our most gracious Prince and Lord, this request to recognize as a friendly, neighborly religious sentiment=

nen, and in emergencies the Reeprocum graciously granted
have: as if this were the entire parish priests, officials and local mayors made known in order to N is to be measured accordingly in the event of any occurrence. Fuld

the first of March 1782. | &
From high prince bishop. spiritually Government called itself.
That there are weaklings in these areas, to whom those cowly examples of Christian tolerance are not to one's liking, and to foresee terrible consequences from that, that may well be being. Perhaps this type of person has given rise to the inquisitive one.
to tie something up to the travelers; for one wants to be main, it is a principle of some travelers in newer Times mainly to track down the malcontents in order to

to explore the true truth from them.

,

Wanderer, who asks for anecdotes like the children

116 Secret Proselytizing

5 But this work of darkness, still firmly established by the Travellers are also involved, and it is also carried out in great secrecy.

1 already has consequences, of which no one can foresee.

He doesn't know the circumstances, to make a concept can. And regardless of all the secret darkness, in who is carrying out this work is the Ver= barrels on a fine three-month journey in Reich, in Swabia and in the Rhine region=
the (certainly not a small and unpopulated line) (Landes) so happy to have been in this darkness one to penetrate, and the work of darkness, from which no one can make a concept that does not include the

– knows circumstances, to discover and subtle consequences=

See? Is this really so, wouldn't it be true?

Rees deserves, if this lynx-eyed traveler,

who can see more in three months than the fans
deseinwohner felbft, den armen blinden Reichsbe=
residents, Swabians and Rhinelanders, their eyes opened, and told them where and from which

People are being perpetrated with the work of darkness, and.
which are invisible and incomprehensible consequences for everyone

That's what? Now the Swabian advises the Rhinelanders.

each one upon the other, and in the end each

more. one believes these untrue anecdotes=
If one neighbor misjudges another, no neighbor trusts the other anymore.

Does the traveler consider the names dangerous?

to name the countries and people? But did he

—

to be a witness to the truth, well, so Will he also become a martyr? Who is guilty?
who will not bring him to trial, and innocent people

Is it not to be blamed that she is a slanderer?
to be held accountable.

But the traveler isn't just talking to himself:

He proves and establishes facts which, according to the signs of these times are highly worrisome.—

In

u

en Aare Be een

You Bu

– He ö 5 . ; N

and means allegedly used for this purpose. | 157

It bites in the presence of one of my acquaintances.
escaped in the month of July the Younger, a Do=
minikaner zu Frankfurth am Main the statement:
We have many secret members of our order.
in Denmark, Sweden, and Russia. –
Who wouldn't have suspected Swabia, the Reich
and the Rhein area, and just a slightly better one Did you know where to find spots in these countries? No, it suddenly became popular with the author, as with Faust's Coat, to Denmark, Sweden and Russia to lead! There we may in the large Nordic
Are the secret limbs of the Dominican sufficient?
Seek out the Order! But in Frankfurt, one in the city located in the Rhine region escaped
the Dominican made the questionable statement; and Of course we know that Asmus only joked when he says in the Wandsbeck Messenger: behind Frank= Furth at the North Pole! And that one usually the Take the route via Frankfurt if you want to go north.
who wants to leave the Rhine region. What does he do?
But is that really relevant here? In Frankfurt, many things can happen.
be said, and to the mass of people from all Regions. Had the Dominican been of secret \
Members of a fine order in Swabia, in the Reich
and asked in the Rhine region, fd told us
The traveler added something else, which related to his statement.
That's right; but now let him lead us north. –
When Lavater tells us that in Switzerland
They talked about people who secretly went around to to recruit proselytes for Deism, even the= circulated the same creeds; how to...
Such a message is routinely rejected! Is the Message from our traveler, befler, beglaubter, ges
Founder? And who is the traveler's acquaintance?
Who? Does he deserve to be believed? Does he have witnesses?
| 7 was.

178 Secret proselytizing,
 Was he a Dominican? We need to know that, too.
 We need to know reliably, otherwise we cannot share this message.
 not for a fact, but only for a poor
 Keep a blessed little woman's face. ee
 But disguised Catholic clergymen are sneaking around.
 around, and everywhere search for the terms ih=
 to spread within the church. I know from reliable sources.
 "Significant news," the traveler says, "that Fran= Ciscans and Minorites, all in bourgeois attire=
 dung to Holland, and with many Dis=
 pensions provided, the conversion business not without success. Another fact= tum! – That Catholic clergymen use the terms ih=
 Those who would like to spread their faith in the church, who will do that?
 Deny it? But where do they creep towards this intention?
 herum? Everywhere there is a far too extensive Address. They should have been specified much more precisely.
 so that the inhabitants of Swabia, in Rich and on the Rhine, opposed such people could secure, primarily because they are disguised
 That Catholic clergy, monks before= namely, in regions where they wear their religious attire= dung cannot appear without numerous to receive an escort from street urchins, their mass=
 Take off the Ken suit, and like other honest people Getting dressed is a well-known thing. To us but those endowed with many dispensations
 and the work of conversion was not without success driving Franciscans and Minorites in to show completely bourgeois clothing lets us
 the traveler, as before heading north now to Holland for fun, a renewed maturity
 do. And from whom did he get this trust?
 Good news? It would be necessary to do it= Mention, so that we are not in our 3 a 1 N 8 ers

!

. \ . j .
 5 *

and allegedly used means for this purpose. 194

They would like to believe the deception, that they had anything to do with Bes
 org Gordon's News of Holland oney.

Source. e =

That the Jesuits also in attack fonts

Everyone probably expects that men will.

The Jesuits are unforgettable, says the traveler, who

one everywhere in all kinds of clothing encounter. Of Jesuitism and ex-Jesuitism were which I will speak about in more detail later: it is only the Wish: if only the postman would give us one

only authentication of his claim beyge=

would have brought! Because they were wandering around everywhere=

Let it all work and take effect, it bites us all over the world=

send them to ask for Jesuits. 3

Whoever the secret chancellery of the Monsignor

Borgia, it bites on, Secretaries of the Congre= gation de propaganda fide, to Rome see through

It could contain some very fine news from

Germany and the Nordic kingdoms fin=

I believe that, and it would probably like to.

There is no secret law firm in the world where one can not very refined, not agreeable to other states

messages arrive. But has the postman...

Did he search the secret chancery of the Borgia? –

When one speaks of projects to spread the De=

Islam spoke, and then said: If one the ge=

at the Correspondenz der Monatsschriftsteller and

If one could search their followers, one would see that

to find such fine news; what a pitiful thing!

Murder cries would then be heard over unproven, brazen individuals.

He made claims and malicious accusations:

will be lifted, and not entirely without justification: Because of unknown and unproven things

One can't claim anything. That's it then with our case.

Get it another way?! h |

l N With

..

166 Secret proselytizing,

With incredible zeal, it bites, becomes worked on many large Protestant events

–

Gentlemen's inclination towards Catholicism beyzubrin=

And there are not a few among whom this is the case.
has been all too successful. The author must but he must be very sure of his cause, because he not only says that they are working on the pro=

The great lords of the Testament's inclination towards race
to teach tholicism, but also of ei= knows how to say with incredible zeal, with what= chem this happens, yes, can even tell us that
This is true for quite a few great gentlemen, only all=
It has been too successful. This is extremely important and must the attention and concern of the under= thbanen, the governments and princely houses
Take action yourself. Where are the seducers?
Constant great lords, and who are they? wel=

ches are the Protestant great lords, by de=

only too successfully, they have become inclined to induce narholism. If the

The letter writer is not a malicious anecdote hunter,

who only aims to get out into the world=
spread unproven rumors, damaging the honor of the princes to disgrace, 5 their subjects, and all who They surround the prince and his subjects,

to make him extremely suspicious; so he would have to...
ter, the princes, and their seducers, and to prove his claims. What must he now prove?

Hold the world in the opposite scenario?
The letter writer further says that it is back and forth.

again, especially in the Reich, there are Protestants,

who were secretly Catholic, and the sender
mentions a Breslau Jew in the note,

who was secretly Catholic. Likewise, they shall Protestant preachers, secret Catholics

ken

— —

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 162
be; and the letter writer gives as reliably true |

that he himself is a Protestant God= scholarly visit, affiliated with the Jesuits, and a fourth-class Jesuit. But since I this matter of those who are supposed to be secretly Catholic to particularly incite protesters, and those from the Protestant theologians spread disgrace

Lies told here by the monthly writers,
Where not already done, at least spread the word first.
has been, especially will be brought to light later,
I will refrain from discussing it further here.
Next, the postman will arrive at the Mit=

tel, which is used for secret proselytizing

These should be. These are political advantages, Prospects for obtaining certain things otherwise difficult to achieve achieving objectives, bribery, promises=
secret sciences, and most frequently
The larva of the promotion of religion. This
The last point is carried out; the emission types should among people who followed the revealed religion
ben, and because of the rampant recklessness=
sterey in Aangststen find, einschürchen, die Gefahr imagine the Free Spirits to be quite terrible, and presenting themselves as zealous Christians, one of whom...
The great master Christ be fol. Here we must Pause to avoid taking on too much at once.
That proselytizers don't always have reasons and convictions, but also all sorts of temporal pre-existence=
the parts used for alleged conversion, know
we, and the letter writer tells us nothing new, Nothing unbelievable. Such means can still are used by zealots and proselytes

of all religions. But with such precision

We should surely disclose all means cheaply, wife

Hey, where, from whom and with which persons?

. | 2 | This

\

= *

162 Secret proselytizing,

are they applied the same way? What about certain, otherwise difficult-to-achieve end goals, and for secret sciences, the acquisition of which the Proselytizers promise, from whom these

Promises are made, and whoever thereby seduces—
Have we been rescued? All this remains with us, the author.
guilty. — One makes use of the larva of the transport=
The dissolution of religion among people who openly love religion, and because of that, increase= the Free Spirits are worried, and poses the
The danger of freethinking is quite terrible. —
Does the author perhaps believe that it is a ver=
break the danger of freethinking, a real fright!
to present it clearly? I believe that the danger of this which cannot be portrayed as horrific enough,

It may be from Lutherans, Reformed Christians, or Catholics= Likes happened. Where has a century ever been?
where the. Freethinking in Germany so far ges is driven, as in ours? In a few years= ren find the cheekiest and most mocking attacks on the revelation of the Old and New Testaments,
on the miracles and Person of Christ, and the holy ones=

The most important teachings of Christianity were publicly revealed.

come. Such poisonous books are not written only in learned languages, and perhaps solely in the hands of scholars, to whom Ders same miserable, long since refuted and only in freshly applied in a fashionable garment= turns of phrase cannot make an impression; they are in the hands of the people, and are given through titles, as if they were for the instruction of the common man written by the lowest class of people played into the hands, and thereby to disbelief Baptizing deceived people were brought to him. The League= Turalism precedes supernaturalism (dem

/

—

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 163

2. Christians spoke the word of Christ, Sffenitich. and its corrupting power disguised in seductive garb=

He dressed up his teachings and preached them almost in the streets, etc.

Can the danger of freethinking, of the ugly= st cancer, which only ever affects the health of a The state can be gnawed away, a terrible enough thought. Will this zeal for true religion and Godliness misused: that is certainly one thing. shameful gang of sneaks. But that's not the point.

Righteous people who cherish their religion,

misguided, not true friends of religion

They were made suspicious so that they would not be persuaded to believe they could with more certainty ei=

nem Vertrefiger der Freidenkerey, als einem

Defenders of the revealed religion on:
Inffen, because this might be a Roman emissary could be; so the author would have told us about all this.

far more light, and thorough convictions

We must. I don't want to claim it; but a Bad trade, as bad as only a Jesuit one can ever be
It could be black marketeering, but it would be if he
the secret intention here should be, the Freygei= sterey as something unsuspected, and nothing less to imagine as dangerous, but on the other hand, all those who still accept the revealed religion, to

To make everyone suspicious in advance.
It further states that these emission centers are only available on

Zeal, but not towards clear and precise statements.

Grips penetrate, the ideas diligently confuse,
and thereby gain the opportunity to Catholic
to make concepts more palatable, and finally, well even to slip it in. Shouldn't one think that
The letter writer was really involved in such a proselyte hunt.

| I have lived here, yes, he knows exactly how to develop everything-

1 and yet 5 er g ch forgfäkig, u us only one

. et 2.2 a 1 * a ein?

as *

the only thoroughly investigated, certified fact,
The subtle pretense proves to be present. Are but then truly Catholic and Protestant Be= handles are so closely related that one can see them together= who could be subtracted? One must certainly consider the large sen and a distinction that is obvious to everyone= Both churches teach very little in order to believe that a commutation is so easily possible,
as it is stated here.

Tolerance, it continues, gives rise to the best pretext: one abuses the so true=
Ren Saz, that Christians should love each other as brothers= len, and thereby pushes the harmful opinion un= ter, that they are against freethinkers (of whom one such horrible as indeterminate ideas ver= spreads) as against collective enemies with Unite zeal, and rather follow each other's lead.
give, as those must arise). Where
The letter writer must have thought of everything in the world, when he wrote this down? How his Zeal so carried away, the audience behind the

Larvfee

) Mr. Nicolai in the old volume of the tires, page 746. seems to claim something like that, when he says: that The worst part is that the actual freethinking (with which word according to the ordinary theological art=

language, the unbelief linked with immorality (is drawn) certainly not among the frank Pa= trioten finds which superstitions and prejudices want to suppress, but rather very often among the People who appear outwardly very bigoted. – So
One might conclude that anyone who is only morally good Man is, but otherwise has no Christian religion, he is No freethinker. So Deists, Naturalists, etc. find
Mr. Nicolai is not a snarky person, if only morality have. And the declared enemies of Christianity para Diren with the fine title of free-spirited patriot!!!

N

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 165

larva of a Protestant Zionist guardian, which he He's been planted, so people can look! How! he calls it.
The author expressed a harmful opinion that the Writings against the Freethinkers as against 8 enemies would have to unite?
But first established, what do Free Spirits find? So that one cannot say, I have an indefinite pre-The beer position is widespread. And Freygeister are according to the concepts of all our theologians, Menfchen, which is all divine revelation, and the
based on denying God's service, verse, (throw) This category includes all strong Ghosts, atheists, freethinkers, dissenters, naturalissten and rationalists, the Spinozas, the lame-tries, the Tolande, the Dindale, the Collins,
the Chubbs and Morg and how they continue to bitefen, from which all of Christianity according to all his parts, most shamefully mistreated, the Revelation exposing priestly fraud, the miracles CThristi for pocket games and illusions from-given, the person of the highest godfather of the People whom all Christians consider their highest superior baupt recognize, most deeply degraded was-those, and of whom the dear ones to all Christians Fundamental truths of religion bitterly distorted-mocked and insulted. And that now all Chrisstances against this human common cause
would have to do, according to the express claim
The letter writer's statement is a harmful opinion!
Where could Christianity have worse enemies?
than these people? Where are there more dangerous people than them, who under the Gleißnerian * the people on:

| | 3 ee |

*) S. DBaumgarteng Gefhichte ae Religionsportheyen.

| | Pi

;

*

Sette 21. f.

*

—

8 ö

166 Secret Proselytizing,

EU

to clarify, and to restore repressed reason to its old state.

to reinstate rights, the best religion
consecrations that could be given to the world? where

Can a Christian state be more dangerous and harmful?

*

a harmful opinion, and those of which it
What happens, I find it suspicious that the Roman Emiflar

—

have more citizens than those who belong to the Christian finest highest comfort, finest best support in life
and steal in death, namely Christianity.
And these of religion and bourgeois happiness=
keit fo äurserst nachtheilige Menschen als gemeine

consider the enemies of Christianity,

and of them such horrible ones, (but certainly entirely us Making (deniable and true) ideas is a=

are they nothing? So are all our theologians, then?
who formerly opposed the Christian religion
They have taken on enemies, and still do so now,

Suspicious! Certainly a nasty neologism, ours to silence theologians and to paralyze them so they won't dare to oppose Irrelis to speak and write about the Gion and Free Spirits, in order to just not suspected of crypto-Catholicism

will be! – But perhaps only the letter writer wants to.
not that the Christian parties are against the Free spirits unite, and rather one themselves who give in somewhat, as those who come

let it. – I don't want to claim that anywhere
such a secret conspiracy against dag Christianity has been made, even if this seems to me as a reliable truth told by a man is, who himself wrote letters for this purpose

2 claimed to have seen them, and after them he asserted, that a well-known German writer from a folehen freygeisterisch rotte falarirt würde, um to write against Christianity. What I

. light

,

1

?

*

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 167

I don't know for sure, I wouldn't presume to say so, and un= ie

true and uncertain anecdotes as certain 1

I will tell the public the truth.

Beneath my dignity; I'll leave that to the Berliners!

a monthly writer. – That's how I am too.

firmly convinced that a union of the Christians

It is impossible for religious parties to, if

The two Protestant churches also...

some could, but they are nothing to the Catholic

to be able to give in, and that this would never again be the case.

much will give in and also according to their previous still cannot assert the principles,

in order to enter into an association with them. Thus

It is, even if such a secret freedom:

Sterische Zukommenrottirung existirung felt, unnêthig,

that for this reason the Christian 245 united=

to prevent this common enemy from rising up;

Come. The protesters are fighting better and luckily.

More alone against freethinking than in combination

dung with the Catholics, and if every church

for himself especially the encroaching freethinking ent

That's already enough if it works against it. – But assuming that

The impossible would become possible, the unnecessary would become possible=

dig; how then good-natured Christians of the three religions

no, without having any reprehensible intentions in doing so

ben, quite possibly on the thought of the possibility

and necessity may arise; it can be considered=

because a harmful opinion bites, that the Christians through mutual concessions and to= tolerance would have to unite in order to unite the free spirits,

their collective enemies, not to come

To let it happen? Only a secret Frey could do something like that!

1 – And what did ber finally do with it?

Rufsteller's entire statement of these allegedly

Are secret machinations suspected? – 5

4 84 The

–

168; Secret proselytizing,

The postman arrives at the Ge feel, and so-called mysticism. This is also a means of transport for secret prophecies

Macherey. The clever Emissaries, it bites), those from Catholic politics, according to which

man in the monasteries, through daily contemplation
tions and contemplative devotions, (this is one and the same)

which prevents novices from mature thinking, probably to know that the state of dark feelings is the one ft, where reason is most easily deceived

can work with the good-natured Prote

stanten, which represent the highest value of the religion to put them in their feelings, and seek them even more in

To confirm this opinion: they gladly accept the mystical language, and the letter writer has Examples, that they also have the special Lavate
To have a pretty good grasp of the language
I knew. – I will be told by Mr. Lavater after to have a special opportunity to talk. But

Is that all that beer has presented to us in such a complicated way?

will probably be something other than an empty Ge

Laundry without any proof? Did the letter writer
Examples of why he doesn't provide a single one of the same.
On? – But let's get to the point. Feelings and cold

Reasonable convictions must be together=
ben, and clasp hands as if in a friendly manner offer. I honor feelings, and everyone whose A heart that beats warmly for virtue and piety is to me a worthy person, even if his one
I don't find the views so large and enlightened, but the
A man with wrinkled blood, who, without fine blood being heated

If one faithfully follows one's convictions, then
In my opinion, even higher. But what if the gu whole

Page 63.

\

and allegedly the means to achieve this. 26

Our maturing son's entire declamation about feelings.
and mysticism, other than as proof of its blatant ignorance? – All mystics find for the feelings, and mysticism and contemplatives=
Christian life actually belongs in monasteries and prayer.
Monks in abundance, but is that mysticism?
Contemplation, feelings, the path to becoming a Catholic=
Cism? Is this a product of the papacy?
Or is it not rather a pagan plant on Transplanted to Christian soil? The protestant must be very ignorant, the monastic devotion=
ten could be planted here. – The Advantage, which Luther himself called the mystical Theo
lied, especially to Taulerus, to whom he gave the old,
pure theology, in accordance with the Gospel
| attributes, and to the author of the so-called deut
That there is a certain theology is known. But I wanted
Even Luther still considered this a superlative.

to issue remnants of the papacy; to whom is under –

TFannt that our Lutheran church has great theologians= has had friends of mysticism, but that nothing less than friends of the papacy
Were there any of those? There were 3 Arndts like that,
Stephanus Praetorius, Johann Gerhard,

Dillher, Geier, Lutkeman and several others. Below
Mysticism also appealed to the Reformed.
Found friends without them being authentic because of it.
Friends of monastic devotions would have been,
as Ufher, Rous, Taylor, Meade, Baxter, Zui=
gens around Spener, Porst, Breithaupt and the whole so-called pietistic party in the lu=

Therian church, what were they like from other people?
in whom feelings in religion are expressed in an unreasonable way

stood in high esteem, and those who were involved in the mystical

Writings not only of our theologians, afs 3

| ig Arndts,

N

– EEE 3

=

t

%

370. Secret Ptofelptenmatherey,

Arndts et al., but also older mystics, than
of the Zamerken, the author of the book about the Succession of Christ, Gerson, Tauler and on= deter had an excellent pleasure, without it would ever have occurred to their worst enemies to

To become a crypto-Catholic? My late father-in-law!

Father D. Schulz, in Königsberg, a learned man and devout theologian, often asked his children

those who read aloud from Thomas à Kempis;

and neither he nor his children find through this my!
stic writer for Catholicism and 8
Monastic contemplation has been undertaken! –
And finally, even the mystics, and the
those who consider feelings in religion to be one were taken, among the Catholics themselves so had serious pursuers, as if they had only ever have been able to, if the Berlin Monthly Magazine=

Would have fallen into the hands of the perpetrators? The violence?
seed oppressions of the so-called quietists,
and the hostilities which Bossuet against Fe=

Nelon is practiced in this respect, are known Things. Isn't it a misery when writers...
ler, who, like the traveler here in the monthly journal,
knowing nothing and everywhere their wretchedness
and bareness so visibly displayed, appearing,
and present their junk to the public as 'glorious'
Want to sell goods?

The author goes on to say), since good-natured
teute, if they such emisaria the language of Feelings of Christianity and brotherly love
They heard talk, they would be betrayed, since then it would soon be Brotherly love is subsumed into a love of union.
would harm; unless it means: one *  He

;

o Ente ce x ei

–

| and allegedly the means used for this purpose. 271 8

on secular word theology, on the cold,
Pay attention to inactive exegesis, not to the groundless.
Moräfte desolate philosophy enter, son=

who look only to the Lord Christ. Everything will only be found in the region of dark emotions.

let, and instead of explanation and instructions with expressed in fluctuating words. When the
When people are left to their own devices, problems arise.
Nothing bad – but if cunning
People, the language of the pious mystic= embrace Islam, among honest, pious people=

to wengen, in order to carry out intentions through;
Then terrible consequences arise from this, where various strange things from the letter writer
Examples would be known. – That it is at all times

ten among all Christian religious parties from me swarmers given, who all philosophy and

Scholarship was rejected, and even considered something
have regarded it as harmful to the salvation of souls;

That's long been known. Does it still sift such things within us?

In the enlightened centuries, that is certainly true.
Even less surprising than that it is under about far from so-called enlighteners, for some miserable men:

fchen of heart and Ebarakte gives, which all up;
Clarity and scholarship to a great disgrace= sufficient, in which sciences and philosophy

have improved so little that they have even become rather loose pasquillants; and malicious hamish Destroyers of the happiness of their fellow human beings to be able to be degrading. That's where it's at schwa=
It is quite easy for people to perceive such immorality.
To measure scholarship itself. – But since the
The author describes the horrific consequences in detail.
can speak, which has been produced by it;
that Catholic. Musaria themselves. the * |
– . x the

0

– N > x U

1778 Secret Proselytizing, N

On religion and mysticism, on the teaching chung of certain intentions, to proselytize y

operate; you, he, various strange things about it=
He knows many examples, why doesn't he lead them?

on? – He will of course speak immediately of secret societies, and tells us quickly

A strange novel by a deacon!

in their entirety, who is being investigated?
The. Here I'm just saying in advance that we= who still knows what the secret societies say

what is told of the Diasonus, only in the min;

desten, as it should be, proved to be.

And now let every insightful / impartial person reconsider=

unbiased readers of this entire first book=
contribute to the story of secret proselytizing=

rey; what else would he consider him to be but a humble, silly women's gossip. Of everything that He was supposed to deliver, but he's not delivering anything. There is a secret proselytizing: that is the before= common saz, which should be proven; but the

the most pervasive Catholicism

Art, nothing of the disguised emirates,

nothing from the Protestant princes
brought inclination towards Catholicism, nothing

U

but both matters must be especially considered with

It is not even proven: nothing of what is claimed=

non the secretly Catholic Protestant

Clergy, none of the means that were prescribed

They should be used in any way, however detailed they may be

They were literate. Enough of all this has been said.
I believe there are enough examples of this.

that these and those means were used; but Nothing is known of the content of any of these declamations.

bewie=

*

z 5

x

5

Bm - . . ,

that this, that that exists, truly exists

ee zx 7?

1 | and allegedly the means used for this purpose. 2

proven. Unprovenness is proven by other means.
 supported, as if a lie thereby becomes true=
 be it würde, wenn man noch ein Dozzend von glei= chemical content added. – But what we did not
 We would have expected, namely the=
 The Zealots for the purity of our church, by all ler 1 sich zum Vorteil der Freygei= sterey explain, to take it badly that one from
 ...gives the Free Spirits horrible ideas,
 to regard it as a harmful opinion that the Christians opposed such a shameful mob as ge should unite common enemies – and Finally, blatant ignorance. – Certainly the audience.
 must be done by the monthly writers for a simple ges, easily overpowered thing, be held to be and it would be great proof of the deep envy case of true scholarship and philosophy, if It really came about through such bottomless drivell.
 te können gewinnen lassen t..
 So far, we've only dealt with anonymous people.
 to do: but in April the monthly journal 178 J.
 Finally, Mr. Beast appears and delivers to the Pu= blikum einen von einem Unbekannten, der sich 1 – y.
 calls, touching essay, which the Janner piece
 this year is opposed, and from the Lord Beasts with a preface, and one with many alleged erudition-laden slander,
 and refuting remarks are accompanied by).
 What in Mr. Beaster's preface was merely declamation

Is, I will overlook. He praises in the same the great Impartiality of the editors of the monthly journal,

 because they also refut some of their |

April 1785. Page 3, 16 ff. | na

174 Secret Profitlptenmachereh, etc recorded). But regardless of this corpse= sermons, which Mr. Beast himself and fine Kollk=

 her being held alive is her great glory=
 Impartiality is of no great value. Each
 No refutations hit home. Favorite garish,
 They didn't touch their hearts, and therefore couldn't completely without annotations, or accompanied by only a few
 They were forced in by them. But she seized her

Libling chimera of secret Catholicism
on, and at the same time the possible bits men intentions that they achieve through their dissemination
They wanted; their monthly magazine was to be a pillory.
be, in which an entire in the comic realm
legitimate religious party, and every righteous
A man who would not please them and their associates,

should be posed by them, and that under the Shields of publicity and feigned zeal for the pure Protestant church. And above all, the

Mr. T-y. works with too much zeal.
against, as if the lauded impartiality were thereby
The editors of the monthly journal maintain their position

| ä N va | bal

) By way of note, I merely remark here that the monthly publication
ler, with all their lauded impartiality, Mr.
Dreykorn's refutation of the argument made by his colleague Sei

the accusations they spread, only after eight months in. After the events of the religion

heiten Th. IX. Zugabe p. 222. ist diese refutation fchon written on the last day of May 1786, and in January 1787.

It appears only when the date is omitted.

so that the reader does not see how long one has been with the Publico.

withheld. And now, after eight months, it appears.
adorned with annotations. Oh! Impartiality!
Would it be a Mnsquill to support their chimeras?
nature, how quickly would they be presented to the public
have! | " aa

2

.

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 177

cold. Mr. Beast, whether he now

The publisher listed is Parthey;
The preface already mentions the intensity and

The author complained of bitterness, the refutation

a hostile, blessed attack and phenomenon of the present Time is mentioned, and the author is blamed,
that he did not understand the language. For sir Diester corrects the speech errors in a fine essay, and finally Mr. T-y. will be there to fully help him in to give the rest to the eyes of the audience, and
so that his objections would not have any effect, made a suspect; for Mr. I - y. belongs, according to Mr. Beast's premonition, to the people, the apparent
Abuses arise from their version, so=
Several points will soon be touched upon in the process, which are to remain strictly confidential. Mr. Y.

He is therefore aware of the alleged secret plot to corruption of Protestantism, and comes from finer version, because what is discovered through=

They are supposed to remain secret. He is one of the suspicious people who hold their principles so ger=

want to introduce it generally, and it will be fully Resentment arises as soon as one contradicts one's principles.
He speaks. He belongs to the secret network.
dungs, and lays the one so near to us and yet 0 unknown, the active and yet so confused
the same spirit in its refutation
to the day. Where is Mr. Beast's beer on him?
himself, and by him himself so highly praised Unpar= tbeylichkeit? Every cold-blooded reader will miss them= sen, and on the other hand find in him a man who not only Parthey takes, but even prescribes= to legally supplant another in the eyes of the world
thoughtful, he who has his heart with emphasis

| |

5 rr rn iu 1

*

4

U 6 -

, 2

76 Secret Prosecution,

to contradict. An old piece of art that...

'The monthly writers and their assistants always:

against those who were so kek, the

To contradict the pronouncements of these new inquisitors= chen. But if one were to do everything that Mr. Bie=

ster against the Ty. says, not with just as much

Turn around, and on him and his friends

Can bulge be used? And who is so blind that

He should not notice the true sophistry,

which Mr. Beaster did in front of the audience

allowed, which he must mistake for a dancing bear.

which he could guide around the rope at will, and

Can people dance to fine music?

Ty. sends a Mor upon his refutation;

to before, in which the verse appears: Zi /e Jouant du Diable, des Anges et de Dieu. Dabey

Mr. Beast makes the two pathetic, but sophistical remarks: Et e jouant du Dias

Ble; Christians know nothing of the fact that it is wrong

'It's foolish to laugh at the devil; only a fool believes that.'

a deeply sunken nation of uneducated India=

nern). Where on earth does it say anything about that in the= sem Verse, which required this refutation? Je=

The one who reads the verse finds nothing else there=

in, as there are people who are above God, En=

Gel and devils mock, and their existence and sausages

to question the kung; but not that it is wrong

ro about the devil to * Mag Herr =

Uneducated Indians cannot build a deeply sunken nation to make up. For a nation that has sunk so low.
should, :be previously formed A test
the pricey writing style, which is intended to contribute to this,
The pronouncements of the new Inquisition Tribunal are important and in . do.

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 177

and with him the whole troop of freethinkers, or rather the dear naturalists, whom one, after.

to grant the monthly writers access to our churches
could, and against which the Christians could not as must unite against enemies, the existence
denying the devil and the angels, who all believe in Christ=
The opposing sides will maintain this position as long as they still exist.
holding their Bibles; that remains with him and without prejudice to his associates. But the verse does not say what he lets him say, and subtle remarks=
kung ift Rabulisteren. Bey des Anges macht Herr.
Beasts note: Protesters know nothing of a particular veneration of the En=
u; *). Right, we know nothing about that; we pray God alone, and consider it idolatry and Humiliation of our own dignity for any one thing= to bend our knees to a creature, and stand
it is at an even higher level of what has been created.
Being. But this is probably meant to be T-y as a home=
The Pope is being made a suspect. Oh! the Pathetic! Where is a single syllable of that in the
A verse that one should worship angels, and that Is it wrong not to worship them? What are these?
- violent coercion, unlike true

Rgabulistereyen and vine, whose but the bis.

The librarian, the writer, should be ashamed if

Even the lawyer might believe that they would be through= go?

Mr. T-y speaks in his refutation of Strongmen and little strongmen, and Mr.

Diester asks in a subtle remark how
Mr. T-y the careful, thoughtful doubters, which he so liked to look at, the even

Page 9: 322

178 Secret proselytizing,

are ready with firm faith, all
To sign a miracle, but rather the one by
In the end, he was a dazzling wisp of a man.
Clarify, follow the guide of reason, Kraftmann=
Can anyone name them? Current miracle workers and Miracle believers, those are the true power men=
ner. For whose power extends to their actions and Their faith? And such a hero of faith, ha!
The saying "Man" was devised by the strongman:
You can do what you want – do you want what you can do?
And certainly Mr. T- y made a very bad decision, that he threw himself around like that. He should have considered that.
that this was not for him, but for the Berlin Mo= writers' fee. These alone have the freedom to say whatever they want, their opponents to publicly insult someone, to make them suspicious
to accuse them of the worst atrocities,
and everything that doesn't agree with them, is nonsense,
To explain folly and superstition. But they are like the boy Absalom, with whom finely clean (must be done!), not like the idols of

U.N=

*) The monthly writers demand this of me in a very striking way. After they described me as someone who was= to leave a religion, as a perjurer, a treacherous one=
He trumpets the dangerous falsarius to the whole world, who which I need to sue them in their court,
that they spread things about me that are not true.

That is lying, things that damage my honor and good health.
men shänden, di blasphemies, things that e'üf=
first be detrimental, and my temporal welfare un=
tergraben können, i.e. is. Kalumnien und Verladungen.
When now, through herself, or her affiliations, into the safe Excerpt from the Gotha newspaper, 1786. The false news is brought about as if my authority were taking steps= would move me to do something that would be considered sacrilegious, probably the purpose

m gan=

\

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 179

uneducated Indians, who probably also received beatings not get, but gods of a completely different kind, before to whom everything must submit, to whom everything must be subservient, which is not from the Inquisition Tribunal of Ber liner monthly magazine, where she established her throne babes, down, through the breath of her mouth and the power of their quill pens wants to be killed. And such gods, strongmen, yes, even boys.
To call that was blasphemy, the eee a
can go unpunished. – |

M 2 | But

may be the entire fabric spun against me,
and I am forced to publicly disagree,
and at the same time tell the world that I have defeated my opponents
about the lies, blasphemies, columns and slander=
sued, which were poured out against me: fo
The gentlemen in the January play of 1737 take this badly, they demand that I speak to them with literary politeness should. And not as a writer, but as an Injurian= I sued them. Yes, they even claim that I would have spoken for myself, because I say they are Insultants and I, the insult, by lying, lying= attacks, columns and slander against me scattered, and therefore demand satisfaction. Her ridiculous presumption about oneself, and the gullibleness=
The audience's bigness finally drives them so far.
that they even resent me for not showing up in front of their
I have been brought before an Inquisition tribunal; my defense against them humbly sent forth, and the salvation of my honor theirs had left it to literary dissertation. The manner and the way she dealt with others who were like that Being lowered so far must surely make me wiser /
and reinforce my opinion that it would be better to read.
Ben and his bag, an English high-wapper, as these journalists, who themselves find the ee fine
To entrust honor.

*

\

Br Er

130 Secret Prosecution Work,

But I am tired of these, as you can see, empty ones.
Parody of the Beast's remarks continues to examine, and turn to the actual
The main thing is, namely to what is from the secret Proselytizing is said. But before that...
Do I still need to point out an important aspect to my readers?
draw attention to the issue. Mr. Biester lays in the Note) fine and finer employee, or fine employee
bangs fo viel er.fie kennt, Glaubensbekenneß ab.
They all, he says, believe in God, God.
divine providence, immortality of the soul. I does not even want to complain that this belief Knowledge for guardians of the Protestant church far from sufficient. At the very least, it must... even if they tell us that they believe in Christ, when the true eternal Son of God and Redeemer
the world, to his vicarious satisfaction,
and believe in the Holy Spirit as the true God=
ben, and the Bible for the only religion= Keep the source. I'm only leading my readers to the
as Mr. Biester stated in the note on page 341.
says: Incidentally, pure deism belongs to at least also to the things that are not related to
To find hands to grasp, see above page 337.
We will therefore turn here to page 335, by Mr.
Beasts in fine and delicate appendix name rejected the submitted creed, and what
As it is said, page 341 is for the pure Deism explained. Now that's honest.
agreed from the heart; so now we know what for we, Mr. Beast and his entourage, according to their egg= their creed, which they themselves the rei=
to call it deism, to consider it, for u | | Dei=

*

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 181

Deiften, or for people who prefer to go to the Na=

turalists belong to the supernaturalists want. Now the larva of Protestantism falls.
Zion's guards away from her face, and the Vot wurf"), that. fie under the pretext the
To suppress superstition, under the table
to neatly insinuate disbelief
think, and that under the guise of bonhomie,
of the utmost honesty, of true love for Goodness, and zeal for true religion, as
as the upright Mr. Ty very aptly says *),
This is only justified after these statements.

Mr. Beast now takes a closer look:
speech), whose special numbers he already always in his remarks on the refutation
Mr. T-y had rejected, a fine employee and now every reader surely expects nothing
getters, as a thorough defense against the accusations and charges leveled against him and fine pendants made by Mr. T-y have been, and an equally thorough line of reasoning= rung, that everything which its senders and correspondents= spondents of secret Catholicism and have said nothing about secret proselytizing ; not Imagination and lies, but rather outright lies.
The truth is. Mr. Beast yields to the first.
looks clever, either because his fine conscience tells him
I suspected that he would not be able to survive it.
or because he would consider it more beneficial to use this string
not to touch, because then you'll learn more about it collect those written by the monthly writers themselves We M3 ge=

*) Page 324. . i 1

) Page 331.

er) Page 343. f

—

*

182 Secret proselytizing,

to examine more closely the daring, suspicious statements=
...and wants to bring it into the light. So, to...

to bring another object to the face=
gen, they are confronted with the harsh expressions=
ten, who Mr. T-y against the Berlin Mo= writers allowed, who now suddenly in tammers are metamorphosed, as they then also
Mr. Beast, in a truly condescending manner, the courageous

A humility as one might call it.
from the Servus Servorum Dei only expect Fönns _ te! The more detailed, the better, and with an up= walls of his supposed erudition, completely in
in the manner of a Dutch music composer

"The previous century," explains Mr. Biester.

about secret proselytizing). Who he is=
Aren't important insights waiting there? Do you want to know?
Hey! Mr. Beast, tell us that the Roman Hof incredibly active on the apparent and secret spread of his belief system,
subtle hierarchy, and subtle power and sub-= oppression of those who think differently, and still is; that the Jesuits have always considered themselves as the most faithful assistants showed that the Pope

the infallible head of the Catholic Church is;
that the doctrines he establishes are articles of faith
for his church; that his – these sentences ger

Measure actions that show the fruits of the same; 0

that everything from the various bishops in Rome,

and at various times in the same way=

bene, only as a single irrevocable, un=

It can be considered a revocable system;

that the Roman court, where he could, still taught that he was the only infallible decision-maker

| 1 in

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 183

in matters of faith, and that he said these sentences N we= nig, when the Jesuits retracted their claims=
ben and withdrawn, but that the Roman

The Church explicitly teaches that its system remains ours.

changeable and must remain so; that the Pope,
To prevent any self-seeing, it was decreed that Laymen who have read the Bible) even from Catholic teachers=

ern translates 5 without bishop's permission to read, no=

should receive forgiveness of sins; that the
The Pope to subject everything to his rule,
the statements of the visible head of the church,
and fine infallibility, from the ear canal=

te, indulgence, ban, violence the key er=

found: that the Pope is the first principle= made in a church, the Roman church was the

the only one that makes one righteous, and all the key
Those who were damned would be eternally condemned; that the Pope would die every year.
especially on Green Thursday, the Lutherans and excommunicate all heretics, yes, that too

He banned all Lutheran books.

and be forbidden; that the Pope should go to the Bestra=

The Inquisition tribunal was established to deal with the heretics.
Yes, individual orders were founded against them; that the Pope

The Paris Blood Wedding. Through celebrations and festivities.
w. celebrated, and command those appointed by a monk as

Ketzet stated, without reviewing the files, hin= to be judged; the Inquisition for the main= pillar and state secret of the papacy he= clarifies, and the claim suffered that it is just

Se 5 u N 2

– !

2 *

f 0

*

to kill heretics, and the priestly Gelins

It would probably be appropriate to let them burn; that the Pope distanced himself from bishops in other princes States swear an oath of allegiance, in which They undertake to uphold his regalia against everyone
to defend, and those who rebel against him,
on | ö M 4 * | him

2 7 1

1 x = 2 . |

*

184. Secret proselytizing,

to reveal to him and to persecute them; that the Papal appeals from all princely countries |
I accept, but no appeal from him at punishment of banishment; to be excommunicated by emperors
and princes the oath of loyalty and the love Horsams leisten lasse, Königreiche für feine Lehen declare, give away countries, princes, the heretics become, losing their kingdom, and their successors=
come for infamous declare, to be in the country councils against heretical princes, against King-murderer confiscate printed judgments, the West Prussian peace and the peace based on it=

ten rights and possessions, the guaranteed rights
the Protestant churches, and the conversion of the Founders to the Protestant Church, its seculari=
sirung and fall to the princes for null
and declare it void, and still possesses it.
receive these countries, even if only the near ones=
Men and titles are to be awarded; everything should be done with Violence or with good in the unity of faith=
bens will be obtained, and what has separated from it,
One must seek to conquer through missions; this
be the most effective means of spreading the ka= Tholian religion; the missions were under the propaganda in Rome, which its sub-department
ments have, and once had its own congregation
erected for the Palatinate; it has its own pa=
Last to come, this is the main point of the council.
ge for the extermination of heretics, the workshop of the Machinations for obtaining Protestant fire=
ften; from there, missionaries would be sent out!
and financially supported, seminars in protes
established in permanent countries, and no part of the red
The mixed clergy are more active in this than the Jesuses=
ten, which run from Dresden to Sina, N Ze. = rikg

+

-

rr EESEEEBBBEBNBRREEETTTT

f

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 187

kika to Sweden under all sorts of shapes confused

Thus reads the great register of sins of the Pope.
The nonsense that Mr. Beast showed us with that expression of importance and the feeling of a heart,
the prote, who is already on his last legs=
stantism is the most tender and frightening thing to see here.
lays, and in doing so he teaches the instruction of blessed Cyprian.
from the papacy, which has been in everyone's hands since 1719.
den ift, in feinen gelehrten feyn follenden Anmerkun=
bravely rode on, and rested on fine: heart friend, the bookkeeper, Mr. Nikolai, and his fen on a fine important journey through Germany ges made discoveries. – But have Mr.

Beasts, and Mr. Nikolai and the authors of the Berlin Monthly Magazine, and who else would be the editor?
The people who know this news are, have striking, unheard of, unknown, new things

He told things that no one else knew, which

I am only in writings and again scattered and hidden located, and first collected by them and sent to Did you find daylight drawn in? Nothing less than that?
All the nonsense of the popes, the Roman court, and the Roman clergy, all their claims, Attempts, presumptions she has ever made, and perhaps still exercise it if it were possible for them
just didn't lack the strength for it, in short, everything that Mr. Beast is serving us up here, and so that we can...
yes, they want to believe it, with beer and together there – Rafting and plundered places, to be wise people try hard, are old, hackneyed, Things that have long been known. Where is the theologian?
who only read church history, not even the Having thoroughly studied the subject, where is the clergyman among us?
ter us, who is only a compendium of the theology of
– | M 5 vori

\

116 Secret proselytizing,

last century with thesis and antithesis, a
I read Collegium Antipapisticum, and not this one.
to know everything, and should know far better than it actually does.
beer laboriously gathered, yet lacking

told in good faith. For Mr. Beasts taught

A seemingly thorough treatise is needed, despite its finer points.
len citaten, noch viele Korrekturen, mit denen
I don't want to stay here, since I don't have any Profession has its roots in church history to correct. What historian doesn't know that?
From his compendium? Which lawyer wrote that?
spiritual law, constitutional law and history
of the European states at universities,

And doesn't know any of this? An ignoramus from the house.
He must be the one to whom this new and unheard-of thing was said
Things would be. Yes, which unlearned person, only in shoes?
Even well-informed Protestant citizens know that
Not much already? We even have religions!

books for the instruction of the people last year=

Hundreds have been written, a good part of which Nonsense of the Roman Church, insofar as it concerns the Re=
Make known any changes directly affecting the KIGION. 8
How ignorant and simple-minded must he have seemed!
Mr. Beaster kept the audience in the position that he had told him this.
I would consider it necessary to read Collegium antipapisticum.
That his dearest friend, Mr. Nikolai, he stood out when he was on his precious work for discerning readers Pilgrimage through the Roman Empire, Catholics with old Catholic prejudices and superstitions=
I'm not so surprised that he met, whether he too immediately,
not only as a citizen who received an education,
but also as a man who has read a lot

will, all this already in Berlin: should know 25
N Fr 9 m et f 8

f After the introduction to the first volume of the tires, Mr.

Niko-

I

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 187

He finds it strange, as Mr. Garve very rightly says;

because he always lived among protesters. And if
Mr. Nikolai, on the other hand, says that he was also in Dan=
sis aemefen, and there opportunity m atholiken

au

= Wikolai fine father city Berlin only felt and on short

Leaving time: and Volume VS 14. he himself says he must confess, because Vienna was the first truly Catholic place

N gesien, wo er sich aufsänge, sän er das katholi=

The creature's appearance was noticed. That it now affects others
People can also go in such a way that (to use a more refined expression) of the grimaces and priestly epics only some dark ge=

It's probably to be believed that they have bort. But if he continues assured we had completely forgotten all of that, and many

We didn't even want to believe that those faces
and priests still exist now; he is very much mistaken.

He only goes to the Prussian provinces where the Catholic religion with the Protestant same Frey=

has, and ask the protestants there, or into the Reich,

where one knows all these grimaces and priestly nonsense very well,

But he is truly delighted that this is happening in so many places
Fe abuses are very much in the weight loss phase, however, probably better.

The implication is that if the Catholics are not, for example, through Lord

Nikolai and his associates were converted, but Catholics= to remain core, much of what the protesters find cheaply offensive.
: is, not yet and never to be completely lifted will be. Now, according to what Mr. Wikolai has said about himself.
says, it was no wonder that he was immediately on the first

Places where he reached maturity, and where the Catholic

The service of God in full speech is, much is so strange.
and seemed strange, for example, when the pilgrimage to Lang=
heim p. 108 ff. the perception in the church q Bam=
Berg, p. 120 ff., which is known throughout the Catholic world.
half so, and is generally known. But it was

Even the traveler, as soon as he is on Catholic soil
and ground came, immediately from his strange visions=
He orders a new one. He sees the outward sign in the dumpling Banz.
donor

ass Secret Proselptenmacherey,

to sow; who doesn't think of Hollberg's Barbler in this context?
journeyman, who completed the wide-ranging journey from Kiel to Za

* and! from W to Kiel=

te? *

Giver of the literature of Catholic Germany: and

On page 101, he imagines that the Catholic, general,

excluding, infallible, which is the spirit of the Catholic Church=
fchen religion is, on the naming of this journal had an influence, since, as everyone can see, the one from
Mr. Nikolai himself not entirely misunderstood good Abfichten, namely the taste in literature in Catholic German= to create more access to the land, and also the books to make known Catholic authors, that naming caused it alone. This journal also has the un=

fallible and excluding not further than fine older Best, namely the general German library driven. But what might Mr. Nikolai have thought?
have, when he considered the particular literary needs of the Catholic confession, a far-reaching jus canonicum,
a special history and antiquities research of this=
. ben, and a Catholic theological philosophy is told,
and wants to persuade us that this is indeed entirely special literature for the Rathelessian Germany,
It is little known in Protestant circles that many pros
test subjects cannot even imagine that something like that is possible.
Does he still exist? Where is the Protestant theologian who not merely a preacher, but a scholar who knows not everything Does anyone know this? Where the Protestant jurist at academies, and partly also in courts, which have the jus cano-nicum Catholicorum not study, use, indeed often

“ee

...even then he has to sustain? It's unbelievable that...

Mr. Nikolai, who claims to be so learned, would not do such a thing.
Three things you should know. All this criticizing is therefore pointless.

to be regarded as the first call of the Zion Watch=

Ters to the Protestant audience: You people, do not be

So careless! Learn about your sworn enemies, the Catholics.

Get to know each other better! Tremble at the danger! You're being warned!
tet! Sepd, awake and alert!!!!

—

“ · U ^{5 6}ä₂₂₂¹¹¹ 2i -Vkf et al

|

|

a
N

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 182

te? *) But if a Doctor Juris, a royal= Dear librarian, like Mr. Beast, such things to us=
chen as new important discoveries, repeating them aloud
When you lay it down, you don't know if you can trust your eyes.
can. One thinks one sees a student who= just back from university with fine booklets
comes, and now presents to everyone what he has learned.
retain the lectures of his professor, or on= written, and it as great to every other unknown known=learning, but one Part of the audience laughs, and the other part shakes their heads.
shakes. | |
And what, in all this, does this Mr. Bie have to do with it?
ster with all borrowed effort of erudition=

Has he proven his ability? Has he only shown us the smallest thing?
Knows that we now because of the Ge= guilds of the Roman court and its manifestations
'rer or secret proselytizing in a greater danger loomed than a hundred and several years, and that therefore fine new noise= and Was a battle cry necessary? Not even the Smallest. His quotations are mostly of very old dates: and were they still so young,
| | 1

"Mr. Nikolai has seen a lot on fine tires, which no one
No man has ever seen, or ever will see, except him. He has N also even as a far larger physiognomy than Lava= ter, the fleifhigtern, rthern and blässern, the angular= ten bone parts, the perpendicular and pointed Foreheads, which divides Catholics and Protestants=

who are supposed to be different, seen. According to his Php.

The slognomics is immediately apparent at first glance.
which church someone belongs to, without even asking them first.
...may: what faith are you of? What would the best [faith] mean to us?
boasted that traveling booksellers would deliver if he had the whole
You should travel the world! – 8 *

% Secret proseptery,

that would prove nothing more than that one can still go to Rome as one did a hundred years ago.
ket. A way of thinking, however, of which we have in our centuries less than in previous ones= have worries. – Mr. Beast also says that it with the spread craze of the Catholic Church=
che for so secretive that missionaries disguised to visit the most important courts and countries, that in many seminaries in Protestant countries
to be tested, whose existence one doesn't even know, that respected young men of these countries in the Catholic Church
to be secretly raised in the Jewish faith, that the 'Sefuiten bis in Schweden unter allerley Gefthal=
ten to make themselves and their teachings agreeable (know). But he wasn't ashamed in front of the public.

m in such a clumsy way sand in the eyes to scatter? Instead of proving, he only repeats what is said.
what the postman debits in January=piece
had, just as if an unproven claim= tung thereby proved, and truth would be that Another party member repeats it. – But in the
He wants to prove his grades. But how? Through a
A blatant falsehood! Anyone who only reads...
tein can, the note page 361. where a position from led by Cardinal de Luca. Mr. Bie=
ster cites them as proof that the missionaries
received money from propaganda to disguise themselves to visit the most important courts and countries; and
The entire passage says about disguised missionaries.
Not a word. The one from Mr. Nikolai to= led the two seminaries in Linz and Schwe=
They will soon be in Mr. Beast's hands.
transformed into many, and if one now believes, =
| | | er
* Pages 360, 368. |

*
N

and means allegedly used for this purpose, 231

N 5
the long note page 362. where a supremely important “
a message is announced, something to read that us the terrible machinations of the Roman E

secret proselytizing in our time
ten, should prove; so we find ourselves on two
a hundred years and beyond into the times of Gre= Gors XIII, who lived in the sixteenth century,
and his funeral orator, the Jesuit Stephen Tuccius, who died in Rome in 1597, was violent.
They were magically transformed back. Such leaps are permissible.
These gentlemen. That postman in January.
talks about disguised missionaries in Swabia,
in the Reich and on the Rhine, and leads us to the
to search, to Sweden; Mr. Beast wants us from the current dangers of crypto=Katho=
licism and the secret proselytizing ubert
beget, and hurls us back into the century of the Reformation! Poor audience, which

Your guides expect you to make leaps, and how They shamefully abuse your patience:
But Mr. Beast may now come into the saws, whose numbers he had already mentioned earlier his remarks had referred the readers, the
The matter is closer; for he is now looking for Mr. Ty.
to refute, and against the pretense of his
to justify the letter writer in the January piece.
The readers, he says, may decide.
They may certainly like it; but in order to be true...
To pass judgment, they must know what Mr. T-y Page 327, 328. asked, with what Mr. Beast who is now letting this man say, stick together exactly.
Mr. T-y admits that disguised Jesuits... and sneak around again, and their poison 9
SE | er

79 Page 363.

E

152 Secret Profelpstenmarherey,

to spread the mask of their so-called religion=
ten search. This may unfortunately be true,

he says. But whether this work of darkness already so far advanced that, as the letter=

steller gesagt haite, in protestantischen Länder
extraordinarily widespread, princes and men
various states of the Protestant confession=
It even infected Protestant preachers.
I have it and still get infected daily? Mr. [Name] says so.
Ty. for a question that every calm, unconcerned person would ask

fangener Mensch= und Zeitenbeobachten mit

denies complete agreement of his conscience=
(can) – Mr. Beast says, on the other hand, Mr.
Ty. I find it unbelievable that protestants=
[The] great gentlemen's inclination towards Catholicism
be taught, and now to protect him from the opposite= To transfer part of it, Mr. Beaster leads us to the former oppressions of the protesters in France, on England, where the attachment to the Catholic faith, James II ascended the throne

cost, on Sweden, and what there with Kö=

King John II, Sigismund and Christina before= fallen, in Russia, where the false Demetrius wanted to introduce the Catholic religion, on Germany, where Chur=Saxony, Chur=Palatinate, Zweybrücken, Baaden=Baaden, Beffen=Caffel,

Hesse=Kheinfels, Princes from the Haufe lake

fen«Darmstadt, Würtemberg=Stuttgart, and Princes from the Sollstein family to the Catholic Religion has been transferred. Mr. Beaster tells us in this regard, Jesuits proved themselves to be very active,

and that at the court of Elector Johann Georg von Saxony (who ruled from 1656 to 1680) himself

home=

*) p. 328,

7

m

and means allegedly used for this purpose, 13

secretly obtained one for this purpose from the Pope=
I have stopped the Jesuit: – I want to just to mention in passing that the one from Mr. Dies
The French passage mentioned in the note is even...
does not say what he lets them say. According to Mr.
Did the Jesuit secretly ask the beasts on the Saxon?

The maid was stopped: the note simply says: in order to Jefuite Allemand, which a &i& long tems en Saxe et partirulièrement d Drefde. But that he a secret emissary of the Pope en, and had stayed as = Beast will, says the note not a syllable.
 According to Mr. Beaster, the dispatched Jesuit reports to the Pope: it had been possible to secure a [something] for the Elector
 To instill an inclination towards the Catholic religion: the Note just says: Ce Fefuite escrit, que Rlecteur a
 A grand penchant for the Catholic religion.
 How wonderfully these gentlemen know what they are called= led authors to say what they only knew in the= More popular! – Mr. Beast goes on to say that King Frederick Augustus of Poland through a disguised Jesuit Kopper first to Catholic=
 It had been prepared that the Master of the Court of the Princes were already secretly Catholic, etc.
 and in the note that the Duke of Württemberg Oels 1734. as a prince under another alias=
 he was sent to Vienna to be there
 To discuss conversion to the Catholic Church. –
 And now, after Mr. Beast showed us these wonderful things Having delivered these facts, he asks: Why is
 Is it then so impossible that the Roman court
 now do what he used to do, and some German Princes are now doing what some of the same would otherwise do.
 ten? But who doesn't see that this is empty rhetoric?
 is, whose surely any reasonable person would understand,
 in, N sweat

194 Secret proselytizing, \

Let no Doctor Juris be silent, he should be ashamed. Where did he
 Mr. T-y denied everything that Mr. Bie=
 What was told here? He even admits that disguised Jesuits lurking around, spreading their poison=
 ten search: but he holds the indication of the letterhead=
 lers in January= piece, that this work of the Fin=
 fterniß fo weit gediehen sōey, als es da vorgestellet will manifest itself in Protestant countries=
 extraordinarily widespread, Protestant princes and Men of all ranks, even Protestants!
 I have infected, and am still infecting, the preacher for a question that any unbiased man who who knows our times and contemporaries must deny=
 fe. Did Mr. Diester do this with fine old histo?
 rien, which everyone, including Mr. T-y, gladly will let, indeed, if necessary, even more.
 Could more be found, refuted? Mr. Beast is supposed to prove that what his letter-giver said about the asked in these times, be true, and he leads Let us consider examples from bygone eras, where the people, circumstances and way of thinking depend entirely on which had been procured. He was supposed to be the reality.

to prove the present, and he leads us on the reality of the long past nen, and derives from this a possibility for the present situation. Has the doctor, who must have learned logic, the old logical
Sentence completely forgotten: A pousse ad Essè non valet Consequence? I cannot possibly imagine, that Mr. Beast should be so weak at heart, about the wretchedness and miserable makeshift solutions, whose he uses, and with which he offers the reader a pretends to be in a blue haze, and with the audience Juggling, not to be taken in. But look he himself admits it; thus his beginning is a convincing one.
“gens

8
i
\

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 195

f gender proof of a finely corrupted heart. And the Mann präconifirt fein Impartheylichkeit und Recht

Creativity! 5 a

Precisely these incorrect, wrong, and only

den kefer durch ein äuschendes Flamwerk hinter
Mr. Beast also takes the giving step in the second number). I'll now skip over what's in this section of Protestant preachers who

It is said that I should be secretly Catholic because I
this strange thing made up of deceit and lies
The patched-up narrative is given its own section.
babe. Here's just so much: How does that prove it?
Mr. Beaster, that the missionaries are still in Disguise all sorts of figures? By saying,
It is known, and we are with one, see also

above, presumably on the disguised Jesuits Ropper with Churfürst Friedrich August von Saxony is referred to. Is this proof of that?
what his letter writer with so much audacity be=

had stated that it was still everywhere now towards

What happens? And does this refutation apply to the Lord?
T-y. The good man, there is indeed the Berliner Monthly writers agree that entrenched Jesuits he= sneaking around. He just doubts that she's also... can disguise themselves as Lutheran preachers. The Ge= Gentheil now wants to prove to him, Mr. Beast: and Well? Here comes that lovely logical argument again.

50e ad Effe zum Vorfein, and Mr. Beast asks:

Why not also in the guise of an evân=
A religious preacher? Because Father Ropper said... dresses at the court of Prince Frederick Augustus of Saxony war, fo können andre Missionier sich auch verklei=
the, and because they can be 3, so they can

2. fe

9 Page 367. "

\

J *

7 "*

196 Secret proselytizing,

She 5 is wearing the robe of an evangelical preacher?

pull, and because they can be nasty, so do nasty things too Really. Such reasoning should be countered.
Probably a schoolboy would be ashamed. But Mr. Biefter will still assert his and his letter writer's claim prove more forcefully, and leads us to the popular Matter from the seminars, and tells us that

Danish and Norwegian young people from Missiona=
"Nothing has been seduced, and subsequently the Carholies"

must be released in Denmark / sought, about which

| the . ee will). Here fins

the

4

Toppidans' church history of Denmark leads, stand

Th. III. p. 554, 611, 727 and Th. IV. p. 56. We want
Go through them once: Th. III. p. 554 ad annum 160%
There is not a word about foreign seminaries either.
skilled, and there seduced young Danes, who at her return to Denmark to expel Catholicism= broadly sought; but only that nobles, priests and Citizens their children dedicated to studies in from wwärti= sent to Jesuit schools. This was then and still is long afterwards in several places, even in Germany, what

"Page 367. 268. The places that Mr. Beast from pon; N

Ordinary, because one considers the Jesuits to be great school people N would hold: and since this now happens less often, even after

It is difficult for anything more to happen to the dissolved Jesuit order.
This can, therefore, give rise to a new reason why in

In our days, the proselytizing of the Catholics...

German protesters can no longer be so dangerous=
No, because they lack a primary reason to do so. This

Sending Protestant children to foreign Jesuits=

Schools were now banned in Denmark because they were too dangerous.

It would be (not that it has already happened) that annoyance and disruption in religion caused by it=
who wants to. – What page 611. ad annum 1613. voß=
It comes, seems more important, and contains a regulation.
that, since many inhabitants were still of noble and bourgeois origin
8 Stan=

7

.

– * * ; .
P fx 7

–

"and means allegedly used for this purpose. 157

which we then threw around again, as it has now become a habit for him.
He is supposed to talk about present times, and there=
out and present his evidence for what was said by
As the present-day postman said:
de, and he throws us into long-past and ee ee N33 to

who were inclined towards papal doctrine, thereby Disorder is caused, and dangerous consequences result from it.
would be concerned that they would lose their right of inheritance=

The reason for this regulation is also told, since against the prohibition (presumably from 1604).

Danish and Norwegian youth, abroad in Jesu schools lured, and there the simulating "
learned, and practiced in the public teaching profession, and that it was hoped through this machine to discover the reason for the

to gradually undermine the Church: furthermore, that the Bishop of Obloe, 6 preachers of his monastery, discovered, and convinced of their evil plan, which then became their office declared lost. – The third passage, p. 727. ad Amum 1621 says that the papal court does not have all the courts=

nung abandoned, Denmark once again under its command=
to bring moderation, and on the newly erected Soroe=

Iten Univerfirät, a disguised Jesuit, van Dyck as

Professor Historian sought to attach, who with papal
He had the authority to send a convert. –

Finally, the fourth passage, Th. IV. p. 56, says that Anne 1720. Parents, one of whom was Catholic, and the other Lutherans sent the children out of the country, and have them raised in the Catholic religion, which for on their return to Denmark, Profelpten to make sought, and that the legation preachers of the French

NV fïsschen and imperial envoys the abduction and from the country, the sending of such children is promoted, which ches still forbidden by royal decree in 1745=

the. – That is now Mr. Beast's great fact;

And what do they prove? From 4 examples for the against=

= | == wuärti=

–

198

= Secret Prosecution, 4

partly already 200 years ago=

back.

Ret us on possibilities and on

What happened in Denmark cannot also happen in

He is supposed to reveal realities, and he felt

Why

What happened in the rest of the north, and in Germany?
What kind of readers must there be?

Mister

True times find three from the beginning of the previous century, where the way of thinking of our times prevailed= was quite different, and the fourth one from the first half of the present one: what do these prove to us?

Those times? But read the whole story in the book.

Context, not exempted places, and one will

about sending the youth to Catholic countries

Don't be surprised anymore. At the beginning of the last century=

Denmark still had many supporters of the old regime.

League, and how did one deal with them? One speaks to them.

the right of inheritance: the bishops prove themselves to be more than In= Quifitors, like Protestant clergy. Bishop Nese-

Nius expelled all foreign religious relatives to Copenhagen in 1620.
visit Hagen, and they must either go to Luther= confess, or leave home and farm and depart=

hiking. True French procedures, only Drago's

No apostles are still missing. Parents of mixed religions
They still had to have their children raised Lutheran in 1720.
as if the Catholic father did not have so much right to the son, as the Lutheran mother had said to her daughter.

Was it any wonder that the father killed his child?

To send marts fear? According to the decree of 1693.

Catholics also had to have their children baptized Lutheranically.

sen. The Verkappie van Dyck and the 6 of Catholicism vexdächtigen Geistlichen zeigen also, wenn man auch Pon= toppidan's unequivocal report completely believes, only so much that in the previous century Catholicism was still

x. . had many followers in Denmark, and that Rome flattered, as was also the case with England and Denmark again to convert. But all this is not our rage. From

Dons

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 199
Mr. Beast had calculated because he believed it to ape and his with such sophisms with impunity

To be able to steal applause! Such patheticness!
then find a pasquill on the insight of every reader. –

All others in this essay by Mr. Beast

materials occurring, such as their names,
I will explain this in more detail piece by piece in the following sections.
examine, and not easily a single one of them pass over.

In the month of July 1786, we read in the monthly journal February
Mr. Beasts once again under his own name=
men appear, and against the alleged crypto=
Catholicism and secret proselytizing, that German Protestant audience warned. Mr.
Prof. Garve had written to Mr. Beaster directed essay, which in this very piece of the Mo
natsschrift eingerückt is, the concerns about Vers
spread of Catholicism according to the present Situation of the Protestants and Catholics for ungreen= det explained, and what has been said so far about it by the Mo=
What was said to national writers was denied. One can,
Do not read what Mr. Garve writes about this without... also bear in him the philosophical, calm, us
to find a biased thinker who understands his age and his contemporaries N everything 'tested, examined closely, N 4 and

! PRO would therefore be difficult to refute.
rather than using it for his own benefit and frightening us with it could. And yet Mr. Nikolai wants Appendix S 2. this Beastly reasons still need to be used against Mr. Garve, which follows. But is the Protestant religion?
The region was not overturned back in the 16th century.
That's not how it will be now either, even if the=
They should still promote the same secret machinations /
as has not been proven against Mr. Garve.

*
t

o Secret Ptofelytenmacherey,

and after a calm, cold examination, his judgment
falls, and every reader who has not yet been affected by the noisy
The cry of the monthly writers is overflowing, son=
dern noch fähigig ist durch grunde uhre zu wer=
the, must be what Mr. Garve said), to bestow his most complete applause. To this
A. Essays of Mr. Garve are now being set up by Mr. Beaster an answer to ), which is intended to refute that,
but in the eyes of anyone who still thinks
and can compare it to the Garvest step
It creates a desperate contrast. I'm raising this point here.
From the beast's answer, only that part is taken out,
which relates to the subject I am discussing here, namely
It belongs to the secret proselytizing machine.
It is difficult to follow Mr. Beasts in this essay-come, since he, instead of his fine opponent, took a step forward to follow the steps and refute subtle reasons, beer and jumps there, and turns the whole thing into a so delightful a way of bringing about confusion that even the most patient investigator of searching and ordering= nens must eventually get tired, or perhaps
- fol. But I want him, as much as possible, with all its curves and twists in its face | to try and keep. Everything that Mr. Garve from the former and present situation of the Catholic Church
Alienism, which he had so insightfully stated, will be discussed by Mr.
Beasts as not said, with silence about=
gone; and for that he gives us a long decla=
The implication that unsecret enlightenment will be a long time coming not as far as Mr. Garve believes.
But he still owes us proof that we at the point of clarification, at which we

ee | er jetze

) S. monatschrift 1785: Julius. Page 19 fl.

*) Ibid. Since 68 fr.

and allegedly the means used for this purpose. 201

fetzo ftehen , which is certainly larger than that one
"Our ancestors 10 years ago, and at the time of the current situation of Catholicism, which is nevertheless characterized by who is worlds apart from those who were there years ago, to be in such great danger, and that therefore his
and his followers' cry of noise is necessary.
From the entire present day of the papacy
and Mr. Garve asked ours for any that might be there
"secret machinations of the Jesuits and Roma"

The fchen Emissaria are useless, and the ones about it are '

expressed concerns that were very unfounded (Y).
And now, what does Mr. Beaster set the important...
'For the reasons of Mr. Garve, which he sievst a sharp'
What does "sensible canonization" call, contrary? Nothing.
than the question: Why should the Jesuits, who always working so actively on their dissemination ten, who are not followers even now, and therefore To try to establish dominion? Now that it more than ever needed, since they have a lot to do.
to win, and to lose something with difficulty= nen *)? If Mr. Garve is not German, then= dern in a language unknown to Mr. Beast who had written; so this would still be some capable of forgiveness; but what is now a fine whole Question differently than premeditated twisting, premeditated misunderstanding and avoidance of the matter, Which one are we talking about? Mr. Garve is talking about the secret machinations of the Jesuits, and papal= to convert Protestants to the Evangelical Missionaries and Lord Beasts of the efforts of the Yenish
to spread, to gain followers and power procure. And assuming he stuck to the matter, Bu N 5 of
*) Page 28. * |
) Page 73. ö 3 N

—

* id
.- ® 5 3 ' j *
x /

402 Secret Proselytizing,

Mr. Garve is talking about, who can get through such a wretched question: all the important Garvešān reasons for Refuted? – But, as Mr. Beast argues,

even if they themselves are gone, the more important question is: Do they do this?

Is it really? I think, he sowed, already from the,
what I taught about it, and what the

The writers I've attracted say, illuminate

This is enough. Mine! For beer the Lord asked.
The doctor merely pretended to be the doctor to the public, and nothing more.
He provided evidence. His messenger had us from those currently lurking around in Germany
disguised proselytizers, from Catholicism

of the worst kind, which is found among the protesters
intrusions, from large Protestant serenades, “Those who have an inclination towards Catholicism= spend time searching, and in which this has already happened
very successful, and of several like it
They spoke of trivialities; and however little this may be
They proved they were false, but instead they charged us according to Zol= land and sent all the way to the North Pole to find the

to visit the Roman émigréates, which we were supposed to visit at The Rhine, in the Reich, in Swabia, should be found everywhere!
ten; He has proven just as little.
He has only given us possibilities, not realities.
served up, and where of present things

He was speaking, he has partly long since told us.
gone and completely different from ours (
times led, yes, he wasn't ashamed to tell us
with Father Tucci's corpse grave from the six= |
to maintain for tenth centuries, and thus
To prove things that are now right before our eyes should happen. He must therefore not rely on the | call out what he had taught: for what he had taught

What had been brought about was not proof of the truth=

with his claims and those of 3

6 riers

and allegedly the means used for this purpose. 203

Letter writer; but rather evidence of subtle ignorance= bid, or that he according to his corrupt heart,
with the audience his juggling act so ee
Want to do white things.

Mr. Beaster must have felt it himself,
that he wouldn't get away with it; he's sleeping
Therefore, from a different angle. From time to time.
The monthly magazine will contain even more related content.
Deliver the facts. If the future deliverables
The facts are no better than those we are told.
bisber delivered; so the discerning public will be |
probably not very eager for it, and it's not too believe that it is due to such a shadow play on the wall

I will have a particular pleasure. But which one?
Outrageous! The gentlemen want the permission ha=
Ben, all their unproven chimeras with the expression of importance to disseminate to the public, others
To insult religious partisans, distrust and among the only legitimate churches in Germany to awaken, princes their subjects, and the=
They again serve their servants, and the teachers their servants.
to make people suspicious at will, and those who contradict them, their unproven
Those who do not want to believe fairy tales as oracular pronouncements, to mock them, and the audience is supposed to wait until they
from time to time the supposedly proving facts |
deliver, which their henchmen from all over the world will provide.
Want to add angles. That's surely the Shamelessness taken to extremes! – And yet it continues.
Mr. Beast will go further. But nobody has to.
He demands, he says, that everything be said, so
as long as one still lives in relationships which Earn a nudity. A splendid hideaway.
to hide in it, for example, if the

. and proof n kefer not

with

a0 Seeheime Profelytenmacherey,

to be satisfied with the half-baked narratives liked it. Why did the audience follow a Things that were so extremely dangerous and so highly dangerous to him
It's made out to be important, but you don't have to know everything? In what way?
Mr. Beaster lives for connections that he Shut the mouth? Should it perhaps be a secret?
My connection of a different kind? And What kind of chicks may a man still have who Does it really take on the role of being our guardian of Zion?
How can he suddenly become so timid?
that he would not also do something for the good cause=

Which should? Not half facts, but whole facts.

We must know; or everyone is authorized to...

- natsfchefftfteller, wenn fie fïch hinter das Bollwerk entrench their connections and rearview mirrors, to be considered a slanderer. Nobody has to demand
"Gen," Mr. Biester continued, "that the whole ge= home plan, and all machinations to its Execution will be submitted. This last one can only he who is himself part of the secret,

and perhaps only the one who is at the top
It is the same. It is one, when one loves something like that.
s'et, as if one were the Bourignon with their witches=
I saw chimeras standing right in front of me, and fierce things
He heard him! Sometimes these gentlemen know how the Letter writer, so precise, so circumstantial, so this into smallest detail of all the tricks and schemes
and means to talk about the alleged mission= Naren to convert the Protestants, their in-education should be applied so that one can think I wish they had a messenger of the propaganda of the validated, and all instructions searched, or al= len such alleged conversion stories in Person attended; but another time they made Again, the ignorant, and only those who with

5 in

E and allegedly related means. 20%

Those who find it can know about everyone. What Should we believe now? – There will always be lies – "Knocks stay," says Mr. Beast finally, and often must a single narrative be incoherent

appear; but only fragments of are better.

to deliver true facts, as they are through Vermu=

to arrange the things into a system, and the combination Collection and comparison of true

That is, among themselves, I think, must be true.
That already explains a lot. No, never can it.

one is involved in a matter that is not only very important to us=
made ty and dangerous, but also the Eh= re, peace and all the bourgeois happiness of so many individual people, even entire countries and large=

as far as churches are concerned, with stories that fill gaps

Having and finding only fragments, calm down. We=

in the country where Mr. Biefter in a
The Criminal=Colleague should be sitting! The most innocent Man could get fire and sword from him
to be damned, the most incomplete narratives=
They want to become a whole in his eyes,

he would take so long to gather and compare=

chen, until he had happily delivered the accused.

But who should be surprised by this? Since the monthly
When writers established their Inquisition tribunal, it was

Yes, of course, that they should deal with their worthy
The originals, the Roman inquisitors, are known made, and formed themselves according to those by whom also stories full of gaps and fragments apply, and take them together for so long and compare until the heretic becomes Sanbenito or is ready for its paper cap. ö

Mr. Garve had, where of the Roman

It was said in Emisaria that the Protestant Fury
N | 23 a ften

*

/

206 Secret Proselytizing

They sought to convert the people and said that even the luck
The greatest success of such proselytizers is the power of the Pope and the prestige of the Roman Church

ten, and in their small sphere of influence could such distinguished proselytes changes to the advantage= Sten of Catholicism; but people would not now, as formerly with their princes—

They immediately change their attitudes and worship what

who they had previously despised. And he refers to Bieby.

on Saxony and on the Palatinate, and even on Julian's eager, but ultimately fruitless, efforts to make paganism widespread again

|

It did not spread significantly in Protestant countries.
ten will. At their courts, in their main towns.

and to suppress Christianity). – Every |

Experts in church history and history
of religious thought in general, is what

Mr. Garve in just a few pages without any effort of erudition, but certainly as a philosopher and
A connoisseur of history says to give a sizable round of applause.
Mr. Beaster also deprived this one of his own.
against, and says: It seems to me that history shows
Examples of the opposite. France, Austria
Austria, Hungary, the Palatinate, were, that one
One country more, the other less, almost entirely Protestant= stantifisch, what do they find now *)? Isn't it a What a misery that Mr. Beastiester is so concerned about such things!
who likes to chatter about things he knows nothing about.
He doesn't understand anything at all! If he doesn't know Cyprian bat, which he can ride and plunder, then fehen

We saw him in all his nakedness. Where were we ever?
France, Austria and Hungary almost completely

Page 28: 31.

% Page 75.

| \

The Edict of Nantes was handed to him. Not a fine abs.

and allegedly the means used for this purpose. 207

Protestant, and asked Protestant re

people whose conversion to the Catholic Church the
The consequence was that Protestantism was again...
urges, and the formerly suppressed Catholic Re Has the league become overwhelming again? One should

One almost thinks that Mr. Beastie never told history had read it. They were immediately in France, Des Austria and Hungary, considerable Protestant Communities have been gathered that have partly lost their happiness

following governments, partly due to other circumstances=
who owed it; yet it remained in these Countries where Catholicism has always been the most overwhelming

Religion, and Protestantism, on the other hand, only the with more or less freedom, tolerated. The
The rulers were all Catholic, and not all.
Protestants who, through their conversion to the Pope=
Thum, now persecutors of their former religion
become, and suppress Protestantism=
ten. But when stronger rulers in these countries to have usurped the throne, and politics no longer to be norz

believed he had the right to follow the protesters.
ben; there began the always Catholic Res
genten, and those who always remained the ruling ka Tholic church, which has so far shown considerable leniency to restrict the treated protesters and probably to suppress completely. In France, the Protesters enjoy their exceptionally large rights there=

Freedoms or privileges only for weak governments
under Francis II, Henry II, and Henry III.

to thank them, and they were always on the same side as the ruling party.

church, and the rulers devoted to it in the hair. Henry IV converted to Catholicism.

Religion, in order to become King of France, and

Nevertheless, they extorted and won themselves even more.

case

)

.

can A
G

| een "Be aA ar err, , > az el doctor
x

28 Secret proselytizing,

Their downfall was attributable to this. The following occurred.
only under Louis XIII and XIV.
But Mr. Beaster, the history of the Protestant

Religion in Austria, the Lampe Historia Ec-clef. Ref. in Hungaria et Transilvania, the Bas-

nage Miftoire de la Religion, Daniel Gefschich=
te of. France, the Zafor Histoire de Louis

XII., the story of Louis XIV and more=

had read more of that kind before he brought such a thing into the world, bineins@chrieb! A librarian should surely Cheap, don't expose yourself in such a way as if he were the writers were unknown or not needed

knew from whom he could have learned.

nen. – The Palatinate is among the listed countries=

the only place where Protestantism is overwhelming
was, and through the conversion of the regent to Catholicism= has suffered in the liun church. But can one be at al=
the attachment of the Palatinate rulers to the ka= Theological religion, shared by all Catholics;

granted freedoms, from the Palatinate, as a pro=

In the testamental lands they ask, what is she now? Of the
do not dress attractively in places during the protests Court Chamber? Is Protestantism dead?
Did he not himself still have the vast majority of the =Kir=
chen, which are endowed with considerable revenues;
Don't the Reformed Christians themselves have half the universities?
The city of Heidelberg, its handsome church in Enrath,
who dares to defend the rights of his church against

To defend interventions and repressions?

Will many Palatinate residents still convert to Catholicism in our time?
converted to Islam *)? I live in the near future=
; | 2 bar=
50 Despite the well-known religious complaints, little=
stens fa much prove that the old horny of the Catholicism is effective, genus is.

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 209

A

barn of this country, and I am still two years ago=

I had been in the Palatinate; but everywhere

nothing but heartfelt attachment to the Protestant= tism perceived. – But what is malicious is

Mr. Beast of Christianity to Julian's
Times says, while at the same time remaining ignorant again

A

shows. He brings praise on this occasion.

elevation to pure deism, which he already formerly known as a fine and refined follower of Slaubensberg –

. , Tenneniß indicated, and says: Christianity
In Julian's time, he might have been against the pure

Deism, which some refined minds derive from the sought to withdraw from the ancient Roman religion, and the best people in previous times really had withdrawn, only a fanatical sect beings, but this fanaticism has prevailed, from which only after a thousand years with great difficulty,

the most enlightened of our theologians (about those who, after the Acatholic, our churches Naturalists want to concede?) the true and Divine (perhaps pure deism as the quintessence)

essence that was foisted upon us for Protestantism (should be?) have been brought forward. – Whoever my

I've read the history of Arianism, I know how
I think about the procedures that have been in place since Constantine.
Times of the orthodox, and those who think differently undertaken. But the entire writing

As time goes on, so it already deteriorates back then.
to become and so unchristian fine teachers to degrade so deeply that it was against pure deism, derived from paganism,

It was a fanatical sect, who can

That's different from a Deist? Who was this fan?

A sect, the Arians or Semi-Arians?
or even the Nicomachean Party, whose belief-| 0 bens

—

x

N

0 a
310 Secret Proselytizing,

bensbekenntniß doch in unsern symbolischen Bû=

Should such claims be retained?

Surely a man who dares to masquerader should be ashamed.

ö | En protestantischen Fionswächters fich vorftekt.

2. Mr. Beaster just told us: I am a Deist (as he already gave us such faith= (has made his confession), I want Christianity undermine, and you supernaturalists, the Na=
to foist traditionalism and pure deism upon them;
Well then, let's allow him everything, because he likes everyone.
Christians, Athanasians, Arians and Semiarians, Protestants and Catholics, not just one fanatic!
not a sect, but also whatever he wants to call it,
and the Deistian gang associated with him

fo große Eptennamen, von feinen Köpfe, bes

Give to the most human beings, and to enlightened people:
It's all the same to us. We're sticking to Christ.
Word: whoever does not have the son, also has not the Father, and trust in his promise, that his teachings should not perish. But then

Mr. Beast no longer has to get involved in the mess.
wall of a protester bull, and under this
The larva mocks the audience. That's disguised.
Proselytizing of a different kind, and just as harmful= lich, yes, even more shameful than disguised proselytizing= tenmacherey fürs Papftthum. And just as much the Protestant rulers, to whom the temporal and who cares deeply about the spiritual well-being of their subjects, will ensure that their sub-subordinates
through veiled Roman emissaries to the Pope=
to be seduced; just so will Preuss=
sens Godly One, and for the temporal and eternal
A monarch who, like a father, governs his subjects, is well cared for,
Make sure that the * egg* does not get into the garment.

| erer

4

“

and allegedly the means used for this purpose. ar1

ferer for the evangelical truth »), verse mummte proselyte maker for the pure De=

Islam, to undermine Christianity and its people

make unhappy. – Ä | |

Mr. Garve had thought of Saxony, and
Mr. Beaster was led to realize that it was, un=
Respected his rulers, the Catholic religion.
adopted, but always remained devoutly Lutheran;
But Mr. Beaster is not asking here: what is it then?
He possesses an admirable dexterity,
to ignore everything with silence, which could beat him and fine chimeras, as if it That's not even a given. He doesn't even think of anything.
the important restrictions that one encounters in Hesse=

sen=Cassel the sovereign set, to the Prote= Stability against all possible impairments to secure *), as the last deceased Landgrave to Catholic Church overflowed, whether he was also Zessen=
Cassel knows how to cite very well when it comes to prote=

The speech is of the Constantinian princes, who are Catholic.

has happened. Does this happen out of ignorance, or with Premeditated? That's the former; so he didn't have to...
He talks about things he doesn't understand. Is that the last thing?
O 2 te,
Who here doesn't recall the verse of the honest German
Mannes, Luthers, bey: | u
Oh! err, the dear name of yours
Their mischief must be put to rest!
9 And the experience of our days has taught us that in . Hesse=Cassels no protest because of religion=
They bent a hair, and the Catholic religion not even the slightest progress has been granted; indeed, it is scarcely... to the same person that which the general Christian tolerance in most German Provinces for them led with themselves.

212 Secret proselytizing,

te, fo ist er nicht die ehrliche, unverschädigte Mann,
which he so often pretends to be, and a man whom
one is caught on fo revealing imbalances, vers
Does the just contempt for all righteous people serve?
People. | va
Mr. Beast is coming") during fine messing around= pfen for the Lord Garves' reasons (because a A proper refutation can't be found anywhere, son=
dern only a messy picking out of Desjenis
(en, what he believes he can use or tackle)
(on the fact that Mr. Garve says that the large number) richer, and more strongly supported attempts of the Je= suites and Catholics in the times when the Conflict between Protestants and Catholics
Gårung maintained, would not have been successful, fo hât:
There is even less to worry about in our times.
Mr. Biester, on the other hand, says that at that time the novelty
the thing has a stronger appeal, and the fermentation
a greater force to resist the minds
given; but our present peace has given us Carelessness and indifference towards all religions _ given. Certainly a splendid one of its inventor would be= A solid refutation! Because there aren't that many anymore.
polemical writings against the papacy as before Bundert and several years will come out because we no longer, like our first zealots, with Ku= to go to the field with horse-baiting and woodcutting, 5
"3 as

*

4) Page 76. |

) Page 42. I believe the right place in the Garve=
I found a fchen essay and have shown it here, whether I immediately, after reading it several times, in vain
the position was sought or found as if it were by Mr.
Beasts led, and with a hook, as if they were, Mr.
Garve's own words, displayed. 5

1

A

and seeks suitable means for this purpose; .

the privilege with flat, big and tart mockery against reasons to bark, one in this or any=
in a corner of Germany, perhaps still his essence driving controversy=leaving it to preachers, and there=
no longer against Catholics from our pulpits
to be expelled; because one is in our churches to sing shamefully: Your indulgence letter, bull and Decree, now sealed in the ; because Ro=
1 in Leipzig no longer preserve us, Lord 15 your word, and the Pope's command and wants to let the rken murder fang fang; because we are over?
main to the will and example of Christ according to tole=
think more rantingly and humanely, that's why
Have we become indifferent to all religions?
Prove to us, Mr. Beast, that we are unsee prote= Stanisian religion has become so irrelevant that tomorrow we will sacrifice our better insights and We would like to give up our freedom. But are we has become so indifferent to all religions.
According to him, there is even more danger from our transition to naturalism and De= ism, as from our transition to the papacy to procure; and yet it is resented that the Writings unite against the Freethinkers
They should. There should therefore be no polemics against them.
will be, but only against the papacy. How It's nice how our Protestant Zionist guardians speak,
How naive they can be, believing we will
They can no longer recognize each other for Deisten if they only Erdmann Neumeister's polemical armament have laid down. -

But that one should never follow Mr. Beast can go without always having him on a shooting trail=
to catch him! He thus overlooks Mr. Garve's important 6 3 Sweden therefore
8 3 | not 5

216 Secret Profelyte Making,
did not become Catholic because King John II.
professed this religion, that the descendants
who lost the kingdom, and therefore all of them= skillful effort for the benefit of Catholicism
in Sweden without success; that also in Russia=
The attempts in the Netherlands and England were unsuccessful, which which were made to promote the Catholic religion to lift the throne." Of these last two
Mr. Beast again chooses England, and says Mr. Garve wants an important Bey= play from Great Britain, where despite all The machinations of Catholicism will never rise again.
came. An important example had
Mr. Garve said nothing, and he isn't talking either.
not only from England, but also from Sweden and Russia. But only set by England as= lein; how can Mr. Beaster say that the Machi= nations for him, and their failure couldn't prove anything against him? When were these Machinations were made? Wasn't that in the previous one?

A century? What do these prove for the against=

Wise, so very changed? But Mr. Beast will also talk about the present one, and says
Therefore: Who can claim that the people fo are completely wrong, those who see the bottom of the map
want to know that country, and it's pretty much...
to make it likely that the secret
Party of Catholics in England now immensely numerous, and of great influence on political matters be."). Instead of proving,
"To prove a fact," Mr. Biester tells us.
one: who can claim, and that certain 9

en

) Page 42. 47.
9 Page 78.

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 271

the alleged influence, which is supposedly zabl=

rich party of Catholics quite true=
to make it seem likely. Who finds this ges
Do people know? Maybe the one with the torch?
run, and already generally for a madness=

to the enthusiast, Gordon explained? Is it possible?

Now, if Mr. Beast relies on such people...
If he can, then it's time to stop.
and even further towards discerning followers
to put him, but rather with Gordon his chic= Sale left.

Mr. Beaster has Mr. Garve say that...

Old, unrefined Catholicism is now impossible to find many new followers: for in this whole peculiar refuterator, who almost in constant Since I am currently in the jumping area, I am unsure whether I can...
I have hit the right spot *). This claim

Mr. Beast now counters with two things: 1) the Jesuits and Roman proselytizers are to understand the art she uses in China, and according to him, it should still be used in Russia=

len, namely they are from their firing Fords

to ease up in order to gain more entry, and will know what they want for the new thing, and what

fie for the old, for the essential and extra-everything=

They should issue the papal portion. – In Ause=
We must first get rid of Mr. Beasts to Russia.

better instruction is expected in order to discuss the allegedly refined papacy that is being spread, to be able to judge, and only then will we ourselves, how this relates to the previous depositions the monthly writer, that nothing from the Pope to= * bring into agreement. In

4) Page 223.

04 0n"

N
\

216 Secret Prosecution, "

Mr. Beast's view of China seems to me like... Unfortunately, this is far too often the case with him, where he... to know in an affected manner, to be not at all informed. I will therefore send him to fine instruction on the blessed. Mosheim's account of the latest Chinese Church history, and on Holberg's church= history, Vol. 3, page 139 ff. and Vol. 4, page 141 ff. refer where he then went for his instruction will find how little the Catholic Church in Kun ropa with what the Jesuits in China have acquired= believed, in order to further their work of conversion, to There has been peace. But this ignorance of the There's nothing strange about Mr. Beasters anymore. Far more perplexing, however, is when he 2) the Lord Prof. Garve countered that it was never in the Mo= It has been claimed in the natsfchrift that the Catholicis= mus in fine. very old and clumsy talk

now might be agreeable to the protesters, or made acceptable by the Jesuits. Has Has he really forgotten what his famous ride was? Sender and letter writer in January 1787. in the contribution to the history of the secret Pro= selytenmacherey had said that not who

Many Protestant countries of Catholicism intrusions of the most egregious kind? Happened and.
Does this happen spontaneously, or through others?
The postman at least gives us a disguised mission=
nare an. – Here is therefore an obvious untruth=
heit, or Mr. Beast must be something very strange Remember that he immediately said such things.
He pours them out when he deems it necessary to forget them. –
So important, thorough, and philosophical, by the way.
Mr. Garve's statement is that one can speak of a writer who undertakes to tell Mr. Garve to rebuke him, and to say of him that 5 the

en: | | age

x

4

*

2 *

+

"GATE 8

7

*

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 217
I don't know the situation, I don't know what about us / and that he, Mr. Siester, the against, through reading, acquaintances and

Correspondence came up with ideas that one

dear Protestant scholar does not have, probably a detailed, thorough and philosophical
One should expect a refutation: Mr. Bie explains it this way=
ster, that he now turns to Catholicism=
could not delve any further: the matter was too

extensive. In contrast, he refers us to the u future, and on the news he sends from time to time

I will present: because when he (fine own words

te) to pursue literary and educational pursuits=

positions that are now located in several Prussian provinces commonly used textbooks for Catholics

He collected things and was amazed to find them.

the, which is psychological, moral and political (important, I think). First you should therefore speak good German.

Audience, believe him, and later he wants you to

to present what he caught on his hunt.

Perhaps he made a catch on this hunt.

have, whom the gloriously vigilant Prussian

had not noticed the constitution, and which it could use? E.

Mr. Garve has presented the monthly writers with thrown that they, where of present Prosely=

tenmacherey the speech is, her pretense, with Bey=

games and writings from the previous century=

*

to try to prove the sentence, and to confirm the sentence.

while the Roman alleged Emissa=

just sought to convert our princes, old

compiled with new examples.

A proof that von = laid fine .

) Page 79. 8

218 Secret Profelytenmadjeren,

!

che Nummer gibt fey 5). – On the first

Mr. Beast won't get involved at all; but now listen.

But every reader who is capable of thinking and judging can, as Mr. Beaster can see because of the other right manufactures. However, he says, four of the ones in Cases cited in April are new *). Had he then Did Mr. Garve deny that? He says yes.

It is important that old examples are combined with new ones.
have been posed; and what do the four new ones now prove?
Examples against this alleged composition?
Or are the four new examples only meant to be= know that the monthly writers are not, as
Mr. Garve said, with new examples in hin= Missing in lengthy numbers? Oh! If only they had been on Several need to reflect, only several can hunt.
How they would have been led with larks!
In order to compile the list of

to make converts quite large, and the unwitting

to send or to deceive trusting readers, were also from ancient times which were brought forth. Why?
But Mr. Beaster didn't ask for anything from the actual chen Urfachen, whereby the four Protestant fors

They were persuaded to change their religion, and from the restrictions that were imposed on them, Didn't anything at all get mentioned? That didn't serve any purpose.

his stuff, because then the audience, which only

Read and believe, not reason, quite differently.
'about the proselytizing, when the intention of this

The gentlemen were, would have judged. – Wel=

Dear reader, however, can imagine the most justifiable resentment.

defend yourself when Mr. Beast immediately adds:

a * Page 22. 28.

Page 23. *

En

But what if there were even more cases, 5 |

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 212

I know? How, if even I and others know more Cases are most likely where foreign and German rulers and princes at least are inclined towards the Catholic religion?
 and in the note he refers to the Electorate Johann Georg von Sachfen, of whom a Jesuit written: YEKlecteur a un grand penchant pour

Catholic religion. – “Who trusts his Eyes? What even Mr. Beast himself doesn't know;

 Once you know this, it can be considered proof of a fine statement:
 which is only highly likely to him and others,
 We should consider this as confirmation, the fine essence
 Make sure of the construction work: and to reduce the inclination
 current Protestant prince to the Catholic
 To prove it, old Johann will return.
 Georg von Sachsen from the previous century=
 He mentioned it. Don't you think that's a joke?
 With you, German audience, there's nothing like teasing.
 rey!

Since I only took babe over, that | Unfounded the chimera of the monthly writers
 to expose their inaccuracies,
 and to refute their unproven claims,
 but not to follow their leaps everywhere=
 bûpfen: So I'll skip over what else might be a coarse * deserved; as for example when

b Mr

4. Also, Mr. Nikolai in the first volume of the tires, p. 174, lets

N fi) to claim that many Protestant Princes through all sorts of aforementioned stealthy means Catholicism has been made increasingly more appealing.

Who are the princes? He must know, because he added: Doesn't this happen right before our eyes?
Half a month, and we don't want to see! – He wants to

So open our eyes, and name these princes!

7 ö

1

j U

u Eu

220 Secret Proselytenmachechete,

Mr. Beast, 84, says: You will surely
I am not seriously demanding that I discuss this (about the inclination of Protestant princes towards Catholicism (ctsmus) add everything fol. Why not, if;
Can he honestly claim all that he knows?
Furthermore: They are too noble-minded to let that happen.
to allow you to have an advantage over me, that you
one thing opposite ftsen, which I don't now
| may answer. Who is stopping him? Are they ges Homes, connections? Other people are supposed to...
– theirs, dreamed or real, say: why

Shouldn't he be allowed to? Does he forbid it?
State? He lives in Berlin, where you've never ever seen anything like it.
Man prevented honest and free speech.
One shouldn't put dentures on the monthly writers, after all.
laid Protestant princes in general of the Catholic

To avoid being suspected of Islam; why?
Shouldn't Mr. Beast get closer to this?
May they explain? He names the princes who... are thoughtful; but he also proved himself to be an honest Man! Would a prince who once had a chance... was able to win himself over, his convictions
with his political, perhaps imagined, conclave= nienz to exchange, it to the Lord Beast and to record it if he speaks directly to him
says what he indefinitely says about all Protestants
Who dares to call them princes? – Furthermore, if
Mr. Beast (p. 85) says: However, not here anymore.
of facts, only of possibilities, and We now turn to page 35. 86. a series of alleged calculates possibilities by which princes can become Catholic could become lifch, and in the end says: I'm talking to a philosopher who so loved to be in the realm of Possibilities remain, and is it so in this realm?

Certainly. A wonderful find indeed, where LI SE – Effect=

4

[4

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 22

It brazenly claims that realities poor audience into the wide realm of possibility=
ten to lead, in order to give each charade its own Fantasy, every chimera of a madman, or to chase after a malicious enthusiast! Furthermore, if,
– 10 Mr. Garve, page 26, in a completely different context=

It was said that the Pope's opinion was that

Christ's governor did not burst through secret
Insinuations have been produced, and page 43.): that some German princes mostly more for political reasons and for self-interest,
as, through persuasion or insinuations
the Jesuits are moved to the Catholic Church=
to transgress – Mr. Beast, the words of the Lord Prof. Garve deliberately distorted, and what this by some, and moreover not with complete gait= a”

In summary, all insinuations are said, as general and

To put it simply: I am amazed by this,
that the actual conversions of Germans Princes, not by persuasion and insinuation=
tion katholischer Geprischen geschühen fein fol=

len *. Shame on you! And these rabble-rousers.

Reynards, obvious falsifications and distortions
To realize, you had no eyes, German public=

Come? Surely your Enlightenment thinkers have given you the torch.
the) held so close to the eyes for clarification that Instead of shining, they have ruined your eyesight=
ben. – Page 88. will be the mighty sachsi=
fchen Landstände's, which had the influence of the Ka= Tholieism prevented in Saxony: Hesse=Cassel.
but wisely passed over, and said of the Palatinate,
that according to the rule no protestant a > | si die-

) This is probably the actual place.
%) Page 16.

222 Secret Prosecution,

receive service: And reveal this, from everyone

Children of a remote area, a shameful untruth,
there, even if the most mehy places are with Catholics=

The kens will be occupied, but protestants still won't get one.

are excluded from the way, and especially at the
The appointment of a member of the court chamber is considered authentic.
Truth written into the world! Oh! Up!
Hlårung, what a phantom you are, among such Leaders! What else is on page 89? From the Father
I will overlook the repeated mention of Schorenstein, since I

Enough has already been said about that, and it's certainly time again.

Time to unravel this miserable letter, which is a fabric

of ignorance, malicious machinations, untruth=
the most deliberate distortions is, from
to lay down. *

In August 1785, Mr. Biester reappears.

rum up, and delivers yet another
sent to him, allegedly by a friend of the one who wrote the essay in the Janner piece=

ben, herrührend anonymische Aufsatz, über the secret proselytism). Man esp Doesn't beer immediately notice the striking fact that this her entire writing career has been driven through so many detours=

+

It will be tempted to do it.

calculate how many hands the essay passed through= until he finally reaches his destination=

That's enough. The sentence of the Janner piece is by a Anonymous: this person sends that essay to the Ver=
faffer of the present piece, which is also Anonymous

is, and this one in turn that essay to another anonymous friend, so that this one, who is the Lord

Beasts should be known, to give him the same in his hands=
You want to play. Why these detours? you ask.
good
59) August der Monatsschr. 1785. p. 10 ff.

. /
0

Dear reader. You will easily find the answer. That The essay was a pasquil. So, one had to, or
The editors of the monthly magazine wanted to...
to ensure that they receive an anonymous [information] from anonymous [sources].

A squeaky essay was sent to her, for which she was not entitled to anything.

could be responsible; as if the authorities

would not be obliged to punish the offender who

. a pas quill on the lamppost, or on the pillory

attacked, even if he apologizes profusely=

He said that he didn't know the one who did it, or |

it was placed in his hand for him to strike, or as 1

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 22

when the one who spreads defamatory rumors, the Fgottlose Pasquillanten to the detriment of a third hatched, publicly with the participation of aher

and helps to spread it, did not act criminally, not through his active participation in the defamation

even the name of a slanderer quite properly=

lich on himself? The author of this essay = |

zes ift also von dem Verfasser des im Jannerstuck
the present contribution 3c. a completely different one man, and as it were, merely the postman of the Letter writer. But this statement seems not quite right, and the author the old saying: Historicum oportet esse memorem

to have forgotten. Because he had only just as the friend of the author of the essay in Jannerstück (pages 106, 107) issued; so there is

he himself page 109. as the actual author ever= nes Janneraufs0est, by saying: Mr. Ty
I confess that he could not deny it with any reasons, and bitterly complains that Mr. Ty calls him an immature boy, as if

T-y everything, and he knew nothing: since Lord
Don't pick the postman, pick the letter= steller attacked. He then recalls again the n letter=

NU

*

—

224 Secret Proselytizing

The letter writer, as his friend, forgets himself.
immediately again, and proves it with great praise from his own thorough knowledge, that not an ignorant and unteachable boy ever=
I wrote a letter. Is that the business of a Postman? Thanks be to the Lord's heat.
Ty, who put the Vexfaßer of this essay back into Heat set; otherwise he would not have been able to get away so easily as a
To betray a liar! But to which courses?
Surely the evil one, who shuns the light, must face his fate.
Take a break! But let's get down to business. The beer was in front of us.
The essay is a letter to the worthy
gen and beloved brother of the high order
the bold» and kosenkreuzer, especially on those who belong to the eighth evangelical church are inclined towards teaching. Since I am interested in the subjects that in this alleged letter, or rather in this pasquill, of the friars and the Catholicism and profession attributed to them
lytenmacherey, by the deacon, by me, La=

father, Claudius, on the book: Sur les Er-reurs et l'averite, and report between Dieu, homme, et P'univers occur, and actually this one
to fill the essay, special sections were assigned;
I will conduct the exact investigation by then.
all of these individual substances. I can therefore say from
This otherwise very rich essay only very briefly.

Set up little. – From Mr. Beast's grounds

his remarks, his learned knowledge and
The audience has so many ges. with fine openness.
sacred evidence in what I have so far under
I have searched, received that it is now probably itself to ur-
will be able to divide whether this man has a
The only one that deserves the praise bestowed upon the author is...

this letter, he may now be the letter carrier
ö | | | ger

1 5 .

and allegedly the means used for this purpose.

ger or the letter writer of the letter in Jayner-(Back, he so mildly attached). What of drawn Beimer proselyte-making is said to, give me
beer in particular, and there the author says that Mr. Ty, the true story of the proselytes-Macherey wants to deny it. Just as if all of them
Writers were inspired by only one spirit,
He too engages in the same trade as his companions;
enjoyed. Mr. Ty doubts so little about Moğ.
lichkeit, even reality of the proselytes;
macherey, that he admits to fogar (pages 327, 328),
that I am disguised Jesuits and the like, and pointed out who lurk around, and their poison under the mask
Ibrer fogaunten religion to spread fear,
But he makes unproven claims that letter writer, that they had progressed so far, as ex claims that Protestant princes and men
People of all ranks, even preachers infected by it would be. He tells the story with the Breslauer Judon for a crude legend, and what the letter...
steller from the Protestant theologian, that he a fourth-class Jesuit, by Lapater, Claudius and the Protestant deacon ex-

count batte, for colorful absurdities, unproven=
new stories, scandalous tales and a sexy ment of lies. And now the postman says);
or postman, Mr. T – y want the true story deny the history of proselytizing, which a yriori no human being could and would deny *).
Where this worthy scribe had learned fine logic
may have! And how fluctuating this is!
3 9 Page 109. ; e Dr oo.
*. 4 elite cy. „ a 8 . | b

9

226 Secret Prosecution,

pressed, just so that in case of a reply one can say could, one could not understand. What can and No human being would deny a priori? May the...
Liability or the reality of proselytizing:
Rey? – That the Catholic Church, like all Res religions that claim to be the only path to salvation and truth hold which of Jews *), Mubammedans and Naturalists, who at least give us a false beginning
To attribute fraud to a newly founded religion, just like that.
It can be said well, to make proselytes=
tends to be, and so proselytizing even now
No one would deny that it's possible. Is that the big demonstration a priori of the monthly = steller; oh! the childish imagination! that have
We all knew that for a long time, and we don't need to find out.
by A BE Protectors in religious history
to learn. Mr. T-y didn't believe that either.
net. But should now the possibility of Profe=
Iptenmacherey the true story of the same
What is it called, and can it be called that? – Or does the
The author's still present reality including the proselytizing; with what did he his Assertam proved this? Mr. T-y denies it.
that ste fe so in the measure eristire, as the letter=
presenter or now postman to the public=
had reflected, and he quite rightly calls it a

1 a

4 * *

"Mr. Wikolai, Volume HS 277, the traveler therefore praises with
1. Right of the Regensburg rabbi Hanf Aleyander.
"But in what expressions! that he is of healthy tole=
nranter way of thinking is a characteristic that is found in the RxXabbinen of all religions are rare. That means
But surely the teachers of all Christian religions are right.
Neologism used to insult! And the person doing the insulting is the same.

*

probably also Enlightenment thinkers – also Zionist powers!

N

and Daptangeblie) difnenbe. tel, ay

A scandalous tale. An unbelievable and my

*

—

Every person must refrain from dishonoring their fellow human beings.

honest man for a fee, for a scandalous tale=

hold until it has been thoroughly and sufficiently proven fen is. But with what did the letter writer have fine Meys nung a priori proven? that the proselytizing= rey is really sen. That's why it's possible, is

They don't really yet, so they probably don't.

It is certain, she is not yet certain, not yet in the Certainly, the entire scope was as he described it to us.
With this he has his entire claim a posteriori be-meadows? What is everything that the author... adds: 2-5 want the true story of the denying proselytizing, the four priori no Humans can and will deny, unlike une ES . 7 diefe ER muss

man

5 gm the additions. to the first band G. ER the e Wiko las to have the 7th volume of fine travel printed, 100s
5 us also through a so-called fact! by Herri Gar;
To dissuade vens from his opinion. But is that from the Al
tonaer Reichs Posttreuter angegebene Wiener Geschickichte true; so it is only proof of the frauds whose
8. A monk is capable, but this is not proof of anything. Per selytemmacheren Father Pitoßi didn't want to ronvertire, but – only fraudulent “that ver ge > er to

U:

Ka |

cken lassen, mit einer 7 Seele groß zu thun.
* It is therefore impossible to foresee how this news will play out anyway.
a newspaper article, which could serve that purpose, Mr. Garve,
and others who believe that the Catholic Church
Even the making of prose is indifferent, attentive
to make such statements. Moreover, Mr.
Garve and others never claimed that the Catholics making proselyts is indifferent: they believe nus
out of

N 221 Secret Proselyienmacherty, i

One can give credit to a writer who, in his
the dear, highly praised self is so in love that he can say: I don't admit that someone
1. To practice truth and goodness
eri „ ö ee ee ae „ ee;
The author goes on to say that among the many wrinkled judgments that he about the Janner piece Listen, even if this had been the case, that one could through the Making such stories known to Catholics

Causing displeasure by disagreeing with us, and the like ). Are the stories true and proven, so Catholics may still believe.

be displeased that they were made public
become: kept rationally thinking and refined religion=
a loving protestant becomes, in order to alleviate the displeasure=
For the sake of the Catholics, their announcement Finns are being criticized. Not even a Catholic who is cheap.
thinks, will be, if he immediately becomes aware of such tricks
one fellow believer blushes, it is the Protestant=
They resent that one makes them familiar. But
The Janner piece contains the most shameful school= Insults against Catholics, accusations that unproven, untrue anecdote=
sen, who is a raving anecdote hunter from fine ges
a sewn envelope reaches out, and into the audience
nut scattered, which one also, until they are completely be= been realized, for a malicious Pasquill hal=
ten must, yes, anecdotes to which one can turn it = | 1

i 1

For good reason, it is not so frequent and eager now, than previously operated, and no more dangerous than in | previous times fep» n
) ©: 110. fe
79 Page 126. Ze

U

*
%

5

“

and allegedly serving Minel. 2

already stands, that sis her author cannot even be proven:

could, because he had the evidence of what was in Germany should have happened, the readers in Hol= land, yes, even at the North Pole, is left to search.

What can a Catholic do if his rights are denied otherwise?

legion, he may still think so mildly, still some measured value, and he is not yet indifferent to it,

that his fellow believers as a treacherous, home=
a twitchy, malicious mob is being insulted, which Can he be anything other than displeased? And finds Such chatter was met with applause from the Protestants; who...
the authors of it in the newspapers, as before=
excellent, meritorious, upright men praeto=
. aifirt, to whom Protestantism is extremely much too much
I owe it; is then misjudgment of the Catholics?
Too much ken? – The author may well be right:
ben, when he says in the note that, since the Catholic= like proselytizing for their reasons=
consider them deserved, give them the school=
The fact that they want to make proselytes, no
(can cause displeasure), although the desire to make proselytes among them in our times
It is nowhere near as large as it used to be. Also if you secretly want to become proselytes, and If these secret machinations are discovered, they can
,nen fie mit Recht nicht über. uns mäusvergġgt feyn.

But if these secret machinations are not he= showed, and without any proof of a Anonymous, whose identity is unknown.

man of rank and standing, or a traveler=
the journeyman, a man of honor, or a dishonorable, malicious anecdote hunter is, who hates=

the most vulgar vine is blamed; is there her

= Y 3 Miss=

Page 126. Note: 5 * eo

" 430 " Sehehfie Profelpfenmachereh, N

Too much discontent? – People are concerned, they say.

the author, that such stories the Catholics
If they liked something that would disagree with us, one asked for more.

It's enough that one should have remained silent.
Quite right! Could one ask for something less?
than this, that one should rather remain silent than be unexplained=
his things, especially if they are shameful, into the
To spread the world as truth? Can one speak of such unproven malicious accusations, which not only the postman, but the monthly magazine= ssteller ũhaupt den Katholischen gemacht, was Ge= wrestlers expect more than their age, so many pros

ti. sstanten vormals fo nachtheilig gewesener, jetzt fchon

gradually transformed hatred into Christian tolerance awaken anew? And if even this does not happen...
It happens, so one certainly did not ask our new Zion's guardians and their followers, but the

to attribute cheaper and more moderate ways of thinking

ben, which is now beginning among the Catholics, and the
to now make the shameful accusation against us Fonnen, that they practiced tolerance, from us
but is only recited from it. – The .
which one therefore because of the cancellations in January g
äußert batte, lagen in der Natur der Sache gabst,
and for the well-known and true reason=
The statement that insults don't make friends, and
the postman, mail carrier, or music teacher=
I hope this is another new anonymous person.
should be, may those who have this concern

have indicated, not in advance
also to try to make someone suspicious, and in the sign=
To sound like a prophet or interpreter: Consider the Protect our safety! –

) Page 126 and the same in the note.

“

| of

5 2

4

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 231
Is the author of this message still wondering?

writing that he didn't hear the prote=

The traditional church is in danger if such a thing occurs.
History is true. No one who thinks rann, and so much Einfichten hat, unserer and the fa:
Tholian church present situation with the former=
Anyone who compares them will be surprised by this. Un=
Those who acted contrary to expectations have all been arguing.
the author does not share about the greatness of our church=
The imminent danger was shouted, the whole process=
ben for what Mr. 1- y thinks,
namely for colorful absurdity, unproven narrative= lungs, scandalous tales, and a ferment of Lies. But even if the whole pretense were true;
What a great danger that would pose in our times!
to procure, since no lesser machinations are taking place in vos
Nothing accomplished in the last centuries? – Yes, that We will all become Catholic! Oh horror! Oh, Entse!
Tsk! Oh, burglary, murder, fire, and necessity!
If only the disguised Deistans wouldn't lead us to their...
Pure deism, reason: and the religion of the All-Father
Turn back! before the disguised Kakholiian emirates
We will also, without the noisy outcry of our unappointed guards who so often acted suspiciously=
They have power, but they know how to take care.
The author further notes that it had struck him=
that Mr. T -v the Catholic Church there= by defending the fact that the Jesuits did not
the true original concepts of their church spread the word, and says: That is very special=
bar. Are these perhaps the true originals?
chen concepts of the Catholic Church for us Pro= test subjects more agreeable than what the Jesuits Teach? God protect from both kinds!
4 De

1) Page 126. 127.

1
5 j * | |
23a Secret Proselytizing,

Mr. Ty certainly did not ask for such a price here.
pressed when he had it against such writers
must do, those who have the slightest appearance of resistance
To catch a saying, and also to confuse the most planned thing know how to turn. But defense of the Roman Surely the Church is not contained in the words, when he says that the Jesuits are spreading their poison under the

The mask of their so-called religion, but not the true original concepts of their church= (to prepare, sought). If two things next to are presented to each other, one of which is auf=

first despicable, and the other unapproachable namely, it is; I am certainly therefore with the defender of the unappealable, because I cannot also do this= immediately utterly despicable. No one thinking Protestants who appreciate the value of fine religions Gion knows, and is attached to it with warm hearts,
and such a man seems to me to be unknown=
Mr. I -y according to his entire essay,
The Farholic religion will be acceptable; but if he does this wholeheartedly and with conviction= rejects the gung, will simultaneously be accompanied by a secure em= sensation fine whole nature against that in the writing=
to challenge the principles spread by the Jesuits.
But is this a defense of Catholicism?
That is all that is in this lengthy essay
the supposedly secret Vroselyt-making at all as regards, which I will discuss later in the specific individual sections.
I will examine the matter in more detail. One
I should also mention that this might attract some attention.
worth is, and this is that the author has a
to have used Jews as henchmen in this endeavor
It seems. This is not only evident from the fact that he
| | en

"Page 327, 308."

-

"

and = allegedly serving this purpose. 233
Mr. T.-y in a Jewish way mm the bebrär= fchen insult names Im ve; which a Cen=

tralmann, but also a false fraudulent one (Man can bite, documented); but also date

from the fact that he "not Aphar Bethulah,
but Aphar Besolah, entirely in the Jewish Dias left, speaks). How much effort is put into it Fe gentlemen give, the Protestant church and the
to throw all of Christianity into turmoil, so that they Should Jews be brought to the Jews to lend them helpful hands?
service, albeit only with Hebrew insults=
words and translations, to provide 1

| In December 178, I raised up Mr. Beast
once again in his own person at a fine watch, encounters into the Lerm trombone, and delivers it to us in one at the letters addressed to Professor Garve sentence in which he once again spoke about the secret prophylaxis makers, and the terrible dangers,
who threatened the protesters from the Catholic side=
Ben explained. Mr. Garve, in fact, placed himself in this Piece of the monthly journal, the answer to his previous letter, a second one to Mr. Biester contrary to which the inscription reads: On the Des concerns of the protesters in view of the Spread of Catholicism. Mr. Garve
This will allow me a small correction. Egg=
It should actually read: Sen. Biesters, Nikolais
and their followers' alleged concerns= nisse; for however much entry these gentlemen may have with always accompanied by their pitiful, noisy cries.
taken, partisan, weak, before quickly
judging and such readers who understand the matter=

7 ö P 5 | lich

*) Page 110. |

% Page 138.

234 Secret Profelpfenmachetey, 0

to judge properly, not at all able to find, ges
have found; there are still plenty Protesters who are too insightful to be...
They could have been infected with this Gordon disease.
will be. So, Mr. Beasts, Nikolai and theirs=
The followers' concerns, not concerns of the rotesten. Mr. [Name] now refutes this essay.
not only in a separate letter; but He also accompanies Garvef's letter itself, which in the monthly publication"), with its an=
remarks. ee 3 |
I disregard all the reasons as unnecessary.
to mention with which Mr. Garve the interventions=
The arguments of Mr. Beasts were refuted, since I already these objections in the preceding exactly examined enough, and all their wretchedness, like

I hope I've shown that clearly enough. I want to be there=
I will only mention here what is even more important.
of so-called secret proselytizing= comes, and with which Mr. Beast's being and his Supporters further support this claim.
will follow. And here comes Prof. Garve “*)
firstly, the Protestant princes of great things attributed to the Berlin monthly writers Inclination towards Catholicism. What this would be= Several writers here say that it is difficult to find facts.
to believe that an inner improbability exists
ben, if one neither the circumstances, nor the Ge= soothsayers know of it; that incomplete revenge;
directing in this piece is of no use, etc.
s. w. is very well-founded. But Mr. [name] clears up too much.
GSårve fine opponent in, when he says: I he
| en=

4) December 1785: Page 488.

) Page 511.

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 237

I know my mistake, it wasn't thought through enough.
from me, that I asked you to do everything you
of the stories of the conversions of the princes
to know, to say. Mr. Garve has said nothing about this.
not missing, but Mr. Beaster still has to now,
if he is an honest man, and not in the Au=
that Germany is a malicious slanderer=
who wants to be a Protestant prince, to say everything,
what he claims to know about this; and that applies also from the letter writer in the January play. Is
This is already necessary for private individuals so that They do not arouse suspicion among their fellow citizens. (made by who)
the, and come to a point where they and their

To save an honest name from the world; that is it.

even more necessary for princes, both for them,
as for the subjects. They are thus Suspicion is insulted, and thereby not only suspicion produced in princely families, but they also made his subjects suspect. The under= Abhan, who reads such news, then asks himself:
Shouldn't your master perhaps also be one of such?
belong to the most innocent? He will become a spy for the most innocent.

Actions of his prince; soon finds where nothing is what he fears; his trust, his love
...falling towards the regent, and he also feels still unhappy because he was with such dull ges ruchten is unable to think of means,
thereby protecting his religion against the potential danger could put them in safety, which they received from the rulers who should be favorable to Catholicism
who wants to threaten. These are the excellent fruits.
from the seed sown by the monthly writers=
have scattered. We are finding evidence of this now, as I I am writing this, a convincing example. Already
For some time now, people have been carrying around dull smells.
. a ten

>> 1

236 Secret proselytizing,
ten around, that a princess of the high fire
that the Burg family was secretly Catholic, and that they
I will one day publicly admit it. Even in Newspapers, this shameful news was published= spreads. What do the common people believe is easier and more readily, as bad news, murder stories and ghosts= fairy tales? And how much rabble isn't in the World! Now the 1 searched, and looked into, and through all the links=
de. des erbabnen Brandenburgischen Hauses gerathen, who may be the crypto-Catholic princess= te? It develops ih. Lavater, who with the ex= efuiten Sailer, as Herr Nikolai accuses him, dangerously connected, and this famous one=
the traveler, the learned Berlin bookseller,
Mr. Nikolai and the Berlin monthly writers,
as a crypto-Catholic and henchman of the Je= have described suites, (a description which, however (already refuted as a lie and column)
That is it, one must follow its trail; and there
It turns out that Cavater is of the excellent Princes of Anhalt-Dessau, and of fine Ger
mahlin, a princess of the House of Brandenburg, is valued. It is none other than this latter one.
So. This excellent one, which everyone would appreciate,
still worth virtue and religion, esteemed foreland Kin is also. She is from the alleged Jesus.
ten= Lavater's henchman seduces. Like a snow=

Rumors are now growing about what the famous traveling booksellers and the Berlin monthly magazine=

steller through their hamiche Märchen von der Nei=
gung protestant princes to Catholicism=
mus, and from Lavatern, as alleged hand= Tangern of the Jesuits, the first occasion given batten, and the princess looks into the ä |
5 a | . ige

and that allegedly serving means. 357

digitally set, this shameful måhochen: publicly in the Newspapers for lies, and themselves as a loyal follower=

to explain in the Protestant doctrine). – Part of the public, whether writers, who are to felt

2 shame=

A * The information on this in the Frankfurt State Ristretto of 1787.
Iten Stück, Monday of the same date, Jamnar, under the article,

–

* Dessau, news received on December 27th, which served

The disgrace spread over the Her Serene Highness Princess of Dessau=

d mährden den. Berliner Zionswächtern ausp.Öcklich bey=

d. "measures, is the following: The worries and dreams of the new Jione powers in Berlin, from the progress of Catholicism in Protestant countries
now so far that for several months now one has been able to travel from Ber=

>

Written in all regions of Germany hats the Princess of Dessau, (a born princess= fin of Brandenburg, which with whole serzen and as through the powers of their souls, the reformed religion

ren). fey under Lavater's leadership in Zurich to the Catholic University=

"5

Yfchen religion converted / and now stand in Be .

grabbed / to enter a monastery. Various eur
German newspapers: have abandoned this delusion after their [unclear]
"Wealth spread. The Princess of Dessau was a few months ago in the bath to Embs and not in Zurich, and we find ourselves entitled, at the request of these

. high person, and in her own words, it aut and to say publicly: that there is nothing more foolish than this lie, now repeated throughout Germany, knows=
she; for if she had been weak enough, another to accept religious as the one in which they were born=

is raised and educated; so little they are not so low

5th *

1

and wrong, to keep a larva in reserve, and thus. ei=
"to attend a divine service / that is not the Gates=
"The service of their Jerzen would be. – What now after this Declaration, German audience, your new guardians of Zion

unlike a gang of prince-slayers and honor-robbers, for whom nothing is too high and hellish to be visited= deln, and so worth whipping with rods, and, after age

238 Secret Piosely Makers y,

4 shameful defamations of your princes scatter seeds, and through such vexl  um= necessary to justify their orthodoxy, better than Spanish inquisitors J. Pfui det Shame! Is it too much to demand that they do everything?

say what they know about the alleged inclination of our Protestant princes know about Catholicism,
so that the poor, frightened subject might be freed from his fear
will be torn apart, and to face truly worrying impairments can be secured, but also un=

guilty princes not vilified, and through silence
Rather, rumors should be used to make people suspicious,
such malicious slanderers and prophets of doom,
the reward of false prophets, the prison,
or the madhouse, may they preserve -
It is probably foreseeable that the Ber=

liner monthly writers who oppose others allow the most eberenr  brig  sten outbursts, but against themselves with Care and consideration are to be used in the following proceedings:

I took that comment very badly, and felt very bad about me.

just as they will complain about Mr. I-y. But Until now, you princes of Germany, your personal details were... too holy, and too venerable for the courage=

wille f  hner journalististen sich ans errauben
They were allowed to. The precepts of the Gospel still applied.
Ums: Fear God and honor the King!

But since it started in our times, passport

Lill and publicity, and candor. and cheekiness.
To confuse them with each other is also your honor.
not secure anymore. The first careless Serib=

Aer, the first traveling anecdote hunter sullies you = 1 2 a = , he after old Roman style with the letter K. on the forehead
ATEichnet, relegated to the breeding and work house?
2 become 8 0 : 7 For 8

no

and: dagw. angekliih serving means. 222

Bäch: Arbitrariness, and make yourselves at the mercy of the world and your Suspect of his own subjects. And where is the Servant of a prince, who bestowed grace and verse Krauen possesses a fine ruler, but unfortunately the displeasure of a malicious journalist against oneself prayed, whose happiness was not undermined by such people dig, and he who is not his prince and all his son
could be made suspicious of fellow citizens? –
After only one Berlin monthly writer, from the opinion of Protestant feet –
ten in Germany to Catholicism, the tone to Once it was given, others soon followed who had the same idea.
slandorous and princely slanderous song to them

(with special side glances). So jj 8

9) The news was also spread through public newspapers.
wyperbreitet, the hereditary prince of Anhalt-Dessau would be through : Cavatern be confirmed. For the : Pablifum this is otherwise a very indifferent circumstance, by which
1. Clergy of the named religion, a confirmation.
"will be judged. Solely through Lavatern, who through the Era."
1. " .Jesuiten Sailer gefeffelt, und wo nicht felbft ein heimli=
"A dear Catholic, but certainly a promoter of Catholicism"
mms s0eyn s0ot, durch den auch bloß die Fürstin Mut=
The animal was already supposed to have been converted to Catholicism; that was probably 2 certainly not an indifferent circumstance. Every reader feels,
e was the spreader of this message actually has insinui=
"want to." But now he too has been made into a liar, as is well known, that Princely Conformation Act took place on the 2nd.
April of this year, by the worthy Mr. Superin=
tendenten de Martes in. Dessau was actually carried out.
2. They even had the audacity to claim that a religious ons, change of the King of Sweden, in newspaper= to speak publicly in journals and other publications. But also that "MM on higher ground, for what it is, namely for a further one due to complete ignorance of the Swedish
State constitution itself from signifying punishable Kalumnia
| in

0

% Rogues Profelztenmachevey /

It says in the political journal: the intention of the obs =
I still need to report the message from the religious association.
add j . one the 2 D. g €

71
1
*

explained in official publications. – Whoever bātīe
but they should probably think that the audacity even extends to the Family of the fine Christian and ruler, duties equal

who might dare to be loyal to the Prussian monarch!
But it happened. Everyone knows that wretched smell.

te of the religious change of one of the Royal Princes=
tien, um Coadjutor zn Maym werben können, das: aut

It was repeated in the public newspapers, and even more so.

the circumstances that wanted to be cut down, when

when a Royal Envoy has been 'sent away' to

= with this intention at the election in Magdeburg presently to be. But everyone also knows how emphatic and with what dignity to oppose this blasphemous pretense=

It has been spoken. The next authors or distributors to find out more about these shameful carrots in particular=
To do so would, of course, be a futile endeavor.
But that the Berlin Triumvirate of the Zion Guards

to this the first certain arrangement given, that may
No one could possibly doubt it anymore. For Lord

Fatty and brutish had in the monthly magazine the Pu=
blikum was led to believe that Catholicism was derma=
len bey unfern deutſchen Fürſten Eingang finde, und Hr.
vrikolat had in fine travels, ster volume p. 274. the

The world has become known for the fact that through the still many to offer locations with existing political advantages, many Protestant princes through all sorts of sneaky ways was made increasingly inclined towards Catholicism. And This colorful absurdity was requested by everyone, by a clever

Sarve, on the other hand, made insightful and testified to it= Despite the objections, with the most strenuous

Persistence is claimed. Was it any wonder, then, that on the main » lie and better lies was built, den! and must they not these at least as untwo= felte Veranlaffer mit auf ide Rechnung beten , Ob fie

because

—

5

0

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 241

Gießen is mentioned as a participant in this. Also a reigning king and another prince who re=

who will become a greedy master, the project should to be fond of someone.” – As far as I'm concerned, that is indeed

the society into which this writer placed me brings someone who doesn't even know where I live, or it not knowing, affected, very rude; with a kô=

nige and princes, who will become the ruling lord;
Although too refined for me. But regardless of this

To this distinguished society I will explain this anecdote=

being farther away than I am. – But what can one do with that?
A project for the unification of religions? It is according to the dote for a join, so crude, as just one from the Air can be grasped. No human can after fine convictions and theological way of thinking

from the religious association: Chimera further revealed=

Jannerstück 1785. of the Berlin Monthly Journal
a project of the Roman émigrés, and the= attach the same, so either find such secret ones
Proselyte makers themselves, or people of such persecution

Deceived, those who secretly adhere to Catholicism?
Gen. Who is the reigning king, and the Prince, who will become the ruling lord,

which is so dangerous to this pure evangelical doctrine=
chen, and actually from Roman emisaries touching religious association project devoted to
to be: and thus made suspect will be. Let the anonymous person say so, if they are honest.
Dear man; tell me how I came to be with
to be paired with these great people,
j | a: and
for now also with Bellert's opponent
They will exclaim: blue was the pike!!!
D political journal. Year 1786. Volume One.
p. 90, 91. in the N „ i

. =
N
U

2432 Secret Proselptenmacherey=

and prove his claim. His name is [he/she] and Being supposed to be is not a sufficient excuse for him.
Would that be enough, what kind of heinous crimes
could princes and private individuals enter the

The audience will be scattered if that is the reason.

ftreuer derfelben fchon fchützt, dass er nur ges~~agt~~=
man genannt ıc. oder der fall ein fulcher feyn, fall

to have done this or that. – Shouldn't one demand that the alleged friends of publicity

Say everything, and no more half-truths= scatter? They may name the persons and were those who are prosecuted, and their statements
have proven, admired, and because of their Frey=

Courage is praised, but also when it is seen as a lie.

Slanderers, defamers and dishonorers caught, after
You will be fined.

But back to Mr. Garve's letters. Mr.
Beast had in Julius Stück, where he fine one claims were brought against Mr. Garve, instead that he and his followers made claims of the secret proselytizing and the against=

true inclination of our protestants=

The princes should have proven their adherence to Catholicism.
len, resorting to possibilities,

*

and that concludes, Mr. Garve should be informed about this.

Don't be surprised, he's speaking to him as a Phi= philosophers who love to be in the realm of possibility= ten remain, and it is so safe in this kingdom).
Mr. Garve finds this cheap; because this
The whole pathetic makeshift arrangement is harassment, and Mr. Gar= ve says: The philosopher who lives in the realm of the Mög= The fact that one so gladly remains is a real one.

World useless man; and if he 7 |
Ze MM

Y Julius. Page 26. 5

.

"j = and means allegedly used for this purpose, 243

something to do with fine security in that realm
If he does good things, he is a contemptible pedant.
Mr. Biester now makes a comment on this in to his taste. He doesn't want to look at me.
the Lefer appear as a man, Mr. Gar= ven as a suspicious pedant had dars

want to ask. Will anyone believe him, him?

who had accused Mr. Garve of he doesn't know the situation of things, doesn't know=
No, what's going on around us? Believe it or not, it's true.
him, believe what he says on page 514: I would have
It didn't occur to me that someone would have the last Words can be interpreted in a way other than referring to myself;
It is believed that he sees himself as a contemptible person.
Pedants, who focus on fine security in the realm
to do something good, babe, indicate want. Mr. Garve is wrong to say that he is so em= Being sensitive, he should have considered that Mr. Bie
one of the humble authors the Monthly journal is, and in fine intellectual poverty

and humility from no one other than oneself can talk. But how does Mr. Biester explain the
What is the situation? As the skilled master, how We already know him. Mr. Beaster says, Mr. TA

phätte the tricks of the Catholics and Jesuits

Protestant princes had a tendency towards Catholicism.
to teach licism, to deny it. – That
Mr. T-y did not know him, if from past Things were being discussed, and Mr. 1 y does so as well.
no, (see page 328, April) he is only denying what from the postman in January looking forward to
of the present, just as unthoughtful as un=
It was written into the world that the N QQ 2 Werk
D Monatsschrift, December 1775, page 313.

ccc ee A tere m
u»

244 Secret proselytizing,
The work of darkness had progressed so far that...

It is said that in Protestant countries=

who spread extraordinarily, princes and men=
of all kinds of classes, even Protestant presidents
I have infected myself, and I still infect others daily.
Mr. Biester then goes on to say that he had a complaint against Mr.
T-y, called nine German princely houses, near
who had succeeded in these tricks; but Mr.
Garve, however, objected that Mr. Biester Old examples combined with new ones, and This is proof that none of the latter

a sufficient number are available. And now

Behold, audience, how this smooth writing steller knows how to bend and snuggle, in order to to escape a fine opponent, and to offer the reader a
To feign confusion. What's in the Garve?
Schengen Against: Is the task the main thing? Who only kefen can, which Mr. Garve page 28. 29. (July)

who has written (us), will have to say that it
the juxtaposition of old examples with new ones

is. Mr. Beaster wanted the letter writer of Jan= defend nerftücks, and show that there is still ge= Roman Emiserias their craft driven, and our German Protestant For observe the senst inclination towards Catholicism. Well, he proved it, and Mr. Garve not only that, but any even slightly shy reader expects better wise from our feits, proofs of the effective lichen present existence of the alleged Emissaries, proof that this and this prince,

be inclined towards Catholicism. Of all this Mr. Beast proves nothing to him, absolutely nothing. That= against he leads us to the fact that the deceased land= count

) April. Page 328.

a

* –
4

–

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 245

Count of Hesse=Cassel, the Duke of Württemberg= RR

Berg, the Duke of Fiweybrücken, and Prince

Zen from the Solstein group became Catholic;

lots of stories that took place some twenty, three years ago

This happened over several years, where the

Those times were very different from ours, and which therefore already has nothing to do with the present new situation=

gung of our Protestant princes to Catholicism= cism, and for the present work of the Roman emissaries prove it. These are his pre= allegedly new examples that Mr. Garve had given him allows it to pass leniently enough. But as if this as if that weren't enough, to show us its absurdity To convince him, his evil genius still seduces him.

to the fact that he told old stories that dated back eighty years, yes before twenty-fourty-four, and one hundred and sixty

Years ago, it happened, emerging from the dust.

enough, and with these old rotten rags fine new hypothesis embellished. This suffixes Mr. Garve is reprimanded, and not only Ta deserves it= del, but derisive laughter and booing. This Jufaumenžen stâlden old Beyšpies mit neuen, die=

Fe evidence for the current tendency towards Ka=

Theology with old long ago 1 on. unfte Times not applicable at all fell," from this citing of old examples he draws Mr. Garve reached the correct conclusion, which still needs to be said.

Uinde is that Mr. Beast has new examples= A sufficient number were lacking. –

What does our skilled writer do now? He
It completely ignores the main point and directs

from the same fine reader by focusing on the Ne=

benfache, auf die Folge fñbrt, die Hr. Garve aus
the incorrect juxtaposition of old examples with 8 Ä Q 3 | new=

1

playing games, is the Building matter, and from this crooked coming together=

} U

—

246 Secret proselytizing,

had drawn a new one, that it was Mr. Beast on a=

a sufficient number of new pieces of evidence for the current inclination of the Protestant Fury

Sten to Catholicism, must be missing, because he that,

what should happen now, with examples to seek to solidify from past times. At his incorrect procedure, that he, where of against=

When we're talking about real things, fine evidence from past and partly very old times=

he takes, which is the main thing, he thinks.
Not at all, but he says: I must confess that I didn't know how many examples were needed.

must be in order to be sufficient. Precisely as was that what Mr. Garve was asking, that Mr.
Beasts not ten or twelve, but only nine Examples were given, and as if it weren't rather
Mr. Beaster's miserable enumeration of old examples for things that are currently happening
Should. Can one imagine something crooked, and a think of greater sophistry and sophistry than Diefes ist? And finally, Mr. Beast hatches again.

into the realm of possibilities, excuse this= with the fact that Mr. Garve is a philosopher who likes "Stay within the realm of possibilities," says Mr. Barve.

I now admit myself that these possibilities may

It seems as if Mr. Garve ever thought about it.
would have doubted that possibilities were possible, and
as if he simply didn't, like any sensible person would.
must, would find incorrect, that Mr. Beaster instead of to prove that the letter writer's statement in January=
nerftück von Profelytenmacherey und Hang der Pro=
founded by the Protestant princes to Catholicism and really be, to prove that she likes= lich sey. Who is the reader of insight and purpose?
feel, to whom not such wretched makeshifts and cunning=

| 26 = gen

JE. ,

\

| and allegedly the means to that end. 247
to attract attention to intrigues, and to consider them a disgrace to us= |

Were they despised with reluctance and disgust at other times?
I now come to the main point, namely, Mr. Beast's reply to the Letter from Professor Garve. Right in the f

At the beginning of the same he says: that Hert Garve in ei?

a few points that concern him as minor matters

appear, so detailed be; in some other repeating itself without regard for what counter-arguments have been raised; others have expressed concerns.

careful not to add too much or too little.

say, so many regulations and restrictions

N

to add that he makes fine claims of his own such as=

who takes it back. Assuming this were all correct,

So here Mr. Beaster is accusing Professor Garve
Things he's already done to himself far too often.
Let debts accumulate, and only the difference Is it among them both that Mr. Garve always bona fide goes to work, and Mr. Beast dage-deliberately repeats what has already been said, in order to

to overwhelm the reader with his shouting, intention=

lich avoids the main issues, where they put him in his place= to present a complete emptiness and to expose him as untrue= would convince them of the offer, and against it, at Ne=

benfache, which he gathers up, and then according to his way

adorns, holds up, and thus presents to the public=

He twitches. He goes on to say that Mr. Garve wants to in the= more facts, even confirmed facts, and the

to have no inherent improbability,

Refute by reasoning. Mr. Bie=

sters 9 in previous and this century katho=

Mr. Garve did not make him a prince.

want to sunbathe away. Are these the confirmed ones?

Facta; so Mr. Beast accuses his opponent=

That is very wrong. But are the legends of his

24 wan=

$x = N$

A

FP

248 Secret Rim Makers,

wandering anecdote hunters, he would also be a still such a famous traveler, of whom in the Reich, in Swabia and the Emissa running along the Rhine=
rien, from the Ka= that is widespread in these areas
tholicism of the worst kind, of the inclination Protestant princes and men of all kinds of stans
of Catholicism, from which the Jesuits affi=
liirt feyn follenden protestantischen Gottesgelehrten,
from the deacon etc. w. the confirmed facts,
whom Mr. Garve seeks to refute; thus Mr. Garve speaks.
Biefter is very untrue. Because of all these

In fact, he and his letter-giver didn't have a single he= meadow and confirmed, it must be that for a Confirmation that Mr. Beast also says that these legends are true: they are,
to talk to Mr. T-y, a scandalous tale
and a ferment of lies. Finally, Mr.
Beast accused Mr. Garve of saying that he
I have neither the courage nor the patience to all go to this
to make the matter known with the appropriate evidence.
Even the most patient reader must eventually run out of patience.
to provide evidence that is nowhere to be found.
will be encountered. But I refer here to my Readers on Mr. Garve's excellent letter itself, to combine it with the Beast's refutation=
to keep men; and surely everyone will be surprised, that Mr. Garve could stoop so low,
To engage with opponents of that kind. It is far.
came when men with boys, philosophers
They have to argue with sophists!
Mr. Diester shares a fine answer in certain Sections, of which the first one is again from the entrance= eviction of Protestant churches to Catholic churches=
*) I can

m gan=
) Page 331 ff. N

*

and supposedly useful means. 24

I handed over the entire section, as I have everything that the
As far as the matter is concerned, just enough in passing=

whom I examined: also Mr. Beast here nothing

Meues, nothing better says, that still some Un=
It would be worthy of investigation. However, it is striking that or to talk to the monthly writers, hopefully It's concerning that Mr. Beastie is drinking all that beer.
Silence, pray over, what Father Schoren=
stone in the bishopric portfolio
had set; since this was by no means unimportant to him could be, and certainly could not have been
if. – I can just as easily do the second paragraph.
cut over, which is from the ruffs of the Catholic Church is involved *): because I have in admitted to the foregoing that the katho=

The Jewish Church has not yet accepted a single one of its teachings.
has withdrawn, although individual individuals
even so numerous are those who, with regard to the same to think completely differently. She did just that in this piece.
so treated as the two Protestant churches, which also do not include a single one of their symbolic
The teachings contained in the books have been withdrawn.
even if there are many individual protesters
In view of some of these teachings, quite different.
think. I have admitted that the Roman court not abandoning the principles even now, which he used to have. But I also have at the same time clearly demonstrated that we will continue with these:
ongoing venerations of the Catholic Church, and
be with this still ongoing principle=
zen of the Pope and Roman court, in our Times in no greater danger are found than in wel=
dear our ancestors a hundred and more years ago
A5 Year-

) Page 339 fl. ki

8

.

%% Secret proseptery,

Jabren gewefeh, that these dangers rather after

our literary, religious and political situation,
and the current even situation of the Farhor
The church, currently far less than before times are, that if the Pope and his court also

Now he would have the fine old lust for power that he always had,
still just as zealous as before, the Protestants /
ten sought to subjugate, this in their position would be just as ridiculous a project as if the Dutch in their current form the emperors

ser and dethrone the King of Prussia,
and wanted to rob them of their states. The whole

Declamation of the principles of Catholicism

I can therefore disregard religious beliefs. But can

I cannot help but mention some of it, and only to be accompanied by the briefest possible comments.

Mr. Beast says), he 0

348. Facts brought to the spirit of the Roman to show the courtyard, and to draw attention to how how monstrous, how harsh and intolerant this church has proven itself in its rule so far. –

Mind you, I admit that the Catholic Church=
who consider themselves the only saving one and us heretics calls that this church is Eden, just like the Greeks=
fche makes, and all heretics on Green Thursday=
ge in den Ban thut; ich gibt die Serrfschfucht,
ie

abe in April page

The harshness and intolerance of this church as

The church is closed. But Mr. Beast says that they...

which I have proven so far. With what did he ask Is this true? Read, dear reader, everything that he wrote about it in the April play from page 348 onwards=
ben; and with so many Latin rags he be Piece trimmed, so it's just a 3
5 | | nn

5) Page 335,

–

=

A,
N

*

—

and allegedly used means for this purpose! ayr
For fine proof that the Roman Church still

The reason for proceeding in this way so far is derived from the conclusions of the [docum

Isten century held at the Trident. Councils, from the one made by various Catholic princes thrown bull n Coena Domini, from Leo X.
Prohibitions against Luther's writings, and in general consistently taken from olden times. None
The only proof is from the time when the emperor and other Fatholic princes, the tolerance one leads: have; and yet Mr. Beaster speaks of now.

Can intentional deception cause trouble and harm?

:tangible sense? But why, if he only has one
He also points out that, being German-minded and impartial, he does not also mention
how the emperor and other Catholic states=
ten in our time behaved against the protesters=
have ten? Man certainly betrays no good.
A heart that fishes only for evil. — But Mr.
Beast wants to draw our attention. Oh! the Imagination! Which protester is the Parisian
"Blood Wedding, the Inquisition, and the back and forth
again in Catholic states against Protestants Previously practiced toughness not known, that he this would first have to learn from pr Beasts? But he says: A great many Protestant readers have
I was surprised that the Roman Church ever did anything like that.
Beheaded and done, but especially that even now, when she still claims and does such things.
Mr. Beasters, who were so surprised,
must have been either extremely ignorant,
pder, which is more likely to me, him to Be= have had; and what else can one do but a writer who deals with such things in our times
Things occur, to have the best? But love Heartfelt sympathy, if it's otherwise a true sorrow
ö e ee e N mere) 2

merey and not Versitlung to other intentions if,

which I have already mentioned.

Page 41. Mr. Beast sits down on a fine
a oft-repeated hobbyhorse, namely that the Catholic Church considers itself the only saving faith
No, and claim that every non-Catholic is eternally Damn it. Admittedly, gladly admitted!
The same is true of their religion.
3 and Wuhammedans of the Akatholitic
olerans. But what is it different from church doctrine?
And fine Abbe," whom he cites, that he just so ges thought, and the case he knew from close experience= rung knows that a Catholic woman her Lutheran= sought to convert a man, what do these prove?

both people differently, except that they still have this strict Did they have an opinion from their church? There are arguments against that.
Several examples of people who think more gently!

– But this depends on the level of enlightenment, yes
even to the countries where Catholics
live, and after many incidental changes=
They were very different. – But very ignorant.
Mr. Beast proves himself when he asserts his claim= tung of our theologians in the previous and injured centuries that one in the reformed and ka=
that the Tholic Church could not be saved, the fanatics niche whim of a power-hungry preacher

names someone who would have liked to have been a pope.

I have cited enough of this in the previous proof,
that this claim was made quite generally= that, and can serve him with several more. But when he says that it will probably be difficult to find one who...
known theologians in Prussian states=
who still claims such a thing; that can probably be: but prove this, that our theology
did not have this opinion, and that it =

1

\ i | .

just from the papacy, or wherever else they come from=
I don't want to bother him about that.
to provide us with the genealogy; otherwise he would again an exercitium historico-ecclesiafticum feiner
Art deliver, bey in which one more NB. than Bene?

.

to be placed at the edge. – 8
From Jesuits, see pages 143 and 544=
When that happens, I will act in a special way.

But why that hated, squinting sideways glance again?

On imperial tolerance? If Mr. Beast says: Who sees what is happening in Austria and Bavaria

What's happening? What's happening in Austria? –

Mr. Beaster comments on Steiner's claim that of Jesuits no longer there in the Saar, a long Note in which he commented on the note size=

dear to the new 1785 to all made edition=
be, from Father Abraham of St. Clara Something for everyone complained that the same one was among the = en, God will one day grant certain people the

f wafchen, said I, that is, she to the Res

de s0stellen wie der sr. 7–5 den rn. D. 5.–

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 253.

merely the fanatical whim of a domineering person=
Were they preachers? – Whether this Meyuung

That is, of course, very impolite! But how did it happen?

"misch ist der Schluss von Herr Biesters Anmerk"
kung: In general, so far there have been highly peculiar Men to defend the Jesuits and Pro=
Selytenmacherey has appeared. It's quite something.
It hurts to see that a man like Mr. Garve joined them. Who are these strange people?

Men who defended the Jesuits and Proselytizing has occurred, hasn't it? Isn't that right?

those who were bullied by Catholics and Jesuits will be? Who are they? Name Mr. Beasts if he is honest, one who is the Jesuits and Prosely=
| tens

1 \

i-

374 Secret proselytizing,

Tenmacher defended himself. Yes, the T-Y, who...
hated T-y. – But he gives proselytes= Cherey to, defends her not, and talks of Je= suites, as from such people who spread poison searched. And now Mr. Beaster says that Mr. Garve also to these defenders of the Jesuits and Proselyte-making journeyman. How crooked and evil!
Mr. Beast's soul must be in prison, since he has so to so shamefully defame a worthy man and to make someone suspicious! Where has Mr. Garve ever the Jesuits, and Jesuitism, and the Prosely= Tenmacherey defended? If one claims that the Any influence of the Jesuits can no longer be found.

not as dangerous as in previous times, at least not more dangerous, likewise: the proselytizing
is not currently being pursued with the former zeal driven, at least it doesn't harm us more than formerly: bites the Jesuits, Jesuism and Pro

= defend selyt-making? Which sophisters and sophistry almost without example!! That Mr.

Garve not Hru. Beasts Chimeras, and. fine and his followers, postmen and postmen with unsubstantiated claims by Jesuits
and proselytizing, so he believes it, as he believed it.
Baben will means defending: – audience,
Which popes can you find? Your guardians of Zion! Believe,
What we say, shout like us, or we'll do it.
suspect you; that's the tone they used.
ben)! – Is that publicity, love of truth,
Uprightness? . 5 |
On the occasion of the alleged facts
Mr. Garve had spoken of the Pope's presumptuousness.
a gu
690 Pulfatus rexet E pugnus contufus adoret
Vi paucis offers cm gemibus Inde renerti.

ö

–

as about a message of which one could not even smell = i ur here

and allegedly serving as a means to that end
asked whether it followed from this that the Pope still

now this gentleman is, or whether it is possible that Could he ever become it again? The first one was denied.
Well then, Mr. Beast, and from the other

He admits that perhaps no one knows. But |
He asks, as if there were a third one, what

Don't ask them, and yet it was true

re, as is most true from those facts=

It is likely, namely, that he is this general
wants to become master again, and is very concerned about it

Trying hard! Just look at the one in the April issue from
Mr. Diester from olden times cited that= Things, and ask if anything can be derived from them for the
to conclude from the present time, and let it be said that it could be derived from it.
most likely that the Pope is now all of this=

wants to become a mean Serr again, and very
Is that why you're trying? Isn't it publicly visible?

\

.

the undiscovered truth that the anxious effort=
ben the holy father to occupy himself with it beyond his powers.

is, only some of the contested rights at the eccentric sons of their own in
To obtain Christo, and the terrible Propaganda had no time left, asked, greedy
To cast glances at us heretics? But let him,
The Pope wills it; does it follow from this that he wills it?
will be able to? Vana ef} fine viribus ira! For All that desire, if it lacks the means and resources.

But Mr. Beaster doesn't want to be either of them;
4 10 his fear of danger at least Ver=
position. x

Without it, only a child and a fool can be afraid.

Regarding Mr. Garve's page 528 |

Fact of the current compliance of

At the Roman court, Mr. Beast walks rather quietly,

\

256 Secret Profelpfenmanheren,

|

Bere wisse, was der römische Hof eigentlich nachge=
give and how to change the offensive expressions
I have changed it. This is done by the same man who is fine.
and fine followers of semi-class fairy tales as wants to accept all truths, and it
He takes it badly when someone demands that he
He should say everything! And in the end, he must also...
ses Faetum befudeln by den Flecken jefuiti=
fcher Refervationum mentalium listig. drauf werft=
What can be done with such a writer?
In the third section, Mr. Beaster deals with...

in the seminary in Schwerin, from the imlich katholis schein sollen protestantis s~~o~~antischen
Preachers, about which he formerly spoke on the Pont= Toppidan called. But since I already partly know about this
I have acted, and will partly continue to act.
I'll just ignore it. What I still need to add here...
"I find it shining" is Mr. Biester's statement when he says against Mr. Garve: Who historical facts ablänignet, mit dem ist schwerlich weiter dispu= tiren. But whoever even says: these facts are not proven, since they are indeed, is true.
unfair. He doesn't want something that existirt, eriftiren fall, weil er sich sich wegen feiner Theory imagines the world differently than it actually is=
It is. Instead of this wretchedness here again to refute, since I, like any knowledgeable person, will find, even so often the unprovenness of the fabricated alleged facts, the leaps and awkward turns of phrase, which Mr. Beaster bey's previous arguments allowed,
Having convincingly and accurately demonstrated this, I would like to...
here we merely content ourselves with parodying his words:
Whoever of him and his followers 8

a

\

\

7

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 277
nene Märchen für authentische Wahrarbeit aus=

D [4

With him it is difficult to continue arguing!

But whoever even says: these fairy tales are be=

wiesen, since they are not, instead of the effect=

to prove the nature of his delusions, to show us the Possibility, and where he is responsible for the counter-=

should provide us with real evidence, a couple

7 points back, and where he is from German=

land should talk, sends us to the North Pole,
That is indeed not only unjust, but
a man who shared his criminal activity with the audience He's playing a trick. He wants things that nowhere but in fine imagination, exist, also

They really should exist outside of a refined mind, because he is suffering from his mental illness, or according to his= someone with evil intentions thinks differently than

who they truly are. And indeed, I know that much.
I have also read, from all times and places

no writer who deals with the public like this one=

kum fein Juggling game would have been performed. –
On page 548, Mr. Biester meets Mr. Bars.

ve's general observations, which he did indeed address

correct, but referring to the one in the monthly magazine
not applicable or right in the cases presented
It is applied. What Mr. Garve as a philosopher...
soph on the chimera of the monthly writers rå=
had sunnirt, therefore not quite right in the cases
applied because through the philosophical Råsonne=

Mr. G.'s statement regarding the lack of basis for the claims as presented in the monthly publication. Certainly a

A good way to wriggle out of it. But who's surprised?

not about Mr. Beast's audacity, when he says: he listed them one after the other in April,

that now really individual states and for=

to return to the papacy. Where in all Pe R .

Mel:

–
.

E Pr Secret Droffenmaceren “

He has the world with this tape-like unwobbly
I thought of that? Where is it in the fine whole April piece?
Can one of these be a syllable? + Old stories. of Electoral Saxony, Palatinate, Zweibrücken, Baden: Baden, Heffen=Caffel, Wûrtenberg, Heffen=Rheinfels,

| Princes from the House of Holstein, Württemberg

Oels, ja fogar von König Johann von Schweden, and Prince Johann Georg of Saxony, of
in some cases no bone remains, Ge= layers partly with deliberate falsifications
"Pocked with stones, as I used to be, since it was clean"

The use of the word was that he had spoken of the place, the concerning Jesuite allemand, I have done, shown,

He presented it. And this man can...
It's an incomprehensible audacity to say that he has in April listed in order that jet, we k=
individual states and princes to the Pope=
Return to Thum? Who are these states?
Did he perhaps receive a message from the moon?
ten, that a state has become papal? From

We do not know that our planet is now effective=

lich a state returned to the papacy fey;
Who are the princes? Is the [prince] still alive?
Elector Frederick Augustus of Saxony, or John of Sweden, or John George of Saxony? Of all those he leads, live

only the Dukes of Württemberg: Stuttgart

and oils, and they are not found now, but already before converted to the Roman Catholic Church many years ago.
Or did Mr. Beast tell the scandalous tale of the Princess of Dessau let it be spread throughout the world=
sen, and an excellent princess from the house

He has slandered his monarch; so now he has his

I received an explanation that this legend was a lie. –

I ask every tester whether the recklessness and indifference
ver=

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 253

Could shamefulness be taken even further? Mr. Beasts must have gotten themselves into a rut, either to find an audience of straw heads, to whom he something like that could be foreshadowed, and that is a bad thing. Compliments to every reader of his and his Con= varieties of monthly magazine; or he must expect it. have that one wouldn't look it up. He has But he thought, however he wanted, so he deceived him.

Audience through a deliberate untruth. Mr. Beaster goes on to say that it probably belongs to a other Hildebrandism to add to it, in order to again fo all= To rule cruelly. Certainly quite right. But what Will Mr. B. say this? Is he contradicting himself here? Not with himself? Is he talking about Hildebrandinian? The sentiments of the popes; thus he gives even admit that the popes are no longer so under= Taking like Hildebrand, not as he thought find. Is he talking about Hildebrandinian times? He himself admits that our feits are no longer such are those in which Hildebrand lived, and that what he did was possible. In both In cases, the danger from which he and his followers such a terrible cry raise. — Every one, however changed, drives Mr. Beasts gone, even the milder Hildebrandis= Muse is abhorrent: every hierarchy, it is of Popes, or Jesuits, or gold and roses cruisers, or Lutheran Hunnüssen, or Re= It harms religious unions, or Moravians. the noblest property of men, the free to think about it. I'm happy to admit to him that Popes and Jesuits with their hierarchy, the rights the people were immensely ill, and they were deprived of the had deprived them of freedom of thought; and softer prote= * 2 stant

160 Secret Proselytizers r,

—

rarchie sisten? »I don't know the people; it is

Lawyer, and therefore the legal rule must apply (Taf)

Standn doesn't admit this? But how did they come to this?
Gold and Rosicrucianism before? Which Silence?

Which debranding measures do you want to introduce? Which ones?
Written for and against her: but Mr. Beaster is fen: Quilibet pragfiumitur bonus, donec probetur eontrarium. Mr. Biester, however, declares himself in favor of the the latter; and he should have proven that to us. Is

But it wasn't enough that he was on fine watch=

The tower rises, and shouts "Fire!" into the world!
without showing us where the fire is. Are However, Hildebrandism and hierarchy are much more extensive.
the concepts that represent bold deeds and solid systems
presuppose. Mr. Beaster must know all this.
sen, since he has a familiar spirit at his command.
must, who exposes him to the dangers of all and ever=
of human connections so precisely known

Why does he want to withhold that from us?
He intends to carry out his duties as a guardian honestly! How

Comes Hunnius, Mr. B. likes the Aegidius or Nikolaus meynen, the two of whom uphold the Lutheran teaching concept is close to one's heart

leave them lying there, and thus our new Zion's guardians

They shouldn't be unpleasant people, how do they come?
The reason for being put here? I don't know more.
at least not that they have Hildebrand's disease and a

They would have wanted to establish a hierarchy based on the noblest Human property is harmed. How do they come about?

The Moravians here? They belong to the Evangelical Church.

German Christians, and differ mainly particularly through its special facilities; from the Hils

|

5

|

.

debrandism and one of the noblest property

I find the hierarchy harmful to people

nothing

.

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 261
nothing at Ibnen x), The religious unifiers:

At least we don't know anything about them yet.

which made that pompous accusation possible. Fear= Did Mr. Beaster perhaps say that if their project were to Stande kame, der Freidenkerey und Deifterey ein Could a dam be built in the opposite direction? Oh! So frightening!
It happened very inopportunistly. With the reality of a

The Platonic Republic still has a long way to go. – But Why does he exclude Deists and Free Spirits from his
his high-sounding enumeration of hierarchical horrors
Out? They belonged here, those pigs!
Bernese gentlemen who protect pure deism
take, against which the utmost tolerance is demanded=
gen, but Dominican intolerant towards other religious parties find anyone who does not agree

pulling the storm bell on them, maliciously suspicious

to do, and to deprive him of his bourgeois existence
Bring, search. That is true genius, Hilde.
Brandinus! – But why should I argue against this any longer?
wretched declamation, which is merely declamation, oh=

The least reality is that time and paper are wasted.
Waste? Mr. Viester simply wants the right.

have to attract the audience's attention, and.
that through the publicity of his monthly magazine; and as in the political field Mr. Schlözer in the.
State notices regarding the kidnapping committed in Stralsund rung and the murder of a man that occurred in Bg
The secretary, acting within the bounds of the law, is rightly reprimanded; thus Will he, Mr. Beast and his associates, grant the right to base ben über profelytenmacherey, hierarchical violence,
and the yoke of the papacy as arch-Catholic abominations

to call out loudly, Who will awaken Zion?

. R 3 tern

*) S. Walch's newest adele Th. 3. b. 11 ff.
8 er ©page 32: 951,

,
0

262. Proselytizing,

To refuse entry? The guard must call out: Your \

Dear people, be cheerful and awake! – But

Publicity need not be in pasquill, candor

It doesn't have to degenerate into rudeness. Not blunt, half-baked, unproven rumors and skewed claims=

gen müssen for clear, whole, proven facts=

issued, not through the loud shouting Tu=
Murder and unrest in the city aroused and the Bür=
They are made suspicious of each other. And before= namely, we must be sure that the one who...
who urges us to the guard, not with a danger=
is connected to a conspiracy, which he knows that the citizen is awakened by the noise of the fire, to Löschen hastens, intending to let it into the city. – That That's all I know about this letter from Mr. Bie=
Ber fo weit er im Decemberftuck ftebt, zu fagen |
abe. f

In January 1786, Mr. finally presents us with Beaster concludes his epistle to Professor [name omitted].
Garve before). What he there in the fourth section first by the secret societies and the so-called Gold and Rosicrucians say, about the I'm giving this here because I'll be particularly interested in it later.
I will form alliances. In the first section, it proves itself
Mr. Beaster was described right at the beginning as the agile, skilled one.

supple man, as slippery as an eel, like
We have often found him. Regarding Mr. Gars |
(a correct accusation), that Mr. Biester, Zus lians Heidenthum als die purer Vernunftreli= region, and Christianity, which he intends to eradicate.
want, for the pernicious superstition of=
see/

* Monthly publication, January 1786. Pages 20 ff.
) See December 1725, p. 302, and compared with that, what I was just talking about this very item.

–

\

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 263

"Go," he replies, "nothing more than that he is indeed going."

I had to smile, and that it was almost safer.
would like to see the prince, as the theologian, in the.

Hands falling. Is that a refutation of that just now?

More important than a well-founded rebuke? If
Mr. Beaster, his intellect from a learned man Dpilophen is convicted, and now nothing further.
can; so he smiles, or he evokes the theologian into the

To fall into hands. Which theologian had yet to mention it?

so far because of his brazen defamation of the.
Christianity, which he called a fanatical sect=
has been named, attacked? Mr. Garve is covering for him.

a gross ignorance reveals that he himself is the one who...

which he so highly favored over Christianity |
Julian's paganism was unknown, as it was a=

It was originally Teuplatinism, which

Mr. Beaster himself called nonsensical. Mr. Garve so beats Mr. Beasts with his own fine weapon=
fen. But what does he answer to this, where his

Ignorance and contradictions presented in such an understandable way! 2

Will they be allowed to? Nothing. He thanks God that both, Princes and theologians in our time and we=
at least in the Prussian lands are too enlightened,

to arrive without a hearing, without giving reasons;

and without a single reason for itself
Having had it, he slips happily and goes to something.

other things, namely the conversion of Protestant Princes converted to Catholicism. And beer.
Mr. Beaster is telling another untruth.
culpable, if he attributes to Mr. Garve the position
He considers the transition of the princes to be of no consequence.
Mr. Garve says: The protesters are not safe.

still some big ones to 3). Your over=

4-speed

*) Page 513. 1 | 8

1
8 2
—

266 Secret proselytizing,

The loss therefore remains a loss that is not indifferent.
But he convincingly demonstrates that their conversion
not from the important influences on the whole= ze Land feyn könne, den ihm Hr. Biester bey= measures (). So, another twist on Mr.
Beast's side. What does he now set for Mr. Gar?
Ben actually opposed it? He says the deceased
Landgrave Frederick II of Kassel, 1749. heim:
I became a Catholic: I celebrated to conceal my faith.
a new religion received a dispensation from the Pope=
ten: 1754. fen it became known by chance, and there
The prince has issued the well-known reversals.
posits. — Judge, reader, whether with this entire society
even the slightest bit of what has been proven,
what Mr. Beaster wanted to prove against Mr. Garve= te, namely that the transition of the princes to the castle
tholicism has such important consequences for the whole
Land be, as he claims. With the received Dispensation probably doesn't have to be the most correct one.
to see: for the Landgrave shall receive a dispensation
have not only been used in Lytherian churches for listening= not only the service of God, but even the evening;
to go once. How is that possible? The country;
Graf was previously a member of the Reformed religion. Should He might be a center of all three main parties to be in Germany, a Catholic at heart, from birth and after the outward confession a reform

minter, and by hearing the service of God and Did a Kutheran enjoy the Lord's Supper? Or
Mr. Biester did not know that the house Sessen= Cassel is reformed? But are the Reversa talking?
lien, which the then Crown Prince had to issue,
Not even against Mr. Siefert himself? And with what did he £2 x er.

D Scite sig. 515. 5 Ss u

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 265

he demonstrated that the Hessian subjects, if

A touch of the then Crown Prince's fine transition to the ka= Tholian religion, until the arrival of fine directors=
had hidden its way, not quite as well as the Württemberg's had the necessary reversals Could they be given? Would the well-known Protestants who care for religion
Were the intermediary houses less active? –
What is–so, the whole refutation is different from...
Empty straw? He formerly asked nine princes to... led, and of the new ones he can now only
We need an actual example, and this one says nothing either.
to his advantage, but speaks against it.
Now Mr. Beast (Beast) switches on a long Des Complaint against Mr. Secret Justice and Judge von Symmen, who...
The blame was placed on Berlin monthly writers that fie fich zu Polizey=Lieutenants des allgemeinen
The beliefs of a Residence were raised, and to Actors who only lacked the authority to utos da fe aussotstellen, und dass fie fich Pers peculiarities and indecent expressions of Permitted to princely persons. Anyone who

Sen. v. Zymmen knows, and I also have that Gluck to know this noble man must have considered him a lucky man.
a learned, noble-minded, upright man
to worship, who, even if he has different phis Topophical objects may be thought of differently than one might think according to the peculiar philosophy and religion:

one should think of the new Zionist watchmen, but certainly deserving the high esteem of all people). That

| R777 the=

) Page sr. " n

Since I am going through these sheets to send them to print...

Ken, I receive the message that Mr. von Zymmen

f : ik | am

—

47

4

U

266 secret burners,

This man, therefore, the outbursts of the Berliners where

It's no wonder that writers disliked it.

Who can account for all the deliberate distortions, the

A web of untruths and falsehoods that malicious, fraudulent schemes and sobbisteries,

the malicious slander that the Ber=

liner monthly writer, when they their popular

"Roßinantes, the crypto-Catholicism, and."

namely Mr. Biester was guilty

sen, of which I have so much convincing evidence in al=

I have taught this bow, who can read it?

sen, without being seized by the liveliest resentment =

will be? And this reluctance certainly makes it worse.

Honor to Mr. von Zymmen, and testifies to his goodness.

of his heart and character. However, now

Mr. Biester appeared as an antesi ignanus and complained.

I, that he and his associates are police lieutenants=

nants of the universal faith and dictators

name the cars that want to park there, and be=

calls upon it, that Ramler, Moescher, Kant, Engel, Eberhard, and the then still living
Moses and his employees would be. That's what he hears.
Freely, Germany, to his surprise, and I must marvel at how these men, as though they had been through the storm,

ä in a beech tree Skt m... =

1
He died on the second day of December. He is now over. Mr.
Beasts and his associates' attacks extend far beyond. Who.
To have known him, to have been lucky, must have suffered a fine loss.
I deeply regret it. He was an insightful man of many

. =

len talents, and applied fine great skills

to become truly useful to the world and the state.
He had a noble soul and always strove to do good.
do, and nobody will be able to say: v. Zymmen
He begged me, hugged me, and followed me. And he was a Christian.

*

|

!

t

*

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 267
than that of Mr. Beast and the disguised

Employee is, who devised against the Son himself=
The Chimaera and the windmill they themselves built des 1 so rüftig zu Feldzug.

Mr. Beaster names those men, why also the=

Isn't he? If he's an honest man, then let him call him that.

and this one too: let him call us the Akatholkus=

Tolerans, the Silesian postman in the year

1784, the traveling letter writer in the January play

178 J., the postman in August 1785. and on=

dere die formrmliche pasquille in der Monatsschrift have struck. This pasquillant, which he carefully conceals, and to whom he owes the honorable

Name of a ram, Kant, Eberhard, Ni

Ser and angels move, and not this man ner), which led to pasquils and heresy hunts;

are incapable; the accusation of Mr. v. Hym== men on, and for. These find the names of the police:

lieutenants of the general faith and Dic =

Tatars who wanted to keep cars there, much more:

Too mild. Impartial readers who read the essays

the monthly journal on proselytizing, and ge=

Catholicism and some others of the same

5 Par 2 with ,

D Then the editors of the monthly magazine have acted=

Quite right, if they in April 1787. p. 361 from others

Berlin scholars to ostracize themselves, and to think about it:

stop if they are interrupted by a not very proper abduction= viatur blos die Berliner genannt werden. Freplich wind

one can easily see when comparing Jesuitism and Catholicism=

cis mus die Rede is, wer unter jener verkuřzten Benen=

nung verfunderden werden fogst, und dass fso viel wřrdige

Scholars in Berlin could not be included among them.

Meanwhile, I declare once and for all that if that

From the expression, it should have escaped, I should be no one other than that.

kufene Triumvirate understands this= |

2. Secret proselytizing,

Those who have read with some attention will find that can judge for themselves whether Mr. von Symmen is capable of this

He has done too much to cheeky writers if he has attributes insults and personalities to them.

If they, like themselves, do not deny our

to call the first illustrious rabble when they
to speak of the nobility as a brood when they have an entire
The Church, whose teachings may still be so erroneous be, and their head and clergy may also have sinned so much against the protesters,

but in Germany it is no less legitimate than the Protestantism, with the most hated and hated=

most suitable nicknames are given when they are their teachers Ignorant and unworthy people=
nen, and her most hideous; most malicious comp=

Plett, which incited all protesters against her to revolt
had to bring, settle, if they were involved in intrigues

and gangs talk, everything that doesn't go according to their plan

sense is, infatuation, tasteless, shame=

*

bite wickedly and contemptuously, even the Christians

to call a fanatical sect, and the like=

"More of that," doesn't that mean scolding? If they not only characterize persons so precisely that everyone

she immediately recognizes, and this so characterized Accusing people of the ugliest deeds, which only to remember those who perjured and betrayed
above their church, to partakes of the ugliest
To make plots, which can only ever exist, and finally even listing these persons by name,
how they with Lavatern, Claudius, Dreykorn and other upright men and also with me procedure; if they would do anything to anyone who dares to
to contradict, or even undertakes their chimera

to refute, to attack with despotic fury, and to make one suspect of the most malicious things in the world, as become

f

and allegedly used means for this purpose. 263 ö

He is also bullied by Catholics, and journeyman also among the defenders of proselytizing=
Rey and the Jesuits, as they told Professor [name omitted].
Gcaækve made, so I find all this is no personality=
keiten? What a bee Mr. Beast must be!
grip of insults and personalities,
If this is something fine! And this man can.
in front of the audience, who were celebrating their month=
has in his hands the incomprehensible audacity= have the ability to summon the Sin. v. Hymmen to Show where he swore? But the reader has already
As seen right at the beginning of this book, what is the purpose of this?
Editor of the Berlin monthly magazine fähig-find,
since they met the Count of Serzberg with the three=
They were constantly deceived by untruths, and where they who had insulted me in the most sensitive way, but claimed they had not intended to harm me to insult. You can't really get anything out of such people.

Expect everything |
Mr. Biester will return after the injury against the Irishman of Hymmen, referring back to religion), and doesn't just want to smile, but really defend himself against the accusation made against him by Mr. Gar
He made it so that he considered Julian's paganism to be... the purer religion of reason, and the Christians=
thum, which he wants to eradicate, for ruin= (consider superstitions *). Mr. B. makes us be a fine description of Christianity
In Constantine's time: It was a degenerate Christ.
stenthum; it degraded healthy people=
reason in an incredible way, and taught Vices that savage barbarians are horrified by Br en = ter

m

f

*) Page 60.
BR December 1785. p. 502,

*

*

% i / |
270. Secret proselytizing,

ten"). There is. Mr. Beaster here just so unfortunate more so than one is used to with him,

If he wants to act learned, that is, he presents himself as an extremely ignorant man, who as usual=

The more ignorant he is, the greater the risk.
His arrogance speaks. It is true, that Chti= Stenthum already had much of its character in Constantine's time.
lost its original character; it had not only in the so-called sects, but also in the ei=

the actual church in its teachings many things changed, depending on the philosophy obtained

was, which was associated with Christianity, and

His teachers were no longer consistently certain.
faithful followers of the precepts of the religion. But
With what does Mr. Beaster prove his fine, untrue house
Is there any evidence that it was a fanatical sect? Where?

With this, he proves that sound reason can prevail.
Small, unbelievable ways humiliated and vices

taught, before whom savage barbarians are horrified

Want to? As he says here. Ignorant and sworn.
We have all religious parties, as well as immoral ones.
People who belong to the religion they profess
to bring shame; but that is to mankind,
and not attributable to religion. In the up=
Berlin clarified its tolerant approach in 1784.

the following, people who were under the larva

Protestantism's most shameful intolerance practiced in a way that can only be seen from Spanish Jews
One should expect to be a tormentor. In civilized and learned society.

Berlin has taught and taught this in precisely these years.

customs be willing writing plates given, which in ice

nem Journal die Pasquille auf ehrliche und verhren

They have attacked the men. Will this be investigated?

Out of=

Y side approx.

SK — 0 ne 2-0

...and means allegedly used for this purpose. 277 |

3 * | 8

Outgrowths and sores of Protestantism and

of scholarship, religion and science=
to burden senses, or to dwell on them for that reason pten, that. it is not yet unpretentiously righteous Chris
Are there any distinguished and excellent scholars in Berlin? –
And the creed of this degenerate Christ=

stenthums in Constantine's time, this fanatical

A sect, as Mr. Beaster calls it, which the Ver 4
nunft have degraded and taught vices to the people;

what barbarians are horrified by, namely the ni=

Canian symbol, let's assume, is the un=

frige, stehet in den sembolischischen Buchechern unserer

Church, to whose Zionist Mr. Beaster has appointed himself=
He threw it. He's going through what everyone else is going through.

to have a bad thing, that they are even deeper there fallen into ruin where they wanted to save themselves. – But Julian's Heathenry! And beer entangles Mr. Beast even worse. He is right when he says that There were rational people among the pagans,

those who recognized the highest or true God; rightly so.

in such a remote way, namely solely from a supreme being,

He is referred to as the originator of all things. The like.
were various philosophers and the so-called Hypsistarians. – This was their religion.

Deism. But was this Deism therefore also degenerate Christianity in Julian's time to move in, as Mr. Beast himself says: I believed the deism of a wise man, to whom there to prefer malignant degenerate Christianity sen)? Completely unknown to pure deism ten, and every honest protestant's appeal gave way

tigen teachings of a divine revelation,
from the Son of God and the Holy Spirit, from Ä ar Chri
9 Page 61. N

–
2

272 Secret Proselyte Mathematics,
30 ö
Christ as God and Being, by Christ,

as the only one in whom we can please God

len, as the Redeemer and Reconciler of the world
etc., who are all degenerate Christians
thum still had in Julian's time, find him therefore

such worthless, such insignificant things that one to depart completely from it, and to this Christianity as preferring deism to a fanatical sect
can? So what does Mr. Beaster explain himself for here?

fenbar? What else but for a trailer and

Admirers of Deism? – But even more than that; was

\

for probably the paganism that Julian again

sought to introduce pure Deism? Was it

= rather not the crude paganism, so tasteless

and superstitious, as if it could only be invented=

te, only with rags of Neoplatonic philosophy poor=

Blissfully uplifted? Is Mr. Beastiester really...?

who nevertheless ventures into these matters, so un=

Clearly unaware that he knows nothing about this;

4

So he just reads the Brucker Historiam Critic, Phil.

Volume II, p. 293 ff. and the entire section of TPhilosophia Eclectica. – O! gullible and Deceived audience! What are you here and now?

There, applauded by you, are you enlightened? Utterly ignorant.

Men! Your disguised guardians of Zion! Admirers and friends of pure Deism! That is their Scholarship, their zeal for pure Protestantism

Lesson! And this man, who in his entirety

What is shown here is still the recklessness

have to say he hopes to be justified in this way

have that no one owes the due respect for will miss Christianity? * 5

5 N * Kuhn;

Guilty respect! That's what the imperial laws do to him, as Citizens of the German state have a duty. So much for that.

= | by

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 273

| Kuhnbeit, with whom he protected the deiſtery

takes, and reviles Christianity, Freymüß
call it thigkeit, and a happy freedom that

Luther fought for us, and which of the Protestants tism granted us? Oh! lived the honest, open,

Especially a German man, Luther, how would he in

They shone brightly at home! And is that Protestan? tism? Mr. Beaster must be completely unfamiliar with this word.
other terms are used than all Protestant Christians.
the tenets of both confessions, and his outbursts against Christianity is also called Protestantism,
But that's certainly not ours. – .
Mr. Beast will probably ask here too, what he at the end of his epistle against Father Steiß

ner says: it's a well-known, miserable one, but now

already universally despised art concept, fine Geg
ner, with whom one can argue about other matters

ten has brought the reputation of irreligion to want). His dispute with Father Steinern gives N me

to remain with this guilty respect, and has he Otherwise, it makes no sense?

What strange things that evil conscience can sometimes do!

appearances caused! The above passage of this book screamed
I was there in January of this year. When I was compelled to do so,
Statement from the last February in various newspapers
To have it set, I used, among other things, the un-guilty legal pressure that I refer to the Christian Enlightenment-
Our judge has placed his complete trust in us.
who would not admit that a Christian ona clear-headed man, characterized by reckless indifference and is equally far removed from orthodox anxiety, the best judge of our dispute, but the word-printed in Christian font with Schwabacher, contrary to my
They expect my lord's opponents to get on his nerves.

S8

mos =

274 Secret Prosecco Production,

It doesn't concern me. Since Mr. Beaster is involved in the polemic as if he were in a fine element, he will he and his fine associates, probably many more besides find an opportunity. Since I faced the same accusation
As I look forward to a beer, I'm only talking about myself. I'm reading Few brochures because I don't have time for them-
I can. I read the Berlin monthly magazine for a long time.
Not really, at most an occasional essay.
occasionally; and when I visited the first place in September 1785
I would receive the message that I was attacked in it-
I didn't even read them. So when I saw the first one
The accusation leveled against these gentlemen was that they
They tried to insinuate deism, heard, came
It seems unbelievable to me. Now that I've reached the end of the month;
Scripture is not merely to be read, but to be studied.
Having been compelled, I am convinced of the truth of those Bes
I'm thoroughly convinced. So I'm doing Hru.
Beasts and his associates not after an elen-
the well-known and despised artistic term Accusation of heresy; I hate all heresygen; this hunt belongs to the Berlin Monthly Magazine-exhibitors exclusively, and may be to their credit un-

sers 20th century and the enlightened tolerant Berlin's remain. But they themselves have through their Attacks on Christianity, through its in Protecting and elevating the pure Deiss
mus,

They might find, upon examining their inner selves, that Christ
They have a weak side, where they probably to be reached. And even before they had a direction aimed at that.
Having heard my statement, they are already on their guard.
However, in this year's April play. The audience likes it.
to judge whether I should have allowed myself to be moved by it,
to take away one line from what I wrote
had, and is now printed?

and allegedly serving means. 275

mus, and through the Dei they laid down=
styche, and from them themselves as their own be= My creed knew me about it= testifies. I'm not arguing about it either, as everyone can see.
another matter, and then this pretext=
I'm not making any accusations, but I stand by the matter of which
The speech is, and prove it with clear words.
Monthly writer. Mr. Biester's objection
So it doesn't affect me, and neither he nor the audience.
However unpleasant this truth may be for him, he knows well, what I consider him and his fellow inquisitors to be,
and according to their own clear, not through Con= Sequence-making, which I detest, extracted=
nen, but laid out by them themselves=
serungen hold, and must hold, namely for Dee i= sten, who under the guise of enlightening us,
to plunge us into disbelief, and under the larva Protestant Fion Watchman, Christianity
to undermine, and the pure Deism of us
To push through. So much for Mr. Beasters
Letter in January 1786.

In March: Piece 1786 Y appear the bey=

the editor of the monthly magazine with a foges called necessary explanation about a Fudring=
lichkeit. Because if they, their contributors and Cors
respondents, other honest people, princes, nobility,
To insult men of all classes, to personally berate
to harass, slander and make suspicious, fo
It means candor, integrity, zeal for Enlightenment, reason and religion, publicity,

and what the other titles are called, with which they deal
breasts; but if one only opposes them with something

If it sets, then it is intrusiveness. Mr. Reichard's NS 2 sentence

#) Page 279 ff.

276 Secret proselytizing,

statement about Mendelssohn and Jacobi, adds to this
the reason, and what the monthly writers
What they said about Lavater and Claudius is that of the object. But since I am from the men=
nern, who from our new German Zion Watch=

tern of the Protestant Church, as the Crypto=Ka= Suspected of tholicism, before her Inquisition Tribune
nal heischt und geladen řín, sonders nachmals
Since I will be speaking, I will skip over this whole thing here.
ostensibly provided a necessary explanation.

Mr. Beast appears again in May,
and delivers to us in an essay entitled: Ver= spread of Catholicism leads to various from Danzig, Pomerania, Spandau and Bres=
lukewarm messages received by him about the forts Steps of proselytizing, and of the Catholic mus J. Because here it is from Mr. Biefter and associates indicated the tone, and their Lerm=
The sound of the trombone had resounded in all regions, the Monthly publication of the Locus communis, where everyone can rid himself of his whims and complaints; and Nothing is too bland and ridiculous!
only fits into the form of crypto-Catholicism,
That's how it's accepted.

The first of these messages is said to be from Dan=

many descriptions. In the same it is first said, that the number of ka- has increased for 20 to 30 years
Tholian communities in Danzig quite noticeably enslaved more. – From a trading post where once the Catholic religion publicly established for a long time
If such a message sounds desperately disharmonious= Nizhny. If only trade flourished, and the
If a citizen is in good circumstances, then that is how one usually behaves.
Zr um

) monatsfchr. 1786, May p. 436 ff.

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 277.

about the consensus to which the citizen is devoted,
 Little to worry about. But given, the Catholics batten sich seit 20 u. 30 Jahren in Danzig noch so much increased; does this prove something for secret pros?
 Selyt-making? It proves nothing but that the
 The Dbrigkeit zu Danzig is now more tolerant than before;
 And that will do her honor. In Berlin,
 The Jewish community has been very divided for the last 20-30 years:
 more; proves this secret proselytizing
 and the spread of Judaism? It proves,
 that they are treated more gently there than elsewhere.
 will be, since it is natural that more children will be born.
 Israelis from other regions are moving to Berlin,
 hoping to bring it there successfully,
 a palace under the linden trees and an outfit to haben. But the Jesuits were silently permitted in many places in the city of Gdansk
 To establish corner schools. Who authorized this?

But surely the authorities. Does the Prussian tolerate it?

German monarch in Westphalia and other places, which Isn't the magistrate of Danzig also involved? Is the=

Therefore, the crypto-Catholicism and crypt:

to: Suspicious of Jesuitism; so he may see himself in front of defend the new religious inquisitors, if They only have the honesty to give him a fine answer.
 plaintiff, who wrote this letter to them from Danzig=
 ben, to make known. But they (the Jesuits)
 the children of poor protesters move into this Schools, give them clothes, and let them
 other small benefits would flow. That would be Of course, a great crime. A Catholic following
 So, no benefits for a Protestant poor person.
 let more flow in, and the protestant no longer to accept what was given to him by a Catholic hand= will be given. Well, that would go very far indeed! But S3 that

278 Secret proselytizing,

that they draw the children into their schools. – If just don't indoctrinate the children into the Catholic faith. teaching, but in other sciences for free to give the lessons that they teach in Protestant schools They would have had to pay; so there is nothing in this either. punishable offense.”). And that one can make these poor children made by Catholics, says the sender. Fine word. – It goes on to say, a Polish for stin Ganguska, who spent several years in Gdansk stopped, and extremely zealously Catholic.

sen, have through their benevolence and promises

Singing children of poor Lutheran parents in not A small number were allocated to the Jesuits. Also Beer says nothing about the fact that the children made Catholic. But let's assume they really were some children in such a way to Catholicism won; hasn't there always been eager Catholics were given the task of converting the Protestants. Wanted? And is Princess Ganguska hovering? because Lutheranism in Danzig is now in a large Farther in danger than before? – Yes! Now comes A truly horrific matter. Following a lawsuit, that one now hears from the Lutheran pulpits and in catechetical lessons, the difference of the main:

By disregarding factual religious doctrines, we will learn the following: A story is told. In a village, near At the monastery of St. Albrecht, a preacher commemorates neither in the pulpit, nor during catechisms of the Catholics; therefore, some of the ag

Ä ia

| *) Nothing unusual either, as already mentioned in the previous section as I have proven. That also Catholic children

the Protestant schools in the Imperial States

They were sent, as can be seen from the museum in 1787. 2nd Stuck p. 192. 2 we

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 279

Piarists on the idea that he was a secret
He is a Catholic. They visit him in disguised clothing.
dung, let yourself be engaged in a religious conversation with him
one, and add all sorts of things to their plan
He poses targeted questions. The preacher answers.
Everything thoroughly, but still asks, since her ge=
The questions might seem concerning, depending on the reasons.
their visit. They discover each other to him, and now reveals itself – for example, that the pastor, who is so high= questionable in sermons and catechisms of

The papacy remained silent, and not at all according to the old way |

had polemicized about a commendable custom, a secret Pope? – No, that the Piarists... had been mistaken, and the pastor wasn't even a secretive one.
not a devout Catholic, but a devout Lutheran was. – Who can read this without laughing, and with this completely unexpected outcome of the matter
to think of the old verse: Parturiunt montes, nascetur ridiculus mus. – However, so that we can not to miss the point of this important story=
Ben, lead us, Mr. Beast, in fine rimless style.
That is it: that the Piarists did indeed must have considered it possible that he was a secret Catholic fey. – All admitted once, What Mr. Beaster has revealed to us here is still very the question of whether the Piarists have good reason to do so can consider it possible that the Lutheran pastor
Is he a secret Catholic? One can see this from the Pastors; so they probably had the elen= to their delusion
the most conceivable reason, and with for just as many reasons as they hated him because of his Non-polemism against the papacy for a
They believed the secret pope was there, but they could not stop him because of this.
his non-polemizing against Muhammad=
nism for a secret Muslim bals
ö | S4 ten.

ten. Looking at the principles of the Catholic
The question is whether the Church can cope with all its needs.
Canons can agree that one secretly
a Catholic, and outwardly a Protestant president
diger seyn können, und ob also die etwasnige Vermu=
Was the Piarist movement founded? After
In my opinion, this is impossible. Mr.
Beasts will remind us here again of the so often the passage from the Pontoppidan cited by him to dismiss. But that the 6 preachers who were the Bishop sheep of Obloe discovered in his pen, really
"They were true Catholics," says Pontoppi.
not then; he only says that she is the bishop of their evil plan to undermine the Lutheran Church=
Ravens, convinced. To explain the matter being described there=
To truly understand, we had to read the files.
They can. For God! What has the heretic matter Chergeist is not always appropriate to those at all times,
who were so unlucky as to fall into his clutches!
And how great the spirit of heresy was in those times!
who was with the Danish bishops, is available from The Pontoppidan itself was clearly visible during the day. What
But is that entire Danzig news report, if it
It's really different, and not entirely a fabrication.
What is fie, if one considers fie according to all its circumstances?
viewed differently than a pathetic clapping,
A true fairy tale. And this wisdom mountain clapping without date and signature, clapping
a Doctor of Law and Royal Librarian Audience as a contribution to the many Thatfa= chen before, which spread the Catholicis=
must prove true! = |
The second message supposedly writes itself out
Pomerania here). After many tributes, 1 |
| u

"Page 437. 411."

and means allegedly used for this purpose. a8 1

Begin to make the Zionist disciples do so they the alleged efforts against reason and expose religion, in which one should indeed forte
If you ask us to drive up, two important contributions will be made.
delivers. Arrige Aures Pamphile! 1) says the Ano= Umm: I know Protestant mystics from the Brandenburgian, which is public and disc course by course, in the most mixed societies of the high dignity of the essential Catholic

Religion was spoken of (as you yourself did in Julius).
1785. Page 75. (cite). Who doesn't ask here, who the Brandenburg mysticogists were,

and what is the essential Catholic religion?

who is accorded high honor? This Everything is far too uncertain. But we will... referred to Mr. Beasts; perhaps developed who will explain the matter to us. But Mr. Beaster tells us
The aforementioned passage contains only two things. Firstly, the following:
He refers us to April 1785, page 328, and asks
To Mr. Garve: You can see for yourself that they protest= tisch swarms who read this book (/r les er-reurs et la Verité), love, with whether and applause
of the true original concepts of the ka=
We'll be talking about the Tholin Church again.
traced back to Mr. T- y, which Mr. Bie=
ster, the man who doesn't even swear, a swear=
more swears, and from which the physical un=
It is true that he was praised and applauded by the true original concepts of the Catholic Church speaks. Secondly, Mr. Beaster says: I...
Make sure that several Protestant swearing-up groups...
more, who may be closer to you than you are believe, of the high dignity of the essential speak of the Catholic religion. – But judge Audience, whether a man like Mr. Diester, who S857 already

231 Secret proselytizing,

Often the most blatant untruths are told.
Letting debts accumulate, still clinging to some faith
could make a claim without proof, even if he also who says it so often: I assure you! – Meanwhile
Our alleged Pomeranian continues: Just recently
I learned this from what one hears from
The man who came to Berlin was omitted, namely Lu=
They went too far in the Reformation. –
Another woman-baas-slap, there, which in Societies where everyone speaks their mind.
stands, true and false, crooked or straight,
presented again to the Berlin Mognats writers
clapping, and then from these as trumpeters
all gossip, to bolster their chimeras

well processed, and further distributed.
Those who will speak in society in the future, and not of the crypto: Catholicism made suspicious who= Anyone who wants that should probably look around beforehand to see if...
in society a familiar face of the new Berlini=
The General Inquisitors were present. But quite
In the taste of the new Zion's watchmen is this Aeus= sung of the alleged Pomeranian sender.
Until now, we knew of no form of Protestantism that Luther had been canonized so highly that his Reform would have been considered papal infallible; son=
because everyone had the freedom to express their fine thoughts.
gen, and there it seemed too far for him and a
to have taken too short a step with others. Our Enlighteners and Zion's watchmen, however, have given us a whole Anders Prineip set up, and this is the following:
that Luther had not done nearly enough; that he still far too much darkness and leaven left=
"Let it be," one can always say that: because, quite rightly,
To be enlightened and Protestant, all swearing

mereyen (what they explain for it) the su= eie Ze 5 ü per-

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 283

pernaturalistic religion, in doctrines and doctrines
need, swept clean, and on the other hand
Pure deism was introduced; but that Did Luther do too much? One mustn't say that?
Whoever does that is opposed to secret Catholicism.
thoughtful. – Judge the public whether this is not the true philosophical papacy is, whose one.
leadership already by insightful writers the Zion's guards were blamed (istk). But the
The Pomeranian sender says: it is that statement that I
in the mouth of a protester, who, however, as I reliably knows, in the secrets of their there=
who is fully initiated into the enlightened, is very be= (Thought plausible). Who thinks so now?
These enlightened ones in Berlin with their secrets=
niffen, to which those of crypto-Catholicism suspicious man who had said Luther was went too far in the Reformation, as he said.
reliably knows, is initiated? Since the one= who says he knows for certain that the man is too
initiated into the secrets of the enlightened ones;
So he must know about this secret party. Since he that statement precisely about the connection of the man nes willen, with the supposedly enlightened ones consider=

If it occurs, he thereby directs those who are in catholicism allegedly a favorable expression of
This enlightened one. Who is this man?
Who can find these enlightened people in Berlin, the ones like that?
allegedly detrimental to Protestantism=
strive, produce, nurture and spread (Taf) sen? Mr. Beaster must send his sender 1
U.N

*) See Allgemeine Literaturzeitung, May 1786. Noz
109. p. 333. |
) Page 438.

264 Secret proselytizing,

and the sender must, if he is an honest man
is, the man who said that, and the light=
those who instilled such principles in him, the chief=
to make the horse known, and to prove its fine detail;
or he is an anonymous slanderer, and he who spread his slander, the one who Schlager of a pas quill. – Whether the secret Bes foundations established by Catholics and directed= Girt will be, as the sender claims, result as a consequence. But if this is precisely the case
The writer claims that the opinion may be Christianity only arose from lack too lukewarm regarding obsessions and church discipline,
and through the freedom of the use of reason weakened by his influence; thus, it could result in if only something like that exists in the mind of a Re=
genten hafte, leicht eine vom Fürsten selbst unter=
Sustained priestly rule grew up: Thus is the poor
The sender's head was very crooked and empty.

World and knowledge of mankind. With the priest= N

The company still has a long time. After all, they Pietist times, when far more than ever before...
Church discipline and obscurities were enforced, and complained about lukewarmness in religion and against it work has been done, no priestly rule has emerged= brought; our times are certainly far less skilled at that. – And where is it now in all this?
Pomeranian News, dissemination of the Catholic contain eism, which nevertheless follows the same principle.
brik, under which Mr. Beasts were brought, contained
had to? | Ä

The third piece, which is indeed a remarkable one= worthy refutation of the truly childish ignorant= the claim of the monthly writers of *

*) Page 439.
0

and the means allegedly used for this purpose. FIT, includes Protestants who are supposed to be Catholic,

I will deal with that separately. 2 5

Now to the fourth piece, where Mr. Beaster delivers two unexpected results. By wan= Unfortunately, we are not told when they are coming: enough, that the editors of the monthly journal were the same Initially complimented and respected will, that they continue so bravely, the secret= to uncover the secrets of darkness. Now the two unexpected testimonies themselves, which include a few famous ones

Presenting our predecessors, who published the monthly journal= They should have had the actors. Certainly, it looks unexpected.

For whom is it not unexpected, and who can imagine

He refrains from laughing when he sees that his friends of pure deism even now emerging from the

Let the Apocalypse prove its chimera! Nothing

More is needed for the complete illustration of the picture= of, as that the apocalyptic sender, who so finely knows how to unravel the apocalypse, just a little further=

Addendum: Mr. Beaster is one of the seven Ens geln, who showed the judgment of the great whore, or

I would rather have the lamb with the toes, which

They gave their strength to the animal, fight, and that

/

I will overcome the beast. – But to the point, and the one unexpected predecessor of Mr. Beast and associates is – the blessed Crusius. What the same from scavengers and a religious/union says I will consider it more carefully later. have the opportunity. His statement about the This is actually about Catholicism for me. And Crusius laments the safety of the Protestants, and that they say one has nothing from the papacy to get, because the Pope doesn't do so much anymore, as formerly considered. In contrast, Crusius says that Errors and corruptions of the Roman 25

kr

a6 Secret Profelptenmacher ,

575 in nothing neglected, they have been since the Formation by the Council of Tridentine more into a permanent and unchangeable form brought, and had through the Jesuit order a received support that is more than any other bear: so the objection is also correct that now the church government is more aristocratic and less monarchical: for now the Representatives of the Roman Church, and needed the Pope with his supposed apo Stolat and Vicariate as a pretext: Were we Not warned of this in the Book of Revelation, so... It's even more advisable to apologize if someone from the diminished authority of the Pope on the Reduction of the danger from the papacy schlous fe). Crusius says all this. But if fags Did he really do this? In the year 1766. The one offered Even the sender seems to have noticed this year. worthy to be: for he says to Mr. Beast: Do you remember 1766? That's 20 years before Ih.

nen. The sender seems to be here, where he is dealing with the Apocalypse, and its proponents, occupied themselves
seized by the spirit of prophecy and interpretation to feyn, and in Crusius's statement twenty Years have been spent trying to find a prophecy that After twenty years in Berlin, a man with a name
men beasts * and with the sword feisty
to strike the beast from the abyss with the mouth of a man,
and all those who are with the great Babylonian whore
born as a true police lieutenant of the all= common belief from all corners, wherever

who would hide herself, would seek to emerge. But Mr.
Beasts must not have noticed the number properly.
ben; otherwise he would have this unexpected and

| |
© Page 441. 442 442.

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 237

not moved in: because in these twenty years ba=
when circumstances changed drastically.
Crusius wrote that it was still completely and generally
It is true that the Roman Church was free from its errors.
nothing was neglected regarding the destruction and corruption.
sen. For at that time the great emperor and an=

three Catholic princes not yet so in their state=
ten cleaned up, as has happened since 1781, monastery withdrawn, monasticism and priesthood abolished
and restricted, abuses and superstitions,
and religious trinkets of various kinds from the church
removed from God's service and the people to
to clarify and to make their religious concepts more rational
They were looking for someone. Back then, people didn't read in Vienna, as the famous traveling bookseller told us in Berlin, Mr. Friedrich Nikolai, who in this provides a credible witness to the matter, verfi=
chert has, the German Bible according to Luther's Über= Setting. What, then, from this perspective, Crusius wrote, no longer fits his successor
twenty years. In 1766, Cruřtus still right that the Roman Church to the Je= suites have a support that carries more, than all the others combined. Your Cre= dit war freylich schon schon ganz im Sin=
ken. In 1759 they had already been brought from Portugal and Banished from France in 1764. But they received still, Clement XIII, who was born in the year

The period from 1758 to 1769 when he reigned was, even if only through intercessions, whimpers and praises of the Jesuits, who could take care of their sons, very won her over. But the year after Crusius had written that, or 19 years before Oetor Beaster, his successor in warning against the Clemens A = Babylonian whore rose up $

| 288 Seheime Profelytenmachereg,

the misfortune the Jesuits also from the ppanifchen Mo= to see banished to the kingdom. In 1768 or in the 18th century. Years before Doctor Beast, they were also made from Naples and Sielia expelled, and finally under Clement XIV in the year 1773 or in the 13th Years before Doctor Beasts, the Jesuiteror was born. which was completely abolished and thus the main support of (Roman furnishings completely shattered). What as D. Crusius had said in this regard, After thirteen years, it just didn't fit anymore, that His Berlin successor struck a similar tone. could vote, and Mr. Beaster is therefore with his= nem Lermgeschrey, wenn es je nêrît war, wenig= arrived at least 18 years too late. And finally It was in the year 1766 that Crusius wrote that The Pope's authority is still far from being so sunk deep, as it happened in these last times= hen is, and in our times still happens, where You can't even tell him with a fine alleged Apostolate and Vicariate as a pretext for more used its old usurped rights, as in the imperial states have been severely restricted, fine nunciatures of German bishops cut off= ten will be, and the bishops their old, ailing to reassert and enforce privileges= chen search. How much have they changed in the 20 years? How times have changed! And how unseemly it is it, if in these times Doctor Beast the Does Tor Crusius wants to follow in the footsteps of his predecessor. The predecessor and the successor find the time= They are very different from each other. also in other pieces. For Crusius was at all the other subtle apocalyptic weaknesses in= who

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 289

He was a learned man, yet he spoke from a position of trust.
 nem Fache. Mr. Biester, however, told us about his Ignorance, and that he is in a completely foreign place
 He ventured into a completely unknown field, even so much evidence has been given in the foregoing that one might sin greatly on Crusius' ashes,
 if you give him this man as his successor
 wanted. The only thing they both agreed on.
 Wanting is a kind of infatuation. But Cru= Sius raved as a man who had gone too deep into the apocalypse had, incidentally, also taken to the true heart; but Mr. Beaster raves as a pure Deist, and all his noisy shouting about Secret Catholicism is just a pretext to keep us
 to foist the bastard of pure deism upon him,
 meanwhile, that we rely on fine holy assurances=
 how he zealously champions the Gospel, to convince us=
 that he with the Babylonian whore from the
 The apocalypse is in the midst of a melee. What I beer, add this only: hardness, someone
 the Berlin monthly writers for another Matter something with passages from the Apocalypse
 Staffirt, how would they describe him as an archer=
 They had fallen upon it more enthusiastically! But now nothing ate.
 tasted, an old woman might like it or Send a crazy enthusiast, if only to decorate their chimeras, so it will be used=
 taken, indeed even as an unexpected youth erected. That surely means delusion and Party lichkeiten .
 Now to the second witness, and that is – Helvetius. To find him here and in him a Predecessors of Mr. Beaster and associates to se– 65 is even less unexpected. Because et aux geniuses fe rencontrent!_ Selvetius says, 5 az T give

*

There is a single instance where a nation has the power to...
ranz could become highly harmful, that is, if one tolerate an intolerant religion, and such a fey
the Catholic one; where it would become the ruling one, there
She would probably always have to drink the blood of her stupid Be= Protectors still shed; Germany may well shed that Let it be said; the interests of their princes continue.
dere es, dass fie sich zu sapstthum schan; wå=
Once the princes became Catholic, they would also want to force their subjects to convert to the faith: the Torches of superstition and intolerance smoke=

ten still, the slightest breath could blow on her again=
will Holland and the Briton be safe?
Through the ingratiating tone of the Catholics
The protesters just don't want to be blinded.
fen; indeed the priest who promoted intolerance in Prussia
I consider it something abhorrent, so I maintain tolerance.
in France for crimes, and that from his Weak in Prussia, and from its power in France; the nations should learn from their past to learn from misfortunes and to realize how It is necessary to keep the swarminess in chains.
ten, and to banish intolerance from every religion=
nen. – That is Selvetius' declamation, quite right.
once from Mr. Beaster's and his fine associates
The soul has spoken. But who is speaking here? Well, Selve= tius; isn't that enough? No, reader and friend.

of the Christian tree, a man who knew the Materia–

Islam publicly presented, which highlights our advantages

before the animals only in the organization of our

Body set that could be cheeky enough to be claiming that moral virtues are political errors,
and political virtues can be true sins=
ten, who threw all morality overboard, and to whom Despite all his protestations of how much he loved it

“Chris

| and allegedly the means to that end. 291

Christianity is honorable, but certainly for nothing less.
as there was to be done; that is Mr. Biester's second predecessor. For that, one would probably have had to... not allowed to bring forth Zelvetius, for that he had

One can see the Voltaire and other such riffraff.

could be found. One could also have found Monsieur Tur.
to cite got and to the monthly writers
to be able to give a worthy predecessor who will be the Christian= which morality would consider harmful, as one that cripple human understanding, make it stupid,
and declared all of Christianity a farce,
which are developing rapidly
gen gienge). But even a materialist can Yes, tell the truth! Quite right; and Selvetius Attacks on Catholicism may stem from subtle motives.
. Meligion principles, or out of a fine hatred for this – spiritually and after his long imprisonment
flow, so he may be right in many respects.
I admit all that. But the French Genet ralpächter knows our constitution in Germany
No, and speaks like a Frenchman. Who did it?
told him that it was in the interest of our princes
He dares to join the papacy! Ger Quite the opposite. To their appanaged broth and princes, whom they can obtain anyway,
and those who do not receive large allowances,
to have to make do with less, respectable Providing supplies should govern our government.
de Fürsten ihre geistliche Landeshauptheit, ihre Episeo= pal rights and other great advantages that they Protestantism grants, let it go! How The Frenchman knew our German fur= sten! Certainly the mixed one in the French style un=

u 2 fere

Vie de Mr. Turgot. Paris 1786. v.

492 Secret Proselytizers,

His princes with his princes, and our Marg=
Counts with fine marquises! Can one imagine something?

wretched thinking? q Who told him that our Princes, once they are Catholic, too
to force their subjects to convert to the faith len? What our princes cannot do, will They certainly wouldn't want that. In doing so, their Honor is far too compromised. As some un:

Our princes became Catholic in former times.

the; but their limitations in such cases,
their displayed reversals, and the one in such States not shaken by protest movements proves also in this piece – that we Germans –

The Frenchmen had legs. The enemy says to the Conclusion that the things presented by Bier, every thoughtful person has a striking reason to
to consider. Yes, certainly,
and the best consideration that every thinking person
The danger he can cause is that he notices it, ice an apocalyptic thinker, and one our constitution has unknown Frenchmen, his materialism not even brought into play when Mr. Bie=
sters and his associates' predecessors and unexpected=
No witnesses were put forward. Now judge.
ter audience! | |

Igkn der fünften fñch aus Spandau herfthrei=
The news will tell that the Catholics in this place, to whom what is necessary has already been provided have been, and have been since the time of King Frederick William.
Drich Wilhelms on the plain in front of the fortress neither a Catholic church nor a Lutheran church
City church, namely St. Maurice's Church, 1784.
Use of their God's service for the regiment demands that the commander there already for that had been won, and were looking towards Bernau and | . v in

%

,

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 293

practiced in the cities of Brandenburg and Pomerania
Tolerance was invoked, but that Inspector Schulz

Spandau immediately rejected this request,
and that the Supreme Consistory also includes the Catholics
Their request was met with dismissal. – For the Ders
The spread of Catholicism probably proves this.
The whole message says nothing; however, it does prove what
Not a single person has doubted that
The Catholics in Spandau fared like everyone else.
People who always want more than they can give already have. This is characteristic of every religious party;
and the Catholics will certainly also find themselves among those who are generally
My illness is not free. Not far from Frank.
The New Reformed have their own church; they
They also demanded one in the city, but they were told a place for it, but they wanted another one better. But one has therefore to the Reformed Frankfurt was not blamed, not even with The right to blame can cause it to spread.
ten sought. – That's how people are in general.
Make it happen! This whole message proves too much.
and too little! 3

The sixth one allegedly came from Breslau |

The message of the strange one alone from 3280
Upper existing secret ducats: Society I'm passing through Silesia here. But I will in the section on secret societies at
The opportunity for the cruisers to discuss it further.
Mr. Beaster added another message to this message.

an addition) by, which is not exactly a new development=

Contains covers of secret proselytizing,
but still, because of some of the things that appear in it Statements that I will not ignore

) Page 411.

3 *

294 Secret Prosecution,

can. First, Mr. Biester says that all of the above

News (excluding the last article)
from a very credible man he knew=

have been sent to nern, which almost all also as scholars and writers of German
The audience is valued. This latter point is intended to...
Essays have some value. But is it a such an audience, the submitters of these articles
as a scholar and writer, as the
that is, that Mr. Beaster is at his up Sentences often thought, and that to him and fine attachments= Gladly applauded; so certainly is the value
that sender as a scholar and writer:
Commonly low. Because the audience that...
Mr. Biester and his associates in their essays thought it must consist of straw heads, which one a juggling act of the crudest kind, of which our century has yet to find an example, format
chen, and that one as a dancing bear on a rope could lead around. Writer of a so-called Valued by the public, they are of no value.
The audience, Mr. Beast and his guests
Anyone who could applaud the crowd must certainly have been Publis, gifted with very limited insights kum syon, which was not even able to, the manifold and striking ignorance, which elen=
the evidence, which is frequent and obvious Contradictions, blatant untruths, the deliberate machinations and sophistry, which truly pasquillant episodes, and hamish

Suspicious of the most upright people, fo

soon they contradicted each other, revealing their obvious bias,
and those harmful to the whole religion, but among the larva of zeal for Protestantism stuck, but enough visible intentions that Mr. 12

ed

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 295:

ster and fine helpers often come to debt

men let, to see. And scholars and scripture= actors who are performed by such an audience, which has a Beasts, fine letter-turners, postmen and others Associates can be applauded, are valued, are of little value. The whole great predicate, what Mr. Biester said to the authors of the document delivered here=

The five pieces enclosed are therefore nothing. But Mr. Beaster tells us here that he knows the men who

He sent him these messages. So he knows also the author of the second one from Pomerania allegedly originating essay, and must, if

He is an honest man and not a wicked bastard. quillant is, who only aims to achieve through blunt Rumours that the king's subjects spread among each other to make thoughtful, to make this man famous,

so that he could thoroughly prove his claim, and the authorities are enabled to act precisely according to

to inquire of the enlightened ones in Berlin which harmful principles against Protestantism; to scatter, and the Protestant church in the kō= to secretly undermine individual states should. 2 N

Mr. Beaster continues: Your communication Hopefully, this will not seem unimportant, since they one for the Protestant religion, for the Freedom of thought and highest priority for human happiness= concern a physical object which is still from some, simply out of ignorance of those who belong here

Aging and new facts are misunderstood. – Ges white beautiful words, Protestant religion, Freedom of thought, human happiness! And were he truly the real intention of the Berlin Monthly writers who value these important goods against To protect against dangers; thus they deserved thanks. But

T4 was

296 Secret proselytizing,

as Meisner already once said on the occasion of Bookseller Weygands said that one could probably add would have to see if the hand that offers us something, even on the body of an honest man (is located), this also applies here to a certain extent. one. Because Protestant religion, free from thought= Heath, human happiness will be presented to us upwards= balten, and what they think they're trying to pass off as ours is,

Instead of Protestant religion, the pure Deism,
mus, instead of freedom of thought, free spirit, instead Human happiness, that which these gentlemen call happiness
we consider it our greatest misfortune, namely the snatching away of Christianity. Here
I already have one of those, I'd love to have them too @ Ia Helvetius
to try to reject this from oneself, from the month
s'schrift s'elbst im vorn die auffälligst und über most compelling evidence has been provided. – Simply from Ignorance of the old and new belonging here Facta, says Mr. Biester, this object will misunderstood. What an old thing ignorance can be!
clever, important, knowledgeable appearance to get Ben knows. The old facts, and one part the newer ones, which Mr. Beaster and associates found fam zusammengepöppelt haben, waren jedermann

long known; and the other part of the newer
Some of the facts were unproven claims.
partly in itself incredibly unimportant tales
chen, chimeras and anecdotes from the peppered
The briefcase of a traveling anecdote hunter. And Now it is said that the notification of the beer delivered
Hopefully, these five sentences will not be unimportant.
They appear. What is important in them? To whom do they belong?

) S. Literature and Ethnology, November 1786. Page 77 " 5 rn

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 222

be things, women's slaps, horror prophecy
Signs of an apocalyptic thinker, watchmen's voices
Germans don't even know our constitution
The French, who seem important, will be the
We find certain pieces important. But none with our lat ge and constitution of a well-known man who thinks and can think about it! | | 1
Everything that Mr. Beaster said in this addendum still touched, when he first saw him, as he was before admits to being from an unknown person from Breslau skillful novel, according to which in a very modest .
Bigen Anstände, wenn man von 1400, 00 Ein;
residents of Silesia, only 900,000 people at withdraws women and children from the remaining 500,00 people 22,963 are located there, who belong to the ancient secret society 33 You eaten can give, furthermore, what he said about others

men, and touching with Jesuit influence Societies and especially of the Gold and Rose senkreuzers brings up, and finally, what he says about me with the foregoing already sufficient known cheekiness says where he is as a new faith=
Bens=Inquisitor is bold and shameless enough to tell me
as if before what he and his disguised
German accomplices arbitrarily brought shame upon themselves
The Inquisition tower, built in the 19th century, is a prime example of this.
I will omit the question of demanding a federal sentence here, because I
these beastly tales and scandalous stories have their own, be=
I have dedicated special articles to this topic. What I've only mentioned here...
What I should also mention is that Mr. Biester is against the IBM and fine comforts in the Schloizers
State report to defend against accusation wants governments not to be influenced by him= call find, to go through a kind of state inquisitorial process=
tion or even from a the
| Miss=

258 Secret Prosecution,

to eliminate abuses of secret societies).
Freylich has Mr. Biester and his associates not to the magistrate of the Imperial City of Augsburg turned, and the same to a commission over the upright Mr. Doctor Urlsperger= demanded; voluntarily they did not have before the magistrate Nuremberg a judicial denunciation against Submitted to Mr. Deacon Dreykorn; voluntarily ha=
Ben fie not Mr. Preacher Lavater at the Res Publicly, Zurich formally prosecuted them; voluntarily they not publicly at the Lord Landgrave of Hesse= sen=Darmstadt High Princely Lieutenant and the bifis
a denunciation against the princely minister
I entered; of course they took good care of themselves.
a Berliner, as a Rosicrucian and participant= more Jesuit plan at any forum of the
to accuse the king; they must have seen beforehand,
that they would be shamefully abducted in all these places=
will be expelled, since all these authorities expel their people know themselves better than to learn about them only from others.

60, go and 100 miles away Zion's wake=
They were allowed to get to know each other and learn: They could with Reasons to worry that these authorities are acting because of

to complain to the monarch about their intrusiveness and would like to ask the librarian Beast to be put in the Library, Mr. Gedike to his school, Mr.
To refer Wikolai to a fine bookshop, and If they didn't have enough to do there, they could give them a

to give other good handiwork so that they can help us

subjects of foreign rulers left in peace, not the disturbed public order, and foreign authorities with their denunciations harassed them. Literally on=
So they didn't call the governments.

f e

*) Page 45%

U

= – Ve u

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 299

They had another one, for their safety, but also bāmāfchern, and anyone who still has a feeling, abs
A more daunting path. What they actually discover neither conceived in her own mind, nor in her= had hatched from corrupt hearts, as in Mr. Dr. Urlsperger and Mr. Lavater in part, or what they heard from Deacon Seidel at the Se= baldskirche zu Nürnberg zur moralischen Vergnus= tung of his fellow official, Mr. Dreykorn, or whoever else may have been his accuser, or
from disguised malicious people, as is the case with me happened, and how it happened on several occasions=
ten made, sent, they hit the open
They looked at each other, and in this way sought their true purpose.
Chis, invented to undermine Christianity
tales of crypto-Catholicism and proselytes
to support the machinations, and foreign men who
to have respect and love in their places, and also partly valued abroad, the world and make their fellow citizens suspicious. Wah= re moral poison mixing, and thus far dangerous=
more terrible and abhorrent than a public, free attack

before the authorities! We were now in all these places

the authorities were not more insightful or better-minded.
would have been different in every place.

As an Inquisition? Not directly, but certainly indirectly, and in an even more malicious and cunning way=
Gere Weisen are from Mr. Beasts and his conspirators.

The governments have been called upon to take action, and which they report to the Schloizerian state

The accusation made is a disgrace to our times.

Unfortunately, it's all too well-founded. Inquisition, which may a Venetian state inquisition, or a spa=

Being a niche religious inquisition always remains Ine

quifition, and those who cause it, aa |

*

800 Secret Proselytizing,

a monstrosity of humanity, for which every cheapskate deserves credit.

dern must. And this wretched trade, which Mr.

Diester has now gone unpunished for several years.

He names what he drove so mildly that he says: one

I only have, as every reader will see for themselves, merely

the good, carefree members of the secret society companies themselves should be warned, and in the event of a general

a danger to every thinking citizen=

want to draw attention to it. But I think that through these smooth words and hypocritical pronouncements= performing the ugliest trade that anyone could possibly do

can drive, so that no one is misled or blinded=

I will let the matter unfold in its true form.

to see. Such plastering and over=

Paint jobs can't mislead anyone: the wrong one

The player also calls this dishonorable craft "corri-"

ger la fortune, die Buhlsschwester ihre Liederlichkei=

ten and excesses, gallantry, the Arabic

robbers fine street robbery profit from God

bescared. No vice wants to be associated with fine, true,

but always using a milder name
It may not please Mr. Beast either, that he and his fine associates were taken to the castle=
zerfschen Staatsanzeigen zum Burst gelegen, fie h  t=
governments to a kind of chastity=
Mission against the abuses of the secret Societies were urged. But where has a butt ever been?
lizeylieutenant in Paris, or a chastity=
commissioner in Vienna, so after suspicious places and dealings inquired about, as by Mr. Beasts and fine helpers after spiritual immorality, which are Protesters with the so-called Great Babylonian flag= driven from the apocalypse, he is full, into

Has he been led astray? Certainly, he's very angry about it.

will be given to him, in order to give him what others have already given him=

a

U

an honorary title of an inquisitor and general

Police lieutenants of the faith right to this
No! The only thing I can think of here with this piece is...
Mr. Beaster's still draws the reader's attention

What I have to do is this: that he is from Mr. D. Sem ler, after many reverences, at which he nevertheless does not forget to thank him for his current recommendation to add a stain to Theosophy and Alchemy= throw, says: Mr. Semler has shown that the

a very seductive Christian larva, which it (the Rosicrucians) everywhere undertake, and the pre-emptive connection against the terrible imagined naturalism, only larva and buttocks=

"Panz are used to conceal domineering plans."
Why doesn't Mr. Beaster simply say against Naturalism; why does it characterize this fo: against the terribly imagined Naturalis= Must? What does he do differently than the Na?

accept turalistery, and those who oppose the=
to rebel themselves, to blame, they confronted him
It seems terrible, since he isn't terrible? He Does beer make it so, like a fine letter writer in January?
nerstück 178 , which is also said of the Free Spirits begged that one should learn from them such horrible and frightful things=

I have imaginary ideas. Can one expect nature to:
religious figures who attribute all effects to divine revelation
of superstition, priestly fraud, or officialdom

Issue an order to put the rabble in chains.

Keep all prophecies, miracles, and secrets
denying the faith, too terrible an idea=
lungs make, if only they are true and well-founded?
and that they are this is in the writings of the Sob=
bes, Tindals, Collins, Chubb, Morgans and no ande

*

Page 46. | z -

and allegedly the means used for this purpose. 0

other completely during the day. Mr. Beast must imagine an audience that is just as ignorant
as he is himself, otherwise it's impossible that he could do something like that.
could write whatever came to mind during the day. But how exactly?
Everything he said earlier applies to him and Fine helpers! Because that's exactly what he got from the Ro= senkreuzers, whom I do not know and do not defend=
gen will, says, applies completely to the month:
writers; the seductive (Protestant) Christian larva, which they everywhere before= take, and the pre-mirrored connection
the Catholics, and those who proclaim Catholicism=
lich supporting protesters against the prote=
The static church finds only masks and bogeymen.
deistic and naturalistic planes to improve=
Gen! So much for the May piece, the monthly column.

1786. | 1 5 ö 1

The Julius piece from the year 1786. of the Monatsschrift delivers another anonymous contribution about secret societies in Protestantism Germany. But since this shameful pasque, Which Doctor Beast and the Head Waiter: Eonfiftorials Math Gedike attacked me, and which which also motivated me to finally use them as kalnmnianten and To sue defamers before their authorities, not both the alleged secret proselytizing, than me, the Rosicrucians, and Mr. von As for Gugomos; so I will refrain from mentioning this. to deal with the articles specifically intended for this purpose. Among the ten pieces of the August piece, The monthly journal of 1786 contains six articles, which are in to strike this matter; but they are, if one the first one, which was from the Count of Herz mountain touches, excludes, of little importance. In the first one, the W... dem

and allegedly the means used for this purpose. 20

The reader has already had enough of these bold claims. are known for their ignorance, of which insight= The full Count von Herzberg was rightly shown= They had claimed that the Pope not a single fine, unique claim returned= take, and from the all printed in Rome in 1782= common state calendar (certainly a splendid Do= (comment!) demonstrated that the Pope would still be in the year 1782. no king of Prussia was recognized. be"). The Minister Count von Zerzberg shows, however, that not only after the year 1782 the current Pope Pius 77. 1784 in a the brief issued to the Bishop of Culm, the Prussian= formally recognized the royal title, and alfe Clement XI protested against this in 1701. withdrawn, but that already in 1772 the Swiss King Clement AV bestowed the title Supreme upon the king mus Horussiae Dominator, and even Benedict XIV. in the years 1748 and 1758 the same the Title Monarcha Pruffiae, Elector Brandenburgi, Royal Souverain, Regia Majestas Boruffiae ges give, and that times are changing a lot). The monthly writers can therefore, as they otherwise always used to doing things where they even probably have something presently happening, so that it proves that it happened 200 years ago, in this case from what Clement XI did in 1701, to reduce the amount of money needed.

to prove that it still happens now, even though they even apparently through the mutual behavior Be= Benedict XIV and Pius VI are refuted. Wu=
If they did not know these circumstances, they spoke of Din
those they did not understand, about whom they also Monthly map 1785. Page 453. a ) Monthly Journal August 1786, page 104 ff. 5

E

104 Seeheims Profelytenmachetey,

They shouldn't have been so precocious as to declaim; they knew.
But they hid themselves; thus they acted wickedly.
There is no middle ground. – What now?
Mr. Beast against all this? Perhaps that the=
that was the learned minister of Benedict XIV.
Clement XIV and Pius VI had said, un=

rounded off, or formally cancelled again? No;

a bowl of garrulous declamation, and then He chews his cud with many references against the Mi= nister and the king, which was already the follower of the Akatbolikus von der von Clemens XI. 1701 gemach=
ten protestation had said, and that in the state=
The calendar of Rome in 1785 no longer included the Kingdom.
still the Duchy of Prussia, still the Electorates= thum Brandenburg ftehet. – But which ver=
regular readers, will, when he sees this state calendar=
the one with which Mr. Count von Herzberg of Benedict XIV, Clement XIV and Pius VI.
says, sufammenbäft, not from this but rather the verse
to draw the logical conclusion that the Roman calendar
dermacher bey dem Verzeichiß der hohen Håis, to follow in the footsteps of his predecessors in the calendar blindly directed? Everything one knows about Pius VI (Mr.
Beasts may forgive me for doing this;
I assume something of the Antichrist in the West, ba:
ben fich doch wohl die Monatsschriftsteller des Anti= (Christ's in the Orient accepted!) can be a burden,
Is this that he is concerned about the calendar maker in Rome?
not concerned enough that he gave the king his
The correct title was not given. Mr. Beaster is acting now, quite certainly, as an eighth Lutheran in this matter;
For Luther also said to those of Orlamünde:
You are swarms! You have made me an enemy!
letter (written; for you give me my right=

ten titles not! – But here I am = –

tichry

.

\ D

–

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 305

Tichrist apologizes in the Oceident. The best and Even the most attentive authorities often let slip a little something.

The Seribler. After all, in Berlin, despite everything, it has been... active attention and good organization of the
could not prevent the Prussian government from doing that Monthly writers insulted princes and nobility,
insulted those princely rabble and this brood of nobility;
This also attracted the attention of the Pope, who
in his pontifical distress he has more to do
Ben may be more interested in the calendars than in worrying about them, can easily miss that from the Roman calendar=
still use the old title of the House of Brandens
The castle was retained. So little did the magistrate to Frankfurth is responsible for this, if Mr. Joh.
Michael Ahler, Mathematician, in the fine courtyard: and Calendar attached register of the highest and high power levels, some crude blunders
That makes, so little can this old calendar sin do.
with the sentiments now expressed by the Pope
against the Royal House, the same so highly charged= (not to be!) – Mr. Beaster is still leading us
| a

4) The end of this calendar: Schnigerd is in December 1786. the monthly journal, p. 513 ff., indicated where Mr.
von Dohm, from the mouth of the papal nuncio Monsignor Pacca, the lack of oversight over things of this kind in Rome, and the incredible incorrectness

cites the calendar of that time, and the correct sentence pointed out that errors of this kind can now only be made from Negligence could be committed in Rome. And yet
Can Mr. Beaster curb his self-righteousness and his unqualified opinion?

Don't let the wiggles fall by the wayside. For in the March play 1787, p. 301
He says the Roman court no longer seems to be like that.
to act according to perfectly strict logic in order to achieve his Claim to infallibility, to be prevented from doing so, e.g.
to correct obvious mistakes, if time and circumstances allow.

u rath=

*

—

306 Secret Proselytizing,

a new fact, namely that in 1782 from
On the papal side, the protestation of Innocent X.
The West Prussian Peace was reiterated,
when one was dealing with the Roman court of King Prussia= on the certain side because of the archbishop's diocesan rights
von Colln over the Elevis lands negotiation customary, and in doing so, based on the West Prussian
"Peace is called for." What such papal pros
It is well known that testing stations are valid in our times. Who that he can't laugh about it with any of the publicists, well
He is free to weep over it. Benedict
XIV. also caused a great outcry of protest in 1755=
ben to all archbishops and bishops against the Re=

Capitals issued by the deceased Landgrave of Heffen: Caffel as hereditary prince to his fine subjects Upholding the Protestant religion against= Ben had"); but this long letter of protest

It served no purpose other than to maintain the registries
more to be with a sheet of Italian paper:
richer. Mr. Beaster, however, should be ashamed.
to only think of this matter from afar, since that Behavior of the chapter on Sanct Victor in Xan=
ten, and the Elector of Cologne against the Reformation mirten to Xanten *) these two so much honor might,

It is advisable to make this clear. He still claims that because of this.
against the Lord Count of Herzberg and Lord of Dohm, that such errors are not uncommon in modern times committed through mere negligence, and that their

The current improvement is merely a temporary fix. Who wants to?

Don't laugh about it, and at the same time, tell this man about it.

Do you sincerely regret his stubbornness?

0) Page 119. z

* S. Winkler's Anecdota Hift. Ecclef, St. 4.

Tur) S. Julius 1786. Page 517 ff.

and means allegedly used for this purpose. | 307

does, as his intolerant sentiments against the Catholics, to whom he and his followers had turned through
She also wants to incite others with her noisy outcry.
ten, to his and our centuries' shame suffice. But enough of this rant, since these two pieces of the monthly journal not particularly=
who are involved in proselytizing.

The fifth essay in this piece contains a
a so-called fraternal appeal to the superiors of the well-known Freemason systems, and is the Submitted to the publishers by an anonymous person
"been". As for my person, the author of the book on the whole of Freemasonry, which Letters of St. Nicaise and, in general, the Frey-
As far as the Masonic order is concerned in this pasquill, whose verse Fasser is even throwing around Bösricher, and which one here from Mr. Biester and Mr. Gedike
If he is attacked, then all of this should be under his control.
particular items its adequate handling find. I'm only talking about the few things here, what is here, but very clumsily, from the alleged Proselytizing occurs. And then he says
Disguised senders: With astonishment and justification
Every honest German Protestant hears about the unwillingness of the situation.
Standing from the great strides that a brood made by unknown superiors of the order, in the despicable intentions led us into the bosom of to return to the Roman Church). Who should not to be confused by this bold and cheeky claim drive together and think that 3 is a bad thing=
a malicious plan devised, the Prote=
stanten in den 1 romanes kirche zurück=

2 to=

) Page 147 ff. August 1788,
1 page ie i

308 Secret Proselytizing,

leading to this work being unknown to certain ten superiors are directed so that one can even do the Freemasons' Order mislead that already effective=
Would significant steps have been taken towards this goal?
The teacher, who only reads, and whose thing it is not to examine the whole thing precisely and thoroughly=
If he searches for such a declamation, a reads one outrageous claim after another,
finally deceived, outwitted, and ultimately lost.
brought to believe the whole Chimaera, and every
a new repetition of the same, which also indicated the intention
This can be seen as a new confirmation. Also This anonymous person does nothing but what the
- Monthly newsletter from the secret proselytesma= Cherey, her supposedly great progress, and the means that one supposedly uses for this purpose
should be repeated, and proven true and established to presuppose, and then, as one should know from fol=
can expect from such people, with offspring, nothing= Dignities and intrigues, enemies healthy= of reason and enlightenment, and Böfewich= to throw around. Whether the books really are,
which he cites as births of pupils and Af=
the allegedly unknown superiors were rightly can be viewed, and thus contribute to the predetermined secret proselytizing efforts?
will then show itself if I examine this matter myself=

- will be. Whether his prayer leaders, who first went to their Those Chimeras invented with criminal intent, their pre-= give of secret proselytizing, their fort= Having proven themselves through steps and means, everyone will impartial reader, who through the noise of the Pseudo-Protestant Zion Guards deafened, his thinking and judgment abilities still has not lost, already from this whole ä

| it

.

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 309

can judge, and what follows will change him even more.
rather, enable them to do so. Enough that the
The sender of this piece presents himself as a mere follower.
better shows, quite like the mischievous boy,
he, when he sees others of his kind as honest
A man walking down his street, cursing, and with Koth throws at her, also runs towards her, and with shouts and throws things. | |
I now come to the ninth essay in this piece, which also comes from an anonymous author= stirs, and has the inscription: Believed Inclination of the Protestants to Catholicism). Since this tendency among Protestants towards their goose
The situation can arise very easily on its own, must that they were taught to them from the outside by others,
and this essay therefore already belongs to this group=
viewpoint on the subject I am discussing here, namely for secret proselytizing. But he Does it belong here more because of others in the same place?
occurring circumstances. I will advise the author.
Follow each step one by one, and hopefully it will even bear the reader not little evidence of the elen=
the closing style of the monthly writers, their un=
honest course, and their unforgivable ignorance=
s~~ö~~enheit in the field into which she s~~ö~~ich s~~ö~~id so unvors~~ö~~ich= have let in, encounter. The author says right at the beginning: In the intention of the truly=
His inclination towards Catholicism is as much as It is now probably clear that 1) on the one hand many Catholics, and partly in a very secret way
They are proselyt hunters. Here we meet the Mo= writers are back on their old ways,
that they their dreams, their unproven tharfachen, U 3 ent=

*) Page 183 ff. August 1786. 28

x

V.

310 Secret Proselytizing,

either from themselves or from others (because
Who can stand behind anonymous essays?
whether Mr. Biester and Gedike themselves did not draft the document=

Those who are of this, themselves, as if from strangers Look, praise, and encourage further progress, and to play the trick on the audience, as if it happened=

(Is all this from others?) as realities and to praise thoroughly proven facts in order to
to throw sand in the eyes of the public, and the one who either cannot judge, or cheats

That is enough, the judgment of others before one's own.
to attract him, to bring him to the point where he thinks: it may

but there must be some truth to the matter,
Maybe I just don't see it right; here it is again.
Someone who says it's like this! – That the Catholics= are at all inclined to attempt other things to convince them of their religious opinions is There is absolutely no doubt about it. We know that.
everyone knew it long ago, without us even mentioning it.
which would have been needed for the monthly writer. That They have common ground with all religious parties. The Protesters are no less exempt from this than the Jew and the Muslim, yes, even the Nas Turalist and Deist want to convert. To this end, he writes his denials of supernaturalism, his Praise of the pure religion of reason, and what he knows how to continue. Everyone has their own way of saying "Mey".
Nungen for the best, and will, it may be out of vanity= either received out of love for humanity or out of love for humanity, also other= to win over people to his opinions. This can be the Don't be surprised by the monthly writers. Do they want to but even that others also have their Chimaera from the crypt=

to believe in Catholicism and proselytizing

They would fall, and will probably become quite evil if one [was] not be converted to their infatuation 9
a un

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 311

and make those who raise objections to them to accuse, suspicious. Raise up the pure

Deism, their creed. Why?
Certainly not that he deserves to be treated as he deserves,
abhor; but rather that one should free oneself from the yoke of Christ.
I shake off my superstitions, and convert them to the enlightened religion of reason. And they declare it a harmful opinion that the Christians opposed the freethinkers, of whom one so great ideas make, as against common Business enemies had to unite. – That the Catholics more than many other religious parties
always been inclined to proselytize,
is also one that everyone knows, and not to us
first by the new watchmen on the pinnacle of Zion,
and the famous traveling bookseller, Mr.
Friedrich Wikolai discovered truth in Berlin.
This is perfectly in accordance with the principles of their church.
According to them. They are more so than the Greek Church.
They find it more than the protesters. They are. it.
more than the Jews, who, although a far higher Opinion on their spiritual advantages as the vös.
mixed Christians have, but under deep pressure Christians must not dare to do so, so that they to reach out. But they are no more than the Mu=

Hammedans, like anyone who has visited the Orient and Muhammadanism after all saws and opera
The rations of Islam are well known.
is. They are no more than naturalism.
Anyone who cannot be convinced of this should only read...
the scandalous Christians who in our times oppose the Christianity has emerged, not from older generations
Just talk to him once, and he will find that the name
a heretical spirit that oppresses all other parties degraded, and rises above everything, in densel=

u 4 | ben

A

%

4

*

2 –

–

Ben rules, which one only. Ben old Catholic Con
 One can encounter preachers in trovation. Whoever is dissuaded from this
 If you cannot be convinced, just look at the tragedy.
 which is performed before our eyes, where scripture
 steller, who are not ashamed to be followers of
 to profess pure deism where their gonves
 Nienz requires one to get into the garment so well.
 Testific Zionist guardians hide away, as only in= more a Chinese Jesuit the clothing of a man= could attract anyone who opposed them= sets, makes suspicious, so that all tongues and Hands become paralyzed, something against them and their
 to write a hypothesis; and if Pe is not the same formally and publicly call on governments to but certainly persecute as severely as ever before from fpanis
 This can happen to the inquisitors by means of their suspicions about lawful them
 and their followers, disliked people, Inquisito=
 They prepared them, the omission of which does not affect them, fons
 to attribute solely to the wisdom of the authorities
 is. – That therefore the Catholics are to be converted Others are inclined to find, like all religious parties,
 and that they more than many other religious parties=
 who have always been inclined to do so, is, although that we only learned it from the monthly writers=
 ten, undeniable truth. Will the ver= Fasser is only claiming this when he says that
 On one side, many Catholics, and on the other hand, many Catholics.
 Partly in a very secret way, proselyte hunters are; so he is right. But then he gave us
 I don't know anything new has been announced, nothing that's happening now.
 especially to put the protesters in their armor,
 and should make them particularly aware of nothing,
 which they now more than before, and because of the Ka=
 tholics more than because of the Deisten and Natu=
 N „ rali=
 F.

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 313

This could worry radicals. But that's what he wants to avoid.

The author is not the author. The monthly magazine is intended to be a men's magazine.
 have given some of the most striking examples,
 She must have told us things that we haven't heard before.

He didn't know; things that were far from the protesters' minds.

more terrible and dangerous than anything they such formerly always had verse to the Catholics= ben may, and that they are currently still far great=
more zealous and dangerous proselytizers,
or to express my low opinion of the author=
to operate, proselyte hunters find, as before= times. This should now be clear, it should be through this,
what Mr. Biester and Gedike, their followers, Mail-postmen and postmen, and under what circumstances
falten their consorts may otherwise appear, of which have said, so proven that no one knows is subject to doubt. But here the
The audience, in turn, according to their already well-known
Art, a deceptive work, so artificial as it
The most skillful juggler can only ever do this by
when a new anonymous character is presented to the public,
who took their lack of evidence as established truth spends. Of all this, however, what the month's What writers should have done, is nothing green= det, and the anonymous person appearing here is the same=
like one who has been told by false miracle workers=
The purpose is to cry out miracles! Miracles!
so that the gathered and gawking mob
deafened by the many voices, to faith
will be swept away by the alleged miracle. It It's true, the monthly writers have given the Pur
blikum eine Menze Sachen erzählt, fie haben sich
from all angles and corners the wonderful tales=
Let them carry it out, no gossip, no Franbaafenmärchen, 0 cricket

i 5 ih=

[1

514 Secret Ptofelptenmacherey,

too bad for them; if only they believed could, she would, only furnish something, to their Intentions can serve, so they have such ones on:
taken, and the audience with decorum Importantly, it was once again emphasized. That was over.
tasty and unproven by some of the same ha=

I have already demonstrated this, and will do so subsequently.

do even more. However, they have with all their Stories and scandalous tales not yet proven= that Catholics now have larger proselyte numbers=
ge than before, and it on a very secret

rt find. It is true, you traveling postman.
asked us about secret missionaries who were in the empire,
sneaking around in Swabia and on the Rhine—
If you follow, tell me. If that were proven, what stuff?
However, it is of still ongoing very angele=
Gene secret proselytizing. Alone instead

To prove it, he asked us to head north,

to seek out those disguised missionaries.
He talked about all the secret machinations,
which were used to seduce the protesters will be. But it is merely speculative, and also not a single fact has been presented, by
to whom these machinations were carried out and which pros
The test was thus won. It has been said that Seminars for the conversion of Protestants
det, and us thereby half news for whole, and old things served up for new ones, yes, that from the Emperor there=
mals als über von Herrn Nikolai und Siester

so loud was the cry, his destruction already so near= 7

be, and now truly lifted by the Emperor Ser
minarium in Linz, whose introduction to religion=
cashier beaten, so important and dangerous before—
as if it were still the saddest Apo=
...among the protesters. One has

1 * ,of

1

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 31

They spoke of Jesuits and secret societies, and with a more than Kabbalistic interpretation= and

Decipher art from the same secret Catholics=
mus and spread of Catholic principles=

I tried to tuck the horns in; but as I have already partly said

I have shown, and will show much more, nothing Herwiesen. A fairy tale has been told of a woman from beynahe 23, 000 Menschen bešönden, und zum Society active on behalf of the papacy in Silesia

Society written into the world, so bold and

It's outrageous that even the monthly writers themselves felt that they would be accused of the biggest lie, and therefore appointed to the same, they did not want to be there=
to stand for; but from this the Prussian state important because of the stated money smuggling=

There is nothing in society for the benefit of the papacy - proven. It has been proven without the slightest proof, the current tolerant sentiments of the Ka= tholiken explained as deception words and lures

and the Emperor's Edict of Tolerance already in the beginning beginning of the year 1783, from his power, since it still exists today, and from which sublime philanthropist against all machinations
the adversaries are powerfully preserved, and daily=

Several benefits were bestowed upon the Protestants.
spreads. Mr. Beast, if one pressed him, how cheap it was that he should say everything, to deal with it apologizes for only telling a story with gaps and could provide fragments, but which still contain the pure blikum should be considered a whole. Mr. Beast has, when he faces the realities of the dangerous Proselytizing should prove that one should focus on it.

call that it be possible; where of present
When it came to tiger proselytizing, he told us
As a reference to the present! in long ago verse gan

916 Secret Profelpftenmachetey, gone, yes, already over 200 years away =

ten gefüßret: ja Hr. Biester hat sich fogar, bey
his evidence for the secret prosecution

tenmacherey, real false interpretations of the
the places he attracted, and the cheekiest
To be guilty of spreading falsehoods. One in January 1785, a novel by a Deacon of the world presented to the secret Ma= Chinese nations for the benefit of Catholicism through this to prove, so clumsily invented, as if only one he=

can be found, and in all urgent cases=

The monthly writers never made demands there.
to be brought, to preserve this legend=
He was asked to speak to a Protestant God.
taught a fourth-class Jesuit who

to be used for missions, made possible by this.

under all circumstances even physically impossible
was, as I later, where I witnessed this malicious disgrace= who wants to bring fairy tales to light, to convincingly demonstrate
I will. They asked – but what good is all this to me?
Are you already calculating the negster here? Read, audience, and if you still want to use your judgment,
and the Berlin Zion Guards haven't told you yet their Inquisition torch burned out their eyes=
Ben, judge for yourself whether it is true what the Author of this essay, right in the beginning

Fange says? Rather, everyone will be unbiased.

Man must confess that from the monthly magazine=
stellers, the proselyte mass they have specified= cheren not proven, but such a Gordonia=

de, or Biestriade is, and that, if one the

can judge Catholics according to their attitudes,
which they are currently using against the protesters

begin, the proselyte-making spirit is very much with them has fallen into decline. Because tolerance and 15
. sely=

*

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 317.

Selyte-makers are neighbors who are impossible to deal with.
can stay home together for a long time.
The sender goes on to say that it's been fine so far.
Clearly, 2) on the other side there are many protesters=
stanten, and partly for very strange reasons=
those who lean towards the Roman church. If
To lean towards Catholicism means that the Protestants, however, criticized the Roman Catholic Church for such a thing.
hold, which is wrong in very many of its teachings, with burdened with much useless junk, with many problems needs are fulfilled, and in all their parts a Improvement in the spirit and sense of the Gospel
is very needy; but that she is not yet a
The Church is anti-Christian because, according to John, only the one who
An anti-Christian is one who denies that Jesus was Christ.
It has become clear that the Catholic Christians do not find those who bear the sign of the Thiers from the abyss to bear to himself, that a in A Catholic raised according to the prejudices of his church, who lives a godly life, and to Christ as his Redeemer
who turns, can be blessed just as well as a Protestant, since everyone who fears God and justice
what he finds agreeable: that one sees the Catholics,
if they are equally weak, and in many parts to err, yet must love as a brother; if that
The tendency of Protestants towards Catholicism
If it bites, then the author is absolutely right.
Thank God for such inclination towards the Ka= tholicism, the spirit and meaning of the Evangelical mås, who do not look to churches or sects, but all of us as children of One God, as He= Sole One Christ, we like Apollonian, Pauline,
To be Kephistic, to consider, means to think about something quite general.
My own has become among us. The polemics and

The heretics, like all fashions, enjoyed a fine evening -
u ben: only among those who are Protestantism
| en

+

313 Secret Proselytizing,
The Deisten has the persecutioner and persecutor.

The spirit of spring has now set up its residence. Yes!

such inclination of the Protestants towards the Catholic Church
The author does not understand the church: for in it was= nothing reprehensible, and therefore nothing to us Something new has been said. It should lead to superstition.
ben, heresies, abuses of the Roman Church,
to the Pope and hierarchy, and how the rubrics
again may be called, a real inclination at have crept in; and that this is really and not fabricated, not merely conjecture, but The undeniable truth is, should be from the month=
writing, which contains a lot of striking features=

Examples have been given until it is clear. –

But if someone else shows up here again right away;
It may be one of the editors of the monthly magazine
Yourself, or truly be someone else, and miracles!
Miracle! cries out; but that's not why it's true,
Rather, there is a double "us" in this assertion.
Truth. I have already stated this in the preceding text.
has shown that we protesters, after all our literary, political and religious days us ins further away from the Roman church. White greater distance and closer inclination towards a
The matter, however, is surely connected in a broader sense.
The last contradiction. And assuming it were all true,
what the Berlin monthly writers and their con=
varieties of what is still among the protesters
a tremendous great inclination towards the marvelous and Superstition has said, how could that be?
It is known that there is still a long way to go in terms of enlightenment among us.
has not come nearly as far as some had hoped.
wish; for the monkey, from whom
in the monthly magazine itself there is such a beautiful fable, not yet the whole with the torch of enlightenment

8 "Forest

+

and the means used thereto. 319

Ad lit; what follows from that? Is it then all inclination towards the marvelous, towards superstition,

to fanaticism, therefore inclination towards Catholicism=

Must? If the monthly writers don't-were miserably ignorant, they would know that an immense amount of what gives them their inclination to Sense Catholicism, from very devout pro=

testifiers, who were very far removed from the Roman Church were removed, assumed is what I was talking about in the following, since I am once condemned to do with Little dwarfs in knowledge and giants in shouting to

to argue, to their shame and instruction enough
I will teach it. Even from the one of fo vies len misuses already cleaned and the evan=

Gelish simplicity more approaching the Catholic Church

in the imperial states the Protestants still a world away. Anyone who only knows both churches to compare and contrast with each other

If it is, it is therefore already considered an untruth=

ben müssen, dass der Verfasser sayt, viele Prote=
The stalls leaned towards the Catholic church.
And what are the strange reasons, from which Could this happen? - But it is supposed to This tendency is now already clear from the monthly magazine.
fein, es 0in n n of them a lot of the striking= Examples have been given that are not at all
To cast doubt on it further. The same old pattern again.

Because Caius tells a lie, and Titius runs up to him.
and says it is true, because he is either from Cajus

is duped, or in the lie his account
It is found; therefore it is true! Audience, what a Your enlighteners are playing a trick on you! And

What a lot of examples do the Mo~~=~~ have?

natural writers taught, who taught these at all Ders
ten self-refuting neons~~=~~
gung

|

The postman didn't pretend either.

930 Secret Prosecution,
except for the Protestants' conversion to religious activism.
To sow doubt? It is true, the protesters in

In some Brandenburg cities, the Catholics

for a few hours a year their churches to God~~=~~
testdienfte eingeräumt. Sind sie denn darum zum

Catholicism inclined? The Oberconsistory has

"This was well received: is therefore the Supreme Consistory Are they inclined towards Catholicism? The canons of St. Victor in Xanten, the Elector of Cologne ha~~=~~
ben ein Gleich den Reformirten getach, an meh~~=~~
In these places *) this is from Catholics to Protestants~~=~~
They had practiced; did they therefore turn to Protestantism?
Inclined? The traveling anecdote collector in January.
178 5 the Mon. has told us that in not we~~=~~

Some Protestant countries reject Catholicism from the intrude in the most egregious way. But that his claim tung true and not a chimera or even a bos~~=~~

It's a complete fabrication, he didn't tell us that either.
a single example is appropriate: not a single one~~=~~

proof that milder Catholicism, ge:
not to mention Catholicism of the worst kind, in any Protestant country, in a city, yes
had only penetrated one village. Is it possible that... that one relies on a claim that has not been proven at all=

baupfung of an unknown anecdote collector et=
What can be built? – Precisely this wandering letter=

Steller told us that it happened to quite a few Protestant great men already too much ge= lungs, their inclination towards Catholicism to teach. But although our Protestant
It is not easy to count the great lords in Europe;

with

Ø Schleddehaus in Osnabrück. See Frankfurter Ri=
Stretto 1787 vom zoten Januar. ö ü

1

*

and the means allegedly used for this purpose. Tsar proved it with a single example. If he were... an honest man and not a presumptuous foreman=

senfchänder, like the one who did that with the vote=
the excellent Princess of Anhalt-Dessau invented and for blatant lies, Public: declared scandalous tale= had he scattered his pretense, so he would have his pretense he= must know. But since this did not happen, so
Is this a fine assertion, a cheeky prince-rascal?
Sches Pasquill. – This very letter writer says
also that it happens occasionally and especially in Wealthy protesters and even Protestants
There are preachers who are supposed to be secretly Catholic.
But of all these, not a single example is of the

*

322 Secret Prosecution Workshop,

to be consecrated= But still they have

Monthly writer returns under all sorts of pretexts= pulled, if they have this fairy tale – folk

len. – It is true, the monthly writers have

among the so-called secret societies
under the Order of Divine Providence, under the Society for the "Promotion of Pure Doctrine, Mor

senkreuzers, Freemasons, and friends and bear

They want to find supporters of Catholicism. But their Bewdeife müßten jeden nur etwas nachdenkenden Le= even if he wasn't at all under the influence of those things is already established because of the ubiquitous ten consequences and the self-invented

become suspected of new decryption skills; and who
Those who cannot yet grasp this will find themselves in the folly.

can convince them of the amount of debris. It

That's true, Mr. Biester asked, as his correspondent said.

In January 1785, nine princes were named, who became Catholic in order to bring about the current New Age=
The conversion of the Protestant great men to Catholicism

to prove licism. But his most recent examples find of 30 and several years, and partly already dead; indeed, he wasn't even ashamed of it.

current inclination of the Protestant princes to cite such people as Catholicism, who have been around for 100 years and died 200 years ago; and what one finds at a man who... such very fine justice here

and criticizes love of truth, probably not suspected should, but which made him, in the eyes of all righteous people,

nen Leute als einen vorfällige: Lügner brandmar=

Ken must, he asked. He brazenly claimed that it now worked.
individual states and princes to the Pope=
to return, and that he will do this in April= piece demonstrated, not just an unprovenance, since

for the

no human being this vob. now truly "as

-- -- --

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 323

State that converted to Catholicism

not only knows princes and princes, but also an untruth=

in the sense that he refers to places, where he claims to have proven, in which he also did not

has proven the slightest thing, but partly already
two hundred years of decaying princes lead us,

What should really happen from this now?

to derive from chen. – So what did the manufacturers have:
ten of the monthly publication, their submissions, letter writers, Delivered by postman? Erwan striking Bey= games, as the author says? No, nothing but Us proven works and a web of the most outrageous lies!!
Is it still possible to claim that it is clear that ftp the protestants to the Roman church=
gen? But what does the author want with his app?
pendir say? when he adds: but also that,
What is believed to be known about this is important.
tig, gesetz auch dies Geglaubte s0elbft Fey: irrig.
What is this belief? The chimera of the be=

They praised the traveling bookseller Nikolai, and the?

Monthly writer and associates from Kryšto Ka= Tholiism and secret proselytizing? What
For a value you place on these people, you set them up,
even their chimeras, their imaginings,
However erroneous their fabrications may be,

The world should be important! Do you want to say something like this?

that, even if it were all untrue, those of theirs:
But what purpose does a widespread untruth serve?
to draw the attention of protesters; to err is not an option.
vast. If ever the Catholic Christians in the
To mechanize something against the protesters in the future:
should be able to, these latter will certainly be able to Pay less attention to all warnings: because they have in Our times provide an example of how little the spread with even more confidence
1 | X 2 To=

—

\

124 Secret Profelpfenmaceren,

It's important to trust the news. But it remains crucial to...

From another perspective, this whole matter. Because they delivers a horrific scene in our enlightened and the century, which wants to be tolerant, "it delivers contribute to the German heresy

and Inquisition, of which no Benffigl

asked, and for the memory of her name to last a long time,
but to their unforgettable shame on the night=
To bring company, the bookkeeper Ni= kolai, and Mr. Gedike and Beasts, no more could choose a more skillful means than that one is. which we have chosen.

egg

The author continues: So they believe

9) some protesters, that now from the Ka

The spirit of conversion at the Catholic church no longer has anything to fear.

—

ten say: an opinion that, unfortunately, is not green det, and perhaps even the intentions of the converts be can promote. Undisputedly, the author has pointed to beer.

Mr. Garve was taken into consideration, which right:

The man first created the heck, the Behgup

The Monday writers' observations revealed important reasons to oppose; for Mr. T- y is this Sei tenblick, as we see it in regard to the same,

I'm used to monthly writers finding it far too mild.

But I can leave it to everyone to judge for themselves.

So whether one has the opinion that now from the Bekeh

The spirit of Catholicism for Protestantism

Tism no longer has anything to do with it. Fear be, a hunger.

could call founded Meynung if we Lon

on the one hand, we ask about our political, Velis,

giösen and literary situation ever further away from that.

Catholics are being driven away, while Catholics are being driven away from the
on the other hand, ever more tolerant and enlightened

become, and the former proselyte-making spirit.

You can see them getting progressively smaller, and if.

5 men

*

8 7 r

"and means allegedly used for this purpose. 325

man, to protect ourselves from the opposite of all this-witnesses, nothing but empty shouting, declamation, unproven claims, old long-forgotten ones, on

History that is no longer applicable in our times=

to present, yes, fairy tales, lies and women's gossip.
Bringing white. But it promotes this opinion.

the alleged intention of the supposed converts; oh!

Certainly, what the monthly writers wrote, especially sorted out infinitely more, and the letter writer

In January 1785, the possible Roman Enmissarien, if they ever become Protestants= want to "faithfully employ all means and methods."
"shows how they may begin to gain entry to "find. - And is it founded, what the verse barrels from the book Revelation of the System
The world citizen republic says that enlightenment, and

Freethinking, and unbelief in secret Jesus=

ten is needed to help the protesters=
ren; one should almost think that this partisan

the Free Spirits in the January issue of the monthly journal

be affiliated with the Jesuits, for he "shows them all
"Doors and entrances, by which they form a

"can sneak, and various of the same find

"could think easily." – |
The author further asserts: On the other hand

"those that Protestants and Catholics do not agree on

4) Some Catholics believe that most Protesters already in the heart of the Roman church
who are devoted: an opinion that thank God

is not founded, but the way of thinking is... ner Parthey shows. – Unite, whoever can, This
The contradictions that occur in so few lines!

It should be illustrated by a number of the most striking examples

Those who gave the monthly publication should be clear that many protesters are through the Roman Church
ö | 3 incline,

U

5 N

*

n

barrel, must surely be for the own

"
" he)

tend, and again it should not be founded,

that most protesters already in the heart of

are devoted to the Roman Catholic Church. If some Catholics believe this about the Protestants, sd

do they believe that they are turning to the Roman Church?

If they tend to believe, they only believe what the Mo=
natural script shown by a lot of examples ha=

ben should, since not only princes were devoted to Catholicism tends, but also many protesters even go home=
They should be devoutly Catholic. And yet, that is precisely what they should be.
What the monthly writers say, sure, and that's it.
this at the same time, if Catholics believe it, in order to

It should be founded. One and the same thing should therefore be established.

to be and not be at the same time, true and false at the same time,

To be founded and yet unfounded? Is it
It is possible that a wicked evil spirit might emerge in the world.
can they? – And these, if they are the monthly Writers say what they have learned as true, and when they Catholics also claim or imagine that

Opinions accepted as untrue should be considered.
The way that party was betrayed! What a shame!
The man guessed! She betrayed that the Catholics...They imagine such unfounded things.

can, as the protesters. Some protesters imagines that the emperor is a good Protestant, because He tidies up; some Catholics may imagine that

The Protestants were inclined towards the Roman Catholic Church, because they no longer consider the Pope to be the Antichrist in "Keep the Occident, the Roman one. God's service, when only some trinkets fall away, for edifying and fey=

Look at each other honestly. What are they both doing? Behyde bil=

to imagine things that are not there, and are mistaken.

grossly.

A party that thinks like this, 1 Ver=liche m.

U.N

0 -

1. 9232

and allegedly serving means. 227
and in every reasonable and natural way
to be recognized mother church, from which

Some are still separated in their hearts, though some are still separated.
but they are already fond of her, and certainly after=

They will always be their confessors. Oh! the very Shaling, very sloppy declamation! Also We Protestants actually consider ourselves to be the true

from everyone who thinks rationally and biblically=

a recognizing church, and see Catholicism as Degeneration of original eighth Christianity
on. If we now see that in Catholic States are really being cleaned up, and one=
Some among us will conclude from this that some Catholics liking the evangelical teaching already in one's heart=
than are, and certainly next their public
To become a confessor; is that why this idea exists?
True, and what harm does it do to Catholics? So

Conversely, the Roman may appear a thousand times more
The party flattered them by saying that they were the mother= church be, may some from our God alleviate
They imagine thoughts and behaviors against them, that some Protestants convert to Catholicism in
be devoted to hearts, and nextly fine public
They would be confessors; what have we gained from their
Is the delusion of the Mother Church to be feared? And is it therefore their imagination of the inclination of the Pro= test subjects to Catholicism, and that they will soon would publicly confess, right? – Hiebey fins which we give a note, entirely to the taste of those,
the Mr. Beaster formerly to the French motto=
Mr. I had scribbled on the ko of Mr. I. It bites:

Just like a large part of the ruling class
Christian Church about the oppressed and tolerated=
ten Jews think. The Catholics still tolerate us.
ken. A fine beast! It is wrong that 2 | | XK 11 one

we would only be tolerated by the Catholics *).

328 Secret Prosecution,

a large part of the vast Christian Church

I think of the oppressed and tolerated Jews, they be devoted to Christianity in their hearts, and

= would certainly next fine public Belens

We will become. If only wretched Motenmas had helped us:
Who said that, who thinks like that? That there were people, and there is still one that comes from a passage in the letter to the Romans, of a unique general Jewish conversion, indeed even of a general hysteria conversion to Christianity is pleasant

We know how to form ideas; but that someone should imagine that the Jews are already devoted to Christianity in their hearts, and would

to publicly acknowledge this at the earliest

We know nothing yet about ridiculous imaginings. Hits

The music maker gave us this new kind of Swarms have made it known! That's not how it is either.
True, when he says: the Ka still tolerate us= Tholics, and here, therefore, the protesters with the oppressed and tolerated Jews assembled, whether
One should consider how pitifully fine Simile limps.
Since we were not at all in the Roman Empire
not merely tolerated in a low sense, but a just as legitimate and fully valid a church as the Catholic one is; so one cannot say of us,

and

1) Should Catholics seriously tolerate this expression?
If they use it against us, we answer them: Exactly so.
We tolerate you well! Because in JPO Art. VII,

:g. 2. in fine fsteht: Sed praeter Religionès fupta nominatas
nulla alia in facro Imperio Romano recipiatur vel toleretir-
and the fupra nominatae religiones were the Protestants= fche and the Latholisch. It therefore says Pertfcb de Comgodis quae ex Pacificatione Westphal. in Theologian redunda-

16

e and dal allegedly serving Mltel. 349

and compare ourselves to the mercenary Jews. Kane

te der Notenmacher die ganze gefgesetz und reichs mää |

The state of the protesters in Germany
No; he was talking about things he didn't even know existed.
He has no concept of it. But if he knew it, then he is

Yes, a malicious liar who only wanted to fool the protesters.
tine n EUREN zugefidenhet), um =

5

under p. 11. Tolerontia itmque adprobatum religionum fuit

aprico est, aegue Catbolicor tolerari inter Proteftantes, ach hi inter illos, Eft tolerantia; fed talis, que ex lege public debetur, adeoque nulla plane ratione impugnari poste.

9 What else Or. Nikolai wants for tolerance is stated
| in fine tires, see volume p. 110. Believe everyone, what
He will, if he is only a good citizen of the state!

This is true tolerance. It seems to annoy him that the emperor did not also explicitly mention the Edict of Tolerance by name has expanded the ranks of Deists and Naturalists; why would

he usually has to deal with the fact that what

The emperor did not do true tolerance? Is it coming?
but it depends on what Mr. Nikolai means by that Does it even matter what? Eighth Tolerance
Be! And where does it say that, after the German states... ten have so far been the true land of intolerance, such now in one minute to the residence of the eighth to= Tolerance is to be abolished? Enough, the great Kapfer has already done a great deal for the good of our faith.
Brothers have done. He does more every day, as far as he is able.
always those deeply rooted in his states=
"One may thank God" according to archaic maxims.
that he didn't want to force everything at once. Therefore
He wisely prevented any potentially harmful effects that might otherwise have been discovered

Revolutions, what for according to Mr. Nikolai's description

Calholicism, Rome's beer-architectural foundations and

j

30 SGchelne Proselptenmachetey «
To make Aatboliren gebäßt and verdüchtig. And Where are the protesters in Germany now?

Jews the same? In! Protestant states certainly not, that goes without saying.
Even the music maker would have to be informed by the h mi=
then Inquisitions of the Devils and their attack=

fen auf das Christenthum ,allgemein reden wol=

Ten. So probably in Catholic countries. This will now probably according to the degree of enlightenment, on Catholics are very different in their views on this.

Have they in unenlightened Catholic areas

They still suffer much; however, they have
For better-thinking Catholics, a good fate.
The Elector of Mainz has Protestant pro-
Professors appointed at the university: where can Jews be found?
appointed as professors at Christian universities=
appoints? The emperor pays the following from his treasury.
Members of the Evangelical Consistory: where ges
Does this happen in a Christian state, that one...

Jews, their country, rabbis, etc. from the State Eccario is paid? How pathetic is that?

whole note! Eu ra

1 The author continues: The party, which

who thinks, acts according to its principles, when they are the most eager institutions to receive these WVerlierten meets, who (in their opinion)

already looking for the warm and comfortable longing for the womb, and the reasoning of Protesters, who, like Mr. Garve, are from the current way of thinking of Catholics themselves=

zen diminished proselyte spirit conclude to d r=

Be fen

the enterprising monastic scourge would have been able to feyn kön=

Ii nen, and which ultimately makes Protestantism more ver=

"Goals as if we had won."

4 a

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 331

They believed that this completely changed the house.

These good-natured men knew the

not the current way of thinking of Catholics, and can=

nen über katholische Sachen nicht gegen Katholi=

(can witness themselves). Do Catholics act like this?

according to principles and reasonably, as

The author says that if they are the most eager

Make arrangements to receive the lost,

who, in their opinion, already look after themselves

the warm and comfortable mother's womb

nen; that is certainly how the protesters act, who

a similar chimera from the Catholics into their heads

have set, not at all according to their principles and

It is unreasonable that they do not lead to the conversion of the fi

Catholics already inclined towards Protestantism

most diligent preparations; and, in order to also include the

To commemorate the music maker, the large part deals with the ruling Christian church, which is precisely that believes that the oppressed and tolerated Jews are very unreasonable and contrary to his principles, that he not approaching, and those who are already looking for the Christians=

that turns Jews yearning in their hearts into Christians.

But the author wants to show us that the Claim of zealous Catholic institutions

for the conversion of the Protestants, not one from the

A chimera plucked from thin air, but so well-founded,

that the Catholics themselves are unreasonable and contrary to their faith=

re principles would act if they did not such Institutions met. Certainly, this is a very important one.

Argument! But what is it based on? On pure empty imagination. – But surely they must,

even if their belief is only an illusion, according to them=

according to principles and in a reasonable way such an approach

n ffalten

1 7 0 x

g 1
\)
!

333 Secret Proselytizing,
Pe j

Figures meet. – Good! Doing must, should and

There are many different things that actually need to be done. After the Music makers also had to deal with those who were so influenced by the Jews.

all institutions for their Bekeh= thinking Christians

Run to meet. Is that why? Which person,
Anyone who has learned even a little logic will understand the argument

to accept: Because Catholics imagine that Protestants tended towards Catholicism, fo
They must do everything for their conversion; and

because they had to do it, so they did it effectively=
lich, and everything that tells us about the acceptance of the pro

convinced of the selyte-making spirit among Catholics,

That's not true, and what the monthly writers of secret proselytizing, say, alone green=

Oh, logic! Surely such an argument was worthwhile.
to be contrasted with the philosopher Garve,

and then to exclaim that his reasoning was superior

Heaps have fallen! But, the good-natured men!
ner follen die aktuelle Denken der Katho= (Like, don't know). From the monthly journal

ssteller erudition, of their knowledge of the current=

Mr. Nikolai also says that Mr. Garve said that he

the current Catholicism, the current spirit of Catholicism=

I do not know the lifen religion, in the 7th volume, p. 105 and 119 in the notes, and he urges him to do the P. Lorenz to read through Veit and other rambling writings, about the most nonsensical claims made in the year Xilten=

hundreds could not be worse, and that the Catholics

The religion has not yet changed; find out for yourself.

But where did Mr. Garve ever claim that there wasn't still in = contemporary Jesuit and other Catholic authors

Disgusting, stupid, bigoted stuff and the old ultramontanes=
Do certain principles occur? Don't push him, Mr.

Waste paper underneath? That's all Garve claimed:
the

N ne |

Nikolai deliberately made such a claim as if it were a

1. -
. f
2 8 . R ee

1 -

a *

and means that significantly contribute to this. 333

ger and past occupation of the Catholics and Protesters, have given us this monthly writer

fubst has already given such wonderful evidence that it
It is not necessary to say anything more about this.

For if such people still possess knowledge
They want to talk, those who already show blatant ignorance.

o piele samples have delivered ze denn is it better
in silence. "11

Yes, in the main subject, namely the strange passages which the author Diefes;

Essay in the Denine Leitexe Brandenburg-Hessian,

Page 35 found, and presented to discerning readers.

We want to do not only for Denina, but also for Denina.
to follow everything the author says with the utmost precision,

dos Dane Yonferunge binzufetzet. Denina
Report of the lively gangs of the. Censorship in Tu=
8 „“ bi,
Carholicism, taken as a whole, is our
The advantage has changed somewhat; at most, it wouldn't be bad.
More than he had been before. By our enlightenment.
But don't be the same as before, or at least not the same.
There is a greater danger. And that is a truth.
(who does not dispute any Nikolai-like Beast-like nebulization)
can. But Mr. Nikolai, who elsewhere himself has noticed that we are 200 years behind in the Enlightenment
are ahead of the Catholics, who themselves through fine:
"General German Library: The Theology of the Protestants." who wanted to cheer himself up so much, and against that in us,
key principles and values of the Catholic Church
They know nothing but stupidity, blatant bigotry, and nonsense.

"Anyone who can find should be ashamed of pretending or to fear that our current protesters will be influenced by the most nonsensical claims of the Jefuites and others
Gaelic scribblers would be misled. / There

1. Their understanding would then have to be buried deep beneath the surface.

Nonsense has sunk to such a low! !!! REN DR

% Secret Peofeiptentmädhenen, " ©
rin, and says that these are in the Protestant Can't find the change, so I'm adding: Will

Once Catholics will be free from this, To become the Lutherans find it much easier to conform to the

to recognize the Pope, against whom they do not so disapprove=
I actually find it, as one commonly believes. Me!

doesn't even want to bring up the possibility that the Words: much easier to submit to the Pope

to acknowledge, to say more than the Italian expression= pressure: troveranmb pin Vaeilnente a vitonnofcere if Dad. Enough. Denina tells us two pieces here.
1) the Lutherans will become, if the Catholics

no longer have to deal with the annoying censorship; it's easier 5 find the Pope any recognize, and 2) they are 9

not as averse to the Pope as one might commonly think=
He believes. What the first thing concerns, so much trouble!
Denina, such a beautiful state history he wrote=
ben, and of so many academies he is a member That's bad theological insights. Is it perhaps the annoying Cenfuk, 155 the Protestants from the Romans Mixed church and scared off by the Pope? How about wes nig had to denina. Protestantism ken= nen! The multitude of erroneous doctrines that fi), have crept into the Roman church, which one= Numerous superstitions and the countless of a kind that prevails in the same, however much one may

in some places it starts to clean up, that's it what the Protestants said, as long as philosophy still existed and thed-logical scholarship flourishes among them,

always being distanced from the Roman Church, one
You can say what you want, and the Proreftans Incidentally, ten might also like Pe still according to | fee from the ie Bu The yoke of the

| De We geile
9 Page 146. Bar a

* 4 R - 4 .
7
- - - - - no - - — ä -

N

and: then aagebech dlenehde means. 23

deiftüchen Defpotismus and the hierarchy that I

the rights of the Protestant princes forever

The immediate power of the Pope will be seized!

always make them reluctant, even if they are against
no longer the monstrous concepts of him
have, which their ancestors made of him!
Denina is telling us something here that is unnatural, or

A mere figment of his imagination. He himself. Unknown. The whole thing.
The situation of things was made / and the vin each · the

who knows things better, curse, and for some completely unfounded, i.e., coming into reality.

Imagination will and must be maintained: – In view of

of the second piece, that the protestants to the Denina is mistaken in finding the Pope not so averse.
fo: very, or at least closes very crookedly. It is
It is true that the protesters are largely not now more the ideas of the Pope that one still had in the last century, since it was associated with the Great Turk in parallel, put it, and him for the Antichrist in the West held ideas of whom one might believe in Italy!

Protestants still have, but they are certainly among the Most of those who were enlightened have long since disappeared.

who are. And does this not mean the Pope anything?
be inclined, as is common in Italy

because Denina writes to fine traditional friends

If he believes that, then Denina is right. But because of this to alleviate, to conclude ideas that the Proter

stans would find it easy to approach the Pope=
Thinking is far too closed off, it is enclosure.
the. great ignorance in the whole: Verfassung ver=

rãth. Mr. D. Rostnmüller also doesn't want any more.

DNS tied fingen let: Preserve us Lord hey your Word, and tax of the Pope and Turk murder,

who want to overthrow Jesus Christ, your son
. | don

*

%

3

8 A

*

1c Secret Ptofelgumachtrey ,

from his throne. Is he therefore inclined to be pay

To recognize? Just as inclined, as to recognition.

of the Mufn! Melanchthon went much further than the
those who currently experience this most mildly among the Patrons of the Pope think, and added to be

vee signature under this Srwölkaldish Ketifel

I added the following: I approve of Philipp Melanchthon
the preceding articles, as pious and Christian lich. But I maintain that the Pope, when he allowed the gospel to bring peace
and for the general peace of Christians, who are already under him, and will be in the future

become the supreme authority over the bishops,

which he already has according to human rights, too (which we can grant). How much Melanchthon and Luther's noble house were located here fe am Reformation works, even if Luther and others did not think so, the Roman bishop
One! More than any protester in all has granted the following times. Certainly, Denis Na knew the freedom of conscience of the protestants.
and the advantages for their princes not at all, if he

Years of more moderate sentiments about the Pope could extend so far that he imagined 'they would easily recognize him. And the Manatßs writer, if you get from this ridiculous impression dung of the Italian who didn't know the matter at all

Making so much of a fuss shows them to be very uncertain.
send | . 7 de een

But Denina continues: I have here (in Saxony) Protestant clergy and also to the People, not clergy, are often heard talking about it.
What about? they have so clearly stated *
i 2 9 1 8 . > ist

10 Seckenderf Hist. Lutkeranifmi, L ihr NI. pag., 63.
\
{

and then allegedly serving means. 227

Is that proof that they are just as little of the Sa=
She was as knowledgeable as Denina. And that is 'Not something so unheard of, since our ascent'
Listeners. Even talking about things they don't even know.
who can stand. – But who can escape the reluctance,
to refrain from laughter when he sees that the ver=
barrel of this essay to Denina's words in ice
He added a parenthetical remark: so the clergy, as more inclined, even preceded! These laments!
This personal remark is entirely in the spirit of the Lord.
Beasts, that one almost a juramentum Cre=
who wishes to place the entire essay on it.
be his work. Because the Italian abbot,
at which the clergy always preside over the Lay=
and have priority, the clergy first,
Are the clergy more inclined than others to
To recognize the Pope. Can one get poor?
Seliger's thoughts? Someone had to be mentioned first.
seyn. Denina would this sophisticated note=
The maker had not escaped notice, he held forth, whom he wanted. For if he had first had a non-spiritual person.
called che, fo. it would have been called: so also already
This inclination towards the Pope has spread among the people.
widespread, and very far, because they are advanced=
Sit down! – These are probably eight pure ones.
reyn!
Denina further says: Some people wish I had her,
Latin excluded, the Roman God= N serves as a more festive (piu decoroso)). That some the exterior of the Roman god's service to view as more solemn and inspiring to devotion, as the one that in some Protestant countries
If it is a lead, it can even be N. But if it comes from that

Deni=

2 6. 197.

97

—

225 Secret Proselyte Search,

Denina concludes that the protesters already...
Roman worship, Latin only,
should wish, so here too his in
His education is too broad, and he draws such incorrect conclusions.
when he was just now from the more lenient judgments of the prosecution testament from the Pope concluded that they could easily change him=

would know. Latin is just as little known.

what we know primarily from the Roman worship service holds us back, as it is the annoying censorship that holds us back from will be withheld from the Pope's recognition.
So, once again, empty fantasies about Denina's
A page born of complete ignorance of the matter. — This

However, the author of the essay adds a completely different point.

an edifying remark added in a parentheses, which to all Christian souls for their awakening and A warning is strongly advised, and whereby fie
even if they so choose, to sigh with him to be able to expel. To do that, he says, of course.
Unfortunately! Several Protestant clergymen, some of them probably only due to thoughtlessness, but also due to secret intentions, as presumably Mr. P. Drey= Torn and Mr. D. St. — Whoever has several per= are testamental clergymen, some of whom are from Un= deliberation, partly for secret reasons, the wish to serve the Roman God, as a solemn

I leave it to the author to decide what he wishes.
an honest man, and not a malicious verse

lãumder is, to show. What Mr. Deacon
As for Dreykorn, I can leave it to him myself.
to defend oneself against this spiteful attack=

gen, or the editors of the monthly journal because of dieses Pasquills auf ihn, vor ihrer Foro zu belan=

I just want to talk about myself here: because I am probably supposed to be Mr. D. St.
be, of whom the author speaks. And who asked Me dem
f |

—

4

*

| | and allegedly the means to that end. 939

I told the author what I wanted and didn't want.

wish? Who told him that pathetic lie?
brought, I wish the Roman God's service
as a solemn one? which he contrasts with a true pasque.
which attacks me. Out of thoughtlessness, to wish for it=
fchen, on the other hand my theological mind would probably like me

Knowing, however small it may be, is appropriate.

Make sure. For secret reasons.
wish, I hereby declare for such a clumsy,

erase, smeared lie and slander, as only one can always be invented, just like the one from the crypto I'm accused of; Ka= Christianism and Jesuitism, from which the whole world,

when I talk at length about myself,

will be clearly convincing. And Mr. Beast and Gedike, the two editors of the monthly journal

Beer is once again being used as an attacker of a shameful Pasquills. But the author probably says.

Now I leave it up to every person of law.
Creativity, to judge whether it is an honest hand!
work is, assumptions that make another one look= to spread it throughout the world? But so that in

I want to ensure that nothing remains of this whole matter.

Just pretending to be the Roman God=

tes dinst als feyerlicher, fo anfezen, als eb der Ver=

Faffer had only said that I was also one of those who

the Protestant service of solemn wishes

ten, and those the outwardly solemn: at the Roman
I am pleased with the services of God, and therefore my Lord

I want to say what I'm talking about.

me, as far as I can remember, in my writings
I didn't explain, without me just putting beer in the compartment
of Christian antiquities and God's service
To immerse oneself deeply in the bees. That would only be a problem.

Alleged work should be: 8g according to what Mr.

2

1244 Bie= f

U

—

1

24 Scheme profelpfenmachere,

Beast once calculated what the Pope had done |

If one should have found, one can probably see that he...
deym Studium der kirchlichen Alterhümer und Ge=
It wouldn't need to be over-studied, for example. – And if
Even a lying person can sometimes say the truth.

Since the author can publish a piece, he has included some...
I have spoken a fair amount of truth; I say, some ≠ Measured. It's true, I'm in favor of a protest.

Tables, solemn service to God. I like it.

not the bald ones, completely stripped bare of everything=

ten, and the assemblies of the Quackers and

Mennonites of a somewhat similar God's service

chen facilities. To the point that we do not,

but against a Protestant solemn God=
I have been used to service since childhood.

I am in the staunchly Lutheran Mecklenburg, like
They call it the monthly writing plate, born and
My father was in this arch-Lutheran church.

50

Lande is an arch-Lutheran preacher. There he is.

God's service is very solemn. Churches are lit.
During the Eucharist; one sings the first hymn.

Words of blessing and collections; bread is blessed.
and wine with the sign of the cross; one feegr
not the children at their baptism with the sign of the.
Cross; one pronounces the blessing with the sign.
of the cross. And all this is eight Lutheran,
like the author, if he is indeed so ignorant, the not knowing it, and using it for crypto-Catholicism to spend

eh Kerkenordninge in Hertochdome tho Mekelenborch 1537.
Revised Church Ordinance in the Duchy of Mecklenburg.

Füneburg 1650. Explanation of the Princely Mecklenburgian
Church Ordinance. Schwerin 1708. Article 3. Mecklenburg= Czech Catechism, page 1.1

from the books listed below

can be seen *). I spent seven years in Prussia
6. ee z im

|

—

—

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 341

Standing at the preaching office, where one finds just as little,
as in my fatherland, to Catholicism tends to be, and where the service of God is not only not only is it set up in that way, but also partly Choir robes and chasubles are usually, as from

as can be seen in the books listed below *).

So I've been going there out of habit since childhood.

men an for a solemn divine service taken
men. But I am even more so for another reason.
not secret, but obvious to everyone
round, which I, however, no one around his own
To determine the sensation, it can intrude.
and will, and that is the following: I am perfect convinced that lighting the lights in the evening:
the act itself no longer gives any holiness,

that the Holy Spirit did not light it with their kindling

appears, and with its fading, reveals itself again=

far, that a cross-cut with two fingers through the air, the clergyman's blessing no greater power is given by the fact that Confeeration with a cross

Beating bread and wine doesn't have a particularly strong effect,

and it is probably even transsubstantced, so that the special clerical clothing has no special holiness
haben, wie doch veröschidene in der doch protestan=

(believed to be a member of the Episcopal Church of England)

that the singing of the collections actually stems from the Orient prescribes, and it is improper that there,

where something had to be said, where songs were sung; that

by means of the blessing with the cross to the child

in the Ber not the 5 spirit, or a befons their

dlasselbst angegebenen Schriftsteller.

>) The ones from Sooper's time onwards under the Episfop, disputes between the len and Puritans ended with the arrival of new information.

—

she

whose power is bestowed from above. From all
I am completely convinced of this, and for good reason.
s ern Grundnden, als es je die Monatsschriftsteller und can become their equals. But I also know, that man is a sensual creature, and that external and sensory things move him, devotion and to awaken reverence in him, and a fine heart for the Truths that are proclaimed, received
'To make. A religion, a service to God, which "merely sensual is, of course, a comedy and a game" work. But also one of all sensual and —Anfferlichen completely exposed and plundered
The service lacks that which is necessary for its awakening.
of reverence and for the entertainment of devotion,
ahead in weak people (and how big is it)
the number of people who, solely for reasons, and reasoning, as philosophers are guided?) indispensable! Especially when completely bald.
Therefore, divine worship must take the place of sensual pleasure.
Something different happens, that is among Mennonites and Quackers: a spirit of separation and swarminess.
However, this doesn't last long, and therefore...
Mennonites and Quackers of our time no longer exist
like those of previous times. — That's what I find.
My heartfelt thoughts on this point. It is True, I love a solemn service to God, I balte him for more practical, more insistent" and ers
more alert, and therefore I like the Protestant one.
God's service in Mecklenburg, Prussia, in Hanover Zverschen and Lüneburgschen far more than almost completely naked Protestant God= Test service in the areas along the Rhine. Yes, I drive even more, the solemn, the touching and heartfelt= uplifting service to the Catholic God, all from erroneous doctrines flowing and to > 2 |
an e glau=

1

*

|

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 343

ju
believe leading abuses have been accounted for, ger

I'll fall for it too; and who will stop me from doing it?
Do I like that? The General Inquisitor bites Beasts or Gedike, he can't get over my Heart Dominican-style despotizing, so that the=
This or that might not be to one's liking. But that beer...
ter, to my delight in a solemn,
Devotional worship service, Crypto=Catholic= Esism and secret intentions lie hidden should, and I serve the Catholic God
I declare that wishing should be a shameful lie and Pasquill. – But as little as I care about my private life–
I am so little inclined to let myself be robbed, now

To take what is one's own. I hate all new things.

struggles, because one already knows the prejudices of everyone.
I must. I've been hearing from you for five years now.
the local Princely Ministry, the task of the
to improve the liturgy and adapt it to the needs

appropriate to our time, solemn and devout=

to make it more awakening. To express more of everything.
bare, can hardly be a religious service under the protesters will be found as the one in Biezig Fürsttl. Landen ist. Nichts von allem was nor in most other Protestant churches
More information can be found here, which is available at church services.

Instead. To make it more festive, one would have to

One could give it something more distinctive. But probably convinced how much one can tame weak minds with each

I must avoid prejudice, I have been in my s years
This Princely order has not yet been fulfilled,

and I will never do it without the consent of everyone

Clergy throughout the country, except for the fewest=

sten Land=Deacon, perform. Here, therefore, the Audience, my explanation on this point, which Any reasonable person will find this cheap, and the

4 | Ber

344 Secret Proselytizing -

Berlin monthly writers their due Ab=
manufacturing because of what they spread about me here Pasquills! BE

Denina continues: Many would like to ben, that auricular confession was reintroduced,
as the most effective means of complete decay=
benhiet der Sitten, wo nicht zu halten, doch at least to delay it. Without getting myself into a extensive investigation into the origin of the Oh= to admit a confession, to which the facility, whether it is the same its present constitution by Leo the Great bat, already in much earlier times lay"); how we= Denina knew the protesters, if he could imagine that many would like to see it.
That, if it were reintroduced! Is it possible?
I wouldn't claim that, as Mr. Nikolai also said.
fine Dreyfuß in the first volume p. 101 of the tires
to decide it was good that the confession of the Lord,
to be a shameful tool of the abhorrent=
to relinquish the established hierarchy and clerical power,
invented and introduced; yet undetectable,
that she was greatly abused for that purpose. She is but from the spirit inherent in the Protestants Freedom, the greatest contradiction, that only leads to this ken is. Even in earlier times, the one from the Confession of the Lord infinitely different and of the old Exomologesis-like private confession among the pros

We found great adversaries in our tests; and in us
Distant times, when private confession was also common in ice
| no

) See Bowers History of the Popes, Vol. 2, pp. 291 ff.
Dallaum de Confess. auriculari, Ortelii Theologiam Aetbiop.
p. 127. and my treatise de Tralatitils ex Gentili®
mo in Relig, Christian, pag. 13. Bingbam Osigg, Tom. VIII.
5 N. 10 ff. 2 Ä . |

*

—

IN * En

and allegedly related means. 345

a general preparation is transformed again, since
The protesters should be pleased to see that the Oh!

Will confession be reintroduced among them?

That's impossible. I'd like to see the swarmer.
Abet Denina must have been careful not to even think of one
To name protesters who have their ears open?
He had wanted to confess again. He is doing as he is.
It has happened to other travelers as well, who, I know
God, what things to see, and then what

They imagined seeing them through their glasses, further announce. On such, by which generally under the prevailing mindset of the Protestants, and the actual church institutions in many countries

refuted imaginings of a traveling Italy=

Surely the monthly writers should...

They are ashamed to build the least. – But one should to wish for the introduction of auricular confession, as the most effective means of combating moral decay,
where it cannot be prevented, but at least delayed=

Sure. I don't want to get involved in doing it.
investigate whether it is false or well-founded, what
The author of the essay is mentioned here in a parentheses.

4

says that Dresden is not as corrupt as Naples,

and Berlin is not as ruthless as Rome. On Moral improvement and moral decay in cities

Ten and countries have too many influences whose Investigating this would take me much too far here,

and the result of which certain people don't even know

I might like it. Superstition is certainly a field, on which vice of all kinds thrives quite well; Dei=

Sterey, however, and naturalistry is certainly not less a field on which atrocities, vices

and crimes of all kinds proceed so well as Nowhere else. Only Christianity alone.
true godliness, which u middle street zw

x

fchen

No.

a –

16% secret priesthood,
Superstition and disbelief make for true virtues

Fair and happy people. –. But that much is true.
Know that whoever considers the confession of the Lord as an effective

The means to combat the complete corruption of the site
to prevent or delay ten, exceptionally crooked and judges insufficiently. Catholic writers
They themselves provide us with ample evidence,
that through auricular confession many an innocent person
The heart has been seduced when an ignorant, unprepared person
more visible or reckless no. the confessing Boys and the confessing girl after things

asked, in whose happy ignorance they otherwise would have remained for life. – But the

The author names what is here. Denina herself says, a Grill, which can be refuted at first glance=
le, whose spread can only be attributed to bigoted monks= can forgive servants. And yet the
The author refers to this very man, about us such a Cricket tells so much? That's surely...

Contradiction!

It continues to bite: men and women

müßten in their confession Kloster, in which they

in the calm Frieden ihre Tage beschaffen können=
ten. Since the author already mentioned it in the Denina criticizes him for writing this in Binge-sich, and of the Protesters, the monastery for seats of rest,

who upholds virtue and peace, says that he
I am ignorant of the matter; I don't want it again;

bolen. But he should have told the story of the Enina, that men and women among us are in Our Confession monasteries should wish for, for the explain. must explain what she is, namely for a fool=

A little fairy tale. And set, some protestant

I wish there were monasteries in fine confession;

deweiset dieser Wunsch tendensch der Protestanten 7 A * ee to

"a
g .

— — p k —=

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 347

What about the papacy? Are monasteries and popes?
tbum two always accompanying inseparable

—

Terms? There are such foundations, after all.

which is still known today as Klôt are known as stars, for noblewomen in various Protestant states retain, —

who certainly don't belong to the Catholic Church because of their name= are inclined towards licism. Or does that make it suspicious?

that someone would do the same for bourgeois women=

Room and for men desired? – Here=

The author wisely strolls past the site, because it would not be useful in fine things, the visions of the traveling Italian, even if they still go there due find, as inconsiderate and harmless=

*

deliver. 5 5 | |

Denina continues: But the Dominican

Inquisitor and the Jesuit confessor of the Prince

Sten frightens everyone, and as always happens, one imagines the problem to be greater than it actually is.

The author makes the following point with these last words:

Note: Of course, the Inquisitors are now holding...

no cars, but only Autillos da Fe; Frey=

The Jesuits no longer entice any princes,

to burn a loyal subject, but merely to drive them from office and country. How gently and mild! What a minor inconvenience! This remark=

Kung is quite correct in itself. But in that mouth a Berlin monthly writer, indeed of Mr. Beast himself, (for who knows if this | (essay not by him personally?) sounds two-faced=

felt disharmonious. How can these gentlemen... about Dominican Inquisition and Jesuits complaining that they find these so similar to twins=
Only brothers can be each other. Of course.

*

Ba

ten fie also no cars there Fe, like their * Ä

—

\

| 346 N Secret Proselytizing,

the order of the Dominican Order in Spain.

But their Autillos da Fe might still find men=

more anti-Semitic and Dominican than that

Theirs. They're finally dealing with the sacrificial victims.
the Inquisition by burning at the stake in weni=
The hours come to an end; these have the hideous

Art invented, those on which the crypto=

Wanting to sense Catholicism, to die in customs.

let them, if they don't have such a healthy body=
ben, that he through all their malicious and spiteful
Pasquille cannot be shaken. Freylich
They also tempt her, like her stepbrothers, to join the Ges
Society of Jesus, not princes, a faithful sub-companion
"than to burn; but certainly on their good
Will and years of diligent efforts
It was not uncommon for some upright people to Man with his people from the office and country.

had been hunted down, whom they considered a secret Catholic and Jesuits in their pasquilleries of the world, his

to make fellow citizens and authorities suspicious

sought, if the authorities do not provide their servants would have known him. Is it possible that people who...
Dominican-style cruelty and so Jesuitically spiteful can track, and see the evidence of it before the eyes of the Audience—striking evidence enough in their Mo=
have given their written record, nor from the Autillos
the Dominicans and the heresies of Jesus=
Can one speak without blushing? But about Men had to be out of Errothen for a long time,

even if they weren't themselves masters of the tiresome

Craftsmen, yet becoming henchmen of Pasquil=
Lanten could be used. u
Denina continues: The Pope's journey,

whatever effect they may have with regard to their main object may have had, but has not = | ae E 1 bey=

—

i

\

— — ——— 4lt— Kr — ——— — — — — a —

AI 3

Does the protesters claim that? But next,

and— allegedly serving means. 249

contributed to a desire for our

to revive religious services and to show that the true spirit of the Catholic Religion is not persecutory. This latter point, that the true spirit of the Catholic religion is not Following up, the author seeks to refute:

Why not the first one too? Because, well, he wants to.
denina need to prove that the Protestants are inclined towards Catholicism, which Did the Pope's maturity then invite him to Germany?
contributed to and accompanied that alleged desire
Can carry it? Denina herself doesn't tell us that.

Perhaps the author will do so, for he

A new period begins here, and sets in motion, one Bore probably too! Denina's claim as follows bey: I believe Mr. Nikolai was right to say, Mr. Garve should only have reminded him which astonishing mustard, the maturity of the Pope after

Vienna in all German Catholic lands makes= the place he came to. But here's the thing.

much further. Even the Protestant countries, Even those he did not enter received the
a salutary impetus for their conversion. This
Mr. Denia even noticed this in Saxony:

= ben. I ask every reader who possesses refined reason= wants to know if something mindless can be thought of / than this drivel? First, what's the matter: the whole thing

Eitatum from the appendix to the obese series=

self-description of the famous traveling bookkeeper
Mr. Friedrich Nikolai beer? Just go in=

Is it to start something with Mr. Garve again?
Because the sensation of the Catholics during the journey
the Pope's trip to Vienna may be still so great, still so

It was astonishing how she always wanted what

stop

,

A

U

3% Seheine Profelpfenmatherig,. >

– 57 authors accept what Denina says as true; so
he takes a delusion for reality, which is in itself

There is no reason for it. Because the

The Pope is ripening in Vienna; what can this tire do?
a desire among the protesters for the red=

Would you awaken a community of God's worship? Would the Pope...

moved right through Protestant countries, so it has te böchftens that can be brought forth, that the ignorant rabble said; that the alleged Antichrist in the Oceident, the beast at the abyss=
de, the Babylonian whore, and how the apocalyptic=

They will continue to be called by their names, not an animal.

horns and claws, but a human being like a...
these people, and an old man like other old people
Men is. For the conversion of the Protestants, it is possible.
The ripeness probably contributed nothing. Dentna, a stranger, someone who is devoted to his religion
Italian is the only one who noticed this.
claims; and how reliable such remarks are
as we can see from the journeys of the famous:
Mr. Wikolai, who is a German, and with Ger oversight, characterized by a certain mood of that the emperor should have come to him. But?

The Pope has certainly also benefited from this maturity.

Nothing among the Protestants, because they know too well;
What prompted the Pope to do that? It is, after all,
many people through the Pope's conduct
It's been built! By whom? The protesters?

Denina doesn't say a word about that either. And Assuming they were, what is incriminating about that?

Every noble person must receive God's blessing.
rung fine fellow human being, according to whose religion=
It would be understood, edifying, if only God and Christ
that this should be glorified; then it is Certainly not the attitude of the High Mass from the Pope.

more edifying than if the savage had been up

Benden Sun bends his knees. What is now each=
A whole reasoning other than wretchedness 2
The entire news about Denina is steadily declining, the more

more the author cites from it, and yet it will

It was announced with such importance that one
I should think, I don't know what kind of important ideas...
to obtain coverage from it.

The author goes on to say that he still has more= several passages in the Brandenburg Letters of the Denina would have noticed, and leads under the sel=
ben zuerst an, dass Denina in München an der Tas

The Viennese envoy with Mr. Pütter ges dines, and learns from the guests that he is a zealous, orthodox (or polemical) 8

f eh.

—

word gave: Your

—

5. Secret Proselyte Machetey,

be. The author himself shows where this shit comes from.
and an invalid judgment probably arose,
(that the ranter has printed as valid).
And yet the author can refer to the news of such a traveler, who issues invalid judgments to the who sends out into the world as valid, build so much,
that he considered him an important witness for the secret
proselyte-making and the inclination of the protes cites stans to Catholicism. What an up-Falling backlash! Hey
The author makes much of this,
that Denina page 21 says that the Catholic Re= religion brings everyone to the highest level of temporal happiness se= that one can raise one's dignity and honor, that one only the
The presumption of being Catholic is permissible.
and that one then rises to the highest positions of honor could make a claim through scholarship. And Now the author says this idea would be not left unused by proselyte hunters=
Ben. Denina and the author gave us beer.
Anything new to say? We've all heard that a long time ago.
knew that one had taken advantage of temporal advantages,
to lead Protestants to Catholicism,
This remedy was in France so gånge and give under Louis XIV, that therefore a common pros
testant his convert, who gave him a sum=
He would speak if he were to become one: to the ant
Religion must be bad, right?

They are more than mine because you gave me in exchange want to add another sum to yours.

This remedy is also used on destitute people.
enough take place where it doesn't matter,
their convictions, if they have any, to

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 373

buy. But what does this prove for the new?
conversion of the Protestants to Catholicism, and for a greater danger in which we are currently facing Are they supposed to float? The author says he contains all further remarks, and certainly,
if he can't provide us with anything better than the ones up to now=
herigen, so the audience is right to give him an ace= must shout: "En
f The Lord is very much doing that!

Don't tell him any more, Mr. Urian!

But we shouldn't forget that, that 9

Denina, a learned, enlightened, refined man is, who in a Protestant country is from a
He lives on the pay of the Protestant princes. What does he do?
Does this have anything to do with it? Can a learned, enlightened,
A fine man should not also err, should not also
To imagine things that exist nowhere but in fine fantasy Does tasie existiren? Kennt darum Denina unsere gan=
the Protestant constitution, because he is in a pros
lives in the testant lands, and from a proteflantir
How are the princes paid? Aren't they the Berliners?
a monthly writer so enlightened that she even
of their enlightenment, like the saints of Rome=
The church of its merits, to give us others alms.
to tell the deluded something more, and us too
could have stored; and yet they have given the public such chimeras and fairy tales were presented, whose even the most talkative washerwoman would be ashamed,
The traveling bookseller Wikolai wanders into a nem fo hoch Sonnenlicht, und hat fso viel fsprechen=
of the merit of enlightening the obscured
Germans, that of a fine, worthy lateral worker,
the infamous author of the heretic almanac, the Germans are called upon; the man a 1 8 3 Honor=

954 Secret proselytizing,

to erect the Ebrenssäule; and yet the great Auf=
klarer in feiner Reireisebeschiefung nicht nut Chimå=

not only did they accumulate on Chimaeras, but they even fought against them

Sailors and lavaters of the ugliest lies (dub made dig, and thus created a pillar of a different kind erected, as the finely worthy colleague, the author=

The author of the heretic's almanac deserves it. The monthly...
The writer and Mr. Nikolai also live in a Protestant states, and the first will also from a Protestant Rönige besol= det; and yet they have of their ignorance about our entire constitution, the most striking evidence given. Were they not so ignorant in this entire subject; so they could not possibly have their fears
The watchman's voice about the currently entirely focused extraordinarily great dangers of the Protestant Zion's can rise up. But perhaps the

The author here gives a hint that the prince,

from whom Denina is paid, and that per= testant country, where he lives, to the prote=
permanent states belong to which now truly belong

Catholicism, as Mr. Diester said, have been abandoned.
or those, like the letter writer in Jannerstück 1785
said they were secretly inclined towards Catholicism, and that Denina is very good and better than one would expect.
one should think about the inclination of the protesters
He is being taught Catholicism. Is this the intentional, and that is the only one that might still be possible
can pass; so the author has to prove it= sen, and until he has demonstrated this, the audience is authorized to represent him as a dishonorable prince-blasphemer
balten = |
But one certainly doesn't know if one can...
Eyes should be trusted when the author writes: Whether Denina in the intention of his messages * the | ice

*

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 355
Conversion of Protestants to Catholicism
What was seen and heard correctly is actually not the question. Of that, the most important thing is certainly the | Question. Or is it only the monthly writers just for little stories, whether true or false, ge= whether it is founded or unfounded, to do? if only

What is told is pleasing and with its surgical accuracy.

The story is true. To notice certain things,
It bites further, and even more so that she notices.
To believe, one must have a certain stimuli=
mung of the soul, a certain direction of the den=
Bring your own way of doing things. That's what I call it.
but once a philosophy that asked to wash itself,
a splendid contribution to the chapter on de inveniendā Veritate! This mood and direction itself enlightened Catholics with the intention of protestan=
ten, and to show their religion was my goal here
The only important thing. Oh! German audience, what a...

People rise up as your leaders! Menr
those who don't care whether someone is right
I have heard that people do not care whether someone with or without prejudices for examination
something has come about, and such things through a false
Have I looked at a glass? Those who made a statement about a
What is important to a man is that he doesn't care about it.
Is a fine mood the right thing to do or not?
Touts ceux qui voyoient des miracles etoient bien rejfolü den voir, said Diderot. You can Now, to criticize the miracle seers, since one is supposed to be talking about...

to notice or have noticed certain things
to believe that only a certain mood of the sea= le, a certain direction of thinking with= must bring. Once the paroxysm changes to Our Zionist guardians, what have you done, audience, from Not everything is yet to come for these seers! – What 3 2 will

356 Secret Proselytizing,
This will become of it when the Catholic said: Whether Nikolai and Beasts in the context of their messages

Having seen and heard correctly, that does not mean the Question; to beme^r=

ken, and all Catholics for a shameful rabble

to hold, which leads to the downfall of the protesters conspired, and such a plot is noticed
To believe baben, one must have a certain mood.
of the soul, a certain direction of thought
Bring this mood and direction:
But Mr. Nikolai and Beast always came along.
brought, and this mood and direction towards:
clarified Protestants on behalf of the Catholics and Showing their religion is the only thing that matters to us.
So now we know what the protesters stand for,
Despite all the tolerance that has been touted, hold on. – O, Lo=
Gik! Where have you gone? Audience, can you...
mand more for a straw head than just the=
What do the men you applaud so much do?

The author then asks further: Do the Catholics should take no further steps if such inclination of Protestants towards Catholics=
Is it noticeable, or do I think I'm noticing? I Answer to that: If they still have a spark...
Those who possess sound human understanding will...
Beware of the news from a traveler:
to take immediate steps to avoid being stopped by protest=
to be instructed when things have completely changed=
who should behave when Denina presented them with her= reflected. Surely they will be just as good,

when the protesters know how many people are in:

Traveling through time, from what kind of prejudices one can escape= who among them everywhere should be accompanied by what for glasses to look at things; and if
If they cannot convince themselves of this, they may

| | yes

\

and allegedly serving this purpose, 347

yes, only the wanderings and journeys of the famous Berlin bookseller Mr. Friedrich Nikolai
Look at it; there you will find wonders Y.
What entitles them to receive information from Denina News?
To judge him? That he is a scholar? As What if Mr. Mikolai weren't also a scholar?

Can't Denina be just as good as Wikolai, who
But what makes a polymath is to work through subtle souls.
mood and direction mislead, and on
Are these delusions? We need to be safer and To be more certain of the matter, any sensible person will...
tholic say, even if he is ever so hungry for Proselytes would be before we take a step with the Danger of being shamefully rejected.

However, the author brings a Facetum bey,
Just like Beast, who is in a big way with Denina
the capital, and how to make the best of all circumstances can conclude that it may have happened in Berlin and be= should know that Catholics have a tendency to which they brought to Catholicism at the SE 3 3 mer=

I cannot help taking this opportunity to say a beautiful Fable of Pfeffel in Voss's and Gocking's Muses=
to reproduce the almanac from the year 1785:

A stockfish was caught in Newfoundland.
And spoke with anxious longing
To the crude boatman: Listen, man,
What do you have planned for me? Hey now, listen to this one,
First your head will be knocked off your torso,
Then you will be sent out into the world,
And – heavens! groans the detainee,
As if the Briton's iron had already struck him,
In the deepest elegiac tone;
What? Without a head? Well, then, the ship's patron saint retorts.
It's the newest way to travel!

*

358 Secret proselytizing,

notice or think you notice, really Take steps. It is this: Denina visits eis a respected clergyman, and do him the rage or the suggestion whether one could not the hie=
igen (probably Berlinischen) protestantischen
Preacher also from a Catholic bishop
Could sheep be ordained as priests? So Would Catholics also consider these preachers for True ordained clergy hold what they are called could not do so now, and so no one needed to special Catholic field chaplains going to war

to go, because even so ordained Lutherans Preacher all necessary acts at Catholic church soldiers could perform. That is now the great fact, truth, and who will not be over it?
Does it testify to being and trembling? I don't, and neither does every human being.
not someone who only wants to take on the small effort of doing the
A big fact to consider. Mr. Denina may even so much a cleric, abbot or abbun, priest=
ster and even more so, he may daily his breviary
He can tell people as often as he wants, he likes to be in his room.
to have one or more altars; thus he reveals himself
but (because I want to talk to the author once=
men, that his proposal is serious and not a joke (had been) as a man who had his own church and does not even know their laws. It is quite possible that Contrary to the laws of the Roman Church, that one Protesters who are still protesters and remain, who can bestow orders. Which The Protestant will become a Catholic priest at the same time to ordain as a Reformed or Lutheran preacher,

although the protesters are far from having the right to protest

to connect handles with the clergy, as the Catholics? Whoever the ordines of the Roman Church who wants to receive must definitely *

EC

1 and allegedly related means. 359

*
(Being members of the Roman Catholic Church). We
So we see here in Denina, if he really is in Seriously, a man who is a financial pro=
Project to save money for a Catholic field chaplain
bey the army makes, a project that the Cano=
which completely contradicts his church, and from ka=
would be rejected first on the Tholian side:
for no bishop can, without committing sacrilege,
to commit, to ordain a protestant as a priest.
Denina knew just as little about the Protestant verse.
version, if his proposal was truly serious.
Not only in recent times do people think differently about _
the clergy as formerly: those times are passed by, as yet another grave could be dug.
to order bishops who have a succession=

to become a nun, to join the English Church; yes
People have known about it among the Protestants for a long time.
Stands were completely different, and Catholicism entirely
They had opposing principles. No protestant can, without renouncing Protestantism,
from a bishop of the Roman Church the ordinance=
Let it be given. No protestant can do it.
so that the Roman Christians would also consider him a true Christian.
may hold ordained clergy; and how incompatible find actus ministeriales of a fatholic Priests with the whole spirit of the Protestant= mus! Denina didn't need to know any of this, if The suggestion was serious. – But how pathetic!
ignorant in all that both Catholic and
As far as the Protestant church constitution is concerned, it becomes apparent
the author of this is he if he complains to this= lichen proposals an 8 of  4 gives.

*) Sarpi History of the Eonsilium to Trident, Th. VL
Page 112 ff. 5 ö |

–

360 Secret Prosecution,

gives. Only a man who is able can do that.
is, the absurd fairy tale of the protestant=
to believe the deacon. Is it all serious?
Denina presents herself as one in the church community.
set a very ignorant man as a man, ger
Rade, like the monthly writers, one of whom...
Daydreams created an imagination of inclination who follows the Protestants to Catholicism, and even grafted a small financial project onto her, about which Protestants and Catholics must laugh. And Now the author adds, with great importance: Seriously to a time when the sailors were of one kind, and the Dreykorne from the other side, their business=
Show some flexibility! Why not also include the vacation time?
Ger from the third, the Starcke from the fourth,
the lavatere of the fifth, and, God may wif:
sen, who is not yet of the sixth, seventh, oh=
ten xc. Page 2. For against all those men mas
Yes, the Protestant Zionist guards, that fear=

The most terrible cry of fire, and call the whole world to fate.
come here, so that they are in the confusion, when Everything is shouting, and making a racket, and running around in confusion, deftly thwarted the German conspiracy.
be able to open. The Sailere! Indeed, the Sailer, who in the only fairy tale of its kind, his Innocence convincingly demonstrated *), and subtle objections=
ner of the slander so obviously convicted asked that if they did not agree with them in the same situation=
" | a 98505

Religious events, Volume X, page 111 ff. Goddess= Learned Notices 1797. 34 pp. Like Mr. Nikolai who attempted to refute Sailer's writing now knows
The audience too, and will be, if it is not just one read one after the other, but step by step everything compares, can make a fine judgment.

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 361 |

The Göttingen advertisement offered good advice
want to follow, nothing other than their already all world-famous sophisms and rabulist epics

They are expected. The Threecorns! Indeed, the Threecorns!

grain, which of course is due to a lack of sufficient
– erred in his theological knowledge, and did better.

haben würde, nicht zu schschreiben; aber wsen Verse

theidigung one certainly wouldn't have had whole
They should postpone for months, as one should immediately

was ready the unworthy Seidel's own or

but he published his article in the Nuremberg newspaper=

The accusation of heresy against his

To trumpet to colleagues all over the world!
Those clean premises are now becoming...
such clean consequences were drawn, which the author fully understands

I find it worthwhile to come. Such a project, which is based on:

| the sides, namely both among Protestants and | Catholics, a project from the moon, should be highly vain and calculated ecclesiastical entrance

can find it. The one at whose entrance there is an entrance.

could find, if he were still so vain and full of plans,

must have lost his mind. Because on Calculate things that cannot exist, and their

Nature finds it impossible to carry out, therefore Befriedi:

To build something of fine pride, and plans of vanity?
To erect such a thing is just as absurd as...

– to fear things that seem impossible. Yes! Then one can have hope of the Pope.
If you want to become one, then you should act like an apostle.
to be able to travel, to escape from pious women
Kissing hands, and receiving their [gifts] from believing parents

Bring children forward to be blessed.

Numerous humane allusions to the 35 right=
*) Page 194. 193. we |

\

362 Secret Proselytizing,

righteous Lavater's final maturity, which sedem ges to leave no doubt in the mind of the sensitive reader as to how must one procure the heart of the author?
Certainly a worthy man, worthy of the author.

to be placed next to the heretic's almanac!
Protestant Germany, is this your wake-up call?
Ter, audience, these are your enlighteners; so it must be every noble German who still stands for religion, virtue and good manners have some sense and feeling, you regret. –

Finally, the author brings a lot more.
of difficulties arising from this would, if Denina's proposal is to succeed=
te: one would have to have a bishop of Brandenburg
Ben, it had to be determined who would pay him.
should, etc. These difficulties were encountered by the

The author should save money and not worry so much.

"Allowed, since everything is the most ridiculous, impossible Chimā="

It is something that can only be thought of. And now it will be Denina ended up making herself a suspect,

since the author is uncertain, whether Denina ,diefen

Was the suggestion made solely for himself, or was it even intended to...?
She had a mission. Since Denina is still alive, so Hopefully he will be best able to do this.
to refute Scribler, and the ones that might be from their Watchmen set in Convulstons e bes
to be able to calm down.

Finally, the author says he still has to add one more thing.

to add a consideration, and this is: This
The step taken by a respected Catholic abbot
and theologian for Lutheran preachers, the Catholic
The demand for consecration will likely bring down the whole special system.
eiöfe Råfonnement des Herrn G ar ve übern Haus
fen, with which this scholar the at a proteflan»

tischen deacon really happened n kad gi,
ie=

–

*

create, and truly shame the audience

...and means allegedly used for this purpose. 363

Priestly ordination as impossible to imagine (Jul. 1785. S. so. f.) attempted. This step showed get that such a consecration is not according to Catholic tradition The concept of sacrilege is, and confirms this. new, that most remarkable fact. If but the public, who are so interested in these acts takes part, and one can hardly blame him= ken can realize that it has finally been through the now years already long-lasting noisy cries of these Zion's guardians to us It becomes quiet, only focusing on every step and turn. I wanted to notice exactly what these people were doing! Because this is what they were do the only and certainly safe means by which it can escape=

Bolting and avoiding the danger, not before to be laughable to rationally thinking posterity= that it is from an accountant, one from

| Doctor Juris, who strayed from his field, and ice

a completely unknown person, has in the worst possible way Letting monkeys play. It also finds this attention... Here is an opportunity, where the author has already... Denina became a respected abbot and theologian does. Denina was a professor in Turin, and member of various academies; he has a Written the national history of Italy: all that That's true. But as an insightful, respected Denina is not known as a theologian. His Abba= This title doesn't make him, like everyone else, Those who know what the Italians are Abbates and French Abbes, to mean has ben. However, in order to give the audience a blue haze to pretend that this man's project (if it was indeed serious) as one who had studied church laws thoroughly, from of utmost importance, so now suddenly Denina transformed into a respected theologian=

Wei=

-,

264 Secret Profefpftenmacherep,

Wei was deceived. And assumed it was Denina.
Even such a great theologian, he could be so grossly to err in this piece. On the occasion of the Attempts to unite the English Church with the Roman

to reunite, was lacking among the franzöfi= theologians do not adhere to those who are from the ordained ministry.
nation of the bishops of the Church of England mild thought; but their milder opinion was therefore not the opinion of the Roman Church, and was rejected). The entire pre-emptive framing of Denis

Well, as a respected theologian, that's beer.
also a mere charade to deceive the world.
And this man's imagination, if ever his
The proposal, which had been serious, should now suddenly be...
Should we throw Mr. Garve's reasoning out the window?
Certainly, Mr. Gar= was not afraid of such a prank.

I didn't understand! Because Denina believes one can=

a Protestant clergyman to Catholic priests=
consecrating a star, so goes the shameful tale with the Deacon founded, and such an ordination no
Sacrilegium according to the terms of the Catholic Church
Church. Certainly, a splendid reasoning!
If the monthly writers are thorough and honest=
If they wanted to get to work quickly, they would have to scan those scans.

to authentically prove the story, but not by towing just as shallow a lead as this . rer ift, us only the 8

5 30 here refers the reader to the known disputes

the famous Franz le Courayer because of a 1723.

| published writing, for la validit des ordinations
of the Anglois, had, since he not only Jardouin and Lequien
to opponents, but fine writing also as a heretic=

rich from the Archbishop of Paris, the Cardinal of Moailles, was damned. ö e

| and supposedly serving this purpose, Wie 366

to try to make the same probable. But I will confirm this clear fact in the pursuit of this Bringing writing into the light. But who doesn't notice, fo soon he hears that Protestant clergy at the same time
were to be ordained as Catholic priests,

the ridiculous, the impossibility and the lack of execution=
What is the feasibility of such a proposal? Won't it?
the protesters because of so many of their teachings of considered a heretic by the Catholic Church, and find als folche mit dem Anathema des Tridentini=
(The Council of Constance was defeated)? And precisely these with the Anathema-beaten heretics, who were by the Ge= society of the visible church, according to Roman Principles that are excluded should nevertheless be such
The high dignity of this very church that condemns it, can clothe themselves, as according to their principles the
What is the priesthood? The Holy Spirit condemns them.
Roman principles at the Council of Trident,
and this very Holy Spirit should help them in the Ordination will be given, and they will be the same.

To be subject to a writ of execution? Are there any greater contradictions? Egg!

The author could not possibly have such a stubborn head
It may be that he does not possess the refined taste of finer things.
He should have realized the claim; his whole previous... alleged opinion that Denina in seriousness and as a respected theologian had spoken, and that His proposal proves so much, and so much of it to Fear is nothing but the most frivolous pretense.
lung, which is to be remembered, and a shameful The audience's reaction.

Here I end this long section about the so-called secret proselytizing, since I so far in the Wa N especially e ö

gehö=

ö 9 S. Concilii 22 Decreta et Canones.

366 Secret proselytizing, j

I find the proper thing further, and now the result.—
I admit that the Roman Church more than...
whose Christian religious parties are inclined to
To make proselytes; that is a truth that no one who knows the history and teachings of this church who knows, can deny. I admit that it not always shown to the proselytizers of this church=
It depends on whether one is acting for good or bad reasons.
for reasons, out of conviction or for secondary purposes=
ten, to her, and in what way the proselyte
Will be converted? There's no doubt about that either.
fehl according to the examples that the story tells about this can deliver. I admit that the tendency towards Proselytes are also currently converting to very many= not yet all individual members of the Roman Church has completely lost, and that this church as a church and the Pope, as its head, even so inclined
It is harder to make proselytes than ever before. This is the Opinion on Catholicism, as a sole League-making religion and the principles of Hierarchy perfectly in accordance. All of this has
we have known this for a long time, and it wasn't just the Berliners who found out.
learned from monthly writers or Mr. Nikolai.
— But that's also everything one could reasonably expect.
Wise can admit, and against which protesters and Catholics will have no valid objection.
haben. According to the entire current religious,
literary and political situation of the patrons,
However, this inclination of the Roman Church and individual members of the same to proselytize, far less to worry about than before. Anyone who does this He doesn't want to believe that the bembering one is only against true literary constitution, and the religious Mindset among the protesters, who are increasingly

from superstition and church coercion

1 un

and means allegedly used for this purpose. | 367.

and more about disbelief and freethinking
inclines; and whoever does not possess so much science, or who lacks the patience to understand ways of thinking and
To compare times against each other, just read

the story and pay, and he will find that in our century, and especially in the last ten half of the same far fewer protesters katholic has become more literal than before. It must therefore be de-neither the spirit, nor the violent impulse of the proselyte

have decreased among Catholics,

or there must be a change on the side of the protesters.

deniesse finds that the fine efforts more than ches

to thwart it. After all the current lit-
the terrific situation of Catholics, as more and more Clarity and freedom of thought arise among them,
according to their religious and ecclesiastical situation, since one
to eliminate abuses and superstitions among them
fen, and the power of the Pope and the clergy
seeks to return them to the proper boundaries,
according to their political situation, since Catholic rulers their rights, which had been diminished for long enough, so emphatically reassert, and the tolerance in a exerting very high degrees also results in the fact that

Despite all the pretense of the sole saving power:
religion and infallibility, the power of the Pope

and the Catholic clergy no longer so

It is terrible than it used to be for the Protestants,
that the tendency to proselytize is among the.
Catholics liked it very much, and that they still have it with must fall further every day. According to our

in its own constitution as well as according to that of the So we Catholics don't have that many left, as

our ancestors fifty, a hundred and more years ago
Years of the proselytizing spirit of individual races:
tboliken and the Catholic Church; but also

Far less to worry about. 0.

E

—

368 Secret Proselytizing,

Against this truth, which every thinking person knows
People, fine age, fine personal experience, fine Self-esteem teaches, and what he can easily convince himself of= gen can, if he is only able to have patience and Will to do so asked, past and present men
To hold up times and seasons against each other, a truth=
heit, which every person has calmly believed until now,
and was rightly pleased about this, against which The truth is now the Berlin monthly publications=
ler appeared, and made a terrible noise.
Cries from the great and all. From former times.
exceeding dangers were raised, in which against facing the Protestant Zion, fol. From
From their perspective, they have gone to all the alleys of the province.
"To the stantine Zion, fire and conflagration!" they cried.
A scream, caused by the dissemination of their bro= chure, and their speaking tube of followers and Sea fens from one end of Germany to secondly, yes, even further, to the farthest reaches of the earth.
genden erschollen ist. Two to three people,
Mr. Nikolai, Beast and Gedite, and some Anouhmen, who joined them from time to time find, want to have had experiences that the previous experiences of all people on the ground Beat it. I'll leave it to you, German audience, to judge and decide that presumption,

Are you really suffering from such a dangerous lethargy?
had been infected, or as one might say of Mr. Gar-ve says, not out of convenience or to please.
want to see what is going on around and beside you, that it remained reserved only for the Berlin bookkeeper
Ben could, by means of his speculation journey in Enemy territory, get that fat rebel out of your sight
to wipe away, or through the power of fine Christpa-Triotian exclamations bring new life to Thelgz e N „ e & > i ' es

—

4

1

and means allegedly serving that purpose. 366 —
Reflection and love for religious freedom e

the 1 I leave it to you, German-theologians of the land, do you really have each other so much?
You might fall in love with someone from Berlin

Dr. Juris and his fine masfirten followers, | who might play a peculiar role,

if she appeared without a mask, you must rightly know-

sen let? — But these gentlemen have now
once forced themselves upon us as guardians of our church;

out of love for the truth, as they say, and a

during spiritual yearning, religion, freedom of conscience,
and to advocate for reasonable enlightenment; but no-Ben Bey isn't entirely free either, because Ibre Monatsfchrift has brought them a lot of money as a result.

It was precisely through this now so famous section in the
It has found such a large number of departures; for the volume
bhört likes to hear murder stories, witches and ghosts
She enjoys fairy tales and likes to read pasquilles. Since she now on the tower of Protestant Zion
Those who have risen to the top have undoubtedly done better in every way.
can overlook other people whom we un

ten, each walking on his own street, and through their

They also used binoculars to see the entire surrounding area.

to be able to oversee. – It now only comes down to depends on whether their binoculars are properly sharpened.

sen, and didn't show them things that were even did not exist, and whether their experiences, which the

to directly contradict ours, thoroughly from them have been proven. And this will be shown to everyone, who reads this entire section, that e
convincingly obvious.

The possibility of our relapse to
| Dapfthum: darzuiehun, haben fie Ansprüche, unsre
Enlightenment is not as great as we imagine.

u“

a is one of our harvest: W untruth,
4 N

I

– Construction of our equally large, indeed even larger '

truth, and is a dishonor to our times.

—
370 Secret Profelpten Makers ,

which through the many great men who made our Year= produced a hundred, and through their work in – all subjects of violence physically opposed= It will be done. We are thankfully not yet walking. in the Germanic and naturalistic. Suns= gleam, in which she and her worthy colleague, who Author of the Heretic's Almanac, we gladly wander want to; but that we are much further along in all knowledge=

sensations have come about when our ancestors before

At 50 and 100 years old, every beginner knows that... scholarly history and books are known, and their descriptions.

The danger is based on a physical confrontation.

The possibility. Secret proselytizer= To show the treasure, they have specified that the Pope and the Roman Church still think of it as just as formerly, that the Pope made no claims back

I assume that the Roman Church still considers itself the heretics who can only bring salvation, and who damn us mention that she is still persecuting the protesters, herself

show intolerance, and that the emperor's tolerance

The Edict of Crown only lasted until New Year's Day 1783, and that So it's all just a deceptive word and bait. –

Even if the Pope and the Roman Church still just as they used to think, to make themselves the only ones blessed=

the Church, and calls us damned heretics; so They did have something with them. They proved nothing to show that we were from this way of thinking, given the now visibly declining power of the Roman chair, an equally large or great one

The danger looms over his head more than before, and Given our situation, we need this just as much, and even more.

More than ever, it's a shame. That the Pope has no...
I take back the building plans, they have from a rô=
wipe the calendar defaced with carvings 1 = ae ea 63

and means appropriate for this purpose. 377

They sought to prove it; however, they have received no evidence from the insightful Count von Herzberg the
The opposite has been shown!" From the alleged Indifference of the Catholics against the Protestants that they Mr. Preacher Triesch in Kanten the Ger proved their share, and if the Bteslau bi=
He showed intolerance; for him, this was nothing but wet.
natural consequence of the shameful intolerance of the Mor naisschrift. That the Imperial Toleration Diploma only lasted until 1783, and that tolerance in general and church improvement of the Catholics only dew=

"Word of fortune and lure of food, I have from the 1

Examples from Brno and Trieste, from Mainz, Fulda and other places, as the most shameful En = truth presented, so daring, as if it were merely an invention= which can become.

On the reality of secret proselytemas=
to prove cherey, baben the monthly writers
claims that in not a few protestants
Czech countries: Catholicism of the worst kind intrusions. They had nothing to do with this pretense.
proven, and if they were to prove it, it would have a their chief leader, Mr. Beast, these un shameless claim with just as much shamelessness=
He denied it again and said it was never in the
The monthly magazine claimed that the Ra=
tholicism in its very old and crudest form

Now make the Protestants agreeable;
or made acceptable by the Jesuits

can be. So it must either be the first one.

a malicious fabrication, or the latter, an untruth=
heit fein. r

They claimed that everywhere ver=

Disguised Catholic clergymen were lurking around to

to expand the concepts of their being. But aa 2 = ans

\

.

\

372. Secret proselytizing,

instead of just mentioning one corner of Germany,
where such masked proselyte hunters lurk,
They took us to Holland, Denmark, Sweden and expelled to Russia to search there. They ha=
All conceivable means have been specified, the following:
the alleged emirates are supposed to serve; but no=
to specify a location, not to name a person knew where, on whom and by whom this work was created.
would be operated; and so, all sorts of inconsistencies introduced themselves to us. Be To the reality of secret proselytes= Macherey to demonstrate, and thus their chimera as very
to present, have: she claims that who worked on it with astonishing zeal=
de, protestant large serren inclination to teach Catholicism, and that This has been all too successful. Yes, Mr. This ster even claimed that j now really pto= Protestant princes and states to Catholicism transgressing licism. But the proof of the= söer tendent unser protestantischen Fürstötten zu Ka= tholicism, and that which ones now really, and so=
even entire states committing atrocities, find us still

They always remained guilty. They never actually admitted it.
Shy away from such a scandalous tale from the vottreflichen Fürst^{en} von Anhalt Desfsau aus zubrei= ten, and the invention of the same is publicly known to Attributed to Berlin Jionswächtern; but also at the same time publicly declared to be a dunny lie has been, like the silly fairy tale of the Catholic= eism of the King of Sweden, and of the Assassinate a prince of the Royal Prussian House
to make it the coadjutor of Mainz.
The audience was asked to leave the area before.
actual inclination of the Protestant gi
5 we sen

•
f |
\ b

— :

/ N 2 e

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 373.

The Lord's conversion to Catholicism
to the same great facts, and a whole re=

Aegister was shown, yes Mr. Beast, who all the fine
It seems that the communists are surpassing the audacity of the communists,

even claimed that he had asked for help in April.

The series listed, so that now really individually
States and princes return to the papacy= sweep. And that's not all that's mentioned in the April play.
not a word about princes and states now really become Catholic; but rather from the examples that

*

listed as evidence, find the youngest o to |

Being 40 years old and over proves nothing for the present; indeed, many of the same already exist.
Over one hundred and two hundred years old. Mr.
BDiester also sent his discerning readers into April,
and his entire argument is not much better than
If one were to claim that the whole world is now...
be underwater, and everyone must go to ships,
= a great flood several thousand years ago
Being. . / * A
They have the reality of the proselytesma= Cherey claims to be able to prove it; but if they now they should provide proof of their claim, haben fie invoked the possibility and asked,
why did something happen formerly, a hundred and more ago?
It happened in previous years, not even now, and what
This happened in Denmark, not also in Germany.
Could this happen? Yes, Mr. Beast, in the Unver=
Shame is always the first, it has not become shameless,
to cite things he himself did not know=
te, and to ask: what if there were even more cases=
le gabe als ich weiß
They have to prove reality
the proselytizing focuses on those they have targeted
They presented facts, both German and the same as things
| I Yaz from

--

.
5 * 0

974 Secret -

overshadowed by the ostentatious importance. But if you show them the one they themselves set up,
and raised objections to principles applied to others,
that facts, in order to judge, quite ger
nau und mit allen Umständen müssen vorgele=
get werden; fo haben fie sich hinter das Bollwerk entrenched themselves so that they couldn't say everything, that fie nur geschicht mit Lücken und Bruchstücke Her far away. Yes, Mr. Beast even asked to those not yet given, but only in the future from
He will be called upon when time allows for the presentation of evidence. a
And who can finally implement the consequences?

es reyen, which are more than Kabbalistic interpretations; yes, so=

even the blatant forgeries, there the accused Let the writer Jogenen say more than he did.
to say, the endless rhetoric and men

dungs, with which they gave their chime a coat of paint, ice to give an appearance of truth and thoroughness
ben sought, and the evidence of the greatest ignorance
senbeit, which attaches itself to these writers, all here Calculate? Dr. Sailer in Dillingen has his nem Hauptgestner, dem berühmten, räsenden Buchs pbändler, Hern Friedrich Nikolai in Berlin five
. ten lies, and three unproven facts presented,

which he had done to him, that still not even attempted, which is in the

Hage and preparation for it are wrong and hypothesis is"). I can and like the large sum that Pier in this section already refers to the monthly journal

steller falls, not add together. Read yourself, and count the audience. I think everyone will know that much.

Inexperienced people can easily see that the whole process=

Ben! from * licking, * an 8

2 € Sailets Minden . 2

and means allegedly used for this purpose. 37
half-subverted, by nothing but lies,

"Consequence guards, rabbi officers and... Us

Knowledge is a disguised chimera, whose discoverers

and have proven nothing to the distributors.

But two pieces lifted them thoroughly. And completely.

Proven beyond doubt. t) this, that the Deisten
and naturalists. Had their fauberer

With „Komptottist, the Veefasser of the Keheralma“

We have not just laid down a fine Deism,

And he still goes about his work, at least to some extent, honestly.
does not take it, even if he immediately rejects Christianity for Naturalism gives out the larva of a protestan“

table Zion's watchmen before; so they have it with Dar“
laying down their creed, which «they themselves»
to call pure deism, done, This has

They were thoroughly demonstrated. The second was fle

They have proven the existence of the father of all invited

gen. They now want to deny where he had a fo

has large and distinguished offspring, who with Hip tissue of impatience, an honest German Tbocheit would be able to drive the public crazy.

m Frevel feyn.

But they have many other things as well. (worr)

2 ea, of Jesuits, secret Catholics, ges

beimen Gefell fsschähen, und zum Theil die Derfonen

called those that contribute to the spread of Catholicism“

must be used. Also, you should look after the one from.

the series will be taught to a German audience,
And I have no doubt that you will love the whole atrium.

Iniquitatis in all its passages soon becomes clear. before eyes lie, and the blue haze that your Zion's watchmen, with such audacity, were prepared to go forth.

I will perish of my own accord.

5 5 * dit 3 di Mulan Fig

4 a N on Von

976 Of Fefuiten and their Machinations

From Jesuits, their true and at alleged machinations to the after Goodwill of the protesters.

Among all the religious orders of the Roman Catholic Church
Did not a single person since the foundation make such a business?
proved effective in upholding Catholicism and to spread out and suppress the protesters
ken, as in the century of the Reformation founded Jesuit orders. One: has therefore called him the right arm, called the Pope's bodyguard,
and it's no wonder that the Berlin Mo= writers and their followers of this order
in their warnings about secret proselytes=
Cherey and the spread of Catholicism are remembered=
To hand him over in silence would be ges
Knowing it to be an unforgivable mistake. In all disputes... activities that our theologians have undertaken in the past year=
Hundreds of people had contact with the Catholics, their
The main opponents are always the Jesuits: opponents of Sole
Of particular importance that they also themselves among the
The Protestants' previously usual teachings gave togetherness a new twist. Because that's how it got= tends towards Luther, a great adversary of the Aristotle and the Scholastic, times on the Protestants of scholastic philosophy

were; so they saw themselves, since the Colloquium to Regensburg, where they met the Jesuits Gretser, Tanner and Hager argued, forced to look at the
| to lay scholastic philosophy in order to defeat its opponents
with the greater success, using the same weapons to be able to be ordered, which they used against the protesters used *. On the Be -. wur=
the

= 95. Brucker 155 Ci, mut Tom, wp 250 261. 8

TER, TH, * we 7
EL 0 *

*

. 5 s .
"55 | u Dr 2
to the aftermath of the protests. 7

whom the Jesuits consider the most wounded masters in Disputing with the protesters= On the Colloquium in Emmendingen in 1590.
(already seeking the help of the Jesuits). To Regens=
The Jesuits of Gretser were in Burg in the year 180.
and Tanner, the most distinguished disputants; 1608
up. your colloquium to Schwalbach paraded this Becanus and Serarius, Jesuits; on the Colloquium zu Zamelchenburg 1614 was the Je= Suit Augustin of Hildesheim, the most distinguished.
putaut. At the Colloquium in Weuburg 1561 Jesuit Reller argued against Doctor Hedi:
brunner from Tübingen, and so bey mehrern Gele= peculiarities. Various prose plants that in previous in earlier times they joined the predominantly mixed church, and were persuaded to do so by the Jesuits. The turning Jesuits Macedo, Molines and Laffari were esd,
the religious change of Queen Christ=
primarily caused by Sweden. The country=
Count Ernst of Hesse-Cassel, who in 1648 became king
Iholic Church, was primarily through Jesuits were moved. Thus, Duke Wolf= gang withelm von Pfalz Neuburg durch den Jefu= Jakob Keihing was persuaded to become the Catholic
To adopt religion, and so several. So Haberl
They also, apart from the public opponents of the protests=
stantian church, and those which are used for disposal=

The arrest of the alleged heretics. The capture of the hairy ones= test means advised “), various among themselves
had, which in a milder way the Protestants=
ten trace back to the Roman Church. sought.
. a Aas 57 Der=

N

9) Fechs Historia Collog, Emmendingenft. pag 96 27 „
* Lader. Lei Jefuiter-Hitori. Basel 2626. Page ata JJ 8 " ER

—

*

1

) f ed Von Jestiten und“ ihrer Matinationen

Jodocus Reddins / Johann were compared December and various others in the previous year; year=
The third. In general, this order has been afflicted.
among the protesters he was regarded as the one who
because of the cunning; and the name of fine fellow;
limbs, nuter ollen other order of the Roman gravel
The Protestant religion is the most dangerous of all.
be. This is not something I do as someone who is looking for the Pasquillantian letter writer in the January piece 178 of the Monsts Scripture affiliated with the Jesuits

sein ssolt, befannt; sodern das sind alles lauter

Autobiographical things that no one familiar with history would know.
Unknown find: J. Yes even, what of the Ver=
: Heathens of the Jesuses from the famous Veisen=

the bookseller Friedrich Nikolai and the Ber=

The question posed to the Zion Guards is not a new one.

Cover. Even the aforementioned Jesuit^{Hi}

eri, which was printed 160 years ago, gives

One of them: such a complicated message *) that one believe 4 ,fie (be the demonstrative source, us

which: those gentlemen have extracted their entire message, nd iste haben uur, was'.fle in. diefemralten Trö⁶ (ster) found, reheated, and on the current times applied. Indeed: Diefer

956

"On the methods of the Jesultan against the Protestants. S."
A3 Arenberg's History of the Jesuits Th. IL. p. 19 15 ff.

*

*
ns
"

The author also has his own chapter: · of the Je⁶
Suites Ward / Prati⁶en in the United States
“(. f. , tr, Des

1 7 dd D0. N , | a | |
©. Eucii Jesuit Historian ze p 253 .

N e) Perhaps this book belongs to the old ones

*.

22° 'Kerlegenen Tefsitifchen Büchern) of which Mr. Yrifolai

"In the appendix to the dying volume, his traveling side

zo in the note says that he read it .:

EX

\

\

!

\

2 ' en 7 . "

. \ U 5 5

er 15 ar from aa

* to the detriment of the protesters. 7s

* 7 g .

Derlanden, where one can find a whole Negister from the

"The machinations of these clergymen can be found, which one finds in the Letters and writings of a Jesuit priest discovered in Sarlingen, and in 1616 in Leuwarden in small print: the Jesuit Raufhan= titled "del", print it. If you read this...

s0et, one can often hardly bear the thought= that this writing is the foundation upon which not / only George Gordon's fine well-known oath= Meroy from the influence of Catholics on the ges valid Dutch constitution, especially The monthly writers also made their claims of the clandestine Catholicism in Holland builds hard ones. The fogaunted Secreta and pri: wvhta monitæ Societatit Nefu, the author of the Preliminary presentation 1c.) from anew= Have it printed, probably for another 9 sheets. more on the honorarium from fine publishers to er=

They are also known throughout the world. Except for the Parents' expenses of this, which took place in the years 1612. 2633. 1657. 1663. 1717. u. s. w. gemacht find, 'find man fie nicht nur in Harenbergs pragmati= fcher Geschitische des Orden der Jesuiten; fon= but also in the ninth volume of the pragmatic History of the monastic order, where they were with ver= It has been accompanied by various comments. By Among the writers, one also finds the complaints. all things mentioned, which have always been about the FJesuiten have been raised. And whoever still thinks about it not enough, the reading of Rafpar Scioppius under the name Zlphonf de Fargas 1641= e ee ee ee gege=

D) Preliminary presentation of contemporary Jesuitism, the Crusaderism, proselytizing and religion 5 Association. Germany 1986. See page 376.

v7 Of Jesuits and their machinations

Given text: Kelatio ad Reges et Principer Christianos de Stratagematis, Sophifmatis politi= eis Societatis Nufu, the two books Tuba mi vm clangens fonum, and tuba mij orem clangens forum, which came out in Amsterdam in 171; likewise the portrait au naturel des Nefuues,

Amsterdam 1731, der Nesiute en belle humeur and and other writings of this kind! in which he will find a Men= find clean things, of which there are to be It is surprising that they have not long since left the mountains; brought to the attention of monthly writers in the city, and the audience, which one considers to be incredibly un must have thought knowingly, for: fresh goods in various forms.

They are bought. I'm ignoring all of this, since I I will write a pure history of the Yennites, and alfe. fie neither to add;' nor to defend, neither to

I am not entitled to condemn, nor to speak out. Sit

They only mention me in the distance, as I am the two-year-old=

investigate the complaints which the monthly journal=
steller noch jetzt über die geführer, und die scheinheilt=

warnings that she sent to the protesters because of them=

Let the audience at the table have a good time.
The Monsts scripture does first and foremost *) the Jesuits mentioned in January 1785, where the anonymous presenter also joined the secret Mroselytenmacher of the Roman Kinche reckons, the still the conversion work among the Protestants=
ten should drive. The author of this piece knows
The audience already knew from the previous section.
as a miserable anecdote hunter and mischievous jester= CCC e ee

k * 2 5 1 4 4
ur

ö >) However, let Mr. Wikolai be honored and glorified |
=. ,His demolition has been done, which had already begun in his journey

e Kfchreibung Fin and again the carefree protestant Enough hints and warnings have been given.

—

To the detriment of the protesters. 38%

ter, who came from the regions of the empire, on the Rhine
and from Swabia, the readers heard tremendous things
of the most intrusive Catholicism
Art, and everywhere lurking disguised ones
Catholic priests told, and then after Holland, Denmark, Sweden and Russia versus know that the emirates he mentioned to search. He immediately adds, after he was escorted by those dressed in civilian clothes to Franciscans and Minorites going to Holland says that they did not complete the work of proclamation without success driven; the Jesuits are unforgettable, whom one=allent= half of all types of clothing are encountered).
The exact agreement between what this letter writer says, and what Mr. Nikos says lay in the. Supplements to the appendix to the volume detailed travel description from a letter dated 17th October 1785 on this very matter

The difference is striking. The whole difference consists of... only in that the correspondent of Mr. Wiko - Kai talks in detail, and almost makes a comment.
Tor about the letter writer's message in the Mot natural writing makes. One can hardly imagine the Ger thankfully, both letters come from a festival
that have flowed, and the strangest thing would be,
if the author of both letters were no different,
as indeed Here - Nikolai himself. This will be discussed further.
Mr. Biester and Nikolai best entertained the audience.
to instruct, and to correct any possible error
can tear things apart if they are honest and credible.
The authors of these two letters issued... But what What does the author say? He says 1) the Ier Suites are creeping around everywhere, you meet them
Aäallent=
January 1785. Page 60 n.. rn.

Ex

everything that our new Zion's guardians don't yet
the ever-existing Order of the Jesuits, and the

should have, and of their proselyte fear
They said that it was founded as if they themselves were only

| to be able to wish; that's what this whole message is about.

such a, in which every unaccustomed gene Menst either marriage, or established knowledge
senshaft: necessarily casts doubt on its author=

Ben knows. He says far too much about one side, and far too little from the other side. Had he

I only said that even now the Jesuits
not left behind by their old rim makers husband, s0d one might still somewhat=

I can thank them for their help. But now he says too much.

I think he said that one could find them everywhere,

The most damaging thing to bourgeois peace and society=

The extremely harmful mistrust is caused by the=

He spread a smear campaign. Nobody if more certain whether he is not in- fine, proven u

long-time friends embraced a Jesuit;

Yes, no community of the Scriptures is certain whether or not,

their preacher and schoolteacher, a secret Jesuit fey 1. If the author of this essay were to be of interest to us not already from the previous section as a person known for the most malicious intentions;

So one could exonerate him from the fact that he with

This anecdote lacked the distance, mistrust

to spread in the honest community. But there

we already mentioned him in the previous section.

examined and can be found on page 63 of the monthly journal

lichen Aemönze als einen Partisan des freigeiste=

to know of the riish conspiracy, so lies his spiteful ab=

It is evident during the day that he, with subtle pretense, har

| meet

382 Of Jesenzen and their Wlachinattons

Kalenchalben on. If one also assumes that

The enclosure that the ex-Jesuits still have among themselves

)

gm Madhteibder wokkftanten— 363

terffe allenthalben Sefuiten—an 1c., suspicion and |

Distrust among the protesters is growing;
He has an addiction. But he also says on the other hand...

Far too little: because everywhere there is much

"A long address. Looking for someone who..."
half-existed should, and yet be seen by someone will! Did the author intend to:
Truly fine. To become a contemporary; that's how he would have been.
ibnen better and more accurate news
must. His message arrived immediately.
great fact that spares us all the horrors of Krynto=Katholicis mus and the secret Piofatgr Tenmacheren should show. But to talk about: Thatsa=
chen to judge, say the monarswritingstollet
They themselves must be precise and with all due respect.
to be presented; but beer is served with the

: Bublikuny shamelessly a true blind man=

cube game driven..

The author says 2) one would meet them in all N.

Types of clothing. Are these the exact ones?
Circumstances; for may Heaven have mercy! This Was the old one already built by Lucius 160 years ago?
the Jesuiter= Historia presented to the world;

And now, German audience, once again the Aur

gen, and take the history of Lucius Jesuiter into the hands; the letter writer also has these in Mr.

Nifolai's journey was ridden, there you will also find the Cambilfen *) citirt, from soft Lucius fline
The entire message was taken, I asked. So, one of them writes...

the others out, and what happened 160-180 years ago
that should have happened, or that actually happened, that
The audience, which one considers to be extremely

8 ; e 1 8 er eg stupid

09 1788 257 ff: Appendix to the dying volume in the Bey=

5th gen. = „ee er

au 9 & - 4

r. * 25

E „ Ze 5 „ 0 3 7 “ad: x

*

3 \ *

BR

.

484 R on Jesus and their Machinadións

must think stupidly and ignorantly, and proceed in the same way again=

It presents itself as if it were really happening in the present.

The only witness to these disguises (namely, in to the full extent, as you have described to us here

Cambilfon remains. From this he writes Lucius out, and out. the Lucius of the commentary=

tor of the piece in the Berlin monthly journal, nãm=

Mr. Nikotai's alleged letter tray. –

But this letter writer says he himself has been sent=
They saw: what then? Really dressed up like that?

Jesuits in uniform and with feathered hats? No,
He doesn't say that; but rather which ones he had in mind.
to point the finger, so ambiguous and be=

–

Her behavior was questionable. Can one imagine something more sinful, more perilous, and of humankind=

societåt nachtheiligers denken, als folche Jefuitenrie=
dear? Which honest man is now in
The state is certain that it will not be affected by such malicious acts.

People, if he has the misfortune to give them two= to appear ambiguous and questionable, for a Je= suites were first held by them, for as such an whispered to them, and finally generally infamous.

Will they be? Much has been said about the damage caused by Physiognomy was preached; but this certainly goes far beyond that, much further. Say the postman, both in interest.

section of the monthly publication as in the Nikolai · An= hange, where he encountered these disguised Jesuits,
who they were, what kind of clothes they wore
had hidden; or he is a dishonorable slander=
he who only disturbs the peace of society, and

People are addicted to making other people suspicious.

For it is readily admitted that Jesuits formerly

where their convenience required, in bourgeois

) Nikolai's Appendix, page 155. g |

to the detriment of the protesters. 38

Clothing hidden, as is also the case in some places
Protestant countries, Catholic clergy of all World known, not to appear in their religious robes,
so as not to be mistreated by the uncomprehending rabble
However, becoming one remains such a thing that the whole world is afraid of.
thought-provoking waving of human hearts
Shaft extremely detrimental. – But even more so... give: even 180 years ago the Jesuits, and they still do. What is the purpose of this war?
nung? Are we perhaps therefore in a great state of uncertainty?
Farther in danger than 180 years ago? Which Zion?
You have a watchdog, good audience! | 5
The Jesuits return in the April play.
variously. Mr. Biester appears in the same As is well known, for the first time publicly under his Names to refute Mr. 7 y.
How wonderfully he took himself in the process, what arms!
He was at fault for both his bliss and his imperfections.
let him come, where he even comes from the
I believe it was about alleged proselytizing.
As already shown in the previous section. Here he says
Now, Mr. Beaster: that the Roman court was completely un= believe always active on the (apparent or (secret) spread of his system of ka= Tholian doctrine and beliefs, finer here=
rarchical intentions and his power, imglei=
chen on the (overt or covert) underpressure=
kung of all dissenters, whom he calls heretics scolds, has been thoughtful, and still is, and that the Jesuits, from their inception to the present day,
the day here in which he is the most faithful of the hũl=
as demonstrated by the Roman court, is so agreed and proved that only he who to publicly feign ignorance or secretly abstain=
| Bb view

388 Of Jesuits and their Machinations

(who wants to enforce views, but can deny it). What
As the Jesuits say, beer is only good for ice cream.
regularly. And that the Jesuits formerly considered themselves ardent defenders of the Roman court and the Farhos
liish church and its doctrines, as just as zealous Opponents of Protestantism and proselytes
as has been shown, is a well-known fact=
che. And even if they sometimes defer to the payst s0ich showed disobedience, as on the occasion of their Chinese trade, and on other occasions, of which Lucius already cites examples *); fo was
They won't do it anymore if they're against the pro= test subjects argued. But whether they are still present, the great supporters and defenders of the Roman

Hofes, these busy proselyte-makers are and can be who they formerly were, and that therefore the protesters because of her, out of fear and anxiety Jesuits may be seized by convulsions
That's certainly still very much the question. I doubt it.
very much so, and perhaps among my readers I will be even more
some have, who are bothered by the noise and shouting not immediately terrified by the new Zionist guards lets himself be hunted. Mr. Beast claims the opposite.
and says that to this day, namely until March 21, 1785, on which his fine refutation of Mr. T-y to the world brought, s0wieden als die treuest hilfër des r0= have shown the mixed farm here. With which But does he prove this claim? Does he perhaps bring... some, or even just a leafy fact by,
where they the rights and principles of the Roman Ho= fes, who completely abolished it in 1773, defended it, and
nn | | some,
) Monthly publication April 1785 Page 366.
* Jefuiier=Histori page. 543 361.

Sr
"

1 fi
f
1
1

\

—

/

Jum, disadvantage of the Protestants. 2387

some, or even just one patron of any
 Did someone convert to Catholicism and grow a beard?
 Not a single one of these. Mr. Beast
 He is merely content with the fact that he, as he already has been done, and of which the previous section Evidence will have been found, the unproven as Proven to the world, and in doing so says that=
 soes fen jo ausgemacht und erweisen, dass u. s. w.
 But at the same time, to allow anyone who dares to try it to do so,
 and to contradict his associates, the mouth
 to quash and paralyze the hand, he explains to everyone,
 who would deny this, not only for the ignorant,
 but in his well-known malicious way
 He also makes him suspicious when he says: only he,

who publicly feign ignorance, or wants to enforce his own secret intentions, can deny it. Who will now gladly stand up for us?

 to be kept in the knowledge, or fine fellow citizens
 want to be suspected as a man, who is in cahoots with the Jesuits, from

Catholics are being persecuted, and secret intentions=

wants to enforce it? Can a Spanish Inquisitor... sitor den. to drive religious despotism higher than from Mr. Diester, the literary despotism is being driven? And yet he is one of the demü= active authors of the Berlin monthly journal.

If that isn't a ravenous wolf in sheep's clothing
fare, so there are none left, and it's about time,

that ever the honest man of the public, to whom fine lit-Terraristic freedom has not become entirely indifferent, and so much noble German spirit still remains stayed idly, so as not to immediately strain his neck
to bend the yoke that these despots had placed upon him want to throw his neck, appearing powerful, this
to put an end to this shameful trade.

3 Bb 2 Es

—

388 Of Jesuits and their Machinations

It is true, the Jesuits celebrate in white=
Reuss still held their order, of which I later

I will speak; it is further true that they will last even longer in various regions of the Prussian monarchy away, because the governments have revoked their lifting= decree, which was issued without the approval of the Prussian High Court

It was written, not to be written with one hand. But This continuation, what does it prove that it still present the same faithful helpers of the Roman court for the overt and secret out= spread of Catholicism and suppression of the
What about those who think differently, whom they once were?
It's true, four [articles] are being written about the ex-Jesuits in Bavaria.
Le complaints were brought, as over people who were the upstarts.

oppose clarification in Bavaria with all available means,

and to preserve the old stupidity and superstition
ten and to seek to promote. But even if all

These complaints are largely justified;

and the genius of our age the same in nothing
has increased; what danger arises from everything
This to Protestantism? Do they thereby he something different that particularly affects them as Jesuits,
and that they do not associate with other Catholic clergy,
What do those who are still of the old school have in common?
And if they are still in their completely al= in Bavaria
ten constitutions would be, yes, even an empire there as in Paraguay, and from there the
The Pope's rule was fiercely defended, as She was merely the stupidest zealot in the Roman hierarchy can defend, and with an army of writers=
ten, rüftig und hamisch wie Berliner Monatsschrift=
steller, the most refined doctrines of scholasticism theology claimed, and Protestantism Kuhn denied it; what business is that of us? Not one.

once the neighboring Catholic Austria would

through:

To the detriment of the test subjects. 989

daduech um eine Schritt in š seiner Fortgauge in delayed the enlightenment and church improvement
will; how much less has also the Protestant
I must get some of that! It's true, the famous Particular bookseller Mr. Friedrich Nikolai, Sen.
Beast's dearest friend, has us in fine Beylai
a Latin letter *) of the Jesuit Ben= zel zu Baden submitted, which provided an exact calculation=
nung contains, according to which Lutherans, Neformite .
ten and Jews, together 134 to the Catholic Church'
who crossed over, But first not in the Bat think, as one might easily think, but rather on various places, such as Schaffenburg, Bamberg
berg, Fulda, Seidelberg, Mainz, in Böh= men, Neustadt an der Hardt, etc. Next partly people whose proselytism, after precisely this depth, which Catholics have no special [unclear]
which brings honor; as girls who are in their parents to expose, tightrope walker, a preacher's son who – driven around among the comedians, and fine
So, it probably wasn't a cause for celebration for the father, and so=

even a – thief). – And finally, when were BBB 63 0d deiefe

) Appendix to the travel supplement F. p. 166. HE % Ben uns Pratefstauten ist es freplich nicht Sitte, folche Mus to create lists of newly labelled items. If one wanted to
"but that loss which the Protestants suffered through Jesus"
"to judge those who suffered according to the standard by which the Berlusconi, the opposing armies through Des

"" 'sereurs and weavers suffer, brought to justice will; so might easily such boxes of Catholics who
"you have passed over to the Protestants, to be rebelled;
W was not so numerous, since we were focusing on proselytizing.
13 not going out, and our deformation folds so poor=

I find them, but they are all the more valuable for their inner content, because they 5 ö selten

A

390 Of Jesuits and their Machinations ,

These sheep were led to Peter's stable? (An-)
no. 1767, so six years before the abandonment of the Je= suites. – It is true, this famous traveler, who sees to the bottom of all things, which
To put Professor Garve down so much, and to... himself, his own insights into secular history=
te and church history, old and new Catholic Literature, and the leisure he gave himself, with so many compliments can be offered *), that one

I almost came to the conclusion that it was not quite right with the man anymore, but rather...
His admirers had turned his head; it Rarely, but guided by truth alone, to us come. And against a couple of such men, one can probably leave that troop to the ancestors even now, without fearing that our good Zion will lack inner strength want to lose, and be overwhelmed from the outside.

9 Appendix to the 7th volume of Nikolai's Travels p.

13. Whether Garve the philosopher at this chat

"I, can one defend oneself against the laughter of a fine opponent?"

What might he have been thinking as he read, which even Mr. Nikolai said on the occasion of the reception of the ö Mainzer Monatsschrift in die allg d Bibliothek 71. Band

2. St. S 62 s setzen lassen: wie wenig Ehre macht

the authors were dissatisfied with all the talk they had in their Journal driven by their journal. Men who

to have a good thing, to overrule the judgment on it=

about the understanding world that will surely sort things out, what

that is. and do not lavish praise and ruffling feathers.

mentes from good friends, neighbors, and strangers=

named, and neither the Woblan status, nor the | Consideration of which writers they

—

The fact that the audience must appear allows them much of themselves.

to speak for oneself, and such things are of no significance.

Proof of their worthiness in forced births

to attach certain things. a

|
i
|

— — — — —

to the Kachthel of the Protestants. f 391 |

is EN this famous and himself even more

Mr. Nikolai, who was sorrowful, has a great deal to say about the Je;

suites, their still present existence, and their terrible influence felt. But with everything, be=

With a sigh, he looked at the matter closely.

nothing but a fabric of conjectures delivered and hints that indicate the true existence of the ghost=

stes, which he everywhere, like the ghost to Ge= hofen, poltern und werfen hört, annuelligen follen).
I will say more about this in this section.
To have the opportunity to talk. – It's true, one has Jesus should be found everywhere=
ten talked, who were in all sorts of clothes, and what The most horrifying thing is that they are even in uniform, so with the rapier even on the side and with a feather= guard as if they were army lieutenants general or cavaliers were, should appear. For He
They are appearances in any case, the appearances of the,
God be with us! in ene e “equal” *).

But

i 5) And who would stand up for that, Mr. Nikolai not like the confessing farmer at ZAlofterlangheim Banz (Tires B 1. p. 08) has been published, and how this for one – fourteen saints, so Mr. Nicholas, if through finely heated imagination and fine of
The serene atmosphere brought from house to house brightens the eyes
They have become gläfern, on fine tires instead of one, often four.
He saw ten Jesuits, and he separated himself from this evil gang.
5 as if besieged, N
5 Sometimes, enlightenment is a strange thing Thing She also attacked the devil, and –
He was exegesisted away, disputed away. I doubt whether the Messrs. Nikolai, Beaster and associates still to his Believe in existence. They would probably have found it by now.
to be able to let them, but their evil genius wanted that through their enlightenment they find a different evil spirit he= create

292 Of Jesuits and their Madjinations

But whether the gentlemen would immediately detect such Jesuit sentiment
babem want that she immediately with her finger deu=

ten could be suspicious of this person or that person;

So they haven't given us one yet. Deun that she is the most tasteless, stupidest of me.
most shameful lie inscribed into the world, and | that the spirit who inspired her then, the father

I will later prove that all of them were lies.

gend darthun. – Your entire story of maskir=

The ten Jesuits lurking around are nothing but the old Legend, from which Lucius and Cambilfon are borrowed,

had to create the Jesuit spirit, the Jesuit Teu.
fel. To describe the exterior of this new devil |
with the same attributes with which the old devil,
if old women, or fearful children, material b
imagine, equipped, only that they had the dragon's tail, have not yet explored the goat's horns and the cloven hoof= have company. However, in contrast, also the interior of their
The more terrible the new devil's striving and actions, |
more terrible and hideous. For example, the old poor N
The devil should widen a funny head that he f
to have made it their own and still had great pleasure: }
But the new barbaric devil makes people stupid, 15
nail their brains shut, twist their heads, \
It darkens and cripples the mind. Old Zeus fel, if he had possessed a human being, Fontte nevertheless not least that his presence was soon discovered:
deer neue aber ist von fo subtiler volatiler Natur, dass
Some people might not even know that they are ibn in his claws. This goes so far that it releases the 1
U

*
--

NMonatsschreiber are not sure of being bullied by him become, and a wire puppet or a thin stick in fat to be in someone's hand. At least their power goes over
They have already gone so far that they constantly look at themselves in a concave mirror.
from him must be toughened; in the: they are all fright= figurative figures are seen. EBEN Be 7

—

to the detriment of the proteflants. 393

and our age through unproven claims adapted, or rather fabricated. That is So everything that followed Mr. Bie's statement.

 sters fer so ausgemacht und erweisen fen fon solt, dass
 only those who publicly display ignorance or wants to carry out secret intentions, it is
 In this very piece, in which Mr.
 Beasts has shown so many wonderful sides,
 Does he also come when he is visited by the missionaries and the appeal made to convert the Protestants=
 stalten speaks to the Jesuits, and tells us the
 The long-known truth that no part of the Roman clergy have always been more active and artistic more experienced in these missions than the Jesuits,
 from Dresden to China, from Sid» America
 until Sweden under all sorts of forms and They knew how to make their teachings palatable. Al=
 These are facts that tell the story.
 attested). Of course, I now find this undeniable Facts; the only small question that can be asked here:
 The only thing that must be raised is this one; Do it
 this still currently with the same or even greater danger to the prote=
 Standing? Because isn't that precise and thorough?
 proven; so is all the crying about their former Proselytes just make blind noise. What was not everything on Philip's invincible fleet one fitted to convert the heretical Englishmen and to punish them for their heresy! Fear them!
 A Briton even now? – And now Mr.
 Diefter on a highly important message, namely on that which is in the Jesuit Stephen Tuc= Bee Br 1 5 SE cius
) Page 361. 366q2r. 5

* –

394 Of Jesuits and their Machinations

cius, who died in 1597, funeral oration on Gre=
 gor XIllten von den verfschien zur Bekehrung
 the protesters' actions.

One has to wonder how a man can be so un=

can be ashamed of things that are almost to refer to events that happened 200 years ago.
 to derive something from it for our times; and thinks perhaps Mr. Beaster will thus save us the bustle to prove the Jesuits 200 years ago; that is how it is There is also something flawed here. Because from the fact that Tuccius, who delivered the funeral sermon, a ser

The fact that all of Gregory's suits were designed does not necessarily mean that all of t
XIII. made conversion institutions Jesuitical Mes=
sions were; and what does all this prove for the present in every respect changed Zeis ten? But Mr. Beaster isn't talking about ice.
for the Jesuits and their conversion institutions before 200 years, he artificially drags all this into our lives=

re times with over, and says at the words of the Tuccius, Dillinganum Germanis, in a pas

rentese: to Dillingen, the residence of the bishop
from Augsburg, and a Catholic university,
Is such a seminar therefore appropriate for all of us?
lays. That's why something existed 200 years ago=
That's why it still exists. Where is the Jesuit institution for the conversion of Protestants in Dillingen, in Vienna, in Braunsberg? I I find it hard to believe that one can play the juggling game with could drive the audience further than is possible here=

will be driven. – But how far will the matter go?
Now, if one goes with these secret men, one should as can be seen in some newer books, and there they are we then on Mr. Nikolai's tires and mist=

those brochures, including the monthly magazine

*

is counted itself, quite indefinitely "

U.N

Fe to the detriment of the protesters. 39

Now Mr. Nikolai has certainly told us enough about his
He tells fantasies, and he has plenty of followers.

found; but of established, of all chi= Marian additions and enlargements free Bes know that poses a greater danger to us, or only a just as large as in which our ancestors before 200 years ago, there were, with good reason to fear, asked
He didn't even present us with a single one. Mr.
Diester finishes his beer with a deep reverence, which he does to the postman of the Jannerstuck, and the May he then make it for him in the name of all those who are short-sighted enough to read an apparent anecdote=

hunters and malicious liars for petty pettiness

To give thanks, or to scatter incense *).
But Mr. Beast will return again in this Essay on the Jesuits, and says: Since Authe=
The many activities of the Jesuit order in Europe are secret connections to certain mystical Work has resumed fairly quickly, and as everyone knows, still in full swing gone. The Jesuses have been gone since that abolition.
Naturally much more scattered and much more diligently supporting oneself=
to create connections and relationships; and so it occurs
Since then, unknown people have also been everywhere
fchen, die, falst sie bey jemand befarrjär nei=
ung to some familiar connections bemer=

n, to emerge from their darkness, and to attach themselves to offer. Wherever the cricket leads, there is one for them.
ley; they can serve with everything. If one wants, Al=
Chemistry, magic, gnosis, religious connection,

Renewal of former facilities: always fin=
DE a | . det

"Deserved," cries Beast now, "no thanks yet for such fine work?"
No! Because it is more harmful than other forms of idleness.
S. Gellert's fable, The Spider.

the Bon Jesuits and their machinations

|
det man freiwillige Gefährten u. s. w.). Herr Diefter once again reveals himself here as a mere declarer= mator. Since the suppression of the Jesuit Order are the many secret holidays in Europe
Has it really gotten going? How are you talking?
He said nothing about things, nothing at all about you.
Hehe! Weren't they already in place long before the abolition?

enough secret connections for the Jesuits=
Is it underway? Hasn't it been since the year...?
1763, so years before the suppression of the Jesuits,
at least four to five special companies us
The Freymåuvern were in full swing. And Who do the so-called secret societies belong to?
unknown from much earlier times? Has it been unknown since then?
The Jesuit era has only just begun. From alchemy,
Magic, and why bother with an incomprehensibly ignorant person?
Even if Gnosis is considered a religious term, it is one of the religions.
Connection and renewal of former connections=
To talk more than before? But I will tell you fen point in the section on secret society= examine them particularly thoroughly. It seems It's impossible to even get to the point where Mr. Beasts can't be expected to know whether base the one who puts forward what he presents, thoroughly or unfundamentally=
I, whether true or false, if he only declaims,
and with fine declamations the audience beer
can en and numb.
What Mr. Beast still knows about existence
| the Jefuts in Russia (I will ask) before
Go over the end of this section in particular.
I'll note here that for now I'm only saying this much. So long.
The members of this order are not yet fans and fon?
Ders u) des n hand on ie
2 FOR: a 0
9 Ari 1755. . Page 377 m. u, U |
* Page 278. 22.

)

to the detriment of the bread nukes.-.: 397

bb the tolerant Berlin monthly writers the

To intend to call upon the world to do so, let

"there they are 90. must these and 0

"Even if one wants to disregard all others, then..."
so much is striking that the claims of Berlin's Teium Virat against the Jesuits often in the highest terms Straight over the top, and fall into the adventurous.
In particular, Mr. Mikolai's zeal goes so far as to...
that he in the 4th volume, page 499, in the note to the great
sen Rubens eins abgeben, dass er sich unterstand, ab=
furde Saints » Legends of Ignaz Lojola and Franz

Xaver / to propagate by fine brush, as if

These are the only paintings of their kind, and not also from other monastic orders of the same kind would exist, which –not even to consider the phemdnischmsthologischen images, *which are so highly valued by enthusiasts and connoisseurs.

He can't even imagine a Jesuit painting without...

Jufammenfahren anschau, und muthet dem guten Ru=

Bens in stinem Aerger zu, dass er billig schon damals

with his inimitable pen against the Jesuiteror=

He should have gone to war. Even about that...

Mr. Nikolai realizes that he is in the Piariftenf school.

Vienna, found an ex-Jeffite as a French language master.

Sbollen denn die vielen Jesuiten nach aufg eh obenem Orden

5 can no longer earn their bread at all? Where do they fall?

with the people, if you don't want to kill them will! Should they, then, in the world into which they, after a revocation of their order were reinstated,

to do absolutely nothing, not move arms or feet anymore,

and no longer be allowed to interact with any living soul?

Criticism that is just as unwarranted as it is malicious is also permitted.

Mr. Nikolai B. VII. p. 138 in the note on the Jefui= ten in Augsburg, that they according to Graun and Kamler the

to have the death of Jesus performed, 5108 because they the known

chung in the newspapers attached "there could also have been pros test subjects listened to the music with emotion, and the performance,

The performance of such a magnificent piece is better than the 18 years old.

398 Of Jesuits and their Machinations

but have a place where they live and breathe

They can. But they may be in whatever state of being.

and constitution they want, the outcry about

5 | | j fie

old Paffion comedies. But if it is true that they Ramler's Death of Jesus according to Graun's Composition through the

To have seminarians perform, that's how it is, under the general=

my accepted premise that in the Catholic schools and monasteries are more common than...

It was very easy for us to focus on the music, that

Protesters, for whom it was all the same whether the Mu=

fi of cursed ex-Jesuit or orthodox pro=
performed by testamentary hands, which thereby caused a stir and took part. And that this was better than the discontinued old Passtons comedies,
That is indeed a truth that has lost none of its power.
lost, because it comes from a Jesuit mouth. Since the ab= tasted Passstons combinations from the authorities=
Since it was forbidden and prohibited, it was right that the Je= suites did not further favor them. Did they want such But defying the authorities, they had to... wait until they are finally given the craft with emphasis= was laid; since they now followed the command of the authorities= come, and him by their gaze, which they at the shoe= have, support, and even work towards ensuring that more cost-effective pastry jobs will be introduced Now Mr. Nikolai attacks them, and since he is in Since he can't quite grasp the main point, he composes something for it=
no particular intentions and precisely from these intentions=
ten is indeed one, where not blameless, but very too apologize. For why should those who are so hated apologize?
Jesuits of the world are not allowed to say that they too
I am still able to do good if I am effective.
Have they done anything good? Or are they not allowed to do anything?
Nothing good can come of it anymore! Mr. Nikolai himself says in various places that there are still learned and arrestable men among the Jesuits, and elsewhere
He calls upon them, they from the evil principles of their or= dens

to the detriment of the protesters. 399

They never end. They last as Jesuits still ongoing, as in Russia and some Ge= the Prussian monarchy; thus it is considered a proof against them was used, that they were quite not wanting to stop, indeed, that the Roman court itself

Don't let this support be torn away as easily as you might think.
If they continue as exessuits, then this is again
a proof against them, their secret machinations=
nen, and the larger ones coming from the side Dangers, since they do not disappear when the skirt is removed;
To be what they were, Jesuits. No one deres Mittel so, in that one can either put them all there=

rich=

to loosen it. If a Jefuit now wants to stir; immediately
Mr. Nikolai is after him. Does he write more tolerably?
as fine predecessors; so he makes him popular with Protestants and Catholics are suspected. Does he deign to follow the rules?
Lack of authority; that's a malicious attitude; leads
He even played music borrowed from protesters; so does he attribute to him the intention that he thereby intended to prosecute the Protestar Kurz, the Jesuit, wanted to play back to the papacy.
He may do what he wants, so he cannot be the scourge of the Lord.
Nixolai cannot escape if he does not first have an Er= Permit from the famous bookkeeper in Berlin has caught up. But even if the Jesuits in corpore et individus die abgeweimtessten Bõsewichter fern, which Whether they exist or not, for all I care; that's just how it is.
However, examples of scoundrels who were already under the Having stood on the gallows, one has improved oneself. Does one want to for some Jesuits even deny all improvement=
Chen? Is such a character present at her inauguration?
indelebilis nequitiae had been poured into them, that no sin-Gulus would be more capable of improvement! Not leading, after whose order was destroyed, still no good in to affect the world? Certainly such silly things as an end.
Firstly, ill-tempered sentiments spread a wonderful co=
lorit over the entire epimature of the Zion Watchers!

400 Of Zefuites and their Machinations

to quichten lafse, or the necessary, to hang oneself, or to drown. If only they don't come back.
men, not among the protesters, proselytes dare to do it, and surely our Authorities can keep a watchful eye, can
It! I thought, we protesters are very indifferent to it.

whether they are in Belarus, Russia, Crimea or otherwise exist in a distant corner of the earth. The more

Furthermore, the better. m | 9
But Mr. Beaster says: At the same time, they appear throughout the entire time (except for their occasional in connection with those mentioned inner organs=
(the) also repeatedly to achieve more consistency have, in public connections, partly with old and well-known orders united, partly un=

under the names of entirely new orders, e.g.
the brotherhood of the cross, the brotherhood=
- tung to the heart of Jesus, for the devotion of the knights of the Holy Sepulchre, etc.). That these Ers Appearance of Jesuits in public fraternities
real and not a beastly and Nikolaic one Ghosts are here, and we will not be treated with anything again.
meadows, but beyond all objections,
Assuming they were. But supposing they were; what's going on?
Does all this apply to us protesters? Perhaps under the Catholics, and thousands of ex-Jesuits brotherhoods and sisterhoods to the cross or to the crown of thorns, to the heart, or to any one
. f | ans

") Page 379 380. This seems to be Mr. Beast from the ex-

to have borrowed the impartial, where $. 72. num. 6 this

Three fraternizations occur. Mr. Beaster cites this.
Not the author. But I'm leading the audience to it so that...
It looks like one of these gentlemen is always looking out at the other.
writes. by Bee

70

to the detriment of the protesters. 401

other parts of Jesus' entrails will be donated;
What harm does all this do to us protestants? But the Don Inigo's sons hide in such places.
White! They were already hiding 160 years ago.

- 180 years after Lucius and Cambilhon.

Do we have to tremble more than our ancestors, or is our theological knowledge running out
Have you come? He who is afraid betrays a bad [something].
Thing. – But they also hide in those he=

He thought he was part of an inner order. Which one? In Frey?
Masonic order under the Templars and Rosicrucian Order=
Zern? I'll declare this here as a taste test.
The stupid add, and I fear Mr. Beast has
On this occasion, he sat on a horse that will throw him completely into the mud, so stately he even now over two years this Para deur ge= rode around, performed all sorts of capers, in front of them= drums were played, and a large entourage of

He had admirers who followed him around,
But now let the audience hear what Mr. Bie=
st bier noch zum Schluss zusatz: So fonder=
"Bar," he says, "are things only listed according to the weather?"
nigen, what I learned of it through credible hearing=
say, (whoever knows more, let him be hereby informed) (I was asked to say this to several people!) with this fer abolished society Fesu, and with some secret ties linked to her (bindings). And which ones are the sources?
from which Mr. Beaster received fine important news drawn from? Precisely the dirty source from which all old washerwomen who with their mouths the
To poison the world, to create, namely 3 ö=
Rensaim! Is that the source from which a re
5 C €

402 Of Sefuites and their Machinations

the one who is in an ebreamte figt, the Doctor Juris, who
A librarian, and indeed anyone who is not an old

A woman must create? Say so! What a Source! Sorbian legends, when the storyteller, who read berträger, der Oberflüsterer noch fo fehr feine Glaube= worthiness was affirmed, Zorensaying, what a Source! Mr. This had such wretchedness.
ster, if he still had some feeling, to himself Cheaply fehemen should be. And yet everyone still gets from

He was challenged, whoever knows more, to tell him the more=

to say. Hey. Each beast behaves so beer itself as the man at the address Comtesie

on, at which everyone puts a fine little note into the ten can submit ftecchen. Anyone who trusts him even more=
Anyone who can should contact him. Disgusting!
Shame. Is this a writer in the learned field?

In May, an anecdote is told about the ex-Jesu=
ten Franz Xaver de a. before, who in

Year 1781–83, a new edition for Augsburg
from the well-known Mouveau Dichiondire Historique
Have it printed, and leave everything out of it,

what the authors of this work said about the Jesuit

Neidhart said, "I begged, the confessor of the kings."
Maria Anna of Spain, and a similar one.

He was more stupidly proud than a groveling man. –

It is quite right that this literary nonsense from
to the unnamed author of this essay here
This is done so that the buyers are not cheated.
to buy a counterfeit edition. But whether that's actually the case.
through this falsification a witness to the truth
more from the world should be created, let
I have been placed there, and I believe for certain that
The Jesuits have a lot to do washing, and never
They should be able to cope with it if they undertake it.

= woll=

N.

Bin 0 2" . Sl

mung every: Unperflanbes still quite unbelievable
"2

to the detriment of the protesters. 403

wanted to wash away all the flaws that had affected their attached to members of the order. But that an Erjefuis ten, like Feller, did not take the place of Neidhart

That he could be liked was probably natural; and that he became Falsification of the book, and not rather to the defacement of the book.

the attack on Neidhart, if he could have,
seized, remains dishonest and bad ').

In the July issue of the monthly journal, we have again with her. To do with bles, where he felt himself.
dares to refute Professor Garve. How
He knows that he has succeeded well in this piece of work.
Readers already know this from the previous section. Mr. Bie=
Ster whines that our enlightenment is still lacking.
I haven't gotten as far as one might think. And I

I think he is right about this, and Mr. Garve is wrong.

Ignorance and imagination are always

Border neighbors. I think so too, Mr. Beast.
to be a very enlightened, knowledgeable man,
who can probably put a Garve in his place, and asked yet so much striking evidence of the greatest Ge= Genheil given. But if Mr. Beaster now
It diminishes that it is the bigotry, the methodical

The stupidity of the cheeky mockery of the venerable Reason and all thorough science= ten, the sworn alliances against the

On clarifying the reckless and even the bos= liable corruption of our growing next generation=
world, the greatest and most shameless ignorance=
heit, the rawest brutality, the thoughtless=

Indifference towards everything is truly important=

ge, the clumsiest and most deceitful superstition=
Bens and the barbaric slavery in Anneh=

| much
Monthly journal. May, p. 475 ff. |

404 Of Jesuits and their Machinations

gives much, and then says that the Jesuits do not

Jesuits would have to be if they were free from this imposition

Tklärung nicht Nutzung machen folten*), fo vers:

This warrants further examination. – Zuge

There are still many bigots among us;
We just have to face Mr. Beasts, as a Secure a man who has declared himself a deist,

that he does not consider all warm attachments to be hypocrisy

I understand the connection to Christianity at the same time;

And that is regrettable. But that will be the case with everything.
Don't stop reforming and enlightening. (Scum)
tigkeit is also one of the diseases of our

Times, and the worst of it, which really makes them to distinguish, is, as Mr. Beaster says from his own ore Experience has taught us that shallow people like to

They wanted to be writers and enlighteners. By
But I have yet to encounter any methodological madness.

nothing born, unless one had to un the Gordoniads
We can expect that to happen in due time, and Mr. Beaster will.
I don't want to. That's exactly how little I know about ice!

nem cheeky mockery of the venerable Ver

nunft and re Wiffenfchaften. Here need to explain in more detail. Names
he made the cheeky mockery 'about the venerable Ders

Mr.

The fact that Christians still believe things that which we cannot comprehend with our reason,

that we still accept mysteries of faith,
that the words of Jesus, our divine Liver, are given to us

holier and more credible than all conclusions
our reason, and that we laugh at it and be=
last, if you are exposed to bright sunlight

Delnden naturalists consider nothing else to be true.

want, as something they can grasp with their hands, whether
| no

"Julius 1785. Page 72. 72."

e

9 to the detriment of the protesters. 405

not to think that she herself is an irresolvable...

liches Räzel find, and it always in this out star will remain in its position; does that mean it's cheeky?

Mockery of venerable reason? Well, yes,

Thank goodness! So we're not quite there yet.

who wants us. – Sworn bond=

Arguments against the Enlightenment: I know of none,

One would then have to consider the oaths on the symbolic books.

I can count on that. I confess myself, I am with I was not entirely satisfied with it, and I believed that they had to be mitigated. But the Berlin monastic writers have so much

| to inadvertently betray their entire intention,

that they, in fact, only pointed out during their enlightenment

to distinguish ourselves from pure Deism=

ben, and us a naturalistic papacy to throw over my neck, so that I am now from my=
I have returned to a well-intentioned prejudice;
and I think theologians and constistories, to whom
...or the preservation of religion is of utmost importance,
will be invoked in the future on these alleged ones=
nen connections against the Germanic Auf kl  e

Keep the manly ring. But everything together...
Take all the calculations Mr. Beaster is making here,
Ignorance, shallowness, bigotry, superstition=

Is that alone a disease?
of our century? The methodological madness

the new Gordoniad, which brings our to an end

characterized by the coming century, at ultimum oc-

ceupet scabies, alone excepted, has everything

that was already found in previous times,

and our philosophical Enlightenment thinkers had to

to know that where there is much light, there is also much shadow, and this stands out all the more sharply. What have

So the Jesuits in our times, what they do not do in = Ce 3 den

406 Of Zefintes and their Machinations

in the previous ones too, and even better than now.
Can I use it? I can't find anything in the entire register.

nothing but methodical madness, and get almost tempted, however difficult it is for me to resist=

it will take time, that perhaps the author of the gibberish revelation of the world citizen=Re=
It may have been publicly correct that we
by introducing naturalism to the papacy want to convert. Because pure Deism and Na= Tourismism is the creed of our

Gordons. – Mr. Garve had Mr. Beasters

Statements about the alleged efforts to
The ruin of the protesters, as he himself says,
a sharp-witted canonical argument opposed;
and Mr. Biester now counters this with:
Why should the Jesuits, who are always so active working on their dissemination, even now
not followers and thus to lose power=
Create, search? Now that they need it more than ever.
are allowed to, since they gain a lot from it and it is difficult= (may lose something, etc.). Since I this entire passage already in the previous section=
te investigated, and the deliberate distortion of the Garveschen's words, and the juggling act that with brought to light by the public,
I can skip over them here. The only thing I'm referring to is...

I want to draw the reader's attention to this, babe, is this, that Mr. Biester from the former Be= efforts of the Jesuits, on their possible against= waiting closes, without even the slightest hint of it to think that the lakes are immensely different from all others has changed pages; that even if this would not be, from the possibility the ä

| | BE gnninRicht

Julius 1785. Page 17.

-- —

\

to the detriment of the protesters. 407

does not follow, and that Mr. Beaster is here to take action regarding the effective to prove ability to rely on already conducted experiences wise calls which he did not lead, did not deliver

asked, and finally look forward to what he will tell us in the future.

refers to the facts to be delivered, and thus already the Believe and the applause of the audience prånuwen
wants to have it, without knowing if the goods,

which he delivers, also what is worth it, and fine workmanship=

ten not from the source of the Sorensaen, as already others according to his own confession, here=

flowed and? eaa
In the piece located in August 1785.

Letter to the worthy and beloved

Brothers of the High Order of Gold and Rose senkreuzer, one can also find one who is Jesuit= outgoing message, as a brother Chrysophiron,

who is an ordained Evangelical Lutheran Preacher
diger s0eyn s0ots, in his circle on the orders of the Oberrn, a book entitled: Philosophy of religion, recommended to the brothers for reading,

and that this book was written by a Jesuit,
The Storchenau stream flowed, which also belongs to the

so-called Rosicrucian Brothers belong to the following 17) – I am far from calling the Rosicrucians defend yourself. Because I already know some people on the right.

create men who are zealous protesters and who should belong to this brotherhood; so I have but never belonged to the same, and will also in my= not belonging to the same life. I can as.
I can't figure out things I don't know.

to judge. At first glance, everyone has;
But that news was quite remarkable. One hears.

the terrible names Catholic, Catholic,
"Ä 1a and
) Monthly magazine August 1785. pag. 127 fl.

– 408: Of Zefüiten and their machinations

and even Jesuit; but upon closer examination, they disappear=
This too will gradually disappear. On

| In the end, it's just a book recommendation, and how

There are many reasons for recommending a book.
being, and what justifies us, precisely the bad one=

To try one of all possible options? A Book of 6–7 volumes must be completed in our time
 firstly interesting, or too fine for the buyer
 They taught that work was indispensable before he realized it.
 Buying is a decision. Who doesn't have reservations about buying?
 Mr. Nikolai's soon-to-be eight-volume travelogue= to acquire a training exercise, if its author also has a further
 such a famous traveler, and she with so many more interspersed with interesting appearances? Stor=

Chenau and his publisher could therefore believe that they were on such a way to promote sales, and to increase sales.
 prevent the book from becoming a bestseller.

Next, it wonders; does this book really contain such places, from which one can see that it is related to written to refer to the Protestants with Catholic To poison with poisons, and it is certain that this is the
 What was the intention behind the recommendation? Assuming that it still so many – favoring Catholicism
 It contained passages, and it is from a Catholic.
 It is probably to be expected that he will express opinions of his church.
 with mixed in, and inflate them as well as possible;
 What's the reason for that? Should a protester be called out for that?
 Not to read such a book? Good Lord! How far?
 Did it come with us, despite all our cries?
 of tolerance and Protestant freedom! There you go!
 we have a Catalogum librorum prohibito-rum, as only the Roman Church has ever had it can, and in our Berlin Zion Guards a
 The Indian's own commission! Certainly, one

He was not wrong to say that one should be in front of a *

J.

towards the night light of the protesters. 409

warned of the papacy. – Can a Protestant not to read an arch-Catholic book because the good contained within it? I know that.
 The book mentioned is not relevant, but the author is Jesuit.
 or not, and there might be many more fas.
 Tholic principles can be found therein: so much Religious insight will be something everyone who has been taught will gain.
 The protestant has that he is right, which is not for him.
 bört, abfodern kann. – But such a book em=

recommend, and a Lutheran preacher does that?
 Why not? Which Inquisition tribunal will to defend him against that, and if he feels like it, also the
 The Koran is also recommended, as it contains some...

Is everything in order? Examiner reads everything, and the bus...
Keep it. – What else could happen with all the noise and shouting?
from Catholic recommendations, books often for a pig=
Unfortunately, we have no better qualities!
the employees of the upright Lavater steps taught, and Mr. Nikolai, who was his= Plaintiff, judge and executor before the public who wanted to become, is in the process, as we all now know.
It's gone very badly. Who is responsible for the fact that it happened here?
It will look better if the matter is examined.
Should be sought? But then the out= publisher of the monthly magazine, the author of this essay=
They must specify this, and they still need to do so if they
They want to be different, honest people, upright people.
had intentions, and not to be separated from anonymous passers-by.
Let the spring be placed in your hands for striking.
In this very splendid letter it will be further thought of the Jesuit Order, and ge says that the hidden meaning of books: The 'Erreurs et de la Ferité, and Tableau des rapports
entre Dieu, l'homme et l'univers, widens nothing is,
as an allegorical * mystical eulogy J
| > e 5 ; 77

410 Of Jesuits and their Watch nations Jesuit Order). Since neither Rosicrucians

am, nor will be, as I explained earlier, and just as little with Mr. Willermoz, and all Those who, p. 160, will be, in the mind=

ften Connexion geften habe, noch je ftehen wer=
de, fo it would certainly be presumptuous to fae that I understood those books; and just as we
It is not at all comprehensible to me how both Rosicrucians and page 160 specialized gentlemen, who were so much as one can see from publicly printed books, not not only very different but also contrary to each other= should nurture existing systems, beginners of the Je= could one suit? For such a kingdom with him
If they themselves are divided, how can it possibly exist? says Chris. stus. If I take the opportunity to do so immediately afterwards
so-called secret societies, more on this later
I will say more, but I can tell those two.
left to the parties themselves, either because of the
to justify the ugly accusations made against them here=
tigen, or the editors of the monthly journal in Ways to find the law, to give them the author

to issue this letter in order to oppose to take legal action against him. I'm just talking about this.

from what is being asked here, and I am ashamed of that.
not to confess that I am the two French
I understand books just as little as the books themselves.
of the famous Jacob Böhm, and because I don't
He understood, and soon put them down. But I find it incomprehensible how one could read those books.

for nothing other than an allegorical and mystical praise of the Jesuit order

can be written in a secret script=
No. If the truly cabalistic m.

August 2783. gag · 1

U

--

. - =

*
1

N

zul Narhtheil.der Protestanten. 411

unst *) in -der. World applies, which the author of this
A letter was appropriate to address that French farmer cher zus feiner Abs~~o~~int zu entrâzeln, und denn heim= to be found in it true Jesuitism; thus it will certainly be
Not only not a single mystical book, Jacob Bohemians, Taulers, Pordage, Johann Arndts,

and whatever their other names are, but also no philosopher=
a scientific book, yes, even the Bible, yes, even the Ber=

liner Monatsschrift soelich nicht mehr soer soey , dass
a Z mmmman

One would think that the Berlin pirate triumvirate had the Kabbalistic art learned from Father Tertius, from which

Nikolai 1 BS 371 ff. gives message. Most wretched

Is theirs, even if they have more poisonous purposes involved?

1 as a living calculating machine, Father Tertius.

Nikolai says of him that fine Kabbalah is merely a book.
Letter combination; that could perhaps still be done
Listening for fun: That's a lot for the Zion Guards.

Too long-winded. You know how to put it even more succinctly.

fen, and with them if it's already enough, if only Kim

. suspicious letter occurs in a word. 3. E.

an I. or S. Truly an alphabet of 24 letters.
It is a very patient thing; one can get out of it without fuss.
he, murder, highway robbery, rape, etc. together=

Combine. But it is far more productive if only a certain book sign appears in a word, then

to print out the word as a completely different concept.
And state that one can combine together,

or from innocent, insignificant words, emanated= pulled and then reassembled and according to Will=

i. kühr verfest Buchfet stabben einen Mann bestoligen und

can condemn; so there's no need for an embarrassing necktie=

Direct more, one can see them and their slow progress=

Art properly lift, and the blood ban the Zion's watch= transferred with admirable skill
the sacrificial victim at will on the pyre
or deliver them to the scaffold.

Br DE mir öh gr – 232–7 an Yale 833

323 a De. el 2 2

c engl? Ze sen en u

E

472 Of Jesults and their Machinations

one cannot find in it an allegorical and mystical interpretation.
The praise of the Jesuit order should be encountered. Hommne, the Jesuits are supposed to mean; Nature, the Noftri of the order; Etre and Principes Superieurs, the general; Pfilofaplies inconnus, the Peres Je-suites; God, the General; Universe, the whole Composite of secret societies, etc.).

After reading all this, one should certainly...
ken, that one with one already to the hospital full=
Forms of mature swarms would have to do with it. Let us, Readers, just once, look at some passages in the Bible, such as they fall into our hands, such Kabbalistic ones.
Apply the art of encryption, and what can one not achieve from it?
Can they bring it out? Paul speaks of the inner self.
agile people. People, the Jesuits; the – inner person, who is hidden, who bites

societies adhering to Jesuitism;
God the Father means the General of the Je= suites or even the Pope; Christ, insofar as he also called Jesus, means the Jesuits, and that
The fact that he appeared in human form means that the Jesuits dress themselves in all sorts of clothes. When Now Christ says that no one comes to the Father.

me denn durch ihn, feso soll das seiche, dass
all the people should go to the General of the Jesuits be supplied. One takes after this new Kabbalah is the art of deciphering, which is philosophical
A book one wants, in one's hands, and everywhere
There is Jesuitism in it. Thus the Eleatics took it.
Philosophers offer a single summum principium;

There you have it, that's the General of the Jesuit Or dens, or rather SP Summus Pontifex, the Pope; a Principium Immobile is just 3

| | 9% u ©,

& Page 196. | u

> EN, B – ef

A 2

7. Part of the Protestants. 416
te, PJ doesn't mean what you might think,

x

Principium Immobile, foudern Peres Fefuites.
They said it was the Quatuor Rerum Elementa;

These are the general's four assistants. Multe

funt foles fecundum diuerfa Climata, are the vets;
different superiors of the order in different districts
enden. Nulla res generatur, vel corrumpitur.
fed fpecies tantum eius rei nobis imponit; there isis
Yes, apparently, that the Jesuits, if they immediately outside...

I may seem lifted, yet an immortal or the find that always continues to have an effect. – But what does it need?

to refute such truly ludicrous tales, which should be obvious to any intelligent person, and
The monthly writers, I fear very much, on the 22nd

To give laughter to posterity. – Perhaps

However, some might think that at the Sa=che etwas fee, and the monthly writers, since

those books mysterious, incomprehensible, verse closed books find, the actual key to it have found, and yet we are so, so tasted down here.

It seems to want to deliver an important truth.

Pd

And indeed, the author invoked this.
This letter refers to what Mr. Biester said in April piece, page 336, moved in on this, and on written in bad French (presumably= (Lich to conceal the author) Laemen im= partial, which was printed for a few in 1782, which I also own in Manuscript, and which also

Mr. Biester refers to page 384 in the après-skirt. But HBr. Beaster takes fine whole deciphering art just now From this little work, it only tells us that Homme, the secret societies, Pn. Inc. was quite special

Sonders, Volontf fupreme, the will of the superiors,

C– H– A. not Chretiens, nor Chevaliers, {ons something different, and how does the ver= . barrels

5 5 N ar 23 > ® a ; 2
41 Of Sefaites and their Machinations

saßer says this letter, Carkoligues Ro–
Mains should bite, although it should happen to everyone.

must, what Mr. Biester had said, that at the Des:
chifeiren also no line in vain, and one
But beer, not just one such futile line.
between C. and H. but also even the H. of
C. and R. are separated by lines, so you can see that It is surely necessary to use a special word= must do, and not the small A in the Words can express Gatholigue. – But that Exam impartial, like the Schläffel! – Ouch
You won't find anything better here, dear reader, if you
all paragraphs, from the beginning, where it says:
Srighsrcheila:Feriet, until the end, where the mother
Eva appears, and with the words closed becomes: Une: boune Confcience vaut lier la: haute sience, reads through, as loud such willfulness= ten that you have already read. Would this really be Examen impartialiidas work of a member each eo society. from which those mystical write French books that are lacking in them=
the one that had come; yes, then would the interpretation be
Their incomprehensible language is of importance.
But now, as you can clearly see, it's the wake-up call;
a stranger, who is from the cricket of the crypto=Ka=.
was infected with tholicism and Jesuitism, and now believes she sees a fine ghost everywhere, and arbitrarily those incomprehensible books according to this Cricket suggests. Tomorrow a similar sorrow may occur.
more appear, and from crypto-Judaism dare
men, and it might become even easier for him,
all of Judaism and all its delicacy of the Thalmud and the Kabbalistic philosophers of the Jews to be found therein. These writers, both the author of the Lraman Impurtial ae
ur | er:

ee aum disadvantage of the protestants. Ar

the one: of this letter and Dr. Bie=

9 seem to be Spangenberg's postill, and the Sacharias Serberger's burning bride=
Torches studied diligently, and acquired this taste.
to be in love, otherwise it is impossible for her to
in such a tasteless art of interpretation would have been a hit=
They can. But what about such people who always cry out: Consider the signs of our Feit! Nothing different than that they would die= are they? But I can make a serious comment.
beer is impossible to withhold from the public, and serve
It is the harmful and dangerous element that is in this is what these arbitrary interpretations are about. Will this well-approved, and going and giving in the world, (and How easily foolishness spreads! What will happen then? still be sure? – The most planned writer, when he has the misfortune of being this literary despot mis fallen, is in danger of being given fine writing=

ten interpreted, and made sense of fine words

bineinbringt, who brings him fine contemporary to hã= mixed things up, making one suspicious. Such a creature must never be... Man is so averse to feeling as work vigorously against it. In the fifth essay of the October piece, they deliver the monthly writers a new contribution to some races of different kinds now exist=

of the secret societies. It is actually, as the publishers themselves say, only a reprint of a Piece of the so-called Comitial=side= the. Since this piece is a message about the favorite topic of the monthly writers If you hold on, you get it. Also, how cheap, in the month. Write a place. It will be written in the same place twice. The Jesuits were thought of: First it says where the verses different followers fagenannser. .gebeimer Gefell= = | fschaffen

416 Of Jefvites and their Machinations

The sections will be listed in order, which are at the residence of the Reichstag on balten follen: Lojolists in embroidered dress, in choir robes and in the simple smock of need). Far far from the possibility of casting doubt on it= ben that not Jesuits, where the necessity requires, or according to their convenience, nor now, as good as formerly in China and Siam= I believe they can put on other clothes. that one can read these messages from the author of the Co= mitial=Mebenfstenz nicht als ein zureichende and new evidence for the present effectiveness= The possibility of this disguised sneaking around to the end= The protesters' rights could be upheld. The author already makes a point of this in his index. such a strange situation that one interprets You see, it is only about names and a great thing for him. ses Regt, not for truth and reason=

It was possible to do so; and every reader must understand it
It is incomprehensible how the so-called Crusianic ones are described here.
Magicians, Bengelians, Lamm's brother, perhaps so-called Moravians, and even admirers of the deceased educator Bahrdt, to the marriage=
can be counted among the new sciences.
So long as the author of this essay
no precise and definite message from those in embroidered dresses, in choir robes, and in simple smock of need sneaking around=
If there are any Lojolists, you can find him in Anse=
This point is only for a second speaker and Copyists of the one who hold what the month= Writers have told stories about this, and then there is the genealogy of this entire legend at bright no.
| En 5 b

* October 1785 of the monthly magazine pag. 358.

to the detriment of the Protestants. 417

First Cambilhon; then Lucius; then Niko= lai; then the monthly writers; then the Perfaßsser dieses Stück der Comitial=Nachrich=
n. -- N |

This very author delivers in what he secondly, a message from the Jesuits,
the extremely contradictory if: The sons Janazs, it bites, and the admirers of Zoroaster
united to expel the Illuminati from Bavaria
to suppress *), and it is generally known,
that the Illuminati their harsh fate, which they in Bavaria is affected, primarily the ex-Jesu there.
ten attributed. But how is this in all
To bring the world into agreement, which is precisely what this author is about=
He says: If I were to go on alone after this (namely after) the Illuminati's investigations into the Spirits of the foreign lodges, according to weight and way of thinking of the master (Gerce.) without regard on other objects the Juuminat=Sy= judge the stem; so I would almost say, with It seems that the adherents of the same Jesuits find without knowing it. Only the stems want to know.
ter die diese Gesellschaft scheid nach ihre Erziehungt= go, and the course of their own ideas, in Connection with those absorbed in youth

To examine fundamental principles historically would certainly help me.

not to be wrong *). Impossible becomes and can

the author wants to claim that this is the illustration=

Minatan to Jesuits make that perhaps one or the other of their current members, or one or the other of their founders (and that had to be the case)

previously proven, and the Illuminati will be

| nn | | am

0) Page 361.

% Page 36969p9p:t .

2

418 Of Jesuits and their Machinations

(best know) in his youth among the Jesuits went to school. Because if everyone who...

che bey den Jesuiten vormal haben lesen, schschreiben,
Learned Latin and rhetoric, should be Jesuits;
How numerous would the Jesuits be! The verse
But Fasser is actually talking about the illustration.
minatens spftem and the confessors of the same

in general, and these should now, without themselves to Knowing what it means to be a Jesuit. The Jesuits must therefore either secretly submerge oneself according to this information Illuminati infiltrated, or the founders of the=

have acted themselves, and through the Illuminati= Orders to achieve hidden intentions, that is to say
the Illuminati, even without knowing it themselves,

Jesuits find. That would certainly be very artificial!

But how does this agree with what this [ser]
The author prefaced this by stating that the Jesuits deal with the followers of Zoroaster, who

To suppress the Illuminati? So they work like... who himself, against one of them writing himself=
of the system, against their own tools and Their plans, supplied through the same? Such a
If the rich person disagrees with him, how can it be?
Stand? The Illuminati are said to have brought about the Enlightenment.
to promote in Bavaria, and the Jesuits Preventing enlightenment, stupidity and priests= to strive to preserve; and yet the illustrations should Minatan, without knowing it, Jesuits, the up;
clear tools of the promoters of stupidity, who Jesuits sell their own tools, and so It's like one devil casting out another, as in...
Evangelio stebet. If this is not a contradiction are, because there aren't any more. Then we'll... finally free from philosophical prejudice= to be brought about so that a thing is not at the same time
and also not be king me The 7 ee ee ee . A are to the detriment of the protesters. f 419

The night scene in the November play overlooked by the Jesuits in Weiß Reußen
I will speak particularly about the cut.
But in December we started again with Mr. Biester to do, the Mr. Prof. Garve to refute the claim that he was alleged to have been
I know from Catholics that the Jesuits have no access to (They would have a more coherent relationship). Mr. Bie=

I'm drinking beer because I'll be enjoying it at the end of this Ab= ster's own way of refuting Mr. Garve is the readers already from the previous section

He is well known; he remains the same here too. Who only reads Mr. Beaster's objections alone or no longer remembers what Mr. Garve said.

said, can also be seen here, as is often the case.

will be deceived; but certainly the deception lasts
Not long, if he only has the patience to do everything.

to keep towards each other. Mr. Garve had asked,

that the fear that the protesters have of the Catholics
to like, to harbor, should have the cause to look after Mr.
Beaster, according to his correspondent in August, (Postman or mail carrier) and also Mr. Ni kolai on the reductions which the Jesuits are arousing.
And before one can consider this fear to be justified
No, it must first and foremost be determined whether the Jesuits still truly unite the general community have a relationship with one another, through which they alone
to a moral body and a planned become capable of continuous effectiveness, and through which even the limbs alone the be special character and one's own interest be can come that distinguishes them as Jesuits and makes it dangerous? Whether they are still mean

Bu Do 2 fschaff

) Monthly Journal, December 1785, No. 542. |

420 Of Jesuits and their Machinations

Do they have company superiors? Whether the correspondence all Jesuit colleges with the same still Is it so uninterrupted? Whether the limbs are still just thus leading to blind obedience to these superiors are used to? etc. *). All this must be done beforehand must first be identified and proven before one can...
Fear that they want to instill in the protesters, for can maintain its foundation; and now Mr. Garve says, that insightful people of the Roman Church, who Certainly not to think in a Jesuitical way, to deny this. He
He is therefore speaking of the Jesuit order as a whole, without neither relying on the continuation of the Jesuits in white Russia, even to the Erjesians in Bavaria and Austria, and its interconnections and not to allow connections. The continuation of the Jesuits in White Reuss cannot Mr. Garve deny it, and don't deny it. Just as little as Does he agree or deny the connection or not connections of the ex-Jesuits among one= who in Bavaria, Austria, and wherever else they are located in Catholic countries. He can even join= ben that the ex-Jesuits have a more preferable inclination against such Catholic clergymen who, as they say, formerly belonged to their order, when they fought against others= Tholic clergy and religious have, and so more with those than with these, if you will. connection. He only says it's neither from Mr. Beasts, even from his correspondent (or Postman) in August, still from Mr. Nikolai proved that all Jesuits, who may now be ex-Jesus= ten or in White=Reuss continuing Jesuits to be, still present, such a whole as before make it clear that they still have a communal – ö 9 Page 496. 497.

Aden

E to the detriment of the protesters. 421

haben, und also auch die in Deutschland und an an=

in Weiß Reußen zusammenhängen, mit ihnen cor= respond, the possible superiors of the Or= to regard them as their own, and to consider them in general to even the most blind obedience to them, as before, are used to. Only when this

Once everything has been proven, one can dispel the fear of

to consider the Jesuits to be founded; but this would have

Catholics who are not Jesuit-minded, and the best news about this could come in, They denied all of this. What will Mr. Beast do now? But what about that? Does he thoroughly explain that also without all that which Mr. Garve considers necessary= presupposes that the fear of Jesuits is very green det fey? Or does he prove all these pieces that Mr. Garve demanded? None of the above.

He possesses great skill over everything that something he doesn't like, or something he can't refute,

as if it were completely irrelevant, over there to squint, and to imagine the whole question ask at an angle.

the ex-Jesuits located in the places with the Jesuits

Mr. Beaster and his followers did not prove, and |

{

He merely lets Mr. Barve claim that the Je= suits no longer had any connection, which

Mr. G. had not asked, and goes on to say: I

I doubt whether a respected and well-educated person would...

a Catholic priest will dare to do this to be publicly confirmed. Why here?

Mr. Biester on the expression "publicly" a better
but rather emphasizes that he has it printed in large type,
It's impossible to predict. But does it look good in public or at home?

It can happen; no Catholic priest can do that,
and no person who only reads newspaper news=
sen hat, deny that Jesuits wear their order in white= Reussen continue, and so there, if you want to call it that= i Dd 3 A nen

N
N

422 Of Jesuits and their Machinakien

nen will, to combine. Just as little will no human being can affirm or deny it, whether the ex-Jesuits still have more connection and new ones=
gung amongst themselves, as with other clergymen of the
have a Roman church, or not, if that's the case.
It means to connect things together. But that's not even the case.
Don't ask; the question was: Do the Jesuits are still all together, just like before.
that one, regardless of their outward abolition,
to consider as a continuously lasting order
Can? Do the ex-Jesuits hang as such a continuation?
rendes Corpus among itself and with its brothers in
Do Reussen all know each other? Do they have the upper ones? cors
Do they respond to the same? Do they afford them blindness?
the child who gave birth? etc. w. Mr. Biefters objection= dung that a lot of devout Catholics
loud enough about this still ongoing Zusammenbang, and the evil caused by it
The following complaint, his reference to Faustin and the tires of a Frenchman, fine reference to that which is to be lifted in Austria and Bavaria, without even telling us what's going on in Austria=
It happens, and finally his reference to the Jesuits
in white: Reußen *) is therefore a deliberate eviction= deviation from the actual issue at hand is, and whose is probably a man like Mr. Bie= who wants to be a saint should be ashamed. Such a reproach laying, where Mr. Beaster, when he and his Consorts cannot prove chimeras, on= dere Dinge binhüpft, feinen Gegner nur fo viel fa=
gen lässt, als in feinen Krab dienet, und dem tefer
presents a false object, is, little ge= says, a farce he is performing in front of the public=

| To fums

255 Page 340. . j ne \ nu

to the detriment of the protesters. 423

around gives, and whereby he himself plays the worst role |

plays. ar
However, Steiner claimed too much, if

He said there were no more Saar Jews.
there (I don't have the Silesian Provincial Papers)

at hand to look up this quote exactly;
With a writer like Mr. B., one must be very careful.
(look after); because they were still in White Reuss exit
If they die, their existence cannot be denied.
But he didn't say too much, if one... looks at their constitution in Germany, where they are not more of a body like before, it would be= except that Mr. Beaster and his associates did that= those thoroughly demonstrated what Mr. Garve had told them to be proven. If this happens, then

Not only did Steiner lie, but we all did.

We were wrong. u | |
In the January play of 1786, in which Mr. Bie ster his so-called refutation of Mr. Gar=
ve continues, he comes back to the topic on page 39.
Jesuits. What I have to say about that, I'll leave aside.
I'll save up until I get that from the protestant= Shameful tales spread by the deacon whose alleged Catholicization, or as it is called who would like to mention those who also participated in the Jesuits should, and the lying pasquill, which the does Tor Juris and librarian JE Diester also here
against me, as if I were being used by Jesuits:
the one, attacked with a malicious hand, and with which

He has disgraced the office he holds in the state.
I asked to reveal more details.

Nor do I want to get involved here with that.
to delay for long, which Mr. Beaster considers thorough Rafonnement of Mr. Garve about the alleged chen key to the book for les Erreurs et la en D d 4 Heritè

f

(opposed to truth). Mr. Beast also shows himself beer as the skilled man who cleverly from to= soft white. Mr. Garve says that, after the key, Mr. Biester's Correspondent communicated in August about the book, the book
 more absurd than dangerous, and that the men=
 ner, whom he still knows as admirers of the same,
 They will throw it away with contempt at first, as soon as
 are they truly convinced that this is the true conclusion= sel desselben sey. They would namely be very be= find trogen when, instead of the important up= s'chls'e, die fie von dems'selben auswartung, unter hun=
 dert s0ichemännnamen nur immer das Wort Jefuit, and among all the mysterious saws only in= would find the General of the Jesuits. To the ftatt also, that the book leads to Jesuitism=
 ren fólte, müsfe es nach dem Schlüssel, zur Verach= tung of the Jesuits lead *). This 3 is so true, so thorough and natural, as if only one can be discovered; and without thereby giving me a
 To add to the service, I must confess that this
 These were the same thoughts that came to mind when I
 The exam was read impartially. – What does Mr. [Name] now envision?
 Beasts, that thorough reasoning of Mr.
 Garve opposite? This, that he says: Everything completely right; but what does that prove against our Cor= Respondents? If one considers the first origin

| thrown down by power-hungry people=

If you research a fanatical cricket, you will come across =
 Ultimately, it comes down to absurdities: when the secret
 The Jesuits' tricks are revealed, so Must these holy fathers ultimately be fat and contemptuous?
 he=

* January 1786. Pages 47–48.

* Monthly Journal, December 1785, p. 499. Je,

to the detriment of the protesters. 425 5

(appear). How well does Mr. Beer understand?
 To steer and turn the star! Speak up, Mr.
 Garve not mentioned how to get the Jesuits to the end=
 I will find them when I discover all their tricks.

Should expose, contemptible or not. Just talk.
Mr. Garve did not mention whether one is fanatical
The crickets of domineering people do not end
I find absurdities; but how to read the book,
which was being discussed, according to this key,
which is being discussed, can be found; and there is Mr.
Garve's reasoning is very correct. Do the Jesuits together with this book, and have
with the same, under the projection of large,
important insights, attracting people=
len; thus they completely miss their purpose if otherwise
The specified key is the right one, since instead of
of the expected major breakthroughs, nothing in the book
as the name Jesuite and General of the Jesui=
ten antrift; one throws, therefore, in one's expectations deceived, the book slipped from his hand, and despised People who so betrayed the world. Can Now let's ask Mr. Beaster: What does that prove?
against our correspondent? Only more than He wants to. It proves that, if a fine interpreter of signs provided the right key, the book that Ridiculous things beneath the clang of grand pronouncements announced, is not dangerous at all; it proves,
That if the Jesuits find the originators of it, with
to the same entirely their intended purpose
will be lacking, indeed, will even have the opposite effect:
It proves that either the key and the
The whole interpretation of signs is incorrect, or Jesuits who find the dumbest strawheads in the world, and their

e Dd book

January 9, 3786. p. 1414.

1

426 Of Jesuits and their Machinations
The book is no longer dangerous at all. And I think so.

That's been proven enough. Mr. Beast is also... not so simple-minded that he shouldn't be able to see this;

but he is cunning enough to exploit the entire situation=

to move the stand that is being discussed, so that
The matter was written crookedly, it presented itself differently to the reader.
imagine. >
In the February play of 1786, it is also mentioned that...

twice the Jesuits are mentioned, namely on page 136, where the books ur les Erreurs et la Verité and Tableau naturel, Jesuit books, and Obereit is listed as an apostle of the same. But since the Accusation that there are no Jesuit books, nothing further than a repetition of what has already been refuted, or but at the very least with unproven Hy=

The theory of the monthly writer is that Obereit himself vigorously against the shameful things spread against him Message, as if it were a Jesuit tool, thee= digt *), and I finally again from this man

I will speak particularly about this wretchedness.

skip over the beer. The second place is on the side.

140, where the author of this essay fears that the author of the book Saint Micaisee under the Words, people, nothing other than certain I understand members of the Societatis Fefu.

second, even more pitiful wretchedness is no obstacle=

Laying, not even a reprimand. They is based on what Mr. Garve has already said enough about refuted symbolic interpretation of our new kabbalists=

Watchmen of Zion, interpreters of signs, and prophets. When their little works of art become passages and gifts=

Every German writer will probably think of that.

ten must, the word Mensch ɹc. to *
| No, no

9 E. above straight Swiss Erklärung.

:

to the detriment of the protesters. 427

because he could easily fall under suspicion, Societatem Fefu is to be understood as including, and especially Rather, Protestant preachers should beware.
have to admonish their listeners, friends of humanity
to be; for they are found in the moment of exposed to the danger of falling into inquisition, that They secretly turn their listeners into friends of the company.
want to make Jesus the victim.

The April play of 1786 also mentions the following twice:

Jesuits on the occasion of Mr. Dial, Dreykorns and the Society of Pure Doctrine were thought of,
where the title-vignette on the message of this Society is called a Jesuit emblem, and it is said of Mr. Dreykorn that he is common business with Mr. Sailer, who still owns a Jesuit is called, work, Catholicism as pure (to imagine as Protestant). But this disgrace-Officials will make their dismissals in due course.
received. | u .. =
In the May issue of the monthly magazine, a Message delivered from Gdansk, where it is said, that the Catholic community has changed for the last 20-30 years?

which had noticeably increased there, so that one could see the Je-suites silently ensconced, in many places in to establish the city's Winkel schools, where they the Children of poor protesters are encouraged by giving them
Giving clothes, and other small acts of kindness-
let it flow, and that the Polish Princess Ganguska through her benevolence and promises
Children of poor Lutheran parents joined the Jesuits-(schanzt). I already have this anecdote in the vo-
The sections were illuminated and the *. in 5 ae 5 er

*) Monthly Journal, April 1786. Pages 324, 338.

*), monatsschr. may 1786. pag. 436. a

Derfelden presented. What I hear, the Jesuits

Regarding, especially in connection with, this is it. That Protestant subjects were also taught in Jesuit schools, is nothing particularly striking or suspicious=

ches. Since 1620, when the Protestant teachers and schoolmasters were expelled from Bohemia, did the Jesuits themselves come into possession of the Latin language?

in these schools, and it took a long time before the

(I had to obtain almost all the sciences from them alone).

Even Protestants sent their children to [unclear] at that time.

the Jesuit schools to learn Latin, and send= They like to go there all the more because they have little or They paid nothing for the lessons. Even in that In the rest of Germany this was very common. ches, as already mentioned above. In the Sending children to these schools is therefore completely pointless. dangerous. Have the Jesuits the covenant of the Danzig Magistrate against them; For it is the duty of the magistrate to ensure that punish, and therefore not Lutheran children at all= who attend Jesuit schools where they receive little or no

give, and the parents are moved by such an advantage=

They could be sent there; so it is of l to ensure that also in Protestant schools give poor children free access to the ge= received proper instruction. From an abuser= che of the official conspiracies, and that one of the Children sent to Jesuit schools Catholic

It has become fey, nothing is certain about that. And Finally, what regulation: Since 20-30 years-
And a few years ago? - *
ages

5 S. Pelzel's Bohemian, Moravian and Silesian Bes taught and scripture from the Jefutter = f
in the preface. n

to the detriment of the protesters. 429
Even the monthly magazine sellers themselves say it must be true.

presented exactly and with all circumstances
where did this happen?
The sender of the ridiculous message from

Breslau consists of 22,963 people.

should be a company owner in Silesia, who belongs to the Preufs
as one must conclude from this,
since the narrative focuses primarily on Silesia
will be seen, well over 200,090 ducats, so already over a million guilders from his country

allegedly stole and sent to Rome, of which the editors of the monthly magazine wisely ask,
that they were given the essay by an unknown author= sends him, so as not to be sent by the state to the near future= instruction of such a distinguished state thief to the
to be held; the one who received this message
so, say: that in this whole thing in the dark is going=
benen Sache, die in aller dunklen List erfahrn Jesuits find the reason that these hands are involved in the game, and that one can come from the whole a

-

The institution sees that everything, absolutely everything, is based on Jesuit principles Principles built and continued (is). I

I probably shouldn't mention how much such an anos costs.

Anonymous news of a very adventurous Ge-

Society is worth it that even the monastic scripture sender, who had no indication of Jesuitism

Schwärmerei soothert too sölcht warsen, um sie nicht to grasp with both hands when they are in their

Kram served, they didn't even want to vouch for it, sonz who hide behind the anonymity of the sender = ski jumps. But the sender is from Breslau, is he a subject of the king, and if he is not

A completely dutiful and dishonorable person, and a

*

) Page 40.

-

elen

r . A are ie] en

430 Of Jesuits and their Machinations

He is a miserable liar; that's what he must call himself, his out

Say prove it, and the whole gang that opposes the state robbed, and exploited the king's subjects= get, whom he wants to know so well that he doesn't only knows on what basis this conspiracy is based.

builds is, but also knows how to indicate that Jesuits ten dabey die Hands in der Spiel haben, und das ist already well over a million guilders sent to Rome is, show precisely. He is so much more for that.
connected, if he is not a malicious slanderer and wants to be a suspect of his fellow human beings,
so that one would not advise innocent people, and These people, perhaps even misled by baseless rumors, to Take responsibility.

In the addition that Mr. Biester made to this
He also adds a collection of anecdotes, he also remembers
nor the Jesuits and their influence on the Protestant theologians, and on the foges (called Rosicrucians). But I'll talk about beer.

for speaking, when I speak of both the Rosicrucians act as all the shameful acts that this fer fer bos haft verläumderische Journalistist erlaubt, der

under the larva of a Protestant Zionist guardian and General „Police Lieutenants of the Faith, the pure Deism with its known and disguised“ intends to insinuate the case to ten accomplices, to the whole world
I will bring this to your attention. 2 |

In Julius Stück 1786, which is indisputable
the most shameful piece is the one that was ever written by the
It has been delivered to monthly writers, in which fie sich fo klar als die fschaemöstessen Pasquillan-ten have shown, which have ever been to the shame of the German have publicity, so that I too have
. | . ge-
0) Page 453 ff.

One disadvantage for the protesters. 43%

was forced to fight against this creeping force in the dark anonymous gang of honor-desecrators, I'm contacting the authorities-

To turn to this, a long anonymous [unclear] follows.

Essay before, the so-called secret society= ten concerns “), in which one not only the former=
like so-called Templar clergy among the Free; masons to a work of the Jesuits, but I also consulted the already familiar art of interpreting signs.
these clean Jesuits= and Retzer hunters to the Je= Creating suites is addictive. But all this disgrace
I will tell the fairy tale there in all its shameful glory.
Merely depict where I am acting of myself
I will have the opportunity. And this also applies.
from the shout of a man in the August piece Anonymous, to the known Freemasons / System
steme, where it is said that one can now with considerable Reliability knows that the book: On the
The whole of masonry, and the letters of St.
Nicaise nothing other than the births of pupils and affiliates of the unknown superiors, or the Jesuits are full). A claim from which I would just like to briefly mention here that they have already been through the contradictory element that she holds within herself, her own
a condemnation judgment speaks, and its origin=
must be branded as a malicious liar.
Tcch, I'm now going to talk about the Jesuits in white= Reußen. Mr. Biester has both in April and in November piece of the year 1785 this Mae Theory touched, and from that, I don't know what kind
He sought to terrify the protesters, that One might almost think he had acted as a guardian of the pro=
from his perspective, the testamentary Zion is already a whole=

3 ze

*) Monthly journal Julius 1726. Page 42 ff. |

*) August 1786, page 148 199, – ER 2

4 Of Jesuits and their Machinations

A Jewish army of Jesuits was discovered, dressed in suits.
would be reaching out to devour us. At the first Mr. Biester says that the Jesuits be= can claim that their repeal is the right=
ten to zero, because they are not done in a legally compliant manner happened through a council decision, and green=
the hope that the annulment act would be successful (to see it destroyed again one day!). Here I must Pause for a moment: for even in these few words
There are inconsistencies and contradictions with Mr. Beaster's own principles. That all Je= suten, both in Germany, former jesurten

ats in White =Reussen continuing Jesuits, ber Knowingly their cancellation: Decree for zero as ten, because it was not based on a decision of the Council,
 Mr. Biester asked, but nothing was proven, and through the
 As is well known, his only demand is of the following:
 to evade the evidence. No Catholic can do that.
 claiming that the Jesuit order is certainly not the
 The only one is that which the Popes alone, without consulting others, have lifted a coneilium. Also appointed fh the Jesuits who are in white=KReußen not on the fact that they want to continue legally,
 because they were defiantly lifted, and therefore
 The act of rescission is null; rather, they are pushing forward, that the repeal decree did not apply to them, but to the Bishops were insinuated, and that the decree=
 The Pope's will cannot have power where the ruler does not want her to have power= len *). This is precisely the case with those in Wyftphalen still under Prussian sovereignty=
 ren=

* April 1785. Page 378.

%%. Strange 5 ven den > in white sReußen, p. N.

to the detriment of the proteflons. 433

Jesuits tend to do that. – They are based on that, he says.
 Mr. Beaster, their hope, the repeal= to see it destroyed again one day. Now hoping,
 Who will be able to deny them that? How much?
 No one in the world hopes for what will never be fulfilled.
 Let it be! And how can Mr. Beaster be responsible for this?
 filling so anxious be, since he himself elsewhere
 claims that the Roman court takes nothing back= Me? That Clement XIV, the Jesuit Order, as your such, against whom many complaints have been lodged= were found and proven, and as one such, who evil principles, hege, streitl, Aufruhr und õffent= caused pecuniary annoyances, and how the words in (the lifting bull continues to bite), lifting could, that was possible; but that Pius ZI. or
 Who will succeed him, all of that is lost on us.
 I explained the truth, and now suddenly the Jesuits were shown
 The clean wash, that goes according to Mr. Beast's own... a claim that the Roman court had nothing to do with
 I take back, not to, and no fear that the court
 The wish of the Jesuits to fulfill is unfounded. And furthermore, the genius will of our age, where one prefers monks to be secular.
 risirt; and lets her die a political death,

when those who had already died were resurrected, and
the weakened pontiff himself to such financial matters= Operations in a fine, self-contained state are progressing, ges
to put his concerns pretty much to rest.

1777. Mr. Beaster says they even had that.
He tried it in France. But he says

but also that their attempt failed.

EEE F „ . But

.) ©. History of the monks: Orders / Theit IV, p. 362.

362 g

Ee

!

234 Of Suites and Their Machinations

1 But now comes the most important part. Now, Beige
They triumphantly believe that their existence is in a Lands are secure where the repeal act never promulgated, and where therefore their society,
which the Pope now connivates, never be stopped=
have been: in Russia. And now a long one.
Note that they should be happy, not from Ganganelli's
It was quickly discovered that a Jesuit had come to Mohilow.
Archbishop is saying that Pius VI did what the Jesuits... happened in Russia, with subtle oral appropriation-bo proves that the missions to Crimea are on= to have Potemkin build them a professed house
tough; that they hope and say their order willspread
throughout Russia and the whole world
and that he will never be overcome, that now
The propaganda no longer sends missionaries to Riga and Petersburg sends, but the Archbishop of Mohilev filled these positions with Jesuits." – Shouldn't one think that Mr. Beast would have his head lost, when he saw all these tastes as great= and important things that the whole Protestant
They had to terrify the church, trumpet it.
Kounte? Didn't he think that the last one...
deceased Prussian monarch also the Jesaites
and its states the papal decree of annulment
not to make it public, and that they, since this is not possible happened, in Clevis in its old form
continued? – So much as we know, they last namely in Emmerich at least they are still there;

Even keep their clothes and church, find out more
as before congregated, and possess undisturbed their goods. The wise Prussian government must so probably don't believe that this is a decline =

m Geite 379. 38%

– to the benefit of the protestants. 43%

The fall of the Protestant religion is a consequence of this.

Bar sungen een, e Ba rs tue Nr az

*
– “

ä 3 nne r ZA
4

ben will. But that they will feel quite at home in Russia=

the strange news from the Jesui=

ten in White Russia, of which already last year

The second edition has been published, and there are still many important...
Finding things. He even finds a directory.
their assistants, consultants, rectors, colleges, Soeien, missions) and how things continue

Ben. Admittedly, their number is far from 5.

High, when the invisible Silesian Society of 22,963 heads, but for a lifted Or=

always high enough, and who can do it without a scream?
Knowledge and horror in our distant times: read, and not
From this, one can deduce how far things have already progressed with Jesus.

ten came to be the great Leonhard Euler
In 1784 in St. Petersburg, the Jesuit Pro
Vinzial embraces and says: If I already

Even though I cannot see our priests, it is still not my concern.
(a great joy to be able to touch them). That

This is quite an anecdote for our Zionist guardians.

Was Euler not also infected by the Jesuit poison?

have been? Shouldn't they be in fine astronomy?
The clearest traces of the Ph. in the writings of the Ph.

Inc., can be located by the SI? But waiter,
It wasn't just Prince Potemkin who gave them a professorship house.

but Prince Czernizew has sent them to Czerczensk
to have a residence built; and how could it not turn out?

the empress, adopted by her, to her enemies
defends, honors their provincial, Peter the Great

'fen Ukase wider fieggehoben, ihnen 1785 einen

It allows the election of a new general, and this election

News from Ben Jefuiten in White Re

Lt 64, 3 \

outside page.

ee in
*

—

Porsche swing! Well, Mr. Beast can be in

'4

"

136 Of Zefüiten and their Machinations

Heftärikt etc. Their number consists of 178
Poles, Russians, Germans, Italians, French
Yes, Spaniards! All this is now terrible news!
correct, and far more than Mr. Beaster in his Note told us. But what does all this matter to us?

on? The Russian monarch, a princess of ei= ner, completely foreign to us, with Catholicism, very closely related religions, surely, since they

"He is the master in his own land, not first shouting to Berlin."

ben, and the approval of the Zionist growth there=
They must find out whether they should tolerate the Jesuits.
Or not? Does she have less right in her own country than...
The Prussian monarch in his own? And
If she wants to do more, who will weave for her?
If she feels like going to Con in the morning, despite the Mufti= Stantinople, a party of dervishes, Fackirs and Merabutton for the Mohammedan subjects

to move to their states; why not? – That
But the Pope condemned what had happened to the Jesuits.

with fine oral ayprobo, approbo; ap.
Probo is proven! This is a desperately deceptive _

Meaningful news! And why is that?

Firstly, we need to know exactly what he is.

approved: The continuation, the continuation of the Jefui= terordens, or that the Empress among her still

crude, uneducated peoples, the ex-Jesuits to Kir

Needed are schools and kindergartens? And then there's nobody.

more involved in the crush than the Pope, who...

w wifchen Ambos und Hammer ist, since he is because the Bourbon 'courts not say aloud ayprobo

may, and because of the fact that it is under Russian rule

Catholics of the Russian calamity not before the

It can bump your head. Far more noticeable than this pe=

Trinistic approval is what Mr. Beast also does not.

It was stated that the Emperor in July 1780, when
. he

ea te EEE u Be er ee EEE 5 Me . c P , _ ill. 2 eggs

7

*

0

|

|

|

|

u N

3

to the detriment of the protesters. 437

tt ju Mohilev in the Jesuit church the mass was bört, said to the Jesuits as he was leaving fol: Precor fauftiora et, ut auguror, meliora)

That would have been a wonderful anecdote, which Mr.
Beast could have been of excellent use back then, when he
us the tolerance of the Catholics, and the abolition
who was misused for deception and bait,
and claimed that the imperial edict of tolerance was
It remained in force only until New Year's Day 1783, in order to Catholic and Jesuit conspiracy against the Pros»

have a constant share. – But if Kai also...
he says ten more times: Precor faustiora, et ut au-
guror, meliora “ fo will he, even if this coma pflimentchen should not suffer any other interpretation, but
By all appearances, it would be difficult to want that this wish in fine states, where all monks= Rey found her grave first, in fulfillment
to give. – But that the missions after the Rhine
to set up, and the missions to Kiga and Peters= Burg no longer from propaganda, but from the Archbishop of Mohilow with Jesuits Occupied pastures! Now what is it then; if only they to prove from the same that the emperor was involved in the

Not to come to us, and certainly not to Berlin? –

They further claim, however, that their order will not be be overcome, and hope he will spread throughout Russia and the whole world.

– So much is said and hoped for!
Jews have been waiting for the Messiah for so long.
hopes, and on the subjugation of all gods to them,
as the chosen people; and of all these
Not a single hope has yet been fulfilled.

CTCez | Is

5) See strange news from the Jesuits in white=Reußen pag– 331 3 e

*

–

—
4385 Of foils and their machinations |

Isn't it lamentable that in our times...

Must I hear such tasteless remarks? After the Ge= our Zion's guardians cried out about the Jesuits in White Russians, one would think, the whole Russian Reich fen fchon mit Jefuiten angefüllt, alle Prote= stanten dasenselbst shöchten schön schon in der äüsssensten Lei= bes : and Srkelen=danger, and this terrible

The army would soon also invade Germany.

to undermine Protestantism; and

In the end there are 178 people *). And would be their even more so; is our danger therefore greater because of them? large, as it was then, when it was still everywhere

Did they exist? Certainly, this fear casts an ugly light.

on the good cause and the reason for the protesters= church. But I think the audience is cleverer than fine Zion's guardians, and knows that the Protestantism too well in fine inner life and Yeufs

sern gegrt is, als dass wir wegen der Jesuiten

They might fall into convulsions. 2. We want to

because

Hm D. Büfching fpeeificirt genau ihre Colleg ia, and only gives their number as 174, and says? From this Reliable news sheds light on the true number of genuine Jesuits still existing in Europe,

and so the inaccuracy of the news from the Je=

flee in white = Russia, which recently all Zam

have taken in burgers and Altonaer Jeitungen.

Where from? I don't know; because they give the Guellen

They very rarely appear, indeed they invent places, from what=

They want to have received the messages. S.

Buching's Weekly News 1787, p. 90. – A

A nice recommendation, though, which every attentive reader will appreciate.
which allows a deep insight into the methods of those who over
The dangers of the Jesuitical movement raise such a cry of outrage, that they invent Gerter, from which they create their eee
N een * : |

“

\

to the detriment of the protest statues – 432

for at most the Catholics, who

Regarding the matter in more detail, which, however, concerns the mindset

–

and the enlightenment of their most princes, and the
the Pope's visibly increasing powerlessness, perhaps They won't have much to fear.

The editors of the monthly journal provide in November piece, another special message from the Jesuits in Russia who came from Warsaw–

he borrowed from the newspaper and accompanied it with annotations.

is, whose author has not named himself, the but those who delivered us to Mr. Beast
"bated, look incredibly similar." That night
richt, which of Polotsk dated July 26, 1787
It is said that Father Stanislav Czer=

Niewicz, who until now has been the most wicked head of their Order was in White Russia on July 18th.

died. A brief biography follows.
that he is in the 1st year of his age.
became a suit, always as an apprentice and teacher
claimed a position of first rank, to go to Rome
He was a Jesuit for many years.

Ricct, as Substitute, and General Proeurator of the Polish assistant, 1770 Rector of the College:

gli became Polotsk, which with still § others
Colleges and mission houses under Russian rule:
came without any fuss. – Certainly nothing but strange things.
and extremely important news that not only The

not only the entire Catholic Christian community, but also the progressives
The test subjects must be extremely interesting! But that

The most important thing is yet to come – Soon after, murder will pass through.
the Brief of Clement XIV of the Jesuit Order on the raised. Since the provincial in Masuria, why the 8 belonged, the one who had danced e 5 Ee 4 Note

) Monatsschr. Noyenber. 1787. pas. 4 48.

4 Of Jesuses and their machinations

in Warsaw, saw that the delegation=
If the Reichstag were inclined to accept the brief, then
He appointed Czerniewicz as Vice Pro in Polotsk Vinzial in Weiß Reußen in his place, who then at the instigation of this letter to Petersburg
– sufен ward. – I just want to mention beer,
that in the news about the Jesuits in white=
In Reußen, the story is told somewhat differently; that namely Czerniewicz himself went to Petersburg travels to hear how he and fine breasts
who should behave, and that the Prince Czerniczew indicated he would return calmly,
and only then to obey the breviary, if it
(he would be insinuated). But this does not happen.
That's not really relevant. Now follows an apology for the Ver= baltens of Czerniewicz, that he opposed the

did not show any resistance to the papal see.
It is said that the Breve contains no articles of faith.
Teach, do not write morals to the orthodox.

1 before, but only concerns church discipline; and such regulations concerning church discipline

even saints themselves often do not observe this.
Several examples will now be given.
cited as Paullus, Polycarpus, Irenæus,
us, Silarius, Bernhard, Ludwig, and the gals Rranish Church, which has such a discipline
opposes pending regulations; likewise Funn Benizi, the bull Pope Innocence
because of the dissolution of the (Servite) Order resisted; likewise Philip II, King of Spain, which was ordered by Clement VIII:
nevertheless, the order of the Brothers of Mercy in Spain continue, and that under 9
Me 8 55 – au
) Message from the Jesuits in white =Reussen / p. 368.

—

Zr 8 8
ö

to the detriment of the protesters. – 441

including John, canonized by Clement XIV.
Pacador had been; likewise Joseph Calasan-ti, who opposed the abolition of his order, the established in pious schools, and even at the Nor;
sought protection from the powers that would allow the bull

do not want to accept D. – All this will now said in defense of Czerniewicz. Whether

The reader may decide for himself whether all this is legal;
But he will probably do well not to voice his judgment aloud.
say: for whatever he decides, he will fall into the hands of Zion's guards. Does he give to the effect that the Jews are right; so it will be said:
Behold, the secret follower of the Jesuits.

If he disapproves of their procedure as insubordination, fa
It bites: Behold the secret pope who the undertakes to defend papal authority.
So, only regarding the notes made here, whose ver=
He certainly appears to be just as ignorant.
People are portrayed as skilled sophists. By the words that the breve does not contain any doctrine of faith=
"It would contain," says the music writer: "the Catholic..."
The Church makes an important distinction between= the doctrines of faith (dogma) and churches=
breeding; (Disciplina) in the first point it is completely Unchangeable. Who in the world could have done that?
Music writers asked that perhaps only the Catholic

The church recognizes this difference between doctrines.

and enforce church discipline? Even the Protestants.
They make this important difference. Church discipline can be changed every day depending on time and circumstances.
will be, as the teachers of the church under Genebmi=

gung, or by order of the authorities as necessary and find it acceptable; but not our dogma, our main principle.
| Ces | and

Monthly journal, November 1785, page 4, part.

ER 1

443 Of Jesuits and their Machinattons

and fundamental doctrines of faith that are based on the German based on biblical sayings. The musical score-Macher talks about things he doesn't even know.
understands. – It further bewilders the music composer.
that the Roman Church has been doing a lot of it for some time.
rapprochement and religious union at the
He speaks of the immutability of their dogma.
It's hard to find a contradiction. But who told him?
Is this being said again? Is the Roman Catholic Church making a fuss?
Hope for the unification of the Protestants, so created
They did not derive this hope from a change in their doctrine sentences, but from the cessation of their abuses, and Their hope will always be misplaced. But that The Natenmacher sees himself again, when He says that the Roman Church will not give in.

will, nor can, and that we must give in.

to believe with her, to have to believe with her, to have the consequences
Damning of all non-Catholics, the needy
The role of a visible head of the church
We must accept, etc. Why, dear reader,
All this chatter? How did this get here? Who
Of all the religious unionists, one has ever said, dag °
we must, can, will give in to it, like! Even Masius isn't even a = liked. No protester is ever before such a Unification project anxious. He knows the Roman
The Church has, in view of all its doctrines.
the principle of immutability, and will and can not to deviate from that as long as she remains the one who ste is; and we will be by our side, can,
They neither want nor like to, thank God they know that the true possible union mutual Dul=
It is fertility, covenantity, and love; and that is Enough. So why all this pathetic crying?
And now, if it bites, use nn,, wi barrel

*

—

—

—

...to the detriment of the protesters. 44

The fiber of this essay makes this difference very fine
regarding the non-binding nature of the cancellation notice to reason it out. Even the devil must be reasoned with.
to do justice, and to see Jesus=
To accuse Reuss of being rightful in white would have been
he refute the examples they cited must. The Jesuits who live in Germany and at the places by order of the Pope and the authorities= possibilities that lead them to insinuate their abolition, Having separated, they have turned to the Pope and showed obedience to their princes. Those in white Meußen continued their institute, since the Russian mot
not to insinuate the breve to them, much more whose termination is forbidden and they are ordered len, to persist at their institute, have in Ans

The monarch saw herself as an obedient subordinate.
...shown, and nothing else against the Pope.
than, als was in equal cases Benizi, Johann Pecador and Joseph Calasanti have done this.
Everything is laid out so precisely that it's not too overly refined.
is to believe that there are only Jesuits in the Head can come. een
Z3au the words that the revocation letter

"It only concerns church discipline," says the music composer.
If the dissolution of an order merely...

concerns chenzucht, and of its members

Even the fact that it is hardly possible to consider how the
The awarding of a medal? This should therefore probably be allowed.
No other Catholic would recognize it at all? Who Proving too much proves nothing. Why must it be?
The music writer always records peculiarities
write, which, if one were to read them even somewhat,
thinks it dissolves into true inconsistencies?
Which Catholic has ever considered the idea of an orc?
dens for something that teaches faith, and
. u | therefore

t

"5

444 Of Jesuits and their Machinatives

Therefore, what is binding has been recognized and can be recognized?
Mie, it occurred to a pope to make such a departure=
Tastes you claim. Praise, admiration=
sayings, recommendations for their usability, poverty, Humility, and how the Gleisnerian rubrics continue bite, have the order of attachment and admission
in Catholic countries; and how many are there?
Despite all this praise, it was not accepted.
have been. And even if the popes have visited some places who was given special protection, IBM enormous Privileges granted, and the ban against the nigen geschuschedert, die sich unters enst enst, ihn

Aux beimträchtigen; fo ist doch this nicht Befehl die

8 'of an order as a doctrine of faith to be special Regarding the words where the author says, Be= Nizi has the abolition of the servitium.

dens resists, even if Innocent V does not object.
pointed out that his order belonged to those,

which at the church meeting in Lion=

"It has been lifted," says the music maker: "the man."
The money of the church assembly is from the Jesus=

ten with as one reason for the invalidity of their
A repeal was cited. However, they would, as
As you can see here, even from a church association= collection happened verdict against her for un=

– to explain validly, to understand. You find the true

The invincible. Both the Jesuits in The text and the music composer are mistaken here. That The Jesuits lack a church gathering
as one reason for the invalidity of their
The music maker proves that the lifting is taken into account.

with nothing. He does, however, refer us to April.

piece page 378. But even there it is not proven;

and is Mr. Beast the music maker himself, fo

. ver=

*

|

—
bie: to the detriment of the protestants. . 447

He refers the reader to his current assertion.
to prove, on oneself, as on a stranger
witnesses, and thus deceives the public with a sly sneer nem Citato. That the Jesuits themselves also as because they might still consider their repeal to be null and void, if it had been done by a council, it would be with the terms of the Roman Be of Contilien=

It is difficult to unite them. If Benizi protested against the abolition of his order, so It didn't happen because he believed he could also... to be able to oppose the decision of the Council, but because He believed that Innocent V was wrongly counting on the Servite Order to those who are in the Deeret of the Conei= kiums to Lion 1274 would be understood. And herein.

Benizi might not have been entirely wrong: because already

The Servite Order existed in 1233, so for many years.

before the Council of Lion the Deeret of
The Lateran Council of 1215 renewed that
No new medals should be made; yes
Even Benizi himself was not the founder of the Servites, who,
When he approached them, there were already four monasteries belonging to Monte.
Senario, Florence, Siena and Piftoja had *).
The Jesuits are therefore mistaken here; but even more so their

Note maker. 0

In the words that Joseph Calasant sought protection from the Nordic powers, and that the Piarist order also enjoys this protection there found, until finally a fine general recovery=

The music maker says: The appointment is made.
Turning from this to the Jesuit order is easy.
See also the Je's own words on this matter=
fuiten, Monatsschrift Volume v. Page 380 –
= in, N | 3 Who

er dag. 355 ff. „ eee To

" =

s From Sefuites and their machinations ö

Presumably, the music composer aims to ensure that the Jesuits of their order claim it will never be overcome. Well, the parallel between The Piarists and Jesuits can probably be found here. lightly pull; but whether they may flatter each other, in

Our times and the following such an era

to be found who make their restoration possible

That's another question.

In the piece itself, further on the subject of the distribution...

Czerniewicz was asked if he knew, that Clement XIV no longer had more power than ns nocension V and Clement VIII, and that the

The Dutsian Empress was not connected to the Pope to obey more than Philip II, Uladislaus

IV. and Saint Louis of France, and that Czerniewicz no longer belongs to the Roman chair to obey is bound to be, as the previous one=

ten saints, prior, since such decrees of Rome in all Roman Catholic countries for so long invalid until the state's approval is granted

binzukömmmt. – The music composer's note

This is the most striking sophistry, which is the= Ten lets. Everyone who reads that passage, finds in the same the true conclusion: have Philip II.

Aladislaus IV and Louis of France, who

But Catholic princes were not inclined to choose verses.

Dogs respected, the Popes' decree on the breeding of dogs

u follow how much less obligation there is

And then there was the Russian Empress, who did not consider the Pope to be as the head of their church! This turns

but the music maker as a skilled sophist

Bergeftalt, that he says, it is strange that the Ver=

The author of the essay finds no reason in the circumstances.

want to find that the Russian Empress, as a gouty Catholic princess, not at all a kind of 8

er, CC nos

at the detriment of the protest statues. 442

binding even against | the doctrines of faith,

who were ordered by the Roman throne that
He always compares them to Catholic princes.
He seems to be of general Catholic faith.
religion not wanting to forgive, and resenting

rather the strongest reasons from what is really

There is, and argue only from what follows

(should be based on Jesus' principles). – How

–

*

because of the crookedness and twisting, you can find it in
in these few words! Once the music teacher says...
That would be a blatant untruth if he were to say so.

baupetet, the author did not want to give a reason in the

The circumstance is that the Russian calf is considered a non-Catholic princess no kind of connection lichkeit against what the Roman chair be=
is missing. That's precisely why the author takes a fine Reason, and concludes from the Catholic princes who not even such pronouncements are binding

balled, on the Russian Katferin, who had to do that certainly has even less commitment. Next

The music maker introduces something which
That is not even the point, namely doctrines of faith,
because he wants it that way, that the approach and

The lifting of orders is not for dialysis matters, son= which belong to the dogma of the Catholic Church 'fole, and thus puts the whole thing wrong and aut your incorrect point of view. It is wrong, that the author, like the music maker, was to blame gives, the Russian monarch only with Catholic Compare princes so that the general public can understand the almost It seems the Abolish Church is unwilling to forgive anything. Rather the strongest reasons from what is really "ba ist, verschmähe, und nur aus dem was nach jer The principles of five should be, argue. Here e | 3 is 0 monatschrift November 1785, pag. 424 445.

9»

4148 Of Zefuities and their Machlnations

One piece of sophistry is folded into another. Well | No prince among all the world has binding obligations.

keit against the Roman chair, as Catholic? If

Now the author says that, even if Catholic Fur= They were not even considered connected, likewise= to respect papal briefs, the Russian Surely the monarch is no longer capable of doing that= to be bound; with whom else can he be bound; the same as with Catholic princes, if one more

End a majori ad minus 2 for? What did you say?

What is the general public of the Catholic Church to do here? The author cannot take this into account here. to take without diminishing the greatest strength of his argument to steal which this is: have Catholic Fors

ften ft ...n katholi=

The princess even less so. Far from it, then. the strongest reasons to disdain and instead of from what is truly there, from what is according to Jesus=

It should be based on basic principles, to argue,

He cites this strong reason and argues from what is truly there. – How cross-eyed and
The soul of this music composer must be quite eccentric!
Otherwise, the Jesuits were blamed for...
They should be masters in sophisms; but here
They have found their master, and when they will need a very skilled sophist in the future,
must they meet at the address=Comtoir of the Ber= report to the monthly magazine so that they receive the same
this music maker as the master of all Sophie=

sten display. 8 8 |

To the author's words that the pope=

lichen dispositions in all Roman Catholic churches

in Dutch countries for so long, until
who has obtained the approval of the authorities
And, the music maker concludes: But only

e „

|

* N

to the detriment of the protesters. 443 |

We're talking about Russia. – Isn't this Another deliberate sophistical teasing? Freylichh
The talk is of Russia, a non-Catholic country.
Lande; but does the author deserve this rebuke? There=
By mentioning Catholic countries, he can
As should be obvious to everyone, there was no other intention than These have to show that, if in all Roman= Catholic countries such papal bre=
ven are not valid until the authorities have declared them

approved, they are even less so without official approval.
 Approval in non-Catholic countries gul=
 could be. The author could have done it.
 like it, as he wanted; so this would be tasted=
 The music makers have found a way to master him.
 Had he said generally, in all countries 3
 fo würde die Grade ganz à la Bieter gelauter?
 The Russians know nothing about the fact that the papal
 Can letters be valid for them at all?
 The author continues to search for Czerniewicz there=
 to defend himself for saying he knew,
 that the Pope does not proprio motu the upbringing=
 drafted briefly, and the regent was not abandoned,
 but only asked her to accept the breve).
 The two remarks of the Redmaker, that the Pope from maturo Confilio, graviffimis rationibus, and prudentiae legibus speech, and that Not Hildebrand either, but Ganganelli.
 The documents drafted are of no importance whatsoever.
 To show that Czerniewicz was the papal
 The breve is sought to obey, leads the Ver= Fasser suggests that Czerniewicz, in a petition, the Empress prayed that the Jesuits in white
 Reuss would like to be allowed to deny the papal condemnation=
 | | 8 guings

D

| m) Page ag. 16. 8 8
 – 58

470 Of Jesuses and their Machinations

to obey. The music maker points out biebey den Lefer auf die Note () pag. 420, wo er dwells on the fact that the Jesuits consider it a to observe patterns of their obedience, that they, instead of in
 To separate quietly, only at the state's end.
 to ask the princes for permission to lift the ban
 being. – This refinement requires no long= refutation. Whether the Jesuits during their
 The petition was serious, who will decide that?
 Can? I myself am not inclined to do this to them.
 They believed. They probably knew what they were asking. The Governor of White Russia Kreczetnikow
 He had already hinted to them that they would be with him= should insist on the institute because the Empress the (I forbid the promulgation of the revocation letter).

They therefore knew that their subsequently entered
Their petition would not be granted, Not
They therefore asked that they might be allowed to do so.
to be lifted up, as the music maker says;
but as clever politicians they wanted a legal one to have a pretext for not being lifted, in order to the will to obey, and the impossibility to be able to postpone carrying it out. That is The true situation. eea
The author of the essay says the Empress
I have come to realize that the power of the Jesuit community=
the company is based on the bond of its monastic rules,
and therefore did not accept the papal brief.
men, but on the contrary, let the decree be issued that
the institute in their realm no change
(should suffer). – The music maker has the word=
8 | | ER: Ze lein
) S. remarkable news from the Jesuits in Weis, Reussen. Page 368. a .
* Monatsschr. Nov: 1737. pag. 426: 427

7

Pe –

59 to the detriment of the protesters. 4

fine, therefore offensive here, and he asks: So, does it work?
Therefore, why? How does the intrusive person know when?
That? Surely the Kai didn't do that without cause.
the institute will not remain, and the next one,

What one has to fall for, however, is probably the

that they believed the Jesuits would be in that form
res Instituts can create more benefit than when they were transformed into secular clergy. I know
The music maker would do better, so he should instruct the ver= barrels; but immediately subjecting it to a pressing need.
To blame is surely very unfair. Which far
There have been more serious intrusions in the months= Writers are allowed to, and boast about it, and see fie as earnings. But what is this whole thing?
Notes unlike wretched syllable-stabbing –
Furthermore, the author says that this Ukase Jesuits from all kingdoms to White=

"Reussen gone, and to the service of their old Orders, and the great Catherine, the true
Mother of the same, would be: – Regarding this, see above.
His crude text comes from the music maker.
The great Catherine, he says, the true mother of the Jesuit order, whose low rage=
no, bloodthirsty vengeance, hideous plans for oppression of the human sex is known find, ist ist nicht nur inconreilichkeit, aber fischänd=
A nasty and cheeky insult. The Jesuits in
The White Reussians have discussed two things here.
We are pleased, firstly, that Peter ZII has achieved such a high honor.
To call out the word, and the current Empress has confirmed this; and next, regarding the fact that the
The music maker probably does not live in Russia, otherwise he would be the Criminislae/ae Majeflatis beicyuls
digen: for what a crime, the great Katha=
To call Rina a mother of the Jesuit order!
Ff 2 Well,

–

EN

\

4

452 Of Jesuits and their Machinations

Well, they are called Regent Nutritores of the Academies, after all, are in the Prussian church law=
pray the rulers, even the wet nurses of the church.

| called. There is surely a difference between mother and wet nurse.

Not such a big difference. But one such difference.
Orders? Is that why she's the Empress, because she who protects the Jesuits, including the protector

the intrigue, vindictiveness, and scheming, which the
Are Jesuits being blamed? Is that why the Prussian monarchs as vindicators, protectors

all the mischievous pranks, pasquils and malicious tendrils, whose Berlin monthly to make writers guilty because she is to enjoy the protection of subjects, yes indeed.

even to be in his pay as a servant? But

Which reader isn't disgusted by such absurdities?
The author states that the permission granted by

Archbishop of Mohilow (a Jesuit) the Czer

Niewicz, given in 1779, to accept novices again

men, would be public in all churches of the country

(has been announced), the music master sets

Cher adds: Really in all of them? Even the non-ones?
Tarholifchen? Or do the non-Catholics deserve it?
Churches receive so little mention, as above page
425 the non-Catholic princes? – Who sees Isn't this just true sophistry? This acquaintance...

Chung, what does it belong to for protesters? What about?

Can the author speak in any other way than of Catholics?
Churches? But he could have said what he wanted.
or for would he have fallen into the clutches of this rabble-rouser liked. et 5 =

Finally, the author says that after death

of the Ezerniewiez of Gabriel Lankjewicz to the Je | EEE SE silter

--

r . , SuSE N . nn SEE

x
J

"To the detriment of the protesters. 473
older; general elected, who now leads the Or=

the one who, as I said, is so strong Reasons (namely the protection of the Russian government=

kung, as the music maker says) and on a under is even more strongly attached, from which to talk about it publicly and in a roundabout way even today

It's not time. At these last words, one notices
The music maker suggests that probably every impartial I will find this extremely strange. And who has ever turned their head with fear of ghosts
has filled Jesuits, what will he not be doing there?
for abbreviations and concerns? But Let us assume, audience, that the Jesuits in White =Reuss, the refined, clever, cunning ones

Guests find how the members of this society

have shown it so often; and who says that it isn't find? Is it now to be assumed, and with their list to rhyme that: the bad attacks in an open-air event

to trumpet it in the newspaper, and the world reacts.

will make Taufinerffam? The other, stronger one Reason, which it is not yet time to talk about,
Most likely, no one else but these beings, that they either hope through their in Schools to be established in Nussland are necessary for
to make, and thus firmly establish their kingdom there;

or that they flatter themselves with the hope that papal approval of their existence in Russia

" . . * *

still available.
That's the whole big news.

from the Jesuits in Russia, who celebrate the monthly= writers deemed worthy, they were given a place in to give to their journal. Actually a newspaper=

news, a miserable piece of news that still means =.
eeb „ „„ \ ur ; =

ss a

) Page 4 wa

u

454 Of Yezidis and igen machinations far from saying what is in the book, Merk= worthy news from the Jesuits in white =Keußen, and in Lankiewicz's letter in the Journal of and for Germany 1784. St. 12.

It is located on page 401 ff. What is the purpose of all this?
News? Does it contain something that not everyone knows?
knew? Does it contain discoveries of dangerous
Intrigues and steps taken by the Jesuits against the pros

Seftanten? Fine, unique ones. So what's the point of everything? True= probably to make notes of the same: notes to the prostitution of its author!

I do not doubt that the monthly journal will say that my Jesuitism is not at all who could be called into question, since I am of the Jesuit author in the Warsaw newspaper so strongly accepted, and even against him Ibren Notenmacher sought to defend; yes, they They will probably even say that I should get a pension for that. I am leaving to become a Jesuit. They like them, at least. The audience that still If someone can read and judge, they may be a referee. Whether I or the music writer is right? She's already done so much to me, since she I lied about a tonsure, and not only to... Not only members of the Jesuits, but even to the Suites of the fourth class made that all their further shouting, celebratory chanting and honorary chanting= who can no longer make any impression on me at all. For from the, from this writing so visible, the unnatural: and the way my opponents act I can ahead, and the more they know the truth and its injustice

The more you will feel, the more certain you can be of it, and I expect. 26, that they, as long as they are allowed, continue to scold, to lie and to slander or possibly through one of their affiliates conducts these clean business deals=

. | 3 "len

7

A nstekein fich befűhet haben.

a tum disadvantage of the Protestants. 2

Ten will be allowed. So, to determine the measure of my ser I don't want to fill the pen completely, like I would beer.

could, given what the monthly writers say about Saying Jesuitism, leaving it at that, son=
who also talk about some others who are with this
The enthusiasm for Jesuitism appeals to the audience=

13 * -

on the famous traveling bookseller, . the

Mr. Friedrich Nikolai in Berlin. This one gets

The taught traveler is probably not actually my opponent.
He didn't attack me by name, as [the previous comment] stated.
not what happened to the monthly writers, but rather a

a few other men, namely Lavatern and Sai= far removed from personal attack. But since he was on Hru= Beasts and this one again

Since IBN is invoked, I can't help myself. Here too, feisty.
to remember, and all the more so, since, be=

before Mr. Nikolei began his famous maturity, it,

As far as I know, nobody has thought of that in recent days.

len is, from the alleged, terrible, secret= Jesuit reenactments against the Protestants

1. One must speak, and see the great dangers.

to make cash, in which we poor innocent
Protesters are supposed to float from this side. That I now know everything that Mr. Nikolai said about it piecemeal.
in his death-defying travelogue:

brought, after the grater go through, substances and
The public will probably not be able to refute this.

demand. Even if I have the most patience and had courage; so this goes beyond the limits= beyond the core of my book. I believe enough to do if I add the appendix to the feverish ban=

to convey, which is as it were the quintessence of everything deffen contains what Mr. Nikola about this Mate= F444 rows

Its Von Jefuiten and their Wachinatzonen

nothing was said, and in which he was also a friend of a fine heart, Mr. Beast, and strongly opposed Mr. Garve
has defended. | nope. © 5

On page 6, Mr. Nikolai says that the Jesuits

For some time now, quite a business has developed from it.

have the power to join the protesters=

flatter, and portray the Catholic religion as very cleaned, to imagine as very moderated, since (nothing essential has changed in the same)

That the Catholic Church has not yet approved a single one of its

Every protestant knows that dogmas have been withdrawn.

and the opposite is something no human being can or will ever achieve.

claim. So everyone who is in the Catholic country knows who only knows the surface level, even if he deserves such things

liche wanderings, as Mr. Nikolai, through diesel=

ben not employed, and with such visionary eyes,

when he is not gifted, that the indulgence trade, fits

ten pernicious pilgrimages, sanitized miracles

tablets, senseless devotional exercises, foolish res

Liquienkram, crude, uncultish lecture at the Public education from pulpits and in schools, But=

belief and heresy, and like the Nikolaiti=

The categories continue to be called "sch" (a German word meaning "stylish"), not only in
but also continue in most countries=

ren: that the auricular confessions still continue there,

where reforms began, and also

They won't be abolished for a long time, at least not that long ago.

Not long ago, when one had not yet changed the dogma to re=

Forming begins. – But the pros know that too.

testants that one in Waynenian and in the Thai states, and also in some other places

Places to reform well and abuses –.4

aet ste

) See Appendix to Volume Seven of the Nikolai Travels
sebeßehrung. pag. 66. |

2 7

8

A disadvantage for the protesters.

starting to show that even in the countries where no Thick darkness prevails, yet here and there we go.
which began to break through a beam of light, and one Individual people are beginning to fight against prejudice.
to work and spread awareness= If so now a Protestant criticizes Catholicism in those countries imagines itself as purified and more moderate than this Those in other places are deaf, so this idea is based!
lung based on undeniable facts. But to whom have we to thank for these performances? The public and News generally known to be true, and niche
the Jesuits. Had they also received those messages It's most widespread, so that doesn't hinder anything at all.
since they are nevertheless true, and truth is in the mouth of the worst spit of Meu=
They don't lie. But that the Jesuits since
Some people have made a business out of it.
have to ingratiate themselves with the test subjects=
cheln, and to them the Catholic religion as very cleaned, to be imagined as very moderated,
is, if not outright untruth, then at least a
Mr. Nikolai has not proven this claim in any way.
And so our audience also believes in him.
Whatever may be; so it will surely be now;
after Mr. Nikolai had already so; many had proven themselves=
ner untruths against Sailer, Eavater xc. fschul=
made, no longer inclined to everything that Mr. Nikolai says, without proof, as gospel.
to believe. That Jesuit writers also lastly, as happened in previous centuries, the
To present Catholicism from a favorable perspective= Finding a job is quite possible; but that they
to once again ingratiate himself with the protesters=
(He searched for cheln, and made it his business)
They find the Catholic Church very appealing.
ar: 5 . a

eat En 22 1 – *

\
f

, , ,

\

—

7 x . a

t

t From Sefüisen and their waking states

To introduce three modest rides, one must first prove it Fetz The anxious note, which Mr. Nikolai page 8 ffe delivers, also contains many supposedly important News concerning Jesuits, which is a natural Bern lighting is worth it. I'm overlooking the ones in The. That unfitted losses, which Mr. Nikolal
there against one. For learned and modest

A man like Mr. Garve is allowed, since he allows him accuses him of not having the story, and most

He had not studied church history much, since he hadn't done it until

He repeated to disgust that he had neither patience for Courage, yes, even page 19, the outrageousness of it all sits, this upright man, simply because he the Heart has, fine and fine friend's beasts Bez
Not to accept building plans with any certainty, malicious intent.
To make it possible, and to say; let it be seen that Jesuits, or non-Jesuits, are quite close to him.
beings are, and although he did not convert him, he nevertheless
have made them very inclined towards Catholicism.
Thus, I also pass on the immodest self-praise,
Mr. Nikolai, without blushing, approached himself.

kegt. All this is so striking that it makes every one of the revolting with emotion, and only derision from him=
laughter at such a conceited, highly praised man=

| things linking literary disrespects out= must bring about the alleged influence of the Jefui=

ten on secret societies, whose Mr. Beast

And Nikolai Bier remembers, I will later... have the opportunity to illuminate. Here, the
in secular and church history, such a learned book= Bländler, Mr. Nikolai, who has so many old embarrassed

ten einft in Schweden, eine katholicierende Liturgie

EN
1 2 5

want to bring about which he has an important message:
you men

i . oo 5 9 -

-

GgZoesuiter=Books read, first that the Jesul=

1
.
to..
Nan
N. „ 8 N

ment from Stebens-Manuals Eeckfiaßico in Ba lage A brings: That is probably certainly an important one a discovery that we this wonder man. first 7

: .

.
E eg 3
; 8 a ,

r 8 it
(send.) 8 d 4 Hi; - 4 2745
* 7 5 8 7 65 $ i *

5 R

asked? Do we have more of them now?

Staden's old. Church handbook, and that which He cites it as an important document.
has been able to refer to it without looking ridiculous.
chen. Da t. Flikolai's namesake, the Lon Renz Nikolai or Kloster Lahze, as it is called vaunte, fïch auf eee fiat Johann,
who definitely wanted to introduce Catholicism,
to spend on a protester, and on the Pulpit the Roman doctrine even from Luther's writings=
Saay tells all this, explaining how he sought to prove it.
a „ 5 erg

9 S. Sarenberg's concise history of the Jesuits.

— 2

1 2

Ch. I. p. 418 fl.
: N 2 7 ö
5 »# .

0 Bro.
2

“

To

6 Of Sefiites and their Diodinations mountain. But this doesn't satisfy Mr. Warve? he

It shows that the evidence for this is lacking. And dart
Mr. Barve is right. Beer also has a problem.
Mr. Nikolai did not provide this proof. I
But show him here where he can find him, if I'll be modest right away, not so much embarrassed bur
I had read more than the famous Mr. Book= Ribbons. But one thing is still missing. Namely:
whether Wikolai or Kloster Lahze, to Professor of Theology at Will Jolm Monastery made by the king, so Haren says
Berg did not mention that he had been appointed preacher.
From the fact that he preached, Mr. Nikolai is not...
not prove that his namesake also preacher
Fer in Stockholm. Because Stu preaches dentem, so one could also preach, whom the king
nig zum Profesor der Theologie gemänt bette, ob r
To be a preacher oneself. From all this will come Now the reader can see how much Mr. Viikolat's Be= Remarks in this piece are worth it, by all my
not of great erudition, which he acquired with so much Knows how to give self-gratification.
– Mr. Nikolai goes on to say that one does not know,
Can one trust fine eyes when one
Mr. Garve reads that the Zeflitten, from which the protesters were persecuted, the rulers were
They were greedy, no ghost hunters, no magicians,
on the contrary, the driest pedants, and in nothing
ekfabrien gewas, als in the metaphyftk der Schools. – And then the learned book knows:
Traders, the unlearned professors, according to their earnings right, and lead him to Father La Chaise, the Peter, P. Wolf, and a few others
Before, who were truly not dry-eyed pedants,
biondern noch andere und feiner Kunsten, als

| 0

>

: en disadvantage of the prostants. as1
mere meta-boss understood.. –@eltte wehr shipyard

lich Garve was born nothing of Pater la Chaise

Have he really been given the Jefult Peter?
who feared so much nonsense in England, and mebe

a stupid zealot, rather than a defeated state!
The man was, unknown, to have been. 2. So it must have been

Garve never took a look at Franke's story rich and England have done. Should he, as a learned Prussian subject, P/ Wolf

may be unknown, who at the raising of the Hays
If Brandenburg were to become king, such a role would be necessary.
played? But now tell me, Mr. Nikolai, to Mr.

*

To humble Garve rightly; and that deserves it too.

a man who imagines himself; the great i= have been. And how many strange ones out of 8

kolai fi to be able to resist: Mr. Garve show
a great ignorance, if he imagines=
The superiors of the Jesuits never ask the Ma= gie, the spirit seer, 1 after ge= beimen Rünften: served, the regents to: re= greed. And as apparent proof of the

– Blessingly, he led him to the Johann Dee, Edward Kelly, Michael Weyer and Ja= cob Typotius. Now what does Mr. Garve still

Say it? That's clearly proven. That's suffering.

not the slightest doubt that Doe is with After

nomie, Sterudeuterey, Chymie and Kabbalah abs give. This Dee has not only become a Waxi= milian H. but also at Queen Elizabeth's knew how to ingratiate themselves with England, even to the point of...

She told him she wanted to become his student.
Edward Kelly didn't just associate with Alchymists

not only with necromancy, but also with it.

and Dee found 1584 by Emperor Rudolph in Prague
had been, and was very well received by him.
| homes

Arts

\

*

15 Of Jesuits and their machinations
Things targeting the arts do not come into the 7thtius Symbolis divinis et humanis! Derive in this one Beech trees stand. Yes, many wonderful little pictures that one...

Skilled interpreters of signs have enough material for all:
different interpretations can be given, whether one would otherwise
Those who find nothing of secret arts in it will be disappointed.

will now deny that the Jesuits are dealing with magic and all sorts of secret arts have been given up.

ben, in order to rule the people. -
But Mr. Nikolai may not interpret it negatively to me that I too dare to contradict him here. I
I have to say to him: I'm sorry that I
I must say he has treated the audience shamefully

A deception, one would think.

that all the people he leads are Jesuits!
And not a word of that is true. John Dee, an Englishman, born in London in 1527, who Apart from his travels, he spent most of his time in London.
ter of the government of Queen Elizabeth

ten, was nothing less than a Jesuit, and has Had a wife and children. Edward Kelly, who

a cunning fraudster, of whom even the

Whether an honest or simple-minded person was cheated, was

He didn't even have a Jesuit suit, had a wife and children, was from Worcester, and there apothecary or city= (writer had been). Michael Meyer, also not Jesuit). Jacob Typotius, a Dutchman

== e.g.: Eee ER

A precise message from these two adventurers, and the writings of the first, can be found in Nicéron's Nachrichten Th. 2. pag. 177 ff. and in Rothfcholz's Theatre Chymico, Th. 3. ee er

#9 Moreri in DIE, Histori. Tom, III. p. 414. says he is a Medikus gewesen, and allegirt van der Linden de Script. medicis. * a ee ne ee

>

to the detriment of Deerteanten.

Dear scholar of Deches, who was born in Prague in 1604 as a professor of philosophy.

A historian died because of his severe illness.

dishen. Story, when he was still in Sweden, condemned to death, but through mediation feiz Ne's brother, who was the Danish personal physician, freed 3' was . fine Jesult m 2. bes white

"Sdon i im 1 8 der Beifen S. 108: liegt Hen Vlirolat

des Typorii [ymbola divina es bumans und fagt, dies fehr

The rare book contains symbols whose explanation in current terms

kolai in the appendix to 7 B. of his travels, That the emblem=

j mata facra et prafana dieses Mannes, gar merkwürdige

5 that he discovered in these things, after which he the Pu=

5 | Images occasionally contained images that very clearly showed= that the Jesuits are not even considering a new career path

open, but on one of them since its construction to leave the path their order had taken. What?
But he leaves it at this mere statement.

Why doesn't he reveal to us: the secret knowledge,

blikum, through finely praised otherwise only know lust

2 made? His apology that Mr. Garve

"I will not have patience and courage is completely unacceptable."

chend; for he did not leave his followers for Lord Garve, to whom he had given a fine wipe in writing 'would have given'

can, but print for the public to whom he wants to show wanted Mr. Garve to be an ignorant man, he had.

Mr. Nikolai, a seer who sees through everything. He knows to offer something useful (because I have at the (even the most patient searches in Typorius could not find anything),

Now let him say it now, and not hide behind it.

the reckless pretense that he now has no leisure

be and not abfehe, if he might get them, in order to all

to present the saecelia completely, and to understand them correctly

4. To clearly distinguish between them. As long as he doesn't do that.
Everyone has the right to decide that he had dared to find something for the public to . I must rather assume that Mr. Ni= ola .

—

It could still be important. Here Mr. Vie says

FE a

284 Of Jesuits and their Machinations

So all of Mr. Nikolai's statements are doubtful
For the fact that the Jesuits are mages, spirit seers, etc.
Were they? Nothing, absolutely nothing. That these people,
Dee, Kelly, Meyer, Typotius of Jesuits

| been directed, Mr. Nikolai did not prove at all.
$en; and nobody says that. He must be over beer.

= . 1

“

1

4

r 2

especially secret messages known only to him

babes, with whom he is still keeping secret.

But Mr. Nikolai did not know that these people Since there were no Jesuits, he is far more ignorant.
as Mr. Garve; he, who was Mr. Garve for us

shamefully accused of ignorance, and there= bey is so conceited about himself that he boasts to the Ge= story of the Jesuits, who gladly considered him fine

The head seems to have become detrimental, more precisely
I studied, as someone! But he knew everything.

this, and even if he were to lead these people as

Examples of the magic of the Jesuits, and that they

Folz in the pre-printed additions to the twelfth volume aten Volume p. 53 did not yet trust the Bporius to give a to call them Jesuits, but only asked if one could from
'From his fine book, one might suspect that he was a secret Jesuit

. been. But here he is already bolder, and calls him

Fascite, a Jesuit in secular clothing. In such a

25. Enlightenments draw on writers who violently to assert a sentence, from within itself, firstly Bermu=

"tzhung and then certainty, believe also probably in the end"
Even that the child of their imagination knows the truth. –
I would add one more thing, namely that neither Barle Th. Iv.
p. 386 still Moreri Tom. IV. p. 316 still Heffmann in Le N rico univ. T. IV. p. 550. das minfte von des Typorii ans alleged Jesuitism. "From their data, it can be said that..."

To conclude the opposite. Where did Mr. Niko come from?
Lai may have his messages? But with seers, it must be
You shouldn't ask: How do you know that?

*
5 –
*

a

2 5

f

/

I serve the same, the rulers, to govern; fo
– he is deliberately telling an untruth, and binter=
geb! in a shameful way the audience. En!
Hey! If one were to trust one's fine eyes, that he all Scholars rightly rebuking proud bookbinders and Enlightenment thinkers of the German nation either so greatly 8 – or as little shame as one can feel!

What Mr. Nikolai said in the note on page 18.
about how Mr. Garve makes subtle claims in the monthly journal, December 1785, page 525 Rejected, that's none of my business. But what

Mr. Mikolai, page 19, in the same note, claims, Something needs to be clarified. He says: Jesuits
And Jesuit friends, if they can't do much=
nen, verschähen nicht, indeßen wenig zu thun.
Enough, they are always busy, they know very well how to Temporarily, until they can do more. They are Ben pays attention to everything. And now everything will be here.
calculated what they would bring to bear to counter the evil Impressions of their fellow brothers among the Protectors to erase or even delete them. Who Will Mr. Nikolai not admit many things to Bievon?

Where is there a religion, an order in the world, that not to use other people to his advantage=
Should one take or search? But like Mr. Nikolai
If you imagine the situation, you won't be safe anywhere.

that one does not everywhere see Jesuits in court robes")

or

1 8 * If one wants to admit to Mr. Nikolai what he B.
"VII. p. 104 in the note says that it is under the name

Jesuited en robe courte Catholics who are married,
yes, even women could be those who submit to the general

5 would have to participate in the supposedly good works and Indul= to participate in the boundaries of the Jesuit order; so it is

. | en \ - g
The disadvantage of the Protestants. 465

the Jesuits are bound to obedience by a vow

. u = - *
-
. 1 Y
\
*

| 466 Of Jesuits and their waking rituals

"who should meet in a long robe: everyone is Suspicious to the other, and one can only alone to still trust the one who knows all about the Ber=
Linn formerly so highly praised tolerance is shedding,
In contrast, Erdmann Neumeister's polemical Rüs attracts stung, and everything that is Catholic.
and means what Jesus was, and still is,
Even if he were a very good man, brave

He starts ranting. That bites affo: To us, to us
You have to fight each other, otherwise everything is suspicious, and (You too!) But what did Mr. Nikolai tell us about?

3 7 more

Unfortunately, it's unbelievable, and he didn't even mention it.
at least the appearance of having proven himself, which he further adds, that namely, Protestants themselves in these classes of Jesuits which protester, who only some=

In large numbers of fine religion, if, it is taught briefly=

to be silly enough to stoop to a vow where= through which he became acquainted with the Jesuit General and his order.
binds, in order to participate in the supposedly good works and In= tolerances of the Jesuit order, which has now even been abolished

Is it possible to participate? If only Mr. Nikolai were a only example of such an insane prote=

| had taught stanns! Shouldn't one be above such things?
You can laugh heartily at such claims if you didn't know=

7. that special intentions are to be achieved with it,

that one amazing chimera is always grafted onto another
"Will it happen? Shouldn't one not consider this,

when one Zionist guard sees another, so must one to meet what Cato said about the Roman soothsayers:

Alirari fe, si augur augurem afbiciens fabi temperaret d rifu!

A new example of what happens to scholars who are not before

Fall down and worship at everything Wikolai brings forth,
We have contacted Professor Xöster in Giessen, His Re=

religious events, which have already led to the red ban=
The grown ones found, were so far, as far as I could see
"Can," never thought of in the General German Library.

\

" f 1.
[4

—

1.
\ i

to the detriment of the Most Frenetians. 467

still ongoing restless activity of the Jes ö

Are the attacks against the protesters authentically proven?
With nothing! except that he imagines himself everywhere

| Sefsitent to And + he would have still so fehr

9 2 5 be=

a . Because 05 Vistonen of the Lord Wikolat and Ken= varieties of Catholicism, Jesuitism, etc., not with Admiration and incense were sprinkled. The book had nevertheless, his good departure, even if Mr. Nikolai
He could not have a pass written for him in his library.
However, since it so happened that in the IXth volume, p.
23239 ff. a defense of the Mr. Superintendent and Prof.
Schulz zu Gießen against the one in the Nikolai appendix to the VII. B. was engaged in the attack; thus it burned=
the literary despot in righteous anger, and hessed
in a fine tribunal: for this, the editor (Mr. Pr.) should be held accountable.
'Röfter) be beaten at the first best opportunity.

The religious events, however, still remain.
uncontested, and against Schulian's defense Nothing was said anywhere. Only on the occasion that in the General German Library, Vol. 71, a St. the map=
et Monatsschrift, in which among others Adfters Mo= | ral occurs, was thoroughly reviewed, let Niko=
Print the following on page 552:

| "Böfter's philosophical morality is very much the
"was cheap: because this very weak man flatters
"for that, the councillor and especially the Mainz councillor" Theologians, in turn, in a very obsequious way."

Anyone who thinks 'deeper' should believe that Mr. Röfter has in a philosophical morality to the Catholics and Mainz Theologians were flattered. Because it is difficult to... persuade that in a library that smells of the Un=
who wants to stand for impartiality and infallibility, one in a favorable review found in another journal merely through the despotic pronouncement is to be refuted, which Antor was a weak man who was a Catholic.

3. A creeping kind of flattery, without ever showing any boasting,
| au the N destehe, wo und auf welche Weise den
Ka

458 Of Jesuits and their Machinations

| proved that they were still just as active and are

could, as before; which increased in our Times of this danger before their schemes, deceptions

and A 1 therefore the Zion Watchers

the

It became number 1. That means

Probably literary nonsense! But what will happen to Mr. Ylis now?
kolai make after he is from the red band of the Re=

has seen religious events, that Mr. Rödter S.
111. Professor Sailer in a fine, single fairy tale for completely, and p. 121 ff. Lavatern through his defense=
gung for enough sam in the main thing justified holds,
yes, after Mr. Böster himself (p. 235 ff.) and the pro=
The Protestant religion was vigorously defended against Nicholas.
Has? At the very least, it can be expected that he will now...
Saying that religious events are a through Jesuit-organized journal, and Mr. Rödter a Affilürter, unless himself a Jesuit. In the manner of Zion=

To judge the guards, there would be considerable indications of this.
available; for Mr. Xöster was initially a theologian,
He left theology and became a philosopher and schoolteacher.

Man. Why did he do that? He'll soon be standing in here.

to the reputation of a groveling flatterer of the Catholics
sien, which then quite sön (more solito diesen Herren)

with one's own birth in that place of the general German.

Biblioth. can be proven, and if now Lord

*

Beasts also mention something about it in the monthly publication, an anonymous person in another piece of this Nikolai table
Fund praises and reverences, and perhaps puts him on the trail.
râth, that Mr. Xöster is a friend among Catholics or Gorrefpondenten have; fo ift der neue Krypto=Ka= tholic or Jesuit finished, and it stands at the discretion of the upright and orthodox Lutheran man, Geschwin
Even the tonsure and the orders give way to laughter. –
I must add one more thing. Mr. Nikolai asked us
B. IV. p. 654. introduced to the Jesuit= maxim:

Whoever is not with us is against us! But should one his

,

runs re 8 6 2
1 r
U 5

x
N

to the detriment of the protesters. 46

the entire Protestant audience to delete Bers
May I be able to say something here? – But I must say one thing here.

I should mention one more thing, and that is quite a true point.

Word that Mr. Nikolai said: II faut jetter

5
>

une fottife et voir qui la ramaffera. See there,

The audience, the topic, Mr. Wikolai and the had mognat writers in mind when they were.

their chimera about Crypto's Catholicism and it suitism in the world. II faut jetter une for-tise, that they have faithfully done! er voir qui la ra-

maflera, and the part of the audience that only read,

was happy to see witches and ghosts again= and

To read murder stories, just read, without anything else.

to examine everything, has – she with eager hand
cancelled: ui N .

Mr. Nikolai will be there on the occasion of Book for readers. Erreurs et la Verité, about which he to clean up Mr. Garve, the permission to... takes, and even goes so far as to openly=

by allowing bare washerwomen to operate, by appointing Mr. Bars

Gg 3 ve

Trust your eyes if you continue: and you Run in the same way, securely close, who is not quite whoever opposes them (the Jesuits) is in any way with you! Listen, audience, this is what I
As I said in the text: "Yes, us!" cry the Zion's watchmen.
So, anyone who doesn't learn quite like Nikolai and his ilk, shout, scold and curse, don't go with them to the Kez= Zer= and Jesuit hunting, he is on some kind of White with the Jesuits. Was it possible that such all Spanish, Portuguese and Italian heresy courts to shameful basic principles of tolerant Berlin
They could be printed in 1784! Audience! Audience!

This blasphemous nonsense has now been going on for three years.

left unpunished, indeed, even occasionally this Unfinn Weibraud) scattered! !! 8a:

0 -

large Wen Jesuits and leading machinations

8.

*

ve advances, which Hen. Garve's friends ven him who wanted to have heard about it, and what it was.
again the Hru. Beasts tell, once more on the Jesuits) and says; There are clever demagogues, which the addiction to secrets leads to=
to use the power of their rule in a cunning way be: : All of these have read this book of the Zrreurs:et de la Verité, which they received from the Jef uiten in France, which now affect, themselves
To call philatelists a lure made of very
has been accused of having malicious intentions,

"Attended with great zeal. - One can see,

That the PI. Inc., which made the book of the err so

cunningly cast them into the world, all too well
"Experts of the human heart are, and to

'Only all too certain ways to achieve their aims (hit it). As I said, I don't know Hru.
Willermoz, nor Mr. Martin, nor anyone else of the gentlemen who are listed as distributors in the monthly publication=

(The book of the error is specified here.)

and therefore cannot be in that case, to determine

can find out if they are Jesuits and friends of Jesuits, or are not. But where did Mr. Nikolai get that from?

"his message, which he delivered with such audacity in The world is being written into? It is now, of course,

set so fluctuatingly that he always has a behind=

thur to escape remains when one him
comes closer; however, he may consider the Jesuits to be the originators= Here this book, or only for distributors of the same
balten, who use it for their own purposes;
With what does he prove all this? With what does he prove,
a. 5 5 in e Jefulten fi –

Ze witoleis Anhang pag= 28. Note.

) Monthly Journal August 1785. p. 16m – .

no

' j N

en ro 7 | 3 SE = Te = Ze u En – – DE 34< 6;

+
j
*

um Nachtheil de potente 4271

ö Pr wobl tinsmöglich. aus der Monatsschift Das

It's just as good as if he were providing for himself.
For the monthly writers were one with him and
the. namely unproven quirk have, and to the Be=
dauping derfelen alles herheyfchleippen, fo iss,

When he performs them, it's just as good as if he were performing himself.
citirt. Who is the anonymous one; who himself (S rns.)

N ,all those; gentlemen become followers of the Jesuits?

If he wants to give a testimony, then he must be known.
nen, in order to then the credibility of fine statements=
to share. And with what did the avant-garde ask?
Has he proven his claim? If Mr. Nikolai

If he wanted to invoke that, he would be very strange.

f

To prove one unproven fact with another. Where?
Mr. Nikolai proves that PA. Inc. is indeed
Jesuits, or friends of Jesuits, or affiliates, or whatever name he prefers to give them? But probably impossible with the sign denter in the Monthly Journal), the PI. Inc. not Philosophes Inconnut, foudern Peret :Fefuites translated to know will. Just as arbitrary, and at the same time just as lã=
Certainly, as if someone: Mr. Friedrich Ni=

Tolai to the Jesuits, affiliated with the Jesuits, yes indeed

even make you a fourth-class Jesuit and sa= Gen wanted to say: Fr. Nic. is actually called Frères Noires, which find Jesuits. With what does Mr. Nikolai prove that the

Is the book a Jesuit temptation? That it is Je= Does suitism contain? Surely impossible from the Impartial exam. And the Kabbalistic Den=
What are the interpreters' observations in the Monsts script?

For Mr. Nikolai would first have had to prove that the interpretations given there are not arbitrary,

. carried into the book, but fo noth=
| 834 .
Um 0. © 86 . Be „

t

".

u

1

w

471 Of Jesuits and Their Machinations

It is necessary that these interpretations and no other to state the actual meaning of the book; and that he will probably never be able to prove, and if he and Associates also such great Kabbalists and Zeit

chendeuter find. Such unproven cheeky Bes

Surely a man like Mr. [Name] should be able to make such claims.
Nikolai feyn wants to be ashamed! : a

Page 41. Mr. Nikolai comes back again=
He speaks of the Jesuits, and says of Ibnen: They

– worse than the worst monks, fit

The monks ate too, and merely carried out their own business.

for their own benefit, the reform that should be

The transformation of the Roman Church was mainly due to,
that they alone allege existing abuses
throw the monks, and devour them completely=

gen s~~ö~~üchen, in der Absinn dass fie s~~ö~~ich alsdans

—

a part of the monks' goods, and the
to appropriate the greatest part of their influence. How old clever, but here Mr. Nikolai talks as if he is telling us Din= said things that not everyone knew even without him, and knew= could. Already from Lucius Jesuit's Si From the story, one can see that the Jesuits are worse than all the other monks, hated and oppressed as well.

and pursued wherever they could, and who Lucius doesn't have it on hand, it can't be from Soll=

Berg's church history, and from Harenberg

Learn with lots of evidence. But where did it come from?
Mr. Nikolai received the news that the Jesuits had...
The intended reform of the Catholic Church operate? So the Jesuits are up against it?
Ser, the Elector of Mainz, and other Catholics
liů lords acted, who in their states the Miss:
Have you started to abolish customs? Which cabinets?

Did Mr. Wikolai have any news about this? Is that so?

Joseph's Reformation was only a reform that was supposed to be one.
| N | for

A
|
|
|
|
,

formation, or as the monthly writers say, |

8

—

*

—

a to the detriment of the protesters. 473

Just bait and deception? Is it
The work of the Jesuits who carried it out?
That Mr. Nikolai is not at all shy), should= che fire ihn fo gefährliche Ansprüche in die Welt

to scatter, and the good, which every mouse...

U

must rejoice in feeling, maliciously suspicious to ma
chen. But what a contradiction: The Jesuits
They should pursue the reform in the states where...

will form; and again in the states where

This is intended to prevent any reform that is unwilling to be implemented.

also originate from Jesuits, e.g. in Bavaria.
So the Jesuits do everything in a haphazard, mixed-up way.

The. Once again, one always blames oneself.
the devil; now that our Christian Zion's guardians

To deny this seems to another monster.

“

to have given a fine spot, and that's what the Jes finds.

fuiten. — But they should carry out the reform.

and seek to destroy the monks in order to gain a part of their goods and influence=

suitable. Where Mr. Nikolai received this news where has it come from? Is this; so they have in Austria and Mainz was born a mistake. Because on the emperor= religious funds and the revenues of Mainz
Mr. Nikolai will not be giving them any further information about the monastery.
To trust speculation. Why in Austria the
The emperor uses the confiscated monastery goods, is well-known. And in Mainz, even protesters participate.

on G97 stanti=

| *) To be shy! Now that is not at all the business of this honorable man.

No. Because he already stated in the preface to Volume VII that...
'fine tire p. 8. magnanimously declares that fine fire egg=
If he will never stop, it should also be said of him:

Aliis inferviendo consumer! Good luck with your deistical Mar= tprerkrone! .

—

y \

274 Of Yefuites and their Machinations

permanent professors at the withdrawn monastery= goods, and are paid with it. But what
Mr. Nikolai imagines that he also considers that to be True, and writes it out into the world, and that

The audience is supposed to believe it, and probably does.

For a while. 5 |

Yes, Mr. Niko refers to page 47 of the note.

lat on the annex B. where of the two to Linz

and Schwerin, the seminaries are to be held, the speech

Mt: but I'll probably hear about this at some point.

to have something to say in that place, to have the opportunity.

What Mr. Nikolai says on pages 46 and 47 about the city

I am not allowed to refute what Ler and Sailer said here.

Sailer already asked Mr. Nikolai for a nice, shameful...

The shape was revealed, and he was seen as one before

Atzlichen kũgner der Welt dergeftalt verstellt, dass

(nothing more can be added). And everything

Furthermore, as Mr. Nikolai further states, that the Jesuits in Breslau, Jeplichal, Franz, Lind=

ner, Suberkorn, Rollonez, Steiner, and how

'They continue to be called, nor the infallibility of the Romans

The Church, its immutability in its teachings=

add, from the Pope as head of the Church, from priesthood, etc."), claimed; uun is the

What's surprising? Is anything different to be expected? What

These Jesuits are doing something different from what all the spirit envisions.

do the work of the Catholic Church, and for as long as that's the case will do when the Catholic Church was not yet

has become Protestant. That never beats=

who cannot defeat those who truly

major reforms, which in various ways are fathomable
No | "on=

a" S. the only fairy tale in a fine style by J. m.

Sailer. Minden 17. N

0 ikolais Appendix. Pages 46–49 and Beylag= Page 16.

.

r on BE EEE?

"

1 mm Disadvantage of the Protestants. 47

They are made of Klüdern. It only proves that one

The reform has not yet reached the point of addressing the doctrines.

It is not coming, but only many abuses are coming=

has happened; and for a church where so much is to be done

It is far away, where improvement presents so many difficulties.

asked, and on the slow, deliberate path of the Public enlightenment, because of which there is opposition from all sides

No giant leaps can be made over the obstacles that stand in the way.

What can be done is truly a great deal.

happened. Mr. Nikolai does not have to protect the provosts.

tables, nor the Catholic Church really know a

However wise an appearance he may be able to project; otherwise

He would speak differently. But you can't know that from...

'a bookseller who is not a theologian, not to expect that he can do all this. But then he had to Even the bookseller remains silent, and does not get old.

to wisely venture into a field in which he seems to have no other option

all necessary knowledge is lacking in order to also be a

To be able to have a voice. This certainly also applies in Considering everything that Mr. Nikolai page

53 of the Mainz Jesuits and their Behaup=

tungen says. These claims can be made by all better sentiments, which occasionally The Catholic=

Likes to look down on the protesters, in every way.
Reforming the abuses doesn't make anything cheap for anyone.
to be noticed by thinking people, and even now more noticeable than former abbreviations. Like step-by-step

Everything went well with the protesters, .che s0ie u

Having reached the stage of remediation, I found myself on catfish.

Dear, we stand now! How many claims are there?
which we find in Luther's, Melanchthon's and the others=
based on the following theologians' writings, which are truly

not a single theologian of our times would accept this= te! But precisely these ones, led by Mr. Nikolai hard Ultramontane teachings, do not find them =

Zn zZ wirk=

1

-

-

776 Of Jesuits and their Machinations

most effective antidote, which can only be found,

to hold back the protesters, the Catholics=

Must be reasonable to find?

Page 62 ff. Mr. Nikolai gives to his love= lings hypothesis, or rather his ehimare of The Jesuits, a very special section. With Everyone here is rightly expecting one at last. thorough proof of so many into the world= clever, brazen claims, especially since Mr. Ni=

kolai undertakes to find a learned man, like

Mr. Garve is right to be reprimanded. But all the more reason... The audience will be even more surprised when it beer again nothing in Garve's alleged and on; a master craftsman, as a spirit seer, who alone sees the imaginary ghost, and instead to prove through hints, interpretations, declamation= Their screams and cries of fear will also convince others.

wants the ghost not to be merely in his sick state

Imagination, but truly existing in the world.

Will it take me a little longer than I wanted to be up? to stop, so I must say hello to the great Niko here=

Follow the steps one by one. Right from the beginning. He says: 39 I have already mentioned above on page ns, that Mr. G. also wanted us to believe ma= chen, the Jesuits would no longer be in their marriage= a long-standing, committed relationship, and that he let me

It's certainly addictive to make, because I'm from very good
I maintain that they still are. I realize I'd like to point out right away that Mr. Garve has no profession.
that which is in itself already ridiculous.
to present it from a different perspective. The philosopher=

phish garve, which coldly views the discarded matter=

bloody examination, doesn't even look like he probably

batte thun können, die von selbst sich präsynden
"to raise. I ask my *

the

um Nacpei der peoteanten. 472

I refer to the entire cited passage of the monthly journal 70.
0

. - 8 R K — Zn

"n een e . d re

read, and you will not find a single expression, whereby Mr. Garve became the famous traveling Mr.;

He had tried to make Nikolai look ridiculous: Mr.
Mikolai therefore makes a completely unfounded claim here.

Apology. He further says: Mr. Garve wanted ' to make us believe that the Jesuits are no longer

in their former committed relationship would be

That too is a completely false claim. Of that

Mr. Garve says nothing in the passage he has written.

Word. He only says it if one mentions that former fe=

fte Verbindung als noch fortdallen halten wol=

le, fo müsse vor ausscheid sein, ob denn

the Jesuits still truly support the general consensus

have a connection that they formerly had, whether they get Society's superiors are obedient to them.

find them, correspond with them, and so on. This They denied it, full Catholics, and it was in the That's unlikely; Mr. Wikolai is talking about it.
voluntarily with full conviction, but without the ground
to discover with fine conviction. That's what Hui says.
Garve. And that's how everyone feels far from that.
distinguished what Mr. Nikolai attributes to him and makes him ask, "If Mr. Nikolai everywhere Ben Jesuit wants to see ghosts, who can?
How can one resist that in a good mood? But when Mr. Nikolai, an upright man, who...
bloodily judged the matter, and pbilosophically wants to correct him, lets him say other things than he
That said, then the fault lies with a delicate heart, and One becomes inclined to like the man who previously only had friends with suffering made lively, more than mere deception, breakdown
ter * – Bee commits 2 Niko=

AL:

4

2.5, menue December ER p · 10 497.

J.

So, if everything Mr. Nikolai said about everything...

lichen connection, finer all-foreseeing Ger

the Roman Church makes miracles, not un=
He claimed, with good reason, that they were still...

and correspond with each other – Why does he hold

No one will believe him, and the more

478 Of Jesuits and their Machinations
lat at this very point, how should I call it, Wrong=

Work or dissemination? If he tells us on page 19 referred to. Nothing is said there about the Jesuits still in their former firm community

binding would be; but if one: so that everything holds together again, which Mr. Garve (p. 525) in
As the monthly magazine said, this is where only this comes from.
that Mr. Garve was surprised by how at the constitution of the Jesuits already on their now= Consideration has been given to the cancellation, and there= against in the same already placed aids, and that all-encompassing power of this order, fine inseparable

sweeping, fine all-penetrating uppers and so on.
w. said, founded is, also the claims which

Founded his being would. Mr. Nikolai continues:
in their former committed relationship. Well, he

Tell us these reasons, he proves to us that Lankie= Wicz was not just the general of the Jesuits in White =Reussen, but also all at world price=

star made ex-suites if that they still to recognize this, and to him as their superior, the
to render former blind obedience, that they still
all constitute such a body as before,

with these good reasons, and our Souls up? Let him convince us; so we want.
Believe in IBM. As long as he gives us these good things
He would not provide reasons, no matter how much he had.
Anecdotes gathered on a fine hike=

he

—

—

about the protesters' nightmarishness... awful

he merely cries out, in order to rather mistake him for a ghost <

Seers hold.

But Mr. Mitolai continues: The Jesuits |

seek to spread themselves, their society would be in the strongest connection, as soon as she only spits out=

They could believe that good would be done through them,
But as soon as someone speaks of evil, that fie fü häölig stiften, fo heißt es, die Gesöellfschaft

It no longer exists at all. Once again, nothing but a sham.

Statements without quotation, without proof. Where do they say

They, that their society in the firmest connection=
What would be the dung? And assuming they said so, it is. dar=
What was it about? As good as it's supposed to be a lie, and when one considers their continued existence in white= Reuss sees, also really is, when they say, their

re Gesellschaft existiere gar nicht mehr, oder wenn

Steiner says that of all the Jesuits, there is no Saar.
There's more there; just as easily that could be a lie.
be that they are still in the strongest connection

Ben. Was that Mr. Nikolais's reason?

Claim; that is certainly quite plausible.
Furthermore, Mr. Nikolai says: Mr. Garve has also from persons of the Roman Church, which che er, I can't say for what reasons=

persuade him, who does not consider himself a friend of Jesuits, firmly.
to let the Jesuits not have a proper Consistory at all=

—

They could have more of a sense of freedom. It is sometimes very

It is difficult for Jesuits to distinguish friends accurately.

and someone will probably fall into their hands, where he thinks about it the least, and speaks to them with the best kind of world after what you far

gen. First, I would just like to point out that Mr. Ni=

Eolai ficht hier wieder mal, eine Unwahr zu Schul= who lets him come. Mr. Garve does not say that he fehlte was persuaded that the Jesuits should not have 9

The Free Jesuits and their machinations

would have more support; he only says not to be Jesuitical.

Catholic believers denied that they still had the pre-19
ligen Zusammenhagg hätten, gemeinschaftliche Obern
2 would have, etc., and then gives the reasons that (also make it unlikely)) Can one 3, Mr. Garve was firmly persuaded=

The one? Mr. Nikolai must be so used to it already.
Ben, to say inaccuracies, that he didn't even know it knows more. At the same time, he is looking for Mr. [name] with those words.
to imagine Garve as a man who was taught by Jesui=
I was cheated on by my friends without even realizing it.
to know what kind of hands he is in. One can fall into the hands of such people, where People least expect it, and tell them
Because according to what they say. That's how Sr. does it.
Garve. Now, to prove this great heartbreak-
A warning, a long note in which he
It is counted that this also applies to the deserving gentleman.
Nike experienced something similar in Leipzig. The position from the

The museum is mentioned. Who wouldn't expect ice

a horrifying or wonderful new story,
how she bewitched the good Mr. Heinike and in her
Did you have any knitting? None of the above, dear reader!

Mr. Seinike simply says: That the Catholic spirit=

lichen, and especially the Jesuits, to now take care of the Enlightenment and culture make every effort to ensure that through like the normal school, and much improved teaching methods.
introduced in Austria and other countries;
that they initially with some teaching methods to the Nor Schools have been misled, as they have the=
the same from Abbot Felbiger, and he in Berlin he= learns that they, however, taste the and revert to the türliche der Hhnisch e eingegeben, fie u

shaft,

> ©. moons. December 1795. 1. 497. 2

dium disadvantage of the protestants. 431

shaft, and in contrast the Rochow shaft and other shillings= Traditional and natural methods have been introduced. That is Everything Mr. Heinike says. Every reader will ask where is it that Mr. Heinike from the Jefuities were deceived, and by them... knitted? Hey, in the good part, what he got from the Jesuits say. One need only know a little about them as a messenger. Say it, otherwise it's proof, a fact. that one follows in their footsteps and only repeats what they say, what they predict. Disgusting inconsistencies! Are that the impartial people, for which they stood Ben? If I knew something good from the devil, I would... I can say that about him. How shamefully he acted. But these people, who treat everyone who is not weak, 'ges It is enough to blow a horn with them immediately. (Make everyone in the world suspicious)! What a mo= Surely our Zionist guardians might have them? Mr. Nikolai is now searching further in this note for refute the claim that the Jesuits are enlightened and cultural to spread, and argues against this that they in Bavaria opposed all enlightenment, that in Austria they are only the miserable normal ones= and Sitteralmerbode introduced in the schools that the Catechism, even the most egregious ultramontane ones contains terms, and is still found in schoolbooks the most hateful sentiments against the protesters would be reproduced") etc. But if one Ve, e dei en auch I just heard a new example of this in the note from guided, where I was guided by Professor Köster in Giessen= trade have I would just like to mention in passing that the violent Outbursts from the monthly journal on Catholicism

I find it not at all appropriate to treat Catholics gently and mildly. to influence sentiments against us, but 9 en

– 40

,

4

482 Of Jesuits and their machinations

This also includes everything that Mr. Nikolai tells us here, assumes as a matter of course, as follows from the fact that Mr. Heinike to this favorable but incorrect original parts of the Jesuits were brought through them, and without it to know, as it were, that they had been tricked by them. How long has it been since we've heard from schools and the The teachings of the Jesuits contain advantageous concepts.

have, without being able to say that those

those who held this prejudice against the Jesuits Hands fell! And supposing the Jesuits had

Mr. Seiniken these advantageous concepts of is artificially taught in schools, and everything what Mr. Nikolai's motives for this

Ben knows he really behaves as he says, and.

what he says about them, why they are the Rochow family Method not introduced, also true; can
One can therefore say of Mr. Heinike that he is in Je Suiterhands fell, and all this as a special to show in a very straightforward way how one can, where one can at
at least thinks it could fall into Jesuit hands?
What pathetic excuses!

From Steiner's assertion, whose Mr. Ni

As I mentioned earlier, I already said on page 65.

tedet. Given their still ongoing existence in
It is probably impossible to say to Russia, that not a single hair of theirs remained. But that the German ex-Jesuits also with those foftemas

to put together a table, to make a body out of them do, etc. That is the matter that Professor [Name]

Garve rightly proved to be estranged before one could Claims of Nikolai Glauben beymefi fen kōnnfdfe. un Nun
the liveliest has against us 3 Who can be about frequent: 5 . if they are only e |

I ,
7

a. to the detriment of the protesters. 483
Now, Mr. Nikolai tells us: a long and important message. The Jesuits, he says, have ben from the beginning of their foundation, according to Mr=

The world's creation has striven: that is true enough, and from the Lucius, Scioppius, Harenberg and long known to many other writers. And They still strive for that. That's what I want.

also probably believe; not only by the Jesuits in White Reuss, but also by some ex-Jesus

ten in Germany and other countries believe that against the abolition of their order and the failure to carry it out=

The ability of finer considerations can cause enough pain. Abet
Now it continues: At all Catholic courts
find the confessors, or seek to become one,
Standing in=exposing, or seeking :darem to come:

Even now, the expulsion of all Catholic princes is still in effect.

Zen in Europe in their hands, yet they find the Hofmeister (Note). How much did Göttingen have?
(I have never seen such Jesuits!) and travel hazard= ten of all Catholic counts, barons and whose wealthy private individuals; even now they are doing
They do a lot of trade and you can see it on the stock exchanges.

large exchanges between Hamburg and Amsterdam,

those from people who are well known, on their

The figures will be taken into account. Their number is still...

not diminished, but rather increased in word
the). If what Mr. Nikolai told us here pays, really behaves so badly, so can rightly

It was said of him that he had seen more, more knows more than the entire audience knew before. That

But does this really turn out to be as he says, that he

We do not mistake fine imaginings for facts and
The unquestioned truth has been bought, we must know that.

5 „ ob giünd=

*) Nikolai's appendix pag. 66. ee

oo

U

484 Of Jesuits and their Machinations

to be thoroughly convinced. One asked for fair readings.
mistrust in the story of a man
to set, who has already been so many referred us has made himself guilty of truths. To all Catholics=
In the Lish courts, the Jesuits find confessor and ster are you in a position of respect, or seeking to get into it?

With what evidence does Mr. Nikolai prove his fine claim?

That wasn't even true when their order was in the greater sten Ansehen Vern st av, und jetzt selt es wahr s~~o~~eyn?

That perhaps here and there an ex-Jesuit might still be attached to eb
nem Hofe der Beischvater eines Fürsten, oder viel

It's easy for his kitchen boy to do, that will surely be
Mr. Nikolai should not be cited as evidence. He said.
But see page 11 by Mr. Garve: He says in Nothing – just notice – nothing. So I also say: Sr. Nikolai says, on all – one Note this – on all Catholic sofas.
He has not proven his claim with anything, and Proving them would probably have driven him to despair.
get angry. Until this happens, we can fie for nothing other than for a finer him already common untruths. – More
Now is the education of all Catholic princes
In their hands. A new fact! All Catholic princes, note this, everyone! Re=
If he only came from Germany alone, then he should already x ' Fr Sy Ä 4 fei.

L

2 *

The Princely Zweibrücken Court, as I learned from a N gener Eranfragen weiß, schon eine Ausnahme, und wer
wanted to make the effort to check in several places=
Asking would probably reveal several exceptions.
But what good does that do! Mr. Nikolai will always have the...
The way out is open, that there are suits in a courtly robe, yes indeed.
gur insincere and such could be, which it itself does not once knew.

5 }

3922 m we ei u >

HE

7

—

FE

. kum disadvantage of the Protestants. 488

Fine claim, impossible to prove. And Until he has accomplished this, one is authorized to send this message.

since the Jesuits not even in their most flourishing

During that era, the tutors of all Catholic princes were to consider it true. It goes without saying,

Mr. Nikolai must clearly and authentically prove, that so-and-so, the prince's tutor, was indeed a Jesuit is, and it's not like fine letter writers") make and say: the man seems so ambiguous to me and

It seems worrying that I should point my finger at him to suggest and say that this is also a Jesuit

In uniform and with the feathered hat! – Pointing

According to the Bible, using one's fingers is not very honest.

Craftsmanship. – They still find the guild masters and Traveling companions of all Catholic counts, etc.

w. Where did the man get this information?
May? All Catholic counts, etc., note
Yes, absolutely! He does say in the note: How much Göttingen hasn't seen such Jesuits!

Is this meant to serve as evidence of his claim?

The evidence must first be proven again. Whether now this claim is substantiated, that Göttingen Having seen many such Jesuits, the register will be the Göttingen University can decide.
Until Mr. Nikolai provides us with this proof, we can we take his claim for nothing other than Un=

Tell the truth. – It's a strange thing indeed.
with the ghosts, that they only ever seem to be from those
They will be seen who have their heads full of it, and to all other honest Christians always un=

to remain visible. – Even now, the big ones are still active.
trade, and it takes place on the stock exchanges of Amsterdam and Samburg big changes on

| M Hb3 ih=

N

ö 35 page I55.

2
*

a

ET a 2 –

1

486 Of Jesuits and their Machinations

their bill was drawn by people who probably

Isn't that also known at the North Pole? That they

It is known that they were great merchants; that they were at their repeal lost some of their wealth

To bring to safety is quite possible} lich. Other monks have the same thing, according to the public news, upon its cancellation

Attempted in the Imperial States. But still
This entire claim needs to be better proven here.
will be. Their number is not yet reduced.
dert, but rather increased.
Where is the proof? There it is, perhaps it will be
Mr. Nikolai says, in Schlözer's State Gazette, where it is said that in 1755 in Great Britain there were 299

They had been Jesuits. All this was taken as a given;
nommen: Mr. Nikolai is not ashamed to look up to invoke something that was 18 years before its repeal
What happened to the Jesuits? And with what does he prove that?

that their number there is now even more considerable?
And assuming that it were so, this proves that the number of Jesuits has not decreased, fund

Have they increased? It proves nothing more than that many Jesuits, when they came from Spain, Portugal and France
Having been expelled from their wealthy families, they went to England.
An order is diminished if no new ones are awarded.
Members are added, and the existing ones follow and to die in Aue. Mr. Nikolai has now proven this to us.
that either from the Jesuits, who voluntarily now
They were supposed to have an immortal order, since their Cancellation: no deaths, or new members in were they taken in by the same person? Since he says their

The number is not reduced, but rather increased.

have increased, and the few who have the No=

viciat in Weiß Reußen. brings forth, yet

the annual departure worldwide is not er=

fegs

—

4 a — — THREE De — De > ie^e,q AT 7

a 5

—

n Z — — — — —

U 1

7

to the detriment of the present. 487
set or even exceed. — How many inconsiderate

Sensations are not already contained in these few Words! And how arrogant a man must be!

And what a bad idea he must have gotten from Deutz!

to make a good impression on the audience, if he could hope to do so.
I will accept everything he says in faith, therefore,
because he is the great, famous, traveling bookseller,

Friedrich Nikolai says. | |

But moving on. They still have, says Mr. Nikolai, the most precise connection and the most accurate correspondences. I share in

Appendix D. such a Jesuit circle

letter containing which each Jesuit provincial forwards

to distribute. – Now the Zusammenhang,
We must have proven that if this is truly the case.

The ghost is supposed to be even more terrifying than we imagined.

Mr. Nikolai describes. Regarding this context...

But is it not enough that a former Jesuit, who

Abbate Messarati from Italy to his brothers

in Weißrussland give; that is according to the news
ten of the Justice of the Jesuits in White Rusland von mehrern geschehen, Spaniers, Por-

Tugiesian and French; and yet it stretches there

Their number only reached 178. Some have left.
and several stayed home. Regarding this
In this context, it is required that they all to consider the whole as a single body, gegen

Societal leaders have to give them one more.
so blind obedience as before, still with the same as formerly corresponded

ken. That must, as Mr. Garve thoroughly ges

has demanded, must be proven, and this together=

Mr. Nikolai has not proven his worth to us. –

7.

But they do correspond, and Mr. Ni=

kolai: has an important document in Appendix D.

82 | Ä Hb 4 eis

–

and

488 Of Jesuits and their Machinations

delivered a similar Jesuitical letter, which Each Jesuit provincial is to distribute further.
cultivates. That is a truly wonderful piece, that shows right, how they fit together like frogspawn, like
To do and act. That is a truly wonderful thing.

Man, Mr. Nikolai, he's right up their alley.

The trail. Let's see! The letter is indeed in Latin,
and some people sometimes have trouble with Latin.

It's a bad thing, but I want to see if I can understand him. And if I now...
"I take the letter before my eyes, as it appears on page 163, paragraph

It is printed; so it is immediately not true that

It is a letter. It is a letter, a mere letter.

*

Private letter from Father Johann Brener to Called February 1st, 1781 to Father George Sensel wrote to Augsburg. Page 164 adds

the sender of this letter added the message;
This letter was found in Ingolstadt in 1784.

dent, and sent him to the prelate in Pollniz.

It is only a copy (namely: the original).
dete Original) and resembles an Ey to the
the manuscript of Father Gabler's Jesuits in Ingolstadt. Thus they divide the -- each other per litteras encyclicas their messages with from
From one country to another. Now I would like to...

People all over the world ask who knows what a

Circular writing for a thing is whether one can a
A letter written by one private individual to another,

by being communicated to another, and that someone else takes a copy of it, ei=

What can be called a circular letter? I find that very...

Many letters in the world are circular letters, because how Many private letters are not shared by friends.

Friends with them, and probably also take copies=
ten of them, which then go into the third, fourth kind 239 x &

Sn

he m FA u

= zz

-- -y-

—

TO

a 1

to the detriment of the protesters. 489

So, to start something again here, if he has one

Yes, several are coming. Mr. Nikolai wants to tell us.

turns a private letter into a group letter. —

But the letter, the letter itself! That will probably be it.
It contains the fact that it is a circular letter, which goes on be sent around. Now beer is for the

Its entire content is incomprehensible to readers who do not understand Latin.
P. Brener tells his friend that he has already
No letters directly from Por for a year now.

Tugall obtained by the English on the Over various trips to Amsterdam addressed to him

They would have intercepted packages. But those who brought to him by P. Anselm Eckert, or by which he would be informed of, he also wanted to be informed of= share. Now he tells that the King of Pore Sugall had himself bled, and instead of sleep

rocks, Gabinardo, a Roupsta, Jesuit rock, gefors

The Count of Altaya laughed about it.
And when the king asked him why he was laughing?
babe, that one said, the king still remembers the Jesuits. The king responded even more vehemently.

started laughing, and said: How should I tell the Have you forgotten the Jesuits? They are my fathers. My Father always asked her for her faithful service.
highly valued, and I will never forget the good Us I forgot the lessons I received from them. This be P. Lorenz Kauler in his first letter Written to P. Eckart. The following is from

On November 13th, he added: the Count de Ponte had told the queen that it would be in public times=
Tungen said that Her Majesty had secretly...
Pope declares the innocence of the Jesuits; the king
Gin didn't want to deny this, but rather be lat

I walked away, sneering, and said, "I know it."
Yes. He further explains that a long-distance

tige

PR

. .
9 5 4

490 Of Jesuits and their Machinations

A detailed apology from the Queen was presented, with the request that the sentence be amended due to the banishment of the Jesuits wish to be investigated. This apology

the Count of St. Laurentius to the King, who
But the king was handed over to the queen, and the king
I replied that it might well be their Please be granted. Brener continues, that he was from the steward of the Marquis of Angueja, a confidant of the same, two so far to learn unknown things: namely 1) the Chis

rurgus, a flatterer of Pombal, who the Jos Hann Baptista Belle accused him of having

Pombal confessed to his life, and thereby Guilt of Belle games' gruesome death
sen, but for that a waitress in Brazil to Having received revenge, he said on his deathbed
Belle was accused of being innocent, and all the blame pushed to the Pombal, and this message sery sent from Brazil to the Ministry. 2) Ma= Dame de Pompadour had a Leave a note stating that they are four Millions, mostly in diamonds, for which he=
to hold in order to move the king into the revelation= to consent to the Jesuits' practice: and this declaration
be with six letters of Pombal from France
Sent to the ministry. Finally, Brener says, Eckart sent him the petition, which was to be addressed to the Kings and the Queen handed over because of 13 women.
which wish to be presented to the Pombal,
and the Queen's decree that the sentence wi=
who re-examines the Jesuits of 1709
He should have done all this, he told Brener.
handed over to a French writer to put it into the close eimurucken. *

7 is

a, to the detriment of the protesters. 4.

Finally, Brener says that the book, which is about Printed in Rome, and from which the newspaper (writer who talked so much) by a secular priest, and not spread by ex-Jesuits. The

The assistant judged that it was not possible now.

Time and hasty, more would be gained through shouting.
hinders, as a benefit is conferred. – That is now the

>

of the world, except for Mr. Mikolai x., to turn this letter into a circular letter, in
The situation would be [unclear]. The letter is from a single individual.
Written to a single person,
and he tells this one what he has learned from others=
ren, and in the entire letter there is not a single word,

not even a remote hint that Henfel
to communicate this letter from Brener to others, yes not even that he knew the content of the same other he count, surely, if all the letters that went out see, Firkelbriefe find, so has Mr. Nikolai not not only, but all people in the competition many circles
He wrote letters. With what brazenness!
Mr. MWikolai could, however, with this attachment to deceive the public, and what a master in
He is the master of transformation, who, as soon as it is possible for him
fell, a private letter into a circular letter
can create! – But the letter proves that
The Jesuits write to each other! Well, like everyone else.
People whose hands haven't been cut off yet
bakes, write news that informs the other person
They might be interested. But is such a private [coronavirus/coronavirus] response that individual friends with individual friends to have those uninterrupted Corres relations spondency between Obern, V and

= Ä Zr Kolle

W Presumably the Lettere Gritiche published in Rome in 1780;

1

The entire letter. Now I would like to address a person in

*

492 Of Jesuits and their Machinations

ö colleges that formerly took place in this order?

Should the ex-Jesuit request that his order be lifted?

Ben is, now all former connection with his

Should he give up on his friends? Should fate...

Having received his medal, he is no longer of any interest.

that he even against his friend, who

Is there more I may commemorate? Where in this entire letter is that?

some trace of connections between the order members=

The same as before? But in the end, something is written.

Important: the assistant has made a judgment. There=

Mr. Nikolai makes the comment that one can see, that the Jesuit hierarchy is still in progress

Be. Which assistant judged? Surely...

Certainly someone who is or was an assistant, like Karea and
– Lubowicki, who was in the news about the Jesuits

in Weiß=Reußen as assistants Chapter 376). Now I would like to know how to do this Could they be called something other than assistants? It's...

The continuing hierarchy in White Reuss is evident.
but not for the entire order. – Certainly, one
I don't know if one can find out more about Mr. Nikolais.
Impudence in this letter and your pre-
give of the same, or about the incomprehensible
The credulity of a part of the public is desirable.

dern fot soll, der wwp wap wãp by such a man=
could be dragged around on a rope!

Mr. Nikolai continues: The Jesuits depend on this constant correspondence on the

The most accurate information is gathered, all news is shared,

and establish their in all Catholic countries
greatest power. Traces of it can be found everywhere.

half. Anyone who doesn't understand Latin enough to understand the Letter, which Mr. Nikolai considers such an important document=ment taught to understand, or be lazy enough

Is not to look myself, or kind enough
| Ä en um

u
“

J . ae en” r ee

N

"To the detriment of the Protestants: 49

to believe Mr. Nikolai at his word, and Who would ever suspect that a man like who wants to be, should be, such nonsense before the

would drive the eyes of the audience? the belief

Everything's honestly gone. The Jesuits are hanging around.
this ongoing correspondence together.
Which ones? Hey, these. Wonderful combination!
menhangen, wonderful, consistent correspondence! P.
Kauler wrote two letters to P. Eckart, and What P. Brener heard from P. Eckart, he told.
he again in a private letter to his good friend=
de dem P. Hensel. That is the whole, big, best constant correspondence, the important circular letter=
ben, which is what the whole Jesuitry is connected to.
How many people does Mr. Nikolai associate with?
Collect? I'll write a nice little letter later.

anfübren, which was initiated by Mr. Beaster, to collect messages from me, from Mr. Keß= ler of Sprengseisen in Sonnenberg to a "Secure man of this country written if." Since is probably such a connection and more than in Biesem letters. But they all receive news=

ten. Who experiences them? The Jesuits. Because Bre=

ner writes on scythes, and includes some fine ones in it.

told his former brother about upcoming matters, so Do all Jesuits know this? And why should they?
People who don't know, aren't allowed to write about it,
What about her revoked order? She...
Feftigen exert their greatest power in all Catholic Ribbons, traces of them can be found everywhere=
ben. – Note, in all things; everywhere=
Ben! A long address indeed! But what with?
How do they exercise their power? Through this correspondence= denz, which P. Brener leads with P. Zenseln; through

never

a circular writing that is not circular writing, and men 2 – That it is which 0 long

A

494 Of Jesults and Machinations

Will one recognize that? Can one imagine anything?
Think of something more wretched? – But Mr. Nikolai proves now from the general German library. and from his journey, that the Jesuits in Austria bite=
thumers, prelatures and cathedral chapters received

she

2 Mr. Nikolai sweeps Sing: the former Rector of the university
"There's a Jesuit in Vienna!" – He had already mentioned this in IV. BS 69: ff. fine tires make a terrible noise started and at the end exclaimed in surprise:
"This happened during Joseph's eleventh solo reign! Now
"Let someone come when he has the Zerz, and deny the

"secret powerful influence of the Jesuits, and. denial,
"that they are a widespread but all too misunderstood
"Have an entourage." That Jesuits, after the lifting of their Orders still have secret entrances in some Catholic places=
They may have a flow, who would want to deny that right now?
But it seems Mr. Nikolai has a better one here
He stumbled upon a strange, striking fact because he was so
So brazenly and confidently demands, "And what is it?" Wol= Lens, just look! Mr. Nikolai tells us beforehand: By Takeover of the University of Vienna, which the Jesuits un= to fall into the hands of Emperor Ferdinand II.
If they had known, they would have made my first move, that the first felbpl
"I was to keep all orders, however, the Rector, on which they renounced from fine politics, which is with the Rectorate

. linked greatest tributes, namely in Pros

5

" sessions right behind the Emperor and next to the knights

.

to leave the golden refuge, but to him

but there was nothing left to order at the university.
would have let. Nan continues his own story: Since the

but all admissions at the university were granted to them (the Jefuites).
Werstät taken, they would at least have had those re des Rectorats ihre Orden in. emen Genosffen vin=

-dicirt; for the Exiefuit P. Parhammer would have been in 1782
Rector chosen and Kanter one must first=
. a 5 um.

|

|

w

.

}

u

2

|

. ium disadvantage of the Ptolemas. 491

If it has not yet been declared infamous, it is not too much to ask.
wonder; but that the emperor, who certainly alone
on merit! of the people in their transport sees, especially the Jesuits are given preferential treatment, and the Jesuits, because they. Jesuits find, promote, and so he is a friend of the Jesuits, probably even one of them= to be bullied: this great emperor in a fo
Mr. Ni~~ß~~ is accused of misrepresenting the light.
kolai can never prove. – He says

further: ER new a in Linz will

*

*

the

N 3 nen, that a so little learned man the upper honors |

Place, just because he is a Jesuit, before so many other scholars~~ß~~

I carried off ten men. But although Mr.
Nikolai, all of Austria, publicly and seriously, on the calls for a different title to be given; that's not the point.

proved that only Jesuitism had been the title, under N
which parhammer attains the rectorate. It is stuck

There is nothing at all surprising in the fact that a Jesuit once comes to a stele which, as Mr. Nis

a rolai us previously opened, of an annual election

HE

depends. The main thing is the arrangement at the university.

Verity was and remained lost to the Jesuits; only Did they perhaps still know of the lost greatness?

to get so much more carefree, you know, what you were before.

had smeared, to once again extract from their means a mere extras, the Rector, made to look Figurant is probably also used very little in Vienna.

"Be more dangerous than on some Protestant university campuses"
. ten the Rector Magnificus is, which dignity will soon be bestowed upon the world-famous man, soon to be the unknown stumper hits. How can Mr. Nikolai now the small, so except first insignificant fact that the ex-Jesuist Parhammer Became Rector in Vienna in 1782, as a large, continuing» during powerful Jesuit influence even under Joshua

seph 11. offered a proving fact that he dispelled doubt=

learn from his. laughter-loving bistons so * Süll=

Is not allowed to command silence!!

196 Of Jesuits and their Machinations
the symbol of the Jesuit order, the Immaculate Conception

Reception, with the train p. 7. Public wear, and to Rouen there is still a Jesuit \

Academy of this very face of the unbelievable Spotted conception. – Mr. Nikolai boasts but that he understood so much church history, and

balt the immaculate conception for the sign of the Jesuit order? It is true, the Jesuits have ben sich auch für die Lehre von der unverfleckten Em=

Immaculate Conception of Mary, and she last year=

Bunde defended against the Dominicans *).

But that's not unique to them. They also have...

They had loyal associates among the Minorites, and Even before Jesuits were in the world, Mis
Noriten discuss this with the Dominicans, who are vehemently

(the last wars were fought), which the latter even led to the shameful fraud in Bern caused, which was so detrimental to them there ). The
The Immaculate Conception of Mary can therefore probably impossible for a purely Jesuit sign=
be given. Because one could just as easily do it.

to name a Minorite symbol, and that the Jesuits

this symbol has been chosen as a distinguishing mark,
Mr. Nikolai did not prove his request. And whether
5 "55 . the

) S. Sarenberg Th. 2. p. 1593. 1596 _

7) Calixti Historia Immac. concept. BMV Helmstad. 1696, who) Sottinger's Helvetic Church history. Th. 2. p. 552 f.

v) How could he therefore in the additions to the old volume of the

Reisen, p. 82, say: These from the Catholic Church
Never-accepted doctrine of the Immaculate Conception
It was simply Jesuitism. Before Jesuits were in the world, Dominicans and Franciscans have already discussed this.
They quarreled because one denied this opinion, the other...

BR: baupiet

U

to the detriment of the protesters. N 497

bn 4 N

the SJ train, which the gentlemen from the new cathedral chapter
Tel in Linz, meaning Societatem Fefu

should *), about that, I think, these gentlemen would have to
They will probably only be heard themselves. Because after the time... chendeuterey, with which Mr. Nikolais's good friends=

de, the monastic writers, have submitted, sees

It is known that such interpretations are often used.

It looks very bad. – But Mr. Nikolai goes on to say,
A learned Hungarian did not dare to...
suiten Sainowics in a question about the unga= to contradict French language out of fear of the power of the Jesuits. – This is probably what they would like.
to be the first case in the world where a problem

i Ä | | gram-

|

have claimed. He has so much church history to tell.
dirt, and doesn't know that? This opinion arose in 1141.
Yes. Mr. Nikolai should just read Mosheim's church history.
Th. IV. p. 392. Where were the Jesuits then! How is Now this quirk is just Jesuitism? How could he say that?
gen, the academy in Rouen has a monument to Je=

“

1

"Praising and asserting suitism through a price question"

want, and how could he make this academy an eighth Jesuit?
to call it a academy, since it is just as possible that such a church is led by Franciscans, at least that much.
The opposite of what he said has not been proven. Where to?
This man, a fine Jesuit ghost, always leads the way!!

The excellent emperor is now probably in danger forever,
that fine for posterity such a most remarkable fesebus Secundus always interpreted as jefuiterep, and he selbit as He is believed to be a crypto Jesuit. He may well be beware that the Petronaeus do not betray the Kiremnia ducats Hungariae, and on the other side the initial letters

by Fofephus secundus, namely J 8. entwined set will be; for then it is clear that the Jesusites are better have already taken control of the coin. j
K

Ji*en

,

N 5

4

j

498 Of Jesuits and their Machinations

grammaticum einem hätte ein Unglück über Hals can pull. Undoubtedly, this is a little anecdote.
to several anecdotes that Mr. Nikolai told us about= collected on a journey, and is as credible as Anecdotes from our travelers are often... – But
Mr. von Born has publicly taken the oath.
than to work against Jesuitism. –
Hi. v. Born, a learned, clever man, has the Suppression of the Illuminati in Bavaria, to wel–
The fact that he should belong to someone else is disapproved of. It is known that that they were attributed to the ex-Jesuits, who also
They may well have had some part in it. Mr. v.
Born views the Jesuits as enemies of reason= working against enlightenment, and that is quite Right. This proves nothing about the power of the Je= suites in Austria. For Mr. von Born's Ge=

The public declaration has, as is known,
their origin in the Bavarian Illuminati=
schiefe, so targets Jesuitism in Bavaria, Jesuism in general, not Precise den in Austria. Mr. Denis will be...
v. Born will certainly remain unchallenged. – But Mr. Wikolai refers us to the Viennese Rirs newspaper from the year 1785. to derive from it=
hen, how strong the Jesuits still are in Austria to carry on as they please. Since I don't read this newspaper
If I have hand, I can refer Mr. Wikolais.
not to illuminate the same. Why is he lecturing us?
but not from the same, if they really are that much too
his intention is contained, and only leads us to something,
Was this written in Warsaw? Mr. Niko= Lai usually doesn't let anything pass him by, which is only can be of some use to his own purposes. Which
But the important thing he read from Warsaw is... fert? That on the Countess's estates *
| he

a

1

to the detriment of the protesters. 499

the Voyvodin of Moeulaw the P. Rothe geftor= Ben, the superior of the local mission of the Je=

have been Jesuits. That the Jesuits, if several Clergy of their order were at a church, fol=

It is known that they called it a mission. But where?

Mr. Nikolai proves his fine addition: Ls is

It is known worldwide that the Jesuits in the local community
gend in their complete consistency find. In tits Thaw? World-famous? To say, "Something's world-famous"
Known is not proof; this is often assumed by many.

Things were said that weren't true, and until

Mr. Nikolai not only the nexum of the Lithuanian Ex-Jesus with those located in Germany and the Jesuits in Weiß-Reußen, but also that
By accepting novices, we can prove that they

The entire claim applies only to unproven danger vessels.

hold. The same applies to Asia and America.
ka, which Mr. Nikolai tells us is the same as she is there still, and especially in Maryland, their entire previous to have consistency, to possess colleges, and to have novices Assume. This latter point is the main issue.
Ji 2 But

4 The appendix Lit. E., which contains an excerpt from a letter from London delivers, so it undoubtedly belongs here. But I ask every reader who still cares about the truth= to investigate this matter, to compare this letter with the context= ten, what Mr. Nikolai says on pages 67 and 68, and he will

I am amazed at this man's ignorance.

The letter simply states (p. 167) that the Catholic Party
also much public and secret influence in America
have; public, especially in Canada and Maryland,
where the Jesuits are very powerful; and have secret influence
I have them everywhere. But that the Jesuits still since they have colleges, and what the main point is if, Wovi=
The brießsteller doesn't say a word about accepting zen.
So, once again, Mr. Nikolai is on the wrong track.

3 ung

So, from Zefuites and their machinations

But how daring is Mr. Nikolai, when he says page 68.
binzufetz, fo iss es auch in den Pfalz bayerfchen Landing, and now reciting a long passage which man in all newspapers from Düsseldorf from January 29th.

Written in 1786, which says that in the Palatinate
fchen countries only in the clothes with the Jesuits
a small change had occurred, that they still all living together, that their number now

because it is much stronger than before, that they still have the shoe= to preside, preach, teach, hear confession, that the mere abolition of the order in those lands does not correspond to its purpose, that the goods of the Des dens administered by the chamber, together
ten will be, and that the Elector will increase them even more=
will. – All this may be true, literally.
true, as never before a newspaper news report W
Ni

Lung caught! – The prejudices of the English high school
Church of priestly ordination and episcopal sue
The region mentioned in the letter is known, and Ame= Rikaner were influenced by these prejudices, and so on.
Equally full of hatred against England, therefore probably= have fallen into a trap, their clergy at best from French to ordain bishops; and Catholics who the
Those who were unfamiliar with the matter could consider this feasible.
all the more so the nexus of Americans with A to cut off. But surely the author of the brie must...
They must have thought of that when he says the Americans had ten turned to Scotland, where the ordination
the bishops did this, not without some suspicion of Catholicism, which was prevalent among the local clergy
It's not rare. – Are there bishops in Scotland?
Isn't Presbyterianism strictly dominant there?
ge! – Juice, one should think, the whole alleged country=
a letter, just like some issued for English Goods, a good German product! 5

a

8 2

—

*

to the detriment of the protesters.

is the best thing that can be proven from it,

this, that the Elector is favorably disposed towards them; and

Who wouldn't believe that, considering the many Complaints are heard about the arrogance of the ex-Jesuits

is it led in Bavaria? Yes, that the Burfürst itself with its unique restoration.

flatter them, and therefore hold onto their possessions.
let them live together. But that they still live together;
Is that surprising? After all, they have not even in Clevis, under Prussian sovereignty

chased apart. That they still went to the schools To preside, to preach, to hear confessions! That was something one could do.
do not deny them, since they do not know Jesus.
ten makes. That they are now in the states of the Palatinate.

Bahern söärrker find, als vormals, is also not za

wonder: because where they find better accommodation
Then they will probably go after food. But This larger number comes from the fact that they are effective=
lich in Bavaria and Palatinate danden novices Assuming Mr. Nikolai would have proven that to us= fen must *); fonft says his whole lament

Ji 3 over

Whether this will be achieved by building a new monument=
theser=tongue intended and brought about, stands there= there. What Mr. Nikolai says about it B. VI. p. 734 ff. by = brought, is, as usual, very fluctuating and up.

Bare mathematical structures built. At least that would have to be the case.
the Order of Malta, with which even formal agreements were made regarding this matter.
and public contracts have been established, with in this Keep it a secret and only lend your name: and what

Mr. Witkolai is therefore described in the note on page 739 as a special who wants to insinuate is once again a bare, from all Most likely a more revealing newspaper report, which now not after a considerable number of years

is confirmed in the slightest.
0 He did indeed also cite B. VI. fine tires p. 739.
; | s Ä that

7

5

\

—

Jo Von Zefuiten and their Machinations

about the consistency and coherence of the Je= suites nothing other than that they lead such a tough life have, and in the thirteen years since their
The repeal has expired, not all have died out yet.
find. — Whoever is still reasonably able to Sa= Judging chen will, I hope, be the under= meadows and shallows throughout this entire area=

alleged demonstration by Mr. Nikolai clearly
To understand enough.
Mr. Nikolai is still bringing in a newspaper.

richt an, the Neapolitan ministers Sam=

As far as buca and Caraccioli are concerned. Sambuca, who is= a place for the Jesuits, and the papal court
who had thanked him has been dismissed: and the new one

Minister Caraccioli seeks the favor of the ex-Jesuits

to obtain, and there is strong talk of the return=

Revival of the Jesuit order. – Certainly only a newspaper article, but a highly questionable one.

A message that will probably make everyone aware of the signs...

should draw attention to this in due course. Caraccioli

He seeks the favor of the ex-Jesuits, and he probably must.

consider it particularly powerful, since it represents his process=

ger, to whom they were supposed to have lost his position,

They could not have received anything in his place. One

He speaks of a revival of the Jesuit order.

Who? How many things are spoken in the world and

8 25 in

that there are still public novitiates at the Albertine

College of Ingolstadt and the Seminary of Mas

Riendorfen is really active, and accepts novices.

And of course the houses can still be there and occupied.

will be living there. But whether his messages because of An= taking the novices correctly and his sources, from which

He created, he finds reliable, that must first be better proven.

will be. M f

!

rn zZ u (N ia

— — — —

— WwD_ We

*

to the detriment of the protesters. | 703

trumpeted in the newspapers, about which not a word
Is it true? What must be going through Mr. Nikolai's mind?

what it would look like if he presented such things to the public as important evidence of reality, fine ge ghosts, as great facts can be presented and say: The protesters should have done that after all all the reasons, the Jesuits who are so many= Cherley Art, to sneak into them, to affect them,

not entirely without considering all the circumstances.

Mr. N. gave us a lot of his own with nothing proven claims, wretched newspaper—

news, even physical violence, and everyone

blatant untruths were presented, and weis=
Nothing. But even if his unprovenness
Both proved his newspaper articles to be credible.

and news of weight and worth, his Un=
truths, truth, and the creature of his crane—

Does all of this concern us protesters? Should we Did they fall into terror and horror because of that? Is but Protestantism formerly among all secretive people=
chen and apparent efforts of the Jesuits to

Time of their greatest power and glory, unflappable
Tert remained standing: they will not give us anything even now.
can wear; since, even if one can do everything...
who wanted to give, at least their power is broken,

and them with the worries of self-preservation, and

How can Ley Art sneak into our lives? In everything he
As we have been told so far, there is nothing of the sort. – But the secret societies, of which the Great Nikolai talks, and what he tells the little one about=.

Ji 4 b nen

It would be nothing but imagination if a real poltergeist were; what

–

if one wishes, the restoration in Catholic Countries are busy enough. And with what proof...
Mr. Nikolai said that the Jesuits should focus on some things=

504 Of Jesuits and their Machinations

nen Garve den Demonstr= Kitzel vertreiben), They'll prove it, I suppose. Well, we will.
as follows, and I fear, Mr. Nikolai and his cronies will only make things worse.
agreement.
Mr. Nikolai talks about this on page 72 ff.
Jesuits, which they consider a public society
to have appeared, and what they considered a secret Society really was, and in view of al=
One can readily agree with him on this point.
From the very beginning of their foundation, Jesuits have
I had the misfortune of being suspected, and the world is to their good fortune always in view of these two monks and non-monks on their guard beings, and before one could even read their Monita Secreta or Experience has shown that Privata knew that the suspicion was not entirely unfounded. But I have two comments to make here, from whose fairness is not yet entirely clear to everyone for Mr. Ni= Kolais's infatuation convinced man will be. 1) One can speak of the harmfulness
and the dangerousness of the Jesuit order so convinced be, as Mr. Wikolai and his followers only always being able to be; and yet their whole guardian= cries of "unnecessary," and the fear of Jesuits to find it endearingly childish and ridiculous, and that with everything: reason *). . he was us Lord Niko=

) Page 70.

= Mr. Wikolai asks in the preface to 7 BS 5. when he previously stated that what he said about Catholicism told him, by snotty people from Catholic Applause from the German states, but not from the Protestants believe I had been completely resolute on this point."
I said some strange things, or even, I fantasized. Out= seror=

u 3%. EN. _ >

a 9 EEE An

to the detriment of the protesters. 105
Nicholas of the Jesuits as a public and told the secret society what kind of plans they had.

babe have, how ste acted, what means they used

Served, etc. None of that is new. Cam=

Ji, bdbil=

Extraordinary things! Well, nobody will believe that!
Mr. Yiikolai, as Mr. Garve very well says, Catholics found Catholic, Jesuits found Jesuit,
found, especially where monks still hold the upper positions.
have hand, as they had been long before, and before=
things were even worse. But that's nothing extraordinary.
dentliches and a sa= long known to us Protestants
che. All the indulgences, saints, relics, miracles layers, all the hierarchical principles, Jesuitical
Tricks and atrocities, monastic ultramontane seas

Men, all these fine things have long since found us out of Vos.
 Even worse times are known to occur. No mention of this will be made of it.
 Mhantafiren requires, in order to consider Catholics as a whole as Catholics, and the Jesuits as Jesuits to find in so far as to say, to give Mr. Wikolai the utmost attention to treat bountifulness and strictest impartiality,
 his description entirely true to nature, his entire
 Last news probably needed for that person as well.
 be, who tells a story of the latest reformation under
 to write to the Catholics, and to keep the obstacles in mind = places will, those who are working on it, flaked Re= obstacles are placed in the way of people, or according to nature to get in the way. Yes, even more so, admittedly.
 his collection of Jesuit atrocities and nonsense from old and new books, old and new times, and fine
 A caustic representation of the same may at best have the benefit that this order was rightfully reproduced should remain infamous, which has not yet fully expanded.
 rulers become increasingly suspect, and some things are weak.
 The Catholic individual opposes holy transgression=
 Keep the archaeological fathers safe. Who will give him the honor?
 misbegotten, folder figure guardian at Catholic Zion to be? But he could probably have left it at that.

| | Ä laf=

506 Of Jesuits and their Machinations

Bilhon, Scioppius, Lucius and many older and More recent writers have long since told us this,
 Mr. Nikolai is not a new discoverer, but merely...
 pathetic imitator of what many others have long since...
 I told him before, baben. And if everything, everything that he tells us, eo ch the present

Las

let. But that he with such extraordinary vision= Bare anomaly, above all that according to Catholicism principles not, mercilessly drives, the Jesuits searches in every nook and cranny, sees her even where They couldn't find it, because with the whip behind them, with blind partisanship even in the most innocent matters
 seeks to turn bolts on them with the highest intolerance Catholics and the Catholic religion at every opportunity to make trach ridiculous with the bitterest sarcasms= tet, demands that the Catholic Church already in the first years, indeed occasionally in the very beginning of Enlightenment, even the dog that distinguishes them from us=

men should leave, that his zeal has no patience, no
They know not waiting, but have changed everything at once.
wants him to, since he hasn't found that, to go with his companions.
Zion's guards, among whom he first played the trumpet has pushed us into the worst dangers and the overthrow of the Protestantism auguries, and, in order to this chimeric
The idea of giving a veneer to our princes as carefree
Benefactors of Catholics as opposed to the Jesuits
The blunt tools of bigotry and hierarchy apply,
our Consistories and State Colleges as a small Jesuses in spiritual slumber= Soldiers cry out= et, and other honest men who just aren't from the same background=
chen Dominican =Gefinnungen befeelet find, durch Kab= Balistic interpretations are sought to make one unhappy – That are set aside from all other intentions, on the left deste judged, effects of a 4 Yes Georg Gordon dus, wandering imagination and R of a soul crane
ken state.

75 ;

to the detriment of the protesters. N | 507

The situation of this order and the Roman Church, host?
It is true and proven, but there is still, how
The reader knows from the preceding text that there is a great deal is missing; so the most extreme thing that follows from it is not,
that we are now in greater danger because of the Je=

strings, but only in an equally great danger

because of them, they hover, in which our ancestors
They were years ago. And after all that literary, religious and political constitution
This isn't even the case for the protesters. Who will so not the outcry about Jesuitism.
liquid and the fear of it childish and ridiculous find? 2) With the best warnings, one can not going too far, and the evil that comes from densel=
When a ben arises, that which one supposedly ver=
who wants to bind, to surpass infinitely. This is gera=

the case in which we are dealing with Mr. Nikolai and his dear colleagues on the pinnacle of Zion.

They're warning us about Jesuits. Good! But for that...

It's taken care of. Taken care of without the intervention of the Zion's Watchmen:

not only on our side, since we are in our ground=

sentences and our church constitution always know.

not only do they distance us from Catholicism, but also from the Catholics themselves, and this after the own testimony of the Watchmen of Zion. For the=

They assure us that the Roman Church in its

The same always remains in the roundabouts, and

They are right about that. So, if one likes it...

to attack us in such a subtle Jesuitical way to impress us;
So we have the criteria right at hand,

and we know that whoever has blessed us alone=
chender religion, von Sierarchie, Moñnchs=
moral and other property of the Roman Church=

Catholic teachings actually tell us to embrace Catholicism wants to bring, even if he is under the most pleasant conditions.

| Ä 0 men

—

E

&

ga8 Of Zefuites and their Machinations

men Ges~~0~~figuren sich bey uns schlüßeln.

The turns of Catholicism are against ours= far too conspicuous for a protester to be in

could easily be overlooked.

But the way Mr. Nikolai and his associates started it=
If the evil is greater than that which They want to prevent it by warning them. How they
To imagine the matter, is Jesuitism so readily available?
bales spread out and yet so finely hidden that the friend in his friend, and the woman in to be afraid of her husband embracing a Jesuit must; all bonds of civic society will also suspicious, uncertain, even torn, and the noise=

From this perspective, shouting is poison for bourgeois society. But it is also the finest poison for the Keligion, for in order to prevent the Ver= thought of escaping Jesuitism, what remains?

the rest, as he joined the party of the Deists and
To beat up naturalists? That's what these Lords through their noisy cries, as disguised Zion=
They wanted to reach the guards. So admit it, (as Mr. Nikolai says) that the Jesuits are still on precisely the way he used to act, even if he himself must admit that they have different means missing which they formerly had; thus comes
But in the end, nothing else came out except that we not so much anymore, or at most only just.
so much as before to fear the Jesuits= ben. But we also see at the same time that those, who want to warn us about the Jesuits, the human being= lichen society and religion are just as harmful and are more dangerous than only the Jesuits are can, and therefore no less than to fear them.

* Page 72.

oo u na – 2 sa .

,

t *

to the revenge of the protesters. 59

find. On Mr. Nikolai and his colleagues on The pinnacle of Zion therefore fits perfectly, and indeed almost as much as their stepbrothers, the Jesuits, which

On page 97 he says: Timeo Danaos et dona ferentes.

Ibre warnings are no less dangerous, and
One could add the following to those words:
'haec in noftros fabricata est machina muros _
aliguīs latet error, so no credite Teucrit!

In the sixth section, where Mr. Nikolai
the alleged proselytizing, of which I already I've talked enough, illuminated it, and there's more to come.
some things from the Jesuits, which I, however, have about=
can go, since what he can still do from it=
the bigotry, and their still unforgiven= whose spirit of Catholicism betrays baughtungen says, not particularly characteristic of the Jesuits, but them with all the clergy and monks
common to the Roman Church. And what Mr. Ni=

Tolsi by Prof. Sailer and Mr. Lavater

He told them about these two.
men whom he so shamefully mistreated, and on their good name, peace and honor, and

All his temporal luck he made such attacks, which

Despite all the charade, a black soul
advise, and the displeasure of all people of Ges

to feel well-earned, to receive one's deserved severance pay=

ten, and is to the eyes of the . as he is, dar=

"S. Sajler's only fairy tale in a fine style, and Lava's ters Kechenfschschaft an feine Freunde. ates Blatt. – Als
The current sheets are just being put into print.
should, Mr. Wikolais's remarks on the
The two aforementioned writings. In their entirety, one finds the ever-ready writer fi) always the same,

the

| been asked *).

fa
* *
7

io From Jesuits and their machinations en

In the seventh section, in which Mr. ir Kolai is talking about the unification plans, which I
I will act later, and this will also be discussed in the preliminary stages.
remembered the Jesuits, and Mr. Superintendent=
Schulz was blamed in Giessen for the fact that he 1 ö see=

the fine Chimaera stubbornly defends itself. With under wech=

n selt sometimes a certain bumpy compromise with the hesitant encouragement of the beloved hobbyhorse
It varies depending on whether the author is embarrassed or not.
believes he can win. Many things that make the best
The topics I have already discussed have already been covered.
in advance their dispatch, and would like another Discussion was not forthcoming. In general, one finds Here too, the old art of Sen. N. and the Mfchriftft.
excellently applied, which consists in the ideas, Sd=

de, statements by opponents to infinity apart

to tear, and then to tear every scrap even more.

Songs. It's not at all easy to misunderstand a foreign idea there.

notices being pushed around. : And when he then from completely different

Perfonen narration or explanation still mans

ches mixed in, probably even from fine inexhaustible an=

a chunk of the Catholic and anti-Jesuit archive

herbeyfanget, immediately from one object to another

Hopping, hypocritically recited, and desultoriously declaimed,

and now assembles his preparations again, into a Connection brings: That's how sometimes a thing comes about= something that looks completely different from the idea, the sentence, the statement by his staunch opponents, which Mr. Nikolai initially had undergone surgery. Oh! That will make the dear man feel...

Man so easily, his own weakness and embarrassment

to hide, and to cast an ugly light on fine opponents

throw! Who then fine fifth-thousandth fabric only on top reads, without bothering to look at the chapel

bring, he probably even believes that the skillful Ope=

klateur, who, to the still blind part of the public, the

I have been stung by a starling. However, I will leave it to the two of them.

Men, as far as the matter is concerned, whether and when

. „em

N

--

rr Wöë W w- A Ye

U . IN

to the detriment of the Protestants. 51

I fervently wish that a council of such

People like the current Jesuits in Mainz,

m San: fommen EGGS * this I can

about

We wish to answer Mr. Yitolat. Your concerns
These matters are none of my business, except as far as the in-the accusations made, which I investigated

ten matter of Jesuitery, proselyte making &c ein-

I'll probably hit you then, if I get hit by lava.
ter and Sailer themselves handle, have the opportunity to do some

Samples of the above procedure by Mr. Nikola to deliver.

N p. 100 104. I must point out a strange printing error here.

...and make it clear to the audience. Mr. [Name] speaks on page 53.
Nikolai already knew about unheard-of things that the main-should produce Jesuits. Since Mr. N. after-who had already had his little work printed, learned that only Professor Jung in the Mainz theological facultytät ein Exjefuit ist, so wandel er seine vorschnache,
a foolishly impertinent claim, a typographical error, and says
At the back of the list of printing errors, it says that instead Mainz Jesuits, reading must: Mainz theologians.
Likewise, see page 104 instead of the current Jesui-to read in Mainz: Theologians in Mainz. Likewise
p. 105 instead of Jesuits: Catholics, against the Protestants
There were very hard-thinking theologians. But now all these passages are explained as printing errors / so falls yes
the most important part of the indictment against Mr. Schulz away, Mr. Nikolai would then have to prove that Mr. Schulz

a council of Catholic theologians demanded that Think hard against the protesters. Until then, his

The indictment is one that stems from a printing error.
Could anything more ridiculous be conceived? Can one imagine
Thinking of something more sophisticated than a font tax
He tries to excuse his malicious stupidity by saying that Did you find any typos? Then they will be included in the works of this company.
large famous Bene the number of printing errors

.

not

4

5rz Of Jesuits and their machinations to pass over, since what he again said here about Sailer and Lavater speaks, already strongly enough rejected, what he brings up from Mr. Dreykorn, below=

will come, and in view of what he will learn from it
Mr. Superintendent Schulz in Giessen is so precocious, so bofmeifternd, fo heuchlerisch sighing, into the audience scattered, is already his untruth, his un-knowledge in church history, fine unforgivable
That distortion, and his recklessness, enough
"Have been accused of it." How miserable and contemptuous!
A man is worthy who seeks a woman in his own life.
ten head hatched chimera to the audience as
To truly and genuinely reflect deserving men attacks without distinction, robbing their good name
unmolested, with her composure, her honor, and whole Zen bourgeois welfare, his malicious plaything drives, and thereby leads to untruths and distortion= takes refuge there, and all this under the Mask of bonhomie and zeal for preservation=
Teaching of the Protestant doctrine!

What is in Appendix 5. * of the mas kir=
I have already discussed the fact that this occurs among ten Jesuits, and what about the seminars in Linz and Schwe=
What is said will be explained in more detail below.
imagined. Here I just want to say a word to Mr.

Nikolai's note on page 155 should be added: The | | Her=

not be much smaller than the work itself. That is what I pray for.
If Mr. Nikolai were to remain in his profession, he would have been better off.
Books, but he mustn't write any more. Otherwise he's in danger.
to deliver many typographical errors, which a proofreader should look for.
could correct the damage.

9) See Latest Religious Events. Ninth Year= gang p. 839 ff. |

*) Page 154.

ei . >

to the detriment of the protesters. $13

The Duke of Mecklenburg will hardly be allowed have a Catholic priest (parochus)

in Schwerin. How ignorant this shows.

Mr. Nikolai again! Since the Dukes of Mecklenburg has been for Catholics for many years in Schwerin he built a chapel to serve God.
believes, in which, so much I feel from my child
I remember, two clergymen stand, to whose pass

Rochie belongs to the Catholics in Meklenburg; that's how it is

At least one of them is the parish priest. Is that allowed?

but the Jews there a chief rabbi=

ner; why not give the Catholics a parish priest?
But I must be modest, that after the wonderful=
the mindset of our new Zion guardians, the Jews

also far more tolerance than the Catholics this

no; for those come from pure deism closer than these. But does the King of allow it?
Prussia gave the Catholics in Königsberg a pa=
rochus, and he is even mentioned in the commands of the Res
So-called guerrilla warfare. Mr. Nikolai must have known that.
not know. Shouldn't the Duke be in Mecklenburg?
to practice the same tolerance in his country, as the Prussian monarch in his own?
In Appendix G.) Skeltons revealed deiftery from the unknown Ein=

feuder the question 1 whether not the over=
Taking atheism and deistery by hand
Is this the work of the Jesuits? I'm not that gullible.
It's hard to believe this, whether I'll be right there when I look for it.
Mr. Nikolais and the monthly writer Art vere wanted to drive, and also a wonderful document or could provide a fact that would be helpful to anyone who looks at the Feichen unsrer Zeit notes, highest N
f 5 | | om;
0) Page 171, 178, 9

at

N

514 Of Jesuits and their Machinations

It must come. Because I remember somewhere
I read that Benedict XIV said ba=
The plan is that the protesters should then go to would return to the bosom of the Roman Church=
what would happen if they no longer had a religion?
But Mr. Nikolai wisely refuses to accept this.
sen, and his statement about this in the note is Very strange: The spread of the deism
The work of the Jesuits cannot in itself be to be; but they use it to achieve their intentions. Mr. Nikolai demands beer again.
that we should blindly believe fine Orufelf proverbs.
If they make use of deism, why can they
or do they not want to spread it as well?
Why help him when he is supposed to serve their purposes?
In this way, they take advantage of the tolerance and abolition of abuses, and these were blamed on the protesters.
The fene lockspeise should also be their work. Leading They, to impress us, introduce tolerance, and be= serve the same; why should they merely serve each other?
of Deism, and not from it either= broad can? But the political icon that the ber=
The left Apollo at this oracle saying has, is that,
so that one might not say that the Berlin ones
Zion's guardians, who speak so loudly for the pure Deis=
mus explained, even secret Jesuits might like to tools, yes, even being Jesuits. Still far merfs
Mr. Nikolai's statement is more worthy if he says so.
criticizes the fact that the Protestants and Catholics had to unite against the Deists, and the concern about deism is a panicky one calls it terror, which is truly increasing Promotes the creeping in of Catholicism.

This statement by Mr. Nikolai is so accurate.
with the letter-carrier in the January piece of the 8
| ie 2 rifi

5 j to the detriment of the protesters. 2 sis

The 1785 issue agrees that one almost thinks should have gotten involved, Mr. Nikolai and that disguised Rei=

The sender and the postman are one person. All this.

But this does not dispel suspicion. Because it will

However, deism was touted as harmless, and the fear of the same as a panicky fright=
Ken explains, who stands for us so that these very things...
Gentlemen who praise deism to us, not also being harassed by Jesuits without knowing it, because they are promoting something to us that the Jesuits have always considered so can be used effectively. From disbelief to superstition.

Ben is just a small step...

That is all I have to say in regard to Jesus.
tism about the famous traveling and learned

bookseller, Mr. Friedrich Nikolai Zurecht=

I have to say the instructions of Professor Garve, which

If you examine them closely, a Ge=

web of brazen claims, unproven facts,

distorted ideas, ignorance and tangible
The untruths this man tells the uninvited

has had palpable audacity in the world

send, and in doing so he did not hesitate, not only various upright men in their honor

not only to attack maliciously, but also to deserve one= ten and modest scholars such as Mr. Garve is, to rush in the most rude way, even to put him on a hã=

mixed way to suspect his contemporaries chen. It's about time that part of the pub= Ikums, who is from this man, and fine Mit:Zis onswächtern fo arg blinded worden, über den Uns
add, who is driven before discerning eyes, the out
gen öfne, und folchen Skribten das wi derfahren
Let them earn what they deserve.
The custom of our times, that if only from a writer takes up a subject,

. Kka the

rr nn
,

ee re 2 – 2 –

516 Of Jesuits and their Machinations

those who are fully aware, enlightened, and knowledgeable

send audience entry, and for the book=
How retailers can identify a good publication,
Then a lot of followers and echoes appeared.

ber finds those who also want to earn something, is be= knows. So you can't expect me to all the writings of our scribbling scribes=

ler about the Nikolai-Beast Jesuit face should go through the series and refute them, since it was

nehin wchon mein Buch die Grenzen überschüßer must, which I had initially determined for him. I Therefore, I will only briefly mention two books here.

talk. The first thing is the news of the election=
the nature of the Jesuit institute, published in 1785 by Mr. Friedrich Nikolai Berlin was published. This book itself is only a condensed excerpt from the well-known history generale de la Naiflance et des progres de la Compagnie de Iefus, published in Amsterdam in 1761
That is. There is nothing to say about this, and that's completely...
The little book contains nothing that one doesn't already know.
should be found on the lenthallen. The situation is different in mie
the preview, and there we are told by the German
The translator said that one should use it for oppression.

this harmful order did not have the right means to counteract it

They turned to the general. They had sent him to the Engels= Castle closed, but I hadn't thought about the fact that under= another general has already been chosen, Paz *).

Re | | an

*) According to the lectures of the Jesuits in white=Reu=
page 375 and the imperial one attached therein
Ukase ift diese Ansprüche nicht wahr, und Lenkiewicz

It only happened after Ricci's death on September 27, 1785.
A general has been elected. That previously a general had been elected...
No one knows the slightest about who was elected.

Only

to the detriment of the protesters. 517 .

Man babe the Jesuits commanded 5 their names

to take off and put on other clothes; but not remembered that, according to their constitutions, they:

whose clothes could be worn where the best of the Society requires, as is often the case among foreigners Names have been used. They have the ex: Jesuit Pent sions, bishoprics and prelatures given, and

I hadn't thought that it would continue to have an effect.

The. So, in the case of the open damage, whom one wants to heal, the evil matter in the

A wound left behind, which now continues to spread. se. – It really is a shame that the author This preliminary report is 12 years too late. He could have made better suggestions for the salvation of the world.

can, and thus remove all evil matter from the wish If it were expressed purely, one would probably have all= They will have to take completely different measures. Since would undoubtedly have been the most powerful means. sen, when you collect them and otherwise the new Berlin inquisitors would have handed it over to the inquisitors to get rid of the

either walled up themselves, or built in honor of the community=

To be fried. But since one now once successfully attempted with another order, * this N but so N means er=

Kk 3 i selects

Only, according to the journal of en Veutfch=

land 1784 12 St. S. 401 letters of the damah=

; ligen Re&oris Collegii zu Polock genkiewicz / on command A Vicar General was mentioned in Petersburg in 1782, since because the election by the full force of a superior

Five generals fell on the Czerniewicz. But that now in this white „Russian General „Vicar or General the
the whole bunch of Jesuits who rule Russia,

and they, as before, en Corps sufammenhalte, tos is to: at least a trace is present.

Br)

I

518 Of Jesuits and their Machinations

has changed, and it can no longer be changed.

We will probably have to leave it at that.

But it would be, regardless of spiritual and secular to advise regents if they still have Or= in the future want to cancel this, for now their plans Mr. Ni= kolai and the monthly writers of Berlin,

to submit for approval so that they don't get even more=

once found myself in the awkward position of having to deal with these clever things=

To let men make mistakes. –

It continues to bite in this preliminary report, “the Jesus

ten came back in public in all countries=

before. Recently, the So= has been discussed in France.

(cietè retable spoken). The current Pope fey sn; Li the . F | In „

ö tau:

– What one sees in France is called "the show" and "Mer-" cier in the Tableau de Paris T. 2. p 273. to refer. valley

This arbre Jesuitique coupé dans fes racines et effacé peu
2 peu de l'univers, qu'il avoit couvert de fes branches four Ples et obliques. La haine elle meme 'femble aujourd'hui

. Satigude, et pardonne aux enfans de Loyola. Ils reprenent racine dans la Russie blanche: le Roi de Pruffe et l'Imperatrice des Ruffies les accueillent guoig# ils eonnoiffens très bien et leur politique et leur esprit. Then this clever one likes it
The French are probably right, and since the two great Monarchs who know the politics and spirit of the Jesuits, Yes, they will probably have arranged things in such a way that Mr. Nikolai can justifiably let go of his fine fear. In This fear seems highly exaggerated, especially to the Prussians.
to be, since they appear to be so very cheap.

And it is reasonable to do so without violent operations.
wants to let it die out. At least those who are responsible for the Prussian universities from the Tefuites: estates in Schleßen recently approved sums, that one there not thinking of the Jesuit Goods through a Maltese to hold the tongue together, in order to keep it closed.

to be able to close it again.

to the detriment of the protesters. 519

Tannien and primarily in Ireland. Had they had a greater influence than ever. They boasted of themselves.
their restoration in Russia. That's how they would have
It also has many followers in Denmark and Sweden.
In Germany they had the greatest everywhere
Power, protesters were even interested in them,
They ran their businesses, which anyone could access with (point their fingers). In America they would have openly liche Collegia. They conducted a great deal of trade, especially to West India, and on the stock exchanges

from Hamburg and Amsterdam would be sent by post
large sums on exchange from their commission= Nåren were drawn. Beaumarchais Bank fey with each= built with Italian money, and most of its Eta= Be their own blissments. The intrigues of the Jesuits are all the tricks of the infamous Dan=

to be attributed to nowich; Chomel (the author says Go=

mel) and Jordan to ruin, and Venice and ol=
To divide the land is actually a Jesuitical thing to do.
the intrigue played out yesterday! – Isn't it as whether one would be magically transported to a fairy world if one who reads this, or as if one were reading with a bunch of lunatics

to do with, which is focused on a certain point=

have become meaningful. But I want to rise above myself here.

to engage in extensive rebuttals, only briefly

* What the Pope says, that he k 4 for

8 Also, Mr. Nikolai says in the first volume, p. 148 Fe Rei= sen in the note: for don't the Jesuits still have their Public missions in China, in Mohilow, in Marp, land, and secretly in all Catholics, even in

In most Protestant countries? If only...
The last claim would have been proven with something! in Chi, Well, Mohilow, and Marpland would like it. Here Ben, as he wanted.

520 Of Jesuits and their Machinations

to be taken in by the Sefutten, must surely not entirely true, since according to the political Journal of the Pope two years ago in one especially Brebe, of which three examples, one one for Portugal, one for Spain and one for...

Naples was issued, which is of fine quality, driving, the recent lifting of the Jesuit ban has been confirmed. (battered). What Russia worships, I have no knowledge of. Enough said; here I merely note that Mr. von Murr, who had the heart, Mr. Wi= Kolais Nachrichten über Nürnberg to contradict chen, here also to the Jesuit friend and followers= made *). Soft, a dangerous =

Political Journal 1787, April, p. 375.

* The same case as with Nöstern and several others, to whom Mr. Nikolai cannot resist the sting of learning. lick. Mr. von Murr is already a friend here and Followers of the Jesuits, and this is also repeatedly stated by Mr. Nikolai in fine appendix p. 104. in the note The Good man, just write something else for Mr. Nikolai. dislikes him, the more he is an affiliate, and then gives him probably also a monographer with a finished hand Tonsure and order. Usually one notices orderly= che stages, like the Berlin luerarische and religion= Triumvirate of men who have the misfortune of having it with them | and to ruin their helpers, gradually letting them fall=

Set. First it says he is a weak man, because a weak man and friend of the Jesuits or
A flatterer of Catholics. He will soon become a Promoters of Catholic Jesuit ideas and intentions.
For if he sinks to the fourth degree of an affiliate and

s. w. On the third and in a certain sense already on the Fourth degree now include Cavater, Dreykorn and others

To the second Lord of Murr / Roaster etc. To first degree, to the weak man is very recently the | mwääuŕ=

– to the detriment of the protesters. 421

What is it to contradict this literary despot?
chen! Their sword, with which they strangle, honor and To slash a good name is a blow to Jesuitism.
other part of the assertion thrown out here=
gen, France, England, Denmark, Sweden,
"America, Germany, and the people one relies on could point with fingers, and the stock exchanges of Ham= Burg and Amsterdam, 3 Jesuit trade

5 on=

Reverend and learned Mr. Superintendent De Martes bg solicited. Mr. Nikolai has given him subtle remarks.

against Lavater and Sailer p. 153. still there in the grade=
to with the predicate very weak man with very weak
Based on his knowledge, the patent was drawn up, which then leave no doubt that he will soon be promoted further.
will be. The man also took care of Mr. Niko.
Lai has done a great service, especially in the theology.

fche subject of general German. Library fo law dr Succum te funguinem vertirtx und dauon den Spirirum Deifmi recrie Acatilfimur fo excellently withdrawn has that fine letters fiber the new guardians of Zion among all who still the

to be able to judge a matter, to receive general approval, and have the merit in front of them that the audience is interested in»

begins, through the haze that some Berlin scribblers Having demonstrated this, one can now confidently look through it. One must the thorough scholarship is so important as the teaching appreciate the youthful style of the honest old man.

As for me, I have been with those for a long time.

People on the lowest rung of the ladder= stood after she cut off my hair, and

They sent me out on Jesuit missions. What now?
will continue to give me, if they, what I until hey
I wrote, and probably one more thing.
I will write about the approaching person, it will come to face, that I suppose I'll just have to wait patiently. Perhaps something will happen.
den fie blos um meinelike einen ganz neue Grad, dez

5 dies even deeper than the e |

522 Of Jesuits and their Machinations

Initially, it can nevertheless be found in Mr. Nikolais.
Appendix, and is already in the preceding of
I was examined. Mr. Nikolai and this

The previous speakers, as you can see, agree exactly.
that each had the other's manuscript in mind,
and Mr. Nikolai, who wrote the fine appendix in 1786,
This book, published in 1785, either from=
have written, or with the author of the preface=
The report must be from a person. And finally, they are all these pieces listed here are merely examples.
Mains, none of which are proven=
That's how it is. That's how these gentlemen do it, and then

What one person said will again be considered important.

new testimony cited to justify their follies

and to give credence to evil plans, as if an unprovenance thereby, and untruth=
This would become true if it were from several is claimed. For what a feeble-minded old man
Women, these writers must be honorable!

Keep a large German audience!
The second book that I will mention here
could, is the previous year's publication=
current representation of contemporary Jesuitism,
which in five chapters from the origin and inner essence direction of the order, from the doctrine and The morality of the Jesuits, and their form of government, of their agreement with some so-called statutory rights
at the companies and from the continuation of the= themselves, and their tricks to the detriment of the
It concerns protestants, to whom there are still some attachments.
of the Jesuits in white: Reuss, likewise from the Berlin monthly magazine, and even the private one Warnings are attached. However, since this book nothing other than a spiteful and miserable compilation=
gion everything whose contains what is from the * en
SE us

|
1

N
1 5
a
i
,
|
,
1

U

to the detriment of the protesters. a3

Jesuit face, namely from Mr. Nikolai and the
This has already been raised with monthly writers,

and is indisputably organized with the intention of

This new product will increase the number of Lermeschreyer.
to increase; so I may not rewrite this book.

Go through the repeated untruths, Uner?

Abominations and shameful things anew=

to cover and refute. I will also gels= -

have the inclination to consider this frivolous author as ice

among the biggest liars and lowest pasquillens

ten, which only ever exist, to present to the world=
ten, and what I claim is irrefutably proven
If now the impartial and attentive

Me readers this entire section, and everything that is in to whom the Jesuits had said, namely | investigated, and what the new guardians of the Protestant Church of the world under one fo er=

a pitiful, noisy scream was announced so that If he compares, he will certainly follow nothing other than what is said.

of finding. It is true, the Jesuits find a list.

The order had been, which in all kinds of ways from Jesus'

about the Protestants under the yoke of the Romans
The church tried to bring it. It is true, it still exist in white: Reuss; also find still ex=
jefuiten exist, which are in Bavaria and other ka=

are protected by religious countries, even under enjoy the protection of Prussian sovereignty. However, it is all that which Mr. Nikolai and the Moscow writers and associates, of the malice, The machinations and intrigues of the Jesuits have been discussed. Ben, nothing new at all; they are all world-famous, Enough has been said in old comforters and newer writings. These things. It is not only possible; but also It is very likely that the Jesuits in Weiß- und Schwarz-Rußland,

1 | and

524 Of Jesuits and their Machinations

and the other remaining ex-Jesuits for their Orders, for the Catholic Church and against the protest subjects not yet found otherwise than they always has been. But it's not true, at least not yet.

not proven that we are in a larger [situation] because of them

Danger should have been looming when our ancestors before a hundred and more years, rather, it is after us; serer and their situation, which is known to everyone, much more likely to believe that we now have far less to do with them have reason to fear. It is true that the Jesuits in White-Russia zusammenhängen, und es ist glaublich

It is possible that the ex-Jesuits will return to their brothers and sisters. Lucky friends have a greater affection for others than for others. Clergy and monks of the Catholic Church have been. But that all these Jesuits are still together to be systematically connected, to form a whole, to make, to recognize a superior, to show him obedience like formerly perform and an order correspondence such as formerly entertained, is also not informed of anything: It is possible and believable that they, like everyone else, Catholic clergy who benefited the Protestants to seek to take over the Roman Church, indeed that they

more than all other proselytizers are; but that she really did sneak in among us.

babes, and everything is so full of Jesuits among us, it's tingling and teems, as the Zion's guards want us to

To make people believe something is not proven by anything. On the other hand
Mr. Nikolai asked the monthly writers and their Helpers help us a lot of the most physical Untruths, the most deliberate distortions,
of the most tasteless interpretations of signs, the cheeky=
The most serious claims were made, and with the same sought to trim the Chimaera: and as such

These people already deserve the contempt of the audience, with whom they act irresponsibly

Gau=

W

r ne ec ee *

ET en > Te we

The disadvantage of the Protestants. 52

They engaged in juggling and mockery, but N
They deserve even more, since they are considered the cheekiest.

and most mischievous Pasquillants and honorary sirs=

the one with the good name, the calm, the whole temporal welfare of upright people and their Families have engaged in their malicious games, and all this with the shameful intention of harming their Chi=
to strengthen Marie, their literary despotism reasons, and the abhorrent intentions they have had designed a system of pure deism,

to execute.

.

Religious association as a means of...

Promoting secret proselytes=

Mader |

Your wish that all disputes, divisions, sects and parties among the Christians stop
"Wanting" is an equally old and pious wish.
which will surely touch the hearts of all who cherish him
It was not a disgrace. One can therefore
It is not at all surprising that so many are lawful=

Free men had this wish, and did not fulfill it only focused on the honest parties=

restricts, but probably extends it to all sects of have spread throughout the world. What can be seen from this?
free of heartfelt kindness and out of warm love for humanity wished, and that was easily hoped for, and the correct in itself, but misunderstood, and even

"Incorrectly applied conception of the written

then religion, as a general religion, and certain statements in the holy books, as from Entering the fullness of the heathens, of the unique Conversion of the Jews, from the blessed tents
a

ee ET 3 BAR Fre

826 Religious association as a means

when there was a shepherd and a flock, he let
Some good-natured people hope that's fine!
Desire for a general religious association
gung, and the complete cessation of all sects and Parties among Christians are not an empty wish.
remain, but would certainly be fulfilled one day=

de. Men, whom one doesn't even argue with.
chen can, that she thought very enlightenedly, at wel
not the slightest trace of enthusiasm is hit, indeed, those that even turn out to be the most cancelled
Those who have shown themselves to be enemies of the Roman Church harbored even this thought, as Harwood, who with Delight at the approaching period speaks, since the prophecies are fulfilled, and the
the whole world professes to adhere to the written religion and will form a universal church *).
It's surprising that people were always found.
have those who want to contribute to this, and probably even |
as tools in God's hand for promotion
Did they have subtle, grand intentions? Religions:
Union in itself is therefore nothing to criticize.
worthy, but flows from a good spring.
But however much honor it brings to the hearts of many, who have dealt with it; so there are indeed some
the insights and understanding of the majority of the religions=Uniter not a so advantageous Concept, as if from her heart. As possible, that all peoples of the earth would one day embrace religion
of understanding and heart, which God gave us as the creator, heir, and ruler of all things
worship, and future punishments and rewards
To expect is to submit; as far as is possible, that
The whole world, the important main and basic lives
RI ten

| C. Serwood's Treatises. pp. 143–144 ff.

de,
*

for the promotion of secret proselytizing. 527

to accept the ren of the Cbriftentbum once, and Chris ftum as their overlord, and the only means in the salvation of mankind can be seen that thus the

The whole world will submit to God under Christ;

N

It is so impossible that people in all

ni their religious ideas and concepts Derges

l
"

5
i
.
I
|
|
|

mung without all

Having names they want has always been a pro.

ftalt perfectly agree with each other, that no deviations in the same take place anymore=
They should. As long as the thought and foresight still exists.
The capacity for representation among people remains different,

and by how many external and internal circumstances

And the causes do not depend on this! As long as... also many of their religious ideas and concepts=

They may be and remain different. Yes! That would also happen.

a union would come about today; so it would happen
Tomorrow another reformer will rise who will do something ab: or to add, according to one's opinion, something to
to strive to improve, and immediately again the reason would lead to new parties. That's always how it is.
been, even been in the church that was most=
They stood in their unity and their most perfection
The agreement of their members was praised, namely in the Catholic Church; and will also be in this life
Always be like that. A perfect agreement.

Dissonance, a complete cessation

all sects and parties consider themselves possible, verrâth also reveals just as little knowledge of human nature
Nature, as little acquaintance with history

of human thought in religion, and it

It remains, even if it originated from a good source.

It is always foolish to think of something as possible.
to think and wish, and to design plans for that purpose, n

which is impossible in itself.
To all religious unifiers, they may

felys

7

1
b
r

128. Religious purification as a means

Selytenmacherey for the party that had the most of them, interfering. The Pharisee, who traveled the country trying to convert people to Christianity, went also aimed at religious associations. But he be= was not satisfied with the fact that the heathens had subjected themselves to the ice submitted to the highest and most devout God, he demanded
at the same time submission to the entire Mosaic law= sits, yes, even to the essays of the rabbis, and Behold, there the religious unifier, the Hei= to bring together the Jews and the Muslims under one God
wanted to become a proselytizer. Likewise.
This also happened among the Christians, and those after different types of ideas, differently thinking people
Teachers of the same robbed Christianity of its early Nug fine generality. The separatist, who fo who is very much against all sects, becomes a proselytizer.
for fine personal opinions, The Deist and Na= turalist, the most zealous religious unifiers, who only can exist, which all people contribute to the general

Reason, Providence = and All-Father= Religion
Those who want to bring are at the same time no less prosely= Tenmacher than others, and do not merely demand Ans taking certain main and basic doctrines, but

at the same time a rejection of all other convictions, which bites the supernaturalism. Where to?

When one turns to religious history, it is therefore always with the intended religious union as well
the subjugation of those who were united, verse
They were bound. The Roman Church stands, in this sem Stück, with Judaism in the most precise way=

rallel. Judaism simultaneously demanded sub= casting to the Mosaic Law, among the essays

the father, yes, sonar among the Jewish people, Hie=
Kingdom and temple. Catholicism demands Acceptance of all the teachings of the Roman Church, and Us
f ' | ter=

1

U

f zur Pefürder. der geh. Profelptenmacherey. 429

Submission to the papal hierarchy. Religion regional association, if it is from the Catholics buffet, and has been offered to the protesters, is therefore never removed from proselytizing.
She never seriously insisted that the Catholics, when the Protestants speak of their spirit

They have some tasks to do, also from their side in to give up something in the sentences and church constitution=

ten, and in such a way the so far apart=
to bring the separated parties back together completely

ten; but the protesters actually have everything
They should give up, but the Catholics objected.
let them drive, but only their teachings and church=
lichen facilities a milder and more bearable= want to give it a certain reputation. This can be found,

If one examines all the methods closely, which in the previous century by the Catholics, before= namely used in France to protect= to unite Catholics and Protestants among themselves=

gen). And even if it sometimes appears
They asked, as if they were willing to give in to many things, that's how it was.
yet still far from fulfillment. Those there= against, which from the Protestant side in the previous giving centuries and at the beginning of the against;

waiting, a religious association between Protestants

stans and Catholics considered it possible, and also probably contributed to this, they have nothing less ge=

seeks, as the Catholics through such union to Pro= to make selytes of the Protestant church. They Rather, they presented the matter in such a way that, if from

* . would, a union=

A gung

. 0 S. Richelieu method la plus facile et la plus' afurde pour cConvertir cegux qui fe font fepards de P'Eglife, Paris 1650.

Jeffuet Expofition de la Foi catholique. Paris 1680.

2 11 |

!

0 *

' .

10 - = Metteious purification as a means

"It is quite possible for fairies to be like this," or that both really exist.

The parts did not diverge so far from each other that te nicht wieder folften vercknigt werden können *).

i The reward of these peacemakers, both at Protestants as Catholics was defier, that ste dey=
the parts became suspicious, that then became customary=
It would happen if they were at their union meeting;
There was also some justice in the other part.
or wished to show leniency. (Abge=) scares through this king, one has in more than five= g years nothing further from a union of belonged to various Christian religious parties,
At least nothing that only attracts a few stragglers.
ver diem had, The theological insights have meanwhile, they took a completely different direction, and since tolerance increased at the same time.
men, one has without special mediates after and after and of itself the only possible and most tenth point of Christian union reached, which not in formulas and doctrines, but in Unification of minds and opposing Christians=
There is a legal tolerance, according to the pronouncement of Jo=
Haunis: Children, love one another! –

But unfortunately for our times, it came to pass that

Leipzig Magister Meese, or as he prefers to call himself called, want to know, Mastus, that old, long-gone one rejected, and rightly declared unfeasible=
to bring the project back to the forefront, the Publife Report from a society of religious teachers to
to give those who work invisibly on this great work
ten should, and himself as the agent, Correfpons

Sun), a ws der a ; u fonst nicht

everything
9 orseflf t Confi derationes 8 & Live. London. st.

er Aue Lrben von ,Einem: Mugdeb. 1734.

>

was the benefactor of the secret Prosephenmachkreis. 635

to spend everything. At the same time, scholars and Others who wanted to participate were asked deserving and instructed to contact the pastor
Becker in Sachsenhausen, near Frankfurt am Main, to add to it, and to the same, or to Mr. Meese himself his possible contributions send. The first thing Mr. Masius said about this
The intention behind it was, if I'm not mistaken, his Proclamation of the united religious doctrines to this Christ, concerning the reunification= agreement Herfelben, which was founded in 1784 in Halle on 2 Bo= came out in 8vo. Like this small manuscript and indeed all Masiusian people with this intention
I will create disc brochures.
examine it several times. Here I'm just saying that everyone
A sophisticated person who only teaches a little of it
tet is, as there still are such theological ones
Project maths gone, and what exactly?
to hold such unification plans is a
such a proposal is seen as something ridiculous and unexecuted.
Cash would have received no respect whatsoever.
But the Berliners liked it quite differently.
writers. It may be that their special
This also contributed to the fact that some Fatholic writers, of whom there were soon several will occur, from the current reforms,
Serving in various Catholic countries
will, the hope was expressed that at sol= changes made in the church, which Prote stantan von der Wiederverei mit dersel= = would not be far away, especially since,

Yes, indeed, the Praetstans have been around for many years.
more moderate sentiments had begun to emerge in
To let the Catholics' approach shine through. Everyone, who knows Protestantism 1 een,

PP . > EEE ai

—

x

wür=

- - - *

\

4

52 Religious association as a means - :

This would be met with smiles, and this hope, which fi
the Catholics acted just as vainly as the
Mr. Masius's project was deemed unfeasible.
have. Because it's not just the abuses that one begins to abolish, but rather to remove us from the ro mix the church irretrievably; but its dehrfazetze no less, and their entire hierarchy.
This creates an insurmountable wall between...
listed in the churches. And our tolerance...
That doesn't make us any more critical of Catholics=
inclined towards the way and ready to unite with them=
We are also tolerant towards Jews, and must according to the laws of mankind and of being Christians; but we don't find anything about it.
tends to pit our Christian beliefs against the
"To sacrifice circumcision, and the Jewish But= believe to accept. We are tolerant of Ka= tholics, and must love them as brothers, who with
We call Christ our Lord and Redeemer;
but that doesn't mean we're inclined to improve our
to abandon insights and convictions, and our written and German sense of freedom 95 to submit to the Italian hierarchy. Those Opening, then, for Catholics who wish to open themselves up to She's vain and only smiles for that reason. But not so obviously.
ten the monthly writers. Since they were awake had raised questions for Protestant Zion,
and on the Catholics: and Jesuit hunting eagerly were grasped, they now believed in this Meligions=
unification project a weather of crypto Ka=
To have theological and Jesuit beliefs. About that They now caught a terribly shrill noise=
shout. de en an
Dien ersemein auf die im Werk sein sein=
The religious association made the monthly meeting

e = script=

x

for the promotion of the secret prosthesis making. 533,

writers as early as 1784, where the disguised Akatholicus Tolerans, where he the imperial
To make tolerance suspect, also Relt=
gions association another lure of the Ka=

called dboliken, and said that they were good at little things.
wanted to give in, in order to get quite a lot of limbs into the

(To lure the mother church from the bosom). That now

Religious associations are among the methods used to...

which were formerly called the Protestants by the Romans
sought to bring the Church, and that the Catholics,
Only wanting to give in on minor things is a long-standing problem.
A well-known fact. How little attention to such things is paid.
It is important to pay attention to blows, I would have told the Akatho about that=
Licus will probably deliver far better data.

The Roman Church can even be found in some larger cities.

wanting to give in to things, and yet it is, because they never to be outdone by other equally great things – will not consider a union with her possible. In the discussion that took place under the Kar Dinal Richelieu between the famous Moses Amyraldus and the Jesuit Audebert employed let was, one did not want to only help the Reformed to grant the chalice in the Eucharist, but also in Introduction of the doctrine of the merit of works, of Purgatory, from the veneration of the saints to them to give in, indeed to the Pope's power within narrower limits= to put them in place, and if these did not please him,
to elect a special patriarch for France;
Those were certainly no small matters, in which one wanted to give in to. But since one couldn't Belish side, the doctrine of the transsubstan /

tiation uicht verleissen wollte, zerschlouch fsich die gan= .

le N and wre * the Jesuit Ne |
tl

1 7

ö 5 monaecheif gane 255. 8 1. 1. | - .

634 Religious union as a means

25 7

\

Ricelieu promised more than they would:
be able to afford it, and the protestants probably advised
not to get too caught up in these proposals=
sen. Still at the beginning of this year
The Bishop of Beauvais published a treatise in which
which he, for many reasons, the protesters to unite with the Roman Church
gen fur ; and he also put away much that one

They might die. But fine writing was from the Cardinal von Woailles and the famous= ten Bossuet rejected because, in their opinion, he

after, which granted the protesters far too much.
te. That so religious association, even among large= Their offers, often probably nothing more than just a means to protect the patrons of the Romans=
to submit to the hierarchy, and that it is very much too

It is doubtful whether it will ever be possible with these large bids.
The fact that it was given seriousness is unfortunately all too well known. But that this very tempting dish is still present to us=

x =. will be that Masius and his alleged
"Employees of the religious association secret Catholics
ken find, oder von folchen zu diesem Projekt ange=
It was established that the Catholics should now give us a sol= che association have offerred, that's what the Aka= tholikus Tolerans proved nothing, but only a search that took place a hundred years ago, since to win over the protesters in this way searched, off. worryfiete, as if she were currently under what truly happened to our eyes.

In the January piece of the year 1787, it is mentioned that just such a way of religious association thought where the rushing briesteller, who in the Regions along the Rhine, in the Reich and in Swabia

berumgereifet is, es mit zu den Ranken der rōmi=

The fchen Emissaria technet, that the Christians fchen against u „ | ie

1

* Z 11 . . – Rn “ N

–

– = 5 0

for the promotion, the secret Profelgtenmachsrey. 535

The Free Spirits unite, and rather each other now

which must give way to those that must arise fen). Likewise, it says that even in the sunddaren Mårchen, von dem protestantischen Deacon: That's how he came to know completely, naturally.
on the idea of the union of religions, in which one seeks to support him in every way=
te)., But again, mon searches in vain.

after proof that the Catholics were really against,

The old project of religious emancipation sought, and to use it as a means to serve the conversion of the Protestants,

and the truth is still just as unproven;

then from the Diaconus, his idea of religions

union and finer reinforcement in the same.

| See e. just find this Fla Ani a Jarve, in which he

Essay by Professor C raises subtle concerns about what
So far, the monthly writers have reported on the following:
men machinations of the Catholics to the night light

The protesters were told. At the occasion=

"The enactment of the religious parties is thought of." *). Since Mr.

Prof. Garve this whole alleged great society=

Sector, which is uniting the Christian parties.

,abeyen connected should have, only according to the praßr
lerbaften news booty could, bie Heir Mastus to spread this out to the audience for good

had been found, and at that time many things were still unknown.
had developed what was subsequently bekalint ges

et 81 4 . ee 198 .

8 15 N | Br 767 ne 4 5

) Ibid. Page 7. 2 De ) Monthly Journal, January 1787, page 63.

x. „ . 520 > 2er

" N e 1 " " %

Julius der Monatsschrift, 1785. Passport: 5 francs.

N g ö er er re

—

\

Beit wird denn auch der Ges~~o~~schaft zur Wereinis .

95

7 opt =

a *

x 4

.

/ . xu

NE 4

536 Religious defense as. Center.

had been; so Mr. Garve could not do otherwise,
as this supposedly great and respected fellow=

A group of religious associations for something real balten. However, his judgment on this is as follows:

one can do it from an insightful, unbiased and one had to expect a learned man. He holds a full lige equality of opinions on invisible ge= object stands for impossible, and therefore finds the approximate
ba association designed project for unexecution=

ar. And instead of this whole potential project with to be regarded by the Zion's guards as such, of which

Catholic converts, the originators and operators, were

He explains that he is present, since man noch feinen Namen zefehen, der Aufmerk⁰am:

keit deserves, and in the announced matters

I haven't found anything yet that speaks of insight, strength, and beimlicher List zeuge, nicht schlufen könne, dass Ka⁰

Cholics had set this matter in motion; and that finally this whole project would be such a thing,

that one can leave it to its own building condition⁰

Mr. Beaster lets all these in nature go⁰

founded, and proven true through history

Objections, such as how cold water runs off,

as if they hadn't been said at all, or as if there were no words at all.

deserving attention. Rather, the Mo⁰

natssschreibssteller continued, still relying on her to frolic around with hobbyhorses, and in the ano⁰

nymous letter to the brothers of the ho⁰

hen Order of the Gold and Rofenkreuser,

This in turn is considered by the religious association to be ice

thought of something that was actually the responsibility of the Catholics⁰

ken herrühre. The disguised author of the same.

namely leads out of the duties of the gold⁰ and

Rofenfrezuer said that in the same the brother

Chrysophiron, who is a . |

| Ä Pre

—

rr r Y

Dr

to promote the secret proselytizing. 737

The preacher should say that the high authorities already at the first divisions of the external Christ's kitchen, the pure apostolic meals at» have retained, and into such the Christians from as (to know how to unite the divisions). I ge= Since I am not a rosary, it is very uncertain. to be, whether I grasp the true meaning of her words= fe, and therefore thoroughly the Chrysophiron= Dige? But as little as I allow myself, To defend him solely on the basis of these words is precisely the problem. The anonymous outcry should also amount to little. To take him out of this, to accuse him, and through fine Accusation, a man who is a Lutheran spirit= more likely to be suspicious to his fellow citizens do, and thus in the good that he approximately to prevent him from establishing a foundation within his community. Ge= Knowing this shows a malicious heart. It is not only from newer ones, but also from older ones: It is known from the writings of the Gencras that they are their Vein= Brotherhood dating back to very ancient times. Whether they "To be right about this, and to what extent? That can and I don't want to decide. Enough of this. My opinion also seems to be Chrysophiron's, when he speaks of the first divisions of the outer The Church of Christ speaks: for concerning the origin of the Surely one would expect both Protestant churches to be impossible to say that it is the first spa= These were the actions of the outer church. Judged Now, after reading the words mentioned, one says Chrysophiron nothing other than that the superiors fine order from the earliest times, at all divisions of the outer Church, to adhere to none special Christian * or visible church) Monthly journal August 1785 p. 117. a

- 5

rr me ☐ üjfa! r

- 121

2 2 8

e ge u

N 9 4

.

5

[2

1 5 ö

.

fe 0

everywhere through so many foreshadowings the

*

838 | Religious persecution ,ads Mil u,
Piber but only the pure apostolic ones

0

held, and into such the Christians from all
They knew how to unite divisions. That means...

In short, so much: the Rosicrucian knows

as Rosicrucians, no visible Baptist church, in order to to choose his brothers from among them alone, The his apostolic saw, and where can I find this other contained, as in the writings of the apostles? the
It is into which he unites everything, and who the one He takes it, that's fine, brother. Far from it, then, that in these words a secret Catholic must be= te, rather they contain the opposite of that,
and eighth Protestant Christian tolerance. I
the author of the letter, however, from a special perspective.
the source tells the opposite; now so

He calls his brother Chrysophiron and sues him.

him, as a familiar of the new protestantism. Inquisition tribunals, by his authority as a key zer, so that the man might be enabled, to defend themselves, and the authorities in a position to do so to steer against evil. But if he is an ebri-

If he is a good man and not a slanderer, he must also name himself, and prove his accusation,

'In the case of lack of proof, however, he must be considered a Defamer must be punished. But how does that work?

This writer's finely wicked heart is revealed,

when he has Chrysostom say that the Protestant Church, the pure apostolic teachings

I don't have them, and such things only from the unknown
Should we bring in the superior? Nothing will die from this.
a syllable in finely chosen words... Where will Beer only in the slightest. Association of the Prote-Banten with the Catholics. ebadi? With what proof

the author believes that such an association is now

)

|

J P0000 0 o Ara ie ee
= 2

have lost all meaning.

*

to the Befbrder. of the geh Profetytenmacherey. 139

Will the alcoholics be tempted? To whom does the beer go?

The malice of this wretched Stribler is not overwhelming.
"That makes sense, he must stand for truth and conviction."

*

m February piece 1786 where again a Appearing anonymously, and a fine knight's spear against the Book Saint Nikaise swings, will once again be the Religious association in mind, and the secret Ge=

Companies are blamed for smudging themselves with it.
They complained that there was still a shepherd and a flock.
don wütde, and that they therefore also the religious-union, or rather the conversion of the distinguished and learned Protestants, especially=
but the Protestant clergy to the ca=

Tholic church with incredible zeal to ber

(drive sought)): So how did the matter proceed here?
It is stated that the secret societies consist of apocalyptic ravers, as bad as only ever existed that embodied dreams

5 of the six thousand-year duration of the world, from millennial kingdom, general Jewish prayer=

rung and what else is offered in this category, anneh=

Whether this is justified will hopefully become clear.

H) Monthly Journal, February 1786. Page 1%.
gjf

The following results. But set, yet not to= Given that the secret societies would be among the= fen Schuhrmeriesen angesteckt, wie sht sich damit Res

religious union with the intention of leading people to:

To convert the papacy, even in the slightest way=
bond. How pathetically ignorant the ser must have been.
wretched Seribler be, if he puts this together could! Did he not know that that swear=

mereyen eben von folchen hint am mehr fhauß:

tet find, the most rejected enemies of the Roman
a 2 ER church

Br:

540... "Religionsutveitiigengra Mütte =: ;

Were they church members? Were they Valentin Weigel, July?
us Sparrowhawk, Jurieu, Pordage, Peterfen, Ja= Kob Böhm, and how people continued to bite, what Are they Catholics, or Catholic-minded? In part

so much so that they even considered the Pope an Antichrist held. If this ignorance only the slightest

Had he had a background in science, he would

I wouldn't write such nonsense into the world.
have. The opposite of that assertion would have been true.

he can easily find in the history of chiliasm

can). But with what does he prove fine building p=

tung that these a Sirten and a flock to the Allegedly expected members of the secret society= communities, the religious association, or rather the conversion of the Protestants to the Pope=

Should they really operate incredibly fast? Again
He proved nothing but his brazen claim.
tung, and his silly reference to the measure

75 55 the well-known excerpt from the book, for le Erreurs et la Verité, since then according to the faubern Decipher=Art and Sign Interpretation of our new Kabbalists and Protestant Zion's wrath under Etre fupreme, Infini, etc. w. dus fichrbare Ober=

head of the church (so no longer the Jesuit General, but the Pope) understood must be. How far must our

The audience had come, if it had been separated from such things.
Ignorant people and fantasists, if only there were enough of them
Having the audacity could have been done for the best.

The claim is just as cheeky and unproven.
tung, which was by a brother Freemason Nedner,
who signed himself G., in this very tax

the menstrual cycle is appropriate, where a chi=

māri=

Y History of Chiltaemus / in ten. Part of the igen ds |

!

—
Monthly journal. February 1786, p. 172
0 pag 172 174 Ä

e

a

for the promotion of the secret prophylaxis.

The Märäschen Plun is being discussed, which is happening right now.
from many a Bethörenden and Bethört, arg= cunning and short-sighted people were worked on that should, namely all people in faith=

to bring things to a flock, in order to pass them through

(To let a shepherd graze his flock!). I hand it over.
the eulogies that this brother orator delivered on the pure reason = Religion makes the clumsy Outages that he attributed to the symbolic books

the Protestant Church and its authors:

laubt *), dit with a Protestant Zionist guard
ter, and, if indeed Mr. Gedike, who has a G.
The apparent author of this speech should be, with a council of an evangelical consistory and

Teachers of Protestant youth, a desperate Con=

Make a fuss. But what kind of plan are they talking about?
He? Who is the one shepherd who will tend all the sheep?
The Pope? With what fine boasting does he prove that Does such a unification plan currently exist?
Is this the Masius unification project, by

To whom he speaks, he doesn't have to read any of it.

babes, otherwise he would have found that this

United, just abolish the Pope, the Catholics=

They can bring us not, but they can bring us to the Pope.
want to subjugate. But more on that later. Is

But the plan, as he himself says, is chimeric, and

That's him, why is the poor brother sighing: Speak ner – about a chimera? People who deal with a to drag around a chimera – frightened, the find Something to sigh over! So we find nothing here again.
as a pathetic imitator, who was led by a chimera
a religious association, and now, without the . Matter

7 Mi

a 1

% Malter nung ats Miri

to have investigated the matter, in his sick EU
building power here too, the ghost of, brimlichen Machinations of the ethotics are missing, before that in the future=
kung geräsh, and his panicky terror, 'fine
Twitches also affect others, including myself, addiction
The third piece of April's month=
Scripture just: Diafes: Year also commemorates the Religious association in the excerpt from a Writings from Franconia about: the Vertheidi=
gung of the Catholic Mass, by a pro=
Testami theologians, and members of the; Society of Pure 2*. The author.
this muffle: has at the same. sophl on the;
Mr. Digeonus Dreyforn and the one from ib: trans., Set and with. Notes accompanied Mess Ca=
no, as in the society of the no: doctrine be Directed away, and: tell me now: does it not seem intended to be good-natured Protestant= ten the difference between Protestantism and Ka=

tholicism increasingly fades from view to bend over in order to achieve the great goal of a

Herd under one shepherd, three at a time.
Even closer, to come? . But: that I in the following, both by Mr. Dreykoxn old of

I cannot particularly understand this society.
as beer handed over. Everything I said here about it,
gen kana, ist ku^rrzlich dies: Went Hr. Dreykorm even so advantageous for some kehrmeynun had declared the nature of Calholism, but it follows that That doesn't mean, by any means, what the shipyard... this on who attempts to infer something from this, it may now
f 15 D Or. Seidel, des Hru

| Drey
= 3 u pag. 8a, 1 ee ee
“) Page 332. a ee

EG a - ,
5 x 1

,

.

N 5

&
to the Befbtder. of the secret prosecco-making. 74

Breykorn's colleague, or another fine one: "What
Mr. Dreykorn had intentions that No one knows except God and himself, and the author.

söte sich bier Gett, dem alleinlichen Herzen kündiger immediately, when he says it seems that one can do it on that laid babe, the Ptotestant the- difference of the Protectorate and Catholicism increasingly to move out of sight, and thereby the great

The goal is to have a flock under one shepherd. 8

Always better to remm. Can't someone...

to truly accept individual Catholic religious opinions,
and publicly declare their support for it, without therefore immediately a Catholic proselytizer for the Roman Church and such a religious association

to be the one who intends to destroy all of Christendom
1. To drive the sheep into Perrinifchen's sheepfold? (Ges) white, would not be, to the shame of our century,
two to three in the actual learned world
Not many important people arose who,
to carry out their harmful intentions, all of us namely to foist pure Detsm upon it, and to establish a literary papacy, which was ab= Ehimåre tasted of secret Catholicism and

Jesusism put on the path to Zion=

guards were issued, and with their noisy shouting everything brought into turmoil; so one had to Mr.
Dreykorn's Canon said: The man lost=
The matter is not settled, and think about Catholic doctrine= 8
fûtze, due to lack of insight, milder than one fon! :Would one pray to the Society of Pure Doctrine asked:: Well meant! a new Pietist smoldering=
na mögen 'fie fich wiffen!- for had "rn zu

9) and among the so-called princes hats u greg tete
| given to people.

9
i

4. Religious association as a means

Mastu's religious association project: the man
'He's mentally ill, he should be admitted to a hospital. – But Now, Catholicism is suspected everywhere.
And if you ask for proof, everything reduces itself.
to Mr. Nikolais and the monthly writer also unsubstantiated claims, faces and Cbimåren. On: Enlightenment of our times, which se 1 and again, in an old-fashioned way, believe=

ig fin dd – 5

In the May issue of the monthly magazine, Mr. Bie presents a gift.
He entertained the audience with various anecdotes, which ibm from Danzig, Pomerania, etc. via the
The spread of Catholicism occurred;
and among them are also two unexpected ones=
tete Feugnisse, von welche ich scho vorher ums
I acted regularly. In the first of these to the alleged unexpected results, which were obtained by a apocalypticism is also associated with religion=
thought of as a club, and out of concern for the soul.
Crusuus on the Schtopferish Spirit Swearing=
It was stated that scavengers are against reliable
Speakers from a religious union are liable

1

Speeches have been given. Now the sender says: These

The location, compared to Masius' projects, is indeed Braun is wonderful). Yes indeed, very wonderful,
And what isn't wonderful for an apocalypse fan?
Cash? But where does the strange and perplexing thing lie?
possible that a coffee shop is run by a religious organization=
Does the union talk? Does that make him a Catholic?
and the alleged union he raves about, to a Catholic design? – But precisely this one Coffee shop, that was a coffee shop of all of a special kind; he could eat more than bread, he has 55 e rn;
) Monthly journal, May 1786, page 442.

PR

Your promoter of the secret prosthesis making. 545

far from the wretched devil, he prayed to him = Despite Jo receiving a severe beating, and about acknowledges the correct receipt, and what is special about that= barst is, so has he at his chancellery always had a consecrated crucifix at hand; and who has his consecrated crucifix at hand and from

The religious association says he is a secret Catholic.
Like, and the Union, there are Catholics behind it.

A wonderfully coherent argument! –
People need to judge properly, that's what it brings but once into a syllogism, and you shall=

Ben, how many legs he will run away on. –

But assuming the incriminating speeches of the Leipzig Coffee gifts deserve attention, and they –
They really did write from a Catholic source here, which. But no one has yet proven how Is this related to Masius's projects? Hit

But we only just read Masius's projects! They Earning as the birth of a swarmer is ridiculed

to become; but whoever finds Catholicism in it

Anyone who can do that must be more than crazy, as I will soon see.
I will show. How do the two things relate?

something like that Schröpfer is a Leipzig head=
feefchenke was, and Masius a Leipzig Magi= Where is it? No other nexus takes place. Can

Can one imagine bigger absurdities?

In the June piece of 1736, they finally deliver to us
1 a letter from Mr. Mor
söers an den PJK in W. über die k^er^erige Ver=
Agreement between the Protestant and Catholic churches.
A document was published in 1779.

arrived. The one that carried the title: the first step to the association of MJK jn. M.. Still in

In the same year, Prof. Kern wrote in Ulm about it=

gen, and in the following =; Mr. Wöser, whose with many

46. Christian Union as a Means

Letter written in a whim, inserted here
it). Against everything Möser said in this cry= Ben says, no reasonable person who... knows the whole nature of the matter, something have turned, and the good priest is with his first step so wonderfully rebuffed that he
It would be difficult to venture into the second one. But the woman
The only question is, how did this writing come about after six years?
Here again? – Hey, to show that there's still more
In this century, the Catholics gave us a res Ugion's union is proposed. – Did they mean the Monthly writer, that they thereby give us a great made a discovery? To whom, and Råsewitsen's, the Archbishop Trautson, Cardinal Quirini, Bishop von Gurck's proposals unknown? And I didn't want to be in Zontheim with a fine acquaintance.
Book the protesters to unite with the Romans
To make mixed churches more inclined? Against the Union
The efforts of these men were surely P.
JK in W. with his two bows, a poor man Handel *). Or do they perhaps want to use this against us?
prove that the Catholics still treat us the same way= to make applications and protect ourselves from the dangers warn us about what we fear from the religious association
have, and now even more so, since the Catholics Start tidying up? That could be done.
ren. But then they wouldn't have given us the PJK.
must demonstrate: because in 1779 there was still no
Step towards church improvement in Catholic countries=
made them; then they would have made such requests of us.

0 Monthly Journal Junius 1716. p. 419 fl.
11 p. Acta Hiftorico-Eccleſiæ, aoftrī temporis. Th. V. pag.
427 ff. Fa 3 | x. Bu2

we
to be promoted. The secret proselytizing operation. 547

from our time, when the Catholics were already on= They've really started clearing up, they have to deliver. And even if such requests are now being made, not by a single clever or trusting monk,

but by important people, united bishops

and princes were made the protesters, so
We would not be in the slightest danger because of that.
are exposed, since we have no such means Those who can and will be heard are who cannot enter into any purchase at all is not in Danger of becoming an overpayer when buying. We have ben from both sides silently already an=
a far better association was established, and
This is: Let each one keep what he has, each one Believe what he believes; by the way, we're both at our difference of faith between humans and Christ=
sten, and must tolerate and love us as such.

-This is an association in which not not only Protestant, but also Catholic rain=
ten will be far better off than at the club=
Adherence to uniform doctrines. - Or do you want us
For example, here the monthly writers put the weapons into the
to shake hands with which we against the Catholics
to fight, if they should remember it again=
Are you going to make us such requests? All of these
We were already very familiar with weapons, and difficult to use.
probably wants to be a protestant, or he has to be one= no religion, and not even knowing the Catholic one, to whom not convincingly overcoming insurmountable obstacles
It should be obvious that, although outwardly the Religion among Catholics has been cleaned up so much.
would be, even if it were the Pope, and hierarchy
and the coelibacy of the clergy should be abolished,
with regard to the doctrines of any religion=
Unification will stand in the way. - I can do it.
M m 2 also

- - — SEE

548 Religious association as the center!

also not understand the purpose of the otherwise beautiful
a letter from Moers has entered here, it must for being, in order to say a word about religion=
to say to the association. a

Z3bwey Stüd find bey dieser ganze Materie of the futile religious union, like a everyone will realize that it needs to be examined closely: the first

The question is: Have the Catholics currently...
Ken proposed a religious association, and at
They are currently working on a plan to protest.
to unite with the Catholics? The second
The question is: Is the M. Masius Religious Association?
a project that is such as is appropriate for Catholicism
which is advantageous, and in which the Catholics

Secretly involved in the game? That's...

In my opinion, the two actual main questions=

genes that are to be examined here. And now what

They tell us in regard to the same the monthly journal=
steller? That formerly the Catholics also the Re= religions union with the methods used,
through which they led the protesters to the Roman church.
The search for a way to return to the site is a very well-known one.
The thing, and the fruitless one is also well known=
The quality of all these projects. So if the Mo=
The writer here has said so much of importance about this.
had said, which they did not do,
That wouldn't teach us anything new.
have nothing that would make such a thing even present=
The existing project proved that there is nothing that could harm us.
Therefore, they can be terrifying.
That some Catholics harbor this old whim after that have been revived in recent times is also known, and how she is received, how this Grille nothing, absolutely nothing at all with us, vers

It is also known that I have been beaten. This too.

talk

1

.

to promote the secret proselytizing. 549
The Monacs writers don't talk. Even if they do.

Even now, such individual men have appeared.

were and had given us such a lecture, and if individual protesters are really simple-minded enough

such proposals would have been acceptable.
to find; but nothing would come of it, absolutely nothing.
to follow, and therefore nothing less than a union=

This can be achieved. We have the example before

We are in the right. Such requests from individual Catholics= scholars were made in former times,

and individual Protestant scholars of respect
They found it agreeable, as Fabricius, Molanus and others. And despite all that, we're still in the= never so separated as we were. From such a Individual applications are also discussed in the monthly journal.

steller not, the only attempt by Father JK except for the one who in 1779 sent his two bows to the Ta= brought about a change, but also immediately protested.
was rejected; and they speak just as little.
also that a single protester from Anse=

hen, as even in former times happened, The would have found the same project acceptable. Now What about? They're talking about a secret plan, which the Catholics are said to have designed in order to...

under the pretext of a religious association, the pros

to bring testifiers to the Roman church. Now

It wonders whether this plan really exists, or is it just a figment of the imagination. Imagination and phantom? If he is real, then...

However, this statement from the installer proved who...

But how is it proven?

Now, audience, read the monthly journal of

Read through it from beginning to end, and you will be in vain.

to look for something that can be called proof

can. All the empty things substituted for it.

These claims are: The religious association=

Mm 3 gung

U

“

5. Religious union as a means

gung is another lure; the Catholics

want to compromise on small things, in order to be right

many members in the bosom of the mother church

to gather; the Catholics want the Christ=

The lichen parties opposed the Free Spirits.

to bind; one has a Protestant

Deacon in the idea of a religious union=

sought to strengthen the gung; the cuddly cruisers

and their superiors work towards such unification=

project; the secret societies flatter

with the hope that a shepherd and an army=

the will; and one operates with incredible

Zeal for the conversion of the Protestants; one

works to bring all people into faith=

to unite things into a flock; one seeks

good-natured protestants the difference between=

Catholicism and Protestantism

to pull their eyes to see them as a flock
unite; and finally the coffee shop Schrö-Pfer in Leipzig has been sworn to by a religious union.
He gave persuasive speeches. And he had...
with the devil's cage, why not too?
With the Pope? Those are the wonderful things!

chen, which were presented in the monthly magazine

the *). Is the audience really that short?
visible, so as not to realize that one's illusion play with him, and present things to him as Be-wise, as it were, demonstrates, and presents as proven, which still need to be proven? Where cash
Have the Catholics told us in which clothes?
What are the small things or big things that they want to give in to?
Surely they're not going to give us two yes beasts for that?
5 See the previously listed passages of the Mo-natschrift. e *

2 --

= TE A a ee En

5

what should happen, the long-rotted Je-fsuites Audebert, who was under Richelieu to Moses Amyraldus, who made the proposals, will probably lead len? Where have the Catholics formed an alliance against

The Free Spirits offered? Where is the whole story?

proven by the Protestant deacon?

To contribute to the Union project? In Chrysophiron's
The words contain the exact opposite. Which secret society has ever had the opinion of a
had shepherds and a flock, and when they had them had had, which proves that this Meynung alone p  papist, and a papal union-Project Sey? What proves that this Ger
socschans the conversion of the Protestants to Ka-

Practicing tholicism? Where is work being done on that?
And whoever does it, all in matters of faith into one army=
to unite them? What proves that Drey= Korn, with his book, had the intention of...
Protestants under the pretext of religion=

to lead to union with Catholicism, and that the Society of Pure Doctrine to this very Abe

Where has it ever been proven that the superiors of the Rofenfreuger

What effect does the miserable chatter of a

Giving coffee that we don't even know about, in order to

from this a Catholic plan for religious union to prove it? I was also told this a few years ago.

a Reformed Christian, that the Lutherans and Reformed Christians
ten could easily unite within 24 hours.
The man was a pharmacist, and in fine fashion.

He's a skilled man. I thought religion par=

They are not ingredients to a mixture that can be easily mixed together. – That was probably also a highly constitutional statement, that the
Did the Reformed want to harm the poor Lutherans?

How far must we have come, if

Mm 4 only

–

– –

r . „6 1

TEA.

"Mefiofomtüereinigung. ale Mittel"

only cheeky claims, since they are only without errors=
then written into the world, and then often

to be repeated, to include in order to give us the ab=

To make people believe in the most delicious things! Certainly,
Audience, your Zion prophets and enlighteners mö=

You're probably right that it's about your up=

Hardening has not yet progressed so far as one thought, and because I thought you were so gullible, Hold the object that can be easily dragged around on the rope, so
Do they dare to easily tell you everything that comes to mind?
to clap in advance. | ER Se 9

But Mr. Nikolai, the learned, famous traveling booksellers, who, as the master, will

They probably know better than the journeymen. The Many is, like another Ulysses, has many cities and travels through countries, and therein much terrible stuff=
He saw it already in his youth in Danzig.
been, and on finer. laid ripeness, oh! what has Didn't he see everything there? What you, dear reader, don't know another mortal who overlooked the ice cap too much pulls the ears, and after Malcontenten=

research forgets, can never see, and never will! The

The man will probably know everything and say it.
So we must hear from Mr. Nikolai, and

Mr. N. really does in a fine appendix to: nasty following band of fine circle description, in which when he corrects Mr. Garve, he passes dentlich of the religious association as a Catholic Plans to engage the protesters, adult

(nung). But unfortunately! we find nothing here either.
ner = 0.2... Auderg,

) Mr. Nikolai had already been talking about it before: B. IV. p. 280.
After a detailed travel description, he prophetically exclaims: Shaan enough for the second century that now even pros

testants – God knows their intentions at praying – us
t 8 again

= . „

,

For the promotion of the secret prosthesis making. 579

different from the aforementioned and unproven beliefs
Main things, as with his journeymen and tradesmen gladly, the monthly writers; indeed, he surpasses them –
in a sense still, and thereby proves that the Singer not yet a fine master. Page 24.

where he felt the need to make himself a beautiful

to keep tobrede, how well he does with the protestanti
"The church in my town," he tells us, "that the whole church..."
The Tholic clergy still harbors hope make; us as apostates in the bosom of the
to bring back the one true Church, and that all the foolish unification plans went there to aim. I confess, the man tells us four

He reads and speaks more clearly than his more refined colleagues. Are you

But we also believed that many Catholics, for their Church taken over, our conversion desired=

the; he now knows how to tell us that fie fie

m7 drunk.

again to understand the Catholic ornamentation, the fe excluding, the more oppressive, the more persecuting, and the more The more dangerous, the more infectious and powerful, the more will remain! A company that is so shameful

53 and it is harmful that many cowardly people find it incredibly difficult seems, which is nevertheless not certain enough, so, that the effects are even beginning to become visible;

—

and the earnest attention of all righteous pro= dtestanten, indeed all people deserve. — At the Ener One should not believe what the man is saying. We would be besieged by religious groups! And But he did not like to mention even one fact. to lead and prove. But that would surely be from the Lord. Mixolai was very pretty, to put the good-natured doubts to rest. to bring people to faith, and to capture the attention of righteous protesters and all friends of humanity j a. Verba fung, it was also said here, praetereaquis nihil!!

1

54 'Religious cleansing as a means hope. He also tells us that it is actually =

The entire Catholic clergy is, who...
Fe guild makes. Where did the man come from?
"This message may have? He also tells us that to that all the foolish unification plans=
Aim. How many of the same are there? None yet.
He only presented us with one. And everything was fine.
Saying is nothing but mere pretense, without the
at least proof. – So great is Mr. Nikolai in= more under the microscope may be a fine admirer,
The audience has already seen that he
He can also tell big untruths, and he will.
So we shouldn't begrudge him that we didn't prove anything to him.
Don't believe it. eee ee |
On page 46, Mr. Nikolai comes to the Jefui= ten, Father Stattler to speak, and says of the= himself, that he thought the protesters with the to unite the Catholic Church. That would be so one of the entire numerous Catholic Clergy who hope for our conversion

does, and his plan would then be one of all the most foolish unification plans. But to the Misfortune for Mr. Nikolai has Professor Sailer proved to him that he had told a blatant untruth,
when he gives Stattlern a unifying founder=
stated that it was completely wrong if he claimed, Stattler's Demonstratio Evangelica: have the verses
(They wanted to initiate an agreement with the protesters).
Religious union and religious plan, both fall under this umbrella.
So there he goes, and Mr. Nikolai appears as a man,
= * 1 „ | dem
Sailer's only fairy tale in a fine style. Page 33 ff.
Mr. Nikolai has in fine recently released
Notes that do not weaken Sailer's proof with anything

can. | e

\

— – uu FE u – KK 22

ur Befdrder. der geh. Profelpfenmacherey. 555
Of course, even the most outrageous claims are of no consequence to him.

cost, if they only serve his intentions, his surgery |

måre serve. This also receives the fine
Dismissal, as Mr. Nikolai explains on pages 80, 81, and 83.
91 of Sailer's, Stattlers, and their Demzozhad said ftratiome Evangelica, which actually That is what Mr. Sailer refutes, and where he met the candid, truth-loving Mr.

Nikolai in a set of 3 parts, only five

He proved blatant falsehood, of which he was guilty.
makes bat. |

But one might think, perhaps the | feverish section in Mr. Nikolai's appendix us to provide something correct about this, since the same actually the disbelief of Professor Garve in the verse Unification plans, . opposed. But certainly,

People are cheating here too. Mr. Nikolai has the
He had a lot to chatter about, and the less he talked about it, the better.
The more you understand things, the more you can talk about them.

The audience, the reading audience, should then,

If you have seen many letters, imagine that the

A great man who could say so much, but probably

He wants to have been right in the end. That's how he does it.
Also beer: he's had enough of unification plans.
us; but it doesn't look any better than before.
with the previous one. Mr. Nikolai says on page 10.
The unification plans now came under the radar.
Cherley's cunning figures emerge from the side of the Catholics: who support the unification proposals

If someone were to examine it, they would not misinterpret its source. The Catholics constantly harbored the idea that their

The church should be universal, and they went therefore constantly calling for the reunification of Heretics are expelled from the Church. – Which ones are they?

the various cunning figures, under = | chen

1

\

575. Meligisass preparation as a means ·

Can the unification plans be implemented? Which=
These suggestions have not yet been found by the Ka=
Have you done tholiks? None of this has happened yet.

Man saw what. That the Catholics their church;
which are considered general, and that they are the bet
The desire of heretics to bring about death is true; but Bes kehr derfeiben and Union proposals find two Different things. That can also refer to others.

. Wise things can be brought about, and the Catholics have done this=

Not all Union proposals have been made. Mr. Ni=
Kolai must stay focused on the matter, and the opposition

Do not mix the stands. What are the proposals for the universities?
On what happened to us? Here again, there's a lack of evidence.

In the old way. But Mr. Nikolai is leading him. He says, that the Catholics rely on our greater tolerance

built into the system to distract us,

by making their religion palatable to us, in order to us gradually back under the yoke of the rō=

to bring mixed hierarchies. And now he leads that the eight-Catholic brotherhood in Vienna,

in stark words I say that they through the Christi-
che fraternal songs that attract the protesters,

for the adoption of the eighth Catholic purified

Religion moves, and thereby the unification
the divided religious parties probably cause=

le). Mr. Nikolai then asks with certainty...

view:

f) Mr. Virkolai had already said the same thing in the first B. of his book.

Reisen p. 172 of this Viennese brotherhood print
let us, and indeed he did a much better job for us there, and more out of trouble=
licher voa diesengescht durcb Bepbringen ihrer Sa»
Aungefi onterlegt. Read this supplement, dear reader.
Yes! But of course not with the intention of violating the statutes.
a Protestant society, that it should not be=
to find, ondern einer katholischen Brüderfschaft.
But you will find that it is commanded therein to do so-called=

N nann=

. een. 9 0 > cr a ar
.

TE Au -- He

for the promotion of the secret prosthesis making. 557

View: Could something be clearer? But if So the plan is, so the Catholics have the same not, as Mr. N. says, on ours, but on three several built, St further nei |

-

N called teaching with give and gentleness to spread, in observance of tolerance, preferring to
to distinguish themselves, not just the protesters.
and to act chastely in all actions, but also to actively practice true Christian brotherly love
wise. Now compare these statutes with all the others.
those previously known from Catholic brotherhoods have become, largely characterized by fanaticism, But believe, monasticism and religious hatred abound, and make for with the joyful feeling of the friend of mankind
the founded firing; since one could no longer use dragoons

"Not scourges and pyres, but with love and gentleness."

Muth wants to spread the religion, since one is Protestant no longer persecute them inhumanly, but in the to tolerance against which one wants to distinguish oneself excellently, since one no longer hate them with hostility, but rather in all things
To treat actions with love, and the true Christian
He wants to actively demonstrate his brotherly love to them; fb must do it Things have become completely different among our Catholic brothers.
be as it was before, and the protesters have at
They have apparently gained a lot. If only it were that simple.
These very statutes are recommended to the members,

through precisely this Christian brotherly love the Protestants

to withdraw, and to accept the Catholic religion

to move region, and thereby gradually create a Verel

to effect the enunciation of the holy religion;
That's how people here talk as Catholics, according to their Religion's own prejudice of the one true faith
Che. Who will deny that? But if they now...

with love and gentleness, and through appreciative tears,

want to win, (which are still so obsolete fepn mb.

gen), is this now milder behavior not far better than the thematic lessons of that time through fire
and

Is religious union a means

The plan, in this way it brings more honor to the Catholics, than to call it a cunning plan could, since they are acting out Christian brotherly love against us want to practice. Let them practice it always; with the association in doctrines and hierarchy bats for a long time, at least for so long, until their church is sufficiently cleansed, and at the one of al=
lem human and papal and monastic Unrath, who lived in their country for many centuries
Church carried in, purified eighth catho=
Jewish religion, no true Protestant will be what

N 8 out=

and Schwerdt, and at least some apparent gain for the Humanity? It will then simply depend on... men, whether the reasons they give us, that their re=
religion of false claims and statements of the Curia= lists, of the heresies of fanatical clergy and monks
che, cleansed of some abuses and superstitions= get, and only with them a true priesthood, the true universal infallible church xc. to find fen and more of the like, and whether, I ask, these reasons make will be ty enough, our better convictions
torso, and to make us generally inclined to ih=
To approach the teaching principles? Mr. Nikolai says on page 67 of the Plagues to the first band in the note quite right: It
It would be very short-sighted to believe that nothing else is lacking.
to purify the Catholic religion and the Protestants
To keep the stalls pleasant. He's absolutely right about that.
Only then is it truly very short-sighted if one fears, that European-fearing imagining of the Catholic
The Viennese Brotherhood will provide us with more enlightened, and to see that cure of the Catholics' ability to understand, capable Meoteftanten can call on. But they will find a
We can promise meager harvests if...
such reasons and discussions arise,
er fie Herr Nikolai S. 169 im sten Bande deklamiren

For the advancement of secret proselyt mathematics. 539

| to find additions. But then it is also certainly the Catholic Church no longer the papal and Roman fsche, fon dern die dacht=evangelische und proteftan=

Tables. – But be that as he pleases, so it remains.
Yes, always a plan. Well, a plan that some kind-hearted Catholics who neither their church nor

who must know ours, have made themselves.
yes, but surely not one of those from whom
One could say: This is the questionable union= project under which both churches will be reunited can come together! Because where can we find the conditions?

Under what circumstances should it happen? What should it be?
Let's go, and what do the Catholics want to let go?
sen? What do you want from us, and what do you want?

Accept from us? Certainly, if the unification= plan so aussehen, die unter fo mancherley hinter=

cunning figures are supposed to emerge, what will happen?

Should one think of them? – But instead of us now

further instruction on these unification plans:
ten, who are supposed to be working against us, hold us back

Mr. Nikolai, a widespread deflagration of the Interests of Catholics in such union projects=
ten, of the dangers that the protesters faced

run, since they submit to the hierarchy, and warns us, in a very precocious way, that we

But yes, we should consider the matter carefully, and...

do not involve Catholic bishops in this.
fen should, whereby he then gave us a long and broad one=
tes über die Intrigue der Concilien, den Despotis= must be told about the hierarchy, etc.). Especially as whether such proposals had already been made to us,

as if we were already in the process of being in sub=
to allow actions, and as if all our Theo= 5 5 logs,

) Page 101 1033.

*

366 Religious purification and as a center

Liars, who surely would be consulted.
those ignorant schoolboys who needed

ten, fi from the Berlin traveling bookseller
to be reprimanded so that they do not feel threatened to engage in a visible way. What self-confidence,
What delusions this man must have of himself!
Have them yourself! If such wise-cracking precautionary rules, which he wants to give us, not testify to it, so testify=
At least they thought that their poor head would suffer.
ten must have. – All the wretchedness he further in this essay by Hen. Superint.
Schulz in Gießen, from Sailern and Lavatern misleading, and based entirely on untruths=
det, or deliberately set crookedly, overlook
I'll beer, since they were already sufficiently covered in the previous one.
was processed. That too is untrue.
what Mr. N. said about the Jesuits accomplishing union of the Greek and Roman church, from a newspaper article Rich tells k). Finally, however, when Mr. Nikolai still says that we with reunification plans= to be flooded to remove the useless and to reverse an unjust separation, so that we can be together again
to bring back to the supposed apostolic church=
gen; fo fehlt es freylich unserm Jahrhunderte eben
as little as the previous ones in dreamers / and pros Project makers who realize the sweet dream of a general
my union of all Christian parties anew clear out, and bring their projects to light.

urge. What was Loen's aim (who certainly was no
Was the Pope the only true religion? Vein where
Mr. Nikolai proves that all these projects
| | j Ä den

) See Yieuefie Religious Events, Eighth Year.
page 458. ji

2 en. =

- - - =

for the transport of the secret prostitution. 36

the purpose of leading us to the Roman Church;
gen, and those indicated by Catholics would be too

Beguile? Once the head is covered with fine crypto= ka:
Filled with tholic ebimae, he now reduces everything on it, without the slightest proof. How much he However, in the very project that most of the Fees made, namely: the. Masusschen erred

"will become clear immediately below."
"With regard to the second point, here
the question arises whether the Masius religious association=
The nigungs project is favorable to Catholicism, and a such is something of which one can say that Catholics=
Ken Dabeiy had a hand in it. He had it to help the pros.
to subject the testants of the Roman hierarchy?
As far as the monthly writers are concerned, so...
think of Masius only once, and the whole

The matter is set up in such a way that one cannot judge.

whether you really need Masius for a Catholic
To keep the agents or not? Their apocalyptic vision fender in May 1785 says only that the place
in Cruştus's concerns, where it is said that Schrö= Sufferers of a religious union, pernicious speeches=
led, compared with WMafius projects, effective

It may be quite strange. But the more certain, the more definite. (This appears to be a fact)
Mr. Nikolai thinks about this. He says: Consider.

Man, how actively the Catholics constantly work towards expulsion!

spread of their religion, and that the Protestants
stanten es gar nicht fanten; fand so everybody unfantastic= judge a man whether the short blow
shockingly sudden, so manifold Art masked union plans, what for without:

This was no reason at all on the part of the protesters:

which, however, as can be seen from all the ver=

Incoming news illuminates the Catholics before=

are also favorable from no other side=
| Nn kom=

\

162 Religious education as a means

can come from Catholic emirates

and proselytizers? Mr. Nikolai has commented on this.
Twice the master's degree made upcoming notes. In To the first he says to the bogeyman, fine assertion of siaskirten union plans, one should Mastus's skewed unification plan, through He=
to look at the direction of an apostolic church, for what purpose
ibn is a society of unknown persons. bet authorized, who administered an oath to him, ih=
not to mention names; he had caused a lot of trouble with it.
done, and that is what the unknown

J

Fathers who have their reasons, not be

can be. In the second he says, mouse

b babe written, the big he he. en
eit,

The wish and prayer of the Christians
But this is an outrageous lie, which is un= to their advantage *) 1 So that with the

I don't blame Nikolai, but he did. (little one)
Since Sarve has accused him, I want to take action against him.

Follow each step exactly. And the first step proves Nikolat, who had studied church history extensively,
fine: Ignorance, when he says that the prote=

They did nothing to spread their [presumably referring to a specific disease or illness].

Religion find. Of course, no one has ever been so zealous.
The proselyte-making spirit dispels the protestants, as the one whom one notices among the Catholics
will: but if I. only alone from · our bond
He wanted to talk, where there was a separate proselyte fund.
Princely charity for deyemtzen established, which itself from Judaism or the Roman Church to the turn therthum; so would already thereby fine pre=

give, at least in view of the after the journey=
1 1. % „g Aa

5 e RER: * ;
um un Bf. . 4.6

N e 2 27 den

3 . . „em Rain. DU .

* Mikoläts Appendix pug. 1. Fr = AR: j nn 3 5 ne

were

tig to

nigungsplanen auf Ze der Protestanten gar

ir carrier. de geh. Ptofehtennacerg. 563

the anecdote hunter of Dionan writing, so questionable=

He was beaten in the area along the Rhine. Is he the 1667, by the English for this purpose=
sifted company, the efforts of the Fehn
rianer, and especially Elliot's, the Freyberrrn

von Wells' efforts to support the missions of the Dã=
nen) and Sweden, and others of the kind, too

still in this century the Swedish Ber sellfchaft pro fide et CHriftianifmno *), ,find. die

formerly ventures undertaken with so much luck=

pronouncements of the Reformed faith, their religion in the Palatinate

to make the coming one and several like it,

not all evidence that even the patrons
Are they active enough to spread religion? Wu=
Mr. Nikolai, who is Mr. Garve, did not know this.
accuses ignorance of church history, and
on the other hand, his alleged knowledge in this field
He raised himself so high, he did not know any of this, that he was far,
gen can, the protesters would not be thã=

Preparing their religion, well then
He is certainly less knowledgeable than a Sadegt, who u
a college has heard about church history.
– Mr. Vikolai further says that it can be arranged=

=) What felbk in the prensian gangs in Salle a “Main issue i. And what are the Danes and Swedes doing?”

the one in Adlicht on Religion, differently in Trandurbar

and Lapland, as the Catholics in China and Amen

* * 20

.

Au) protestants and not even to remember.

* That they really had the audacity to do this too, even this Ge, flßschaft als des Krypto-Katholizismus zu machen, one can see from the Gotha learned newspaper

or bag. 17. e | |

sta thaten? The missions of the Moravians, which do

—

—

54... Religious union as a means

No reason to think that. That's also wrong. Os Protestants should consider it if the association...

Making unplanned decisions? That's a different question. But since there were enough men among the protesters= those who were certainly not Catholic in their thinking,

and those of the beautiful dream of a general

Religion binged, such as Union projects.
as I already mentioned earlier, he threw
They must surely have one for such plans.

There may have been a reason, and there should be no other.
It would have been better than for everything to be peaceful, and the persecutions would cease. This also applies to Mr. Nikolai, that he knew about the story of the Church understands absolutely nothing.

3 From: these two. little ones; and after the Ge

Mr. N. is now making completely untrue claims.

the equally false conclusion that the protest
not at all active in spreading their religion
I find there is absolutely no reason on the part of the protesters.
to concession plans, but which is only favorable to Catholics, that Masius Project of Catholic Emissaries
en utid Profelytenmachern herkommen müffe. Ges Know a splendid conclusion, made entirely of proven

such prerequisites are derived. Mr. Niko lai, who rightly knows the philosopher Garve söen will, follte sich doch (schämen, fadche Pafelig

to bring forward any ideas. – But Masius speaks of no such things.

of the apostolic church. – Masius would also have still to sweep 1 Catholic, and would be the
because of not yet suspected of religiousism
tig. We know, from the beautiful explanation, the 9th Nikolai vom Baffume, give"), wels

ches

j * See the treatise on the temple berries.

–

–B. WA egg and

| to the promotion. of the secret prosthesis making. 565
ches et von ahn und unis derives that his Greek

chifch via the word juchen in the lexicon not far binausgehet; but he will know this much, that Catholic, generally means "heift" or "generality". And generality, not a general hierarchy, but general

Subjugation of people in belief in God and Christ is the character of the Christian= tbums. So too the apostolic church, not the Roman one.
not; but pure, evangelical truth, as they
as was announced to us by the apostles. – But Ma
sius speaks of a society of unknown persons» sons who authorize him: these are the unknown father. – Isn't that right: Fh. Inc. The – “Peres Iefuites? – What an ending! First, we must...”

We want to know if Masius told the whole truth.

stayed put and didn't boast. But settled,

Masius would truly be what he claims to be.
the agent, who wishes to remain unknown, religious uniter, does it follow from the fact that it is Catholic

Are there any emirates? Can't there be thousands of them?
the causes are the thieves, people because of them, unbelievable

wanting to stay known, and should there also be no

who are like these, not to the rooster, to hatred
and the suspicion of their contemporaries to pay the price=
ben, since it is known that the religious associations still Always poorly rewarded? Mr. Nikolai probably all the fine employees at the general dentist

out of the library? Don't the Mo lock themselves?
National writers from all backgrounds, their contributors, Correspondents, postmen, admit that

but under the now so glorious and lordly

nchen Panier, to spread enlightenment, and before to equip judgments, to raise: find? The find

Even unknown Värer! That Mr. Nikolai but among all possible causes, the one that was...
. f Nun 3 bhaß=

U – A ah Zn – eee een

7

5866 Religious unification as a means.
If you choose, it's either a Bent fine bo of the heart, or of his sick head 8, the. now already through the chimera of Crypto-Catholic=

cis wus fus so gelacht hat, fus so wetterwendisch wurde ist, that he finds them everywhere. But Masius wrote publicly that the religious association was the Wishes and prayers for Christianity. –

Here Mr. Nikolai says that... fen an un= shameful lie, the unknown society might to wish it to their port. But if He

However much one should think about it; . so I must but say that Or. LT. beer is a falsehood, and Masius is not telling any blatant lies. I believe,

There will be no man among the Christians who not wish that there were no parties.

The only difference is that the reasonable one

This wish for many pious: ABikufchen reckons that are unlikely to ever be fulfilled; that the Schumärmer makes projects for this; that the Catholic under religious union, transition to finer Church, and the Protestant, transition of others to who has inherited his own... And. have this wish

Some puffed-up, show-off women had, yes, probably 3 even flatters with fine fulfillment, like Hars wood. From this, what Mastus says, it follows that not even that the unknown company

a society of Catholic emissaries. r. Here I'll add something. Sir. Nikolai says? the unbe= knew society through which he (Masius)
It works. I believe that Mr. ukolaß

beer prescribed in holy zeal, and that there were 11

fen should, which works through him. I lead the just so that Mr. N. might see that I me to Mr. Garne, on whom he gave such an example:

gel staturt, correctly reflected, and it not Fe

* —
a. N

WFT a ana ere, v . A rr DFF~—] -m'b- EEE

to promote the secret proselytizing. 567
 dtestet mache, but rather him step by step
 I follow that I won't overlook a single word of his. Should=
 But he had not written himself incorrectly, for what.

It's good and cheap if Mr. Nikolai gives us the made known to the company, through which the Ma=
 sius, not which acts through the Masius. – Sep

te 170 Herr Nikolai is once again making his way over the ar=

men Leipziger Magistrat, und sagt von Beinfels
 ben: Eiße Gesellschaft von unbekannten Menschen, Mag. Masius in Leipzig takes an oath.

that he didn't give her name to anyone, not even anyone.

Discover potentates, but against them one of the= Reunion instigated by unknown people=

nigung (an apparently Catholic expression) un= ter feinem Rahmen betriebe fol. Dier Masi= us springt aus, es sein Gefahr Urteil of honesty, and one wants to give it a Wvereinigungsbuch geben, welche diesem (näm=

especially the Protestant part, on which the G=

(To err in matters of faith, to rest)
 the goal shows, from which he must not deviate, (of (evident Catholic infallibility). The un knew Däter wanted an apostolic Christian= erect a tower, and with this Christian community to= immediately the clear teaching of the truth of Steins of the Whites (nonsense!). – How many nonsense?

 Corrections could not be refuted here, such as...
 when Mr. Nikolai claims reunification

feye is an apparently Catholic expression; Masi=

We say of the protesters that they are in faith=

Things were wrong, etc. But it is time that one
Mr. Nikolais's poor manners and impudent manners suddenly from the Mastush writings
I will refute it myself, and then it will become clear that he not only do they not stimulate enough, as Mr.

= Ming | Gars

8

(

8

0

)

563 Religious association as a means

Garve accuses him of), but that he didn't even
It didn't even work. Masius is not a work.
a symbol of Catholics, it is rather their union= billed for project, a colleague ), an official;

brother of Hru. Nikolai, and the famous Ber= liner Fion's watchmen, who oppose the Pope hum warn, and denounce Catholicism completely and They wanted to know that the stem had been eradicated. This was already the case in 1784.
issued letter of the alleged united religious teachers lead Mastus Diesel= complaints about a secret attack carried out by the Pope hatched to the detriment of the Protestants=
ben should, which is also from the monthly writers
be guided, yes, he is telling the story=
chen from Cardinal Passionei, which she in Au=
guft: Piece 1784 tell, only alone with us
The difference is that he conceals the names. He makes the bitterest complaints about the oppressions
the Protestants in Hungary, Bohemia and Austria=
rich. He complains about Jesuits and their cunning schemes.
ke, even in mostly Protestant countries,
speaks of their masked wanderings, says that

The Pope only raised them for the sake of the protesters.
lifted, and that they had received the order from the Pope,
to make the protesters safe, and to turn them into an un=
to believe in Christianity, This
The latter, however, does not fit into the Lord's system.
Nikolai and his companions in the monthly journal,
because one could easily get the evil idea from that
to grasp that pure deism, which our *
. . ch

*) See Professor Garve's letter to Mr. Nikolai,
page 36. |

) So much for writer Rollege, like Mr. Nikolai in the Notes against Sailer, p. 103, establish the term.

for the promotion of secret proselytizing. 568

want to introduce guards, the work of secret Ne:
Jesuits are here. But even after him, the Jesuits find each other.
blamed for everything, even luxury, for the great Conditions imposed by the rulers; yes, even the To=

Tolerance is just one example of glaucoma from their own family. Then

The proposal comes to the religious association, as...
most powerful antidote against the Papists and Jesuits=
fchen viñnke, and the solemn declaration that as the Romans never become Protestant, even the Protestants will never become Roman, and that one no pope, as Christ's governor under= could throw, since Christ alone is Lord of the Church= che sey. – The fanatical forms of address that are now still

to the princes and teachers in this letter

I'll skip over following. But whoever is looking for this hay Serungen still speak of Catholic émigrés can, which is based on Masius and his religion=
The association worked, he must have a fine understanding.
to have become kerot. – That the whole plan went awry.
Who would disagree with Mr. Nikolai on this point?
But he, who was aware of the imperfections of Masius=
Anyone who can criticize the plan must surely also consider this message.

"Writing without having read it at all, otherwise it's impossible."

It was possible that he could have sensed Catholicism here.

No. Is this letter Catholic? Well then.

Mr. Nikolai and his colleagues are certainly involved in the Monthly journal also including everything else, however much you have written about Catholics and Jesuits, and which exactly agree with the Masius= men, secret machines of the Catholics and Je= suites. – The following year Masius gave a

whose letter was actually addressed to the

is directed towards fellow Catholic believers.

Here the poor man appears as an even greater Swarmer. He gives * of fine Le= Nu bens

–

570 Religious association as a means

bensumftänden, wotaus wir fe sehen dass er auch made a journey through the empire, though not like the famous traveling bookseller, Mr. Nikolai; but that his poor head was no less involved= tten and were voted into swarming, That of is! this letter is a convincing statement I know. However, there is no trace of crypto here either. Catholicism. It is true, Masius tells us here, on the: request in the general German Library, that, whoever has news from the home=

,ch. under: the protestants lurking around rômi=

could give the same named mas She liked to have a fine connection with Mr. von Grossing, whom he calls an ex-Jesuit, who, after he had to avoid the imperial states, went to Saxony, and afterwards settled in Prussian states embarked, babe. But also Not the slightest secret bark comes from this=

fkholicism, and if one is even in Grossing

If one wanted to find such a missionary, then...

Masius and his project are once again not considered suspicious.

will be able to, since Grossing only of Masius Kon=
sought to explore nexions and correspondence,

The two separated after a brief acquaintance, and now Masius in his Idurnal, which at the beginning of the Community Messenger and later Preacher=Biblio=

was called thek, the Grossing as a home=

lichen Exjesitsen, the Dutchman, the one he devised

Order of the Rose and fine ladies = Journal secretly

to spread Jesuitism to the best families

(I have tried to make myself known). Still

e meht

0 Ubetmals ein Beweis dass mafius ein Treuen Amtbru=

which is the Berlin Triumvirate. For like them

aj | j makes

- - - ——— well =

Ela el. - - — - - u er are]

But it becomes even more apparent that Masius is the own=

a foreman of his project is, and not of Roman émisaria is used when

one is targeting Catholics with subtle attacks, since

he accuses them of persecuting heretics, their claim=

tetes ecclesiastical reputation for such a thing declared that not founded in scripture, its tradition,

'denies their doctrine of the one true church,'

the Protestant Church practically before Rome=

mixing is preferred, and it moves them forward,

that they with their former unification plans

Only the protesters had fallen into slavery.

want. He also shares a letter with us, which he wrote to Pope Pius VI, and who probably has the most perfect character of the swarm mentality, but not the remotest hint of Catholicism; and finally, since Pius VI had been so rude, to him Magistro artium liberalium zu Leipzig gar nicht ein= Mr. Mastus deserves to give an answer.

Not at all satisfied with him. – That's all probably

Certainly wonderful evidence that Wasius with fine

Unification project, a tool of Roman Emist

sarien is! Mr. Nikolai must be free of all this. He hasn't read anything; otherwise it's impossible that he could... could have judged: and without having read,

He judges, and is not ashamed of a single untruth in

To scatter the world? – Contains just as little. also the two religious cries published in 1786=

ben to all protesters, and to all Orthodox Christians=

ren.

...er s Br er

does he highlight the influence of the Jesuits on secret societies? known companies, and even names one that is the up= perhaps deliberately missed the attention of the Zion's guards= gen war. ee ee

4 52 2

""

a. Religious association as a means

ren. The main book, finally, is the so-called Book of the Association, to which Mr. Masius had already shown so often that all feuding was no longer possible for us should put an end to the Christians. And now
 What does this contain? Perhaps a hidden message?
 Appointment of the papacy? Perhaps a milder appointment?
 What about the strict Catholic doctrines? Perhaps?
 such a twist, such a pleasing, yielding Ae= Commodification of Protestant teachings, that also These must be made acceptable to Catholics Can? None of these. I just want the to uncover the most important things here recently, as they presented in a fine union table. And ba fälle already upend the hierarchy, since
 the new apostolic church has no governor Christ can and must be recognized on Earth. Therefore Dominus Papa already receives fine, honest abs (divorced). Thus, Mr. Wastus also said the Mother Mary, of hers who until now have been known to Catholics believed they were politely dismissed from their intercessory office.
 Church fathers, tradition and statutes of the church
 Catholics must also leave, and In contrast, the Bible alone, according to the rules of an un= biased reason and interpretive art anneh= men). The coneilien locks, as they are called
 Those who may have will also forever be for all men.
 [The text appears to be a fragment and is omitted.]
 message of the saints who * in the Roman 3 r . SE . Church

* mastius Book of Union. Pages 134, 135.

) Ibid. Page 136.

) Page 1; 137.

Page 115.

NE — 0 Ge GE „ Fi

EEE ae . — A c cc * *

.

—

to the transporter. of the geh proßelyttvmacherey. 74
 The Church has believed that this is also a doctrine that | is opposed to the only mediator Christ, ab= (be created). The well-known phrase of the Romani= The Church of the Mass also, as is the case throughout the Church, offers a different kind cheap, abolished, since Christ once for the sacrificed for the sins of men *). In the Article de bonis operibus must the yömifche church to abandon their doctrine of the merit of works, and, on the other hand, assume that they are the fruits of faith=

ben's find ). When it comes to the article and Hcolefia, the The Catholic Church's teachings on the one who can save us all. the * and visible church drive f), In the doctrine of the sacraments, Mr. [Name] believes

Masius, that the Roman Church was wicked enough

I had ben, and if they were in the new aposto= who wants to go to the church, probably wants to, two beginnings gen can). In reference to the: Evening Meal He declares himself to be in favor of true enjoyment; but he

Let it be left undecided how we will receive the body of Christ. whether through meaning, or through relationship=

Delung, or Vermisch? The latter shows au. 8 er e dae sehebegeil Ei recht inner e

RL
= r 1 . Be 2 57
5 7 en Brge .. u ' 1 Me 8 ' 5
4 8
0 - 1 -

1 7 "You 157 | 142. in * ji ; = 9 1 5 "= , 2 a 5
X Page 141. = een e es
Page 144.

n) If only the b here were the signs of this They considered it, opened their eyes and saw how the heretical Maftus so good, as he was, the Catholic must face. 5

17 B
"1 22 t

or page 150. He re ee

N Be

7 5
– Page 113, e ee

574 7 Religious purification' old Middle .

possesses; but as much as one can see, so too that he
at least no longer according to the Faubelian concept of doctrine, as for: the Reformed and Lutheran taken over= (men if?) Mr. Mastus wrongly gives the Kutheranern's guilt, as if they were the auricular confession considered it a commendable church custom. But He does make it right again, after all:
. nem Berereisprojft ganz abigefchafft werden
must .; vow of voluntary poverty, chastity=
work and submission to a spiritual superior= sten, must also be considered harmful to the statues, and vers
'nufft' and are abolished contrary to scripture *).
But I believe that this will be enough to avoid only prove that Mr. Wikolai also does not have one A look into Masius's writings has been made, but also that he really wanted to get physical with Ange=
He was rightfully made guilty if he poorly protected the floorboards.
A soul-deprived person who is a stubborn sucker
Duboder, an apparent enemy of all rathotefchet keh=
ren and the hierarchy, and you an apofaltztifeher Schwärmert is, because of setaes Vertiigungp tojeles

to a tool of the unknown. Father, and ros mixed emissaries and prophylaxis makers enforce will, which all in the sheepfold of the domestic want to drive the church, and to that end the poor man= serve mr as iptes Shalk 72. Wr ee) Page 179. en 1 %%% We

on page 767, | u | aa 9 1 rn
"a Page 16. 8 " A " 120
= 5 Should one fine Yopenrauen, Meran ien ande the tire of Mr. Mixolai G. 95. in the Nate fiefet e mastus i reibe sein sc mutiges Wesen dureh 9

one

to the occupier of the geh; Profelptentnachedey. Li

| a defense project: to the i Vvrthell of the Roman N

Hierarchy, which includes the Pope, spiritual vows, here!

rarchy, the one and only visible church, abbreviated

Wants to know! What kind of association pedicure to the advantage of Catholic doctrine, which is its main

and basic reading declared erroneous, and all ages
than haben · will! Where is Mr. Nikolai's head?
had, when he drove everything to Diefen?: If Wafius
truly, as he claimed, the agent of a Gefoll= g fschaft is, and this whole society is not in finer the only person, as it is believed, eon eemrirt is:

Does this society consist of Protestants?

Swarmers who fall for Unienszrillen, / aher certainly think of little on nithis than the Pro
stances towards Catholicism. bring, but many more focus on turning the Catholics into protesters
"To do" Davan, everyone will, no matter how much short-sighted,/ and even more abrasion-sighted, mouse practice= can bear witness, who only this is certainly very ungrateful wants to take over the work, these miserable Ryeskimeris (to read the brochures carefully. 5)

After all this, what is the whole thing so far away?
"Geführen" ünferer peöreffäntifihen Zion's guardians of the usually organized by Catholic émigréates=

ten religious associations are different from one with nothing.
proven, and Fe to that with a lot of us

ö | vers

8

fine miserable senseless little treason (in which he nevertheless the (contradicts Catholicism in the face) to the Ver=
Rand of our good patrons to innisterny so that
The more subtle the unknown fathers, the better they can work.
Isn't Mr. Wirstat apparently tearing up something here that he considers useful?
Wrsen win dem derte Wesen N wachen night.

A
HE,

U

476, NMeligionspereinigung als Mittel zum -

most shameless lies and ignorance=
A decorated cricket, conceived solely with the intention of
to give the ghost they themselves invented another to attach more chains to cover the whole house
To bring fear and unrest. Certainly a shame.
liches Gewerbe, which these gentlemen, and Mr. Niko= lai à la Tete served in front of the audience
have, with which they incidentally some righteous=
a man in a malicious and spiteful way
sought to make his contemporaries suspicious.
Another prank, something that should finally be discussed

*

to that part of our German public that to be treated so shamefully by these people for long enough
let them drag you around on the rope, eyes open= ben feltenn n |
End of the first Tisza.

*

8 9 er ze

2

w. U te ai u

—
Ku ..

* * 4 . 2 *
N 5 aug
s. ; 1122 . * „ 5
2 a Ä Be N 5 Bey=

f „ a
— * *

1

U & ' 7
“ “

0 *

f
!
|
|
|

Beylasgen

— '

* for the first part.
= 5 | * 85 |

0o

F f} aa rs * 2 -
+ -
8 , ws 5 : x & , * 5
*
* * * *
= * - 1 =
=> 5 7 » 1
8 * „ c ' . ä
25 - = 2 . =
2 2 * u - = . z
2 rn * - 25 - - Pe 7
£ er a 8 pr . - - - - Sr - * ®
4 5 x * 5 8 - ' 0 N ' 15 .. 8
" - ag -- = " 5 - 5 Ze. = t
* ® * . * = 5 a Po a * . . *
DT 2 3 L + * x R «
& * . - ; 2 .
in = 1 = " " 2 u * 5
Se * r - - * - 89 - > z Ta
: N 5 5 . . " . . - 5 2 = - £
4 - > . =, * 8 Br &
er = 5 2 2 31 0 a 2 5 = u " xa
8 5 7 4 2 - a " a * 7 - * Fe 8
3 7 " 8 * - 8 *
Ser .- ' 3 . i N ur u. . 2 1
* 1 * - 2 BR 3 h » 5 g = 25
5 8 . - 8 * 7
: 9 Pa. 1 he "u -
. € 8 + - = E .
. E 3 - our . 8 ..
+58.
+ = u 8
. A ' R . =
N - . 2
- * 4 2 - = ER * - U
3 NN: +
" er e = [5 - - *
- - ' - 9 - * 8
= , A 2 8 x 1 a - 2 8 + "
8 A Al 05 - 8 = " * 7 z -
A u 4 - 5 " f * ae
2 = - L 8 8 x . 1 * 2 ' a er
5 AN R 8 — 8 * - . = = 2
- - 8 5 8 * 2 3 - A,
* - * . *. - a or 2 =
= u - 1 5 2 · 3 8 - R = - 2 0 Er 5 j 2
er \ . 12 3 „ - n 2
» 3 2 5 > a 5 8 .- 2 *

EN Fr z 8 var 2 ua
a er "7 2 . - 5 1 5 '+ u - - 5 un. 5
- * Br * 2 . m " " 5 E
= San Er we F = . 2 2 A - - 2 52 en Ne * *
l 5 2 5 8 5 - 5 5 * > =
"- * 8 5 . um >
- — x = 8 > ' & 2 2 " 8 Es 4 ö = -
- - * 5 bi
R 2 2 2 5 = en +
- by x -
5 f we 2 >= 5 - B - DF - - -
. ST 7 De 5 - - ö = = 5 Bi u" 5
5 5 - 4 * 5 * - - 5
5 8 * . . "u 2
. u 5 9
2 - u 7 85
- Be
8 . 8 A - za .
*
= . 8 x ö
1 B u
before Pr x 5 -
F . 2 . ö -
8 N i 1
. 5 , 2ER . R 2 -
"=== 3 . Pure
5 82 us u = = - Ai
* a 2 . 8
_ 2 R [1 Pr N „ 85
8 - 1 * 2 * = 9 8 " J - i @ 3
a 8 8 N
"2 - " 5 Den - u
= . * 8 He = . 2
= ** " , "
- 2 > 5 ® 0 8
. - x = + - r
& - we * * 8 -
R r P { 1 =
. 5 2 - „ * 8 '
7 8 5 - - 5
82 2 _ - 8
U 5 -> K 5 *
R .. Su" > z = u
\
127 . . ö x 0 *
5 - Well " 2 - * * = * - 7
5 - 1 er Br ... 8 * Er . 4 1 Pe er * 4 7 - - N = - we un
8 *
.
-
" = 5

= x 1
8 8
N ;
"
2.
. .

|
:
. * -
4 2 5 = -
8 g

A.

Most Serene Highness, Most Powerful King,

Most Gracious King and Lord!

Ev. K nigl. Majeft t pr rdige Berechtigkeitsstiche ift fo worldly knowledge, that the slightest stranger to the same with joyful

Confidence, taking refuge, and protection and satisfaction
may promise himself if he is speaking to the subjects of Your King.
Majesty is unjustly persecuted, his honor and good name stolen, and – if he no longer has this jewel, then to be completely suppressed, fol. I am now in this for me so I am in a sad situation, in which I have no choice but to...

Before the throne of Your Royal Majesty, I am to prostrate myself, and with the feeling of one's honor and good name on the ab=

most hideous kind of afflicted innocent man of all kinds
to ask that nothing be done for the persecuted stranger.

Proclaim justice loudly against the persecuting subject=

May he

It is common knowledge that this has been the case for more than a year in the published by Dr. Biester and Senior Consistory Councillor Gedike

benen Berliner Monatsschrift von heimlichen Machinationen

of Catholics and Jesuits to the detriment of Protestantism

**

That's been said. I'll leave it open to interpretation whether that secret efforts are founded, and if they were founded, whether they can ever be carried out; whether the intensity in

To express with which it is discussed in the aforementioned monthly journal described if, with the tolerance can exist, which under Ew Kön · His Majesty's most praiseworthy government attained its first existence, and now spreading beneficially throughout all of Germany finer, and whether that vehemence might not breed mistrust, confusion

thought and hatred between the driven in Germany alone right mãfi igen. Religious parties are being reignited. It is equally irrelevant to me whether those intentions true or unfounded fi find, which other journalists have already and writers to the versifiers of the monthly journal publicly D000 2 = pre-used

t

580 supplements to the first part.

I have been accused of this. My complaint consists merely of... in the fact that those authors dared to include in their Jour I publicly and by name identify myself as a Jesuit of the four to shout out in class. In January, August, and December 1785, and in January, February and May 1786, the aforementioned Monatefschrift ward von einem protestantischen Gonesgelehrten gesays that he too was involved in these secret machinations I take part, a Jesuit of the fourth class, and also in let his sermons, about the priesthood, be delivered. Nobody

Less than me could have imagined that I, I among the described there as secret fourth-class Jesuits pro=
to understand the theologians of the Testament. My theology=
The basic principles are contained in my writings, my manuscript.
lung de Tralatitiis. ex Gentilifmo in Religionem christianam, me=
ner church history of the first century, my Freymü=
your reflections on Christianity, my story of Arianism, among other things, before everyone's eyes, and I am not in Your Excellency, Majesty, States, unknown man, since I have the grace had to stand in Allerhöchstdero service for 7 years and the Siel= len of a court preacher, chief court preacher, general superintendent= ten and Professor of Theology at Königsberg to occupy, over de=
Your faithful administration to Your Royal Majesty in my decree=
The Most High attested to the contentment of the Lord; I am also in Kõ=
I became a Doctor of Theology in Nisberg, and so I...
by upholding the Protestant doctrine feper=
I am deeply committed. Therefore, it was all the more unexpected for me when...

| Several friends informed me that I was meant.

These hints, however, were not sufficient for me to do anything.
to undertake, and I therefore had to patiently await further developments.
To anticipate developments and remain silent until someone calls me out=
nen became This is now in July of this year ermäher Monthly publication, since I was specifically mentioned as the one indicates which was discussed in the preceding pieces.
He claimed that he was a fourth-class Jesuit, and also in
He spoke of the priesthood in his sermons. One seeks this black claim thereby giving a special touch to ge= ben, that I am among the Srepmäuser to the Templars, and although he belongs to the so-called clerics, and calls on me to to defend myself against these accusations. To deal with

un»

|
|

i

—
—

r — —we

rr

IW * n

Supplements to the first part, 581

Unnamed and lurking in the shadows, the authors are at work.
To dispute is neither my office and station, nor mine.
Appropriate to business. In our profuse church has
We are not an Inquisition court. Nor will Your Majesty.
Mafestat certainly does not approve of those from Most High.
Subjects may entitle themselves to establish such an Inquisitorial Tribunal to erect, which by being everything that is an= Griffener Mann could say in writings, for disguise,
well-known Jesuit tricks, even for the effect of patting
The dispensations declared are far worse than the heresy chair.
the Dominican in Spain and Portugal Allerhöchstdiesel=
They will certainly not admit that this has become its own thing=

The tribunal established the servants of other princes, the Ewe

—

"K. Maj Mit=Reichsstån de find, verdächtig macht und zur" wants to take responsibility. In any case, it can be publicly stated.

Gossip is not the subject of a learned feud
will be, but are only suitable for legal action,

whose persecution threatens status, honor, good conscience and self=

I make preservation my duty.
It is true, I was a Freemason in my younger years.

sen; it is also true that I, as the so-called strict Obe

servanz was introduced among the Freemasons, which the Tem= wanted to restore the pelherren=Orden, to which the same belonged,
and fo like other Equites, Socii, Armigeri, Commendatores, Prefedi and Sub-Priores were: yes, even some formally klöß=
I took my mortal vows, I was a cleric, like many others.

Servants located in Your Majesty's States, who all can be identified, have included: but never

It occurred to me and someone else to mention the Catholics.

to spread Islam; rather, everything aimed at ad' the recordings, and what were then called chapters of brilliant and certainly not suspected of Catholicism, and in Ew. Kon. Your Majesty. States of still existing Johanniter: Dr' to make it more affordable. I have never been even less familiar with a Jesuit in indirect or direct connection ger beings, and babe me in no way to achieve their real or alleged absconding. To use, which ch on request vpr. of any lawful authority fo hei= ii . chern can, as it only ever demands of me kaun

D03 will be used.

5 ser a Bepägen zum alen Thel

will be. I have also been for more than nine REN. withdrawn from everything that Freemasonry is and means, that I have absolutely no part in it; how could I? including the entire Templar branch among the Freemasons Forbade by His Majesty in His Highness' lands, also by the Freemasons themselves, it was lifted again. that is

– However, this Templar system was only in Germany probably more than a thousand people, and among the= same princes, counts, ministers, generals, clergy and Ci=

devoted to servants, without a single one of them, when he had even formally taken monastic vows=

therefore a secret crime, a hidden evil intention

Blame would have been placed on him, and I am convinced that... No blame could be assigned. Only I myself am looking. to insult, to vilify, my honor and good name= perhaps also to steal my bread and my job, through an injury which is the most hideous of its kind.

For if one has a Doctorem Theologiae who is at fine promotion for the upholding of Protestant doctrine= concept solemnly committed, who at the same time as chief hospree= Diger, the first clergyman of a respected Protestant parish.
stenthums, and the confessor of one of the most respected and so closely related to the Kõn House, Protestant, German= fchen Fürstenhaus is, through a publicly printed monthly= Writing throughout Germany not only as a local Catholics, but even as a member of a pope

The bulls lifted and throughout the entire Catholic Church.
ftenheit as dangerously reprobirten Ordens, and especially as a
of its most dangerous members, namely the fourth.

Klase trumps, and with such assumed audacity

out of she cries that he is even called to the exam and test before demands a uniquely established literary forum,

and the spread of Catholicism in his sermons Guilt gives: fo contains that the blackness of the insult against a such a man, whose fine honor and good name were grossly violated disgraces him, and makes him a perjurer and the most dangerous Fealfarius, who intends nothing less than to either by ge conversions in the Sürftl, family Ruhe and ate zn eit

*

Supplements to the first volume – 183.

to blaspheme, or otherwise play Jesuit pranks.
to carry out; an injury that puts him in grave danger to learn of favorable instructions from his superiors, which he

to steal the trust of the sovereign and the princely family,
to make him suspect to respectable fellow citizens, indeed, to turn him into a nuisance.
can bring bread and service. For even if one can live from the

\

Transfer from one of the three churches in Germany

chen to the other, still wants to think tolerantly, and by virtue of the must think of imperial laws; for so is he who, by being honor from the one church to which he publicly professes his allegiance
Despite having prestige and bread, he secretly belongs to the other church.

getdon is, and for such even in a Prince Hanse Proselyt

ten wants to make, the most cunning villain, and Ir verwor window person, whom the sun shines upon.

And this abhorrent thing certainly not out of Christian love and Protestant zeal, (because otherwise one would have found other ways beaten) but quite obviously anime inluriandi et nocendi

Accusations poured out against me can be found in the earlier one mentioned issues of the Berlin monthly magazine partly verbatim hold, partly they flow from the same Lesasken nn the as Sürlichten. Folgerungen. |

To Your Majesty, 98 5 One allorunter:

My most heartfelt request to the authors and editors of those pieces of the Berliner Monatsschrift sub termino praefigendo zum Gerichtsen

Evidence of the highest charges they have publicly brought against me defamatory accusations, especially that I am a Jesuit of fourth grade, and Catholicism also in my sermon

ten to spread search, and in its emergence to blatant Public and private: Stop Genygepung 1

to ae pleads in most humility 4 = Emeritus Royal Majesty 2
Intestinal ed. 26. en ee
Julius 1786. m - r

Johann August Starck,
een Derr Heil. Font Doctor, High
* wi "2 princely HeffenDarmftådtifcher
| 277 Dberhofprediger, Eonforiate

Council and 1 |

80 4 = - B.

784 supplements to the . |
Well-born sir?!

Most Reverend Sir of the Secret State: Arles

and Cabinet Winter!

Your Excellency's excellent qualities
Hearts are so well known that even a stranger can gain their trust.
can have, the very same ones will be pleased with him, if he is un= is being persecuted for taking oneself. The personal misdeeds Actions which I have taken from the authors of the Berlin Months Having suffered in writing, I feel obligated to file my just complaints.
to bring before the throne of His Royal Majesty. By the way, I but outgoing knowledge, under which forum the defamers.
To live, I take my humble refuge in the known=
ten people-friendly. Character Your Excellency.
and live in hope, Your Highnesses will be my subject=
Please let me find rest, and my just complaint is attached.
handed over to the Eoro, to Bresse: 1 have the honor 3c.
Your Grace Selen
Oarmstadi den 24. N
Julius 17866. . subject
y 0 a „ Starck.

Most obediently present notice.

Undisputedly not a High Princely Prussian Ministry iR unknown, what the bookkeeper Nikolai had done for a year in Berlin, and the authors of the Berlin monthly journal of secret efforts of Catholics and Jesuits to follow=
part: of Protestantism has been spread. Whether such efforts

Do exercises really exist, and are they feasible and not too much?

more, after all the political, religious and literary
The situation of the Protestant church is impossible and therefore ridiculous.
Are they? Could there be other intentions behind this pretense?

orunda lie, as the To= introduced in Waißenlges, States tolerance

*

Supplements to the first part. 187

to make leranz suspicious, as was done some time ago by weckhrlin
It has been claimed, or to introduce naturalism, as claimed by to Privy Councillor Jacobi and another unnamed verse
fafler according to the Allgemeine Litteratur=Zeitung den Berkinern
What was alleged? I'll leave that aside. The state-
The man and the theologian have so far tried to alleviate their suffering and the rejoiced in the spirits of a way of thinking more appropriate to Christianity, and can only view with sadness that the Old hatred rekindled, and the only three in German= legitimate religious groups in the country harbor hatred and suspicion towards one another be made tig.

In August of last year, the monthly journal of told a Protestant theologian that he also believed in These secret machinations no part in them and a Jesuit the fourth grade, also in fine sermons, (which is also known as Catholicism is indicated) from the priesthood some things=
let it flow, and he was urged to oppose it.

digen, and him against the legal principle: Affi, mandi incum- |
bit probatio, set out to prove that he is not.

No one less than me could have thought that I should have with gemeynet fey. Formerly, I was considered a new one= to vilify theologians, indeed even as a Socinian=

N sern gefucht / und nun ft ich fogar dem anerd anderen Extrem anh=

that I am a Jesuit, and in my sermons the Catholic licism begin: the contradiction was too obvious. My New writings are in everyone's hands, and also bear witness to... most clearly to the contrary. I am a Doctor of Theology and have sworn to the symbolic books, and can therefore be our not be detrimental to the Protestant Church without simultaneously my=

to take an oath. Some of my sermons have been printed.
and contain nothing that could arouse such suspicion=
te, and I truly conceive and memorize literally, and can to every judge all the sermons given in my life, which I'll submit all of them to the strictest review. Unbelievable!
I often felt that I was meant. This, however, was not the case.
from various friends and among others from Dr. Ros senmüller in Leipzig and Professor Schutz in Jena reported.
In the sure hope that these naturalistic swarms=
rey fisch bald genug Männer von Gewicht gegen stür=

Oos | den,

8 Poehlagen to the first part the, as also by Prof. Garve in Breslau and. other events

If so, I would consider it best to remain silent, and not speak up until then.
rain, as if I were being called. I never polemicized,
I hate all writers' wars that only result in wasted effort and little...
Doing good, even for me as a Protestant theologian, little appropriate find, whose enduring election slogan should be: Dear Truth and peace! Moreover, these were insults that not to learned warfare, but to judicial action qualified. Finally, I was published in the Berlin Monthly Journal.
named, and I, as the Protestant clergyman, identified, by to whom he spoke in the preceding pieces, and to the Be= In support of their claim, it was stated that I formerly belonged to the Templars among the Freemasons, namely to the Cie -

Rieis derfelben, heard, and I was now asked to ge=
to defend myself against the accusations made against me.
"I am accountable only to God and my rightful authority."
The company is responsible for transferring the share, but not for individual party member to establish a tribunal of civic duty in the midst of Protestantism, which to disturb the peace of the Empire and religion, and the servants of foreign powers Princes who do not agree with their principles, or against which she and her followers might be privy to slander.
ten and ulterior motives may be to make one suspect fu=
Before this my authority, I confess that I am in
I became a Freemason in my younger years: I confess it, that, when a so-called reform was underway in the sixties
was made to the Freemasons who had the secluded temple=
Bernese North should be restored, and joined the same.
am, and since one can define the whole being according to the Prussian state= ten still existing Order of St. John, which is certainly the Ka tholicism and Jesuitism are not suspected, wanted to modify, you belong to the clerics of this so-called Templar Order, as many other princes and respected men throughout Germany, Among whom I will only mention Duke Ferdinand and Frederick.

from Braunschweig, Equites, Armigeri, Socii and others.
But it didn't occur to anyone to denounce Catholicism in this way.
to appease, far less is the least Jesus must do.
I have never in my life been with a Jesuit.
in the most indirect or direct connection

den, jg s0och nie einen gesprochen, which I so doch bethehren

fann,

x

I Er EEE

AU, - ... - DÖ m *

n

" a .

m 39W -

•
—

U

rr W- e I on

E =

I ran, when it would be expected of me. And finally I already for more than nine years everything that Freymaurerev means completely renounced, and wanting to live in silence for myself /

as well as the entire Templar system from the king of Prussia abolished both in fine states and by the Free States=

mauern selbst aboliert ist. Von beiden Seiten so, sowohl als

Theologian and scholar, as well as one who was formerly Frey

As a bricklayer, I know myself to be free of all accusations made against me.
Completely free in my conscience. At this inner...

A conviction that will withstand the most rigorous test would

I should calm down and remain silent, and those slanderers who to introduce a harsher inquisition court than ever before in Spain

to exist, to be left to God's judgment; I was! my

Find solace in the fact that other deserving men, too,

as Landtner and Claudius, a similar story has already been attributed to them;

But I think that the authors of the Berlin monthly journal...
...must have conspired with others, to whom my local

Existence is in the way. Because recently it was at the Cabinet Secretariat.

To Your Serene Highness the Hereditary Prince, an anonymous letter received a letter in which I was warned, and the intention was revealed to me.
is attributed to the future ruler of his paternal to turn people away from religion, and thus to put the state in fear to cause the most mortal embarrassment. I would also feel here in to envelop the awareness of my innocence, and to focus on the Testimony of the princely persons, whose confessor I am to be the

Have mercy, and of the whole court who hear my sermons,
But in the case of such anonymous letters, which I received a nod) in the finstern against me cabal working against me fear
If I'm being pressured into it, the matter is being pushed too far, and anyway, it will...
The reason is far too delicate for me, since the prerequisite is that I could seduce the Lord Hereditary Prince, His Serene Highness.
at the same time the most punishable pasquill on this excellent

Princes themselves contain it. I therefore consider it so beneficial as dutifully, no longer to remain silent, but to speak to me before=

to give due notice to the established authorities, which I here= with obey, whereby I at the same time a High Prussian Minister the= those who submit to subjugation, which I have already stated for this reason Saving my own honor and good name to the Prussian m Ministry in Berlin N let, and I will not

8 vu

Appendices to the first part; 587°

7

*

— — Egg

—

1 BVeylage to the first part.

to fail, to humbly present the success of it. Everything else=

But, like my entire lot, I overstep the bounds of the wise one.

Views of a High Prussian Minikerii, in the firm transmission, duß Hochdassfselbe einen unschuldigen Mann gegen allen Kabalen, and anonymous poison mixers according to their well-known, most illustrious names Love justice, to protect and remain ia deepest Umerrhang feit

A High Prince. Hespreift, munten

Darmstadt, the 26th.

Julius 1: u ar n
SS Starck.

| " vb. E 5 = -
Fairies. Lord! I

,Döafinveseheender Herr Geheimer Staats= slain
1. and .

29 42 „ 1

* b

It. Hödchtarh 1 babe I am Julius my against the authors and editors of the Berlin Mo=

to hand over the written complaint to me, the obedient _

I have taken permission. I have so far followed the just pursuit of justice.
My just complaint was met in vain. To the benevolent character Your Excellency; ha=
I have all the just confidence that the Highnesses will fchen my= would have made a most obedient request if not through the death of the Most Serene Monarch, Your Excellency, with too many those important businesses had been overrun. Since my Honor and my peace through the slander spread against me
Lumdungen der Berliner Monatsschriftsteller in the most sensitive way
Having been offended, Your Excellency will tell me, to whom nothing Dearer than his honor is, forgive me for having done so.
My request repeated, obediently kept in mind
bring. |

2 5
f . et * „
u

5 -

I

4 - — — -

—

Supplement to Part One. 189

I have the honor of serving as full dean.

wait

Your Excellency, Most Reverend Executioner |
Darmstadt, the . Never 5

September 176. 8 subject

en Starck,

A; each 7.95

" – 8 ... 1

50;

8 1

Pr 3 5

3

9 0 – «%% 7

Most Reverend, Most Learned Sir!

Most esteemed Lord High Court Chaplain! N

I have sent Your Excellency's esteemed letter dated

July 26th and September 25th correctly preserved, the former, however, too at a time when I was with the Most High King in Potsdam,

to provide him with companionship during his final illness.
This circumstance; the subsequent death of the great king, and the domestic and urgent business that thereby fell to me and travel are the only reason that I, Your Highness=

I did not respond to the letter sooner, which you sent to the Given the circumstances mentioned, they will likely be excused. *

Regarding the matter itself, I have the SCREEN
The editors of the Berlin Monthly Journal on the
a published essay is required; however, they have helped me through the essay.
He himself proved that; the fact narrated therein from ice is borrowed from a printed book, and that it is therefore merely copied Otherwise they assured me that they would not be with dia= sem Aufsitt, nor in their previous pieces ever the intention not to offend Your Excellency, but merely that they Have the facts printed. At these dimensions, they now appear to be...
They probably deserve some leniency, at least.

I doubt that Your Reverence will do anything legally.

would direct against them. But if Dieselgate nevertheless did this
If you wish to take this path, you would refer to the local Chamber Court, as the forum of the two editors of the Ber=

to turn to the liner monthly publication, and through an authorized representative
The Justice Commission has the right to file their complaint. I can sol=

—

A \ 2 5 N | 5 N F. Le, ; 2 and 5 e
5 Alerdrucklaughtigfter, een en a., 1
|
|

59 S ö Appendices to the first part. N
I cannot take over such things / and therefore remit them to me

enclosed a written complaint.

f I have the honor to be with. b. to be a forerunner g to
3 a "
"Your Sehehtmüren .
Dam, the tenth. ö |

| Ottoder big: | = we: obedient servant

V. .

(dan blade hun Surg to then after

"He

Most Gracious King and Lord! 1 " .

Gi is worldly-wise, which is true of Ant 955, 1 year in Fer
from Doctor Beast and Dier – Echfitorlal: Rath Gedike here issued Berlin Monarsschrift of secret machinations=

nen of the Catholics and Jesuits to the detriment of the Protestants=

tism said. I believe it should be stated there, whether those home

liche efforts are founded, and if they were founded.

ren, ob. fte ever can be carried out, 05 the intensity
in. Express with which about it in the thought moon phase written, which can exist with reasonable tolerance, which the Christian enlightened ground that the Prussian is worthy of the Prussian=

The government owes its first existence to this, and now benevolent throughout Germany; to spread out a shilling, and not through that vehemence, suspicion and E

between the three in Germany alone legally. Religi=

The long-standing conflict is reignited. Just like that.

valid fann es mir auch feyn, vb eur do fichten wahr ober ungegrün=

det find, which already other journalists and writers
have publicly accused the author of the monthly journal

My complaint is rather fundamentally that those Berfaf=

fer fich er daresten, in her journal, publicly and to nabmentlich als einen Jefviten der Iuten Kaffe zu verſtrepen.

. to the first Theil, F 51

In the year, April, August and December 1785, and in the interior,

February c. 1786, the aforementioned monthly publication was written by a prose

He told the Protestant theologian that he too would speak to these
I participate in secret machinations, a Jesuit of the Iven Classy, and also in fine sermons on the priesthood a = flowing limp. No one less than me could have guessed that I, indeed I, under that secret Jesuit of the IVIen

to understand classically portrayed Protestant theologians

Be. My theological foundations lie in my writings.
ten, my treatise de Tralatitiis e Gontiltfae in Reltgionem Christianam, my church history of the first century=
derts, my frank reflections on Christianity=

thum, my story of Arianism, among other things, before everyone Eyes, and I am not in Your Royal Majesty's States fo

unknown man, since I had the grace to see the places ei= nes Hofpredigers, Oberhefyrddigers, General=Superintenden=

ten and Profefforis Theologiae in Königsberg, about whose faithful administration to me, the Honorable King's Majesty
In my, Most High, decree of enactment, I attest to your satisfaction;
I too became a Doctor of Theology in Königsberg, and have so, by doing this, I contribute to maintaining the protest tide

"The concept of repetition is very much obligated. The more unexpected it was."

So, when various friends informed me that I had been
I meant to be. But these hints were not for me.

sufficient to take action, and I therefore had to go to Patience and silence await further developments.

until I would be named. This is now in July of this year.

The aforementioned monthly publication happened in the year, since I was brought close= mentally as the one from whom one in the before=

In passing pieces, he claims that he is a Jesuit of the Veen

He was of good rank, and also spoke about the priesthood in his sermons.

This black claim is thereby given a special significance.

to indicate that I am among the Freemasons to the Tenn

pelherren and namely to the so-called clerics, and for=

, you call me to defend myself against these accusations=

gien. Me with unnamed and creeping verses in the dark - fibers, in journals, monthly and weekly publications

To argue is neither my duty and station, nor my duty.

'professional relationships. But I can't help myself, under the

2 | | Bey s

-1 „.

3 publishers, part one.

Weykätt of all rights, to those who make insults against me spread, they may have thought such things himself, or been suggested by others:

have received enough that they fearlessly oppose such things

To truly spread myself throughout the world, yes, even proudly and grandly there= to ensure that they perform this clean work. In our

In the Protestant Church we have no Inquisition court, and

His Royal Majesty will certainly not approve of it either, that which of His Most Highness's subjects may take it upon themselves,

to establish such an Inquisition Tribunal, which in which it all that which an attacked man might write, for example in writings

could ask, for arrangement, well-known Jesuit knickers, yes indeed even anticipated the effect of poppy dispensations.

clarifies, thereby cutting off all other types of protection=
dee, consequently far worse than the heretic chairs of the Dominicans in Spain and Portugal. Most High. They will certainly not admit that this self-erected Tri= bunal, the servants of other princes, Your Royal Majesty
With Reich's estates, it makes one suspicious and leads to responsibility.
who wants to draw a conclusion. In any case, publicly expressed [information] can Insults should not become the subject of a scholarly feud, Special ones are only suitable for legal action, the consequences of which obedience, status, honor, good conscience and self-preservation

make it my duty.

It's true, I was a bricklayer in my younger years.
sen; it is also true that, when the so-called strict observance was introduced among the Freemasons, that is, when among the Freemasons in and outside of Germany quite generally ge=

It was believed that the true secret of the order lay in the secret silent reproduction of the Knights Templar; I with the same. The main idea was therefore to the team to restore the Order of the Lords. If the members in those who wished to join the so-called high, or inner order,

They first had to endure a certain novitiate; then they «fie. Equitas, Socti, Armigeri, Commendatores, Praefecti- Sub-Priors and priors, indeed there were quite a number of them,

the Secundum regulam St, Bernardi Clarevallensis formal toilet took their mortal vows, and monastic obedience (Equites)

professi). Others, including myself, like many in Ew.

Royal Majesty's servants located in the states, all of whom are named
" made
8 | . “.

L

j

m. could become powerful, belonged, called themselves, as they were the

Nu

L

5 more, than that two companies, which belong to one and the name=
u laugh purposes work that meet in the same way= to get to know each other better, and to connect with each other
M connect wish. This prompted a behavior of both.
0 parts for the union. Just as they their knights, socios, waf=
u dbenträger sc. had found among the old Templars, and 8
Kun imitated, just as the Freemasons, to whom I belonged, had done.

belonged to a clergyman at the old Temple Order,
They now also wanted to sweep away the carrion in order to be present at the connection.
"To imagine something, and like the knights and commanders
...to be able to enjoy certain privileges. In consideration of the Orr Fens selba was the intention there, the recordings and the there=
maligen forig. Kapitel brillanter, und dem – des Katho=
I am certainly not to suspect any form of lieism in His Royal Majesty's State.
0 ten still existing Order of St. John to measure appropriately chen. But it never occurred to me or anyone else to
1. To spread rhetoric, and that's exactly how little I am.
with a Jesuit in direct or indirect connection |
have been. and have in no way contributed to achieving her 0 real or alleged intentions to be used, which

I, upon request before any lawful authority, so hot=
I can assure myself, as it demands more and more of me.
wants to become. If one now considers that this 1 Templars only spy in Germany probably more than a thousand persons, and, under the same princes, counts, Mi=
5 nitster, generals, clergy and civilian: servants, devoted to 0 beings, and as one hears, under a changed name still to,
0 getdon s0eyn fallen, without that only one of the same,
1 if he even formally professed the Eleventh Profession on the holy.
Bernhard's rule was followed, and monastic obedience was guided.
Therefore, the least accusation made was that he was secretly...
"Crimes, a hidden, evil intent, blame was placed on them."
1 den; (and as I am convinced, no blame was assigned either)
(y will be able to be blown away). It is indeed incomprehensible how only Fate alone was meant to have reserved for me, to make me to scrape a tone-deaf Jesuit of the tenth class, merely
f N | p | des

TO 2

0 : 1

They discovered, Clericl. They were just as good as those on The idea of the Knights Templar order has fallen apart. Nothing in nature.

594% Benlagen, zum, gte Then,

1

That's why, 1 because I belonged to the Clericos, and the Clesici of Spoke to an unknown superior, you know, if one is talking about word theft= berepen and the letter hunt wants to subside, those expressions of Seriis, ,on Priors. and Sub: Priors, yon Professes and
'the promised obedience, far more according to Catholicism, and inäbefondere. to taste like Jesuitism, as the innocent - up, all cafe-like religions, appropriate name, ines Clerici;
and. for much, the unknown Dbern. concerning, such as, like Even the monthly magazine misses the audience in certain places.
taught. generally to be found at the strict obsession.
ren, since one can see over eyes the ee only the

The last thing I would have thought of was to blow-dry my hair.
that letters, in enthullahism, were shouted, and from which one could learn from
See that the desire for orders; to investigate secrets,
They brought forth, to be laid as my burden, could be, since Måau= someone of greater understanding, insight and experience distinguishes themselves from to be swept away by that euthustasm, and this desire from
...had become a fashion addiction of that time. Or how can one describe someone who...
Man who was involved in a lot of the then-current ge= domestic societies, their behavior and. ibre Chissre · language to get to know each other. had an opportunity, it was old, a dangerous thing.
This company will rise up if it has a new beginning.
Secret: To uncover Krämer's identity in the cipher Sprane. Search!
It is not too hasty, too thoughtless, if one considers the hall
to make the ruined of all pain, and the apparently eve enlightening intention, to explore the more ambitious, with augmented Ang en nerfetinen wills Wenn die damals zweschen den. Mitglie= dern der stricthen Ob servanz gewexfelte Briefe, mit fo. wenig ehr= Laren Discration, ale es mit einige Briefen von Mir gefcheben,
to be presented to the public in its original form
Well, perhaps one could use the new de-diffexing method.
which are used against me. Their authors are dervishes.
RNabdinien and Braminen, but with ie so much ae me me
um. n Jffuten machen ee ac

" r. f 27; F " S " 1 er E 2 6 2136

—

1.

— — — —

—

I

. — 1 — + K r De E32

2 * ;

Senlage, Part One. 355
gene ennie Purification of those, Sespinauber, dis

55+
ii.

the Templar East partly under knightly figures, partly as Clerici angendiumen haben, meanwhile, made the one at the south of the pressure on me, that I, as beautiful as it was back then and even more later, the emptiness was created by the respectful bricklayers.

The fluctuating, unsustainable, and uncertain nature of the entire system,
and the strict observance grafted onto it gradually subsided
see ternte, with the knights, sociis, armorers, priors and Bernhardiner did not further entrust me with anything, also from all the ideas of a Templar=Clertcats withdrew me, and Finally, after nine years, through various trials, I learned... and witty enough about adverse fates, even about everything that Freemasonry if and means, the shape in the silence turning away that I don't even remotely attempt to do that.
without being caught and although afterwards the Templar foitem;

and the strict observance of the Freemasons writes, on which

Wilhelmsbad Convent formally abolished, also fole

ches in Ew. Königl Masefrätt Landen elgende have been forbidden;

Am I nevertheless the only one who, after such a long time...?

run again, pulling out the hair in the same way. Me alone.
They seek to insult, to vilify, to defame, to rob me of my honor and good

Nahinen, maybe also meln Brod and my service too rough=

the, through a cabal; which necessarily involved hostile people
They must have spun a yarn, and through a snare which the Most hideous of its kind. Pa
For if one has a theology professor; the stab at fine promotion to the upright training of the Protestant teaching=
degrifs feperlichst obliged, who also serves as Oberhofpre=

Diger the. First clergyman of a respected Protestant parish=

stenthums, and the confessor of one of the angel-gifts, and the king Kaufe so closely related; Protestant deutz

fchen princely house is, through a publicly printed monthly Tariffs. throughout Germany, not just as a secret Kathvfifen, Tondern even as a member of a through pipft=
liche Bullen lifted, and throughout the entire Catholic Church Ehrsten heit ars gefährlich reptobirten 0: dens, und zumal ald
one of the most dangerous members of the same, namely of the

'Vienna Klassr auspösaunet, and mii folder assumed Dreis

stigfeit from schrevet, that one he even to Ernmern and Prü=
fung before a self-imposed literary forum before= P 2 for=

ss Dales to the first Thel.

demands, and the spread of Catholicism in subtle ways.
 Sermons give blame; Eo contains the blackest injn= never against such a man, the fine honor, and good near.
 men grossly defile, and make him a perjurer and makes him the most dangerous Falfarius, who is nothing less intends to do so either through secret conversions in the fart=
 to disturb the peace and contentment of a family, or otherwise another way of carrying out Jesuit pranks; an insult that puts him in danger, highly unpleasant orders from feis
 to learn from an authority that had earned him the trust of the country bderrn and the princely family rob him fine Mirtbür gladly to make him suspicious, indeed, even to deprive him of his bread and work gen can. Because even if one considers the superior of a the three churches that are customary in Germany, to the other hand who wants to think in a tolerant way, and by virtue of the imperial laws must; Thus is the one who, by taking one cure=
 He, to whom he publicly professes, honor, prestige, and bread has, yet secretly belongs to the other church, and for such a person even wants to make proselytes in a princely house, who most cunning villain and the most depraved man that the
 The sun is shining. 8
 uad diesie absheuliche, sie: nicht aus christlicher Liebe
 and Protestant zeal; (for there were other ways struck) but quite obviously animo iniuriandi er nocendi Accusations directed against me And in the earlier em
 wåhnen Heften der Berliner Monatsschrift theils wortlich ent, hold, partly they flowed from the very thing said through the na
 most obvious conclusions. Long before anyone even thought about it.
 The editors, who knew about the book Anti=Nicaise, found the Berlin monthly magazine for good, in the issue of the month January 1785, page 62, through an alleged excerpt from a
 . from * * to let set: N
 I have a messenger known through the Christians;
 visited the scholar of the Constantinian God, from whom it was said
 It is almost already being said publicly that he will not only...
 Jiesuiten affiliirt, abern selb ein Jesuit von der Vier=
 ten class is, of the class which takes the vow must allow oneself to be used for missions. This will to the largest number of Prokestanten, it seems unbelievable.
 But these things are true, to be sure=
 " sig wahr, g " = Here

— — — — K — —

. — — — — . r . ' p —
 8 —

Here the Hertusgeher of the Monassfärift had now arrived: 'as {In case of retreating behind the blanket of an anonymous person can, already foresee; but they extended this foresight
In April of the same year, page 345, he elaborated on this point in detail.
that the author, the submitter, and the editors of that

Essay Dreperley, completely different people from each other seyen. But even this security was not great enough, =

For in August 1785, page 106, four places now appear.
Derfonen, the sender, the correspondent and the editors, In the same task it is now also
. 449 in another way, and said that they had not claimed that the theologian was a Jesuit

fey. but only, it is almost publicly stated that he feve, since everyone who has the above-mentioned first Bes

Hauptung reads, nothing on which can be understood as this:

That the Protestant theologian was a Jesuit,
That is true, and so undeniably true that 78 almost
has already been said publicly.

"Who cannot recognize from this the malice of my enemies, who firstly / through the monastic scripture the brood: to bring into the world want to find a Protestant spirit in the Rhine region=
licher, who would be a secret Jesuit, later through secret
These choices will have ensured that I am under would be named to the people (because before the attack in the Mo= (No one thought of it at the time, but finally, after.)
to achieve their intention, and so much self-directed,

that Bernabe had spoken publicly about it, it was wise.

under rerfcdene anenpmische Anbringer und bieBeorabeutiafeib
to look at their application, SEE 8 g
Injessen werden eben in dun Bft noch inen dat.
As stated, day 21
"The prockantifce Gonesgeer bah eine, Sons

had: "h

5 no sermons – PPFR unlike preaching one
protestanten, and he affects your. aft from the eee |
in speeches

"Would the person who ever saw a tonsure on me want to know."

ent, ber fiehe anf, und far: es laut Mehr als. unverfaämt ist

The accusation that my original speeches were strongly Protestant, since man doch nicht cuunal einen innen limfstand aum Beweise vor=

3. | pp 1 brin-

F . ee en

»

5
x

128 funeral arrangements for the first Thel.

Tann penetrating. Of which religion, however, the mobile the An bringer seun , since they of the priesthood in a sermon to er=
They may consider themselves Kezeric, however. In the Protestant context Church, in theological terms, Christians as spiritual Priestern vopgestellt werden, ja den Kindern schon in der Schu len the triple office of Christ the Lord is taught, nãm=
I the royal, the high-priestly, and the prophetic office, and an ordained preacher of the Protestants, 'in 'so far away'
er ein Dienst und Nachfolger Ehrifti ist, caetoris paribus, fo-gus
An Arist is, as the consecration of priests of the Catholics, also al= so often: and much. is mentioned: God the All-Knowing, who

8. Knowing the full innocence and intentions of my opponents, and will act accordingly, it is well known that I am the Pros
The Protestant Ahritua religion. My mouth and heart. And after my inner aften. liver generation hon jeher zugetat gemefen, and always fis.teptichfi.hekeunen will. And after that I would Do not look too closely, for Protestant reasons.
"add gina to deliver an entire sermon on the priesthood... As 'Being I can be eg unn wobl as: a strange divine providence' to look at, that I: never, as long as I enter this corner, that at least of the priesthood in mine – preached, have sinfliefs

fen let, as I through all my from year literally, eoncipirte and yet all the uplifting sermons prove fans. And yet
,anterfiehen fich sich meine Gegner au anspruch, dass ich oft · affal= Hire, to become priests. What kind of people must they be?

gladly, and anger as all eee at the end deter. here |

* deen nen bela, oil eee

Back then it wasn't time for Degen. My enemies,
Bir wie; men wohl fiehet, mich nathigen wollen mic felbst zu
BR and through premature public disclosure
to make myself suspicious, in some way.
to appear. . Dach had a good friend of: me / whom I,
Even though I recognize his friendship, that half bad

Thank you, Wels; after me, through an anonymous letter

vont 1 oy. gleichfam meine Vereheidisung : übern mmen.
Hu feiner: geit werbe ich Gelegenheit haben, davon mehr zu tes to publish this entire letter in evi / and/ further
l show wis: fahr folcher u einem Nuchtheil mis brauchtet
"Worded. . Now there is enough in hernsrken· how lahr Dr. Biester the= En Aleß in December: 18 Ag 46 haun * 15

he
Pe AR D

– – — . . --- — TEA ee, – 2 –

ir Baer re an Re m – 0 P rr

*
r *

– Publishers to the best Xell 950
in their own name against me, you may have / and you who are sint ee

To repeat everything of one's own heart, what is old Alleged counter-respondents so far in the monthly magazine against me

feloft want to be judged. E d t- nd

Dr. Beaster drives auth 1 against ue be fade i Fresh February to use. For in January 1780, page 39, see below.

trädiftinguitt er mich mit einem anderen unvorfiägtigen berro,

genen pretefräntifthen=Geistlichen; und sagt von mik, dass, ii
to whom I the clergy, the tonsure, and the office of a Jefutic

Dresden's envoys taken over, well aware of having had fcheis

No, what I did; and in May, page 453, he even claims,
that which was said by the clergy assigned to me,

I see it as proven, and finally agree, if I still have anger= |

heit and one's own honor were dear, to one's own protection=
Zen should, in case I might get hurt. All of this
Dr. Beaster said of his own accord: because Fein anonpmi=
A correspondent had sent him new fellow fans here:
I haven't been mentioned in any other book either.

had been; so at least he was! the intellectual, restless Prosecutor-

later the imurie recorded in frin Journal ?: Only afterwards did Anti vitae appear in print, and after better Verfusser so undeservedly attacked me,

I am now also called by my name in the Berkin Monals= writing, and shat in the month of July of this year indeed with assumed regret and feigned love of the Anparthess.

lichkeit, Auch! anandstkirchen Behächungen der dem Protestantis= impending danger / but with the most researched word= and Letter-picker, and in the true spirit of the holy Her= mandad= old possible accusations against me, which sssch
jrdoch alle dahin edwerntiren y vuß dc, fo gut und nicht mehr and less than the Berfaler the Anett; wrirefe and some tau= send large part of predominant people in Europe, in the early
of youth and the Enniha sung" of a rhitt Emblldungs=

—

to have strength against the Sempelhrten Order again.

ten continue there to marriages, and that we at that time letters

had said that he, of the renowned impurity,
at most, only print that letter, and that, putlittnn |

—

written, which we have not now written, from which But —

Deciphering the priesthood of Kurpolis and war-Irsuntis

Area eben fo fekfandh ernuskümm; als wenn ich nach eben

p44 the

SE rr re 1

FFC

6 honeycombs but char

the Neseirian Pechisyir= and Aussiegruff: aut: the Revelation=

. rung Jabannis wanted to enforce the regplas. Societaris Iefu.

Are now among those few thousand who were thrown Kempelbemen, so many princes, counts, lords, ministers, Ge,
ministers, both clerical and secular, and among them Heroes, statesmen, geniuses of the first rank, of whom the Berlin monthly journal occasionally den Jennitismus assert, and among others in August 1725 patent 130 to the dentist to have the audience tell that this secret order, the

the appearance of the Protegantic theologian no eini=;
maintained for a certain amount of time. 5
. as is fairly widely believed, advertised by the Jesuits
was conceived;
and these big men think that those journalists are like the Argive of Zoraz, who always saw children serving, we none were listed:
— — Fuit-haud 'ignobilis Argis
Qui fe credebat mitos audire tragicedos
= In vacuo lay tus feffor plauforgue teatro; .
and overlook. the bold writer those five great three

"Efficacy: That's not how I am in that case, however much I would like to wanted to be able to proceed with the same contemptuous magnanimity.

Because I am singled out from among several thousand,
They want to deprive me of honor, service, and bread, and it if apparently, that a particularly deadly cabal of my enemies is to _ Brunde lies, which seeks to corrupt me completely. Only the one=

This accusation is so close to my heart,

that my sermons were not rejected by a bretefan=

ten were, and I often dom ee au reden af= fektire

proves such things more than clearly. [The following appears to be unrelated and possibly either have heard my sermons themselves, or heard them from someone else.
have another who lives nearby; and these people must

I will get to know each other when I have to defend myself, which is why I need them.

Journalists urge this so urgently and so feverishly. It would

Yes, it would be the greatest injustice if I alone faced the arrows.

He merely exposed his enemies, but behind the curtain of Berlin Monthly journal hidden in ruby security, remain filthy. I must know them in order to prosecute them in their courts, and from the . in which I am with 2. , or Be with others

N niehen,

— — — . — op

— , ,

m ma m — —

— —
G

. TEA en

j fle fi) also about daz
send pickups ni

Supplements to Part One. 601

1 on their Hesnuungen and the driving force of their Beneh=

to be able to draw a proper conclusion about men against me. That will be justice.

Equality, fairness, and the innocence of an honest man who from causes incomprehensible to him, so spitefully conceived, so bitterly verse is followed, and where possible, plunged into misery and contempt.

will be. ö

Since the editors of the Berlin monthly journal, when

They should apologize that it concerns me

Gene work, but rather from others.

They had been sent, yet, as I have demonstrated above, they selbst propria motu als geschifte thätige-Propalatores der gegen

the insults heaped upon me in the following passages of the journal presented, and, even if they were not at least as editors of the injuridfen Stücke mir Verantwortung feyn fösolten, fie trotzdem held in full compliance with all rights, the offenders, senders and to make the exact names of the correspondents clear to me, so that I can one could recover from such things, and the monthly magazine itself was not in

The creation of this established right would help from an otherwise useful

The journal degenerated into a public collection of pasquills, in which every anonymous person bestows honor upon his innocent fellow human being and to cut off good names undetected and unpunished

who might dare to do so, but the innocent man is denied all legal aid.

May I remain deprived: So I beg Your Royal Majesty above all.

thänigft fußfälligft an, mir die Gerechtigkeit wiederfahren zu lassen,

that the editors of those pieces of the Berlin monthly journal

fub termino praefigendo zum Gerichtsnachweis der mir von

They publicly, laid out to the lat and diligently propagated 5

most dishonorable accusations, especially that I am a jesnitish priest of the fourth class fey, and the Catholics=

I must also try to spread it through my sermons, and in that;

sen Entsung zum eclatantest public and private=Enough= to be stopped, at least if they

that all the recordings and statements in the monthly=

Written by others and submitted, I apologize.

gen, and this apology should legally take effect, sre

then be stopped, the authors, submitters and corporals=

Respondents, by means of a solemn oath, no

to conceal, to name.

Therefore, and because I lack sufficient knowledge, a

Arwiffen-like, with my opponents in no connection fie –
N Ps | hender

6 Deylagen zun ersten Theil.

hender Juftil-Kommissarins von vichterlichen Hochamt wegen ordered and instructed to correspond with me in such a manner
will, since I all submissiveness

17 Seel. wee t
Darmabt the 17th

Dctob. 1786. | 5 but submissive
| 8 * Starck rc.

* nteriänlgtsgеformfanfte Anzelge.

* Your Serene Highness, Your Highness, Your Minister, I consider myself obliged tet, in accordance with my previous humble statement of 26 July 1786. furthermore, to most obediently deliver, that I am lodging my complaint due to lack of acquaintance and inaction;
science in the methodology in Berlin, also the one by me= Doubts about the defendant's forum, to the Royal had sent Mr. Count von Hersberg, from woe
I received the answer a few days ago that he I have held Berlin journalists accountable. After= to whom such a person now excuses himself by saying how the judgment against me was made.
These essays did not originate from you, and therefore probably some...
Those who believed they deserved leniency, so let me now remain unaffected.

men, to calm me down, or to file a complaint with the chamber= to appoint the court in Berlin, as the forum of the defendant, and to appoint a Justice Commissioner there. After I cannot be reassured by that paltry apology.

can and will, and now that I have heard the defendant's excuses Once I know, I can immediately get closer to the matter; so I have the slightly modified and expanded complaint under today's daro really directly to the Berlin Court of Appeal= hen lets, therefore lay faithful abstruses of it devotedly, be=
See my previous ad, by the way, I recommend myself.

A High Minister's just protection, . batre in devo=
tem Respect ="

One's breast doesn't matter. Beinifkerit

"Darmstadt, the 27th | |

Ons. 1786. . e FR subject

D. Starck. 5

H.

1 - . . - - - - — - Ůß«-0, .

(Benfagen aaf Ach Ko;

Su ee „ , Sage en

0 Bochgebohrüer Herr c . e

* ee

Most Revered Lord of the Secret State, Arei |

and Cabinet= Minister, e

Gracious sir! EN

Your Excellency; for the gracious addition

Writing of the 7th of this month, I likewise from it with true reassurance.

gung ers~~0~~ehent dass Hochdiesselbe mein gerechten klauß fuehren.

Consideration was given to the editors of the Berlin monthly to hear the written statement with its responsibility for the time being: so

I paid it for my duty in humble reverence.

report, dab, after those editors diligently he=

| strives to address the accusations brought into the monthly journal un=

own name in various further studies, nor che

in another printed book the least non me ermähr

net been, to spread further, also so that the main threads to apologize, to realize that they were unable to process the recordings of an

sent to the authors for publication, and I then

My honor and good name, so grossly violated, are at risk.

The matter can be defended in no other way than through legal means.

gen and to save knows, I the in fo somewhat more gusgedehn

The complaint, according to the gracious instructions of Your Excellency the Count.

actually sent to the Royal Chamber Court, and the pe

titum annectiret habe, at least to stop the editors,

the authors, receivers and correspondents, all of me

betreffender Stücke vom vorhalten und dieses Jahr mittels k

to behave according to a personal oath, so that I may be put in a position to be to pursue my right to continue, and not to participate in the unequal party

I will be left with my behind the ceiling of the Berlin Mo natschrift hidden bitter enemies, to come to genius:

pen.

However, I must not begrudge Your Excellency that

I, Your Royal Majesty, Most High, whom I know personally

to be the inestimable happiness of having the justice of my

The matter took place on October 3rd, therefore earlier than when I, High God, granted him

To receive a proper reply, I was lucky enough to receive one, among others.

tbinst recommended A and I love justice

0 This

G6 alien u part

diefes ppreiswürdigs Morarches the salvation of my innocence,

Rich Bott promises with bernighed confidence.

Even Your Excellency, Hehe, I'll say it again in full.
kommenst ,humble Bertrenen for gracious parental support

my just cause in that o veneration

fubmissest an, with whom I am N Ew. Hocgegrün.
Garufidt, the .

Oriober 1786. . 2 . 0 eta BE

By the Grace of God, Friedrich Wilhelm König
From Prussia X. Our gracious greetings in advance. Worthy, Highly learned Kath, dear special person. To those of you un= term a last month submitted to our Chamber Court Registration, which is against the Senior Consistory Councillor Gedike and Librarian Doctor Beaster's lawsuit, we let
To inform you that the local farm=
Council and Justice= Commisfarius Michaelis You as requested assigned to the pledge date, and term for recording the lawsuit on November 25th, at 10:00 AM assigned to Judge Meyer of the Higher Regional Court.

We therefore command you to celebrate St. Michael's Day unfurled with to provide power of attorney and detailed information; incidentally but an advance of 18 Reichsmarks in gold to cover the costs

.

Court costs, payable within 8 days to the advance payment.

Please send your email to danten Eckardt poflfrep anhero. Are you with Banden N san the Hm November 1784.

v. Goldbeck.
the Oberbofbrebistr Conftorlal- 57 wi
Rath and Definitorem. Dpcto- e ee e ER
" drvem Johann August Sure, He a

" | u
an a. Ka

RE my against the publishers of the Satiner Mo

daabelchllt bey dem Hochpreiß lichen sänigl, Kammergericht in Berlin

— K—— — — — 8 5 — — " \

—

7 2

Supplements to the first pet of Berlin rings handed over by an Arrgnadigsus Resempt from gien dies syes, which I first received from the post to Nefes,

I have been notified that my request to send me one of us
partisan — in no connection with my opponents=
to assign the justice system to Kemmissarin ex officio Royal Court Councillor and Justice Commander Herr— Mich nella with truly of such quality has been assigned, with which the bound order that I, with full authority, entrust such without delay

seben sollen: As authorised, I then the aforementioned Lord Court= Councillor Michaelis in the best form, rightly so, that he in accordance with [unclear] he my appeal already submitted to the Royal Chamber Court complaint and the sub hodierno demselben weiter gehenden Instru= ction.—my just lawsuit against the publishers of the Ber=
liner Monatsschrift nach beiten Wisfen und Gewissen wahrnehe
I will bring everything to a close, and also take care of everything that a fe far removed — the Prussian law and justice system; constitution=
not very knowledgeable — man expecting 88 5 |
on the 27th of November 1786. 3
— N 5 | Starck,

K. b. e

1 n

Most esteemed Mr. Court Councillor!

By enclosed letter from the local post office.

2
nk

I am pleased to state for the time being that this is in my case against the challenge

The Berlin monthly journal issued on November 1st, Aller hochfie Refcript erftlich den aaten dieses dahier angefaller,sequenz not within my means, the power of attorney and In-Kruktion to send the order according to the command so quickly, that of it in the court scheduled for November 29th for the formal filing of the complaint-
The set deadline may be used.

I have now, in great haste, received the requested 19 today.
Kthir. in gold an advance on costs to the noted advance-
Cashier Eckardt withdrew with the post. In the white Enclosed please find the power of attorney that I obtained from Un-Knowledge of the local style was better formulated than I had known.
As far as the instruction itself is concerned, it is indeed in the complaint filed by me with the Royal Lamber Court against and already sufficiently contained before #4. However, in order to also

| Down below

rs 236 .
s Weplägen uur erften Thel.

including the most devout edition with most devoted readiness-
To comply with lifeit, I want to provide even greater evidence of the main-
Add, where possible, an even clearer explanation N
The editors of the Berlin monthly magazine begin to have it printed in their journal: A certain profeftantis
fcher Seiftlihjer vom erften Rank fehe ein geheimen Jefuit Sie continue to publicize this Protestant God-
I honored sev, a cleric, a Jesuit priest, who had the tonsure, and be a Jesus of the fourth class. Not enough.
to have now claimed that the man was with Jesus-
mus behaftet, s0suche fie weiter zu proben dass er nicht unter
The betrayed woman should rather actively practice Jesusism-Practice diligently. For they say of him that he knows well,
What he did was deliver Jesuit sermons and affectionate in
To speak to the same person about the priesthood, were they then, Lord?
Gedike and Biester themselves in the Princely Court Church in Darmstadt

and listened to these sermons?
So the Protestant theologian was not only a

"Not only a fourth-class Jesuit, but he also worked as one,

and sought to introduce Jesuitism to his followers through his teachings.
to spread it to men and small audiences. And that was done to him.
Guilt was committed long before the disguised author of the
I thought it was good that Anti Nicaise was speaking out against me. Publicly.
The journalists hadn't called me that yet, but secretly it must have been
The more diligently things happened, as friends notified me,
* I meannet fey.

Spbald the unnamed Bertaffer of the Aten. Part of the Anti Sk. Yicatfe thought it was good to publicly attack me, so.
I was also featured in the Berlin monthly journal,
whereupon their author or editor still of the above
added, and assure that everything in that journal
previously claimed by the Protestant theologian=
"din fen," I was meant for you. So you still claim=
further, that I am not only the religious priest of the fourth class
See, but rather, that I would not be the deceived one, Jesuitical
I preach sermons, and in them I speak of the priesthood with affection.
ge; which latter claims (they would then have to come from the Mo= (natsschrift taken s0eyn) the author of the Ari Sr Nicaise not at all agreeable, but rather by the... own invention of the Berlin journalists are.

There

" -- i 0°-ĩ- ltg -é-ñ- .□- - . -•-f . -¹/₈-M

I u

Dr

r~~ er Er ee 2 Be r
0

Walheim fen an. Foy

Since I have already included all of this in my lawsuit, |

I must consider that a clear, constant and too

coherent narrative of the facts in which I, the plaintiff,

I base my legal claim on the one who pays cash.
to submit a report, from my complaint even slightly embittered

They could be. And the proof of everything lies in the. in my complaint allegiant sticks of the Berlin monthly journal.

It prints before my eyes. But that I can derive a just conclusion from this fact.

No one can doubt that a lawsuit will be filed.
In my complaint, I stated that this was the most shameful thing,

The most dangerous, most despicable falsehood is when a press

Testament Doctor of Theology and Court Preacher to a Princely
The family is also an actively acting, secret Jesuit, which such a duty-forgetful, perjured falsarian, honor, Oienst and deserves to lose bread. Who can possibly help the innocent person?
deny a man a lawsuit if another man has dared to sue.
secretly and publicly stest him this most despicable Falfi= |
to be punished, especially since the poisonous cabal makes the matter so artificially and slyly arranged so that the innocent person would be found guilty
I want to compel a man, so to speak, to test the negative negatives i.e take over, if already every step that the Be=
He tried to defend himself by doing something in front of the audience to clear his name.

would like, for treacherous positioning, for the consequence of papal dispenses= fation u. 5. gm is explained. If here at the courts

Since no salvation can be found, the innocence suffers like the evil one.
The pursuer achieves his goal.

I am well aware that journalists usually rely on ordinary methods.

Art fich sich mit dabei werden zu verschuldigen denkenen, dass die Haupt

They filed charges against me in a printed book, that fte

| sent to them by correspondents, indeed that it also

They were anonymous essays. I only once in my
A complaint has already been filed that the journalists occasionally...

I spoke of my own person, and I have further demonstrated that they are partly before anyone even thought about the Anti St. Nicaise, against

I wrote to you, partly that the things are progressing, of which in the
Not a word against St. Nicaise once before, and how can a literary weekly, published under Royal Most High Approval=

baation is printed, and contributes to the spread of science and |

intended to serve useful literary knowledge, but is misused for this purpose

that in the same honest tar branded, and such |

eds Appendices to the first part.
which was raised to a more than Jesuitical heretical trial when de, in which one presumes to be superior to the most innocent men to stop a car there at will; and according to which

Reasons? Based on mere speculation, double-dealing explanations (gains, nitpicking, looking for things) that already existed 20 years ago.
ren passiret, and long forgotten, and those, if they were a Ruge earned, not from one pulled from the piles Man, fenders on many thousands, which in the named maurt= were members of the Russian society, and some had far more striking titles.
had, to princes, counts, en Siaats - Minikers i.
They would have to be punished.

Must the publisher of a journal, according to all rights, to stand for everything and anything that is recorded in a fine journal, he
He may have made it himself, or it may have been sent to him;
to be: so I also have a just appeal to the publishers to make a Berlin monthly journal, and they may remember their Helper helps regress. I can therefore with all justification against them.

to seek the salvation of my shamefully violated honor and demand just redress, and for so much more than is needed. So far, they are the only ones I've found who have told me about the secret instigators. are known. Against whom else should I bring my just claim for follow, since nobody else has named themselves!

At least they are connected, their correspondents swear to specify, also the anonymous articles with all of them have to swear an oath to science.

I believe I have now said enough. Should, however, perhaps after the fitio curide there, something more to go and how? If you need someone to help, please just send a message and instructions. This leniency will be granted by a stranger, who is also not from the hand? The work is certainly worth it. I have a very firm confidence. I have great confidence that a High Prussian Royal Chamber Court will grant me

Just help against my defamers and bitter persecutors I will grant it, I urge Your Excellency to look into the matter. the grossly blasphemed innocence with dutiful warmth to assume, and have in this trusting assumption the honor to be with all due respect

5 well-to-do people

Darmstadt, 27th

November 1786. Obedient servant

a | Starck.

U

|

5 “

4 , =

= _ a

2

8. ö

5

“

5_4

x

= . 5

n 5

— >

* . .

= N 5

* Pi *
_ ' _ _
_
5 *
.
8 " 8
= a * = % " " .ug N
\ F 7
.
* 5 \ 2 Pr
'r
N =
- a
i 5 «
; N
= .
ud -
* >
"8
8.
* 5 -.
5 =" ® Re .
N. 85
= *
= 1 8
5 "
* = Pr
8 2 8
N -
en 3 8
- "N " *
5
- - -
_
25 8
*
3
G
.
_
a * ,
0 NN
4 * z *
A 8 8
8
x
888 u
_
I 5 8

| 25 -
= 8 a
r
- .
> 3
- - *
.
=
.
. &
* 2
" .
7 -
r
. B x
5 7 8
f N „ u
. . .
. t 1 7 .
z * I: z
.. f „ * *
5 1 x
A_2 - * ® Mr
. 5 * - (1 . .
1 *.  No *
x * x ;
e 4
g Pe \ -
8 ' 5 Na 2 a 3 5 g
8 A . - * 1 „

Pr)

— - ü16-û -

—

^e- Q0AFÿx44! E2 — 2

=

- VE - - .

.
- 3

. ee

3 5556

.
W e 3
* mn m 5

95

ru

2 8

3.

f 282 335383